PEOPLE WILDLY ENTHUSIASTIC OVER PRINCE OF WALES; TREMENDOUS WELCOMING OVATION AS HE ENTERS GATEWAY OF THE DOMINION

Memorable Scene Witnessed At Reed's Point as Royal Guest Sets Foot on Canada's Soil

Welcomed by Representatives of Dominion, Province, City and United States

Guard of Honor Inspection Followed by Pageant of Provinces and Demonstration of Welcome by The Children of The City Schools

A royal welcome was extended to His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales, as he set foot for the first time on Canadian soil. The weather was not auspicious, rain commencing to fall shortly before the prince left his ship, but the adverse conditions in no way affected the warmth of his reception nor lessened the enthusiasm of the greetings extended to the heir to the British throne.

As those at the harbor front heard the bugles sound on the battleship and saw the sailors lining the decks at the atmosphere of expectancy began to grow more tense. Soon his motor craft was seen speeding up the harbor and sharply at eleven o'clock the prince stepped to the landing stage at Reed's Point.

STRIKING APPEARANCE

Although twenty-four years of age, the prince looks rather younger, his appearance being almost boyish and giving little hint of his strenuous experiences at the front during the years of warfare. His slight build and medium height add to the youthfulness of his aspect and this impression is rather strengthened by his manner. Clad in the simple naval uniform of his rank there was no splendor of trappings to distinguish him, but his personality is such as to make him stand out prominently in any gathering.

After the welcoming at the dock, the prince took his seat in a motor car with Lieutenant Governor Pugsley and motored through the gaily decorated and crowded streets to the armory where the formal addresses of welcome were presented to him. Following this was the review of the 26th Battalion and the presentation of colors by His Royal Highness. At one o'clock the prince was entertained by Premier Foster at luncheon in the Union Club. Later in the afternoon he will proceed to Rothesay for the reception tendered by Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Pugsley and at seven o'clock he will return to the city and board his warship for the trip to Halifax.

At eight o'clock this morning crowds began to flock to the south end of the city and secured positions near the wharves and buildings near the wharf where His Royal Highness was to land. In less than an hour all streets leading to the wharf were thronged with people eager to catch the first glimpse of the heir apparent to the British throne.

At 9:45 o'clock Sir Robert Borden, prime minister of Canada, and a host of military and government officials arrived at the landing to be on hand to

LIBERAL PARTY'S GREETINGS ARE WIRE TO PRINCE

Ottawa, Aug. 15.—Hon. W. L. Mackenzie-King, leader of the Liberal party yesterday sent the following telegram to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales on board H. M. S. Dragon at St. John, N. B.:

"On behalf of the Liberal party of Canada, and of its representatives constituting His Majesty's loyal opposition in the federal parliament, we welcome Your Royal Highness to our dominion and express pleasure at the opportunity your visit affords of a nation-wide expression of the ties which unite our king and country."

tor boats of all descriptions hurried up and down the harbor past the royal ship and a great many of the harbor tug-boats were in the stream loaded to capacity with people.

At 10:30 o'clock a launch left the ship and all eyes were turned to it until it was seen bringing a number of British press representatives and photographers who were met at the landing stage by Major John Bassett, formerly of the Montreal Gazette staff and now representing the Canadian Press with the tour.

After another launch brought ashore Lieutenant-Colonel Henderson, secretary to the governor general and Sir Joseph Pope, under secretary of state, sounded on board the man-of-war at five minutes to eleven. Long strings of signal pennants were elevated to the mast heads stretching to bow and stern and the ship's crew took their places at the rail.

Five minutes later the prince stepped down the gangplank into his pinnace and the first gun of the royal salute fired from the vessel boomed out. Proceeded by another launch, the royal pinnace grasped the hand of one of the attending sailors, stepped on to the landing stage. This was the signal for a great burst of cheering from those gathered on the wharf and the royal salute from the guns in Queen Square started.

The Duke of Devonshire, governor general of Canada, stepped forward and as His Royal Highness came up the short flight of stairs leading to the floats, he extended his hand and bade him welcome to Canada. The prince smiled bluishly over his face as he walked up the landing.

