

Farm and Garden.

ORCHARDS AND NURSERY. CIDER.—The best cider is made from late ripening, sound fruit, and in cool weather, when the fermentation is gradual. Many early apples may be worked up into sweet cider and sold as such or made into vinegar. This is one of the best methods of turning to account fruit that would otherwise be lost.

VINEGAR.—The essentials for good vinegar are: good cider; a temperature of at least 70°, and as complete exposure to the atmosphere as possible. The process may be hastened by adding yeast to the cider, or "mother" from old vinegar barrels, which amounts to the same thing. Vinegar making is therefore a sort of fermentation, facilitated by a low microscopic plant of the fun. group.

POMACE from the cider press is of no great value either as a food for stock or as a manure to the land. Pigs will eat it to some extent. It should be put in the manure heap, as when left by itself in the open air it gives off a disagreeable odor.

FRUIT CELLARS should be in readiness, but the fruit should be kept under sheds, etc., until cold weather comes, being careful to remove it to the cellar before exposed to severe cold. The fruit cellars should be provided with ventilators so arranged that they can be readily thrown open.

APPLES.—The practice of picking the fruit and putting it in heaps for a few days until the skin toughens, before barrelling, is a good one. Put the fruit into the barrel with care, shaking it down when half full, and again when full, so that the apples will fit closely when the head is pressed in by means of the barrelling press. The opposite head should be marked as the one to be opened. This season of abundant apples will not pay to market any except the best fruit, and that in fine shape. Dry second-rate fruit or make it into GREENHOUSE AND WINDOW PLANTS. The greenhouse before this should have been put in readiness, that there may be no delay in bringing in the plants when the time comes. Soil, labels, moss, pots, and all other needed articles should be on hand ready for use, and in sufficient quantity.

BULBS for flowering in pots should be potted as soon as obtained; the soil should be rich, made loose with a plenty of clean sand, after which the pots and plants may be placed in a cool and dark cellar to form a good growth of roots.

WINDOW PLANTS.—The necessity of a gradual change must be emphasized in removing plants from the open air to the dwelling rooms. It is best to place the plants in a room where there is no fire, and one that can be opened during the day. After a while the plants may be taken to the close living-room, in which there is a fire.

HARDY PLANTS can be forced in window culture, and deserve more attention than they have received. Among these are Dicentra (Bleeding Heart), Astilba Japonica, Lily of the Valley. All such should be taken up at once and potted, and kept in a pit or cellar until late in January or February, or later, when brought out for bloom, they should at first receive water rather sparingly.

MILKING THREE TIMES A DAY.—This matter has been discussed in our columns in former years, though but little has been said on the subject of late. The following, from one of the Cow Essays which will appear in the book, comprising the Prize Essays and others, gives the views of "Spencer" on the propriety of milking three times a day:—"During the heat of summer, the cow should be milked three times a day, at regular intervals—about five o'clock in the morning, one in the afternoon, and nine in the evening. The quantity of milk and butter is considerably increased, and the quality improved, by this practice. The milk is injured by remaining in the udder through the heat of the day, and the cow is made uncomfortable, which, of necessity, diminishes her usefulness. When cows are milked but twice a day in hot weather, the udder becomes too much heated and feverish, and the milk is in a similar condition—the cream seems to be melted, the milk soon becomes sour, the cream does not rise well, and the butter is soft and oily. These difficulties, almost universally attending butter-making at this time of the year, are mostly overcome by the practice of milking three times a day, and the cow being near at hand it is a small matter to adopt this practice."

Men admire, respect, adore, but never flatter in love. That is reserved for the benefit of those for whom they have but little feeling and regard, and with whom they can afford to make free, whose esteem it not felt and valued, and whose love is neither appreciated nor desired.

The best part of one's life is the performance of one's daily duties. All his motives, ideals, conceptions, sentiments, in a man, are of no account if they do not come down and strengthen him to a better discharge of the duties levelled upon him in the ordinary life.

Words of Wisdom.

An idler is twice a thief: he not only steals his own time, but he hangs around trying to steal yours also.

A woman should never accept a lover without the consent of her heart, nor a husband without the consent of her judgment.

Be it ours to fasten our thoughts not on the passions and parties of the brief to-day, but on the hopes of the long to-morrow.

He that cannot forgive others breaks the bridge over which he must pass himself; for every man has need to be forgiven.

Christianity does not destroy the social principle, but sanctifies it on earth, and will perfectly sanctify it in heaven. The select society of the universe is in heaven.

What unthankfulness is it to forget our consolations, and to look only upon matter of grievance; to think so much upon two or three crosses as to forget a hundred blessings.

Polished steel will not shine in the dark; no more can reason, however refined or cultivated, shine efficaciously, but as it reflects the light of divine truth shed from Heaven.

Some persons are capable of making great sacrifices, but few are capable of concealing how much the effort has cost them; and it is this concealment that constitutes their value.

Don't live on hope with your arms folded. Fortune smiles on those who roll up their sleeves and put their shoulder to the wheel that propels them on to wealth and happiness. Cut this out and carry it about with you in your pocket, ye who idle in bar-rooms or at the corners of the streets.

A smooth sea never made a skillful mariner. Neither do uninterrupted prosperity and success qualify a man for usefulness and happiness. The storms of adversity, like the storms of the ocean, rouse the faculties and excite the invention, prudence, skill and fortitude of the voyager.

Nothing is more certain than that human conduct produces its effect upon human character and determines its future weal or woe. Virtue and upright-ness give the pure heart and clear conscience, whose working is an ample reward for effort and sacrifice. Vice and wrong inevitably leave their marks upon the soul, and tend to misery.

