

FARVILLE GIRL ANSWERED AD. FOR A WIFE

"Alice Douglas" Was Willing To Wed Man Who Would Do His Own Cooking—Dakota Girl Wins.

Special to The Standard. Groveland, Mass., Aug. 10.—Marcus Bunce, whose ad several weeks ago for a wife, who might be a suffragette, and which stated that he would do his own cooking, printed in newspapers all over the land, brought him 5000 anonymous letters, has selected his girl.

Of the 5000 odd replies, 90 per cent. of them came from cities and towns near Groveland, but Bunce decided upon a girl in far away North Dakota, a fair resident of the little farming town of Ryder, N. D.

He said in an interview before leaving for Ryder, "The girl I have selected wins a 200 acre farm. She is a farmer like myself. I feel that we are mated. I have never seen her and she may not like me, so I am not going to give out her name, but she lives at Ryder, N. D."

Ryder is a lonely town and Bunce is going to take the five thousand love letters that have been flooding the Groveland postoffice for months with him to read he says, during the long, dreary winter nights.

From St. John he received several letters, some of which openly proposed marriage. Those who wrote to him included Alice Douglas, Fairville, Box 104. The majority of the writers were sensible girls who were attracted by his unique ad which was cleverly worded. They appeared to be in dead earnest. He received hundreds of girls' pictures. The letters came from nearly every state in the union, from Canada and countries abroad, thousands of miles away.

Men frequently advised him for wives but Bunce's ad probably attracted more attention than that of any other and he holds the world's record for replies, 2000 coming the first week.

C.M.B.A. HAD A GOOD YEAR

Splendid Financial Showing Announced at C.M.B.A. Convention—Membership Was Not As Large As Expected.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, Aug. 10.—At the annual convention of the C. M. B. A., the delegates to which number one thousand, it was reported that on June 30th there was a net surplus of $528,799. While the general increase in membership was not as large as expected, this was due to circumstances and difficulties now surmounted. The convention was presided over by Hon. F. M. Hackett, Grand President.

Regarding the Oriental immigration question he showed where the government surrendered all control of the immigration of laborers and artisans from Japan in spite of insistent warnings from the Imperial government based on the modification of the Liberal-Conservative government of 1895.

GREAT OVATION FOR MR. BORDEN

Conservative Chieftain Warmly Greeted in Truro Yesterday.

In Stirring Address He Scored Laurier Government's Record of Misrepresentation.

Special to The Standard. Halifax, N. S., Aug. 10.—R. L. Borden, the Conservative chieftain, who delivered the first speech of a provincial tour in the town of Truro today was given a tremendous ovation by three thousand Conservatives, who gathered from all parts of Colchester county. The demonstration was held in Victoria park and the afternoon was ideal for such an occasion.

Mr. Borden, who has been resting for the past month, was in excellent form and he was never heard to better advantage. He referred to the Halifax platform and pointed out how the Laurier government has been forced by public opinion to adopt its most important provisions. The great chieftain mercilessly attacked the present government as a business administration and said that although the people of Canada may not have the right to demand the highest genius of statesmanship at all times, they have the right to demand common honesty and ordinary business capacity in the management of public affairs.

The gentlemen who compose the present administration have been wont to describe themselves as a business government. A perusal of their record discloses a series of remarkable blunders in almost every important question with which they have sought to deal.

It would be impossible Mr. Borden said, within the limit of a single speech to cover all the instances to which he alluded, but some of the most important he would bring attention to.

Transportation. Touching the transportation question, which is Canada's vital interest, he showed, how Sir Wilfrid Laurier has thrown over the arrangement Sir Charles Tupper made with the Allans whereby a fast Atlantic service was assured, on the ground that his government had secured a better contract. Eventually his scheme fitted out, and the fast Atlantic line became a bye word.

The McKenzie and Mann Deal. He spoke of the extraordinary contract between the government and McKenzie and Mann, whereby the railway magnates were to build a line into the Yukon and receive in return a huge grant of land believed to be the richest gold bearing areas in the world.

The scheme was defeated and McKenzie and Mann had to be compensated under the contract made by the government without the sanction of parliament.

Regarding the Oriental immigration question he showed where the government surrendered all control of the immigration of laborers and artisans from Japan in spite of insistent warnings from the Imperial government based on the modification of the Liberal-Conservative government of 1895.

The Quebec Bridge Disaster. Lastly he dealt with the Quebec Bridge disaster. Mr. Borden said:—"It transpires that the Quebec Bridge Company entered into a contract, not with the great Phoenix Bridge Company, which naturally desired to avert responsibility, but with a company apparently incorporated for the purpose and having a capital of only $50,000. The government entrusted to a company having a paid up capital of $65,000 the construction of a great national undertaking which would cost at least fifteen million dollars. They permitted that company to make a contract for the construction of that bridge with a petty company having a capital of only $50,000.

WHY SPRINGHILL MEN ARE SLEEPY

Soldier Arrested For Sleeping On Duty Claims Atmosphere In Coal Town Has a Soporific Effect.

Special to The Standard. Halifax, N. S., Aug. 10.—There was quite a stir today among the members of the R. C. R., who are on strike duty at the Springhill collieries, when a court martial was held. Sergeant Worthington was charged with being asleep while on duty in time of active service. The sergeant in charge of the guard when Major Fages hearing a noise in the town and thinking the strikers were causing a disturbance, went to the guard house about two o'clock in the morning. He found the guard asleep and immediately ordered the arrest of the sergeant in charge. The court martial found that the sergeant had taken all necessary precautions, and honorably acquitted him.

During the trial it was shown that some 700 feet above the sea level, has a tendency to make all the troops have a drowsy feeling. An idea can be had of the effect of the air when it is stated that a general assembly, which was sounded after the sergeant's arrest, did not arouse all the troops, which it should have done.

YACHTS WILL ESCORT CARDINAL VANNUTELLI UP THE ST. LAWRENCE

Elaborate Preparations Being Made To Welcome Delegates To Eucharistic Congress—Costly Ornaments Arrive.

Special to The Standard. Montreal, Aug. 10.—A flotilla numbering hundreds of yachts will escort to Montreal, the steamer Lady Grey on which Cardinal Vannutelli will reach this city on September 3. The cardinal will have received his first welcome to Canadian shores from Archbishop Bruchet, who will meet him at after Point. The party will then proceed by the Empress of Ireland to Quebec, where they will be guests of Archbishop Begin and thence to Three Rivers, where they will be entertained by the ecclesiastical and municipal authorities.

The Sacramental ornaments for the Eucharistic Congress, and costing in all $9,000 arrived today. They comprised chasubles, copes and stoles in cloth of gold, studded with pearls and precious stones. The vestments are hand-embroidered with most delicate designs. Two of the ornaments drew special attention, viz., the cope and chasuble, which will be used by the cardinal legate. In the centre of the chasuble is embroidered a superb medallion. The theme chosen is the Archbishop of Montreal, consecrating Canada to the sacred heart. At the foot of the medal are the arms of the church and the different provinces of Canada. The ornaments were made in

MINERS CELEBRATE YEAR OF BLENESSE

Coal Miners a Year On Strike Held Procession And Demonstration Yesterday—A Parade And Picnic.

Special to The Standard. Halifax, N. S., Aug. 10.—Hundreds of red flags floated in the breeze in the mining town of Springhill today where the striking U. M. W. miners were celebrating fifty two weeks of idleness.

