U. S. Tariff Bill Makes Many Radical Changes

RATES BELOW LEVEL PAYNE ALDRICH BILL

Framers Declare Measure to Meet Unusual World Conditions.

MAY BE DELAYED

Will Become Effective When Signed by President Harding.

Washington, Sept. 12.—The administration tariff bill, as finally perfected in conference, was presented today in the house and the conference report on it, bearing the signatures of the Republican managers, will be called up tomorrow with the expectation that it will be disposed of not later than Thursday. The measure then will go to the senate, but because of opposition to the by-embargo and other provisions, action there may be delayed a week or more.

As now framed, the bill is estimated roughly by the experts to raise approximately $400,000,000 in revenue on the basis of the present volume of import trade of the United States. The level of its rates, according to the experts, is slightly below the level in the Payne-Aldrich bill, the last Republican protective tariff, but is considerably above the level of the Democratic Underwood law now in force.

The bill will become effective immediately after President Harding signs it, replacing both the Underwood and emergency tariff acts. It was designed, its framers have said, to meet the unusual world economic situation. It confers on the president of the United States broad authority to decrease or increase rates on foreign valuation and to declare American valuation, that is, the wholesale selling price in the United States, as a basis for assessing duties.

The more important rates in the administration tariff, as finally agreed upon in conference, are:

Agricultural products—Cattle from 1½ to 2 cents a pound. Sheep and goats, $2 a head. Fresh lamb, 4 cents a pound. Hogs, ½ cent a pound. Fresh pork, ¾ cents a pound. Bacon, ham and shoulder, 2 cents a pound. Lard, 1 cent a pound. Lard compounds and substitutes, 4 cents a pound. Milk, fresh, 2½ cents a gallon. Buttermilk, 1 cent a gallon. Cream, 20 cents a gallon. Milk, condensed or evaporated, sweetened, 1½ cents a pound. Butter and oleomargarines and other butter substitutes, 8 cents a pound. Cheese and substitutes, 5 cents a pound. Poultry, live, 3 cents a pound; dead, 6 cents a pound. Eggs of poultry, in the shell, 8 cents a dozen. Honey, 3 cents a pound. Horses and mules, valued up to $150 each, $30 each; valued over $150 each, 20 per cent.

Fresh or frozen salmon, mackerel and halibut, 2 cents a pound. Herring and mackerel, pickled or salted, 1 cent a pound. Barley, 20 cents a bushel. Corn, 15 cents a bushel. Oats, 15 cents a bushel. Rye, 15 cents a bushel. Wheat, 30 cents a bushel. Wheat flour, 78 cents per 100 pounds. Apples, 25 cents a bushel. Peaches and pears, ½ cent a pound. Peas, green or dried, 1 cent a pound. Onions, 1 cent a pound. Irish potatoes, 50 cents a hundredweight. Tomatoes, ½ cent a pound. Turnips, 12 cents a hundredweight. Hays, $4 a ton.

PREPARE PLANS FOR REGISTRY

USE KING STREET SITE

Estimate New Structure Will Cost Less Than $50,000.

Plans for the new civic registry office, which is to be erected on the court house grounds, have been completed by Building Inspector A. M. Piper, and will be submitted to F. R. Heakes, provincial architect, at Toronto, for approval this week. The plans call for a cement, stone and brick structure, approximately 70 feet square, estimated to cost less than $50,000.

The new city registry office will be one-story in height, with ample basement space. Vaults for the safekeeping of deeds and other important documents will be located on the ground floor, with a large spare vault built in the basement. High windows on the ground floor are included in the plan, thus allowing for piling books against the walls.

Stone steps will lead into a public office opposite the main entrance facing King street. On either side of this entrance will be located searching rooms for the use of lawyers and other professional men who wish to search titles of land in this city. Floors will be constructed of tile or mosaic, and the type of brick for the new building has not been decided upon.

The interior of the building will be finished in marble. The vaults on the main floor will lead off from the office, being situated in the north end or rear of the proposed new building. The plans are so drawn that clerks working in the main office will be afforded a constant view of the search-

RAPS STAND OF "U" GOVERNORS AS DICTATORIAL

PROHIBIT LINE EXTENSION

Thinks Public Should Have Say in Spending Own Money.

Sharp criticism of the board of governors of the Western University was voiced Tuesday by Bryden Campbell, a member of the London Board of Education, likening the attitude of the former to something "just to show the people of London that they are not bossing their own money."

Takes Exception.

Trustee Campbell takes decided exception to the announcement that the Western University authorities propose that no further street car service be furnished for the new buildings, north of the city, unless the company chooses to extend the line across Brough's bridge, and around to the new structure via concession 4, of London Township.

"The governors purchased with money that was given them by the citizens, certain property, through which will be the thoroughfare known as University avenue," commented Trustee Campbell, "yet they decline absolutely to allow the street railway company to divert it's line up this street to the bridge now under construction.

"They propose, on the other hand, to make the pupils from the city walk this distance, a good half mile, in all kinds and conditions of weather. There must be no noisy traffic as the street railway cars, in order, perhaps, that the highway will remain quiet for the professors.

"There has been too much of this sort of thing in the past with respect to the public schools, and it is time that the practice ceased. There has been altogether too many instances where the pupils have been sacrificed for the benefit of the teachers."

The trustee held that the attitude of the governors throughout has been, unconsciously or otherwise, "showing the citizens that they are not the bosses of their own finances."

Room For Criticism.

There is certainly room for considerable legitimate criticism in this city, he asserts, and declares that this is one of the chief items.

He fails to understand why the street railway should be prevented from extending the line on the new street. "The city will own the railway system within the next 36 months in any event," he pointed out, "that will have to pass sooner or later, and although the governors may own the property in question the residents of London paid for it."

ATTEMPT TO FORESTALL BREAK IN NEGOTIATIONS

Berlin, Sept. 12.—In sending Dr. Fischer and Karl Bergmann to Paris again, with instructions to hold themselves at the disposition of the reparations commission, the German government has instituted steps calculated to forestall definite breaking off of the negotiations begun last week with M. Bemelmans and Delacroix, the Belgian respesentatives.

Death Saddens Little Family

NEED $60,000 FOR SCHOOLS

The Board of Education Announces Estimates For 1923 Building.

Suggest Purchase of Three New School Sites at $30,000.

After a careful survey of the situation, board of education officials estimate, roughly, that from present indications an outlay of between $50,000 and $60,000 will be adequate for public school construction and accommodation purposes next year.

This computation is based, however, upon the stipulation that the new school at Oliver and Trafalgar streets is ready for occupation in September next, in order to relieve the congestion in the Ealing and Chesley avenue public schools.

The following tentative scheme for next year would then be:

4-room addition to Boyle Memorial School (estimated)	$25,000
Three school sites	30,000
Total	$55,000

The authorities are confident that with the new school in operation in Southeast London they would be able to handle the public school problem by the addition of four rooms to the Boyle school, just east of the Fair grounds.

While of course it would be a question to be decided definitely by the trustees, it is not believed that the school officials contemplate any great agitation on their part for a new structure to replace the Empress avenue public school, West London. They expect that this building, old and inadequate as it is, will have to wait until 1924, at the earliest, unless the general attitude of the ratepayers undergoes a sweeping change.

The authorities do urge, however, as soon as circumstances will reasonably permit, and the moment the money is available, the purchase of three new school sites—one each for West, North and South London.

They stress their contention that there is no better time than the present for the purchase of suitable real estate for future use as school building lots. With the city increasing steadily from year to year, and a building program for 1923 predicted already to eclipse all former years, they reason that the trustees should not allow the problem to be indefinitely side-tracked.

NAME FRIDAY AS CHILDREN'S DAY

Kiddies to Have Holiday to Attend Western Fair. Second Time.

Trustee Appeals to Parents to Aid Making Plan a Success.

There is joy in the camp again. Friday has been set aside as another "Children's Day" at the Western Fair and all city schools will be closed for the purpose.

After a fervent appeal was registered on behalf of the youth of the city by School Trustee Edwin Smith, chairman of the board of education, the members of the fair directorate voted Tuesday noon to reduce the entrance on Friday from 15 cents to 10 cents for children.

After Hearty Fight.

It was further stipulated that another dime would gain them a seat on the open bleachers for the afternoon performance before the grandstand. The decision was rendered only after a hearty fight was staged by the school board's representative, it is recorded, and the opinion of the fair authorities being by no means unanimous, among the opponents to the additional concession being J. H. Saunders, president.

Frankly opposing Monday as the children's day in any event, Trustee Smith stressed his point that the opening day could not be termed as highly advantageous from several view-points.

The school authorities now ask the best co-operation possible from the parents of the children. Now that Friday has been proclaimed as a full holiday the trustees and school authorities trust that the parents will refrain from taking their children with them on Wednesday or Thursday, at least during the school hours.

Will Assist Board.

"We hope," said Trustee Smith, "that the parents will assist us in this in order that a complete disorganization of the schools may be prevented, or reduced to the minimum, before Friday."

It is understood that the separate school board will adopt the same procedure. Members of that body stated Tuesday that more than likely they would take similar action.

OFFICIALS SEEK TO SAFEGUARD PUBLIC AT FAIR

Directors Decide to Enforce Bylaw to Eliminate Dangers.

UNABLE TO BAN TRUCKS

Merchants to Provide Man to Precede Delivery Wagons.

Stirred to action by the death of little Victor Capitano, who was trampled by horses of a delivery wagon at the Western Fair Monday afternoon, the board of directors of the Fair are preparing to use every means within its power to protect the public, and especially children.

No Provision Made.

The matter was thoroughly discussed at a meeting of members shortly before noon Tuesday. While an examination of the bylaws revealed that while no provisions had been made empowering the board to prohibit delivery trucks and automobiles on the grounds before 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon, it was found that certain steps could be taken to provide some protection to the crowds.

Acting on a clause in the general bylaws the board in the future will insist on all proprietors of trucks or wagons, who find it necessary to make deliveries throughout the day, providing a man to go before the vehicle to clear pedestrians from the pathway. This rule was not enforced Monday when young Capitano was struck.

At the present time all visitors driving to the fair are forced to gain entrance to the grounds through the subway at Egerton and Dundas streets, all trucks and delivery cars enter by Campbell street, and directors and exhibitors use the King street gate. The rule will be strictly enforced.

In addition to this, passenger cars will be parked in the race track oval as before, while directors and exhibitors will be forced to keep their autos off the main grounds by parking them near the open judging spaces at Campbell street. The directors agreed to set the example in this respect.

Secretary A. M. Hunt expressed the regret felt by all members of the Authorities Comb Water of English Bay for Major McLaurin.

SEEK TO RECOVER BODY OF AIRMAN

Vancouver, Sept. 12.—Search was being made of English Bay last night for the body of Major Claire McLaurin, superintendent of the air board station at Jericho Bay, who was drowned when his plane fell from a low altitude into the outer harbor here yesterday. Two other men in the plane were injured, but will recover. The body of Major McLaurin was first thought to be pinned under the wreckage of the machine, which lay in shallow water. When the wreck was raised, however, it was found that the body had drifted away, and the search was immediately extended to surrounding waters.

Major C. McLaurin was an Ottawa boy, born and educated there. He was also stationed there for nearly two years. In the spring of 1920 he came to Vancouver to take charge of the station, after being in Ottawa since July, 1918, participating in the organization of the Royal Canadian Naval Air service. According to J. A. Wilson, secretary of the air board, Ottawa, the late Major McLaurin was an extremely brilliant and capable officer.

