How the Cabinet Changes Are Viewed in England.

Mr. Abbott Has Missed a Great Chance and Made a Bad Mistake—The Section B. Scandal.

PRESTON VS. HAGGART.

Mr. Preston met Hon. John Haggart at Kingston Wednesday evening at the last public meeting in connection with the bye-election in that city. He repeated the charges preferred in the House of Commons against Hon. Mr. Haggart, that he had a beneficiary interest in section B of the C. P. R., and said that an inquiry was moved for in the House of Commons on a resolution proposed by Mr. J. F. Lister, and that the resolution was voted down. All the fraudulent transactions that have ever been discovered in connection with the Government fade into insignificance in the face of the stealing in connection with section B. Hundreds of thousands of dollars were paid to corrupt the electors in 1883 and in 1887. Forty thousand dollars were subscribed for the purpose of defeating the Mowat Government, and brought into Toronto by one Stimson.

Mr. Haggart made a general denial of the charges and said he would sue the paper for libel that would formulate and publish the charges against him. He declared that he was an innocent man.

ENGLISH VIEW OF THE CABINET CHANGES.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The Ministerial changes have fallen far short of the hopes cherished in Canadian circles here. All who had expected Mr. Abbott to act boldly and infuse fresh blood into the Cabinet are much disappointed to find Mr. Chapleau, Mr. Haggart and Mr. Carling still retained. Opinion is virtually unanimous that Mr. Abbott missed a great chance and committed a grave error. It is very significant that the Canadian Gazette, which usually seizes any good pretext of approving of the Ministry's decisions, contents itself with merely recording the changes, expressing the hope that Mr. Patterson will prove a strength to the Cabinet.

SOULANGE.

Dr. J. O. Mousseau received the nomination of the Soulanges Liberals on Wednesday. The Conservatives nominated J. W. Bain.

NOTES.

At Hull, on Wednesday, Mr. N. Tetreau, advocate, was chosen Conservative candidate for Ottawa county in the Provincial election.

The Conservatives of Ionck have nominated Arthur Boyle, ex-M.P., of Dunville, as their candidate in the bye-election.

Sir Richard Cartwright is reported to have recovered his health.

At a public meeting in Kingston last night addresses were delivered by Messrs. Haggart, Curran, Bowell and W. T. R. Preston.

THE BRITISH PARLIAMENT.

Gathering of the Members Delayed by Illness—Gladstone's Summons.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The Conservative and Liberal whips find that on account of the prevalence of influenza it will be some weeks before the full number of members of the House of Commons will assemble.

Mr. Gladstone, in his summons to his followers to be present at the reopening of Parliament, says he does then to learn the intentions of the Government in regard to local government for Ireland.

MILITARY MURDER.

A Russian Officer Shots Two Men Who Failed to Salute Him.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 28.—Much excitement has been caused in Russian military circles by the conduct of an officer of an artillery regiment stationed at Vilna. The men of one of the regiments of that place had lately displayed a mutinous spirit, and to-day they refused to salute the artillery officer. The latter was highly indignant at the lack of respect shown him, and drawing his revolver he deliberately shot two of the non-commissioned officers of the insubordinate regiment. He was about to fire at a third when the men complied with regulation and saluted.

Smallpox Spreading in New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Smallpox continues to spread here. Several new cases were discovered in the Italian district yesterday.

The Work of Nationalist Reunion.

DUBLIN, Jan. 28.—The Freeman's Journal says that despite denials made by Parnellites negotiations for a rapprochement between the rival sections of the Irish Parliamentary party have taken place.

Identified by His Six Wives.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Jan. 28.—Charles A. Barnes, who is under examination by the grand jury upon the charges of bigamy, burglary and the abduction of a child from Pound Lakes last summer, was identified to-day by a half dozen women, each claiming him as a husband.

No one need fear cholera or any summer complaint if they have a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial ready for use. It corrects all looseness of the bowels promptly and causes a healthy and natural action. This is a medicine adapted for the young and old, rich and poor, and is rapidly becoming the most popular medicine for cholera, dysentery, etc., in the market.

Missionaries Massacred!

Sanguinary Scenes on the Congo River.

Five Missionaries and Seven Converts Meet a Terrible Fate.

All the Mission Buildings, Schools and Granaries Burned.

PAUL LONADO, Africa, Dec. 15.—Advices from Boma, in the Congo Free State, bring news that the American mission, established on the Congo River in the neighborhood of the Pallaballa Station, has been made the scene of a terrible tragedy, in which five American missionaries, three men and two women, and seven native converts and servants lost their lives at the hands of murderers.

All of the buildings, schools, residences and granaries were burned and the cultivated fields laid waste.

No evidence has been discovered which would conclusively show who the perpetrators were, but suspicion points to a number of half-civilized Portuguese natives.

IT WAS HILL'S BODY.

No Dummy in the Coffin at the Defaulter's Funeral.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—The story to the effect that T. Wilton Hill, the defaulting cashier of the bank at Jamesburg, N. J., was not dead, and that a dummy had been placed in the coffin which was supposed to contain Hill's body is denied. Mr. Hill's death occurred more than a month ago, and was followed by the discovery of a defalcation on his part, amounting as is now known, to more than $54,000. This sum was the entire capital of the bank. Just previous to his death he had been insured for $20,000, and the insurance companies became suspicious as to his sudden demise. The story of the dummy in the coffin is discredited by the testimony of several prominent residents of Jamesburg. Mr. J. C. Magee, a director of the broken bank, Mr. F. H. Pownall and Mr. C. E. Westervelt are ready to swear that they saw Mr. Hill's dead body in the coffin and followed it to the grave. The body will probably not be exhumed.

The opinion prevails in Jamesburg that suicide is a very probable explanation of the cashier's sudden death. It was announced as a case of "grip," but there are suspicious circumstances connected with it, which have resulted in very general talk of suicide.

The local lodges of the Royal Arcanum will contest the payment of death benefit on this ground.

THE CHILIAN SITUATION.

Peaceful Solution of the Whole Trouble Positively Assured.

VALPARAISO, Jan. 27.—Everything in Chili remains quiet, so far.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The first cable message received by the President from Minister Egan was not in all respects satisfactory, as it was lacking in fullness, and there were many things in it requiring additional elucidation. Another and later dispatch leaves nothing for Congress to do with regard to the President's message. It not only confirms what has been said in the press dispatches, but is couched in the most friendly terms. The dispatch goes on to say that in order to show the friendly feeling entertained by the Chilians for the United States, and as an evidence of their desire to do all that is possible, they are willing to leave the affair to the United States Supreme Court.

For the Baltimore affair the most sincere regret is expressed, and the offer to refer it to the Supreme Court is said to be more than a proposition for a settlement. The whole tone of the document is apparently so sincere, friendly and manly, and leaves the matter in such shape that it is hardly possible to fail to bring the two countries closer together and result in an amicable adjustment of the whole difficulty.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Special cablegrams from Santiago says: "Intense anxiety is felt in this city as to the reply of the United States to the note sent by the Minister of Foreign Affairs Pereira, relative to the ultimatum. For the last 24 hours nothing else has been discussed.

A special cablegram from Columbia says the feeling there is favorable to Chili in the controversy between that country and the United States. The isthmian survivors of the Preston rebellion advocate the co-operation of all South America Republics in Chili's defense in case of hostilities. Many Columbians of all classes are anxious to leave immediately as volunteers to Chilian service.

The Spanish press believe that Uncle Sam's present move is a death blow to Mr. Blaine's deal of Pan-American Union. In official circles the feeling is that Columbia in isthmian transit holds the key to the situation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Though the dogs of war have been called off there is nothing at the Navy Department to indicate the fact. The vessels are still taking their supplies that were laid down for them, and none of the recent orders for work and war material in connection with naval matters has been revoked. It is probable that within a few days if the pacific condition of affairs should show signs of permanent continuance some of the special expenses incurred for warlike preparation may be discontinued. The expense up to date is about $3,000,000.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 28.—In his message transmitting the additional correspondence on the Chilian affair to Congress to-day, the President says: "I am of the opinion that there is a good prospect that the differences growing out of that serious affair can now be adjusted upon terms satisfactory to this Government by the usual methods and without special powers." This turn in affairs is very gratifying.

Do You Know This Person Who Writes to Lumsden & Wilson, Seaforth?

If my testimony will help to sell your medicine I will give it with pleasure, as I believe if people knew what it would do there would be very little cough medicine sold but it. My cough was so very bad that I could not lie down in bed, but had to sit up and cough almost constantly, and what a relief it was to me I can scarcely say, but before I had used half a bottle of your Balsam of Fir, I was completely cured and have not been troubled since.

Lewis A. Kimberley, One of the Nine Rear Admirals of the American Navy.

The death of Admiral Porter left the rank of admiral in the United States navy vacant, and there are now nine rear admirals in command of the several squadrons and assigned to various parts of duty. Admiral Kimberley, whose portrait is given above, is regarded as one of the ablest officers in the navy, and one whose services will be of the highest value in the event of war with our refractory South American neighbor.

According to a Washington dispatch Whitelaw Reid has handed in his resignation as Minister to France and will return shortly. This, it is understood, is because Mr. Reid wishes to retire from active service under the Government in order to re-enter the field of journalism.

The suit for $50,000 damages brought by Mr. Bruns, of Moorehead, Minn., against Hon. R. A. Davis, of Chicago, ex-Premier of Manitoba, for defamation of character of the former's wife, has been settled. Healing Waters!

Some one has said that Paine's Celery Compound "is a running stream that hath much variety of great value." It has most undoubtedly proved its powers over disease sufficiently to convince the most skeptical.

"The proof of the pudding is in the eating." K. D. C. has been tried and tested, and has proved itself to be the king of medicines, the greatest cure of the age, and the only perfect dyspepsia remedy on the market.

M. Patenotre, the New French Minister at Washington.

The French Government has selected M. Patenotre as its diplomatic representative at Washington. The Paris Republique Illustree, speaking of the promotion of M. Patenotre as Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the United States, says he is one of the most prominent and best-known diplomatists of the French foreign service. As Minister Plenipotentiary, he signed the Tonkin treaty of Hue in 1884, and the treaty of Tien-Tsin in 1885, which put an end to the hostilities between France and China. He has served in succession as secretary or as Minister to Greece, Persia, Argentine Republic, Sweden and Morocco. From 1888 up to the date of his transfer to Washington he occupied the legation of Tangiers, which has a very great importance for France on account of the proximity of Algeria. M. Patenotre is about 45 years of age, a bachelor, and a gentleman of distinguished and commanding appearance.

OVER FIVE HUNDRED DEATHS

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The number of deaths attributed to influenza in London during the past week is 506. The general mortality shows a further increase.

IN LABOR'S FIELD.

Printers Locked Out at Memphis—The Trouble in Madrid.

The Memphis Morning Commercial locked out its union printers Tuesday morning, their places being filled by sixteen non-union men imported from St. Louis. They met with a hot reception. The union men attacked them as they went to dinner, and the police were called. Eleven of the non-union men consented to leave town. The others are scattered. The front of the Commercial office was besieged with union men to keep them out. The Commercial asked the union to reduce from 45 to 40 cents.

A Madrid dispatch says: The labor troubles at Bilbao are among the men employed in the copper mines in that vicinity. The men went on strike against a reduction in wages. Work in all the mines is suspended. The strikers have seized a dynamite depot.

Brown, missing his wife, went to the barn to learn what was keeping her. As he was in the act of raising the prostrate form of his wife the horse kicked him on the temple, from the effects of which he soon died.

