DROWNED IN THE THAMES

Deck hand on the City of Chatham Falls to his Death

Inquest to be Held—Supposed that Deceased Fell from Stern of Boat.

Jas. Augustus Larkin, a deck hand on the steamer City of Chatham, was found dead in the river yesterday afternoon about half past one o'clock. Last Saturday evening, when the Steamer City of Chatham arrived in the city they found that one of the deck hands, James Larkin, had not been seen in Chatham since Friday morning. They missed Larkin Saturday morning when the steamer started for Detroit but it was thought that he had gone ashore and had missed the boat. They thought nothing of it, as it appears Larkin was in the habit of often disappearing mysteriously and showing up later. He had done this in Windsor some time ago.

When the crew found out that he had not been seen in Chatham since Friday night, began to suspect that something was wrong and they at once instituted a search for him. Larkin, it appears, had gone ashore Friday evening and after walking around town for some time, with a few of his friends, he had gone up to the opera house with them. After the show, he stayed around town a while longer and then went aboard the boat to go to bed.

The other employees of the boat were already in bed and heard Larkin's coming on board about midnight. He went down to his room and stayed there for a while and then he was heard to go up and walk to the back of the boat. It was supposed that he had been taken ill. It is said that he was sitting on the rail of the boat smoking, and this was the last seen of Larkin. It is now supposed that he dozed off while he was smoking and fell into the water. Larkin could not swim so that he would have been helpless as soon as he struck the water.

The crew were of the opinion that he was safe ashore until John Soffley, a citizen, found Larkin's cap in the river Saturday night, near St. Joseph's Hospital. He brought it to the boat and then it was suspected that Larkin was drowned. Ed. Barry, W. Goodreau, and W. J. Baker, formed a searching party and secured the boat and pike poles, they searched in the river from half past one o'clock Sunday morning until half past three but they were unable to find the body.

Sunday morning at about eleven o'clock, the search was resumed, this time by Will Jahnke, Con. Delahanty, Ed. McCormick, and "Bees" Blair, and at half past one o'clock the body was found just off, where the stern of the boat is when at the dock and close to the shore. This strengthened the opinion that he fell off the stern of the boat while smoking. When he was found he had on his socks, shirt and a pair of trousers. His coat and shoes were found in his bunk room on the boat.

John J. Larkin, father of the deceased man, said to a Planet reporter:— "I was with my son Friday night. I met him on King Street and he asked me to go with him and help him choose a pair of trousers. After he had bought the trousers he put them on and said he was going to go up to the show, but, to tell his mother that he would be home for sure Saturday night. That was the last I saw of him.

"I can't understand how he fell off the boat. Jim was always a careful boy on the boat and wouldn't take any risks. He had a position offered him as motorman on a steamer. I don't think he was just considering whether he would take it or not and he had almost decided to stop work on the boat because he didn't like it anyway."

The deceased man was 24 years of age and is survived by a father, a mother and one sister. The sisters are Margaret and Katharine at home, and the brother is Joseph Larkin, who works on the tug "Vie" which is at present unloading a boat at the mouth of the river.

He was a member of the Independent Order of Foresters and was insured for $500. The Foresters will conduct the funeral which will take place Tuesday morning at ten o'clock to St. Joseph's Church, and thence to St. Anthony's cemetery. Coroner Dr. J. L. Bray was called and decided to hold an inquest. A jury was summoned by Detective McGregor and met at Jahnke's morgue this morning and after viewing the body of the unfortunate man, decided to meet to-morrow morning at nine o'clock, to hear the evidence. The jury are J. W. Humphrey, foreman, John Carpenter, G. A. Turrill, Jos. Mitton, John Glassford, Geo. Jamieson, H. Roach, James Northwood, A. T. Fleet, A. H. Patterson, Anson Mounter, and Geo. Lampherd.

Charles Blannett, who has been ill in St. Joseph's Hospital, has returned home completely recovered.

Health Inspector Anson Mounter reports that several people have sent their names in to him to have their yards cleaned by Mr. Harwood. All of the cases received have been promptly attended to and now Mr. Mounter is waiting for more names.

JAPS SHELLING MUKDEN

Vigorous Work Preparatory to a General Attack

Mukden's Soldiers Are Endeavoring by a Wide Turning Movement to Cut Off Gen. Kuropatkin's Retreat—Almost Continual Skirmishing Is Going On—Japanese Front Half Way to Mukden Is Confronting Russian Outposts.

London, Sept. 19.—It is asserted in a despatch from Tokio to The Express that the Japanese are vigorously shelling the Russian positions at Mukden, preparatory to a general advance, and endeavoring by a wide turning movement to cut off Gen. Kuropatkin's retreat. The Japanese armies, the despatch adds, are disposed in the same relative positions as in the fighting before Liaoyang. Almost continual skirmishing.

Mukden, Sept. 19.—The Japanese are reported to be advancing on both flanks from the east, the southeast and the southwest. The Russian outposts are closely engaged twenty miles southeast of Mukden. Almost continual skirmishing is going on. From Kureki.

London, Sept. 19.—A despatch from General Kuroki's headquarters, via Fusan, states that the Japanese are almost north of Liaoyang and are confronting Kuropatkin's outposts. It is believed that Gen. Kuropatkin is removing his headquarters to Harbin.

Russians Are Retiring.

Tokio, Sept. 19.—The Russians are retiring upon Harbin. Only two divisions, with the complement of cavalry, are now south of the Hun River. A battle is expected at Shiliho.

Oyama Reports Loss.

Tokio, Sept. 19.—Marquis Oyama, commander-in-chief of the Japanese forces in the field, telegraphed yesterday morning that General Oku had reported having captured 13 prisoners at the battle of Liaoyang. He also gave a detailed list of the Russian stores which Gen. Oku captured as follows: Thirty horses, two thousand two hundred and eighty-eight rifles, one hundred and seventy-six ammunition wagons, five thousand eight hundred and ninety-two rounds of artillery, six hundred and fifty-nine thousand nine hundred and thirty small arm cartridge. Great quantities of timber, flour, rice, forage, engineering implements, clothing and accoutrements.

Russians Make Chinese Soldiers

Tokio, Sept. 19.—It is reported that the Russians compel the Chinese in Siberia to cut their queues and enlist in the army at the front. Disobedience is punished with instant confiscation of property and death.

Liaoyang Defeat Costly.

Paris, Sept. 19.—A despatch to The Journal from St. Petersburg states that the Russian losses at Liaoyang from Aug. 26 to Sept. 8 were two generals, 21,800 men and 133 guns. The value of the material lost, including the fortifications, is $30,000,000.

Russian Transport Ashore.

