SPORTING MATTERS
THOMAS CLAIMS WELTER-WEIGHT TITLE
Says Melody Must Accept His Defeat, or Renounce the 142 Pounds Championship.

RUGBY POLO LEAGUE FORMED LAST NIGHT
At the meeting of those clubs intending to enter the city roller polo league, held in Queen's rink last evening, A. K. Munde was elected president and secretary-treasurer; J. F. Byles, was elected vice-president. It was decided that a board of arbitration should be selected by the president. This board will settle all disputes, a majority decision being final. The captain of each team is to be responsible for the members of his club. The teams are to be strictly amateur, and the rules governing the Inter-city Rugby Polo Association were adopted. Several rules governing local conditions will be added.

NEW YORK, March 18—Joe Thomas, the California welterweight, is now a claimant for the welterweight championship of the world. Thomas says he can defeat Honey Melody, the fighter now generally recognized as the champion, and that in order to prove that he is Honey's master at 142 pounds, he will fight the Charlestown man at that weight.
"When I met Melody and defeated him in Philadelphia recently I was practically at the welterweight limit," said Thomas. "Honey weighed about three pounds more than I did on that occasion, and even then I would have knocked him out if the fight had been a few rounds longer. Fight fans are of the opinion that I cannot make the welterweight limit and be strong. They think I am a middleweight. But I am willing to bet that I can defeat Melody at the regular welter limit."
Thomas has two victories over Melody to his credit. Therefore if Melody refuses to fight the Californian for the championship, Thomas will be justified in claiming the title by default, and every-fight article will uphold his claim. There seems to be much doubt as to whether or not Melody will fight in the welterweight limit in his fight with Joe Walcott. The rumors to that effect have not been proved, and Thomas says he does not care whether they are true or false. He argues that Melody is recognized by the sporting public as the champion and therefore is the man to be defeated for it.
In each of their former fights there was no title at stake, for the men fought upon a weight limit above the regular limit. Their first fight was at catchweights, and Honey was knocked out. In their second battle, even if both men had weighed 142 pounds at the ringside, the title could have changed hands only in case of a knockout, for the referee gave no decision.
From the showing that Thomas has made against Melody he should be able to beat the Charlestown fighter easily in a fight for the championship. Melody knows this as well as do the followers of pugilism, but he would be foolish to let the title go to the Californian without a fight. This is exactly what will happen if Melody refuses to accept a challenge to a championship fight from Thomas.

WILL PLAY OFF IN ST. STEPHEN
The play-off between the Marshalls of Marystown for the championship of the N. B. A. H. League, will take place in St. Stephen, on Wednesday evening. The Marshalls will leave for St. Stephen tonight. The line-up will probably be as follows:
Fags, goal; Patterson, point; Wood, rover; cover point; McAvity, rover; Clawson, centre; Mooney, left wing; Rising, right wing.
Some faithful rovers will also accompany the team to the border city. A referee has not yet been decided upon, but the names of Charles Allison, Frederick and Captain McWha of the ex-champion Thistles team of St. Stephen, have been mentioned.

AMHERST DEFEATS SACKVILLE

A bird's nest lay on the ground directly in front of him. In another moment the horses would have trampled on the nestling. The mother bird was flying about and chirping in the greatest anxiety. But the brave general had not brought out his army to destroy a bird's nest.
He halted for a moment, looked at the little birds in the nest below and then gave the order, "Left oblique!" Men, horses, mules and wagons turned aside and spared the home of the helpless bird. Months and even years after those who crossed the plains saw a great bend on the trail. It was the bend made to avoid crushing the bird's nest. Truly, great hearts are tender hearts, and "the loving are the daring."

A BIRD'S NEST
How It Was Saved From Destruction by General Stanley.

HOW HE GOT EVEN.
During civil war times Gilman Fay, a local character known by all as Gil, being in need of groceries and household necessities, went to the general store in Fayetteville, kept at that time by Colonel Dexter Fay, to make his purchases. The amount was 68 cents, and Mr. Fay tendered the clerk a one dollar bill. Changing scarce in the store, as was often the case during those troublous times, the clerk passed him some slips of paper with figures on them to equal the amount of change due. Gil looked at the slip, then at the clerk, and slowly said, "What's all this?" "Why, that is what we are giving for change now. When you get one dollar's worth, we will pass you the change in this paper." Gil went out. A day or two after this occurrence Gil went to the store again for some tobacco. The clerk passed out the plug, and Gil put his hand in his pocket, pulled out a handful of pinpoints and handed them to the clerk saying, "These are what I am using for change now. When you get a dollar's worth I will redeem them."—Boston Herald.