A TRUE LADY.—Beauty and style are not the surest passport to respectability. Some of the noblest specimens of womanhood that the world has ever seen have presented the plainest and most unprepossessing appearance. A young woman's worth is to be estimated by the real goodness of her heart, the greatness of her soul and the purity and sweetness of her character; and a woman with a kindly disposition and a well balanced mind and temper is lovely and attractive, be her face ever so plain and her figure, so homely. She makes the best of wives and the truest of mothers. She has a higher purpose in living than the beautiful yet vain and supercilious woman, who has no higher ambition than to flaunt her finery on the street or to gratify her inordinate vanity by exacting flattery and praise from a society whose compliments are as hollow as they are insincere.

WHO ARE THE STRONG MEN.—We mistake a strong feeling for strong character. A man who bears all before him—before whose frown domestics tremble, and whose bursts of fury make the children of the house quake—because he has his will obeyed, and his own way in all things, we call him a strong man. The truth is, that is the weak man; it is his passions that are strong; he, mastered by them, is weak. You must measure the strength of a man by the power of the feelings he subdues, not by the power of those which subdue him. And hence, composure is very often the highest result of strength. Did we never see a man receive a flagrant insult, and only grow a little pale, and then reply quietly? That was the man spiritually strong. Or did we never see a man in anguish stand as if carved out of solid rock, mastering himself? or some one bearing a hopeless daily trial remain silent and never tell the world what it was that cankered his home peace? That is strength. He who with strong passions, remains chaste—he who, keenly sensitive, with manly power of indignation in him, can be provoked, yet can restrain himself and forgive—these are strong men, spiritual heroes.

A Wonderful Discovery. For the speedy cure of Consumption and all diseases that lead to it, such as stubborn Coughs, neglected Colds, Bronchitis, Hay Fever, Asthma, pain in the side and chest, dry hacking cough, tickling in the throat, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, and all chronic or lingering diseases of the throat and lungs, Dr. King's New Discovery has no equal and has established for itself a world-wide reputation. Many leading physicians recommend and use it in their practice. The formula from which it is prepared is highly recommended by all medical journals. The clergy and the press have complimented it in the most glowing terms. Go to your druggist and get a trial bottle for ten cents, or a regular size for $1. For sale by F. Jordan, Goderich.

Beckien's Arnica Salve. The best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Scalds, Burns, Sprains, Hemorrhoids, Corns, and all kinds of Skin eruptions. This Salve is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction in every case or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by F. Jordan, Goderich.

Cured of Drinking. A young friend of mine was cured of an insupportable thirst for liquor, that had so prostrated his system that he was unable to do any business. He was entirely cured by the use of Hop Bitters. It allayed all that burning thirst; took away the appetite for liquor; made his nerves steady, and he has remained a sober and healthy man for more than two years, and has no desire to return to his cups, and I know of a number of others that have been cured of drinking by it. —From a leading R. R. Official, Chicago, Illinois.

New York But or Butter. In reporting the market prices for butter, the New York Tribune, of May 20th, said, "Choice packages to the retail trade reach 19 to 20 cents, but light-colored goods are hard to dispose of, and several lots were thought well sold at 8 to 10 cents. This stern logic of dollars and cents is really convincing dairymen that they should use the Perfected Butter Color made by Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt. It gives the perfect June color the year round and dairymen that use it never find light-colored goods to market.

THE DAYS OF MISERY AND NIGHTS OF UNREST, that afflict the human race, a persistent cough soon sap the vitality of the system and wreck the constitution. Such a catastrophe can only be avoided by precautionary measures. Prevent the climax of a cough with Northrop & Lyman's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, approved of in professional quarters, and which is a combination of the purest and most salutary ingredients in perfect chemical harmony. Coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, and other affections of the respiratory organs, are speedily relieved by it, and it has likewise proved to be a useful agent in the treatment of pulmonary and general tuberculous maladies. The loss of strength consequent upon being diseased is checked, and the flagging physical energies restored by its invigorating action. Phosphorus, the active principle of the hypophosphites, not only supplies the system with an important element of strength, but gives a healthful impetus to the circulation. The lime and soda also add to vigor of the frame. In wasting diseases of all kinds, this preparation can be depended upon to produce a beneficial effect. A fair, persistent trial, all that is necessary to prove it a potent either as a pulmonary or general invigorant. For poverty of the blood, with which so many invalids are troubled, it is a sovereign remedy, promoting the acquisition of both strength and flesh. Prepared by Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, and sold by all druggists.

AS SURELY AS EFFECT FOLLOWS CAUSE, so surely will disease eventually fasten itself upon a system deficient in vital energy, if tonic medication is not resorted to in time. The necessary tendency of a weak discharge of the functions of the body is to disorder its organs. Inevitably, prompt and thorough, is the only safeguard. Northrop & Lyman's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, which gives a relish for the coarsest fare, is insured by the use of the Quinine Wine, which also confers brain soothing and body refreshing sleep. Fever and ague and bilious remittent fever, are diseases to the eradication of which it is especially adapted; but it should be used only in the intervals between the seizures. The far-reaching effects of a good tonic, in all complaints involving loss of physical energy, are well understood by physicians, and the comprehensive influence for good of this preparation upon the system goes far to beat out the professional belief in the value of invigorants as opponents of disease. Be sure to ask for the "Quinine Wine" prepared by Northrop & Lyman, Toronto. Sold by all druggists.

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT.—A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Read the following and be convinced: Thomas Robinson, Farnham Centre P. Q., writes, "I have been troubled with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil and since then have had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all." H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Sheffield, P. Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in case of cuts, wounds, etc., and think it is equally as good for horse as man." A. Maybee, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Electric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, 'one of the best medicines they have ever used.' It has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest commendation." Joseph Rusan, Township of Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for relief. It is a great public benefit. Beware of imitations. Ask for Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. See that the signature of S. N. Thomas is on the wrapper, and the names of Northrop & Lyman are blown in the bottles, and take no other. Sold by all medicine dealers. Price 25 cents. NORTHROP & LYMAN, Toronto, Ont., Proprietors for the Dominion.

