UMPIRES.

There being yet some points to be taken up in this department, we once more recur to the subject.

In giving "guard," calculate from the spot whence the bowler delivers the ball.

When the umpire at the bowler's wicket is in doubt about a catch, he may refer to the other umpire, whose decision shall be final. As a general thing the umpire at short-leg can scarcely tell any better than his colleague, though sometimes he can; it is therefore seldom that the reference should be made. Here we may point out a crying sin of many umpires, who say "out" because they hear something. A click may be heard, but what on earth has that to do with it? It may be from a loose handle in the bat, or from some other cause, such as hitting grass which has not been cut short enough, and a wicket-keeper in "Canada v. United States" has been caught snapping his fingers to deceive the umpire. The sound, then, has clearly nothing to do with the matter. The umpire's duty is to mark whether the course of the ball is changed by the bat. Very, very seldom is it that a ball can be clearly seen to touch the bat without a visible deflection from its course—the thing is almost impossible. As to catches from the gloves, remember the words of the rule, "bat or hand, but not the wrist;" a man may be out lbw from his wrist but not caught.

The umpire at the wicket-keeper's end should carefully watch the batsman's foot, and also take care that no part of the wicket-keeper's person protrudes before the wicket in a case of "bowled," as well as that the wicket-keeper does not take the ball before the wicket for stumping. In a case of "run out" or "stumped," look out for "ball in hand" and see that the wicket keeper or bowler does not tip off a bail with his toe.

"The umpire," says Lillywhite, "should call for roller immediately the last wicket is down." The rule is that "the wicket shall be swept and rolled after each innings unless the party next going in object." This ought to be done by the home club, but in Canada seems never to be done at all except by the side going in. Such a state of things ought not to exist, and umpires in good matches at least might do their duty in this particular. The disgracefully small scores which mark many matches might be considerably augmented by an observance of this rule, even though the rollers in most Canadian Clubs (as stated in a previous number) are miserably inadequate.

It is almost needless to remark that "the runner cannot be out for running round instead of through his ground, because the 'popping-crease' is unlimited." This is about the only mistake which we have never seen even the greenest umpire make. However, it is necessary to point out that "the runner's bat (in hand) or some portion of his person" must be grounded "over," not "on" the popping-crease. Here we may partially diverge from the umpire to the batsman, and admonish the latter to run in his bat along the ground instead of popping it over according to the old custom, noticeable from the naming of the "popping" crease. Within an inch or two an umpire who is not a well-practised professional cannot be sure, and must give you "not out" by reason of the doubt. Many wickets are lost every year from neglect of this obvious fact.

One batsman cannot make his partner out by striking the ball into the latter's wicket, unless the ball touch, and so may be supposed to be guided by the person of one of the opposite party.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Hamilton eleven still continue in their downward course. A short time ago they narrowly escaped a defeat from Galt, a little later Toronto was only led by ten runs, and now a severe defeat is sustained from the rouge et noir Rovers. At this rate they cannot maintain their reputation of being the best club in Ontario. They have doubtless lost some good men this year, but if success is again to attend their efforts less reliance must be placed on their bowling for winning matches, and a greater share of attention paid to batting, in which department they are weak. In Mr. Gillespie they have a bowler equal to any in Canada, and an excellent bat, but the rest only show average form, if we except young Cummings, who is an all-round player of rare promise.

The last wicket contributing one hundred and ninety-seven runs to an innings is probably without precedent in the history of cricket. It is possible that this occurrence may be but evidence in support of Solomon's assertion that history repeats itself, but if so, the statement is not borne out by any record of its happening. The circumstances are so far extenuating that Morrison, by all odds the best man Toronto, or the country perhaps, boasts of at the bat, only came on the field in time to follow on the tenth wicket down. Nevertheless the fact may be safely relegated to the category of Canadian cricketing curiosities, for two reasons, both because of the peculiarity of the last wicket producing so many runs, as well as because of the novelty of any Canadian wicket producing 197.

