Poetry.

TO-MORROW.
BY PHILIP BOURKE MARSTON.
I said, "Tomorrow" one bleak, winter day,
"Tomorrow" I will live my life away,
And still "Tomorrow" while the winter
springs, and yet I dabbled by the way,
And I hear still the winter days their "Tomorrow" I said, while summer days
were through,
"Tomorrow" while chill autumn round
me flew,
And so my soul remained the sweet sin's
prey.
So pass the years, and still, perpetually,
I cry, "Tomorrow" will I live each day;
Tomorrow, surely, shall my soul stand free,
Safe from the firm vultures that beguile,
But with a smile and then a smacking
smile,
And whisper, "Yes! Tomorrow, verily!"
If I know the box where the smiles were kept,
No matter how large the key,
Or strong the bolt, I would try to break,
I would open, I know for me,
Then over the land and the sea, broadcast,
I'd scatter the smiles to play,
That the children's faces might hold them
fast.
For many and many a day.
If I knew the box that was large enough
To hold all the frowns I meet,
I would like to gather every one,
From nursery, school and street,
Then, folding, and holding, I'd pack them
And, turning the monster key,
I'd lie in wait to drop the box,
To the depths of the deep, deep sea.
—Maud Wynnan.

Where Women Have Suffrage.

IN A GREAT MANY COUNTRIES THEY HAVE A SAY AT THE POLLS.
The countries of the world where women already have some suffrage have areas of over 18,000,000 square miles, and their population is over 330,000,000. Political Progress enumerates the following:
In Great Britain women vote for elective
officers except members of parliament.
In France the women teachers elect women members on all boards of education.
In Sweden women vote for all elective officers except representatives; also, indirectly, for members of the house of lords.
In Norway they have school suffrage.
In Ireland the women vote for the harbor
boards, poor law guardians, and in Belfast
for municipal officers.
In Russia women householders vote for all elective officers and on all local matters.
In Finland they vote for all elective officers.
In Austria-Hungary they vote, by proxy,
for all elective officers.
In Croatia and Dalmatia they have the privilege of doing so in local elections in part.
In Italy widows vote for members of parliament.
In the Madras Presidency and the Bombay Presidency (Hindustan) the women are permitted to elect members of the legislature in the districts of Mysore and the Isle of Man (between England and Ireland) and Picara Island, in the South Pacific, have
full women suffrage.
In the Dominion of Canada women have municipal suffrage in every province and also in the Northwest Territories. In Ontario they vote for all elective officers except
in the election of members of the legislature
and parliament. In New Brunswick, the Isle
of Man (between England and Ireland) and Picara Island, in the South Pacific, have
full women suffrage.
In the Dominion of Canada women have
municipal suffrage in every province and
also in the Northwest Territories. In Ontario they vote for all elective officers except
in the election of members of the legislature
and parliament. In New Brunswick, the Isle
of Man (between England and Ireland) and Picara Island, in the South Pacific, have
full women suffrage.
In the United States twenty-eight states
and territories have given women some form of suffrage.
Suffrage in various degrees is granted to women in Arizona, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota,
Nebraska, New Hampshire, Oregon, South
Dakota, Texas, Vermont, and Wisconsin.
In Arkansas and Missouri women vote,
by petition, on liquor license in many cases.
In Delaware suffrage is exercised by women in several municipalities.
In Kansas they have equal suffrage with men in all municipal elections.
About fifty thousand women voted in 1890.
In Montana they vote on all local taxation.
In New York they vote, and do vote at school elections. The question of elec-tional suffrage is still undecided.
They vote also in many places in this elec-tional improvements, such as gas and electric street lighting, paving, sewerage and municipal bonds.
In Utah women voted until disfranchised
by the "Edmunds law," when they promptly organized to demand its repeal.
In Pennsylvania a law was passed in 1889
under which women vote on local improvements by signing or refusing to sign petitions therefor.
Wyoming women have voted on the same terms with men since 1870. The convention in 1890 to form a state constitution unanimously inserted a provision securing them full suffrage. This constitution was ratified by the voters at a special election by about three-fourths majority. Congress refused to require the disfranchisement of women and admitted the state July 10, 1890.
In the senate of the United States, Feb.
7, 1890, a select committee reported in favor of amending the federal constitution so as to forbid states to make a course of disfranchisement. Congress adjourned, however, on March 4 following, without reaching the subject.
Three Pints Daily:
"A reason," says a physician, "why I often prescribe one of the mineral waters
for my patients, and have them take it daily in considerable quantities is simply to give them sufficient water. It is an error committed by many otherwise sensible and intelligent persons that drinking much water interferes with digestion. One of these persons said to me lately: "I rarely drink a swallow of water; a cup of coffee with my breakfast, a cup of tea or chocolate with my lunch, and an after-dinner cup of coffee again with my dinner. That is practically all the liquid I take." (This with an air of conscious recital.) To begin with, tea, coffee, or beer, wine, and the like, are not substitutes for water, which is one of the most important of all substances acquired for the nourishment of the body. Don't drain a half pint glass of ice-water just as you sit down to eat; that is palpably injurious, but do have a big glass of water that has been boiled and cooled, brought to you on waking,
and by the time the bath and toilet have been accomplished and breakfast is to be taken the water will not be as interfering agent. At about three pints of water a day should be regularly taken, as fully this is needed by the system."
A Successful Life.
Success cannot be measured by fame, wealth or station, writes Edward W. Bok in an article on what constitutes a successful
life for man and woman in the October Ladies' Home Journal. The life of the humblest woman in the land, if well lived, is as successful as that of the woman who has the greater opportunities, is enabled to make the results of her work reach farther.
Some of us must live for the few, as others must live for the many. But both live for the success. Each of us in this world influences some other being, and it is the quality of our influence, and not the number of those who are influenced, which makes our lives successful in the eyes of God. We may be careful that we go to our graves unknown and unused, but not one of us goes out of this world without leaving an impression, either for the good or the bad. And the kind of impression we make while we live, and how when we die, is the difference between success and unsuccessful living.
"Twenty-five cents worth of Hawker's care cure may save you many dollars. It cures cold in the head instantly."

