GERMANS VIOLATE TREATY BY ENDEAVORING TO SEND ARMS TO MEXICO; SHIPMENTS SEIZED

Machine Guns and Accessories in Transit From Germany Are Held Up in Holland by Order of the Allied Military Authorities—Explanation Is Demanded From German Government.

Coblenz, Dec. 18.—Two shipments of machine guns and machine gun accessories, many and discovered in transit across Holland, have been held up by the allied military authorities, according to information reaching the American officials here. The exportation of war material by Germany is a violation of the armistice and peace treaty. The German Government has been asked to explain the shipments and notified not to attempt any similar exportation of such arms.

The first shipment consisted of four carloads of second-hand machine guns, all boxed and ready for ocean transport. This shipment consisted of 2,535 machine guns, and according to Marshal Foch, the guns arrived in Holland on November 28, the senders being the firm of Brockelmann & Senetgrun of Cassel.

SIR ROBERT IS URGED BY HIS FOLLOWERS TO STAY ON JOB

Premier Is Being Bombarded With Appeals.

ANNOUNCEMENT TODAY

Head of Union Government Will Issue Statement This Afternoon.

DEFINITE DECISION TODAY. (Special to The Advertiser.) Ottawa, Dec. 18.—There was a full cabinet council this morning at which Sir Robert Borden was present. When it re-assembled at 10 o'clock the premier stated that there was nothing to give out. He intimated, however, that there might be a statement this afternoon.

The impression is growing that the making of the colleagues of the prime minister are urging him to remain a while longer, and a considerable amount of resentment is manifested at what are termed "premature" and "unauthorized" announcements as to his intentions. It is expected today.

DON'T WORRY!

The Border City doctors have decided, so they say, to give no more prescriptions until after Christmas Day. The life on tight and can't be pried by friendship or by wealth. And they'll stand about a fellow's health. But what's the use of worrying? Throughout the live-long year, When Windsor folk get ailments, doctors lend a willing ear, But now that Christmas has come these doctors say, That folks who eat plum pudding do not need a doctor's 'per'.

BOLSHEVIKI TO OPEN OFFENSIVE ON POLAND NEXT

Denekine's Army Is Badly Beaten On All Fronts.

SITUATION HOPELESS

Trotsky Depending On Aid From German Volunteer Detachments.

Berlin, Dec. 18.—Advises received by the Ukrainian mission here concerning the progress of the forces of General Denekine, the anti-Bolshevik leader in South Russia, lead to the belief among the members of the mission that Denekine's situation is almost hopeless. The reports say that after Denekine's breakdown, Trotsky, the Bolsheviki minister of war, intends to spring an offensive against Poland, and that for this purpose he reckons aid from German volunteer detachments and a new Chinese army which is being recruited in Eastern Siberia.

PREMIER DRURY MAY RUN IN NORTH NORFOLK, A LIBERAL RIDING UNTIL LAST ELECTION

Hon. W. E. Raney, Attorney-General, Will Seek Election in North Victoria Riding, While Minister of Agriculture Will Be Candidate in South Wellington.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Toronto, Dec. 18.—As stated semi-officially a few days ago, Hon. W. E. Raney, the new attorney-general, will run in North Victoria, where Rev. Edgar Watson is willing to step aside in his favor.

The prime minister himself would prefer to sit for his own county of Simcoe, where O. H. Murdoch of East York Centre, and J. E. Johnston of East Simcoe are ready to make way for him. In the event, however, of the election protests, filed by the Conservative party, preventing Mr. Drury from being elected in Simcoe in time to take his seat when the Legislature meets, the prime minister will most likely run in the former Liberal riding of North Norfolk, which was won at the recent general election by Mr. George David Sewell, a prominent U. P. C. member, of Waterford. Mr. Drury is a former Liberal, and there is no doubt that he could carry Norfolk by a large majority.

The new minister of agriculture, Hon. Manning Doherty, will run in the constituency of South Wellington, if the present arrangement is carried out. The riding was vacated from the Liberals at the general election by Rev. Caleb H. Buckland, a former Conservative, whose acceptance of an important post in the chaplain service may be announced shortly. Mr. Doherty is an old resident of Guelph, where for many years he was a leading member of the staff of the Ontario Agricultural College. The by-elections will take place some time in January.

Joint defendants with Bela Kun are Jose Dinari, and a man named Orlai, who are charged with the actual crime.

VETERAN IS FREED ON ADMISSION OF DESERTION CHARGE

Given Suspended Sentence, But Loses Gratuity.

John Joseph Farmer, a returned soldier, who was convicted of desertion in January and went home to Detroit on leave, was brought back to court on Monday. He was allowed to go on suspended sentence this morning.

On his previous appearance, Capt. Miller, the acting provost marshal, recommended suspended sentence, but Magistrate A. M. Graydon reserved judgment, being of the opinion that if sentence was suspended, the case might be prejudiced by that action.

WINDSOR PEOPLE ARE MAKING PROFITS ON AMERICAN MONEY

Merchants and Banks Allow From 7 to 8 Per Cent.

New York, Dec. 18.—An Associated Press dispatch from Detroit this morning says: In Windsor, Ontario, across the Detroit River, from this city, buyers of American money are making high profits, according to a leading Windsor banker who declares that 75 per cent of the approximately $250,000 that goes monthly to Windsor from here is bought at a premium.

A sign displayed in a window of a Windsor store this week reads: "American Money Bought Here: Highest Prices Paid," the dealer's price being seven per cent. Chartered banks less than a block away were taking all offerings at eight per cent. It was stated. Retail stores advertise in the newspapers that they allow seven per cent on American currency while street car conductors are making handsome profits.

FIRE FORCES TWENTY ST. JOHN FAMILIES FROM THEIR HOMES

Blaze Destroys a Block of Wooden Buildings At Loss of $50,000.

St. John N. B., Dec. 18.—With the mercury 16 below zero, fire gripped a block of wooden buildings at 1 a.m. today and gave practically the whole city fire department a night till day. Fortunately there was no wind. The fire started in a four-story wooden building owned by George Chamberlain, and spread on and spread on both sides of the corner. Some twelve families lived in the upper part of the buildings and were forced into the bitter night by the flames. Except for the business houses there was little insurance and an estimate places the loss at $50,000.

CANADIAN GRADUATES HAVE CHANCE IN PEACE SERVICE OF EMPIRE

Acting Principal of McGill Points Out Opportunities Afforded.

Montreal, Dec. 18.—That through the adventurous spirit of the Canadian and because of the valuable opportunities being offered by the Empire, the graduates of the Canadian universities would be quite likely to enter the peace-time service of the Empire, if any worth-while posts were offered by the colonial office, was the opinion expressed yesterday by Dean P. D. Adams, acting principal of McGill University. The question was raised by speeches of Professor A. P. Newton of London University, and the Royal Colonial Institute, who addressed the student body on Tuesday afternoon, on the interchange of university study between Canada and Great Britain and also appealed strongly in an address made the same day, before the Women's Canadian Club, for trained young men to recruit the civil service of Great Britain in India, the colonies and the remote dependencies.

MAJORITY FAVOR THAT CARINTHIA REMAIN AS PART OF AUSTRIA

Vienna, Monday, Dec. 15.—Reports from the Carinthian plebiscite indicate there was a large majority in favor of that province remaining an integral part of Austria, even in towns already under Czech control.

MILK PRODUCERS BLAME SPREAD CHARGED BY DISTRIBUTORS FOR PRICE OF PRODUCT TO CONSUMERS

Declare It Is Full Cent a Quart More Than in Toronto — Think Reports of Meeting Left Wrong Impression.

Milk producers who attended the "talk fair price committee" meeting at the city hall yesterday are today complaining that owing to the course taken at the meeting only the producers' statements were heard, and that consequently the newspaper reports placed them in a bad light in the eyes of the consumers.

They claim that a point not brought out in their favor was that in London the average price paid by the dealers is 14 cents per quart, while in Toronto it is 15 cents per quart. A few producers, by threatening to quit the business, are said to have secured $2.20 per quart for their milk, while in Toronto it is $1.75 per 40-pound can, which is equal to $4.68 per cwt.

Blame the Distributors.

Another claim they make is that the spread between the price obtained by the producers and that paid to the distributors is less in Toronto than in London. The difference is a fraction more than 10 cents per quart in Toronto, while in London it is 15 cents per quart.

In the Queen City the price of milk to the consumer is 17 cents per quart. In London the price of milk ranges from seven quarts for $1, or a fraction over 14 cents per quart, to 15 cents per quart. In Toronto it is 15 cents per quart, bought from a passing milkman, and 8 cents per pint for single cans sold at grocery stores.

Prince Expresses Appreciation of Welcome While in Canada

London, Dec. 18.—Sir Edward E. Cooper, lord mayor of London, on behalf of the city, today formally welcomed the Prince of Wales home after the prince's visit to Canada and the United States. The ceremony took place in the Guildhall in the presence of a representative gathering, including Premier Lloyd George, former Premier Herbert H. Asquith, Sir George H. Porter, high commissioner of Canada, Lord Morris and Ambassador Davis and Consul-General Skinner.

The prince, replying to the lord mayor's address, said that the warmth of the welcome he experienced by Newfoundland at first, followed him throughout his travels in North America. He said he greatly enjoyed his first visit to Canada and the United States, where he was accorded the hospitality for which these countries are famous, and expressed his appreciation of the cordiality with which he was entertained.

CAUSES OF FIRE IN NEW JERSEY ARSENAL BEING INVESTIGATED

Loss Estimated to Amount to More Than a Million.

Dover, N. J., Dec. 18.—Causes of the spectacular fire which swept over part of the Pottamary arsenal following an explosion in the research laboratory last night, were made the subject of an official investigation by army officers today.