The governor general then presented to the prince Lieutenant Governor Pugsley, Premier Sir Robert Borden, Premier Foster, Mayor Hayes, Commissioners Bullock, Jones, Thomson and Fishers, R. G. Chamberlain, in charge of the Dominion police; Brigadier General Macdonnell, O. C. this military district; and Major William Vassie, D. S. O., and Major Alexander McMillan, D. S. O., on General Macdonnell's staff; Governor Milliken of the State of Maine, who is here representing the government of the United States and his staff of three United States officers.

As the prince emerged from the exit of the landing stage the guard of honor, composed of old 26th Battalion men and commanded by Captain Reg. Major, M. C., presented arms, the band played the national anthem and the crowds in Prince William street broke into a volley of cheers. His Royal Highness came to the salute and then advanced and shook hands with Captain Major, at the same time expressing the desire to inspect the guard of honor. This was carried out, the prince inspecting both ranks of the veterans amid an ovation from the assembled multitude.

School Children's Welcome

He then advanced to the raised platform in front of the stand in which were gathered the school children and on a signal from D. B. Arnold, one of the young ladies, cheered heartily. With the accompaniment of the Great War Veterans' Band, the children sang "God Bless the Prince of Wales," "The Maple Leaf Forever," and "My Own Canadian Home." Their thousand young voices rang out clearly and sweetly and the children was an assurance that he was pleased with their greeting. While the last song was being sung a group of young ladies, dressed in white, with wreaths of maple leaves around their foreheads and carrying shields bearing the arms of the various provinces, appeared through an opening in the stand and advanced and made a courtesy to the prince. As each young lady reached the edge of the platform and bowed, the prince saluted. Those taking part in the a very difficult procedure. The cars passed through densely packed throngs along Prince William street amid a continued ovation, up King street, along Charlotte street, south side of King square, where he was greeted by the children from the orphanages of the city. The Inverclyde City Cornet Band played three selections while the cars were passing this point. Leaving the square the party proceeded by Sydney street, Mecklenburg street and Carmarthen street to the armory. The formation of the procession of cars in the entourage was as follows:

On his arrival at the armory the prince was greeted with prolonged cheers as he made his way along the carpeted path to the raised platform from which he responded to the addresses of the premier and the mayor. He made a very pleasing impression in his reply, both of which he read with distinct articulation, his accent sounding pleasing to the ears of the hundreds eagerly receiving his every word. At the close of his address he was cheered and cheered again, and in answer to a voice from the crowd, three hearty cheers were given for King George. When the ceremony of the presentation of addresses was finished his honor the lieutenant-governor officially called for three cheers for the prince, which were given with much vigor. His Royal Highness acknowledged the greeting with a salute.

Great crowds thronged the balcony and in the spaces roped off from the platform, while on the latter, beside the lieutenant-governor, the premier, mayor and commissioners, and attaches of the prince, were included Lieut.-Col. Frank Black, Justice McKeown, His Lordship Bishop Richardson, H. C. Groat, Dr. A. F. Emery, His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc, Lieut.-Col. E. T. Sturdee, D. G. Lingley, J. B. M. Baxter, Dr. J. C. etc. etc. May it please Your Royal Highness: On behalf of the citizens of St. John, it is with great pleasure we take advantage of this opportunity of extending to you a hearty welcome to the City of the Loyalists.

The great war which has but recently so happily terminated has occupied our attention in a very full measure and we in common with all other portions of the British Empire, rejoice in the success of our arms.

The war burden has been shared throughout the empire and all have been glad to make their contribution. Canadian men and many have laid down their lives in order that the principles of justice and fair play might be perpetuated.

We congratulate you on the part you have taken personally in the war. Our soldiers have appreciated the friendly manner in which you have met them from time to time and have come home with increased devotion to the royal family and to the British form of government.

We trust that you may enjoy your our loyalty and good will. As a result of this visit your future will be followed with greater interest and through you we now take the opportunity of again renewing our sincere professions of loyalty and devotion to His Majesty and beg that you will be graciously pleased to convey to his expression of our feelings.

We have the honor to be, Sir, Your Royal Highness' most obedient servants. ROBERT T. HAYES, Mayor. HERBERT E. WADSWORTH, Common Clerk.

The Prince's Reply

Reply to the address from the city of St. John, New Brunswick. Mr. Mayor—I thank you and all your fellow citizens for your kindly words of welcome, which have touched me very much.

The city of St. John was founded by men whose loyalty to the British throne and whose empire rose triumphant from a terrible ordeal, and I know that the spirit of your founders is still strong in you today. It is a special privilege to me that the first Canadian city which I am privileged to see should be this "city of the Loyalists," and I desire to greet it through you as warmly as you have greeted me.