The idle workmen formed a procession and marched through the principal streets in the business section to the picnic grounds, a mile from the town where a great demonstration was held. There were many little children in the procession and they all carried red flags. Fully a thousand men have been on strike in Springhill for a year and have been living on strike funds. Business in the town is at a standstill and the civic finances are in a deplorable state. The soldiers are still guarding the loyal workmen and the output is daily increasing.

Georgia's Sympathy. Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 10.—A resolution expressing the sympathy of the Georgia legislature with Mayor W. J. Gaynor, of New York, "for the brutal assault made upon him" and hoping for his speedy recovery, was adopted by the house today.

PRISONERS MADE BAD BOYS IN JAIL

Inmates Of Charlestown State Prison Conducted An Ingenious Counterfeiting Plant In Their Cells.

Boston, Aug. 10.—How three inmates of the state prison at Charlestown were able to construct a counterfeiting outfit and manufacture spurious half dollars has been discovered by secret service officers. Ever since July 21, when the state prison officials discovered that counterfeit half dollars were in circulation in the prison and that some had got outside, an investigation has been in progress. At that time it became known that Patrick Hanley, of Lynn, who is serving a 25-year sentence as a habitual criminal, was involved.

Tonight it was announced at the office of the United States district attorney that two other prisoners, whose names were withheld, had been found to be accomplices of Hanley, and that the cases of all three would be presented to the federal grand jury next fall. All three men have three or four more years of their present sentences to serve.

The method of the counterfeiters was ingenious. They picked up scraps of tin and lead about the prison and in some manner secured a jeweler's crucible and some plaster of Paris. One of the trio has a knowledge of electricity and it was he who devised the means of melting the tin and lead. He cut in on the electric light wires in Hanley's cell, attached two pieces of carbon and placed them on a small sheet of iron covered with Breport cement. On the white hot carbon the melted and the coins were manufactured in a plaster of Paris mould. It is suspected that there was an accomplice outside the jail who assisted in the distribution of the coins and the supplying of material for their manufacture.

LABOR UNION LOSES CHARTER

Union Of Shoe Stitchers In Brockton, Mass., Numbering 3,500 Members Has Charter Revoked Following Dispute.

Brockton, Mass., Aug. 10.—President John F. Tobin of the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union, today revoked the charter of the local stitchers' union, which numbers some 3,500 members and is the largest union associated with the national body. Notice of the action of President Tobin was brought to Brockton today by General Organizer Chas. J. McMorro, who instructed the local officers to turn their books and other records over to the general headquarters in Boston. Later Robert B. Upton, a special agent carried the charter and books to Boston.

The revoking of the charter was the result of a decision made by the state board of arbitration in a disagreement with the W. L. Douglas Company. President Tobin ordered the men reinstated and when the union failed to straighten the matter out revoked the charter.

CHARLOTTETOWN HOTEL DAMAGED BY A FIRE

Blaze In Victoria Hotel Yesterday Did Considerable Damage Before It Was Extinguished—Started In Rear.

Special to The Standard. Charlottetown, Aug. 10.—A fire alarm was rung in this afternoon for a blaze in the Victoria hotel. When the firemen arrived the flames had made considerable progress in the back of the hotel at the rear entrance on the bottom floor and were running up on the exterior of the walls on the dry shingles. Two streams were applied and in twenty-five minutes the fire was over. The shingles, window frames and sashes on the walls were badly scorched while a good deal of damage was done to the interior by water.

Would Not Stand For Doucing Girl. Newport, R. I., Aug. 10.—Members of the committee who had charge of the annual "splash" of the civilian employees of the naval torpedo station last winter and which caused a scandal because a dancing girl was one of the chief features of the entertainment, are to be reprimanded by order of the navy department.

THE LATEST BULLETIN SAYS MAYOR GAYNOR'S RECOVERY IS PRACTICALLY ASSURED

Disappeared On His Wedding Day

Albert Melanson Of Moncton Is Among The Missing—Moncton Man Invents Biplane—An Acadian Celebration.

Special to The Standard. Moncton, Aug. 10.—About forty horses are already here for the circuit races on Friday and Saturday.

Albert Melanson, a young man employed in Lea's woodworking factory has mysteriously disappeared. He was to have been married yesterday morning and left his boarding house about 6 a. m., stating his purpose to hire a horse for the wedding party. Since that time nothing has been seen or heard of him. Melanson belonged to Cocagne, Kent county, and had made all arrangements for the wedding.

John Guy, piano tuner of this city, has invented a biplane and in the Gorge about six miles from town today made a test of it, rising 25 feet in the air. On account of high wind, however, he had some difficulty in managing the machine but expects to make a success of it in the near future.

The French Acadians of Moncton and vicinity will celebrate their national feast on Sunday. Hon. D. V. Landry, Senator Poirier and others will deliver addresses. The sermon for the occasion will be preached by Rev. Father Mondou, C. S. C., of St. Joseph's College.

BOSTON SUFFERS ANOTHER BLAZE

Fire Last Night In Automobile Section Of Back-Bay District Did Damage To The Extent Of $100,000.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 10.—Though not recovered from the strain of last night's fighting the great lumber district blaze, the Boston fire department late tonight was called out to a three alarm signal to cope with a fire in the automobile section of the Back Bay district. The repair shop of the Maxwell-Briscoe Automobile Company on the top floor of their five story brick building at the corner of Massachusetts avenue and Newbury street was burned out, together with about a dozen cars which were being repaired there. The total loss is about $100,000, a portion of it being on damage by fire and water to automobiles in stories below the repair shop. The fire started from some unknown cause in the repair shop. There were several explosions of automobile gasoline tanks, but the flames did not reach the great tank in the basement.

DRAGGED DOWN BY SHIP'S MINE

Sailor Was Entangled In Anchor Chain—One Minute And Half Under Water—Barely Rescued.

Provincetown, Aug. 10.—Mining practice by the Atlantic fleet was completed in Provincetown harbor today and the fleet sailed out into Cape Cod Bay to take up torpedo practice. It is generally believed the results of the mining practice will give much satisfaction to the navy department officials at Washington.

The work nearly resulted in a fatality today when Gunner Walter of the battleship South Carolina became entangled in the anchor chains of one of the mines just as it was going overboard and was dragged down with it. For a minute and a half he was held beneath the water until he kicked himself clear and rose to the surface. He was barely alive when pulled aboard a boat by his comrades but he is expected to recover.

The fleet tonight rendezvoused in the vicinity of Barnstable and will commence torpedo practice in earnest tomorrow. The submarine bell tests will also be resumed tomorrow.

New York's Chief Magistrate With Split Bullet in His Neck and Mouth Showed Wonderful Progress Yesterday Toward Recovery and Spent "a Cheerful Day."

Gallagher Talks for the First Time Since the Shooting—Expresses No Sorrow for His Crime but Tells of Alleged Wrongs Which Prompted His Shot.

 DOING WELL.  New York, Aug. 10.—The following bulletin on Mayor Gallagher's condition was issued at 9:30 o'clock tonight:—"The Mayor's progress today has been satisfactory. He has good strength, has rested well, has taken considerable nourishment and is in good condition this evening. (Signed) "William J. Arlitz. "Geo. D. Stewart. "Geo. E. Brewer. "Charles M. Peck. "H. W. Parrish. "Charles N. Dowd." *****

New York, N. Y., Aug. 10.—William J. Gallagher, mayor of New York, lies in St. Mary's hospital tonight with two segments of a split bullet fired yesterday by Jas. J. Gallagher, who sought revenge which he still buried in his neck and mouth, but he has shown not one alarming symptom. It is beyond human power to say whether he will recover, for not even the most renowned specialist can say whether blood poisoning will be the aftermath, but as yet the mayor's temperature has given no cause for alarm on this score. Every indication is that the wound is healing well.

