

MODERN BUILDING PLANT

MONTAGUE BRIDGE

From Concrete

The undersigned intends to establish at an early date a modern building plant for the manufacture of all manner of material for building purposes. The building material here manufactured will include concrete, brick and all kinds of concrete building stone.

Concrete Building Stone, Monuments, Chimneys, Steps, Drain Tiles, Caps, Lintels, Cellar Walls and Floors, Veranda Columns and Floors, and Veranda Walls of all descriptions; all requirements for Concrete Side-Walks, etc., etc. In connection with the establishment there will be a

Builders' Supply Store

Where the requirements for all kinds of building material can be obtained. Contracts will be entered into for the erection of Concrete Buildings in any part of the Province. Enquiries regarding building material will receive careful attention and prompt replies.

CHARLES LUND,
48 Brock Road Quincy, Mass.
Jan. 5, 1910

Watch Department.
VERY FINE time-keeping watches with 21 jewels adjusted to heat, cold, and five positions. Also 7, 15 and 17 jewel watches, from the larger men's size to the tin watch worn in wrist bracelets. Watches cleaned and put in first class order.

Ring Department.
Ladies' rings set with diamonds, ruby, opal, amethyst, pearl and other gems. Signet rings for engraving, emblem rings, children's rings. Rings repaired at ones re-set.

Spectacle Department.
We fit spectacles and eye-glasses up, both in frames and in rimless, after testing each eye separately or on Drs. prescription.

E. W. TAYLOR,
South Side Queen Square, City

EUREKA TEA
If you have never tried our Eureka Tea it will pay you to do so. It is blended especially for our trade, and our sales on it show a continued increase. Price 25 cents per lb.

R. F. Maddigan & Co.
Eureka Grocery,
QUEEN STREET, CHARLOTTETOWN.

The Market Prices.

Butter (fresh)	0.24 to 0.25
Butter (salt)	0.21 to 0.22
Calf skins	0.12 to 0.14
Hocks per pair	0.80 to 1.25
Eggs, per doz.	0.25 to 0.26
Fowls	0.60 to 1.00
Chickens per pair	0.75 to 1.10
Flour (per 100)	0.90 to 0.95
Flour (per 100)	0.85 to 0.90
Hay, per 100 lbs.	0.25 to 0.60
Straw, per 100 lbs.	0.75 to 0.85
Onions (per 100)	0.40 to 0.42
Onions (per 100)	0.30 to 0.35
Onions (per 100)	0.10 to 0.14
Onions (per 100)	0.75 to 0.90
Onions (per 100)	0.11 to 0.12
Onions (per 100)	0.15 to 0.20
Onions (per 100)	1.00 to 1.25
Onions (per 100)	0.45 to 0.45
Onions (per 100)	10.50 to 11.00
Onions (per 100)	0.30 to 0.35

Grand Trunk Railway System

STRICT PASSENGER AGENTS' OFFICE
The Grand Trunk Railway System, for the Province of Nova Scotia, is now open to the public. The Grand Trunk Railway Co., agents, are now receiving applications for the necessary permits for the operation of the Grand Trunk Railway System in the Province of Nova Scotia. The Grand Trunk Railway Co. is now receiving applications for the necessary permits for the operation of the Grand Trunk Railway System in the Province of Nova Scotia.

Men and Women

Men and Women—A lady at 40 years of age, who has been married for 20 years, and who has a family of five children, is now suffering from a severe case of rheumatism, which is preventing her from doing any of her usual household work. She is now suffering from a severe case of rheumatism, which is preventing her from doing any of her usual household work.

Farm for Sale

The subscriber offers for sale, at a moderate price, his Farm of 75 acres, located on Penikese Island, Lot 52. This is known as the "Wallace" Farm, and fronts on Penikese Road. Fifteen acres of excellent land is cleared, and four new buildings, very nicely constructed. The remainder is covered with hard wood timber. There is a well on the farm, and 20 feet by 10 feet of water. For terms and particulars apply to

PATRICK J. WALSH,
Bentley Road, Lot 39
Feb. 26, 1910

Montague Dental Parlors

We give the utmost care to give perfect satisfaction on any of our work. Teeth pulled and extracted absolutely painless.

C. J. PEASE, D.D.
Aug. 15, 1906

Pressed Hay

WANTED!
We will buy some good bright Timothy Hay.

C. Lyons & Co.

$50 Scholarships Free
To the Student making the Highest Marks during next term.

Will YOU win it?
An up-to-date modern business training with no waste time. Write to-day for new prospectus, terms, etc.
Union Commercial College,
WM. MORAN, Pri.

TENDERS

Sealed Tenders will be received up till noon Monday, March 28, 1910, For the erection of a building to serve as a Roman Catholic Orphanage Near St. Dunstan's College, Charlottetown, P. E. I.

Plans and specifications of the same may be seen at the office of Mr. C. B. Chappel, Architect, Charlottetown, and at the store of Mr. Joseph L. McCullough, Summerside. All materials to be supplied by contractor.

Tenders should be marked "For Roman Catholic Orphanage," and addressed to Reverend Laughlin J. MacDonald, City Hospital, Charlottetown.

The committee in charge does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By ORDER OF COMMITTEE
Feb. 14, 1910. Feb. 16, 6i

FIRE INSURANCE.

Royal Insurance Company of Liverpool, G. B.
Sun Fire offices of London.
Phoenix Insurance Company of Brooklyn.

Combined Assets $100,000,000

Lowest rates and prompt settlement of Losses.

JOHN MACBACHERN, AGENT.

Telephone No. 362.
Mar. 22nd, 1906

JOB WORK!

Executed with Neatness and Despatch at the HERALD Office, Charlottetown, P. E. Island

For New Buildings

We carry the finest line of Hardware to be found in any store.

Fall and Winter Weather.

Fall and Winter weather calls for prompt attention to the Repairing, Cleaning and Making of Clothing. We are still at the old stand, PRINCE STREET, CHARLOTTETOWN Giving all orders strict attention. Our work is reliable, and our prices please our customers.

MARRIED.