London, Sept. 19.—A news agency despatch from Tokio says that a Russian transport carrying arms and ammunition from Shanghai to Vladivostok has been stranded on Itugu Island. The prospects for floating her are small. Fifteen of her crew of Americans and Germans have landed.

Gen. Stoessel Expects Defeat.

Chefoo, Sept. 19.—According to Lieut. Prince Radzivil of the Russian army, who reached here Saturday night from Port Arthur, bearing despatches from Lieut.-Gen. Stoessel, the commander-in-chief of the forces of the Russian stronghold, to Gen. Kuropatkin, the temper of the beligerents at Port Arthur has reached an absolutely merciless stage. Prince Radzivil declares that the men of both armies are absolutely venomous in their antagonism. Lieut.-Gen. Stoessel has addressed his garrison, saying that if the Japanese soldiers entered the fortress it undoubtedly will be impossible for their officers to control them and prevent a massacre. For this reason Lieut.-General Stoessel is making no objection to civilians leaving Port Arthur. In consequence of the fact that flags of truce are ignored, numbers of dead Japanese who have been lying on the slopes of the hills of the northeast defenses for weeks past are still unburied and the stench in Port Arthur from decomposing bodies is almost unendurable.

In the course of the assaults which took place in the four last days of August two companies of Japanese soldiers, according to Prince Radzivil found themselves at the mercy of the Russians and hoisted a white flag. To this, however, the Russians paid no attention, and continued to fire volleys rapidly into the helpless ranks of the Japanese. In the meantime Japanese troops in the rear of the company that had raised the white flag saw what their comrades had done and expressed their disapproval of the surrender by firing into their rear. As a result of this, 600 men were annihilated.

Harry O'Connor, of Sault Ste. Marie, who has been visiting his former friends here, left to-day for Berlin, where he will visit his parents. He will return in two weeks time.

In the evening the Grand will be in fetes for an immense mass meeting to be addressed by Mr. Borden, James Clancy, M. P., and others. The balcony will be reserved for ladies and their escorts until eight o'clock. Everyone is heartily welcome.

FIRST SERMON OF SERIES

The William St. Baptist Church was crowded last night to hear Rev. Mr. Hoyt speak on the subject, "A scene at an evening party." He took his text from Dan. v. 1, 30, and pictured in a vivid way the banqueting hall of King Belshazzar, when in the midst of revelry the Unseen Hand of God wrote upon the wall. The speaker described the ancient city of Babylon as being five times larger than London, Eng., and twelve times larger than New York, a city of palaces and temples, with more pomp and wealth and splendor and sin. Because the people were so given up to debauchery and sin their destruction came suddenly and unexpectedly, and so will it be with all who refuse to obey God, and prefer to live a life of disobedience to God. Mr. Hoyt used several apt illustrations to impress important truths. The choir, under the leadership of Miss Blanche Baxter, sang a couple of splendid selections.

Next Sunday the church has special rally services. The church and S. S. room will be nicely decorated and special music will be rendered by the choir and others for the occasion.

PLUGGING CHARGES PROVEN

In the Soo election trial the petitioner has succeeded in sustaining the charges of wholesale personation by American pluggers at Michipicoten and Helen Mine, points out the Hamilton Spectator. The question of agency was also established to the satisfaction of the judges. The men found guilty of being accessories to one of the worst political crimes ever perpetrated in this country—and there have been some pretty bad ones—are

George Sutherland, who had charge of the Grit organization.
 William Coyne, assistant manager of the Lake Superior Company, a subsidiary company of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company, a concern which received financial assistance to the extent of over $2,000,000 from the Ontario Government.

"Lank" Kennedy, alias Ferguson, who was in charge of the famous expedition, had the pluggers hired, handed the money and engineered the plugging operations at Michipicoten and Helen Mine.

Yesterday the judges simply rendered their decision on this series of charges, but intimated that later they would deal with Sutherland, Coyne, Kennedy et al. It is to be hoped that the punishment meted out to the offenders will be sufficiently severe to put a stop to such unblushing political corruption in future.

In giving judgment, Chancellor Boyd reviewed the story of the famous trip of the Minnie M. and said the "salient points" in the evidence of Purser Cole were fully corroborated. In describing the American citizens taken on the Minnie M. he called them "a cargo of living beings, chiefly roughs." Reference was also made of the call at Batchawana Bay, "where the unique spectacle was witnessed of a deputy returning officer consulting as to the personation of voters in the list at his poll." Continuing the chancellor said:

"From there they went to Michipicoten Harbor and to Helen Mine, at both of which places they voted. They were all given free transportation, free food, free liquor throughout. They were schooled and drilled as to the business of personation and of the actual consummation of that personation the court had not the slightest doubt. There were no others at these places who could have given the votes that were cast.

"There were thus a cluster of offenses against the election law—free transportation to voters, payment of expenses, free drinks, free board, personation, in all of which Kennedy, alias Ferguson, was the chief agent, assisted by Galvin, the keeper of a saloon at the American Soo. It was also shown that Coyne had ordered the party to be carried free of charge, that Kennedy had settled up with Galvin on the return trip, who afterwards paid off his men $2 apiece, probably making considerable on the transaction himself. Evidently there was plenty of liquor and plenty of money floating around. Who is responsible for all this?" asked the chancellor. "First, Kennedy, but Sutherland had appointed him, and he must therefore be considered as an agent of the respondent."

The chancellor also commented strongly on the fact that at the Liberal meeting on Saturday night warning had been given the Liberals of the projected trip, but no notice was taken of it by the candidate, nor his workers. The only charge was that the number of pluggers was reduced, only 20 being taken instead of 100.

Had Candidate Smith been desirous of having an honest election he could have stopped the expedition, especially as his attention was called to it, but he didn't raise his hand to prevent it, and, said the chancellor, he "could not be allowed to share the benefits of the transportation without also running the risk of suffering the penalty involved. We shall give out our findings as to the particular acts of wrong-doing proven after we have had a further opportunity to confer about them," concluded the chancellor.

The chancellor considerably refrained from mentioning that Attorney-General Gibson was also warned of the contemplated expedition, but he seemed to regard it as an election roorbach.

There is no doubt that the whole Grit machine knew of the rascality proceeding. It adds another to the long list of crimes committed by the machine in its efforts to help the discredited and corrupt Ross government in power. According to the evidence of the Conservative scrutineers every one of the 23 votes cast at Helen Mine was illegally polled. The pluggers were sworn, but they had no hesitation in taking the oath on the lake Bible.

There are still 150 more charges to be investigated, but it is doubtful if the judges will get through as they have to leave on Saturday night. There is no doubt that the election will be voided—sufficient evidence to do that has been presented already—but it is to be hoped that the Conservatives will press the investigation and prove as many charges as possible. Let the people of this province see how Premier Ross wins elections when he makes up his mind to F-i-g-h-t!