Bulletins issued today and tonight did not vary in their tone of optimism and so cheerful was the patient, and so hopeful his attendants, that Mrs. Gallagher, after an almost sleepless vigil at the bedside, left the mayor's side late today for a forty minute spin in an automobile.

Quartered in a larger and better lighted room in the hospital, the mayor chats pleasantly with those who are allowed to see him and confidently predicts that he will be out in a few days. As yet he has not discussed in any way, the tragedy of yesterday, nor is he even aware of the identity of his assailant. It was reported yesterday that he inquired the man's name soon after the shooting, but this proved to be an error.

No Word of Operation. Aside from deploring that he should have been fired upon for doing his duty, he has in no way criticized his assailant and maintains a marked aversion to discussing the incident. The mayor's highest temperature during the day was 100.35. As septicaemia, or blood poisoning invariably indicates its beginning and spread by a rise in the patient's temperature, the nearly normal standard maintained was one of the most cheering signs to his physicians. His appetite is good, although his diet is necessarily limited to broths and liquid foods; he has shown great stamina of body and mind and so far, as those who talked with him can learn, he is not worrying greatly over the outcome.

One of the most extended consultations on the mayor's condition was held tonight but at its conclusion there was issued a brief bulletin and no announcement was made as to when, if at all, an operation would be performed. In this respect it is pointed out that many persons have lived with bullets in their bodies.

Another Threatening Letter. Interest, of course, centres on the mayor's condition, but Gallagher, now professing a trace of penitence for his act caused further notoriety in his cell in Jersey City this evening. An anonymous letter, vulgarly couched and threatening the life of Street Cleaning Commissioner Wm. H. Edwards, whose powerful blows felled Gallagher, to the deck of the Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse, yesterday, started a police investigation, but generally the commutation is attributed to "Big Bill" a fate similar to the mayor's, the former football player seemed to regard his chances of a long life as good as ever.

Was Policeman "Tipped" On Shooting? Two young girls who said that they overheard an intoxicated policeman indiscreetly remark on Monday night, that the mayor would be shot either on his departure for, or on his return from Europe, set on foot another police inquiry, but nothing tangible had developed tonight. The policeman's number is in the possession of Inspector Russell and while there is little, if anything to indicate the existence of an organized plot to take the mayor's life, the charges of drunkenness prove true, will be tried for intoxication while on duty and with making incendiary remarks. The mayor has been drastic in his police reform policy and he has many enemies on the force.

Gallagher Makes Statement. Gallagher's statement, made this evening, was his first frank talk concerning the crime. "While I will not say that I am sorry," he said, "I hope now that the mayor gets well. But I wanted to teach his officials to regard the rights of subordinates. I consider that I had to shoot the mayor as a lesson to the country. I did what I did for personal principles and was not prompted by an anarchistic belief. "I am sorry that Commissioner Edwards was wounded, for I was aiming only at the mayor. But even the thought of killing him had not been long in my mind. In fact, I reached no decision until I bought a newspaper yesterday morning. The paper said that Gaynor was going to sail for a vacation. That made me angry, to think that he should have a vacation in Europe while I did not even have a chance to work, much less get a vacation. So I hurried over to the Twenty-third street ferry and inquired my way to the Kaiser Wilhelm.

"My wrongs had proved more than I thought I could bear. Over and over I sized up my hard station in life and contrasted it with some other men. Mayor Gaynor, who had wronged me in particular. At length I determined to seek the revenge which I concluded should be justly mine. No, I was not drunk when I went aboard the Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse yesterday morning, as has been intimated. On the contrary, I had not taken a drop of liquor since last Saturday. My drinking on that day was limited to a single glass of beer. "Had I heard of President McKinley's assassination? of course, and I believe assassination is sometime right. "I had carried the gun for nine years. I feared the enemies I had made by writing letters when I was trying to reform the dock department." New Jersey Justice. There is a marked determination among the New Jersey authorities to make Gallagher an example of "Jersey Justice," but it was definitely determined tonight not to lay his case before the grand jury, pending the outcome of the mayor's injuries. The mayor recovers, Gallagher will be speedily tried, charged with assault with intent to kill for which he may receive a maximum sentence of 20 years. If his victim should die, the charge will be murder in the first degree, the penalty for which is death.

SAINT JOHN, THURSDAY MORNING, AUGUST 11, 1910

SIR WILFRID'S EFFRONTERY.

For pure and undiluted effrontery, remarks the Kingston Standard, we have heard of nothing equal to Sir Wilfrid's assumed tone of lofty indignation at the Saskatoon man who dared to introduce politics at the Liberal meeting held in that city. What is Sir Wilfrid's tour through the West but a political tour? He has gone there for the purpose of making political capital for himself and his party, and he has the unmitigated gall to charge another man with unfairness in introducing politics. Here is the way the Toronto Globe reports the matter:—

"In support of the tariff memorial, Mr. John Evans, Nutana, director of the Central Association, who presided at the conference, asked why the farmers should not receive a bonus from the government, the same as the Dominion Iron and Steel Company. The Liberal party have departed from all the principals of Liberalism, and today are the most Conservative government on the face of the civilized globe," he declared. "In 1896 the Liberal government came into power on the distinct pledge of free trade. The ideal system is British free trade. Today you are farther from it than in 1896. In 1896 you promised to skin the Tory bear of protection. Have you done it? If so, I would like to ask you what you have done with the hide?" Sir Wilfrid rose. "We are all British subjects," he observed, courteously, "and we enjoy the right of free speech. My friend has availed himself of his opportunity. He will doubtless agree if I claim also freedom of speech. I certainly realize that a good deal of what has been heard from the various speakers has been commendable, but I must find fault with him who talks politics rather than grain-growing. I am here to confer, to learn, on business for the country's well being, not to debate party differences."

What were the chief planks in the platform of the Liberal government when they were victorious at the polls in 1896? Free Trade and Reduction in Expenditure. It has more than doubled the annual expenditure during the Conservative regime, and the tariff remains practically unchanged. It still embodies the principle of protection to Canadian industries, which was believed in by Sir John Macdonald, and is not a tariff for revenue only, as the Premier would have us believe.

Hence it is small wonder he was constrained to switch the talk off politics and made no attempt to refute the charges brought by this man, who appears to have been a Liberal all his life. And, indeed, he could not refute them, as will be seen from the following extract of a speech delivered by him at Winnipeg in 1894, and thus reported in the Toronto Globe:—

"And now I will ask you what is the policy of the Liberal party? I refer to freedom of trade, such as exists in England, freedom of trade as it is practised in Great Britain, freedom of trade as it is in vogue at the time of Cobden and Bright. We shall give you free trade, and although it will be a hard fight, we shall not give in one inch, or retrace one step, until we shall have reached the goal, and that goal is the safe policy of free trade as it exists in England today."

THE HUDSON BAY COMPANY.

The gentlemen adventurers trading into Hudson's Bay, who 240 years ago formed themselves into the Honorable Hudson's Bay Company, could not have dreamed that the great profits of their company would in the year 1909 reach such a substantial sum as $1,946,686, profits largely drawn from the sale of farm lands and town lots through the great lone land, which was to them but a waste of water and land, and was so considered even 25 years ago.