HOPE FOR CONSUMPTIVES. See what Physicians and the People say about SCOTT'S EMULSION OF PURE COD LIVER OIL AND HYPOPHOSPHITES, as a remedy for Consumption, Scrophula, and Wasting Affections. Messrs. SCOTT & BOWNE: I have used Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, etc., in my practice and used it in my family. I am greatly pleased with it because of its palatableness and the good results that follow its use. I have found it very serviceable in scrophulous diseases and pulmonary affections. Respectfully yours, IRA M. LANG, M.D., 720 East Broadway, N.Y., Louisville, Ky., January 3, 1875. GENTLEMEN—For the last fifteen months I have used your Cod Liver Oil Emulsion, both in hospital and in private practice, and have been greatly pleased with its effects. It is better borne and can be taken for a longer time than any other preparation of Cod Liver Oil. In Consumption and children's diseases I have found it especially valuable. JOHN A. OSTERLONKY, M.D., Vis. Physician, Louisville City Hospital. Messrs. SCOTT & BOWNE: I have used Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil in various instances and I have found it to be easily taken, readily assimilated, and rapidly improves the nutrition and flesh. I consider it the best Emulsion I have ever used. R. E. HAUGHTON, M.D., Indianapolis, Ind. Messrs. SCOTT & BOWNE: I have given your remedy of Cod Liver Oil, etc., a fair trial, and am glad that I can say I think it the remedy for weak lungs and bad coughs. I can highly recommend it. When the doctors had given me up, I commenced using your medicine, and I am gaining health and strength very fast and I think I shall soon be well. Yours truly, G. A. BIEDERSTADT, Galveston, Ind. SCOTT & BOWNE: I felt it my duty to let you know the benefit I have derived from the use of your Emulsion. I had a very bad cough for years, and on consulting Dr. J. E. Gorsuch of this city, he informed me that my lung was diseased, and prescribed Scott's Emulsion with Hypophosphites. After taking two bottles, I began to improve very rapidly, and continued using it until I had taken ten bottles, and now am as healthy a man as there is in the city of Baltimore. When I began using it I weighed 145 pounds. I now weigh 150 pounds. Oct. 3, 1879. CANANDAIGUA, Sept. 15, 1877. SCOTT & BOWNE: Gentlemen—I thought I would write to you as I saw a notice upon your bottles of late upon its long continued use. This has proved true in my case. I was given up to die last March with consumption, the best medical aid made no use of any treatment. My husband applied for your Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil; he has bought twenty-six bottles and it is restoring me to health, beyond the expectations of my friends, expecting to hear of my death every day. I am gaining health and strength very fast and I will be perfectly cured. Yours with respect, MRS. ELDRIDGE. For sale by druggists at $1 per bottle, 1751.

THE MAIL ROBBER.

Stage-Driver's Story.

Fourteen years ago I drove from Danbury to Littleton, a distance of 42 miles, and as I had to wait the arrival of two or three coaches, and I did not start until after dinner, I very often had a good distance to drive after dark. It was in the dead of night. A great deal of snow had fallen and the drifts were plenty and deep. The mail I carried was not due at Littleton by contract until one o'clock in the morning, but that winter the postmaster was obliged to sit up a little later than that hour for me.

One day in January, when I drove up with my mail at Danbury, the postmaster called me into his office.

'Pete,' said he, with an important serious look, 'there's some pretty heavy money packages in that bag, and he pointed to it as he spoke. He said the money was from Boston to some land agents near the Canada line. Then he asked me if I had any passengers who were going through to Littleton. I told him I did not know. 'But suppose I have not,' said I.

'Why,' said he, 'the agent of the lower route came in to-day, and he said that there were two suspicious characters on the stage that came in last night, and he suspects that they have an eye on this mail, so it will stand you in hand to be a little careful this evening.'

He said the agent had described one of them as a short, thick-set fellow, about 40 years of age, with long hair, and a thick, heavy clump of beard under his chin, but none on the side of his face. I did not know anything about the other. I told him I guessed there wasn't much danger.

'Oh, no; not if you have got passengers all the way through; but I only told you this so that you might look out for your mail, and also look out sharp when you change horses.'

I answered that I should do so, and then took the bag under my arm and left the office. I stowed the mail away under my seat a little more carefully than usual, placing it so I could keep my feet against it, but beyond that I did not feel any concern. It was past one when we started, and I had four passengers, two of them rode only to my first stopping place. I reached Gowans mills at dark, when we stopped for supper, and where my other two passengers concluded to stop for the night.

About six o'clock in the evening I left Gowans Mills alone having two horses and a pump.

I had 17 miles to go, and a hard 17 it was, too. The night was quite clear, but the wind was sharp and cold, the loose snow flying in every direction, while the drifts were deep and closely packed. It was slow tedious work, and my horses soon became leg-weary and restive. At the distance of six miles I came to a little settlement called Bull's Corner, where I took fresh horses. I'd been two hours going that distance. As I was going to start, a man came up and asked if I was going through to Littleton. I told him I should go through if the thing could possibly be done. He said he was anxious to go, and as he had no baggage I told him to jump in, and make himself as comfortable as possible. I was gathering up my lines when the hostler came up and asked me if I knew that one of my horses had cut himself badly. I jumped out and found that one of the animals had got a deep cork cut on the off foot. I gave such directions as I considered necessary, and was about to turn when the hostler remarked that he thought I came alone. I told him I did. 'Then where did you get the passenger?' said he.

