French Believe No Immediate Danger of Rupture

NEGOTIATIONS OF WOODWARD BURN HARRING

SUBSTANCE OF FRANCE'S NOTE PUBLIC

No Negotiations Until Germans Cease Passive Resistance in Ruhr.

FRENCH RELIEVED

Poincare Ready to Examine German Proposals With British.

Paris, Aug. 3.—The impression in official circles from a hasty reading of the declaration of the British Premier as contained in despatches to the press, is that Premier Baldwin's attitude leaves plenty of room for continuation of the negotiations regarding a settlement of the reparations question and an answer to Germany's latest proposals. It is emphasized in circles close to M. Poincare that the British Premier's reply to the British note also leaves the door wide open for further discussion.

No Immediate Danger. There is a general feeling that the extent is in no immediate danger of a rupture because of the British proposition, though M. Poincare's reply makes such conditions to a consideration of the German proposals as to render final agreement with Mr. Baldwin difficult.

Resistance Must Cease. At the outset M. Poincare declared he is quite ready to examine the German proposals with the British government but recalls that the German offer was made on the condition of resistance to occupation of the Ruhr. He reaffirms that the French government cannot consider any final agreement with Germany until that resistance is ended and that France and Belgium are ready to modify the conditions of their occupation when that is made possible by the disappearance of systematic obstruction.

The French Note. Paris, Aug. 3.—Premier Poincare's recent note to London informed the British Government that France could not negotiate with Germany until passive resistance in the Ruhr was brought to an end and that evacuation could not be considered until a final agreement was reached and reparations payments were made or assured.

The substance of the note was made public last night after the Premier had read press accounts of the British Premier's statement in which Great Britain's proposals were disclosed.

The French note raised the question of what might be gained by one more appraisal of Germany's capacity to pay. The estimation of the Reich's capacity to pay, the note declared, was the duty of the reparations commission. The Premier expressed the wish that the U. S. unofficial member of the commission could take a more active part in its deliberations.

The French Premier's note also suggested that if the London Government would let Germany know that it did not approve of a policy that was threatening the ruin of Europe, the situation would be adjusted immediately.

France Shows Relief. Paris, Aug. 3.—The Paris newspapers find that the speeches of Premier Baldwin and Foreign Secretary Curzon in the British parliament are more favorable than had been expected and the press comments show almost relief.

The moderate organ Figaro, even asserts that the statements substantially represent progress over the last public declaration of the Prime Minister, pointing out that Mr. Baldwin contests the efficacy of the Ruhr occupation but no longer contests its legality.

All commentators find that the salient character of the British declaration is indecision.

The Journal says it is an admission of impotence, and Echo de Paris asserts that it is an attempt to mediate between France and Germany.

The comment of the financial world is epitomized by O'Hevre, an unrelenting critic of Premier Poincare, calls attention to the fact that the franc yesterday touched the lowest exchange figure since the war.

Le Matin affirms that France will never capitulate before international finance.

"Does not Mr. Baldwin feel it wrong to round him?" asks the news expectant. "He sure that it has not got him by the hand?"

Scottish Immigrants Tell Reasons for Going to United States.

SOME ANTAGONISTIC

Ex-Service Men Dissatisfied With Conditions Under British Flag.

Montreal, Aug. 3.—The Montreal Star today features interviews with many of the 1,000 Scottish immigrants who landed here yesterday en route to the U. S. This was the largest number of people who had ever passed through the port in a single body on the way to the south. According to the individuals interviewed, a vast number of whom are old Imperial soldiers, tradesmen and mechanics, the needs of Canada presented to old countrymen are for farmers and industrial workers are not wanted.

"I never saw a Canadian immigrant individual down our way," said A. Handing, a Greenock blacksmith, "and no one ever spoke to me about prospects in Canada."

Acute distress, unemployment and a gloomy outlook for the future of Great Britain are the chief reasons ascribed by the immigrants for leaving their homes. Several of them deplore the necessity of settling under a foreign flag and the conditions of their employment. James McKay, of Bridgeport, Glasgow, and vice-president of the Amalgamated Society of Wood Workers in Scotland, an ex-service man, wounded in the war, was particularly bitter about the situation.

Montreal Soon May Be In International

Toronto, Aug. 3.—Syracuse and Jersey City fans will not be able to use International League teams in action next season, and perhaps for many years following. Those who are expected to pay have neglected to do so. The trustees are swinging on rusty hinges, and the owners have lost heavily. It has been decided that the Jersey City franchise will be moved to Providence, or sold to interests in that city, once a power in the old Eastern League. At the present time negotiations are being carried on whereby the Syracuse franchise will be moved to Montreal.

Swordfish Kills Shark For French Fishermen

Paris, Aug. 3.—The surprising tale of a battle alongside a fisherman's boat between a shark and a swordfish, was told to a number of correspondents. Noticing a commotion in his nets, indicating that a shark was feasting on a swordfish, a fisherman tossed overboard a large baited hook and in a few minutes the shark began to pull. After a long struggle he drew a four-foot shark to the surface. At this moment, a swordfish appeared and slashed into the shark's flank, cutting deep gashes in lower places and making the fish begin to writhe in his catch without difficulty.

CRITICIZE SAAR COMMISSION

Agitation There Justifiable, Says Canadian League of Nations Society Man.

Ottawa, Aug. 3.—In a report submitted to H. G. Richardson, general secretary of the League of Nations Society in Canada, W. Doyle, deputy representative of the Canadian organization in Europe, who has been conducting a personal investigation of the trouble in the Saar Valley, expresses the view that the agitation of the Saarlanders has been largely justified by the terms of the Versailles treaty.

Mr. Doyle, in his report, commends the action of the Canadian League of Nations Society in its criticism of the Saar Basin Commission. He points out that since the French occupation of the Ruhr and taking over of British customs by the President, the flow of money has been entirely cut off from direct communication with Germany. This has deprived the Saarlanders of the salaries granted to them by the treaty of Versailles to support their unemployed families.

In reference to Dr. R. D. Waugh, the Canadian representative of the League of Nations in Winnipeg, Mr. Doyle says: "I have heard nothing but praise of him and his administration. German and French alike speak of him in the highest of terms."

TRIBUTES TO MEMORY OF DEAD U.S. PRESIDENT POURING IN FROM ALL QUARTERS FOLLOWING HIS DEATH

Admiration Is Expressed For Bravery Shown by Widow of Chief Executive of the United States—End Comes Suddenly as President Harding Listens to Wife Read Review of Himself—"That's Good," He Says, "Read More," Are His Last Words—Body Is Expected to Arrive in Washington Tuesday.

(By Canadian Press.)

San Francisco, Aug. 3.—A nation today mourned the passing of its leader. The people of the United States, from coast to coast and from lakes to gulf, and in the territories beyond the seas, bowed their heads in grief, for their President was dead. In the early hours of last evening, after a day which had brought renewed hope of recovery, death came suddenly and struck down Warren G. Harding with a stroke of cerebral apoplexy.

The end came instantaneously and without even a second of warning, at 7:30 last night. There was no time to summon additional physicians, no time to call the members of his official family, and no time for medical skill to exercise its knowledge. It was all over in the twinkling of an eye, and it left a nation and the world shocked and in grief.

WIFE FAITHFUL TO END

Mrs. Harding, the constant companion of her distinguished husband, was faithful to the end. She was reading to him a few minutes before 7:30, when she noticed a shudder run through the frame of the man she had loved, encouraged in adversity and praised in success. Before she could arise from her chair, Mr. Harding collapsed in his bed and she rushed to the door, calling for the physicians to come quickly.

Brig.-Gen. Sawyer, chief of the staff of physicians, who had been attending the chief executive, who also was in the room, and the two nurses present, Miss Ruth Powderly and Miss Sue Dausser, did all they could, but it availed nothing.

Chief Features of Harding Regime

Washington, Aug. 3.—The following constituted the "high spots" in the events of the Harding administration: Re-establishment of peace with Germany and Austria. Ratification of the treaty with Colombia resulting from the partitioning of Panama. Revision of the tax and tariff laws. Restriction of immigration. Extension of the program of aid to wounded, sick and disabled veterans of the World War. Advocacy of U. S. participation in the World Court.

BELGIUM BANS EXPORT OF COAL

MRS. DUNCAN STEVENSON OF MONCTON DEAD

Moncton, Aug. 3.—The death occurred here this morning of Mrs. Duncan Stevenson, widow of Duncan Stevenson, aged 77 years. She is survived by one son, Frank, of Montreal and one daughter, Mrs. A. C. Watts, of Birmingham, Alabama.

Happy and Hopeful

The trip across the continent will be made on the same train that carried the chief executive, a well, happy and hopeful man, to the Pacific coast. His route will take it through Reno, Ogden, Cheyenne, Omaha, Chicago and thence to Washington. It will make no stop except to change engines and for other operating purposes.

