As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "I have been striking with myself for several days."
"To be frank about your company—was you?" queried Hiram.
"Wasn't struck on your company—was you?" queried Hiram.
"I was not. Going about and mixing with the crowd I had rather got the impression I was a devil of a fellow—don't you know? But when I had to spend a few days alone with this fellow I began to wonder after a while how the other people stood for him at all."
"Meanin' yourself," commented Hiram.
"I'll do you good," said Hiram.
"Every man orto take himself of somewhere for a few days every once in a while an' check-up on his doin's—to see whether he'd been churnin' cream or skim milk."
"But I have known fellows to be a month in jail and come out as bad as ever," said the reporter.
"That," said Hiram, "was because they let somebody else size 'em up instead of doin' it themselves afore they turned the trick—yes, sir."

THE NEAR EAST CONFERENCE IS NOW UNLIKELY

Turkish Victory Has Changed Situation—Powers Not Decided Yet About Armistice.

London, Sept. 8.—The proposed Near East conference in Venice is unlikely to be held in the near future, in view of the gravity of the situation in Asia Minor, and may never be held in the form originally suggested. It is pointed out that the situation has been so changed by the Turkish victory in Anatolia that it will be necessary to call a full conference of the powers to deal with the settlement. In any case nothing can be done while the hostilities continue. This view is also taken by a section of the Italian press, according to reports received here.

LIQUOR CARGO SUNK

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 8.—There is a prize package in the form of $400 worth of liquor at the bottom of Bateau Channel, and thereby hangs a tale. The cargo was dumped overboard a few days ago by a bootlegger from Oswego, N.Y., who was piloting the cargo from Belleville to his home town on the other side of Lake Ontario. Off Simcoe Island his motor boat sprang a leak, and he found that he could not negotiate the journey to the American shore, the lake being quite rough, so he headed his craft for the nearest shore. Not knowing how the residents of Simcoe Island would receive him, he threw his cargo overboard as he neared the Canadian island. Then he came on to Kingston, had his boat repaired, returned to Belleville, shipped another cargo and cleared to Oswego. The cargo of liquor is in base.

WHO INVENTED BRITISH TANK?

London Paper Takes Up Case for Captain Bentley

Royal Commission Had Given Credit and Award of Fifteen Thousand Pounds to Others — Kitchener Knew the Facts.

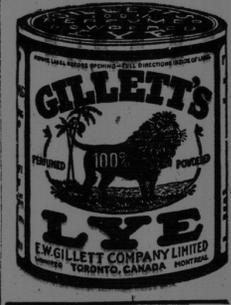

Who invented the tank? Three years ago a British royal commission on awards to inventors sat for several weeks and, after what was supposed to be a thorough investigation, gave the credit and cash to the extent of £15,000 to Sir William Tritton and Major Wilson for having produced the tank in a "concrete practical war shape."

Apparently Kitchener either knew that Bentley was a genius or else he did not suspect that there would be any trick in designing the perfect tank.

Bentley was evidently a genius, for by the first post next morning he had given a rough though complete, specification of a cross-country armored car, together with a covering letter briefly explaining the principle of the caterpillar tread, the consequent possibility of mounting a heavier gun and also a suggestion for camouflage painting.

The front wheels were not to be used for steering. The caterpillar track was to be carried through the car like an escalator.

At the end of the discussion Bentley announced that he would go at once to the Patent Office and register the design, but Kitchener said: "Wait. Are you satisfied to leave this in my hands? I'll look after you."

Of course, Bentley agreed and left. In less than a fortnight he was sent to the Patent Office and registered the design, but Kitchener said: "Wait. Are you satisfied to leave this in my hands? I'll look after you."

In August, 1919, learning that an official history of the war was being prepared, he wrote to the director of historical records, and received this answer: "I have already incorporated a note in the book to the effect that the application of the caterpillar traction to armored cars was put by you to Col. Fitzgerald in the month of October, 1914."

When the royal commission was appointed to make awards for war inventions, Captain Bentley was invited to attend. But he was not called to testify. Then a day was set for hearing his testimony, but this fell on a Sunday, and because the commission did not meet he was not given an opportunity of stating his case.

ROSS WORSHIP.

If the reputation of Mr. R. A. Ross as an engineer is to rest upon his declared views regarding Musquash power, the test is unfortunate. Mr. Ross made his reputation as an electric engineer and not as a hydro-electric engineer. There is a very marked difference. No evidence has been submitted to show that Mr. Ross ever had anything personally to do with a storage proposition such as that at Musquash. Moreover he did not visit Musquash and study the proposition on the spot.

The Times has once before commended to its readers a consideration of the psychology of the Ross report. A mayor who was firmly and honestly convinced that the Musquash power could be best distributed through the agency of the New Brunswick Power Company called in an engineer who was not such an authority on hydro-electric power as could have been secured by consulting Sir Adam Beck or the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission, but who was wholly unsympathetic toward public ownership and operation of public utilities. This mayor and this engineer conferred. Quite naturally, holding the views they did, they conferred also with the New Brunswick Power Company. Would anybody expect a report favoring civic distribution?

Suppose now the mayor of that day had faith in public ownership, and had consulted Sir Adam Beck about an engineer. Does anybody for a moment doubt that by this time we would be well on the way toward power at cost?

So far as the Ross report on Musquash is concerned, it was discredited when the water gathered between the power house and the big storage dams, not using the latter at all, began to turn the wheels and provide the hydro electric current. That report will be more and more discredited as time goes on. Mr. Krebs says the power is there, and Mr. Ross honestly testifies that Mr. Krebs is a competent hydro-electric engineer. Let us not therefore say that Mr. Ross will be left without reputation as an engineer because he made a wrong estimate regarding a hydro-electric proposition with which he was not as familiar as experts in that business. Above all, however, let us not permit the New Brunswick Power Company and its friends to palm off the Ross report as the last word on the subject. The company seeks to befuddle the public mind, to arouse doubt, to cause delay—and so serve its own purposes. Against any such result the people must sternly protest and carry their protest to the ballot box.

GAMES FOR GIRLS.

The increased interest in physical exercise shown by girls in recent years, and, more particularly, their indulgence in the more violent sports have been the inspiration of many discussions in Great Britain. There still are some who regard all sports as unsuitable for girls; there are more who recognize the benefits of exercise but counsel moderation, and there are some who demand equal rights for girls in sport and who defend their participation in even the most strenuous games. In order to secure information on which an authoritative opinion could be based, a committee was formed last year at the instance of the British College of Preceptors to consider the efforts of physical education upon girls. The committee included representatives of the Royal College of Surgeons, the British Medical Association, the Medical Women's Federation, the British Association for Physical Training, the National Union of Women Teachers and similar organizations—a sufficiently representative body to clothe its opinions with some authority. The work of the committee has been completed and a report of its findings has been made public.

As the question involved was one of health, the section of the report which was drawn up by the medical members of the committee, after consideration of the information which they had received from medical practitioners, may be regarded as the most important. Extracts from it are given as follows: "Suitable physical education, including games and sports, is as generally beneficial to girls as to boys. There is, however, need for discrimination; individual girls may be unfit for particular forms of exercise, and on this account medical examination as to fitness is generally desirable. "Among the particular games which the committee had under consideration, viz., tennis, netball, lacrosse, golf, hockey, cricket, and football, only the last is considered unsuitable for girls. Of sports, swimming, rowing, cycling, horse-riding, are all good for girls, provided that they are carried out under suitable conditions and excess is avoided. "Competitive games and sports are equally permissible, provided that they are undertaken with due regard to the fitness of the individual. Any game or sport may become unsuitable if practised in such a way as to such degree as to cause undue strain or fatigue. There is also a balance between mental exertion and physical fatigue, which cannot be altogether ignored. A girl who is working at high pressure for examinations may have to play games less strenuously. On the other hand, fatigue by physical exercise is a bad preparation for mental work. "With regard to gymnastics, whether with or without apparatus, there is no doubt of the value of disciplined exercises under expert direction as promoting the harmonious development of the muscles and preventing faulty position and carriage. The use of apparatus entails special care, as injurious effects may come from the injudicious exercise of this sort. "The opinions expressed by women teachers and women medical students, and which are given in the report, are in agreement with those already quoted to an extent that appears almost surprising. As might be expected, their attitude is a little more cautious, but, generally speaking, they are in agreement concerning the beneficial effects of games and sports as well as the milder forms of exercise. Like the doctors, with only two exceptions, they condemn football as too strenuous a game for girls, and rowing races were disapproved by a majority of the women medical students. The need for moderation was emphasized rather more by the women whose opinions are quoted, but otherwise their views were much the same as those found in the report of the physicians. Girls no longer are regarded as ethereal beings even by the idealists. How such a conception ever secured a foothold in a world in which women always have performed a large share of the heavy, 'heavenly work' is a mystery. Today even the most tenderly nurtured girl is recognized as a creature of flesh and blood, subject to the same physical laws as other beings, entitled to and requiring sufficient exercise to preserve her health if the vigor of the race is to be maintained. Moderation in exercise is as desirable for girls as it is for boys, and a little more so apparently, but most of the girls of the class in whose interests the British inquiry was instituted are rather more likely to suffer from lack of sufficient exercise than from over-indulgence.

At the Rutland, Vermont, fair three aviators were killed when their airplane crashed during an exhibition flight yesterday, and a few hours later another aviator met death when his parachute failed to open after he had dropped from a balloon. None of the spectators for whose benefit such performances are given want to see the performers killed, but how many spectators would there be if the element of danger were eliminated? The taste in entertainment which caused men to be "butchered to make a Roman holiday" has not entirely disappeared.