You have referred most kindly to the modest part which I was able to play in the great war from which the empire has just emerged. It was my privilege to serve with many of your fellow citizens on the western front, and through all that period I valued deeply the opportunity afforded me of forming a real and close acquaintance with my Canadian brother officers and men. I share your pride in their achievements, and I mourn with you the heavy losses which Canadian homes have incurred.

I thank you also for the warm expression of your loyalty to my father, the king, which I will not fail to convey to him on my return. In his name I am happy to wish New Brunswick and prosperity to the city of St. John.

Joy Day for Soldiers An Immense Success

Plans Carried to Completion Smoothly and Effectively

ROWING REVIVAL A BIG SUCCESS

Commercial Travelers Gave Visiting Soldiers a Great Time Last Evening—Fireworks on the Barrack Green

"Joy Day" will long be remembered as one of the most successful celebrations ever held in St. John. If people did not take full measure of pleasure from yesterday's programme it was not through any fault of the bill of fare provided. Even the weather man was with the celebrants, for the greater part of the day and even though he had to exert a little unkindly influence last evening it was not sufficient to interfere with the fireworks, band concerts, or entertainment by the travelers. Everywhere the soldiers felt the sincerity of the welcome tendered them, and those from outside the city were perfectly at ease and made to feel by all that they were appreciated for themselves and for what they had done "over there."

The regatta in the afternoon on Courtney Bay, referred to in another column, attracted great numbers of people. The playing of the bands was enjoyed at the races. The ball games took their quota of pleasure-seekers, the theatres drew Lilies Bloom which was a particularly excellent selection, as was also another selection delivered later in the evening. When a Maid Comes Knocking at Your Heart, from "Fire Fly." The quartette was composed of Mrs. LeLacheur, Miss Louise Anderson, A. C. Smith and Thomas Guy. Miss Anderson was also heard in Tosti's Good Bye and a soprano solo, rendered by Mrs. Kathleen Furlong-Schmidt was one of the favorites of the evening. Mrs. Schmidt was accompanied by Mrs. Marie-Furlong Coleman with violin obligato by Miss Helen Furlong. A male quartette, consisting of C. A. Munro, W. S. Charlton, Thomas Guy and J. Stout rendered several excellent selections during the entertainment.

Artists from the Opera House also presented some well chosen numbers which took well with the audience and motion pictures also proved a feature in the entertainment. During the later stages of the big show, the Imperial Theatre orchestra joined the festivities and played up to their usual standard, which is saying sufficient for them. The pictures were under the direction of H. G. March. Steve Matthews gave two monologues of the variety which always entertain and Mr. Matthews was in good form.

ADJUDGED MOST ORIGINAL FLOAT

The Sons of England float as it started off in yesterday's parade after winning first prize. The float represents "John Bull and His Cubs" and is preceded by five outriders, all returned men and representing Allies of Great Britain.

huge crowds while 4,500 people visited the Veterans' Fair in St. Andrew's rink during the afternoon and evening.

Little difficulty was experienced in looking after the visiting soldiers in the city yesterday. It is estimated that not more than 2,000 were in town from these side points and a great many of these were entertained by friends and relatives. Trouble in looking after the out of town civilians has been encountered and the hospitality committee has made arrangements that accommodation can be provided for any of these visitors by application at the Imperial Theatre, Red Triangle Club, Y. M. C. I. or Y. M. C. A. The provision made for 2,500 men at the armory it is thought will be more than sufficient for all the soldiers who come in today.

The ex-soldiers received excellent meals at the lunch stations of the committee, located at Trinity church, G. W. V. A. rooms, Y. M. C. A., Women's Institute, St. David's schoolroom, the Hazen avenue synagogue and at Centenary church. At the Y. M. C. A., Red Triangle, about 1,000 meals were served. In the K. of C. Hall an efficient committee served a great many men. Rest rooms were in operation at King Square, German street, Baptist Institute, Salvation Army barracks and Trinity school room. The baths at the Y. M. C. I. were much patronized.

The Commercial Travelers' Association lived up to reputation last night and gave the returned soldiers one of the brightest and most joyous evenings which they have ever had. The motto on the outside of the printed programme—"It's always good weather when good fellows get together"—worked admirably in spite of the fact that rain was falling outside, it was particularly good weather inside the mess hut at the armory where the knights of the grip were holding forth with the assistance of their friends in honor of the men who have come back to us.

