THE SANDS CHEER PRINCE ON ARRIVAL IN U.S. Reichstag Adopts Dawes Proposals After Bitter Fight

DAWES PLAN IS FINALLY ADOPTED BY REICHSTAG

Acceptance of London Agreement Follows Bitter Opposition by Communists.

VOTING IS SPLIT

Nationalists Approve Railway Plan, But Reject Banking Clause.

Associated Press Despatch.
Berlin, Aug. 29.—The German Reichstag today accepted the Dawes reparation plan agreement concluded at the recent London conference, by adopting by a vote of 314 to 127 the necessary two-thirds majority, the railway bill to put into effect the provisions of the London agreement. The Nationalist deputies voted in favor of the measure.

The German Nationalists whose open opposition to the agreement and whose attacks on it during the debate yesterday and today had made the results of the voting problematic, voted in favor of the railway bill, but they voted against the banking bill, another of the Dawes measures, which, nevertheless was adopted by a vote of 295 to 172, a two-thirds vote being unnecessary for this bill.

Marx's Final Appeal.
Chancellor Marx in a final appeal this morning for acceptance of the plan suggested that the resolutions which the Nationalists had submitted yesterday should be amended so as to enable the government to support them.

Meanwhile negotiations were continuing behind the scenes and there was feverish activity in party circles with well-informed persons generally conceding that there was at least an even chance for adoption of the London agreement.

The resolutions which Chancellor Marx urged might be changed in form to permit government support were introduced by the Nationalists yesterday in an effort to find a loophole which would enable them to vote for the Dawes plan bills without loss of prestige.

Certain Stipulations.
One of these resolutions stipulates that the London pact shall not only enter into force when international guarantees are given Germany that the regions now occupied by virtue of the Versailles treaty shall be evacuated by August 1925.

Another resolution is to the effect that the London pact shall not be considered in force until the German government has officially repudiated the admission of war guilt contained in the treaty of Versailles. A third resolution would instruct the government to demand within two years the re-examination of Germany's capacity to pay, the object being to reduce the obligation laid down in the Dawes plan.

RADICALS REPULSED.
Associated Press Despatch.
Lisbon, Aug. 29.—Radicals and Communists last night attacked St. Georges fortress, but were driven off by the soldiers after an exchange of shots. Nineteen of the assailants, many of them well-known in advanced political circles, were later arrested.

New York Stands Prepared To Greet Prince of Wales If Given Real Opportunity

Prince Arrives In N.Y. Harbor

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, Aug. 29.—The Prince of Wales arrived on the liner Berengaria at Quarantine, lower New York harbor, at 2:17 o'clock this afternoon.

The prince planned to leave the liner as soon as the customary medical inspection of the vessel could be completed and proceed to Glen Cove, on the north shore of Long Island, on the fast yacht Black Watch.

The Black Watch was waiting for the Berengaria. Sir Eame Howard, the British ambassador, and a number of distinguished guests were on board to welcome the prince. The lower bay was filled with pleasure craft, crowded with persons who cheered the appearance of the heir to the British throne.

THOMAS CREDITS SMUTS WITH SOLVING PROBLEM

British Cabinet Minister Claims South African's Aid in Ireland Important.

Associated Press Despatch.
Port Elizabeth, South Africa, Aug. 29.—J. H. Thomas, colonial secretary who is at the head of a parliamentary party of tourists from Great Britain and the dominions now visiting various sections of South Africa, speaking at a civic luncheon here yesterday, referred to the Irish boundary question. If the vexed question should be solved during his term of office, Mr. Thomas said, it would be remembered that General Smuts, former premier of South Africa, had contributed much towards bringing about this happy state of affairs.

It was a compliment to South Africa, Mr. Thomas continued, that one of her distinguished judges, Justice Feetham, a member of the South African supreme court, had been chosen by the British government as chairman of the Irish boundary commission.

Mr. Thomas said he was going back to London to face the Irish problem, not from any party standpoint, but determined to settle it. He was so hopeful that the solution of the matter would be found by the Irish people themselves, but whatever the solution might be, he could hope that it would not weaken the British empire.

WESTERN WHEAT CROP 265,000,000 BUSHELS

Associated Press Despatch.
Regina, Aug. 29.—The inter-provincial wheat pool selling agency estimates the total wheat crop of the three prairie provinces at 265,000,000 bushels, according to A. J. McPherson, president of the selling agency and of the Saskatchewan wheat pool.

BRINSMEAD FINISHES FLIGHT

Associated Press Despatch.
Melbourne, Australia, Aug. 29.—Colonel Brinsmead, controller of civil aviation, who has been making an all-around Australia flight with a view to demonstrating the possibilities of commercial aviation, has completed his flight of 7,550 miles in 22 days without a hitch.

MUNICIPAL ASSOC. ASKS PEOPLE BE CONSULTED

Provincial Body Wants Legislature To Send Out Investigators.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Town-Planning Scheme Is Favored as Means of Lowering Taxation.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Montreal, Aug. 29.—J. C. Vance, treasurer for Wentworth County, was today elected president of the Ontario Municipal Association. In taking over the reins of office, the new president expressed the opinion that the association was one of the best mediums for the municipalities to secure legislation they required. He regretted that in the past rural municipalities had not shown the interest desirable in the O. M. A. Now that the Ontario legislature was about to revise the municipal laws, he trusted that the rural municipalities would wake up to their responsibilities.

Other officers elected included: Vice-presidents, W. B. Doherty, city solicitor, St. Thomas; W. H. Henry, assessor, Peterboro; S. R. Watt, treasurer, St. Catharines; secretary, treasurer, Dr. Horace L. Brittain, Toronto; executive, H. F. Leonard, Brantford; H. W. McKay, Elgin; G. W. Rieborough, Huron; township, P. R. Waddell, K.C. Hamilton; W. McCrea, Sault Ste. Marie; H. James, Fort William; J. C. Forman, Toronto; W. H. Alley, Lindsay; Miss M. A. Dickenson, Windsor. W. L. Please See Page 4, Column 2.

COLLEGIATES ARE READY FOR PUPILS

Prospective Students Advised Not To Delay Registrations.

With slight changes in the teaching staffs, repairs completed by the works department, and registration as complete as possible under existing conditions, the colleges and institutes near opening day next Tuesday, with optimism and belief that more students than ever before will be enrolled.

Plans for further registration, the opening day schedule and the allotment of new staff appointments to special tasks, have been arranged. At 9 o'clock on Tuesday morning the staff of each of the units of the collegiate will assemble at their respective schools and discuss the policy for the year. At 10 o'clock, first and second year students will gather at the schools to which they have been assigned and organize for the year. Third, fourth and fifth year students will come in at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon for organization.

Register Early.
It is advisable, Principal E. A. Miller of the central college institute said today, for all students who expect to attend classes to see that they are registered for the right subjects not later than the opening. Those who must change their plans after results of the last departmental examinations are made known, should have a day or two to make immediately.

STEAMER READY TO MAKE DASH FOR ICEBOUND SHIP

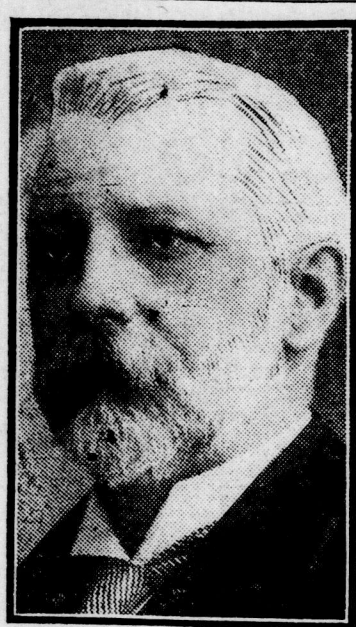

Associated Press Despatch.
Nome, Alaska, Aug. 29.—The position of the steamer Boxer, U. S. bureau of education vessel, was reported today to be fifteen miles from the schooner ship, which was drifting in the ice with a crew of nineteen, 60 miles from Point Barrow, Alaska.

The Boxer was said to be ready to make a dash through the ice when conditions permit to rescue the crew of the Lady Kindersley.

Word also was received today that some of the crew of the schooner Arctic, which was stuck in the ice will arrive here tomorrow aboard the steamer Teddy Bear. The Teddy Bear picked up some of the crew members en route to Nome from near Point Barrow.

TWO ARE DROWNED

Canadian Press Despatch.
Shawinigan Falls, Que., Aug. 29.—The St. Maurice river has claimed two more victims. Yesterday Arthur Gelinis, nine-year-old son of Hector Gelinis, and Real Plante, eleven-year-old son of J. E. Plante, of this town, were rowing in the river, when they lost their balance and fell into the water and were drowned.

HON. W. S. FIELDING, minister of finance, who will in all likelihood be appointed president of the privy council under the changes to be made in cabinet reconstruction now in progress. The post at present is held by Premier King. The change would be acceptable to Mr. Fielding, it is understood.

PREMIER SPEAKS AT WIARTON TODAY

Enthusiastic Reception Is Expected King and Party on Arrival.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Owen Sound, Aug. 29.—At 1 o'clock this afternoon Premier W. L. Mackenzie King arrived in Wiarton to attend and address the big North Bruce Liberal gathering being held there. He was accompanied by Hon. George P. Graham, Dominion minister of railways and canals, and James Malcolm, M.P., Kincairdine member for North Bruce and Liberal whip at Ottawa. He was received by a reception committee and escorted to the residence of S. J. Cameron, one of the leading Liberals of North Bruce.

Following a parade to Kemp Park, Dr. Hay of Wiarton will take the chair and a civic address of welcome will be presented by Mayor Gilpin. The party is to be entertained at the home of Dr. Hough this evening and will leave early on Saturday morning.

This afternoon's gathering of Liberals will be the largest in years in this district.

Girl's Death Due To Poison Fungi

Mushrooms Eaten by Toronto Family End in Tragedy.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Aug. 29.—A Sunday evening supper of what was believed to be mushrooms gathered near the Humber River has claimed one life and caused four other cases of serious illness in the family of George Taylor, the Osborne Apartments, 1484 King street west.

Seventeen-year-old Audrey Taylor died yesterday after an illness of 72 hours duration. The other members of the family are seriously ill, but are expected to recover, unless the shock of the girl's death causes them to suffer a relapse.

RUMOR OF SALE OF COVES NOW DENIED BY OFFICIAL

Story of Property Believed Available as Park Site Untrue.

USED AS RANGES

Ottawa Letter to City Clerk Definitely Ends the Question.

A letter from J. Desbarats of the department of militia at Ottawa, to the city clerk, says that the Cove property, now used by the army as a shooting range, is not for sale, and that there is no probability that it will be in the future.

This disposes of the suggestion that this property might have been used for a civic park or playground. Some time ago it was reported in certain circles that military headquarters were considering giving up this range and moving to another piece of ground further away from the city.

The letter from Ottawa, however, proves that the city will have to go elsewhere if it needs new parks and playgrounds.

OFFICIALS HESITATE TO GIVE INFORMATION

Canadian Railwaymen Seek To Learn Status of Special Committee.

COMPLAIN OF RATES

Little Progress Made Today by Special Investigating Body.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Aug. 29.—The agricultural inquiry committee, which has been holding sessions at the legislature here during the past few days, failed this morning, for the first time, to make any appreciable progress. This morning's sessions was set aside for the appearance of freight and express traffic of the various railways, to obtain from them an explanation of the high freight and express rates on certain commodities in Ontario of which complaints have been received.

Apparently believing that the committee was exceeding its authority, and without information as to the definite status of the committee, the railway officials were slow in giving information, and the session developed into a more or less informal conversation. "We have to justify our rates before the board of railway commissioners," it was remarked by one of the railway traffic men, and this indicated the attitude taken by that body.

Will Present Complaints.
Realizing that little progress in the matter was probable, it was decided that the committee would forward to the various companies copies of complaints that had been received for their consideration and written answers. A. Bollinger of Russell, a member of the committee, in stating that there appeared to be some objection to appearing before the committee, said that as it had been shown that some of the complaints made by the farmers to the committee would bear looking into, the committee would meet in calling the railwaymen to hear their side of the story was justified.

D. Brien, a cattle shipper, protested to the committee against the high rates on mixed cargoes of cattle and the rate charged on feeders and stockers. He stated that the railways would make more revenue by lowering the rate on feeders and stockers and more would be shipped in Winnipeg, he said, a lowering of the rate had increased the shipments last year from 16,000 head the year prior to the reduction to 40,000.

Have Gone the Limit.
C. N. Ramson, chairman of the freight rates committee of the railways, replying, stated that the railways were down as low as they could go on this class of shipment. "We have gone the limit with the stock industry," he said.

John Young, former president of the Trades and Labor Congress, addressed the committee on wages in the agricultural implement factories. J. Norman, secretary of the Canadian Extension Association; Lorne McDonald of the Canadian National, and W. McDougall of the C. P. R., attended the conference.

CONDITIONS IN SHANGHAI ARE GROWING SERIOUS

Associated Press Despatch.
Washington, Aug. 29.—Conditions at Shanghai are described as "becoming graver hourly" in advices received by the state department from Consul-General Cunningham at Shanghai. The consul-general in his report which was forwarded through the United States legation at Peking, stated that the military had taken charge of the railway station and closed the gates on the morning of Aug. 27.

GALE ALONG N. SCOTIA COAST TAKES 7 LIVES

Canadian Press Despatch.
Halifax, N.S., Aug. 29.—The gale that swept the Nova Scotia coast on Tuesday night wiped out the lives of seven men, including the captain and crew of five of the schooner Anna MacDonald and a fisherman at Yarmouth bar, destroyed the schooner Lady Thorburn at South L'Ardoise, Cape Breton, the coastal steamer Aspy on the north coast of Cape Breton, and also two schooners, the Golden Cup and the Bridget, at their moorings at North Sydney. Passengers and crews of craft in many cases had miraculously escaped from death. Ornamental and fruit trees suffered severe damage. Damages of varying degrees were sustained by property holders throughout the province.

Although the toll is severe, it is not as bad as at first was feared.

Canadian Dollar At High Level

Dominion Currency Shows Unusual Strength on Wall Street.

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, Aug. 29.—The Canadian dollar maintained its strong position in the New York market, opening at 1.64 to 1.32 of 1 per cent premium. Canadian currency established a new high record for the past two years yesterday, when it was quoted at 1.32 of 1 per cent premium.

As this is the season for grain exports, bankers expect a firm Canadian rate for some time, especially if projected Canadian financing here goes through. It is understood that inquiries for gold for export to Canada have been made in anticipation of a further rise in the value of Canadian currency.

of Toronto, noted expert on municipal affairs, who was elected secretary-treasurer of the Ontario Municipal Association at a meeting of that body in Montreal today.

RACE TRACK PAYS LESS TO PROVINCE

Revenue From Windsor Jockey Club Wagers Show Big Decrease.

Special to The Advertiser.
Toronto, Aug. 29.—Revenue totaling $86,535.80 has, according to the statement filed with the provincial treasurer, Hon. W. H. Fisher, accrued to the government from the operations just closed of the Windsor Jockey Club. Such an amount represents the government's 5 per cent tax on wagers, which totalled $1,930,716.

The Windsor track did not operate last year, but its revenues and returns to the government have declined consistently since its spring meet in 1922. At that time its wagers totalled $3,387,851, and the government's share was $169,392.55. In the fall of 1922 its wagers totalled $2,650,617, and the government's share was $132,530.85. At the spring meet this year the wagers totalled $2,265,314.