NOT A CREDIT TO THE PARTY.

Brantford Expositor, Grit.
 The disclosures thus far made in connection with the Soo election trial, more particularly as to the doings on the Minnie M., are not of a very creditable character to the Liberal party.

GRIT MACHINE RASCALITY.

Brantford Courier.
 Is there any rascality of which the Ontario machine is incapable? Those pluggers on the Minnie M. had enough booze with them to see moving pictures en route.

THEY HAD A PULL.

St. Catharines Star.
 For two whole years the Ontario Attorney-General pleaded his inability to stop the prize fighting at Port Erie. But a stern detective stopped a mere amateur bout recently, and the boxing game was dealt a knock-out blow. Mr. Gibson's reluctance apparently proceeded from the fact that "good party men" were financially interested in the Port Erie gambling and fighting plant.

GAMEY GAINS, STRATTON LOSES.

Galt Reporter.
 After the legislative whitewash of the Hon. James R. Stratton came the bye-elections, out of which the Ross Government emerged a bedraggled, struggling oligarchy. In those elections Mr. Gamey participated, telling his plain story in such a way as to capture the imaginations of his audience and establish himself as a political force to be reckoned with. Mr. Stratton, on the contrary, returned from Muskoka to Toronto a much weaker man than the day he left Queen's park, to seek at the hands of electors an endorsement of his conduct.

Since then Mr. Gamey has addressed, by invitation, dozens of public meetings in Ontario. He has scored every time off his own bat, the people recognizing in the man from Manitoulin a player of the scoring kind who is good at both attack and defence. Meanwhile the provincial secretary has grown weaker in the country. Scarcely an honest Liberal can be found to defend his intrigues. Yet Ross sticks to him like a brother in the vain endeavor to ward off the inevitable. He would rather sacrifice his party than dismantle Mr. Stratton. Why the Premier assumes this attitude can be imagined. The provincial secretary knows too much to get his walking papers and while he remains at the head of a department Gamey is certain to gain ground among the electors.

 There must be a stop put to appeals from the Drainage Referee. The case of Bradley vs. Township of Raleigh, where Bradley received $200 damages and costs justly, now the Council of Raleigh takes an appeal in this case as they say to keep others from bringing on similar actions. That was their plea in vs. Williams and Raleigh. What did they make out of it? Only added $60,000 more costs. Pay the man his judgment. The majority of the men in the scheme are willing if Massey and others say so. If the Council would put a sane man as assessor there would be no trouble.

George Foxton and hired man met with a bad mishap last evening on entering the village. The crowd was playing ball on the street and frightened his horse. CHATHAM CENTRE.

One of the most successful and most largely attended gatherings held here for some time was the harvest home festival given last evening in Chalmers' Church. In the early part of the evening a baseball match was played between the local team and Darrell, the former winning by one run. The supper was served in the new shed, and each table was well loaded with fine samples of Chatham Centre's young ladies' best cooking as well as with fruits and chicken. The program was given in the church, which was crowded to its utmost capacity. Dr. Russell, of Chatham, acted as chairman and kept the audience in good spirits with his humorous stories and jokes. The music, supplied by St. Andrew's choir, of Chatham, was first-class. Solos were given by Miss Hill, Miss Somerville and Will Brackin, and were a treat to a country audience. Addresses were given by Rev. Mr. McKelvie, of Kent Bridge; Rev. Mr. Bucksborough, of Louisville; Rev. Dr. Monroe, of Ridgeway, and the pastor, Rev. Mr. McNeilly. These addresses, as well as being instructive, had their humorous side, and were much enjoyed by the audience.

Miss Nellie Forsyth, elocutionist, of Darrell, also gave two recitations, which were much appreciated. Proceeds of last evening, besides collection at Sunday services, were $57. It was found that after all had eaten to their fill a large amount of eatables were left over, so the ladies decided to give another social Tuesday evening, with a program of local talent.

A HOPELESS CASE.

"Has George ever hinted that he has thought of you as a possible wife?" asked the anxious mother.
 "No," replied the fair girl, with a faraway look in her eyes, "and I'm afraid he never will."
 "Why," said the mother, "I thought

"Never mind what you thought, mamma, dear," interrupted the daughter. "Only last night he complained of feeling weary, and it was not yet 9 o'clock."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

ROAD IMPROVEMENT.

GOOD HIGHWAYS AND METHODS OF BUILDING THEM.

Construction of Brick Track Roads Recommended—Their Cost and Durability—Employment of Convicts in Highway Building.

The present general movement for better roads and the prospect of national aid in road building have greatly stimulated the study of the best methods of road building.

While to the general public the idea of building permanent roads is to use broken stone, after the system first employed by John Macadam about the year 1785, other methods should be carefully studied in order to build the best and most durable roads at the lowest cost.

It seems a remarkable fact, in view of the great improvements in everything connected with modern life, that we are still building our roads the same way they were built over 100 years ago, says the Waynesboro (Pa.) Herald. This resulted from the universal introduction of the railroad, which caused the improvement of our common roads to be sadly neglected as well as advancement in the art of building them.

A great obstacle in the way of building durable roads of crushed stone is found in the lack of suitable stone in most localities where good road stone is found. In New York state, for instance, where road building has been very active in recent years, stone has been shipped over 300 miles in some instances in order to obtain stone of good quality.

The lack of good road material has caused careful study of various methods of road building by experts, with the result that for general use a modification of the old stone wheel track or tramway roads, which have been in constant use for over a hundred years without material wear or cost, has been highly recommended. The old tramway roads could only be built at reasonable cost in a few localities having suitable stone, but by substituting paving brick for the stone slabs this superior form of road can be cheaply built in every locality.

In fact, even in the favored localities where good road stone is abundant the use of these brick wheel tracks considerably decreases the first cost of roads, while they practically do away with all repair expenses as well as the dust and mud and at the same time enable three to four times the load to be hauled with the same team force.

This improved method of road building has been adopted in a number of localities and the cost has been found to be from $1,200 to $2,500 a mile, according to the relative cost of materials, labor, etc., while the average cost of crushed stone roads has been about $9,000 a mile in New York, where the greatest amount of road building has recently been done.

A section of this brick track road in the United States department of agriculture grounds during the last four seasons shows no material wear and has been uniformly free from dust, mud and ruts during that time, while an adjacent section of crushed stone road has been nearly ruined during the same time, partly by the washing of water.

For hilly roads these brick wheel tracks are especially adapted, as by depressing the tracks below the adjacent road surface the water is successfully carried down the hills on and without the use of the objectionable water breaks, besides enabling three times the grade to be used without disadvantage.