The Weekly Monitor.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 9, 1895.

—During the past week public attention all over the Dominion has been centered upon the case of the Imperial Government in Halifax.

As we predicted in a previous issue the magnificent scale upon which this was carried out made this funeral easily eclipse all other occasions of the kind experienced in the history of the Dominion. It is rumored that the entire service will cost the country something over $50,000, in addition to that expended by the Imperial Government in sending the body home, which would certainly amount to a good many thousands more. Doubtless there are many who will believe that it would have been better to have saved this money, or expended it upon the living, in the way of some provision for the widow and family of the late premier; but the interest taken in his tragic death by Mr. Mackay and the great honor shown to his remains by the Imperial Government seemed to leave no course open to the authorities on this side but to complete the melancholy function upon the same magnificent scale to which it had been begun; and in doing this many of the former opponents of the late leader joined as heartily as any of his political friends in carrying the program to completion. This is particularly the case with the local premier, Hon. W. S. Fielding. In cancelling all his political engagements immediately on receipt of the news of Sir John Thompson's death, in placing the Legislative Council Chamber at the disposal of the committee, and in assisting in arranging and carrying out the details of the solemn occasion, Mr. Fielding has shown in no respect behind any of the late premier's warmest political friends in manifesting his sympathy and performing kindly acts.

This, indeed, is one of the peculiar features of our system of party government. Our newspapers and politicians criticize, misrepresent and abuse their political opponents while living, and then turn around and partially canonize them when dead. For some reason it is not till after one of our leading statesmen dies that the general public can form much of an estimate of his true worth. How much better indeed would it be if some of the kind words which are spoken of them when they are gone, were occasionally said while living! How it would help to lessen the burdens and lighten the great load of cares and responsibilities which our men in public places have continually to bear!

Since Confederation Canada has had four premiers, and it is worthy of note that all of them have died since the last Dominion election. One of them, Hon. Alexander McKenzie, was buried at Sarnia, in Western Ontario; another, Sir John Macdonald, in the city of Kingston; a third, Sir John A. Macdonald, in the city of Montreal; while the fourth was laid to rest in his native city of Halifax. In the years to come these will be interesting spots to the early history of our young Dominion.

