Just what I've been looking for

"BEAVER FLOUR"
makes ideal bread and pastry, because it is a perfect blend of Manitoba Spring wheat and Ontario Fall wheat. You don't need to keep two kinds of flour for bread and pastry. Beaver Flour makes both—a pure, white, nourishing, light loaf that "stands up" in the oven, and pastry that is crisp and appetizing. It is more economical than other flours, and appeals to all thinking women. Order it to-day from your grocer.

At the Eleventh Hour!

CHAPTER IX.

Man's Head and Woman's Heart.

"I write this with deep reluctance, for I am aware that it will be a cruel blow to your heart. Besides, I realize that his guilt means defeat to my party in the next gubernatorial contest. It is too late for the party to put up another candidate, and the opposition will carry the State with such a majority as must bring a blush of shame to the cheek of every Democrat in the land.

"Stephen Belcourt is surely guilty of the crime of murder, and must surely be convicted at his trial, which begins, I learn, on the third day of November. The evidence against him is so conclusive that the trial is not likely to occupy more than three days. How terrible to think that on the sixth of November—that day when he had hoped to be elected to the highest office in this State—he should be convicted of a murder most foul and cowardly—the taking of a feeble woman's life!

"Put him outside the pale of your thoughts and sympathies, Lynette, or think of him only to shudder with abhorrence at his crime. You know him but one week—surely not long enough for his deceitful charms and blandishments to make an indelible impression on your heart.

"Graham Prentiss has been your devoted lover for six months, and although I never particularly admired the man, I am assured by Uncle Jack (who knows him so much better than I do) that he is a most worthy gentleman in every respect, and calculated to make a very desirable husband for my beautiful little sister.

Mistakes May Happen

to you,—as they do to everyone. If you eat too fast, do not masticate properly, or take food that does not agree with you, digestive derangements are almost sure to come, and indigestion generally leads to very serious physical troubles.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

relieve and cure indigestion. They have a quick and tonic action on the stomach and its nerves, and so they give direct aid to digestion. They carry away also the indigestible matter. With their use dyspepsia, hiccoughs, bad taste, unpleasant breath and flatulence disappear. You should be careful and remember Beecham's Pills advice, Lyn. Depend on it, your men folks know what is best for you. Women folk haven't so judgment at all, honey.

Lynette tossed her pretty head with its mop of golden-brown curls, and a gleam of resentment flashed in the brown eyes, so dull from the tears she had been shedding, but she answered not a word.

"Don't you think Edgar knows what's best for you, honey?" he continued anxiously.

"Uncle Jack, go away, please. I—I can't talk to you to-day!" and she put her little dimpled hand to her throat, as if she were choking.

He got up, but his mouth was set in a straight, stern line.

"Lynette!" and she started and shivered at sound of his sharp voice.

"Lynette, you've been humored like a spoiled baby long enough. Now do as I bid you. When the clock strikes three, Black Beauty will be around at the gate, and your aunt will take you for a long drive for your health. Be ready!"

"Yes, sir," she answered, with rebellious acquiescence.

When Uncle Jack took that one and mighty tone of authority, no hint of blooming Meadows ever dared to disobey. So at three o'clock Lynette was ready, and Sally Ann escorted her downstairs.

After all, the scent of the sweet mountain air was pleasant to Lynette though she felt it an impossibility to talk, and was glad that Aunt Jill gave all her attention to driving, sitting up and talking beside the unhappy girl. Thus they drove for almost three hours.

When they came again in sight of the house, the grim old woman addressed Lynette for the first time:

"The doctor says you must take a drive every day."

"Yes," continued the woman, "I have no time to be driving round each day, and neglecting my work. After this Graham Prentiss will go with you."

"No, no!"

"He shall. Your uncle says so, and you know better than to defy him!"

"Then this shall come with us. I won't go alone, I vow!"

"We'll see about that, Miss," and flushed and angry, Lynette was handed out to return to her room and look forward with dread to the morrow, when she must face her betrothed again.

It was weeks and weeks since she had seen him, but her reluctance to the meeting grew stronger every day.

"It seems as if I were growing to loathe him, instead of learning to love him. Oh, Heaven, to be free—to be free of his claim!" she cried, flinging wide her arms as if to thrust from her invisible bands that were crushing her to death.

all the funds in hell nor all the angels in heaven could drive me into a wedding with Graham Prentiss! I would sooner embrace Death as a well-beloved, welcome bridegroom!"