But great has been the progress of the Northwest, and this has been the basis for the profitable showing of the Hudson's Bay Company's annual statement in recent years. The fur trade from which these profits have been derived for over two centuries still continues to expand although the monopoly features of this branch of its business were lost to it a few score years ago. But its great stores—modern departments—as at Vancouver, Edmonton and Winnipeg, have been at least keeping up the gross returns of its trading, and its land sales have been the company's great profit producer.

These lands, acquired by the company at the time of the settlement with the Dominion government, embracing every twentieth section of the fertile belt—that is, in the Saskatchewan valley—have brought in many dollars to the company's treasury, and every year the reserves become more valuable. The Dominion Census and Statistics monthly indicates how the value of the Hudson's Bay lands have been marking the progress of the Northwest. In 1909, 104,353 acres of farm lands were sold at an average of $12.43 per acre, a great increase on the preceding year, when sales were only 25,449 acres at $11.34 per acre. Town lots, also have formed a valuable part of the company's revenue, these in 1909 realizing $225,188 against $47,074 in the previous year. From 1901 to 1910 the net receipts from land sales and furs and trading profits, were $14,867,400 and the division of profits was $14,168,068.

Canada has been a splendid field for investment for the gentlemen adventurers and their successors heirs, and assigns—for all who bought Hudson's Bay shares; for Canada's grand old man, Lord Strathcona and people of lesser note.

NEW NATURE STUDIES.

Those persons who profess to scorn nature stories because "they are all alike" are missing something. Judging by the reports of recent occurrences in the United States there is, according to the New York Sun, more variety and improvement in this line than has been shown in a summer season for years.

Read this story which comes from Ohio, of the cow Fannie, owned by Farmer Harvey Brown of Yelverton in that State:—

"During a thunderstorm Baker discovered that a bolt of lightning had struck his only cow. Was he 'downhearted'? No. Not after he found that as a result Fannie yields milk of a light blue color which because of its novelty now commands 10 cents a quart instead of the 8 cents which was all that buyers in this section will pay for white milk. In the morning she yields blue milk and at night white. A judicious admixture of the two colors produces a quality of milk which is so good that Frederick C. Boynton, proprietor of the St. Charles Hotel, has ordered all he can get of it."

There is much in this Ohio episode that the struggling dairyman might consider earnestly.

How different the snake stories from the days when it was merely a question of the size of the reptile. For instance a six inch moccasin that concealed itself in the "rat" worn by a young woman of Richmond, Va., and stung her all the day long impressed the lesson that girls either should not wear rats, or if they did they should not leave them lying around in hammocks for little snakes to conceal themselves in.

In Saluda, S. C., is an aged negro woman who seems to have found the secret of eternal youth in rattlesnake steak. She has outlived generations of friends and remained fat and jovial and full of the spirit of youth on this inexpensive diet, which she has never failed to secure, "as by an intuitive faculty she was enabled to find the game within its lair."

Another interesting fact that may go far to settle a long standing dispute comes from Bloomsbury, Pa.:—

"State Zoologist Surface says rattlesnakes can't climb trees. Ralph and Frank Fox of Catawissa say they can. Driving in Beaver township, they came upon a cherry tree and were picking cherries from one of the lower branches when they espied a rattlesnake lodged above. Ralph Fox climbed the tree, dislodged the snake, and as it reached the earth his brother started in pursuit and ultimately killed it."

The same improvement may be observed in narratives regarding fish. No one any longer reports the weight of his fish, for there is always some other angler who had made a bigger catch at the same place. That fish which caught hold of a man's coat tail and pulled him out of a launch off the south coast was merely a base imitator, and the feat was not worthy of the attention it attracted.

An Oregon fisherman's explanation of his failure to deliver a promised catch to a friend is worthy of some consideration. He had really caught the fish, a gigantic salmon trout, had put it in a tub at his home, had turned on the water, and then forgot all about it. The tub filled, the room filled, and the fish escaped through the window. It travelled across lots, along a highway and jumped back into the river at the very place it had been caught. Two boys added their testimony; they saw the fish, but it was so large and was travelling so fast they did not dare attempt to recapture it.

Minnesota furnishes another example of the great power of large fish. When the stone foundations of the piers of a bridge were found unsafe a county official was sent out to make an examination. He reported that the stones had been worn away by big carp butting their noses against the masonry on their way up the stream. To those who doubted the worthy official merely pointed out the crumbling bridge piers, and the river full of fish.

With such incidents as these occurring every day who can really believe that nature study is losing its interest?

The Railway Age Gazette says there was palpable ground for the criticism which the financing and construction accounts of the National Transcontinental Railway were subjected by the Opposition in the Canadian House of Commons, and for the objections made to the Grand Trunk's extension to Providence and incursion into the domain of the New Haven road. The Gazette considers that the nature and energy of the Opposition's attack mean the singling out of the railway question as the leading issues between Canadian parties and possibly the one that will bring about the government's downfall.

Mr. Crothers, who is accompanying Mr. Borden on his Nova Scotia tour, is a prominent barrister of Ontario, representing West Elgin, and one of the ablest platform speakers in that province. In the House of Commons he has already taken a very prominent position; and his indictment of Mr. Pugsley respecting the Central Railway, placed him in the front rank of parliamentary debaters.

CURRENT COMMENT

(Montreal Herald.)

There is a good deal of fad about the automobile craze. The pleasures attendant upon automobiling are largely those of novelty, and wear off with repetition. It is notorious that after the second year a man loses interest in his car. During the period of the constant improvement of patterns, he usually tries to revive his original pleasures by buying a larger, faster and more luxurious vehicle; but that is not a process that can go on for ever. Men moreover are beginning to realize what enormous sums this form of pleasure costs them.

(Montreal Star.)

A Canadian Associated Press despatch says that a Marysville, N. B., gentleman received many congratulations yesterday upon having reached the ripe old age of ninety years; and adds that "he spent the day quietly at his home here." That is the beauty of these New Brunswickers; they can celebrate an occasion of this kind without losing their heads. Had he been a "Blue-nose," he might have gone on an awful tear.

(Ottawa Evening Journal.)

The names of certain leading New Yorkers involved in a gambling raid are not to be made public "on account of their position and families." The late Magistrate O'Garra's opinion on a memorable occasion "I never make any difference between a well dressed and a poorly dressed set of blackguards" might well be nailed over the door of certain American court houses.

Then it Happened

Augustine Angelecke was on a ranch for the first time. For the first time did Augustine stack up against the wild part of the woolly west. Augustine sauntered forth to examine the cows and other agricultural implements. The soonest thing he saw was a native Texas steer. "So, boss," cooed Augustine, tripping up to pet it. Some minutes later they identified him by his red necktie. The End.

CHOLERA IN RUSSIA AN IMPERIAL MENACE.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 10.—Professor Rein, of the medical faculty of the university, who is an authority on infectious diseases, describes the present outbreak of cholera in Russia as an imperial danger. He estimates that the death list for 1910 already numbers 57,000, as compared with 28,000 in 1909 and 17,000 in 1908. The danger is intensified, he says, by the fact that the epidemic has spread from the towns to remote rural districts, where it is difficult to combat.

THE C. N. R. AND THE WESTERN CROPS

Toronto, Aug. 10.—The Canadian Northern people from reports on the western crop conditions received infer that the territory which feeds their lines in the Northwestern parts of Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan will have the biggest crop of any Western area this year. M. H. MacLennan, of the C. N. R., who has just returned from a trip of inspection over the C. N. R. system, says that only in the territory which feeds the C. N. R. are the crops all above the average. Consequently they expected a dear line to handle the bulk of this fall's grain traffic. Weekly reports received yesterday by Massey Harris Co., from its western agents, indicate better crop situation than was expected a short time ago.