—A late steamer from Halifax to Newfoundland took down $150,000 in gold and silver, and another shipment of $100,000 on its way there from England. These shipments of specie should be kept in circulation to some extent the terrible distress said to prevail there. Since the late financial crash Newfoundland has virtually been a country without money. But that event every dollar of cash in the island, save what little gold and silver were in circulation, became little or no value. The case was unique in the annals of commercial history, and the destitution and distress caused by this condition of things has been much greater among the people of the island than that of any other case with which we were to find some day that every bank note in circulation in the province had suddenly lost its value. With their food supply has to be imported, and without money or credit the problem of procuring even the necessities of life became at once a serious one. Matters are even yet in a wretched condition, and it is a long time, if ever, before the last is felt of the recent crisis.

—It is not alone by its lynching bars and other such harness and trappings that society in the southern states shows its peculiarities. They are no less queer than in their politics down there. For instance, after the late congressional election, when the late Governor of Georgia, it was found that 18,500 votes had been polled in a district containing a male population over the age of twenty-one years of only 11,000. That is to say, if every male person in the district, of voting age, had exercised the privilege of the franchise, there would still be 4,500 votes short of the number found in the ballot boxes of the district when the ballots came to be counted. The surplus vote cannot be accounted for on the ground of the woman vote, for they do not have female suffrage in Georgia. In addition to this, the day's proceedings in that district were enlivened with seven murders, two persons "badly beaten up," one "shot through the forehead," another "shot in the hip," and a number of others given convulsions of the day's interesting proceedings. Evidently the civilization of the south has yet in many places much room for improvement.

—The many friends of the Wolfville institutions among our readers will doubtless be pleased to learn that the difficulties through which Acadia Seminary has of late been passing have all been met and so adjusted as to place that institution in a position to retain the confidence and patronage of its friends and the general public. Considerable new blood has been infused into the teaching staff, in securing which the governing body appear to have used every effort to obtain the very best talent available. The Seminary has a record which compares favorably with that of the college. In times past it has done a grand work for the higher education of women in these provinces, and anything which would have a tendency to impair its usefulness would be a loss to the educational interests of the maritime provinces. Its many friends will therefore be pleased to learn that the recent reorganization of the staff places the institution in as thoroughly an efficient condition as ever it was at any time in its history.

—A new compulsory school law went into operation in New York on Tuesday, the beginning of the new year. This law compels young Americans to attend school when not otherwise lawfully employed. Violations of the law by parents or guardians of children are to be treated as misdemeanors, punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, and any person, firm or corporation employing children contrary to the provisions of the law is liable to similar penalties. "Attendance officers" are appointed to see that the law is properly enforced and "truant schools" are established for dealing with the more intractable children. Education has long been compulsory in Massachusetts, and for a great many years now in Great Britain the same rule has been the law of the land. It has been the same in Germany for a very long time and in other European countries, and it is now so in Japan. In some of the provinces in Canada, however, the law is in existence, but not rigidly enforced. Canada would therefore appear to be behind other progressive countries in this respect. Can she afford to be so handicapped in this respect?

Local and Other Matter.

On Monday evening a number of Odd-fellows, Western Star Lodge, Annapolis, accompanied D.D.G.M. King to Bridgetown and assisted him with the ceremony of installing the officers of Crescent Lodge.

—The Masonic fraternity of Annapolis have decided to hold a Masonic fair in that town on the 1st of July. —Suitable presents for Xmas and New Year's will be found at Miss Lockett's. Call and see them. —The D. A. Railway are having a new station built at Annapolis. A. Clarke, of Berwick, is the contractor. —It is said that Lady Thompson will take her residence in Toronto in order to be with her sons, who are studying law there. —William C. Shaw, a highly respected resident of Chelmsford, passed to his rest on Sunday, 26th ult., from pulmonary troubles. —The finally revised Dominion voters' lists of four constituencies, including that of Annapolis county, were received at Ottawa last week. —A few Ladies Cloth Mantles and Jackets, extra quality, still on hand, at J. W. Beckwith & Son's, which will be sold at less than cost to clear.