The body of the President will be borne in the same car as carried him to the west. It will be accompanied by the same party that accompanied the executive when he left Washington June 20, with the addition of Attorney-General Daugherty, General Pershing and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hensberg and family of Santa Ana Cal., Mrs. Hensberg being a sister of Mr. Harding. To Guard Casket. Naval and military honors will be paid the dead commander by the army and navy throughout the whole trip.

Two soldiers and two sailors, members of the guard of honor of 16 enlisted men, and two officers will stand at attention beside the casket. The car bearing the body will be lighted at night, and the whole train probably will be draped in black.

The body of the President lay today in the room in which he suffered and died. It will remain there before being taken to the train and just before that.

TRIBUTES TO MEMORY OF DEAD PRESIDENT SENT TO WASHINGTON

To the very few in high official life who were in Washington when the news brought the ill-tidings over the country, the shock comes with trebled force.

It was to a strangely scattered family that word of their leader's death was flashed.

At the request of President Harding, the man on whose shoulders destiny has hung the mantle of high authority, Calvin Coolidge, also has been a member of the cabinet.

Official word of Mr. Harding's death came in a message from Attorney General Daugherty in San Francisco to Secretary Hughes.

Very few senators or members of the house were in Washington.

Secretary Hughes also took steps to see that formal notification reached Vice-President Coolidge.

There was widespread speculation as to the cause of the President's death.

The tired ocular muscles set up pain along the nerves connecting with the other parts of the head. A correct pair of glasses acts at the cause. Glasses banish not one headache, but a thousand.

OPPOSITION LEADER HERE, SAYS VISIT IS TO LEARN CLAIMS OF MARITIMES

Meighen and Local Men are Heard in Speeches at Dinner

Saying that he had come to learn and not to teach, Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, former premier of Canada and now leader of the Opposition in the Federal Parliament, explained at a banquet in the Union Club last night that his trip to the Maritime Provinces was not for the purpose of political speech-making but was made to enable him to get in closer touch with maritime problems. Mr. Meighen arrived on the Digby boat last evening and was taken to the home of Dr. Murray MacLaren, M.P., where he is a guest while in St. John. His first public appearance was at a banquet in the Union Club at which L. P. D. Tilley was chairman.

Those on the dock to welcome Mr. Meighen when he arrived were Senator J. W. Daniel, Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, Dr. Murray MacLaren, L. P. D. Tilley, Thomas Bell, Charles F. Lingley, Frank Lewis, H. P. Newcombe, Commissioner John Thornton, George Ingraham, George Carroll, Richmond Granman, John Bates and William Moore.

At the conclusion of a splendidly provided music, Mr. Tilley rose to introduce the speaker. After paying a warm tribute to his leader, Mr. Tilley recounted some of the troubles of the provinces, going back to the time of Confederation and explaining the causes which had led up to the present unrest.

He also referred to the purchase of the Paris hotel by the Dominion Coal Co. and the purchase of the expensive block in Toronto to house the directors of the railway. He called attention to the fact that the Dominion Coal Co. had been bought by the Dominion Coal Co. and the purchase of the expensive block in Toronto to house the directors of the railway.

Dr. Baxter paid a very warm tribute to his leader and recounted for the benefit of the audience some tales of his splendid leadership in the House. He spoke of the articles under the heading "The whisper of death," which were appearing in the Montreal Star, and said that he had read with interest the explanation of these articles in the Montreal Star, and that it was an effort to place the blame for the death of Sir Henry Drayton on the shoulders of Sir Henry Drayton.

Mr. Meighen replied. In his opening remarks, Mr. Meighen thanked the previous speakers for their kind remarks about him and thanked the gathering for their reception. He regretted, however, that there was missing the genial face of Senator Thorne, who during his lifetime managed to be present at most party gatherings.

He then explained that his mission here was to learn of Maritime problems. He said that he had heard in his fifteen years of political life when the Progressive party passed to the great political beyond, that speech will remain, for never was there such an obituary. He paid tribute also to the ability and fidelity of Dr. MacLaren and the other members, R. P. Hanson, R. W. Gritmer and George B. Jones.

Explains Mission. He then explained that his mission here was to learn of Maritime problems. He said that he had heard in his fifteen years of political life when the Progressive party passed to the great political beyond, that speech will remain, for never was there such an obituary.

Would Advance Efficiency of Dental Institution

Many Disorders are Traced to Decayed and Abscessed Teeth.

Providence, R. I., Aug. 2.—(A. P. by mail.)—Great changes are taking place in dental education owing to recent discoveries of the intimate connection between the teeth and general health, according to a statement given out today by the Dental Educational Council of America through its secretary, Dr. Albert L. Midgley.

"It has been clearly shown," the statement declares, "that decayed and abscessed teeth many times cause heart disease, rheumatism, neuritis, eczema, mental disorders and other serious diseases. So important has the relation between sound teeth and good health become that it is necessary now to raise educational standards in order to prepare dental students properly to meet the position of world-wide supremacy that American dentistry has attained."

A prescribed standard for dental schools in terms of office, cost was brought from here. The railway management was not interfered with and their desire to run the railway on a business basis was not denied them, but the difference in the expense was made up out of the surplus of the agreement and the business. The same principle could be adopted with regard to the Intercolonial.

Grain Rate. There was one thing, however, which should be corrected and that was the Crown's Next Pass agreement. He went into the history of the agreement and explained that in restoring it the Government had cut out of some $17,000,000 the amount which was to be paid to the railway. He said that he had been held up by the railway for a long time and that as a result of the restoration of that agreement it was impossible for the railway board to lower rates reasonably elsewhere and that this had been explained to the Government previous to the decision of the committee which he had headed, he contended, had been forced.

He spoke of the purchase of the best corner in Toronto for the C. N. R. at the cost of a million, but said that they would now have to buy the next block at an added cost of about two millions. He gave an explanation of the Paris hotel purchase and with bitter irony charged juggling of funds by the railway in order to prevent the railway board from overstepping its statutory rights.

Criticism. He touched on protection and charged that the Government members had become protectionists. The only changes in the tariff which they had made had been to Canada, but the American manufacturer and the boot-logger in between. They had been paid to help the Canadian, but the American manufacturer and the boot-logger in between.

Most grievous persons, Reseinds, unconsciously add as much as they are able to the cost of living. They grab the rescuer and struggle with him, generally trying to lock their legs, as well as to keep their bodies. Most often the drowsy man's initial clutch is for the first part of the rescuer's anatomy which arrives within reach, he is a hand or a toe.

Contrary to what most women believe, the biggest thing of all, it had been the country through the terrible war and the trying months of the winter. He thanked those present for their kindness and expressed the hope that soon his party might once again conduct the affairs of the country from the right side of the House.

Those Present. Among those present at the banquet were: M. E. Agar, Allan Agar, George Armstrong, T. E. G. Armstrong, J. H. Barton, Thomas Bell, Dr. B. M. Baxter, G. H. V. Belyea, K. C. J. Belyea, Myer Cohen, Dr. C. Clark, Dr. J. B. Campbell, K. C. Dr. M. H. Case, Senator J. W. Daniel, H. B. Duront, F. W. Daniel, W. S. Fisher, Richmond Granman, A. D. Gilbert, W. H. Harrison, K. C., D. King Hazen, R. B. Hanson, M. P., Miles B. Inna, Geo. B. Jones, M. P., F. T. Lewis, G. M. Lingley, G. Earle Logan, James Lewis, Allan Kennedy, John R. Gale, Dr. Murray MacLaren, M. P., C. J. Melliday, Dr. S. H. MacDonald, H. H. McLellan, C. Y. Mercereau, George McArthur, Richard McKinney, Fred Macpherson, Thomas Nagle, H. P. Newcombe, F. L. Potts, Dr. G. B. Peat, J. THE DEATH OF PRESIDENT HARDING

But yesterday the people of the United States were rejoicing over the assurance that President Harding was out of danger. But yesterday the echoes of his deliverance on high matters of state were heard everywhere.

There is a haunting sense of tragedy about the great office of the Presidency. Mr. Harding's unexpected death before he had finished his term recalls the fact that he was the seventh President to die in office.

Submarine figures. The Germans had a formidable submarine fleet during the war, but the actual number of submarines built was small compared with the number seen or reported by all sorts of skippers after the submarine scare reached its height.

HE SERVED. One of those cases in which a too technical interpretation of the law, or again, would play an even more important part than the submarine. There will be another conference at which these matters will be considered and the more enlightened nations will make very strong efforts to agree upon regulations forbidding the sacrifice of non-combatants, whether they be inhabitants of cities or passengers on merchant or hospital ships.

A RETURN TO THE AIRSHIP. The ever present burden of colonial empire seems to have tempted Great Britain back into fields that it was supposed she had permanently abandoned.

SIDELIGHTS ON GREAT RUSH OF IMMIGRANTS TO NEW YORK

New York, Aug. 2.—At Ellis Island and in the harbor yesterday there were many scenes combining the tragic and the comic. Fifty Syrian and Armenian "picture brides" arrived on the Madonna, from Mediterranean and Black Sea ports. Many of the prospective bridegrooms hired small boats in which they cruised about the liner, seeking a view of the girls they had wooed by photograph and letter, and trying to throw aboard small presents of fruit and candy. The congestion about the ship was so great that a police launch was called, and chased away the excited lovers.