Government road officials recommend that long term convicts be employed in penitentiaries in making the brick, cement, etc., for these roads, and short term convicts be used in making the roads, to the moral and physical betterment of the convicts, and claim that in this way the building of these superior and most durable of roads should cost but $800 to $1,200 a mile in many localities. This makes an interesting comparison with the cost of $9,000 a mile in New York state for crushed stone roads, some of which have been nearly ruined by two or three years of use, while wheel tracks similar to the brick tracks, built of stone, near Albany, N. Y., in 1833, at a cost of $1,500 a mile, show very little wear in more than seventy years of constant and heavy traffic.

If convicts were thus employed in such penitentiaries as Sing Sing, New York, for instance, where the best of brick clays could be delivered at very low cost by boat, and from which the brick, etc., could be cheaply shipped by boat to nearly every point along the proposed New York and Chicago road, that road could probably be built for less than one-fifth of the cost of building it of crushed stone, have three times the smoothness and more than ten times the durability of a crushed stone road and at the same time be nearly dustless and mudless.

Brick made at Sing Sing could also be cheaply delivered at all points in New York state and also be shipped to all points along Lake Erie by boat, thus enabling the greater part of the proposed New York and Chicago road to be built by this superior system and at a cost so low as to be insignificant when compared with its substantial and lasting benefits.

When We Have Good Roads, As an illustration of what may be expected when we have good roads this incident is interesting. A farmer near Hartford, Mich., having baled hay to deliver, loaded four wagons with two tons each, made the wagons up into a train, hitched on the farm engine and drew the entire load to town at one time.

ATLANTIC STORM SWEEP.

New York, Sept. 16.—A number of lives were lost, much property damaged and several ships wrecked in the storm which swept up the Atlantic Coast Wednesday night and yesterday.

It was one of the fiercest September storms on record—thunder and lightning adding terrors to a howling gale which swept drenching sheets of rain over sea and land. Last night's telegraphic reports say the storm has swept out into the ocean and from the Canadian coast.

The greatest loss of life was near Wilmington, Del. The tug Israel W. Durham, with a crew of six men and four other men employees of the American Dredging Company, was swamped in the Delaware River early yesterday during the height of the storm. Eight of the ten persons on the little craft were drowned. From further down the coast—Jacksonville—comes the report that five men were drowned off Charlestown. New York suffered comparatively little, although the wind and rain and thunder and lightning were terrific. Nineteen coal barges went adrift in the bay, and last night their wreckage was strewn from the shore from the Battery to the Narrows. No lives were lost.

Commercial Traveller Talk of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Gives Valuable Advice to Those Who Use the Railroad Train Frequently.

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 19.—(Special).—Mr. J. H. Ireland, one of the oldest and best known commercial travellers on the road, has come out with a statement for the benefit of his fellow travellers.

"It is with pleasure," says Mr. Ireland, "that I endorse Dodd's Kidney Pills. While on a trip through the Maritime Provinces Dodd's Kidney Pills completely cured me of a severe pain in my back that had bothered me for some time. The first dose seemed to go right to the spot and removed the trouble so effectively that it has not and is not likely to return."

"Dodd's Kidney Pills are just as advertised," Mr. Ireland concludes. "They cure to stay cured."

Travellers, railroad men and others who ride on the railway a great deal are subject to Kidney Troubles. They will find Mr. Ireland's statement valuable reading.

The oven of an Imperial Oxford Range and the old-fashioned spit before an open fireplace do better roasting than any other cooking apparatus invented.

In the olden days the spit had to be kept turning to get all sides of a roast cooked. It is much the same with the ordinary cook-stove. The heat of the oven is greatest on the fire side—roasts, bread, pies, cakes, etc., have to be turned and twisted to get them cooked at all. The result is uneven, unsatisfactory cooking—good food ruined. The diffusive flue construction of the draws fresh air into the flue chamber, super-heats it and diffuses it evenly over the oven, thus heating it quickly, thoroughly and uniformly—back, front and sides are at the same equal temperature. The result is juicy, tender roasts, light, dainty pastry, evenly raised bread—successful cooking.

When you buy an Imperial Oxford Range you get the result of over sixty years' thought and experience in scientific construction of cooking apparatus.

Warren Agar, of London, is spending a few days in this city. Mr. Agar is thinking of returning to Chatham to reside.

Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson, Miss Lizzie Cameron, Miss M. Eva Palmer, and John L. McPhail, of Tilbury, were guests in the city on Saturday.

Richard Maloney, hotel keeper, Bothwell, Ont., was dismissed on the charge of selling liquor during prohibited hours. The charge was dismissed.

The choir of the First Presbyterian church will begin rehearsals next week—date to be announced later—for "The Sermon on the Mount," an oratorio by T. Shepherd. The rendition will require about 50 minutes to one hour's duration. The choir will be augmented to 50 selected voices, and there will be a second part to the program. The music is exceptionally pretty and timely, and is of a brighter and lighter nature than "Stabat Mater," which was so successfully rendered by this choir last Easter. The choir will probably produce "The Stabat Mater," by Rossini, next Easter.

DIVISION COURT CLERK

Henry Dagneau is circulating a petition to-day to have the First Division Court Clerk's office in Harrison Hall. He is getting a good number of signatures and it is met with favor wherever it is presented.

There are many reasons advocated in the petition why the Division Court Clerk's office should be in Harrison Hall. In the present office there is no vault or safe, or other fire and burglar proof place for keeping documents, and judgments to the amount of several thousand dollars held by merchants, manufacturers and persons in the vicinity of Chatham are recorded in the Clerk's office. Bills, notes and other valuable documents are also on file in this office and the destruction of this office by fire would mean thousands of dollars loss to merchants, manufacturers and others who have judgments recorded in this office. Then, too, all of the other civic officers have offices in Harrison Hall, and it is generally thought that this office should also be located in Harrison Hall.

The petition will be presented to-night at the City Council meeting.

FALL MILLINERY OPENING...

WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 21 and 22

And following days of the week. A cordial invitation is extended to all. We will be pleased to have you with us on the above days when our whole stock will be on exhibition for your inspection. We purpose making the largest display in our history in Trimmed and Ready to Wear Millinery.

Dame fashion has provided this year an unusually rich variety of styles and wealth of colorings for the deft milliner's fingers to convert into becoming head-dress, and, as we aim in this store to share exclusive styles, never duplicating a hat for another customer, an early inspection and selection is advantageous. But whether you wish to buy or not you will be welcome.

Ladies' Jackets

First showing in the new styles will be here for you to see. We have been extremely fortunate in our Jacket buying this season as many novelties have been produced in the last 30 days, and all our American styles have been made specially for us during this month. We want every jacket buyer this season to see the special value we are showing at $10.00.