He was one of the first six pilots to go to the Royal Naval Air Service in 1915.

MRS. J. A. DART DIES IN WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 12.—Mrs. Dart, wife of J. A. Dart, wealthy real estate broker, died last night. She was born in Ridgetown, Ont., and came to Winnipeg sixteen years ago. She was a member of Children's Hospital Board for many years, Women's Canadian Club, Daughters of the Empire, and Augustine Church and its ladies' aid society. Mrs. Dart was also well-known and highly respected in this city.

Mr. Dart will accompany body to London, Ont., for burial tomorrow. Mrs. Dart is survived by one daughter, Mrs. A. A. Whitman of Leamington, Ont.

THUNDER BAY DISTRICT IS GROWING CROP OF APPLES

Port Arthur, Ont., Sept. 12.—For the first time in the history of the Thunder Bay district, local-grown apples are offered for public sale. W. S. Setch brought 100 baskets of crabs in from Whitefish Valley and quickly sold them. Mr. Setch is sending samples of ten varieties of large apples, also grown here, for exhibit at Ottawa. He believes this can be made a big apple district.

Vancouver, Sept. 12.—An option for the purchase of the Engineer Mine in the Atlin district of British Columbia has been sold to Timmins Bros. of Northern Ontario. The mine itself is considered one of the richest gold producers in the world. The British privy council will be asked this autumn to decide whether the heirs of Capt. James Alexander or those of Allan I. Smith of Philadelphia own the mine. Both the men named lost their lives in the Princess Sophia disaster some years ago.

Pictures Delight Art Lovers At Western Fair

SHOW WORK OF NOTED ARTISTS

DOMINATING the situation in the Art Gallery at Queen's Park for exhibition week this year are six large paintings which vividly, grippingly, recall stirring days—the anxious and sorrowful years of the great war. The size of each canvas, the characteristic dun and khaki tones, the action presented, arrest the attention of the visitor immediately upon entering.

Painted for the war memorial collection in the National Gallery, the group has been loaned to the Western Fair. Capt. Kenneth K. Forbes has preserved for history with his brush the story of the defense of the P. P. C. L. I. at Sanctuary Wood, and also the Canadian Artillery in action. Lieut. A. Bastien is represented by "Over the Top," "Ypres Salient From Kemmel Hill."

Apart from the merit of the competitive work, the beauty and extent of the loan collection in the Art Building is one of the big attractions of the exhibition this year, to which Jenkins' Antique Galleries of Toronto, the Detroit Institute of Arts, and several London connoisseurs have contributed.

First places in both oils and water colors in the professional section for competitive work have been carried off by Londoners.

The first prize card has gone once more to Edward Glen for a very

SURE ANTHRACITE COAL TO BE FOUND NEAR SUDBURY

Toronto Geologist Willing to Stake All on Production of Fuel.

Sudbury, Ont., Sept. 12.—"If I had capital I could produce anthracite in large quantities within sixty days," A. F. A. Coyne, Toronto geologist, who reported coal discoveries in the Larchwood area near here, told the Star in an interview. "We have been hard at work and saying nothing, and the results are such that I am willing to stake everything on finding what I am after.

"There's no question but that there is lots of coal there. I now have nine men at work, and we have reached a depth of 18 feet. We struck our first vein 22 inches below the surface, and we are now working in pure coal streamers in coal slates.

"We have also run across carburetted hydrogen gas, commonly called 'fire damp,' which is a never-failing sign of anthracite."

PLAINTIFF IN BREACH OF PROMISE CASE ENGAGED

Eaton of Hamilton, is to be married on September 16 to William D. Cotton of Gananoque, according to an announcement made by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Heaster of Gananoque.

BELIEVES MEN WON'T STRIKE

H. E. Whittenberger of G.T.R. Thinks Employees Too Sensible.

States Railways Will Never Return Shopmen's Seniority Rights.

"I don't think the shop employees in Canada are foolish enough to strike after watching the results of the walkout across the border," was the emphatic belief of H. E. Whittenberger, general manager of the western lines of the Grand Trunk System, who was in the city for a few minutes Tuesday morning.

Mr. Whittenberger further declared that even with the present cut in force on the railroads, affecting the shop employees, the men are far better paid than those engaged in the same work in factories and in different manufacturing concerns.

"The higher rate of pay that railroadmen receive varies from 10 to 25 cents an hour," the general manager declared.

Sympathize With Men.

"A great number of our old shop employees on the western lines have gone back to work," Mr. Whittenberger said, "and we are taking on new men all the time. The bone of contention at present is the seniority rights of the strikers who have resumed work, but the railways will never give them back their seniority, as it would not be playing fair with the men who remained at work throughout the strike.

"I can sympathize with the men because I realize how they have been misled and mis-advised, but one thing they cannot retain is the seniority they lost automatically when they walked out."

Denying the report that he had been appointed to the position of assistant to the general manager of the G. T. R., following the superannuation of A. B. Atwater, Mr. Whittenberger stated that as yet he has not heard that an assistant had been appointed, and when asked whether he would accept the position if he was offered it, retaliated with a curt, "There's no telling what I might do."

Retired From Service.

Both Mr. Atwater and R. S. Logan, vice-president, in charge of land tax and claims, retired from active service Monday, Sept. 11. Mr. Logan has been vice-president of the company since 1911, while Mr. Atwater has held high positions on many of the largest roads in the United States.

Regarding optimistically the hard coal situation both in Canada and the United States, Mr. Whittenberger gave out the information that the G. T. R. was shipping the first cars of soft coal since the miners resumed work Tuesday, Sept. 12. He went on to say that within a month's time he believed that the country would be well supplied with anthracite.

CROWDS RALLY FOR THIRD DAY OF EXHIBITION

WILL PROTECT VISITORS

Directors' Board Take Every Precaution to Guard Human Life.

Tuesday morning at the Fair Grounds saw the great exhibition well on its way to a week of triumph.

The sun, which on Monday was conspicuous by its absence, came out in full splendor on the second day, bringing with it fleecy, summery, clouds to soften its brilliance and a crisp breeze to ward off any oppressive heat.

Long before noon crowds were swarming to Queen's Park, and from the number who found grassy spaces where they could regale themselves from picnic baskets, and the heavy patronage at the numerous dining halls scattered about the grounds, it could be seen that those who had planned to spend the entire day at the park were by no means few.

Along Society Row, where some of the organizations in connection with the city churches are running dining halls, not a few of the local clergy had allied a new calling with their ministerial professions, and bell in hand, they were lustily calling attention to the merits of the particular hall which they were representing.

Every feature of the fair is now in full swing.

The horticultural exhibit opened Tuesday morning with a display of superb beauty. Great masses of floral splendor were banked in the center and the walls lined with exquisite single blooms, magnificent specimens of foliage plants, and dozens of displays of skill and artistry in flower arrangements and massing.

Judge At Dog Show.

At noon the judging commenced in the dog show, and dog lovers, both professional and amateur, found there a great source of attraction.

Display work at exhibitions of this sort has come to be a science in itself, and observers were moved to admiration and appreciative comment at the graphic manner in which exhibitors bring their wares before the public.

In all the buildings where manufacturers have products on exhibit, electricity has been used to a great extent, producing some strikingly effective results.

At this year's fair the advertising and publicity profession has excelled itself, and even to those who go to the Fair solely for a enjoyment will find that all the fun is not confined to the grand stand and the Midway.

Everywhere throughout the exhibition is apparent the splendid natural resources and fertility of the province of Ontario, and the enterprise and energy of its manufacturers. Remembering the toil and crudity which marked the lives of the pioneers of the province, one is amazed at the mechanical efficiency of both home and business life, which is here typified.

No Accidents.

Until early afternoon Tuesday the emergency tent stationed near the general offices reported the desirable condition of no accidents or mishaps. Although it was stated everywhere that the regrettable accident which occurred Monday night was not due to carelessness or congestion of traf-

TELLS STORY OF HAMMONIA LOSS

Captain of Rescue Ship Describes Scenes as Worst in Experience.

Believed Number of Lost Will Never Be Definitely Known.

Southampton, England, Sept. 12.—The loss of life in the foundering of the German steamship Hammonia off Vigo, Spain, last Saturday, will probably never be definitely known. The passenger list was not saved, and the total of those on board can only be approximated.

Capt. Alfred Hoefer, commander of the Hammonia, asserts that only 15 persons are missing out of a total of 557. The crew, he believes, numbered 192, and the passengers 365.

Impossible to Trace.

Capt. Day, commanding the steamship Kinfauns Castle, which brought 385 survivors here, says he saw possibly 80 drowning, while others place the death list as high as 150. One reason why the number lost will probably never be known, is that most of the passengers were Spanish or Cuban workmen, whom it will be impossible to trace.

During his 50 years at sea, in which he has saved four ships and their crews, Capt. Day told the Associated Press, he never witnessed scenes of horror equal to those of Saturday.

"When we received the S. O. S. on Saturday morning," he said, "we hurried to the scene and stood by for several hours until told that we were not needed. Then, when re-setting our course late in the afternoon we got a second call and hurried back in a heavy sea. We saw the Hammonia on her side, sinking, with the ocean full of liferafts and overturned boats, to which drowning men, women and children were clinging. We got out eight boats and there was a great rush among the sailors to be the first to the rescue.

"They brought on board 385 persons. One of our boats delivered 7 to the City of Valencia; another 88 were rescued by the Euclid and possibly 60 by the Tudor Prince. If there were any more they were lost."

Never Had Accident.

Capt. Hoefer, who formerly commanded the liner Imperator, said he had been going to sea for 16 years, in which time he had never suffered an accident. Then, with lips quivering: "I lost my ship and cannot even say why. It will remain one of the mysteries of the sea.

"When we left Vigo," he continued, "strong cross winds began to blow, and we slowed down. Then I found the ship leaking, and put her head to the storm, but the water kept creeping upward. I sounded vainly to ascertain the whereabouts of the leak and set the pumps working at 3,000 tons to the hour.

"I did not dream that such a stout ship could be in danger, but the water kept climbing, and when the ship was listing I sent out the S. O. S. Then, hoping against hope, I refused aid until the very last. I quieted the passengers and assured them they would be saved. When a number of Spaniards became unruly I permitted them to put off in two boats, which quickly overturned.

Refused to Leave.

"It was then that the rest of the boats began putting off. They were met by those from the Kinfauns Castle and picked up.

"I refused to leave the ship, and 19 of my engineers and officers declared they would remain.

"We finally shoved off, but the waves were so powerful that, with two men on each oar it was difficult to go more than a few yards, and we were almost caught by the sinking vessel. As she went down by the stern there was a big explosion, shooting the green seas a hundred feet into the air."

SUN SHINES FOR CITIZENS' DAY

fic, even greater precaution is being exercised, and every road closed to trucks, where there might ensue possible danger of accident.

The fire truck stationed with great efficiency near the entrance to the grounds, has so far served only to provide a note of brilliant color with its bright red paint, being called to no more strenuous purpose. However, its constant readiness to hurry into action at any moment is a thing which could be by no means dispensed with, considering the thousands of lives at the Fair, and the tremendous amount of money involved in the exhibition.

With almost 15,000 shouting children crowding into insignificance a far smaller number of adults as appreciative spectators the first day of the Western Fair of 1922 was brought to a close in a blaze of fireworks before the grandstand Monday night.