Like the Styles Of Old Rome

The conservative gentleman who frowns with worry over the radical tendency in the clothing styles of the modern girl is at last convinced that he knows where it all will end. Feminine fashions, says he, have for years been in a state of retrogression and they have now reached a point from which it is only a step to the dressing customs in vogue during the ancient days of Rome.

Reformers Urged To Cease Labors For Moral Uplift

As a Class, Do More Harm Than Good, Says Prof. Darwin.

London, July 16.—(A. P. By Mail). Social reformers of all classes do much more harm than good, according to Professor Leonard Darwin, and society would improve much faster if they ceased to worry about it and let it go its own way.

Professor Darwin is a son of the great Charles Darwin, and it is natural that he should hold strong views on the survival of the fittest and how this best can be accomplished. He says that the misguided efforts of many sincere and earnest social reformers really result in encouraging the continuance of race inferiority and deterioration, which is just the reverse of what they are trying to do.

"Moral Selection" was the title of Professor Darwin's address. He was not sure that mate selection, in the present state of society, was good for the future of the race, and entirely ignores the racial effects of the reforms they are advocating.

Both out-of-work doles to those constitutionally incapable of work, and out-door relief generally, if given without regard to the probability of permanent food in the future, would directly tend to promote the inferiority of the race in the future.

Motherhood endowment to the naturally superior and unfit alike, these and other methods of relieving distress, would have the same result, he contended.

Altogether, as viewed by Professor Darwin, there seemed to be a pretty blue outlook for the world generally, and even enlightened and earnest appeared to be able to find little comfort in his views.

But Professor Darwin said his objection to mate selection would disappear if "by some method less cruel than that of natural selection the inferior stocks could be made to multiply less quickly than the superior."

Longfellow Got Inspiration From Portland Potter

Portland, Me.—Last, strayed, or stolen, somewhere in the universe, a pottery plaque, irregular in shape, with four lines of verse upon it. Cash value negligible; sentimental value great.

Some such advertisement would Rufus Lamson, elderly potter of 793 Congress street, be glad to insert in the dailies of the United States if he felt that such incoherent wording could possibly reap returns. For the nondescript plaque in question is linked up with an interesting story of the youth of the poet Longfellow, and constitutes a tangible proof that his poem, "Keramos," which describes the potter at his wheels, had its inspiration here in Portland.

In the days of Longfellow's boyhood a potter named Benjamin Dodge had a small shop in Brattle street on the same site where the Lamson & Swasey pottery later stood. He had only one assistant, and all the pottery vessels turned out by the establishment were fashioned by one or the other of the two craftsmen.

Any one who leaves out Dodge's pottery in a description of the youthful haunts of Longfellow is ignoring an important chapter in the poet's early life, for it was one of his favorite boyhood pastimes to watch the potter at his work.

It was while the poet, a boy of 16, was standing near the potter's wheel one day that the inspiration which afterwards found its expression in his poem "Keramos," apparently came to him, for he dashed off four lines of verse as the wheel flew around and a vessel took shape under the potter's facile fingers.

"No handicraftsman's art Can to our art compare; We potters make our pots Of what we potters are."

This was what he wrote, having inscribed it on a slip of paper, he slipped away to join his companions, leaving it lying on the potter's wheel.

Mr. Dodge, absent from his task for a moment, came back and found it lying there. The verse, simple as it was, grasped his fancy because of its underlying thought, and because of his fondness for the lad who had inscribed it. He wrote it painstakingly on clay and had it fired. The resultant plaque was about a foot long and five inches wide, glazed and reddish brown in coloring. Mr. Dodge drilled a hole in either end of it, and hung it over his potter's wheel. For many years it was undisturbed there.

Then the pottery was bought by Rufus Lamson and Eben Swasey, and a new building was erected on the old site about forty-five years ago. The pottery plaque had its place of honor, however, when the new pottery was completed and remained on the wall for twenty years. Then twenty-five years ago a visitor to the pottery expressed his desire to buy it, having heard the story connected with it, and the partners sold it for a few dollars.

No sooner was it gone than they realized the fallacy of parting with it, but they did not take the name of the purchaser, and they had no idea how to go about it to recover their treasure. So the plaque vanished from the pottery, and with its passing came a dimming of the tradition regarding Longfellow's juvenile visits to the establishment. Lately, however, interest has revived, and the story has crept out through Mr. Lamson's expression of his desire to recover the plaque.

ARE WOMEN OVERWORKED?

Yes, hundreds of thousands of them are. This applies to the housewife and to the woman who struggles on a small income to make both ends meet by doing all the washing, ironing, cooking, mending and sewing for a large family. There are others who not only support themselves working in factories, shops, stores and offices, but often have an invalid father or mother to support, therefore do housework besides. These are the women who break down early and are afflicted with various forms of female weakness. Ninety-eight out of every 100 women who have tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have proved that it is a successful remedy for women's ills. For nearly fifty years it has been restoring women to health, and it will pay every ailing woman to try it.

ance. Cinnabar, too, recently has been discovered in this region. "As we flew up the Tanana toward the Yukon, two days later, we saw much of this interesting country from a low altitude. Though few landing places were available, we felt a nonchalant disregard for the precautions that had worried us so much in the Canadian Rockies. Sandbars in the river appeared now and then. "Our maps, which were Geological Survey maps of the Tanana and Yukon valleys, proved to be accurate. "We flew through light rains until Harpers Bend was reached, south of Fort Gibbon, on the Tanana River, and then we entered the valley of the Yukon. "We overtook a river boat on the Yukon and were tempted to try down close enough to get a view of the passengers. The contrast between this method of transportation and our own was striking for the boat was pushing three barges against the current and not making more than three or four miles an hour. "Captain Howard T. Douglas, who had personally made most of the arrangements for our landings ahead of us, was awaiting us when we landed at Ruby. He informed us that the Indians had been gathering for days to see the boat. In fact, so great had been the demand on the Ruby lander and so universally had the fishing been abandoned by these Indians that our expedition threatened to bring a famine to the community. "For a week before our arrival all the mining camps and fishermen's nets had been abandoned. When we came in eight squaws dropped their paddles and raced the men to the river to see us land. "Captain Douglas had cleared a small island some six miles from the town, and here we landed without accident after a fight of two and three-quarters hours from Fairbanks. One more such flight would bring us to the end of our journey. "This last short hop was made on the afternoon of August 24, when we set down near Nome on the old parade ground of Fort Davis, situated between the Nome River and Behring Sea. "We had flown just fifty-three hours and thirty minutes from New York, covering 4,800 miles, without mishap or any breakage of serious character.

Scows of Lincoln's Day Still Cross The White River

Chicago, Aug. 2.—(A. P. by mail)—A scow of the same sort as that in which young Abraham Lincoln and his home-seeking parents were ferried across the White River near Petersburg, Ind., plies there today, propelled in the same manner by the current, according to Dr. William E. Barton of Oak Park, Ill., moderator of the National Council of Congregational Churches. "The ferryman, Dr. Barton says, doubtless like the Dr. Barton of Lincoln's day, manipulates cables from boat to shore and swings his craft so that the current, striking it at an angle, drives it in the direction desired. He shortens one cable and slackens another until his prow points to the shore by the White River does the rest. "This survival of pioneer method was witnessed by Dr. Barton on a motor trip from Springfield, Ky., to Springfield, Ill., in which he traced the life journey of Lincoln and his parents from the place of the parents' marriage to the place of the son's burial. "While the White River ferry is representative of early conditions, the ferry where the Lincoln family crossed the Ohio from Kentucky into Indiana is a modern and the primitive, which Dr. Barton reported as recurring along his route. On the Ohio, a small low-powered gasoline launch has been hitched to the scow, but it does not propel the scow, but replacing the scow's head at the right angle of the current, which furnishes the real power. "Similarly, a log church once attended by Lincoln's relatives remains a log church, but few would appreciate it as it had been weather-boarded. "Life is still primitive in parts of the Lincoln country, Dr. Barton states, but schools and churches are being built. Tractors are unknown in the broken farm country of southern Indiana, he adds, although many of which follow trails blazed by Lincoln.

Yukon Transportation Contrasts. "We overtook a river boat on the Yukon and were tempted to try down close enough to get a view of the passengers. The contrast between this method of transportation and our own was striking for the boat was pushing three barges against the current and not making more than three or four miles an hour. Land of Abundant Crops.