Stanley E. Eskin, made an efficient chairman and in his opening of the programme expressed regret that His Honor, Lieutenant-Governor Pugsley was unable to be present to address the soldiers and their friends. H. W. Cole, who had in his care the arrangement of the programme is deserving of agricultural hall in all parts of the city yesterday. The part taken by the many bands in making the day so unprecedented a success was by no means a small one. The visiting bands and those that have been so well organized in the city itself rendered most excellent programmes and attracted very large crowds. No less than ten bands in all did their share in setting the time and tune for the general jollification and enjoyment; the Moncton Citizens' band, the Fredericton G. W.

V. A. band and those of the St. John G. W. V. A., the 115th Battalion, St. Mary's Church band, the Temple of Honor, the City Cornet, the Juvenile City Cornet, the Dominion Pic and Drum band and the Scotch Pipes band. In the morning parade the bands contributed in a marked degree to its impressiveness but that strenuous effort did not by any means end their day's work. While the aquatic sports were in progress the bands along the water front kept the crowds delighted with the fine selections of their programmes.

St. Mary's Church band was stationed near the starting point for the races on the railway track at the foot of Union street; the 115th Battalion band took its place at the stand for the invited guests on the Terrace and the Temple of Honor band had a large audience clustered round it where it had taken up its stand between Broad and Britain streets. Again in the evening there was an abundant supply of sweet music for all to hear. The Moncton Citizens' band was on the Barrack Square from 7:30 until 9 o'clock when the City Cornet band took over and carried on the good work until the last of the fireworks had blazed itself into nothingness. The bandstand in King Square was not deserted while the Barrack Square was having such a good time. The band of St. Mary's Church provided an exceptionally good programme and the Square was thronged with an appreciative audience. The entertainment given by the commercial travellers in the mess room of the Armories was enlivened by the services of the Junior City Cornet band that is making quite a reputation for itself.

COMMITTEES REPORT ON BRITISH CELLULOSE CO. AND THE GOVERNMENT

London, Aug. 15.—(Canadian Associated Press Cable)—The report into the British Cellulose Company and its relations with various government departments was issued last night by the committee of enquiry appointed by A. Bonar Law.

The committee find that "we have been unable to discover any evidence that capitalization was used to procure undue influence for this company or that the company enjoyed any undue influence thereby."

The aircraft department is also expressly mentioned and acquitted of having shown any undue favoritism to the company.

Criticism is directed by the committee to the fact that the company's shares were issued at six pence and later were quoted at 114 sterling. In other respects the report concludes, "we think that less than justice has been done to the company."

The principal Canadians interested in the company were Colonel Grant Morden, General Sir Sam Hughes, F. W. Ashe, London manager of the Union

Trades and Labor Council float, which won fifth prize as one of most spectacular. Immediately following are members of the Trades and Labor Council. To the left is the N. B. Telephone Company float, which with pretty "hello" girls on board and an actual switch-board in operation was greatly admired.

Bank of Canada and the name of Colonel Bryan, formerly Canadian assistant Red Cross commissioner is also introduced through his connection with the Prudential Trust.

Montana and Northern Idaho forest fire damage is estimated at $750,000. Cost of fighting fires was $185,000.

INVITATION HERE FOR PRINCE FROM GOVERNOR OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

While the festivities were going on inside the mess hut, an excellent display of fireworks was being carried out on the exhibition grounds. Although rain was falling during the greater part of the display, there was a large crowd present and piece after piece was greeted with applause, which was increased in volume by the blowing of horns on the many motor cars gathered around the exhibition enclosures. This feature of the day's programme was under the direction of A. O. Skinner. The display opened with a huge "Welcome" set-piece, its changing colors making a very pretty effect. Other set pieces included a beautifully tinted maple leaf, set in a large star; a Maltese cross and a large portrait of a Canadian soldier in which the minutest details including the Canadian badge were cleverly worked out. Various colored fire-pots were burned at different parts of the grounds and the programme closed with a "good night" set-piece. Between the set-pieces rockets of different varieties were sent up from a point near the agricultural hall.

The large grand stand was filled to its capacity and there were thousands about the grounds. All during the display band selections were rendered from the grand stand. It was a fitting finale of a great day and St. John sleeps to wake again to a still greater day.