The next afternoon the new carriage and Kentucky horses were at the gate, and their master was in the parlor, smiling at Lynette. The day was rather cool, and she looked wonderfully pretty in a red cashmere her best gown of last year. On her taper finger shone a new ring, a big solitaire, that Graham Prentiss had just placed there.

The young man was looking wonderfully well in his faultless new autumn suit, and they told Lynette the truth when they said that he seemed to be the happiest man living. She looked at him, so gay, so selfish, and cried out petulantly:

"I wish you would not look so happy. It—it makes me almost hate you when I think—think of how many unhappy people there are in prison!"

She could not help the bitter plaud, and she did not care for his sudden frown.

"Lynette, you are unreasonable. How can I help it if people sin and get into prison? Am I my brother's keeper? And who could help being happy, betrothed to the sweetest, prettiest girl on earth, and his wedding day not three weeks off? Don't you see, my darling, that I'm excusable in my selfishness?"

Harbor Grace Notes.

Mr. Goodland, the new Principal of the C. E. High School, and his bride, arrived last week and have taken up their residence in the cottage on Victoria Street. School opens on Thursday.

Miss McKinnon, who has been engaged to take charge of Victoria St. School, arrived from Sydney by Saturday's express and commenced her duties this morning. Both the above teachers we welcome to our town and trust that their term may be very successful and enjoyable, alike to the scholars and themselves.

Mrs. Selby Parsons, who with Mr. Parsons arrived from Grand Bank on Tuesday, intend leaving this afternoon for Broad Cove, Bay de Verde, to visit some relatives whom she has not seen for a number of years. Although absent from home, Mrs. Parsons keeps herself well posted in home doings by the newspapers, particularly the Telegram, whose columns are always scanned for Harbor Grace Notes. About a month will be spent with relatives in different parts of this bay.

Miss Stirling, the popular principal of Spencer College, St. John's, is in town on her annual visit. She is the guest of Mrs. Dugald Munn. Her many friends here are always pleased to meet Miss S. and give her a hearty welcome to town.

Mr. Dugald Munn, who had been on the West Coast on a business trip, returned by Tuesday's express. We hear that some very important business was awaiting his arrival which may be of great benefit to the town generally.

Miss Fraw, of St. John's, is in town and is a guest at Gordon Lodge.

The Regatta Committee at a recent meeting passed a unanimous vote of thanks to the following St. John's gentlemen who by their donations helped in no small way to the success of the Regatta: Robert Hill, Sir E. P. Morris, Hon. R. Watson, Hon. E. Morrison, W. D. Reid, Esq., J. W. Withers, Esq., John Cormack, Esq., Queen Insurance Co., and James Parker, Esq.

Mrs. R. S. Minn and Miss Munn, of Brazehead, will leave shortly for Montreal where they will spend the winter and possibly take up residence there permanently. Their friends here will be sorry to part with them.

Mrs. Collis, of Heart's Content, mother of Mr. A. Collis, the well known voley trainer and musician, arrived last week and will remain a couple of weeks.

The Port Saunders brought in two whales on Saturday.

The potatoes imported by the Agricultural Society last spring are of a very fine quality—large, floury and of excellent flavor. The Society are to be congratulated on the result of the experiment.

CORRESPONDENT. Harbor Grace, Aug. 28th, 1911.

OBITUARY.

MARGARET LYNCH.

There passed away yesterday morning, after a long illness, Margaret Ann Power, widow of the late Joseph M. Lynch. The death of the deceased occurred at her sister's residence, 203 New Gower Street, and in her last moments she was fortified by the rites of Holy Church. She leaves to mourn her one sister, Mrs. E. J. Geary, and one brother, Mr. Walter M. Power, of St. Louis, with a niece, Sister M. Seraphina, of the Order of Sisters of Charity.

T. J. GREENE.

Pressure on our space yesterday precluded reference to the demise of Mr. T. J. Greene, which sad event occurred Sunday at his residence, Gower Street. Mr. Greene was a man who was widely known and greatly respected and who had many friends, not alone in St. John's but in many other parts of the island. In his earlier days he filled an important position in the office of the late Hon. Jas. Fox, and later held for many years the honorable position of accountant and confidential clerk in the office of Messrs. Shea & Co. Socially as well as commercially Mr. Greene was a favorite and for many years he held office in the Benevolent Irish Society, and for a lengthy period identified himself with the St. Vincent de Paul Society. For several years also he was secretary of the Regatta Committee. Mr. Greene married twice, his first wife being Miss O'Driscoll, sister of the late Rev. Fr. O'Driscoll; while his second wife was Miss Hackett, daughter of the late Capt. Wm. Hackett. Besides his widow, Mr. Greene leaves a son, Mr. James, who does business on Water Street, Sister Winifred of the Order of Mercy and several other children survive him, to whom the Telegram extends its condolences.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURE DIPHTHERIA.