"Fairbanks and the Tanana Valley were surprising to us by reason of the green verdure, the abundant crops and beautiful flower gardens that bloomed luxuriously in contrast with the bleak and forbidding country over which we had so recently flown. Here enterprising farmers took every advantage of the few weeks of sunlight in the spring and their crops grew with great rapidity. Every house boasted a well-kept garden. "Unlimited resources remain undisturbed here in interior Alaska. Not gold alone, but copper, silver, lead, coal and tin are found in seeming abundance. Cinnabar, too, recently has been discovered in this region. "As we flew up the Tanana toward the Yukon, two days later, we saw much of this interesting country from a low altitude. Though few landing places were available, we felt a nonchalant disregard for the precautions that had worried us so much in the Canadian Rockies. Sandbars in the river appeared now and then. Say Dry Assemblyman Ran Car When Drunk

Ithaca, Aug. 3.—Edward J. Carpenter, Corning, declined to the Assembly from Steuben County last fall on the Republican ticket, with the endorsement of William H. Anderson and the Anti-Saloon League, must appear before City Judge Daniel Crowley in this city on August 11 to answer a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. In connection with Carpenter's arrest the police say that in his automobile they found three bottles of wine. The prosecution will involve only the charge of operating an automobile while drunk. Under the law Carpenter may elect to have the case go to the Grand Jury. He said that he would meet the charge. At Albany Carpenter voted against the Mullan-Gage repealer. "I am in politics," he said, "in the Assembly, and I will record there shows where I stand on the wet and dry issue when it comes to upholding or weakening the position of the people. I am under arrest on a charge which prefers intoxication while driving a car. For the benefit of my friends let me say that I was in Ithaca, that I did run by a traffic signal unwittingly, that a police officer climbed on the running board and conducted me to headquarters. Let me add to that that unfortunately I am quick tempered and easily irritated, and said something to the officer that I should not have said."

ORDERS REMOVAL FROM HIGH ALTAR

New York, Aug. 1.—(By Canadian Press)—Bishop William T. Manning has ordered removal from the high altar of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine a receiver for a system of amplifiers. "Nothing of a worldly nature should be in this sacred place," he said. "Besides, communicants should know their service by heart and it should not be necessary for them to hear the words of celebrant." The altar receiver was a part of a system recently installed at a cost of $2,000. There are nine amplifiers throughout the cathedral and now even choir and clergy can hear every word of the service. The Bishop himself seated on his throne, can "listen in."

PUT ALCOHOL IN WHITE HAIRSE, BUT DRY OFFICERS FOUND IT

Media, Pa., Aug. 3.—A white hearse containing a load of grain alcohol valued at $20,000 was seized by State troopers recently. The liquor had been secreted in the compartment ordinarily reserved for the coffin. Samuel Weinstock of Baltimore, driver of the funeral vehicle, was held in $1,000 bail. He told the troopers he had conveyed the liquor from Baltimore, but refused to divulge any other details. Weinstock threw up his hands at the sight of the officers and said: "I guess it's no use trying to fool you fellows."

FORD GIVES EDISON A CAR, BUT IT IS NOT A FORD

West Orange, N. J., Aug. 3.—Thomas A. Edison and Mrs. Edison left Monday on a month's trip through the Middle West in a sedan automobile, the gift of Henry Ford. The car is not a Ford. They will go to Chattanooga, N. C., and then will visit Mr. Edison's birthplace, Milan, Ohio. The trip will take them through Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana to Detroit, where they will join Mr. and Mrs. Henry Firestone. "The trip will motor through Northern Michigan to a Summer camp they intend to establish in the Calumet district. Plans for the return trip are not completed, but the Edisons will be back home by Sept. 1."

PHONIC SHORTAGE YOKOHAMA

Yokohama, July 6.—(A. P. by mail)—It costs more to have a telephone installed in this Japanese city, and of the 4,500 applications for instruments on file, only 450 have been accepted since the first of the year. The trouble arises from lack of equipment.

2 GIRLS HELD AS BANDITS

New York, Aug. 3.—Edna Hobbs, nineteen years old, and Anna Majewsky, twenty, were held on charges of highway robbery for the grand jury in Brooklyn. "The girls are said to have instigated the robbery of Dominick Notaricola by Joseph Pantelano and Philip de Falco. The young men are said to have been arrested and taken to 'stick up' Notaricola, saying that the highway robbery was the grand jury's order, but got only $5. Bail was fixed at $10,000 each by Magistrate Powell in Flatbush Court.

Not Notified Here

Hon. W. F. Roberts, Minister of Health, said last night that if New Brunswick or the Maritime Provinces had been included in any grouping for a campaign the local officials had not been notified. He thought that some preliminary work would have to be done before the actual campaign started, and that the public will be given important information concerning the disease made as efficient as possible.

Sugar Will Bring $70,000,000 to Hawaii Coffers This Year

Honolulu, July 18.—(A. P. by Mail).—"King Sugar," monarch of Hawaiian products, will pour approximately $70,000,000 into the treasury this year, an increase of almost 40 per cent. over the gross return from this product last year, according to the estimates of prominent planters. "All except a few mills in the territory have completed their grinding for the season, and the combined output is certain to exceed 800,000 tons, a decrease of approximately 100,000 tons from the production of last year, which is laid to the plantation laborers' strike of 1922, when most of the 1923 crop was planted. The average price for last year's crop, however, was $22.90 a ton, as compared with this year's estimated average price of between $180 and $140 a ton. Planters here have pointed out that the value of the Hawaiian sugar crop approximately equals the production of silver in the United States, which usually averages between $20,000,000 and $40,000,000 annually, although it rose in 1912 to $75,000,000. With the large increase in the sugar income, it is estimated that Hawaii's exports to the mainland United States this year will aggregate $100,000,000, as the pineapple pack will bring $25,000,000 and other miscellaneous products approximately $5,000,000.

PLAN CAMPAIGN AGAINST CANCER

New York, Aug. 2.—Six regional cancer campaigns to begin on Oct. 15 and end May 14, 1924, covering the United States and Canada were announced yesterday by Dr. G. A. Soper, managing director of the American Society for the Control of Cancer. The campaigns will take the place of national cancer weeks, which were held in 1921 and 1922. "The various states and the provinces of Canada have been grouped according to their geographical location. In each division three weeks will be devoted to intensive preparatory work and one to a regional cancer week during which the public will be given important information concerning the malady. The work will be done by regional organizations acting under the executives at headquarters.

Propulsion of Ships By Electricity From Mainland Forecast

New York, Aug. 2.—That steamships will be propelled by electricity furnished by power houses on the mainland within the next century was the opinion expressed by G. Fatterlin, chief engineer of the Vacuum Oil Company in New York, who called for home on the N. G. I. liner Colombo. Mr. Fatterlin has been for some time engaged on research and experimental work to increase power on ocean liners. "The recent experiments in Germany and France in directing the movement of airplanes by electrical current," said Mr. Fatterlin, "illustrate the principle which will eventually propel vessels and land machinery. All modern and new ships will use as a fuel. Although there is no immediate danger of oil deposits becoming exhausted, electricity will unquestionably solve the problem when that time comes."

Good Time Enjoyed at Masquerade Dance

The annual masquerade dance of the Ketchikan-Morna Association, held last evening at the Club House, was the most successful function yet held by this enterprising organization and the large number in attendance spent the most delightful evening. Many beautiful and original costumes were seen on the floor, as well as a number of very humorous ones, prominent among them "Hiram Hornbeam." The committee in charge was composed of Mrs. Nokes, chairman, Mrs. R. Andrews, Murray Flowers and James Laidlaw. The judges were Mr. and Mrs. Jervis Wilton, W. A. S.monds and J. E. Waring. The prize winners were: Mrs. Murray Flowers, Lena Magnusson and J. A. Willis Waring, the latter appearing as "Miss Ketchikan." Special mention was made of the "bride and groom," impersonated by Jean and Marjorie Brittain. It is the intention of the association to hold a confetti dance in the near future.

Woman Nursing Child Gets Beer Returned

Whitinsville, Mass., Aug. 3.—Catherine Framere of Craggy Peak told Special Justice Francis P. Brady in the Uxbridge District Court that beer found in her home must be returned to her because she was nursing a child and that the beverage was absolutely necessary for her diet. Mrs. Framere assured the court that if the beer was taken away she would surely die. Justice Brady sympathized with the woman and ordered Chief J. Leo Mulvaney to return the beer to the woman and to return to her the Northbridge police to return eighteen bottles of home brewed beer, which were taken in a raid at the Framere home yesterday. Justice Brady then imposed a fine of $50 on Mrs. Framere on the charge of keeping liquor. She said she waived her rights to claim moonshine whiskey alleged to have been seized in her home.

Love's Young Dream Is Rudely Shattered

Montreal, Aug. 3.—The love dream of Ruby Rathwell, pretty 17-year-old Brockville girl, was blasted recently when the lover with whom she eloped from home was sent to jail for three months by Judge Monet after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of assaulting a police officer and stealing a ride on the C. N. R. On July 20th he and Ruby Rathwell were found riding on a freight train in the Turcot yards. The girl was dressed in boy's clothing. Constable Crowe of the C. N. R. police shouted at the pair, and they both jumped to the ground and began a run towards the woods. After a short chase Haggerty was caught and a struggle ensued, in which the fugitive hit Crowe over the head with a blackjack. Stunned by the blow, the constable fell to the ground, and both the man and girl escaped. Later the girl was found in Montreal West and placed under arrest. She was released on suspended sentence and for the past week has been employed in the city and waiting for her sweetheart to return. He was arrested there on Saturday on the assault charge and brought to Montreal.