Wireless apparatus in the not distant future will be installed in practically all hotels and play an important part in entertaining the guests, prophesies the New York Hotel Association Messenger. Improvements in radio communication are coming so fast and exciting such widespread interest that its possibilities as an accessory to hotel equipment may be said to be almost without limit. Numerous hotels in the United States already have instituted radio service for their patrons, and others are preparing to do so. A recent striking indication of the drift is seen in the announcement that a New York company, manufacturing radio apparatus has contracts for 25,000 receiving sets which operate only on deposit of a quarter, the orders coming chiefly from hotels and hospitals. "If a guest in a hotel room, or a patient in a hospital so equipped, desires a little entertainment he has merely to drop in his coin exactly as if he were using a chewing gum or penny arcade machine, and he gets everything that comes over for the next twelve hours, jazz, weather reports, baseball scores and so on," says the Messenger. "The cost of installation under this system will be borne equally by the company and the hotel or institution, and the profits or loss will be divided equally between them. The machines are expected to be in operation within a very short time. "In New York City the recent growth of the radio has been so rapid that it is estimated there are now from 75,000 to 100,000 apartments equipped with receiving sets. Wireless equipment, in fact, come to be considered so indispensable that plans now being made for many new apartment houses provide radio equipment for each apartment. There will be a central receiving station connected with the apartment, and in charge of an experienced radio operator, similar to the switchboard operators in apartment buildings. Radio broadcast concerts and news will be received by the central station and radiated to each apartment, which will be furnished only with a loud speaker, since all the radio instruments will be in the central radio room, where the complete tuning will be done by the expert in charge."

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 8.—Miss Helen Park, aged 23, daughter of Professor and Mrs. Joseph Park, died at the family home in Oswego this week from overstudy. She was a graduate of Oswego High School and Wells College, and was a leader in the younger social circles of Oswego.

FIFTEEN MINUTES OF RADIO EACH DAY

By Edward N. Davis

Formerly Technical Electrical Expert For U. S. Government

Lesson No. 98.

POINTS TO REMEMBER.

Remember that: Telephone receivers should be connected in series, which is the way two receivers constituting a head set are connected. There is a certain amount of energy delivered to the telephones in any receiving set, and if two or more sets of telephones are connected in series the energy is divided between the several sets of receivers dependent upon the resistance of each set, the head set with the highest resistance usually giving the best signals.

Two receiving sets in the same or adjoining building interfere with one another when both are tuned to receive from the same transmitting station. In order to reduce this effect as much as possible the aerial wires and the lead-in should be kept as far as possible from the wires of other systems, running the wires at right angles when possible. Even the scratching caused by the adjustment of crystal detectors may be heard on nearby audion receivers, sometimes being a source of considerable interference.

A photograph attachment for your telephone receivers will not increase the strength of the signal from the telephones, and unless the signals can be heard several feet from the receivers such devices are of little value. An amplifier, connected to the receivers, is usually necessary in order to fill a room with sound from such an arrangement.

A single poor contact or connection is the reason why a receiving set refuses to function many times, it is well to remember that a receiving set is no better than the worst contact or poorest connection in it.

Soft copper and aluminum wire aerials stretch badly when subjected to strain and wind pressure. A properly constructed aerial employing hard drawn copper or regular stranded aerial wire will well repay one for the time spent in putting it up.

A clock maintained with a solution of water and ammonia is very good for wiping off the tops of storage batteries, removing the dirt and acid leaving the battery clean and dry.

In making taps for switch points on tapped coils, instead of twisting a loop of wire together and hearing it only at the end where it connects onto the switch contact, it is better to also bare the two wires of the loop where they leave the tubing and when they are twisted together the loop is shortened. By making the taps in this manner it is not necessary for the incoming energy to traverse both sides of the loop forming each tap before reaching the tap on which the switch arm rests.

The use of a test buzzer in connection with the operation of a crystal receiving set will save much time and exasperation in locating a sensitive spot on the crystal, thereby pre-adjusting the detector to maximum sensitiveness in readiness for signals. The test buzzer permits the entire programme from a broadcasting station to be received without losing time adjusting the detector during the first part.

HOW TO MAKE A SIMPLE FILAMENT RHÉOSTATE.

While the ordinary filament rheostat may be purchased at a moderate price, it is not always satisfactory as the wire frequently comes loose and efficiency in cooling is often sacrificed in order to make the device compact. It is the purpose of this article to show how a simple but satisfactory rheostat may be constructed from the materials usually found around every experimenter's shop.

The materials required are the following: One wooden spool, such as magnet wire is wound on, 3 inches long, 2 1/2 inches in diameter. Forty-two 1/2 inch round head brass nails, (escutcheon nails). One 4 inch piece of brass rod with 8-32 thread 1 inch at one end. Three 8-32 hexagon brass nuts. One piece spring brass 3 inches long, 1/2 inch wide. Two small binding posts. Ten feet of resistance wire having a resistance of about one ohm per foot. The wooden spool is placed upright on one end and twenty of the round head brass nails driven in near the edge in the form of an arc. The nails should be about 8-16 inches from the edge and about 8-32 inches apart. A small drill may be used to start the holes and will keep the wood from splitting. The nails may be so spaced as to cover the entire 300 degrees of a circle or only 180 as desired, but they should not be driven in quite all the way at this stage of the procedure.

Twenty more of the nails are now driven into the edge of the other flange of the spool opposite the first set of nails, but the second set of nails are in the edge and not in the flat surface of the end. This leaves one end clear for mounting the rheostat against a panel. Two binding posts are mounted on the inner surface of the other end so as not to be in the way of the switch arm, in which will be mounted so as to make contact with the heads of the nails driven in the flat surface.

One end of the resistance wire is secured under one of the binding posts and the wire is wound zig zag across the two sets of nails, after which the nails in the flat surface which act as switch points should be driven home.

Simple Filament Rheostat.

The switch arm is made from part of the piece of spring brass and the single bearing located on the switch end of the spool is made from the remainder. The piece used as a bearing should have a hole of the proper size to just clear the shaft and is secured to the spool with two of the brass nails. The switch arm is clamped between two brass hexagon nuts, the third nut serving as a thrust bearing and is screwed tight against the end of the thread.

Only one bearing is provided in this construction, the other bearing being formed by the spring brass on which the rheostat is mounted, or another bearing similar to the one described above may be made for unmounted use.

If the resistance wire used has too great a resistance between taps a second wire may be wound on the same way as the first, thus cutting the total resistance in half.

ODE

On the 318th Anniversary of the Carleton Ferry.

Years ago, midst troubled waters Cycled round with mists and fogs, On Navy Island dwelt Chief Greyfish, In a block-house built of logs.

Chief of all the neighboring Micmacs, In the peaceful country near, First was he to found the ferry, Cross our harbor, damp and drear.

None before him ever crossed it, Deer ran wild on Carleton's heights, Cross the harbor, damp and drear, Thought the hunters o'er their pipes.

Champlain landed then at Reed's Point, Greyfish crossed to big pow-wow, Rum was cheaper in the old days, Than it is at that place now.

Soon he needed extra paddlers, Soon the family carried a nip, Soon there was a regular service, Big Chief Greyfish made each trip.

Travelers on the stately Ludlow, We know not where he is laid, 'Round I think his shade still hovers, 'Round beginnings by him made.

Hail your city's benefactor, Sing his praises in your lays— On his isle the ferry still lands, 'Specially on foggy days.

NEW TARIFF BILL.

Washington, Sept. 8.—The House adjourned yesterday until Monday after Chairman Campbell, of the rules committee, as acting Republican leader, had announced that he expected the conference on the tariff bill to report an agreement on that date. Falling to agree they were expected, he said, to report a disagreement and ask for instructions.

Yesterday afternoon the members of the staff in the office of the district superintendent of Postal Service presented W. R. Allen with a cut glass set, in view of his approaching marriage. Superintendent H. W. Woods made the presentation.

BURIED DEAD IN SHIPS.

Ancient Vikings Had Burial Ships Sunk in Earth.

It was one of the ancient Vikings' customs to bury their prominent dead in a ship which was sunk in the earth and covered with a mound, says Pearson's Monthly.

Within these burial ships were placed the choicest belongings, horses, carriages and quite often a living servant accompanied the master to the grave to minister to his wants in the Halls of Valhalla.

Only through a fortunate circumstance are any relics of this kind in existence, and that is due to the fact that in several cases the ships were buried in pottery's clay, which is particularly good for the preservation of wood. Under ordinary circumstances these burial boats have been totally destroyed by the dampness of the earth, only the rotted rivets giving any clue as to the size of the boats.

To date only three such boats have been found that could be reconstructed; the last one was found quite recently, and it has proved to be the finest of the three. It is known as the Osberg ship, being unearthed in the place of that name, in the Province of Jalsberg and Larvik.

Purified Water Reduces Cholera.

Petrograd, Aug. 7.—(Associated Press by mail)—Cholera has been reduced to an almost negligible number of cases this summer in Petrograd as a result of sanitary measures invoked by the medical forces of the American Relief Administration through purification.

Purification of the water by the introduction of 250 tons of chloroxide of lime was made possible through funds furnished by the American Red Cross to the American Relief Administration.

It is the opinion of the A. R. A. medical men in the field that cholera and other summer diseases in Russia will be reduced to a minimum in districts where it has been possible to carry on a preventive programme.

 Miss Louise Wall and Thomas Fleming of Port Elgin were married on Wednesday afternoon in the Baptist parsonage at Apohaqui by Rev. C. Saunders Young. They will reside in Port Elgin.

Laskey-Spencer.
 Ray Walton Laskey of Moncton and Miss Maud Lillian Spencer were married on Wednesday at the Wesley Memorial parsonage at Moncton, the ceremony being performed by Rev. G. W. F. Glendening. The bride was formerly employed with the N. B. Telephone Company and the groom is an employee of the engineering department of the C. N. R.

