OPENING OF NEW SCHOOL HOUSE

Hartland is to be Congratulated on its Fine New Building

Yesterday was a day to be remembered in the history of Hartland. It not only marked the re-opening of the schools, but it marked the "Opening of the New School House."

It certainly was with feelings of pride and pleasure that the pupils and a good many parents and the staff of teachers, numbering seven, with the trustees and officers of the school board gathered in the fine assembly hall for a formal opening before the different classes went to their own rooms. Short talks to the pupils were given by the trustees and R. B. Hagerman telling them that this fine new building was built for them and that they must take pride in keeping it in good condition and not to heedlessly mar it in any way.

The same staff of teachers with the exception of one are re-engaged—Kilburn K. Smith filling the vacancy caused by Miss M. Palmer's resignation. They are as follows: Grade I, Mrs. E. W. Laskey; Grade II, Mrs. W. B. Nixon; Grade III and part of IV, Miss Annie Kingston; Part of Grade IV and Grade V, Mrs. Edna Mills; Grade VI and part of Grade VII, Kilburn K. Smith; Part of VII and Grade VIII, Miss Mary Pringle; Grades IX, X and XI are in charge of Principal Harris Chapman.

The town is to be congratulated on again having this fine staff of teachers in the school and in having them for citizens during the school term. While Miss Palmer's absence is to be regretted there is no doubt but what her place will be ably filled by Mr. Smith.

The new building is built of brick and has two storeys beside a large basement. It contains a fine large assembly room with a spacious platform, and eight class rooms, two office rooms, beside cloak rooms, on the two main floors. In the basement there are two rooms finished which can be used as class rooms should occasion demand, which now can be used for recreation purposes. Two large rooms in the basement are used for lavatory and toilet rooms and are fitted up in the most sanitary modern style.

The furnace room is complete with its system of heating apparatus and there are sufficient fuel rooms fitted with fireproof doors. The whole building is fireproof and is fitted with an allotment of hose and fire extinguishers. There is a complete electric bell system, which can be operated from the principal's room as well as from each individual room. The building is wired for electric lights of course, but as yet the fixtures are not installed. Most of the cloak rooms have open metal partitions which make the corridors seem more spacious and are more airy. The newest style of drinking fountains are on both floors. The windows have transoms over them which will make winter ventilation perfect without there being drafts. The windows are also fitted with blinds. The building stands on a large lot of ground giving spacious playground room and is situated on what is known as Burr's flat and on the corner enclosed by Hillcrest avenue and Rockland road.

The plans were furnished by McPherson & Green of Hartland and Woodstock and these young men are to be congratulated on being able to furnish plans for such a fine building. Henry Post and H. H. Smalley were the contractors for the erection of the building. Frank Seeley had charge of the electric wiring. J. W. Montgomery had the plumbing and heating contract. Guy McGhiey had the contract for the painting and varnishing. Wm. McPherson was the inspector of the work.

OLD NEIGHBORS BACK

Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Barter of Fredericton arrived in Hartland on Monday and are staying at the home of his brother, Percy Barter. Mrs. Barter's health is in poor condition and they came here to consult physicians in regard to undergoing a surgical operation. Mr. Barter and family went to Federicton from their home in Avondale about a year ago to remain while their son Charlie attended Normal School and while their daughter, Miss Tressa, attended business college. Both these young people passed their examinations successfully and Charlie is teaching the school at Keswick while Miss Tressa is ready for a position at her chosen work. Mr. Barter says that it is altogether likely that they will be moving back soon to their home at Avondale.

Baseball, as usual, is booming with the local team still carrying off their share of the laurels. On Monday, Aug. 18, when the Perth team came down, the local boys tapped the old pill often and hard enough for 14 runs. The visitors were forced to content themselves with 2. Batteries: Bath, Shaw p. Estabrooks, c.; Perth—P. Lewis p. A. Lewis, c.

An attempt at a return game was played at Perth last Wednesday, but was called off in the third inning on account of darkness, the score standing then 4-3 in favor of Perth.

On Thursday, August 21, another contest was staged on the local diamond, between the Bath and Centreville boys. The batteries for Bath, were: Estabrooks, p. Shaw, c. while the Centreville aggregation had Hare for a catcher and White, who was later relieved by Brown for pitchers. Bath also won this game, score 6-3.