HIGHAM, MCDONALD—At the residence of Mr. J. G. Higham, Charlottetown, P. E. I., on Jan. 10th, 1910, Mr. J. G. Higham and Miss M. J. McDonald were united in Holy Matrimony.

BIGGEBOTHAM, of Cambridge, Lot 63, to Margaret Ann, third daughter of Mr. David McDonald, Peter's Road.

GAVIN—LYNCH—At Lot 11, on Jan. 31st, Rev. R. J. McDonald officiating, Peter Gavin to Annie Lynch.

WALKER—PROSPER—At the manse Georgetown, Feb. 8th, 1910 by the Rev. W. Toombs, Frederick Wm. Walker to Mary Prosper, both of Georgetown.

DIED
CAREY—At Montello, on Jan. 31st, Daniel Carey, aged 82 years, leaving to mourn an aged mother, four brothers and three sisters. May his soul rest in peace.

POWERS—At Lowell, Mass., on Jan. 20th, Joseph, infant child of Nicholas J. and Sophia Powers, aged six weeks.

DEWAR—At Vancouver, B. C., on Jan. 24th, 1910, of typhoid fever, Claude Dewar, aged 21 years.

FOUGERE—Suddenly at Lower Montague, on Monday, Feb. 7th, Captain Philip Fougere, aged 65 years.

SELLER—In this city, on Tuesday, Feb. 9th, Susannah, relict of the late Benjamin Sellar, aged 71 years.

PICKARD—At Charlottetown, P. E. I., on Feb. 9th, 1910, Catherine, wife of the late James Pickard, aged 73 years.

DRAKE—At West River, Feb. 10th, 1910, Ella Boyle Drake, aged 17 years.

McEACHERN—At Mount Stewart, on Feb. 10th, Margaret Alice McEACHERN, wife of Alexander McEACHERN.

STEADMAN—At the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Van der Sande, 23 O'Leary St., on Feb. 14, 1910, Hannah, widow of the late Peter Steadman, aged 92 years.

The Government struck a hard blow at the beef trust when it announced that a municipal cattle market and abattoir will be soon established in Winnipeg to compete directly with the trust. This announcement is in response to the farmers, who charge the beef trust with killing the live stock industry of Western Canada.

The first of the course of special Lenten Sermons in St. Dunstan's Cathedral, was preached on Sunday evening by Very Rev. Dr. Morrison, V. G. His theme was the Incarnation and his text was from the first chapter of the Gospel of St. John, beginning with the words, "In the beginning was the Word" etc. The Very Rev. preacher delivered a learned and eloquent discourse on the Incarnation of our divine Lord; its infinite value in the plan of redemption; and the nature and character of this great mystery.

Before an audience of 4,000 in the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, Commander Peary was presented with $10,000 on behalf of the citizens of New York. Instead of retaining it, the Commander announced that he would contribute it towards the South Pole expedition planned by the National Geographic Society.

Twenty children in Stony Creek School Ont., were nearly asphyxiated. Miss Walker, the teacher, noticed a little boy fall down and going into the room found the children unconscious. She soon discovered that the boy had gotten them out, but managed to persist, and fell down in the snow when taken out.

Three children perished in the fire that destroyed the house of Freeman Carpenter of Swanburg township, Ont. The fire broke out in the middle of the night and the father carried out three of the five children sleeping upstairs, but two of them died shortly after.

Two women were found asphyxiated in an Amherst St. house in Montreal Monday morning. An escape of gas had caused their death. A brother of one of the victims had moved the meter which was near the door occupied by the women and it had been left unattended temporarily by a lead pipe, the intention being to support it with a shelf later. During the night the connection gave way, allowing the gas to escape.

Nineteen days from Liverpool, after the most sensational voyage ever experienced by an Ocean Liner to Halifax the Furze Liner "Americana" made her way into Halifax harbor on the 11th. The liner had battered her way through many gales and mighty seas from the time she left England. On February 1st, in the height of a gale, her cylinder cap blew off and for 80 hours the engine was stopped. During this time the steamer was at the mercy of the sea, and was driven off her course.

H. McMILLAN.

LOCAL and OTHER ITEMS.

The Australian Commonwealth Government has renewed the contract for the Vancouver Mail service for one year from July 31st.

The Daily Express asserts that the British Admiralty has decided to adopt oil fuel as a substitute for coal in the Navy, and has ordered fifty thousand tons of liquid fuel for the current year.

John Bradley, aged nine, of New York while playing with his father's revolver, discharged it. The bullet entered his mother's heart after passing through the cheek of the baby she was nursing.

In this issue will be found an advertisement calling for tenders for the new Roman Catholic Orphanage to be erected near St. Dunstan's College. All intending tenders should read the advertisement carefully.

The Dominion Atlantic Railway will open a steamship service between Boston and Digby direct on July 1st, leaving Boston every Tuesday and Friday and Digby every Wednesday and Saturday.

The International Liberal discussion at Madrid culminated in the resignation of the Spanish Cabinet of which Praderregas was Premier. The King at once charged Mendos, Democrat, and leader of the Extreme Liberals, to form a Ministry. This he has done.

A pitiful tragedy of the extreme cold weather in New York is the death of a three year old child, Cecilia Rosenthal, found frozen to death in her crib near the window. The baby had kicked the blankets from her cradle during the night. At the child's side was a half-filled bottle of frozen milk.

That Mackenzie & Mann have obtained Sir Thomas Shaugnessy in obtaining possession of the great coal mines and coal bedding areas of the Dominion interests of Vancouver Island, B. C., is the announcement made on the highest authority. The price paid is said to have been $1,000,000.

The steamer Fred Wood reports picking up a large black Newfoundland dog on the coast of Labrador. The animal was almost dead from exhaustion, but recovered and is now no worse for his experience. He was apparently lost overboard from some passenger ship.

The Manitoba Legislature was opened at Winnipeg on Monday of this week by Hon. J. G. McMillan. In consequence of illness, Hon. Premier Rolin was unable to attend having gone to Arkansas Hot Springs, a short time previously. In his absence Hon. Mr. Rogers is acting Premier.

