AS SCRIBER IN EFFECT FOLLOWS CAUSE, so rarely will disease eventually cause itself upon a system deficient in vital energy, if tonic medication is not resorted to in time.

The necessary tendency of a weak discharge of the functions of the body is to disorganize its organs. Invigoration, prompt and thorough, is the only safeguard. No renovator of depleted physical energy, no restorative of lost flesh, nerve power and cheerfulness, has more clearly demonstrated its efficacy than Northrop's Lyman's Quinine Wine. In this preparation, associated with the salutary medicines which form its base, is pure cherry wine and certain aromatic constituents, which impart an agreeable taste to its article, and give additional emphasis to its effects.

As a tonic, it is invaluable and the desired effect, in the vast majority of cases, remarkably prompt as well as delicate. That good natural appetite, which gives a relish for the coarsest fare, is insured by the use of the Quinine Wine, which also confers brain soothing and body-refreshing sleep. Fever and ague and bilious remittent fever, are diseases to the eradication of which it is especially adapted; but it should be used only in the intervals between the seizures.

The refreshing effects of a good tonic, in all complaints involving loss of physical energy, are well understood by physicians, and the comprehensive influence for good of this preparation upon the system goes far to bear out the professional belief in the value of invigorants as opponents of disease. Be sure to ask for the "Quinine Wine" prepared by Northrop & Lyman, Toronto. Sold by all druggists.

A gentleman afflicted with the chronic rheumatism says: "No description of my case can convey the idea of the benefit I have received from the use of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. I believe it is the best article in the world for rheumatism."

WILSON'S in considerable numbers passed over Chatham yesterday.

"Ma Too" initiates us in offering inducements to Holiday shoppers. Our Holiday announcements indicate where the people may find the best assortments of Holiday goods.

BEAR RIVER.—The ladies of Bear River, N.S., are preparing for a supper on Wednesday Eve, the proceeds to go into the fund for repairing the Presbyterian make at that place.

THE "ADVOCATE" says it is some months since it has had correspondence with Mr. (Inspector) "Vernon." That means "directly," of course. "Who wrote" "A note" responsible for it.

TO OUR READERS.—Mr. C. A. Cloutier's "Dial" is ready to be read next week. "Saboteurs," "Pukonians," will also have patience with us until next week.

A FIRE ALARM.—On Sunday evening a fire alarm was sounded at eight o'clock. The kitchen chimney of the new house belonging to Mr. J. B. Wallington, 100-102, had taken fire, but was extinguished with little or no damage.

FOR THE WEST.—Parties who contemplate going to the West, either via the northern or St. John route are requested to call at the Miramichi Bookstore, where they may obtain information as to the cheapest rates, routes, etc.

OUTLINES.—The first page of the season by members of the Chatham Curling Club was played on Tuesday afternoon about 4 p. m. the result was: M. C. Clark, John Brown, 5-10; D. W. Smith, 5-10; J. B. Wallington, 5-10.

Mrs. J. B. Wallington's Banquet Speech is published in full in this number of the "Advance." Some of the small organs will not doubt be limping along with it when it is stale. The public of both sides of politics may rely on speeches of their leaders always appearing promptly in the "Advance." Our superior facilities for prompt work in this line are well known to all who are acquainted with our local circulation to double that of any other paper.

STEALING A HEIFER.—Wm. Brown of Napas has been committed for trial by G. A. Blair, Esq. for stealing and slaughtering a heifer belonging to Mr. James Shirley, Wm. Colby, constable, and his son Charles were also charged with being concerned in the affair, but being liberated on bail during the examination they disappeared. The case is one in which the accused appear to have been rather easily convicted.

HOMER.—A girl in contemplating suicide. The case is the following, which was part of a notice given in the Moncton Times to "Grip's" "customary anti-tide" cartoon.

Brown, an Admiral of shipwreck, is "disgraceful suicide," and armed etc. It happens to have been Mr. Blake, as the refractory sailor, who was represented in the cartoon, etc. The Times man is a swifly funny fellow and sees a joke at once.

BLANK FOR AS CAROLINE.—Our Blanche correspondent, writing on Tuesday says: "The 'Shoener' 'Four Brothers' Gervais Poulain, (his Sebastian) master arrived at Carleton on Saturday last from Quebec with Small Fox on board. The Captain died on Friday from the disease. The vessel has been placed in quarantine and the crew, who it appears have landed, are kept in a house by themselves. So far as can be ascertained as present every precaution has been taken to prevent the spread of the disease. No further cases are reported as yet."