The Johnville Picnic held at Johnville Tuesday, Aug. 19, was a remarkable success in every way. The day was fine, and the various games and amusements were unusually well patronized. TERRIBLE MOTOR ACCIDENT AT PEEL

Auto Goes Over Bank at Peel and Results in Sudden Death of Woodstock Young Woman

The very worst automobile accident that has ever occurred in this vicinity was that which took place on Friday night. The scene of the accident was at the first railway crossing this side of Peel station, four miles above Hartland, and resulted in the death of Mrs. Olga Hayden Watson, a Woodstock lady, 29 years of age.

In the afternoon in company with Mrs. Aubrey S. Hood she left town for an auto drive going north on the western side of the river and crossed the bridge at Hartland, their destination, it is understood, being Perth. The accident occurred on their return trip at about 8:30 p.m.

It is said that as they approached this particular crossing (which is, by the way, a very dangerous one) Mrs. Watson remarked to her companion to keep a look out for cars. She went over the crossing and that is the last thing Mrs. Hood can remember. In making the turn evidently the rear of the car swung over the deep bank in that neighborhood and overturned. Mrs. Hood was thrown further down the bank than was the deceased, but managed to reach the top. Word was got to Hartland of the accident and promptly sent to Woodstock. Rankin went from there and reached the spot, 15 miles away, in 22 minutes.

Dr. McIntosh, of Hartland was already there. Dr. Rankin placed the injured woman in his car, but she died as the car reached Upper Woodstock. There was a bad cut over her left ear, the skull was fractured, her ribs were broken and there was a deep cut in her side. Mrs. Hood was unconscious for a time, but, although badly shaken up, she is not seriously injured.

In making the trip to Hartland Dr. Rankin was accompanied in his own car by Fred Moore, who drove it, and Ira McAttee. The car struck a deer, just below Hartland, and they stopped to remove it from the road, thinking it was dead, but it jumped up and started away on three legs. If this deer had been a cow, doubtless the doctor and his companions would have been killed owing to the speed the car was travelling.

The car which the deceased was driving was a new McLaughlin roadster owned by Ira McAttee. It was badly damaged. The wind shield, the steering rods, the top, the lights and one wheel will have to be replaced.

The deceased is survived by one daughter, Mary, aged eight years, her mother, Mrs. J. A. Hayden, two sisters, Mrs. A. D. Nicholson and Miss Gertrude Hayden and the following brothers: Halley, Ralph, Willard, Clarence, Douglas, Walter, Charles and Kenneth Hayden.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. T. Cavers, with burial in the Methodist cemetery.

MRS. MARY LONG

The sad death of Mrs. Mary Long occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Lane, Bloomfield, N. B., Aug. 18, after a lingering illness of four months. The funeral was held at Tracey Mills Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. H. R. Bell. Six boxes to mourn two sons and two daughters and a large circle of relatives and friends, showing the sympathy of the many friends. Family, shower bouquet; Mr. and Mrs. Anson Margison, wreath; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Long, flat bouquet; Mr. and Mrs. George Long, flat bouquet; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Purpee, wreath; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Estey, flat bouquet; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Carvell, flat bouquet; Mr. and Mrs. D. Lane, flat bouquet; Mr. and Mrs. Willie Lane, flat bouquet; Mrs. Alice Jewett, bouquet; Mrs. Alex Strong, bouquet.

There is only one way to kill all the Flies

This is it—Darken the room as much as possible, close the windows, raise one of the blinds where the sun shines in, about eight inches, place as many Wilson's Fly Pads as possible on plates (properly wetted with water but not flooded) on the window ledge where the light is strong, leave the room closed for two or three hours, then sweep up the flies and burn them. THE VILLAGE BLACKSMITH

(1924 Model)
Under an ad for gasoline
The village smithy stands;
He's agent for the Jinx machine
And several other brands.
He hasn't shod a horse for years
For fear he'd soil his hands.

He wears a gold watch on his wrist.
A pearl pin in his tie,
His links are made of amethyst,
The finest he could buy.
There's not a thing that smithy wears
That doesn't please the eye.

Week in, week out, from morn till night,
He sees the autos come
With brakes that are not working right,
And axles on the bum.
With gas, repairs, and grease and oil,
He makes a tidy sum.