While backing his automobile out of his garage William Crook, a prominent lawyer of Beaumont, Texas, felt the machine strike some obstacle. He put on more power and forced the car into the yard alley, only to find the obstruction was his infant daughter. The child was crushed to death under the wheels.

Mr. E. Rochette, lost his life when the Hotel Rochette was burned to the ground at the high standard of the 11th. Mr. Rochette was asleep in his room when a fire caused by the explosion of a lamp broke out, and he was overcome in the ensuing excitement. He was seen at the window but the flames cut off the attempt to rescue him.

During the year the new legislative body of the Province will be inaugurated at Charlottetown in September last. The exhibit at the County and Farmers Institute Shows, in nearly all classes, bore evidence of substantial and general progress. The Seed Fair held at Summerside last year was very successful, and both as regards the number and the quality of the exhibits, was pronounced by competent judges the equal, if not the best of its kind, ever held in Canada. The high position attained by our farmers in friendly competition with those of the neighboring Province at the Exhibition at Halifax, and at the Maritime Winter Fair, is very gratifying.

During the year the new legislative body of the Province will be inaugurated at Charlottetown in September last. The exhibit at the County and Farmers Institute Shows, in nearly all classes, bore evidence of substantial and general progress. The Seed Fair held at Summerside last year was very successful, and both as regards the number and the quality of the exhibits, was pronounced by competent judges the equal, if not the best of its kind, ever held in Canada. The high position attained by our farmers in friendly competition with those of the neighboring Province at the Exhibition at Halifax, and at the Maritime Winter Fair, is very gratifying.

A bill to consolidate and amend the various Acts in connection with the Court of Chancery, and also a bill to consolidate and amend the Trustee Act and Amendments, will be submitted for your consideration.

You will also be asked to consider a bill respecting the Counterfeit Election Act. The Accounts of the past year will be laid before you.

The Estimates for the current year will be laid before you. The requirements of the public service, will be submitted at an early date.

I pray that Divine Providence may guide your deliberations, and that your labours may tend to a further increase in the prosperity of the country and the well being of our people.

Obituary.
On the evening of January 21st, 1910, Daniel Carey, of Montello, passed to his heavenly rest at the early age of thirty-two years. A few short months ago and all would have said, no earthly ill could break that rugged frame; but fell disease gripped his iron constitution in a relentless grasp and not the tender care of loving nurses, the knowledge of skilled physicians, nor the resources of vigorous young medicine could throw off the attack. A genial companion, a true hearted friend always considerate for the feelings of others he won the affection and justly commanded the respect of all his neighbors and acquaintances. His widow mother now misa her devoted boy whose mainly attachment to home and duty she confidently expected would be her shield and solace in the years left to her. He also leaves to mourn his early death four brothers in Boston, Mass., Frank, William and John, in California, Edward and three sisters, Mrs. Hugh McPhee, Mrs. Hugh McCormack and Gertrude at home. On Wednesday, Feb. 2nd, with Father McPherson officiating, his body was sorrowfully laid to sleep in the little Catholic cemetery of St. Margaret's, and from the fall hearts the deeply loved and dearly loved one went forth a host! Request in page.—Com.

SPEECH

Of His Honor Donald Alexander McKinnon, Lieutenant Governor of the Province of Prince Edward Island, in opening the Second Session of the Thirty-sixth General Assembly, on Tuesday, the Fifteenth day of February, 1910.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly: I am pleased to again meet you, the representatives of the people, and I feel assured that the various matters which will be laid before you will receive your best attention.

Our people have reason to be grateful to Divine Providence for the abundant harvest of the past year, which, coupled with the exceptionally high price of farm products, has increased the general prosperity of the Province and given a great impetus to agricultural pursuits. It may be justly said that in no part of the Dominion can more comfort and happiness be obtained by persons of moderate means than in Prince Edward Island.

The securing at the instance of my Government of an Immigration Agent in England, will, I believe, result in great good to the Province, by inducing men with some capital, as well as a good class of farm laborers, to come and settle amongst us.

Persons who have been under consideration to secure for the Province a thoroughly equipped and modern Cold Storage Plant. This is a most desirable project, as great losses are constantly being made in consequence of their being no proper place where perishable commodities can be stored. I am pleased to be able to say that a measure will be laid before you having in view provision for this very necessary accommodation.

During the year an Experimental Farm or Station has been acquired by my Government and placed at the disposal of the Federal Department of Agriculture, and being prepared for active operations next spring. This station, which is to be operated without any cost to this Province will undoubtedly be of immense value to our people, and I congratulate them on having obtained so great a boon.

It has been decided to retain the Provisional Stock Farm to be worked in connection with the Hospital for the Insane, and it appears to me to be the proper course to pursue, as the best institutions of this kind are now realizing that out door work under proper supervision, is conducive to the health and recovery of many classes of patients.

The Department of Agriculture has, in many ways, continued to give valuable aid to the advancement of our Agricultural pursuits, and it is very gratifying to notice a much deeper and more wide-spread interest among our farmers, in all matters appertaining to their calling. Sixty-five of our young men, farmers and farmer's sons, were granted Scholarships, to assist them in attending the Short Course of instruction at the Truro Agricultural College in January last. This is a large increase over the number attending last year, and almost as many as could be conveniently accommodated at the College, from this Province. The large number of applicants for these Scholarships, affords ample proof that our most active and progressive farmers are keenly alive to the importance of obtaining the best instruction available, in scientific and practical Agriculture. It is worthy of note that the value of the products of the soil alone has doubled in our Island during the past nine years, and now amounts to almost a million dollars annually. This affords an inspiration for greater confidence in the future of our Province.

The Inter-Provincial Exhibition held in Charlottetown in September last was fully up to the high standard of former years, and the exhibit at the County and Farmers Institute Shows, in nearly all classes, bore evidence of substantial and general progress. The Seed Fair held at Summerside last year was very successful, and both as regards the number and the quality of the exhibits, was pronounced by competent judges the equal, if not the best of its kind, ever held in Canada. The high position attained by our farmers in friendly competition with those of the neighboring Province at the Exhibition at Halifax, and at the Maritime Winter Fair, is very gratifying.