NEWCASTLE NOTES.

Provincial Land Surveyor Wm. E. Fish, Esq. has just run out and forwarded to the Crown Land office plans of 3,000 acres, in addition to the 4,000 acres surveyed by Mr. Crocker last year, in the Siguay Settlement. This block is to the north of the former one, and the land is in many respects even more desirable for settlement.

As the road surveyed by Mr. Fish runs nearly parallel with Chaplin Island Road and if continued southward would make the distance to town about five miles shorter, the settlers are about petitioning the Government to grant a road for said purpose. The proposed road will cross the Millstream in the vicinity of Clark's meadow, where there are no high banks and therefore the expense of bridging would be very light, moreover this road would open up a very valuable tract of land which is now altogether inaccessible. As some of Mr. Adams' friends are busily claiming the credit of founding this settlement for that gentleman, it may not be out of place to give its history. About four or five years ago Mr. Atkinson, Esq., road Commissioner, succeeded in persuading the Government to grant a sum of money, which he expended in cutting a road to it from Chaplin Island Road, and nothing was done afterwards, until a gentleman who has taken a great interest in the settlement of Crown Lands was induced to examine the tract early in the spring of 1878. This person (as the Advocate would call him) at once set to work urging young men and others to apply for lots, and carried round applications and petitions for years. I'll be glad to see any applicant to sign them. All this was done before Mr. Adams became Surveyor General, but the papers were not mailed until after the Government became reconstructed and even then a great deal of valuable time was allowed to pass before an order of survey was issued. I say valuable time, because it was late in the fall of '78 before the lots were laid out and the settlers did not get any chopping done when the leaves were on, and of course found it literally impossible to get a turn this spring. In consequence of this a number of them became discouraged and left. It ought to be added that several parties from Chatham and other parts of the County became aware of the fertility of this land from what they read in the ADVANCE concerning it, and were thereby induced to apply for lots. I have thought it proper to give these facts, so that the public may know that all Mr. Adams had to do with founding the settlement was to draw a good salary while the "law relating to the settlement of Crown Lands" was being tardily executed under him, he being, at the time, busy in his endeavors to meddle in the Dominion Election, contrary to his former pledges.

IMPROVED ROAD.

The proprietor of the Beach. Foundry is at present getting up an improved double-edger which he claims will supersede the one now in use, and he will guarantee that it will edge the deals straight, which will be a great improvement on the old one.

FIRE MATTERS.

Your correspondent was informed in the matter regarding the ceiling of the Engine House being too low to admit of the Steam Fire Engine being placed on the premises. Since the item appeared in the room has been ascertained it is found that there is plenty of room. It is contended by some that whether these things are true or not, they should not be made public, as publication of them affects the insurance companies, but it should be remembered that there are a great many who do not insure at all who say that their taxes for fire extinguishing appliances are too heavy that they are not able to pay them. The paragraph referred to was based on the statement of one who would otherwise be considered the best authority, and while its publication is regretted, all property holders may feel assured that the condition of the fire Department will be made known so that they may know how much to depend thereon.

NEW STORES, ETC.

J. B. Russell, Esq., has removed his place of business from the "Slaughter House" to his new store opposite the Macosio Hall, which has been fitted up in the most modern style, and Mr. J. B. Russell is erecting a fine new residence on land opposite the convent.

NELSON NOTES.

MR. EDITOR.—I observe that for some months past our little village has been quite ignored in your paper and knowing that you are always glad to note the improvements and doings in the country round I will handle the quill for a few weeks for the enlightenment of the public.

We have just got through a quiet rather dull summer. Our Municipal Election, with all its accompanying interest and excitement is over and we are about to begin the winter. The teachers who have been left for the woods as Mr. Young has now no supplies on hand for the lumbermen. This will be a great drawback to those who intended to go any way back to the woods for a sufficient quantity of logs will be hauled to keep the mill going all next summer.

I notice that the Rev. Clergyman who has charge of this parish is being attacked by an "Advocate" on the subject of the place. It is well known this way is waged by two individuals (some say they are twins) residing in this community, one of whom from his lofty position in a second story, hurls his "handbills" at the Rev. gentleman through the windows of his other in the valley below, with the "Advocate" in hand, telling all he meets that they are the best written documents ever written, and the author answering with a smile, "Ames! I am an opinion, however, they will get their proper reward, and one more their 'creed' was written, overlooking another strain on their career."

