FRANCE ADVISES POLAND NOT TO DRIVE AGAINST BOLSHEVI

Secure the Best Strategical Position, Counsels the French Authorities-Military Sit uation Will Be Big Factor in Influencing Peace Terms-Withdrawal Into Her Own Boundaries Only After Pact Is Signed.

Paris, Aug. 27.—The foreign ministry announced today that France had counselled Poland to attain the best strategical military position possible until peace is signed, regardless of her ethnographical frontier, because the military situation will influence the peace terms.

France has advised Poland, however, to withdraw her armies within the Polish frontier upon the signing of peace, the foreign office added:

The Soviet losses to date are in Poland, 40,000 killed and 30,000 interned in East Prussia, according to the latest report received from the French mission in Poland.

REDS WILL DECIDE WHETHER TO CONTINUE PEACE NEGOTIATIONS

London, Aug. 27.—The next meeting of the Bolshevik peace conference will decide whether the peace negotiations shall proceed, says a dispatch from Minsk to the Daily Herald, dated last Minsk to the Daily Herald, dated last Tuesday.

"The Bolshevik military situation is distinctly more favorable," the dispatch adds, "and this may be reflected in the attitude of the Polish delegation, which is believed to be sharply divided, with a small majority for peace. It is believed the Bolshevik cavalry, which was nearly cut off in the vicinity of Mlawa, is now out of danger. This raid, which was aimed at cutting the Polish communications through the Danzig corridor, reached Prussian Strassburg and succeeded momentarily in crossing the Vistula at Vlotslavek and cutting the railroad.

Decline In Prices This Fall With Bigger Slump In Spring

Washington, Aug. 27.-Retail prices, in the opinion of the federal reserve board, will decline slightly during the coming fall and winter months, and will slump in the spring to still lower levels. Summarizing recent changes in prices of various commodities in the United States, the board in a report last night said that "the saving afforded by manufacturers through lessened cost of materials and increased efficiency of labor must eventually be reflected in a downward movement of retail Changes in the prices of raw materials, which were reported to have declined sharply during the past few weeks, will not show their effect, according to the board, in retail prices until early next spring. The poard stated that an "important downward tendency" in prices edities except food, has been evidenced throughout the United States in the reduction in prices of raw products having been especially marked. This general lowering of the price level, it was believed, in-dicated a probable drop in food prices during the coming months.

CONTINUATION CLASS

Establishing of Same Unable To Be Arranged Because of Absentees.

Like other city bodies during the summer months the board of education found it impossible to obtain a quorum at a special meeting called Thursday afternoon. The business, which was the establishing of a continuation class at one of the public schools, required nine members to transact it. Only eight were present, and all efforts to locate another were futile. Nothing daunted by this it was decided to make a minority report on the matter and to get the approval of the remainder of the board later. No difficulty is expected, as those present were unanimous in indorsing the plan.

The request that such a class be established was made by the department of education as part of its plan for proving training centres at a number of points where first-class certificates can be acquired by school teachers. At present only second-class certificates are issued here. The first-class certificates require experience with continuation classes and in high school teaching. The department also asked the opportunity be afforded normal school students to observe teaching in the high school.

INGERSOLL, Aug. 26.—The traffic signals placed on Ingersoll streets have from time to time been damaged, evidently maliciously by motorists. The damaged signals are now being replaced, and the announcement has been made by Chief of Police Holmes that they will be spiked if necesary to prevent being damaged. A Toronto motorist, it is claimed, deliberatly came in contact with one of the "silent policemen" recently, and he is being summoned by the police.

at the last meeting of the Trustees' Association in Toronto last April is now well under way. It is pointed out that the educational associations are not for trustees only, but for all the ratepayers, whereby all the people may come together in conference to discuss their own educational problems. There is the question of the low average attendance in the rural schools, the shortage and inexperience of rural teachers, the frequent changes of teachers and the necessity of boys and girls having to leave home at a young age to receive high school training. One little girl is reported to have had thirteen teachers in seven years.

COX SUPPORTS HIS CONSPIRACY CHARGE WITH INFORMATION

Democratic Candidate Says Republicans Aim To Buy Presidency.

Pittsburg, Pa, Aug. 26.-Information to support his charges that a Republican campaign fund exceeding $15,000.-000 was being raised "in a conspiracy to buy the presidency," was presented by Governor Cox of Ohio, Democratic presidential candidate, in addressing a meeting here tonight. Governor Cox's data consisted almost entirely of matter taken from the official bulletin of Fred I. Upham, Chicago, treasurer of the Republican national committee, but his chief exhibit was a tpyewritten list purporting to show Republican campaign quotas imposed upon 51 principal cities in 27 states and aggregating $8,145,000. Names of local subscribers, Governor Cox said, were ordered kept secret. That Senator Harding, his opponent, was "acquainted with the details of the quota plan and that it was also approved by Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican national committee, was charged by the Democratic candidate. Announcement of the $8,145,000 metropolitan quotas, Governor Cox said, was made by Harry M. Blair, assistant to Treasurer Upham.