Taylor-Gallagher.
 A wedding of much beauty and of unusual interest was solemnized in the Church of the Sacred Heart, Norton, on Thursday morning, Sept. 7, when Rev. M. O'Brien united in marriage William Penwick Taylor, son of the late W. F. Taylor, general storekeeper of the Canadian National Railway, and Miss Mayme Katherine Gallagher, daughter of James W. Gallagher, agent of the Canadian National Railway, Norton. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of a wedding march played by Mrs. W. A. Reynolds. The bride looked charming in a suit of navy blue French tulle with imported hat of black silk velvet and ostrich trimmed, and a Hudson seal scarf, and carried a beautiful bouquet of Onchella roses and an ivory and gold prayer book. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Nan V. Gallagher, wearing a navy blue tulle suit, black velvet and ostrich hat and a seal scarf. The groom was assisted by his friend, G. B. Mullaly.

The groom's present to the bride's attendant was a diamond ring, to the best man gold engraved cuff links and to the organist a pearl pin.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party motored to the home of the bride, where a dainty luncheon was served, after which the bride and groom left for St. John en route to Boston, New York and other American cities, returning via Toronto and Montreal.

The many beautiful gifts received, including a $1,000 bond from the bride's father, from the groom a Hudson seal coat, sterling silver and cut glass water service from the groom's mother, a hand-drawn embroidered buffet scarf from the groom's sister, Miss Kate Taylor, a gold and onyx ornament from the bride's sister, a silver sandwich plate, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Perkins; cut glass wine glasses, Mr. and Mrs. J. McIntyre, and several other lovely gifts, including money and gold, testified to the popularity of the young people.

After their return from their wedding trip the bride and groom will reside in Norton, where the groom is the very popular and efficient manager of the Provincial Bank of Canada.

PRESIDENT'S DAUGHTER HAS TO BUY TICKETS

(Toronto Globe.)
 "Till bet I could get in for nothing if I was related to one of the directors" is the thought of many whose attempted impersonations of someone prominent in the management of the exhibition here fail to impress the custodians at the gates. But they are wrong. Even members of the immediate family of the president himself look like ordinary folk to Tom Jones, J. P., "mayor of Wychwood," who turns the deaf ear and practices the stony heart at the eastern entrance.

Yesterday morning this doctory guardian was informed from the main office that his salary had been increased in recognition of "bravery under fire." On the previous afternoon Miss Alma Fleming, daughter of President Fleming of the exhibition, approached the eastern entrance with three friends and a pass good for only two persons. Her suggestion that friends of the president's daughter could walk in failed to move Tom Jones. Before Miss Fleming and her friends in she had to part with two quarters for the two not covered by the pass.

On hearing of this occurrence from his daughter, President Fleming gave orders for the gatekeeper's salary to be increased.

ORPHANAGE MEETING.

The garden party held recently in the grounds of the Iron going Orphanage in West St. John realized approximately $700, according to the reports submitted at the meeting of the board of directors of the New Brunswick Protestant Orphanage held yesterday afternoon in the Britain street institution. Dr. James Manning, vice-president, was in the chair in the absence of D. C. Clark. Reports showed that there were 138 children being cared for in the three homes and that conditions were entirely satisfactory.

POETRY OF THE LATE MARJORIE PICKTHALL

(From Toronto Globe.)
 In a magazine published recently I noticed a short editorial about the late Marjorie Pickthall. The first time that I heard the name of Miss Pickthall was when I read the notice of her death in the newspaper.

Being a lover of verse, I was very anxious to learn what kind of poetry she had written. Upon going to the Public Library the other day the first book that claimed my attention was one entitled: "The Lamp of Poor Souls, and Other Poems," which I discovered, upon further investigation, to be one of the works of Marjorie Pickthall, the gifted young poetess.

I found a veritable treasure-trove of poems between the covers which has delighted me far more than any treasure-trove of gold could have done. Since finding I have read, re-read, and memorized some of the choicest gems from the collection.

Let me quote a few lines from "The Lamp of Poor Souls":

"Shine, little lamp, nor let thy light grow dim:
 Into what vast, dread dreams, what lonely lands,
 Into what griefs hath death delivered him,
 Far from my hands?"

Then again:—

"Shine, little lamp, for love hath fed thy gleam,
 Shine, little lamp, by God's own hands set free,
 Cling to His arms and sleep, and, sleeping, dream,
 Ah, dreaming, look for me."

Note the sense of peace and resignation in the last few lines. Then note the spirit in the last verse of "Songs":

"I shall not go with sighs,
 But as full-crowned the warrior leaves the fight,

Gouraud's Oriental Cream

Down on his shield and death upon his eyes,
 O, life so bitter-sweet and heaven so far!
 Give me one look, one look and so good-night, My Star."

In her poem, "Birds at Evening," one can see all the birds flying home to their nests at bed time, and feel the sense of rest which pervades all:

"When the rooks fly homeward, and the gulls are following high,
 And the grey feet of the silence with a silver dream are shod,
 I mind me of the little wings abroad in every sky
 Who seek their sleep of God!"

Then the last verse—

"When the brier closes and the iris-flower is furled,
 And over the edge of the evening the night knows her nest,
 I mind me of the little hearts abroad in all the world,
 Who find in Him their rest."

The beauty and longing in the verses of "Wanderland" has haunted me all day.

WANDERLEID.
 O, west of all the westward roads that woo ye to their winding,
 O, south of all the southward ways that call ye to the sea,
 There's a little, lovely garden that would pay ye for the finding,
 With a fairy ring within it and an old thorn tree.

O, would I had a swallow's wings, for then I'd fly and find it;
 O, would I had a swallow's heart, for then I'd love to roam!
 With an orchard on the hillside and an old, old man to mind it,
 O, there I'd lift my lodge at last and make my home."

Worthy of special mention for its beautiful language is:

DREAM RIVER.
 Wind-silvered willows hedge the stream,
 And all within is hushed and cool,
 The water in an endless dream
 Goes gliding down from pool to pool.

Also—

THE POOL.
 Here in the night all wonders are
 Lapped in the lift of "the ripple's" swing—
 A silver shell and a shaken star,
 And a white moth's wing.
 Here the young moon when the mist uncloses,
 Swims like the bud of a golden rose.

As it is usual to save the best till the last I must quote:

SERENADE.
 Dark is the iris meadow,
 Dark is the ivory tower,
 And lightly the young moth's shadow
 Sleeps on the passion flower.

Gone are our day's red roams,
 So lovely and lost and few,
 But the first star uncloses
 A silver bud in the blue.

Night, and a flame in the embers
 Where the seal of the years was set—
 When the almond bough remembers,
 How shall my heart forget?

DANGERS OF DEFORESTATION.
 When by reckless tree-cutting the forest cover is removed from hills and mountains, nothing is left to hold the rain—no layer of living roots, mosses or other vegetable growths mixed with decaying leaves, to act as a sponge and retain the moisture. Thereafter, in consequence, the rainfall runs off in torrents and the streams to which it should afford a regulated supply throughout the year are flooded in winter and dried up in summer. Incidentally, the soil is washed away and the hillsides, once beautiful with fresh growing verdure, become so much barren desert.

In this way the water supply of certain areas of country has been practically destroyed. The forests of the hills and mountains are natural storage reservoirs. Destruction of these reservoirs means ruin to the farmers in the valleys and on the prairies.

SLIPSHOD METHODS CAUSE OF CHARGES IN PENSIONS CASES

Royal Commissioners Tell
Chief Medical Adviser
There Should be Uniformity

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
Ottawa, Sept. 7.—"Slipshod work in the unit, and slipshod at headquarters," was the manner in which Dr. W. C. Arnold, chief medical adviser to the board of pension commissioners, giving evidence today before the royal commission investigating certain charges made against the pension commissioners by the G. W. Y. A., characterized certain decisions which he intimated had been the cause of all the trouble and resulted in the charges being made by the G. W. Y. A.

Dr. Arnold had asked permission to make a statement to the commission regarding the circumstances leading up to the passing of the famous minute of

You Can Beat Constipation and Free Yourself from Pills!

Don't wait for constipation to "get" you; to slow you up; to throw your system open to about 90 per cent of human ill! Beat constipation with BRAN—KELLOGG'S BRAN, cooked and krumbled!

Where pills and cathartics are habit-forming and aggravate dangerous intestinal conditions, Kellogg's Bran, without irritation or discomfort, mechanically sweeps the bowels, cleansing and purifying in a natural way. Physicians endorse the use of Kellogg's Bran for constipation because it makes possible the successful treatment of constipation through food. We guarantee that Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, will give permanent relief if it is eaten regularly.

Every morning Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, should be eaten by you and your family; say, with your favorite cereal. Eat at least two table-spoons daily, for chronic cases eat as much as necessary for results! Kellogg's Bran is wonderfully palatable, its nut-like flavor adding much to any food. And, it can be served in many enticing ways such as in muffins, macaroons, raisin bread, etc.

For health sake, don't delay ordering KELLOGG'S BRAN! Its work is a revelation! INSIST THAT YOUR GROCER SUPPLIES YOU KELLOGG'S BRAN. It's wrapped "WAXTITE." Get a package today. Serve it sure tomorrow! Have it on the table every meal! Sprinkle it on food. IT'S DELICIOUS!

CIVIL SERVANTS NOT WORRYING

In England Work About 34
Hours a Week and Have Long Holidays.

London, Aug. 21.—(Associated Press by Mail)—In England, as in most countries, it is very difficult to get people to work as hard for government departments as for business houses. That is the conclusion forced upon a special committee which has been trying to find out what is wrong with the Civil Service.

Before the war the Civil Service employed 283,000 people at a cost of £29,500,000. Now it employs 325,000 at a cost of £27,400,000. Civil servants, it is said, usually start work in London at 10 o'clock in the morning, take three quarters of an hour for lunch and knock off promptly at five o'clock except on Saturdays, when they quit at 1.30. Their hours of work during the week thus average only thirty-four. Their annual holidays range from three weeks to eight weeks, according to the way they are graded.