We Point the Way!

THERE are many points in connection with advertising that must of necessity—if success is desired—be studied carefully by the merchant who desires to reach new customers and to please those he has already gained.

The goods he wishes to advertise must be of the right kind -- THE KIND THE PEOPLE WANT -- and the price must be of the honest kind--good value for good money. Every merchant of course, knows this; but every merchant doesn't think of it when making copy for his advertising space. Here are

Four Cardinal Points

FOR THE MERCHANT TO CONSIDER: 1. The Right Goods; 2. The Right Medium; 3. The Right Copy; 4. The Right Time. With this combination any merchant or manufacturer may enter the field of publicity with confidence.

Many merchants who have goods to sell are fearful of investing a dollar in making known to the public the lines of goods they are dealing in, with the result that much of the goods remain on their shelves for an indefinite period to the deterioration of the materials and consequent loss to the owner. This state of things in a merchant's store ought never to be heard of; but the fact remains--and facts are very stubborn things. There is a way out, however, and we point the way.

Take a space in the EVENING TELEGRAM.

No trouble will be experienced in unloading the goods from off your shelves that otherwise must remain there for an indefinite period.

Try an ad. in The Evening Telegram, THE PEOPLE'S PAPER, and watch your business grow.

Wedding Bells.

THISTLE-BUTTON.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in the Little Bay Island Methodist Church to-day, August 26th, when Miss Helen, eldest daughter of Mr. Thomas Thistle, and Elisha Button, J.P., of New Melbourne, entered the bonds of holy matrimony. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ernest Baines, B.A., of Little Bay Islands. The bride, becomingly attired in white silk gown with bridal veil and orange blossoms and carrying a shower bouquet of white carnations and roses, entered the church leaning on the arm of her father. The strains of the wedding march skillfully played by Miss Florence Morris pealed forth as the bridal party walked up the aisle. At the altar, the groom, attended by Mr. Fred Thistle, jr., of Kings Point, as best man, met the bride, who was attended by her sister, Miss Rowena Thistle, and Miss Ethel Scott, of Morston's Harbor, as bridesmaids, and Miss Nellie Button, niece of the groom, as flower girl. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's father. A large company attended and the usual congratulations were offered. The happy couple left by the 8.15 for New Melbourne, their future home. The list of presents was large and showed the esteem in which the young couple is held. Our best wishes go with them and we hope many years of married bliss may be their portion. —Com.

Special Hints on Gas Cooking.

The joint must hang downwards with the lower part well above the level of the gas-burner. If the joint is too long, lay it flat on one of the gridiron shelves with the browning shelf close over it.

Meat shrinks with cooking, so there is no fear of its touching the shelf. If preferred, lay the joint on a trivet in a baking tin, and rest the tin on a grid shelf, but many advise no baking tin, merely the bottom pan that slips in along the floor in the bottom of the stove under the burners. If this plan is adopted, see that the bottom pan is clean, or gravy or dripping will be spoiled.

If baking pastry and roasting at the same time, put the joint on a grid shelf below the pastry, and the browning shelf close above the pastry, as the latter needs a sharper heat than the meat.

After the meat is cooked it may be necessary to turn on more gas for a few minutes to finish browning the pastry.

Will Fly to the South Pole.

London, Aug. 23.—Lieut. Watkins, who is to accompany Dr. Douglas Mawson on his expedition in quest of the south pole, and who is to attempt a final dash to the pole by monoplane, packed up his machine and shipped it for Australia. Lieut. Watkins is a well-known aviator at Brooklands. The primary plan of the expedition is not only to use the monoplane for a dash to the south pole, but to use it for reconnoitering ice hummocks and barriers encountered. It is so constructed that it can become a moon sleigh or aeroplane by turn. The only motor sleigh which has previously been made to compete with the same kind of conditions is one which is in the possession of a Russian grand duke who employs it for traversing the steppes.

This is to certify that I have used MINARD'S LINIMENT in my family for years, and consider it the best liniment on the market. I have found it excellent for horse flesh. [Signed] W. S. PINEO, "Woodlands," Middleton, N.S.

Use 4,500 Volts to Kill.

