ONE CENT.

HARRASSED UPON BOTH FLANKS

The Russian Army, Not Yet Out of Danger, is Fleeing Northward---Kuropatkin Severely Censured and Oyama Hailed as a Second Napoleon--- No Word Received From Admiral Rojestvensky.

Tokio, March 11.--Noon--The Japanese wedge driven through the Russian centre on the Hun river continues to advance north. It has already arrived at Hampu, some distance northeast of Mukden. They have been heavily punished during their retreat along the described route, the Japanese shelling the disordered mass of Russians.

Minister of War Terontchi has telegraphed his congratulations to Field Marshal Oyama, and the officers and men of his army on their victory. Field Marshal Oyama, in reply ascribes his success to the emperor and the gallantry and bravery of his officers and men.

Japs Are Deliberate. With the Western Japanese Armies, March 10--5 p. m., via Fusan (Delayed in transmission.) During the night General Oku's army advanced almost to the railway, despite a desperate resistance, occupied Tjaitou station, the Russian supply depot, and captured enormous quantities of supplies, including six million rifle cartridges and other supplies in proportion. The Japanese are not hurrying their movements, being determined to lose no chance to make victory certain and decisive. They are confident of the success of their plans.

Few Russians Will Escape. Tokio, March 11, 8 a. m.--The full extent of the Russian disaster is still unknown here. It is known, however, that the casualties and losses in guns and munitions were very enormous. Even approximate figures are unobtainable as yet. It is expected that the prisoners will number many thousands. It is not clear whether Gen. Kuropatkin planned to stand and hold his line north of the Hun river or retire, until he found it was too late to accomplish his plan with the forces at his command, owing to his confidence in the ability of the Russian army to withstand assault. His action in heavily reinforcing his right in the neighborhood of Mukden incline many to believe that he planned to hold the line on the Hun river and attempt to check flank attacks.

By a desperate onslaught, the Japanese drove a wedge through the line of the Hun river, and then pressing forward, practically created a giant cordon around Mukden, basing a tremendous force of the Russians by the operation, completed yesterday. Desperate fighting continued during the night, the Russians striving to break the encircling barrier. It is evident that the losses on both sides yesterday, were heavy, swelling the already tremendous total involved in the capture of Fushun, and the continuous heavy fighting. It is now known that as a result of the operations yesterday, if the Japanese army succeeds in obstructing the line of retreat between Fushun and Tie Pass, but a small fraction of Kuropatkin's army will emerge from the disaster.

The Great Oyama. New York, March 11.--A Berlin despatch to the world says: "Oyama is a military genius of the highest order, ranking with Napoleon. My deliberate opinion is that the Japanese infantry is the best in the world, without exception." This is the outspoken opinion of Col. Gaedke, the most prominent military expert in Berlin, expressed today. Col. Gaedke went, through last year's Manchuria campaign with the Russians. He added: "Gen. Kuropatkin's position is dangerous in the extreme. I would not be surprised to hear, before the end of the week, that his west wing had been annihilated. General Nogi and Oku threaten to cut through ten or twenty miles north of Mukden, and make a dash for Tie Pass, if they have not already done so. Kuropatkin's aim is doubtful, his movements having been shrouded. Probably he is only keeping the Russians occupied. It is likely that he is unwary of Rojestvensky's intentions, as he does not report his movements."

St. Petersburg Has No News. St. Petersburg, March 11.--3 p. m. The curtain which shrouds the extent of the Russian disaster at Mukden, has not yet been pierced. Nothing positive is known of the situation not even Gen. Kuropatkin's whereabouts. The commander-in-chief's message, announcing that all the armies were in full retreat, is the last definite word from the battlefield. The absence of news gives free play to the imagination, and the city is filled with the most pessimistic reports. The public generally believes that the situation is much worse than is officially admitted here. While the military men minimize the Russian defeat, the failure of Tokyo to report the exact situation affords a glimmer of hope that the position of Kuropatkin's army is not so black as painted. The fact that 1,200 cars loaded with artillery and carrying wounded men went northward from Mukden during the last ten days is interpreted as giving ground for hope that Fushun, Marshal Oyama's plunder will not be so great as reported. The dust storm and the exhausted state of the Japanese armies after their herculean efforts during the ten days battle, may also have rendered the retreating army good service. Will Continue the War. Washington, March 11.--"After Liao Yang there was talk of peace. Russia's answer was reinforcements. Like Liao Yang, Mukden is the scene of another retreat and again Russia's answer will be large reinforcements, but of peace, not a word."