Music Plays Large Part
There was music and plenty of it and most excellent music at that to be heard in all parts of the city yesterday. The part taken by the many bands in making the day so unprecedented a success was by no means a small one. The visiting bands and those that have been so well organized in the city itself rendered most excellent programmes and attracted very large crowds. No less than ten bands in all did their share in setting the time and tune for the general jollification and enjoyment; the Moncton Citizens' band, the Fredericton G. W.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

It Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Prevents Food Fermentation, Sour, Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion.

Doubtless, if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried pepper, bismuth, soda charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble—in some cases do not even give relief. But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little magnesia—not the ordinary carbonate, citrate, oxide or mill but the pure bisulphated magnesia which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powdered or tablet form. Take a teaspoonful of the powder after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in your stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat.

You will find that, provided you take a little bisulphated magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow. Moreover the continued use of the bisulphated magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.

Weary and Worn—Languid and Listless—Depressed and Despondent

COME, spruce up! What you need is a tonic—something that will bring back the glorious feeling of robust health and buoyant spirits and put the roses again in your cheeks. It is Wincarnis you need.

Your system is like a plant drooping for want of water. And just as water revives a drooping plant, so Wincarnis gives new life and vitality to run down constitutions.

Wincarnis is more than a tonic—it is a restorative—blood-builder—and a nerve-food all in one. The ingredients that compose Wincarnis are those of which our bodies are composed. They are food and nourishment which blood and nerves crave.

FRECKLE-FACE COULD HARDLY GET HIS BREATH

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Easily.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable concern that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling. Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength Othine as this strength is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

FORD GETS SIX CENTS DAMAGES

Mount Clemens, Mich., Aug. 15.—The jury in the Henry Ford Chicago Tribune million dollar libel suit last night found in favor of Mr. Ford, giving a verdict of six cents against the defendants. Ory Mullett, foreman of the jury, said that they took "nine ballots that I can remember." The first one, according to Leonard Messel, another juror, stood 2 to 4 in favor of awarding Mr. Ford some damages.

"Does the award of six cents about express the feelings of the jury as to the case?" a reporter asked Mr. Mullett. "It just about does. That expresses our judgment."

It was on June 23, 1916, after Mexican bandits had raided Columbus, N. M., and military preparedness was the issue, not only because of the Mexican menace but because of the configuration in Europe, that the Chicago Tribune printed its famous editorial headed "Ford is an Anarchist."

Editorial writers of the Tribune testified that they had followed Mr. Ford's pacifist propaganda, but had not recognized it as a real danger to the country until a news item was received from Detroit that Mr. Ford was trying to discourage the recruiting of the guard which had been ordered to the Rio Grande. The item, authenticity of which was denied by Ford witnesses, stated that the Ford company would not pay the salaries of employees who went to the border to hold their places for them or care for their dependents.

It was then that the editorial was written. It called Mr. Ford an "ignominious idealist" and remarked that his views on disarmament might be different if his factories were on the Rio Grande instead of the peaceful western border. Counsel for the manufacturer at first filed suit in the federal court at Chicago, but later withdrew it and instituted proceedings in the state court at Detroit. Here the Tribune applied for a change of venue and Judge James G. Tucker of the circuit court of Macomb county at Mt. Clemens, Mich., was asked to hear the case. Selection of a jury began on May 12. It consisted of eleven farmers and one roadbuilder.

A feature of the case was the production of the defendant's editorial.

HALIFAX MAN HAD SUFFERED FIVE YEARS FROM NERVOUSNESS AND STOMACH TROUBLE—HE PRAISES TANLAC.

"Nothing helped me until I got Tanlac and that's saying a good deal, for I have just tried everything during the past five years in my efforts to find relief," said Warren F. Smith, a well-known lumber man living at 164 Argyle street, Halifax, recently.

"For fully five years," he continued, "I have suffered constantly from nervousness and stomach trouble. My appetite went back on me entirely and what little light food I did manage to force down caused indigestion. If I ventured to eat anything the least bit heavy or rich it would almost lay me out. I would hardly get through eating until my stomach would get as sour as vinegar. I would blot all up with gas until I could scarcely get my breath and the worst kind of pain in my left side and around my heart. There was a heavy feeling, like lead, in the pit of my stomach and I would often turn so sick that I could not retain anything. I would eat or drink. In fact, my stomach was sour and upset all the time. I was badly constipated and so nervous and miserable that I could never get a good night's sleep. I would get up every morning with a mean, nagging headache, and had fallen off fifteen pounds, or more, in weight. I was in no condition to work and just barely able to put in a few days during a month."