During the year the new legislative body of the Province will be inaugurated at Charlottetown in September last. The exhibit at the County and Farmers Institute Shows, in nearly all classes, bore evidence of substantial and general progress. The Seed Fair held at Summerside last year was very successful, and both as regards the number and the quality of the exhibits, was pronounced by competent judges the equal, if not the best of its kind, ever held in Canada. The high position attained by our farmers in friendly competition with those of the neighboring Province at the Exhibition at Halifax, and at the Maritime Winter Fair, is very gratifying.

The Accounts of the past year will be laid before you. The Estimates for the current year will be laid before you. The requirements of the public service, will be submitted at an early date.

I pray that Divine Providence may guide your deliberations, and that your labours may tend to a further increase in the prosperity of the country and the well being of our people.

Obituary.
On the evening of January 21st, 1910, Daniel Carey, of Montello, passed to his heavenly rest at the early age of thirty-two years. A few short months ago and all would have said, no earthly ill could break that rugged frame; but fell disease gripped his iron constitution in a relentless grasp and not the tender care of loving nurses, the knowledge of skilled physicians, nor the resources of vigorous young medicine could throw off the attack. A genial companion, a true hearted friend always considerate for the feelings of others he won the affection and justly commanded the respect of all his neighbors and acquaintances. His widow mother now misa her devoted boy whose mainly attachment to home and duty she confidently expected would be her shield and solace in the years left to her. He also leaves to mourn his early death four brothers in Boston, Mass., Frank, William and John, in California, Edward and three sisters, Mrs. Hugh McPhee, Mrs. Hugh McCormack and Gertrude at home. On Wednesday, Feb. 2nd, with Father McPherson officiating, his body was sorrowfully laid to sleep in the little Catholic cemetery of St. Margaret's, and from the fall hearts the deeply loved and dearly loved one went forth a host! Request in page.—Com.

Marine Disasters.

The Pacific Navigation Company's steamer Lima is ashore on one of the islands in the Straits of Magellan and is probably a total loss. The British steamer Mathews rescued two hundred and five people but was compelled to leave eighty-eight aboard. Possibly all of these have perished. This is the intelligence conveyed in advices that have come from Chile. Washington intelligence of the same date, contains the following: "Some where on the Atlantic, between Boston and Norfolk, a little naval tugboat Nina, helpless with broken machinery, is endeavoring to survive the tempestuous sea until rescued by one of the eight government vessels searching for her. The Nina carries thirty-two men, and has been missing for a full week. Fears are expressed that she may have foundered during Friday's severe storm."

Boston advices, under date of the 14th, say: "When clear weather returned after the storms of Friday and Saturday it was found that several vessels had been driven ashore along the coast. No loss of life as yet reported. News reached Tampa, Florida, to the same date of a terrible hurricane, which had done a terrible amount of damage to the coast. A small village of Lake Land was completely wrecked. A station was blown from its foundation, telegraph and telephone wires were blown down and tops were damaged. Twenty-five persons were in the station and a number were injured. Appreciation is felt for the safety of Galveston and Kathleen counties where communication has been cut off."

Nineteen days out from Liverpool after the most sensational voyage ever experienced by an ocean liner on a voyage to Halifax, the Furze Liner "Americana" made her way into port early Sunday evening. The liner battered her way through gales and mighty seas from the time she left the English channel. On Feb. 1, in the height of the gale, the cylinder cap blew off and for more than fifty hours the engine had to be stopped. During this time the steamer was at the mercy of the sea and was driven far off her course. Repairs were effected under the greatest difficulty, and Captain Hanks brought his steamer safely into port.

Swept helplessly from her course, in one of the wildest storms that has visited the Mediterranean in forty years, the staunch French Transatlantic S. S. Co.'s steamer "General Chaney," dashed at 12th, on the treacherous reefs near the Island of Minorca, and all but one of the 157 souls on board perished. The one survivor is an Algerian Customs Officer, Marcel Rodet, who was rescued by a fisherman and lies in the hospital at Ciudadela, raving as the result of the tortures through which he passed, and he is unable to give any account of the disaster, and thirty-seven passengers. The ship was in the command of Captain Coyol, one of the most careful officers of the line. In his long experience he never before met with an accident. He was with 16 have retired from the service. The passengers were mostly French officers and officers returning to posts in Algeria, accompanied by their wives and children, a few soldiers, some Italian and Turks, and one Priest. The Chaney is a total wreck. Steamers have been dispatched from Spain and the Balearic Islands to the scene of the catastrophe. Among the victims was the celebrated Parisian singer, Francis Dufour, as well as other musical favorites.

Swept helplessly from her course, in one of the wildest storms that has visited the Mediterranean in forty years, the staunch French Transatlantic S. S. Co.'s steamer "General Chaney," dashed at 12th, on the treacherous reefs near the Island of Minorca, and all but one of the 157 souls on board perished. The one survivor is an Algerian Customs Officer, Marcel Rodet, who was rescued by a fisherman and lies in the hospital at Ciudadela, raving as the result of the tortures through which he passed, and he is unable to give any account of the disaster, and thirty-seven passengers. The ship was in the command of Captain Coyol, one of the most careful officers of the line. In his long experience he never before met with an accident. He was with 16 have retired from the service. The passengers were mostly French officers and officers returning to posts in Algeria, accompanied by their wives and children, a few soldiers, some Italian and Turks, and one Priest. The Chaney is a total wreck. Steamers have been dispatched from Spain and the Balearic Islands to the scene of the catastrophe. Among the victims was the celebrated Parisian singer, Francis Dufour, as well as other musical favorites.