Minister Dewdney's Brother Shoots Himself.

OTTAWA, Jan. 28.—Information has been received here that Mr. Walter Dewdney, of Vernon, B.C., shot himself on Monday last. Those who knew the late Mr. Dewdney incline to the belief that it must have been accidental. He is said to have been a man of high character, and was greatly liked in British Columbia by all who knew him. He was one of the old residents. His habits were of a strictly domestic character. The Minister of the Interior, who is a brother of the deceased, left at once for British Columbia.

Degradation the Result!

Some indulge in narcotics to assuage and banish pain brought on by disease. The after-effects are terrible to contemplate; misery and degradation are the result. Paine's Celery Compound removes pain and trouble, and the result is new life, peace and joy.

Probably the youngest women evangelist in the country is Fannie Edwards, a 15 year-old Louisville girl, who has been preaching the gospel to Tennessee mountaineers. She is very attractive in appearance, and quite eloquent, it is said.

There is a great controversy in London now as to who is the most beautiful woman in society. There are Lady Dudley and the Princess of Wales who defy the flight of time and reign queens of beauty forever. The Duchess of Leinster and her sisters bear away the palms from hosts of lesser beauties, but fairer than all is perhaps Lady Brooke.

Cultivate calmness and quietness in feeling and manner.

THE DEHORNING CASE.

Evidence for the Defense Continued—Nearing Its End.

J. D. O'Neil, V.S., of this city, one of the veterinaries of the Humane Society, had advised that no action be taken, as dehorning was often necessary. He had witnessed Mr. Elliot, one of the defendants, perform the operation twice, and he considered that it was done as well or better than the ordinary veterinary surgeon would do it. Both horns were sawed off a cow in 9 seconds. Her pulse had increased two beats during the operation. The discharge of pus was a natural mode of healing, and its presence was not a sign of pain or unhealthiness. He thought that there was no pain after the first two or three strokes of the saw. The operation was not a cruel one.

Dr. William Brady, V.S., of Tilsonburg, had inspected some herds of cattle that had been dehorned. He thought there was no unusual change in the pulse or temperature after the operation. The condition of the animal remained normal, and the quality of milk was not changed. The pain was only momentary and treatment was not necessary in warm weather unless the cows were kept in a stable where chaff could get into the cavities. After the horns were cut off the cattle were more docile and put on flesh better. The operation was not cruel or unnecessary. Brass tips or a board put across both horns would not prevent a cow from bunting or rupturing another.

J. C. Burk, V.S., of St. Thomas, had inspected the dehorning of some cattle around Brownsville. He had taken their temperature one day, and five days after the operation and had seen one operation. He did not now think it was painful, and could see no symptoms of pain. The operation was entirely justified by the results. Mr. Elliot was very skillful in cutting off the horns. It was impossible for a cow to bleed to death from the artery severed in dehorning.

L. A. Brown, V. S., of Aylmer, had dehorned a large number of cattle and thought that the pain was sharp while the cutting was going on, but not excruciating, as stated. Two months after the operation he had seen the defendant's cattle, and they were in excellent condition.

THURSDAY MORNING.

When court opened at 10 this morning Thomas Rutherford, of Dereham, was called. Last spring he had dehorned thirteen of his cows and eight more just before Christmas. It was a common thing for cows to have their udders bruised. In some cases they lose one-quarter and in others nearly one-half of the bag. Bloody milk was sometimes the result. They were harder to stable and much harder to drive through a lane when they had their horns. Since the cows were dehorned they were quiet and equally as intelligent. Three out of eight of his cows discharged pus, but they were all healed a few days ago. He has not used any covering. His cows milked better now than they did before they were dehorned. He considered the benefits derived as more than sufficient reason for the operation. The cows did not moan or bellow from the pain. In his experience of 25 years the usual way taken by cows of showing pain was not by moaning nor bellowing. They would do this under very severe pain. Fastening the cow's head as he had done for the operation would not prevent her from showing that she was in pain. He dehorned the cows to protect the weaker members of the herd, as he knew of no way in which he could do it so well. He could not say that at the time he dehorned his cattle any of them were suffering from goring or hooking, but he would say that he thought likely some of them were.

The court here referred to the unusual conduct of the audience, and said that if it continued something would have to be done to govern the conduct of a few characters present.

Mr. Hutchinson understood their behavior and said if it continued he would ask to have the court cleared.

Mr. Hutchinson—Now which is the more necessary, castration or dehorning? A.—I would place them on about the same footing.

Q.—Does kind treatment affect the disposition of a cow? A.—The quieter I treat my cows the kinder they are to me, but it would not make them treat each other any kinder.

At 1 o'clock the court adjourned until 2:30. There are yet a few more witnesses for the defense. A short time will suffice in which to close the case up.

THE DREADED GRIP

Drives Visitors from English Health Resorts—Great Demand for Mourning Goods.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The official returns of mortality, showing that the grip is epidemic at Brighton as well as in the large cities, have frightened the visitors at the fashionable health resorts, and they are leaving in large numbers. The local papers bewail this movement, which threatens to ruin the season, and declare that the returns are misleading. It is claimed that the majority of the deaths which have occurred have been to invalids who contracted the influenza elsewhere, and came to Brighton in a debilitated state.

Some districts report an abatement of the prevalent malady, but, on the other hand, the disease is spreading to many localities heretofore exempt, so that it cannot be said that the whole of the epidemic is disappearing from England.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The demand for mourning goods on account of the increased mortality resulting from the epidemic of influenza has given an impetus to the crape manufacturing industry which has been in a state of decay. The numerous factories in Essex devoted to this branch of production are now busy working on full time, and some are being operated night and day. Thousands of persons are thus furnished with much-needed employment.

Eight colleges and a number of smaller schools have been closed in Saxony with a view to prevent the spread of the influenza by means of public assemblages.

Doings at Avon.

Died suddenly on Monday night, Rebecca, wife of Hiram Smith. Deceased had been ailing for a great number of years, and Mr. Smith has not enjoyed good health during the past two years. He has the sympathy of the community in his bereavement.

On Monday afternoon the remains of Truman Boyce, of Nilestown, were interred in the cemetery at Avon, where he formerly resided.

Miss Della Nigh, teacher of the Centerville school, spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in Avon. She is looking well and reports good success with her school.

Gideon Blanchard, a former resident of Avon, but lately of Springfield, died on Sunday from la grippe. He leaves a wife, sister of H. Herron, of Avon, and one daughter.

Wilson Topping, one of the witnesses for the prosecution in the dehorning case now going on at London, is ill with la grippe.

Suddenly Called Away.

The death of Mr. George Frederick Ryder, of 169 Wellington street, came about very suddenly this morning. About six or eight weeks ago he strained an artery in his heart, but his health continued good, and no immediate danger was feared. He waited on customers in his shop last night, read for a while before going to bed and retired in his usual spirits. About 4 o'clock he awoke and complained of a pain near his heart. Mrs. Ryder applied the usual remedies, but her husband expired before the doctor reached the house. Deceased was born in Watford, Hertfordshire, England, 40 years ago. When about 20 years of age he came to Canada, and for a long time served as a spare driver on the Great Western Railway. About eight years ago he started in the butcher business, and had been very successful. He visited the old homestead in England in 1889, and intended making a second trip shortly. Mr. Ryder was known as an industrious, large-hearted man, and by his cheery disposition and good, sound qualities has made hosts of friends in London who will hear of his sudden taking-off with unfeigned regret. He leaves no family except his widow, and he had no relatives in this country. He was in comfortable circumstances, and, with $4,000 or $5,000 society insurance, Mrs. Ryder will be well provided for. Mr. Ryder was an esteemed member of the Order of Chosen Friends, the A. O. F., St. George's Society and the C. O. F. The funeral on Saturday will likely be private, and the pall-bearers will be chosen from the above societies.

$2 INSTEAD OF $4—DURING JANUARY only. The Rev. Miles Grant says: "It is a veritable life preserver, and I would not be without it for any money." We have published hundred of letters to the same effect from representative Canadians; we have sold thousands of them in Canada and do not know of one dissatisfied. No system yet discovered has yielded such wonderful results in the cure of Consumption, Dyspepsia, Constipation of the Bowels, Catarrh, Kidney Diseases, Headache, Nervous Prostration and General Debility; and, certainly, it has no equal in preventing or cutting short an attack of typhoid or other fevers; for breaking up a cold, grippe or ridding the system of its bacterial effects, mitigating the severity of diphtheria and all acute or exhausting diseases. The system is very simple and easy of application, any one without training or skill, and does not interfere with either work or diet. We refer to the Wilford Hall "New Process," as unfolded in our "Microcosmic Health Pamphlet." Dr. Hall still charges $5, and it would be cheap to any family at $50; but we wish to put it within the reach of all and will mail it to any address during January on receipt of $2, and agree to refund the money if results are not satisfactory after one month's trial, purchaser signing an agreement never again to use the treatment. Eight-page paper, history, testimonials, etc., free. Remit to-day and save $2. Register your letter at our risk. Address—The Simpson Publishing Company, Toronto. 58 k eod

TO THE ELECTORS OF EAST MIDDLESEX.

Gentlemen.—In compliance with the solicitations and requests of a large number of the electors of the Electoral District of East Middlesex, I have again consented to become the Independent candidate for the representation of this riding in the Parliament of Canada, believing as I do, that at no time in the history of our Dominion has there been a greater necessity for independent thought and action than at present. I would, if elected, support a liberal trade policy between Canada and Great Britain, thereby tending to strengthen the bonds of union that exist between the Dominion and the mother land. A tariff for revenue purposes only, is all that should be maintained. I would favor the obtaining by every legitimate effort, of a favorable reciprocity treaty between Canada and the United States. The freest trade relations possible should exist between the two countries, that would be consistent with the position we hold as a part of the British Empire. I am opposed to all combinations that advance the value of the necessaries of life to consumers. The freest possible exchange of productions should be brought about between the farmer and the manufacturer. The farmer has a right to obtain the full value of his earnings, and the produce of the country should be carried to the seaboard for a just consideration. The system of granting railway charters requires amending, and attention will have to be paid to protect the public from railway monopolies. The public lands should be reserved for actual settlers. Not another acre should be given to railways. While the church is entitled to entire freedom in its own domain. I will oppose the granting to any creed or nationality of privileges not equally enjoyed by all. I believe in complete separation of Church and State, and will defend to the utmost the rights and privileges that have been handed down to us by our forefathers. A simpler and less expensive method than the present system of preparing the voters' lists is desirable, and the principle of one man one vote and the purity of elections I would heartily support. If elected I will support all good measures that may come before the House, independent of party consideration. As a retired farmer who has successfully carried on farming operations for a considerable portion of my life, I can well understand and appreciate the requirements of a farming community, and should the electors of this riding confide their trust in me by securing my return as their representative the interests of the electors of this constituency shall be my first and last thought. The will of the people should be supreme in all matters of legislation and government and, I am therefore in favor of submitting to a vote of the electors of the Dominion, whenever petitioned for the question of prohibition of the liquor traffic or other matters of vital importance to the country.

Trusting to meet with the approval of the electors in this my native riding, and asking for their support as an independent candidate, I have the honor to be. Yours respectfully

George Taylor. bdw

The natives of Madagascar formerly followed the moon in determining time, but since the influx of missionaries the Queen issued an edict that the Christian year should be followed. But in commencing the year the first year the date of the first day was set some time in October or November.

A man's wife should always be the same especially to her husband; but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they "make her "feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so too.