TEARS ARE AMISS IN BUSINESS

New York, Aug. 1.—(Associated Press)—Women to succeed in business must learn to dress comfortably without losing the charm of their sex, and to take correction from the boss without weeping, according to Mrs. Alice Foote MacDougall, New York business woman. Mrs. MacDougall, who predicted recently that within a century women will be "doing all the business," said that the observance of a few simple rules would hasten the time when they would take over such control. Other suggestions were: "Discuss abstract questions without making personal application of everything that is said. "Stick to agreements without squirming if you are getting the worst of it. DOOR SLAMS;
GIRL IS LOST

Train Whisks 16-Year-Old Cammella Away—Search Vain.

(New York Tribune) The slamming of a subway door cut off sixteen-year-old Cammella Di Giovanni from her father and younger sister at the New Lots station of the B. M. T. Sunday night and she has not been heard from since.

The rushing train carried her away as her father, bursting into terrified Italian, appealed in vain to the guards to stop the train.

All day yesterday he tramped the streets, going from police station to hospital and back again to his home, looking for the girl. Her mother joined in the search, her face haggard with weeping, and there was no one left at the little fish store which Di Giovanni runs at 540 Driggs Avenue, Brooklyn, but the young sister.

Ninety Persons Search for Her. She dragged a bench to the sidewalk and sat there all day, with the occasional companionship of a cousin or uncle, who dropped in to rest after a fruitless hunt. Ninety friends and relatives of the girl were hunted and all the neighbors in the crowded Williamsburg section were on the search.

By nightfall Cammella's relatives were shaking their heads sadly and answered all suggestions with a fatalistic shrug of the shoulders. "Son-of-a-gun grabbed her," they said. "It must be so. She was a bright girl and speaks good English. She could not be lost all this time. What happened—it must be so—it is this. She got out at the next station. She did not know very much about subways. She never went out without her father. Probably she was frightened and cried, and somebody—your kind—somebody offered to show her the way home. It must be so. Otherwise she would have come home before this time."

Police Send Out Warning. The father, Vincenzo Di Giovanni, notified the police yesterday morning and a warning was sent to the Missing Persons Bureau. Cammella was described as a short, plump girl, five feet tall and weighing 150 pounds. She had dark brown hair and eyes. She wore a blue dress, gray straw hat with feathers and a brown and white scarf. She wore also a ring set with a red stone.

The uncles and cousins laughed at the suggestion that Cammella had seized the opportunity to elope when she was parted from a strict and watchful father. "No," they said, her friend was at that moment asleep at his home, worn out with having patrolled the streets all night looking for her.

SCIENTISTS TO MEET IN STATES AFTER THE TOTAL SOLAR ECLIPSE. Los Angeles, Calif., Aug. 3.—American scientists, especially those who are attracted to California by the total solar eclipse of September 10, will attend the summer session of the American Association for the Advancement of Science to be held jointly with the Pacific and South-western Divisions of that organization, September 17 to 20 in Los Angeles.

Many astronomers will attend since the eclipse may be observed in its total phase only a few hundred miles from Los Angeles. A symposium on eclipses and relativity with Dr. W. Campbell, president of the University of California, Dr. Charles E. St. John, of Mount Wilson Observatory, and Dr. S. A. Mitchell, of the University of Virginia, as speakers will be a feature of the meeting, and it is expected that some of the preliminary results of their eclipse observations a few days previous will be reported.

Dr. John C. Merriam, president of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, will give an address on remains of prehistoric animal life found in the famous asphalt deposits of Rancho La Brea and a display of these fossils will be on exhibition.

Twenty-five affiliated societies will also hold meetings at the same time according to Dr. W. W. Sargent, secretary in charge of the meetings.

President Harding would use the cooperative idea, according to his address at Idaho Falls. But he won't apply it to foreign relations.—Montreal Star.

Friends of Those in Charge of Disposal Got the Bargains

London, Aug. 2.—"It is a remarkable circumstance," says the report of the select committee appointed by the Government to investigate the alleged irregularities or fraud in connection with the administration of the canteen funds whose report was received yesterday, "that most of the goods sold at low prices were sold to former officials of the Canteen Board who were friends of those who were directing the disposal thereof." Evidence to this effect came out some time ago while the inquiry was going on.

The committee's report receives pretty severe handling from the morning papers. The Daily Chronicle thinks the committee erred in their acquittal of the authorities of having made wrongful use of the canteen funds.

"It is perfectly true," the newspaper says, "that the conditions governing the administration of the canteens were so vague as to permit almost any interpretation of them, but the fact remains that the soldiers sincerely believed that when they patronized the canteen, they were supporting an institution, the profits of which it was intended they should share. No attempt was made to disillusion them. The severe censure which the committee thought fit to pass upon the altogether scandalous and shady proceeding which characterized the ultimate disposal of the assets is not calculated to make the conclusion on the main issue any the more acceptable."

The Daily Express says: "If we could even believe that such revelations would prevent a recurrence of exactly similar follies we might feel as though the money that is gone has not been altogether wasted. Unfortunately, there is no ground for such belief."

The Morning Post fastens upon the fact that goods to the amount of £200,000 were purchased in five months without inquiry as to whether the articles were required or not.

"The public will find no difficulty in arriving at their own conclusions," the newspaper says, "and will agree that transactions of this character should not be condoned by the authorities."

TRAGEDY OF HEN WHICH MISTOOK COBRA FOR WORM. Elmer, N. J., Aug. 3.—9 Jersey baryard men discovered that worms grow to a tremendous size in India, and as a result of its pecking a cobra, the Rev. Raymond Haaf, a missionary, has one less in his flock of ten fowls than he took from Elmer to India last fall.

In a letter just received by the home folks, the Jersey missionary says that it cost him $100 to take his feathered flock from America to India. After he led the chickens out to forage at a jungle, a hen made a great ado when she spied a cobra. She ran up to take a peck at it, and was bitten by the reptile and died at once.

The missionary is planning to cross the American hens with the Indian breed, which are not so strong on laying, but are faster on their legs to avoid jungle enemies.

A tiger killed a cow within fifty yards of the dooryard, the missionary also writes. He relates also that one of the native men met another tiger on a mountain path. Being without weapons of any kind, the native quickly pulled out his match box, set fire to his turban and waved it between him and the tiger. The beast and the native both fled in opposite directions.

SAYS CATALOGUES DON'T GET BUSINESS. Sofia, Bulgaria, July 6.—(A. P. By Mail).—The American counsel here believes Bulgaria offers an excellent market for manufactured articles of many kinds. He is Graham H. Kemper, and he says the value of the market is evidenced by the desire of foreigners to share in it.

"American merchants," says Mr. Kemper, "should pursue a definite campaign here extending over several years, as do the British. The latter are not deterred by lack of immediate profits, but build for the future. The Bulgarian market is worth going into, but this cannot be done by circulars. The work needs personal representation."

"DAILY TRAGEDY" OF LIFE IN RIO

Million Fight Losing Battle Against the High Cost of Living.

Rio De Janeiro, July 6.—(A. P. By Mail).—The million and a quarter people of this city are fighting a gallant but losing battle against the constantly increasing cost of living. The besieging army of speculators, profiteers, corner manipulators and "middlemen" is pushing the attack with relentless rigor, while the desperate populace is making feeble but bitter resistance.

It is estimated that the cost of living here has increased 100 per cent. within the last twelve months. At the beginning of that period it was nearly double what it is five years ago.

Not only have prices doubled and tripled in food, clothing and housing, but the quality of all these things has deteriorated just as rapidly. Inflation, falsification and adulteration have become so common that they no longer cause comment. Owing to the cost of materials, only unavoidable repairs have been made on all buildings, and there is practically no new construction going on.

The local authorities, recognizing the desperate nature of the situation, are struggling to ameliorate conditions. The municipal council has created a committee to confer with the minister of transportation and the agriculture committee of the Senate to seek a solution of the problem.

The street fair which was established in every section of the city a little more than a year ago have become tremendously popular. Articles of clothing and household use are sold at these fairs at prices considerably lower than prevail in the stores. Rich as well as poor are patrons. It is no uncommon sight to see a richly dressed lady leading a limousine with her purchases at a street fair.

Two or three of the popular newspapers have been conducting campaigns against what they term "The Daily Tragedy," in which they have covered their front pages with pictures and heartrending stories of the poverty and misery that is found in all parts of the city, and which they assert has not been equalled here in modern times.

In contrast to these gloomy pictures, however, is the undeniable fact that never in Rio's history has there been such display of wealth and luxury on the city's downtown streets as at present. The Avenida Rio Branco, on any pleasant afternoon, is almost impassable because of the fashionably dressed crowds that throng its sidewalks. Silks and jewels are conspicuous in endless procession. The shop windows are lavishly in their displays of luxury goods sold at fabulous prices. Motion picture shows, theatre, and amusement clubs are crowded to capacity by pleasure seekers.