Children's Jackets

One of the hardest things to procure is nice looking, nice fitting and good wearing Children's Jackets. We believe a certain German manufacturer excels all others in these respects, and we have an extensive collection of styles here.

Special showing during the opening in Dress Goods and Silks, Kid and Fabric Gloves, Ladies' Lingerie, Fancy Waistings, Fancy Linens, French Flannels, Carpets and House Furnishings.

Your welcome to look anywhere and everywhere all over the store.

ANNOUNCING

THE ARRIVAL OF OUR NEW SUITS, OVERCOATS, HATS and FURNISHINGS

You are invited call and look Where do you buy your CLOTHES

This is a very important matter, and still many men appear to think it of consequence. They buy just anywhere they happen to see something that strikes their fancy. But there's a difference in stores as well as in clothes. Some stores go in for "cheapness" others for quality. Which do you prefer? "You pay your money and take your choice. If it is smartness of style, perfection of fit, thorough reliability, at a fair price, this is the store for you.

A Hat for Every Head

Fall Hat Soliloquy—How much better it is to get (of us) a $3 hat for $2 than it is to get a $2 hat for $3.

Come here for your Fall Hat, and see the new styles and we'll show you what's what.

Our $2 Derbys and Fedoras are sold everywhere at $2.50 to $3.00.

Our Great $2 Hat Value beats 'em all out.

PARENTS GRATEFUL

"The Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto, is a grand institution," remarked Frank Hallinan, Taylor avenue. "I had a little instance of the work they are doing. Joshua Broton, a neighbor of mine, had a little son deformed from birth. The lad's feet were so badly twisted that he couldn't walk on them. Mr. Broton couldn't afford to send his boy to a hospital for four months to have the little fellow's feet fixed, and there was every chance that he would grow up a cripple. The Children's Aid Society was appealed to and through the intervention of D. S. Paterson and Dr. R. V. Bray, Leonard Broton was got into the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto. After being nearly three months in the hospital the little fellow returned home last week entirely cured and his feet are as natural as any one's now. He can walk splendidly. There is no doubt that the little fellow owes the fact that he is not a cripple to the Sick Children's Hospital and to the interest Messrs. D. S. Paterson and Dr. R. V. Bray took in him. Mr. and Mrs. Broton are deeply grateful to the two gentlemen and also to the hospital for the rescuing of their boy from the life of a cripple and the evidence of how much they feel the kindness done would more than repay all who have had a share in the case should they but see the gratitude of the parents."

"I happened to be passing McKeough school the other day," remarked Archie Park, "and I went in to see the school. This was my first visit and I certainly found a fine school, well managed, but the plumbing is the cheapest and worst I ever saw. There is something wrong somewhere when such a state of affairs could exist in such a fine school. The School Board ought to look into this and attend to the plumbing arrangements at once. If they don't, they are very liable to jeopardize the health of every pupil and teacher in the school."

WILL TAKE ACTION

Residents of King street west are up in arms—and righteously so—concerning the havoc wrought on boulevards and lawns by a drove of cattle which were driven through Friday. It is announced that an information for damage to property will be laid. The matter should also commend itself to the authorities. Some restrictions should certainly be placed on this oft-recurring nuisance.

BRING AN EXHIBIT TO THE FAIR

Bring it because it will interest your children in the products of the farm and thus will do more than a large amount of preaching to prevent this twentieth century rush to the city.
Bring it because it will give you and your children greater pride in your country and community. It will be a factor in opposition to the attraction of the west which is drawing the best young men from our agricultural communities.
Bring it because you take a pride in your work.
Bring it because competition helps to raise the standard of agriculture and manufacture in this community.
Bring it because this will give you a more accurate idea of what is the real value of your goods when compared with others.
Bring it because it will enrich your pockets if you have the goods.
Bring it because it will serve to keep your products before the purchasing public.
Bring it because this is your home and you take a homely interest in your home affair.
Fair dates, Sept. 27, 28, 29.

THE BIG GAME

Every arrangement is being made for the big lacrosse excursion to Galt on Wednesday when the Tecumsehs, of Chatham, cross sticks for the Intermediate championship, with Orillia. There is a record-breaking crowd going from Orillia and the Chatham management want just as big a crowd from Chatham and they should get it. The special train will leave Chatham at seven o'clock on the morning of Wednesday and the fare for the round trip is $1.75, tickets good returning in any of the regular trains. Some of the Tecumseh players are out of town but they are all keeping in shape. Frances is in Elora, practicing every day; McBride, Dowling and MacFarlane are all in Brantford practicing with the Brantford seniors and Haydon, Pickering, Stewart, Grace, Elliott, Quessel and the others are in Chatham and all of them training for the big game. It will be a great game and no one who admires fast lacrosse should miss it. Those who intend to go should sign the lists at Stone's store, the Rankin House or the Garner House, so that Treasurer John McCoig will know how many passengers to arrange for on the special. This will be the last chance of the season to see a good fast clean and hard-fought lacrosse battle.

THE MAN AND THE WORD.
How Famous Men Have Enriched the English Vocabulary in Various Ways—How the Two Are Connected.

The Westminster Gazette calls attention to an undoubted fact when it says that W. S. Gilbert "is one of the small and select band of individuals whose names have enriched the national vocabulary." There is no other word in the language which expresses quite the same meaning as "Gilbertian." Some of these people, however, was "select" in rather an invidious sense.

Burke, for example, was an exceptionally odious criminal, who was executed at Edinburgh in 1829 for smothering many people so as to sell their corpses for dissection. The word was taken up very quickly. On the day of the execution it appears in The Times: "As soon as the executioner proceeded to his duty, the cries of Burke him, Burke him, give him no rope," were vociferated." In the "Last Essays" Charles Lamb writes: "Positively burking you under pretence of cleansing," which seems to me the most pointed use of the word after its first fierce utterance.

Guillotine was the name of a French doctor at whose suggestion this "national razor" was first used in 1839. "Caveman," said a writer in The Graphic twenty years ago, "is so malarious that transporters thither used to be styled the dry guillotine."

Dr Guillotine is rather a shadowy figure to us, but Dr. Thomas Bowdler seems to be constantly in our midst. Bowdler, oddly enough, was the medical enemy of France, the most anti-Bowdler country in the world, and warned his patients against it. His nephew summed up the life-work of Bowdler as having so "purified" Shakespeare and Gibbon that neither of these authors could "raise a blush on the cheek of modest innocence nor plant a pang in the heart of the devout Christian."

"We may fairly inquire," wrote Huxley in the Nineteenth Century in 1886, "whether editorial bowdlerising has not prevailed over historic truth."

