Many a wanderer has returned lured by the ision of a godly father and mother the home. ## Making History.

INFANT MORTALITY in past ages has been something frightful, something almost beyond belief, and even today it occupies the time and the mind of leading physicians in all countries. The death rate among infants is being gradually reduced through new methods of hygiene, new preventatives and new remedies for infants. This reduction in the death rate has NOT been accomplished by adapting the precautions taken and remedies used by adults. Rather has it been to keep clear of the old methods, and choose after long research the precautions and remedies specifically applicable to infants.

This being so, is it necessary for us to caution mothers against trying to give her baby relief with a remedy that she would use for herself? Will she remember that Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for infants and children?

An experienced doctor discovered Fletcher's Castoria especially for babies' use. It is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. Doctors who know what is safe and best for babies have only good to say of it.

ICE CREAM VENDORS MUST NOT SELL TO PICK AND SHOVELMEN

Warned To Keep Away From Laborers During Working Hours.

ST. THOMAS, June 1 .- Ice cream cones may not be taken with shovels and pickaxes, is the lastest mandate of the board of works. And to make this inhibition the more effective, Health Inspector Shaw has given official notice to the itinerant ice cream vendors not to sell any cones to the city laborers during working hours. This order was given by direction of the city engineer, who found that the cones and laborers' implements make unhealthy mixtures, and the luxury of it gets the men far apart from the prosaic sewers and limped ditches and means a loss of so nuch per hour to the unsentimental

THE SITUATION IN SILESIA.

It is alleged that the Germans, having failed to break the solidarity of the Allies in the great war, are now endeavoring to carry out this game in Upper Silesia. It is said that the British Government is fully aware of the Teutonic tactics in this regard, and that action is being delayed pending the arrival in the disturbed region of Sir Harold Stuart, the new head of the British Mission.

In brief, the game which the German extremists are reported to be playing has for its object the splitting of relations between the British and the French. If, for example, a small British force got into grips with Korfanty's Polish irregulars, they might be obliged to apply for help to the local German defence levies. This, it is surmised, might lead to the Poles, appealing, In turn, to the French troops for aid, and the creation of a situation which might develop into the British and the Germans being ranged on one side against the French, and the Poles on the other. No doubt this fine kettle of fish would exactly suit the Teutonic trouble-makers, but it won't do. That peculiar twist in he German nature which prevents them from realizng that others can see through such schemes, is quite evident in the present instance, and there is little chance of setting the heather on are by the employment of such crude methods.

Nevertheless, the many severe lessons taught by the war renders it imperative for the Allies to be continually on the alert for any insidious attempts to create discord in their midst. It is an enfortunate fact that the principal cause of strife is the possession of the rich mining districts, both developed and undeveloped, in this part of Europe. In this is involved the partition of the industrial area of Silesia, and this is the difficulty which confronts M. Briand in his handling of the situation. Just to the north of the district which would be granted to the Poles in the event of their of the country over which the controversy rages most fercely, for it is immensely rich, and the Poles are bitterly averse to this region being apportioned to the Germans.

It is the old story of quarreling over the spoils. Were the portion of the disputed territory of no economic value the whole question might be settled in 24 hours, but its value makes it a bone of contention. In the meantime it may be taken for granted that the British will employ every safeguard against any sinister attempt at entanglement, and, doubtless, matters will be straightened out when Sir Harold Stuart has had time to ascertain the exact situation. As Mr. Lloyd George declares, the preservation of the peace of Europe is the greatest need at the present time, and every means will be taken to accomplish this end.

The hard-headed citizen of the street thinks this psychoanalysis is something physhy.

SUPER CONCRETE USED HERE

THE concrete used 'n the base of Pier No. 3 on the new C. P. B. Cantileve. Bridge under construction over the famous Reversing Falls at St. John, N.B., requires material of highest quality.