"Finally I went to the hospital for treatment, but came out suffering just the same, and have tried all kinds of medicines in the hope of getting something that would help me, but nothing did me one bit of good. Just about six weeks ago I made up my mind to try Tanlac, as so many were telling about the good it had done them, and before I had finished my first bottle I was feeling altogether different. I have taken four bottles now and my appetite is just great. I can eat just anything and enjoy it now and my stomach never gives me any more trouble because my food seems to digest fine and agree with me perfectly. My nerves have gotten about normal already and I have also been relieved of constipation. I can sleep all night long now and get up in the mornings feeling rested and good. Tanlac has certainly proved its value in my case. I would advise anyone who has any cause for taking medicine to try it."

Tanlac is sold in St. John by Ross Drug Company and F. W. Munro, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—(Advt.)

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy which nearly always accompany excessive thinness should soon disappear, dull eyes ought to brighten, and pale cheeks bloom with the bloom of perfect health. Miss Georgina Hamilton, who was once thin and frail, reporting her own experience, writes: "Bitro-phosphate has brought about a magic transformation with me. I gained 15 pounds and never before felt so well."

CAUTION:—Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its tendency to increase weight, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

WELCOME!

There are some events which are the master of even bad weather, and this morning's is conspicuously one of them.

The ships of the Royal Navy, in peace as in war, keep trust punctually, and so it was this morning when His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales came to Canada and stepped ashore just as his Royal Grandfather did almost sixty years ago.

St. John witnessed today the beginning of a tour that will be even more memorable than that historic one made by Edward the Seventh when he was Prince, for His Royal Highness has all the qualities which made his grandfather a gracious and a powerful sovereign and the mighty events of the last few years give the stage a grander and more dramatic setting.

The great war, in which His Royal Highness played so worthy a part, was a crowning event in the history of the British family, and today Prince and people share, as they rest after the conflict, a new sense of unity, of vision, of power, of responsibility; and deep down in the hearts of both, born of stern events and of tests that strike deep, there is a new and a thrilling conviction concerning the great part which the Empire is destined—aye and fitted—to play in working out the world's destiny.

The welcome that began auspiciously this morning is deep-toned and creditable alike to the royal visitor, who is not a guest merely, but at home among his own, and to the people who cry in pride and thankfulness:

"God bless the Prince of Wales!" Men who have seen the British flag in time of danger, and have thought about it, or who have seen it on some warship in a foreign clime in a day when the mutterings of war were heard, or who have marked it borne at the head of some shattered regiment coming out of battle, who feel deeply its meaning, cannot but feel a tightness in the throat as they greet today the future Sovereign of the Empire and ponder upon his fair fortune and that of the race of which he is so worthy to be the Standard-Bearer in peace, if God grant it, or in war if unhappily that may come again.

RICHES AND DEATH. A famous utterance of Andrew Carnegie had to do with what he called the disgrace of dying rich. This appeared in an article in the North American Review in 1898, in which he wrote: "The day is not far distant when the man who dies leaving behind him millions of available wealth, which were free for him to administer during life, will pass away unwept, unhonored, and unsung, no matter to what use he leaves the dress which he cannot take with him. Of such as these the public verdict will be, 'The man who dies thus rich dies disgraced.'"

lowed his riches to accumulate he would have been the possessor of well up to a billion dollars, but he gave lavishly and still his fortune at death is estimated at well up to $50,000,000. Speaking of his benefactions the New York Times says: "His memory will live not so much by reason of the amount of his fortune as because of the incalculable good he did with it."

All wealth, no matter by whom possessed, is but a trust committed to the care of the one to whose credit it stands in banks, in the safety deposit box, in real estate or whatever form of value it assumes. It is something that cannot be taken when the journey into the great beyond is begun but it is something for which an accounting must be given in the hereafter, a record of what use was made of worldly riches entrusted during the days of stewardship. If men of large means allowed themselves to realize this there would be more to follow the steel-master's plan of doing good with their riches while they may.