LOCOMOTIVE ON SNOW HAULS LOAD OF LOGS

Used in Pineries of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Other Northwestern States.
MINNEAPOLIS, March 18.—A new and powerful snow locomotive for use in large part in hauling logs in the pineries of northern Minnesota, Wisconsin and other northwestern states, has been built and put into service.
A portable boiler, frobox pattern, is mounted on a heavy channel iron frame which extends from the extreme front to the rear of the machine. The channel support ends at the boiler tender. A water tank is carried under the boiler on the same frame. The latter in turn is supported by the heavy traction wheels. These wheels and the sled in front. The boiler is ten feet in length, thirty-five inches in diameter, tubes 1 1/2 inches.

Four cylinders are provided for transmitting power. These are attached in pairs, two engines on each side of the boiler, bolted to the frame and holly an upright position. Each pair of engines is equipped with reversing link motion.
The traction device consist of two heavy runners, one on each side of the engine, which are carried on a 5 1/2 inch iron shaft. On each end of these runners is attached a pair of heavy boxes, in which iron shafts run. Each shaft has a heavy sprocket wheel, and these wheels mesh into and carry the traction device. The latter are 12 inches wide and about 23 feet long.
Each pair of runners also has two two-tooth-steel roller castings. These castings are on the sides of the sprockets under the tread chain. This traction device is novel, and certainly the most interesting part of this locomotive.
When the engines are started, power is transmitted by spur pinions on crank shafts to pinions on the front end of the driving shafts. On the rear end of these driving shafts are attached large bevel pinions, which mesh in large level gears running on quills on the main bearing.

These bevels also have a spur gear attached to them, which carries the power through an intermediate gear and another spur gear to the shaft of the rear sprockets, the rear being the driven sprocket. All gearing is cut from solid steel. The runner castings, sprockets, tread chains and all parts from a high grade of cast steel, and are built for heavy work.
The cab is fitted up in the usual locomotive style, each engine having traction lever and reversing. The regular type of locomotive throttle is used.
These engines weigh about fifteen tons without coal or water, and about twenty tons when ready for the road. With 200 pounds of steam pressure they develop about 100 horse power, and are a stand of from four to five miles an hour.
When the roads are well graded and level, these engines will handle from 100 to 150 tons of logs. Several engines hauled 60,000 feet of green hemlock and hard wood to the load, and made three round trips every ten miles on a eight-mile road, or fifty miles a day.
The builder of these snow locomotives, the Clatsop Lumber Co., of Clatsop, Wis., has delivered several of them to lumber firms, principally in Minnesota and Wisconsin, and successful use is being made. One engine, near Walker, Minn., took nine sleds to the landing, each sled carrying 12,000 feet of white pine and Norway spruce, and made four trips on a five-mile road every day. This engine is particularly serviceable when the timber is scattered or stands in small blocks.

THE MONTREAL TRAIN.
The Montreal train, due to arrive in this city at noon, was over four hours late yesterday owing to a collision with a freight train at Wink. The passenger cars were completely destroyed, the postal car was considerably wrecked and the engine and roadbed were somewhat damaged. An incoming freight standing on the main line was struck by the Montreal train, the engine of which was carried into the empty passenger cars, being brought there. The line was blocked for some time. It is not yet known who is to blame for the accident. No person was hurt.

The young daughter of Mrs. Nelson Parise, who lives on Main street, was coating down the alley next to her mother's house. The alley, which is one of the steepest hills in North End, situated near the Main street Baptist church, was a glare of ice, and the little girl when coasting gained such impetus that he slid went over to the other side of the street. On one of her trips a large sledge hauled by a team of horses was coming up the street and just as it came near the alley the child was coming out at a very high rate of speed. She could not stop up, nor could the teamster do any thing, and she crashed into the sledge, one of the wheels partly passing over her. The onlookers were horrified and expected the child was killed, but she luckily escaped serious injury. Dr. McIntyre was called and found that she was very severely bruised about the shoulder and had one knee badly wrenched. There were no internal injuries.