Negro Murderer Struggles 25 Minutes in Chair While Paying Death Penalty at Edinville, Ky.

Edinville, Ky., Aug. 22.—Oliver Locke, a negro wife-murderer, while paying the penalty for his crime in the electric chair at the penitentiary here to-day, struggled 25 minutes and finally broke the leather straps that bound his legs and arms.

Two thousand volts of electricity had passed through his body. The negro toppled to the floor and examination by the prison authorities showed that he was reviving. He was again strapped to the chair and 2,500 more volts were used before life was extinct.

Farmers say that owing to the lack of moisture in the grass, the past two weeks or more, cattle have been giving at least half the quantity of milk that they would under normal conditions. The rain of last night, little though it was, was beneficial.

Man Choked to Death.

By Companion of the Irish in Atlantic.

Mansfield, Ohio, Aug. 24.—An unidentified man was choked to death last night as the result of an attack upon the girl companion of the man who killed him. Walter Clover, a florist, residing near Belleville, and Miss Helene Shafer, the daughter of Albert Shafer, an undertaker, of Belleville, were seated in the Sherman-Helmman Park when the unknown man confronted them with a revolver and ordered them to accompany him across the adjacent railway tracks. Under threat of death they complied, fearing to make an outcry, but when their assailant was momentarily off his guard young Clover seized a clot of earth and struck the man in the face, partially blinding him, and he then seized him around the neck with both hands and choked him to death. The man carried a dark lantern. He was about 30 years of age.

Indigestion & Dyspepsia

In all its Forms Can be Cured.

It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: "Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headache, I feel too tired to do anything. I have no heart to exert myself, and at times I care for nothing. I often have a pain in the pit of the stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed, and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veritable burden. Now I desire a pleasure and a pity for persons to be suffering like that when it is in their power to get cured by taking a bottle of Dr. Stafford's Prescription A. A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach troubles. It can be obtained at DR. F. STAFFORD & SON, Duckworth St. and Theatre Hill. Small size, 25 cents; postage 5c. extra; large size, 50 cents; postage, 10c. extra. Mail orders must be accompanied by remittance.—aug3 inauguration of Greatest Legal Battle Ever in Virginia.

Noted Murder Trial On

Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 21.—Standing by the side of his gray-haired father, Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., of Richmond, entered a plea of not guilty here to-day when arraigned in the Circuit Court on an indictment charging him with the murder of his young wife.

Shortly after 11 o'clock a venue of talesmen were empanelled and the tedious task of selecting a jury was begun.

What was expected to be the greatest and most desperately contested legal battle ever fought within the borders of Virginia had been inaugurated. Some of the best criminal lawyers in the State are opposed in the trial. Retained by the defence are Harry M. Smith, Jr., who has become known as "the lawyer of 101 murder cases," and F. H. Carter, equally renowned at the bar. Representing the prosecution are Commonwealth Attorney J. M. Gregory and Louis O. Wendenburg, whose services were sought after by the defence it is said fifteen minutes after he had been engaged to assist the State by the members of Mrs. Beattie's family, one of whom—Benjamin Owen, an uncle of the victim—is secretary to the Governor of Virginia.

Sought Liberty, But Found Death.

California Convict Tried to Slide Over Power Wires.

San Quentin, Cal., Aug. 23.—With his prison garb hidden by clothing made from a prison blanket, the body of James B. Clifton, a life term convict in the state penitentiary, was found to-day dangling among the wires at the top of a power circuit pole just outside the prison wall.

With a broomstick and a length of rope the man had constructed a sliding seat swinging from the wires leading to the top of the prison building. Some time during the night he launched himself on his slide to liberty, but 4,000 volts passed through his body, burning out his life before he reached the pole. Clifton was sent to prison from Oakland for the attempted murder of a captain of detectives.

Seemingly Demented.

There is an old man here at present from an outpost who is after certain officials and who it is thought is demented. He has an idea that he is to receive papers which will be of great value to people on the other side, and which he says he will send to England. He is in falling health and the police are keeping track of him.

Whereabout of Masterpiece is Still a Mystery.

PARIS, Aug. 24.—The mystery of the disappearance from the Louvre of Leonardo Da Vinci's great painting "Mona Lisa," popularly called by the French "La Joconde," appears more impenetrable than ever this morning. The only thing definitely established as the result of yesterday's investigations is the fact that the picture disappeared between the hours of 7 and 8.30 o'clock Monday morning.