The committee sees no reason why the hours of civil servants should not be the same as those of ordinary clerks in civil employ, nor why they should get more than two or three weeks vacation, as is customary in business houses. "It is clear," the committee says, "that the hours of work were increased to a moderate extent it would be possible to reduce the staffs and so effect a reduction in the cost of the service."

That is obvious, but no government department has succeeded in doing it yet and meanwhile the staffs of the various government departments are not worrying over the prospect of having to work longer hours and getting shorter holidays.

OMIT FROM PRAYER CURSES ON WICKED

Episcopal Committee Would Permit Deletion of Such
Passages from Psalter
Readings.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 8.—If members of the commission on prayer book revision have their views accepted, Episcopalians rarely will have read to them from the psalter Scriptural passages that are imprecatory in nature, but call for dire vengeance or a curse upon enemies of the righteous.

This was indicated in statements made by Dr. Charles L. Slatery, rector of Grace Church, New York, who has been selected to present the report to the House of Deputies of the Episcopal Church.

"The whole attempt of the commission," he said, "is that of bringing the prayer book into accord with the best truth and reality we know."

Not in all cases of psalter revisions will the psalmists' pleas for punishment for adversaries be eliminated. In some instances the objectionable portions are merely to be set off by spaces so they may be omitted at the discretion of the minister.

Typical verses of the psalter which the revisionists think may well be neglected are such as these: "Let their eyes be blinded, that they see not; and ever bow down their backs." "Pour out thine indignation upon them; let them fall from one wickedness into another."

BROTHERS FIGHT OVER UMBRELLA; ONE IS KILLED

Passaic, N. J., Sept. 8.—Charles Monego, thirty-four years old, a printer of 86 Ackerman street, Clifton, N. J., is dead here following a quarrel with his brother John.

The brothers had been on good terms and on Monday Charles called at John's home and borrowed an umbrella from John's wife. After the shower Charles returned with the umbrella. John was at home then and Charles upbraided him for his failure to visit his parents. John resented the remarks of Charles and, it is said, the two brothers engaged in a fist fight. Neighbors called the police.

Sergeant Varettoni of the Clifton police department responded and found Charles dead in the dining room. John was hysterical and was taken to St. Mary's hospital in Passaic, where he was unconscious for four hours. Then he was taken to local police headquarters.

Dr. E. Marzani, a neighboring physician, reported that Charles had died of heart disease. There were several black and blue marks on Charles' body, according to the authorities.

CAN MAKE TRY AT SEA LIFE

Sweden Has Unique Plan Relative to Its Navy.

Stockholm, Aug. 18.—(P. by mail)—A new help Swedish has considering their life occupation, and probably a unique thing in the world, is a system recently inaugurated whereby young men are allowed to try out service in the Swedish royal navy voluntarily and without being under oath, in order to find out whether they are called to the life of a naval officer or not.

College youths sixteen or seventeen years of age who think they may want to enter the navy after graduation go aboard battleships and smaller naval craft as cadets under instruction. They mess with the crew and work under the same conditions as seamen, except that they pay for their meals and may pick up their bags and go ashore for good whenever they please. They not only get a practical knowledge of the duties of ordinary seamen, but they may also post the watch, serve as coxswains of the ship's boats, and in general test out their abilities to command.

The battleship Queen Victoria, the stationship Svea, and several smaller vessels are providing this unusual opportunity for young men, who may in the end discover that they are better fitted to become statesmen than naval officers. Thus this vocational innovation is beneficial to the navy as well as to the youth, who is given a chance to avoid making a mistake.

CHILE OPPOSED TO ARMAMENTS

Santiago, Chile, Aug. 14.—(A. P. by mail)—The government of Chile has taken definite steps to bring about the inclusion of the question of the limitation of naval and land armaments throughout South America in the programme of the Pan-American conference to be held in this city next March. Formal announcement has been made to the committee on disarmament of the League of Nations, at Paris, by Manuel Rivas Vicuna, Chilean delegate, to the effect that Chile was proceeding to this end.

The Chilean foreign office, in this connection, calls attention again to the agreement with Argentina made twenty years ago in which the limitation of armaments was a feature. This convention set forth, among other things, that, in order to set at rest any cause of inquietude or suspicion, both Argentina and Chile would desist from purchasing new warships and would not accept warships already ordered; that both would reduce existing naval forces and not increase them for a period of five years without eighteen months notice to the other party to the convention, and that neither party would sell a warship to any power having a pending question with the other party.

CAPT. J. E. MASTERS IS PRESIDENT

Sessions of Maritime Board of Trade Concluded

Members Decide to Employ a Permanent Secretary—Resolutions Ask for More Favorable Rates for Prince Edward Island Fishermen and for Modification of Automobile Rates on Car Ferry.

The 1922 sessions of the maritime board of trade were concluded yesterday afternoon. Captain J. E. Masters of Moncton was elected president for the ensuing year. Considerable business was transacted including a decision to employ a permanent secretary for the board. J. E. Birch, of Charlottetown, brought up the matter of the rate for transporting automobiles across the P. E. I. car ferry, at the opening of the afternoon session. This rate of $6, he said, was extortionate, and he moved that the maritime board of trade exert its influence toward securing a reduction of this rate. This created considerable discussion and encountered strenuous opposition. It was felt by the opponents of the resolution that it was a matter for the provincial boards of trade to consider. After prolonged argument, George Gilbert, K.C., of Bathurst, advocated that a stronger resolution be adopted, namely, to cut out the rate entirely. This, apparently, was favored but later on in the meeting when a resolution to this effect was advanced, it failed to weather the storm. Speaking about the opinion advanced that the car ferry was really a "bridge" and thus should be free, Mr. E. Agar pointed out that the building of a railway was part of the consideration when British Columbia entered confederation, but no one thought of suggesting that freight should be transported free over this railway. He felt there was an analogy in the two cases. J. LeRoy Holman then moved that the government take steps to see that the automobiles be allowed to go on the ferry under their own power, instead of being placed on flat cars as at present. This would obviate any shunting charges and would act as a lever to reduce the rate. After further extended argument this finally carried, much to the satisfaction of the island delegates. Research Bureau. M. E. Agar, of St. John, then moved the following resolution: "Whereas, it is believed that increase of population and expansion of the commerce and industry of the Dominion of Canada at large, and particularly of the maritime provinces, depends very largely upon the development of our natural resources; and Whereas, there is a lack of definite information as to the potential value of these resources and the extent to which they may be profitably developed; Therefore resolved, that in the opinion of this conference the early establishment of a national research institute for the Dominion of Canada is to be desired, and that in addition to investigating the possibilities of a fuller application of scientific knowledge to the improvement of processes of manufacture, the utilization of by-products, etc., such institute should obtain the fullest possible information regarding the natural resources and report as to measures which might be taken for their development." After discussion, this carried unanimously. In introducing the resolution Mr. Agar took occasion to refer to the fact that the Maritime Provinces were strategically located for all manner of enterprise. Mr. Burditt seconded the resolution. George Gilbert suggested that the better way to carry out such research work would be through equipment maintained at the colleges. Colonel MacLaren. Col. Murray MacLaren, C. M. G., M. P., speaking on the resolution, declared that this was a proposal that would command support in practically all sections of Canada. A national committee was now dealing with the matter and an advisory board had been appointed to assist this committee. C. C. Jones, chancellor of the University of New Brunswick, speaking as a delegate from the Fredericton Board of Trade, declared he was very much interested in this project. Economy was being held up by the project now, but he believed it was a false kind of economy. Improvements such as the telephone and telegraph and many others were really the product of quiet research in the laboratory. This proposition appealed to all classes and he declared that the return would more than justify a substantial outlay. Hon. Fred Magee. Hon. Fred Magee, of Port Elgin, speaking for the canned fish industry, declared that it was in hearty accord with the proposition. In addition to having a bureau of research, he believed that a bureau of standards should also be set up. Permanent Secretary. W. S. Fisher, of St. John, then brought forward the matter of a permanent secretary, discussion of which had been postponed from the morning session. He presented the following resolution, which was adopted without discussion: "Resolved that the incoming executive committee of this board be appointed to wait upon the governments of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, and ask them respectively to make such contribution in conjunction with the local boards as will ensure the establishment and maintenance of an official to be appointed by the executive of the board, whose duties will be defined by the executive for the advancement of the business interests of the Maritime Provinces." "And further resolved, that a per capita assessment be made in the local Boards of Trade for a sum sufficient to defray the additional expenses of maintaining such an office over and above the amounts secured from the Provincial Governments." Following passage of this, the convention unanimously adopted the following resolution, pertaining to the utilization of Canadian ports for Canadian exports and imports: "Whereas, the development of the export trade of Canada is of vital importance to all sections of the Dominion; and Whereas, the volume of export trade will depend in a large measure upon the volume of import trade; and Whereas, Canada's geographical position fronting on the trade routes of the two great oceans of the world places her in a splendid position to compete in foreign trade through her own ocean ports and over her own terminal facilities; and Whereas, it is in the best interests of the Dominion as a whole that the facilities of her ocean ports should be used to the fullest possible extent for carrying the overseas traffic of Canada; and Whereas, such use will not entail any disadvantage to the importers or exporters of Canada in freight rates, the principle that freight rates to and from exporting and importing points to the same interior point should be equal having long been settled; Therefore resolved, that in the opinion of this conference the time is now opportune for bringing into effect of the clause in the customs tariff limiting the British preference to goods brought into Canada through Canadian seaports. Also resolved, that these ports should receive preferential consideration over all foreign ports by the transportation companies of Canada and by Canadian importers and exporters; and that it be impressed upon British exporters, through the medium of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce of London, England, and through the trade commission in Canada, that it would tend to the strengthening of the empire if Canadian ports were used by them in forwarding their shipments to this country. Further resolved, that representations in accordance with the spirit of this resolution be made to the Dominion government and to each member of parliament from the maritime provinces. This resolution was moved by Capt. J. E. Masters, of Moncton, and seconded by J. E. Birch. Two federal members of parliament, Colonel MacLaren and O. Turgeon, spoke strongly on this resolution. Colonel MacLaren declared he was glad to see this matter before the Maritime Board of Trade. He remembered well Hance J. Logan's address in the House of Commons on this important topic, an address that was received with indifference. "I have found individual members expressing the opinion that this policy was designed purely for the benefit of our seaports and this opinion has had a very harmful effect," declared Colonel MacLaren. He trusted that Mr. Logan would be able to deliver a similar address at the next session of the house. O. Turgeon. The member for Gloucester reiterated what he had said on this subject at Wednesday evening's banquet. He was pledged to the principle of Canadian traffic for Canadian ports and he remembered when Mr. Logan had presented this subject to the House of Commons in 1906. "We cannot proclaim too often or loudly the fact that the betterment of our seaports means benefit to the west as well as the east," declared the veteran. He expressed the strong hope that this matter would receive better attention at the next session of parliament than it did at the last session. W. S. Fisher. W. S. Fisher thought that more attention should be paid to the shipper from the west and make him see the matter in a broad national spirit. The Grand Trunk railway agents were after business all the time and the shipper had very little to say about the manner of routing. He wondered if better results could not be obtained through a propaganda to educate this fact to the western people. Fish and Express Rates. J. E. Birch had another resolution in the shape of a request that the board use its influence to see that a reduction of the express rate on fish shipped west from the island be obtained. He pointed out that Sydney, Cape Breton, had a rate almost $2 less than did P. E. I. He felt this discrimination should cease. As it was felt that this matter was local in its character and as the hour was drawing late, the matter was referred to the incoming executive to deal with. Officers Elected. The nominating committee, Messrs. Burditt, Agar, Wright and Higgs, presented their recommendations, which were adopted without dissent. The slate, as adopted, is as follows: President, Captain J. E. Masters, Moncton; first vice-president, G. Fred Pearson, Halifax; second vice-president, Wallace L. Higgins, Charlottetown; executive, R. H. Chapple, Sydney; A. L. Wright, Antigonish; George Gilbert, K.C., Bathurst; E. H. Beer, Charlottetown; J. LeRoy Holman, Charlottetown; J. A. McDonald, Cardigan; W. F. Burditt, St. John. Mr. Burditt brought up the matter of changes to the constitution as next year's convention. P. M. Shannon moved a vote of thanks to the St. John Board of Trade for its splendid entertainment and this was seconded by Commodore J. L. Stewart, of Chatham. The veteran newspaperman differed with those who thought that St. John was disliked by outside provincial towns of any importance. He took little stock in this chatter. J. E. Birch echoed the commodore's words. "Like Mark Twain, if I had to be born over again, I'd choose St. John," he declared amid rounds of hearty laughter. After passing resolutions of thanks to the retiring executive, the Rotary Club, R. E. Armstrong, and M. M. Magee, the convention concluded with the singing of the National Anthem.