Because of showers during the morning and lowering skies which threatened during the afternoon, the attendance was not a record-breaker, but in the estimation of Secretary A. M. Hunt it came close to a mark established in 1921, a banner year. On the first day of last year the figures were placed at 25,000 children and adults included.

With a holiday prevailing in all the city schools and in many schools of the townships around, and with free admission to the grounds and to the grandstand as an added attraction, the day in truth belonged to the children. Hundreds who braved the rains of the morning were but the nucleus of thousands more who swarmed into the grounds later in the day to take possession of every building, the midway, booths and stands.

The day was marred by one fatality, when Victor Capitano, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Capitano, 202 Simcoe street, was killed at 4 o'clock in the afternoon by a team and wagon owned by Silverwood's, Limited, and driven by Charles Chapman of 121 Horton street. Through the good work of many clubmen of the city who volunteered to act as foster daddies for the day, only a very few received minor scratches, and few were separated long from their parents.

True to the promise of the directors made early in the year, every attraction, both on the enlarged midway and before the grandstand, was in place, and, with only two exceptions on the midway, were in operation before night.

The grandstand performance carried the enthusiasm of the children to great heights, both in the afternoon and at night. The seven professional acts were interspersed with generous helpings of comedy, which heartily won the whole-hearted approval of the young critics. An act of drills staged by Boy Scout troops as a special event for the day, was also given a warm reception.

The program before the grandstand is all new this year, and is entirely void of any glaring weak spots. The acts, for the most part, are equal, and in some instances excel the splendid exhibitions given last year. While none of them are pretentious spectacles, they are always clever, screamingly funny and well staged.

The Dave Costello Troupe, consisting of a clown and a pair of riders, a man and a woman, and three beautiful horses, stage an act that is as original as it is clever and daring, which is saying a great deal. Rarely has a comedy equestrian act of this nature been seen in this part of the country. A riding school in which two boy scouts acted with two others as pupils, was especially funny.

Provide Good Comedy.

The furniture movers, too, is an innovation in comedy acts as far as London is concerned. It kept the thousands of children in convulsions from laughter. It pictures vividly the trials of the moving van crews of the kind pictured in humorous cartoons.

Then comes Mooney's Circus performed by two well-trained Shetland ponies and a mule which would not be ridden. Although acts quite similar to this one has been seen in the city before, it is on rare occasions that more action has been interjected in them.

The Earl Wright Comedy act is laugh-producing from beginning to the end, except in one little spot in which a dainty young miss, partner to a really funny clown, devotes several minutes to some clever dancing. Four tables, a chair, a barrel and ill-fitting clothing enables the clown to produce oceans of fun. Among more serious numbers of the act the Tumblin Demons, consisting of nine dusky skinned acrobats, give an exhibition of suppleness and strong-man stunts.

Mullini's Royal Hussars with six young women as members, gave a musical act with numbers played on many different instruments. Their costumes were quite gorgeous.

The hair-raising stunts of the program were contributed by the Peterson Trio, consisting of a man and two women, who gave exhibitions of marvelous strength in the jaw and teeth. One of the women and the man hung suspended for some time far from the ground, clinging only with the teeth to a slender rope.

The fireworks were noisy, as well as beautiful. All manner of rockets were sent into the sky to burst into many colored spark showers, while many novel flares and displays were given.

Aeroplane Flights.

During the afternoon and early evening an aeroplane made flights over the ground, and, despite the inclement weather, gave an exhibition of stunt flying.

Owing to the heavy track, no horse racing was staged during the afternoon. The 2:15 pace, which was scheduled, was postponed until Tuesday afternoon, when it will be run as an added attraction.

The midway, which was opened in full swing late in the afternoon, was well patronized. It occupies a much more advantageous position this year than last, and is larger and more pretentious.

Poultry and Dairy.

Judging was completed in the Agricultural Building Monday afternoon, and in certain classes of horses, Cattle, sheep, swine, fruit, dogs and horses will be judged Tuesday.

One of the notable features of the fair this year is the great increase in the number of flower exhibits. More than a half of the Horticultural Hall has been commandeered for flowers, and the fruit was crowded into the Agricultural Building.

Entries in all classes of horses and in sheep showed big increases, while cattle, swine and poultry were about the same as last year.

Judging Results.

The judging of exhibits in the agricultural building at the Western Fair has been partially completed. Exhibits of all farm products were very good.

Her Two Children Had Diarrhoea Terribly Bad

Anyone suffering from bowel complaints such as diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cholera, cholera morbus, cholera infantum, or any other looseness of the bowels, will find that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild strawberry will give quicker and more permanent relief than any other remedy on the market today.

Mrs. Roy Keith, Charlton, Ont., writes:—"I am writing to tell you what Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry did for me. Last summer my children had diarrhoea, terribly bad, and they would vomit and pass a great deal of blood. I tried every remedy we could think of, but finally bought a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and about one half of it stopped the diarrhoea altogether. I have told several others about it, and I would not be without it in the house, as I can truthfully say it saved the lives of my two children."

German Geologist Claims American Continent Is Drifting Westward

London, Sept. 12.—Is the American continent drifting westward and slowly leaving Europe behind? It is, if the theory propounded to the savants of the British Association at Hull yesterday by the German geologist, Wegener, is correct.

Dr. Wegener declares that the various continents originally were joined at the poles, but that now they are slowly drifting away from the poles, and east to west. America is moving westward faster than Europe, he said, and Greenland still faster than America. He added that this movement had been proven by experiments at observatories in Europe and at Washington.

In the discussion which followed, Professor Turner of Oxford said there was no astronomical observation worthy of serious consideration in support of Wegener's theory. Greenland, he admitted, had an apparent drift, showing a change of three-quarters of a mile in position between 1823 and 1907. All other evidence, however, was against the existence of changes in latitude and longitude.

ing rooms on either side, and will be allowed easy access to the vaults.

As the City of London is entering into an agreement with the County of Middlesex for a 99 year lease of the site in the courthouse grounds at a nominal rental of one dollar per year, nothing remains but official approval of the registry office plans by the provincial architect before building operations will commence.

Mayor Wilson stated Tuesday morning that the new offices will be built as soon as Architect Heakes approves of the plans.

"I have gone as far as I can with the plans until I know what the provincial architect wants," said Building Inspector A. M. Piper Tuesday. "I will take them to Toronto this week, and confer with Architect Heakes, after which details will be filled in, according to his wishes."

CANADA AND U. S. ORDER IRON FROM GT. BRITAIN

London, England, Sept. 11.—(Canadian Press cable)—As an outcome of labor disputes Canada and the United States have recently placed orders for three hundred thousand tons of foundry iron in Great Britain, including sixty thousand tons in Scotland.

Scottish iron masters, whose stocks have been cleared out, are preparing to re-light their furnaces in consequence of the orders. At present only sixteen furnaces are operating in Scotland, compared with seventy before the war.

INSPECT STREET RAILWAY LINES

Will Not Remain in City for Meeting of Council.

Arriving in London from Cleveland Monday night, President Charles Currie, of the London Street Railway Company, spent Tuesday in inspecting the lines and equipment of his firm, and returns to Cleveland Tuesday night. Manager C. B. King, of the London Street Railway Company, stated Tuesday noon that President Currie's visit was a routine one, but refused to comment as to whether his chief would confer with city officials Tuesday afternoon.

Although Mayor Wilson, and other officials at the city hall were aware of Mr. Currie's presence in London Tuesday, they stated that he had not called on them. It is stated, however, that the visit followed the action of the city council, which in session last Tuesday night, decided to pave Oxford street from the bridge to Wharncliffe road, upon which the thoroughfare street car tracks are located.

Tuesday morning President Currie, accompanied by local officials of the London Street Railway Company, inspected the new pavement on Dundas street, from Ashland avenue to tse city limits, where new rails for street cars were laid. He also inspected Hamilton road, from Egerton to St. Julien streets, where paving operations are being carried out. Both these jobs were the cause of Mr. Currie's last visit to London, when the city council agreed to advance funds to the company for new rails in order to facilitate the paving.

President Currie visited the scene of the proposed pavement in London west, on Oxford street, Tuesday morning, and "looked over" the situation. This is the latest authorized piece of city pavement involving street car tracks.

That the president will not confer with the city aldermen at meetings of No. 1 and 2 committees, Tuesday night, was the information given out by Manager C. B. King, who explains that he will be departing from London Tuesday night.

"Mr. Currie's visit was just a little call," said Manager C. B. King Tuesday. "There was nothing specially involved. He inspected the new pavements on Dundas street and the Hamilton road."

"Did he inspect the proposed pavement on Oxford street west?" he was asked.

"Yes," replied Mr. King. "But that did not bring him here."

"Will he confer with city officials while here?"

"I cannot say. I do know that he is going back to Cleveland Tuesday night, and will not be at the city council committee meeting tonight. Further than that I have nothing to say."

PICTURES DELIGHT ART LOVERS AT FAIR

modern group, in which he has exhibited nine pictures, instead of the required "just five." Included amongst these are several studies in France.

Miss Bradshaw comes second, her work, as usual, revealing strength and idealism, and unusual excellence in portraiture, but falling short in finish, which doubtless more than once has relegated it to second place instead of first.

Mr. J. P. Hunt, on whose collection the third class prize card is posted, has received many compliments upon his California pictures by those who have seen with their own eyes and know the faithfulness with which he had reproduced the color, the characteristics and the atmosphere in his studies of California scenery. Mr. Hunt has stepped into first place in the water color section. Miss Healey coming second with work of merit and charm, Miss O'Keefe, third, and Miss M. Burnett, fourth.

Miss Burnett leads in the professional china painting, professional class, both in conventional and realistic. Mrs. J. S. Cummins comes second in both; Miss M. D. Cone, Watford, takes third prize for conventional, and Miss L. Phillips, 735 Waterloo street, for realistic.

In the amateur class, the first prize for decorated china has gone to Mrs. R. J. Kennedy, Thamesford; second to Mrs. James H. Wheaton, Thorndale, and third to Miss M. McDonald, London.

A gem of purest ray serene, before which art lovers pause long to do homage, and which presents a high ideal to the student with wagon hitched to a star, is an interior by Josef Israels, of which the central figures are a mother and her child. Attracting first by the richness of the coloring and the impression successfully conveyed of depth, living atmosphere, and a certain luminosity, the details gradually shine out the longer it is studied, giving to the observer that happy feeling of making discoveries.

One of Henschel's inimitable human interest studies occupies a prominent place, showing a family group at the humble doorway of a real home just after reading a letter from a loved one in a far country. The loneliness of the wife, the homesick longing of aged mother and father, the curiosity of the little children, are revealed with all the skill in drawing, the mastery of coloring, and the understanding of human hearts, which has made Henschel a beloved painter. Mr. Kay Lawson is the fortunate owner of this picture.

The Israels picture is one of a group that has come from the Detroit Institute of Arts, including "Fish Market, Bruges," by Francis Paulus; "In the Garden," by Mary Cassatt; "Summer Reverie," by Richard Miller, and "Marine Headland," by Max Huehne. "In the Garden" is very much in the new mode, by a young American woman painter, who has been forging to the front in recent years. Like Israels picture, it has as its leading motif a woman and child. "In the Garden," however, doesn't wait to be discovered, and is obvious in the futuristic coloring and boldness of line.

In the Jenkins Gallery collection are found "Landscape With Cattle," by W. E. Atkinson, R.C.A., and four water colors, "Seascape," F. M. Bell Smith; "Autumn Tints," by L. R. O'Brien; "Interior of St. Alban's," by H. Martin, R.C.A., and "Carnival Venice," by Frank Wasley.