The governor charged that typewritten sheets bearing the 51 cities' quotas were "distributed" to those assembled, and he produced one of the alleged quota lists, but did not state how or where it was acquired. data consisted almost entirely of mat-

Men Now in County Jail Will Be Heard On Friday.

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 26 .- The provincial license inspector and five of his deputies, brought up from Port Stanlay this afternoon three alleged bootleggers, and locked them up in the county jail. Three others against whom information had been laid, skipped and further warrants to clean up the gang will be issued as soon as the magistrate disposes of the present

The men charged are James Stana grocer of the village, who ple led guilty to selling liquor; Samuel Franger, Kent street, London, who conducts a booth, also acknowledged the offence, but Ed. Cummins. nto, refused to plead, and will be eard tomorrow morning.
Further arrests will follow during he coming week.

the coming week.

The special agents also searched the Gilmore House and found 20 bottles of port wine and a thimbleful of whiskey. These, Mr. Gilmore claimed, were purchased for the use of his wife.

The inspector and his deputies have been in Port Stanley for the past few weeks, and assisted by Inspector Keenleyside of London, have been successful in rounding up the chief distributors of the many consignments of whiskey that during the summer have reached the lakeside. In some instances, it is said, there was little attempt at concealment, the liquor being handed out in single bottles and the money paid over the counter. Cummins, a Greek, confessed to having received the bottles for third parties, but got no pay for the courtesy. That the lakeside has been filled with booze up to the closing of the season is not denied by the detectives, and in their three weeks' stay in the village they have secured evidence enough to convict a goodly number of the holiday population of Port Stanley. The men under arrest have more than one charge laid against them, and all will get a hearing before the county magistrate tomorrow morning.

HAMPERS WORK ON SHIP CANAL

Contractors At Welland Call For Restriction of Foreign Trade.

ST. CATHARINES, Aug. 26.—That the export of Canadian cement to the United States is seriously hampering the construction of the Welland ship canal, for which the Dominion Parliament recently passed an additional appropriation of $5,000,000 and which work Hon. Dr. Reid, minister of railways and canals, on Monday told a deputation at Thorold would be rushed with all possible speed, is the statement of contractors on the big project.

Superintendent Russell of Baldry, Yerburgh & Hutchinson, contractors on section No. 2, said today that while considerable difficutly in securing coal and steel is being experienced, the chief obstacle is the scarcity of cement. He also declared that a check on the export of cement to the United States had become just as vitally necessary to construction contractors and workers as is restriction on the shipment of pulpwood and newsprint to the publishing houses and printing trades.

His firm has been able to procure all the labor necessary, Mr. Russell said, and all the labor that will be needed for some time, in ratio to the raw material available, and they will put on more men just as soon as they can be assured of an increased supply of cement.

The "Reds" Are On

The gallant struggle of the Poles to save their capital from capture has at last been crowned with success, and the Bolshevist reverse bids fair to become a rout, according to an arresting article in this week's number of THE LITERARY DIGEST, dated August 28, on this spectacular turning of the tide of war. The Minneapolis Journal is quoted as saying that "the Bolshevik menace to western civilization, if any, is now political," while an eastern paper is sure that "Bolshevism has shot its bolt." The Newark Evening News asserts that the "lowering of Bolshevism's prestige will naturally be followed by reactions within Russia," and the New York World declares that "it was not merely a battle that Poland won in front of Warsaw, but the right to assume a position of equality at the peace table."

MERE WORDS.

Hon. Arthur Meighen is bound to pay the cost of earlier indiscretions of speech before he can make his peace with Quebec. The fusion of the courts largely if not entirely abolished the distinction. There were in the chancery courts and in the common law courts judges who had been trained and same way, and die with the family. It is now too fitted by experience for the positions they oc- late for any enlightenment to save what has cupied, but by the fusion of law and equity is to keep alive and improve what remains. Indian every judge was liable to try every case, civil art has its own stamp. It should not be made an and criminal, that came before him. Chancery judges who never had anything to do with criminal law or jury cases, were trying both. Common law judges, to whom equity was an unknown book, were trying chancery cases. It clusive consideration, is that while other professions and businesses were fast specializing, particularly medicine, lawyers, as the need to specialize was becoming more necessary, were finding the door closed against it. This applied in the exchange hall, and the huge blackboards in the exchange hall, and the huge blackboards covered with Japanese characters, all of the brokers, to judges also. Both judges and lawyers were required to be all round lawyers. That is the big point, but connected with this fusion came increased powers in high court cases to county judges, who were created local judges of the work in Toronto. What is now proposed is further decentralization of the supreme court. It would be a mistake. There is a great deal of good to be derived from having the supreme court judges together. Each will benefit the rest. There will be an atmosphere of law that would be lost if decentralized. 'The increased powers given some years ago to county judges was a large measure of decentralization, and what is left in Toronto is required to keep up the high standard of the administration of justice in the province.