GALE ALONG N. SCOTIA COAST TAKES 7 LIVES

Toll Not as High as Expected From the Atlantic Storm.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Halifax, N.S., Aug. 29.—The gale that swept the Nova Scotia coast on Tuesday night wiped out the lives of seven men, including the captain and crew of five of the schooner Anna MacDonald and a fisherman at Yarmouth bar, destroyed the schooner Lady Thorburn at South L'Ardoise, Cape Breton, the coastal steamer Aspy on the north coast of Cape Breton, and also two schooners, the Golden Cup and the Bridget, at their moorings at North Sydney. Passengers and crews of craft in many cases had miraculously escaped from death. Ornamental and fruit trees suffered severe damage. #### CONFlict IMMINENT

Chi says his single aggressive purpose in the impending conflict is to capture the Shanghai Sunkang district.

A warning issued to naval authorities to all crafts advising against ascending the Whangpoo River toward Shanghai between sunset and sunrise, is expected to have the effect of bringing concentration of all foreign warcraft here.

Trains arriving here hourly from the armed districts are carrying thousands of refugees who are seeking protection in the foreign settlements. The situation in foreign Chinese commercial circles is described as "distinctly uneasy."

With war preparations on in full blast on both sides, trains are still running on the Shanghai-Nanking railway, although the schedules are irregular because of the confusion.

DEATH SUSPECT HELD ON VAGRANCY CHARGE

Canadian Press Despatch.
Hamilton, Aug. 29.—Joe Melnik, 407 Sherman avenue north, was before Magistrate Jelfs today on a nominal charge of vagrancy, but the nominal charge was a ruse. A game of cards, but no charge in this connection has as yet been formulated by the crown.

ALL CHINA IS FACING FACTIONAL WARFARE

Conflict in Eastern Portions Expected To Lead To General Outbreak.

SUN YAT SEN ACTIVE

Preparations Are Being Made For Fighting on Huge Scale.

Associated Press Despatch.
Shanghai, Aug. 29.—The spark igniting all China in open warfare was seen today in the impending conflict in the eastern portions of Kiangsu province in which Chi-Shieh-Yuan, the aggressor, expects to drive out his rival, Lu Yung-Hsiang, tuchun of Chekiang province, who has ruled the contested section of Kiang Su province since his appointment under the deposed Anfu party as tuchun of Chekiang province. Lu retained his power after the overthrow of the Anfu, said to be the pro-Japanese party, in China in 1919.

General Wu Pei-fu, who has ruled as a military power in China since he defeated the armies of Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, war lord of Manchuria, has been ordered to lead his troops from Chihli province, where Peking is located, to the aid of Chi Shieh-Yuan. It is believed any weakening of General Wu's Chihli position would turn the balance in Lin's long awaited opportunity to move southward again against Peking, an expedition for which he has been preparing since his defeat two years ago.

Another factor in the marshaling of forces in this region is Sun Yat Sen, president of the southern government of China, who although his armies have been weakened by long continued local conflicts in the vicinity of Canton is regarded as a supporter of the forces scattered throughout the provinces.

An inspection of the Quinsan section, whose inhabitants fled to the foreign sections here with other refugees from the war, reveals preparations for fighting on a huge scale.

Twenty-five thousand troops have already been ordered to Kinsan, including artillery and machine gun divisions and fighting is expected to break out momentarily as the opposing forces are within five miles of each other.

Gen. Ho Feng-Ling, military governor of the Shanghai-Sunkang district, today estimated that 20,000 additional troops were being sent to the vicinity of Shanghai, the British points between Wusung and Shanghai, where the opposing forces are expected to clash also.

The immediate basis for the conflict is contained in charges by Chi Shieh-Yuan, that his rival, Lu Yung Hsiang, violated a peace treaty signed two years ago by the Kiangsu and Chekiang provinces, by harboring and accepting support from two military leaders lately expelled by the northern forces with which Chi is aligned.

Chi says his single aggressive purpose in the impending conflict is to capture the Shanghai Sunkang district.

A warning issued to naval authorities to all crafts advising against ascending the Whangpoo River toward Shanghai between sunset and sunrise, is expected to have the effect of bringing concentration of all foreign warcraft here.

Trains arriving here hourly from the armed districts are carrying thousands of refugees who are seeking protection in the foreign settlements. The situation in foreign Chinese commercial circles is described as "distinctly uneasy."

With war preparations on in full blast on both sides, trains are still running on the Shanghai-Nanking railway, although the schedules are irregular because of the confusion.

WARNING IS SENT

Associated Press Despatch.
Peking, Aug. 29.—In addition to the warning note sent by the diplomatic corps to the Chinese foreign office yesterday, declaring that the government would be held responsible for injuries to foreigners or property in the warfare which is threatened in the vicinity of Shanghai, the British minister is understood to have sent a separate note regarding the Shanghai-Nanking Railway, which is menaced by the royal Chinese forces.

Yodelling Laugh Leads To Arrest

Battleford Man Charged With Brutal Murder of Miner.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Saskatoon, Sask., Aug. 28.—Because he yodelled when he laughed, Hans Johnson has been arrested at Battleford charged with the brutal murder of Hugh McDermott, 59, a placer miner, who had lived in a shack near Fort Saskatchewan, Alta., for 30 years. Johnson's weird cacination is said by the police to have been the distinguishing feature which led to his arrest. The accused is in the Fort Saskatchewan jail awaiting preliminary trial.

KIWANIANS BRING JOY TO CHILDREN

Wee Patients of Queen Alexandra Sanatorium Taken For Car Ride.

ICE CREAM AND POP

Yesterday was a happy day for the little boys and girls of Queen Alexandra Sanatorium. For it was the day they went to St. Thomas with the Kiwanians and had a good time.
All morning they watched for the cars to drive in through the gates at Byron, for they were to go on one of those never-to-be-forgotten trips that children love. A trip to another town, a frolic in a strange park, a while beside the river, watermelon and ice cream, and then the joyful ride home through jolly drives.
At 2:30 the Kiwanians dropped their work, got out their cars and by expectant children who knew that they were to have a merry time and were prepared for any adventure.
There were just 20 youngsters who were able to go, and there were more big cars than were needed.
They all filled in, and with a song and a hurrah they were piloted down
the hill and out beyond Springbank.
It was a great ride. They did not know their destination, and neither did some of the drivers who were following Frank McLachlan, marshal of the parade.

At Pinafore Park.

When the gaily decorated cars brought up on Talbot street, St.
Thomas everybody knew that the destination was Pinafore Park. The cars moved on down the winding road to the edge of Kettle Lake, and then the little boys and girls jumped out to play.

It was fun. Dr. Lindsay, boy friend of all the children, was there to provide the active power for the merry-

Ice Cream and Pop.
At 5:30 the Kiwanis boys called a halt in the games to announce refreshments. And what refreshments?
Ernie Moore was ice cream man. He dished ice cream out cone after cone.
Tom Yull opened all the different kinds of colored pop; frothing squirting pop; lots of it.

Then Sam Amoro took up a dead-looking knife. It split death for watermelons. Mrs. Ed. Marley and Mrs. Joseph Isaacs passed around the luscious melon. Along came W. L.
Mara with CHIT Mann. They were carrying big stocks of ripe bananas.
"Gorgeous!" cried the little girls.
"Take," said the boys. Mrs. Yull saw that all the children had plenty, and Bill Wortman came around with the second helpings.

At 6 o'clock they all had their pictures taken, and then Frank Mc-Lachlan took out his watch and said
it was time to go.
The girls sang a song. The boys gave a shout, and an hour afterward the following happy youngsters were back Byron, telling the story of the great adventure.

Boys — Wellington Haines, Ernest
Davis, George Morley, Clarence Harwick, Pat Brooks, Vernon Sprey, Bill McLeod and Warren Simpson.

Girls — Grace Price, Flora Green-the Lethbridge district was shipped today from Stirling. The yield is 20 bushels per acre on stubbled crop.

The grade is not known, but probably will be one or two.

TORONTO TRAFFIC METHODS RAPPED

C. R. Tuson Urges Safety Zones and Drastic Anti-Speeding Law.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Aug. 28.—The delegates to the Ontario Municipal Association convention today discussed problems relating to the regulation of vehicular and pedestrian traffic in cities and towns. According to Alderman G. R.
Tuson of Windsor, Toronto is not setting a very good example to the smaller municipalities in handling this difficult matter. He severely criticized the methods in vogue here, declaring they were antiquated and should be discarded.
He seemed to consider Detroit and Chicago had much better systems. He contended that safety zones should be provided for pedestrians, and that the only way to put an end to reckless driving by motorists was the cancellation of licenses of persons convicted of speeding, or of driving cars while under the influence of liquor. Quite a number of the delegates endorsed his views.

LONDON PRAISED BY U. S. VISITOR

E. T. Ferry Believes City One of Finest and Prettiest on Continent.

BIG EXPANSION

Another of London's summer visitors to express his opinion of the city in no uncertain terms is E. T. Ferry, chief of the fire prevention department of the city of Cleveland, Ohio.

Mr. Ferry, who is in the city staying with Mr. Davis of 552 Princess avenue, proclaims London the finest and prettiest city of its size he has ever seen on the American continent. He has spent the last four days in motoring in the outskirts of London and is surprised at the wealth and prosperity of the farming lands he has passed through.

He sees a great expansion of the city within a reasonable time, as a result of this fortunate location, and in view of the fact that London is the natural center of such an excellent district.

He thought that if Port Stanley had a first-class hotel accommodation it would easily be the best summer resort on the lakes, with Cleveland people eager to come. Speaking of his own connection with the city of Cleveland as a public servant, Mr. Ferry went on to remark on their new experiment in civic government that has turned out so unexpectedly well. Since January Cleveland has been governed by a city manager elected by the council, who has practically had control of the city, and this has resulted in a period of vigorous, efficient city government which has fully justified the change. "One-man government," he said, "is the one and only system."

From this he went on to speak of the Cleveland, and especially of its street railroads, which has always been a problem in American cities. He told a truly interesting story of how Cleveland's big man, Tom Johnson, who has done more than any one man to build up the city, had brought the city and roads to a state of efficient and economical system of building competitive lines. Now the street railway corporation is limited to a percentage profit and the fares, which at one time under this scheme provided citizens with a three-cent fare.

"The elections are a problem at the present time," said Mr. Ferry. "Cleveland sentiment is strongly against total prohibition, but the open bar, though a vote taken tomorrow would bring an overwhelming decision in favor of light wine and beer. Once the election is settled it will be taken to partially repeal the eighteenth amendment."

NEW STREET CAR STOP IS SOUGHT BY DRAKE

Committee of Three Appointed To Consider Pegler Street Proposal.

Superintendent Humeon of the London Street Railway, Adm. Drake and the city engineer were appointed a committee at last night's meeting of the finance committee to see if it was possible to make a car stop at Pegler street. Adm. Drake has been urging that the company make a stop here for some time past.

The city engineer, however, points out that the bylaw does not allow of stops less than four hundred feet apart, and that to put a stop at Pegler street would be to violate this law.

Mr. Humeon stated that when the company had done away with some of its stops last year it was in an attempt to speed up the service, and that for this reason he was opposed to any new stops being added.

He suggested that the nearest stops be taken away to allow of the Pegler street stop, and the committee named above was appointed to see what could be done.

FIRST-CLASS TEACHERS SAID LACKING HERE

Percentage Exceptionally Low, J. W. Plewes, Federal Official, Points Out.

According to J. W. Plewes, deputy inspector of taxation here, comparison figures with other cities in the province indicate that London has many more second class teachers, proportionately, than some of the smaller centres. The percentage of first class teachers to every one of second class teachers is regarded as low in comparison with other cities.

London has 143 first class teachers, holding first class certificates, while 149 have only second class certificates. It is pointed out that in Brantford, less than half the size of London, there are 12 first class teachers to 77 with second class certificates. In Hamilton's public schools there are 120 teachers with first class certificates to 172 holding only second class.

Guelph, Kingston, Ottawa, Peterboro, St. Catharines, Niagara Falls, Toronto and Windsor all have more first class teachers, proportionately, than London.

PENNY BANK DEPOSITS $2,992.94 DURING MAY

London's Penny Bank deposits during May of this year amounted to $2,992.94, and in June they were $2,160.84, in each case more than double the deposits of last year for the same months. London's deposits averaged 36 cents per pupil, 5 cents more than the average for all Canada. Since school, with a deposit of 76 cents per pupil, headed the local schools.

ANCIENT HEBRAIC PLATE.

The plate recently presented to the National Museum at Washington by Miss Leila Lieberman, which is claimed to be the oldest in the world and was once owned by King David. It bears ancient Hebrew inscriptions and is about fourteen inches in diameter.

NEW YORK PREPARED TO WELCOME PRINCE

Roosevelt's Grave.

Oyster Bay, by the way, is where Theodore Roosevelt lived so much in his lifetime at Sagamore Hill. His grave is there, and on his last American trip, five years ago, he expressed deep admiration for the great American.

Except for the Washington trip on Saturday, his appearances at the international polo matches at Meadow Brook, dinner and dancing at one or two places, like the Empire Room on Saturday, his appearance at the program has been arranged for the prince. Of course, everybody and everything is trying to prepare for the prince. "What I think he would rather do," declared Major Metcalf, "is go quietly some morning to Belmont Park, and see Epinaud work out in a fast six furlongs."

Major Metcalf told me that he did not think that the prince would be the chief interest at the lake at the present time," said Mr. Ferry. "Cleveland sentiment is strongly against total prohibition, but the open bar, though a vote taken tomorrow would bring an overwhelming decision in favor of light wine and beer. Once the election is settled it will be taken to partially repeal the eighteenth amendment."

Charming Place. It is really a charming place where the prince is going to live. The Burden Home at Syosset, which is described by the papers here as one of the "smaller places on Long Island," is a charming suburban estate, being a Woolworth building or a Pennsylvania station. But it is no cottage. There are some sixteen acres, and the house is a masterpiece of architecture.

When you first leave the Subway on the Long Island Express you pass through a beautiful suburban district which is reminiscent of the district along the Toronto-Hamilton highway, only on a much bigger scale. The houses are large, the lawns are broad, and the degree of affluence is spread out in a practically unbroken series. But after passing Mineola you come to country roads, gorgeous countryside of fine roads, trees and beautiful estates. Again and again, as you motor through it, it gives you glimpses of a countryside that is almost English, or Irish, for its towering skyline.

Garish Taxi. In a garish taxi, I swept gorgeous up to two or three of these chaste avenues in a search for the prince. The hired car seemed almost a desecration of the rural majesty. In the ways of these fine homes in a rural area, one should do it with the grand style of a carriage with horses. It would be more fitting.

At each of the homes the reception was the same. A smooth-footed car, regrettedly, and English in every case, in question were not there.

At last, at the Winthrop home in Westbury, I learned that the two aides, permanent and temporary, respectively, were at the Burden home preparing for the prince's coming on the morning. The Burden estate was almost to the edge of the village of Syosset, which is a rural area about it. Indeed, an American rural area, not an English one, with its garage and gasoline signs in shrieking colors instead of the village smithy under the spreading chestnut tree. But then one forgets

Hundred Killed In Train Wreck

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Aug. 29.—More than 100 persons were killed or injured in a collision of two passenger trains near Lahore, British India, according to an agency despatch received in Lahore.