Sometimes, however, the name is that of the victim rather than of the offender. Capt. Boycott enriched the English language by being the first Irish landlord to be boycotted. In 1881 The Spectator had this comment on the English climate: "Dame Nature arose. . . She boycotted London from Kew to Mile End."

Like Thomas Bowdler in this one respect, James Granger gave a word to the language by publishing a book. This volume, which appeared in 1769, was a "Biographical History of England," and it contained blank leaves for the text. It became a regular hobby to fill up Grangers, and other books were dealt with in the same fashion. A writer in The Pall Mall Gazette gave a critical force to the word in the sentence: "He . . . proceeded to 'grangerize' or illustrate it by the insertion of his mass of materials."

Granger was in holy orders, and it was of him that Dr. Johnson said with more than his usual bluntness: "The dog is a Whig. I do not like much to see a Whig in any dress, but I hate to see a Whig in a parson's gown." Granger seems to have been a good Whig and a good churchman for all that, and died from the effects of an apoplectic fit which seized him while in the act of administering the sacrament.

The word "hansom" hardly suggests a human being, but there was once a Mr. Hansom, an architect by profession, who patented in 1834 a vehicle from which the present hansom has been evolved. Hansom got rid of his rights to a company for £10,000, but not one farthing of this money was ever paid to him. The company got into difficulties, and Hansom took up the management in 1839, for which service he received £300, the only money he ever made out of his famous patent. Disraeli pays a graceful tribute to this species of a cab in "Lothair": "He hailed a cruising hansom. 'Tis the gondola of London," said Lothair.

The northern pronunciation of Lord Brougham's name became in London Brum, and eventually lent its prestige to a particular type of carriage. In 1856 Patmore wrote: Briggs, Factotum, Footman, Butler, Groom, Preserved the rabbits, drove the Brougham.

McAdam—This great inventor of the style of road named after him, was born at Ayr in 1756, and was descended from the clan of the McGregors who were outlawed under James II. of Scotland. The grandson of the chief, Gregor McGregor, settled in the lowlands and changed his name to McAdam. His father died in 1770. After that he lived with an uncle, who was a merchant in New York. He stopped in the United States until the end of the Revolutionary War, and made a fortune as "agent for the sale of prizes." Then he returned to Scotland and purchased an estate. He began at his own expense a long series of experiments in the face of much prejudice. At last, in 1822, a committee of the House of Commons met to consider his petition and adopted his views. Between 1798-1814 he had traveled over 30,000 miles of roads in Great Britain in pursuit of his investigations. Thomas Hood, the poet, paid him a memorable tribute in his well-known "Ode to McAdam."

Luigi Galvani, born in Bologna in 1737, was a distinguished physiologist, though he did not discover galvanism. This valuable find was made by his wife, the daughter of a medical professor. Having observed that the inanimate body of a skinned frog with a scalpel lying on the table produced in the frog a series of remarkable muscular contractions, the knife being in contact with an electric machine, she in her husband of the fact, and started a series of experiments now to every schoolboy.

Quality is the watchword all over the Mooney bakery. From the time the flour and butter and cream are bought until the crisp delicious crackers come from the ovens, there's never a minute when quality is forgotten.

We started out to make Mooney's Perfection Cream Sodas better than any other cracker. Every day we've raised the standard. To-day "Mooney's" means the best—when it comes to crackers.

MEN'S DISEASES

There is seldom a day that we are not consulted in regard to a condition that, if we were to have seen it in its early stages, the sufferer would have been relieved, cured and saved considerable expense. This we consider is due to lack of knowledge on the part of the doctor who has previously treated the case; therefore, we say to you, if you are suffering from any disease or condition peculiar to men, or if you have been a victim and some one else has been disappointed in not getting a permanent cure elsewhere, we would ask that you come to our office for personal examination or write us for a Question Blank for Home Treatment. We will explain to you OUR SYSTEM OF TREATMENT, which we have originated and developed after our whole life's experience in the treatment of special diseases of men. We will give you, FREE OF CHARGE, an honest and scientific opinion of your case. If we find you are incurable we will honestly tell you so. If we find your case curable we will give you a written guarantee to cure you or refund you your money.

—YOU CAN PAY WHEN CURED—

DANGER OF LIVING WITH CONSUMPTIVES.
Is real danger, because the sputum of affected persons diffuses itself through the air and finds lodgment in the systems of others. If exposed to consumption use fragrant, healing Catarrhazone, the most efficient germicide known. No case of catarrh can withstand Catarrhazone, which cures this loathsome disease thoroughly. Cold in the head is cured in a few minutes, and bronchitis, asthma and lung trouble are cured to stay cured if Catarrhazone is employed. "I don't know any remedy so good for catarrh and bronchitis as Catarrhazone," writes N. T. Eaton, of Knowlton. "It cured me after years of suffering and saved me from consumption. Two months' treatment $1; trial size 25c."

Picture Books for Foreigners.
Picture books for the benefit of travelers are kept in the Paris police stations. It frequently occurs that foreigners lose things which they are unable to describe, because of unfamiliarity with the French language. The picture books contain representations of various articles, and the inquirer has only to turn the leaves and point out the illustration which most resembles the property he has lost.

THE SMALL-POX QUESTION.
Any intelligent physician will admit that you don't catch small-pox because someone else has it, but because your condition favors it. Low vitality always encourages sickness, and at this season especially, everyone should take Ferrozone, which destroys disease germs and makes the system so strong and healthy that sickness can't exist. Ferrozone is a vitalizing tonic that makes rich, red blood, builds up the nerves, cures nervousness and drives away tired, languid feelings. To get strong and keep strong use Ferrozone; it assures health and costs but 50c. at all drug-gists.

Fish Diet Bad for the Voice.
Fine voices, it is said, are seldom found in a country where fish or meat diet prevails. Those Italians who eat the most fish (those of Naples and Genoa) have few fine singers among them. The sweet voices are found in the Irish women of the country, and not of the towns. Norway is not a country of singers, because they eat too much fish, but Sweden is a country of grain and song. The carnivorous birds croak; grain eating birds sing.

IS YOUR DOCTOR BILL LARGE?
Best way to keep it small is not to call the doctor, but use Nerviline instead. For minor ailments like colds, coughs, chills, cramps, headache and stomach trouble Nerviline is just as good as any doctor. It breaks up a cold in one night, cures soreness in the chest, and for neuralgia, toothache and rheumatism you can't get anything half so good as Nerviline. The fame of Nerviline for cramps, colic, and pain in the stomach extends far and wide. Good for everything a liniment can be good for and costs but 25c. for a large bottle.

DRY FEEDING SYSTEM.