He has a staff of skilful men
That number twenty-four,
Who toil from six a.m. till ten
And sometimes even more.
The smithy never does a stroke,
He thinks that work's a bore.

The children coming home from school
Look in at the open door,
And long to see some city feet
Set up an awful roar.
When called to say some wheezing bill
That smelt has soaked him for.

He goes on Sunday to the kirk,
His mind quite free from cares,
Because his men are hard at work
With punctures and repairs.
And if the weather's kind and warm,
The smith says grateful prayers.

Oiling—reolling—repairing,
Onward through life he goes
And never once despairing
So long as his income grows.
Each night the thought of some one done.

Augments his sweet repose.

CANADA AT WEMBLEY

Splendid Review by C. O. Avard—Part Taken by Maritimes in Empire Exposition

The following article by Mr. C. C. Avard, Editor and Publisher of the Sackville Tribune will be of interest to our readers particularly from the graphic manner in which it deals with the part taken by the Maritime Provinces in the big British Empire Exposition at Wembley, England. Mr. Avard is a member of the C. W. N. A. and made one of the party of these newspaper people who have just recently returned from their most memorable trip to the British Isles, France and Belgium.

"Canada leads the procession at Wembley." This is admitted by the hundreds of thousands of visitors to the British Empire Exhibition. On Canadian can visit Canada's Classic Building and the truly wonderful exhibit at Wembley without being deeply impressed with the magnificent showing which his country has made at the great exhibition and he comes away feeling prouder than ever of the land of the Maple Leaf. In magnificence of structure, in tone, in atmosphere, in utility and apt, the Canadian Pavilion at once presents the Dominion as a living entity of industrial activity and as an inexhaustible field of vast potentialities and untouched reserves. The glory of work is veiled in the glamour of romance. Proudly and distinctively Canadian, the Dominion exhibit breathes the spirit of Empire, told in moving panorama of her marvellous resources, in the rich display of all her gifts of nature, of fruit and food, of gold and silver, of iron, copper and timber, and in the telling exposition of her industrial energy and manufactures.

The Canadian Pavilion is an imposing and distinctive building of classic architecture. Flanked on the west by the Canadian National Railways and on the east by the Canadian Pacific Railway, at once commands attention, covering nearly six acres. At the opening of the exhibition, Canada was the only country ready and waiting, a fact that redounds to the credit of Mr. A. W. Tolinie, the Canadian Exhibit Commissioner and Mr. J. O. Tarcotte, Canada's designer. In fact the warmest thanks of Canadians are due Mr. Tolinie, through whose wise and untiring effort the success of Canada at Wembley is largely due.

When you speak of Canada at

ASTHMA NEVER CAME BACK

Since Taking The Fruit Treatment in "Fruit-a-lives"

Read this letter from Mrs. J. M. Pennington of New Rockland, P. Q. "In 1919, I was taken with Bronchial Asthma and no one knows what I suffered during the winter. I began having choking spells and would just gasp for breath and could not speak. The doctor said he could do nothing for me.

In the spring of 1920, I started taking "Fruit-a-lives" and soon the choking spells became easier and I have not had one since May 7th, 1920. It is such a relief to be able to go to bed and have no thought of having to get up in the night for an hour or more as I did all that winter, but never have to now, all because I take a "Fruit-a-lives" tablet every night. 25c and 50c a box—at all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

Wembley, I at once think of the dairy exhibit and of the huge glass case, sixty feet long, in which the Prince of Wales, with his favorite charger, has been modelled in Canadian butter, with the buildings of his ranch in the background. Two and a half tons of Canadian butter were used in this work and no feature of the exhibit attracts greater attention. The Prince has visited the exhibit and at the Dominion Day Dinner, where the members of the Canadian Press Party were privileged to attend and listen to the speeches, signified his intention of paying another visit. "I am certainly going there again," he said, "if only to see how I am faring in the hot spell. I want to see if my hat has acquired a dangerous angle or whether myself or my horse is going at the knees." "There is no better way of recalling happy days in Canada and learning a great deal that is new at the same time, than by visiting the Canadian Pavilion at Wembley."