Not the faintest clue has been discovered in spite of the united efforts of sixty of the smartest detectives in Paris and all the Museum staff. It is one of the hardest cases in the annals of criminal investigation, and the search is being continued with unremitting zeal. To facilitate this the museum will be closed for three days. No one will be admitted on any pretext whatever, except the police officials.

Various hypotheses were advanced last night, weighed and examined in turn, and finally rejected for lack of evidence. The consensus of opinion, however, was that the picture was not left the building, but is hidden in one of the innumerable recesses. All the gate keepers are positive that no such package as the picture would have made was taken out of the museum.

Yesterday all persons present on Monday were again subjected to a searching examination by Magistrate Drioux, but nothing further was brought to light. M. Bertillon took a number of photographs of the frame and the paper packed around the frame to prevent dust from penetrating between the frame and the painting, pieces of which were found strewn about close to the spot where the frame was discovered. These will be examined under the microscope for finger prints.

DIED.

There passed peacefully away this morning, at 9.15 o'clock, Mary Ann, (Minnie) the darling child of Robert and Elizabeth Ryall, aged 20 years and 4 months. Funeral will take place from her father's residence, Hayward's Avenue, on Thursday, at 2.30 p.m. Friends and acquaintances please attend without further notice.

Promotions.

Friday night there was a special drill in the Highlanders' armoury and a large muster was the outcome. A number of tourists of the Florizel were about and they repeatedly applauded the playing of the pipers. The following promotions occurred: Lance-Corporals McNeilly, Warren, McNeil and Chancey to be corporals; Col. Sergt. Robertson was promoted from "B" Co. "A" Co.; Second Lieut. Munn to be a First Lieut.; Second Lieut. Baird to be attached to left half of "B" Co.; Lieut. Henderson was posted to the right half; Lieut. Morris was advanced to "A" Co. The Langmead cup, a very handsome trophy, won by No. 3 section and competed for during the winter, was presented by Mr. Geo. Langmead. Ptes. Dick, Rennie, Langmead, Oke and Thomas received good conduct stripes.

Marine Notes.

The Almeriana sailed at midnight for Havre, France, with general cargo from Halifax, and after discharging will go back to Liverpool to load for here.

Ashamed of Eating

Primitive Tribes Have Curious Ideas About Taking Food.

In some primitive tribes eating is regarded as something to be ashamed of. Karl von der Steiner, the celebrated explorer, was looked upon as a very ill-bred person by the natives of South American forests because he ate in the presence of others. The original ground of the shame associated with eating is a fear of evil spirits. The feeling of shame is not born in mankind and it assumes very different forms in different regions. A remnant of the superstitious fear connected with the act of eating food appear in the ejaculation "Prosit" which, in Germany, is religiously uttered by the companions of a man who is about to have a drink. This Latin verbal form, the general meaning of which is "may it be beneficial," is now understood simply as the expression of a wish that the drink will agree with the drinker's constitution, but it originally denoted the hope that the drink had not been bewitched.

These statements are made by a writer in Hygeia, who adds that the division of labor between men and women was originally, and still is among primitive peoples, much more sharply defined than it is at present in civilized countries. This sharp division of labor brought about a separation at meals. The Eskimoes have separate dishes for the two sexes, and a man would be deeply ashamed to eat with women. It is possible that the decoration of plates and cups was designed to serve as a countercharm as well as an ornament. When the fear of demons had passed, the custom of eating in private with that fear inspired was sometimes maintained by force of habit, so that eating in public came to be regarded as a shameful breach of good manners.

TAKING ROUND TRIP.—Mrs. Fitzpatrick, wife of Capt. T. Fitzpatrick of the s.s. Portia, takes the round trip on that ship, accompanied by her daughters, Misses Lucia and Molly Fitzpatrick. Molly will join the party at Placentia, where she has been spending a vacation.

The Evening Chit-Chat
By RUTH CAMERON

Across the way from me lives an unmarried woman about fifty years old, who has recently been obliged by ill health to give up a clerical position which she has held for thirty years.

Naturally, she is appalled by the amount of time which she finds waiting her disposal, and scarcely knows how to while away the fifteen waking hours that must be gotten rid of every day in some way or other.

I was sitting on her verandah the other evening just at twilight when the stars were beginning to come out, and with more animation than I had seen her show since her illness, she pointed out several of the different stars and constellations to me.

"You understand astronomy?" I said.

She sighed. "A very little. I wish I knew more, for it gives me so much pleasure. When I am stronger, I think I shall try to study it. I can't regret though that I didn't learn more about botany and zoology and all the arts and sciences in my youth, for every bit of knowledge would have been one more interest in life to me now, when I need interests so much."