TAFT GREETED AS THE NEXT PRESIDENT

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 18—The Yale chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa held its 127th annual dinner tonight at which the guests were Secretary of War William H. Taft, a member of the chapter, and Professor Barrett Wendell of Harvard, both of whom were among the speakers. The interesting incident related to the introduction of Secretary Taft.
Prof. Wm. Lyons Phelps in presenting Secretary Taft to respond to the "Test of high stand in college life," introduced him as the "Next President of the U. S.," saying that while Mr. Taft might be tired of being nominated because those who did the nominating were not the delegates to the next convention, the Phi Beta Kappa could not let the opportunity pass without adding its voice to the call which has gone to him at the many dinners he has attended of late.
Secretary Taft, in a spirit of humor, in responding, said that he had been nominated in Latin, which nomination had been translated into English by a professor of English, and he could not help recalling what a professor of another kind of English, Speaker Cannon, had told him at the Gridiron Club, which was, "Young man, you have ambition, but don't you know that you can't be nominated by Saints?"
The secretary said that the nomination given him by the Phi Beta Kappa would not cite him or cause any bees to buzz.

THE TURF

The New Glasgow Chronicle says: Charles Sweet, the horse trainer, is now driving for F. Duncanson, of Antigonish, N. B. In the string he is handling are Etta Mack, 2:21 1/4, other green ones, and a rumor says, John M. 2:02 3/4, a pretty likely candidate for the free-for-all.

MATCH RACE.

A friendly match race for $100.00 a side will take place at Antigonish on Wednesday, between the well known trotting stallion, Simon W., 2:28, owned by W. M. Sumers of that town, and Cate, 2:22 1/4, owned by G. T. McNutt, of Sherbrooke. A race was advertised for Saturday but did not fill, largely through the fact that the horses have, St. Gammon, of New Glasgow, has been managing Mr. McNutt's horse the present winter.—Halifax Herald.

PRINCESS PASSENGER IN RUNAWAY BALLOON

Royal Italian Woman is an Enthusiastic Aeronaut and Athlete.

Ascends Far Into the Heavens to Witness London Sunrise.

LONDON, March 18.—One of the most ardent followers of ballooning is the young and beautiful Princess Costantini Teano, of Italy. Born Donna Vittoria Colonna, she is partly of English parentage, her mother is the only child of the late Lady Walsingham by her second husband, the Duke of San Teodoro.

Donna Teresa Caracciolo, as this young lady was called, married when very young the Duke of Marino, now Prince Marc Antonio Colonna, the head of an ancient historic house.

FAR UP TO SEE SUN RISE. The princess tells of one ascent made last midsummer to see the sun rise, which rather fell short of her expectations because she could not keep awake to watch the dawn as seen from a great height. But as all the party of four were in the full swing of a London season and its late hours, it is not surprising to hear that the ladies immediately made themselves as comfortable as they could on the bags of ballast and went sound asleep. Whether the dawn came "like thunder out of the China Sea" or not she did not say; but rather dwell on the ease and precision with which the descent was made within reachable distance of a farmhouse, out of the kitchen chimneys of which smoke could be seen.

ONE HARD EXPERIENCE. There has been, however, one alarming experience in the Princess' aerial trips, which caused great anxiety to her friends at the time. It was at the end of last September and the day after the famous balloon trials of races which started from Paris, that the Princess, another lady, Lord Royston and Jacques, the famous professional aeronaut, ascended late in the afternoon with a hurricane blowing.

The inky darkness and deluges of rain, as well as the tremendous speed with which they drove along—eighty miles an hour—soon swallowed up all landmarks and bearings, and for four hours they sailed on the wings of the wind, without having the least idea of what direction they were being borne. As may well be imagined, the two men of the party kept a sharp lookout, and presently Lord Royston's yachting experience enabled him to call out that a light which suddenly glimmered beneath them must be a lighthouse.

They were then only 150 feet above the ground, and without a moment's hesitation Jacques pulled the rippling line and so caused the balloon to collapse at once, taking the chance of a sudden and even violent descent to earth instead of the risk of being carried out to sea. The descent was both violent and sudden, but fortunately it was made on a mud flat, softer even than usual by reason of the deluges of rain, and the sea was only 100 yards off, so there had indeed been no time to lose.

At last they discovered they were on the coast of Holland, and even after they had struggled back to means of transit it took them twenty-four hours of ceaseless travel by boat and train to

A SMALL BATHROBE.

2363—Little folks need bathrobes quite as much as their elders, for the coming of a warm tub into a cooler room often leads to a bad cold and no end of trouble and worry unless the small person is sufficiently covered. Far from being a luxury, this article of apparel is a necessity without which no one should be. The one sketched closes at the side or the front and has a convenient pocket for the handkerchief. The monie hood at the back is a very charming and quaint and should please any small wearer. Eldersdown and quilted lined are favorite materials. The gown is one very easily made and the varied amateur would find no difficulty in developing it. For the medium size 2 3/4 yards, 36 inches wide are needed.