The fire destroyed four buildings, entailing a loss estimated as high as $1,000,000. Five men were injured, one seriously fatally, but so far as could be ascertained, there was no loss of life. The plant was said to be deserted at the time except for guards.

The explosion rocked buildings in this town and was heard forty miles away. The work of fighting the fire was made hazardous by exploding shells, and it was several hours before the flames were brought under control.

TWO PERISH IN FIRE IN BOSTON APARTMENT

Fifty Persons Driven Out in Zero Weather.

Boston, Dec. 18.—Fire in the Abbotsford, an exclusive apartment hotel in the back bay district, caused the death of two persons and drove nearly fifty others to the street in zero temperature early today.

William R. Whitney, a construction engineer, was fatally injured when he jumped from a third-story window, and Mrs. Frances E. Cole was found burned to death on the fifth floor.

The property damage was mainly on the fifth and sixth floors, where the fire broke through the interior air shaft.

TURKS AND ARABS IN UPRISING IN PARTS OF MESOPOTAMIA

British Authorities Taking Measures To Handle the Situation.

London, Dec. 18.—A Turco-Arabian movement of considerable proportions has developed in Mesopotamia, and there is danger of a flare up if the trouble should spread, according to the war office today. The Arabs are reported to have burned government buildings at Hozaz and are reported to be still in possession of that place. A Turco-Arab coalition is reported in the direction of Bagdad. The British authorities, it is announced, are taking measures to handle the situation.

SCAPA FLOW QUESTION IS AGAIN CONSIDERED BY SUPREME COUNCIL

Several Propositions Submitted, But No Definite Action Taken.

Paris, Dec. 18.—The question of the compensation Germany should make for the sinking of the Scapa Flow fleet was again before the supreme council today. Louis Loucheur, minister of reconstruction, and Georges Leygues, minister of marine, of the French cabinet, made reports on the discussions and German experts over the compensation problem. Several propositions were presented to the council, but no definite decision was taken.

One more boundary question was settled by the council today, when it delimited the frontier between Galicia and Bukovina.

The council met at the French ministry of foreign affairs, with Jules Cambon presiding in the absence of Premier Clemenceau.

Chancellor Renner of Austria, having secured action by the council for the relief of the Austrian people, will leave Paris this evening.

No meeting was set for today between the allied representatives and the German experts on shipping affairs.

PACKERS ARE URGED TO WITHDRAW FROM GROCERY BUSINESS

Negotiations Between U. S. Government and Packers Still in Progress.

Washington, Dec. 18.—Negotiations between the meat packers and the Government, it became known today, have been going on for some time with the object of comprising the anti-trust prosecution, which is still in the stage of a grand jury investigation. It is understood that one of the plans considered is the withdrawal of the packers from side lines such as the wholesale grocery business, which various reports of the federal trade commission have charged them with seeking to dominate.

Plans also have been under consideration by some of the packers for the separation of their corporations into separate entities somewhat such as the Standard Oil and American Tobacco Companies accepted after the supreme court's dissolution decree. Attorneys for the big five packers were in conference again today with officials of the government's division of justice. Assistant Attorney-General Carvan, with whom the packers' counsel conferred, said there would be no statement until late today, indicating that a settlement might be imminent. Attorney-General Palmer said, however, no agreement had yet been reached.

LOD ROBERT CECIL SAYS SOLDIERS' TOMBSTONES ARE OF TOO PLAIN A TYPE

Advocates Greater Variety to Mark Graves of Veterans.

London, Dec. 18.—The imperial war graves commission was sharply criticised in the House of Commons today by Lord Robert Cecil and others for general mistakes in administration and especially for the restriction of private friends to one type of tombstone. Uniformity, however, had its advocates in the debate, and Right Hon. Winston Churchill warmly defended the committee's work and the policy which dictated that the brave dead of all ranks should receive the same treatment.

The Times, while agreeing that the arguments for rigorous uniformity command respect, protests against the demand of a family's surrender of rights over the individual to the state, and urges that at least limits of choice be made ampler than the committee has decreed.

SEPARATE SCHOOLS NOMINATION LIKELY TO BE INTERESTING

Movement On Foot To Elect New Trustees.

OBJECTIONS ARE VOICED

Ratepayers Say Children Have Not Advantages Given in Public Schools.

Separate school supporters are said to be taking an unusual interest in the forthcoming nominations of candidates for the separate school board. It is claimed in some circles that the nomination list was closed before the legal time and that as a result a popular movement had been prevented from going to the polls.

Much objection is also being voiced by separate school supporters as to the standard of some of the schoolhouses and school equipment, which, they claim, is much below the standard demanded and maintained in the public schools.

"Surely our children have as much right to the best that can be provided for them in the matter of housing and schooling equipment while they are at school," said a separate school supporter to an Advertiser reporter today. "The board should see to it that the nomination list was closed before the legal time and that as a result a popular movement had been prevented from going to the polls."

CANADA IS PROSPEROUS ALTHOUGH FACING HER GREATEST OBLIGATIONS

Dr. Adam Shortt Points Out Need For Careful Financing.

Montreal, Dec. 18.—Trade returns, bank returns and prices, all apparently show that Canada is even more prosperous now than she was before the war, she was before it; but, contended Dr. Adam Shortt, speaking before the McGill College Club yesterday, these appearances are deceptive, and Canada is really faced with very heavy obligations, which can be met only by unflinching sacrifice. He noted that the greater part of the sacrifice for the war has yet to be made, and that the government has the moment the sacrifice of life.

COMMUNISTS SEIZE ALL PUBLIC BUILDINGS, BUT REIGN IS SHORT LIVED

Vienna, Monday, Dec. 15.—Communists in Vienna, Austria, recently rose and turned out the city government, seizing the public buildings and establishing a Soviet council. The new regime can last only a short time, however, lasting but two hours, when troops arrived and restored the government to control.

FAMOUS LIBRETTIST ILLICA DIES IN ROME

Provided Words For Fifty Grand Operas.

Rome, Dec. 18.—Luigi Illica, Italy's foremost grand opera librettist, died today. In all, he gave the words to fifty operas, including works by Puccini, Mascagni, Cilea, Giordano and Franchetti. The libretto of Mascagni's "Iris" and Puccini's "La Boheme" were written by Illica, who also, aided by Giacomini, developed the libretto of Puccini's "Madam Butterfly."

Illica had been ill for several years and unable to write.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY BILLION FRACS NEEDED TO RECONSTRUCT FRANCE

Paris, Dec. 18.—Louis Loucheur, minister of reconstruction, who recently told the Chamber of Deputies that he estimated the cost of reconstructing devastated regions would be $5,000,000,000 francs, actually figures the amount necessary to be 130,000,000,000 francs, according to the Astin.

KITCHENER BODY OPPOSES HYDRO RADIAL BYLAW

Street Railway Commission Objects to Outside Body Controlling Streets.

Kitchener, Dec. 18.—The local commission, which operates the Kitchener Waterford street railway, has gone on record as opposed to the hydro-radial bylaw to be submitted to the ratepayers on January 1.

In the resolution passed by the commission it is maintained that the company is handicapped by the bylaw, which has no relief in sight until the Chippewa development is completed.

In addition the commission thinks it unwise to hand over the control of the city streets to an outside body.

ANOTHER BIG JUMP IN BUILDING FIGURES

$47,100 Added Today Bring $2,104,720 Total.

December building figures have again leaped upward to the extent of $47,100 in one day. This amount was added to the total of $2,104,720, which was the total for the year when permits for two more residences for the London housing commission were issued, and a report was made on the building at the Ontario Housing Commission.

New buildings to the extent of $38,000 were added to this institution this year. They included a new house on Elgin street at a cost of $2,104,720, and a similar one on Salisbury street. J. H. Nichols is the contractor. Miss Toomey will erect a 15-story brick dwelling on Chesapeake street at a cost of $3,800.

The building commission for the year now stand at $2,104,720. It is expected that a permit for $300,000 for the new medical school will be issued this month, which will bring the total to nearly $2,500,000.

Serbians Charged With Placing Women and Children in Front.

It is declared in an official communication today from the foreign ministry of the Montenegrin Government, the seat of which is in a suburb of Paris. NATIONALISTS WILL SUBMIT MOTION ON IRISH QUESTION

London, Dec. 18.—The national party in the House of Commons has given notice of a motion on the Irish question, reading as follows:

"The House, in view of the fact that the Sinn Fein organization has made it abundantly clear that it will not accept any form of home rule retaining the governing powers of the Government at Westminster, decline to proceed with legislation which cannot be acceptable to any considerable section of opinion in Ireland, and calls upon the Government to enforce law and order in that country."

MOTOR MACHINE GUN BRIGADE TO BE FORMED HERE; THIS BRANCH OF SERVICE HAD WONDERFUL GROWTH

When War Broke Out Canada Had No Machine Gunners, But
At End of Hostilities Had Over 7,000—Militia Force of Like Number To Be Organized.

London Military District No. 1 will have a militia machine gun brigade.
This has been decided definitely, and organization is now under way, and likely will be completed early in the new year.

Not only was the great war directly responsible for the revision of many accepted theories on military tactics and strategy, but it also brought about an evolution in some arms of the service, which has today produced an effective military fighting unit almost as unlike its origin as chalk is from cheese.
Probably no arm of the service felt the effect of this evolution more than the machine gun sections attached to the active militia units in Canada and the territorial battalions in the British Isles.

Before the war the machine gun organization of the Canadian militia was practically nil and its armament comprised a few old Maxim and Colt machine guns, plus two Vickers guns, one of which at the outbreak of war was in a hardware store as a curiosity. Immediately following the outbreak of the war, the existing machine gun sections of each battalion were increased, the newly-authorized equipment of each section being four Colt guns and the establishment, 30 men, all ranks, and this organization continued practically intact for the first 15 months of the war.