Swept helplessly from her course, in one of the wildest storms that has visited the Mediterranean in forty years, the staunch French Transatlantic S. S. Co.'s steamer "General Chaney," dashed at 12th, on the treacherous reefs near the Island of Minorca, and all but one of the 157 souls on board perished. The one survivor is an Algerian Customs Officer, Marcel Rodet, who was rescued by a fisherman and lies in the hospital at Ciudadela, raving as the result of the tortures through which he passed, and he is unable to give any account of the disaster, and thirty-seven passengers. The ship was in the command of Captain Coyol, one of the most careful officers of the line. In his long experience he never before met with an accident. He was with 16 have retired from the service. The passengers were mostly French officers and officers returning to posts in Algeria, accompanied by their wives and children, a few soldiers, some Italian and Turks, and one Priest. The Chaney is a total wreck. Steamers have been dispatched from Spain and the Balearic Islands to the scene of the catastrophe. Among the victims was the celebrated Parisian singer, Francis Dufour, as well as other musical favorites.

Swept helplessly from her course, in one of the wildest storms that has visited the Mediterranean in forty years, the staunch French Transatlantic S. S. Co.'s steamer "General Chaney," dashed at 12th, on the treacherous reefs near the Island of Minorca, and all but one of the 157 souls on board perished. The one survivor is an Algerian Customs Officer, Marcel Rodet, who was rescued by a fisherman and lies in the hospital at Ciudadela, raving as the result of the tortures through which he passed, and he is unable to give any account of the disaster, and thirty-seven passengers. The ship was in the command of Captain Coyol, one of the most careful officers of the line. In his long experience he never before met with an accident. He was with 16 have retired from the service. The passengers were mostly French officers and officers returning to posts in Algeria, accompanied by their wives and children, a few soldiers, some Italian and Turks, and one Priest. The Chaney is a total wreck. Steamers have been dispatched from Spain and the Balearic Islands to the scene of the catastrophe. Among the victims was the celebrated Parisian singer, Francis Dufour, as well as other musical favorites.

Swept helplessly from her course, in one of the wildest storms that has visited the Mediterranean in forty years, the staunch French Transatlantic S. S. Co.'s steamer "General Chaney," dashed at 12th, on the treacherous reefs near the Island of Minorca, and all but one of the 157 souls on board perished. The one survivor is an Algerian Customs Officer, Marcel Rodet, who was rescued by a fisherman and lies in the hospital at Ciudadela, raving as the result of the tortures through which he passed, and he is unable to give any account of the disaster, and thirty-seven passengers. The ship was in the command of Captain Coyol, one of the most careful officers of the line. In his long experience he never before met with an accident. He was with 16 have retired from the service. The passengers were mostly French officers and officers returning to posts in Algeria, accompanied by their wives and children, a few soldiers, some Italian and Turks, and one Priest. The Chaney is a total wreck. Steamers have been dispatched from Spain and the Balearic Islands to the scene of the catastrophe. Among the victims was the celebrated Parisian singer, Francis Dufour, as well as other musical favorites.

Swept helplessly from her course, in one of the wildest storms that has visited the Mediterranean in forty years, the staunch French Transatlantic S. S. Co.'s steamer "General Chaney," dashed at 12th, on the treacherous reefs near the Island of Minorca, and all but one of the 157 souls on board perished. The one survivor is an Algerian Customs Officer, Marcel Rodet, who was rescued by a fisherman and lies in the hospital at Ciudadela, raving as the result of the tortures through which he passed, and he is unable to give any account of the disaster, and thirty-seven passengers. The ship was in the command of Captain Coyol, one of the most careful officers of the line. In his long experience he never before met with an accident. He was with 16 have retired from the service. The passengers were mostly French officers and officers returning to posts in Algeria, accompanied by their wives and children, a few soldiers, some Italian and Turks, and one Priest. The Chaney is a total wreck. Steamers have been dispatched from Spain and the Balearic Islands to the scene of the catastrophe. Among the victims was the celebrated Parisian singer, Francis Dufour, as well as other musical favorites.

Swept helplessly from her course, in one of the wildest storms that has visited the Mediterranean in forty years, the staunch French Transatlantic S. S. Co.'s steamer "General Chaney," dashed at 12th, on the treacherous reefs near the Island of Minorca, and all but one of the 157 souls on board perished. The one survivor is an Algerian Customs Officer, Marcel Rodet, who was rescued by a fisherman and lies in the hospital at Ciudadela, raving as the result of the tortures through which he passed, and he is unable to give any account of the disaster, and thirty-seven passengers. The ship was in the command of Captain Coyol, one of the most careful officers of the line. In his long experience he never before met with an accident. He was with 16 have retired from the service. The passengers were mostly French officers and officers returning to posts in Algeria, accompanied by their wives and children, a few soldiers, some Italian and Turks, and one Priest. The Chaney is a total wreck. Steamers have been dispatched from Spain and the Balearic Islands to the scene of the catastrophe. Among the victims was the celebrated Parisian singer, Francis Dufour, as well as other musical favorites.

Swept helplessly from her course, in one of the wildest storms that has visited the Mediterranean in forty years, the staunch French Transatlantic S. S. Co.'s steamer "General Chaney," dashed at 12th, on the treacherous reefs near the Island of Minorca, and all but one of Arthur Aldis' Great Work.

(By Georgina Fell Curtis.)

When Margaret Donovan married Arthur Aldis, she said, "My life is magnified this day above all my days," and for a year she believed it. Then came the awakening. Slowly it dawned on her that it was not her handsome, creamy, good-tempered husband who was doing all the work on the farm, but the freckled, raw-boned brother Tom.

The farm in the far West had been given to her as her wedding dowry by her father, whose broad oak ranch, in the shadow of the Rockies, stretched for miles beyond her own land. It was one summer when she was just back from her convent school in Denver that Margaret had met Arthur Aldis, artist, literateur and dreamer, who had come out to Colorado and Wyoming because of some slight tendency to delirium of the lungs, and being him with all her heart, she had married him.

Months later her father died, and his broad lands had passed to her eldest brother, Robert. Then it was that Tom, the youngest son, and Margaret's favorite brother, had come to live with them, and gradually Arthur had handed over to him first one thing on the farm and then another, until, at the end of a year, Tom was doing practically all the work.

"He likes it," the optimistic dreamer told his wife, "and as for me, I can now have more time for my literary work." So he fitted out the most attractive room in the house as his "den," and proceeded to write magazine articles that brought him a slender pittance, which, had it not been for the farm, would have utterly failed to provide for them.