An allegorical picture, "The White Swan," by Gaston La Touche, with its grace, exquisite blending of colors, suggests that it has grown on the canvas rather than evolved from an ideal in the mind of the artist, through the medium of tools and craft.

Bishop pictures, loaned by Mr. W. Thompson Smith, an old garden and a charming bit of street are fascinating studies in composition and coloring, delightfully decorative.

St. Thomas Smith's mastery of the art of presenting deep, living, moving water effects is shown in the homecoming of a boat to the harbor, loaned by Mrs. J. S. Cummins.

Messrs. James and E. D. McNee are among the contributors this year to the loan collection. Notable among the pictures they have sent in are a couple by Edgar Bundy, depicting life some centuries back, when men wore more picturesque clothes than they do today, and the sight of a strange sail brought all the village racing to the shore.

LOSES ARM WHILE DOCKING FREIGHTER

Gordon Campbell, 22 years old, son of D. F. Campbell, 125 Horton street, London, had his left arm severed below the elbow while assisting in docking the freighter Bayton at Sandwich on Sunday morning.

Mr. Campbell, who is a returned man, was employed as a wheelsman on the freighter, which is the property of the Mathews Steamship Company, and was operating a wench in the forward part of the boat. His arm was caught in a mooring cable, and he was dragged into the wench.

He was rushed to the Grace Hostital at Windsor, where he lies in a critical condition, having suffered a severe loss of blood.

The Bayton was docking to secure a supply of coal and was on its way to Toronto.

board at Monday's fatality. He stated that the board would do everyhing within its power to prevent all future accidents.

Would Be Impractical.

He pointed out, however, that it would be impractical, next to impossible, to bar all delivery trucks from the grounds after 9:30 o'clock. The many dining-rooms must receive fresh provisions every day, and often during the day they ran short of supplies owing to an unexpected rush of business.

Then, too, if trucks were denied admittance to the grounds, he felt out of fairness all cars should be barred. At the present time no deliveries were allowed to be made on the grounds after 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Next year a bylaw may be drawn up forcing cars to make deliveries in the morning.

To Prevent Accidents.

In order to prevent a duplication of yesterday's fatality, and to minimize the possibilities of accidents of a less serious nature, Chief of Police Robert Birrell will recommend to the exhibition officials that all vehicles within the grounds be confined to the parking spaces during the remainder of the week, excepting before a certain hour in the morning.

Inspector of Police Thomas Lucas has been busy preventing as many vehicles as possible from entering the King street gate. Entrance at Quebec and Dundas streets is not being interfered with, for these gates lead to the parking grounds.

Of course, Chief Birrell and other officials point out, it is difficult to restrict traffic on the grounds on Monday, for so many concessions are getting in supplies and equipment. During the other days of the exhibition, it is thought that it would be possible to replenish supplies early in the morning before the crowds arrive.

BLAMES TARIFFS FOR SMUGGLING

London, Sept. 12.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—The higher customs duties which have been levied in the past few years in this country are held accountable for a striking increase in smuggling, as disclosed in the latest report of the commissioners of customs and excise.

Tobacco and spirits are chiefly concerned. There were only 3,500 seizures in 1904, but last year there were 11,000 seizures. Similarly the penalties recovered increased from £5,400 in 1904 to £19,000 in 1921.

TORONTO GIRL DROWNS SWIMMING ACROSS RIVER

Toronto, Sept. 11.—While trying to swim across the Wasago River near its outlet in Georgian Bay, Miss Lena Pugsley, Toronto, a student at McMaster University, lost her life today. There was a heavy surf, and the young woman apparently found herself unable to cope with it.

A younger sister, Helen, who was also bathing in the river, made an attempt to rescue her by going out in a canoe, but was unable to do so. The body was recovered.

TO PRODUCE 5,000 TONS PEAT FUEL

Government Plans to Produce Auxiliary Fuel at Alfred, Ontario.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—Five thousand tons gross of first-class peat fuel will be produced this season at the government's experimental peat plant at Alfred, Ont., it is estimated by Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of the interior, who has returned from personal inspection of the plant.

At the plant, which is operated jointly by the federal and provincial governments, a high-grade auxiliary fuel is being produced in quantities which will do much to ameliorate the fuel situation in the adjacent territory. The product, which is stated to be much superior to that turned out during the first years of experimenting, is being shipped daily from the plant to consumers at Ottawa, Montreal, Peterboro and other points in Eastern Ontario.

The fuel is being sold at $5 per ton f. o. b. Alfred to any purchasers in carload lots. At the Alfred plant, it is stated, hand labor has been reduced to a minimum. The total area overlain by peat in Canada is estimated to be 37,000 square miles, of which about 12,000 acres of an average depth of six feet are in Manitoba, Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick.

The enormous potential energy in this, provided the experimental plant at Alfred is successful in evolving a commercial process of manufacture, may be understood when it is known that the 13,000 acres contain about 9,000,000,000 tons of peat fuel. The mines branch of the department of the interior estimates that seven bogs, situated within shipping distance of Toronto are estimated to be capable of producing 26,000,000 tons of fuel, and seven bogs in the vicinity of Ottawa and Montreal could provide 23,000,000 tons.

REFERS IMPEACHMENT OF DOUGHERTY TO JUDICIARY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Demand for impeachment of Attorney-General Daugherty for "high crimes and misdemeanors" was made in the House of Representatives today by Representative Kelly (Republican, Minnesota), who sought immediate action on a resolution for an investigation.

By an overwhelming vote the House, however, referred the question to the judiciary committee thus, in the opinion of leaders, disposing of it finally.

I First Compounded This Newer Form of Iron For My Own Neighbors

Their Praise of This Remarkable Remedy Has Spread So Rapidly That Now Over 4,000,000 People Use It Annually

Years ago I began to wonder at the great number of my own friends and neighbors who were always ailing, complaining and doctoring, without ever seeming to get any better. Both working men and their wives were frequently all tired out in the evening, and a great many were weak, nervous and run-down. One had pains in the back and thought he had kidney trouble. Another had pains around heart, palpitations and dizziness, and was sure he was suffering from heart disease. Still others had severe headaches, floating spots before the eyes, tender spots along the spine and a great variety of alarming symptoms.

For years I made a special study of this condition, consulting a great number of physicians and chemists. An immense number of investigations by physicians all over the country showed that three people out of every four you meet lack 100% iron in their blood. Lack of iron in the blood is the greatest of all devitalizing weaknesses. It is the iron in your blood that enables you to get the nourishment out of your food. Without iron, nothing you eat does you any good. Your heart, lungs and kidneys and all your vital organs get their nourishment from the blood stream, and when the blood lacks iron and is thin, pale and watery, you may suffer from the symptoms of a great number of diseases when the real and true cause of all your trouble is a lack of iron in the blood.

In the old days people often took metallic iron, which some physicians claim is not absorbed at all. In compounding this newer form of iron which I call Nuxated Iron, I employed a special form of iron, which is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. Unlike the older forms of iron, it will not injure the teeth nor disturb the stomach, and it is ready for almost immediate absorption and assimilation by the blood. It is the people whose blood is rich in iron who possess great strength, force and energy. If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test:

See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two 5-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times a day after meals for two weeks, then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. An astonishing number of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while, have greatly improved their health and increased their strength, energy and endurance simply by taking this newer form of iron. The Joy

Of watching film-coats disappear from teeth

If you don't know these facts as yet, send now for this free test.

All the world over careful people are brushing teeth in a new way. Millions of them in America alone. You see the results in prettier teeth wherever you look today. Now let your own teeth show them.

Combat the film

Your teeth are coated with a viscous film. You can feel it now. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. No ordinary tooth paste can effectively combat it.

Film absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. It then forms cloudy coats. Tartar is based on film. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. All of these troubles were constantly increasing under old brushing methods.

Then this came

Dental science then began a search for film combatants. Eventually two were found. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved these methods effective. Then dentists everywhere began to advise their use.

A new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. The name is Pepsodent. In that modern tooth paste are embodied those two great film combatants.

Two other effects

Pepsodent brings two other effects which research proves essential. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to constantly neutralize the acids which cause decay.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits on teeth which may otherwise ferment and form acids. Thus Pepsodent, twice daily, gives manifold power to Nature's great tooth-protecting agents in the mouth.

What it means to a child

Pepsodent brings a new era in teeth cleaning. It means that children need not suffer what you may have suffered from your teeth. It means that boys and girls, as they grow up, need not have dingy teeth.

Do this

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

One week will bring to you and yours a new idea of what clean teeth mean. Cut out coupon now.

ATTEND SCHOOL ON SATURDAYS

Hon. Dr. Grant, Minister of Education, Approves Move.

Adolescent children in London may attend school on Saturdays from now on, according to the Hon. Dr. Grant, minister of education, who, in an official communication Monday to Senior School Inspector V. K. Greer, approves of the move.

Local school authorities are confident that this innovation in procedure will reduce to an appreciable minimum all such difficulties as are now encountered in connection with the enforcement of the adolescent school attendance act.

The new scheme will become effective immediately, and the majority of the industrial concerns employing adolescent children have given assurance that they will co-operate in every way.

Explaining that the Saturday proposal has been copied from the Detroit system, Dr. Weir, public school attendance officer, believes that the majority of the students will now be enabled to locate employment during the other days of the week that will allow them to attend the part-time classes eight hours on Saturday.

It is estimated that the required period of 400 hours a year can be accounted for in this manner in all cases where, to date, the child has been unable to make a suitable arrangement.

School Inspector Greer is quite enthusiastic relative to the latest development and gives positive assurance that the situation in this respect is greatly improved over a week ago.

Obituaries

JOSEPH F. BURRIDGE.

The death was announced Sunday, Sept. 10, of Joseph F. Burridge, aged 63 years, at Victoria Hospital.

The service will be held at the family residence, 4 O'Brien street, on Tuesday, at 2 o'clock, Rev. Leslie Armitage, of the St. James Anglican Church officiating.

Mr. Burridge is survived by his wife, Mary Ann Burridge, and family.

The interment will take place at Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

MRS. THOMAS DIGGS.

The funeral of Mrs. Thomas Diggs, who died after a lingering illness, was conducted Monday afternoon from the residence of her mother, Mrs. Mary Ann Craig, 368 Dufferin avenue, to Oakland Cemetery.

Mrs. Diggs was the wife of Thomas Marshall Diggs of Tampa, Florida, and returned to London, accompanied by her mother and husband last Dec. 13.

Her work during the war was prominent. She entered the service of the United States hospital staff stationed at Camp Pike, Arkansas, and was put in charge of very difficult work. Here she contracted influenza during that epidemic, from which her death eventually resulted.

The death of Mrs. Diggs' father, the late S. H. Craig, a little over a year ago, and the sudden death of her brother, Harry Gordon Craig, Aug. 3, 1922, proved severe shocks to her.

She leaves a mother, Mrs. Mary Ann Craig, her husband, Thomas Marshall Diggs, three sisters, the Misses Emma, Mary Ann and Isabella Craig, and one brother, Alexander Craig.

Rev. D. C. MacGregor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, conducted the services.

Pallbearers were: Messrs. W. G. R. Bartram, Percy Millman, A. Brener, Ward Casselman, Capt. Reason and T. Alkinhead.

PLAN TO DISMISS TUTORS IF ABSENT FROM DUTIES

Urban School Trustee Association Urges Rules to Govern Teachers.

The Urban School Trustees Association, to which London contributes certain delegates at each regular session, is moving for a stricter adherence to rules and regulations governing teachers in the various centers.