SHEDIAC.

Shediac, N. B., Aug. 10.—A large number of strangers are still in town. CITIZENS GREATLY PLEASED; ADVANCE VIEW OF EXHIBITION BUILDINGS SHOWS BIG CHANGE

The 4,000 People Who Inspected the Dominion Fair Plant Yesterday Afternoon Were Favorably Impressed With What They Saw--Great Improvements in Grounds, Buildings and Equipment.

Manager Good and the members of the executive committee of the exhibition association were at home to visitors on the exhibition grounds yesterday afternoon between 4 and 6 of the clock. Mr. Good and his band of boomers seem to be great favorites with the ladies. At any rate the grounds and buildings were gay with the millinery of the fair sex. Over 3,500 tickets were issued to parties anxious to avail themselves of the opportunity to attend Manager Good's reception, and have a look at the improvements effected in the buildings and the grounds.

The sun had taken a holiday in honor of the occasion, but Mr. Good being there with his youthful and radiant smile, it was not greatly missed. Through the main entrance, transformed by the creation of booths for the ticket sellers out of its historic associations, the ladies with here and there a stroller, poured in a stream of beauty, and flowed over the buildings and grounds, babbling like many brooks their admiration of the transformation effected in everything by the magic of money dribbling through the hands of the City Fathers. And here, there and everywhere, Manager Good with his merry men fitted about the green buildings, looking as wise as a magician and as pleased as Punch.

Great Improvements Wrought. The erection of the new buildings, and a grand stand, a liberal application of paint of many colors, the grading of the grounds, and the construction of the boulevard which city fathers Vanwart and Jones both claim as the offspring of their fruitful imaginations, have effected wonders in the appearance of the place, and there was little to mar the beauty of the view which extended over to the hills of Nova Scotia, looming hazily in the offing, except the unpicturesque steel tanks of the Canadian Oil Company, some stretches of unpainted picket fences, Manager Good calling down the master painter because some steps had not been painted, and Col. Sturdee standing disconsolate upon the site of the vanished battery.

Everything about the show plant this year has been arranged to harmonize with the magnificence and magnitude of the ladies' hats, and evidently the color scheme has been arranged with the same purpose in view. The Directors Surprised. Not only was a surprise in store for the general public, but a few of the directors of the exhibition themselves, whose duties had prevented them following the building operations closely, were astounded with the radical changes in the noticeable feature on entering the inner area of the grounds was the elimination of the old battery with its land-

HOW DOCTOR REMOVED HEART OF LIVING MAN AND SEWED IT Remarkable Case of Surgery in Philadelphia--Man Stabbed With Pair of Shears Lives Two Days After Wonderful Operation.

Philadelphia, Aug. 9.—There were shouts, scuffling of feet and the shrill of police whistles from the hospital house in S. 10th street in the dead of night. An ambulance clanged and bounded over the cobblestones four blocks to the Pennsylvania hospital, inside was a moaning, stabbed negro. From the man's left side gushes a red fountain whose stream rose and fell, splashing on the dusky skin, flowing over the glass and nickel of the operating table to the dazzling white tiled floor.

The red pool on the white floor spread wider. The attendants stifled the red fountain in the breast as best they could with cotton and lint. Then the chief surgeon came in at a half trot, pulling on his white coat as he ran. There was no drowsiness in his eyes, though five minutes before he had been sleeping soundly in his bed. "Stabbed in the heart with a pair of shears," the police sergeant had phoned. A call of that description left no time to waste.

The operating room was quiet, save for the faint moaning of the dying man. The negro's flesh was turning livid like an old bruise, as the fountain in his breast drained his arteries. A cluster of lights hung low over the table. The white room with its gleaming glass and metal, the red pool, spreading out on the white floor, the sluggish drip from the ceiling, the white-clad attendants and their red splattered pants, the naked, grayish figure on the table, the red, sodden compressed tied to the dusky side with a white band—that was the picture the room presented.

One of the attendants pressed a cone of ether over the negro's nostrils. The ether sprang to life a supine wrist for the pulse, and with his other hand removed the bandage. The surgeon turned from the tap with dripping hands and uprolled sleeves, deftly picked a glittering knife from the glass stand, waited an instant until the moaning ceased, and the right limb relaxed under the anesthetic's spell, then with one firm stroke cut a deep slit along the dark side, and through the red jet, five inches long. The geyser letter forth again, dyeing the surgeon's hand, wrist and knife. He methodically rubbed his palm dry

RAMSEY WILL PLAY SHORT IN WOODSTOCK

St. John Man Will Play the Position in the Game Between Woodstock and Waterville Today.

Today will be the big baseball day in Woodstock when the Woodstock team will battle with the Waterville, Maine, team.

This season Woodstock has made great strides in the baseball line and has gathered a team that is one of the finest organizations east of the big league centres. With the great Peasley, the pitcher who has been signed for the Detroit for next season, the Carleton County team have advanced in a wonderful manner. Enough money was obtained by subscriptions early in the season to maintain a good bunch of players and build an artificial baseball park, and the energy displayed by the promoters of the game has borne fruit in such a successful manner that it looks as if baseball had struck the Carleton County town to stay.

The Waterville who are to make their first appearance in New Brunswick today when they meet Woodstock are a professional nine and one of the leading Maine teams. It promises to be a great event in Woodstock and the game has been the talk of the town and surrounding country for some time. The Woodstockers are in the finest trim and have been practicing hard for the battle which they will use every endeavor to win.

Eddie Ramsey, the star second baseman of the St. John team, left here last evening for Woodstock and will play short stop for Woodstock in today's big game.

THE COURTS CHANCERY COURT.

The case of Jones, executor of the last will of Catherine Murdoch, vs. St. Stephen's church of this city, the eastern section of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, and the Natural History Society of New Brunswick, was before Chief Justice Barker in Chambers yesterday afternoon.

W. A. Ewing, K.C., appeared for the executor; MacRae, Sinclair & MacRae and Dr. W. B. Wallace, K.C., for St. Stephen's church; H.D. Forbes and M. G. Teed, K.C., for the eastern section of the Presbyterian Church; J. Roy Campbell and Dr. A. O. Earle, K.C., for the Natural History Society.

This case involves the construction of that clause in the will of the late Catherine Murdoch whereby she left $1,000 to the aged and infirm ministers' fund in connection with Saint Stephen's Church, St. John, N. B., and the residue of her estate to be divided between St. Stephen's Church and the Natural History Society of New Brunswick.

There is no such fund in connection with St. Stephen's church, but there is in connection with the eastern section of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. Counsel for St. Stephen's church contend that this bequest creates such a fund. Counsel for the eastern section of the Presbyterian Church contend otherwise and that the money should go to that body.

Counsel for the Natural History Society contend that under the true construction of the will neither of the above are entitled to the bequest, but that the money should form part of the residuary estate.

The witnesses examined were Judge Forbes, William Ewing, Kenneth MacRae and John Willet. This concluded the evidence. No decision was given. His Honor wishing to further examine the proceedings.

DUKE AND MISS ELKINS WILL WED, IS REPORT

Paris, Aug. 9. — A special from Rome to the Petite Republique says that the hostility of the royal family to the marriage of the duke of the Abruzzi and Miss Katharine Elkins has been withdrawn and that the official announcement of their engagement will be made shortly.