In five years the faithful Tom married, left for a home of his own, and confronted with the necessity of assuming the reins of government, Aldis settled it to his own satisfaction, "Joe will look after everything," he said, "and he can report to me from time to time."

Joe, a farm hand, with the best of good will, but no executive ability, scratched his head and looked at Margaret doubtfully as Aldis' graceful figure disappeared into the house, seeing which, Margaret smiled bravely. "It's all right, Joe," she said. "Go to the north field and start the boys ploughing; it then come to me."

In the years that followed, it was Margaret that became the dominant spirit, while Aldis continued to write and to assure himself and every one else how Joe did the work under his direction. In the meantime, he had not wisely abandoned writing for the magazine, and was to be engaged on a monumental work that would bring him fame and money—nothing less than the "Interdependence of Literature," a book that was to astonish the world. Margaret did her best, but the babies came fast, and sixteen years after her marriage she died, leaving her husband to face life with their nine children, the eldest of whom was only fifteen.

It had passed Aldis to give his children poetic names, and it was the eldest, a girl named Mona Lisa, to whom the dying woman recommended her other children. "You will do your best, Mona—always love your father, and teach the others to love him; and have patience with Don and Victoria, and be a mother to little Angelo." And Mona Lisa, her soft brown eyes wet with tears, had promised, and then Margaret, whose brave spirit had never submitted to any one but herself that her handsome husband was a broken reed to lean upon, had filled her hands and receiving the last sacraments, died with a great peace, her sorely tried spirit had long been a stranger to.

Get the Most Out of Your Food

You don't get it if your stomach is weak. A weak stomach does not digest all that is ordinarily taken into it. It gets tired easily, and what it fails to digest is wasted. Among the signs of a weak stomach are uneasiness after eating, fits of nervous headache, and disagreeable belching.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Strengthens and tones the stomach and the whole digestive system.

Angelo was awakened from his nap. "Victoria Colonos, a sturdy, handsome girl of thirteen, departed, and Donovan gathered up an armful of logs and disappeared down the passage leading to his father's sanctum. He was back in five minutes.

"The Governor wants a cup of tea," said Victoria, "and she says he's cold and can't write when his fingers are so stiff. Gee whiz, but I wish that book would be finished and paid for before summer comes."

A little pucker appeared on Mona's forehead, but she busied herself getting the tea, and presently handed it to the none too willing Donovan, who again departed down the passage-way. In the boy's heart was a growing resentment—at fifteen he was beginning to realize the condition of affairs, and to see how heavily burdened was the elder sister whom they all adored. But at fifteen cares can also be forgotten, especially by a boy, and presently he was back in the kitchen, racing around the room on all four, with three-year-old Angelo, laughing and triumphant, in his back.

At two o'clock Mona had her kitchen tidied up, and gathered the whole eight around her for a talk. Ever since they could remember the Aldis children had kept the Ban King's festival on Twelfth Night. It was a custom Aldis had seen carried out in some parts of Germany and France, and it had taken his artistic fancy so he had taught it to Mona Lisa and Donovan. When not too much absorbed in his work, he would take part in it himself.

Looking at the eager faces around her, Mona Lisa smiled. "I have not much money," she said, "but I have a plan, and she proceeded to unfold it. In the midst of great clapping of hands the door was opened, and there entered a stout, comfortable-looking woman, followed by a fair-haired, manly young man, "Ach Ja!" said the newcomer, "I want you, meine Liebste Blome. Is it to the town we will go, mit meinem Fritz. Is it not so, mein Engelchen?"

Mona Lisa's face was rosy red. "How good you are, dear Mrs. Harter," she said, "I was just wishing I could go to town in preparation for tomorrow. There is so much to do, and so little time in which to do it.

"So," was the answer. "Wrap up warm, mein Lieblich, and gliding around at the chole of bright, eager faces, "There is room for just one more in the sleigh, next to me. Fritz—Ach Gott!" for ten-year-old Sopher, unable to restrain his eagerness, had jumped up, and stripped by Aubrey de Vere's outstretched foot, had landed right in Fritz Harter's comfortable lap. Since he had arrived in so previous a manner, Sopher it should be, and ten minutes later he was stowed away under the warm carriage robes, the while Mona Lisa, a drowsy sweetness in her face as she caught Fritz's eye, was being tucked in the back seat next to his mother. With the musical jingle of the bells they were off, after Mona Lisa had left the house and the younger children in care of Victoria and Don.

Aldis wrote late that afternoon, and just as the western sun was setting in a flow of inspiration he reached for another sheet of paper, to find there was none. Should he stop? No! He had got to a most interesting period of Guman literature in the time of Charlemagne. He would work another hour or two while the subject was fresh in his mind. Rising from his comfortable seat, he walked to a closet that was built in the wall between his room and his eldest daughter's and reached up to a shelf where there was a pile of writing paper as he did so, a clear, boyish voice was raised in the next room, and he paused, spellbound. "I tell you, Vit, it's a burping shame! There he sits day after day in that room, writing all this stuff that nobody will want to read, and everything in the house and on the farm going to rack and ruin, and Mona near worked to death; and none of us with proper clothes or anything else. It's a shame I tell you!"

"It killed mother," said Victoria's voice, "and it will kill Mona." "And then we'll all die in turn," said the first speaker. "I tell you, Victoria, our tomb."

ere, and silence reigned. The many Congresses that are being held everywhere especially, in our time Eucharistic Congresses are second to none in dignity and excellence. From the very outset Eucharistic Congresses have had a most brilliant career and the result achieved so far has surpassed the Founder's most sanguine anticipations.

They have been successively held in the important Cities of Lille (1881) Avignon (1882), Liege (1883), Freiburg (1885), Toulouse (1886), Paris (1888), Antwerp (1890), Jerusalem (1893), Rome (1894), Paris (1897), Brussels (1898), Lourdes (1899), Angers (1901), Namur (1902), Angoulême (1904), Rome (1905), Tournai (1906), Metz (1907), London (1908), Orléans (1909).