'He just got in,' I answered. 'Got in from where?' 'I don't know.'

'Well, now,' said the hostler, 'that's a kind of curious. There isn't been no such a man at the house, and I know there ain't been none at any of the neighbours.'

'Let's have a look at his face,' said I. 'We can get that much, at any rate. Do you go back with me, and when I get into the pump, just hold your lantern so that the light will shine into his face.'

He did as I wished, and as I stepped into the pump I got a fair view of such portions of my passenger's as were not muffled up. I saw a short, thick frame, full, hard features, and I could almost see that there was a heavy beard under the chin. I thought of the man whom the postmaster had described to me; but I did not think seriously upon it until I had started. Perhaps I had gone half a mile when I noticed the mail-bag wasn't in the place under my feet.

'Hello,' says I, holding up my horses a little. 'where's my mail?' My passenger sat on a seat behind me, and I turned towards him. 'Here's a bag of some kind that slipped back under my feet, he said, giving it a kick, as though he would shove it forward.

Just at this moment my horses lumbered into a deep snow-drift, and I was forced to get out and tread down the snow in front of them, and lead them through it.

This took me all of 15 minutes, and when I got in again I pulled the mail-bag forward and got my feet upon it. As I was doing this I saw the man taking something from his lap, beneath the buffalo, and put it into his breast-pocket. This I thought was a pistol. I had caught a gleam of a barrel in the starlight, and when I had time to reflect I knew I could not be mistaken.

About this time I began to think somewhat seriously. From what I had heard and seen, I soon made up my mind that the individual behind me not only wanted to rob me of my mail, but was prepared to rob me of my life. If I resisted him he would shoot me, and perhaps he meant to perform that delectable operation at any rate. While I was pondering, the horses plunged into another snow-drift, and I was again forced to get out and tread down the snow before them. I asked my passenger if he wouldn't help me, but he didn't feel very well, and wouldn't try, so I worked all alone, and was all of a quarter of an hour getting my team through the drifts.

When I got into the sleigh again, I began to feel for the mail-bag with my feet. I found it where I had left it, but when I attempted to withdraw my foot I discovered it had become fast in something—I thought it was the buffalo, and I tried to kick it clear, but the more I kicked the more closely it held. I reached down my hand, and after feeling about a few moments, I found that my foot was in the mail-bag. I felt again and found my hand in among the packages of letters and papers. I ran my fingers over the edges of the opening, and became assured that the stout leather had been cut with a knife.

Here was a discovery, I began to wish I had taken a little more forethought before leaving Danbury; but as I knew making such wishes was only waste of time, I quickly gave it up, and began to consider what I had better do under existing circumstances. I wasn't long in making up my mind upon a few essential points. First, the man behind me was a villain; second, he had cut open the mail-bag robbed it of some valuable matter—he must have known the money-letters by their size and shape; third, he meant to leave the stage on the first opportunity; and fourthly, he was prepared to shoot me if I attempted to arrest or detain him.

I revolved these things in my mind, and pretty soon thought of a course to pursue. I knew that to get my hands safely upon the rascal I must take him unawares, and this I could not do while he was behind me, for his eyes were upon me all the time, so I must resort to stratagem. Only a little distance ahead was a house, and an old farmer named Longee lived there; and directly before it a huge snowbank stretched across the road, through which a track had been cleared with shovels.

As we approached the cut I saw a light in the front room as I felt confident I should, for the old man generally sat up until the stage went by. I drove on, and when nearly opposite the dwelling, stood up, as I had frequently done when approaching difficult places. I saw the snowbank ahead, and could distinguish the deep cut which had been shovelled through it. I urged my horses to a good speed, and when near the bank forced them into it. One of the runners mounted the edge of the bank, after which the other ran into the cut, thus throwing the sleigh over about as quick as though lightning had struck it. My passenger had not calculated on any such movement, and wasn't prepared for it; but I had calculated, and was prepared.

He rolled out in the deep snow with a heavy buffalo robe about him, while I alighted directly on the top of him. I punched his head in the snow and sung out for old Longee. I did not have to call a second time, for the farmer had come to the window to see me pass, as soon as he saw my sleigh overturned, he had lighted his lantern and hurried out.

'What's to pay?' asked the old man, as he came up. 'Lead the horses into the track, and then come here,' I said. As I spoke I partially loosened my hold upon the villain's throat, and he drew a pistol from his bosom; but I saw it in good season and jammed his head into the snow again, and got it away from him.

By this time Longee had led the horses out and came back, and I explained the matter to him in a few words as possible. We hauled the rascal out into the road, and upon examination, we found about 20 packages of letters which he had stolen from the mail-bag and stowed away in his pockets. He swore, threatened, and prayed, but we paid no attention to his blarney. Longee got some stout cord, and when he had securely bound the villain we tumbled him into the pump. I then asked the old man if he would accompany me into Littleton, and he said 'Of course I will.'

So he got his overcoat and muffled, and ere long we started on.

I reached the end of my route with my mail all safe, though not as snug as it might have been, and my mail-bags a little the worse for the trick that had been played upon them. However, the mail-robber was secure, and within a week he was identified by some officer from Concord as an old offender, and I am rather inclined to the opinion that he is in the state prison at the present time. At any rate he was there the last time I heard of him. That is the only time I ever had any mail trouble, and I think that, under all the circumstances I came out pretty well.

AN AMUSING STORY.

'From grave to gay' is the order of life, and of newspapers as well—so we revive the old and amusing story of the miller who sometimes had crazy fits, in which he always imagined himself to be the Lord judging the world.

On these occasions he would put on a paper crown, ascend a pile of mail-bags with great dignity, and call his neighbors in succession. The same ones were always judged, and they were the millers of his vicinity.