"BALLADS OF FATE" is the collective title of a series of Society Verses to be contributed to the Rev. Charles P. Mulvaney, M. A. The first of the series appear in the November number, and their quality is such that we look with interest to the second. In both these lyrics, but in the second more especially, a keen wit is glorified and made endearing by union with true poetry, which our countrymen Society Verse proper, and makes its readers among the poets. The happy blending is very apparent in the following—

"He is a poor old man, you a lady, not from the first poem, and, it is not sweetest of soul untrodden! Who can tell what the future holds—Heaven or disaster, love or bonnet—The second poem is full of warmth and color; and such lines as—

One that drops with more than honey That bid for something attached to his neck. It was lately shot and found to be in a steel trap with about fifteen inches of chain. The foot bone appeared to have been fractured, but so long ago that it had healed, and with such enlargement of the bone as nearly to cover the jaws of the trap, which was with difficulty removed."

CHATHAM SMALT FISHERY.

The following petition has been forwarded to the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, and we sincerely hope that its prayer will be complied with:—

TO THE HONOURABLE MINISTER OF MARINE AND FISHERIES, OTTAWA.

The humble petition of the undersigned inhabitants of Chatham in the County of Northumberland.

HUMBLY SHewETH.—That for several years past the smelt fishery of the River Miramichi has been a source of employment and revenue to a large number of persons who have engaged therein;

That the extent of said fishery has been from the mouth of the river to the lower waters of the river, a length of about thirty-five miles;

That the persons who engage in the fishery in the vicinity of Chatham, over a length of two miles of said fishing grounds are much more dependent upon the industry than those of any other portion of the river, and were it not for the boats as nearly to cover the jaws of the trap, which was with difficulty removed."

Of course, the gentleman libelled by the above can have no immediate regard, because of the worthlessness and obscurity of those who publish the papers in which it appears, but those who are familiar with Hon. Mr. Adams' conduct since his election in 1878 will agree that even if the charges which he implies against Mr. Smith were true they are no palliation of the dishonorable breaking of his pledges to secure of Liberals in Northumberland in reference to his intended course in the late Dominion election; they do not make the circumstances of his accepting office in the Government of which Hon. Robert Young of Carleton is President any more satisfactory to those before whom he is called to give an account of his administration than which we humbly beg to present, and an attempt to have A. K. McDougall, Esq. ousted from the Secretaryship of the Tracadie-Lacarte, which we challenge him to deny that he did, directly, and as a member of the Government, in the Government's name—and while they may feel the editor of this paper with those who do not know him personally, they can neither injure the ADVANCE's influence in Northumberland, nor improve Mr. Adams' unenviable political position. He may as well be contented to be published in the local organs, in the following editorial, which we find in the Minneapolis, Minnesota, Tribune of 5th ult.—

"A British M. P., Lord George Hamilton, has been found ignorant enough to assert that farmers were emigrating from our northwestern States to the Pacific States—and Lord Hamilton adds the further startling information that the exportation of grain from America to the Pacific States is increasing. A boy from the bulls and bears in Milwaukee Chicago and New York. But all English people are ignorant of the fact that the Premier and his sycophant M. P. of the New York Herald of the 29th ult. conducted an interview with the Hon. J. G. Bourke, who was minister of marine and fisheries in Sir John Macdonald's first government, from 1874 to 1878, who had just returned from a trip to Minnesota and the Red River Valley, which furnishes a reliable statement of the fact that the Pacific States are a vast territory, and that the International boundary line in Selkirk, the point where the Canadian Pacific Railway crosses the Red River; also westward through Manitoba, from Selkirk to the Pacific Ocean, is a regular road over the valley of the Assiniboine River almost to the western boundary of the United States, and that the value of the Red River as the finest country that ever travelled over in his life, all the way from point 80 miles north of Selkirk to Winnipeg, a distance of some 500 miles, four-fifths of which lies in northern Manitoba. From the Red River westward for about 400 miles the land is excellent, but requires drainage; west of that the land is a barren fertility. Sir Peter also says that the settlement of the country is advancing very rapidly in northern Manitoba, and that the north of the boundary line in Manitoba, because the latter is more remote and it is not so fertile as the southern part of the country to get there. Besides, the railroad companies usually throw their influence in favor of Minnesota, and induce emigrants in route to Manitoba to settle on their lands. He thinks the Canadian railroads will be rapidly used by the west, and that Manitoba can compete with Minnesota for the incoming tide of population."