The speaker took up the definition of man. The holdings of those who claim that man is a better grade of monkey. Rev. Leichter dismissed the theory by lightly saying that a monkey could gracefully hang from the limbs of trees and therefore, was a better man than he.

A philosophic definition in technical terms brought laughs, and then the minister turned to the Bible definitions. The word of the old book that has stood the test of time, the book which stands as the Gibraltar of the faith.

The speaker then made a plea for the religious of the world to unite in a common faith. "We are challenged by the things of the world," he said. "We accept the challenge and offer to do our best. We are, everybody, should think straightly and well. For a moment the speaker dwelt on the word 'Kiwanis' to build Kiwanians built not for themselves, but for others. Their mission in life is to help those who have not had the best opportunities or have not made the most of what opportunities they did possess. So that they, too, could reach a place in the world where man's value is asserted."

President Tom Yull was in the chair. John A. Nash introduced the speaker. The Miami Synagogue, now playing at Loew's Theatre, were also guests and gave some splendid music to start the program. Mrs. A. B. Duffer delighted with solos that were well received.

Beautiful Drive. One drives up an avenue of yellow gravel and arched trees which shut out the sky with a canopy of green. Then suddenly one comes to the house. It is an English type of house, with veranda or great colonial porticoes, pretty, of red brick, covered partly with ivy. One reaches a rather modest front door by either side of a double flight of raised steps as you might see in a London square. On each side of the doorway is a square ledge or a slightly sunken in fact, are two cool piazzas whose pillared arches give a somewhat anachronistic suggestion of the architecture of the past.

Pacing the house in the heart of the driveway is an oval of green lawn, at the end of which are two trees and in the middle a quaint sun dial. It is very charming. This is a closed square, a square ledge or a slightly sunken in fact, are two cool piazzas whose pillared arches give a somewhat anachronistic suggestion of the architecture of the past.

By the way, I was ushered in by no less a person than Sidney James, the six-foot-three English butler of the Burdens, who, as one of the New York newspapers announced, "has seen service with English nobility." I knew because I heard Major Metcalf call him Sidney. And I had always thought that the butler was called by his surname.

READY TO DISEMBARK

Associated Press Despatch.

SS. Berengaria, Aug. 29.—Due to arrive at New York this afternoon, the second visit to the United States on route to his ranch in Canada, the Prince of Wales spent the morning in final preparations for debarking. Last night he had a little time of rest, and he listened to a gramophone in a quiet corner outside the royal suite with Lady Mountbatten and Mrs. Richard Norton, of his party. There were several other spectators, but no one ventured near.

Later in the evening the prince took time to receive a deputation of brother Masons representing all the lodges in the city. The deputation, which included two Americans, greeted Wales as past senior grand warden of the united grand lodge, and as provincial grand master of Surrey. He Royal Highness responded cordially, and delighted two of the members by autographing their Masonic travelling certificates.

Wales also had a chat with Mr. Coughlan, owner of the winner of the Melbourne grand national steeplechase in 1923. He recounted some of his experiences in a little time of rest, and he listened to a gramophone in a quiet corner outside the royal suite with Lady Mountbatten and Mrs. Richard Norton, of his party. There were several other spectators, but no one ventured near.

Has Small Appetite. During the voyage the prince has amazed the stewards by his small appetite, his diet consisting of fruit and tea, but he looks very well indeed. The limp which was noticed in the other day is gone, and he apparently only twinges, resulting from an old hunting accident.

Wales has spent some time in avoiding the crowds with cameras who have turned out at affairs on deck, which he was expected to attend, and he is dreading his meeting with the American newspaper correspondents upon the arrival of the Berengaria.

Despite his private little dancing party with various of the ladies of his party, the prince could not resist altogether the temptation of making his appearance on the polished floor of the ballroom. The heat, however, was so oppressive that he did not remain there long, but went on deck with Lord and Lady Mountbatten, walking along and singing to them

MAN IS MEASURED BY VALUE TO LIFE

So Declares Rev. G. A. Leichter in Address to Kiwanis Club.

POWERFUL ADDRESS

Man's value is measured chiefly by his ability to relate and identify himself with the mighty cosmic processes of the day. Progress should stand first in his mind. Progress is a condition of being.

Rev. George A. Leichter, formerly pastor of Adelaide Street Baptist Church, and now at Buffalo, who with his sister, Mrs. A. B. Duffer, were the guests of honor at the Kiwanis luncheon at the Tecumseh Hotel at noon today.

A powerful address by a powerful speaker well-known to Londoners held the attention of the Kiwanians. With humor, with a quotation of two from the sublime works of the great poets, and with statements of straight common sense, Kiwanian Leichter brought home his points to his hearers.

Man's value, he will depend on his ability to see great value, and to make himself a part thereof. When a man can identify himself with the might program of the world he should be worth a hundred cents on the dollar.

The speaker took up the definition of man. The holdings of those who claim that man is a better grade of monkey. Rev. Leichter dismissed the theory by lightly saying that a monkey could gracefully hang from the limbs of trees and therefore, was a better man than he.

A philosophic definition in technical terms brought laughs, and then the minister turned to the Bible definitions. The word of the old book that has stood the test of time, the book which stands as the Gibraltar of the faith.

The speaker then made a plea for the religious of the world to unite in a common faith. "We are challenged by the things of the world," he said. "We accept the challenge and offer to do our best. We are, everybody, should think straightly and well. For a moment the speaker dwelt on the word 'Kiwanis' to build Kiwanians built not for themselves, but for others. Their mission in life is to help those who have not had the best opportunities or have not made the most of what opportunities they did possess. So that they, too, could reach a place in the world where man's value is asserted."

President Tom Yull was in the chair. John A. Nash introduced the speaker. The Miami Synagogue, now playing at Loew's Theatre, were also guests and gave some splendid music to start the program. Mrs. A. B. Duffer delighted with solos that were well received.

AUSTRALIAN INDUSTRIAL DISPUTES ON DECREASE

Associated Press Despatch.

Melbourne, Australia, Aug. 29.—Industrial disputes in Australia last year numbered 274, the lowest aggregate in ten years, according to statistics just issued by the government. Unemployment in 1923 was 10 per cent of the entire population, compared with 9.3 per cent in 1922.

The cost of living in Australia, the official statistics show, increased 4.3 per cent last year, compared with the cost in 1922, and 70 per cent compared with the cost of living in 1911. Wages in 1923 were lower than in 1922.

MEMBER OF LIGHTSHIP CREW DROWNED TODAY

Canadian Press Despatch.

Windsor, Aug. 29.—Wm. Mullins, a member of the crew of the government lightship of Fire Point at the mouth of the Detroit River, was drowned this morning when his rowboat in which he was riding capsized. Mullins was starting for his home in Windsor, and was carrying a letter to his mother. He was a member of the lightship's crew, he sought a tow from a passing steamer. While he was attached to a towline the little boat upset and Mullins sank. Before the steamer's crew could come to his aid. He was 38 years old, and had been in the country from England about two years ago.

CHANGES ARE RUMORED AMONG FORD OFFICERS

Canadian Press Despatch.

Windsor, Aug. 29.—Reports of a reorganization in high offices of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, limited, at Windsor, have been circulating. The changes will take place at the first of the month.

Officers of the Canadian company would not comment on the reports today, but it is understood that three or four high officials are being released from their duties. The Canadian plant closed last night for a week.

softly humorous songs for the amusement of his kinsfolk. Then Wales disappeared and did not turn up until 2:15 o'clock this morning, when he appeared in the lounge, where Grace Larue was singing to a few persons who had gathered there. The prince, captivated by the song, sat down with General Trotter and listened to five songs, showing his appreciation by applauding heartily.

The prince was remarked throughout the voyage that he had a great love for the British throne is a great love of music. The voyage has been a pleasure for all the passengers. Wales has smiled his way into the hearts of all his fellow passengers and he says that he has enjoyed his trip immensely. His healthy look and spry step make him look as fit as anyone on board and indicate that he has been physically fit. His athletic activities, and this seems true despite the fact that he has used a remarkable amount of energy arising from his trip and going to bed quite late each night after a long round of social activities.

WOMAN'S PRESENCE OF MIND SAVES LITTLE GIRL'S LIFE

Election Dates In London Set

The following interesting dates in connection with the municipal elections are just issued by the city clerk: Election day, December 1. Last day for advertising by-laws, November 8. First day for advertising by-laws is October 25.

The last day on which appeals may be made from the voters' list is November 3, and the last day of the judge's court for such appeals is November 10. Nomination day is November 17. The voters' lists will be ready for inspection by October 11 at the latest, in the office of the city clerk.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS NOT TROUBLING CITY

Little Likelihood of Disease Making Appearance Here, M. O. H. Says.

Dr. W. S. Downham, city medical officer, states that there are no cases of infantile paralysis in London at present.

Although this dreaded disease has made its appearance in Detroit and in some of the Michigan cities, there is little probability of its coming to London, says the doctor. "We haven't had a case for over a year. The last we had did not end fatally."

Dr. Downham explains that this is the reason why the disease is not so prevalent here. "The disease is not so prevalent here because of the better health of the people. The actual cases, of course, must be treated in a hospital. A serum, the effects of which are not yet known, is being used in the latter years of war, can control and cure the disease, he says. In the meantime there is nothing to cause any worry in the hearts of Londoners.

Haldane Scores Present Dogmas

Oxford Professor Declares the Existing Teachings Damage Religion.

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Aug. 29.—Professor John Scott Haldane of New College, Oxford, brother of Lord Haldane, lord chancellor, speaking at a banquet of modern churchmen yesterday, asserted that the existing dogmas are driving people away from the churches.

"I cannot believe some of the dogmas and teachings," Professor Haldane said, "and that is why I do not belong to the Church of England. If I did belong to any church, I should attend my own Scottish church, which has the advantage of possessing no prayer book."

Professor Haldane was careful to add that he did not mean that the country could get along without religion. It was because of the necessity for religion that he felt disgusted over what was now being taught in the churches.

HACKETT LODGE MEMBERS HOLD SPLENDID OUTING

Associated Press Despatch.

All the members of Hackett, L. O. L. attended the corn roast last night in the garden of Alex. Niven, 312 Westbury street, north. After the roast and after about an acre of corn had been devoured by the hungry Orangemen, the evening was devoted to sports, races and all kinds of amusements. The large and varied audience with several fine readings, and an impromptu orchestra composed of hair combs, paper and most other things lent the evening of melody to the evening air. Worshipful Brother E. T. Essery, K. C., one of the oldest and most energetic members of the Orange order in the city was present, and believes he ate as much corn and enjoyed it as much as anyone there.

LONDON KIWANIS TO GO TO HAMILTON

Associated Press Despatch.

It was announced today by Thomas Yull that the Kiwanis Club will be limited to a large delegation at the Kiwanis convention at Hamilton Thursday.

The Kiwanians of Hamilton are putting on a big entertainment of music and sports for the benefit of those who attend the convention. It is expected that 50 Kiwanians will go from London. Plans have not been completed for the trip. Whether the trip will be made by motor or train is not yet known. It is likely though that the members will go together.

COMMITTEE IS PLEASED WITH SCHOOL REPAIRS

Associated Press Despatch.

Satisfaction with the extent of repairs effected in the public schools of the city during the long summer vacation was expressed by members of the board of education. No. 2 committee, following a tour of the schools yesterday afternoon. Some $17,000 has been spent in repairs during the past two months.

Work on the school building at Lord Roberts' school, which necessitated the civic playground being moved to Adelaide school provisionally. A principal office has been built at St. George's school, and at Tecumseh avenue, Chesley, River-view, Wortley road, Pottersburg and Lorne avenue schools painting and renovations have been effected.

Physicians Laud Mrs. Hillard, Who Bound Child's Arm With Tourniquet.

FELL ON BOTTLE

Edna Bindernage of Kitchener Greatly Weakened From Loss of Blood.

Special To The Advertiser.

Kitchener, Aug. 28.—Little Edna Bindernage, who lies in the Kitchener and Waterloo Hospital in a weakened condition from the loss of blood, according to attending physicians, owes her life to Mrs. Hillard, who rendered first aid after the child had fallen on a milk bottle, severing several arteries in her right hand. Tendons in the fingers were also cut, but hopes are held for her ultimate recovery.

She was returning home from the creamery with the bottle of milk, when she slipped in front of Mrs. Hillard's home on Church street. Hearing cries, Mrs. Hillard rushed out and found the child lying on the sidewalk in a pool of blood. She immediately bound the arm with a tourniquet and then called a physician.

Dr. Campbell, who is in attendance, stated that the girl would probably be confined to the hospital for three weeks.

EVERYTHING IN READINESS FOR MUNICIPAL FROLIC

Some two thousand civic employees are scheduled to attend the annual picnic tomorrow of the public works department at Springbank. This is about two hundred more than were present last year. The heads of departments involved are enthusiastic over the possibilities of a really fast softball game, and the city engineer, Mr. Baird, has arranged for the day.

EDITOR URGES THE BANNING OF TITLES FOR TEN YEARS

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Aug. 29.—Leo Maxse, editor of the National Review, suggests that there should be a closed period of ten years in which time titles should be conferred upon anyone in Great Britain.

"For the moment," says Maxse in the National Review, "the politicians are on their good behavior, but so long as the parties depend for the sinews of war on secret and unadmitted subsidies, a strong wing will build up a reputation for the school."

The Morning Post comments editor Maxse's idea to the present government, but expresses the opinion that the conferring of titles will prove to be one part of the established order which the Labor government will leave unaltered.

SOUTH AFRICANS FAVOR AN INCREASE IN DUTIES

Associated Press Despatch.

Cape Town, S. A., Aug. 29.—The question of protection for South African industries was discussed at a trades union conference on unemployment here last night, and a resolution was carried unanimously in favor of increased duties or bounties, but subject, however, to the proviso that such advantages should be withheld from industries in which the average rates of wages were below those paid overseas, or which failed to employ a proper proportion of Europeans.

Another resolution that was passed at the conference advocated the withdrawal of the existing protection from those industries which employed an undue proportion of colored labor.

NEW COMPANIES AUTHORIZED

Associated Press Despatch.

Toronto, Aug. 29.—New companies to the number of 49, and with authorized capital of $14,530,000, were reported to the Monetary Times during the week ended Aug. 23, compared with 37 companies with a capital of $4,745,000 the previous week and with 55 companies with capital of $5,917,000 the corresponding week last year.

NEW JERSEY BANK ROBBED

Associated Press Despatch.

Newark, N. J., Aug. 29.—Checks totalling $112,000 were taken from two Northward National Bank messengers early today at Broad and Lombard streets by four armed bandits who escaped.

SIR ESME HOWARD, British ambassador to United States, who will meet the Prince of Wales on his arrival this afternoon at Glen Cove, Long Island. Sir Esme and the prince are intimately acquainted.

COLLEGIATES ARE READY FOR LONDON STUDENTS

upon receiving their certificates of standing. Those who have not registered at all should do so immediately in order to expedite plans for class organizations.

It is pointed out that students who wish to remain out of school and work until after Fair Week should notify their schools of their intention to return to school again and find, for financial or other reasons, that they cannot, should make known their intentions.

Principals Ready. The principal of each of the Collegiate units will be in his office on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week. Parents of students who wish to change their courses of study will be received and plans discussed.