Reorganization.
Early in 1916, however, a reorganization took place, the result of which, following special schools of instruction, was the formation in France of Canadian machine gun companies as separate units, one company being attached to each infantry brigade. Later in the same year came the formation of the Machine Gun Corps as a distinct branch of the service, which gave an extra machine gun company to each division of four infantry brigades.
Further expansion of the use of the machine gun and the adoption of a lighter gun resulted early in 1918 in the organization of the Machine Gun Corps into Machine Gun Battalions, one battalion to each division, and the formation of No. 1 and No. 2 Motor Machine Gun Brigades, which were used as corps troops. These motor brigades comprised the Sifton Motor Machine Gun Corps, formed in 1914, and equipped with Colt guns; the Borden Machine Gun Corps, formed in 1915; Eaton's Machine Gun Corps, with the 3rd Division, and the Tukon Machine Gun Corps, attached to the 4th Division. In 1916 when the corps were formed they were issued with the Vickers machine gun, 16 guns to a company.

The Battalions.
The machine gun battalions formed in 1918 comprised three companies of four batteries, each battery being equipped with eight guns, or a total of 96 guns to the battalion. The personnel consisted of about 160 officers and 1,600 other ranks.

At the close of the war the Canadian corps had a machine gun force of four machine gun battalions, two motor machine gun brigades, and a cavalry machine gun squadron, comprising a deliv-ing force of between 7,000 and 8,000 of all ranks, and including men from every province of the Dominion. It was equipped with 476 Vickers machine guns firing 500 rounds per minute, each gun operated and supplied with ammunition by from four to six men.

Militia Unit.
The present proposed machine gun organization attached to the active militia will comprise one machine gun brigade in each military district. Each brigade will consist of 40 officers and 400 other ranks, and will be equipped with 72 Vickers guns. In addition to this force, there will be a motor machine gun brigade, with 40 guns, distributed in M.
D. No. 4, Montreal, and No. 11, Vancouver, and a motor machine gun squadron stationed in M. D. No. 10, Winnipeg.

The permanent personnel of the machine gun battalions will be an adjunct sergeant-major and an orderly-room sergeant. The remainder of the officers and men will be recruited in the same manner as existed in the militia prior to the war.

There will be two weeks' training away from the district headquarters of the battalion each year. The social amenities of life will not be forgotten for each battalion will have its machine gun club and properly furnished clubrooms. An indoor baseball team, boxing bouts and other athletic amusements will be arranged. A special object of interest to the battalion will be the welfare of returned men and it will assist in all ways possible in the re-establishment of veterans in civil life.

The corps will be open to returned men and to youths who were unable to go overseas. Already the officer who is in London organizing the M. D. No. 1 Machine Gun Brigade has received a number of applications for enrollment in the new unit from both officers and other ranks, and in order to hasten and simplify the work of enrollment an office for this purpose has been opened at the armories, London, with a sergeant-major in charge.

L. & P. S. AND WATER BYLAWS INDORSED BY LABOR COUNCIL

Favor Increased Fares For Street Railway!

H. B. ASPLANT AT T. AND L.

Labor Men Decide To Take Up Question of Juvenile Court.

Indorsement was given the bylaw to raise by debentures $200,000 for the London and Port Stanley Railroad, and the bylaw to raise by a similar method $100,000 for new reservoirs, by the Trades and Labor Council at its regular meeting on Wednesday night.
It was decided also to send three delegates to a committee, consisting of members of the various organizations which are interested in the welfare of the city, this committee to urge upon the city council the need for a juvenile court in this city.

Philip Pocock, chairman of the public utilities commission, E. V.
Buchanan, general manager, and J. A.
Vining and Thomas MacFarland, who are members of the board, told of the necessity for the issuing of debentures for the two purposes which afterwards were indorsed. At present, it was said, the city was using 6,000, 000 gallons. Next year, if the reservoir bylaw was passed, another reservoir would be built and then the city would have a supply of 10,000,000 gallons.
The following year the volume would be 20,000,000 gallons.

Playgrounds Bylaw.
Mr. Vining also appeared on behalf of the playground bylaw and the juvenile court bylaw. He was representing the Rotary Club. The saving of one boy from a life of crime was well worth all the money that would be spent in a year on the court, as his opinion. Delegates Fred Burk, James Hussey and George Jackson were appointed as the committee of three to attend the meeting of the general committee.

On the motion of Fred Burk, seconded by Delegate Macfarland, it was decided to support the fares increase bylaw. Previous to this, John Ashton and David Middaugh, delegates from the street railwaymen's union, had made a plea on behalf of their fellow-workers. If the fares were increased the men would still receive their six-cent increase in wages. If they were not raised a tie-up would result.

Henry B. Asplant, the labor candidate for the mayor's chair, spoke briefly. He had heard of things that were being said about him behind his back.
These he ignored, but was willing to face openly anyone who had anything to say regarding him. It was not the man personally, but the movement that should be supported in the coming election, he said.

A letter will be sent to the chairman of the board of governors of Western University, asking that the contractors on the work of building the new medical school be asked to treat their labor fairly in regard to hours and wages.

The public utilities will be requested to have all its printing done in shops that are fair to unions.

Textile Organizer.
John J. Thomas, international organizer of the textile workers' union, spoke of the need for the organization of the textile industry in this city. In parts of the United States, he said, union workers were getting almost $100 per week for the same work that men here were receiving $30. It was to the interest of all organized labor to aid in the organization of the workers here. Until they were 100 per cent organized, London would not be fully organized and unionism would always be in fear of men from this trade taking their positions while they were on strike, as this class of labor after having served its apprenticeship was capable of operating after very little training almost any class of machine. He remarked that as the textile trade was such a poor paying one, and as the conditions were not of the best, those engaged in it were always seeking other positions.

A number of meetings of the textile workers' union had been held, and another one for the purpose of continuing the organization of the trade is to be held in Hyman Hall on Thursday evening.

REJECTS AMENDMENT.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 17.—The Senate, by a vote of 42 to 25, rejected an amendment by Senator Poinsett which would have denied the inter-

short haul.

CONSCRIPTION NOT WANTED.

Under pressure, doubtless, from the Union cabinet at Ottawa, Major Gen. Newburn has hastened to deny the report that he is calling for a measure of conscription for the permanent force and militia in Canada. The result is that the military enthusiasts who hastened to commend his view are left rather flat on their backs. If there is one thing that the Unionist cabinet will not place in its platform at the present time it is conscription for the militia, or for the permanent force, either, for that matter. It is a world weary of militarism that is starting out now on the task of rebuilding what war-mad militarists have broken down.
Neither Canada, nor any other civilized country, for that matter, is in the mood just now to lead to another war.

Give any encouragement to anything that might lead to another war. It is only a few days ago Ottawa reported that the estimates for the militia department for next year would be $25,000,000. The report was officially denied, but there is little doubt that the military bureaucracy at Ottawa are after this amount, or more, if they can get it. To do what? To maintain the militia, we are told, and to give the young men of Canada proper physical training. If one may judge by the character of militia expenditure in 1914, and before, the share that was devoted to actual militia training and the physical improvement of young Canada show up rather slimly beside the amount spent on maintaining a vastly over-manned department at Ottawa, with inspectors, deputy inspectors and deputy-deputy inspectors for this,
that and everything the country over, traveling in style, and all landing pickings in the shape of allowances for house, for fuel, for clothing, for horse-keep, and what not; not to mention such extravaganzas as the building of political drill halls at cross-roads, and the sending of de luxe parties of officers on joy-rides to Europe. Canada is pretty familiar with the militia department and its ways. The era of Sam Hughes was a heyday for the honorary colonels and their lesser lights, and before the department of today gets any $25,000,000 there will be a demand to know how it is going to spend it.

At the present time a young man, sick and under doctor's care, lies in London jail. What is his offence? Simply that he neglected, or was unable, according to his own statement, to comply with a red-tape technicality of some military martinet. That young man served his country, offered his life, if need be, on Flanders fields, but he will probably spend this Christmas in a county jail, where he will have time to consider carefully the ideals for which he went to war, and may also compare a Christmas in jail with a Christmas in the trenches. The Great War Veterans' Association have taken up this case, as they have had occasion to take up other cases of somewhat similar character before this, and they may be counted upon to see this thing through. One can hardly think that any officer who himself saw France would be responsible for this kind of military justice, and local officers, to their credit, asked the court to be lenient. But the young man is still in jail while Ottawa thinks it over. Most of us associate this sort of thing with Germany and its Zabern incidents. We rather prided ourselves, too, that it was to wipe out this kind of thing that we entered the war freely and of our own volition. To have the same thing arising in our own land is rather a shock.

Canada is no pacifist country. We do not have to tell others what we did in the war.
We do not claim to have won it, do not even say very often what share we think we had in winning it. We prefer to let others make that estimate. And just because we are that kind of a people, and because we honor every man who fought or served, but refuse absolutely to deliver ourselves up to any military autocrats or bureaucrats, we will have something to say about what the measure of our service in the future shall be, who shall dictate it, and what its character shall be.

THE HEALTH OF THE SOUL.

Sanitation has grown in a few years from a fad to a science. Precautions that are common today in every civilized home used to be considered as the absurd requirements of foolish old men. The compound microscope has assembled the facts concerning preventable disease.
The practical test given to modern medicine by the Japanese in the war with Russia is impressive. The abolition of yellow fever in Panama was corroborative. The testimony of sanitary practice in the great war was convincing.
Enteric and tetanus, the former terrors of warfare, are definitely conquered. Experiment has proved in both war and peace that life in the open air is both salutary and wholesome. The hygiene of the body has become of commanding importance.