Among the outstanding features of Canada's exhibit are the following—A train with shining headlights disappears through the tunnels of the Rockies; a waterfall, with real water splashes over colored rocks into a mountain stream; tiny steamers sail up and down the water model of Vancouver Harbor as it will be 1930; a wonderful fresco, running round the top of the stands, represent every phase of Canadian life, orchards, prairies, wheat lands and timber forests; a lighted model of Niagara Falls; working models of gold and nickel plants; peach and apple orchards, mineral and fishery sections. Altogether the showing is thoroughly complete, representative and worthy of the best Canadian traditions.

To the man from the Maritime Provinces, Canada's exhibit has much to interest and instruct. In the mineral section, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick show up exceptionally well. Samples of quartz, rich in yellow gold, came from Nova Scotia. One specimen showing free gold, is valued at $1000. Perfect specimens of salt and potash salt from Malagash, Nova Scotia; antimony and manganese from New Brunswick and Nova Scotia; coal—a wonderful exhibit—from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick; crude petroleum and shale oil, bituminous shales and Albertite from New Brunswick; gray and red granite and sandstones from New Brunswick and Nova Scotia; grindstones from Nova Scotia, all help to impress the visitor with the mineral riches and vast natural resources of the Atlantic Provinces. Notable too is the showing of gypsum by the Albert Manufacturing Co., of Hillsboro, New Brunswick, as well as gypsum from Nova Scotia.

The Woods of Eastern Canada are shown both in their manufactured and unmanufactured state. Among the woods exhibited are red, black and white spruce, pine, fir, hemlock, tamarack, birch, beech and maple. New Brunswick supplied three large rolls of news print, while pulp wood in various stages of manufacture add interest from an industrial standpoint.

The panorama showing a typical experimental farm, which might well be that near Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, whose grains form an exhibit that gladdens the heart of every native of "The Island O'er." The silver fox pelts, on view at the Canadian Pavilion are fine specimens from the Island Province, where the great fur farming industry is proving so very successful. The panorama of a Canadian orchard, with a particular section of the Dominion, might easily depict a typical fruit farm in the far famed Annapolis Valley. All kinds of Canadian apples are everywhere, in baskets and clusters, while peaches and other fruits are shown in glass jars.

The fish exhibit is a most creditable one, specimens of fish caught in the east as well as in other parts of Canada prove of unusual interest.

From an industrial standpoint the Maritimes are not as strong as one might wish. Aside from the Bathurst Company Limited, which manufactured New Brunswick's share of the news print exhibit, only three Maritime firms are represented, viz.: The British Empire Steel Corporation, The Simms Brush Co., and Moirs Limited. The Besco exhibit though small, is comprehensive. There are samples of rails, railway fittings, rolled sections, wire rails, wire products, steel billets, fire bricks and by-product of the coke oven. There is a model of the S. S. Dagbald, 12,150 tons, one of the fleet of ore carriers, owned by company.

The Simms Brush Co., of St. John, New Brunswick, have a fine display of brushes, with approximate signs showing that the firm has been manufacturing quality for fifty years. It is noteworthy that Simms brushes can be purchased both in England and Scotland, where an eager demand is developing.

Moirs Chocolates, in attractive boxes, occupy a booth, which is serving to add to the popularity of the justly famous products. Mr. J. Edgar Belton, a native of the Annapolis Valley, is in charge of the Moir exhibit. It is gratifying to note that Moir's goods have been on sale in the British Isle for ten years and with ever increasing success.

It is to be regretted that the Maritimes are not better represented industrially. Possibly in view of the tremendous success of the great exhibition and of the statement of the Prince of Wales that Wembley is likely to be continued next year, it might be wise for some of our Maritime manufacturers to arrange for an exhibit, even at this late date. Certainly those who for one reason or another have failed to take advantage of Wembley, have passed up a golden opportunity, which may not come again.

C. C. AVARD.

SEWING CIRCLE GOSSIP

There was some discussion at the Sewing Circle this week about the delights of camping out. The wife of the new Bank Manager, who had just returned from a week in the wild woods, said that the most enjoyable thing about it was the cup of LUXOR COFFEE which her husband made for her every morning at 7 o'clock. "I thought that LUXOR COFFEE tasted pretty good at home," said she, "but it was even better at that early hour in the woods."

Your correspondent begs to acknowledge past negligence, and hopes to do better in the future.

Just now blueberry parties are the order of the day. Henry Perley accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Good of Goods Corner and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Gardiner of Bridgewater, were among the number who went today.