Sometimes men are just about as ridiculous as hogs. A novel wager is to be decided in Belfast, Me., where one man has bet $5 that no one can drive a pig a mile without the porker turning to see who is driving, and another man has risked his dignity and $5 to prove the contrary.

Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, is earache. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailment, but also to the hurts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, to which the young are specially subject.

An English tramp, arrested and brought before the justice of the Petworth police court for the crime of "damaging some cut clover by sleeping on it," was fined by the justice, with the alternative of going to jail for 8 days.

A Dinner Pill.—Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment it becomes a poison to the sytem. Dr. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and convert the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with Indigestion or Dyspepsia.

So many lunatics appear to be loose in the community that it is not surprising to learn from Governor Flower's (New York) inaugural message that there was an apparent decrease in the number of asylum inmates in the year 1891.

Nothing impure or injurious contaminates the popular antidote to pain, throat and lung remedy and general corrective, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. It may be used without the slightest apprehension of and other than salutary consequences. Coughs, rheumatism, earache, bruises, cuts and sores succumb to its action.

WESTERN ONTARIO.

BRUCE.

Miss Alexander, the newly-appointed teacher of the lower room of the Tiverton school, has resigned.

Three bodies were brought to Ripley for interment last week. Alexander McLeod, of Vancouver, B. C., broke his leg in the bush and contracted inflammation of the lungs from exposure before being found. He died in the hospital, was brought home, and interred with A. O. F. honors. Malcolm Smith, of Ripley, working at Alpena, Mich., was felling a tree when it struck another and rebounding struck Smith on the temple, killing him instantly. His remains were brought home to Ripley. Alex. Smith, a teacher, formerly of Ripley, whose parents live there still, was accidentally hurt about Christmas at Caleden near Owen Sound. He died from the effects and was brought to Ripley for burial.

The new warden of the county is L. B. D. Lapierre, South Dumfries, who was elected by acclamation.

A good looking young lady, daughter of a well-known farmer, recently deceased, sues a young farmer living with his father in the neighborhood of Mt. Vernon, for $2,000 for breach of promise of marriage. The young people and their parents are well known and highly respected. They have been keeping company for some three years and it is said arrangements had been made to bring on the marriage in March next. The young man, however, has transferred his affections to another young lady, and is not disposed to wed the first young lady.

Daniel Durham, St. George, when driving out of Brantford Tuesday, was struck at a crossing by a G. T. R. train. One horse was killed, and the other was unharmed. Durham had an arm broken but is otherwise unhurt.

ELGIN.

The Municipal World is a new monthly venture, published in St. Thomas by W. K. McKay, county clerk of Elgin, and A. W. Campbell, P. L. S., St. Thomas, and H. F. Jell, solicitor, Rodney.

Lee McConnell has been fined $5 (and costs, $9 30) for ill-treating a horse at Aylmer.

The roof of the sheds at McPherson's foundry, Fingal, fell in from the weight of snow on Sunday night.

C. J. Newman, late organist of the First Methodist Church, St. Thomas, has, through his solicitor, entered an action for slander against W. H. Murch, St. Thomas, bookseller, claiming $4,000 damages. It is alleged in the bill of particulars that Mr. Murch, in a conversation with Rev. R. J. Treleaven, which was overheard by several others, stated that while Mr. Newman was at Aylmer on May 21, 1891, with others from St. Thomas taking part in a musical entertainment he was intoxicated and incapable of performing his professional duties and had to be assisted across the street to the Brown House. He claims damages on the ground of loss of his position as organist of the First Methodist Church, loss of pupils, and loss of reputation. Mr. Murch denies having made the alleged statement.

Proceedings have been commenced by Robert Donnelly, of the township of Essex, against Ed. Holden, hackman, of St. Thomas, claiming $5,000 damages for alienating his wife's affections. The woman, it is understood, was married to the defendant some six or seven years ago, but the plaintiff claims that if she is Mrs. Holden she was previously Mrs. Donnelly, and she was never legally relieved of the bonds which bound her to him.

ESSEX.

A new $6,500 Methodist Church is to be built in Amherstburg.

KENT.

The final vote for warden of Kent was 21 to 14 in favor of Mr. Cameron, reeve of Harwich, over Mr. Morrison, reeve of Raleigh. Messrs. McDonald and Kimmerley were also candidates.

J. W. Knight has shipped 700 cords of hardwood to Detroit from Kent Bridge.

LINCOLN.

A Lincoln county sock raiser had a number of thoroughbred bulls to dispose of, and took them to St Catharines, where he secured the services of the Nineteenth Battalion Band, which headed a procession through the streets. The animals sold readily afterward.

MIDDLESEX.

The first and final dividend of 18⅔ cents on the dollar has been declared on the estate of Adam Allisc, who absconded from Belmont.

At the annual meeting of the Delaware Agricultural Society in Delaware the following officers were elected for 1892, viz.: President, R. Gibson; vice-president, Samuel Sutherland; secretary, T. Boles; treasurer, C. J. Fox directors, H. C. Johnston, A. Parfitt, John Ackland, James Bradt, Robt. Stevens, Wm. Scott, Stephen Weld, W. M. Baker and E. Howlett; auditors, R. Hammond and N. Bodkin. The reports of the secretary and treasurer were very satisfactory and showed a balance of over $90 carried over.

NORFLK.

The M. C. R. will harvest 1,200 car loads of ice this year at Waterford, for use on the Canada division.

OXFRD.

It required ten ballots to decide the wardenship of Oxford and the last vote stood: E. L. Sutherland, West Zorra, 21, and Dr. Williams, Ingersoll, 14.

Miss Pearl Campbell and Miss Queen Mary Campbell, infant stepdaughters and heirs of the late Mr. George B. Alderson, of Ingersoll, have brought an action against the trustees of the stepmother's estate, James Chambers, of Ingersoll, and Thomas Dunn, of St. Louis. The young ladies sue the trustees for an account of their dealings with Mrs. Alderson's estate, and to have it declared that they are not entitled to the possession of a fund of $1,100 insurance money, which is in the bank to the credit of the deceased. Upon a recent examination in the case James Chambers refused to answer certain questions as to his dealings with moneys belonging to the young ladies. Walter Read moved before Master Winchester at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, for an order striking out the defendant's statement of defense or to compel Chambers to attend for examination at his own expense and make full disclosure. Mr. Winchester made the order as asked and ordered Mr. Chambers to attend and answer. The young lady plaintiffs are attending college in Toronto, and their estate is valued at $30,000.

PERTH.

Walter Thomson has issued an open letter to the farmers of Perth advising them to give more attention to the selection of seed grain and change it oftener. He also asks what the growing of short, thick-skinned oats be abandoned, as they do not yield the quantity of meal to the bushel that the long, thin-skinned ones do, and are therefore not so good either for milling or feeding purposes. Such varieties as the Bavarian Banner, White Case, Early Gothland, Victoria White, Magnet, Rordale and August White are highly spoken of.

WENTWORTH.

John Boyd, a farmer of Ancaster, was arrested by Sheriff's Officer Robert Stewart on a capias and taken to Hamilton. The arrest was at the instance of Alberta Jane Vansickle, of Ancaster, who claims $2,000 from Boyd for breach of promise. Boyd was liberated on bail.

A Study for Dairymen.

Cheese makers have known for years that foul water would play sad havoc with the milk, causing floating curds and tainted cheese. Yet with all their preaching there were always a host of patrons who either did not care or else were perfectly indifferent as to what water their cows drank. But here is a lesson that relates to the life of the cattle themselves. It will be a profitable thing to read and remember, for it teaches a very important principle in cow management, viz., the imperative value and necessity of providing pure water for the stock.

In a recent bulletin of the Iowa Experimental Station, Dr M. Stalker, veterinarian of the station gives the following interesting account of an outbreak of malignant diseases among live stock:

"During the latter part of the summer of 1890, I had occasion to investigate a severe outbreak of diseases on a farm in one of the counties in Iowa. The animals, including horses, cattle and pigs, were all affected in the same way. The local symptoms were largely confined to the throat. There was a swelling, partial paralysis of the walls of the upper air passages and painful and difficult breathing. The animals attacked uniformly died after an illness of about two days. The disease I could not recognize as belonging to any of the well-defined types with which I was acquainted. Here were horses, cattle and pigs sick and dying with disease, showing the same symptoms in all. There are few, if any, of the specific forms of disease that spread as epizootic from the widely differing species of domestic animals. I could not classify the disease, and at once set about the task of discovering, if possible, some common source of exposure.

The pastures, buildings and water supply were each in turn subjected to careful scrutiny. The buildings were such as are to be found on ordinary Iowa farms, fairly comfortable and clean. I could find no clue the quantity or quality of feed that promised to lead to a solution of the difficulty. On investigation of the water supply, I found that most of the animals on the farm drank from a small creek that ran a zigzag course through the premises. The stream was in part supplied from a series of springs and in ordinary seasons afforded a fair amount of water which ran at least for a portion of its course, over a gravelly bed. The present dry summer, with several previous ones, showing an abnormally light rain-fall, has so reduced the amount of water, that it has ceased to run. On making examination and conducting inquiries, I ascertained that it had been the custom on the farm to throw carcasses of animals down the steep bluffs into the bed of the stream.

I further learned that during the summer chicken cholera had prevailed on the farm and that a large number of chickens had died and been thrown over the bank. I was also informed that the hog cholera has caused the death of a considerable number of swine, the carcasses having been treated in a similar manner. The several yards occupied by horses, cattle, pigs and barn yard fowls, were on the hillside with abrupt drainage into the creek. In addition to this large heaps of fermenting manure were deposited about the foot of the hill near the edge of the stream, where the animals went to drink. A few of the animals on the farm had not had access to the stream—had been watered from a well. None of these had shown signs of sickness, though they had been in daily contact with those that had their water from the pools in the bed of the stream, and even with some of the sick. On looking up the local geography of the neighborhood, I found that a number of farmers had built their homes along the banks of this stream, and had been accustomed to make use of it in much the same way as the farmer above referred to. Inquiry elicited the fact that on no less than four farms situated on the banks of this stream, animals had died showing symptoms identical with those on the farm first investigated. I regarded the evidence as sufficient to make out a strong case against the impurity of the water and gave an opinion accordingly.

The above is but a single instance out of many that have come under my observation. It is one of the most glaring, but by no means one attended with the greatest degree of loss. One another occasion where a high rate of mortality had prevailed among the cattle running on the open prairie, I was able to trace the cause to contamination of surface water. An animal dead from anthrax had been drawn into a basin on the open prairie. Later the rain filled the basin with water, and about 1,000 cattle on the range had access to the pond for water supply. The result was that 10 per cent. of all the animals having access to the impure water died from anthrax. The teachings of these object lessons are sufficiently obvious. These animals are endowed with organizations not unlike our own, and the manifest laws of being and health can no more be violated with impunity by them than by ourselves.

De Maurier, the famous artist of Punch, has lost the use of one eye, and it is feared that he may become blind.

CITY OF LONDON.

Ladies and Gentlemen.—It is not in compliance with solicitations and requests of a large number of the electors of the electoral district of London or elsewhere, that we now call your attention to the fact that at no time in the history of Canada is bile, indigestion, sore throats and sore heads, more rife than during an election campaign. All the foregoing complaints and many others to which flesh is heir, can be quickly cured by taking "Curative Fluid" internally, and using "Curative Absorbent" externally. They are absolute specifics for the cure of disease, neutralizing the acid which is nearly always the cause of inflammation. By removing the inflammation the disease ceases to exist.