This was the emphatic statement of Count Cassini, the Russian Ambassador today in light of the morning despatches telling of the Russian retreat. The only official news he has received in the last few days from his government regarding the operations is contained in a brief cablegram which came last night saying that Gen. Kuropatkin was retreating, after days of fierce fighting. The ambassador, however, was acquainted several weeks ago with the final decision of the Emperor that Russia would continue the war until Russian arms were victorious, regardless of the time it would require, and already preparations are being made for large reinforcements for Kuropatkin.

If an echo of peace should come out of St. Petersburg no official in Washington would be more surprised than the Russian ambassador, who has all along been positively informed that nothing but victory for Gen. Kuropatkin can bring an end to the war.

Killed by His Own Bomb. St. Petersburg, March 11.--The explosion of a bomb at the Hotel Bristol, adjoining the Hotel d'Angleterre here, just before daylight, this morning, blew to atoms, the owner of the bomb, a man with an English passport, and giving the name of Alfred Henry McCullough, and wrooked the adjoining rooms, killing the wife of an officer, and injuring several other lodgers. The explosion, which was heard blocks away, created a tremendous sensation. There is not the slightest doubt, that the man killed, was connected with terrorist plots. The bomb was of the same power as those which killed the late minister of the interior, Mr. Ploshve and Grand Duke Sergius, creating the same havoc as did the explosion at the Hotel du Nord, in St. Petersburg.

An independent investigation made by the Associated Press seems to establish beyond question that the man killed was a terrorist leader. His passport, of course, was fictitious, but the man was a foreigner, not a Russian. At the Hotel du Nord, where he has been stopping since the middle of January, McCullough was described as a very intelligent looking man between 30 and 40 years of age, resembling more a Frenchman than an Englishman, speaking French with the fluency of a native. He also spoke English, and the hotel he kept much to himself, going away on frequent short trips. Just before Grand Duke Sergius was assassinated, the man was seen directly with the Grand Duke's murderer. McCullough professed to be engaged in business but in view of what has happened, his movements are admitted to have been suspicious. Some of the police are inclined to think he was a direct emissary of the Paris revolutionary organization.

McCullough's toes were seen protruding from the floor of the upper portion of his body scattered the walls and ceiling, which were red with blood. The police believed McCullough was charging the bomb when it exploded. At the British embassy and consulate, McCullough is unknown.

War at the Pu. London, March 11.--A despatch to the Japanese legation from Tokio says: "A Japanese detachment has reached the Pu river thirteen miles north of Mukden and is inflicting considerable damage on the retreating enemy."

Tokio, March 11, 2 p. m.--The Russian forces are now retiring from Mukden northward. They are flanked on both sides by the Japanese troops in pursuit and are suffering heavy losses.

St. Petersburg, March 11, 3.10 p. m.--The Associated Press learns that the despatch received by Emperor Nicholas from General Kuropatkin last night in addition to announcing the retreat of the Russian armies added: "Our retreat is being conducted with the enemy harassing both our flanks. The second army under Bilderling has suffered the heaviest, both in killed, wounded and prisoners. How many are surrounded is unknown. The army is still in danger."

The Russian Fleet. The notorious "Vlad" Nichols, of Indianapolis checked the ear of a Boston man last night. At least this is the report that reached the Times today. All yesterday afternoon "Vlad" had been making friends with the long necked bottle and caused a mild sensation around Indianapolis. "Vlad" is a well known character, and gave his name to a good boy and go home, and to other folk his word. Now it appears that Nichols altered his name to "Vlad" and moved to Boston, and he fell in with William McGovern, and "Vlad" is now in the city with a disreputable. A scrap resulted in which one of the crowd came out with a badly checked ear.

Another Million For Harvard. Pittsfield, Mass., March 11.--The will of William F. Milton, of New York, and Pittsfield, was filed for probate here today. The testator bequeaths to his wife, Anna R. Milton, $25,000, and all the works of art, household furniture, etc. She is also given the use of Unkempt farm, in Pittsfield, and the income from certain large properties. On the death of Mrs. Milton, all of the estate held in trust for her goes to Harvard College. It is thought Mr. Milton's estate will inventory over $1,000,000.

Wear of Life. New York, Mar. 11.--Pala John, an educated young woman who had taken two courses in Harvard University, attempted to commit suicide today by drinking chloroform, because her efforts to secure a living by private teaching, had failed.

The Canada Arrives. Halifax, N. S., Mar. 11.--(Special.)--The steamer "Canada," which left Liverpool the same day as this week's mail steamer Ionian, arrived in port shortly after noon today. She has 11 saloon, 2nd second cabin and 640 steerage. The Ionian is not yet reported.

Hawaiian Trade. San Francisco, March 11.--Hawaiian trade statistics for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1904 show that the value of domestic shipments from the United States to the Hawaiian Islands varies from $9,800,000 to $10,500,000 annually. Merchandise imported into Hawaii from foreign countries for 1904, $8,797,641. Exports to foreign countries $47,620. To the United States $25,127,155. Sugar is the principal article of export, the value of the shipment for 1904 being $24,359,885.