We are not dealing in any way with the suggestions made for reforms in magistrates' courts, but solely with reference to the proposed further decentralization of the supreme

THE ENDS OF LIVING.

The remark is often made, to console poverty or failure, that, after all, so-and-so with his riches or "success" is no happier than Lazarus. The old-time religion used to add that so far as the future life was concerned. Dives was in for something simply awful, and in view of this perhaps there was a foolish disposition to concede that for the present it was happier to sit right in at the table of turkey, champagne, strawberries, chocolates, wit and beauty than to snatch crumbs and fight the dogs for a bone on the floor.

But nowaday people considering the present dispensation alone are eager to declare that the small wage-earner, who barely makes ends meet each week is happier than the millionaire n his high-wheeled motor. The more you have the more you get, but also the more you want. and as Chaucer says, "hoard hath hate and climbing tickelness." Happy indeed are the conhappiness is all the same a consolation prize, no less, but no more.

. We think we want to be happy in life, but do we? And even should we? Some philosophers, more realist than idealist, say that the aim of life is not to be "steeped to the eyes in happiness," but at whatever cost to energize, to function in the various phases of living. Thus the flour barrels of the land against the coming we live to live, life for life's sake. And living winter. consists partly in acting, thinking, feeling for one's self, partly in helping others equally with ourselves so to live.

it be happier to vegetate or glide along "halfconscious of our dying clay," there may neverheless be more life in the development of willto-power, or of artistry or philosophic strength, or of other people's welfare, despite all the pains involved. Some may find themselves best in a specialty, others, perhaps even higher favored, in general proficiency. The end of living is not happiness but the development of life, in thought, power or ethical conduct.

Men are sneered at sometimes for toiling and moiling in order that a son or daughter may spend. The question is merely whether they are developing power and will, affection and wisdom in the process of accumulation, not whether they shall earn gratitude and rewards, or whether the children will spend wisely or not, though of course, incidentally, the children should be taught wisdom or enabled to learn it. Power, wisdom, art and affection, the grand phases of living, need no goal of happiness They are ends in themselves. The purpose of life is more life.

Mr. Quarterpage shook his head sadly. "Chamberlayne, my dear young sir," he answered was a plausible and a clever fellow. Nobody knew anything about him until he came to this town, and yet before he had been here very long he had contrived to ingratiate himself with everybody—of course, to his own advantage. Dear Miss Grey,—This is my first letter to the Mail-Box. My home is in London, but I am just visiting in the country just now. I like to visit in the country just now. I like to visit in the country just now. I law just to country just now. I lake to visit in the country, where I can have a good romp around the fields and chase the roses, and entered the drawing-room on the strains of the brides main with orange blossoms, and verification of their father to the strains of the ocuntry, where I can have a good romp around the fields and chase the rown of the strains of Visiting in the County. Hints From Rosa M. Dear Miss Grey,-I have been delaying returning that contest which you sent me some time ago because I have lost it. I intended to write right away and went to get the little paper it was on, and lo! it was gone. I am very sorry and can hardly expect to be for-given, I guess. However, Miss Grey, if you can keep from being justly angry at me, will you send me another one if there is one in the Mail-box? I am copying one I have to send to you and will make it a point to return the one you send to me now.

I am copying one I have to send to you and will make it a point to return the one you send to me now.

I tried that "pickles without brine" recipe which was in the correspondence a while ago. The amount of vinegar was one gallon. I have some cucumbers in the liquid and was wondering if I could keep on putting them in every day until the crock would be full and the vinegar just covering them by pressing a plate down on the top. Or would that be too many for the amount of spice?

The only "help" I can contribute is to tell the way I fix filling for layer cakes. I take a little applesauce and mix a small amount of icing sugar with it, to put between the layers apple butter is nice to use, too. I use sea-foam icing quite a bit and when I am going to beat the white of an egg I first put a very little water in with it. It seems to beat more quickly then.

Well, I must close, for maybe you'll have some more sensible question to answer for someone else. Thanking "May and "52," and below the letters "M. & Co."

The duel continued on fairly even terms until Calbert's three-bagger in the twelfth started the strain creaking, and Kuhn's single right after sent the London fielder across the pan with the winning run.

Wolves Forge Ahead.

After Bay City had collected a run in both the second and the fourth off by the Tribe in the first look rathe ill, Manager Wetzel left the order unchanged until the eighth, when he inchanged until the eighth, when he injected Carmen in as a pinch-hitter with two on and two gone, and the little southpaw took a small chunk of revenge on the Wolves for his only defeats by banging out a single to left, which scored Kuhn, who had strolled down to first through Summers' generosity. Buzz took Dowling's place at second and stuck around until the eleventh, when he shoved Joe Briger in to bat for him. Then Delotelle held the fort at second for the one frame.