Part of the day the highest tide in the world surges up the St. John River and swirls around this pier. The other part of the day the tide runs out and with it is added the rapid current of the river that has been previously held back by the incoming tide. The base of this pier is thus under water continuously, and subjected to the action of swiftly moving water first in one direction and then in another. SUPER CEMENT was selected for use in the base of this pier, the construction work of which was done by The Foundation Company of America. SUPER CEMENT makes a non-absorbent, denser, stronger, more durable, more permanent mortar and concrete—and one that is waterproof absolutely.

Have you a job that requires a real waterproof concrete, mortar, plaster or stucco?

Then, be sure and specify SUPER CEMENT.

This wonderful new cement is the discovery of an English Engineer, after many years' experiment and research. There is no other cement like it in the world. It not only protects, but prolongs the life of all concrete structures.

It is mixed exactly the same as ordinary Portland Cement for making concrete or mortar. It is packed and shipped in bags the same size and weight, and is the same color as ordinary Portland Cement. It requires no special handling.

If your local cement dealer cannot supply you with SUPER CEMENT, write us.

TRIBE LET BRANTS DOWN GENTLY IN THIRD STRAIGHT

5--4 Win Comes After Brants Had Broken Tie.

UMP'S LEG INJURED

Hit in Seventh by One of Wheeler's Shoots-Malmquest Heavy Hitter.

The Tees and Brants hooked up in the last game of their series yesterday afternoon, and the locals made it three in a row, by virtue of a 5-4 win. It gives Wetzel a firm grip on first place. Umpire Goodman had his right leg badly hurt, when struck with a Wheeler in the 7th, and was taken to Victoria Hospital in the police ambulance. An X-ray there showed Wenstrom was batting when this happened, and after the lay-off Wheel-er wobbled, walking this one and Orme hext up; Wenstrom was nabbed at sec-ond, but Werre lined one to Stutz, who threw badly to first, allowing Orme in with a run that put Brantford ahead, the soore having been 3—3 up to this point. However, the Londoners came back in their half, and with some good base running, and three hits, one of them a triple, by Malmquest, scored two runs and the game was won again.

Noonan, the Brants' bespectacled burler, was elected to the job of turning back the Tribe yesterday, but they handed him rough treatment, with trios of swats in the 4th and 7th, which netted a pair of runs each time, the first pair tieing it up, the second pair winning. In the 4th Noonan must have thought he had put on his blue "specs" by mistake, it was so dismal. Two runs were scored on three thrown balls, which is working a little faster than they are used to in these parts, no matter what Mister Noonan may only one ball. Crichlow put a wrench going to nab it he slipped and rou, but retrieved the ball in time to throw one goal in the third period, and it read a close to the third man. The Tribesmen added the two that gave them the home, starred for the visitors, with men added the two that gave them the game in the 7th on straight hitting. Shay beat out a tap to the mound, and stole second. Vandyke lifted a long single to centre, scoring Walter. Carmen, batting for Wetzel, popped out, and then Walter Malmquest's good, and then Walter Malmquest's good, was very clean. The line-up: triple brought over Vandyke. The Lon doners got their first run in the sec-ond, when Malmquest doubled, was sacrificed along, and came in on a hit that Briger bounced off Morgan at third and rolled out to centre.

Wheeler pitched masterly ball, except in the first inning, when the Brants leaned up against him familiarly for the three wallops that netted them two runs. Orme and Werre had singled and were sent home with Stupp's double to left. The rest of time he made it extremely laboriother run in the third, when Orme was other run in the tairs, when Canis was safe on Malmquest's strop, was urged along on Werre's sacrifice, and scored on Stupp's single. Stupp stole second, but was run out between second and third when Babe Dye rolled one down to the mound. Hartline was hit by Wheeler, but Morgan was whiffed. That was where Wheeler showed his poise yesterday, when things looked a bit Doyle Banished From Game walked Pinch-Hitter Hess, after two were gone, and Wenstrom was safe on hard hit slam to Crichlow, covering first, neither the two men who were on, nor the possibilities of what George Orme might do with one of his slants, a speedometer.