CRICKET, AND HOW TO EXCEL IN IT.

BY DR. W. G. GRACE.

In cases where a club has the services of a professional coach it is fair to assume that he will know more about the game than his pupils. I make this remark as the feeling is not universal, and there are some young pupils in existence who imagine their tutor has been engaged for them to instruct. He should be a good length-bowler, straight and medium-paced; an erratic fast bowler who will knock you on the head and pound you in the stomach cannot possibly be worth engaging.

Bowling, if indulged in for too long at a stretch, invariably deteriorates, and instead of keeping a man bowling hard, ball after ball, for three hours, and only getting a rest by sending in a bad ball to have it hit away, it would be much better for all parties were he to continue at it for half the time and bowl carefully throughout.

If the club or school can afford it, it is better for them to have two or more bowlers, there being such a great advantage in practising to a left-handed man as well as a right.

The ball comes in very differently from the left from what it does from the other side, and it often puzzles a batsman who meets the bowling for the first time, although, unless it is first-class, it is after a trial or two much the easiest to hit.

Whoever has the management of the ground should take care that it is well rolled early in the season, say in March, or the beginning of April at latest, as if you have a dry season, and the ground is not in order before it dries from the March and April winds, it can never be got as right as it would have been if attended to earlier. Once a ground is rolled level it can easily be kept in order, and extra expense at the time will be well saved in the end.

After a match the holes made by bowlers and batsmen should be immediately returned. This will save a lot of grumbling from the players in the next match, and will also be beneficial for the ground, as it will give the new piece time to set. If the returning is left to the middle of the winter, as is generally done, you will find the pieces put in are not nearly so firm as the rest of the ground, and easily cut up again. A ground should be level, smooth, and well rolled, the herbage should be kept close, and the area should be considerable. Two hundred yards across either way is a fair size for a ground—the larger the ground, the fewer the boundary hits and the better the game. Trees are not desirable from a cricketing point of view, as the light cannot be too good for the game, and the "chequered shade" has frequently much to answer for. It is essential for good cricket to have a good ground, as the worse the ground is the less the game is a game of skill. Very bad grounds bring all players down to a level, and cricket played on them is a very different thing from cricket on a proper pitch. On a good ground a good team will always beat a bad one, for they then get a chance of showing their superior skill.

In dry weather it is a good plan to have two wickets prepared for an important match, one well watered and the other left alone, and then in case of rain you are not taken by surprise. Wet has a great influence on cricket. A hard wicket is in favor of run-making, on a soft wicket bowling has the best of it, on a sticky wicket the batsman is nowhere; but if the wicket is very wet indeed, the ball runs through the grass and the bowling gets punished considerably.

CHAPTER VI.—LAWS.

And now for a few general considerations on the Law. The "Laws of Cricket," so called, are forty-seven in number, and in addition to these there are ten laws referring to single wicket, and four laws regarding bets. Many of these sixty-one laws could be amalgamated advantageously, and many of them could be improved. Objections are always to be found to any alteration of established and well-known regulations, and I am aware that many of the difficulties in umpiring are exaggerated, and due more to the deficiencies of the umpires than to those of the rules they profess to act by; but there are one or two points which certainly call for interference, and when the laws are being revised it would be as well to make the revision as perfect as possible. There is no reason why a code of laws should not be drawn up and classified so as to be easily remembered and understood by any person of ordinary intelligence, and at the same time put a stop to unfair play of all kinds, except on the part of very "artful dodgers" indeed.

The Laws are common enough, and so, assuming, to save space, that each of my readers possesses a copy of them as last revised by the M.C.C., I will proceed to glance at a few things which occur to me as to their meaning and application.

SHORT SLIPS.

Napance has been playing very strong this season. Dudley is a good man for any eleven, and Grant was one of the Canadian team that visited England. The town is blessed with two good bowlers, and a fair change. It hopes to be, at least, in the final ties for the Association cup.