There is little unemployment, and while wages have not increased in proportion to prices, there have been no strikes nor serious talk of strikes for more than two years. Despite the increasing flow of immigration from Europe, both manufacturers and agricultural interests complain that they are unable to maintain or expand their activities because of labor shortage.

A college professor, in an interview says that "Yes, we have no bananas today," is perfectly good English. That yes and no of that is that the college professor was interviewed in a sanitarium.

SMASH WINDOW, GET $10,000 GEMS

Youthful Bandits Snatch a Tray of Diamonds in New York Shop.

New York, Aug. 3.—A touring car drew up in front of Henry Rothberg's jewelry store on 247 Third avenue, recently, and two neatly attired young men alighted while a complete door was found that he was looking down the avenue several men started a futile chase on foot, while two or three others followed in automobiles. But the touring car was too fast and soon was lost to sight.

Rothberg, with a clerk, Miss Tillie Stoy, was clearing up customers when the window was smashed. He rushed around the counter, but as he reached the door he found that he was looking down the barrel of a pistol and heard a voice say: "Get back in there or I'll blow your head off."

Then he saw two young men jump into the car and speed away. He tried to a telephone and called the police. The questioned persons who had seen the entire proceeding, but found that the few minutes the robbery required had left almost every one with a different impression. They were all to get but the most meagre description of the men. One person was found, however, who told the police he had the number of the bandit automobile. The owner was looked up, but he had been unable to find him only last night.

Mr. Rothberg declared that he could not estimate his loss until he had taken an inventory. But he said there were forty or fifty diamond rings in the trays, with some spanning for a half to two and one-half carats, and asserted that his loss would reach at least $10,000.

Patrolmen said it was the third robbery of its kind in their precinct within the last six months.

BOYS BURN CHURCHES. London, July 21.—(By Mail).—Six boys, all of them under 16, have been responsible for the mysterious fires which have damaged nine churches in South London during the past few months. The leader of the gang is a lad named Rudolph Gensham, whose parents are Swiss. In addition to investigating fires, young Gensham admitted two or three crimes, including burglary in the neighborhood. Three times he raided shops to steal detective magazines. He also admitted that he had threatened the lives of members of the gang if they gave him away. He was sent to a reformatory for five years.

TEA DISPLACING BEER. London, July 15.—(A. P. By Mail).—Prohibition is responsible for a considerable increase in the quantity of tea consumed through the world according to Minding Lane experts. Britons now consume tea at the rate of 8 1/2 lbs. a head, compared with 6 1/2 lbs. a few years ago. Some of this increase is due to the high price of beer, which forces the British workman to "let off steam" on pints of tea instead of beer.

AFTER 25 YEARS WILL RE-MARRY
TORONTO MAN WHOM SHE DIVORCED

Each is Now About 70 and Former Husband, Grown Wealthy as a Contractor, is Conducting a Chicken Farm as a Hobby.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 2.—Dan Cupid won a battle extending over a quarter of a century when Mrs. Mary MacFarlane of Kansas City, decided to return to her former husband, Robert MacFarlane, from whom she had been estranged since 1898. Twenty-five years ago, the spectre of divorce stalked into a happy little home in Kankakee, Ill. The father of the family, Robert MacFarlane, came first to Detroit and later went to Toronto, pursuing his trade as a contractor. To the mother, Mrs. Mary MacFarlane, fell the task of supporting herself and her family of four children. The boys and girls have long since grown to maturity and have scattered to all parts of the country. Since 1916, Mrs. MacFarlane has earned her own living in Kansas City.

Ever since the little home was broken up 25 years ago, Mrs. MacFarlane has remained true to her first love. While her children were growing to manhood and womanhood, her interest was wrapped up in their joys and hopes. In the last years, her friends say, she has spoken often of her former husband.

Last week Mrs. MacFarlane received a letter from her former husband, who is now in Toronto. He is wealthy now and has retired to a chicken farm which he maintains as a hobby in the suburbs of that city. Apparently, he too, has cherished the memory of the little home in Illinois through the years. He is 70 years old now, and his former wife is 68. He asked her to come back to him and to start life all over again.

Mrs. MacFarlane is going back. Yesterday she received a check to cover her railroad fare from Kansas City to Toronto. He is wealthy now, and she will be remarried at once. After the ceremony, the bride and bridegroom will live in Toronto, where Mr. MacFarlane will build a fine new home as a wedding present to his wife. Mrs. MacFarlane will leave Kansas City for Detroit Monday afternoon.

"GHOST" AT OLD MANSION A THIEF. New York, Aug. 3.—The mystery of the "ghost" at the old Pratt mansion near Milton Lake, Rahway, N. J., was cleared up when Charles S. Thomas, in charge of the abandoned estate, announced a thief had been systematically stripping the property of everything of value.

STOLE MONEY FOR ILL FATHER, WAR HERO JAILED FOR 90 DAYS. New York, Aug. 3.—John J. Geoghan, a veteran of the 2d Division, United States Marine Corps, who received five citations for bravery during the World War, was sent to the city prison for ninety days, after pleading guilty to petty larceny before County Judge McLaughlin in Brooklyn. Geoghan admitted having taken $88.36 from the Brooklyn Edison Company, where he was employed as a clerk. He said he took the money to help his father, who was ill.

FASCISTI ORGANIZE IN ROUMANIA. Bucharest, July 15.—(A. P. by mail).—A Fascist party, after the model of the Italian Fascists, has been organized in Roumania. Its motto is "Justice to the just, death to the evil; Fascismo never forgets."

In its programme the new party declares that Roumania needs first of all, a dictatorship for the restoration of order, security, and honest dealing. It calls also for the expulsion of foreigners, whose presence to the extent of 2,000,000 persons gravely complicates the housing problem.