Masters who have been added to the staff are already arriving in the city and taking up their new residences. Among these are J. P. S. Nethercott, M.A., who comes to the central unit from the Stratford C. I. He is an outstanding teacher in his line of instruction, and will be the new head of the history department. He and Mrs. Nethercott are already in the city, and are living on Colborne street. Miss Phyllis Mitchell, B.A., who comes from Toronto, will arrive on Monday. She will spend half her time in the girls' physical culture classes and the remainder of her duties will be in academic instruction. Miss Mitchell is well recommended by the college of education.

Miss Uren Comes. Miss Margaret Uren, B.A., will be the new head of the girls' physical culture department at the central unit. She is a graduate of the college of education, and will be in charge of the physical culture classes. Miss Uren takes the position left vacant through the resignation of Mrs. Macdonald, who has been in the south unit. F. J. Jennings, B.A., comes from the English department. He has been on the staff of the central collegiate, coming from Calgary almost a year ago. In his transfer to the south collegiate will mean a valuable addition to the staff there.

R. F. S. Baird, B.A., also joins the staff there. He will assist Mr. Dinsmore with the boys' physical culture classes, but will devote most of his time to academic subjects. Baird and his mother have already taken up their residence on Tecumseh avenue. He is a young man with a varied and wide experience as an athlete and a fine teaching ability.

CAR COLLIDES WITH HORSES ON ROAD NEAR TEESWATER

Special To The Advertiser.

Teeswater, Aug. 28.—A car driven by Thomas Macdonald of Toronto, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Tallant, coming to Teeswater to attend the funeral of Dugal Ferguson, ran into horses in the middle of the road at Ambleside, three miles from Teeswater. The occupants were shaken up, but were not seriously injured. The car was badly damaged.

BODIES NOT RECOVERED

CITY AGAIN TO ASK BIDS ON OLD REGISTRY OFFICE

Council Recommends Securing New Tenders For Old Building.

WANT L. S. R. PRICE

Alderman Douglass Instructed To Get Quotation On Street Railway.

During a four-hour session of the finance committee last night, it was decided to recommend the acceptance of the resignation of Relief Inspector McCallum, that the matter of Fireman Graham, at present dismissed from the force, be left in abeyance until it is dealt with by the chief, that new tenders be called for the old registry office, that the fireman be reinstated, Mr. Palmer said that this was Fireman Graham's first breach of the bylaw in nine years of service. He was willing that the matter should be left in the hands of the chief, which was agreed to by the committee. Ald. Douglass said that the only way in which the fireman could get back into the force was by making a new application for a fireman's position to the chief in the same way as any other new man applying for a position on the force. The motion to leave the matter in abeyance, made by Ald. McKay, until the chief had dealt with it was carried unanimously. A motion by Ald. Drake to have him reinstated was lost.

Motion Grant For Inspector.
Ald. Smith was responsible for the motion accepting the resignation of the relief inspector, but a second motion by him to make Mr. McCallum a grant of a year's salary in recompense for his 23 years of service was sent to the council for consideration. The mayor and Ald. McKay believed that the financial condition of the inspector did not warrant such a grant, though Ald. Douglass differed with them.

Alderman Douglass asked the mayor whether he had obtained the price in writing from the London Street Railway, and was told that the letter to the council some months ago had contained the fact that was necessary. After the mayor had been vigorously that he was acting as agent of the company as suggested by Alderman Douglass, the alderman was deputized to get the net price himself in writing.

Alderman McKay, commenting upon the letter of Rev. Quintin Warner, admitted that it amounted to a resignation, and that neither the committee nor the council could say very much about it, or take any action. "Only the attorney-general can act on that letter," he told the committee.

"In that case all we can do is to send it to the city council for perusal," replied Alderman Douglass. Alderman McKay suggested that all the organizations in the city which had been responsible in the first place for the selection of a judge for the juvenile court meet together and consider the present situation. The weakness of the council's position in the whole matter was revealed when the mayor reminded the committee that the council's recommendation for the judge in the beginning of the court had been refused by the attorney-general.

Consider Crowded Schools.
A motion made by the mayor to ask the board of education to send the question of school accommodation to the people in a referendum was defeated, though an amendment from Ald. McKay, urging the board to fill entirely the Central Collegiate, and then to place the overflow, no matter where they came from, in the Princess Avenue School, was carried unanimously.

How inconsistent we as a council sometimes are," said Alderman McKay. "When we wanted the authority to use $200,000 on storm sewers we went to Toronto to get it because we were afraid of the people turning it down. Now when it is almost certain that they will turn down the question of new schools, we appeal at once to them and ask for a vote. It is not up to the council to ask the board to do this. The school board has a right to insist on it, and will make its own decision in the legal way when the time comes."

Other motions carried in the session were one from the mayor that someone in the city hall department be on duty on Saturday afternoon to attend to people, and another that the attention of the railway board be called to the danger of the Quebec street level crossing at once. A motion from Ald. Smith that a special committee of the mayor, himself and Ald. Douglass wait on the library board to see what could be done in the way of the London South Library. A motion from Ald. Drake that the question of building the Springbank dam be sent to the people at the next municipal election, a motion to call for tenders for the new car of the chief by Ald. Drake and a motion for the mayor to appoint Police Chief Birrell inspector.

Motions Lost Included. One by the mayor to amend the procedure by law to allow of discussion of a question more than twice by the council and a motion to shorten the hours of council meetings and to have them over by 10 o'clock.

Bird Captured As It Mistakes Man For Stump

Special to The Advertiser.
Millinery. As 15-year-old fish stories are quite numerous at this season of the year, but one told here appears to be of a new variety. Noah Stiegler of Chicago, who is visiting relatives here, went trout fishing at one of the village ponds. He sat on the bank as quietly as possible so as not to scare the fish. Before long a mudpuppy, which had been making its home at the pond, flew across the water, and without a moment's hesitation alighted squarely on top of Mr. Stiegler, whom it apparently mistook for a stump. This unexpected look for a stump, this unexpected alighting on a man, did not startle Mr. Stiegler, and he cautiously put up his hand and caught the hen by the feet. The bird is now in captivity at the Stiegler home.

WHOLESALE PLAY AT THE MAJESTIC

"Self-Made Failure" Featuring Lloyd Hamilton, Now Showing.

MUSIC IS CATCHY

In these hectic days of scandal films with their passionate titles their mauling sentiment and pseudo morals it is indeed a relief to see a wholesome picture.

"A Self-Made Failure" is the title of this film for fan patients suffering from unhealthy films. The doctors are Lloyd Hamilton and Ben Alexander, the nurse is Patsy Ruth Miller. The First National Attraction picture is the feature at the Majestic Theatre for the remainder of the week. It is good medicine, easy to take.

There is just enough plot in this film to make it interesting. The villain is not too villainous. The lovers are not too loving and the humor is not too obviously funny. In brief, "A Self-Made Failure" lacks the usual defects so noticeable in pictures.

Added attractions are sub-titles with a chuckle in every line, two small boys who act natural as a dog and her family, and some attractive bathing suits draped over every reel. There is no denying that Lloyd is a clever comedian and that "A Self-Made Failure" is a conservative, a real treat.

There are three vaudeville acts on the bill. They, too, possess merit. Britt Wood styles himself "A Boob with a Harmonica." Mr. Wood is first a humorist, and secondly a musical comedian. He is no "Boob." He has achieved success in his own line. There is nothing pretentious about his act. He does not rely on anything or anyone except Britt Wood to make his act worth while. And it is worth while.

A mouth organ that has been trained to play anything from the old plantation songs to the latest ragtime and a fund of new and funny stories told in a friendly and laughable way, and his chief stock in trade.

That is not all, either, for he is no mean dancer, and possesses a laugh that is really contagious. His "Spirit of '76" was good.

Three We're Here, "The Incomparable Three We're Here" is a better-than-usual dance, music and monologue offering.

SHOW AT LOEW'S DELIGHTS CROWD

"Bread," Drama With Old Theme, Yet New, Has Comedy Touch.

TYPICAL LIFE

Few photo films there are with such an all-star cast as the Metro-Goldwyn cinema drama "Bread," which opened a three-day showing at Loew's Theatre yesterday. With Mae Busch, Hobart Bosworth and Pat O'Malley as the principals, the picture carries also such a strong supporting cast as to include Robert Fraser, Wanda Hawley, Ward Crane, Myrtle Steadman and Eugene Besserer.

The theme is old, as old as the struggle for bread, but it will always be new. Misunderstanding and a spirit of independence spoils the early life of Jeanette, and an estrangement with her husband lasts for three years. It is only when she reaches the conclusion that home is something more than four walls, and that happiness is not found merely in money and wealth, that reconciliation comes. There is a dash of comedy at the right time and the whole film mirrors American life and home life so well that it, in turn, turns, and gladdens.

Esther Joy Marshall and the Miami Syncopators are still at Loew's and they are helping to draw big houses. Miss Marshall's singing and jazz offerings featured an entirely new program last evening and the rare charm and personality of the dainty musical comedienne star.

The Brightons had a colorful and artistic sketch in rag pictures. Their work was neat, clean cut and speedy. Don comes, there is a new review. 8 p.m.—Concert, Westinghouse Band Orchestra.

The Home Chef's Suggestions for Tomorrow's Menu

Breakfast.
Orange Juice.
Coddled Eggs.
Jelly Toast.

Luncheon.
Country Sausage with Fried Apples.
Lettuce and Tomatoes.
Parker House Rolls.
Orange Bread Pudding.
Iced Tea.
Dinner.
Onion Soup.
Rashers.
Corned Brisket of Beef.
Carrots.
Boiled Potatoes.
Cabbage and Nut Salad.
Milk.
Coffee.

COUNTRY SAUSAGE.
Run through the fine knife of the meat chopper two pounds of lean pork and one pound of fat pork; work into the pork a seasoning of fresh ground black pepper, salt, and sage; add four tablespoonsful of ice water and form into twelve even-sized cakes; dredge with flour, place on a greased baking pan and cook until well done in a moderate oven. Apples to serve with the sausage should be cored, but not peeled, cut in thick slices, dipped in flour and fried until soft and brown on both sides in hot butter.

ORANGE BREAD PUDDING.
Cover one and a half cupsful of fine bread crumbs with three cupsful of milk and let stand 15 minutes; add to them three well-beaten eggs, half a teaspoonful of salt, three cupsful of peeled and diced oranges, two tablespoonsful of grated orange rind, one tablespoonful of lemon juice, three tablespoonsful of melted butter, and three-quarters of a cupful of sugar; mix well, pour into a buttered pudding dish and bake 35 minutes. Serve hot or cold.

UNION SOUP.
Cook three large peeled onions in slightly salted water until tender and rub through a colander into a saucepan three tablespoonsful of butter, add three tablespoonsful of flour, rub smooth, beat in three cupsful of milk and cook until thick; add a cupful of onion puree, a seasoning of salt and pepper, and two tablespoonsful of finely-chopped parsley. Beat with an egg beater until smooth and hot and serve with croutons.

CORNEB BEEF.
Wash well a four or five-pound piece of corned brisket of beef, drain, place in a pot, cover with cold water, bring to a boil, skim well, cover the pot and simmer slowly until nearly done. Add peeled carrots and peeled potatoes and cook until the vegetables are tender. Lift the beef onto a hot platter and place around it the cooked carrots and potatoes.

APPLE COBBLER.
Mix five cupsful of peeled and diced apples with three-quarters of a cupful of sugar, two tablespoonsful of ground cinnamon, half a teaspoonful of salt, and half a teaspoonful of ground nutmeg. Place in a deep, buttered baking pan, dot with three tablespoonsful of butter broken in small bits and pour over three-quarters of a cupful of water. Cover with a short biscuit dough, brush with melted butter, cut three slits in the top and bake in a moderate oven.

30 minutes, pour over a syrup made by boiling three-quarters of a cupful of water with one and a half cupsful of sugar, and one tablespoonful of grated lemon rind. Bake ten minutes and serve.

CABBAGE AND NUT SALAD.
Mix four cupsful of finely-shredded young cabbages with one cupful of chopped walnut meats, two chopped pimientos, two chopped green peppers, two teaspoonfuls of salt, four tablespoonfuls of chopped spiced pickles, and one cupful of lemon

French dressing. Drain, mound on six lettuce-covered plates, cover with a cooked salad dressing and sprinkle paprika and finely-chopped parsley.

SON OF LATE BISHOP DIES.
Canadian Press Despatch.
Montreal, Aug. 28.—Following an illness of some duration, the death occurred at Knowlton, Que., today of Saumarez Carmichael, K.C., son of the late Bishop Carmichael. He was 55 years of age.

CANADIAN EDITORS WILL ATTEND EXHIBITION TODAY

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Aug. 28.—Fresh from their trip to the United Kingdom and Europe, the Canadian weekly newspaper editors will be among the guests of the Canadian National Exhibition for Press Day tomorrow. In addition to the weekly paper editors there will be numerous representatives of the dailies and the trade magazines on the exhibition grounds. Altogether, it is expected that possibly 500 newspapermen will register. They will be the guests of the directors at 1 o'clock.

MASSINGHAM DIES.
Associated Press Despatch.
Frome, England, Aug. 28.—Henry William Massingham, noted editor and writer, died at Mells, near here today.

Celebrate Our Fifth Birthday With Us By Real Saving on Your Groceries

THIS is Fifth Anniversary Week in DOMINION STORES. In five short years we have built up the largest Grocery Organization in the Dominion.

To do this it is only natural for us to feel proud of the fact that to win the friendship and steady patronage of so many thrifty housewives our policy must be sound, our efforts to serve, satisfying.

Our policy of buying only the best which our tremendous buying power enables us to buy at lower costs. Our policy of passing this saving on to the buying public. Our policy of demanding quick turnovers, assuring fresh goods in our stores at all times. Of guaranteeing complete satisfaction by our money-back guarantee. All are sound, sensible and appreciated, and these policies, carried out to the letter by everyone in the Organization, on the one hand, and a friendly and continued response to them on the part of the thousands of our patrons, on the other, has enabled us to grow to such proportions today, and of equal growth, we hope, in the next five years.

To celebrate we are offering exceptional grocery values at all stores.

RULING OF JUDGE WORRIES BRITAIN

Directors of Firms Doing Business With Municipalities Barred From Service.

Associated Press Despatch.
London, Aug. 28.—Municipalities throughout the United Kingdom are perplexed by a ruling just made by a judge of the king's bench division of the high court of justice disqualifying directors of companies from serving on public bodies with which the companies have trade.

This decision was given in a case in which a citizen of Leeds had taken proceedings against an alderman who was a director of a firm who held a contract with the Leeds corporation. The plaintiff made no suggestion of anything improper in connection with the case, but in fact admitted that the municipal corporation stood to benefit by this particular contract.

The judge took the view that any man having an interest in any company beyond being a mere shareholder became disqualified from serving as a member of a municipal corporation. In the meantime, however, aldermen and councillors of proved integrity naturally feel uncomfortable.

Curiously enough, the point in question never arose before the present decision.

ent. It is stated that if the judgment is confirmed on appeal it will have the effect of driving good men away from service, as they would not be likely to add to their responsibilities by watching that their firms did not accept orders from the municipalities they happened to be serving in an official capacity.

Some directors whose firms are already involved in trifling contracts with municipalities have resolved to make the municipalities gifts of the value of the contracts. One Sheffield firm has declined to proceed with a house-building contract to the value of nearly $100,000 because of the new ruling.

Narrow the Thing Down.

The Ontario Legislature's special committee on agriculture is in session at Toronto with representative farmers, manufacturers, labor men, live stock breeders and storage men.