The local trustees have been presented with a tentative resolution, proposed for consideration at the next meeting of the association, and have included a clause to the effect that "after a teacher has absented his, or herself, for a period exceeding a month, the party of the first part (the school board) may terminate the contract."

The entire proposal will be submitted to the trustees at their next general session.

Now's the Time

Now is the time to get a maid for your wife, as the coming of winter means an increased amount of work for her.

It's a question of whether or not you can afford a maid this year?

Well, why not get a part-time maid? You know there are scores of bright, capable school girls who would be mighty glad to help with work in return for their board. Many country girls especially would be glad to live with a private family rather than in a boarding house.

Run a Want Ad in The London Advertiser today, asking for such a girl—it will make it much easier for your wife.

Keep House Well Locked Is Detective's Advice

"LOCK your doors and windows when you go to the Western Fair, and don't leave jewelry lying about, as sneak thieves may enter your house," is Inspector of Detective Thos. Nickle's advice to citizens. "Professional sneak thieves are clever and are hard to catch," he added.

Only yesterday, a Princess avenue woman returned home to find a well-dressed stranger standing in her dining-room. Not the least embarrassed by being found there, the marauder asked her the direction to the Fair and left the house. Nothing was found missing from the home.

Periodically the police issue warnings to Londoners to keep their valuables under lock and key when they are away from their dwellings.

Because London's crime sheet has been comparatively clean during the past few months, citizens are becoming lax again, police claim. This is a time when they should be most vigilant, the officials state.

E. R. DENNIS addressed the Brantford Kiwanis Club at their weekly luncheon Tuesday on "The Principles of Kiwanis and the Advantages of Team Work for the Common Weal at the Coming Convention in Windsor."

ACCORDING to school board authorities all hostilities have ceased again on the collegiate institute front, pending the next move by the Kingston Construction Company, contractors. As Secretary Tanner puts it, the situation is, "in status quo."

THE CRACK TEAM of St. Martin's will show their speed at getting runs when they meet the well trained team from St. Mary's tonight in a real game of baseball. The game is scheduled for 6 o'clock at Sunshine Park, and from the way the players talk it is expected that it will be a very hot game.

WHEN THE driver of one of the autos entered in the races at the Western Fair took his car out on the streets without the necessary Ontario government license markers, he was apprehended by an officer at the corner of York and Richmond streets at noon today. It is alleged the driver was also using a "cut-out" on the car. The driver contends, it is claimed, that he is not required to have a license. No information has been laid at the police station as yet.

OWING TO THE fact that the majority of the members of the city council are directors of the Western Fair Association, No. 1 committee will hold a meeting in the city hall simultaneously with No. 2 committee Tuesday night, instead of Wednesday, as regularly scheduled. Both Mayor Cameron Wilson and City Clerk S. Baker stated that no special items are on the agenda of either committee, and that aside from passing accounts and dealing with routine business and proposals, introduced by the members, the meetings will likely be brief ones.

ALL DANGER of smallpox in London has been cleared up by complete recovery of the one lone case, detected here a few weeks ago, Dr. W. S. Downham, medical officer of health, reported Tuesday morning. This was the first case reported in London in almost two years, and every precaution was taken to prevent further outbreaks. Quarantine has been released on the affected patient, who contracted the disease in a Western Ontario town, and Dr. Downham declares that the public has no need to fear any further outbreak.

NO ACTION HAS as yet been taken by Harry Walton, building inspector of Sarnia, and George Ponsford, St. Thomas, contractor, who were recently appointed to represent the London Housing Commission, and Hayman & Willis, contractors, respectively, as a board of arbitration to settle the controversy over defects in roofs of dwellings erected on Pine Lawn survey. These two arbiters must agree to a chairman, failing which the county judge will act in the chair. When this duty is accomplished the board will meet, and render a decision fixing the responsibility for repair of the defects. It is expected that a chairman of the board of arbitration will be named this week, and that this body will sit for the first time next week.

COINCIDENT WITH Fair Week in London is the arrival of numerous motor busses, whose owners expect to reap a rich harvest from the crowds journeying to and from Queen's Park. These vehicles have come from Stratford, Hamilton and Simcoe, augmenting the bus service provided by Londoners. London benefits by the visit of these busses in that each driver, prior to plying trade on city streets has visited Chief of Police William Birrell and deposited $10, the fee required for a motor bus license. In addition to the busses several auto owners have temporarily gone into the jitney business for Fair Week, and they also will be required to pay the necessary license fee.

DRIVER DRUNK, DRAWS 10 DAYS

Magistrate Sentences William Heatherington After Hearing Evidence of Police.

Prisoner Captured After Colliding With Curb and Telephone Pole.

Ten days in the county jail was the sentence meted out to William Heatherington, St. John's garage owner, for driving about London streets while intoxicated, contrary to section 14 of the motor vehicles act, in police court Tuesday morning.

Heatherington's troubles centered around a dog, which he claimed he purchased for $5 yesterday morning. Someone informed Constable Knight that the St. John's man had stolen the canine. Knight was standing on the corner of Dundas and Wellington streets when the complaint was laid. Heatherington was seated in his car a few feet away. When the officer was about to approach the auto, the prisoner drove away. He did not see the officer, he claimed.

Knight gave chase in another car. Heatherington drove around two city blocks, hitting the northeast curbing when he turned the corner of Clarence street and Queen's avenue, and coming to a standstill after colliding with a telephone pole at the corner of Wellington and Dundas streets, the officer testified.

Both Constable Knight and Constable Williams, who answered a call for the patrol, declared Heatherington was under the influence of liquor to such an extent that he could not give them any particulars they wanted. Sergeant Thomas MacDonald, who was on duty at the police station, verified their evidence on this point.

Heatherington denied he had imbibed any whiskey or beer, but admitted he had two drinks of home-made wine before he left home at 10 o'clock in the morning. He was arrested at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. He declared he was subject to fits of dizziness, and had been nervous since his return from the war four years ago.

His physician, Dr. L. M. Jones, stated Heatherington had been under his care for ten months, and had suffered with weak spells. He did not speak to him yesterday, however.

"I don't think there is the slightest shadow of a doubt that this man was drunk," declared Magistrate Graydon, in summing up the case. "This is an aggravated case." The court believed he would be justified in imposing the maximum penalty of 30 days. Drunken men in autos are a great danger to the public, especially at this time, when there are so many people in town, the magistrate pointed out.

TENDER FREWELL TO REV. H. ASHBY

Congregation of St. Matthew's Anglican Church Honors Departing Pastor.

The St. Matthew's Anglican Church congregation held a farewell meeting in honor of their pastor, Rev. H. B. Ashby, and his wife, on Monday night. Mr. Ashby, who has been connected with that church for some time, is leaving for Windsor this week, where he will become rector of the Church of the Ascension.

At the meeting, in which Mr. Noble presided, a farewell address was delivered by H. H. Hitchens, in which he spoke of the wonderful success of the church work during Mr. Ashby's pastorate, and it was with regret that they had met for this purpose.

In appreciation of the work done, R. P. Wright, on behalf of the congregation, presented Mr. Ashby with a purse of gold and a club bag. Mrs. Ashby was presented with a handsome leather hand bag by the ladies of the church.

The meeting was then adjourned, and the congregation withdrew to the basement of the church, where luncheon had been prepared.

The congregation then wished Mr. and Mrs. Ashby all the success that could be had in their new work at Windsor.

CLAIMS RYERSON PUBLIC SCHOOL IS OVERCROWDED

Junior School Inspector States Something Drastic Will Have To Be Accomplished in 1923.

The Ryerson public school, North London, is crowded to capacity, reports Junior School Inspector G. A. Wheable.

"What the situation will be next year and what steps can be taken to handle the situation is difficult to determine," the inspector commented.

He states that despite the fact that another room was opened last Tuesday (the last available accommodation in the building), it was even necessary for the works department to install additional seats in certain of the rooms, so great was the increase in attendance."

While the problem can be handled this year, the inspector believes, something drastic will have to be accomplished in 1923.

BOARD FAVORS NURSES' COURSE

Members of the board of education have viewed favorably the request from the school nurses for permission to take advantage of a special course of instruction at the local Institute of Public Health, commencing in October and lasting until late in the spring. No. 3 committee has recommended to the school board that they be granted certain time from their duties to attend these classes.

Motor Vehicles Act Offender Finds It Pays To Be Truthful in Court

When John Lodato arrived in London yesterday and saw the crowds of people he arrived at the conclusion that this was a fast town and forthwith speeded his "flivver" up to 25 miles an hour.

In police court this morning, when he was charged with speeding, he stated: "I was going about 25 miles an hour."

"Well, didn't you know you were exceeding the speed limit?" asked Magistrate Graydon.

"I didn't know what the speed limit was in London," replied the visitor.

"It's the same as in any other place," he was informed.

"What's the speed limit in St. Thomas?" queried the court.

"I don't even know that," John confessed.

"He's truthful, chief," remarked the court. "I'll impose the minimum penalty, "Five dollars and costs."

"You might as well be truthful," the defendant asserted, as he left the court, without even waiting to pick up some of his loose change which had dropped on the floor.

WHEABLE IS NOW JUNIOR INSPECTOR

Young Supervisor of Principals Receives Official Promotion Monday.

At 5 p.m. Monday, Geoffrey A. Wheable became officially junior school inspector of the London public schools. Until that time he was supervisor of principals, but had been actually enacting the duties of the inspectorship during the past few months.

W. A. Tanner, secretary of the board of education, at Monday's session of No. 1 committee submitted a communication from the provincial department of education, announcing that the London supervisor of principals had been successful at his recent test in Toronto for a junior inspector's certificate.

While the committee recommends to the board that Mr. Wheable be elevated to the position, the department stipulates that by 1924 he secure the required standard in the subject of agriculture. The new inspector may undertake this work at a summer school.

It is fully expected that the board will also adjust his salary to make it commensurate with his post. This question has been also referred to the next general session of the trustees.

It is understood that the Toronto authorities have authorized the promotion, despite the necessary standing in agriculture, after consideration of Mr. Wheable's splendid record overseas during the late war.

INSIST TEACHERS RESIDE IN LONDON

No. 1 Committee Passes Recommendation, Effective From June, 1922.

A mere oversight on the part of some person, yet unknown, is the chief reason, evidently, for the fact that while several weeks ago the school trustees decided, after lengthy debate, that all teachers, henceforth and forever afterwards, must take up a place of abode within the city limits, such timely action was not duly recorded in the files.

Introducing this question for comment, favorable or otherwise, during the meeting of No. 1 committee Monday, Trustee Edwin Smith evinced a desire to know "what about it?"

He was informed by Secretary Tanner that, despite the unfortunate slip, the rule itself had been rigidly adhered to since last June, and all new teachers who were not at that moment residing in the Forest City were moving townward just as speedily as possible.

"There was an unwritten law of sorts that this was to be done in any event," explained the secretary.

To insure that there would be no mistake in the future, and as something perhaps for future school trustees to regard, it was finally recommended to the school board that from June, 1922, "all teachers employed by the London school board must reside in the city in which they propose to teach."

FIRE MARSHAL IS PRESSING CASE

Farmer Charged With Failing to Have Spark Arrester on Engine.

Farmers throughout Ontario are watching with interest the test case brought by Fire Marshal A. P. Heaton against Frank Moore and George Manning, who are being tried in police court this afternoon before Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon on a charge of allowing a threshing machine to operate without a spark arrester. Crown Attorney J. C. Elliott will prosecute.