Increasing in Favor Among Breeders of Poultry.
The dry feeding system is meeting with increasing favor. Breeders who have tried one season of it claim that the egg production is increased and they have more uniform growth with the young stock, says Wallace's Farmer. The feed boxes are kept filled with a variety of grains, the grit box is full, and also a box of charcoal. From these the fowls take their choice, balancing their own rations as they do in the summer time on free range.
It has not been very long since the farmer was censured for letting his poultry have the range of the feed yards, where was always a supply of corn, and of the barn, with its wheat and oat bin. It was a source of wonder to the town breeder that under such conditions the farmer's flock laid an egg, yet they continued to pay the grocer. Where there is a variety of grains it is not very different from the dry feed system if chickens are supplied with pure water, housed warmly in dry quarters and really have access to the feed bins. If they are supplied with grit and charcoal they will doubtless lay as well as the fancier's fowls on dry feed and free range.

The Useful Orpington.
The Orpington, the youngest aspirant for fame in the poultry world in England, is a composite breed that has been brought by careful crossing of several varieties of fowls with the object of producing a breed that would combine first class laying and table qualities, writes T. B. Hutton in Western Poultry Journal.

The type is deep, short, broad and cobby in body and short on leg; tall rather short and compact; the back should be a nice U shaped curve; carriage bold and upright.
The Buff Orpingtons of the correct type are equal to the Dorking in amount and quality of flesh and in some respects are superior. They lay on flesh and mature very easily and attain a greater weight.
My own experience after several years' trying has been that the Buffs have proved themselves to be the most useful breed I have met with. They begin to lay in the early winter months and provide a constant supply of eggs throughout the winter.

Curing the Gapes.
I keep wheat soaking in a small bottle of turpentine. If a chick wheezes, snuffles and rattles as though it had a cold, this is the forerunner of gapes, says an Illinois breeder in American Agriculturist. When gapes are unusually violent and fatal a chick may begin gaping without showing these signs. In such cases the chick is nearly always a goner. Carbolic acid will help him if anything will.
Pour a little refined carbolic acid in a spoon, hold it over a lamp, and dense white fumes will soon arise. Hold the chick's head in these, drawing him away for a second or two to let him catch his breath. Don't let him get his bill in the acid. If you look at the acid in the spoon before you pour it back in the bottle you can often see the tiny red worms that the fumes made the chick cough up. Five cents' worth of acid will doctor dozens of chicks. If the chick is only coughing, two or three grains of the wheat or a tiny piece of asafetida may cure him. If he is still wheezing the next day repeat the dose. I never failed to kill a chick that I gave both carbolic acid and turpentine in one day.

Chickens and Bacteria.
Some German experiments are reported in which chicks were hatched out and fed in such a way and under such conditions as to exclude all bacteria, says American Poultry Journal. The chicks ate well and regularly and apparently digested their food normally. Nevertheless they did not gain in weight and died after about twenty days. Upon examination the droppings were found free from bacteria. Other chicks fed normally gained about three times their original weight during the same period. Part of the chicks used in the test were inoculated with intestinal bacteria from normal chicks, after which they soon became strong and gained in weight.

In the Squab Loft.
It cannot too often be said that unwanted pigeons in a loft can do more harm to the workers than can be estimated in a few words, says the Featherer. Never allow unwanted or non-working pigeons to stay in the squab loft with the active producers. If you intend keeping any of the young squabs you grow for breeders remove them into a separate loft as soon as they are weaned and able to care for themselves.

When to Build a Henhouse.
Poultry houses should never be built so late in the season that time will not permit them to be thoroughly dried before the winter season sets in.

A PAIN ACROSS THE STOMACH

Can Always be Relieved by a Few Doses of DODD'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS.
"I could not take the simplest food without a pain across my stomach." That was the miserable condition Marie Ann Bujold, of Maria Cap, Bonaventure County, Que., was in. Thousands of Canadians could sympathize with her. For they know just how miserable she was. They are that way themselves. But listen to the sea of Miss Bujold's experience:
"I finally consulted the doctors, but they did me no good. Then an advertisement led me to try DODD'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS. One box completely cured me."
No one can appreciate the amount of condensed happiness contained in a box of DODD'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS till they have suffered as Marie Ann Bujold did, and found the relief that came to her. That relief can always be found in DODD'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS.

BERNIER SAILS AWAY

Gallant Captain Given Command of the Arctic.

Major Moodie Receives His Commission As Commander-in-Chief of the Expedition to Hudson Bay—Inspector Pelletier Head of the Mounted Police—Minister Prefontaine and Many Friends See Expedition Start For North.

Quebec, Que., Sept. 19.—There were thousands of spectators on the King's Wharf and on the Dufferin Terrace when the steamer Arctic left at 12.30 o'clock Saturday afternoon for her three-year cruise in the waters of Hudson Bay and Mackenzie River.

The Minister of Marine and Fisheries, Hon. R. Prefontaine, went on board at 12.15 p.m., after having thoroughly inspected the steamer in the morning, and addressed the crowd from the bridge of the vessel. He was surrounded by many prominent citizens. Hon. Mr. Prefontaine bade God-speed to the officers and crew, saying that they had a very important duty to fulfill, a very important mission to execute for the Government, the organization of a vast extent of Canadian territory in the northern part of the country. He expressed the hope that, in three years, they would come back, enjoying good health, after having been true to themselves and their country. He said that next year a relief steamer would be sent to them. Turning towards Major Moodie, he gave him his commission as commander-in-chief of the expedition.

To Capt. Bernier, he said that he had the full command of the vessel and its crew, and that he was responsible for the ship. He (Captain Bernier) would in three years from now, perhaps, be in a position to realize the dream of his life—a trip towards the North Pole for its discovery. The Government thought that, for the moment, there was something more important to accomplish, that is, the organization of the vast territories of the far north.

Hon. Mr. Prefontaine then gave to Inspector Pelletier his commission as head officer of the detachment of Mounted Police on board.

The steamer Arctic then left slowly, accompanied by the Druid, with the officers on board, Mrs. Howbert, wife of Major Moodie, accompanied her husband on the Arctic.

PRINCE BISMARCK DEAD.

Son of Builder of the German Empire Phases Away Fatally.

Friedrichsruhe, Sept. 19.—Prince Herbert Bismarck died yesterday morning at 10.15. The end was painless. Since he ceased to be Foreign Minister, on the retirement of his father in 1900, Prince Bismarck has taken part in public affairs only as a member of the Reichstag. His attitude had been that of a man not appreciated by his sovereign, and who was waiting in the background for an opportunity to resume his career.

His delivery as a Parliamentary speaker improved year by year. He always declined to join any political group, steadfastly calling himself an independent.

Prince Bismarck's father trained him for his successor as chancellor of the German Empire, and advanced him rapidly in the diplomatic service until, at the age of 40 years, he was Minister of Foreign Affairs, in which position he took part in several very important international transactions.