—Mr. Joseph B. Barrill, of Yarmouth, well known to many of our readers, received a painful and serious wound in the forehead last week by the accidental discharge of his gun. —St. John's Church, which was attacked with cholera and this prevented from sailing to Canada on the Blanchin with the body of the late Sir John Thompson, is in a state of health. —SERVICE at ISLEWORTH.—Our venerable and respected resident clergyman, Rev. John Cameron, will preach in the church at Isleworth on Sunday next, 13th inst., at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. —It is understood a syndicate of New York and Boston capitalists, who are interested in the development of Nova Scotia tourist business, have offered to rent the Yarmouth Grand Hotel for $4,000 per annum. —POSTPONEMENT.—Owing to the severity of the weather, the concert which was to be held at Hampton on the 9th inst., will be held on Monday evening, 14th. —Just received at the Bridgetown Book and Shoe Store, 5 cases of Men's Woollen Coat and Trousers, also full line Ladies', Misses', Boys' and Children's Rubber Boots.

—ANNUAL MEETING.—The annual meeting of the Valley Telephone Company, limited, will be held at the Oddfellows' Hall, Middleton, on Thursday, February 14th, 1895, at half-past three o'clock, p. m. —Fire last Saturday night destroyed the stock of several commission merchants on North Market street, St. John, who deal in country produce and fruit. Among the sufferers are Thomas Puts, F. Law, and the Messrs. White. —WELSH.—At the Halifax preachers meeting on Monday, 31st ult., the Rev. G. F. Dawson, of the New Brunswick Conference, Leader Daniel of Granville Ferry circuit, and J. H. Toole received a cordial welcome and delighted the meeting with their friendly words. —A fine new house belonging to the Torbrook firm Co. at Torbrook and occupied by Mr. Poole, was totally destroyed by fire on Saturday. Fire was discovered in the kitchen by the night shift men of the mill. Mr. Poole's family were nearly smothered by smoke before they were rescued. The cause of the fire is not known.

—It is well known that for some time past the youngest president in the United States has been B. J. Whitman, of the University, who hails from Torbrook, Annapolis county. His father, the Rev. J. H. Whitman, president in the person of Austin Delois, a Wolfville boy, recently the president of the Baptist Seminary, St. John's. —Miss Crowther succeeds Miss Graves as principal of Acadia Seminary. Miss Jackson will be teacher of English literature, Miss Chipman will fill Miss Harding's place as teacher of painting and drawing, and Miss O'Keefe, a London Road academy medallist, will be teacher of music. It is probable that after June a Baptist clergyman will be appointed to succeed Mr. Toole. —SABBATH-SCHOOL CONCERT.—A concert will be given on Sunday evening next, 13th inst., in the Baptist church, by the members of the Sabbath-school. As the different classes have been under careful training for several weeks past and the singing is of an interesting and pleasing nature, the occasion promises to be one of the best ever given by the scholars. —The Herald of Dec. 31st published its annual list of the shipping owned in Yarmouth county. There are 14 steamers, 20 ships, 10 barques, 5 barkentines, 8 brig and 62 schooners sailing from that port. A total of 120 vessels which measure 51,600 tons. The list shows a decrease of four vessels and 5,170 tons within the year. The number of vessels having been sold, sold or condemned, and ten added by building or purchase. —Large quantities of apples have been forwarded from the Valley to the English market during the past fortnight via Hall's steamer Merano, carrying 11,000 barrels, the Irish City with some 15,000 barrels, sailed last week, while another 10,000 barrels is to go forward this week. A gentleman well acquainted with the export trade for states that some 25,000 tubs, yet remain for shipment.

—The Bridgetown Boot and Shoe Store has recently been outwardly adorned with a new and attractive sign, featuring an advertisement for the store's goods and services. —The appearance of a patron and taste to its exterior, while the interior of the premises is recognized by all patrons as one of the finest foot wear establishments to be found in the province. The general manager, Mr. W. H. Cochrane, although but a resident of a few months, is enjoying the confidence and respect of the public, and is perfectly satisfied with the outlook for his future success. —Mr. Geo. Mason, underground harbor of one of the gold mines at County Harbor, on Christmas day, was employed upon a piece of woodwork and using a large knife backhanded. The knife caught upon a knot in the wood, and he was thrown into the air, falling into the sea. He was rescued by a passing vessel, but he died of his wounds three hours after the accident. Failure of the heart is the cause assigned. Mr. Mason was a young man and held a very high esteem. He leaves a wife and five young children. —Mr. John Fisher, of the firm of Shaw & Fisher, ash and door manufacturers, of this town, met with an accident while working on a circular saw which he had been operating. He was thrown into the air and fell, catching, resulting in the above loss. Dr. DeLois, who dressed the wound, which required the best medical attention besides the application of the "bone" before it was during the painful operation. Mr. Fisher is now being nursed by a relative in one of our Halifax papers.