LONDON CITIZENS

Are Talking About the New System.

177 Dundas St., London, Dec. 28, 1891.
I have used Dr. J. Eugene Jordan's Histogenetic Medicines for different members of my family, with good results, during the past year, and cheerfully recommend the remedies to the citizens of London, feeling convinced that Dr. Jordan's theory of reaching diseases is the correct one. N. F. YEO.

389 Waterloo St., London, Dec. 28, 1891.
Having used Dr. J. Eugene Jordan's Histogenetic Medicines in my family with good results, I cheerfully recommend them to the citizens of London, and strongly advise all sufferers to give them a trial. Dr. Jordan's system, in my opinion, is the best system of medicine on earth. I speak from experience, having paid hundreds of dollars for other doctors' medicines, receiving little or no benefit. My wife is a new woman since she began using Histogenetic Remedies. I will be pleased to answer any inquiries. JOHN YOUNG, liveryman.

Histogenetic Medicine Association:
Gentlemen,—This is to certify that I have suffered with rheumatism for the past 25 years. At five different periods I have been so bad that I had to remain in bed for several months at a time. This summer I was suffering severely with pain all through my body, constipation, headache, drowsiness, etc. I began taking Histogenetic Medicines on June 15 and continued for eight weeks. I began to improve at once; pain left me gradually. I do not feel it at all, except a very little at change of weather—nothing to speak of; just a gentle reminder. Constipation and headache cured us, and no return of either since. It is now six weeks since I stopped taking the medicines. I feel better now than I have for years, and I heartily recommend the people of London to try Histogenetic Medicines, as they did more for me than all the doctors' prescriptions or other medicines that I had taken before.
JAMES JACK.
London, 569 York street, Sept. 19, 1891.

The principles used in the preparation of the medicines are as necessary for our existence as the air we breathe. The medicines have no taste—grand for children. Grip cured in a short time. Specific for inflammation of the lungs; almost impossible to die from that trouble if medicines given promptly at the start. Cost you nothing to investigate the system. It is a reform, and therefore the duty of every one to know something about it.

"The Advertiser" advocates Continental Free Trade, and as early as possible after, free trade with the whole world.

"The Advertiser" looks forward with hope to Canada's future as that of an Independent Canadian Nationality, in equally friendly alliance with the United States and with Great Britain, believing that such a status would be best for Canada, best for Great Britain, and promotive of the best attainable relations with the United States. As to Imperial Federation, sometimes spoken of, the ADVERTISER as yet has seen nothing proposed that bears any stamp of practicability, and in any case infinitely prefers the grander and more really hopeful scheme of a federation of the English-speaking peoples of the world.

"The Advertiser" advocates prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor; and all expedient general legislation and persuasion in the meantime.

"The Advertiser" is an advocate of equal rights for women, whether as regards the franchise, or equal wages for equal work.

"The Advertiser" is a believer in Christian Union, and considers the time has come when the various Christian denominations should come closer together. Those bodies which are now nearest should unite first. Under the present system there is an unjustifiable waste of men, means and effort. The ADVERTISER will endeavor to promote the movement for Christian union not alone by direct appeal and argument, but by seeking to present the best rather than the worst side of each denomination.

"The Advertiser" advocates Obligatory Voting as both necessary and practicable. Nothing would so much purify electoral contests. Nothing would so much enforce the idea that the franchise is a duty, not a chattel.

ATTACKED BY PROFESSED FRIENDS.

The Free Press persists in reviving the doings of its friends in the Walker-Carling election of 1874, and it is causing much pain to the present president of the Loudon Conservative Association (Mr. F. A. Fitzgerald) by its lack of consideration for his feelings. Our contemporary ignores the fact that Mr. Fitzgerald was Mr. Walker's right hand man in that election, and that Mr. Fitzgerald was one of the "Come-along-John's" who had lots of money wherewith to buy votes for his friend.

Mr. Fitzgerald will not thank the high tax exponent for reviving this long-gone-by contest, as a result of which he was reported by the judges, with other prominent present supporters of his party, for personal bribery.

Col. Walker has been in his grave for years, and many of his associates also lie in the cemetery, and though the overwhelming proportion of the voters of to-day were not in the fight of eighteen years ago, it is deemed wise by the Free Press to once again, within the space of six weeks, revive memories of the contest. Such reminiscences, while not in any way helping the trade restrictionist cause, act as a two-edged sword; they may cut the foe, but they slash the friend. Mr. Fitzgerald may well ask why the Free Press should commence to throw stones in the vicinity of his glass house. It is not a generous act to so treat a hard worker like the Conservative President.

ANNIE BESANT, the noted Theosophist leader, reports that her lectures have been very profitable in America, and that while the people on this continent are willing to pay a good big price, they want in return to have useful and interesting lectures. On her way home on the City of Paris she gave a lecture by request, at which Lord Aberdeen occupied the chair.

A PURE ELECTION.

Despite the protests of many Conservatives the Free Press labors hard to make out that the last Dominion election was a terribly impure contest, and that the reputation of Mr. Hyman and his friends was tarnished beyond measure. As for Mr. Hyman, personal charges were made against him, but they were voluntarily withdrawn, and any fair-minded man must concede that to be proof that they should never have been made. If there had been anything in them, the promoters of the petition would have been only too ready to bring them into court. Let us remind our contemporary of the collateral evidence which, in its issue of the 21st inst., it willingly supplied when taken into a court of law. Then the Free Press published this apology:

CITIZENS EXONERATED.

The public will remember that when the proceedings against the return of Mr. Hyman, which have been brought to so satisfactory a conclusion, were begun, the Free Press published at length the charges of the petitioner contained in his bill of particulars. Among these charges were several alleging that the following well-known citizens, Messrs. M. Masuret, George C. Gibbons, Q.C., J. W. Little, F. B. Leonard, John Walmsley, J. G. Shuff, and D. H. Tennant, barrister, were guilty of corrupt practices of a more or less grave character. The trial, at which the petitioner had an opportunity of proving, is now over, and during its progress it has not been shown that the gentlemen named were guilty of the charges mentioned in the particulars printed by the Free Press. It is, therefore, only fair to the gentlemen named to say that they are free from all personal corrupt practices. The Free Press is glad to be able to entirely exonerate them from complicity in the alleged wrong-doing, as it is satisfied that an error was made in placing these charges in the particulars.

This "backwater" was taken to save an expensive prosecution for libel, into the liability for which the Free Press was led by believing the concoctions of the men who compiled the alleged "bill of particulars."

The truth regarding the London election is as the Toronto Telegram, an independent Conservative journal, says—"it was fought as fairly as such contests ever are."

EAST ELGIN.

The writ for East Elgin Dominion election has been long delayed, but now that it is issued the election will be rushed on. Nomination day is Feb. 5, and polling will take place Feb. 12. The friends of trade freedom owe it to themselves and to the country to send Dr. Wilson back to Ottawa to battle for popular rights. All minor considerations should be sunk in the determination to strengthen the hands of those who are ready and anxious to relieve the populace from the blight of trade restriction. In Port Stanley and in St. Thomas the vote for Dr. Wilson should be largely increased. With a sensible reciprocity treaty Port Stanley would become the Erie of Ontario, and St. Thomas would find its manufacturing and railway interests much improved by the increased prosperity of the farmers, as well as by the opportunity presented for buying coal, iron and other raw products at a cheaper rate than is now prevalent.

FORESHADOWING THE END.

It was not to be expected that the Liberal papers would approve of the reconstructed Cabinet; but apart from their grumblings it may be safely assumed that the changes give general satisfaction.—[London Free Press.

Bless your old bones, the loudest murmurs of disapproval do not come from Liberal papers, but are found in recognized Conservative journals. The Hamilton Spectator, for example, says that "if the Cabinet changes announced yesterday were announced as a finality they would be received by the country with more than a little dissatisfaction." It further says that Mr. Bowell has possibly sacrificed himself by giving up the control of the customs to the kicker Chapleau "in order that an important portfolio might go to Quebec." The Spectator has a shot at Mr. Patterson, also. It says:

"We are unable to see that the accession of Mr. Patterson, of Essex, will strengthen the Government. That gentleman entered Parliament in 1878 and served with fair ability but without making any great impression upon the country until he was defeated last year. He is now without a constituency."

The Spectator calls for a further shuffle, though the Toronto Empire maintains that this is the finally final deal. In regard to the promotion of John Haggart to be Conservative leader for Ontario, the Toronto Telegram (Independent-Conservative) says:

"Premier Abbott, by his promotion of John Haggart, has outraged the feelings of Ontario, and flouted the truest Conservatives in the party. It is not too much to say that never since Sir John died has the new Premier been rated as cheaply as he is now by the staunch Conservatives of Ontario. Their dissatisfaction does not talk in public. The disgust they feel is smothered by the thought that its free expression might aid the Grits. Their dissatisfaction is not the less deep because it does not ruffle the surface in angry speech. If the forces of dissatisfaction and disgust are thus weakening the Government, the question may be asked, How can it stand?"

And the Toronto News, claiming to be the leading Conservative paper in that city, says:

"The promotion of Hon. John Haggart, against whom charges of the gravest nature have been made and allowed to go unexplained, was a most unwise thing to do. Even more injudicious, if possible, was the appointment of Hon. J. A. Chapleau to the position of Minister of Customs. A man who allowed the hungry Senecal to grow fat by levying upon those doing business with a department where the patronage is so limited as in that of the Secretary of State is utterly unfit to be trusted as head of the Customs Department, where the possibilities of blackmail by underlings are so great."

These criticisms show how little foundation there is for our city contemporary's assumption, and further betoken the general dissatisfaction that exists at the conduct of public affairs. A break-up is at hand, no matter how the bye-elections go.

OF THE RIGHT STAMP.

Mr. Hyman aided in the exposure of colossal wrong-doing laid bare at Ottawa last year. For this reason, doubtless, the Free Press thinks he should be replaced by some man who would sit calmly by, as Mr. Hyman refused to do, while the chief sinners try to cover up their tracks. The half has not been revealed of the rascality that has grown up under the system of "each man for himself, and the devil take the hindmost." Mr. Hyman will be able in the coming session to aid in the righting of wrongs that have cost the taxpayers of this country many millions of dollars. There cannot be too many independent business men in Parliament in the present crisis. The people's interests should be paramount.

PUT THE SADDLE ON THE RIGHT HORSE.

The Winnipeg correspondent of the Toronto Empire (Conservative) says:

"There is a strong feeling springing into existence against the combine that has been formed for the sale and manufacture of implements and binding twine."

There is little use of pitching into the combines. They are the direct outcome of Red Parlor rule, and the only way to get rid of that blighting influence, and to effectively combat the combiners, is to get rid of the system—to widen the opportunity to buy and to sell for both farmer and progressive manufacturer. Canadians are not the poor, puny men that the trade restrictionists, for their selfish purposes, are so ready to assert they are.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

PNEUMONIA is closing up the lungs of many people. Keep the feet dry and wear flannels and chest protectors.

***

HON. J. M. GIBSON is an enthusiastic citizen soldier. He has just been re-elected president of the Canadian Military Institute.

***

"ALL things considered, it is much better for a man to have a big foot," reasons a matter-of-fact philosopher. That is so, if he is to have a ball attached to it, as the Free Press asserts our former townsman, Mr. Meredith, of Toronto, has.

***

AN AMICABLE settlement of the United States-Chili embroglio seems to be assured. Great are the triumphs of the peace-makers. Why should any man or any civilized nation wish to settle a dispute by bloodshed in this enlightened age?