An International Eucharistic Congress is a rule held in a City famed in history for some remarkable Eucharistic event, or of its importance and its religious character warrant unusual splendour and profuse results from its demonstrations in honour of the Blessed Eucharist. The privilege of the XXI International Congress has fallen to the lot of Montreal which no better choice could have been made. Montreal is the commercial, industrial and religious Metropolis of Canada, and owing to the number and magnificence of its ecclesiastical edifices and the flourishing condition of its Catholic institutions it is justly styled the Rome of North America. We an icapite unparalleled success for the coming International Eucharistic Congress.

The functions to be divided into two distinct classes, namely, public manifestations and sectional meetings. The primary object of Montreal's Eucharistic Congress will be public profession of Catholic belief in the Real Presence of Jesus Christ in the Blessed Eucharist. Religious demonstrations will be held daily by the different sections of the City and they will be presided over by the most eminent members of the Hierarchy and by the Papal Legate himself. The most solemn will be, doubtless, the Midnight Mass in Notre Dame Church, the Pontifical Mass in open air at the foot of Mount Royal, the Holy Hour in which the Clergy will take part in the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, the great Procession at the close of the Congress and the grand illumination of the City.

The daily reunion at which papers on the Blessed Eucharist will be read may be classified under general meetings, morning and evening, special meetings for the young, for Ladies and the Clergy every afternoon. Nodded orators, Bishops, Priests and Laymen will address the meetings. The most important reunions will unquestionably be the Priest's meetings and the General meeting every evening in Notre Dame Church.

When Mona Lisa drove up at eight o'clock, her return having been delayed as much as possible by Fritz after he left his mother at their farm three miles beyond, she was astonished to see the whole house lit up. What could it mean? The door was flung open and she was seized by Aubrey de Vere, who whirled her across the kitchen to the living-room beyond.

And, oh, wonder of wonders! there was a royal throne, backed by the dark evelings, on which sat Donovan, resplendent in regal robes, a gold crown on his head, surrounded by his court of laughing children. He waved his sceptre as Mona Lisa entered. "It is my will, O Princess," he said, "that you should cut our bean cake on yonder table."

Mona Lisa advanced to where lay the big cake, sent to them by kind Mrs. Harter. But stay!—who was this new father who came forward and kissed her so tenderly, and took her wraps from her, and asked her if she was cold from her long drive? Was she in a dream or was it real?

Impatient little hands were pulling at her skirt. "Out it Mona! Cut the cake, and let us see who gets the bean."

With a surge of bewildered, happy feelings Mona Lisa obeyed, and in minutes later an exclamation of delight went up as the big black bean, which foretold luck to the one who had it, was found in her own piece of cake. Mona Lisa had never known such a Twelfth Night. Care and responsibility seemed slipping away from her, and when, two hours later, she told her father good-night—hey two being the last to retire—a thrill of new-born hope and joy filled her heart as

The Eucharistic Congress.

The following is taken from the official programme of the Eucharistic Congress to be held in Montreal, September 7th to 11th, of the present year.

The main object of the Work of Eucharistic Congresses which was inaugurated some thirty years ago is to promote the knowledge, love and service of our Lord Jesus Christ in the most Holy Sacrament of the Altar, to assert His sovereign rights by solemn manifestations, and thereby to strengthen the faith of the people.

Being held everywhere especially, in our time Eucharistic Congresses are second to none in dignity and excellence. From the very outset Eucharistic Congresses have had a most brilliant career and the result achieved so far has surpassed the Founder's most sanguine anticipations.

They have been successively held in the important Cities of Lille (1881) Avignon (1882), Liege (1883), Freiburg (1885), Toulouse (1886), Paris (1888), Antwerp (1890), Jerusalem (1893), Rome (1894), Paris (1897), Brussels (1898), Lourdes (1899), Angers (1901), Namur (1902), Angoulême (1904), Rome (1905), Tournai (1906), Metz (1907), London (1908), Orléans (1909).

An International Eucharistic Congress is a rule held in a City famed in history for some remarkable Eucharistic event, or of its importance and its religious character warrant unusual splendour and profuse results from its demonstrations in honour of the Blessed Eucharist. The privilege of the XXI International Congress has fallen to the lot of Montreal which no better choice could have been made. Montreal is the commercial, industrial and religious Metropolis of Canada, and owing to the number and magnificence of its ecclesiastical edifices and the flourishing condition of its Catholic institutions it is justly styled the Rome of North America. We an icapite unparalleled success for the coming International Eucharistic Congress.

The functions to be divided into two distinct classes, namely, public manifestations and sectional meetings. The primary object of Montreal's Eucharistic Congress will be public profession of Catholic belief in the Real Presence of Jesus Christ in the Blessed Eucharist. Religious demonstrations will be held daily by the different sections of the City and they will be presided over by the most eminent members of the Hierarchy and by the Papal Legate himself. The most solemn will be, doubtless, the Midnight Mass in Notre Dame Church, the Pontifical Mass in open air at the foot of Mount Royal, the Holy Hour in which the Clergy will take part in the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, the great Procession at the close of the Congress and the grand illumination of the City.

The daily reunion at which papers on the Blessed Eucharist will be read may be classified under general meetings, morning and evening, special meetings for the young, for Ladies and the Clergy every afternoon. Nodded orators, Bishops, Priests and Laymen will address the meetings. The most important reunions will unquestionably be the Priest's meetings and the General meeting every evening in Notre Dame Church.

When Mona Lisa drove up at eight o'clock, her return having been delayed as much as possible by Fritz after he left his mother at their farm three miles beyond, she was astonished to see the whole house lit up. What could it mean? The door was flung open and she was seized by Aubrey de Vere, who whirled her across the kitchen to the living-room beyond.

And, oh, wonder of wonders! there was a royal throne, backed by the dark evelings, on which sat Donovan, resplendent in regal robes, a gold crown on his head, surrounded by his court of laughing children. He waved his sceptre as Mona Lisa entered. "It is my will, O Princess," he said, "that you should cut our bean cake on yonder table."