The following compose the Winnipeg touring team: Messrs. J. P. Jephson, H. A. L. Dundas, C. E. Hamilton, A. Jukes, H. P. Mitchell, R. H. Stratford, S. E. Smalley, H. Wright, D. G. Wiley, W. N. Hood, A. Holloway, C. A. Pickards. The team left on Sunday last, the 16th inst., and will play eight matches before they return.

ENGLAND

GENTLEMEN v. PLAYERS.

The Gentlemen at Lord's on the 5th secured a victory that greatly compensated them for their defeat at the Oval on the previous Saturday. The elevens which represented the two divisions were different to those which appeared at the Oval in the matter of four players on each side. Peate had not recovered from the sprained ankle which compelled him to leave the field at the Oval on Saturday, and Morley was also unable to play. Messrs. Lucas and C. Studd did a splendid performance, adding 204 runs to the score while they were together, the longest stand ever made in this match. Score:

AUSTRALIANS v. NORTHAMPTONSHIRE, WITH ALFRED SHAW.

As was only to be expected, the Australians had no difficulty in securing a most decisive victory in this match, played at Northampton on 3rd and 4th. For the first time Massie was an absentee from the colonial side, and as Blackham and Boyle were both on the sick list, the secretary, Mr. C. W. Beal, had to play. Palmer's bowling was the most noteworthy feature on the Australian side. His analysis showed 38 overs and 3 balls, 18 maidens, 56 runs, 10 wickets.

THE SCORER.

NAPANEE v. PICTON.

This match was played at Picton on the 10th inst. The fielding of both teams was very good. Picton made no less than seven changes in bowling. W. Briggs and Dudley bowled for Napanee, the lion's share of the wickets falling to Briggs. For the home team R. Gilbert distinguished himself with both bat and ball. Van Horn's 23 was slowly and carefully obtained. Crombie made very stylish play for his 13. Lighthall and Hepburn made a strong stand at the close of the first innings. For Napanee, Dudley's 75, not out, was one of the finest exhibitions of cricket seen in this part of Ontario for some time; a doubtful chance at 60 runs was his only bad play. Appended is the score :

NELSON v. UXBRIDGE.

No. 6 District.

An association match, the first in this district, was played at Uxbridge, on Friday, between the Nelson, of Toronto, and the Uxbridge Club. The weather was all that could be desired, and the wicket, though rather lively, was tolerably good. The result showed the visiting team the victors by sixteen runs. Bascom and Hemphill bowled well for Uxbridge. Snyder, of the Nelson, bowled excellently, taking twelve of his opponents' wickets at but small expense, and he was well seconded by Harley, as the bowling analysis shows. Score:

SECOND ELEVEN OF TORONTO v. NEWMARKET AND AURORA.

This match was played at Newmarket last Saturday, resulting in a victory for Toronto by 87 runs. Newmarket was to have played the match alone, but as five of their best men were engaged for the day, they borrowed the same number of Aurora's crack players, and it may be fairly said that these latter did more than half the work. TRINITY COLLEGE SCHOOL.

PAST v. PRESENT.

This match was begun on the school-grounds at Port Hope on Tuesday, July 11th, and was finished on Wednesday, July 12th, the Past being victorious by six wickets. The day turned out to be very fine, the ground was in capital condition, and everything passed off most pleasantly. The Present boys won the toss and went to bat. Cayley played well for his 20, Macdonell made 25 (not out) without a chance, and Logan quickly put together 27, the innings closing for 96. The Past sent in Saunders (Guelph) and Bletcher (Port Hope) to face the bowling of Macdonell and Allan. Bletcher quickly gave place to Hall (Guelph), and I e and Saunders gave a splendid exhibition of good batting. Hall unfortunately hit his wicket after having made 13. Howard (Toronto) made no stand, and Merritt, 12, was the only other outside of Saunders who made double figures. The latter's batting was perfect. His 84 (not out) was made without a chance, and he was loudly cheered at the close of the innings.