2363—SIZES: 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 10 years.

WHAT WORDS CAN DO.

"Any one who swears," declared the bishop of Carlisle, "manifests the beggarliness of his vocabulary." The Concord Patriot puts it in this fashion:

"People swear because they do not know the possibilities of plain English or have not the skill to manipulate it so that it will yield the amount of fire they want. You can do almost anything with common words. No matter how tame and lifeless they look standing in stupid rows as if they didn't know enough to come in when it rained, they can be made to dance like imps, to frolic like fairies, to float angelwise on light wings, to glow like fire spirits. They can do things that make the ordinary bits of profanity look like feeble scarecrows stiffened up with a fence stake. The cure for profanity—reformers and educators please make a note—is merely wit enough to handle your words so that swearing will seem like baby talk in comparison."

CINCINNATI, O., March 18.—Two persons were killed and ten injured by the collapse of a three story brick building tonight at the corner of Front and Plum streets which has been surrounded by the Ohio River flood for several days. The building was occupied by several Italian families. Middle aged woman and her three year old child were instantly killed. The building was surrounded by ten feet of water which weakened the walls and caused the collapse.

SCHOOL BOARD KEEPS RECORD OF SPANKINGS

Names of Paddles-Users and Paddles Reported on Weekly

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., March 18.—Says he has a novel record among his other school memoranda in the shape of reports on the number of children spanked during the week, the reasons for punishment, the names of the teacher and spankee and of a witness to the ceremony.

This record is kept as the result of a resolution adopted a number of years ago, which provided that when a child has committed some offense that merits corporal punishment, another teacher shall be called as a witness while the offending teacher administers the punishment. The resolutions also provides that a full record of such disciplinary measures shall be kept and placed on file with the secretary of the Board of Directors.

Under these circumstances it ought to be a comparatively easy thing in years hence, when any of these Says boys has achieved greatness, to turn back to the records of early school days and ascertain the character of his behavior then.

If all School Boards were to keep such records they might form the basis of an interesting set of statistics, showing whether bad boys always turn out to be good men and good boys to be of no account in later years.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST

Entry must be made personally, at the local land office for the district in which the land is situated. The homesteader is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans: (1) A: six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years. (2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother. (3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of the homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land. Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent. W. W. CORY, Deputy of the Minister of the Interior, N.B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

BY ROYAL APPOINTMENT.

More than 1,200 tradesmen appeared in the New Year's Gazette—not in the uncomfortable part of it, but in a section which tells them that they are entitled to use the royal arms over their shop fronts. Their warrants, however, as royal tradesmen do not carry the right to the Royal Standard. They are of all sorts and descriptions—butchers, bakers and candle-stick-makers, and, moreover, chimney sweepers, heraldic painters, sword cutlers, interior decorators, gold lace men, geographers, bagpipe makers, bridlecake makers, purveyors of turtle, and—in spite of the horrible example of Henry I.—there is a maker of lamprey pies. There are hat makers and confectioners at Marienbad and Homburg; bootmakers, chemists, and steel pen makers, rose growers, tobacconists, and fruiterers all over the country, and in India and Malta; purveyors of lavender water at Plymouth and Wallington, and even a "contractor of fat" and of "billet wood". There is a maker of yachting shoes, and a manufacturer of tweed, tartan, and Highland cloaks.

REVENGE OF AN AUTOCRAT.

She—I'm sorry you lost your temper over the fried steak this morning. He—But it wasn't fit to eat. She—I know, dear, but you must consider the consequences. You made cook very angry, and she may decide to put us on bread and water.

"If I had that punched nickel, I'd give it to some beggar." "Yes, and you'll die poor. This punched nickel will die first rate to drop in a telephone slot."

ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., MARCH 19, 1907.

TONIGHT'S MEETING.