Kennedy's double and Calbert's hit to centre did the trick for the first counter in the first frame. After that London didn't seriously threaten until to centre did the trick for the first counter in the first frame. After that London didn't serlously threaten until the fifth, when a walk, two sacrifices, another walk came in order and Calbert was hit. Kuhn couldn't hear the tiny voice of opportunity, however, and Summers put the work over on him. Then the offensive in the eighth made a break in the ordinary retirement of the Londoners from the plate until the old round dozen frames came round. The Wolves, however, advanced to the attack with great vigor on four occasions. In the second frame a walk, two sacrifices, another was hit. He was scored on Parker's single. In the fourth Neitzke's generosity was again to blame, for Grodick advanced around with the bases filling behind him on Pitt's error and a hit. He was scored by Cuyler's single to centre. Whaley and Hauser coming behind were nipped by Walter Shay's peg to the plate. When things were becoming a bit strained in the tenth the Wolves started to howl again. Two were gone, but a scratch hit to second and a fairish swat to right produced excitement. In the eteventh Pitt's third error of the day and Hauser's hit coming with only one gone made things look difficult, but the next Hauser's hit coming with only one gone made things look difficult, but the next two were easy outs. In the twelfth Neitzke retired them with outs to two gardens and an infield out.

Dempsey Has Respect For Miske—Almost Affection, It Seems

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Aug. 26.

Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, admitted today that both he and Manager Jack Kearns had serious respect for Billy Miske, the St. Paul challenger, whom Dempsey meets in a championship match here a week from Monday.

In anticipation of a hard, gruelling contest, Dempsey has settled down to a vigorous training siege and is rapidly rounding into perfect fighting condition.

a vigorous training siege and is rapidly rounding into perfect fighting condition.

Dempsey says he regards Miske as a better fighter than Jess Willard, whom Dempsey whipped in the third round of their battle at Toledo fourteen months ago. He is an able judge of the fighting qualities of both men, as he has fought Miske twice and failed to knock him out in either engagement.

They met in a 10-round engagement in St. Paul two years ago last May, and seven months later faced each other in a 6-round match at Philadelphia, Miske claiming a victory.

"I am frank to say that I think Miske is a stiffer puncher than Willard, and certainly is much faster," the champion said today, "and he can stand up under severe punishment. I even failed to knock him down, although I put every ounce of strength behind my punches.

"Miske is as big as I am and perhaps will slightly outweigh me when he meets me on Labor Day. I figure to go into the ring under the 190-pound notch. I hope to be at the same weight as I was when I fought Willard, 187 pounds."

Harry Greb. the Pittsburg light heavyweight, will join Dempsey's staff of sparring partners within a couple of days. Greb is scheduled to meet "Chuck" Wiggins of Indianapolis in one of the four heavyweight matches on Labor Day.

WINGHAM, Aug. 26.—In the first game of the semi-finals in the North Wellington Baseball League, Wingham today defeated Cargill, 13 to 7. The game was very interesting all the way, and the largest crowd of the season witnessed the contest. Cargill are by no means out of it, as they have a good ball team, but Wingham will again endeavor to beat them in the return game at Cargill Saturday. Wingham played good ball, and they have a well-balanced team. Telfer and Morgan each twirled half the game for Wingham, while Anderson, although hit hard, stayed the full nine innings for Cargill. The line-up was:

Wingham—Aitchison, Telfer, Geddes, M. J. Johnston, Judson, R. Johnstone, Howson, Morden, Johns.

Cargill—Neil, Rumble, Thompson, F. Anderson, Loughlin, J. Anderson, W. Thompson, W. Russell, C. Thompson.

SURRENDERS TO POLES

WARSAW, Aug. 26.—A Bolshevik brigade of 4,000 which crossed the Dneister River before Horodenka and reached the Sereth River was surrounded and surrendered to the reinforced Polish forces that are clearing out the region south of the Dneister and the left bank of the Bug on the Galician front.

The Bolsheviki no longer are grouped on a continuous front, but isolated fighting is continuing. Groups that reach the right bank of the Dneister are driven back or surrendered and covered. These red detachments are said to be composed largely of Caucasians or Turkestans. It is reported that they have done much pillaging, but have not displayed ardor in fighting for the soviets.

just been sent to me, and I am asking the favor of a little space to say, remading comment on my letter—my MRS. PRENTER'S ATTITUDE. the favor of a little space to say, regarding comment on my letter—my whole contention was, and is, that we have no possible warrant for interference with Russia. It was a clear case for submission to the league of nations, article II. Furthermore, it was admitted by Mr. Bonar Law in the House of Commons on May 17 that the Government was assisting the Poles in their aggression, and since then it has been proved that the same English Government spent a sum sufficient to pay off her indebtedness to France, in an attempt to interfere with the Soviet.

Also a few glances at a certain document in the Manchester Guardian of, I think, July 3, will show a so-called "gentleman," Mr. Winston Churchill, agreed to the carrying on of military operations under cover of the Red Cross, and declaring that he takes "his orders also from Kolchak," the monarchist murderer of many thousands.