There is also a hygiene of the mind. Educationalists have discovered by experiment and investigation that some forms of teaching are unwholesome. The rise of cold intellectualism to a position of dominance was a disaster for Germany and a curse to the world. Much learning, in conjunction with lack of character, has been proven more dangerous than the typhoid-bearing fly or the poisonous mosquito. On the other hand, the superficial education that makes a sentimental, unreal novel the book of the year is causing real alarm to the leaders of the people. Some day our education may be revised in the light of scientific mental hygiene.

There is a hygiene of the soul. Just as physical hygiene has one object, to adjust the human body to harmonize with the laws of life, so physical sanitation must seek to adjust the soul to the spiritual laws of God. The world has abundant proof of the dangers of insanitary soul-life. The man who knowingly chooses to perform a wrong action, or to accept a low ideal, is destroying himself and endangering the soul as surely as the man who drinks sewage-laden water or who denies the existence of ptomaines. The insanitary soul is even worse than the insanitary mind. Ignorance is less mischievous than crime. Sentimentality is less dangerous than irreverence. Thousands of folk who are deeply concerned about their bodily health live continually in the fetid atmosphere of moral corruption. Some learned persons talk very lightly of national and individual sin. They even question the existence of sin. Perhaps, also, questioning personages may yet be found who deny the existence of typhoid fever or the efficacy of the serum treatment for its prevention.

The Christian church preaches the gospel of soul-sanitation. It is time for the people of Canada to overlook the health of the personality.
Is it wise to care for the mortal body and neglect the morsel of immortality that dwells within it?

GEN. PERSHING REPORTS.

Americans who have put an over-emphasis on America's contribution to the triumph should peruse Gen. Pershing's report on the operations of American troops in France. They would be greatly enlightened as to who won the war.
The nearest Pershing comes to claiming the supreme honor for his fighters is his statement that American troops arrived in time to shatter the Hun's last drive. Undoubtedly the fine dash of the American soldier helped throw back the enemy with a speed and decisiveness that was spectacular, but from end to end of the long line, British and French forces delivered one terrible blow after another until Ludendorff cried quits. There is no single Allied army that can take credit for the victory beyond that of any other. Combined under the incomparable Foch they swept back the German line.
The glory is shared by all.

NO WET SPELL FOR SAM.

Some millions of Americans have been disappointed by the decision of the United States supreme court that wartime prohibition is constitutional. It was expected that judgment would be for the "wets," which would have thrown the bars open until January 17, when constitutional prohibition goes into effect. Only by ratification of the peace treaty between now and January 17 can a relief from the drought be had,
and as Congress will adjourn for the holidays, and the Senate shows no indication of an early settlement of the treaty fight, the outlook for those who would have a farewell celebration is not promising. Billions of dollars' worth of booze in various forms had been gathered for the expected wet spell, and unless the owners are able to export this stock they will suffer heavy loss. So great is the accumulation of liquor, it is said, 10,000 freight cars would be required to move it to the Atlantic seaboard.
This could not be done without seriously hampering industry and transportation. The liquor manufacturer and dealer took a big chance, and lost.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Do Christmas shopping early and avoid Christmas scrambling later.

There was no truth in the report that the world was to come to an end yesterday.

out, but surely a sufficiently high wall can be constructed to keep them permanently confined.

AN ONTARIO BEAUTY SPOT.

[Durham Chronicle.]
In a county noted for its scenic beauty, pictureesque waterfalls, crystal streams and unspoiled rivers, the Rocky Saugeen, where it crosses the Canadian road, has few peers. And the loveliest feature of the place is the romantic Rocky Saugeen Park, owned by Mr. George Shier, whose love of nature and his artistic taste in developing this beauty spot, has done much to develop and enhance what was originally a place richly endowed. The park consists of nine acres of ground covered with rare clumps of twigs cedars in places, while in others they rear their graceful heads from 50 to 60 feet almost limbless, and straight as an Indian arrow. A silvery streamlet, spanned by many rustic bridges, meanders through the park and falls in a series of cascades into a little cove on the river's bank. The owner has a varied flower garden in an open plain, wide "divers" paths radiate in every direction. Tents group around the central home, which has a history all by itself, being the first school house erected in Durham, 75 years ago.
It is fitted to overflowing with all necessary camping utensils and odd-looking specimens; but the rarest item is a fossilized human face. The forehead is high, the face oblong. We think it must have belonged to some politician, as one eye is half closed, the other wide awake; one ear closed, the other intently open; the lips apart, the tongue thrust out, as if it was a long time between drinks. Something the features bear a striking resemblance to the late Andy Kelly, owing largely to the shape of the nasal organ. With the old grist mill a short distance down the stream, and the power house of the furniture company just above the park, they all combine to make a spot of more than ordinary interest. A Burns or a Scott would immortalize them.

SYMPATHY.

Is the way hard and thorny, oh, my brother?
Do tempests beat, and adverse winds blow?
Are you spent, and broken at each nightfall,
Yet with each morn you rise and onward go?
Brother, I know, I know!
I, too, have journeyed so.

In your heart mad with longing, oh, my sister?
Are all great passions in your breast aglow?
Does the white wonder of your own soul blind you?
And are you torn with rapture and with woe?
Sister, I know, I know!
I, too, have suffered so.

Is the road filled with snare and quicksand, pilgrims?
Do pitfalls lie where roses seem to grow?
And have you sometimes stumbled in the darkness?
And are you bruised and scarred by many a blow?
Pilgrim, I know, I know!
I, too, have stumbled so.

Do you send out rebellious cry, and question,
As mocking hours pass silently and glow?
Does your insistent therefore bring no answer,
While stars wax pale with watching, and drop
I, too, have questioned so.
But now, I know, I know!
To tell, to strive, to err, to cry, to grow,
To love through all—this is the way to know.

CHRISTMAS CANADIAN.

The Christmas issue of The Canadian Magazine is attractive in cover and contents, this publication being the first to secure the rights of publishing the names and verse of the prizewinners in the national literary competition. "Christ as Poet" is a new and appealing subject in an article from the pen of Dr. J. D. Logan. The illustrations are always choice, are very beautifully chosen and reproduced in this issue.

[Cleveland Plaindealer.]
Life's poetry is turned to prose
since these days are so dear;
All withered is the red, red rose
You gave me yesterday.

All tarnished is the little ring,
And even the lock of hair
Is now a dull and dusty thing
That once was gold and fair!

'Tis natural it should be so,
And therefore should we weep?
That poetry was not, you know,
That rose was very cheap!

The ring was only plated brass,
And that same shining brass
You could replace today, my lass,
For eighty cents or less.

Our tender love might still remain Unalterably true;
But oh, we must confess with pain
That it was phony, too!

IT WAS EVER THUS.

The boat drifted out on the sunlit sea. The man and the maiden were silent and a little sad. His leave was ended; the time for parting had come.
"Dearest," he breathed softly, "will you float with me always—like the swan of the lake?"
"The same as now?" she whispered.
"The same as now," he said.
"I will, gladly," she cried.
He was smiling, despite all the hard work; she had the helm—she steered!

ENGLAND GOES ON.

[New York Sun.]
There is no wild excitement in London over the exchange situation, with the American dollar at a high premium. The program in London to jack up the pound sterling against the law of nature. There is no hallucination in London as to what will turn the adverse exchange rate. There is no doubt that it will turn when the time comes for it to turn soundly and surely.

Steady old England, tried in a thousand financial and economic tests, as tried on a thousand battleships, knows that every day British exports go up; knows that if British imports go up it is only because they are being brought in to be manufactured and sold abroad again at very much higher prices than the imported material cost. England knows that though she may be selling part of these exports on credit, the date of settlement draws nearer every day. England knows that when her current freight bills, her interest charges, her dividend returns and articles included in the usual "and overhead have risen, as they are rising rapidly, to a higher point than her current outgo abroad—England knows that then the pound sterling will rise, perhaps more than she expects. It will fall.
And England, wise old trader, knows that with the pound sterling down she can sell more goods the world over than this country can with the dollar up. So keeping cool, and with an eye always to the main chance, England, the veteran, un-turbly watches the exchange rates and sells the goods.

ROD AND GUN.

Away down on the storm-swept coast of Nova Scotia lives Bonnycastle Pate, the well-known naturalist, who contributes interesting articles to Rod and Gun in Canada. A few years ago he lived on the coast of the Pacific Ocean gathering specimens and photos of Canadian life in the bush and the field. Rod and Gun in Canada tells the interesting story of how he spent one Christmas Day amongst the harbor seals, sea urchins and varied water life of the Gulf of Georgia. Other interesting notes and articles included in this issue are:
"The Keyhole Bullet," by the skilled writer of nature stories, George Gilbert; "In the Basin," by H. C. Hadron; "Silver Tip—A Tale of the Far North," by Robert E. Healey; "The Propagation of Brook Trout," by John W. Ticeborn. In addition to these splendid features Rod and Gun in Canada for December contains the usual high-class fishing, game and trap line departments. W. J. Taylor,

TO WIGGINS.

[Leonie S. Hanford.]
"It was only a dog after all," they said,
And does 'ave no souls, that's sure."
But the world seems a pretty poor place to me,
Since they carried 'im in 'ere dead.

'T was my Pal, and wot did 'e care
For French mud or wet or cold;
'T was my dog, and 'I'd give my right 'and For the 'Un wot potted 'im there.

'T's little wot 'e was, 'e was stiff with blood,
The blood of a dying man,
'T's eyes, O 'e was beautiful, 'e was
'e was stopped up with ooze and mud.

'T'd keep 'is 'ead in the deepest fight,
When the shells flew thick and fast,
And many's the lad that 'as owed 'im 'is life
On No Man's Land at night.