The board of trade members should be found altogether too small for this evening's meeting. Every citizen of St. John who is interested in civic politics ought to arrange to attend, for there is but little sense in going about the streets condemning the existing system and not lending a hand towards bringing about improvements. Matters to come up for discussion tonight will be of the utmost importance and should be dealt with not by three or four, but by a large and representative gathering. The future policy of the city, will now under consideration which have awakened no little interest, but whether such interest is only tongue deep, or whether it is really worthy of influencing the future policy of the city, will be to no little extent manifested by the numbers who gather this evening. The question of a change to the ward system is the one which now is, above all others, the topic of conversation, and argument is not so much for or against the change as it is regarding the manner of making such a change. The municipalities committee of the provincial legislature has gone beyond its proper sphere in incorporating in the St. John bill an important amendment, which had, at best, the support of only three or four aldermen who were not authorized to speak for the city. The members of the bills and by-laws committee themselves had no power to agree to such an amendment, for it should first of all have been brought before the council, and the common council should not have presented a bill affecting the whole electorate without first giving the people a chance to express their opinions. The present system of electing aldermen is full of faults, but it has been found far more satisfactory than the old ward system. If a change is to be made at all, let it be along the line of improvement and not a return to the discarded ideas of fifteen years ago. The ward system was a failure—regardless of what the direct cause may have been. The present system is not a success—this state of affairs being brought about by the actions of aldermen themselves. The district system, of two aldermen from each of six districts, and three aldermen at large, looks attractive and is worthy of serious consideration. Since there is no particularly pressing need for a change within the next ten minutes those members of the council who profess such an interest in the welfare of the city might arrange for a series of public meetings during the spring and autumn, call a plebiscite next winter, and prepare a bill based on the wishes of the people. Meanwhile what St. John voters should do now is insist in their most emphatic manner that no change shall be made until a plebiscite is taken, and that in any event there shall be no increase in the number of aldermen.

DEFENCELESS.

She called him names . . . He writhed, but yet, although his waving arms demurred, He used no single epithet, Or angry word. She called him names . . . In such a case A gentleman must hold his tongue. Excuse him if he made a face, For he was young. Beside the front, "FitzGeorge," she cried, "Bartholomew Augustus James!" It was with all a mother's pride She called him names.

WORKED THE OTHER WAY.

The late James Wylie, the "Herd Laddie," whose name is synonymous with all that is popular in the game of draughts, received a box of cigars from a German enthusiast during the course of his last battle with ex-champion Martins. "I have to play Martins this afternoon," "Mit dose cigars," said the donor, "you can beat all der world!" "Ah, veel," said Wylie in his quaint Scotch manner, "I have to play Martins this afternoon."

ROOSEVELT AND THE RAILROADS.

President Roosevelt through his railroad policy has been stirring up in United States financial circles almost as great a commotion as he did in industry with his Upton Sinclair packing house war club, a year or so ago. He has evidently, in spite of very harsh criticism, held to the belief that the end justifies the means he adopts. In order to bring about needed reforms in the packing business Roosevelt contumaciously rebuffed reports of criminal neglect on the part of those engaged in the industry. As a result, the exports of dressed and canned meats fell with a dull thud, and some millions of dollars were lost to the country. But the packing houses have recovered from this blow, their work is going on with as much vigor as before, and oddly enough there is more confidence on the part of consumers than at any time in the past. The treatment was heroic, and effective. In the case of the railways it will no doubt be the same. People were aroused by the exposure of the rebate evil and later by the facts made known during what was designated the Harriman investigation. A small sized panic followed and a Wall Street campaign arranged by Harriman to turn the public mind against the Roosevelt policy. In this as usual the president has come out ahead. During the past week it is estimated that a billion dollars in water has been squeezed out of various stocks, chiefly railroads and naturally enough it is only the financiers who lose. The unassuming stockholder who paid twenty dollars for a share which later went up to two hundred, still has his twenty dollars of actual value, and a chance of receiving larger dividends than formerly, while the magnates, so called, who have done the manipulating, lose much of their paper wealth. Roosevelt has prevented a financial panic by the premature redemption of some $23,000,000 in government bonds, and by making effective a bill recently passed under which customs collections may be paid into local banks. This relieves the money stringency and enables financial institutions to tide over the present crisis, without disturbing in any marked degree the progress of industry. The Harriman fiasco has neither helped Harriman nor injured Roosevelt. Instead of the latter it has assisted in the development of the president's policy and has brought certain securities to a more reasonable paper valuation.

WHEN THE SWEET SAP DRIPS.

There is promise in the hedges and the briars are aglow, There is music in the marshes where the reeds are bended low; There's a tonic in each zephyr that goes sweeping through the swales, There are thrilling songs of profit in the tinkling of the pails, And the farmer's boy is busy blowing on his finger tips, As he wishes it were summer. When the sweet sap drips, The early robin sings, Of the glory that is coming and the charm of earthly things, There are whispers in the thicket, there is courting in the brake, All the furry little creatures that have slumbered are awake, And the farmer's nose is weeping, as from pail to pail he skips, Wearing mittens that are soggy.