***

PROHIBITION has got another black eye in the appointment of Mr. Patterson in the Cabinet. The new Minister is the mouthpiece of the brewers.—[Hamilton Times.

Usually correct, you are a little off this time. We have a brewer in the Cabinet who looks well after the beer interests. Mr. Patterson is understood to be taken into the Cabinet to look after the distilling interests. The distillers recently were given very valuable privileges.

***

HON. JOHN HAGGART woefully complained, in a speech the other day, that it was no use to deny the charges made against him. When an investigation into the Section B charges was demanded in the House, Mr. Haggart's associates, for reasons best known to themselves, called upon the members on their side of the House to vote down inquiry, and by a small majority investigation was burked. Until that investigation is held and Mr. Lister's charges are investigated, the public will not be satisfied with a denial from a man with the record of Mr. Haggart.

***

MANY respectable Conservatives still confess that the prudent policy for their party, in the present instance, is to save expense and trouble by permitting Mr. Hyman to be returned by acclamation. They are accused of being saucy by those who guaranteed that Mr. Hyman would be disqualified and disgraced, and thus engineered the expensive trial, but they are too honest to deny the fact that he was fairly elected, and they know that a new appeal to the people would but vindicate that view. In any case, Mr. Hyman's friends assert that they are willing to meet the desires of their opponents. If elected by acclamation, so be it; if a contest, say they, "Equally ready!"

***

THE Free Press furnishes a deal of comic reading these days. In one paragraph the "rascally Grits" are denounced as villains because they speak of the census, which proves beyond contradiction that the country has not progressed as it would have done if so much of the money of the people had not been filched from the people to subsidize favorites who had the ear of the men in power. This plain argument and truthful presentation of fact is said to be "decrying your country," yet in another paragraph the Free Press falsely leads the whole world to believe that London citizens can be bribed with pigs' feet and beer to sell their manhood rights. How is that for running down your own city?

IS IT A STILL HUNT?

[St. Thomas Journal.]

The Free Press dubs Mr. Meredith "The man in the cloud." He is probably hunting for Langevin, who is behind it.

Conscience, or What?

"Conscience doth make cowards of us all," says the poet. But it is just so with the nerves. When a man's nerves are unstrung, through indigestion and torpid liver and impure blood, what wonder that he feels depressed and nervous? He starts at every little unexpected sound; is afraid of his shadow, and feels like a fool. Let such a man go to the drug store and get a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great Blood Purifier and Liver Invigorator. This is the only blood purifier and liver invigorator guaranteed to benefit or cure, or money will be promptly refunded. It cures Indigestion, or Dyspepsia, and from its wonderful blood purifying properties, conquers all Skin and Scalp diseases, Salt rheum, Tetter, Eczema and kindred ailments. All blood poisons, no matter of what name or nature, yield to its remedial influence.

A special from Pittsburg says: A commission of nine railroad experts has been investigating here the subject of electrical transportation as applied to railroads. The commission represented the Northern Pacific, Wisconsin Central and other roads. The members visited the Edison works, the Thompson-Houston works here and at Lynn, Mass., and then spent two days at the Westinghouse works here. The result of their labors, which have been concluded, and the intentions of the railroads they represent were partially revealed by Chief Engineer McHenry, of the Northern Pacific Company. He said: "I believe that the motive power will be applied directly to the axles of each car, thus making each car its own motor. Experiments are to be proceeded with at once. I do not see why electricity should not displace locomotives, especially over steep grades. The question which will be most difficult of disposal will be the transmission of the current and the obtaining of adequate conductivity in the wires.

A YEAR OF PROGRESS.

Such 1891 Has Been for the First Presbyterian Church.

Annual Meeting of the Congregation—Reports of the Work in Its Various Departments—The Result Highly Satisfactory—Officers Elected.

The field selected by the General Board was India, and a quantity of goods had been sent there for clothing for the Hindoo children. The offering at the annual thanksgiving service amounted to $34 75. The total amount collected during the year was $124 44, and the box of clothing sent to India was valued at $30.

The General Missionary Society reported an increase of $200 in the amount of money collected—$503 66. In 1890, 77 individual gave an average of $3 94, while in 1891, 93 gave an average of $5 41, the average for the congregation being $1 67. Missionary meetings had been held once every quarter, and were well attended and interesting. The congregation collected for missionary and benevolent purposes $1,126 58.

Y. P. S. C. E.

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor reported that in 1890 there were 35 active and 12 associate members, and in 1891 there were 39 active, 26 associate and 1 affiliated member, a net gain of 19 members. There had been 41 weekly meetings held. Officers were elected at the business meetings in April and October.

THE LADIES' AID.

There was according to the report an average attendance of 11 at the 7 meetings of the Ladies' Aid Society. The number of members was 22 and of contributors 49. The ladies had been very faithful in visiting with the elders in the various districts. The total receipts were $339 39 and the disbursements $335 70.

VICTORIA MISSION BAND.

Victoria Mission Band had increased slightly in membership, average attendance and contributions. The average attendance at the ten regular meetings was 24, an increase of three over 1890. The thanks of the society were due to those who aided in the concert given in June, and to those who dressed the dolls sent to India. The amount of contributions to the general fund was $63 58, and $25 95 more had been raised than during 1890.

THE SESSION REPORT.

The session report showed that most gratifying progress had been made during 1891. The attendance at the Sabbath and weekly services had been good, and the various organizations were doing faithful work. The cash balance on hand of the "Session fund" amounted to $32 99. A men's Bible class was organized by the pastor in September. A branch Sabbath school was organized in the southern part of the city, a field hitherto unoccupied. It was opened on the first Sunday in 1892 with bright prospects. Credit was due Messrs. Barron, sen., and John Cameron for the organization and success of "The Pastor's Choir"—an auxiliary choir of young people. The contributions for the schemes of the church amounted in 1890 to $303 70; in 1891 to $503 66. A large number of the congregation had given their help to the forward temperance movement, and pledged themselves to total abstinence from intoxicating liquors as a beverage. There was a net gain of 62 in the membership and a total of 299.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

The annual Sunday school report showed that a marked improvement had been made in every part of this branch of the church. There had been a considerable increase both in the average attendance and the number of names on the roll. Three new classes had been organized, making a total of twenty. The total average attendance in 1890 was 135; in 1891, 152; number on roll in 1890, 195; in 1891, 216. The names of seven teachers and officers had been added to the roll and five had been struck off. The net gain in scholars was nineteen. The Sabbath contributions for missions amounted with interest to $261 45, an excess of $19 53 over 1890. A large number of new books had been added to the library, making a total of over 900 volumes. The receipts during the year amounted to $460 85, and the balance on hand to $12 26.

THE BOARD OF MANAGERS.

At this juncture the chair was vacated by the pastor and occupied by Mr. Robert Reid, chairman of the Board of Managers. The Board of Managers in their report congratulated the congregation on its prosperity during the past year. An average of $285 25 per quarter had been realized over that of 1890. The estimate of what might be obtained from envelopes and collections for carrying on the ordinary work of the congregation was $4,000, but $4,266 63 was the amount realized. This was an increase of $1,140 88 over 1890. Besides providing for all ordinary and current expenses the church debt had been reduced by $1,200, leaving the present liabilities $2,817 66. The collections in the first quarter amounted to $1,023 55; second quarter, $1,080 53; third quarter, $1,042 02; fourth quarter, $1,119 93. The envelopes held $3,641 06, and the open collections amounted to $624 97. The managers expect that at the end of this year the total receipts will have amounted to $4,500. Some difficulty had at times been experienced in providing room for all who desired to attend the Sunday services. The gratifying results were largely due to the untiring efforts of the esteemed pastor, and realizing the increased duties and responsibilities devolving upon him they recommended that his stipend be increased by $200 per annum. They also recommended that a grant of $100 be made for the carrying on of the work at the Waterloo street south Sunday school; that a manse be built or purchased for the pastor and that the Board of Management be empowered to negotiate for the raising of the means necessary for carrying the work to completion; that W. C. Barron's salary as organist and choir master be $450; that the usual grant of $50 be made to the Sunday school, and also that the same ushers be appointed for 1892.

The report was adopted with the exception of the clause regarding a manse for the pastor; that question was referred for further consideration and action, if necessary, to a joint committee composed of the members of Session and members of the new Board of Managers.

A FAMILY AFFAIR.

Father and Son Elope With Sisters—Puzzling Relationship.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—The attempted murder of Mrs. Lewis Brewer, of Meadowbrook, L.I., five years ago was recalled yesterday when it was discovered that Brewer had eloped with a Mrs. Lewis, a widow, who is supposed to have been an accessory to the crime. Brewer is 72 and the widow Lewis 40.

Five years ago Brewer was very attentive to Mrs. Lewis, and he and his wife quarreled over the matter. One morning Mrs. Brewer was found lying in a pool of blood almost chopped to pieces. She did not die, however. Brewer was arrested and sentenced to five years. Mrs. Lewis was tried as an accessory and acquitted. Lawyer George A. Mott defended Brewer and took charge of his property while he was in prison. Brewer had no money to pay him and he took a mortgage on the farm. Mott had the mortgage foreclosed and bought in the farm, allowing Mrs. Brewer to occupy the house. She was supported by her son.

When Brewer was released Mr. Mott effected a reconciliation between the husband and wife and gave Brewer the farm. Brewer represented that the neighbors were down on him and that he wished to move away. Mr. Mott then gave him $1,500 for his interest in the farm. Brewer took the money and eloped with Mrs. Lewis.

The same day Brewer's son, Parmenus, eloped with Mrs. Alice Smith, of Bellmore. Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Smith are sisters. It is thought that father and son, with their partners, are together.

British Grain Trade.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—The Mark Lane Express, in its weekly review of the British grain trade, says: English wheats at a further decline of 1s induced increased buying. The demand, however, was not vigorous. Foreign wheats ruled 6d lower; a slight diminution in supplies checked a greater falling of prices. Californian was neglected at 40s 6d; red winter at 38s 4d. Foreign flour lost 6d per sack; American sold at 31s. Corn was irregular; American sold at 22s 3d; new crop on passage sold at 22s and round on passage at 27s. Oats were firmer; American sold at 18s 3d. Beans and peas steady. Barley dull. At to-day's market the tone was weak; English wheat dropped another 6d, without enlivening the sales. English and American flours were in slightly better demand at the last reduction. Flat corn was offered at 23s. Oats and barley were neglected. The prices of beans and peas were maintained.

Live Stock Markets.

TORONTO.

TORONTO, Jan. 27.—Cattle—There is no improvement to note in this trade. Shippers are not doing much. Butchers' cattle moved slowly, but were pretty well brought up at the close. For a few extra choice fancy fat cattle 4c per lb was paid. The general run was from 2½c per lb for thin animals up to 3¾c for choice.

Sheep and Lambs—This market remains firm under light receipts. Good animals bring from $5 to $6 per head, according to condition and size. There is a moderate demand for lambs for the American market at from $3 to $4 25 per cwt. The local inquiry is not so brisk. Choice stock sells pretty well, but rams and culls are not much called for. Some of these fetch as low as 2c per lb, up to 2¾c. Only a few left in the pens at the close of the market.

Milch Cows and Springers—This market remains firm at from $30 to $50 per head. Good choice springers are wanted.

Calves—There is a weak tone to this trade, and not much doing. Quotations range at from $3 to $8 per head, according to quality, as high as $9 being paid for extra choice veals.