Miss Elkins and her mother have been in Europe for several months. Latterly they have been staying at Toblach, Austria, and recent reports have had it that the duke of the Abruzzi, who is now director general of the arsenal at Venice, has made many motor trips from his headquarters to the Austrian retreat of Miss Elkins.

flex quiverlines, at the hair line that separates the living from the stilled heart. Then the knot was tied, the thread snipped off, the surgeon's hand removed. The heart slid back to its place, the assistants sewed up the surface gash, while the surgeon washed his hands at the tap. "He lost a lot of blood, doc." "Do him good," said the surgeon. "Inflammation not so likely to set in." He buttoned up his street coat and went home to finish his night's sleep.

The negro was able to talk to his friends next day. But staying at home did set in. The shears had left their poison. Two days later the negro—his name was Jos. Spence, aged 23—suddenly died in his hospital bed. But for the inflammation his recovery was certain. The marvel is that he lived two days. At the time of his death another negro who had been stabbed to the heart was discharged from the Pennsylvania hospital, cured. Dr. Francis T. Stewart is the surgeon who performed both operations, and who has sewed up at least eight other such hearts.

GANS IS VANQUISHED IN BOUT WITH DEATH

Baltimore, Aug. 10.—Joe Gans, the former lightweight champion pugilist, died at his home here this morning. Gans died of consumption, which manifested itself about a year ago. Late last spring he went to Arizona with the hope of restoring his health, but the disease had been too deeply seated and he declined rapidly. He was brought here last week to die. He was 34 years old.

Joe Gans' true name was Gant, the name Gans having been fastened upon him early in his ring career by a mistake of a referee.

He began his ring career in 1894, but prior to that time he had made a name for himself about a fish market in this city, where he was employed. His first fight for money is said to have brought him $4. The largest purse for which he ever fought was $33,000 in his first bout with Nelson. Of this Gans received but $11,000, he having agreed to give Nelson the remainder, win, lose or draw.

Gans won the title of lightweight champion from Frank Erne, at Fort Erie, Ont., in one round in 1902, and lost it to "Battling" Nelson in 1903 in the seventeenth round.

THE RAILROAD KNOCKER The man who knocks on the railroads belongs to the Lobsteria. As the railroads prosper we all prosper. When the shops shut down, orders for iron are cancelled, and the empty line the sidings, we are all up against it, and the bread-line forms.

Always in times of stress a vast number of people look to the Government for relief. But what shall we say of a Government which makes war on those who are now giving work to millions, and thereby assure us peace and prosperity? If the men in charge of our Government insist on being Business-Balters, the horse roar of the mob, demanding work or bread, will again be heard and women and children will be pushed defenseless into the storm. Business in this country gives work and wage to everyone who wants to work. Let business alone.

Ex-Parte actions against the railroads should be forbidden by the statute. Burglary, hold-ups, strong-arm tricks, rape, are all ex-parte proceedings. And what think you of the dignity of a President who resorts to an ex-parte action in order to gain a cheap and transient legal victory over a very important part of the people, whom he has sworn to protect in their legal rights.

The Railroads have only one thing to sell, and that is transportation, and the people of this country are willing and anxious to pay for the transportation all it is worth. We are not mendicants, and we ask for nothing at less than its value.

He who tries to incite class-hatred and makes it appear that there is war on between the railroads and the people is a wicker-sham. The railroads thrive only as the people thrive.

GRAIN AND CATTLE IN CHICAGO MARKET CAUTION SHOWN IN STOCK MARKET

New York, Aug. 10.—A spirit of caution on the part of those who have been operating in the stock market for an advance in prices began to manifest itself in the action of the market today.

The low prices of the year were touched two weeks ago and no important interruption to the recovery has occurred since that time.

As the recovery has proceeded the demand to borrow stocks for delivery has diminished and today there was an accumulation of a reduction of the uncovered short interest and of the potential demand for stocks, which were taken to mean that buyers at the lower prices were desirous to convert their profits into cash.

An item in the day's metal statistics was the statement of the July output of gold at the Rand, showing 638,714 ounces, valued at $13,565,415.

ST. JOHN BOAT CLUB OPENING

Successful North End Organization Will Open Their New Club House at Marble Cove This Evening.

Tonight there will be a grand opening of the St. John Boat Club's new clubhouse at Marble Cove, and the programme promises to be one of the best ever given in the city.

Commodore S. P. Gerow and an able committee, have been hard at work for some time, making arrangements for the opening and nothing has been left undone to make it a grand success.

Among the 300 members is some of the best talent in the city and they will be assisted by other entertainers who are not members of the club.

A large selected orchestra of musicians has been arranged for and a grand orchestral programme will be given besides a number of vocal and instrumental selections.

The members have been using the new clubhouse for some weeks, but the opening was not planned for until the building was finished and in shape, and this has at last been accomplished at a great expense.

The large assembly room and the spacious verandas have been tastefully and gaily decorated with flags and streamers and nothing has been left undone to make the night one to be long remembered.

When it is considered that the St. John Boat Club has only been in existence for about four months, that the membership has grown to about 300, that the cove has been dredged out to a depth of about twelve feet at low water, the large and beautiful clubhouse has been erected, and over $1000 has been expended, the promoters and members are to be congratulated on the great success of their efforts.

One afternoon of races has been held so far since the club has been organized, and another meet will be held shortly at which some valuable prizes will be donated.

There being such a large membership it has been decided that the members will be permitted to invite their friends to the opening, and only a few special invitations have been issued.

THE HARPOON AGAIN PROVED SUPERIORITY

Marble Head, Mass., Aug. 10.—Two more trial races to select an American team of three yachts to meet the challenging Spanish boats were sailed off here today in steady, wholesome breezes and choppy seas, and the Harpoon, owned by C. P. Adams, 2nd, of the Eastern Yacht Club, once more stamped herself as the best Sonder boat of the year in at least light and moderate conditions. She seems almost certain to be assured of a place in the international contests next week.

As the Beaver, owned by C. M. W. Fonger, also of the Eastern Yacht Club, won both races in the second division today, her chances for participation in the international contests also are considered fairly good. While the committee will not commence their eliminations until after tomorrow's races, there is a lively light on for three honors, with the Cima, owned by Guy Lowell, and the Lady, owned by R. Deb Boardman leading the other yachts. Both boats in their respective classes have 8 points, with their competitors far behind. If the boats maintain their present positions after tomorrow's trials, it is expected that the committee will take the Harpoon, Beaver, Cima, Lady, Sally XI, and Joyette for the semi-finals, although the Harpoon seems after three days of racing to be unbeatable.

The total points against each yacht for three days racing are as follows: First division—Harpoon, 0; Lady, 8; Sally XI, 17; Bonville, 18; Ellen, 19; Bel, 28. Second division—Beaver, 5; Cima, 8; Joyette, 19; Demon, 20; Skeerz, 22; Spokane III, 24; Wolf, 30.

THE RENFORTH BOAT HOUSE

The summer residents at Renforth decided some time ago to build a boat house, and subscriptions were opened to obtain an amount sufficient for the erection of a suitable building. The collectors were successful in their efforts among the residents and the new building is rapidly nearing completion. There are many suburbanites who own boats and the hearing of the craft out in all kinds of weather proved very damaging. This will be all done away with now and in addition to an excellent place for meetings and enjoyment there will be plenty of room for the housing of the boats.