Did Not Give Alarm When Companion Was Drowned in Creek at Port Talbot

Strange Evidence Given by W itnesses At Inquest Into Death of Mrs. Ida Horton, of S t. Thomas-Hearing Opened At Fingal Yesterday Lasted Four Hours - Adjourned Till Tuesday Next.

[By Staff Reporter.] FINGAL, Aug. 26. — Evidence startling nature tending to point to the fact that her three companions negligently failed to summon assistance when Mrs. Ida Belle Horton of St. Thomas was drowned at Port Tal-bot last Friday, was brought out at the inquest into her death conducted here tonight by Coroner Dr. Robert Ewin and Crown Attorney Angus Mc-Ewin and Crown Attorney Angus and Crimmon, of Elgin County.
Several witnesses declared that Mrs. George Richardson, Roy McIntyra and William Crisp, all of St. Thomas, who accompanied Mrs. Horton on her death trip, acted in a very peculiar manner following the fatality, and that it was only through notification by small boys playing ball near the scene of the fatality that the drowning was made thrown.

"You had no intoxicating liquor to drink that day?" asked the crown attorney, to which witness replied, "No, sir."

"Did you see any?" "No, sir. I had full possession of my mental and physical faculties."

"Water Very High.

Continuing, witness said that she remained with her two companions until Mrs. Horton came out of the lake, remarking that "the water was very rough and very warm." She asked witness to don a bathing suit and go in with her, which she did, and they walked together to the lake, the victim stating that she could swim. Witness waded out to a stump in the water, and the two men went into the Clay house.

stating that she could will. Withers waded out to a stump in the water, and the two men went into the Clay house.

"I did not see Mrs. Horton enter the water," said Mrs. Richardson, "I got off the stump, when I heard her call about five minutes after the men left. She just called 'Micky'—no fear, no distress, in it, nothing unusual, and I thought she was calling McIntyre to come in with her, as he was in the house at the time. I was still on the stump when she called. McIntyre and Crisp came out when they heard her call. Crisp came out when they heard her call. McIntyre came out immediately. It appeared to me that the call was up the creek and I recognized her voice."

"Crisp came to me and asked where rida was, he walked over, came back, and said he could not see her. McIntyre walked over to Crisp. It was still daylight. They said she must have gone up the creek to see if he could find here, and he called her name. Micky (McIntyre) followed. I never dreamed there was anything wrong, because I did not see her enter the water, and never thought she was in. I left the stump at once, and we all looked all over. It all happened in about fifteen minutes."

"Your mind was clear at the time?" asked the crown attorney.

"Yes sir, clear as now," was the reply. "When the boys returned it then occurred that she was downed. A little boy went up to Piper's on his little reply. When the boys returned it is occurred that she was drowned. little boy went up to Piper's on own volition, because he thought needed assistance."

Did Not Call For Help.

"Notwithstanding into your suspicio ou did not call out for assistance?"

"No."
"Nor to the men?"
"No."
"Did it occur to you to draw the at-pictons?"

"Yes."

"Why didn't you?"

"In the excitement I had not a thought."

"How are you going to justify (I am going to use that term) your conduct to the jury if you were in possession of all your faculties?"

"By the sudden shock when I thought she was drowned is all I can say."

"Can you make any further explanation to the jury?"

"I have said all I can say."

"You did nothing, and let a little boy take it on his own to go for assistance?"

take it on his own trance?"

"Well, we never dreamed of her drowning. We thought she could swim and that she had gone up the creek. I cannot say anything more than that, owing to the excitement of the moment."

Boy Raised Alarm.

George Clay, the 12-year-old lad who summoned aid, was the next witness. He was asked by Mrs. Richardson for a bathing suit, which he gave to her. The two women went to the lake and the two men later came out attired in bathing suits.

"It did."
"Did you come to a conclusion as the cause of the indifference?"

"Did you come to a conclusion as to the cause of the indifference?"
"No."
Donald Lake, a companion of the boys, recounted circumstances similar to their testimony.
William Crisp, giving evidence, stated that he is employed at the Grand Trunk shops in St. Thomas, and knew Mrs. Horton for about two months. He went out with her occasionally, and is unmarried. He corroborated Mrs. Richardson regarding the drive to Port Talbot and circumstances following." No Sound of Distress.

No Sound of Distress.

"There was no distress in Mrs. Horton's call," ne declared. "It sounded to me like pleasure and happiness. I came out and casually asked where Ida was, and it never struck me at the time that there was anything wrong. I knew what I was doing."

"Had you been drinking intoxicating liquor this day before or after that?"

"No."

"Can you tell the jury what conclusion you came to after the call?"

"Yes. I thought she had gone upstream some place. After I searched all over it never struck me then that she was drowned. I do not know anyway what I could have done."

"Explain that statement to the jurors."