Hogs—Receipts of hogs were light and prices firmer. A number were sent through to Montreal, where good straight fat hogs are in demand. Here the general run for best hogs is from $4 25 to $4 40; for stores and light fat there is hardly any demand, and rough hogs sell slowly. Heavy rough fetch from $4 to $4 20, and half fat about the same. One load of good straight fat hogs was sold for $4 50 per cwt weighed off cars. There is a demand for this class.

EAST BUFFALO.

EAST BUFFALO, N.Y., Jan. 27.—Cattle—Only a few ragged ends on sale and little doing except in a peddling way.

Sheep and Lambs—Offerings, 20 cars, of which 5 cars were Canada lambs. Market fairly active and fully 15c to 20c stronger for good to best lambs; good to best sheep and fat wethers somewhat stronger, say 5c to 10c, than opening prices of the week; best native lambs brought $6 60 to $6 75, and good to choice Canadas also ranged from $6 70 to $6 75; the bulk of the best sheep ranged from $5 25 to $5 40, with common to fair at $4 50 to $5.

Hogs—Supply of sale hogs about 2,500 head. Demand fairly good from packers and prices on this kind were about 5c stronger than yesterday, selling at $4 85 and $4 90; York men were doing nothing at all; a few loads of good heavy-weight Yorkers of 180 and 200 lbs were taken on orders at $4 80 to $4 85.

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, Jan. 27.—The receipts of live stock at the Montreal stock yards for week ending Jan. 25 were as follows: Cattle 603, sheep 351, hogs 265, calves 215. Owing to continued heavy receipts the demand for cattle was not very brisk and trade was dull. Offerings were mostly of inferior stock, for which the prices paid were small, but few sales of any class reached 4c. Sheep trade continues quiet; some inquiry for lambs. No change in the hog market, best values $4 60. We quote the following as being fair values: Cattle, Butchers good, 3½c to 4c; butchers' medium, 3½c to 3¾c; butchers' culls, 2½c to 3c. Sheep, 3c. Hogs, $4 50 to $4 65. Calves, $3 to $8.

The Horse Market.

MONTREAL, Jan. 27.—Trade at the Montreal Horse Exchange, Point St. Charles, during the week has been better than that of last, and 20 horses were sold to shanty and city buyers at prices ranging from $90 to $130 each. A very valuable shipment of four trotting horses was made from these stables during the week to France via Portland; price about $4,000.

Petrolea Oil Market.

PETROLEA, Jan. 28.—Oil opened and closed to-day at $1 20½.

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—Mrs. Baeyertz, the converted Jewess, has recovered from her severe attack of la grippe, and has left Peterboro for Kingston.

—Hunter and Crossley, the evangelists, have raised a hornets' nest around their ears at Nanaimo, B. C., by denouncing infidels and skeptics.

—A. L. Langford, B.A., of the collegiate department, Winnipeg, well known in this city, leaves for the east shortly to accept the position of lecturer of classics in the new Victoria College.

—Patrick Cushing, who died recently in Peel township, is the father of John Cushing, of this city. He came to Canada in 1855, and had been a successful farmer. His widow, four sons and two daughters survive him. Deceased had a wide circle of friends and his funeral was largely attended.

—At the regular meeting of Hammond Lodge, I. O. G. T., London West, the following officers were elected for the ensuing quarter: C. T., Bro. Harper; P. C. T., Bro. Doupe; V. T., Sis. Harper; Chap., Sis. Moore; F. S., Bro. Wilson; R. S., Bro. Hea; Treas., Sis. Doupe; M., Bro. Saunby; G., Bro. McPherson; Sentinel, Sis. Gash; S. J. T., Bro. Doupe; L. D., Bro. Davidson.

—A short time ago an information was laid against Wm. Legg, of London West, charging him with cruelty to animals in allowing an old horse to stand out in the cold. It has since been found that one of the animal's legs is broken. No action towards relieving the animal has as yet been taken. The Humane Society are waiting the judgment of Squires, Smyth and Lacey in the case.

—Rev. H. Morgan, pastor of Sarnia Township Baptist Church, and brother of P. C. Morgan, of this city, has been seriously ill with grippe for some days. A short time ago he took part in a meeting for the police force in Victoria Hall. During his illness his congregation presented him with a handsome cutter and his wife with a set of furs. He is highly thought of by his many friends.

—Hon. Clifford Sifton, the new Attorney-General for Manitoba, arrived in Winnipeg yesterday, and during the day had an interview with the Deputy Minister of Justice. He left Winnipeg a few days ago in company with Premier Greenway, who is about to tour through Ontario in the interests of emigration. Mr. Sifton is a London boy. Our youths do well wherever they go if they take care of their habits.

The proclamation of a state of siege at Bilbao has been the means of cowing the copper miners in the vicinity of that city. The local civil and military authorities were not able to hold the rioters in check, and last evening Gen. Loma and his three battalions of infantry with cannon and detachment of lancers arrived at the scene. He gave the strikers to understand that should occasion arise he would shoot all the rioters down without mercy. Everything is quiet to-day.

—At Osgoode Hall, Toronto, on Wednesday, in Beatty vs. Fitzsimons, Mr. Purdom (London), for the plaintiff, appealed from an order of the Master in Chambers requiring the plaintiff to give security for costs, which order was made on the ground that the plaintiff is not a substantial and solvent person capable of answering costs, and that this action is not brought for the benefit of the plaintiff, but of the Ontario Investment Association. C. J. Holman, for the defendants, contra. Appeal dismissed with costs to the defendants in any event.

—The sound of tin horns could be heard for many blocks last evening in the south ward of the city. It was a sleighriding party of about twenty well known young South London people making their way to the residence of Mr. G. Van Delinder, near Lambeth. A most enjoyable evening was spent, and the party could be heard during the late hours of the morning returning to their several homes. Another visit is promised to Mr. Van Delinder as soon as an opportunity appears. An address was presented to the worthy host and hostess.

Night Station Master Carroll is suffering from la grippe, and his post is being filled by Assistant Stationmaster McCready. Timekeeper Anderson is also under the weather from the same cause.

Grant Barrows, another son, was unable to come from Oregon.

DRIFTING ON.

No News of the Missing Men Who Were Blown Out to Sea.

NEW YORK, Jan 28.—The fourteen men who on Tuesday drifted to sea on scows and a disabled tug off Rockaway, must still be drifting on far out in the Atlantic in the fierce cold gale. No trace of them could be found yesterday by any of the dozen tugs that went searching as far as they dared.

BRUTAL WORK.

A Young Man Probably Fatally Injured in a Prize Fight.

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 28.—Charles Vokes, a well-known prize fighter, and Bob Brown, a young man who had never been in a professional ring before, fought last night on board a ferry boat ten miles down the river. In the fourteenth round Brown fell in a heap. Brown's father, who was a spectator, then rushed in, stopped the fight, and the contest was given to Vokes. Brown was unconscious, and during the trip back every effort was made to restore him, but in vain. Arriving in Cincinnati after midnight, Brown was carried home on a stretcher, apparently in a dying condition.

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM.

Why Not?

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

I should like very much indeed to send my child to the kindergarten, and there are some of my neighbors who have the same desire, but where we live in the northern part of the city no kindergarten is accessible. When we pay for the support of kindergartens in the central and southern parts of the city it is not unreasonable to look to the trustees to extend kindergarten privileges to the northern part. All the rooms in the Waterloo north school are said to be filled. But where there is a will there is a way. I beg to suggest that an effort be made to rent that Sunday school room on the corner of Oxford and Colborne streets. I am sure no board of Sunday school managers would hesitate to make a fair arrangement to have a kindergarten in their building five forenoons in the week. In one town in the States where I visit the kindergartens were started by the churches, and they are yet held in the Sunday school rooms; and considering the nature of a kindergarten, a Sunday school seems a natural place to conduct one.

Fate of Sir Hugh.

Fay only took her ticket to York; she dared not go straight to her destination. When she arrived there she would not put up at the station hotel, but had herself driven to a quiet little hotel for the night. It was an unpretending place, kept by very honest folk; but Fay found herself very comfortable. She made some excuse about not bringing her nurse, and the chamber-maid helped her undress the baby. She was almost too stupified with grief and fatigue by this time to do anything but sleep helplessly; but she made the girl promise to call her early, and ordered a fly to the station; and when the morning came she got into it without telling any one where she was going, and took the midday train for Edinburgh. It would be impossible to describe the nurse's feelings when she opened the packet in the waiting-room and read her mistress' note. "Dear nurse," it said, "I am really very sorry to treat you so badly, but I cannot help it. I have gone away with baby, and I could not take you. Please go back to Singleton by the next train; you will find your box on the platform, and the porter will help you. Sir Hugh will tell you what to do when he arrives this evening—Your affectionate mistress, F. Redmond." And inclosed were two months' wages. In spite of her youth, Fay had excellent business capabilities, only her husband had never found them out.

But unfortunately for the bewildered household at Redmond Hall, Sir Hugh never arrived that evening. First came a hazy telegram, informing them of a change of programme, and later on a special messenger came down from him bringing a letter from Sir Hugh—a very affectionate farewell letter.

Fitzclarence had acted on impulse as usual, and he and Sir Hugh had started that very night, leaving Powis and Egerton to follow them.

CHAPTER XXXIII.

THE MANSE AT ROWAN-GLEN.

Weary I am, and all asfair,
Longing to clasp a hand;
For thou art very far, sweet love,
From my mountain land.

Dear are the clouds yon giant bens
Fold o'er their rugged breasts,
Grandly their straggling skirts lift up
Over the snow-flecked crests.

Dear are the hill-side glooms and gleams,
Their varied purple hue,
The opal sky, with distant peak
Catching its tender blue.

Dear are the thousand streams that sing
Down to the sunny sea,
But dearer to my longing heart
Were one bright hair with thee.
—Hen Marion Burnside.

It was toward evening, at the close of a lovely september day that a rough equipage laden with lugage, with a black retriever gamboling joyously beside it, crept rather slowly down the long lovely road by the Deeside leading to Rowan-Glen, one of those rare gems of Highland scenery that are so so ruggedly in the Cairngorm Mountains.

Fay had just sheltred her sleeping baby from the rays of the setting sun; and sat wearily in the jolting carriage, trying to recall all the familiar landmarks that greeted her eyes.

There were the grands and preserves of Moncrieff, with their lovely fringes of dark pine-trees and silver birches, and a little further on the wicket gate that led down to the falls of Linn of Rowan-Glen.

By and by came a few low cottages built of graystone, and thatched with heather fastened down with a rough network of ropes. One or two of them were covered with honey-suckle and clematis, and had tiny gardens filled with vegetables and flowers, pinks and roses mingling in friendly confusion with gooseberry bushes and cabbages.

A narrow, planted passage ran through the cottages, with a door at the other end opening on to a small field, with the usual cow-house, peat and straw stacks, and a little shed inhabited by a few scraggy cocks and hens which, with "ta coo" herself, are the household property of all, even the poorest, of the Highland peasants.

Fay looked eagerly past them, and for a moment forgot her trouble and weariness; for there, in the distance, as they turned the corner, stretched the long irregular range of the Cairngorm Mountains, with the dark shadow of the Forest of Mar at their base; while to the right, far above the lesser and more fertile hill, rose the snowy heads of those stately patriarchs—Ben-muich-dhui and Ben-na-bourd. Oh, those glorious Highland mountains, with rugged peaks, against which the fretted clouds "get wrecked and go to pieces." What a glory, what a miracle they are! On sunny mornings with their infinity of wondrous color so softly, so harmoniously blended; now changing like an opal with every cloud that sails over them, and now with deep violet shadows haunting their hollows, sunny breaks and flecks, and long glowing stretches of heather. Well has Jean Ingelow sung of them:

"... White raiment, the ghostly capes that screen them,
Of the storm winds that beat them, their thunder rents and scars,
And the paradise of purple, and the golden slopes atween them;"

for surely there could not be a grander or fairer scene on God's earth than this.