Manager Wetzel played first base in the place of Kuhn, whose foot is hurt. He retired to let Carmen bat in the

"Fixed Fight" Fans Have It Doped Out Already

Alleged Reckless Expenditure of Drury's Minister of Public Works Is Under Fire in House—Serious Allegations Levelled At Hon. Frank Biggs.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, June 1 .- The obvious intention of Gordon Wilson of Wentworth tonight was to attack the Drury Government and Hon. Frank Biggs, its minister of public works, in particular, for "reckless extravagance" and "self-in-Dominion under the Canada highways

In this connection it cannot be denied that the criticism of the member for Wentworth was of a highly effective tario would be absorbed there, said Mr.

Nobody in the House attempted to defend Mr. Biggs. In all the history of Canadian railroad building few stretches of road have cost $84,000 a mile—and this is not a railroad. On the other hand, the speech of Mr. Wilson gave opportunity for a general portion of the bill the federal authority.

Government control of expenditures.

Opposed By Liberals.

As a consequence it was opposed by the Liberals, and killed in the Senate.
On two more sessions it again appeared, but was again shelved. 1919 it passed in its present form. The provinces under present condition have charge of expenditures and the Federal Government undertakes to pay forty ner cent.

Even in its present form it did not pass without very considerable opposition. That opposition would appear to have been amply justified by the disclosures which Mr. Wilson made tonight in the House. The moral of Mr. Wilson's address was that it is highly dangerous to override the principle that local needs should be met by local taxation. Even in its present form it did not

Are Not Economical.

The charges (if charges they can be called) further demonstrated the simple fact that the knowledge that the other fellow is paying part of the cost is not conductive to economy, especially when the other fellow is the Federal Governthe other fellow is the Federal Government. Knowledge of this fact may, in the present case, have encouraged Mr. Biggs to construct 60-foot highways with boulevards, when 20 feet, without boulevards would have sufficed, to constitute the sufficiency of the control of the cont struct speedways when roads were all that was needed, to cut through hills when he could have gone around or over them, and to parallel other highways has few miles distant. Mc-Master of Brome, and Clarke of Red honorable member upon the Ontario diem, and board; roller engineers, $7.50 and board; five-ton trucks, $50 a day, plunged at the root of the matter, which is the act itself. In the face of the knowledge that it must pay 40 per cent of the cost, how was it that the federal engineers and with the actions of the Drury Govern-ment. But it was also a most severe censure upon the minister of railways and his road policy, and in that we are concerned. This is par excellence the road policy of the minister of rail-ways. The blame for it in the first place lies upon his head. In the first place by example and in the second place by inducement this expenditure was provoked, fomented and engineered by the minister of railways. The whole business is an illustration of the danger. of federal incursions in the provincial arena. Dual control always leads to

Tries To Explain.

The minister labored heavily to clear his own skirts in the matter. He exorked. In the first place the provinces submitted plans showing the roads pro jected. Then they selected the particu-lar roads on which the federal subsidy was to be asked. Engineers were then sent out and a report was made. Thereupon an agreement was entered into, and the province submitted an estimate.

After that the minister floundered somewhat in his explanation. But what terest" in connection with the good he meant to say was this: That the roads policy being carried out by the Federal Government was protected by province in conjunction with the province in conjunction with the population under the Canada highways and reasonable cost of the road built. Nothing had been paid so far.

Another Weakness.

Here is another palpable weakness of the act. The federal engineers have other things, that the Toronto-Hamilton highway was costing at the rate of $82,
Mr. Biggs. Mr. Biggs has gone ahead highway the costs at the costs other things, that the Toronto-Hamilton highway was costing at the rate of $82,000 per mile, and that a single cutting in the vicinity of Dundas had been made at a total cost of $130,000.