That St. John likes boat-racing was never doubted by those who remember "the good old days." That their estimate was correct was shown by the throngs lining the shores of Courtenay Bay for yesterday's regatta. But one thing marred the event—the thoughtlessness of some motor boat people who shot their craft across the course and others who were in the way of the scullers. That St. John has sturdy oarsmen is again proved and hearty congratulations are due J. Fred Belyea and his aides in bringing them to the front. Let's have more races.

It is a coincidence that today should be selected for the presentation of colors to the 26th Battalion, in as much as one of the engagements which will be inscribed among its several battle honors has its anniversary on this date. It is two years ago today since the Canadians vent over at Hill 70 and captured it after severe fighting from the Germans, though many lives were lost in the fray. The 26th are well entitled to having this engagement included in their battle honors—they were first wave troops on that day.

Visitors to the city were very hearty in congratulations to St. John on the success of Soldiers' Joy Day. And all the good things said were well deserved. Those in charge of the morning parade and those taking part certainly did their several parts well. There probably never before was a procession here in which so many floats so clever in design and rich in execution were seen.

REDS ADMIT DEFEAT. London, Aug. 14—Bolshevik forces along the south coast of the Gulf of Finland in the neighborhood of Narva have suffered a reverse in fighting against Estonian and anti-Bolshevik troops, according to a Bolshevik wireless message received here, which admits that the Soviet army in that region has been driven back to the Luga river.

BELGIANS AND DUTCH FIRM IN POSITIONS TAKEN

Matter of the River Scheldt and the Cession of Territory, However, May be Compromised

Paris, Aug. 15.—(By the A. P.)—The Belgian delegates finished the presentation of their case before the commission which is considering Belgium's demands for a revision of the treaty of 1839. The Dutch representatives are to be heard on the subject. In the meantime the commission will take a recess. Although nothing has transpired thus far concerning possible concessions by either Belgium or Holland, it can be said on good authority that the Belgians still are firm in their demands for a new regime for the Scheldt River and are likely to remain intransigent on that point, even if later they may be disposed to modify their territorial demands.

STOWAWAY BRIDE

ARRIVES IN BOSTON

Mate Married French Girl on the High Seas—Captain Tied the Knot—Young Woman is Pretty and Rich

(Boston Globe.)

The four-masted Boston schooner Horatio G. Foss, which arrived yesterday afternoon, had on board Mrs. Marie Alfreda Pauline Dheilly Burnett, a pretty French woman, who, although the bride of Theodore Burnett, the first mate of the vessel, was classed as a stow-away in the papers of the schooner. Marie was busy helping about the cabin when the schooner made fast. Her husband told the story of their meeting and subsequent marriage, one of the strangest romances ever chronicled.

The woman was in the employ of the police in the city of Cete, France. Her work was to gain the confidence of Danish, Norwegian and Spanish sailors and keep the authorities informed of any activity on the part of the Bolsheviks. Fell in Love at a Dance.

Burnett met the woman at a dance in Cete and fell in love with her. Although she could speak only a few words of English and Burnett knew practically nothing of the French language, they managed to make themselves understood.

They danced together, had refreshments and when they parted that night it was agreed that they would meet the day following.

Moonlight walks on the outskirts of the city followed and they were much in each other's company while the vessel remained at Cete. Burnett learned that Marie was the daughter of a wealthy banker and was rich in her own right.

She had volunteered during the war for service in the intelligence department of the French government, and after the armistice she devoted herself to helping stamp out Bolshevism.

When the Horatio G. Foss was ordered to Torrevieja, Spain, to take on cargo for Boston, Marie implored Burnett to take her with him. This, of course, was out of the question, but the mate promised to return for her after he had prepared a home in this country in which to install her.

So they said goodbye and the sturdy vessel sailed to Spain. Burnett, who had a photograph of the girl in his cabin. This and some trinkets were highly prized by the mate.

The schooner was several days taking on cargo, and then preparations were made to sail for Boston. The Foss cast off from her berth on June 10, and the second day out the captain and mate were astounded when they saw, emerging from a small apartment at the bow, the trim figure of Marie.

She threw her arms about the mate and he returned her affection. They were both surprised to find that they had prepared a home in this country in which to install her.

New Clean Preserving Kettles

Go Far in Retaining the Natural Flavors of Fruits

The kettle has much more to do with success in preserving than you, perhaps, imagine; if the inner lining is worn, or is otherwise imperfect, you are more than likely to lose much of the delicious natural flavor of the fruits. It will more than repay you, therefore, to have a new, perfect kettle, which goes so far in the making of good preserves.