The first one summoned was Mr. Hans Schmidt.

'Hans Schmidt, stand up.'

'Hans, vat was been your pishness in dat oder world?'

'I was a miller, O, Lord!'

'Was you a yooost man?'

'Vell, ven the vater vas low, and the pishness is pad, O, Lord, I sometimes dakes a leetle extra doler.'

'Vell, Hans, you shall go ofer mit to gotes, already yet.'

And so in succession all were tried and immediately sentenced to go over to the goats.

Last of all, the miller invariably tried himself thus:

'Jacob Miller, stand oop.'

'Jacob, vat vas your pishness in dat oder world?'

'I was a miller, O, Lord.'

'Was you always a yooost man, Jacob?'

'Vell, O, Lord, ven de vater vas a leetle low and the pishness vas pad, I sometimes dakes some leetle extra doler; but, O, Lord, I all de vile gives does extra doler to de poor.'

(After a long pause)—'Vell, Jacob Miller you can go ofer mit de sheeps—but it vas von tight squeeze!'

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

We call the special attention of postmasters and subscribers to the following synopsis of the newspaper laws:

1. A postmaster is required to give notice by letter (returning a paper does not answer the law) when a subscriber does not take his paper out of the office, and state the reasons for its not being taken. Any neglect to do so makes the postmaster responsible to the publishers for payment.

2. If any person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether it be taken from the office or not. There can be no legal discontinuance until the payment is made.

3. Any person who takes a paper from the post-office, whether directed to his name or another, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the pay. 4. If a subscriber orders his paper to be stopped at a certain time, and the publisher continues to send, the subscriber is bound to pay for it if he takes it out of the post-office. This proceeds upon the ground that a man must pay for what he uses.

5. The courts have decided that refusing to take a newspaper and periodicals from the post-office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

Mrs. Hancock says she read Republican papers exclusively, because the Democratic papers, which spoke only in praise of her husband, were too monotonous; besides she wanted to know what her husband had been doing all these years. General Hancock, since the office-seekers began the hunt for place, has lost thirty pounds, avoirdupois.

Man has come to true greatness when he no longer feels in some degree that his life belongs to this race, and what God gives him. He gives him for mankind.

Do you have a throat sore, or are you annoyed by a constant cough? If so, use properly 'Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers.' They will give you instant relief. ANOTHER C. P. R. R. JOB!

The following letter has not been received from Sir John A. Macdonald: Office of the Canadian High Commissioner, London, Eng., September, 1880.

The Estate of R. B. SMITH,

DEAR SIR,— Having learned from my personal friend, the Hon. Alexander Mackenzie, who has lately passed through your town, that you keep the LARGEST AND BEST STOCK OF DRY GOODS IN GODERICH, and that you sell very cheap, I wish to make arrangements with you to supply the men working on the C. P. R. R. They will require piles of Shirts and Drawers, also Over-coats, Tweeds, Cloths, Flannel and Cotton Shirtings, Socks, Mitts, Hats, Caps, and a regular supply of nice fresh Groceries.

I learn with deep regret that you still have a large number of Reformers in that section of Canada, and as I know they are wonderful people for cheap goods, I fear that even the N. P. won't prevent them from buying you out before my return—but be sure to keep plenty of the above goods for me, and when I get back from Ottawa I will make it all O. K. I remain, your friend, JOHN A.

THE HURON SIGNAL. FRIDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1880.

Sir Richard Cartwright, M.P.

Will address his constituents on the leading political questions of the day at the following places, and on the dates mentioned:

GODERICH, Monday, Oct. 18. LONDERSBORO, Wednesday, Oct. 20. WALTON, Thursday, Oct. 21. SEAFORTH, Friday, Oct. 22.

THE SIGNAL is a credit to Goderich. Thank you, neighbor; your judgment is sound.

Mr. J. D. MERRICK, familiarly known as "Jerry Merrick," of Toronto, has been appointed Sheriff of Prescott and Russell.

The cost to the Crown in the Biddulph trial so far has been in the vicinity of $5,000. The witness fees alone amounted to $1,290.

The special pleading of the Clinton New Era, anent the judging in some of the departments at the recent West Riding Show does not alter the facts of the case or the justness of our strictures on that point.

Parliament has been further prorogued pro forma to the 23rd, and is not then called for the despatch of business. The probabilities are that the House will be convened about the usual time.

THE JURY in the Biddulph case failed to agree, notwithstanding the strong charge against the prisoner by Judge Armour. Seven were for acquittal, four for conviction and one undecided.

MAYOR Charlie McIntosh, of Ottawa, the contract broker, has been exposed again. This time Mr. Bain, of Bain, Blanchard & McColl, solicitors, Winnipeg, testifies that Charlie disgorged $11,000 of ill gotten notes to Mr. Jos. Whitehead, on condition that the latter would do his best to whitewash him.

THE editor of the Warton Echo, burning with indignation at the conduct of a certain class, not peculiar to his own town, "lets out" upon them in the following vigorous style:

MEAN MEN.—We mean, the meanest kind of men. Those who are too mean to take their own paper and pen for it, but borrow it from their neighbors before the ink is dry.

EVERY elector in this section of Centre Huron should make it a point to attend Sir Richard Cartwright's meeting in Crabb's Hall, on Monday evening next.

A SHORT time ago some employees of a telegraph company passed through the country putting up poles and wires, and ruthlessly hacked off large limbs from valuable shade trees.

STATE ELECTIONS occurred in Ohio and Indiana on Tuesday, and victory has perched upon the Republican banner. The Democrats conceded Ohio, but were quite hopeful of the Hoosier State.

The practice is a bad one, and one that in the end will work injury to the party that procures such aid.