And now that 'e's dead as 'e'll ever be,
I've a 'ope in my 'eart that's strong,
That when it comes my turn to go over West,
My Pal will be waitin' for me.

CONFETTI.

[Manchester Guardian.]
The Cumberland vicar who protests with very good sense against the throwing of confetti at weddings, protests in point of fact against a usage that nowadays is little more than an example of the kind of practical joke that delights in making people uncomfortable, like an apple-pie bed or a bowl of water poised on the top of a door. If, as he asserts, there are people so stupid as to throw it before the bride and bridegroom, the presence of church, then the believers in this particular piece of exuberance have done more than make an unseemly mess within the four walls that presumably they have every reason to respect and hold sacred. They have also managed to disregard the presence of its last shred of national significance. The original English custom was to cast wheat upon the head of the bride in her return from the church, as a happy omen of abundance in a life of good things.
Herick, who never missed anything from his garland of the fragrant traditions of the England that he knew, refers to this example of them when he tells the bride how.

Some repeat
Your praise and bless you, sprinkling you with wheat.

For a later day, when unmillied wheat would be a rarity in most low-lying lands, he furnished a not particularly appropriate substitute. Later still the confetti of the French carnival ousted the rice, though in point of any real meaning the onlookers might just as reasonably have insisted on the bride's wearing a false nose. The present usage provides an example of an old English marriage custom degraded almost out of recognition. There are many others that have perished completely, and one or two that have no recognizable relation to all. Some years ago a rope stretched across the road by which the 'bridal party returned from church dragged the driver of the first motor car out of his seat, and there was a sequel in an action for assault in the police court. The stretchers of the rope defended themselves on the ground that "it was an old custom." Very properly the plea went for nothing, for it was observed that nobody else had ever heard of such a custom, and that, if it did exist, it must have dated from a period when the essential difference between a marriage and a funeral was imperfectly apprehended. It would be hard for anyone to defend confetti-throwing with much more success. The wedding guests no longer parcel out the bride's garments between them, nor do they wear bridal favors of ribbons in their hats for a week or two after the ceremony. Is there anything more to be said in favor of confetti-throwing as an omen of plenty—unless, of course, anyone is so extravagant as to manufacture it privately by slicing up treasury notes?

The Advertiser's Daily Short Story

BLUFFING.

By Vincent G. Perry.

"Life is made up of bluffs and love is the biggest bluff of all."

Terrance Conway, artist, threw the paper aside and fairly snorted with indignation. For a man with an artistic temperament, Terrance Conway could be aroused.

"Why in heaven's name do newspapers use such like that?" he exclaimed, angrily. "Every day the writer of that column comes out with some ridiculous epigram on life that is apposed to bluff. Life isn't a bluff, it's a bluff and love—real love—is the direct opposite to bluff. An epigram like that ought to pass down to posterity just did that other fool epigram on love did.
The idiot who wrote 'True love never dies' was just as crazy as the writer of this newspaper column. Love is the most beautiful thing in the world, there's nothing else like it. If you were here I would punch it into your empty head." He had taken up the newspaper again and was yelling right into it.

Up to that time Conway had no reason to believe that love was anything but smooth and true. It had been in him on him so unexpectedly, he was too enamored with it to stop to analyze it.
A year before he had not known, or believed, in the existence of such a thing, but even that was before he had met, or known the existence of, Beatrice Flanders.

From the very first time he saw her, he knew she was different from the other models. Her beauty was not from anything patched-up or made-up. She was a real thing, a natural thing, a thing that was greatest charm, although her charm was many. Love came as a matter of course. He had not stopped to think who she was, or where she came from; he had told her all about his love and they had become engaged and were happy in the thought of what they were to each other. Certainly, up to that time, their love had run smooth
—and it was true love.

It was just two days later that the first rough spot was reached. Tremulously and breathlessly, Beatrice understand it. It was all my fault and I will model at all. In reality, she was the daughter of an old and stately family and she had posed as the most just in the spirit of adventure. Her love for Terrance would never be complained by her family, she felt sure of it. What was she to do?

Terrance told her what to do. He told her family where to go. His outburst only shocked her.

"But I owe a debt to my family," she pleaded. "We are rich in blood, but poor otherwise. I must marry a millionaire and save the family from everlasting disgrace."

"Then money comes before love," his tone was harsher than she had ever heard it.

"No, no, love to me is everything; but it is my family. I must consider
them."

In vain did he plead, she left in tears, and he sank in a chair and wished he could cry also. For a long, long time he sat there, his mind working in revolutions. Suddenly it stopped upon a plan.

"$100,000 IN BILLS."
TAKEN LAST NIGHT
FROM SUBURBAN BANK

In glaring type these headlines caught Beatrice's eyes the moment she picked up the morning paper. As she read the story of the daring robbery by one lone bandit, a terrible thought entered her mind. What if Terrance had committed that robbery in order to get the wealth she had made him believe was necessary for the man she married to have. They were on his track with bloodhounds. It was terrible, the thought made her shudder.

She threw the paper aside in an effort to dispel the suggestion, but it was not so easily dispelled. After nearly an hour's agony of mind she could stand it no longer. Hurriedly, she put on her things and hastened from the house.

At the door that led to Terrance's studio she hesitated. What if the police and bloodhounds had been there first?
What if at that moment he was in bind prison here? She could not stand the suspense longer. With a shaking hand she turned the knob and opened the door quickly, just in time to see Terrance shove something under the door for her. A number of bills were scattered out on the table, and a closer glance told her their denomination—thousand dollar bills! Terrance Conway was a thief! It had been all through her! Her soul revolted against the injustice of the whole thing, and with a little plaintive cry she ran to his arms.

"We must go away quick, before they come. It is all my fault and I will see you through. Oh, hurry, hurry!" she cried excitedly.
"Don't worry, dear," he began to remonstrate.
"We have no time for words, we must go before they come. Oh please hurry," she implored. We can be married before we catch the train, but there is no time for anything else.

The mention of marriage had the desired effect. In less than a minute he had a club bag packed. He was about to close it when Beatrice interrupted.
Quickly she gathered the bills on the table into her hands and placed them in the club bag.

"We must not leave these behind for evidence," she said, as she closed the bag. "We can destroy them after we are safe away, just as they walked about to depart Terrance tried to kiss her but she shoved him aside. There was no time for that. As they walked, her brain did all the thinking. It was she who remembered that a license would have to be purchased before they could be married.

"Five minutes before the train for the East was scheduled to pull out, they boarded it, happily married." It was a horrible five minutes for Beatrice and she wondered at Terrance's calmi-ness. To make matters worse, in the seat they occupied some one had left a paper with the robbery story in it.
Not until they were many miles from the city could Beatrice trust herself to speak, and then she started in to confess brokenly.

"Our engagement had come in such a matter of fact way and everything had been so smooth, just as they walked, I didn't think it was real, so I tried that story about a family to test you," she believed it, away why did you do such a silly thing as to rob that bank? It is all my fault." She was really crying by this time.

"Rob the bank?" he exclaimed incredulously. "What are you talking about?"

She handed him the paper and pointed to the story.

"How brave of you to try and save me unhappiness, but the bills in your club bag are the proof," she said when he finished reading. "This story says that the bills stolen from the bank were of a small denomination."
"It has all been a bluff—we have both been bluffing," she gasped as it suddenly dawned upon her.

"Life is a bluff and love is the biggest bluff of all," Terrance found himself repeating.
"True love never runs smooth," Beatrice sighed.
"And yet, love is the truest and the smoothest thing in the world," Ter-rance added, as he placed his arms around her and drew her closer, "why it's heaven itself."

Ingersoll Swamps Locals by 14-2

Cockneys Outconditioned by Homebrews and Were Kept Scoreless Until Third Period

INGERSOLL, Dec. 17.—Condition was an outstanding factor in a 14 to 2 victory by the intermediate home team tonight over London's candidates in the middle division of the O. H. A. series of district No. 8. The first game of the developing process preparatory to the opening of the "big league" series found Ingersoll in surprising form, while London, denied the privilege of ice, was correspondingly weak. The players were willing enough and they exhibited the brand of pluck that distinguishes the real hockey player from the spurious type, but they did not have the stamina to "carry on." This will come with a few workouts, then they say, "Keep a weather eye open for the Cockneys." The ice tonight was of the razor edge type, but the players had to handle the blades carefully or they found it treacherous. It was find for combination, and at this Ingersoll excelled, making many fine rushes and back checks, when necessary, like demons. For the first two periods London had difficulty in getting out on "no man's land." The Ingersoll defence was a veritable stone wall. The score by periods was 4 to 0, 9 to 0 and in the final frame, 1 to 0. The London players were notched by Arthur and Nelson. For the home team, Ingersoll, Henderson, Richardson and Grieve did most of the scoring. The game was witnessed by a splendid crowd.

The teams:
London—Goal, Shuter; defence, Ferguson and Kelly; centre, Arthur; wings, Nelson and Elliott; subs, Watts, Reuter, Bryant and Gillies.
Ingersoll—Goal, Henderson; defence, Firth and Cline; centre, Henderson; wings, Richardson and Watts; subs, Butler, Grieve, Harford and Pettis. Referee—Reg. Stone.

WOODSTOCK SEXTETTE TO PLAY STRATFORD XMAS

WOODSTOCK, Dec. 17.—Woodstock hockey players staged another good workout at the arena here tonight on fast ice. A big turnout of players was on hand. The arena have been challenged by Stratford to meet the Classic City sextet in an exhibition game in Stratford Christmas afternoon and they mean to accept the challenge. Both local teams are shaping up excellently.

RICKARD MAY TEAM UP WITH M. DECOUR TO GET BIG FIGHT

American Would Be Great Help in Landing Match, and Negotiations Are Under Way.