The Present then went in for their second innings, Macdonell again getting double figures, 17, and Ince and Lauder making 13 and 14 respectively, the whole innings closing for 79. The Past, with 33 to win, then began to play, and succeeded in getting the required number of runs for the loss of four wickets, Ross (not out) 17, and Martin, sub. for Bletcher, 11.

WHITBY v. TRINITY COLLEGE SCHOOL ROVERS.

This match was played at Whitby on Thursday, July 13th, and resulted in a draw, the Rovers wanting 15 runs to win, with five wickets to fall. For Whitby, Pelham played two capital innings of 14 and 12, showing great defence. Ray, S., made 17 in his usual rattling style, and Palmer got 12 by very pretty play. He also performed the hat trick in the Rovers' second innings. For the Rovers, Hall's 11 and 6 got the top score. Logan obtained in the first innings 8 wickets for 14 runs, bowling 15 maidens out of 25 overs, and Allen bowled 11 overs, 9 of which were maidens, for 2 runs and 2 wickets, and in the second innings Macdonell sent down 6 overs, 4 maidens, for 2 runs and 2 wickets.

TORONTO CRICKET CLUB v TRINITY COLLEGE SCHOOL ROVERS.

Played at Toronto on Friday last, resulted in a very sorry defeat for the visitors. Toronto took the field, and Helmcken knocked down the wickets with such success that the total was only 49, to which Logan (the captain) gave a good 24. Foy was weaker than usual. Twelve men a side were played, and two of Toronto's wickets went down for 5 before lunch, and 8 more afterwards for 5, so that when Morrison joined Brown as last man, the home team only led by two. Morrison soon set to work, and the field was widened. Brown played very steadily, as if to give Morrison a chance, but as soon as the century was telegraphed, he began to hit far more freely, and piled up his 64 without a chance, and in first-rate form. Meanwhile Morrison had been scoring very rapidly, and had got to almost the century when he skied one to Morris at 83, which was refused. At the 100 he was warmly applauded, and scored on after giving two more chances to the same man till Brown's wicket fell. It will be noticed that the last wicket produced 198 runs, of which Morrison got 133, not out. He was afterwards presented by the club with a bat. Score.

TRINITY COLLEGE SCHOOL ROVERS v. HAMILTON.

This match was played in Hamilton on Saturday, but owing to the Rovers having to leave by the 5 p.m. train for Toronto, the game was not finished. The day was a regular cricketers' day, and the ground was graced by the presence of a large number of ladies.

Kennedy won the toss for Hamilton, and sent the Rovers to the bat, Saunders and Allan facing the bowling of Gillespie and Kennedy. In Gillespie's third over, Saunders was caught at the wickets off his glove, and Howard took his place, who, after making 5, was bowled by Gillespie. Hall followed, and in the following over Allan was clean bowled by Kennedy. Cayley then went in, and by some hard hitting soon run up 16, Hall in the meantime being caught at the wickets off his arm for 8. Macdonell, after scoring 5, put one into Harvey's hands. Morris, by very steady play, put together 13. Ince was quickly caught and bowled. Gillespie, Ross and Scott succumbed to the same bowler, leaving the captain not out 17, the total being 83. Hamilton's fielding was not up to the mark, some half a dozen catches being missed. Hamilton then sent in Hope and Cumming, to face Logan and Allan. After scoring 8, Hope was bowled by a shooter from Logan. No stand was made by any of the succeeding players, and the whole innings closed for 29. The Rovers' fielding was very good, not a single mistake being made, and no extras to add to the score.

The Rovers then went in for their second innings. Saunders was again caught out, Allan bowled by a beauty from Gillespie. Hall, his bad luck not deserting him, was caught off his pad.