presented the following resolution, which was adopted without discussion: "Resolved that the incoming executive committee of this board be appointed to wait upon the governments of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, and ask them respectively to make such contribution in conjunction with the local boards as will ensure the establishment and maintenance of an official to be appointed by the executive of the board, whose duties will be defined by the executive for the advancement of the business interests of the Maritime Provinces." "And further resolved, that a per capita assessment be made in the local Boards of Trade for a sum sufficient to defray the additional expenses of maintaining such an office over and above the amounts secured from the Provincial Governments." Following passage of this, the convention unanimously adopted the following resolution, pertaining to the utilization of Canadian ports for Canadian exports and imports: "Whereas, the development of the export trade of Canada is of vital importance to all sections of the Dominion; and Whereas, the volume of export trade will depend in a large measure upon the volume of import trade; and Whereas, Canada's geographical position fronting on the trade routes of the two great oceans of the world places her in a splendid position to compete in foreign trade through her own ocean ports and over her own terminal facilities; and Whereas, it is in the best interests of the Dominion as a whole that the facilities of her ocean ports should be used to the fullest possible extent for carrying the overseas traffic of Canada; and Whereas, such use will not entail any disadvantage to the importers or exporters of Canada in freight rates, the principle that freight rates to and from exporting and importing points to the same interior point should be equal having long been settled; Therefore resolved, that in the opinion of this conference the time is now opportune for bringing into effect of the clause in the customs tariff limiting the British preference to goods brought into Canada through Canadian seaports. Also resolved, that these ports should receive preferential consideration over all foreign ports by the transportation companies of Canada and by Canadian importers and exporters; and that it be impressed upon British exporters, through the medium of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce of London, England, and through the trade commission in Canada, that it would tend to the strengthening of the empire if Canadian ports were used by them in forwarding their shipments to this country. Further resolved, that representations in accordance with the spirit of this resolution be made to the Dominion government and to each member of parliament from the maritime provinces. This resolution was moved by Capt. J. E. Masters, of Moncton, and seconded by J. E. Birch. Two federal members of parliament, Colonel MacLaren and O. Turgeon, spoke strongly on this resolution. Colonel MacLaren declared he was glad to see this matter before the Maritime Board of Trade. He remembered well Hance J. Logan's address in the House of Commons on this important topic, an address that was received with indifference. "I have found individual members expressing the opinion that this policy was designed purely for the benefit of our seaports and this opinion has had a very harmful effect," declared Colonel MacLaren. He trusted that Mr. Logan would be able to deliver a similar address at the next session of the house. O. Turgeon. HIGH SCHOOL A. A. HOLDS LECTURE

The St. John High School Athletic Association held its annual meeting yesterday afternoon in the local high school building. Various matters in connection with the running of athletics in high school were discussed, including the outlook for the coming football season. The members of the association feel that there is excellent material in the high school to turn out a winning football team this fall if suitable grounds can be obtained and a coach secured. The officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Honorary president, E. J. Alexander; president, J. P. McInerney; vice-president, Frank Campbell; secretary-treasurer, D. MacLaughlan; member ex-officio, J. Fox. The meeting yesterday was largely attended and it was decided to commence football practice early next week.

ANIMALS RAID ALASKA TOWN.

Community Hunt in Autos Kills Hundreds—Last Shot Saves Woman. Fairbanks, Alaska, Sept. 8.—Caribou, rabbits, geese and bears, which moved down from the mountains surrounding this town, were killed by residents who joined in a community hunt. Miss Evelyn Houcke, assistant postmaster, was charged by a maddened caribou after she had fired one shot from her automobile. Her second shot, which used her last cartridge, brought down the animal. Two hundred automobiles and all the horse-drawn vehicles in town carried hunting parties. The movie men were out shooting caribou, too. Even two "Chechaks" professors of the new Agricultural College of Alaska, which is to open Sept. 1, got a caribou apiece. Several were killed by school children. Oidtimers say the invasion of wild animals at this season is caused by the approach of cold weather.

AGED 12, RAN AWAY 94 TIMES IN 2 YEARS

New York, Sept. 8.—Robert Hensen, aged 12, of Jersey City, who, the police say, has run away ninety-four times in two years, and has been fed by the police of New York, Brooklyn and most places of prominence between here and Boston, was picked up by the police at the St. George Ferry, Staten Island, this week. "Don't feed him or he will come back to you," was the warning to the Staten Island police by those of Jersey when the finding of the runaway was reported. But the police had already bought him coffee, ice cream and cake.

LOCAL NEWS

DEATH OF CHILD.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hayes, Tower street, West End, will sympathize with them in the loss of their infant son, Joseph Francis, who died at their home this morning.

TRAFFIC CASES.

Arthur Moran was fined $10 this morning for speeding on Douglas avenue. The report was made by Policeman McBrien. A plea of not guilty was entered. Samuel B. Howell was fined $20 for driving past a standing street car at the corner of Simonds and Main streets and falling to blow his horn. The report was made by Policeman McBrien.

FIRE INSURANCE CASE.

The case of MacDonald vs. the Sun Assurance Co., an action on a fire insurance policy, was continued this morning before Mr. Justice Barry in Chambers. The case will continue this afternoon. J. A. Barry represents the plaintiff and Teed and Teed the defendant.

EARLY AT WORK.

A story of early laying pullets has come from Barnesville. F. B. Carter, a former resident of St. John, who moved to Barnesville about six years ago, has a barred Plymouth Rock pullet which started laying when ninety-eight days out of the shell, which is considered very particularly in view of the fact that this breed of hen is usually later in maturing than lighter stock, such as Leghorns.

HERO ON THE PIKE.

An attraction which is receiving attention at the exhibition is the dog, Hero, owned by William Oram of the north end. This is the dog that saved the lives of ninety-seven sailors off the Newfoundland coast and as a consequence was made a member of the City of St. John and a life-saving collar from a humane society in Philadelphia. The heroism of the dog deserves the tribute of a large number of visitors to see him.

TO CANADIAN CLUB MEETING. C. W. Romans, secretary of the Canadian Club, is to leave on Saturday for Hamilton, Ontario, on Maple Leaf business. While in Hamilton he will be the representative of the local club at the convention of the Association of Canadian Clubs, which will meet from September 11 to 13. Mrs. W. Edmund Raymond, president of the Women's Canadian Club, will also be in attendance at the meetings.

NOISY BUT IT GOT THERE.