Mr. Mitchell has evidently been doing a good deal for the American cause, in the expense of our own country, and it is no wonder that he has been made "Sir Peter" by them.

Canadian Prospects.

From the New York Herald.

Sir Leonard Tilley, the Finance Minister of the Dominion, says a part of last week in visiting the manufacturing establishments of Western Ontario, with a view to judge of the effect of the new protective tariff. He was entertained at a large banquet in the city of Guelph and made a long speech in which he extolled the benefits of the new "national policy."

The government which followed in 1873, however, introduced and passed a Ballot Act, and I am sure they deeply regret that they did it. Witness the power of the system! Witness the triumph of the ballot box in the Jacques Cartier election. (Cheers.) They made a hole in the bottom of the ballot box and pulled out the Conservative votes and replaced them with 600 votes, so great a number of them on one occasion that they counted more of such votes when the box was opened than there were voters in the section altogether, (cheers and laughter) and then came a change in the state of things. The country had grown tired. The Athenians were asked why they wished to punish Aristides, and their answer was that they were tired of hearing him called "The Just." This was just what happened in the case of the late Government. The country repeated, they grew tired of hearing the ministry speak of their morality and their purity. They returned to their old state of immorality, to their Tory proclivities. (Cheers.) As Mr. Lowe said in England the other day, they proved to be hardened sinners. (Cheers.) The ballot was of great use to us because it relieved the honest-voting citizen from the...

We said we would introduce as good a tariff as to know how, and if after a year's experience we found there were errors in it we would not be too proud to amend it in the best interests of the country. (Cheers.) I am pleased to know that in the main it has been successful although in one or two instances it may be susceptible of improvement. We could have it undoubtedly, as it is, for the calm consideration of our countrymen, but we will ask Parliament for some amendments, and show amendments will not be in the way of diminished protection or encouragement to the manufacturer. (Applause.) It was said that I had gone to England and made a bargain with the Mother Country in order to destroy the protection that our manufacturers were protected by the tariff against the English manufacturers. This was stated in the Globe with the usual unparliamentary feeling and desire to sow contention and destroy confidence in the country. We were told I had gone home to kiss the foot of the Premier of England, and to sacrifice the interests of Canada for another position in England. (Shame.) Now, the policy of the Government with respect to the...

We could have it undoubtedly, as it is, for the calm consideration of our countrymen, but we will ask Parliament for some amendments, and show amendments will not be in the way of diminished protection or encouragement to the manufacturer. (Applause.) It was said that I had gone to England and made a bargain with the Mother Country in order to destroy the protection that our manufacturers were protected by the tariff against the English manufacturers. This was stated in the Globe with the usual unparliamentary feeling and desire to sow contention and destroy confidence in the country. We were told I had gone home to kiss the foot of the Premier of England, and to sacrifice the interests of Canada for another position in England. (Shame.) Now, the policy of the Government with respect to the...

THE TRIUMPH OF THE PARTY which is not unappreciated and rightly used by the leaders of the party. (Applause.) Canada for the Canadian. We never professed infidelity. We said we would introduce as good a tariff as to know how, and if after a year's experience we found there were errors in it we would not be too proud to amend it in the best interests of the country. (Cheers.) I am pleased to know that in the main it has been successful although in one or two instances it may be susceptible of improvement. We could have it undoubtedly, as it is, for the calm consideration of our countrymen, but we will ask Parliament for some amendments, and show amendments will not be in the way of diminished protection or encouragement to the manufacturer. (Applause.) It was said that I had gone to England and made a bargain with the Mother Country in order to destroy the protection that our manufacturers were protected by the tariff against the English manufacturers. This was stated in the Globe with the usual unparliamentary feeling and desire to sow contention and destroy confidence in the country. be quite insensible to the blessings of poverty and go to the United States, where they would get good wages under a Protective Tariff. (Applause.) Look at Free Trade England and Protective United States. The Commercial depression commenced in England before it was in the United States, and while it has ended in the United States it still exists in England. (Hear, hear.) What are the prospects at present? England of removing the depression? Is it in the anticipation of selling English manufactures to the United States, crushed and destroyed by the consequence of protection?