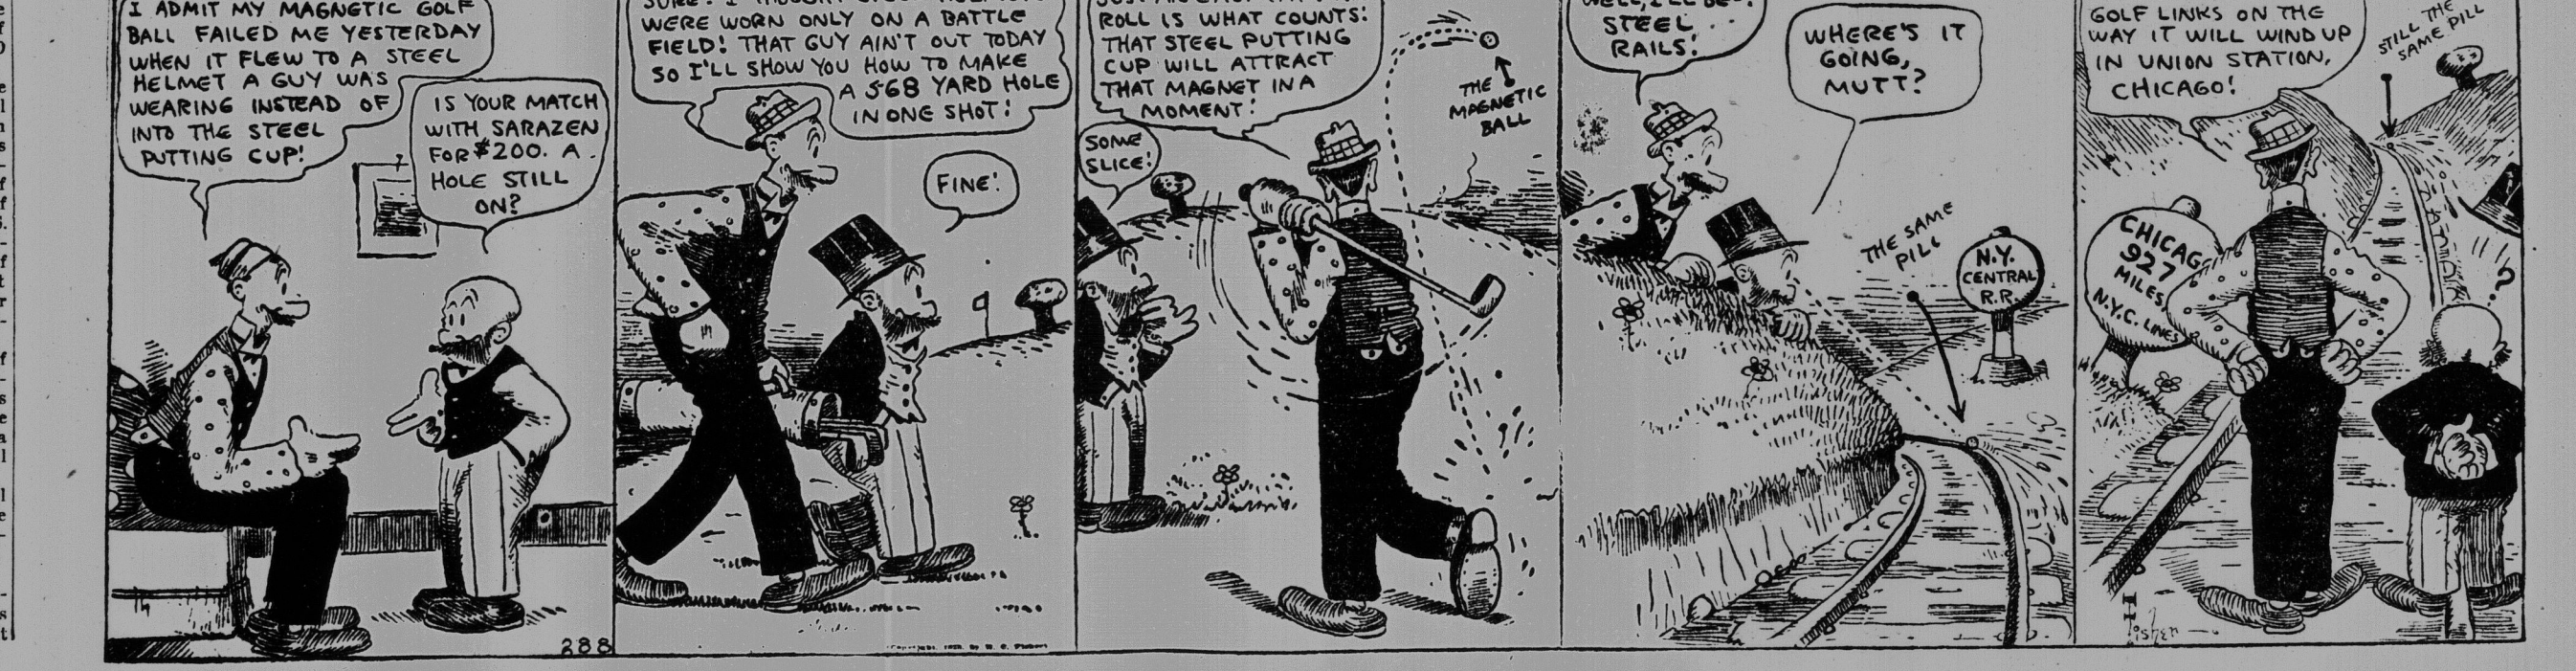

FALLS 45 FEET

This picture of Jolie Richards, 18 months, was taken several hours after he had taken the fall indicated by the dotted line. He leaped against the screen in his home on the Grand Concourse, New York City. It gave way. He splashed to the sidewalk, four floors down, and suffered only a slight concussion.

Nothing better than LUX. The makers of the famous "Kayser" silk stockings endorse LUX. Lux with its instant, rich suds, is ideal for the quick thorough washing silk hosiery requires. The thin, satiny-like flakes, made by our own exclusive process, dissolve completely in an instant, leaving no particle of solid soap to cling to delicate fibres. Read the recommendation of the Kayser Co. Make your stockings last longer by washing them only in Lux. Lux is sold only in sealed packets—dust-proof! LEVER BROTHERS LIMITED Toronto. Falling Mark Draws Refugees to Berlin

Berlin, July 15.—(A. P. by mail.)—Germany is rapidly displacing Switzerland as a centre for all sorts of political agitators and refugees. They are attracted here by the falling mark and the tolerant attitude of the Government. Switzerland rapidly is losing favor with radicals of all sorts. Persians, Turks, Indians, Egyptians, Arabs and Tunisians are so numerous in this city that they have united in the erection of a Mohammedan mosque in one of the best residential sections of west Berlin.

This was all done away with this morning, however, for when about 600 men had gathered in the station, C. P. R. officials announced that a train would leave at 10:15.

Vacation Proof—Never Leave Ticker

Toronto, Aug. 3.—One of the greatest plagues of the dog days is the man whom you simply must see on every important business and who is always away on his holidays.
To offset those who take holidays too seriously and too continuously, there is a type which will not take holidays at all.
His chief habitat is the brokerage office. One of the partners in one of the largest downtown wire houses gave a humorous account of the vacation phobia of some of his clients.
"The real chronic dyed-in-the-wool traders," said he, "are absolutely vacationless. They fear holidays worse than they fear market slumps or market dullness.
"Holidays are market in the calendar in red. Why don't you hang 'em in crepe?" said an old trader to me once. "They're days of death. There ought to be a law against them."
The Ticker Fiend.
"It is really pathetic," the broker went on, "to come into the board room the morning of an American holiday and see these slaves of the ticker sitting in their regular chairs with a look of agony on their faces. The unearthly silence of the room tortures their nerves. When his supply is suddenly cut off, a real ticker fiend is like a dog denied. He goes absolutely to pieces."
"Then they have to take a holiday against their will?"
"Not altogether," replied the man with the New York wire. "They refresh their memories, although there is no need for it, with the highs and lows for the year and dividends of every stock on the list. They read the market letters three or four times. They dive into the tape basket to get the previous close to see that the board marker hasn't made a mistake.
"It is a good thing," he added, "that the American and Canadian holidays seldom coincide. There's some kind of a market in Toronto pretty near every day of the year. So they drift over to the mining exchange or some office where there is a Toronto ticker. It is 2 1/2 per cent, but it buzzes and ticks like the real thing. After all a field drink, Florida water or furniture polish when there's nothing better to be had.
"Fear Doing Nothing.
"What did they do on Christmas and New Years, when no ticker ticked anywhere?"
"I think," said the broker, "they must higher a call boy to drum on the window pane and call out, 'Baldwin three-quarters, or Little Steel a half.'"
There was a buzzing in the glass case here which contained the ticker. It was clearing its throat for its daily innumerable and muffled. The boys were chalking up on the running board. There were already a few chronic cases on the padded chairs.
"The broker lowered his voice. "Rain

Umpire Escorted Off Railway Town Field by Police.
(Special to Times.)
Fredericton, Aug. 2.—By defeating Fredericton twice today the St. Peter's boys maintained their winning streak and have now five victories to their credit in the second series of the Two-I League and no defeats marked against them.
In the afternoon game St. Peter's won ahead by one run in a game which was full of thrills. Fredericton outbatted the visitors, but had some moments of weakness in the field which more than made up for the batting ability. Strecker was touched for eight, while Dan Clancy maintained his reputation of holding the Saints down, but five being made from his delivery. Both pitchers had nervous ninth innings, handing out passes at critical moments and filling the bases. The Saints scored their deciding run when a throw to first base, which would have retired the side, went wide and a man scored from third.
Fredericton was retired in the ninth with the bases full and Johnny Bolster batting. Clancy, who was third, played off and was played on to the baseline. His attempt to score failed. He collided with Dever at the plate and shook the St. Peter's man up considerably.
For six innings there were no errors. The only run was by Benny Smith of Fredericton who by speedy work made three bases out of a long hit to left field. Mulrey drove out long fly and on the sacrifice Smith scored.
St. Peter's tied the score in the seventh and again in the eighth. Fredericton errors added each time.
Fredericton's second run in the seventh was by Clancy, who hit and scored. Price, the St. Peter's first baseman, threw across to hold him at third, but there was no one there to take and throw and Clancy went home.

COMPATRIOT COMING TO MANAGE FIRPO

Buenos Aires, Aug. 2.—Horatio Lavalle, wealthy Argentine sportsman, amateur boxer and member of a prominent family, sailed for New York on the American Legion with the expectation of taking charge of the training of Luis Angel Firpo for his match with Jack Dempsey. Senor Lavalle said he did not go to the United States with the expectation of replacing Jimmy DeForest, who trained Firpo for his bout with Jesse Williams and some of his previous battles, but would aid Firpo in selecting his partners and advise him in business matters.
Senor Lavalle said he wished to make it clear he was not accepting a cent for his services. He said his offer was inspired by patriotism and by his friendship for Firpo, whom he helped to train for his match with Jim Tracy, the Australian, in Buenos Aires last year.

ABOLITION OF DEATH PENALTY BRINGS INCREASE IN CRIME

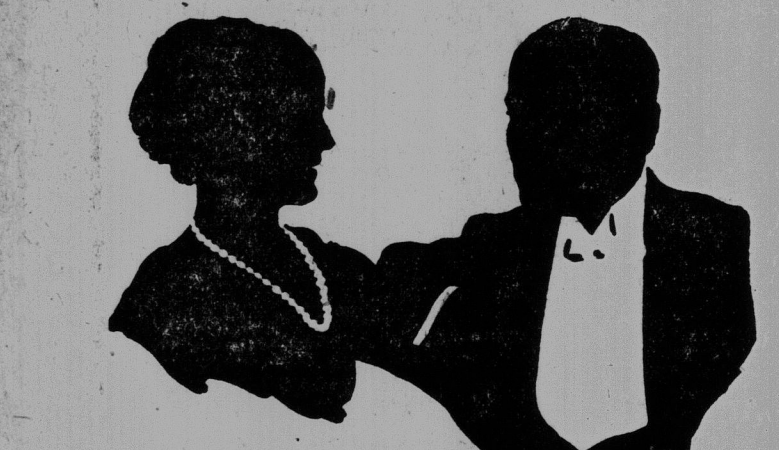

Buenos Aires, July 5.—(A. P. by mail)—Argentina abolished the death penalty from the penal code about a year ago, and since then there has been a noticeable increase in crimes of violence in this city. The question of restoring the death penalty has arisen and a bill to this end has been introduced in Congress.
Large numbers of emigrants from Europe, many of them belonging to the criminal classes, have come to Argentina recently, and the present crime wave is attributable to this undesirable element.