This committee had previously held sittings in many of the Ontario centers, and had listened to a thorough presentation of conditions affecting the farm life of Ontario.

The present session in Toronto, it was thought, would be a sort of last sitting of the court, where out of the mass of evidence the members of the committee would be in a position to select two or three items on which they could concentrate.

The Toronto session on the first day was a repetition of other sessions in the number and complexity of ideas as to what is wrong with farming conditions in Ontario. Looking over the reports, it is found that they run about like this:

J. J. Morrison saw in the labor unions a force that was making it more difficult for farmers to buy goods or labor within their purchasing power.

Representatives of the unions denied this, and showed that boot and shoe workers, for instance, received $15 a week over a period of some months.

Transportation costs were blamed for the farmers' troubles, but representatives of locomotive engineers claimed their hourly earnings were less than those of the village school teacher.

J. M. McIntosh, of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, stated that what the farmers needed was a high measure of protection for their produce.

Col. Hatch advanced the idea that the farmer's trouble was that he had lost the purchasing power of the people who had left Canada for United States.

Others claimed that there was too much spent in distributing farm machinery; there were too many agencies maintained.

Senator Robertson said the farmer was suffering because there were only 250 people to every mile of railroad in Canada.

Then it was urged that there was too much vacant land in Ontario.

A Cobourg farmer claimed there was too great a spread between the price paid for wheat in Liverpool and that received by the Canadian farmer.

President Amos, of the U. F. O., was inclined to think that politics, in the present instance, could have no part, and that anything that looked like a political potato would have to remain outside.

Co-operative marketing was urged, and mention also made of the need for more social life in the rural sections.

"It may be necessary, if not interesting, to have all these divergent opinions gone over again, but the Ontario farmer fails to see where he is going to be much farther ahead until there is an emphatic narrowing down of the program.

He knows what his trouble is—that he has not enough left over at the end of a year's hard work.

There should be a severe pruning of the number of ideas, and if the idea is to help the farmer more heed should be paid to his views and less to those who offer opinions from the outside.

It will be necessary for the members of the committee to herd their ideas around a few central points that there is some hope of tackling with the prospect of successful accomplishment.

If it be co-operative marketing, or a move for lower transportation costs, then let them move in that definite direction, and cease the business of walking in circles.

He Did What He Could.

William Russo, 38 years old, clerk in a hospital near New York, is dead, because he was prepared to give his life for another.

Russo saw a woman inmate of the hospital throw herself off the sea wall in an effort to commit suicide.

Himself a cripple, he plunged in after her and died in an attempt to effect a rescue.

He was greater in spirit than the driver who struck down a man on the Hamilton highway and then sped away.

Russo was a cripple in body but stalwart in the qualities of real manhood.

When Public Conscience Fails.

The postal inspector's department at Chicago is turning into a nest of traitors.

Detectives who have been working on recent mail robberies have placed in jail the inspector himself as the man who has been master mind in planning the robberies.

The chief inspector is now charged with having been the chief plotter.

His arrest brings in others, some of the "political bosses," others who are members of various "gangs."

The persons on whom the public relied for protection and for service have been plotting against the very ones who trusted them.

The placing of responsibility has not been accepted as a badge of honor to be kept clean. It has rather been looked upon as an open door to rich plunder.

The arrest of Inspector Fahy arouses the wife of "Big Tim" Murphy, Murphy being now in jail. It describes as the "West Side political boss." A ray of honest enforcement of plain law has thrown the parasites into confusion and fear.

There is a bigger sore behind all this than appears on the surface. It is unthinkable that men voted to office by political parties should see in their appointment opportunity to plan for plunder.

It is not a disease unto itself, but simply an outcropping from the central trouble—the breaking down of public conscience.

It does not confine itself to the work of "Bill" Fahy or "Big Tim" Murphy or "Jimmie" Murray, or any of the unnamed political bosses or gang leaders.

The trouble shows itself in a murder record that makes decent people in United States blush when they mention the figures in their staggering aggregate.

It is apparent in a divorce record that barters the sanctity of marriage on the block of passion and pretext.

The state of public conscience is the measure of a nation's greatness. When it is sick and fevered, sluggish or non-active, national sickness develops, and the malady breaks out in the form of fraud and deceit, failure to honor the placing of responsibility, and a disregard of laws written and unwritten.

The mess in the Chicago postal district is not a case unto itself. It is but a symptom of a public conscience that is not operating as it should.

What Is the Mayor Aiming At?

Mayor Wenige attended the annual picnic of the police force at Springbank, and in his address over the supper table told the police that he would like to have them referred to as "the department of public safety."

The mayor seems to think there is something in the name "police" that scares people. Parents tell their youngsters that "the policeman will get you," and the coming citizens are scared green. So his worship would tone the thing down a bit so that the police would be looked upon as friendly chaps instead of roaring lions.

This man Monahan who scoots around on his speed cart and scares the daylight out of offending drivers, under the new scheme would be a hale fellow well met. A motorist wishing to cross the city in seven minutes would tell Monahan all about it, and the officer from the department of public safety would go scooting ahead and see that the way was cleared of all traffic.

Or did the mayor get the idea for the new name from some other source? Could it be that when he gets up at 5:30 each morning—for he says he does—that he has been reading the history of the French revolution, and there has discovered that the butchery and the horrors of that dark chapter were largely carried on by the "commission of public safety."

Surely it could not be from this sordid spot that the mayor sprouted the desire to wish that name on the police force of London.

Or could it be that the added display of letters has something to do with it? Has the mayor seen all the swimmers wearing suits bearing the letters "P. U. C.," showing them to be the property of the public utilities commission, and figured out that if three letters be good for that body it should be good for the police force? If we have a "P. U. C.," why not a "D. P. S.?" What's a few letters between friends, anyway?

This is an age of new names for new offices, and the mayor is not lagging behind. Did not some person once write that a rose by any other name would smell as sweet, or something to that effect? So, following this same line of reasoning, would not a policeman be just as mighty, intelligent and muscular as such as though he wore on his brow a helmet with a billboard announcing that he was from the Department of Public Safety?

Note and Comment.

The man who buys it tries a case of liquor; the judge who hears it tries a liquor case.

If you have to choose between running into debt or into the lamp post, take the latter.

A coroner is a man who officially declares that the express train got to the crossing first.

When they revise the tariff again they ought to put a stiff duty on the calamity wool that Hon. Arthur Meighen is pulling over the eyes of the people.

The Chicago murder judge may take a month to go over the evidence. When a jury is out for three or four hours the people start to kick their heels on the pavement and ask what's gone wrong.

In New York a motor driver is penalized for going too slow as well as for going too fast. Like the village store that has baby carriages in the front window and an undertaking parlor in the rear—bound to get you one way or the other.

One European despatch says England is afraid that Germany and France will now make a treaty of their own. The San Francisco reasons at great length that France knows Germany will attack her again as soon as she can. No wonder the reader gets dizzy.

GLANDS.

"Criminals nearly all have abnormal glands and should not be punished," Dr. Stone told the court.—New York Sun.

When twisting the tail of a lion do not think That you deserve credit for being a hero; When tempted to swallow a quart of strong drink You must not imagine your will is at zero.

When robbing a bank or insulting a dame, Or killing a man in a manner quite formal, Don't think for a minute that you are to blame, For the scientific fact is your glands are abnormal.

Each robber, thug, vagrant and dip understands That courts do not punish for murder and stealing. If you can just show 'em your abnormal glands, Now, ain't that a grand and a glorious feeling!

The long predicted shakeup in Germany seems much nearer now that Mr. Ford has sent over 30,000 jitneys.

Henry says the motor car will end war "because of the intermingling of people it makes possible." He doubtless means such intermingling as comes from the average street crossing collision.

Possibly the reason that so few widows bob their hair is because there is nobody to tell them not to.

Opportunity is knocking loudly for the man with enterprise enough to open up a men's barber shop.

An advertising campaign designed to make husbands buy fish has just commenced. We presume the slogan will be "Ask the man who bones one."

"Pussyfoot" Johnson says there is liquor in Mars. If it is like the stuff peddled here we don't wonder that Mars is now uninhabited.

Mr. Johnson claims that liquor ruins the memory. This probably explains why tourists in Europe are seldom able to give an account of their experiences when they return.

One citizen claims he saw two suns, three moons and six stars on Tuesday when the planet Venus became visible. This synthetic stuff is getting worse and worse.

If freckles sold for a dollar each a great many flappers would come back from their vacations millionaires.

A Detroit man arrested for striking his mother-in-law says he did it for a joke. He probably meant it as a wise crack.

One thing about the Loeb-Leopold trial is certain. Clarence Darrow, attorney for the defence, won't have to practice law any more.

The Labor members of parliament in England wouldn't be so hard to look at if they would bob their moustaches.

A sociologist says that modern mothers stay up too late at nights. They have to if they expect to give daughter a good-night kiss.

Sparks' circus are showing some wonderful horses. In other words there are no plugs in Sparks'.

Signals from Mars were no doubt given to avoid a celestial traffic tie-up.

The Same Old Tale

He told the magistrate that after he spent all his money none of his friends would go bail for him.—Police court news.

Of course there's nothin' new in this, we read of things like that each day, of friends who stick around like glue as long as you can pay and pay.

But when the purse is flat and broke, and you're a busted dude, a wreck, they honk their horns and pass along with trouble clinkin' to your neck.

'Tis sad and true, a fact the same, as long as you can spend the kale, the folks will hang around your hut like burrs upon a donkey's tail.

This jay in court he had his day, when other folks had gone to bed, he lingered out upon the street, a paintin' up the old town red.

And in them days folks greeted him, they said he was a dead game sport, he couldn't see out past his nose the shadow of the county court.

It's just a way this old world's got, it cheers the money-spendin' man, inside a week it passes on and leaves him in the garbage can. It swears you are a wholesome gent, a chap hinged up without a flaw—next day it smites you in the ear and whacks you soundly on the jaw.

And what's the saddest thing of all, it ain't much use a warnin' folks, they laugh at wisdom when it comes, and say you're spinnin' chestnut jokes. They only see the gilded path, the primrose dangle in their heels, they never see the spot wherein the devil casts banana peels.

And when the spender's gone his length, they lock him in the village coop, he sleeps upon an old pine bench and lines his ribs with prison soup.

'Tis then his spirits fall and bust, 'tis then he's humble like and meek, 'tis then he spouts his tale of woe and tells his troubles to the beak.

There's nothin' new in all this stuff, these yarns come out red and red, from those poor jays who lose their friends as soon as they have shot their wad.

One day they greet you in a row, they cheer you round the old town pump, but when they find your seeds are done they toss you on the village dump.—ARK.

Dr. Frank Crane

POUNDS, SHILLINGS AND PENCE

Mr. Harry Gordon Selfridge stated, at the Decimal Metric Conference Association at London the other day, that he was still stumped sometimes in dealing with pounds, shillings and pence. He declared that the government ought to have introduced a decimal currency into the country at the close of the war.

Things move slowly in Great Britain, where the influence of conservatism is probably stronger than anywhere else in Christendom. In time the metric system will be adopted and the cumbersome pounds, shillings and pence, as well as the system of weights and measures, will be done away with.

No one, in his right mind, can declare logically that there is anything to be said in favor of the present way of counting money or registering measures. They are difficult, hard to learn and not easy to practice.

Bookkeeping, under such systems, must be a matter of extreme difficulty. But, as far as that is concerned, the world still clings to its old calendar, which is awkward and irregular, and refuses to adopt a year of thirteen months or some similar system by which the same day of the week would fall upon the same day of the month every year and do away with the calendar.

Having once adopted an irrational method it is difficult to change it. It is hard to change the Chinese and Japanese languages and induce them to adopt an alphabet method.

It is difficult to adopt any reform in spelling and to bring the written word more in conformity with its sounds.

So it is difficult to change the habits of a nation in regard to its currency, its weights and measures.

Only France has succeeded in applying the decimal system rigidly everywhere. The United States has so far only succeeded in its currency.

Great Britain lags behind as she takes pride in her slowness and unwillingness to change anything. Only time, and the demonstrated advantages of the decimal system will overcome the present means of computation.

To the Editor

Turtles Mean Feeders.

London Man Tells of Observing Some of Its Habits When Confined in a Tub With Frogs.

Editor of The Advertiser: Sir,—I noticed an article in your paper a few days ago about a quiet place by an old river, in which the writer mentioned cranes and mud-turtles, and the former as feeding along the river.

May I add that these birds are at least more merciful feeders than the turtles. If a crane or a heron seize upon a small frog which, as your paper said, "did not hop fast enough or far enough," he eats him at once.

The turtle is a mutilator, and I saw fresh evidence of this only today. Some small boys had a small turtle in a tub, and from a pond they had gathered a half dozen small green frogs. They had also placed a number of stones in the water, and placed in it flies and pieces of meat for their animals to eat. As I stood there the turtle did just what I told the boys he would do. Swimming along the bottom of the tub he came up under one of the frogs and took hold of its leg. It was possible to hear a sort of squeak from the small frog, resembling a cry of pain in a human being that might be undergoing similar treatment from some powerful animal that had decided to make a meal off his leg. The turtle hung on until it bit a piece from the frog's leg, after which he swam off to look for another bite.

It did not take the small boys long to rescue the remainder of the little green frogs and carry them back to the old pond, where there are no turtles around. I have always regarded the mudturtle as one of the meanest fellows we have.

he was consecrated in Rome as Bishop of Calgary, and took up his work in the west. He was the pioneer English-speaking bishop in the Prairie Provinces. For years his work was of a missionary nature, and he has established more than 40 parishes of English-speaking Catholics. He is considered a capable and wise administrator.

Bishop McNally is an accomplished linguist, and speaks French, Italian and German as fluently as he does English. He is an authority on canon law and an art critic of recognized standing. The Hamilton bishopric was rendered vacant by the death of Bishop Dowling about a month ago.

The Surprisingly Low Price of Goodyear Balloons

YOU are probably using one of the following popular sizes of straight-side, high-pressure tires—31 x 4, 32 x 4, 33 x 4, 32 x 4½, 33 x 4½, 34 x 4½, 33 x 5.

A year ago to-day you were able to buy these sizes of Goodyear Tires at the lowest prices in the history of the automobile business.

To-day you can buy Goodyear Balloon Tires to fit the same wheels for even less money.

Just think—Balloon Tire comfort, Balloon Tire saving on you and your car, Goodyear quality—for less than you paid a year ago for high-pressure tires requiring lots of air.

Goodyear quality increased by the invention of SUPER-TWIST, the superior new Goodyear Cord Fabric.

See the Goodyear Selected Dealer regarding a pair or a set of Balloon Tires for your car. Goodyear makes Balloon Tires to fit six sizes of wheels—the wheels now on your car, or new smaller wheels if you prefer their appearance or if you need them for fender clearance.

THE SEA HAWK

By RAFAEL SABATINI.

SYNOPSIS.

Sir Oliver Tressilian, renowned for his exploits on the Spanish Main, is betrothed to Rosamund Godolphin; but because of personal enmity growing out of land disputes the marriage is opposed by both Rosamund's brother, Peter, and her guardian, Sir John Killigrew. Peter takes every opportunity to manifest his antagonism. In a drunken race one day in the presence of Parson Flack and Justice Baine, he insults Oliver, strikes him with a whip and rides off. Uttering a threat to kill him, good judgment masters his temper, and he foregoes the pleasure of what he feels would be justifiable murder for the sake of Rosamund, who, he knows would never forgive him if Peter were harmed at his hands.