Deputy Fire Marshal Albert Burnett, who is here to press the case, declared that the department was not seeking so much to have a heavy penalty imposed, but rather was seeking a conviction in order to be able to clean up this matter in the province.

Despite the fact that farmers are liable to fail to recover insurance after a fire if they fail to have proper spark arresters on their threshing machines, ninety-nine per cent of them prefer to take a chance, the deputy stated.

These spark arresters have a life of about three years, and the farm implement firms advise purchasers of threshing machines to have them replaced when they wear out.

The case before the court this afternoon is the outcome of a fire on the farm of Mr. Moore a few weeks ago, which caused a loss of $15,000. The threshing machine, which was on the farm at the time of the fire, was not owned by Mr. Moore, it is claimed.

DECRIES MONDAY AS CHILDREN'S DAY

Trustee Smith Contends an Error Made by Western Fair Directors.

School Trustee Edwin Smith, chairman of the board of education, is but one of many who contends frankly and vigorously that it was a lamentable error in the first instance that Monday should have been set aside as "Children's Day" by the Western Fair directors.

The chairman cites several reasons for this stand and feels that he voices the opinion of the majority of his colleagues.

"The sad affair Monday afternoon, the death of that child is something that might have been avoided," he pointed out. "To my mind, Monday, with the countless wagons, trucks and automobiles traveling through the grounds, crowded with thousands of youngsters, is the worst possible day for the latter."

From the educational viewpoint, the selection of Monday never met with the whole-hearted approval of the school trustees or their officials, he relates, but explains that the board of education had but little, if anything, to do with the matter. The board was never consulted, he says, but was notified by the Fair board that Monday would be the children's day.

The trustees favored Thursday, or Friday, or even both days, as a preference to the first day, which was bound, they state, to disrupt the schools for the entire week. They point out that the child goes on Monday and then usually again in the middle of the week with the parents.

As School Inspector V. K. Greer puts it, "an atmosphere is created for the entire week and cannot be counteracted."

SCORES CITY'S GARBAGE SERVICE AS INEFFECTIVE

Trustee Wright Declares Grass and Weeds Are Left In Alleys to Rot.

Scoring again the city's garbage collection service as ineffective, School Trustee J. B. Wright declares that there has been no noticeable improvement since he last questioned "why Mayor Wilson did not do something about it."

"What is the use of having a garbage system," questions Trustee Wright, "if you have to hire another party to take away such refuse as the civic collectors decline to touch?"

"They only remove about one-half of what they should and leave all the grass, weeds and the like and we have to throw it into the alley to rot. That is what is filling up the lanes."

The complainant states that the same is noted at his place of business. The collectors will take practically nothing other, he says, than the sweepings off the floor that can be burnt upon the premises in any event.

DENIES CITY LOST MONEY ON CIVIC COAL PURCHASE

Mayor Asserts Ratepayers, While Protected for Fuel, Will Not Suffer Loss.

Denial f the rumor in the streets that the city of London has suffered a considerable loss by reason of assuming the responsibility of purchasing 2,000 tons of bituminous coal to avert a fuel shortage here next winter, was made by Mayor Cameron Wilson Tuesday morning. His worship pointed out that when the city considered purchase of coal, the project was entered into with the understanding that a financial loss was almost inevitable, but despite this fact the ratepayers are not out of pocket.

"The only loss that the city can sustain on the purchase of this emergency coal will be entailed if some of the dealers who took over distribution cannot make their payments on it. The city expected a loss on this thing, but was determined to suffer rather than have the people go without fuel next winter.

"However, so far as I know there has been no loss. Let them say what they like in the street. We did the right thing, and did not lose any money on the venture."

HALE, REPUBLICAN, WINS IN MAINE ELECTION

Portland, Me., Sept. 12.—Revised figures on the election in Maine yesterday, with 44 small towns missing, give Senator Frederick Hale, Republican, re-election over his Democratic opponent, former Governor Oakley C. Curtis, by a majority of 26,392 votes.

The same precinct gave Governor Percival P. Baxter, Republican, a margin of 26,671 over William R. Pattangall, Democrat, former attorney-general. The missing precinct cast less than 3,000 votes in 1920.

G. T. R. RECEIPTS DECREASE.

Montreal, Sept. 12.—Grand Trunk traffic receipts for the period ending Sept. 7 were: 1922, $2,147,745; 1921, $2,416,740; decrease, $268,995.

7-YEAR-OLD BOY KILLED AT FAIR

Driver of Team Tries Utmost To Prevent Fatal Accident.

Trodden underfoot by a team of horses on a delivery wagon of Silverwoods Limited, at the Western Fair Monday afternoon, 7-year-old Victor Capitano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Capitano, 202 Simcoe street, was so badly injured that he died within a few seconds after being lifted from beneath the wagon wheels.

A coroner's jury, composed of Robert Robertson, foreman; Charles Finchamp, Adam Blay, Percy Ashton, George W. Forrest, G. W. Stark, Jos. Wilkins and Hugh Wilkins, viewed the remains at George E. Logan's undertaking parlors at noon today, and adjourned until 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, when the inquest proper will be conducted at the police station. Coroner Robert Ferguson presided.

Although the section of the grounds before the cattle sheds, where the accident occurred was not crowded, the lad evidently did not see the approaching team, for he collided with one of the horses and fell beneath its feet. Although the driver brought the slow-moving team to a standstill as soon as possible, one of the wheels of the wagon had crushed the little body and it was found that a hoof had smashed the child's head.

Driver Gives Himself Up.

The driver, Charles Chapman of 121 Horton street, and George Burt of the same address, who was with him, did not see the child or his two little sisters until the cry of the boy attracted his attention which had been devoted to three other girls whom he had warned to clear the way.

After the accident Chapman gave himself up to the police and later was allowed out on bail.

The lad had gone to the fair with his two small sisters, Mary and Theresa. Neither of the two were aware of the boy's danger until Mary heard someone shout "Look out." She turned just in time to see the child struck down.

Witness told the police that the team was proceeding at a slow walk at the time of the accident. The heavy load of ice cream on the wagon foiled attempts to bring the wagon to a stop before the wheels reached the lad. It is thought, however, that death resulted from crushing weight of the horse's hoof.

Police Constable Percy Last arrived soon after the boy was struck. He had the tiny victim removed to the St. John Ambulance Corps emergency tent, where he was pronounced dead by a doctor.

Jury is Empaneled.

The boy is survived by his parents, three brothers, Joseph, Frank and Anthony and five sisters, Mary, Teresa, Helen, Augustine and Amelia, all at home.

The death marred an otherwise almost perfect day as far as accidents were concerned, for outside of a few minor scratches no one was hurt. Members of the various city clubs were stationed throughout the various parts of the grounds, and where a watch was kept not a child among the many thousands in attendance suffered injuries.

WILL DELIVER SERIES OF PUBLIC HEALTH LECTURES

Institute Plans Busy Program of Work for Coming Winter.

A series of lectures will be delivered under the auspices of the Institute of Public Health in the near future.

"We are booked for a very busy winter this year," stated Dr. W. H. Hill Tuesday. The first lecture on my list will be under the title of "Health Up-to-date."

The Kiwanis Club of Ingersoll have extended an invitation to Dr. Hill to speak at one of their meetings this week, which he has accepted, and will be the first of his series this year.

"Our registration is growing wonderfully this year," Dr. Hill remarked. "The Victoria Order of Nurses has awarded six scholarships to our nurses, which is excellent for this institution."

HYDRO RATES TO FEATURE PUBLIC UTILITIES SESSION

Buchanan States Problem Must Be Dealt With as Provincial Rates Have Increased.

A full consideration of the question involving hydro rates for the city of London will feature the regular session of the Public Utilities Commission Thursday afternoon next.

As this is the first gathering of the commissioners since they adjourned prior to the summer holidays, there are many questions of minor importance to claim their attention.

General Manager E. V. Buchanan reiterates his declaration that the rate problem must be dealt with by the commission, in view of the fact that London's hydro bill to the provincial hydro commission has been increased. While he will have no definite recommendation, it is understood that, as is customary, the increased assessment must be borne proportionately by the private citizens and commercial enterprises alike.

BOARD INSISTS TEACHERS UNDERGO MEDICAL TESTS

Secretary Tanner Claims Misunderstanding Exists Over $2 Fee.

School authorities have again insisted that all teachers submit a medical certificate of health, and Secretary Tanner reports that the majority of the demagogues have complied with the order.

While the certificates must be obtained from Dr. Seaborn, officially recognized by the board, there seems to be certain misunderstanding as to the payment of the $2 fee for the examination.

Dr. Seaborn claims that the onus rests with the teachers, while Trustee Edwin Smith, chairman, entertains a contrary view and voices assurance that all teachers who have already paid their fees will have the same refunded in due course.

RADIO EXHIBITOR TRAVELS IN PLANE

Flies From Hamilton To Western Fair To Do Aviation "Stunts."

Radio, the latest achievement in the scientific world, the invention that is the talk of nations, and the discovery that links east and west, north and south, with a bond such as man has never experienced before in any age, is being exhibited for the first time at the Western Fair this year.

And just as the radio waves have the right of way and enjoy seniority rights over thunderstorms, electrical disturbances and the like, so Jack Elliott, radio manufacturer of Hamilton and exhibitor at the second largest annual exhibition in the Dominion, chose the air as his road to London Monday, Sept. 11.

The "Canuck," a Canadian-built machine, carrying the pilot, Capt. F. W. McCarthy, and Mr. Elliott, made the distance from Toronto to London, traveling by way of Hamilton and Brantford in the record time of one and a half hours.

Capt. McCarthy stated that nothing happened to mar the trip, even though the air was rather treacherous on the day the flight was made. The most of the journey was made high above the rain and the clouds.

Monday night thousands of people watched breathlessly as Captain McCarthy looped the loop, banked at dangerous angles, and tail-spun above exhibition grounds. The afternoon's exhibition of dare-devil flying had to be called off on account of the shortage of gas after the flight from Toronto to the city, but for the remainder of the week Capt. McCarthy will give afternoon and evening performances that will make the most stoic individual gasp with astonishment.

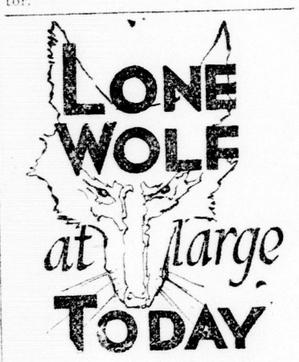

As there are no fields suitable for a quick landing in the vicinity of the fair grounds, Captain McCarthy stated that he would have to fly rather high while doing the trick flying, so that in case of emergency he will be able to glide to safety.

The word "radio" is written on the underside of the fuselage of the plane in large letters that can be seen for a considerable distance when the machine is in flight. On the undersides of the tips is J. V. E., the trade mark of the owner, Mr. Elliott.

SALARY COMMITTEE OF BOARD TO HOLD SESSION

After several weeks' inactivity, another session of the salary committee of the board of education will be staged this month, it is announced.

Several questions still await the consideration of the members. There are still two requests for increases in remuneration, outstanding since the first of the year, involving both W. A. Tanner, secretary of the board, and Dr. George S. Weir, public school attendance officer. To this list is added for readjustment the name of G. A. Wheable, junior school inspector.