Knowledge means interest. Interest means a full life. A full life means a happy one. How many people take a lifetime to learn these simple questions.

And how many people never learn them at all.

Any interest, however trifling, adds happiness to life. I know a man who has to travel a great deal by automobile, who finds great diversion in learning to identify the different states by the colors on the number cards of the various machines he passes.

Think how much more happiness the man who knows the different bird calls can get out of a walk in the woods than he to whom they are nothing but a jargon of meaningless sounds.

In a suggestive little book on "how to live on twenty-four hours a day," a well-known English essayist advises the man who simply enjoys in a general way listening to a concert to multiply his enjoyment by making himself familiar with the construction of the orchestra. The result, he promises, would be that "instead of a confused mass, the orchestra would appear to you as what it is—a marvelously balanced organism whose various groups of members have each a different and an indispensable function. You would spy out the instruments and listen to their respective sounds. You would know the gulf that separates a French horn from an English horn, and you would perceive why a player of the hautboy gets higher wages than a fiddler, though the fiddle is the more difficult instrument. You would LIVE at a promenade concert, whereas previously you had merely existed there in a state of coma, like a baby gazing at a bright object."

Now, the same sort of an investment would give the same results in any line.

Let the man who enjoys good pictures multiply his enjoyment by learning something definite about different schools of art.

Let the man who is interested in politics study some of the principles of government and public law.

Knowledge means interest. Interest means a full life. A full life means happiness.

He who will may have knowledge. Hence, he who will may have happiness. Will you?

Woman's Power Over Man

Woman's most glorious endowment is the power to weaken and hold the pure and honest love of a worthy man. When she loses it, and still loves on, no one in the wide world can know the heart agony she endures. The woman who suffers from weakness and derangement of her special womanly organism soon loses the power to sway the heart of a man. Her general health suffers and her good looks, her attractiveness, her amiability and her power and prestige as a woman. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N.Y., with the assistance of his staff of able physicians, has prescribed and cured many thousands of women. He has devised a successful remedy for women's ailments. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive specific for the weaknesses and disorders peculiar to women. It purifies, regulates, strengthens and heals. Medicine dealers sell. No honest dealer will advise you to accept a substitute in order to make a little larger profit.

Household Notes.

An ounce of flour equals four level tablespoonfuls.

A tablespoonful of extract will flavor a quart of any mixture.

Potatoes should boil slowly to prevent the skins from curling off.

Polish windows with paper instead of cloth to avoid lint and streaks.

Thick blotting paper under doilies will prevent hot dishes from marking the table.

To kill burdocks, cut off close to the ground and pour a little gasoline on the roots.

A tablespoonful of water or milk should be allowed for each egg in making an omelet.

Allow two level teaspoonfuls of baking powder to each cup of flour when no eggs are used.

A piece of fungus, broken from an old tree, is a splendid buffer for mahogany furniture.

Blotting paper saturated with turpentine may be placed in drawers to keep away moths.

A scratch on polished furniture can be almost obliterated by rubbing vigorously with linseed oil.

A table of weights and measures typewritten and framed under glass should be hung in every kitchen.

Allow from four to six eggs to each quart of milk in making a custard to be turned from the mold.

To take disagreeable medicine, eat one or two cloves or hold ice in the mouth until the tongue is chilled.

After washing a lamp chimney, polish with dry salt to make the glass brilliant and prevent it from cracking.

For something new and dainty, spread the butter fudge pan with minced dates before turning the candy into it.

A few pieces of gum camphor kept in the boxes in which silver is packed in wrappings will prevent its turning dark.

To get the full nutriment from a potato, it should be cooked in the skin, as valuable food salts lie just inside the covering.

Salt thrown into the oven immediately after something has been burned in it will make the objectionable odor less noticeable.

Tooth powder is excellent for cleaning jewelry. Rub it on with a nail brush and then rinse off with scalding water.

When a window is difficult to raise, pour a little melted lard between the frame and casing and put a little also on the cord.

There should be three pairs of scissors in the kitchen, one for dic-

Several questionnaires, copies of which were found among his belongings, were to be asked by him regarding naval reparations, fortifying of ports and commissioning reserves and ships. Insistence was laid on information coming from officers of the active list. The British counsel asserted that the Lieutenant had offered considerable sums of money to local residents to procure the desired information. WHY should I buy a roofing that needs to be painted every little while to keep it tight, when for the same money or less, I can buy AMATTIE which needs no painting?