He further pointed out that many of the road improvements launched upon by the Ontario minister of public works ran past, oround, or to his own home, and that of his father, and that a blind concession ar road allowance lunning between two portions of his land had been taken over and macadamized. At the rate at which money had been expended in the county of Wentworth alone, one-sixth of the total federal appropriation for the Province of Ontario would be absorbed there, said Mr. Biggs to go a long way before he thought it worth while to inform the junior partner to the transaction, and the representatives of the plans of Mr. Biggs. Mr. Biggs has gone ahead and built his roads at the costs mentioned. And there is no record that the federal engineers complained. He has apparently been allowed to go ahead in a career of "reckless extrava-gance" until found out by Mr. Wilson of Wentworth. And even Mr. Wilson of Wentworth. "Have the federal engineers lodged any complaint in connecton with these expenditures?" asked H. B. Morphy of mile—and this is not a railroad. On the other hand, the speech of Mr. Wilson gave opportunity for a general criticism of an act the soundness of which was questioned ever since its inception. It was not so much an abuse of the act which Mr. Wilson demonstrated, it was its own inherent weaknesses. The Canada highways act was first introduced into Parliament by Hon. Frank Cochrane, minister of railways in 1912, in its original form it gave the Federal Government control of expenditures.

Opposed By Liberals. which have not provided so violent an example of the unsoundness of the measure, will voice the opinion that the Canada highways bill should be rele gated to the scrap heap, where it belongs.

Wilson Is Opposed. When the House of Commons tonight went into supply on the estimates of the department of railways and canals in which there had been inexcusable extravagance.

The portion of this highway already completed, said Mr. Wilson, was 9,100 feet, and it had cost $141,253.46, or at the rate of $81,938 per mile.

"No," Mr. Wilson commented, "the streets are not paved with gold."

And after ai., this, Mr. Wilson pro-ceeded, Hon. F. C. Biggs, minister of public works and highways for Ontario. proposed to widen this road. If such extravagant schemes were permitted it was inevitable that other portions of the country would suffer by neglect.

Now-Firestone Quality at Basic Prices

When Firestone entered Canada we fully expected to be offering Canadian car owners tires from our Canadian plant this summer.

Unavoidable delays have retarded the construction of our plant so that this is not possible. An investment of about two million dollars has already been made and work is progressing.

But we have decided to place the prices of Firestone Cord and Fabric Tires upon the level that would be in effect if our Canadian plant were now in operation.

This is in line with the well known Firestone policy of building business by keeping faith, and above all, of giving the car owner most miles for his dollar.

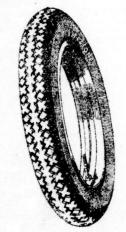

These representative Firestone prices show that it is now possible to buy quality tires at prices no higher than you pay for an ordinary product.

Chicago, June 2.—High price records for the season were again outdone today in the wheat market. Upturns, however, were moderate compared with those which have been seen of late. Rainy weather failed to give much relief to the bears. Opening quotations, which ranged from ½c to 1c higher, were followed by a moderate reaction, and then by an ascent higher than before. OTTAWA, June 1 .- (Canadian Press.) service act as severely revised by special committee, was discussed in the House of Commons today. But the discussion did not proceed far before progress was reported, and the House took up railway estimates.

Corn was firmer with wheat. Country ferings were light. After opening %co to %c higher, the market eased down a little, and then scored another advance.

Oats duplicated the action of other grain, starting 1/3c off to 1/4c higher, and making slight general gains later.

Values for Your Money

We are old-fashioned about one or two things, and our conception of "value" is one of them. In the days when a bushel was heaped and a baker's dozen included more than you actually paid for, the word "value" meant something! Today most stores talk values very freely, but you actually get only what you pay for. But at this store we still believe in giving you not only a dollar's worth of furniture value for every dollar you spend, but also a "little more for heaping measure. It is just that extra little that makes this store so different from the ordinary furniture store, and that has gained for us reputation for value-giving that is known throughout the entire community. The values in this sale are just another example of the way this principle