THE SCOTT ACT has been carried in Marquette by a majority of 417. Efforts are being made in the County of Bruce to have the Act submitted shortly.

LORD MONTEALE, an Irish peer, has spoken in favor of abolishing the British House of Lords. So radical a proposal coming from such a quarter is significant, although the despatches say that the declaration has called forth but little remark.

THE Governor-General has been pleased to appoint Wednesday, November 3rd, as a day of thanksgiving. The people of this Province have many things to be thankful for,—good crops, favorable weather and freedom from plagues and great accidents.

SIR JOHN A. MACDONALD is remarkable amongst Canadian politicians for originating catch phrases. "These hands are clean," has been quoted, hundreds of times during every campaign, and there are several "gags" of a more profane sort which have gone from mouth to mouth as the sayings of the Premier.

IRELAND is in a miserable plight. The poorer classes are arrayed against the landlords, and the whole country seems to be divided against itself. That unhappy land has a galling yoke to bear in a burdensome system of landlordism and absenteeism.

AT the evening session of the West Huron Teachers' Association, one of the speakers said that he had been told by a man that the teachers held these meetings chiefly for the purpose of discussing the best mode of raising their salaries.

OUR last Assize Court in Goderich proves that actions for seduction are becoming fearfully prevalent. That such should be the case is regrettable, but we are of opinion that many actions are instituted in Court owing to the facility for obtaining damages which the present law affords.

We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions of our correspondents. Our notices to this department must confine themselves to public questions, and be brief.

THAT RAILWAY BONUS.

SIR.—Happening to be in Holmesville on the 4th inst., and having an hour or two's leisure on my hands, I dropped into the Council room to see our Township Fathers manage their business.

BAYFIELD SHOW.

A Fine Day and a Good Display.

A Large Attendance of Visitors at the Fair.

The annual Fall Show at Bayfield, under the auspices of the Stanley Branch Agricultural Society, on Monday and Tuesday last, was a success. The Show brought a large number of strangers to the village, and until late in the evening the streets were thronged.

WINGHAM JOYOUS. The Water-Works System Formally Opened

A Large Attendance of Visitors from all parts of the County.

The water-works system of the town of Wingham was formally opened on Tuesday, with all the pomp and ceremony customary upon such important occasions.

Early in the morning visitors began to pour in, and the numbers were greatly augmented by the arrival of the trains on the Great Western and the Wellington, Grey & Bruce railways.

The procession, after being formed, made a tour of the principal streets of the town, thence to the Town Hall, where the guests and firemen were treated to a generous repast.

After dinner the visitors were conducted to the pumping house, when the Mayor explained the working and cost of the system.

The distance which the men were required to run was three hundred yards from one given point to another.

The following time was made by the different companies:—Listowel, 1 minute 32 seconds; Clinton, 1:19; Brussels, 1:15; Seaford, 1:22; and Wingham, 1:25.

After dinner the visitors were conducted to the pumping house, when the Mayor explained the working and cost of the system. A fireman's demonstration was then organized, the members of the various companies present taking part.

Mr. James Denman has purchased at the recent sale of the "Experimental" farm, Greigh, a young boar of the Berkshire breed, sired by an imported one.

SEVERAL ACCIDENTS.—We learn that a son of Mr. Rich. Roe was painfully injured on Thursday morning by a threshing machine, working on the farm of Mr. William Bishop.

FARM SOLD.—The farm of the Breckridge estate, composed of lots 11 and 12, in the first concession of Grey, 200 acres, was sold by auction at the Queen's Hotel, Brussels, and was purchased by Mr. John Taylor, of Grey, for $5,650.

DEBATING SOCIETY.—The debating society at John. on's school house has been re-organized for the fall and winter months, with the following officers:

CHRYSTAL & BLACK. Practical BOILER-MAKERS.

Amongst the Stock will be found the valuable pure bred Princess prize bull, Prince of Seasham (622) 2432, also Craig's, including the Duke of Edinburgh (2045) 2273, Ross of Sharon, Goodness, and other animals of fashionable pedigree from the noted herds of Messrs. H. Snell, Art. Hill, Spreat, Elcott, Washington, and others.

Also several splendid thoroughbred stallions and breeding mares, among which is "Goderich Chief," a half brother to the celebrated Canadian trotter "Lucy," whose record is 2:20. There is also a large selection of Improved Stock, which will be offered after the sale of Thoroughbreds.

Goderich is beautifully situated on the banks of the Matilda River, bounded on the west by Lake Huron and is the terminus of the Buffalo and Goderich Railway, (Grand Trunk) which connects at Clinton with the Grey and Bruce and Great Western Railways. The North-West Transportation Company's Steamers call at this port.

Twelve months' credit, without interest, will be given on furnishing security satisfactory to the owner of the stock sold. A discount of 5 per cent. will be allowed for cash.

There is ample accommodation for both man and beast, and the hotel rates are very reasonable. The Association will endeavor to get reduced Railway Rates.

Catalogues are now ready, and will be forwarded on application to

HOME EVIDENCE IN FAVOR OF THE PAIN-KILLER.

Hint No. 1. If you wish to save yourself, your family, and your friends a world of suffering and pain, which at present they endure needlessly, and also save many dollars in Doctor's bills, go at once to the nearest store, and buy a few bottles of PAIN-KILLER.

Hint No. 2. Ask your Druggist, Grocer or Shopkeeper, for a bottle of PAIN-KILLER. If he passes it down without ceremony, ask him while extracting the quarter dollar from your wallet, if this is the genuine made by PERRY DAVIS & SON, at some time watch the expression on his face.

Hint No. 3. When you ask for a bottle of PAIN-KILLER, and the gentlemanly store-keeper, without scarcely looking, remarks, "so 'are just out, but have another article as good or better, which sells for the same price."