The outer surface is composed of real mineral matter, which makes painting unnecessary. With an Amattie Roof on your building you end your roofing troubles. When you buy a roofing that requires frequent painting you begin them.

Smooth roofings that require painting are a nuisance and an expense. When you buy them, you buy trouble—not protection.

Uncle Walt THE POET PHILOSOPHER.

I sit sometimes at night alone, and think about my stock of woes, until my bosom sheds a groan, and briny tears run down my nose. I think about the slights and slurs that I've endured throughout the day, and wall: "Man gets but cockleburrs, when thinking that he's buying hay." The more I think along this line, and dig up sorrows by the peck, the more my eyes produce the brine, until it sops down my neck. And then the hausfrau comes along, and says: "Why are you mooning here? Great Caesar," says she, "sing a song, and can the sob and flowing tear? No injun in this balliwick," the hausfrau says, with chiding glance, "has blessings round him half so thick, so hump yourself and sing and dance! It gives me seven yellow pains," the hausfrau argues, as she stands, "to see a man possessed of brains brood over his woes and wring his hands. Forget your griefs," the hausfrau cries, forget your grievances and fears; I hate to see your pickled eyes, and mark your whiskers, soaked with tears." Then I forget my soul's turmoil, and buckle down and mow the lawn, and any man who tackles toil will find his fears and sorrows gone.

The Movements of the Archbishop

On Saturday, 19th August, His Grace accompanied by Rev. Fr. Pippy went aboard the S. S. Portia at Placentia at 5 p.m. en route for the western side of Placentia Bay. As the night threatened to be foggy the Captain did not leave the roadstead till 11 p.m. so as to arrive over about daylight. At 4 a.m. Sunday the steamer reached Marytown. The people had prepared bonfires on every point of vantage, but as it was now daylight, they were not lit. Early as it was a large crowd of people had gathered to meet the Archbishop and welcomed him with hearty cheers. His Grace retired to the hospitable mansion of Mr. Long, J. P., to wait for the time to celebrate the last Mass. The Rev. Frs. Pippy and Wilson went to the church to celebrate early Masses and prepare the children for confirmation.

By 10 a.m. a large congregation were gathered from Marytown and all the neighbouring settlements, and His Grace celebrated Mass and addressed the people congratulating them on the flourishing appearance of the settlement, on its great development since his last visit a couple of years ago. Since then forty new houses have been erected, all of a very superior and architectural style, equal to any in the suburbs of St. John's. But His Grace spoke with great satisfaction of the erection of the beautiful new church. The designs for this church were drawn by the Archbishop himself, and when completed it will be one of the prettiest in the Diocese. Two years ago the foundations, a splendid piece of concrete work, were laid, and for some time past the exterior of the building has been finished and Mass has been celebrated in it. It is over a hundred and twenty feet long and of lofty and inspiring proportions. Owing to the main timbers having been somewhat light, and a great gale occurring before they were fully bolted, the building was slightly slewed, but is now being righted and fully strengthened. It is hoped to have it completely finished both inside and out this fall, though the fishery so far this summer has been very poor.

At 2 p.m. the people again gathered at the Church and over 200 children were confirmed. The Archbishopal party were hospitably entertained at the houses of Mr. Baker and Mr. Long, J. P. In the evening the Rev. Fr. McNamara came from Burin with horses and carriages, and the party left for Burin. The drive along the upper reaches of the River and across by Salt Pond and along the shores of Burin Inlet is without doubt one of the most beautiful in the country. At about a mile outside Burin the party were met by the brass band, and dismounting, walked the rest of the way preceded by the band discoursing lively music. On Monday there was a large gathering at Mass, and His Grace addressed the several members of his family. The school children sang a chorus of welcome and presented an address to the Archbishop.—Com.

Makes the Hair Beautiful.
At last a remedy has been discovered that will positively destroy this pest Dandruff. That Dandruff is caused by germs is accepted by every sensible person. Dandruff is the root of all hair evils. SALVIA will kill the dandruff germs and improve Dandruff in ten days, or money back. 50c. a bottle. At McMurdo & Co.