REPRODUCTION WITH FOREIGN COUNTRIES The Government of Canada felt that if it were going to introduce any system of encouragement to manufacturers, it must look for new avenues of trade, and we have directed our studies to the matter. We don't feel that we are riding on the wheel. We believe that a Government has a powerful influence for saving a country, for relieving commercial depression. (Applause.) We want Sir Alexander Galt, a man whom some of you perhaps know as being the man who taught the Americans the value of Canadian fish. (Laughter.) We sent him and Her Majesty's Government helped him as ambassador to France and Spain for the purpose of opening up those markets. He laid the basis of...

SUCCESSFUL NEGOTIATIONS with both countries. We have the most cheering accounts from Madrid and Paris of an early reciprocal commercial intercourse. (Applause.) We also opened negotiations with the Brazil country which would furnish a market for all our fish, a large portion of our lumber, our agricultural implements and every thing we can manufacture in return for the opening market to the products. I have the satisfaction to announce here to-night that, but a few months ago, I received a letter from our agent at Rio Janeiro stating that the Legislature had passed a bill for reciprocal trade with all countries; that it was introduced with a view to Canada, and in a few days he expected to be able to inform me that arrangements would be completed for a steam line running monthly between Brazil and Canada. (Enthusiastic cheers.) To show you, gentlemen, how fast our trade is increasing and how by our energetic action we are attracting the attention of the world to our position, only a month ago I received a letter from Japan, signed by a gentleman with an unpronounceable name, the directing manager of a line of thirty steamers that would run between Japan and Hong Kong, offering to put on at a reasonable subsidy a line of steamers to run between Japan and British Columbia. (Applause.) Wherever we can press the commercial interests of Canada and open new markets for her manufactures and products we will do so, (enthusiastic applause.) Mr. Blake in his speech says—and I am glad to see he is evidently coming back to Parliament a wiser and sadder man—he deprecates the use of abusive language. He deprecates the...

FACTIOUS OPPOSITION OF MEMBERS merely because they are brought forward by a party opposed to him. I am glad to see that he is independent, but in his speech I find that his independence is limited to three theoretical questions which will never be carried into law in his own time or in the time of any gentleman here. No matter what the Globe may say, when we come down to the working of the Protective Tariff we find that he is still in the gall of bitterness in the bond of iniquity. He is still engaged in the worship of Gannet & Swablos, the nostrums of Free Traders, as humbly as he did anything in his life. Well, we must be satisfied with anything we can get. We must, as Sanchez Pansa says, not look a gift horse in the mouth but we will pardon him, if a stronger nature than his whips him into voting when he is wanted to vote or to run away. Discretion is the better part of valor. Mr. Blake declared at once that he was in favor of free trade and left it there. This subject has been discussed for years in Parliament and in the newspapers. It has been discussed in the Globe so much so that the Grits themselves say that they only read the New York news, as the only other news that is training a discussion in most N. P. His early training did not qualify him to discuss a commercial question like that. Drs. Johnson and Boswell went to the theatre one night. It was a little noisy and Boswell being being started with the applause commenced to imitate other animals but was not successful. "My dear Boswell," said the doctor, turning to him, "I think you better confine yourself to the cow. I believe that Mr. Blake had better confine himself to Chancery and leave the cow to others. Mr. Chairman and gentlemen, I...

THANK YOU EXTREMELY, on behalf of my colleagues and myself. I thank you in very inadequate terms. Let me repeat that the way I have been sustained in Ottawa and in the Province of Ontario commands my deepest gratitude and claims my most earnest thanks. Never can I forget, while yet holding the reins of office, the warm-hearted support, whether from the agriculturist, the workman or the manufacturer, that I have received in all parts. I can say, Mr. Chairman, truly the language that Burns used to his noble friend, the Earl of Glencairn: The bridegroom may forget the bride that was made a wife yesterday. Even the monarch may forget the crown that on his head he hour has been. The mother may forget the child that sits on her knee. But I'll remember thee, Glencairn, and all that then has done for me." (Cheers.)

CHRISTMAS.—This year Christmas Day falls on a Thursday. The old rhyme says: If Xmas Day on Thursday be, A windy winter ye shall see; Windy weather in each week, And hard tempests strong and thick; The summer shall be good and dry, Corn and beasts shall multiply; That year is good for lands to till; Kings and princes shall die by skill; If child born that day should be, It shall happen right well for he; Of deeds he shall be good and stable; Who that day goes thieving about; He shall be punished without doubt; And if sickness that day betide, It shall quickly from thee glide.