PARIS, Dec. 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—"Sparrow" Robertson of New York, representing "Tex" Rickard, the American fight promoter, is conferring here with M. De Coin, with the object of having De Coin join interests with Rickard in bidding for a fight between Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier, believed would be encountered if Rickard and should attempt to stage the battle in the United States. He is reported to be prepared to aid the French promoter in holding the championship fight in Paris.

Such a fight would be staged as the world's heavyweight championship. Rickard, according to Robertson, would be willing to advance half the capital required and share equally with the French promoter in the profit or loss. The negotiations here are said to be progressing rapidly, owing to the expected arrival in New York within a few days of C. D. Cochran of London, who promoted the recent fight in the Carpentier-Beckett fight in London.

"Tex" Rickard, when informed by a representative of the Associated Press in New York of the result of the Carpentier-Beckett fight in London, said he was not at all certain that he would care to consider a proposition at this time of staging a bout in the United States between Dempsey and Carpentier. Both fighters, he declared, undoubtedly would expect a very large sum in the form of purses and guarantees, and there appeared to be very few places that would be likely to give gate receipts sufficient to warrant the immense outlay involved.

"France, at this time," Rickard continued, "could not be expected to furnish returns large enough to finance such a match and leave the promoters a profit commensurate with the time and money involved."

It will be a lot more pleasant outdoor sport than some the Canadian tried in the same vicinity.

Ice and Belgium incidentally recalls one of the great secrets of the late war. One of the oldest and truest rumors in the Canadian army was that an ice attack was going to be put on across the flooded lands of Belgium by the Canadians. It came back every winter like the rum issue. Some day this secret may be published. If it isn't, a lot of doubts will be confirmed.

If they keep a record of the American League fight, it should make a good basis for a correspondence course in law. They've sworn out everything against Johnson now, except murder and arson, and a few of the lesser crimes. The latest is calling Johnson's latest move of rescinding all acts passed by the old board of directors, an overt act in President Wilson's language, that is a fighting word. This latest move of Ban's just sets the clock back to about last August, as far as the American League is concerned. The Mays case, the award of the third place to the Yankees, the inquiry into Johnson's 40-year contract with the league, all is to be rethought.

Modest Little Fellow.
Says Sharkey of Wilde:
"I didn't have such a lot of weight on him in Milwaukee. He weighed 114, and he weighed 107. I knew I had him from the drop of the hat. The reason I won so easily was that he fought him just the way I wanted to, and didn't let him tell me he couldn't fight. He's fast on his feet and clever with his hands, and he packs a mighty nasty punch. I was just a little better, that's all."

"Still Have a Few Shots in Locker," says a mislead. ing head. It only meant that the insurgents had thought up something new for Ban Johnson—nothing to do with golf, curling or bowling.

DENTALS BEAT ARGOS IN SENIOR FIXTURE

TORONTO, Dec. 17.—Dentals defeated Argonauts 4 to 0 in a senior hockey game under the auspices of the Sportsmen's Patriotic Association of this city at the Arena tonight. The winners played a fast and clever and won handily. The line-up: Dentals—Goal, Argonauts.
Forbes—Goal.
Brown—Defence.
Shelton—Defence.
Rennie—R. Wing.

ITALIAN WRESTLER ROLLS DR. ROLLER

BOSTON, Dec. 17.—Renato Gardini, the Italian wrestler, defeated Dr. Ben Roller in straight falls tonight. The first fall came in 21 minutes and the second in 12 minutes.

WILLING TO QUIT

Garry Hermann is perfectly ready to resign soon as a successor is found for the chairmanship of the National Commission.

He would expect a very large sum in the form of purses and guarantees, and there appeared to be very few places that would be likely to give gate receipts sufficient to warrant the immense outlay involved.

STRATFORD JUNIORS ON EXHIBITION TOUR

STRATFORD, Dec. 17.—The local juniors will play two games on their trip which starts tomorrow. They will first go to Welland and then to Port Colborne, playing in the latter place Friday night.

HERMANN DON'T BELIEVE FOSTER WILL SUCCEED HIM

Says Ex-Giants Secretary Hasn't Got Sufficient Backing.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 17.—August Herrmann, chairman of the National Baseball Commission, said he did not believe John B. Foster, former secretary of the New York Nationals, would be selected as his successor as chairman when he returned from New York, where he had attended the National League meeting.

"I am ready to step out of the chairmanship whenever a successor is found and selected," Herrmann said. "I do not think, however, that Foster will be chosen for the office. He is a good baseball man, but lacks sufficient backing."

ALL OLD CLUBS IN MANUFACTURERS' LEAGUE TO ENTER

Bell Telephone Employees Organize For Season, and Perrins Will Be Entrants.

Practically all the entries in the old Manufacturers' League will be on hand, when the circuit is reorganized this week. The Bell Telephone Club has been organized for the season in expectation of the re-establishment of the league, and the Bell employees promise their old rivals just as big a battle as ever.

D. S. Perrins have already stated they will be on hand, and all the other clubs have signified their intentions of entering teams.

In the old days, the Manufacturers' League used to provide a great weekly bill of hockey, and there are still enough of the old players who are still able to don a pair of skates and handle a stick to make a good nucleus around which to build teams.

SARNIA O. H. A. TEAM HARD TO PICK FROM BIG TRY-OUT SQUAD

City League Is Great Field and Manager Dent Has Line On Team For Saturday.

SARNIA, Dec. 17.—Manager Fred Dent of the Sarnia Intermediates watched a number of the city league hockey teams practicing at St. Andrew's Arena tonight in a search for players for the Saturday night game with London here. The team so far as the regular season line-up is concerned is still in an unorganized state, but the manager's main difficulty is going to be in weeding out the best players in view of the abundance of first-class material in view. The Sarnia team will probably be picked with McAllister the best yet in goal. Finch and Storey of the old brigade will probably make the team, with Glen Crounman and Nick McDermid of the old Petrolia stars standing an even chance on the defence. Dave and Glen Jackson, Mulligan, Harding, Cowan, O'Brien, Burt, Crounman and Leader are listed among the abilities for players in the team as well as many others on the strength of the different city league teams.

IF PROMOTER MAKES MILLION, DEMPSEY WILL GRAB HALF

Champ Will Demand Fifty Per Cent Guarantee in Any Bout.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17.—If the successful promoter of a world title fight between Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier realizes $1,000,000, Jack Dempsey will demand $500,000, Jack Kearns, his manager said here today.

"The stadium promoters in Paris have cabled me that they expected a Dempsey-Carpentier fight would draw $1,000,000," said Kearns. "I cabled back that Dempsey would demand a 50 per cent guarantee. If the stadium draws $1,000,000 it will be because of Dempsey. Carpentier and Beckett or any other pair would not draw half that amount."

DUNLOP RUBBER WILL ENTER THE UNITED STATES

British Dunlop Interests Organize Big American Company.

CANADIAN CO. EXPANDS

New Factory in Toronto To Cost Two Million.

Concurrent with the announcement of an unprecedented program of expansion the world over by the Dunlop rubber interests from England, comes the news of particular concern to Canadian and American motorists—the launching of Dunlop America, Limited, in the United States.

This new Dunlop Company will operate on a huge scale—one calculated to put Dunlop in the front ranks of American rubber companies—just as Dunlop is in the front ranks in every other part of the world where automobile tires are used.

Go to Great Britain, Australia, South Africa, India, Japan, France, South America, Denmark, Italy, Spain, Sweden, Norway, and ask: "Which is the dominant name in tiredom?" The answer is universally the same—Dunlop.

Dunlop in Canada.

To Canadians particular significance is attached to the great strides of Dunlop Rubber. The Dunlop Tire and Rubber Goods Company, Limited, with headquarters in Toronto and branches in the fourteen leading cities of Canada, have working arrangements, not only with Dunlop in England, but Dunlop in France, Japan, etc. These arrangements constitute interchange of formulae, scientific research, processes and methods. Such arrangements will now likewise be made between Dunlop in Canada and Dunlop in the United States.

Building Expansion.

As indicating the growth of the Dunlop idea in Canada, plans have been consummated to commence production of tires on a greatly increased scale.

An appropriation of $1,500,000 has been set apart for building and equipping another factory in Toronto. The new building, which is now well under way—and being rushed to completion—is 400 feet long, 80 feet wide, with four stories and basement. It faces on three streets—Queen, Booth and Natalia. This latest factory will be devoted especially to the manufacture of Dunlop cord tires.

"Traction" and "Ribbed," the success of the present Dunlop cord tire having been so instantaneous.

SETTLEMENT OF STRIKE WILL NOT AFFECT CUT IN TRAIN SERVICE HERE

MONTREAL, Dec. 17.—It was stated by leading officials of the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific Railway systems today that there was little present indication of any change with regard to the curtailment of train service on these lines owing to the coal shortage, due to the bituminous coal miners' strike in the United States.

With one or two minor exceptions, it was stated, the curtailment plans would be carried out as already announced. This will not interfere seriously with Christmas and New Year holiday traffic, as schedules will not go into effect until after the new year.

"THE ROCKY ROAD TO DUBLIN"
AT THE GRAND TONIGHT ONLY

Now in its tenth season of unequalled success, "The Rocky Road to Dublin," with Barney Gilmore as the star, coming to the Grand tonight for one performance, commencing at 8:15, is still acknowledged to be one of the biggest and best pieces of theatrical properties now on tour. Barney Gilmore, younger than ever, is in better voice, rendering many of his old favorite songs and a number of new ones, including "Let's All Help the Irish Now" and "Top of the Mornin'." This play, written by Daniel Hart, also author of "The Parish Priest," tells of a young Irishman, who is accused of taking money from the bank where he is employed; his loyalty to the girl he loves; taking the blame for the theft of the money that has been stolen by his sweetheart's brother, and it gives Mr. Gilmore an opportunity to display his wonderful personality, his ready wit, and his ability to say funny things in a funny way at the correct time.