Honors Were Even in Yesterday's Games Between Local Players and Calais Stars—Harrington Gives an Exhibition of Heady Heaving—The Details.

That Calais band of ball tossers who are touring the baseball towns of the province, arrived in our fair city yesterday, and engaged in combat with Manager Coughlin's aggregation of saluts in the Shamrock ball yard, in the afternoon and evening. We beg to announce an even break all round. Our ball tossers annihilated the enemy at the afternoon session by 6-1 and likewise were they triumphed in the evening by the visitors who were advertised with boxer letters as the fastest bunch of ball chasers in all the vast state of Maine.

This mighty bunch of athletes are sure enough having a disastrous trip. Trounced and whaled in Woodstock they sought to retrieve the honor and glory of Maine in the fair capital city, but once again their rosate sky was turned to an ashen grey by the demon efforts of that celestial bunch.

Then the widely known band of ball eaters assembled in secret, council and carefully perused the map of our fair province. "I have it!" said the chief of this band, "we shall yet win fame for our native state. We will carry war into the Wintertop of Canada, and surely there at least, we can recover our lost glory."

An Even Break.

But to return to those games. After what "Happy" Smith's bunch did to those tourists Tuesday the large multitude of taxpayers, electors and bank clerks expected to see our athletes eat up the Malmers like strawberries and cream—and they did in that first show—but unlike "Big Jeff" at Reno the tourists could come back at the evening session walloped Coughlin's crew in truly Johnsonian style.

We shall first deal with that section of the day's engagements wherein the efforts of our perspiring athletes were successful in assassinating their hated enemy. The multitude who occupied the high priced seats was a contingent of fair strangers from the Maine burg who followed in the wake of the ball team. All in vain did these fair enthusiasts strive to inspire their favorites to greater doings. They carried more big red flags than an Anarchist demonstration in Rome, and evidently had a very poor opinion of the ump.

Just what we happened to hear the fair fannies say about our ump, this family journal wisely refrains from publishing.

Just what they wished to imply, however, was in plain English, that our ump was a cheat; a swindler; a dub, and a whole lot of other bad things.

Harrington Heaved "Headly."

The mighty doings of Frank Harrington, is worthy of commendation. This gent heaved excellently. Only three did Frank allow the enemy to break into the hit column and nine whiffed the atmosphere trying to negotiate his fancy variety of benders. He flipped over mystery throws with such wonderful accuracy that even the Calais fair ones gave him the stand hand.

A gent with the poetic name of Ryan, was the curve master for the Maine crew and excepting for two linings when he forgot the exact location of the plate, he heaved great ball. Mr. Ryan was not supported very well, and some glaring sins were committed behind him. The enemy who were first at bat were quickly retired. Then Mickey Harrington opened the bombardment for our crew by whiffing the air. A Mahoney and a wicked sizzler at Mr. Steadman, and that gent made a very bad mix up. Slaughter McCormick rolled one at Leighton and was out easily although "I'll Artha" moved to third station. Then came Mr. Britt with a mighty blow away out over Spiny's head and both nations took occasion to trot home. Harrington rolled one to Steadman at second and that gent introduced his second error, but Dever fouled a skyscraper to the Calais backdrop.

The "Casey at the Bat."

Then came a gent called Casey—said to be the grand nephew of the Mudville swatter—and Mr. Casey, true to the traditions of his grand uncle, walloped the sphere on the trade mark Applause of big dimensions.

Rutherford walloped one out to left that looked like two bags, but our demon outfielder Charles made a great running clutch. Chisholm placed one in centre garden, and things looked rocky for our athletes. At this stage, Rutherford started for second with big strides, and McGowan threw to McCormick who made a ridiculous muff, and the man with the classic name of Casey scored amidst confusion to trot home. Chisholm was nailed a mile in attempting to swipe third. Spiny went out by the air passage, ending hostilities.

Ryan Lost the Plate.

In the second our athletes again punctured the run column. McGowan opened with a clean single. F. Mahoney walked. J. McCormick laid down a bunt and the cushions were filled to overflowing. Harrigan walked, forcing McGowan home. Still Mr. Ryan could not locate the pan. A Mahoney walked, and brother Fred scored. Then the Calais heaver suddenly awakened up and the next three of our hirelings were quickly dismissed. The remainder of the proceedings had a decidedly funeral tinge, our artists scoring twice in the 6th.

The Evening Game.

At the evening session we regret to report—more in sorrow than anger—that the enemy walloped our athletes considerably. O'Neill and Carver were the big battery, and our stickamaths were completely helpless before them. The visitors outbasebatted them in every department. Hodd was the block system for the Saints and was effective until the fourth when he blew up completely, and our Maine Staters dogged him all over the lot.

Hits, errors and more hits helped out by some kindergarten infield work sent five Calais pathfinders home in this awful inning. A gent with the musical name of Boyle made his appearance in our midst as umpire, and his good doings won much applause. Following are the horrible details:—

TENNIS AT ROTHESEY.

On Saturday the Rothesey Club is intending holding an invitation tournament in mixed doubles for which entries will be received until noon on Saturday.

The tennis tea on Saturday will be given by Mrs. Thos. McAvity, Mrs. R. D. Patterson, and Mrs. Frank Fairweather.

THE ROCKWOODS WON.

The Rockwoods defeated the Wall St. Brokers on the Fuddling diamond last evening by a score of 5-1. A very interesting game was played. Coffey, who pitched for the Rockwoods made the others stand back by his curves and speed.

Double-Header for Saturday

DOUBLE-HEADER FOR SATURDAY

St. Johns and Clippers Will Play Two Games on Saturday Afternoon—Great Treat for the Fans.

Owing to the games of ball between the St. Peters and the Calais teams yesterday afternoon and evening the St. John's and Clippers game scheduled for last evening was postponed. It is now decided that on Saturday afternoon next these teams will play a double header on the Every Day Club grounds. These games should prove very exciting as there is such a close race for the championship of the series. The St. Johns need two games to become the champions and the Clippers need four games. Should the Clippers win the two games on Saturday they will tie with the St. Johns. The largest crowd of the season may be expected to witness the coming struggle.

KAUFMAN AND LANGFORD GO IS POSTPONED

Philadelphia, Aug. 10.—With Al Kaufman of California, and Sam Langford, the negro heavyweight from Boston, in the city, ready to do battle, the six round bout between the two men scheduled for tonight at the grounds of the Philadelphia National League baseball park has been postponed. Weather permitting the men will meet tomorrow night, but in the event of rain the first clear night thereafter.

White rain fell nearly all day, the decision to postpone the bout was not arrived at until five o'clock.

Kaufman, accompanied by Billy Delaney, his sparring partner and manager, arrived in Philadelphia today and expressed confidence in the outcome of his meeting with Langford.

Delaney was equally confident, he said: "Al will beat that fellow. He will simply fight the 'tar baby' off his feet."

Johnson says that Kaufman is the second best man, said Sam Langford, "and that is one of the reasons I am going to meet him. I expect to win inside the limit. If I beat Al easily, then Johnson can hardly say I am in the infant class."

"SANDY" ON PROBATION IN BOSTON

Boston, Aug. 10.—John A. Ferguson of 38 Chestnut street, Chelsea, known as "Sandy," was in the Chelsea police court yesterday on continuance on a charge of drunkenness.