It was with a deep sense of a great loss that the late Hon. F. B. Carvell's friends in Connell learned of his very sudden death. Our heartfelt sympathy is extended to Mrs. Carvell in her sore bereavement.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Shaw of Middle Simonds, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Miller, and Mrs. Ada F. Perry were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. Fred Turner of Juniper, and Claude Fitzgerald of Glassville, were also guests of Mr. and Mrs. Turner.

Guy Holmes who has been quite ill with the summer flu is recovering.

Miles R. Birmingham, who went on the Harvesters' Excursion to the West will visit his son Coy, who is settled in Saskatchewan, and whom he has not seen since he came home eight years ago and took back as his bride, Miss Lizzie Lee of Beaufort.

Mr. Birmingham's friends wish him a pleasant trip, and a delightful visit in his son's home.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Perley were, Mrs. Perley's mother, Mrs. Geo. Flanagan of Dover Hill, and her aunt and cousins, Mrs. James Jarvis and daughters, Alicia and Beatrice, of Bangor, Me. They came by auto and after a pleasant visit of nearly two weeks, left on Thursday enroute for Presque Isle and Caribou, where they will visit other relatives.

Mrs. Wm. Smith who is spending the summer at the home of Mrs. A. Smith, returned last week from Howland, Me., where she had been visiting her husband, who is foreman in one department of the pulp mills. She was accompanied home by Mr. Smith, who visited his mother and brother over the week-end, returning on Monday.

Mrs. Lyn Stickney, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Fisher Memorial Hospital two weeks ago, has returned home. Her condition is much improved and her many friends hope for a complete recovery.

"The Knockout," an English production was shown to the patrons of the theatre on Wednesday evening. All the scenes were laid in dear old barmy London Town and made a radical change from the studio and out door shots at New York and Hollywood.

A good smattering of clever boxing and ring fighting was interspersed throughout the picture, with our hero always in the ascendant and served to make the play full of pep. On Saturday "Three Wise Fools" was a radical departure from the ordinary run of scenarios and the good work of Claude Gillingwater and his pair of elderly conferees, who emulated the heroic temperament of Achilles, Paris and Ganis in "The Three Musketeers," was most laudable. As a supplement a Hal Roach comedy "Our Nell" was shown, the characters being all taken by Apes. The training they manifested was a revelation. Read page 7 for this week's program.

matter of regret, but Connell friends and children were invited to join in the picnic which they did, and a very enjoyable afternoon was spent. Brown Six-Row Potato Sprayer

BROWN POTATO SPRAYERS have for several years been the favorite with the potato growers on the St. John river for the reason that the clog proof nozzle makes it possible for the operator to spray for hours without stopping to clean the nozzles.

THE DOUBLE CYLINDER DISPLACEMENT PUMP takes its power from wheels by a convenient chain drive direct from axles thus doing away with side motion and drive chain trouble. The pump has brass plunger 2 1/8 inch in diameter, packed with graphite composition, from the outside thus assuring a high pressure at the nozzles. All check valves in pump are brass fitted to brass seats and can be easily ground or replaced. Large air chamber tested under higher pressure that assures a steady pressure at the nozzles.

REVOLVING TWIN PADDLES in tank to assure Bordeaux mixture being well mixed when in operation.

The HUNDRED GALLON TANK is square and of exprus wood, with the top removable in case of any trouble in the tank, whereas with the barrel tank sprayer it is impossible to do this.

THE WHEELS ARE GENUINE SARVIAN WHEELS, 4 feet in diameter, with 3 inch tire, all of good material that will stand for years which is very necessary in a sprayer that is to carry 100 gallons.

THE AXLE is cold roll steel 1 3/4 inch in diameter and we have never yet known one to break.

Hundreds of these sprayers are now in use and have given perfect satisfaction. We have a limited number for the season of 1924 and would advise anyone in need of a sprayer to place his order with us or with our agent nearest to him. The price is $200 on reasonable terms.

The crop outlook in this particular section of the country is excellent. Potatoes and grain are for the most part still green and growing. All that is now needed to complete the picture is the promise of good prices, and a ready market for these products.

SEVERAL places in the province will be holding exhibitions during the next few weeks. Naturally everyone would like to be a good sport and patronize the whole round of them. The great majority of people however have not the time to do this, and must content themselves with visiting only one, or two at the most. Those who are so circumstanced are strongly advised to reserve themselves for thing of its kind held in any part of Eastern Canada. Everything about it is up-to-date, and if there is anything in the Exhibition line lacking there, well—it can't be got, that's all.