But Oliver's young half-brother, Lionel, that evening accomplishes what Oliver would have liked to do, and comes home wounded from an encounter. Peter, still drunk and drawn his sword, his own he drew merely in self-defence. But with no witnesses to attest to the truth of this statement, Lionel could be accused of Peter's murder. Terror-stricken, he beseeches Oliver to tell one of his wounds.

CHAPTER IV—(Continued.)

Without a word Oliver turned to a side-table, where stood a metal basin and ewer. He poured water over his hand, and then he turned to the door. Then he came in the same silence to treat his brother's wound. The tale that Lionel told made blame impossible, at least from Oliver.

When he had washed the wound he fetched some table linen from his dresser, he threaded out one of these and made a preliminary criss-cross of the threads across the lins of the wound—for the blade had gone right through the muscles, and the breast, grazing the ribs; these threads would help the formation of a clot. Then with the infinite skill and cunning acquired in the course of his rovinz he proceeded to the bandaging.

That done, he opened the window and flung out the blood-tinged water. The cloths with which he had mopped the wound and all other similar evidences of the treatment he cast upon the fire. He must remove all traces even from the eyes of Nicholas. He had the most implicit trust in the old servant's fidelity. But the matter was too grave to permit of the slightest risk. He realized fully the justice of Lionel's fears that however fair the fight might have been, a thing done in secret must be accounted murder by the law.

Bidding Lionel wrap himself in his cloak, Sir Oliver unbarred the door, and went upstairs in quest of a fresh shirt and doublet for his brother. On the landing he met Nicholas descending. He held him a moment in talk of the sick man above, and outwardly at least he was now entirely composed. He patched him upstairs again upon a trumped-up errand that must keep him absent for some little time, whilst himself he went to get the things he needed.

He returned below with them, and when he had assisted his brother into fresh garments with as little movement as possible so as not to disturb his dressing of the wound or set it bleeding afresh, he took the blood-stained doublet, vest, and shirt which he had ripped and flung them, too, into the great fire.

When some moments later Nicholas entered the vast room he found the brothers sitting comely at table. Had he faced Lionel he would have observed little amiss with him beyond the deep pallor of his face. But he did not even do so much. Lionel sat with his back to the door, and the servant's advance into the room was checked.

By Sir Oliver with the assurance that they did not require him. Nicholas withdrew again, and the brothers were once more alone.

Lionel ate very sparingly. He thirsted and would have emptied the measure of posset, but that Sir Oliver restrained him, and refused him anything but water lest he should contract a fever. Such a sparing meal as they made—for neither had much appetite—was made in silence. At last Sir Oliver rose, and with slow, heavy steps, suggestive of his humor, he crossed to the fireplace. He threw fresh logs on the blaze, and took from the tall mantelshelf his pipe and a laden jar of tobacco. He filled the pipe pensively, then with the short iron tongs seized a fragment of glowing wood and applied it to the herb.

He returned to the table, and standing over his brother, he broke at last the silence that he now endured some time.

"What," he asked gruffly, "was the cause of your quiver?" Lionel started and shrank a little; between finger and thumb he kneaded a fragment of bread, his eyes upon it.

"I scarce know," he replied. "Lal, that is not the truth."

"This not the truth. I am not to be put off with such an answer. Yourself you said that you had warned him not to cross your path. What path was in your mind?" Lionel leaned his elbows on the table and took his head in his hands.

"Twas that wanton at Malpas was the cause of all," he complained.

Sir Oliver's eye flashed at the words. "I deemed her quite other; I was a fool, a fool! I—" he choked, and a sob shook him. "I thought she loved me—would have married me. I would so, by God!"

Sir Oliver swore softly under his breath. "I believed her pure and good, and—" He checked. "After all, she was not. Twa's no fault of hers. 'Twas he, that foul dog dog-dolphin, who perverted her. Until he came all was well between us. And then—"

"I see," said Sir Oliver quietly. "I think you have something for which to thank him, if he revealed to you the truth of that strumpet's nature. I would have warned them. But—perhaps I have been weak in that."

"It was not so; it was not she—" "I say it was, and if I say so I am to be believed, Lionel. I'd smirch no woman's reputation without just cause. Be very sure of that."

Lionel stared up at him. "O God!" he cried presently. "I know not what to believe. I am shuttlecock flung this way and that way."

"Believe me," said Sir Oliver grimly. "And set all doubts at rest." Then he smiled. "So that was the virtuous Master Peter's secret pastime, eh? The hypocrisy of man! There is no plumbing the endless depths of it!"

He laughed outright, remembering all the things that Master Peter had said of Ralph Tressilian—deceiving himself as though he were some chaste and self-daunting anchorite. Then on that laugh he caught his breath quite suddenly.

"Would she know?" he asked feebly. "Would that harlot know, would she suspect that twas your hand did this?"

"Aye—would she," replied the other. "I told her tonight when she flouted me and spoke of him, that I went straight to find him and pay the score between us. I was on my way to Godolphin Court when I came upon him in the park."

"Then you lied to me again, Lionel. For you said 'twas he attacked you.' And so he did, Lionel countered instantly. "He never gave me time to speak, but flung down from his horse and came at me snarling like a cross-trained mongrel. Oh, he was as ready for the fight as I—as eager."

"But the woman at Malpas knows," said Sir Oliver gloomily. "And if she tells—"

"She'll not," cried Lionel. "She dare not for her reputation's sake." "Indeed, I think you are right," agreed his brother with relief. "She dare not for other reasons, when I come to think of it. Her reputation is already such, and so well detested is she that were it known she had been the cause, however indirect, of this, the countryside would satisfy certain longings that it entertains concerning her. ## PERE MARQUETTE IS MERGED WITH NICKEL PLATE RAILWAY Greater System Will Contain 337 Miles of Roads in Canada.

Various Properties Estimated To Exceed Investment of $1,500,000,000.

Associated Press Despatch. Cleveland, Aug. 28.—A greater "Nickel Plate" Railway system with 9,000 miles of roadways connecting tidewater and Great Lakes, and reaching into Canada and as far southwest as St. Louis, was made possible today by approval of the Pere Marquette Railway directors of the merger with Nickel Plate and affiliated lines. The various properties are estimated to exceed an investment of $1,500,000,000.

This, the second large consolidation effected by O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen of Cleveland, since they acquired control of the Nickel Plate in 1916, is the first great grouping of rail lines to approach the scope of such systems as have been suggested under the recommendations of the transportation act of 1920. It constitutes one of the greatest realignments of railroads in the history of railroading, according to the Van Sweringens' associates.

The action of the Pere Marquette closely follows similar action by the Erie, and provides for a system with a total trackage, including sidings, of 16,000 miles. Through the Pere Marquette the greater system will extend 337 miles into Canada.

OLIPHANT WOMEN PLAN TO BETTER CAMPING SITE

Special to The Advertiser. Warton, Aug. 28.—The ladies of Oliphant met together on Monday afternoon and organized themselves into an association for the purpose of forwarding the interests of Oliphant as a camping and tourist site.

Next spring it is their intention of undertaking the erection of suitable bath houses and a tourists' camp, as well as other activities to improve conditions there. The following is a list of the officers as elected: President, Mrs. S. J. Cameron; second vice-president, Mrs. Kastner; secretary, Mrs. W. P. Rennie; assistant secretary, Mrs. Stewart; treasurer, Mrs. J. R. Lane.

are sure none saw you either going or returning?" "None."

Sir Oliver strode the length of the room and back, pulling at his nape.

"All should be well, then. I think," said he at last. "You were best abed. I'll carry you thither."

He took up his striding brother in his powerful arms and bore him upstairs as though he were a babe. When he had seen him safely disposed for slumber, he returned below, shut the door of the hall, drew up the great oaken chair to the fire and sat there far into the night smoking and thinking.

He rose up at last cursing that wanton at Malpas who had come to fling this fresh and terrible difficulty where already he had to face so many. He stood leaning upon the overmantel, his foot upon one of the dogs of the fender, and considered what to do. He must bear his burden in silence, that was all. He must keep this secret even from Rosamund. It split his heart to think that he must practice this deceit with her. But naught else was possible short of relinquishing her and that was far beyond his strength.

SANDQUIST'S HITTING BRINGS IN FOUR RUNS

Haines Liberal With Walks in Closing Game of Series.

LONDON OUTHIT

Special to The Advertiser.
Kalamazoo, Aug. 28.—Hinkley Haines was liberal with his passes in the closing game of the series, and as a result London carried away top honors 3 to 0. The locals out-hit the Beatty team, but they could not hold the lead which they secured off Englishman right from the start. The Kalamazoo opened with a pair of runs on a triple by Becker, a double by Buffington and singles by Wright and Haines. Another run was added in the third on O'Brien's double and Buser's single.

London evened up the count in the fourth with a trio of tallies, when Nason singled, Coogan walked, Gehring singled, and Haines gave Effert a walk forcing in Nason. Englishman struck out, but Sandquist produced the necessary hit to send Coogan and Gehring over the pan.

The visitors took the lead in the sixth with two scores, when Gehring walked, Effert produced a double and Sandquist again came to the rescue with a hit. The Kalamazoo secured a run in their half on doubles by Murphy and Haines. London put the game away safely in the seventh by sending over a pair of tallies on a hit by Baker, a walk to Nason, and a two-sacker by Stimpson, followed by a hot single by Coogan.

The Kalamazoo turned in a pair in the seventh when Buffington opened with a double and Wright, O'Brien and Buser singled. Fields replaced Englishman on the mound and headed off further scoring.

THISTLES AND W. O. R. READY FOR SATURDAY

Important Cup Final Game To Be Played at C. N. R. Field.

Saturday's Ontario Cup final between Thistles and W. O. R. is creating tremendous interest in soccer circles, as the winners will earn the right to meet Brantford in the next round. Both teams have been practicing hard in preparation for the game, which should be one of the best contests seen between two junior teams in years. The Soldiers are a greatly improved side, as their last two games have proved, and by beating Elgin Rovers in the previous round they will start favorites in Saturday's game.

The Thistles, on the other hand, are as good as a bunch of players as could be found. In Bruce, their full back, they possess a polished defender. In front of him is Smith at center-half, another accomplished player, while Beasley at center is ever ready to shoot at goal. This game will be worth the trip to the Sackville street grounds, and every soccer fan should turn out and boost the youngsters any help they can give in their efforts to put London off at 3 o'clock, and J. Fox will handle the game.

Teams:
Thistles—Macaulay; Dillon and Bruce; Graham, Smith and Fisher; Turner, Saunders, Beasley, McInley and Davies.
W. O. R.—Harper (W.); Hayes and McLay; Worton, McLeod and Roberts; Robertson, Harper (H.), Docker, Edwards, Havelin, Nevin, Lenard, Cargill, Hamilton.

TILDEN EASILY DEFEATS COLLEGIATE CHAMPION

Associated Press Despatch.
Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 28.—William T. Tilden, defending the national tennis crown he has won for the past four years, romped through his second match of the tournament this afternoon, overwhelming Lucien Williams of Chicago, former inter-collegiate champion, in straight sets, in the third round. The scores were: 6-0, 6-2, 6-1.

EARL GLAZNER, hurler of the Philadelphia Nationals, yesterday pitched his team to a 1-0 victory over the Braves in an errorless game.

GAME SHOT WINS GIMCRACK PLATE

English Event Taken by Sir Charles Hyde's Brown Filly.

Associated Press Despatch.
London, Aug. 28.—The Gimcrack plate of 1,200 sovereigns for two years, run over the six-furlong course at York this afternoon was won by Sir Charles Hyde's brown filly Game Shot, by tarten, out of Sun Shot, which finished half a length ahead of Sir Ernest Tate's chestnut colt Redoubt by Roi Herode-Dorval. Lord Dwyer's bay colt Iceberg, by Lombard-Freeston, finished third, also beaten by half a length. Seven started.

Game Shot started second favorite at odds of 10 to 3 against, with Redoubt at 6 to 1 against, and the favorite Iceberg at 9 to 4 against.

At Sunshine Park last night St. Martins although out-hit, defeated St. Peters, 9-8, largely through errors in the St. Peters infield. The south enders could find Nopper for only five safeties, but numerous miscues on the part of the losers let in several tallies. Tonight St. Peters meets Marconis, and Tuesday they will play St. Marys. These games will commence at 8 o'clock. If St. Peters win both their remaining games they will have the second series title, but if they drop one and win one they will be tied with St. Peters for first place, necessitating a play-off. If they lose both, St. Martins take the series.

ESKIMOS' CHIEF SAYS SIMPSON DEAL GENUINE

Canadian Press Despatch.
Calgary, Aug. 28.—That the trade in which Joe Simpson will go to Ottawa Senators and Frank Nighbor will join the Edmonton Eskimos is genuine was vouched by Kenny McKenzie, owner of the Eskimos, here last night.

McKenzie, however, stated that the deal would be off unless the management of the Ottawa club guaranteed by next Monday that Nighbor would report.

WITH THE Amateurs
The Manufacturers' League play-off to be concluded this week and the play-off at Sunshine Park beginning Saturday. Saturday there appears to be ample time before football weather to stage a series between the champions of the two leagues for the city title.

This game question has been discussed in the past, but always dropped, but there is no reason why a baseball series similar to that conducted to decide the championship of local hockey should not be carried out.

The St. Marys team which won the first series at Sunshine appears to have a good chance of taking the play-off from either St. Peters or St. Martins, whichever manages to nose out ahead in the fight for the second series honors. The St. Marys team has plenty of pitching material in Kelleher, Fournier, Durand, Flynn and Fagan, while St. Martins have but one hurler, and St. Peters two.

Practically the entire St. Marys team has been playing intermediate ball all season, while six have played in senior ranks.

These facts are a fair indication that the class of ball at the north end diamond has improved over that of last year, and further, support the contention that the eventual Sunshine champion should be pitted against the Manufacturers' titlist for the city amateur championship.

VETERAN BOWLERS TAKE HONORS AT HARRIETSVILLE

Special to The Advertiser.
Harrietsville, Aug. 28.—At the bowling tournament here Dr. Sinclair's rink of Aymer won first prize. This rink was composed of four veteran bowlers. The youngest of the party being 68 years old. They won 4 games with a plus of 33, and were the admiration of the whole tournament.
George Clark of Lambeth won second with 4 wins, plus 22.
Gordon Drake of All Saints, London, won third with 4 wins, plus 9.
S. E. Facey of Harrietsville won fourth with 3 wins, plus 19.

Orients Confident of Victory Against Cordage On Saturday

Brantford Team, Conceded Finalists Before, Expected To Come Back After Wednesday's Upset.

Orient Intermediates, who did the unexpected by beating the much-advertised Brantford Cordage nine on their own diamond, make their stand against the hordes from Dykeville at 3:15 o'clock Saturday.

Quick will probably draw the hurling assessment. The Cordage nine with a string of big achievements behind them, this season, including a tied game with Salt Terriers and a defeat of the Hamilton Typos, had the Orients' brows all furrowed with wrinkles, but Wednesday's game ironed some of these out, and the locals now feel that they've got more than an even chance of winning Saturday's game and the series. The accomplishment would be a little more than a step toward the provincial intermediate title, as the Cordage nine has been conceded finalists from the start of the season when their line-up was announced.