Hint No. 4. Beware of all the worthless mixtures, and dirty, greasy combinations which are offered you in almost every store you enter, and which some unprincipled shop-keepers try to palm off as a substitute for the PAIN-KILLER.

Hint No. 5. If you cannot obtain the genuine PAIN-KILLER in your locality, (a fact not very likely), you should address the Proprietors, and by sending them the sum of $3.00, one dozen regular sized bottles, or a half dozen large bottles, will be sent, charges prepaid, to the nearest address by railway to any part of the Dominion.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 2, 1880. The writer has been selling Perry Davis' Pain-Killer now for the last six years, and can confidently recommend it to the public as a sure remedy for Cholera, Diarrhoea, Sore Throat, Chronic Coughs, Bronchitis, Burns, Scalds, &c.

MAITLAND, Ont., February 26, 1880. I have much pleasure in adding to the number of the numerous testimonials you have already received, as to the value of your renowned Pain-Killer. I have sold it and used it in my family for twenty years or more, and have no hesitation in saying that it is the best patient medicine I have ever used for the purposes for which it is recommended; and, moreover, every person to whom I have ever sold it, has been perfectly satisfied with it, and I know many persons who will not go to bed at night unless they are sure there is a bottle of "Perry Davis" in the house.

SPENCERVILLE, Ont., February 26, 1880. We have much pleasure in certifying that we have kept Perry Davis' Pain-Killer constantly in stock for upwards of twenty years, during which time it has taken the lead in sales over all other patent preparations, and has become an old, reliable family medicine.

MADOC, Ont., February 16, 1880. It gives me much pleasure to state that during a drug career of more than a quarter century, I can testify that your justly celebrated Pain-Killer has not only held its own as a family medicine, but still occupies the front rank wherever duty calls it. My customers speak very highly of it, and I could send no end of testimonials showing up its merits and intrinsic worth were it necessary, which it is not. It should, however, be called "Excelsior Pain-Killer." I pride myself in never being out of it.

STOCC, Ont., February 27, 1880. We have great pleasure to state that the Pain-Killer holds its position in this place as the old, reliable family medicine. Although there are a great many other remedies in the market—some bearing nearly the same name—as Pain-Killer, Pain Expeller, Pain Destroyer, and such like names, we find the people know the difference, and are sure to ask for Perry Davis' Pain-Killer. We have been selling Pain-Killer for the last fourteen years.

PORTLAND, Ont., March 9, 1880. I have been using the Pain-Killer for many years with results that justify me in recommending it. As a family medicine, we consider it almost indispensable: being good not only as a pain-killer, but for colds and sore throats, and many other ailments for which it appears specially adapted. I have used it myself, liberally as a liniment, and find it valuable and safe, and sufficient to relieve old age. I pronounce the Pain-Killer a good and cheap medicine, and worthy of all acceptance. I send you this certificate that you may have as the public that it is no humbug.

ESCOFF, Ont., March 4, 1880. We hereby certify that we have used Perry Davis' Pain-Killer in our families for several years. We consider it a very useful and necessary article to be kept in all households as a resort in case of accidents and exposure to attacks occasioned by cold.

MAITLAND, Ont., February 25, 1880. I have used your Pain-Killer for the last twenty years, and I can testify that it is the best remedy for the world for which it is recommended. I have used it myself, liberally as a liniment, and find it valuable and safe, and sufficient to relieve old age. I pronounce the Pain-Killer a good and cheap medicine, and worthy of all acceptance. I send you this certificate that you may have as the public that it is no humbug.

The PAIN-KILLER Is recommended by Physicians, Ministers, Missionaries, Managers of Factories, Work-shops, Plantations, Nurses in Hospitals, in short, everybody everywhere who has ever given it a trial.

PERRY DAVIS & SON & LAWRENCE, PROPRIETORS, TREAL AND PROVIDENCE, R. I.

Fun and Fancy.

The civil engineer would like to be monarch of all he surveys.

A Scotch farmer said to his hind, 'Maan, Jock, ye're a slow feeder.'

A schoolmarm who whipped the wrong boy by mistake, apologized to the irate parent by explaining that it was an accident caused by a misplaced switch.

'Pray do not attempt to darn your cobwebs,' was Swift's advice to a gentleman of strong imagination and weak memory, who was laboriously explaining himself.

Speak of a man's marble brow and he will glow with conscious pride, but allude to his wooden head and he is mad in a minute. Language is a slippery thing to fool with.

A member of the Society of Friends met a boy with a dirty face and hands. He stopped him and inquired if he had ever studied chemistry. The boy with a wondering stare, answered 'No.'

SOMETHING LIKE A RIDDLE.—Why is an Irish cabin after an eviction like that confounded Cochon China that crows so loud in the early morn? Because, don't you see, it is a shanty clear. Eh?

When Dr. H. and lawyer A. were walking arm-in-arm; a wag said to a friend:—'These two are just equal to one highwayman.' 'Why, asked the friend, "Because," rejoined the wag, "it is a lawyer and a doctor—your money or your life."

She wouldn't stand to have a tooth pulled for one million two hundred thousand dollars, she said, and yet she walked all day in tiny boots two sizes too small for her and thought nothing of it; but then nobody saw that tooth; and several saw the boots.

VERY UNEASY.—"My lord says," observed a nobleman's housekeeper, showing a tourist through the picture-gallery of a grand country-house, "that that picture's by Paul Very Uneasy (Veronese) but what he's uneasy about, sir, I'm sure I don't know."

The Postmaster-General of the United States once received an odd official communication. The Reburn postmaster, new to his duties, writing to his superior officer: "Seeing by the regulations that I am required to send you a letter of advice, I must plead in excuse that I have been postmaster but a short time; but I will say, if your office pays no better than mine, I advise you to give it up."