A moment later the vehicle stopped before a white gate set in a hedge of tall laurels and arbutus, and the driver got down and came round to the window. "Yonder's't' Manse. Will I carry in the boxes for the leddy?"

"No, no, wait a moment," replied Fay, hurriedly. "I must see if Mrs. Duncan be at home. Will you help me out?" for her limbs were trembling under her, and the weight of the baby was too much for her exhausted strength. She felt as though she could never get to the end of the steep little garden, or reach the stone porch. Yes; it was the same old gray house she remembered, with the small diamond-paned windows twinkling in the sunshine; and as she toiled up the narrow path, with Nero barking delighted round her, the door opened, and a little old lady with a white hood drawn over her white curls, and a gardening basket on her arm, stepped out into the porch.

Fay gave a little cry when she saw her. "Oh, Mrs. Duncan," she said; and she and the baby together seemed to totter and collapse in the little old lady's arms.

"Gracious heavens!" exclaimed the startled woman; then as her basket and scissors rolled to the ground, "Jean, lass, where are you? here are two bairns, and one of them looks fit to faint—ay, why, it is never our dear little Miss Mordaunt? Why, my bairn—" But at this moment a red-haired, freckled woman, with a pleasant, weather-beaten face, quietly lifted the mother and child, and carried them into a dusky little parlor; and in another minute Fay found herself lying on a couch, and her baby crying lustily in Jean's arms, while the little old lady was bathing her face with some cold, fragrant water, with the tears rolling down her cheeks.

"Ay, my bonnie woman," she said, "you have given Jean and me a turn; and there's the big doggie, too, that would be after licking your face—and for all he knows you are better now—like a Christian. Run away, Jean, and warm a sup of milk for the bairn, and maybe his mother would like a cup of tea and a freshly baked scone. There give me the baby, and I'll hold him while you are gone."

"There's Andrew bringing in a heap of boxes," observed Jean, stolidly; "will he be setting them down in the porch? for we must not wake the minister."

"Ay, ay," returned Mrs. Duncan, in a bewildered tone; but she hardly took in the sense of Jean's speech—she was rocking the baby in her arms and looking at the pretty, white, sunken face that lay on the chintz cushion. Of course it was little Miss Mordaunt, but what did it mean—what could it all mean?

"Mrs. Duncan," whispered Fay, as she raised herself on her pillow, "I have come to you because I am so unhappy, and I have no other friend. I am married, and this is my baby, and my husband does not want me, and indeed it would have killed me to stop with him, and I have come to you, and he must not find me, and you must take care of baby and me," and here her tears burst out, and she clung round the old lady's neck. "I have money, and I can pay the minister; and I am so fond of you both—do let me stay."

"Whisht, whisht, my dearie," returned Mrs. Duncan, wiping her own eyes and Fay's. "Of course you shall bide with me; would either Donald or I turn out the shorn lamb to face the tempest? Married, my bairn; why, you look only fit for a cot yourself; and with a bairn of your own, too. And to think that any man could illuse a creature like that," half to herself; but Fay drooped her head as she heard her. Mrs. Duncan thought Hugh was cruel to her, and that she had fled from his ill-treatment, and she dare not contradict this notion.

"You must never speak to me of my husband," continued Fay, with an agitation that still further misled Mrs. Duncan. "I should have died if I had stopped with him; but I ran away, and I knew he would never find me here. I have money enough—ah, plenty—so you will not be put to expense. You may take care of my purse; and I have more—a great deal more;" and Fay held out to the dazzled eyes of the old lady a purse full of bank-notes and glittering gold pieces, which seemed riches itself to her Highland simplicity.

"Impossible for Anything More."

[From the London, Eng., Sunday Times.]

"We recently published an article giving some astonishing experiences with the remedial agent now being introduced into this country as an alleviator and remover of certain diseases hitherto considered as incurable. Miraculous cures were mentioned, verified by gentlemen connected with this paper. It would seem impossible for anything more remarkable to be brought forward. But still more wonderful cases have been brought before our notice, and all old inclinations to doubt and disbelieve have entirely vanished." The forgoing are the remarks, with reference to St Jacobs Oil, of the leading Sunday paper in England.

PROFITABLE DAIRYING.

Ex-Governor Hoard Tells the Farmers of New York the Best Way to Make Dairying Pay—A Lesson Drawn from Experience.

Ex-Gov. W. D. Hoard of Wisconsin spoke "To the Man Who Produces the Milk" at a recent meeting in New York State. He stated that at his creamery in Fort Atkinson there are 100 patrons, and proceeded:

As their head stands a man by the name of McPherson, a dairy student and a Scotchman—a man who does not rest satisfied with doing as his grandfather did, provided he can make more money by doing as he ought to do to-day. He has a herd of 40 cows, and we paid him last year in cash $63 a head for the earnings of his cows in that creamery, and returned him every pound of his skim-milk. We would have been glad to give him $12 a head for his skim milk to feed to pigs; we could have made a good profit on it at that. But he kept it for his own use, so it is fair to say that his cows averaged $75 a head. Now, it is a profitable thing for any farmer to look at that man's practice. The first thing he did was to produce a dairy cow. His intelligence told him that if he would farm for profit with a dairy he must have a dairy machine—a cow specifically bred and fed and cared for, for specific dairy purposes. There is no "general purpose" nonsense about Mr. McPherson. You never would catch that man going out to harrow a piece of ground with at threshing machine, or threshing his grain with a cultivator. So years ago he proceeded to put a thoroughbred butter sire at the head of his herd, and where he previously had 150 pound cows, he now has, by breeding and selection, 350 pound cows. Is there any difference in his fortune? The cost of feeding his old herd was $40 per year per cow; his cost of feeding is no more to-day. So he completely changed his fortune as a milk-producer. In the same creamery, standing right along by the side of Mr. McPherson, is another man, and the only hope the world has of that man is a funeral by-and-by. There he stands end refuses to heed the lessons of his own pocket. We paid him last year $40 per cow, and he has a herd of twenty cows. That man refuses to be instructed to read, to think, to study, and every morning asks of his Maker to bless his stupidity with the reward of intelligence; but it cannot be done. The indictment stands against him, and not against the cow. Now, I am after the milk-producer. I don't care anything about the creamery and cheese factory; they will take care of themselves. What I want is to raise the average intelligence of the dairy farmer. Neither you in New York nor we in Wisconsin can affect for a moment the price of anything; that is beyond our control. What shall we do? We stand at this end of the line, and we can control the cost of production to a certain extent; and that is where our increase of profit must come from. There has not been a proper degree of study on the part of milk-farmers toward improving the breed of their cows, or toward handling dairy cows. There has also been a loss of fertility in the farms. I will agree to find 75 per cent. of the barns in Madison county with the manure piles under the eaves, and all its best qualities going to waste Ammonia, which is nitrogen in another form, is largely eliminated through the urine. What is done to-day to save that? If you go into the market to buy ammoniacal salts by the ton you will have to pay at the rate of 18 cents per pound. If you undertook to buy nitrate of soda you would be required to pay from 12 cents to 16 cents per pound. Now here is a free nitrogen that few farmers in the State pay any attention to, yet it is very valuable. Take common land plaster and put it in your stable night and morning, about a barrel of plaster to eight or nine cows, sprinkled in the gutters behind them and on the manure heaps; and what does it do? It has a wonderful affinity for ammonia.

Step into your horse stable and stir up your horse bedding, and the ammonia will cause your nose to tingle and your eyes to smart; that is worth 15 cents or 16 cents a pound. Sprinkle a handful of land plaster in that stable, and in a minute the ammonia is seized and held until it can be used by the plants as plant food. It does not cost much to do these things, but the idea of coming to an intelligent standard of administration seems to some men to be almost like the translation of Elijah to heaven.

When a cow is giving you a pound of butter a day she is subjecting her nervous system to a very severe strain, for she gives you besides that an equal portion of almost solid protein or nitrogen in the form of casein, and she has had to extract it with a very strong exercise of nervous force. Now, what must you do? If you are a wise man you will administer food to that cow according to the work she doeth; you will give her clover hay, or, if grain food, you will give her bran or linseed meal, or pea meal, or some other food that will support this great exhaustion of nitrogen in her milk production. That is only common sense. Some people call it science, but science is only common sense. Three years ago I went into Canada and Vermont and Nova Scotia, where peas are very largely grown, and I found that pea meal was one of the most consistent foods. And I said, Isn't it possible for the farmer to grow this protein food himself? I commenced to question men who were skillful as pea-growers, and found to my amazement that I knew nothing about growing peas. The average farmer sows his peas over the ground and drags them in, and when the next shower comes you will see them spotted all over the field. Well, they come up, but soon die out. The pea plant must be planted deeply, not less than 4 inches, from 4 to 6. And a larger amount of seed must be grown per acre. Peas produce but one sprout. I got farmers in Wisconsin to plant them in this way, and they raised from 25 to 40 bushels per acre. Now, take bran at $15 a ton; 25 bushels of peas will produce 1,500 pounds of meal. In practical food value to a good cow, two pounds of pea meal is equal to six pounds of bran. Now take the ratio: 1,500 pounds of pea meal will equal 4,500 pounds of bran, and that at $15 a ton would be $33 per acre. Now, gentlemen, there is one economy in reducing the cost of the production of milk, so that a larger amount of money may be lodged in the pocket of the farmer.

The Governor further advocated the use of the silo, and wondered that it was not more largely introduced in New York. He also urged dairymen very strongly to go into winter dairying. Another thing, the only way to make money in dairying is for a man to make an exception of himself. You will hear 99 farmers out of 100 talk about the "average" farmer. Why, my friend, what you want to be is not an "average" farmer, but something above the average. We ought to increase the average; it is too low, and we do not want to take that measure for our own, but endeavor to increase the average.

A young married lady of Port Huron frequently entertains an old flame—while her husband is away, of course. One afternoon last week a lady called suddenly while the flame was cooing and he was hustled into a closet. The caller had brought her knitting and she stayed all the afternoon. When she was gone the closet prisoner was almost gone, too, but fresh air and tender graces restored him to consciousness. The caller was conscious all the while, too, the mean old thing.

Feeding Cows.

Mr. J. F. Hindmarch asks which is the better way, to feed sheaf oats uncut to cows to make milk or butter, or get out the oats and have them crushed? It is hard to tell, as we would do neither, as a rule, but cut the sheaf oats and add some other grain foods—cornmeal or bran, or both. One of our best dairy farmers near the Fort, Mr. S. B. Morrison, unless oats are very abnormally high, in proportion to feeding value as compared with other feed, don't think it pays to thresh and grind oats to feed his cows, but does run them through the straw cutter.

Those who cannot keep the mice out of their sheaf oats may well take counsel of the Germans, who, during the fall and early winter, chaff their oats and pile them in the big bays of their barns. The mice can't make much headway in entering such a pile, for the stuff falls down behind them as they go in, and then it is soon retreat or death for want of breath. They back out, as a rule, and the chaffed oats are saved.