Wednesday's game gave the Orients the right sort of confidence. It showed them that the Cordage was not a collection of amateur Babe Ruths, Evers to Tinker to Chance combinations or anything like that, but the more than average good amateur nine, subject to good and bad days like themselves.

Quick should be able to turn the Dykeville lads back. Few of his games have registered more than three and four hits, but in any case, Russell is in good shape and will be in close reserve. Umpires have not yet been assigned.

SPARTA BAPTIST CHURCH TO HOLD ANNIVERSARY

Special to The Advertiser.
Sparta, Aug. 28.—The Baptist congregation will hold their church anniversary on Sunday, September 28. The minister, Rev. Francis, has been asked to conduct the services. Dexter Methodist Church will hold the anniversary on the same date. The St. Marys team has plenty of pitching material in Kelleher, Fournier, Durand, Flynn and Fagan, while St. Martins have but one hurler, and St. Peters two.

Practically the entire St. Marys team has been playing intermediate ball all season, while six have played in senior ranks.

These facts are a fair indication that the class of ball at the north end diamond has improved over that of last year, and further, support the contention that the eventual Sunshine champion should be pitted against the Manufacturers' titlist for the city amateur championship.

YANKEES SLIP DOWN TO SECOND POSITION

Senators Put Across Eighth Runs To Win in Eighth.

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, Aug. 28.—Washington took the lead from the New York Yankees here today as the result of a spirited eighth-inning rally in which Washington scored eight runs, six after two were out. Washington won the game by a score of 11 to 6.

Ruth hit his forty-first and forty-second home runs and apparently had piled up a safe lead for New York when Pennock weakened in the eighth. The entire New York club collapsed shortly after that.

The scores:

BOWLERS OF HIGHGATE WIN MATCHES AT GUILDS

Special to The Advertiser.
Highgate, Aug. 28.—A bowling tournament and a very pleasant afternoon were spent at George Attitude's at Guilds, in which Highgate bowlers came out winners, three games out of four. Bob Newman's rink won 3 to 8; Jack Crosby's rink 6 to 4; Woot, Hardy's rink 16 to 3; and Denny Savage's rink 14 to 11.

IRISH NINE PROMOTING SOFTBALL TOURNAMENT

Special to The Advertiser.
Lucan, Aug. 28.—The leading ladies' softball teams of North Middlesex will battle for supremacy here on Labor Day. As there will have to be at least three games played to decide the winner, the first game will commence at 1 o'clock sharp.

The following teams are entered to date: Limerdon, Denfield, Coursey Line, Brinsley and Lucan.
The games are being played under the auspices of the Irish Nine Club, which is offering prizes of $40 for the tournament.

Chicago broke even today. After Cleveland won the first 7 to 0, with the veteran Sherwood Smith pitching, Chicago took the second in ten innings, 7 to 6. Cleveland tied the score in the ninth and had the bases filled with only one out, but could not put the winning run over. The scores:
First game:
Chicago..... 000 000 000—0 3 1
Cleveland..... 200 200 120—7 13 2

GRAIN

Associated Press Despatch.
Montreal, Aug. 28.—Wheat prices to the sharp advance in wheat prices at Winnipeg and Chicago and further strength displayed in the local market today, there was a lull in the demand for foreign buyers for supplies and exporters reported business was not so brisk as it has been of late. Cash prices for carlots of oats were marked up locally another 1 1/2 per bushel. There is nothing new in the flour market. Mill feed prices are unchanged, rolled oats are firm. A firm feeling also prevails in the market for old crop hulled hay. Eggs are firm. Demand from foreign sources for butter was again reported limited, while trade with domestic houses is also stated to be very limited. Owing to the continued disappointing demand from English importers for cheese and the liberal quantities coming forward, an easier feeling developed in this market, and prices were shaded 1/2 to 1/4 per pound. Demand for beans continues good at $2 for choice, No. 1.

MEIGHEN ASKED TO GIVE PROOF FOR STATEMENTS

King Asks Tory Leader To Prove His Blue Ruin Claims.

"TRUTH OR SILENCE"

Refutes Charges, Accusing Hon. Arthur of Slander and Duplicité.

Special To The Advertiser by a Staff Reporter.

Peterborough, Aug. 28.—In a fighting speech, delivered to 5,000 electors of Peterborough and surrounding counties, Premier King hurled back in the face of Hon. Arthur Meighen the charge that the government had been guilty of duplicity. He also challenged the leader of the opposition to prove his statement that 1,000 factories had been closed as a result of changes in the tariff. The premier charged the Conservative leader with many cases of misrepresentation.

"Mr. Meighen says he has a list of over 2,000 factories that have been closed," said Hon. Mackenzie King. "I ask him to publish that list for the Canadian people. (Loud cheers.) I ask him as a man of honor and integrity, charging a great public trust in this country, to give to the people of Canada, that list of factories which he says I have closed. He says he has the list. I ask him to publish it, and I ask the people to be on the lookout for the publication."

Splendid Reception.
The premier had a magnificent reception, and was frequently applauded as he propounded government policy and refuted various statements of Mr. Meighen. Other speakers were: Hon. G. P. Graham, minister of railways and canals; Hon. W. E. N. Sinclair, Ontario Liberal leader, and G. N. Gordon, M.P., deputy speaker. A civic welcome was extended by Mayor Turner, R. Hall, ex-M.P., president. Five hundred automobiles took part in a triumphal procession to Exhibition Park.

The premier paid glowing tributes to the work of Messrs. Graham, Sinclair and Gordon in their respective spheres, and thanked J. H. Burnham, ex-Conservative M.P., who was present, for taking the first courageous step which helped to insure the defeat of the late government.

Referring to the incident at Montreal on Monday, when the platform gave way beneath him, Mr. King explained it by saying that the government policies had become so popular and so many people wished to get in on the government's platform that no supports were strong enough to maintain the crowd it had.

Confidence in Canada.
"That is but a sample of the feeling in Montreal, where there is a by-election. I believe that throughout the Dominion there is a growing confidence in the principles of the Liberal party, which are drawing men and women of all shades of political opinion, men and women who believe that at times it is important that we should not have a government distracted by unnecessary divisions, but rather strengthened by a unity of the citizens." (Cheers.)

The leader of the opposition, continued the premier, was given largely to misrepresentation, and had gone from end to end of Canada sounding a note of distraction and pessimism, doing all he could to injure the government and at the same time injuring the development of the country.

Despite the fact that the premier and press criticism of Mr. Meighen's denunciation of conditions, he was still sounding the same note that the country was going to the dogs, and that conditions were such which would repel instead of attracting would-be comers.

"That is not patriotism in my mind, whatever it may be in the nature of partisan criticism," commented the premier.

He next took up and denied Mr. Meighen's statement that 300,000 Canadians had been banished to the United States, that homes were

GEN. WU PEI-FU.

Chinese war lord, who is understood to have received orders from Peking to take forcible measures to crush the forces in Chekiang province.

Deplores Tactics.
"Immediately after making these charges," Mr. Meighen continued Mr. King, "deplored what he called the exodus of Canadians to the United States, and spoke of the limited increase in immigration during the last year or two. Do you wonder that men contemplating emigrating to Canada, and reading words of this description from the lips of one who has held the office of prime minister, and who is now the leader of a great political party, would hesitate to come and settle in our country?"

The premier said there had been no trick on the part of a certain class of politicians who wished to score against an opponent to attribute to him that of which he himself was guilty.

"I am afraid Mr. Meighen is adopting that method when he accuses the government of duplicity. I don't charge him with duplicity. I don't intend to use language of that sort, but I do say that when Mr. Meighen charges the government with duplicity, and the people have the right to draw their own inferences as to what leads to the use of language of that kind."

The premier denied Mr. Meighen's charge that the government bought the Scribner Hotel in Paris. Mr. Meighen knew the facts, he said, because he had been with the hotel when they believed to be the wish of the people the government gave the president and directors of the National Hotel in Paris, and the hotel was purchased without the knowledge of the government. "I believe that time will justify that purchase in spite of criticism," said Mr. King.

Building Needed.
Taking up Mr. Meighen's statement that "we are not going to seek the shelter of any more one and a half million dollar places in London," the premier supposed the reference was to the recent purchase of the building in Trafalgar Square, for housing under one roof all the departments of the Canadian government in London. Mr. Meighen knew that Australia, New Zealand and South Africa had such a building, and that Canada had been trying to get one instead of having its offices distributed in London, which would bring economy and efficiency.

Mr. Meighen had said, "We are not going to conciliate reluctant supporters by sending them on the trips around the world at the expense of the people."

The premier desired the opposition leader to substantiate that statement and the inference drawn from it.

"We have sent no supporters round the world," he said, explaining that in the interests of British sentiment and solidarity, the government had thought it right to send a few representatives of the Canadian parliament as commissioners to the Wembley Exhibition, where Canada had the nearest exhibit of any. In doing so they had followed the example of Sir John Macdonald with respect to the exhibition at Chicago. The present government had risen above national feeling in the matter, and in addition to sending the two Liberal whips had sent the Conservative and Progressive whips.

Charges Misrepresentation.
That is what Mr. Meighen calls sending people round the world. And that language is indicative of his style in dealing with public affairs. If he makes misrepresentations in regard to these simple things, how much more he is deceiving you in regard to the larger questions and issues of the day?"

The opposition leader had said he would not conceal the debt of the Dominion by adopting a fake system of railway loans. The premier again pointed out by showing that in guaranteeing railway loans the government had followed the example of all governments during 25 years. The books had been kept and statements handed out by the same officials who did the work under previous governments.

Dealing with Mr. Meighen's charge that 300,000 people had been banished to the United States, Mr. King asked the audience to imagine that statement being cabled to England and that the same officials who had the utterance of the leader of a great party.

"Could anyone set out to injure Canada more than by spreading false representations of that kind?" he asked.

On Emigration.
The premier, in explaining the situation regarding emigration to the United States, said that the government took office immigration machinery was at a standstill in the Old States, and that was doing little or nothing. The war was partly to blame. But after disarmament was over, instead of starting up the machinery, Mr. Meighen was thinking of other things, first of all the imperial conference in London, which he did. Then he announced a continued campaign until December, and during that time the emigration offices of the old world, which should be operating, were doing nothing. The premier said that he came into office he found the springs dried up at their source.

Mr. King said that immigration work in a year, and it needed time to bring great boom had come in the United States, and with it restricted immigration. Men were returning in hundreds from England with their families, not only Canadian soldiers, but many veterans, and what was more natural than that some should migrate temporarily across the line? There had always been that flow back and forth between the two countries, and men who entered the United States for temporary employment were classed as emigrants. Mr. Meighen had used the American figures. Mr. King pointed out that the United States kept no record of those who came back. "Our department made an estimate, and found that of 100 Canadian soldiers who had returned to Canada."

Canadians Return.
Mr. King again turned the tables on Mr. Meighen by showing that from April to July last 18,770 Canadians had returned to Canada. It was significant that during the period the policy of a changed tariff was introduced, and which Mr. Meighen said was ruining the factories.

The premier called upon Mr. Meighen to "keep quiet or tell the truth." He said that stream setting again towards our shores, proclaiming as it did when Laurier came into power a new prosperity for the great body of people in the Dominion."

Denies Debt Increases.
Mr. King also refuted Mr. Meighen's claim that the government had increased the public debt. The capital cost of the war and demobilization was $1,694,024,993, and every dollar remained a mortgage on the country. These loans were exempt from taxation, and the present government not only had to pay interest on them but had to begin to pay principal.

In connection with the commitments of the government, Mr. King mentioned the present government had to shoulder he mentioned the purchase of the building from the Home Bank in Ottawa, which Mr. Meighen had bought on the eve of election, and the note given for the new station in Toronto. The premier also said that Mr. Meighen had used some of the demobilization vote for a publicity office in New York.

In reply to the slander and calamity howling of Mr. Meighen, he intended to see that the public knew some of the facts, said the premier in conclusion.

BARN AND CROPS LOST IN FIRE NEAR RANNOCH
Earl Gregory's Farm Is Scene of Blaze, Started by Threshing Machine.

Special To The Advertiser.
St. Marys, Aug. 28.—A large barn and most of the season's crops, owned by Earl Gregory, on the East Mitchell road, near Rannoch, were completely destroyed by fire at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Mr. Gregory had a threshing gang at work, and had the separator in the barn, and the straw stack at one end. They had only about half a load of oats to put through, when a match is believed to have passed along the separator and into the straw stack, which immediately burst into flames. The men had just time to turn the gasoline tractor around and pull the separator out of the barn, before the roof fell in. About 30 loads of wheat and almost the entire oat crop were lost in the burning building.

The St. Marys fire brigade was called out but could do nothing, owing to the headway the fire had made.

The loss has not yet been estimated, but the barn was well covered with insurance.

SECOND HURRICANE THREATENS LINERS

Leviathan, Majestic and Other Large Ships May Be in Path.

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, Aug. 28.—As a half-score gale-battered ships made port today with their storm-wearied passengers and crews, wireless messages were warning all ships in this part of the Atlantic to be on the lookout for another hurricane, which, from present indications, threaten to blow up as lusty a sea as that which recently wrought such havoc on shipping.

Tropical disturbance of considerable intensity is now centered 60 miles southeast of St. Kitts Island, the west end of the island moving rapidly west-northwestward by a weather bureau storm warning. Further advances were promised for early tomorrow.

Shipping officials, their minds relieved by the final passage of the Sunday-to-Tuesday hurricane, which is now lashing out its fury somewhere near the Cape Verde Islands, fear that a number of big liners now in the Central and North Atlantic sea lanes may run their noses squarely into the new storm which is threatening their strength in the South Atlantic. Among the ships several days out of this port are the Leviathan, Majestic, and the other large American liners, Orduna, Ohio and President Roosevelt. From South American ports still others, much smaller, and therefore in greater danger, are on their way.

Of the half score of ships to make port today the Danish freighter Nord-Hedvig, which arrived in Hatteras, was swept overboard by a wave that towered far above the vessel's deck 50 feet above the water. The ship was badly battered and in her 30-hour fight with the gale the Hatteras, as a fight which many times had the doughty Dane's decks under tons of water. She came into port with her flag half-masted.

Probably the most fortunate of the storm-wrecked vessels to arrive was the Hamburg-American liner Westphalia, which arrived with 270 passengers. The storm hit her Tuesday afternoon off George's Bank but did not catch her skipper unprepared. For four hours her engines driving her, but three knots an hour, the liner waged her battle, and she came through with little damage and with none injured.

ST. THOMAS APPOINTS NEW CITY FIRE CHIEF

John Mitrella of Hamilton Will Commence Duties On September 1.

Special To The Advertiser.
St. Thomas, Aug. 28.—A special meeting of the city council was held at the city hall today to deal with the recommendation of the fire committee, which appoints John Mitrella of Hamilton chief of the local department. The council passed a motion appointing Mitrella at a salary of $2,000, his duties to commence September 1, while Fire Chief Henderson, who has been in the city since the end of the year, other employment to be found for him in the meantime.

The motion was supported by all present at the meeting, with the exception of Aldermen Meehan and Jagoe, who informed the council that they would not support any but a local man until he had been tried.

THIRD ACTION TAKEN AGAINST WILSON FIRM

Three New York Creditors Ask $2,600 From Packing House.

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, Aug. 28.—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed today in United States district court today against Wilson and Company, Chicago packers, by three creditors with claims totalling about $2,600.