Orypens and his lute had nothing at all on one certain automobile which made the Princess street hill about noon today to the accompaniment of music which would have put to shame Bachmanhoff in the throes of composing his prelude. To say that it squeaked would be to put the matter mildly, much too mildly. It ran the whole gamut of sounds from the wail of a Micmac Indian to the last feeble note of "The Dying Swan." Entranced by its rhythmic melodies, pedestrians stood aghast and wondered (loudly) that one small car could make the noise it made while the driver, with his face twisted in a sheepish grin, attempted to register indifference to that old enemy of the original man—public opinion.

STRAW HAT TIME NEAR END.

Although the closing of the straw hat season has not been officially announced it has been generally understood that he, who, with straw headgear, braved the gaze of his fellows after September 1, left himself open for a bit of fun making. In spite of all this sentiment regarding straw hats, a walk up King street this morning showed fifteen boaters and panamas on masculine heads. Some were not damaged to any great extent considering the long season but most had the appearance of having seen better days. The warm sun invites the straw hat man to disregard what convention may require and, you may hear him say "It's a free country."

D. S. C. R. VISITORS.

Colonel S. S. Wetmore and A. W. Thompson of Halifax arrived in the city yesterday and are at the Royal. They were joined today by Dr. J. F. Ellis of Halifax, unit medical director of the D. S. C. R. in the maritime provinces, and Colonel John McCombe of Ottawa, connected with the D. S. C. R. headquarters there. Colonel McCombe is carrying on an inspection of D. S. C. R. districts throughout the Dominion and, with Dr. Ellis, is expected to visit the local hospital soon. Colonel Wetmore has visited the local office here. He said this morning that he had no matters of interest to report except that the routine business of the D. S. C. R. was being carried on in first class order. There was the usual summer dropping off of hospital inmates due to their leaving for their homes in the warm weather.

PEDRO STILL A PROBLEM.

What to do with Pedro is a question which is perplexing the police authorities. The magistrate says he will not send him to the almshouse for the people to keep and the chief of police says he cannot have him sent out of town. Pedro, meanwhile, maintains a stolid silence and bears it with a patient shrug. Between April 5, 1921 and September 8, 1922, Pedro Meyesto or Miozai, as he sometimes gives it, has appeared before the magistrate 124 times, according to the records at the police station. The chief of police has communicated with Ottawa relative to having him deported from Canada, and Ottawa says that he has been in Canada too long to be returned to the land from which he came, which is suspected to be Italy. The Italian consul can do nothing in the matter, and Pedro still smiles. The police have orders to take him in tow whenever they see him in the streets after twelve o'clock at night, and Pedro does love the night air. Consequently he makes frequent appearances. He was ordered below this morning but no doubt will soon be up again.

OFFERS TWO CUPS FOR PONIES IN NEXT YEAR SHOW

Toronto Horse Judge Greatly Pleased With St. John Exhibition--Sale of Live Stock Today--Soldier Patients are Guests of Association.

H. W. Robinson, of Toronto, who judges the light horses at the St. John Exhibition, before leaving for his home last evening, called upon the manager, H. A. Porter, and congratulated him for the class of the entries shown. So enthusiastic was he over the specimens that he offered two cups to be presented at next year's show for the pony class, one for the best entry with boy rider and the other for a pony ridden by a girl. Mr. Robinson has always taken a great interest in the St. John show and his offer was gratefully appreciated.

The feature of today's programme amongst the live stock was the auction sale of prize stock which commenced in front of the grand stand at 2 o'clock. This is an innovation this year and was taken advantage of by many of the breeders who had stock on show. The judging in the Holstein and pure bred cattle classes was completed this morning.

Manager Porter announced today that it had been decided to auction the prize exhibits of butter, cheese and dairy products in the agricultural section on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock.

During the week many articles lost on the grounds and in the building were handed in at the manager's office. Some of them were claimed by their owners but there still remains a fur neck piece and two purses, one containing a sum of money, which have not been called for.

On invitation from the executives the returned soldier patients from the Lancaster and East St. John Hospitals were guests at the exhibition this afternoon. They were brought in cars to the grounds and given seats in the grand stand for the afternoon show. The children from the city orphanage were also invited.

The Yorkshire hog used to illustrate an address delivered yesterday by Peter Brodie was bred, owned and exhibited by Thomas A. Barrett of East St. John. The work of the police has been highly recommended. Their task is no light one in dealing with such large numbers. While there are vast numbers inside the grounds the people have to get in somehow and it is here that the work of Policeman "Sandy" Chisholm comes in. For three exhibitions he has had charge of the front gates, keeping things running smoothly as the people pass through the turnstiles. In this connection it must be remembered that there are two transactions to be gone through, the buying of the ticket and the buying of the war tax. Assisted by two "specials" Policeman Chisholm has performed yeoman service and a great deal of credit is due this courteous and obliging officer.

Notwithstanding the half holiday tomorrow afternoon, the Brayley Drug Company closed down at one o'clock this afternoon so that their employees might take in the exhibition while the festivities were at their height. The action of the management was much appreciated by the staff.

Indications this afternoon were that the weather would be favorable for the presentation of a fire works programme called off last night on account of a dangerous wind.

About 4:30 o'clock a parade of the prize live stock will be staged before the grand stand and immediately afterwards the winners will receive their cups for the best dairy herd; Hon. D. W. Mersereau's cup for the best collection of root crops, etc., and the St. John business men's trophies for the best in the live stock classes will be presented by the association's president, E. T. Terry.

It was announced this morning that a special train, carrying exhibits from the St. John Exhibition to the Woodstock show which will open on Tuesday, will leave St. John on Sunday afternoon about one o'clock. So far eight cars have been taken up and it is expected that the train will carry at least ten carloads of cattle and other exhibits.

BETTER FEELING ENGENDERED BY CLOSER CONTACT

Delegates to Board of Trade Convention Greatly Pleased With Spirit of the Meetings—All for a Better Canada.

The Maritime Board of Trade closed its convention here yesterday but the general feeling of those present was that the seed planted at the gathering would grow throughout these provinces so that eventually all interests would be joined in working for the prosperity of the three provinces and the Dominion as a whole.

Members of the board expressed their appreciation of the discussions and pointed out that the viewpoint of those in different sections was clearly brought out and action on a broader plane would be the result.

Many of the delegates thought Hon. P. J. Veniot, Minister of Public Works of New Brunswick, had come to the solution of population problems and suggested that greater encouragement be given to the young men of these provinces to remain at home and farm rather than go to the United States and western Canada.

With a permanent secretary it is believed that the Maritime Board of Trade will be able to advance the interests of all its members and so greatly assist in bettering the conditions particularly in the east.

ARM DISLOCATED.

Charles Bonen was taken to the General Public Hospital in the ambulance this morning with a dislocated arm. He had sold a pile of junk on the ballast wharf to a dealer and was climbing on the load, when he slipped and fell to the ground. The arm was set and he was expected to leave the hospital this afternoon.

OAK HALL SCOVIL BROS., LTD. King Street

"To Everett's for Beds, Springs and Mattresses"

This is becoming the slogan of the intelligent shopper, who has learned by experience and from the recommendation of her friends that she will there find the best values in reliable goods. And this reliability is the secret of our success, because we have consistently refused to sell inferior articles even when we could have offered sensationally low prices in doing so.

This soft felt mattress in an attractive blue art ticking is priced very low at 8.80, but it is also reliable and can be depended upon for years of wear.

Our immense stock is always at your disposal for information or price comparisons.

THERE'S A VERY INVITING DISPLAY—of Furs, Frocks, Topcoats, to the right of the main entrance in the Exhibition Main Building—it's ours. We're there to answer inquiries—in short for your benefit.
And Now For the Novelty—A FASHION PARADE IN THE AMUSEMENT HALL—Every Evening at 8

WORLD DRIFT TO ANOTHER WAR

Free Church Leader Calls for Empire Council of Peace in London. London, Sept. 8.—(Canadian Press)—Following a remarkable peace sermon by the Archbishop of Canterbury at Geneva on Sunday, comes an appeal for immediate action from a well-known Free Church leader, Doctor Jewett, who in the British Weekly declares that the world is drifting to war again. He urges the churches, Protestant, Roman and Greek to arise from their slumbers and ward off the approaching catastrophe. He suggests that representative leaders of the Christian church meet in councils of peace in every nation, and that the world's body which has in its ranks of ecclesiastics but the wider realm of commerce, art, literature and labor. Let us have a three days' council at the heart of the empire, not merely to make speeches but to visualize and demonstrate the existence of the corporate body which has in its ranks of ecclesiastics but the wider realm of commerce, art, literature and labor. PREMIER FOSTER SAYS N. B. FILM IS A SPLENDID THING

New Brunswick Has Something to Offer the World, and the Right Men are Here to Handle the Pictures in a Fitting Manner.

Premier Foster became a director in the New Brunswick Films Ltd., he told an interviewer yesterday, from the twin motives of patriotic duty and personal profit.

"I recognized it as a good thing for the city and province," he explained further, "and it looks like a better thing for the man who backs it. But, primarily, I became interested in the proposition to put New Brunswick on the publicity map in an emphatic way, and certainly this is the one thing we have needed more than any other to advertise abroad the special beauties and opportunities of our province. The fact of a hundred copies of the one film showing daily in every worth while place on the globe over a period of years is a tremendous power for good. And yet that is only a start more are to follow; the industry is established here on a permanent basis. "There can be no question about the thoroughness of its organization," remarked the premier. "Very obviously I could not lend my practical support unless the undertaking showed itself certain in every way of fulfilling its purpose. In this regard I believe we are fortunately situated with a directorate and financial management under the entire control of New Brunswick business men with real records. And the producing end is equally well taken care of. The best is none too good for us, and we have it. Mr. Shipman's producing organization and record stands out by itself. No other has done what he has done, coming back to Canada and putting over one success after another right across Canada without a break. "Again, there is little doubt that with all its repetitions of plots and settings, the motion picture market can stand something new, new ground and new life. Sooner or later a producer was bound to discover that the maritimes offer an untouched field with lots of local color—fresh stuff. And fresh stuff we surely have with the scenery and adventure of life round our forests and streams and seacoasts. Every day a species of drama all our own is going on off-shore and inland. And the whole story is admirably set forth in "Blue Water," the work of a native son who has been termed on both sides of the Atlantic "the Kipling of the Maritimes." "Personally," ended Mr. Foster, "I feel that here is our opportunity at last to have something big done for our province and, incidentally, our pocket books, an opportunity that should be made good in by every business man with a sense of citizenship and enterprise."