TO ASK AID FOR KINGSTON.

Deputation Going to England—Swettenham at the Head of Relief Work

KINGSTON, Jamaica, March 18.—An enthusiastic demonstration took place yesterday afternoon on the occasion of the sailing of the Jamaican deputation, headed by Archbishop Nuttall, to plead with the British Government for a substantial grant, besides a loan of $50,000, on easy terms to provide means for rebuilding Kingston. Everybody and everything continues at a standstill pending the decision of the government. During Archbishop Nuttall's visit to the Government-General Swettenham will have charge of the relief administration. He is arranging to make his home on his private property in Jamaica after retiring from office.

Widow Who Throws Hot Water on Merchant is Thumped With Hatchet

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., March 18.—Mrs. W. H. Egan, a widow, filed suit against Bernard Bergman, a merchant, for $1,000 personal damages, and thus brings to a climax the strenuous efforts Bergman has been making to marry her. Bergman, it is said, had asked Mrs. Egan to elope with him. Annoyed that General Donilla, the president of Honduras, at the head of a body of troops had started for Tegucigalpa, Nicaragua, in this movement he is supported by two detachments of Nicaraguan revolutionists commanded by generals Chumorro and Chavarria. The government of Guatemala has refused a request made by Honduran revolutionists to be permitted to cross the frontier and invade Honduras. MANAGUA, Nicaragua, March 18.—The port of Trujillo, Honduras, has been captured by the Nicaraguan naval forces. The Hondurans left behind them a piece of artillery, a number of rifles and a quantity of ammunition.

Smashes Bottles in Street—Ministers, Evangelists, Crowds are Present

LITCHFIELD, Ill., March 18.—Nearly $1,000 worth of whisky, wine and other beverages was poured out on the streets here yesterday in the presence of thousands of spectators, as a result of the conversion of J. D. Toney, a saloon-keeper, to the Christian faith. All the Protestant ministers of the city took a stand on the dais, and when the liquor had been destroyed the vast crowd joined in singing "America." Evangelist Violet made a stirring address denouncing the liquor traffic.

Lot's Wife Would Organize Innocent Sufferers to Force Prohibition

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 18.—"My mission is to organize the drunkards' wives, mothers, sisters and daughters. When that is done the saloons will be gone away with. The Lord isn't going to stand it." In these words, Mrs. Fannie Mosler, herself the wife of a victim of strong drink, explains the lifework she has mapped out for herself. Mrs. Mosler's plan to force the present General Assembly to pass the local option bill is a novel one, but level heads have pronounced it effective if consummated. The woman hopes to organize an army of women who have suffered indirectly through the sale of intoxicants, and to then march upon the legislative chambers with prayer and song, with the expectation that the sight of such wretches will move the spirit of a majority of the lawmakers to favorable action on the local option measure.

WOMAN ASSAULTED BY FIVE NEGROES

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., March 18.—Miss Mabel Mitchell, of Fort Jervis, is in a serious condition at the Thrall Hospital here, as a result of an assault committed by five negroes. Late last night, Miss Mitchell was about to enter the house where she is stopping when five men who had been following her, entered her. Her screams finally attracted the attention of two white men and the negroes fled. Miss Mitchell was carried to court today, and, after she had made a complaint, Arthur Hill, Charles Strong, Water Conover, alias Oliver, a dance hall musician, of Paterson, N. J., Charles Stevens and Theron McClary were arrested, charged with assault. All waived examination and each man was held in $2,500. The news of the assault did not become generally known until the men had been lodged in the county jail and consequently there was little excitement. The ages of the accused men range from 18 to 24 years.

Socialist Leader Plans Judicial Commission on Nunciature Finds

PARIS, March 18.—M. Jaures, the Socialist leader in the Chamber of Deputies, writing in Humanite, says his party has decided to propose in the Chamber a resolution creating a committee of inquiry, with judicial powers, to examine the seized papers of Mgr. Montagnini, late secretary to the former Pape Nuncio here, relating to the time subsequent to the suppression of the Nunciature. M. Jaures anticipates that the resolution will be unanimously adopted. He says that the semi-obscure with which the documents have hitherto been surrounded has only favored intrigues and propagated legends. Their full publication is a necessity.