This is the third bankruptcy proceeding involving Wilson and Company within a week. The first action was taken in the court of chancery at Trenton, N. J., last Saturday, when a stockholder sought to have the packing concern thrown into the bankruptcy courts.

This was followed by an action started in the federal court here two days ago by "friendly" creditors, who obtained the appointment of a committee to liquidate the company's affairs under the chairmanship of Thomas E. Wilson, president of the firm.

Thomas E. Wilson, president of the Wilson Packing Company, one of the largest firms of his kind in America was born in London Oct.

GOVERNMENT SAVES ON FEDERAL HIGHWAYS

Announces More Work Being Done For Same Money As Last Year.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, Aug. 28.—With construction expenditures curtailed and labor rates the same as last year, fully 25 and 30 per cent more work is being done for the same money this season on federal highways in Eastern Ontario and Quebec. A. W. Campbell, commissioner of highways, states on his return from an inspection of some 300 miles of federal roads in the two provinces. Mr. Campbell says the year is closing many gaps on through routes which will result in an improved serviceable road between Windsor, Toronto, Montreal, Quebec, St. John, Halifax and Sydney, a distance of 2,000 miles.

LONDON CRICKETERS WIN ENGLISH ROBINSON CUP

Needing 211 Runs To Win, 248 Run Up Before Side Dismissed.

On Wednesday the Ontario Hospital cricketers journeyed to Hamilton to play a game in the English-Robinson trophy series. Both of the teams having won a match, another was necessary. There was some extraordinary scoring by both teams, and also by individuals on both sides, the scores amounting in two innings to a grand total of 453 runs. Owing to a slight mishap to Dr. Chalk's car, play was delayed until 11:45 a.m., and upon winning the toss the locals elected to put Hamilton to bat first. The innings opened with Fox and Ward, and when lunch was called the score stood at 95 runs for three wickets. Upon resumption the score was taken up to 210 runs before Hamilton was dismissed at 3:40 p.m.

Wanting 211 runs to win, the London team opened up with Parsons and Walker, and for a while runs came quickly. Two wickets fell for 21 runs, and it did not look at all rosy for the visitors. However, upon May 21, Dr. Chalk, who was getting separated, 128 runs being made in 1 hour and 5 minutes, some very fast scoring indeed, and the whole side was eventually dismissed for 248 runs. The

PLANE MAY GO TO AID CREW OF SHIP IN ICE

May Send Airman To Rescue Men Caught in Arctic.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Vancouver, Aug. 28.—Jericho Beach airplane station was called to an amphibious plane to the relief of the crew of the Hudson Bay Company's ship Lady Kindersley, caught in the ice off Point Barrow in Arctic waters.

Squadron Leader A. Earl Godfrey, commander of the local unit Canadian Air Force, is now awaiting word from Ottawa giving consent to the enterprise. The plane would be dispatched north on a ship chartered by the Hudson Bay Company, which would proceed to a point as near the Lady Kindersley as possible, when the flying craft would take off, returning the crew of the ice-marooned ship to the relief vessel in small parties.

IN MEMORIAM.
STRONG — In loving memory of my dear sister, Rhea Strong, who died one year ago today, Aug. 29, 1923.
OR, for a touch of a vanished hand,
The voice of a loved one still.
We long for the sound of your footsteps,
And a smile from your dear, sweet face.
For no one on this earth, dear Rhea,
Can fill your vacant place.
— Ever remembered by her sister, Emily.

CARD OF THANKS.
Mr. Jim Foster and daughter wish to thank the many friends, neighbors, Clergy, and friends who, by their presence at the funeral, and their sympathy and floral tributes, the painters of the C.
N. R. car show, and the First Freshwater, during our recent sad bereavement, and the nurses and staff at Victoria Hospital during Mrs. Foster's long illness.

FRANCE REFUSES TO GIVE SUPPORTHerriot Announces Disability of Country To Keep Up Financial Aid.

POLAND NOTIFIED

By CONSTANTINE BROWN.
By Radio to The Advertiser and the Chicago Daily News. (Copyrighted.)
Paris, Aug. 28.—The first intimation to the states of the "Little Entente" that France would no longer supply them with money was given on Wednesday when Count Skrzyn-sky, the Polish minister of foreign affairs, was told diplomatically that the French treasury was unable to support the allies any longer.

Skrzynsky, who was on his way to Geneva, stopped in Paris to find out the intentions of the French government in regard to the loan needed to complete the arming of the Polish army and for works of national importance. It is reliably reported that members of the French cabinet, while assuring their visitor of the very friendly feelings France has toward the Polish Republic, said the financial position of France does not permit her to continue the policy of the Poincare government in supply indefinitely the smaller allies with substantial loans, and while she certainly would not object to any arrangements Poland could make in Paris with private bankers, France's treasury cannot see any way of giving or guaranteeing any foreign loan.
Premier Herriot stated that this policy must not be interpreted as an unfriendly act toward Poland, and he drew to the Polish minister's attention that he was applying to Poland the same treatment that he will apply henceforth to other states.

ASK YOUR NEIGHBOR

There is hardly a neighborhood in Canada where women cannot be found who have derived benefit from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For nearly fifty years this botanic medicine has been overcoming some of the worst forms of female ills. As one woman has been benefitted by its use she has told others who have used it with the same good results, so the use of this great medicine has spread from shore to shore by the recommendation of those who have found it good.
Therefore, ask your neighbor; let her tell you from experience the benefit which all women derive from its use.—Advt.

BREAD.

By Edgar Daniel Kramer.

While digging in the ruins
Of an Assyrian tomb,
He unearthed a loaf of bread
And brought it from the gloom.
He handed it with care
And breathed, "It's clear to me
That this came from the oven
In about fifty-six B.C."

He unwrapped the precious loaf.
That he had just found.
While the others dropped their tools
And crowded close around.
But when he broke his knife on it,
He sighed, "For heaven's sake!
This bread is just exactly Like what mother used to make!"

Saving His Breath.

The judge eyed the prisoner sternly. "Have you anything to say before sentence is passed upon you?" he demanded.

"What's the use, judge?" the culprit asked. "You won't take my word against them twelve guys who found me guilty."

There Are a Few Left.

"What sort of a feller is Sam Suselson?"

"Good enough," replied old Squire Ramsbottom of Petunla, "but so durn old-fashioned that his horses sked at automobiles."

From Hand

to mouth.

Chivalry.

"What's the matter, captain?"

asked an excited passenger. "Is the ship in danger?"

"In danger?" shouted the chief of deck of the boat. "We've been captured by pirates and they are going to make all of us walk the plank. Run below—quick, my man—and warn the other passengers!"

The man rushed below, and a few minutes later the captain was startled to hear him shouting:

"Women and children first!" he was screaming, "women and children first!"

A Remembrance.

"Did you bring any souvenirs back from New York?"

"Yes, an empty pocketbook."

Among the Ancient Maya of Yucatan.

A Transcend Adventure.

"I have to smile when I see the astonishment of some people whenever some scientist reports the discovery of relics of the ancient Maya civilization in Central America. I am the only living white who has ever lived with a tribe of those strange folks, who actually exist in the mountains of Yucatan."

"I was in the province of Azatlan, prospectors. My native escort deserted, frightened by the hideous idols which we were constantly discovering.
But the gold, Man! Veins of the pure ore stood out like those on the brow of an angry man. I pushed on alone. At the end of the fourth day after I had staked out a limitless fortune in claims, I was caught in a landslide, which carried me plumb into the midst of the Maya camp."

"They were the wildest people I have ever seen, canary yellow in color, wearing only a waist string from which hung a long, cruel knife which was their only implement. Their skill in eating with these implements would put a Iowa farmer to shame. At their banquets they went through a curious ceremony, loading their creases with raw antelope and drawing them through their mouths with the blunt backs of the blades pressed against their jaws. I saw my chance of escape.

"On a night before a festival in honor of the sun, I stole among the sleeping warriors, collected all their weapons, and carefully sharpened the backs to razor keenness. The feast was scheduled to begin with the first rays of the sun. I shall never forget the scene; two hundred tribesmen drawing the blades across their faces as the first ray pierced the valley.
Cries of anguish filled the air and hundreds of forms writhed on the sandy floor.

"I stole away in the confusion and naturally I have never prospected in that direction since."

Hardly Worth Talking About.

Husband: "What—another hat?"

Wife: "Yes, but it's an awfully little one."

Amateurs.

Betty had several children playing with her. Suddenly her mother heard wild shrieks and walls, and rushing to the playground exclaimed:

"What's the trouble, Betty?"

"Nothing, mother, we're just playing opera."

A Touch of Newness To Brighten Your Holiday Outfit

A DOUBLE WEEK-END

You can help make the holiday more enjoyable and restful for those who serve behind the counters by doing your shopping before 5:30 Saturday. WILL YOU HELP?

The receiving room has had a busy week and is today jammed full of new early fall apparel which will be displayed Saturday for the first peep, and that you may have something new to freshen your outfit for the week-end and your holiday outing. Autumn is just beyond the horizon and it's time to start acquiring your new wardrobe, which must be in keeping with the tingling season. Saturday will find us well equipped with all the things you need, whether it's the coat and frock suit, a new colored handkerchief, or a pair of new hose.

STORE CLOSURE SATURDAY AT 5:30.

MONDAY (LABOR DAY), store will be closed all day.

Do your holiday shopping before 5:30 Saturday.

COATS FOR AUTUMN MAKE THEIR BOW, $25.00, $50.00

Autumn days and the chill breezes which blow up at night are not prone to abide by the calendar. They have a disconcerting habit of appearing long before that worthy institution has declared the warm days officially completed.

And so they create an immediate need for warm fall coats. More particularly so if your fall plans include extensive travelling, or even an occasional week-end.

Precursors of the winter modes are the swagger topcoats which make their bow tomorrow. Their fabrics are essentially new. For instance, a cut velvet, which cleverly copies the English flamingo cloth, emphasizes fashion's tendency for a suede-like finish, and teddy bears, zibelines and marvellous comply with the mode for rich pile surfaces.

And you'll especially like a striking model whose shaggy wool finish proclaims a bold black and white plaid. They are priced most reasonably between $25.00 and $50.00.

Warm Utility Coats in wool coatings are priced between $25.00 and $35.00.

All-Weather Coats in plaids and tweeds have the well-fitting lines and excellent tailoring which go with the label "Hurlingham". $37.50 to $55.00.

Second Floor.

SHEETS, $2.89

Unexpected holiday week-end or Western Fair visitors will make extra sheets a most useful asset in your linen closet. And what a satisfaction to the good housewife to know that she is not caught unprepared.

Double Bed Sheets in an excellent quality, at $2.89, $3.29, $4.75 and $5.00.

FINE MADAPOLLAM, 39c

The fine soft quality of Madapollam has inspired for it the name "Bridal Cloth." As fine as nainsook and in a soft, beautiful finish, a new shipment of this material has just been opened. Of the same excellent quality which met with such repeated demand in spring and summer selling. In firm English make, 36 inches wide. At 39c.

Main Floor.

SWEETS FOR THE HOLIDAY

Wherever you spend the week-end, holidaying or at home, the box of candy in cupboard or club bag is going to be a satisfactory touch.

A Saturday special chocolate selling in the Candy Department will be a splendid source of supply.

One hundred pounds, freshly received from the manufacturer, in nine different flavors, at 34c lb.

The Labor Day picnic may well include in its menu several carefully-wrapped chocolate bars.

Nelson's Chelsea Rolls—a delicious coconut-laden confection, is the most recent variety to be added to our extensive stock. 6 bars for 25c, or 5c each.

Fall Hats In An Early Showing, $5.95

ONE HUNDRED MODELS—AND NO TWO ALIKE

Your Labor Day outing—or your last summer week-end! Both will be more enjoyable if you allow your clothes to carry the authentic style note of the moment.

And that, as reported to us by our exclusive fashion service, "The Breath of the Avenue," is the "sombre" or shaded effect. Achieved, says the New York style experts, in the most skillful of all instances, by the combinations of summer frock with fall hat in deepening shade.

For example, the smart black and white effect, is smartest of all in combination of white frock, with close fitting black velvet hat. Or the summer frock, developed in sand or beige crepe, finds its fitting complement in the velvet hat of oakwood, or other autumn tints.

All of which leads up to a very important announcement. On Saturday morning the Millinery Department will open an early fall showing of Fall Hats. One hundred models, no two of which are alike (and that is an important feature), have been secured from a New York dealer, and will be offered at special purchase figure of $5.95.

For misses and for matrons, each Hat will represent an outstanding style feature of the hour. A tight cloche shape to suit the shingle bob. A turban effect for the more mature buyer. With trimmings of vulture feathers, of drenched ostrich, chenille and bead embroideries, applied flowers, or the smart ribbon cocardes and bows—every feature a forerunner of modes which promise to rule the winter.

In shutter green, nasturtium, oakwood, brown, almond, pearl, sand, black and black in combination with silver and purple. A particularly smart large poke model has sectional crown developed in a two-tone effect by a combination of Lyons and panne velvet, with a broad ribbon bow in poudre blue fronting the crown. Velvet and bengaline combine for an effective cloche, in which the military effect is gained by a broad bow of petersham ribbon, tipped with tiny gilt buttons. Tomorrow in the millinery department at $5.95.

CORRECT KNITTED APPAREL FROM ENGLAND

An attractive presentation of the new knitted wear includes suits and sweaters which meet the combined demands of fashion and utility.

Smart Jaquettes, $7.50

New Jaquettes of wool, or wool and rayon (artificial silk), are trimmed with plain bands of contrast weave. They are gaily striped in Bayadere fashion, in dull blue and cinnamon brown, maize, black and wistaria.

NEW KNITTED SUITS, $15.00, $20.00 $37.50, $45.00

Here is a suit of smart simplicity, with a well-tailored skirt, a coat in the jaquette style, a long trim back collar, braid bound, and a long uncuffed sleeve; it is developed in brown and sand, striped in amber and gold. $15.00. A similar style is smartly expressed in mahogany and cocoa or in two-tone green with a novel weave, which gives a cool, frosty effect. $20.00. One very distinctive suit in navy blue has a shadow weave which shows flicks of gold and emerald and lacquer red. There are motifs of these colors in the collar and the bindings. $37.50. The novel boucle weave adds interest to a cocoa-colored suit. The long, narrow collar is trimmed with gay silk, which are reminiscent of the season's vogue for gros point embroideries. $45.00.

Second Floor.

NEW ENGLISH FLANNELS

New English Flannels are a keystone for the autumn and "back-to-school" dressmaking. For the junior girl at school, the college girl or the business girl, flannels are able to achieve the happy medium of comfort, fashion and efficiency. The Flannel Department announce a showing of flannels just arrived from England, where they were purchased by the store buyer as a special feature of the autumn stock.

A firm broadcloth finish has been given to flannel of excellent quality in both thread and weaving. Fastness of color has been assured by the quality of dye used. The price of the material will render it particularly suitable for fall outfits.

The sixteen colors, which include every new and fashionable material of the season. At 90c yard.

NURSERY FLANNELS

Autumn arrivals through Messrs. Stork, Incorporated, demand the finest of nursery flannels. For the little visitor in your own home, and the flannels which form such a necessary part of its outfit, the Flannel Department will give you the utmost in satisfaction.

Flannel of splendid value, guaranteed all wool, at a yard 75c.

Extra Fine Saxony Flannel, with thoroughly shrunken finish, at 95c and $1.25 yard.

West Aisle—Main Floor.