We offer you Blue Enamel—Grey Enamel and "Wear-Ever" Aluminum Ware. STOP ALL WORK AT LIVERPOOL FOR THREE DAYS

London, Aug. 15.—The demand made by locomotive engineers and firemen upon Sir Auckland Geddes, British minister of reconstruction, that their wages dispute be settled at once, is the result of a long standing disagreement, and threatens unless a settlement is reached, to disorganize the railway system of the whole country. After conferences with the board of trade yesterday, Sir Auckland discussed the matter with the cabinet. At a meeting of the labor leaders of all the port trade unions at Liverpool last night it was unanimously decided there should be a general stoppage of all work for three days, commencing on next Wednesday, to secure the reinstatement of policemen who were dismissed prior to and during the recent policemen's strike in that city.

ROUMANIAN NOTE TO ALLIES

Paris, Aug. 15.—(Havas Agency)—The supreme council yesterday considered the answer of Roumania to the recent note of the peace conference concerning the occupation of Budapest by the Roumanians. The reply, which was couched in altogether conciliatory terms, created a favorable impression. The note said the Roumanian command and the Roumanian high commission at Budapest have received instructions to act in conformity with the suggestions of the Entente. It declared that the armistice concluded with Hungary was of a date prior to the communication of the Entente and that the Roumanian government believed in good faith that Hungary's attack on the Roumanians rendered the armistice void. The council has decided to send to Roumania a note requesting in terms not less conciliatory that the Roumanian government listen to the views set forth by the inter-Allied commission of generals which had been sent to Budapest.

Budapest via Vienna, Aug. 13.—(By the Associated Press)—As a result of the first day's conference between the inter-Allied commission, Constantine Diamandi and General Marghazon, commander of the Roumanian troops here, a promise was made by the Roumanians that they would cease requisitioning food in Budapest and certain other commodities. What guarantees were given for the carrying out of this promise is not known at present nor is it clear when the Roumanians will leave the city.

CLEMENCEAU RESTING IN HIS NATIVE TOWN. Paris, Aug. 15.—Premier Clemenceau left this morning for Mouiller-En-Parade, Vendee, his birth place, where he will rest for a few days.

As Hiram Sees It

The Settlement, Aug. 15. "You orto been in St. John today," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam last night. "It was great. Nopthin' like it sence the Jubilee. I thought the old town was dead—the way things was going. I seen along—but it ain't—no, sir, I haint seen as happy a crowd for thirty year. They wanted me to go in the procession, but I said I'd cheer. Say—what's the matter with folks nowadays? We kin make more noise at a shivaree here in the settlement than all the cheerin' I heard of alongside o' me started to holler—an'then all at once he shet up an' looked around as if he was afraid somebody was p'intin' a gun at him. Maybe he thought if he opened his mouth good an' wide the Lord 'ud forgit him an' leave him that way. But say—Mister—there aint nothin' wrong with Courtney Bay. It's the greatest place for boat racin' I ever seen. I never seen so many people at one time as I seen along the shore an' on the hills an' in boats there yistaday. I'll bet they never knowed what they hed in Courtney Bay sence they seen it yistaday. An' I'll bet that aint the last boat race they'll hev there—but they need a few torpedoes to fire at them motor boats that gits in the way. They're poopy, an' as bad as them ottomobeels; that tries to run over you on the street. I guess the soldiers hed a good day. It was with travelin' two hundred miles to see Bob Wilkins an' Bob Armstrong an' Keith Barbour in that parade. Them Polymorphians can't be beat. I hope they'll keep goin' an' remember when Haymarket square was an old wood yard. They made it a park. If they fine up now with the East End Improvement League, an' work in with the South End Improvement League, you'll see things don't at both ends of Courtney Bay that'll shake up the town. An' the West End fellers wont be takin' no back seat, nuther. I tell you the old town hes woke up, yes, sir. It's found out it's alive. I done me good to see the fellers from Halifax, an' Yarmouth, an' Fredericton, an' Moncton, an' Maine. Do you know what St. John orto do? She orto send some o' her boys wherever there's anything goin' in the provinces or along the border—jut to show good feelin' an' let St. John on the map. You kin work that League o' Nations idea right down to a bunch o' towns an' villages. I felt so good yistaday that I believe I'd a shake hands with Sile Jones if I hed him—an' me an' him hed three law suits in four years—yes, sir."