DOWIE'S WILL CUTS OFF SON; PICKS SUCCESSOR

"Prophet" Gives Widow Third of $10,000,000 Estate—Ousts Voliva

CHICAGO, March 18.—Mrs. Jane Dowie, widow of the dower, one-third, Gladstone Dowie, cut off. Bequest to Zion City, conditional. Wilbur Glenn Voliva, ousted. Successor named, Deacon F. W. Whitte. These are the terms of the will of "Prophet" John Alexander Dowie, bequeathing a $10,000,000 estate to be held in Lake County on Monday. Dowie still claimed the vast wealth which, a Judge decided in the recent fight among his followers, was held merely in trust for his religious organization. In this important document the "Prophet" and founder of Zion City takes final vengeance on his son, Gladstone, and on Overseer Voliva, who usurped Dowie's place. At the same time he rewards Deacon Whitte, who was loyal to the old leader in adversity. It is said in Zion City that this is the substance of the will dictated by the fallen Elijah to his attorney, Emil C. Wetten, but the latter refused to discuss the bequest. One of the unexpected bequests is that to Dowie's widow. Mrs. Dowie left her husband when charges were made against him. It is said that the bequest to Zion City is conditioned upon the followers of the Christian Catholic Church accepting Whitte as the successor to Dowie. Should they fail to do this, the moneys will go to some other purpose, not known at this time.

MONCTON, March 18.—A remarkable cure of a bad case of consumption by means of the open-air treatment has been recorded near here. Charles E. Molins of Hillsboro, with one lung almost entirely gone and the chest affected, had been given up as lost by his friends, when he went under treatment by Dr. Bosford of this city. He built a three-roomed shack in the Caledonia Mountains, in Albert County, and for seventeen months, through spring, winter, summer and autumn, he has lived there, in the open air continuously. Large windows on hinges, admitted the air to his room, and at times during the winter, the thermometer in his room registered twenty-five degrees below zero, but he says he enjoyed the cold. He slept from ten to twelve hours a day, and spent the rest of his time in the open air. His diet consisted of milk and eggs, and the most beef sandwiches, plenty of potatoes, vegetables, nuts and light puddings.

KEITH THEATRE. Regular Vaudeville Performance Will be Resumed This Afternoon.

A by no means unimportant feature of the performance was the week at the Keith vaudeville is that the various items making up each week's programme are entirely new to St. John. This week's bill would appear to be brighter and more snappy than its predecessor. The programme will be opened by illustrated songs, followed by Patchen and Clifton, a pair of clever comedy acrobats, who will keep one in a roar of laughter. Then comes the great Cavana, stated to be the world's greatest wire walker and contortionist. Clever singing and dancing will be furnished by the McGreevy Bros., who are also change artists. The famous Bell and Richards, who will put previous musical teams in the shade. As a refined singer and monologue comedian, Miss Grace Lyon is said to be clever and captivating. "Bumps and Falls" is the peculiar description applied to the act furnished by Diette and Morin, two clever comedy acrobats. The entertainment will be brought to a close with a series of moving pictures on the bioscope entitled "Robert Macaire."

TWO RESOLUTIONS BEFORE THIS EVENING'S MEETING

Will be Introduced in Opposition to the Street Paving and Ward System Bills

At the public meeting this evening in the board of trade rooms A. O. Skinner will occupy the chair. It is understood that two resolutions will be introduced, chiefly for the purpose of opening up discussion on matters of public interest in civic politics in St. John.

One resolution which is in opposition to the street paving bill now before the legislature will be moved by J. H. McRobbie, president of the board of trade.

The other resolution is: "Resolved that no change be made in the civic election law now in force in St. John until it has first been considered by the people." This motion will be introduced by E. R. Macaulay.

The board of trade members will seat about two hundred people, and it is the intention of those citizens who have arranged the meeting that if the gathering is sufficiently large and enthusiastic to warrant such a course another meeting will be held tomorrow evening in Burryman's Hall where there will be room for larger numbers. All who can possibly arrange to do so are invited to attend tonight.

TWO SENTENCED THIS MORNING FOR STEALING

Thomas Hayden Gets Three Months for Taking a Coat—John Brady Two Months for Theft of Watch

Magistrate Ritchie in the police court this morning sent three drunks to jail in default of payment of four dollar fines.

Thomas Hayden pleaded not guilty to stealing a raincoat from the door of Harris Gilbert's second-hand store on Mill street. He said that he met a man named Patrick Cavanaugh on Water street and Cavanaugh sold the coat for twenty-five cents.

Policeman Scott testified that Hayden was seen on Mill street last night and when he saw the police following he threw the coat in a doorway and tried to escape.