As an Agricultural Show, it is always complete in every detail. Live Stock, poultry, dairy produce, grain, fruit, and every other kind of farm produce. In addition there are farm implements, automobiles and heaps of other things.

In the Domestic Department, in charge of the Women's Institute, there is always to be found one of the finest displays of plain and fancy work to be seen in any show in Canada. The Children's section is one of the leading features of this Department.

In the way of Amusements, some of the best specialties on the market have been engaged. Full particulars of these will appear in later advertisements. Watch for them.

GRAND PYROTECHNIC DISPLAY IN THE EVENINGS.

There will be three days' racing (Sept. 16, 17 and 18) on the fastest half-mile track in Eastern Canada (2047 ft.), in which all the leading horses in the circuit, and some "scorchers" from across the line will be contesting.

Tourists coming by car will find every convenience awaiting them in the free camping ground provided by the City which adjoins the Exhibition premises, and for which there is no charge.

FIFTY YEARS OF CHAUTAUQUA

One of the most characteristically American of our American institutions is celebrating this summer its semi-centennial. It was in 1874 that Dr. John H. Vincent, later a bishop of the Methodist church, and Mr. Lewis Miller joined in establishing a summer institute to give Sunday-school teachers a better training. They decided to make it an outdoor school, so that their subjects might enjoy the natural charm of the woods and the breathing air while they were studying their minds with learning. For the school their experiment they chose Lake Chautauqua, one of the most beautiful spots in western New York. The Assembly, as they named it, succeeded from the first. It grew in a dozen directions. To the original center in Bible study and pedagogical method were soon added courses in philosophy, history, science and literature, of music and art in travel and in social problems. A Home Reading Circle directed the efforts of thousands, and at last of millions, toward personal culture. Dr. Harper, who was afterward president of Chicago University, organized at Chautauqua a remarkable system of summer schools and another system of teaching by correspondence. The idea spread across the country like a prairie fire. Smaller assemblies modelled on the parent institution on Lake Chautauqua were established and began to give the dwellers on the farms and in the smaller towns opportunities for intellectual and aesthetic cultivation that were new to them. Some of the greatest leaders in letters, statesmanship and religion have been proud to appear on the Chautauqua platform. No other institution of our time has so continually and so successfully ministered to that thirst for a broader and deeper knowledge of the best in the mental, artistic and spiritual life of the world which is characteristic of a pioneer nation at length blessed with the leisure that its earlier responsibilities denied it.

The original Chautauqua is now an imposing institution with a score of permanent buildings, the centre of a summer colony of at least fifty thousand persons, and has a carefully arranged system of summer schools, lecture courses, concerts and home readings that offers to every one who asks the essentials of a liberal education.

Some independent assemblies in other parts of the country perform a similar if somewhat narrower service. The work in the smaller towns and in the countryside is carried on by Chautauqua circuits, which have no organic connection with the original institution, but which under the management of professional providers of entertainment move from town to town, meet under canvas and offer programs that are almost always creditable and often much more than that.

Chautauqua is no longer, as it was at first, a form of religious education, but the spirit of sincere, undogmatic religion and of continual aspiration to a higher life still dominates it. In the last fifty years it has done much to broaden and deepen and give color to our national life; and now at the end of a half century it seems to be endowed with undiminished vitality. We may expect its next fifty years of service to be no less distinguished than the last.—Youth's Companion

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Conducted by the Canadian Forestry Association)

Question: How many forest fires break out in Canada in an average year?

Answer: About 6,000—and 5,400 are set by human recklessness. This year was much more favorable and the forest rangers are led to hope that public patriotism is at last getting a foothold in the forest.

Q: Why is it that with our elaborate fire prevention services, we don't put forest conflagrations out of business?

A: Because the public menace is desperately hard to catch up with. The first business of a fire ranger is not to watch the forest, but to watch the people. More people are entering the woods than ever before. This is partly a result of convenient roads and a multiplicity of automobiles. The Forest Services are doing splendid work and discover and extinguish thousands of fires that are heard of by the general public.

Q: I have heard it said that Sweden makes every lumberman plant as many trees as he cuts?