"I am no swimmer."
Doctor's Evidence.
Dr. Alex Turner of St. Thomas, who performed an autopsy on the body of Mrs. Horton, testified that death was due to drowning. The lungs and stomach contained water, and there was no indication of external violence. Asked by the crown how long after. inquest Adjourned.

The inquest was not concluded to a light and hearing of evidence was adjourned at 11 p.m. until next Tuesday evening. Tonight's session was of four formation from the witnesses ing information from the witnesses ing information from the witnesses with detail as his objective. Several with for the concluding session.

Mrs. George Richardson, Yarmouth street, St. Thomas, informed the Jury that her husband is living, and that she had known the deceased about fourteen years. She was with her last Friday, having gone to her home in the Railway City in answer to a phone call. Roy McIntyre was there wen she arrived, and Crisp came along later. McIntyre suggested that they go for an auto ride, which they did, stopping at a St. Thomas drug store to purchase bathing caps and some soap. They drove to Port Talbot, arriving there at 6:43 p.m. by her watch. She opened the gates at this place and they drove up to the home of Bert Clay.

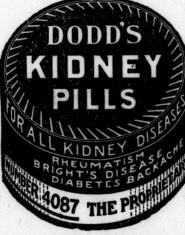

Clarence Clay and some small children were there. She declared that the party took no refreshments after leaving St. Thomas. Clay was leaving there was negligence displayed? # SAGE TEA DANDY

The two women went to the lake and the two men later came out attired in bathing suits.

"I heard a call," he declared, "but did not pay any attention to it. I later saw them hunting for someone, and helped hunt with the other boys, because I suspected someone was lost. I heard them all hollering her name, calling 'ida.' We seined the creek with nets left on the bank. They did not say anything to us and we finally gave it up. They, the three bathers, went in to get dressed.

"We spoke among ourselves and thought there was a drowning and went to Mrs. Piper's for assistance. We did not want to go into the house because a woman was dressing. The three of them were in one bedroom."

Could Not Find Woman.

Walter Taylor, another Port Talbot youth, corroborated the previous witness and added: "I asked McIntyre what was the matter, and he said that he could not find a woman. I thought that the woman had been drowned. They watched us seining the creek."

"Did it seem to you." asked the crown, "that there was considerable indifference shown by them?"

WILSON PLANNING

by Grayson After March 4.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 .- President Wilson according to gossip in the White House, is beginning to make plans for the time, not far distant, when he must relinquish the tenancy of the executive mansion, and here is in circulation a report that he intends to maintain a permanent residence in Washington.

Rumors that the president intends to occupy an old house, the Nourse mansion recently purchased by Admiral Carey T. Grayson, his personal physician and intimate friend, have been whispered about for some time without denial from the White House.

The Grayson residence, located on Wisconsin avenue opposite "Friendship" home of Edward B. McLean, publisher, is one of the finest estates in the District of Columbia. It is ideality located in a beautiful tract of 22 acres well dotted with shade trees.

It is the president's intention, so the rumors go, to occupy the mansion immediately after March 4 until next summer. Extensive alterations are to be made in the house to modernize it. Wilson according to gossip in the White

The vaudeville is comprised of three big-time acts. The Mailory Sisters present the newest popular songs in a most pleasing manner. Worden and Holdy present a line of rapid-fire comedy and some humorous songs, which have not been surpassed in many a long day. "The Cranberry Farm" is a three-act play packed into about ten minutes of sparkling comedy and clever plot. A new Kauffman's weekly is another feature.

Lillian Rosedale, a versatile young woman, is a rare combination of pianist, composer and singer. She has played for many famous singers who have used her songs successfully. Her voice is a rich, warm, mezzo-soprano. One is quick to recognize the artist when she plays and sings her own compositions, which always win her audience. She comes from a family of writers and artists. Seats for both performances of "H-flo Alexander" can now be secured.

This is the outcome of Bolshevist culture, and it were surely well for any who think Bolshevism a fine thing for a country to ponder these matters, as in no way do they arise out of the blockade, but are the direct result of the systematic cruelty practiced for years by the so-called "saviors" of Russia.

If that is the treatment the young suffer, what of the Bolshevist of the surely well as the surely well a "saviors" of Russia.

If that is the treatment the young suffer, what of the Bolshevist attitude toward the old and infirm? I venture to think the two following ex-swiffer, what of the Bolshevist attitude toward the old and infirm? I venure to think the two following examples will suffice to give one a fairity clear idea:

I went with a friend in Petrograd to distribute a very small quantity of food to some 50 or 60 old Russian laddes, who were under the care of the soviet government. These old people had all been mercilessly dragged from the charming and peaceful alms-houses where they have not found them to the control of the soviet government. These old people had all been mercilessly dragged from the charming and peaceful alms-houses where they have not found them to the control of the frost to a kitchen across the yard, where they were given the smallest imaginable portion of horrible bread and a bowl of soup. This latter was literally nothing more than dirty potato peelings in hot water. The "soup" was brown because of the earth off the peelings, and had a most revolting smell. They were given this and hot water twice a day, and that was all.

revolting smell. They were given this and hot water twice a day, and that was all.