COMPATRIOT COMING TO MANAGE FIRPO
Buenos Aires, Aug. 2.—Horatio Lavalle, wealthy Argentine sportsman, amateur boxer and member of a prominent family, sailed for New York on the American Legion with the expectation of taking charge of the training of Luis Angel Firpo for his match with Jack Dempsey. Senor Lavalle said he did not go to the United States with the expectation of replacing Jimmy DeForest, who trained Firpo for his bout with Jesse Williams and some of his previous battles, but would aid Firpo in selecting his partners and advise him in business matters.
Senor Lavalle said he wished to make it clear he was not accepting a cent for his services. He said his offer was inspired by patriotism and by his friendship for Firpo, whom he helped to train for his match with Jim Tracy, the Australian, in Buenos Aires last year.

Millidgeville Bid For Championships

It was decided at a meeting of the Millidgeville Summer Club last night to apply to the Maritime Provinces Rowing Association for the Maritime Rowing Championships, to be held at Millidgeville on August 28. tracting with a knacker for horseflesh at an exorbitant price. The wing of the chicken came from a precious supply of fowls which Sarah obtained before the siege and was feeding in her dressing room. "I let the German believe," she said, "that all Paris was full of fowls, ducks, geese and other domestic bipeds."

On one occasion, when Sarah was appearing in "Zaire" Perrin, the director, insisted she must play, even though she declared she was not physically fit. Perrin refused to listen to her, and she determined to die on the stage in revenge. The evening was tropical, and Sarah in playing her part sobbed, strove, screamed, let the danger of Orosman actually strike into her breast, and "at the end sank back in what she thought were her expiring throbs."

HAD GOODWILL OF CANADIANS

Meighen Speaks of Death of Harding; Tribute by U. S. Consul.

Hon. Arthur Meighen, leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons at present in the city the guest of Hon. Dr. Murray MacLaren, C. M. G., M. P., when informed of the death of President Harding this morning, expressed his most sincere regret to the late President's household, and his country, in these words: "The sad news of President Harding's death reached me only this morning," said Mr. Meighen, "the President had drawn to himself, by a friendly tone and neighborly spirit pervading his public utterances, the good will of Canadians. His visit to Canada served to strengthen this feeling, and now his sudden death will cause universal sorrow here, and arouse as well, since sympathy for his household, and his country."

U. S. Consulate.
Henry S. Culver, American Consul here, this morning received the following official notification of the death of President Warren G. Harding:

Washington, August 3.
H. S. Culver: Urgent circular. President died very suddenly of cerebral apoplexy at San Francisco at 7:20 p. m. on August 2. Notify agents.

(Signed) HUGHES (Secretary of State). The flag of the American Consulate is flying at half-staff today. Mr. Culver, commenting on the death of the President, said that his passing was the greatest loss to the American people. The President had the confidence of the people. They had appeared to look upon him as a safe man for the position and he had enjoyed their respect and esteem. Of Calvin Coolidge, now President, Mr. Culver said that he considered him equally able as a man as President Harding. He was a strong man and would administer the affairs of state in a wise manner. Mr. Coolidge, by the death of the President assumed office for the remainder of the late term.

American tourists at the city hotel were greatly shocked this morning to read of the death of the President. For the last few days the dispatches were reassuring and news of his death was entirely unexpected.

FERNHILL WORK IS INSPECTED

New Westmorland Road Entrance; Improvements in Cemetery.

The directors of Fernhill held their annual inspection of the grounds yesterday afternoon, and upon having read the report of the committee on the work proceeding very well in spite of the handicap experienced because of the very dry period in June and July, when the new seeding and sodding required special attention and care. A new entrance has been made from the Westmorland Road, a little farther east than the present entrance, and it, with the new avenue, having been laid out, the directors are now endeavoring to get much closer to the interior and doing away with the necessity of turning in the grounds.

The moderately priced lots being developed some distance up Water avenue were also visited and found to be considerably advanced. The land, which was thickly wooded, has been cleared, the stumps removed and some of the lots laid out.

A few additional headstones have been received for the Naval and Military plot from the Imperial War Graves Commission, and these will be placed as soon as possible.

New canvas covers have been purchased for the protection of internments made in wet weather, and these were demonstrated for the directors, as well as those purchased for fire protection and watering of lots in dry periods.

The new section of lots back of the Rest House has been further improved by the opening of Oak avenue between these lots and the wooded section in the rear. They are looking very well, having been tended by the power lawnmower, and a special effort has been made to secure the first lots which were sold without care, under perpetual care.

The superintendent and his staff have worked diligently to complete the work required, and the directors pronounced conditions very satisfactory.

The Knights of Pythias were authorized to hold their annual memorial service in the grounds towards the latter part of August.

JULY ADDED TO FERRY DEFICIT

The July report of the ferry superintendent shows a slight increase in revenue and number of passengers and teams carried, as compared with the same month last year. The unsatisfactory part of the report, from the standpoint of the commissioner, is that it shows an increase of more than $5,000 in the total expenditure to date for this year, caused in a great measure by unforeseen expenditures which had to be made to the Laidlaw to make her seaworthy for the next season.

For July 1922 the amount received from passengers was $1,761.00; this year it was $1,814.43; an increase of $53.43; the number of passengers carried was 1,471 more than July last year. The receipts from teams for July 1922 amounted to $661.30, and this year to $719.30, an increase of $58; 431 teams more than last year crossed in the month of July this year. The total increase in revenue for the month was $78.40. The expenditure for the month was $12,608.92, as compared with $7,822.06 for July 1922. The total expenditure to date for 1923 is $63,927.06 and for the same period of 1922 it was $55,710.23.

DISPUTE OVER UMP'S DECISION

Vets Take Barnstead Judgment Before League Executive.

The matter of the game between Moncton and the G. W. V. A. here on Wednesday night, first reported as a four-all tie and then determined by the umpire, Barnstead, to be a win for the Moncton team, 3 to 2, will probably be brought up before a meeting of the executive of the Two-I League this afternoon. Manager Coughlan, of the Vets, said this morning that his club would stand by the first ruling, making the game a tie and, if there were any dispute, would back this stand by Rule 25, of the official National League baseball rules. Rule 25, is as follows:—

If the umpire calls a game in accordance with Rule 22, section 3, at any time after five innings have been completed, the score shall be that of the last equal innings played, except that if the side scored at bat shall have scored in an unequal number of innings or before the completion of the unfinished inning, at least one run more than the side first at bat, the score of the game shall be the total number of runs each team has made. This rule is accompanied by an editor's note saying that it applies when the team second at bat scores one run more in the unequal innings than the team first at bat. There is some doubt that this rule would apply in the case before the meeting as the Moncton team, second at bat, had not scored one run more than the other team either in the totals or in the unfinished inning. Rule 22, Section 8, authorizes the calling of a game by the umpire on account of darkness, rain, fire, panic and other causes.

Last Night's Trouble.
That he was perfectly satisfied with the decision of Umpire Barnstead to call the game at the end of the eighth inning in Moncton last night was the statement this morning of Manager Thomas Coughlan of the G. W. V. A. team. The action was taken on account of darkness. The decision was very unpopular with the fans and they exhibited their displeasure by rushing onto the field and trying to get at him. He left the field under guard of the police.

Mr. Coughlan said there was no animosity on the part of the players of either team. They were satisfied to have the game called off because of the darkness. This morning the players on both teams met at a dance afterwards and the best of harmony prevailed. There were a few small fights among the spectators on account of darkness, rain, fire, panic and other causes.

Hanner told me to be here 'n' go up to the High School 'n' see that there red ink 'n' the girls that's been trainin' to teach house-keepin' 'n' dressmakin' 'n' 'bat makin', 'n' how to fix up a house fer comfort 'n' see the dressin' 'n' 'bat makin'. It was the same with hats—'n' you wouldn't see no nice hats anywheres. They worked out on the price of things in St. John today—to show what it orto cost a family of four to live for a week. They had plans o' houses 'n' how to furnish the different rooms to make a nice home. I tell you, mister, 'n' they cared what's been done 'n' that there High School for a month. Hanner says if you folks was up to snuff you'd be evenin' classes all winter—'n' they'd be crowded to study all about furnishin' a home, keepin' a budget, 'n' pickin' the right stuff 'n' learnin' how to make suits 'n' hats. She says no young feller orto git married till his gal could show she'd gone through them there classes. 'n' I was a young feller 'n' gonto git married that's what I'd do—By Hen! 'n' if I was a man with a wife 'n' gals that needed such a course I'd make 'em go 'n' git it. It's one o' the things women kin do to help the men that's workin' to keep a home goin'—'n' they all orto do it.