Belvidere Collection.
The annual collection for the Belvidere orphans will take place next Sunday. Rt. Rev. Monsignor Roche announced the fact at prayers last Sunday evening. It is not necessary to make any lengthened appeal in reference to this collection. The mere announcement should be sufficient. The cause of the orphans is the cause of God, and the "Charity of Christ presseth us." The good Sisters of Belvidere are doing a good, noble and self-sacrificing work in caring for the temporal and spiritual needs of the helpless children committed to their care. The Roman Catholic people have always in the past generously responded to calls on behalf of the orphans, and no doubt this occasion will show a like result. The collection will be taken at all the Masses on Sunday next at the Cathedral, St. Patrick's, Kibride, Logy Bay, Mount Cashel and Littledale.

ENQUIRY HELD.—The magisterial enquiry into the death of John Menchenon was taken yesterday afternoon, when the evidence of the captain of the Helena, who was the first to see the body, was taken.

The Lunenburg banker Lucania arrived here yesterday for supplies of ice and bait and will resume her fishing after she procures her ice. She procured a full baiting of squid at Torbay yesterday afternoon and has done fairly well on the Banks. Most of the Lunenburg bankers have done well this year, but still their aggregate catch will be away behind that of last season.

Police Took Him.

For several years past a poor young chap, an imbecile, named "Marty" Connors, has been going around the West End. He has been harmless but noisy. Yesterday on going down Water Street boys began tormenting him and his cries could be heard a block away. A crowd gathered about and Consts. Stamp and Whalen were constrained to take him to the police station. His friends later had the necessary documents executed for his admission to the Lunatic Asylum and he will be taken there to-day.

The Brilliant Here.

H. M. S. Brilliant, Capt. Woolcombe, arrived in port yesterday afternoon, after being down at Hare Bay and St. Anthony for the past two weeks. The Capt. and Officers of the ship enjoyed some excellent sport while salmon and trout fishing in the former place. Each day while at Hare Bay gunnery practice was taken up with the guns of different calibre on board and some good shooting resulted.

A Handsome Present.

Capt. V. P. Burke and Lieut. Frank Summers, son of Mr. M. J. Summers, and both officers of the C. C. C. acted as Aides-de-Camp to His Excellency Monsignor Stangi when he was here. He did not forget the services rendered him by the officers and presented each a beautiful photograph of himself with his autograph inscribed on each and the words "With best wishes." Needless to say both gentlemen will treasure these photographs as long as they live.

Out of Hospital.

Fireman John Hemans, of the Central Station, came out of Hospital yesterday and is now fully recovered. It will be remembered that in firing a salute on the King's birthday from the guns at Fort Townsend he was hit with the ram rod in the hand, was badly hurt otherwise and was brought to the Hospital where it was found necessary to amputate the right hand at the wrist. The left hand though badly mangled was saved. Hemans is a man of family, and as he was injured in the service it will now be up to the Government which is squandering money on all sides, to cut out a liberal annuity for this unfortunate man.

THREE ARRESTS MADE.—The police made three arrests last night. Two of the prisoners are in for disorderly conduct and another for a more serious offence.

Other books by this writer are: The Scarlet Pimpernel, 30c; I Will Repay, 30c; The Elusive Pimpernel, 30c; Pimpernel Rule, 50c; By the Gods Beloved, 30c.

Going to New York.

It will be remembered that four years ago in the house of Mrs. George, a Syrian, residing on Water Street, two others of the same nationality, Richard Joseph and Dominic Richards, indulged in some gun play and are now doing terms of 7 years each for their frolic of a night. Merlin Noah, an innocent spectator of the fracas when it started, was shot in the right side of the neck went to Hospital, and though the doctors probed for the bullet and located it, it could not be extracted. It worked down to the right shoulder, and within the past few weeks it has been going further and further through the man's flesh and giving him intense pain. Twice he has gone to our Hospital here to get the X rays put on him, but for some reason they would not work and the man is now constrained to go to New York to try to have the bullet removed. He fears that if it is not removed quickly some complication may set in which may either cost him his life or his arm. It will cost Noah over $400 to go to New York to have the rays used on him.

Home Reports

The s.s. Home, Capt. Jacob Kean, arrived at Bay of Islands from Battle Harbor at 8.15 last night. Her report received by the Reid Nfld. Co. is as follows:—
"Arrived at Battle Harbor at 10 Saturday. Met among S. W. and N. W. winds during the trip. The fishery on the coast is still poor. Brought up few fishermen from Labrador for their homes in Bonne Bay. Grant's crews are leaving for home in S. S. Diana on Tuesday. Capt. Paul Ezekiel, in the Garret, is at Battle Harbor, from Griffin's Harbor, with 500 qts. of fish. He reports Capt. C. Costigan and John —, both of Hr. Main, with good trips."