CITY FAILS TO RECEIVE FEES

40 Students Live On Dominion Government Non-Taxable Property.

Realizing that the time has come for drastic action, members of the public school committee of the board of education have moved to save the city the cost of tuition for more than 40 students, all residents of government non-taxable property at Tecumseh Barracks, for whom no fees have yet been received by the board of education.

At Monday's regular session of the committee, W. A. Tanner, secretary, again introduced the problem for consideration, elucidating that after months of correspondence this matter had died an automatic death.

"As Trustee Silverwood might say," commented Secretary Tanner, "All the authorities consulted upon the question 'passed the buck' to each other. No fee has ever been received for these pupils. The military authorities have stated that it is a matter for the provincial department, while the latter is equally emphatic that the onus for responsibility rests upon the federal authorities. All decline to act."

$2,000 Expended.

The secretary pointed out that these pupils, more than 40 in number, required the services of a teacher, meaning an annual expenditure of perhaps $2,000, exclusive of the loss of a like sum by the non-payment of the $53 per capita fee. It was not alone a question of providing class-room accommodation but a problem as to whom should be billed for the amount.

Senior School Inspector V. K. Greer was directed to submit a report in time for consideration at the next session of the board, setting forth the exact number of pupils, the schools affected and other similar details.

Trustee J. B. Wright questioned whether it would be within the jurisdiction of the school board to bar the entrance of these children until the city was remunerated.

Trustee Edwin Smith held that it was, while Trustee Casselman was vigorous in his remark that the question should be followed to a desirable termination, and the city solicitor consulted as well. Immediate action is assured.

The committee recommended also that fifteen pupils, all 9 years old and under, be admitted, as requested to the public schools from School Section 20, of Middlesex County. As the Riverview school is crowded to capacity it is proposed to find accommodation in the Charles street or other schools.

Will Notify County.

Upon the suggestion emanating from Inspector Greer, it was further recommended that the county authorities be acquainted of the fact that, from present indications, it would be practically impossible to admit these students or others, after June next, so serious has become the local school accommodation problem.

The school inspector regrets that such action should be contemplated, but points out that conditions are actually reaching a state where something must be accomplished.

POSTPONE MEETING OF PUBLIC SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Trustees To Accept Plan For New School on Monday Next.

There will be no meeting of the public school committee Wednesday afternoon as scheduled, and a final acceptance of the plans and specifications for the new school in Southeast London is again delayed. The meeting is now set for Monday next, when it is anticipated all the trustees will be refreshed and fully recovered from the effects of the fair.

While plans are said to be in readiness for the two-room addition to the Tecumseh avenue public school, W. A. Tanner, secretary, explained Tuesday that he was at a loss to state definitely whether the same had ever been approved by the trustees. If not, attention will be called to the matter on Monday.

Vocations or Ideals?

WHAT would happen were we to pursue the idea of MR. WOOD of Alberta and MR. MORRISON, in having groups or vocations representing their own callings at the capital? If the farmers of the country insist on having a group at the capital, and insist on having that group keep itself separate and apart from any other faction, the same right can be claimed by any other calling, trade or profession.

Would the result not be to encourage a number of small groups there, each of which would carry on propaganda in the interests of those sending its members there? A situation somewhat analogous exists in United States, and there are certain parallels that would hold in Canada. A well-informed political writer estimates that in United States there are almost 200 national organizations which maintain bureaus in Washington for the purpose of influencing legislation. The word bureaus sounds better than "lobbies," but that is where the only difference comes in, as they are doing exactly the same work as the lobbyists have in this country as well as in the republic.

The "farm bloc" in United States has been much to the front recently—it is bringing its full influence to bear on those who write the legislation. It is securing a tariff for farmers and at the same time reaping one of the most barren victories it has ever been the misfortune of any people to have thrust upon it. It is only within the last few years that there has been something in the nature of a cessation from Labor putting the laws on the statutes of United States. Then women have organizations at Washington representing some 6,000,000 voters, and they are keeping close watch on all the legislation that is passed.

Now, is this the logical destination for group government? If it is, do the people of the Dominion want the work in that direction in a federal or provincial sense? Or is it not a fact that people should be associated in politics according to aims and ideals rather than by vocations?

THE Winnipeg Free Press, dealing with this point, expresses the belief that both MR. WOOD and MR. MORRISON recognize this tendency, but believe that two political parties are not sufficient to give expression to the aims and desires of all the people in Canada. If it is necessary to bring in third parties, then how are they going to be founded—on vocations or common desires? The Winnipeg paper uses a local illustration to bring light on this point. It claims that the "theories of MR. WOOD or MR. MORRISON rest upon the assumption that the political and economic interests of all followers of the same occupation are the same. Does not that fly in the face of all experience? A farmer in, let us say, Birtle, might have very different economic interests from a farmer in Halton County, Ontario. On the other hand, a merchant in Birtle, a druggist in Hamiota, a lawyer in Minnedosa, a merchant in Russell, a teacher in Binscarth, all resident in the same constituency, might have interests so nearly in common as to make concerted political action desirable. But MR. WOOD would disjoin them while he would tie the Ontario and the Manitoba farmer together in a common political yoke. Truly, queer doctrines are being preached in the name of democracy."

The Free Press goes on to state its own belief that commonsense after all is the force that must be brought in to determine the proper place of a third party, and also the time when it has served its purpose, after which it is simply a time server if allowed to live. That paper argues there are two schools of thought in Canada right now: (1) the WOOD and MORRISON group, who are convinced that the group by vocation idea is right, and (2) the "old fossils," who are certain that political expression is to be had only through the two old political parties in Canada. Between these two some place must be the proper solution for the whole problem. It seems quite possible to the Free Press that at times there would be an approximation of the two-party basis, while at another time would be, as new ideas come to the surface, the appearance of groups dedicated to the furtherance of these ideas. We need in our political structure powers of expansion and contraction in the matter of the extent of our political machinery. Our Western contemporary concludes that in order to secure this freedom it will be necessary to reject the strait-jackets offered us on one hand by MR. WOOD and on the other by the devotees of a traditional hereditary partyism.

Not the Same At All.

PRETTY much the same as last year.

Ever hear any person make that remark when looking over an exhibition of roots, grain, vegetables or fruit? One man made such a remark at the Western Fair. He had looked over the products of the farm. He had seen big vegetables, but he remembered that last year he had also seen big vegetables at this exhibition. And he had noticed the excellence of the fruit, but he remembered that on going over the same ground the year before he had also seen fruit that was very good to look upon.

But he didn't stop to think. It may be that he was not particularly interested in the growing of any of these various exhibits.

The man who has produced good fruit, vegetables, or grain, or any other good thing at the Fair, knows that it is not the same thing as he grew last year. He knows how he had to prepare the soil; how he had to take care in the selection of his seed; how he had to cultivate after the growth had started; he knows what pests there were to contend with in the way of all sorts of worms, insects, all of them with destructive possibilities; he knows the anxieties due to uncertain weather conditions, and also the chances that were taken on the market being good enough to pay back with profit what had been invested in the crop in the way of seed, overhead and labor.

No, don't go around and tell the men who have produced these exhibits that they are very much the same as last year. They are not.

They are the visible marks of a whole year's work, planning and achievement.

Hitting the Consumer.

MUCH has been written of the high protective features of the tariff now before the American House of Representatives, as against Canadian products. This is a feature which many of the American papers have most strongly opposed. But from the point of view of the home consumer it is no less open to objection. How the consumer will be hit is shown in the following list given by the Washington correspondent of The New York Times:

	Old tariff.	Senate proposals.
	Per cent.
Cotton manufactures..	34.2	54.0
Silk manufactures....	42.6	59.0
Wool manufactures...	31.6	75.0
Clothing	51.9	74.0
Earthen, stone and china ware	47.0	61.0
Glassware	35.2	44.0
Sugar, refined	17.4	68.5
Buttons	35.9	96.0
Cutlery	39.3	184.0
Hardware	20.0	40.0
Sewing machines	Free	30.0
Clocks and watches..	27.8	41.0

The lowest duty is on sewing machines, but these were formerly free of duty. Then there is a range from 41 per cent on clocks and watches to 184 per cent on cutlery. Some of these figures are perhaps open to dispute as being calculations of the average of duties on various articles, but there is little doubt that the Senate majority is going the whole hog. The minority report of that body says:

The toll the American people must pay under the operation of this bill is stupendous. It will reach into billions. Foodstuffs, clothing, practically all the very essentials and necessaries of life, bear the highest known duties, and all of this while people are demanding reductions in the cost of production and cost of living and capital is deflating wages.

Experts of the government estimate that if the increased duties levied on fresh meats, cereals, potatoes and beans are effective in increasing prices these duties alone will amount to an increase of $1,250,000,000 in the cost of living.

The total increase is estimated at three billions. One writer says that the bill will create a tariff wall behind which the public will be gouged for the private benefit of the wool, cotton, silk, glove, chinaware, cutlery, aluminum and other special interests who dictated the bill. Farmers, he says, will pay five times as much more for the manufactured things they need than they will get by way of concessions under the bill, for many of the duties thrown to them as sop, such as a tax on wheat, corn and other grains, will be inoperative owing to America's domination of world markets for these commodities.

REMODELED?

LITTLE 'TISERS

People rave against the habit of tipping, and continue to do it cheerfully.

It's easy to say that "I had a chance to get all the coal I wanted early in the season."

Let's see, how did they used to make a wood-box, and also how did we used to split kindlings in the woodshed?

In St. Thomas they pay seven cents for a street car ride, while in London we make a face every time we kick in a nickel for a juggernaut jaunt.

Just why Conservatives of British Columbia turned down Stevens and clung to Bowser is something this corner of Canada can't understand.

"Look at the hemstitching on that garment" remarked one woman to another at the Western Fair. At last, sister, we're getting back to normal.

One student has taken 220 words a minute shorthand. The trouble will be to get some person to talk fast enough to keep him from dropping back to the ordinary class.

A Kentucky man didn't know what to do with his used car, so he buried it. There's a heap of these clap-traps hereabouts, so we pass the hint in the interests of quietness.

PERSONAL ITEM.

After cooking meals for all the week-end visitors and casual callers at the cottage, mother has returned to the city from her summer vacation.

The Walkerton Telescope speaks of the "talented editor of The London Advertiser." We always knew some great, far-seeing, discerning, wise, intelligent, excellent, keen and level-headed individual would trip over that fact sooner or later.

And now comes the Chesley Enterprise as an all home-print paper, accompanied by a bit of an apology because everything wasn't going as smooth as an eel swimming in grease the first week. Bless your hide, we'd read your old paper if it was only printed on one side and that in green ink. Never apologize, boy. It's well nigh been the ruination of the newspaper business.

The Financial Post, Toronto, is quite critical of the Dominion government because it has done little to secure coal for Canada. Just what could the government at Ottawa do if it did start? There are more people now regulating, contriving and planning than there is coal to worry over. Ottawa's biggest contribution to the coal question will be in keeping alive and adding enthusiasm to the work of those who are seeking a way to make a commercial success of the fuel we already have in Canada but can't use.

Reports from several Ontario centers made it certain that the days of the traveling Chautauqua are numbered. Those who signed the guarantee list in a large number of places have been called upon to dig down and make up a deficit. The idea was a very good one in the first place, but in the last analysis it means that a certain number of people are called upon to guarantee a given amount of money, the same as backing a note. As a general thing, a man who is called upon to pay notes that he backed simply backs out afterward.