Dust Heap for the Dead.

On a horrible cold day I was walking along one of the almost deserted streets of Petrograd when a sad little procession passed me; they were escorting a roughly made sledge consisting of two planks on runners, and on it a miserable coffin, through the gaping chinks of which I could see a dead body. This was being pulled along by a woman and pushed by a man—an ex-Russian officer. They had several miles to walk to reach the cemetery, and the road was so the cemetery, and the road was so suddenly they were stopped by a "Red" soldier.

"Where are you going?" "To the cemetery." "Who've you got in that coffin?" "My mother." "How old was she?" "Over 70." "Over 70? Why, man, you must be a fool to go all that way and risk dying of cold for the sake of burying that old hag. Throw her on the dust heap, that's the place for her."

In no way can the above examples of the Bolshevist attitude toward the old and infirm come under the heading of atrocities. They are purely and simply Bolshevist methods put into practice, and the soldier in my story is merely practicing what his taskmasters teach—teach at the point of the sword. I have known the Russian peasant and workingman for the last sixteen years, and I know it is not he who speaks, but that he has temporarily been infected with this systematic and callous cruelty. He has seen everything he once reverenced, loved and respected, dragged through the mud—his church, his coar, his country, the sanctity of marriage, home ties. Everything and softening influence has been deliborately and systematically ridiculed and degraded in his eyes, and this, added to the despotism and tyranny of the Bolshevist rule, has rendered him apparently case-hardened and brutal. Religious Revival Predicted. With the downfall of Bolshevism OMAGH, Ineland, Aug. 26.—While a fair was in progress at Drumquin, about seven miles northwest of Omagh, this morning, a party of armed Sinn Feiners dashed through the village in motor cars and opened fire on a small force of police constables controlling traffic, wounding two of the men. A sergent in command was wounded traffic, wounding two of the men. A sergeant in command was wounded slightly and a constable received critical injuries. After the opening dash the raiding party turned its attention to the barracks which the remainder of the police were striving to defend. After a long and futile siege the Sinn Feiners departed.

A large military force was dispatched to the scene from Omagh, but arrived too late to be of assistance.

BELFAST Aug. 26.—Serious riotings broke out in Belfast tonight, during which there was some shooting and incendiarism. A number of wounded persons were taken to hospitals.

Tonight's rioting began in the Falls district of West Belfast, the scene of the deadliest fighting in the July disturbances. It was started with revolver firing near the Kashmir road, of evil memories. Albert street, in the Falls area, situated in the populous mill locality, mainly inhabited by Nationalists, became the new storm centre.

Whether because of the "open letters" of John Cottam or for other unknown reasons the town planning committee is beginning to show renewed signs of life. The chairman, Ald. E. R. Seabrook, has arranged for Noulan Cauchon, noted of the denginearing events of Citickens, spring, lb. 25 to the proposition of the millitary was heartily cheered.

WILL GET GAS AT OLD RATES, DECLARES MAYOR OF WINDSOR

Severe Arraignment of Union Natural Gas Company's Tactics.

$1,500,000 EXTRA A YEAR

Would Result From 75 Cents Per 1,000 Cubic Feet

WINDSOR, Aug. 26 .- "Windsor will ontinue to get gas and they will get at the same price as now," Mayor Winter told members of the Border Chamber of Commerce today during a hot arraignment of the Union Gas Company and its attempt to increase its prices here from 30 cents to $1 housand cubic feet.

No Reason for Increase. "The Windsor Gas Company has ontract with the Union Gas Company of Chatham to supply gas as long as there is gas to be had, and I haven't heard anyone saying there is no gas. I believe the contract is a good instrument and believe we are going to have gas at the same rate. I don't believe there is any reason for an increase and don't think there is going to be any.

Made a Mistake.

"When I asked the company with they wanted $1 in Windsor and other places a rate of 50 lowed other places a rate of 50 and 75 cents, they said they wanted to con-serve the supply here for cooking and heating, but when I pointed out that serve the supply here for cooking and heating, but when I pointed out that these restrictions were not in effect elsewhere, they admitted making a mistake in asking for $1 here.

Company Not Fair.

"The only statement of Mr. Little of London, who is a director of the company, with which I agree is that the company has not been fair, they have not laid their cards on the table. Only when the company admits that its stock is watered and squeezes out the water will the people consider giving them what is reasonably coming to them.

Would Only Spend Tenth.

"The only reason the company asks an increase in Windsor and other Western Ontario centres is because everything is higher and they are following the example of others who are profiteering in everything. Even if the price here were raised to only 75 cents the additional earnings would be $1.500,000 extra yearly, while the company is only willing to spend one-tenth of that amount in development."

Want Government Control.