—The pilot chart of the North Atlantic for January has the following forecast for the month: Stormy weather north of the parallel and along the American coast north of Hatteras. Strong westerly and north-westerly gales along the trans-Atlantic steaming routes. The effect of these gales is frequently felt as far south as latitude 25 degrees N. Occasional gales in the vicinity of the Azores. Northern may be expected in the Gulf of Mexico. Fog at intervals on the Grand Banks, but not in extended areas. Ice may appear near Cape Race toward the latter part of the month. —It now looks as if the Rosebery government in England would be defeated when parliament re-assembles after the holidays. This has been made apparent from the utterances of several of the ablest Scotch Liberal members recently in Edinburgh. The declaration made by the Scotch representatives referred to is that "home rule is dead." The Irish party have been warmly and enthusiastically for Premier Rosebery to contradict, but this the Premier has not done up to date, although he has had opportunity for so doing. The McCarthys' evidence by name against Lord Rosebery, if he is anything like his Scotch followers, they have taken steps to find out. Lord Rosebery cannot govern without the support of the Scotch Liberals, who are in quite as good a position to assert themselves as the Irish are, and even the defeat of a few of them would paralyze the Rosebery government, which has only got a slim majority. The present condition of affairs has caused a considerable amount of uneasiness among the supporters of the government because the fabric is going to tumble piece. It looks now as if it was to be the work of a Conservative government, in England to give Ireland home rule. The leader of the party, Justin McCarthy, recently stated that Ireland would not get home rule until the Conservatives granted it.

—The regular annual meeting of the Municipal Council for the county of Annapolis, held at the Court House, Annapolis, on Tuesday morning at ten o'clock. The bad state of the roads prevented more than two or three councillors from being in attendance at the meeting, but during the day they arrived in town and were present at the afternoon session. There has been no change in the officers from those of the past year. A full report of the proceeding will appear in our next issue.

—Pastor Downing Paid a Friendly Visit. New Germany, Dec. 31, 1894. Mr. Downing—Will you kindly allow me to say, through the medium of your paper, that I spent a very pleasant evening in Springdale on Dec. 28th, the occasion being a supper for the purpose of supplementing Mr. Downing's salary, and I take this opportunity of expressing our sincere gratitude to the kind friends who spared no pains in making it a success. The recent storm and bad roads were obstacles in the way; but notwithstanding all hindrances, the proceeds of $20.00, apart from money consideration, it was a very pleasant gathering, having an unimpaired stamp of respectability. Mr. Downing's family were nearly smothered by smoke before they were rescued. The cause of the fire is not known. —It is well known that for some time past the youngest president in the United States has been B. J. Miss Jackson will be teacher of English literature, Miss Chipman will fill Miss Harding's place as teacher of painting and drawing, and Miss O'Keefe, a London Road academy medallist, will be teacher of music. Miscellaneous.

His Trying Experience. An Episcopalian clergyman, now dead, used to relate an experience he once had, which convinced him of the power of prayer.

One day when the time for the annual visitation of the bishop was approaching, and he was preparing a class for confirmation, he was sent for to visit a woman who desired to talk with him on the subject of baptism.

The woman, who was very stout, weighing somewhere in the neighborhood of 300 pounds, informed him that she had long been attracted toward the Episcopal church, but had refrained from uniting with it because she had strong convictions in regard to baptism, and felt that she ought to be immersed.

The minister told her that, although the church believed pouring or sprinkling to be valid baptism, it did not prohibit immersion, though as it was somewhat inconvenient, it was not often used.

Then he tried to convince her that the usual method of the church had been recognized from the time of the apostles as valid, and tried to induce her to conform to it.

But she would not be convinced, and she desired to be baptized, but only by immersion. The minister pointed out the difficulties in the way, saying that he had no font in the church large enough for such a purpose, and that there was no river or beach in the vicinity.

In reply she suggested that he obtain permission to use the Baptist church, which was a large baptistry under the pulpit platform.