Hayden was sentenced to three months in jail with hard labor.

John Brady, a young man, who a few days ago was remanded to jail for stealing a gold ring and a watch from David Mathews was found guilty this morning and sentenced to two months in jail with hard labor.

HIGH GLASS FRENCH WINES FORM SARDINIAN'S CARGO

The Allan steamer Sardinian, from London and Havre, via Halifax, arrived in port this morning and is lying in the stream. The Sardinian is making her second trip here this winter. She brought today a cargo consisting of about 1,000 tons, that portion from London being general cargo while the shipments from France consisted chiefly of high class wines and liquors. The cargo is a valuable one. The Sardinian also brought out a large number of passengers who were all transferred to the Ionian at Halifax and arrived in St. John by that steamer yesterday. Captain Moor reports a fair passage. The Sardinian will remain in the stream until the South African liner Melville, now at the west side of the I. C. R. pier, finishes discharging, when she will move to that berth.

FUNERAL OF DR. A. A. STOCKTON WAS HELD THIS AFTERNOON

Thousands of Citizens in All Walks of Life Pay Their Last Tribute—An Eloquent Address by the Rev. Dr. Sprague

Thousands of citizens in all walks of life pay their last tribute to the memory of Dr. A. A. Stockton. The funeral was held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the large auditorium of Centenary Methodist Church. The impressive accompaniment of the solemn service in connection with the funeral of the late Dr. A. A. Stockton. The usual self-consciousness of an assembled congregation was lost in the sense of private bereavement and public loss. The body was conveyed to the house, Dr. Sprague, at which only members of the family and a few intimate friends were present. Following this the pall bearers being Judge Barker, Judge McLeod, Dr. Elias Alward, J. Douglas Hasen, Senator Ellis and Dr. J. W. Daniel, M. P. Presided by members of the Barristers' Society and by Albion Lodge F. and A. M., and followed by hundreds of citizens representing every walk in life, the cortege proceeded to Centenary Church, this edifice being filled to its utmost capacity.

The service was conducted by Dr. Sprague, assisted by Rev. J. J. Dismal and Rev. James Chip. After the singing of hymns and prayer, Dr. Sprague spoke in part as follows: "With every stroke of the pendulum the shadow falls upon a hundred dwellings and as many families feel the parting pang. At this hour there are eyes watch for the signs of departure, where spirits face the mystery of death. There are many times the number where the parting has been recent and where the shadow has not yet been lifted nor the sore healed. There is hardly one where a casual word may not start sorrowful memories and where hearts do not often in secret hold each link with the past. There is therefore hardly anyone exempt where an evil life has destroyed the affections and the moral nature, to whom there would not be comfort in the revelation, were it really believed and made in the words which sound as sweetly now as centuries ago. 'I am the resurrection and the life. He that believeth in Me, though he were dead, yet shall he live, and whosoever liveth and believeth in Me shall never die.' We meet today because a fellowman has crossed the mysterious river through which we all must go. We meet in such large numbers because he had lived many years in this city and was known to all the citizens, admired by every one capable of admiration for the good and the true, and beloved by very many.

We meet in this place because of the reasons which he held on the one hand in public life, to the City of St. John, and on the other to the church whose home of worship this is and to the denomination to which it belongs. Since Friday morning when the report of his death spread through the city and brought a general sense of public and personal loss, much have been said of him in the press and pulpit; many tributes have been paid to his worth, many appreciations have been made of his character, his attainments, his intellectual powers, and some sketches of his career have been read. There is nothing more to be said. Those who have known him best, and could judge, have said that he was a lawyer of superior attainments, a scholar of varied and elegant culture, an attractive speaker with much of the orator's gifts, a distinguished representative and servant of the people. He was all that, and what more can be said.

Something can be said with which all this cannot be compared, without which all this is, at last, but "sounding brass and a tinkling cymbal." He was a good man, and a Christian gentleman, pure and true, faithful in his private profession and public life. Sometimes when we honor the memory of the dead we speak of their good qualities and rehearse their good deeds, and we try to forget the rest. In his case there is nothing that need be forgotten as there was at no time anything to be concealed. He did not, indeed, wear his heart upon his sleeve, and the duties of life brought him into association with many with whom he could have no familiar friendship, and who though they may have thought they knew him, could have little sympathy with his tastes or appreciation of his ideals. But he had nothing to hide from the keen eye of honesty or the tender sensibilities of the pure and good. No threat of exposure could ever have