Mona Lisa advanced to where lay the big cake, sent to them by kind Mrs. Harter. But stay!—who was this new father who came forward and kissed her so tenderly, and took her wraps from her, and asked her if she was cold from her long drive? Was she in a dream or was it real?

Impatient little hands were pulling at her skirt. "Out it Mona! Cut the cake, and let us see who gets the bean."

With a surge of bewildered, happy feelings Mona Lisa obeyed, and in minutes later an exclamation of delight went up as the big black bean, which foretold luck to the one who had it, was found in her own piece of cake. Mona Lisa had never known such a Twelfth Night. Care and responsibility seemed slipping away from her, and when, two hours later, she told her father good-night—hey two being the last to retire—a thrill of new-born hope and joy filled her heart as

Had Weak Back.

Would Often Lie in Bed For Days, Scarcely Able To Turn Himself.

Mrs. Arch. Schmale, Black Point, N.B., writes: "For years I was troubled with a weak back. Sometimes I have lain in bed for days, being scarcely able to turn myself, and I have also been a great sufferer while trying to perform my household duties. I had doctors attend to me without avail and tried liniments and plasters, but nothing seemed to do me any good. I was about to give up in despair when my husband induced me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and after using two boxes I am now well and able to do my work. I am positive Doan's Kidney Pills are all that you claim for them; and I would advise all kidney sufferers to give them a fair trial."

Doan's Kidney Pills are a purely vegetable medicine, resulting quick, permanent relief, without any after effects, and one that will absolutely cure Backache and all forms of Kidney and Bladder Disease. Price, 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25. Sold by all druggists. T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont., "Doan's."

Blowhard has just finished relating a strange occurrence. "Why do you look so surprised?" he queried of his one-man audience. "Don't you believe it?" "Yes, that's the trouble," rejoined the other, "I happen to know that it's true."

MINARD'S LINIMENT CO., LTD. Some time ago I had a bad attack of Quinsy which laid me up for two weeks and cost a lot of money. Finding the lump again forming in my throat, I bathed freely with MINARD'S LINIMENT, and wearing a cloth with the liniment let it on all night. Next morning the swelling was gone and I started on the warding off an attack of Quinsy to the free use of MINARD'S LINIMENT.

G. F. WORDEN, St. John. "No news is good news," quoted the Wise Guy "Huh!" snorted the Simple Mug, "I'm very evident you never worked in a newspaper office."

Minard's Liniment Cures colds, etc. Uncle—"Shall I tell you a funny story, Johnnie?" Johnnie—"Hope, I guess not, pa tells me so many that they've got to be a sort of household pest."

Muscular Rheumatism. Mr. H. Wilkinson, Stratford, Ont., says: "It affords me much pleasure to say that I experienced great relief from Muscular Rheumatism by using two boxes of Milburn's Rheumatic Pills. Price a box 50c."

"I am just crazy for an auto. I wonder how I can get over it?" "The same way a fellow gets over being crazy for a wife, get one."

A Sensible Merchant. Mrs. Fred. Laine, St. George, Ont., writes: "My little girl would cough so at night that neither she nor I could get any rest. I gave her Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and am thankful to say it cured her cough quickly."

Hoax—"I once fell over forty feet without hurting myself." Joak—"Whose feet were they?"

Minard's Liniment cures Neuralgia. She—"This is the candy store where we first met. You took shelter here from the rain, do you remember?" He (angrily)—"Yes, and now I see that there was a saloon next door, which I must have run past."

School Books AND School Supplies. All the authorized School and College Books In Stock and Sold at PUBLISHERS PRICES. An immense range of School Supplies, in Scribblers, Exercise Books, Note Books, Pens, Inks, Pencils, Erasers, Crayons, Rulers, Fountain Pens (all prices), Note Papers, Foolscap, Shorthand Books, Practice Books, Slates, Envelopes, Ink Stands, etc., etc. Cash Discount to all. WHOLESALE & RETAIL. CARTER & CO., Ltd., Queen St. Market Square, Charlottetown.

ROBERT PALMER & CO., Charlottetown Wash and Door Factory, Manufacturers of Doors & Frames, Sashes & Frames. Interior and Exterior finish, etc., etc. Our Specialties: Gothic windows, stairs, stair rails, Balusters, Newell Posts, Cypress Gutter and Conductors, Kiln-dried Spruce and Hardwood Flooring, Kiln-dried clear spruce, sheathing and clapboards, Encourage home industry.

ROBERT PALMER & CO., PEAKE'S No. 3 WHARF, CHARLOTTETOWN

HARDWARE! Largest Assortment, Lowest Prices. WHOLESALE and RETAIL.

Fennel and Chandler. WE HAVE IN STOCK For the Summer Trade a fine selection of TEMPERANCE DRINKS! FRUIT, CONFECTIONERY, etc.

JAMES KELLY & CO., D'OP IN AND INSP'OT. June 23, 1909—8mj

KING EDWARD HOTEL. Mrs. Larter, Proprietress. Will now be conducted on KENTSTREET Near Corner of Queen. Look out for the old sign, King Edward Hotel, known everywhere for first class accommodation at reasonable prices. June 12, 1907.

Pressed Hay WANTED! We will buy some good bright Timothy Hay. G. Lyons & Co., Feb. 10th, 1909—2i

$50 Scholarships Free To the Student making the Highest Marks during next term. Will YOU win it? An up-to-date modern business training with no waste time. Write to-day for new prospectus, terms, etc. United Commercial College, WM MORAN, Pri.

FIRE INSURANCE. Royal Insurance Company of Liverpool, G. B. Sun Fire offices of London. Phoenix Insurance Company of Brooklyn. Combined Assets $100,000,000. Lowest rates and prompt settlement of Losses.

JOHN MACHACHERN, AGENT. Telephone No. 362. Mar. 22nd, 1906. JOB WORK! executed with Neatness and Despatch at the HERALD Office, Charlottetown, P. E. Island

Tickets. McClean & McKinnon, Barristers, Attorneys at-Law, Charlottetown, P. E. Island.