Irish folk songs and dances, the beautiful scenes of Ireland, and the merry times of the Irish piper make "The Rocky Road to Dublin" a play that will live forever. Mr. Gilmore is surrounded by an excellent cast of Irish players, headed by Miss Helen Evely, who came to this country with the Irish Players, the organization that enjoyed an entire season's engagement at the Fine Arts Theatre, Chicago. The balance of the cast includes Danny Barrett of the famous Barrett Brothers, Florence Horsfall, Ada Lyon Harbour, Anita Bondio, Edwin O'Sullivan, George Murphy, Charles Edwards, James Wilson, Josh Daly and many others. Popular prices will prevail for this engagement, and reservations should now be made at the box office.

"QUEEN ZEPHRA" RETURNS TO GRAND FRI. AND SAT.

"Queen Zephra," the musical extravaganza, which will play a return engagement at the Grand tomorrow and Saturday evenings and Saturday matinee under the auspices of the Acadian Club and the Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E., needs little introduction to London theatregoers. With a record of success unparalleled in the history of theatricals, it has been achieved in Canada and the United States. It came to this city several weeks ago and family established itself as an attraction of more than ordinary merit and one deserving of the friendly reputation it had attained.

It has a wholesome story, bewitching music, merry dances, gorgeous scenery, beautiful and costly costumes, and with the glare of a thousand colored lights that make the spectacle a dream of fairyland, it has a strong appeal to all lovers of the ultimate in theatrical productions.

Mr. E. A. Drake, who was responsible for the staging of "Queen Zephra" when it was first presented here, will again direct the large cast and chorus, consisting of 120 local people. He will be assisted by Miss E. A. Husbands, who is well-known as a directress of local theatricals.

Several new novelties and special feature numbers have been added to the production since it was last seen here. One of the new features which will be warmly received and which is of more than ordinary importance is the two numbers given by pupils of Mr. A. D. Jordan and personally directed by him.

These two numbers, which scored a big hit at the opening concert of the London Institute of Musical Art, a short time ago, are: "The Vase Poem" by Lotta Layman, and the overture from "Rigoletto" by Beryl Wright, Lotta Layman, Charles Jolley and Carmen Leary.

The return engagement of "Queen Zephra," which will be given for the benefit of the New Children's Hospital, is more than certain to be greeted with capacity audiences at each performance.

Steel Foundries, returned from his work this evening he found his wife dying, with her throat cut. She was removed to the city hospital, but died before she reached that institution. Her two children, the elder of whom is only four years of age, were alone with her. As she was suffering from a nervous collapse it is believed to have been a case of suicide.

Coroner Rennie is investigating.

MASTER COTTON SPINNERS TO DIVIDE HUGE PROFITS
WITH 150,000 EMPLOYEES

LONDON, Dec. 17.—The Federation of Master Cotton Spinners has recommended to its members a grant of a bonus of from one to three pounds per month to all the 150,000 employees during the first quarter of the new year. The estimated cost to the federation is $1,500,000. The explanation of this action is that huge profits have been made by the master cotton spinners, while the operatives have been barred by agreement from asking for an advance in wages until next March.

REPORT IS DENIED.
MADRID, Dec. 17.—The report that former Premier Dato has decided to retire from politics is denied today by the Sol, Senor Dato's official mouthpiece. The newspaper says, however, that the state of Dato's health and the differences existing among the conservative parties make his retirement a possibility.

FAT THAT SHOWS
SOON DISAPPEARS

Prominent fat that comes and stays where it is not needed is a burden; a hindrance to activity, a curb upon pleasure. You can take off the fat where it shows by taking after each meal and at bedtime, one Marmosa Prescription Tablet. These little tablets are as effective and harmless as the famous prescription from which they take their name. Buy and try a case today. Your druggist sells them at $1.00, or if you prefer you may write direct to the Marmosa Company, 864 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, Mich. You can thus say good-bye to dieting, exercise and fat.

STEAMER RESUMES VOYAGE.

HALIFAX, Dec. 17.—A wireless message tonight from the Manchester Hero, reported in distress today 80 miles off.

the const. said that damage to her steering gear had been repaired and that she would resume her voyage.

How to Cure Biliousness

Doctors warn against remedies containing powerful drugs and alcohol. "The Extract of Roots," long known as Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, has no dope or strong ingredients: it cures indigestion, biliousness and constipation. Can be had at any drug store. Get the genuine; 50c and $1.00 Bottles.

Discolored or Spotty
Skin Easily Peeled Off

The discolored or roughening to which many skins are subject at this season may readily be gotten rid of. Ordinary mercurized wax, spread lightly over the face before retiring and removed in the morning with soap and water, completely peels off the discolored skin. Get about an ounce of the wax at any druggist's. There's no more effective way of banishing chaps, blemishes, freckles or other cutaneous defects. Little skin particles come off each day, so the process itself doesn't even temporarily mar your looks or keep you indoors, and you gradually acquire a brand new, spotless, girlishly beautiful face.—Advt.

A Vote For the Fares Bylaw Means Fair Wages for Street Railway Men

Sir Adam Beck's report on the London Street Railway, made by his radial experts at the request of the city council, says that if the city took over the street railway and operated it on the present rate of fares there would be a serious deficit yearly—in other words, if the people ran the road and sold seven tickets for a quarter unlimited and nine tickets for a quarter limited, they would have to make up the loss out of the taxes.

Consequently, Sir Adam's report fixes the fares the city would have to charge at five cents cash and six tickets for a quarter.

The London Street Railway is only asking that the fares be rearranged to six tickets unlimited and eight tickets limited for a quarter. This is better than Sir Adam's experts say the city could do if it operated the road itself.

The increase is a mere trifle to the individual citizen, but it means a lot to the street railway employees, because it will insure them a decent day's wage. The present fares will not provide the money necessary to pay the wages they earn and are entitled to.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
AT WOODVILLE BURNED

LINDSAY, Ont., Dec. 17.—Fire at 6:30 o'clock this evening totally destroyed the Presbyterian church at Woodville. The cause is supposed to have been overheated furnace pipes. A new furnace recently had been installed, and fires were lighted in it for the first time today in preparation for choir practice for the Christmas services. The church was one of the largest institutions in the Presbytery, seating with its galleries 2,300 persons, and at the time of its construction 30 years ago cost $12,000.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN AND FOLLIES COMEDIAN ON THE BIG DOUBLE BILL NOW AT THE MAJESTIC

Presented at the Majestic today, Friday and Saturday. Both matinee and evening will be a double program. The first feature will be Charlie Chaplin, in "Chase Me, Charlie," a British version of Chaplin's funniest films titled by the king of English comedians, George Robey.

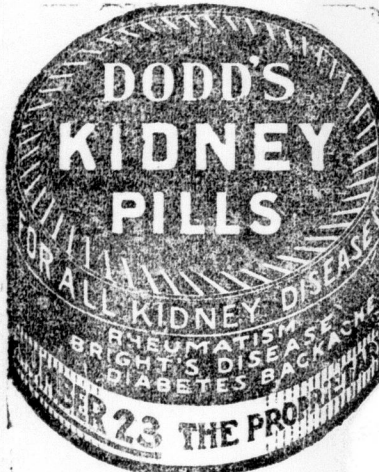

The second feature will be "Almost a Husband," starring the renowned Follies comedian, Will Rogers. Rogers is a comedian who is different, and as Sam Lyman, the new school teacher, portrays a role that is the height of artistry, mingling both melodrama comedy and pathos into a character which proves irresistible in its appeal. "Almost a Husband" is told in a small Arkansas town, drowsily existing along the sleepy banks of the old Mississippi River, where the "up-boat" is cause for excitement. Nothing ever happened there until Sam Lyman, the new school-master from "the Vermont way," hit the town. Then things began to happen. There is the town banker, a "big toad in a small puddle," as a sub-title tells. His beautiful young daughter, courted by Peggy Wood, star of "Maytime," plays opposite Rogers, the schoolmaster, Herbert Standing, the grand old English actor, is her fiancé's father, Ed Brady, is seen as the mule trader villain, and his portrayal of the part is deserving of worthy comment. Cullen Landis is the lad who loves in puppy fashion both his school sweetheart, played by Clara Horton, and Will Rogers, the teacher. Other minor parts are well carried by old character actors.

A third feature will be shown on the double matinee on Saturday, Mary Pickford, in "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," one of her brightest, cheeriest pictures, will be presented on the bill. There will be four great stars on the program at the Majestic Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, for the double matinee. Norma Talmadge and Eugene O'Brien will be shown both afternoon and night in the sensational society drama, "By Right of Purchase," and matinee on Elliott Dexter and Lila Lee will be shown in the great stirring drama of the northland, "The Daughter of the Wolf."

NORMA TALMADGE
Norma Talmadge, supported by Eugene O'Brien in "By Right of Purchase," the sensational society drama at the Majestic Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

WILL ROGERS
ALMOST A HUSBAND

Steel, on "Something More than the Pay Package," or B. C. Forbes, K. C. B. Wall Mason, Dr. Frank Crane, Or you have, maybe, turned first to the Art—Play—Book—Science—of the Month. One thing is certain, you have noticed the real authority of Hearst's—its splendid serious side.