"August Flower"

For two years I suffered terribly with stomach trouble, and was for all that time under treatment by a physician. He finally, after trying everything, said stomach was about worn out, and that I would have to cease eating solid food for a time at least. I was so weak that I could not work. Finally on the recommendation of a friend who had used your preparations with beneficial results, I procured a bottle of August Flower, and commenced using it. It seemed to do me good at once. I gained in strength and flesh rapidly; my appetite became good, and I suffered no bad effects from what I ate. I feel now like a new man, and consider that August Flower has entirely cured me of Dyspepsia in its worst form. JAMES E. DEDERICK, Saugerties, New York.

The Fire, Gas and Market Committee.

Ex-Mayor Taylor's memorandum, in which he recommends the repeal of the huckster bylaw, came before a meeting of No. 3 Committee last night. The Grocers' Association will be notified that the matter will be considered at the next committee meeting. The city engineer stated that since he had sent his letter complaining of the Ball Electric Light Company's service it had undergone a decided improvement. The committee will take no action at present, and the engineer will report again shortly on the condition of the lighting. Ald. Parnell urged the necessity of a fire alarm box on the Emery estate, ward six. Chief Roe will include in his annual report the localities in which fire alarm boxes are required. Fireman Wm. J. Brazier asked payment for extra work on the fire alarm construction. The matter was laid over, and Mr. Brazier will be notified to attend the next meeting. Ald. Parnell, Wm. Heaman, Hannah, Mayor Spencer, the city engineer and Secretary Bell were present, but as the number did not constitute a quorum a minority report will have to be brought in.

MILK AND MEAT

Provide the Business for the New Board of Health — Londoners Must Have Good Milk.

The first business that came before the new Board of Health yesterday afternoon was the election of a chairman. Ald. Hannah moved that ex-Ald. Skinner get the position and ex-Ald. Skinner moved that Ald. Hannah be the presiding officer. Dr. Gardiner thought a member of the Council should be the chairman, as reports from the Board were frequently submitted to that body. He moved, and Ald. Parnell seconded, that Ald. John Heaman be appointed. The motion carried, and in the absence of Mr. Heaman, Mr. Skinner took the chair.

A letter was read from T. P. Webb's lawyers, complaining that the medical health officer had removed some meat from the market wrongfully, alleging it to be diseased, and thereby Mr. Webb had lost his meat and his reputation.

Dr. Hutchinson said he had found the four quarters on the market and it did not need a medical man to see the meat was unfit for use. He had it destroyed.

Dr. Gardiner—We should back our health officer.

The communication was filed.

The Board was puzzled for a time as to what course to pursue towards the three or four dealers whose milk had come under the 3.25 per cent. standard. It had been previously resolved to cut off their licenses. Inspector Bell told of a case where a woman keeping a store sold only three or four quarts a day, and he had not felt like prosecuting her. She bought her milk from a dealer whose percentage was 3.50. Dr. Gardiner moved "that all those milk dealers selling without a license and those who have come under the standard cease selling, at the pleasure of this Board." This was carried. One member remarked it was even more necessary to have good milk than good whisky.

There were present: Mayor Spencer, Aldermen Parnell, Hannah and William Heaman, Doctors Gardiner and Piper, ex-Ald. Skinner, M. H. O. Dr. Hutchinson, Inspector Bell and Secretary Bell.

THE SICK AND SUFFERING.

Meeting of the Hospital Trust—Colonel Lewis Re-elected Chairman—Oddfellows to Fix Up a Room for Ailing Brethren.

Dr. Balfour, Mayor Spencer, Colonel Lewis and Messrs. Complin and Gilmour attended yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Hospital Trust. This was the first meeting of the new Board. Mr. Gilmour moved, Mayor Spencer seconded and Mr. Complin heartily supported the motion that Colonel Lewis be chairman for 1892. Carried.

The account of Wm. Heaman for repairs and last meeting's accounts were passed. The united congregations of Glencoe forwarded a check for $11, amount of collections taken up on Thanksgiving day. Thankfully received.

Since the last regular meeting of the board seven males and twelve females (no children) had been discharged, and there were now 31 males, 25 females and 2 children in the hospital, 14 males, 12 females and 2 children having been admitted. So the medical superintendent reported.

Jesse Symonds and D. W. Blackwell were a deputation from the Oddfellows of the city to ask the board to allow them to fit up a room in the hospital and have the use of it whenever an Oddfellow was sick. They proposed to expend about $100, or more if necessary, in preparing the room. The joint lodges had a surplus on hand and desired to spend it in this way if possible. Mayor Spencer explained that the hospital was poorly furnished and sufficient interest was not taken in it. People should be encouraged to visit it and use it. The usual rates for private patients is 80 and 90 cents per day. The trust decided to allow them to furnish a room subject to their approval, and a rate of 75 cents a day would be charged patients.

George C. Robb, inspector for the underwriters, stated that he had examined the boilers and found them in first-class order.

The chairman explained that Dr. Wilson had called on him requesting that Miss McRoberts, of London West, be admitted as a training nurse. No action was taken in the matter.

WHAT THEY HAVE DONE.

The Adjourned Annual Meeting of St. Andrew's Church.

The Work of Each Department Reported —Individually and Collectively Satisfactory.

The St. Andrew's Church adjourned annual meeting for receiving reports of the various societies connected therewith, was held last evening in the lecture hall, Rev. J. A. Murray presiding.

The secretary of the Missionary Society, Mr. Charles R. Somerville, was first called upon. He read an interesting report, showing that the receipts for the year amounted to $1,114 48, which was appropriated to the twelve schemes of the church. Of this amount $926 46 had been raised by envelope contribution. The total number of subscribers was 232, about one-third of the congregation. The following officers for the ensuing year were elected: Rev. J. A. Murray, honorary president; Wm. Stevely, president; Alex. McIntosh and Robert Allan, vice-presidents; C. R. Somerville, secretary-treasurer.

On behalf of the Fort Pelly mission, Treasurer A. M. Gunn reported a slight falling off in receipts, but the salary of the missionary, Rev. G. A. Laird, had been regularly paid.

The Women's Foreign Mission Auxiliary reported that a request had been received from England asking co-operation in a proposed petition to the Emperor of China to stop the opium traffic. The ladies decided not to interfere in a matter which affected largely the Queen's revenue. The auxiliary had raised $155 29, the second smallest amount raised by any of its sister societies in the city, although St. Andrew's was the largest church. They had only 34 members. The following are the officers for 1892: President, Mrs. Blair; first vice-president, Miss McMillan; second vice-president, Mrs. Rae; third vice-president, Mrs. McCallum; treasurer, Mrs. Ross; assistant secretary, Mrs. Findlay.

The report of the Sunbeam Foreign Mission Band came next. The little folks raised $15 for Crow Stand Mission. Officers of the band: Honorary president, Mrs. (Rev.) J. A. Murray; president, Miss Macdonald; assistants, Misses McMillan, Gunn, Cameron and Gray; treasurer, Miss Crissie McIntosh; secretary, Miss Annie Beattie; organist, Miss May Glover.

The King's Messengers' Foreign Mission Band's report shows 44 names on the roll. The sum of $134 95 was raised and contributed to the various mission schemes. Officers for 1892: Honorary president, Mrs. (Rev.) J. A. Murray; president, Miss Jennie Gunn; first vice-president, Miss M. Auld; second vice-president, Miss J. Gourley; secretary, Miss M. Gray; treasurer, Miss Beattie; organist, Miss Blanch Johnson.

The Women's Visiting and Aid Society's work for the past year has been very effective in relieving distress. They collected and disbursed for relief $393 77. The following are the officers for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Glover; first vice-president, Mrs. Perkins; second vice-president, Mrs. Blair; treasurer, Mrs. Davies; secretary, Miss Lawrie.

The report of the Central Sabbath school was read by Mr. John Lochead, which showed a slight decrease in membership. There are 30 teachers on the roll, and an average attendance of 226 scholars. The aggregate collections amounted to $317 41, which was apportioned to the various schemes of the church. The officers for the year are as follows: A. S. Macgregor, superintendent; R. A. Gray, assistant superintendent; Thos. Bland, treasurer; Miss Muir, organist; Wm. Gillespie, choir leader; Wm. Muir, librarian; Thos. Cockrell, assistant librarian; Miss Gunn, recording secretary; Wm. Gillespie, school secretary.

According to Mr. H. E. Nelles the North End Mission school has 15 teachers, 3 officers and 119 scholars, and is in a flourishing condition. During the year 273 books were added to the library and $25 was raised for missions. The necessary annual expenses would be $195, of which St. Andrew's furnishes $100.

Mr. Wm. Muir reported the Y. P. C. E. Society to be progressing materially and spiritually. It had 145 members, an increase of 63 over 1890. Mr. J. S. Scott was supported in the Northwest mission field by the society during his college vacation. The officers are: President, A. McPherson; vice-president, Miss Croley; corresponding secretary, Miss Bilton; recording secretary, W. H. Muir; treasurer, W. B. Gillespie; organist, John Muir.

The report of the Ladies' Aid Society showed 1,103 visits to have been made by its members, who had increased by nine. The officers are: Honorary president, Mrs. Murray; presidents, Mesdames Purdom and Blair; secretary, Mrs. Davies; treasurer, Miss Laurie.

Rev. Mr. Murray read the Session's report. It referred among other things to the efficiency of the Bible class under Principal Merchant's tuition, to the good work done by all the teachers, to the capabilities of the choir under Charles E. Wheeler's direction, to the loss sustained by the death of Dr. J. M. Fraser and other faithful members, and in terms of gratitude to the temporal progress during the year.

The meeting then adjourned. During the evening the choir, Mr. Wheeler leading, added greatly to the general pleasure.

Whitewashing Cow Stables.

The condensed milk factories in New York, in their contracts with the farmers for milk, specify that the stables and sheds for keeping the cows shall be thoroughly ventilated and mostly whitewashed during the first month of such contract. The contracts are made twice a year, on the 12th of September and the 12th of March, thus causing the stables and sheds to be whitewashed twice a year also.

In writing upon this question and the opinions of the farmers concerning this practice, a correspondent of the Country Gentleman states as follows:

"Whitewashing stables is an innovation made by the factory, and it has come to stay. No milk farmer who has tried it would neglect to continue doing so were the obligations stricken from the contract. Stables otherwise dark and dismal are made pleasantly light, oftentimes obviating the necessity of a lantern on dark mornings and evenings. With the whitewashing there is of necessity a cleaning away of dust and cobwebs, and the sweetening and purifying effect of the lime is everywhere apparent. I well remember the first general whitewashing. The cows actually refused to enter the stables when the white walls met their eyes. They seemed to regard them as probably cleaned up for the master's own occupancy, such a whiteness, neatness and sweetness being foreign to the realm of dumb beasts. The factory folks are enthusiasts on the subject of whitewash, and I am told went to the extreme at one time of whitewashing a cast-iron negro hitching post. However, the thanks of every milk farmer are due to the factory for its enforcement of a practice that has become recognized as a needful and useful requirement in the milk business."

This is but another pointer in proof of the value of more intelligent practices for the care of our dairy herds. The condensing factories would not require it if they did not think it essential to the health of the cows. If it is essential, every keeper of dairy cows is just as much interested in doing such things as are the patrons of condensing factories.

We have no hesitation in saying that Dr J. D. Mr. Job Scales, of Toronto, writes: "A short time ago I was suffering from Kidney Complaint and Dyspepsia, sour stomach and lame back; in fact, I was completely prostrated and suffering intense pain. While in this state a friend recommended me to try a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. I used one bottle, and the permanent manner in which it has cured and made a new man of me is such that I cannot withhold from the proprietors this expression of my gratitude."