Mother—"No Bobby, for the third time I tell you, you can't have another chocolate."
Bobby—(in despair)—"I don't see where father gets the idea that you are always changing your mind."—London Opinion.

A. M. SHERWOOD, 9740-9-9

Mr. Meighen's Complaint. (Toronto's Globe.)

Mr. Meighen thinks that British Columbia ought to be proud of sending him and his party "seven good men, in the face of a tide of discontent and irrationality unrivaled in the history of elections."

It is certainly remarkable that a province containing not much more than half a million people should have given Mr. Meighen nearly one-seventh of his parliamentary support, and Mr. Meighen does well to be grateful.

But when he speaks of the tide of irrationality and discontent that defeated him he shows that he does not know how to accept defeat. Discontent there was, but there was nothing irrational, wild or revolutionary in the attitude of the electors. It is easily explained.

The Liberal party, divided by the issue raised in 1917, recovered to a large extent its unity and strength. A new party arose and elected more representatives than Mr. Meighen's followers. Mr. Meighen saw Bolshevik tendencies in the new movement, but this was the result of a heated partisan imagination.

The farmer's occupation and his ownership land and stock, however, a streak of conservatism in his character. The fact that he chose political and constitutional methods is evidence that he is not carried away by revolutionary ideas.

National Liberal and Conservative was deceived. There was no evidence whatever that the country wanted such a process of fusion or digestion. When Mr. Meighen became premier he took to have gone to the country at once, frankly describing himself as a Tory and a leader of Tories. He preferred to cling to office in spite of repeated rebuffs in the by-elections. He thus irritated the people, who regarded him as a usurper, and were confirmed in their determination to depose him and bring about a radical change in government and representation.

The first requisite to recovery is to recognize these facts. There is nothing disgraceful or extraordinary in a party defeat. It is not a national tragedy. It is not a grievance. It is the common experience of parties and public men. The wise man takes it good-naturedly.

BOWLING.

R. M. C. Defeat Amherst.

The season for bowling was opened with a bang last night when a five-man team from Amherst met the Railway Mail Clerks' quintette from this city on the Y. M. C. I. alleys. Keen interest in the game was shown by the many spectators who were present and indeed the game was worthy of interest. The local boys managed to win by a margin of thirteen pins with a total pinfall of 1985 while the Nova Scotia team knocked ten over for a total of 1382 pins. Jimmie Smith who has been here before in inter-city tournaments captained the Amherst team and added much interest to the game with his coaching. The Y. M. C. I. alleys have been opened recently after the warm weather of the summer and already the sport is being well patronized, and a big season in this pastime is looked forward to for the winter.

The following is the string totals for the game last night:

Mrs. Otto Nase was the winner of the One Club match at Riverside yesterday, with Mrs. Harold Schofield and Miss Audrey McLeod tying for second place.

U. S. Championships.

The Country Club, Brookline, Mass., Sept. 7.—A stymie stopped Jesse P. Guilford's attempt to hole out another national amateur golf championship today. The title-holder was defeated by Jesse Sweetser, metropolitan champion, when he failed in an attempt to jump an obstacle which the latter imposed on the fifteenth green.

Cyril J. H. Tolley, winner of the British championship at Muirfield two years ago, was conquered by little Ruddy Knipper of Sioux City, Iowa. With Tolley's defeat was marked the complete collapse of the British expedition to capture the American title. Bobby Jones of Atlanta, champion of the south, went ahead to the semi-finals over Billy McPhail of Boston, who played well today over the course where not long ago he caddied. Chick Evans, Chicago's two-time title-holder, accomplished the defeat of F. A. Godchaux of New Orleans, completing the card for the semi-finals tomorrow. This will be Sweetser against Jones; Evans meeting Knipper.

Lewiston Races.

Lewiston, Me., Sept. 7.—(Special.)—The races here wound up today with a sensational and long drawn out set-to lasting until the sunset limit. The free-for-all, although it did not come up to expectations as to speed, went six hot heats before Peter Look outtraced and outstayed the bunch, and upset the speculators badly. The Look horse is owned by Q. J. Wilk of Lawrence and was driven by Billy Flemming. Colonel Bidwell, which has been campaigning in the Aroostook free-for-alls and is now owned by the Caribon Driving Club, was driven by his old trainer, Joe Johnson, and got second money. R. H. Brett, who has been cleaning up his races so far, failed to show today. Buster Richardson of Waterville, cleaned up the 2:22 class with Jennie Castle, which acted badly in the first heat. Lester Dore surprised the talent by staying and winning for six heats with the little mare Miss Kivah in the 2:24 trot.

ATHLETIC.

Record Broken.

Copenhagen, Sept. 8.—The world record for the pole vaulting was broken in the Copenhagen stadium this week by Hoff, a Norwegian athlete, who cleared the bar for 4 meters, 12 centimeters, or approximately 13 feet 6 inches. The previous record in this event was made in 1920 by F. K. Fos, a Belgian, who vaulted 4 meters, 9 centimeters, or 13 feet 5 inches.

RING.

Tendler and Moran.

New York, Sept. 8.—Lew Tendler, Philadelphia lightweight, and Pal Moran of New Orleans, have been signed for a fifteen round contest on Sept. 15 at the New York Velodrome, so it was announced last night. The bout will be at the lightweight limit, 135 pounds.

Ritchie to New York.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 8.—Willie Ritchie, who was lightweight champion of the world from 1912 to 1914, is to re-enter the ring this fall, according to word from Del Monte, Cal., where the former titleholder is playing in the California State golf tournament. Ritchie will go east early next month, according to present plans, to place himself under the wing of some New York promoter.

Boxers Suspended.

Jersey City, N. J., Sept. 8.—Three months suspension from boxing in this state has been imposed by the New Jersey boxing commission on two lightweights, Jack Hausner of New York and Babe Herman of California. At a bout here on last Saturday they were stopped in the tenth round by Referee Henry Lewis on the ground that they were stalling. By yesterday's decree they lose their share of the gate receipts.

William Ferguson, Mrs. Jonas Crundmark, her daughter, Violet, and two grandchildren, were thrown to the ground when a team in which they were riding was struck by an automobile on the Lorneville road on Wednesday evening. Mr. Ferguson was quite badly injured and the others were badly shaken up while both vehicles were damaged.

VALENTINO DENIES IT IS A MONEY QUARREL

Movie Actor Indicates Dissatisfaction With the Art Side of the Industry.

New York, Sept. 7.—Rudolph Valentino, moving picture actor, denied that the matter of money entered into his difficulties with the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation.

The law firm of Guggenheim, Untermyer & Marshall was retained by the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, and in a letter to Will H. Hayes, overlord of the movies, announced that they would bring suit against Valentino to restrain him from violating his agreement to perform exclusively in motion pictures for the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation for a period which has about two and a half years to run.

"Pending the hearing of the application, which we are preparing for an injunction pendente lite," the letter ran, "it is important that no producer shall enter into a contract with Valentino in ignorance of the rights and claims of our client."

Mr. Graham was asked whether Valentino was receiving, as reported, a salary of approximately $3,000 a week for his services.

"He's not getting anything like that $3,000 divided by three would be more like it," he replied.

"I have been dissatisfied with the photography, management and direction—the handling of all my films," Valentino said. "They do not live up to my artistic ambitions."

"I am not interested in their box office value, but only from the artistic viewpoint. Some of the pictures I have made have been great money makers. 'The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse' earned more than $2,000,000; 'The Sheik' earned more than $1,000,000. That picture, incidentally, is my idea of a poor performance. I hate it."

Decisions in Boxing Bout.

The boxing exhibition in the St. Andrew's rink last evening was attended by approximately 700 fans, who witnessed four bouts, two main bouts of ten rounds each and two preliminary affairs of six rounds. None of the bouts went the limit, although the fans witnessed some snappy exhibitions. In the main bout between Kid Paris and Claude Phinney the latter's seconds were compelled to throw the towel into the ring at the end of the sixth round on account of Phinney's right eye being badly split. His optic was bleeding and was also badly swollen that he could scarcely see out of it at all. Up to this time both boxers had earned two rounds and two were even.

The other main bout between Battling Christensen and Tommy Williams ended in the fourth round when Williams was awarded the decision on

LIQUOR AND DRUGS SEIZED IN RAID

Ten Persons Arrested as Result of Visit to a Hotel in Theatre District of New York.

New York, Sept. 8.—A raiding party of twenty-eight internal revenue agents, twelve police detectives and two assistant federal attorneys swept down on the Hotel Longacre, in the theatrical district last night, arrested ten persons and seized quantities of narcotics and liquor.

Assistant District Attorney Connolly, who carried a search warrant, said the raid was made as a step in a campaign to put a check to the widespread traffic in drugs in the white light district. While the raid was still in progress Mr. Connolly emerged from the hotel to announce:

"We are finding hypodermic needles, stoves for cooking narcotic drugs and all sorts of paraphernalia all through this place, and we are not through yet." The raid lasted an hour.