A: The idea is right, but the details are misleading. Sweden makes it obligatory to have every square mile reproduce as good a forest as was cut down by the loggers. But this is not usually done by planting. Cutting is so conducted that an area is re-seeded by nature. This is something supplemented by artificial planting.

Q: Should not our Governments stop the cutting of little spruce and balsam trees for Christmas decorations?

A: It all depends on where the trees come from. If they are from a farmer's pasture field, the business is quite legitimate. If the cutting ruins a landscape or clears off a watershed it is to be condemned. Please remember that a single forest fire can sweep away more Christmas trees than would decorate a hundred thousand homes.

Q: We Canadians have an impression that Japan is a deforested country. I think this is mistaken.

A: Very much mistaken. Japan has not the magnificent big timbers of British Columbia or the Pacific Northwestern States, but she owns 90 million acres of good forest, a larger area of forest than exists in B. C. Japan is now keenly interested in forest conservation and has staffs of trained foresters.

Launder dainty things twice as often, this way

It's not necessary to keep your prettiest things folded and laid away. Wear them—often. Launder them just as often as necessary. But do it this way:

Use Palmolive PRINCESS SOAP FLAKES—and see fragile crepes, silks, laces, come from laundering absolutely unharmed. Colors brightened and freshened, if anything.

The great foam of suds contains nothing to hurt the daintiest fabric, the most delicate coloring. It dissolves the dirt, however, most thoroughly—and washes it away.

These snowy, crinkly flakes contain nothing but pure soap. So they go farther, cleanse more efficiently. That makes it economical to use them in the washing machine, for all laundering, and for every general household purpose.

If only to try, get some today of your dealer. He has them—in handy one-pound packages.

Miss Winifred Ernest, Box 46, Blockhouse, N. S., writes:

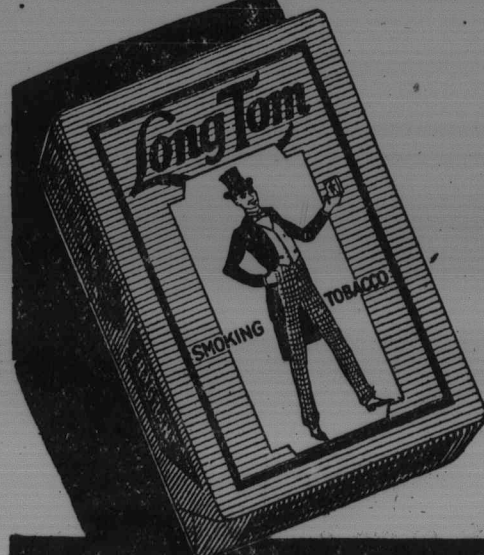

"Ever since I was a little child, I suffered with eczema on my face. At times my face was completely covered with large sores, and I tried nearly every kind of medicine that I heard of with no results. This lasted for over twenty years, until one day I asked the advice of my druggist, who bade me give Dr. Chase's Ointment a trial. After using the Ointment for a few days, the sores began to heal, and soon I was completely relieved of the disease."

JAMES CHRISTIAN

On Sunday morning the death occurred of James Christian at the age of 82 years, a highly respected and life-long resident of Simonds. He had been in ill health for about two years suffering a general break down and through an injury to a foot was also suffering from gangrene. His wife predeceased him quite a number of years ago. He leaves three sons: Guy living at the home, John of Hartland and William of Chicago; two daughters are left: Mrs. B. Briggs of San Francisco, who has been at the home all summer caring for her father, and Mrs. Kenneth Dunscomb of Boston, who had been home about two weeks.

A Mrs. Shaw, an aged lady of Simonds, is a sister. The funeral was held Monday afternoon the services being in charge of Rev. J. A. Woodworth. Among relatives attending the funeral were Orin B. Davis of Grand Falls, Sherman Crouse of Crouseville, Me., and Richard Davis of Boston.

Magistrate (to witness): "You say you saw defendant stand at the street corner?"

Witness: "Yes, your worship. And while I stood there watching he put his fingers to his mouth and whistled."

Magistrate: "And what followed?"

Witness: "His dog, your worship."

A bank manager who always wore his hat in the office (as they do in the films) asked his negro attendant why he did not invest his savings with the concern, as the white members of the staff did.

"Not dis, chile, bass," said the attendant. "Yu allus look as if yu were just agwine to beat it."