Although he had, when first arraigned, entered a plea of not guilty, he asked a continuance of associate judge Samuel R. Cutler, who was sitting, to change his plea to guilty. This being allowed by the court, Judge Cutler felt that the case was one better off there for a hearing. The opportunity was extended him the court need have no fear of his misbehaving in the future. He informed Judge Cutler that the privilege was now his to go immediately to Chicago and procure there for a hearing engagement, and if the court would only see its way clear to place his case on file he would leave Chelsea right away and go direct to Chicago. Judge Cutler granted the case one month probation, and for the next six months "Sandy" will be under the watchful eye of the probation officer of the Chelsea court.

GRAND CIRCUIT RACES WERE ALL POSTPONED

Rain Interfered With Events Scheduled for Yesterday at the North Randall Track—Will Race Today.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 10.—Heavy rain today caused the postponement of the third day's events of the grand circuit races at North Randall. Today's card will be raced tomorrow. The entire programme will not be completed until Saturday instead of Friday, as was planned.

KITTRIDGE SWEET ON PEASELY

Malachi Kittridge, the Detroit scout, was pleased with Peaseley's work at Woodstock on Monday when the Woodstock team defeated the Calais nine and the young pitcher will join the American league champions in September to finish the season. It is believed here that Peaseley will hardly be fit for the big show without a season or so in the minor leagues but that he is a pitcher of promise there is no doubt.

"CY" COOMBS LEADS THEM ALL.

The pitching record of the twirlers in the big leagues shows great things for "Cy" Coombs, who is getting better as the season goes on. At present he leads all the pitchers of both the American and National leagues who have pitched over 20 games. He has pitched 22 games, winning 16, Christy Mathewson comes next with 16 victories in 23 games.

Crippled but Game, Marse Ed Drives Winners

After 30 years behind the trotters and pacers, "Marse Ed" as they call the genius of Village Farm before turf writers handed him the name of "Pop," is still the greatest teamster of them all. Geers goes about on crutches just now, as the result of a spill a couple of weeks ago. This doesn't interfere with the grand old man's ability to find a winner, as witness the performance of The Abbe and Dudie Archdale in the Chamber of Commerce and M and M at Detroit Blue Ribbon meeting.

BOSTON BEATEN IN 12 INNINGS

JACK "TWIN" TO FIGHT AT BAR HARBOR

Jack Twin Sullivan, who fought a draw in Sydney last Friday night, arrived here on Tuesday morning and left on the steamer Calvin Austin for Boston Tuesday night. On Saturday night next the Twin will fight at Bar Harbor, Maine, and his opponent will be Porkey Flynn, the man who has fought Jack Johnson and who has a big reputation. Sullivan is in good shape for the go and said that he expects to make Flynn hustle for the decision.

"RED BALL" STOUT OR PORTER

"Tip" O'Neill, the St. John ball player, who was released by the Minneapolis club to Louisville the tail enders in the American Association, was let out by the Colonels recently. He has once more signed up with the Minneapolis team and will help Joe Cantillon fight for the leadership with the St. Paul and Toledo teams. The St. John boy had an attack of typhoid fever this year, which kept him out of the game at the early part of the season, and when he started off with the tail end Louisville team, which at the time was in a state of disorganization he did not do the same consistent and heavy hitting that made him the batting leader of the previous season. His many friends hope to see him back at his old stride again in a short time and playing the class of ball which gained him such an enviable reputation in the middle west.

AROUND THE CITY

Band Concert Tonight. St. Mary's Band will give a concert in King square this evening, if the weather permits.

Unlicensed Drivers Reported. Police Sgt. Campbell has reported Thomas Hamilton and George Davidson for driving shovels for hire in the city without a license.

Keys Found. A key ring with a latch key and two padlock keys was found on Charlotte street last night and handed to the police.

Bills and Bye Laws Committee. A special meeting of the Bills and Bye Laws Committee was held yesterday afternoon, at which it was decided to adjourn for a fortnight.

A "Society" Event. While the white folks are daily enjoying outings in the country, the residents of the darker hue are not idle and they, too, arrange for pleasant times.

Articles Found by Police. A steel dray shoe found on Sydney street, yesterday, was handed to the police and is awaiting the owner at the central police station.

Arrested Yesterday Afternoon. The police made three arrests yesterday afternoon. Mary Jane Toner became intoxicated and when found by the police was lying helplessly drunk on the I.C.R. trucks at the foot of Queen street.

BUILDING COMMITTEE MEET ON SATURDAY

School Board Committee Will Then Open Tenders for Proposed School Building on the Weldon Lot.

A meeting of the building committee of the Board of School Trustees will probably be held on Saturday afternoon to consider the tenders received for the erection of a new school on the Weldon lot.

WILL INVESTIGATE SCHOOL BOOK SYSTEM

Nova Scotia Educationists Pass Through City for Fredericton—To Enquire into Systems in N. B. and Ontario.

The schoolbook system inaugurated in this province by the Hon. Government, is attracting attention in the sister province of Nova Scotia, and apparently it is considered superior to that in use there.

During the afternoon Prof. Murray called on Dr. Bridges, the local superintendent of schools, and discussed educational matters with him.

ANDY IRVINE ESCAPES FROM JAIL LABOR GANG

Hard Labor Sentence Too Strong for Him, So He Lit Out When Opportunity Offered Yesterday.

Andrew Irvine, an unfortunate, who spends most of the time in the county jail, made his escape from the chain gang yesterday morning and despite the diligent search made for him by Guards Collins and Beckett he is still at large, probably enjoying the fine free air of the surrounding country.

About a week ago Irvine was arrested for being drunk and owing to his past record as an habitual frequenter of the jail Magistrate Ritchie gave him quite a lecture and then sentenced him under the Dominion Act to a term of three months in jail without a fine and added that the prisoner was to give the hard labor.

WHAT A SHAME IT WAS ALL HOT AIR

The President of the Good Luck Club Planned Big Things for His Friends—Now He is in Jail.

The "president of the good luck society," became a guest of the public authorities yesterday, though he was not presented with the freedom of the city.

The Good Luck Society as nobody seems to know, is a vast organization engaged in multitudinous and peculiar enterprises, and the mission of the president is to organize a branch at every place where he stops.

The president of the Good Luck Club is the Dr. C. A. Dodge, of the U. S., of America, who with his manager of ducks and pigeons and grotesque ideas, was run in yesterday by S. M. Wetmore of the S. P. C. A.

SURVEYORS FINISH ONE LINE FOR VALLEY ROAD

One Line, Offering Many Advantages, Has Been Surveyed from Fredericton to Courtenay Bay.

Yesterday the St. John Valley Railway Survey finished a preliminary survey of one route between Fredericton and St. John, and planted stakes on the shore of Courtenay Bay. This route, starting from Fredericton, follows the west bank of the St. John river, as far as Evandale, then crossing at the head of the Mistake into Kingston Creek, it runs over about 3 miles in Kings county to Reed's Point on the Kennebecasis, crosses over to Gondola Point, and then follows the left bank of the Kennebecasis to Rothesay, thence paralleling the I. C. R. to Ferryburn, at which point it crosses the I. C. R. and proceeds directly across the Marsh to Haymarket Square.

Other Routes. The second route under survey follows the west bank of the St. John river from Evandale to Westfield, while the third route starting from a point at Hampstead, passes through Queens county to Westford.

Speaking of the approaches to the harbor over the Marsh, Mr. Maxwell, chief engineer of the survey, said the conditions could not be equalled on the coast, as they would afford room for hundreds of miles of track already graded, and save millions as compared with the expenditures incurred by the C. P. R. in getting into St. John.