This he consented to do, though with much misgiving. The consent of the Baptist brethren was readily obtained, and the next Sunday Episcopal services were held in the Baptist church.

All went well until it came time for the immersion. Then the minister for the first time realized his inexperience in administering that form of baptism.

When he attempted to immerse the woman his foot slipped and both went under the water together.

He hastily scrambled to his feet, but to his consternation and horror, found when he attempted to raise the woman that she could not be moved. There she lay like so many pounds of lead foundering in the water and screaming for dear life.

Finally several men in the congregation went to the assistance of the minister, and their united efforts succeeded in bringing the frightened woman to her feet. The men were wet to the skin, having been obliged to go into the baptistry.

The congregation struggled with pent-up laughter, but finally it burst forth in a roar which could not be suppressed. The services were continued with great difficulty, and the minister drew a long breath of relief when they were ended.

The Bureau of Animal Industry during the last six months has distributed as much of the rate charged for the Koch process. It is exactly the same thing, Koch having published his formula for making it.

It should be remembered that diseased animals are the only breeding places of the germs. After they have been removed attention should be paid first of all to the stables. Here during the long confinement in the winter one may look for the condition requisite for rapid infection.

Whitewash is not in itself sufficient strength to destroy tubercle bacilli, but by impregnating and incrusting them on the walls of the stable they are made harmless until destroyed by prolonged drying.

Agricultural.

Dread Tuberculosis.

STEPS THAT SHOULD BE TAKEN TO STAMP OUT THE DREAD TUBERCLE. Is it possible to stamp out tuberculosis among cattle? The Department of Agriculture is about to issue a bulletin giving some advice on the subject.

There is no doubt that consumption—i.e., tuberculosis of the lungs—is communicated to human beings largely from infected cattle. The same complaint attacks various other parts of the human body, too often derived from the milk of sick cows.

It is any other kind of epidemic destroyed one-tenth as many individuals for a single season, nations would be terror-stricken; but tuberculosis has come to be regarded as one of the filth which flesh is necessarily clothed in being attempted gradually in Denmark. It is not as if the complaint existed among cattle only.

Cows in an advanced stage of tuberculosis are actively engaged in propagating tubercle bacilli and in shedding them. It is recommended that owners of cattle should pay special attention to the condition of udders.

The diagnosis is made very easily by an injection of Koch's lymph, which is now on the market. Though it has not proved itself a cure for tuberculosis, except in early stages of the disease, it is most valuable for its diagnostic value.

The eminent bacteriologist, Noard, recommends that all cattle which show a rise of temperature after the injection shall be quarantined from the rest of the herd. Healthy animals should be placed in disinfected stables, new ones being admitted only after they have successfully passed the lymph test.

Also leave without any delay. There's a top layer, always, of stockings: These arrive and depart every day: All the things that are playing "button-button"

Will it come? Shall I ever possess it? I start with fresh hope every day. Like a will-o'-the-wisp, it allures me; Like a will-o'-the-wisp, it fades away.

How to Care for Mattresses. THEY SHOULD BE COVERED AND FREQUENTLY TURNED.

Cover the springs always with stout unbleached muslin. Some claim that it is almost impossible to keep the springs well dusted when covered, and the only answer to this is to cover the mattress. Then, when it is removed, the springs may be dusted as usual.

Mattresses will sometimes become spotted in places from dust or a stain from moving. Take some clear warm water and add to it a few drops of ammonia, just enough to make the water feel soapy; then with a clean cloth wash the spot, using some good soap.

Oil and Courtesy. "There are many comparatively small faults in children which it is not wise to see at all. They are mere temporary failings, they drop, which will evaporate if quietly left in the sunshine, but which, if opposed, will gather strength for a formidable current."

Paper Platforms for the Poor. With the near approach of winter, when the poor are likely to suffer greatly from cold, many ladies who might be glad to know of various ways in which they could contribute towards alleviating in some way those suffering, perhaps may not be aware of the thoroughly warm and economical blankets that can be made in sewing old newspapers together.

Chinese Quizzes. A writer in the current number of Wide Awake says: "If you argue that China, being upon the opposite side of the globe, must be literally upside down, he is not far from being very much mistaken. Disease begins with a tickle in the nose, and ends with a sneeze."