WHERE GREEK AND TURK ARE BATTLING

Turk Nationalist forces have launched a great offensive movement against the Greeks in Asia Minor. Their purpose is to drive the Greeks out of the area known as Anatolia and subsequently to oust them from Smyrna (Shown on the map above the words "Mediterranean Sea"). Strategic points on the Bagdad railway, held by the Greeks for more than a year, have been captured. These include Aghakish, which will easily be located on the map. The Greek forces, which were to have made communication between the Greek army in the region and that at Eskishehr, which was to be the Greek base of supplies. The capture of this place cut a march on Constantinople before the powers forbade them, were withdrawn and a rushed to Smyrna for its defense. The big powers having confirmed Greece in the possession of Smyrna and other territory are greatly alarmed over the development. The flanking illustrations show King Constantine of Greece, whose throne is endangered by the recent adventures in Anatolia, and M. Venizelos, (with the beard), former premier and one of the greatest of modern Greek statesmen. There is said to be a strong demand for his recall to office in this crucial hour for Greece.

MR. FOSS SHATTERS SOME INSIDIOUS PROPAGANDA

Did Not Know Who Owners of Musquash Land Were When He Recommended Development There.

C. O. Foss, chief engineer of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, yesterday asked the newspapers to publish the following:

To the Public:
As I am informed that it is being claimed by some people that the reason why the development of the Musquash proceeded with first an interest in the Ingleswood Pulp and Paper Company might get a big price for such interest, I wish to make the following statement:
When I discovered on the first of July, 1920, that we could divert the west branch of Musquash into a common power-house with the east branch and could develop practically the same power as in two power-houses on the Lepraux, with the storage more easily secured and more accessible to operate and the whole undertaking seven to eight miles nearer the city, I quickly recommended that the Musquash be developed first.

I first submitted the proposition to the consulting engineers who promptly approved it, after which the commission made a report to the government-in-council asking for authority to prepare plans, which was granted in the usual order-in-council. The initiative came from me to the commission and the government and not from the government to the commission.
Up to this time and for months after I did not know that any parties outside of the Stetson Cutfur Company had any interest in the Ingleswood Company, not that it would have made the slightest difference in my decision and recommendation, but I am merely stating a fact.
The matter is now being prepared for arbitration as provided in the act governing the procedure in such cases, and in the end the Ingleswood Company will be paid only what the court of final resort awards them. If any one doubts the truth or sincerity of this statement, they have only to watch the proceedings to have their doubts removed. This statement having been shown to the premier, he fully corroborated the part referring to the government's action and that referring to the determination of damages.

REGRET RETIREMENT OF DR. THOS. WALKER

A resolution of sincere appreciation of his work for the institution and of regret at his retirement from the office of president was presented to Dr. Thomas Walker at the meeting of the directors of the Home for Incapacities held yesterday afternoon in the home. Dr. Walker was the first president when the home was opened in 1900 and held that office until the present year. His resignation had been accepted at the previous meeting. F. B. Ellis read the resolution, which was feelingly expressed and told of the very high esteem and regard in which Dr. Walker was held by his fellow members on the board. Routine business chiefly occupied the meeting and James S. Gregory, the newly elected president, was in the chair. There are no vacancies in the home at present.

A ST. JOHN SINGER.

To The Editor of The Times:
Sir,—I am a stranger in your city, for a few days, and feel I would like to pay a tribute to one of your singers, of whom St. John might well be proud of. I have had some difficulty in finding out the singer's name as it was not announced at the Exhibition opening, where I had the pleasure of hearing Mrs. Blake Ferris, truly a very great dramatic soprano, with wonderful tonal quality, her high notes are simply marvelous, especially in the soft passages, also great sustaining power. I am of the opinion that this singer could be one of the great singers of the day and to attain but height means the larger cities. I am in a position to hear the great artists all the time and can truthfully say that this singer is in a fair way to be one of the great.

REORGANIZATION OF AMES HOLDEN

Bond Holders of Two Companies Ratify Plans—Tire Concern to Act Soon.

The ratification by the second mortgage bondholders of Ames Holden McCready, Ltd., and the first mortgage bondholders of the Ames Holden Tire Company of the plan for the reorganization of this old-established footwear enterprise leaves only two more steps in the proceedings before reorganization can be accomplished.
Following ratification of the plan by the shareholders, there remains only the final action of the Ames Holden Tire Company to make the plan complete. The latter company has already outlined its policy, i. e., to remain a separate entity, and perhaps use the new company, made up of the parent company and the felt company, as a distributing agency for its products.
In common with the boot and shoe trade generally, there is considerable improvement reported in business, and it is said that means have been found for the effecting of substantial internal economies.

LONGSHOREMEN TAKE WAGE CUT

New Agreement Signed in Montreal—Fifty Cents for Day and Sixty Cents for Night Work.

Montreal, Sept. 8.—A general cut of ten cents an hour is provided in a new wage agreement signed here yesterday between longshoremen and shipping companies. The new scale is fifty cents a hour for day work and sixty cents for night work, with double time on Sundays and higher rates for the handling of certain commodities. Both parties have undertaken to deposit a $2,000 bond to be forfeited in the event of a breach of the contract by either side.

K. K. K. SENDS HUMAN HAND.

Negro Editor Gets Warning With Mail Enclosure.
New York, Sept. 8.—A human left hand, the back covered with red hair, evidently that of a white man, was found in a package sent to A. Philip Randolph, editor of a negro monthly magazine, The Messenger. Randolph, fearing the package might be a bomb, had asked the police to open it.
The wrapper was marked "From a Friend, New Orleans," and bore nine 2-cent stamps. The postmark had been washed off by water in which the package had been put when Randolph first suspected it might be a bomb.

In an envelope inside was a letter signed "K. K. K." In part it follows: "Listen Randolph: We have been watching your writings in all your papers for quite a while, but we want you to understand before we act. If you are not in favor with your own race movement, you can't be with ours. There is no space in our race for you and your crowd. We have sent you a sample of our good work, so watch your step or else you—Don't worry about lynching in the south. If you were here you wouldn't talk about it. Now be careful how you publish this letter in your magazine or we may have cause to send you to some one else. Don't think we can't get you and your crowd. Although we are in New York City, it is just as easy as if you were in Georgia."
The letter is thought to refer to a controversy between Randolph, in his publication, and Marcus Garvey, self-styled president of the Provincial Republic of Africa.

O'CONNELL PICNIC FOR HAVELOCK

J. D. O'Connell, "the orphan's friend," will gladden the hearts of hundreds of Havelock children tomorrow when he will tender them one of his picnics. The event will take on added significance in view of the fact that Havelock is Mr. O'Connell's native place and is the village where he first gave one of these picnics fifty years ago with the first four cents he ever earned. The fiftieth anniversary, needless to say, will be celebrated in right O'Connell style. Since leaving St. John, he had given picnics at Sussex and Renous. He gave one at Charlottetown, (P. E. I.), on August 26 last and one in September in Halifax. Mr. O'Connell says that all will be well.

WHISKEY CARGO SEIZED BY POLICE IN EAST RIVER

Yacht Had Eight Hundred Cases of Liquor Aboard—Seizure Valued at $130,000.

New York, Sept. 8.—Harbor police, yesterday seized a yacht loaded with 800 cases of whiskey and arrested her crew of five on charges of violating the state prohibition enforcement law.
The yacht was the Glendover, a palatial sea-going vessel, said by the police to be worth $200,000 outside of her cargo which was valued at $70,000. She was seized in the East River, after having slipped up stream in a heavy mist.
Much of the liquor was marked "Canada." Police believe the cargo was smuggled in from the Dominion. The quintette arrested aboard the vessel disclaimed all knowledge of her ownership or her cargo. They all gave New York addresses. Four of them claimed to be seamen and the fifth a cook.

Army, Charles Wood of Ticonderoga, and Charles Monette of New York, were killed when a plane in which they were flying crashed to the ground from a height of 3,000 feet due to engine trouble.
J. Raoul LaPierre, 20, of Quebec, was arrested in Moncton yesterday afternoon when he stepped off a train. He was wanted for defaulting with a large sum of money and had $4,885 in his possession when arrested. He is being held for further instructions.

Robbers Get $10,000 in Heavy Loot Opposite Patrolman's Booth.
New York, Sept. 8.—Undaunted by a police booth less than twenty feet away, burglars entered Arnold Wetzel's restaurant in Sixty-seventh street and the Boulevard, Arverne, Queens, stole a heavy safe, which held $5,000 in cash, $5,000 in jewelry and valuable papers, and escaped.

WOODFILL TAKES A JOB.

His Sergeant's Pay Insufficient to Meet Mortgage on Home.
Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 8.—Sergeant Samuel Woodfill, chosen by General Pershing as the greatest single hero of the World War, has gone to work on the Ohio River government dam at Silver Grove, Ky., a short distance across Cincinnati.

"My husband went to work on the dam because he finds it necessary to raise the money to meet the payment on our home that will fall due on Jan. 1," Mr. Woodfill said. "He could never do it on his sergeant's pay and the work at the dam opened a way for him."
Sergeant Woodfill was assigned to carpentering work at the dam. His pay will be $6 a day, which is just twice as much as he receives as a sergeant in the U. S. Army. He expects to remain at this work during the three months leave granted to him by Lieut. Col. Turner, commanding officer at Fort Thomas, Ky., where Sergeant Woodfill is assigned as a duty sergeant.

TO UPLIFT PRISONERS DURING LIFE TERM

Los Angeles, Sept. 8.—Herbert Wilson, ex-evangelist of London, Ont., convicted here last week of the murder of Herbert Cox, as he tried to escape from prison, was sentenced to life imprisonment. Notice of appeal followed the sentence. Motion for a new trial was refused.
"I am a man of God; I trust my future in His hands," said Wilson when sentence was pronounced. Then he asked for a Bible. If he is forced to spend the rest of his life in prison, he is quoted as saying, his plan is to devote time "to uplift of my fellow prisoners."