SMUGGLING REVOLVERS. Quite an Item of Trade Between Germany and Russia. Berlin, Mar. 11.--An active trade in smuggled arms at Ostrowo, Prussia and at Kallisch, Russia, was broken up this week by the joint action of the Prussian and Russian police. The arms intercepted consisted chiefly of the poorest quality of revolvers, worth $1.25 wholesale. There is no evidence that the smugglers were agents of revolutionists, or that they were connected with any organization. They were merely adventurous traders who sell goods on the other side of the border at 400 or 600 percent profit, with little risk on the side of the frontier, although those caught in Russian territory are heavily punished.

THE STRIKERS ARE LOSERS. Many of Them Will Not Be Re-employed by the New York Interborough Rapid Transit Co. New York, March 11.--Although nearly two days have passed since the local leaders of the unions involved in the big street railway strike were repudiated by their national officers, and the strikers ordered back to work, conditions on the affected lines have not become normal. Trains were running today on every branch of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company's system, but on reduced, and in some cases irregular schedules. As has been the case from the first, the subway was the least affected. All trains were badly crowded, however, and much more time was consumed in making runs

THE I. C. R. PAY CAR. Today is pay day for the I. C. R. men here and they have even a moral aspect than usual. This is accounted for by the fact that the pay sheets were sent last evening to Terminal Superintendent Ross, who handed them over to Ticket Agent Hanington. The issue of the cheques commenced about 9 o'clock and before 10 o'clock every one interested was feeling happy, as they had ample time to have the cheques cashed. In the past when the pay car was sent down, many of the employees had to hold their cheques until Monday, owing to the bank being closed when they received them.

Cardiff, Wales, March 11.--Twenty six lives were lost as a result of an explosion which occurred yesterday in the Cambrian colliery at Clydachvale in the Rhondda valley.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER. Mr. Peter Binks, who resolved to observe Lent by refusing to permit his wife to chew gum, has made another concession to his conscientious scruples. He will smoke a pipe instead of cigars.

The statement that the harbor had moved up town is incorrect. The large bodies of water at the street corners are not harbors but salt lakes. This is the Salt Lake City of New Brunswick.

WHY HE STAYED. The Times new reporter came in late this morning and informed the rest of the staff that he had come to say good-bye.

THE WAR.

It is unfortunate that the Japanese did not succeed completely in their enveloping movement and force the surrender of Kuropatkin and his army. That would have ended the fearful loss of life and no doubt also the war. That the war will soon be over appears to be a reasonable conclusion, although the St. Petersburg despatches to this morning's papers do not confirm this view.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

Coming of The English Opera Singers Excites Much Interest.

THE FISKE STOCK CO.

Collier's Weekly on Irving's Retirement—Rebus Fax to Visit Australia—The Bonnie Brier Bush—Edward Terry's Visit.

Next week will close the engagement of the Fiske Stock Company at the Opera House, and an attractive repertoire has been arranged for the occasion.

A Halifax correspondent writes to me in glowing terms of the merits of that English opera singer who appears at the York Theatre next week.

Twice completely across the American continent in one season is not considered theatrical travel as it was a few years ago.

Joseph Callahan, well known as a successful star in "Faust" in the popular-price houses, has returned to his original role of Honey Wiggin.

Reuben Fax, who is universally known through his clever characterization of the bimbos later carrier in "The Bonnie Brier Bush," is considering a flattering offer from an Australian manager to tour that country the coming summer.

Mr. Henry Irving is to retire from the stage. Already he has announced his retirement for this season.

"I believe it will be produced some time in March, but so far the title has not been definitely fixed."

Edward Terry, who appears in the York Theatre on March 23, has turned his sixtieth year. He has been acting for forty. He has had a place of his own on the English stage in London for nearly as long.

His powers have remained, but the London public tire of him. It grants dramatic leadership to such excellent men but very moderate artists as Tress and Alexander and forces the Lyceum to close its doors for lack of patronage.

Perhaps it is because it is so near. You think you can go whenever you choose. Then the voyage is so short, and I like long voyages.

What Sulphur Does For the Human Body in Health and Disease.

The mention of sulphur will recall to many of its early days when our mothers and grandmothers gave us our daily dose of sulphur and moxas every spring and fall.

It was the universal spring and fall blood purifier, tonic and curative, and it is still the most effective remedy was not without merit.

Our grandmothers knew that when they dozed us with sulphur and moxas every spring and fall, but the crudity and impurity of ordinary flowers of sulphur were often worse than the disease which they sought to cure.