The title of Prince Bismarck and the large fortune of the deceased will go to his 7-year-old son, Otto. The estate is now estimated to be worth $4,000,000, exclusive of the lands.

BUFFALO CHARGES FAIL

Election Trial of North Grey Petition Has Been Postponed.

Judges Hold That the Evidence Was Too Contradictory—Minister Davis Only Witness on Saturday—Said He Had No Knowledge of a Central Organization in Connection With the Liberal Party—Significant Neglect.

Owen Sound, Sept. 19.—Only one witness gave evidence in the North Grey election trial Saturday morning. Hon. E. J. Davis, Commissioner of Crown Lands, said that he had arrived in the early morning following. During his brief stay he had merely made arrangements for speakers at public meetings. He had seen Mr. Marshall, the organizer, but had not seen Mr. Mackay. The witness had no knowledge of a central Liberal organization, and did not know who had employed Mr. Marshall. Messrs. Smith and Vance had assisted in the work of organization. Mr. Smith's office was in Toronto, and he did not know who maintained the office.

"Did you really think it necessary to come away up here Mr. Davis with your three leading organizers here to make arrangements for public speakers?" asked Mr. Blackstock in a tone of incredulity.

"Under the circumstances I thought it was very important," replied the Minister of Crown Lands.

Mr. Blackstock addressed the court in unusually vigorous style. The procuring of the men to go into a constituency was illegal, and the actions of Mulloy in the riding was corrupt. Four persons could contradict the evidence of Nelson, Sullivan, Vance, McCarty and Massey. They had not been called by the respondent. This was significant, and a circumstance that pointed to the truth of the story. The stories of Roy McCarthy and C. C. Pearce, the man of many Government jobs, were "extraneous and ridiculous," that a stranger should meekly submit to being bundled out of town by two men who had never seen until that very day. The story was preposterous. Dr. Hough's denial was unimportant, as he was an innominate party.

Mr. Aylesworth made capital out of that part of the witness story which told of his morning run to Owen Sound from Stratford, and his return the same day. Agent Dench had proved by the books of the railroad that this was impossible at that time by the regular passenger service. Nelson's second appearance in the box had served only to weaken his story and to demonstrate that it was a manufactured yarn from start to finish. He also dwelt upon the unreliability of men who would lend themselves to such a purpose.

Dismissed the Charge.

Their lordships said that in view of the evidence of men of undoubted standing and character who denied the story of these men absolutely, they had no other course open to them than to dismiss the charge.

This adjournment does not mean an end of the trial. It will resume undoubtedly if the statement of counsel for the petitioner may be accepted, and the promise developments of the most startling kind.

The postponement of the North Grey election trial Saturday Oct. 31 was inevitable on account of the multiplicity of the judges' engagements.

JUDGES REPORT TEN.

C. N. Smith Called on By the Court to Pay All Costs.

Sault Ste. Marie, Sept. 19.—In the Soo election trial, the judges Saturday morning reported the following persons for corrupt and illegal practices: William Coyne, assistant to the president of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company; Sack Kennedy, alias Ferguson; Pat. J. Galvin; David Hopkins, a C.P.R. conductor; J. D. Lamonte; Napoleon Audette; Charles Griswold; William H. Godwin, mayor of Steelton; W. C. Kilpatrick, mayor and postmaster of Copper Cliff; John F. Bonathan, who admitted he had received a bribe.

They also report that, in their belief, corrupt practices extensively prevailed throughout the entire constituency; they direct C. N. Smith to pay all the costs of the petition.

The court, referring to J. Kennedy, general superintendent of the A. C. R., who wrote to Hopkins, said he was a weak agent in Coyne's hands.

Passenger Train Wrecked.

SACHEL OF THE SATELLITE

I hope Mr. Stephens won't attempt to board those 5,000 river dredgers all in one place.

To the Lacrosse Team—A little winning now and then is appreciated by Chatham men.

By what right and on whose authority is campaign literature franked from Ottawa?

Be sure you hear the orator of them all, Mr. R. L. Borden, K. C. M. P., leader of the Canadian Opposition.

Armour & Mack's Comedians, billed for the Grand to-night, did not come in on an "Armour" express.

I don't care who opens the Fair so long as Babcock's Tecumseh wins from Orillia at Galt on Wednesday.

Metinks I could write a capital article on "The Canadian Mail, its Use and Abuse." Of course, it would be an entirely political story.

There must have been over a ton of Grit campaign literature brought into Chatham through the mails, and the Chatham pays for this.

I see my old friend, J. D. Lamont provided transportation for voters at the Soo election. The only surprising thing about it to me is that he bought the tickets.

O, I guess it's pretty near time that another High Court Judge was puzzling his learned head about the Sapient Bon Mots of the Satchel column.

You know I feel lonesome when I haven't a judge or some other celebrity endeavoring to conjecture just what I did mean to say. It's generally mean enough at that.

Being a little ignorant, I'd just like some good-natured Grit to tell me how it is that Mr. D. A. Gordon, who isn't even a member, can send campaign literature without postage from Ottawa.

If the General Honorable Sid Fisher wants a can opener with which to open the Fair, I could lend him mine. If he wants a corkscrew, most any St. Thomas visitor could furnish him with one. If he wants a pair of Jacks, I think that Jack Edmondson and Jack McCoig would probably do.

When George Stephens, M. P., has arranged for board for those 5,000 who'll dredge the river next year—perhaps, he will then be ready to arrange for Sunday church accommodation and provide Sunday school collection.

The great mistake of Romeo and Juliet reminds us that we are all liable to make a mistake once in a while. Do you know, even if the Satellite could make a mistake there are people waiting around to point out the error.

HOW TO SNARE A MAN.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—Mrs. Linda Ross Wade has given away the secret. The oracle of the National Dressmakers' convention has told "how to snare a man." Here is her recipe:

"Be stunning," then she told them how to be stunning, if not beautiful. Here are some of the things she told them:

"Wear simple gowns, but be sure they are becoming. Show your charms. Let modesty dictate where to stop. Wear low cut dresses if shoulders and skin are good. Pad if you are a human hatriack; don't show the hooks. Be natural. In desperate cases try red. Don't pull your skirt tight unless—Be attractive in the morning. Don't let men callers catch you in 'dowdy' attire."

To these things Mrs. Wade added:

"Study man. Never wear high heels except in the ballroom or on the stage. Don't be mannish. Play to man's hobbies. Don't always smile, be cross and fight occasionally."

Clear Skin

You have doubtless heard a great deal about Ayer's Sarsaparilla—how it makes the blood pure and rich, tones up the nervous system, clears the skin, reddens the cheeks. Ask your doctor.