BUT—you say—you buy a magazine for its fiction. Good! Here in Hearst's for November are stories by Robert W. Chambers, Richard Washburn Child, Arthur Somers Roche, and Bruno Lasker, Arthur Stinger, Edwin Balmer and Gouverneur Morris. Besides these are three English writers, F. R. Bailey, Derek Yank, E. WORLD SAFE WHILE SUN KEEPS TURNING, SAYS PROF. PORTA

Rotation Would Prevent Forming of Sun Spot, Which He Feared.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17.—Professor Albert A. Porta, San Francisco meteorologist, from whose deductions on a planet configuration the prophecy of the world coming to an end today was said to have sprung, reported today that the prophecies of the world's demise were greatly exaggerated. The rotation of the sun, preventing a pull of the planetary phalanx on any one place of the sun's surface for any considerable length of time, would prevent the formation of any sun spot, Professor Porta said. It was this sun spot that he feared.

vented by the sun's rotation," Prof. Porta said.

SPAIN'S POSITION MOST DANGEROUS IN HISTORY

MADRID, Dec. 17.—The Sol this morning devoted a leading editorial to the social unrest in Spain, which it says has placed Spain in the most dangerous position of her history. The newspaper protests against the action of the employers in declaring a lock-out in the building trades and against the street car company's refusal to grant its workers' demands for higher pay and better working conditions, for which they are striking.

WOULD BE SUICIDE IS PLACED UNDER ARREST

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Captain Clarence Weiner of Philadelphia, the former British and American war veteran, who attempted suicide by shooting himself on Monday night, was arrested tonight on a charge of violating the law against carrying firearms. DOMINIONS NOW HAVE A STATUS OF THEIR OWN Manchester Guardian Sees Final Passing of the Central Authority.

SMUTS' STATEMENT

That Empire Ceased To Exist in August, 1917, True, Says Newspaper.

LONDON, Dec. 17.—(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)—The Manchester Guardian, discussing the future of the empire, with special reference to the assertion of Gen. Smuts, that the British Empire ceased to exist in August, 1917, says the statement in such a condensed form is startling.

Full reports will no doubt considerably qualify it, but his statement is perfectly true as a direct means of driving home the fact that changes wrought by the war in the status and relations of the Dominions have rung the death knell of such concerted aggressive imperialism as the South African Nationalists fear. The Guardian proceeds to argue that Downing Street authority in the Dominions is now reduced to a shadow.

"In law the ultimate appeal from the highest courts in the Dominions is still to the privy council, but the delay and expense which the systems involved have aroused in Canada and elsewhere have caused an active agitation for ending it, which before long must gain its way. A minor but not insignificant symptom of the same tendency is the decision by Canada that she wishes the crown by the crown of hereditary titles to cease."

Divergent Lines.
The war has forced the pace of imperial development in two divergent lines, the Guardian continues. It thinks the innovation of Dominion ministers sitting as executive members of the British cabinet, although a necessary and valuable step, has given rise to much confused thinking, for it has led to a class of a permanent executive, and perhaps even of an imperial parliament, to assume the liabilities and obligations for the empire as a whole.

"To realize how little such a plan would meet the trend of thought overseas we have but to add to Gen. Smuts' speech such recent incidents as Borden's successful assertion of the Canadian Parliament's right to debate the peace treaty or Hughes' declaration that he was irrevocably opposed to what is called imperial federation."

"The Guardian finds in the Dominions having signed the peace treaty an separate states, and having separate representation in the League of Nations, an undermining of the central authority in its remaining citadel, that of foreign affairs."

"In the new relationship on which the British people are embarking, the need for common counsel and advice will be even greater than before, but it will be a conference between nations of equal status in a sisterhood," the paper concludes.

MONTREAL PUTS UP BARS AGAINST ALL FROM ONT. AND U. S.

All Travelers From This Province Must Have Vaccination Certificates.

MONTREAL, Dec. 17.—"Commencing today, the whole province of Ontario is placed under quarantine as far as Montreal is concerned." This decision, which was taken today by the municipal authorities, is now law and henceforth and until further notice all travelers from Ontario to this city must comply with the demands of the Montreal Board of Health.

This also applies to all persons coming to Montreal from the United States and passing through the province of Ontario.

The official proclamation issued today by E. R. Deary, chairman of the administrative committee of the city of Montreal, is as follows:

"By order of the administrative commission and of the board of health:

- "1. The whole province of Ontario is placed under quarantine.
- "2. Travelers from any part of the province of Ontario to Montreal are required to produce before leaving the train on its arrival here, a certificate showing that they have been successfully vaccinated within less than two years, failing which they will be detained and forced to return to Ontario by the next train.
- "3. The above decision applies to people traveling from Montreal any place whatsoever in the province of Ontario, whether to spend their Christmas holidays, or on business, and also to people coming from the United States to Montreal and passing through the province of Ontario.
- "4. This above decision is in force from today until further notice.

(Signed) "Reue Bauset, City Clerk."

40,000,000 IN DANGER OF STARVATION IN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES

Herbert Hoover Points Out Deporable Food Situation Overseas.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Starvation faces from fifteen to twenty million persons in Central Europe outside Germany unless some quick means can be discovered for their assistance," Herbert Hoover, former food administrator, said today in a formal statement. Unless relief is quickly furnished he predicts a breakdown of stable government in the countries affected and "creation of another cesspool like Russia."

To meet the situation Mr. Hoover proposed that the "great surplus of wheat and flour held by the grain corporation be sold on credit to Poland, Finland, Austria and other nations of Central Europe. The grain corporation, he said, could extend the credits out of the capital it already possessed without a special appropriation by Congress.

The question of export of breadstuffs in this particular case," said the former food administrator, "does not influence the price or supply to the American people. It is purely a question as to whether out of the material which we will export in any event we should give credits in order to prevent starvation on a wholesale scale, or on the other hand, to deal only with those who can pay on the spot."

Borden Has Not Made Promised Statement Yet

Now Expected That Announcement Will Be Issued Today.

OTTAWA, Dec. 17.—The statement from Sir Robert Borden as to his plans for the future, which it was intimated yesterday would probably be issued today, was not forthcoming this evening, but it is now expected that some announcement will be made tomorrow.

Sir Robert was not at his office during the afternoon, and did not attend the meeting of the cabinet council. Council, it is understood, took up the Grand Trunk Railway agreement, and while none of the ministers would make any statement in regard to the matter, it is stated in well-informed circles that good progress is being made on the agreement as far as the Government end of things is concerned.

Hon. Arthur Meighen, who has just returned after a short trip to the west, attended today's session of the council, but afterward stated that there was nothing new in Grand Trunk matters.

UNREASONABLE DEMANDS OF LABOR BLAMED FOR RULING HIGH PRICES FOR LEATHER

No Undue Shortage Due to Exports, Says Board of Trade Member.

TORONTO, Ont., Dec. 17.—One of the chief causes of the ruling high prices in leather, according to W. J. Heaven, the retiring chairman of the tanners' section of the Toronto Board of Trade, who addressed the tanners' section at its annual meeting today, is the unreasonable demands made by labor. Mr. Heaven said that in the tanning industry the year 1919 started with the prices of hides lower than the maximum prices during the war period, but last March they commenced to rise and reached an unprecedented level. In July they commenced to ease off, but now they were 50 per cent higher than they were in January last.

There was no undue shortage of leather in Canada as a result of undue exports, Mr. Heaven said. This had been alleged, but the facts had not borne out the allegation.

TIME LOSS THROUGH STRIKES IN CANADA LESS IN NOVEMBER

But Greater Than in November, 1918, According To Labor Gazette.

OTTAWA, Dec. 17.—The time loss on account of industrial disputes in Canada during the month of November, according to the Labor Gazette, was less than during October, but greater than during November, 1918. At one time or another during the month there were in existence 21 strikes, involving 4,965 work people and resulting in the loss of 34,073 working days, as compared with 27 strikes involving 8,710 workers and 147,596 working days in October, 1919, and 23 strikes involving 4,320 workers and 36,840 working days in November, 1918.

At the beginning of November the percentage of unemployed among the members of trade unions was 2.57, as compared with 2.19 at the beginning of October. During the month five applications were received for the establishment of boards of conciliation.

From Out the Night You Hear the Cry: "Oh! Why Can't I Get to Sleep?"

Thousands of people all over the country ask this question, but still continue to toss, night after night, on sleepless beds, or walk the bedroom floor until near dawn. Their eyes do not close in the sweet and refreshing repose that comes to those whose heart and nerves are right. Worry or disease has so debilitated and irritated the nervous system that it cannot be quietened. Or, again, there is palpitation of the heart, the sleep is broken by terrible dreams, you wake up with smothering spells, sinking sensations and a fear of impending death.

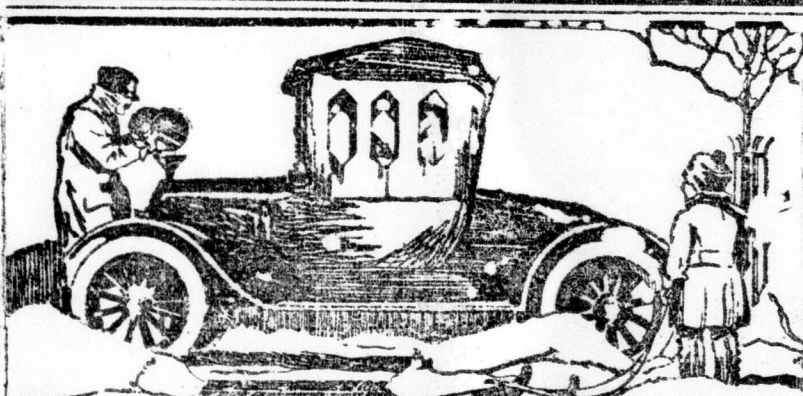

To be able to lie down at night and in a few minutes fall asleep—to know no dream or waking until morning—then to bound out of bed full of vigor, freshness and good spirits, ready for each and every duty the day may demand, is a blessing that can be easily achieved by using

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

They soon induce healthful, refreshing sleep, not by deadening the nerves, but by restoring them to healthy action and removing all symptoms of heart trouble, which is often the cause of nervousness and sleeplessness.