Among the curiosities of English phrase is an expression which allows of a truth and an untruth being uttered in the same breath. For instance, yesterday I heard a friend of mine scold a poor poltroon, reproaching him with the fact that he was afraid of everything and everybody. "I am afraid of nothing," was the clever and witty reply.—[Laclede.

A young lady, who says she is young and handsome, writes: "The man for me to love is vastly my superior; * * * a man who will compel my spirit to bend its knee to his; who will command my soul to stand still and shine on him, as Joshua commanded the sun; who can trample my will to the dust," etc.

How to keep tomatoes whole. Fill a stone jar with ripe tomatoes, then add a few cloves and a little sugar; cover them well with one-half cold vinegar and half water; place a piece of flannel over the jar well down in the vinegar, then tie down with paper. In this way tomatoes can be kept a year. Should mildew collect on the flannel it will not hurt them in the least.

A CHAPTER ON PICKLES.

Some valuable Receipts for the Lady Readers of the Signal.

Three hundred small cucumbers, four green peppers, sliced fine, two large or three small heads cauliflower, three heads of white cabbage, sliced fine, nine large onions, sliced, one large root horseradish, one quart green beans, cut one inch long, one quart green tomatoes, sliced; put this mixture in a pretty strong brine twenty-four hours; drain three hours; then sprinkle in one-fourth pound black and one-fourth pound of white mustard seed; also one tablespoonful black ground pepper; let it come to a good boil in just vinegar enough to cover it, adding a little alum; drain again and when cold put in one-half pint ground mustard; cover the whole with good cider vinegar; add tumeric enough to color if you like.

PICKLED CABBAGE

Select solid heads, slice very fine, put in a jar, then cover with boiling water; when cold drain off the water and season with grated horseradish, salt, equal parts of black and red pepper, cinnamon and whole cloves.

PICKLED CAULIFLOWER

Choose such as are firm, yet of their full size, cut away all the leaves and pare the stalks; put away the flowers in bunches, steep in brine two days, then drain them, wipe them dry and put them in hot pickle, or merely infuse for three days three ounces of curry powder in every quart of vinegar.

CHOW-CHOW

Two heads of cabbage, two heads of cauliflower, one dozen cucumbers, six roots of celery, six peppers, one quart of small white onions, two quarts of green tomatoes; cut into small pieces and boil each vegetable separately until tender, then strain them. Two gallons of vinegar, one-fourth pound of mustard, one-fourth pound of mustard seed, one pot of French mustard, one ounce of cloves, two ounces of tumeric; put the vinegar and spices into a kettle and let them come to a boil; mix the vegetables and pour over the dressing.

TO KEEP TOMATOES WHOLE

Fill a stone jar with ripe tomatoes, then add a few cloves and a little sugar; cover them well with one-half cold vinegar and half water; place a piece of flannel over the jar well down in the vinegar, then tie down with paper. In this way tomatoes can be kept a year. Should mildew collect on the flannel it will not hurt them in the least.

HOW TO PREPARE VINEGAR

It is better not to boil the vinegar, by which process its strength is evaporated. put the vinegar and spice into a jar, bung it down tightly, tie a bladder over and let it stand near the fire for three or four days; shake well three or four times a day. This method may be applied to gherkins, French beans, cabbage, cauliflowers, onions and walnuts. Artichokes and beet roots are done over the fire, as are onions, garlic, eschalots and cauliflowers.

METHOD No. 2.—A simple method is to merely put the articles into cold vinegar. The strongest pickling vinegar of white wine should always be used for pickles, or pure cider vinegar. All acid vinegars should be discarded, especially for pickles. This cold vinegar should be used for those that do not require the addition of spice and such as do not require to be softened by heat, such as capsicums, chili, nasturtiums; button onions, radish pods, horseradish, garlic and eschalots. Half fill the jars with best vinegar, fill them up with the vegetables, and tie down immediately with bladder. These are much better if pickled quite fresh and all of a size. The onions should be dropped in the vinegar as fast as peeled; this secures their color. The horseradish should be scraped a little outside and cut up in rounds half an inch deep. Barberries for garnish; gather fine full bunches before they are ripe, pick away all bits of stalk and leaf and injured berries and drop them in cold vinegar; they may be kept in salt and water, changing the brine whenever it begins to ferment, but the vinegar is best.

WISTAR'S BALSAM

WILD CHERRY

ONE OF THE OLDEST AND MOST RELIABLE REMEDIES IN THE WORLD FOR THE CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Influenza, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, and every affection of the Throat, Lungs, and Chest, including CONSUMPTION.

A WELL-KNOWN PHYSICIAN WRITES: "It does not dry up a cough, and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most preparations, but loosens it, cleanses the lungs and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of complaint."

DO NOT BE DECEIVED by articles bearing a similar name. Be sure you get DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, with the signature of "I. BUTTS" on the wrapper. 50 Cents and $1.00 a Bottle. Prepared by SETH W. FOWLE & SONS, Boston, Mass. Sold by druggists and dealers generally.

DERUVIAN SYRUP

A Protected Solution of the Ferrous Oxide of Iron, is as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. When the blood does not contain the usual quantity of Iron, the deficiency can be supplied by the use of the DERUVIAN SYRUP. It cures a "thousand ills" simply by TONING UP, INVIGORATING, and VITALIZING the system. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon. This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing

Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Boils, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhoea, Nervous Affections, Female Complaints,

And all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility, or a low state of the system.

CAUTION.—Be sure you get the "DERUVIAN SYRUP." Sold by druggists generally. Pamphlets sent free to any address by SETH W. FOWLE & SONS, Proprietors, 56 Harrison Avenue, Boston, Mass.
