For those, however, who are content these stirring events there will be plenty of interest in the film, for the scenes are carefully put together. Made by British International Films and distributed by New Era Films (in conjunction we are told, with the War Office), it was decided that the best method of treatment that could be adopted in the making of a film like this would be to follow the outstanding episodes of the history of Ypres during the war. According to this plan the episodes chosen were six-the opening of the First Battle of Ypres, the capture of Hill 60, the Second Battle of Ypres, the era of trench warfare. the assault on Messines Ridge, and the

Conditions in Honan Are Serious

DRASTIC METHODS ARE BEING EMPLOYED TO KEEP THE POP-ULATION UNDER CONTROL.

PEKING, Oct. 29 .- Serious conditions in Honan Province where poorly fed and ill-disciplined troops, estimated to number 300,000, are said to be urging their leaders to action, are reported by foreigners arriving here from the Province

They report that the troops have not been paid for a long time and that most of them are still in summer clothing, since winter uniforms are not available. Furthermore the people are suffering from requisitions by the military, heavy taxation, looting by the soldiers and depredations by bandits. Drastic methods are being employed to keep the population under control, it is reported, and the heads of several persons recently decapitated are being exhibited in the railway stations at Kaifeng, the provincial capital, and Chong Chow, a railway junction on the Pekin-Hankow

Yueh Wu Chun, Governor of the Province, who is an ally of General Feng Yu-Hsiang, the "Christian General," is said to desire peace, but he may be forced to take part in the civil war and attack the neighboring provinces in order to get rid of his superfluous troops. Some of his subordinate Generals are known to desire to cast the lot of the province in with the alliance of Marshal Wu Pei-Fu, while others are opposed to the alliance.

Therefore, the foreigners report, it is possible that there will be a coun d'etat at Kaifeng against Governor Yuch, followed by fighting with the province as preliminary to operations against Honan's neighbors.

"Printing Isn't Expensive If You Pay Enough For It"

The task which business stationery has to perform is to convey a message. That is its primary purpose. But it has another. It should convey an atmosphere—a personality—which identifies the business it represents, and it should convey that atmosphere or personality so convincingly, so pleasingly, so substantially, that it makes the same kind of favourable impression that a good salesman or a fine office does.

Business stationery which fails in this particular is too expensive to use, because it is not doing the whole job. That's why printing isn't expensive if you pay enough for it.

We have lately installed an embossing machine which produces beautiful glossy or dull relief work on plain type printing that defies actual die or plate embossing in appearance.

A trial order will convince you of its excellence.

Avalon Telephone Rates

Editor Evening Telegram Dear Sir .- May I once more impose upon you for space for a final letter with regard to the proposed increase in rates of the Avalon Telephone Co. Ltd. I say final because I have in conjunction with several telephone ubscribers gone into the legal aspect of the matter with a senior member of the Bar and we propose to take other steps if it should become neces

The object of this letter is: firstly, a thank you for publishing the contract between the Avalon Telephone Co., Ltd., and the Government; secondly, to draw the attention of the bublic, the Avalon Telephone Co., Ltd., and the Government, to the position that the Avalon Telephone Co. has issued a circular informing subscribers of their intention to increase the rates for telephones after January 1st. next, without any authority and in defiance of the conditions of their charter; thirdly, to propose to the Avalon Telephone Co., Ltd., that their only excuse for their circular was that they were mistaken as to their rights and that having learnt, as they must have learnt now, of such mistake, they should publicly withdraw the circular which they have issued; and fourthly, to draw the attention of the Executive Government to the proosed application of the Avalon Telephone Co., Ltd., for permission to increase the rates in the near future

An application to increase the rates may, under the charter, be made to the Government and I would like to be permitted to draw the attention of the Government to the embarrassment that would ensue from such an aplication, unless an independent Utiliies Board be created to deal with it. The application would, of course, come from the Avalon Telephone Co., Ltd. It would, I assume, be accompanied by a statement prepared by the Company purporting to justify the increase. The Government would be out into the position of having to sider this matter more or less from he standpoint of what our lawyer calls an "ex parte" application; that is, a one-sided application, an application on which only one side is heard, and that the Avalon Telephone Co., Ltd. The consideration of the Government to the matter would not be public and no matter what conthey would probably lay themselves open to criticism from some quarter or another. All this would be avoided, by the creation of an independent Public Utilities Board with the necessary powers. If such Board existed the application of the Telephone Co., for permission to increase its rates, would come before this Board. The Company could be heard in support of the application giving upon oath facts and figures justifying their request and the Board ought to have authority to enquire and investigate the situation thoroughly and their finding ought to be final.

If the conditions are such that the request to increase the rates is a reasonable one, then by all means permit the rates to be increased, but if on the other hand the present rates are high enough, and it would be upon the applicant, the Avalon Telephone Co., Ltd., to make out their case, then such permission should be refused. The sittings of the Public Utilities Board could be open to the public and their decision would do justice to all parties concerned and would relieve the Government from an obvious dif-

In the meantime Telephone subscribers generally may be interested o learn that I and those associated with me have been advised that there is no authority for the increase in rates outlined in the circular issued by the Avalon Telephone Co., Ltd., and we have been advised to ignore said circular and to pay our telephone hills at the old rate and gratefully decline the generous discount proposed by the Telephone Co., to be given all those who pay promptly. Yours very truly,

While holding all of the intense dramatic appeal of the stage play, the screen version of "Cheaper to Marry." which is now playing at the Nickel Theatre, is far more colorful than Samuel Shipman's original story.

with St. Bon's defending the western goal. In the kick-off play opened up fast with dangerous escapes on the opposing goals. During play in the Feildian territory, one of the B. F. C. players drew a foul which gained for St. Bon's a free kick. The ball was nicely placed by Murphy, but only partly stopped by the goalkeeper, glancing off his hand into the corner of the net, thus drawing first blood for St. Bon's. The Feildians then put more vim into their play and saw the forwards working the ball west, where a good attempt was made to score the equalizer. Play was then of a give and take nature for the next five minutes. Much up and down play followed, a feature of which was the splendid combination play of both forward lines. The St. Bon's then staged another determined attack, and in melee which occurred in front of B.F.C. goal, Graham availed of an opening and scored No. 2. Before the shouts of their supporters had died away, a third goal was scored through the efforts of Kelly. The Feildians then awoke to the occasion, and with eam, when play was centred for the most part around St. Bon's goal. After several unsuccessful attempts had been made to score, a scrimmage result that Eales found the net for his team. The St. Bon's then staged the Feildian goalfe with a very pretty shot.