Accompanied by several aldermen, Mayor Winters will attend the meeting of representatives of all municipalities affected to be held in Chatham on Friday, when with the support of Mayor Brisco of that city, he plans

Party Propaganda Bureau and Election Machine Sole Work of Meighen Cabinet

While Premier Denounces Foes of "Constituted Authority," Latter Fails To Function At Ottawa—Feverish Orderin-Council Activity Replaced by "Laissez Faire" At-

to get rid of sugar made from priced "raws" before being or sell on the basis of the prices.

Deal of Speculation.

There has been a deal of securing the refiners of the refiners while applications for terrific increases in the rates for all public services are pouring into the railway commission.

No Serious Attempt,

At the same time no serious attempt is being made to bring down the cost of commodities, whose raw materials to the commodities, whose raw materials are decreased in price to the producer. The Government owns half of the railmost in Canada, and yet the Government owns half of the railmost in the recent rates hearing before the railway commission, which involves a demand for revenue increases approximating $214,000,000, a sum in excess of Canada's annual war debt. But it wo governments were represented, that of Manitoba and that of Saskatchewan, and Mr. D. D. Hannah, president of the Canadian Nationals, declared that he had not consulted the Government at all in the matter of the application.

There has been a deal of speculation in sugar, but the refiners are to be represented against the dangers and rise and vantages the consumer did not benefit manufactured therefrom, is still on hand or what firms hold it. Nobody appears to know how much refined sugar was to know how much refined sugar was eadwantage of the exchange, and how much of that is now being sold in the day of Manitoba and that of Saskatchewan, and Mr. D. D. Hannah, president of the Canadian Nationals, declared that he had not consulted the Government at all in the matter of the application.

The Uusual Excuse. of constituted authority," and bidding the electors to band themselves against the Bolsheviki and other government "wreckers," there is a woeful lack of functioning on the part of constituted authority at the capital, and things are being permitted which, in any other country, might be calculated to make for Bolshevism. The feverish order-inhas given place to a condition of "laissez faire" on the part of the National Liberal and Conservative party marked by the protracted absence of responsible ministers and by a period of administrative stagnation never before equalled at Ottawa.

Scarcely a cabinet council of importance has been held since the new Government was constituted. The outstanding act of the new Government was constituted. The outstanding act of the new Government to far has been the creation of an organization for election purposes, and the formation of a propaganda bureau. At a time when living costs have almost become unbearable the motto does not work both ways. For the past week or so sugar across the border has been selling at 14 cents a pound. A considerable quantity of this was Canadian refined, but in Canadia it retails at 23 cents, the price fixed by the board of commerce in July last, and there is no hurry to get the down. At the present time, when the fruit crop is abundant, it is essential that sugar be procured as cheaply as possible, but it would appear that the canners are to be the only ones to benefit by the big fruit crop.

The chairman of the board of commerce is in the West, and appears to be in no hurry to return. Major Dillon and F. A. Ackland, the other members, have gone to Montreal today to interview the refiners. In the meanting the motto does not sugar prices for some little the motto does not sugar across the border has been selling at 14 cents a pound. Winnipeg Fruit Merchants Say That Liquor Regulations Have Increased Demand For Light Wines and Grape Juices, and This Has Boosted Price.

[Special to The Advertiser.] WINNIPEG, Aug. 26.—"Winnipeg and the West are clamoring for Ontario fruit. We cannot get any. With the advent of liquor sale regulations the consumption of non-intoxicating wines and grape juices has great increased," dealers said today.

For this reason non-intoxicating wine and grape juice manufacturers are strongly competing this year for the supply of Ontario grapes. This has boosted the price, and local wholesale fruiters cannot as yet tell the extent to which Ontario grapes will this year be brought to Western Canada. PAY NATION'S DEBT?

[Special to The Advertiser.]
WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 26.—
Members of the party of leading grainmen and bankers who traversed the three prairie provinces this month reported on their return home that if the crop of 1921 produced as much money as the crop of 1920 promised to do, the three prairie provinces will in two seasons yield a sufficient sum to pay the national debt of the Dominion.

the national debt of the Dominion.

One of the bankers was George H. Prince, chairman of the board of the Merchants Bank of St. Paul. He estimated the value of the Western crop at a billion dollars, and said that only about fifteen per cent of the tillable area of the provinces was under cultivation. The wheat crop this year, he thought, would be 250,000,000 bushels, and the area under crop, he was informed, was 29,000,000 acres.

Prince anticipated that United States would aid materially in financing Western Canada, and that very large quantities of the milled in Minneapolis.

Appeals To Farmers.

Mr. King, who was given an enthusiastic welcome, made a strong appeal to both labor and farmers to enterpolitics but not to enter as a class because, he said, if one class gained ground, jealousy would be engendered in another class which would proved disastrous to both. He invited both parties to join forces with the Liberals, who, he said, were real democrats and ready to put into effect the lessons which the war had taught. He adjusted at this stage of Canada's history. He advocated tariff reform and described as dishonest people who talked free trade at this stage of Canada's history. He advocated reduction of the duties on necessaries of life.