A peculiarity of the year has been the reversal of moisture conditions in Western Canada. This year, particularly in Alberta, large sections of the extreme southern part of the province, which have lacked in moisture for a number of years, have received very plentiful supplies of rain and are enjoying extremely fine crops. On the other hand, the central north and the extreme north of that province, where as a rule crops are most luxuriant and moisture abundant, there has been little moisture and crops, more especially those of coarse grains and hay, are very limited in yield, and fodder in these districts will be scarce.

NO. 320—WHEN TO DRIVE.

We all know that there are persons of a certain type whom we can persuade to do almost anything if we just exert enough pressure upon them, dominate them sufficiently and drive them inexorably into the decision we want them to make.

But those of us who have had any experience at selling know that it is only a certain type with which this can be done successfully.

And unless the salesman has recourse to characterology, it's not always easy to determine whether his prospect is of the drivable variety. Sometimes the prospect is silent, impressed and apparently acquiescent as the salesman talks, but when pressed to a decision makes that decision irrevocably a negative one.

Here is your cue. You don't have to measure his head with a tape or a scientific instrument. Just look at it. If it isn't perceptibly a narrow head don't try the super-driving tactics. They may work in individual instances where the prospect hasn't a narrow head, but you will find that this is only because of some happy combination of circumstances, and it occurs so rarely as to make the driving tactics not worth while. Reserve your heavy "drive" for the extremely narrow head, and you'll make no mistake.

CANDID DOCTOR.

"Are all those articles of food you prohibit injurious to my health," asked the patient.

"Oh, no," replied his physician, "but you've got to economize somehow if you're going to pay my bill."

No Poilitics In It.

OUT of the West comes a story of friendliness on the part of Progressive members toward the Liberals because the latter insisted on the restoration of the Crow's Nest agreement on grain rates—a matter of first-class importance to the West. From this, some think, may come an alliance between the two parties.

It may be so. We do not pretend to know, although we would hazard a guess that the Progressive members are too much concerned about their political skins to take such definite action as is suggested. They were elected in opposition to both Liberals and Conservatives and would find explanation somewhat difficult.

It is true that the Liberals caused the return of Crow's Nest rates on grain. But the men who did it were actuated by motives of justice rather than those of political strategy. The Crow's Nest agreement for low rates had been bought and paid for in hard cash—real money, which went direct into the treasury of the C. P. R. No good reason was apparent why the goods paid for should not be delivered. Moreover, the West was in urgent need of relief, and what assists or retards Western Canada has its sure effect upon the industrial activity of the East.

"Yes," said the specialist, as he stood at the bedside of the sick purchasing agent, "I can cure you."

"What will it cost?" asked the sick man, faintly.

"Five hundred dollars."

"You'll have to shade your price a little," replied the purchasing agent. "I had a better bid from the undertaker."

PROPER REPLY.

Old Lady (to newsboy)—You don't chew tobacco, do you, little boy?

Newsie—No, mum, but I kin give yer a cigarette if you want one.

HOW LOVELY!

"Shall I have your lunch brought up to you on deck, dear?" asked the husband of his seasick wife.

"No, love; have it thrown straight overboard; it will save both time and trouble."

WHY HE CHANGED IT AGAIN.

His name was Linkstein. Just before the war he had it changed to Fitzgerald.

The other day a very old acquaintance was introduced to him afresh. This time his name was McClellan.

"Why have you changed your name again?" asked the acquaintance.

"Well," replied McClellan, "two or three people, when I told them that my name is McClellan have asked: 'But what was your name before that?' Now I can tell 'em Fitzgerald."

A SERIOUS CONDITION.

"The doctors are in a disagreement."

"What's the matter."

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY

TODAY'S word is TAUNT.

Its pronounced tahnt.

It means: To tease; to reproach, with severe or insulting words; to upbraid, especially by casting something in one's teeth; to jeer at; to make the subject of scornful censure or reproach.

It comes probably from Old French "tanter," to tempt.

It's used like this: "Commenting on the United States government's injunction against the striking railroad shopmen, Samuel Gompers said it certainly was unpleasant to be 'taunted,' but he never before heard 'taunting' defined as a crime."

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

HERE WE HAVE ITEMS OF LOCAL AND DISTRICT INTEREST AS RECORDED IN THE ADVERTISER OF 1897.

SEPTEMBER 12, 1897.

Weather—Fair and warmer today; unsettled with rain tomorrow.

This morning saw a wonderful transformation at the Western Fair. On Saturday the cattle shed, the swine pavilion and the horse stables were almost empty. Today the cattle shed and swine pavilion are overflowing, and by tonight the stables will hardly hold their equine guests.

A meeting of the Western Fair board of directors was held at 10 o'clock this morning, and matters relating to the management of the fair dealt with. There were present: Col. Leys, president; Col. Lewis, Col. Gartshore, W. M. Spencer, W. R. Hobbs, Wm. Yates, Allan Bogue, C. E. Trebilcock, Ald. McCallum, Wm. Moore, J. W. Laidlaw, Geo. Taylor and Secretary Thos. Browne.

A large congregation appreciated the service of praise at Colborne Street Methodist Church last night. Solos by Mrs. Harvey, Miss Ada Smart, Glencoe, and Mr. H. R. Macdonald, and selections by the choir comprised the excellent program. The pastor, Rev. Geo. Jackson, gave a short address on the hymnology of the church.

The Cinematographe Company on Saturday took a picture of the people coming out of the Grand Trunk station. An excellent view was secured, and it will be shown with the queen's jubilee procession in the cinematographe at the Western Fair this week.

Several hundred asylum patients, men and women, attended the Western Fair today.

DR. BISHOP'S ADVICE

IMPORTANCE OF WATER

COUNT up how many uses there are for water in the human. And then judge from this number how important a part water plays in our life. It's astonishing.

The human body is built up of countless millions of cells, each one surrounded by a fluid medium—the blood—and the cells themselves are largely composed of water, too. In fact, about 60 per cent of the human body consists of this element. The cells get their nutrition from the blood and cast off their waste matter into it. So, when too little fluid is supplied, the blood maintains a higher specific gravity, and the poisonous waste products of tissue or cell are cast off very imperfectly. Thus the body is poisoned by its own excretions.

The uses of water in the body have been summarized as follows:

1. It is incorporated in the tissues.
2. It is the chief ingredient of all fluids of the body—insuring their proper degree of dilution.
3. It prevents friction by moistening the membranes.
4. It distributes the food to the tissues and removes waste matters, through the work of the blood.
5. It regulates the temperature by absorption and evaporation.
6. It distributes the body heat.

The quantity of water required by each individual will vary according to his size, and the nature of his work, but a safe estimate is from two and a half to three pints a day.

The deprivation of water means death to every living thing. One may live without eating for weeks, but without water he would die in a few days. However, excessive consumption also has its bad effects, so care should be taken to take enough but not too much.

H. G. WELLS' FAMOUS OUTLINE OF HISTORY

The Romance of Mother Earth

How the World Was Born.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT—2.

THE diameter of our world is a little under 8,000 miles. Its surface is rough, the more projecting parts of the roughness are mountains, and in the hollows of its surface there is a film of waters, the oceans and seas. This film of water is about five miles thick at its deepest part—that is to say, the deepest oceans have a depth of five miles. This is very little in comparison with the bulk of the world.

About this sphere is a thin covering of air, the atmosphere. As we ascend in a balloon or go up a mountain from the level of the seashore the air is continually less dense, until at last it becomes so thin that it cannot support life. At a height of twenty miles there is scarcely any air at all—not one hundreth part of the density of air at the surface of the sea.

The highest point to which a bird can fly is about four miles up—the condor, it is said, can struggle up to that; but most small birds and insects which are carried up by aeroplane or balloon drop off insensible at a much lower level and the greatest height to which a mountaineer has ever climbed is under five miles.

Life's Four-Mile Limit.

Men have flown in aeroplanes to a height of over four miles, and balloons with men in them have reached very nearly seven miles, but at the cost of considerable physical suffering. Small experimental balloons, containing not men, but recording instruments, have gone as high as twenty-two miles.

It is in the upper few hundred feet of the crust of the earth, in the sea, and in the lower levels of the air below four miles that life is found. We do not know of any life at all except in these films of air and water upon our planet. So far as we know, all the rest of space is as yet without life. Scientific men have discussed the possibility of life, or of some process of a similar kind, occurring upon such kindred bodies as the planets Venus and Mars. But they point merely to questionable possibilities.

Astronomers and geologists and those who study physics have been able to tell us something of the origin and history of the earth. They consider that, vast ages ago, the sun was a spinning, flaming mass of matter not yet concentrated into a compact center of heat and light, considerably larger than it is now, and spinning very much faster, and that as it whirled, a series of fragments detached themselves from it, which became the planets.

Our earth is one of these planets. The flaring mass that was the material of the earth broke into two masses as it spun; a larger, the earth itself, and a smaller, which is now the dead, still moon.

Astronomers give us convincing reasons for supposing that sun and earth and moon and all that system were then whirling about at a speed much greater than the speed at which they are moving today, and that at first our earth was a flaming thing upon which no life could live.

The way in which they have reached these conclusions is by a very beautiful and interesting series of observations and reasoning, too long and elaborate for us to deal with here. But they oblige us to believe that the sun, incandescent through it, is now much cooler than it was, and that it spins more slowly now than it did and that it continues to cool and slow down.

And they also show that the rate at which the earth spins is diminishing and continues to diminish—that is to say, that our day is growing longer and longer, and that the heat at the center of the earth wastes slowly.

There was a time when the day was not a half and not a third of what it is today; when a blazing hot sun, much greater than it is now, must have moved visibly—had there been an eye to mark it—from its rise to its setting across the skies. There will be a time when the day will be as long as a year is now, and the cooling sun, shorn of its beams, will hang motionless in the heavens.

It must have been in days of a much hotter sun, a far swifter day and night, high tides, great heat, tremendous storms and earthquakes, that life, of which we are a part, began upon the world. The moon also was nearer and brighter in those days and had a changing face.

Some staggering constipation facts; Know how Kellogg's Bran can help you!

Ninety out of every one hundred people suffer with constipation! Constipation is the direct cause of breakdowns in old age, lowered vitality and ninety per cent of illness!

Do you realize that nearly every case of constipation is traceable to neglect in answering nature's call? In a few years the sufferer has "latent constipation"—the most dangerous form of all! Toxic poisons penetrate the intestine walls, polluting the blood, which in turn poisons and affects every organ in the body. Nearly every case of diabetes and Bright's disease can be traced to constipation or intestinal poisoning, as can most rheumatism, headache, brain fag, hardening of arteries and other organic diseases.

Pills and catharties can never afford you permanent relief. What you need is nature's most wonderful roughage—BRAN—Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled—and delicious in flavor and edibility! Bran will permanently relieve constipation when taken regularly—at least two tablespoonfuls daily; in severe cases, with every meal! Your doctor will indorse Kellogg's Bran for constipation!

Kellogg's Bran sweeps, cleans and purifies the eliminative tract as nothing else can—and, being a nature food, it creates no habit. Bran's work is a revelation!

Serve Kellogg's Bran to the entire family as a cereal, with other cereals or in countless appetizing ways such as in muffins, pancakes, raisin bread, etc. Recipes on every package.

All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, in the "WAXTITE" package.

P. S.—Kellogg's Bran, eaten regularly, will clear up a pimply complexion.

The Better Goodyear Tire Led the Way to Better Belting

Rubber belting was made before the automobile tire—but not the better belting of today.

While attaining the world's leading position as a tire manufacturer, Goodyear had to create stronger, longer-lasting combinations of rubber and fabric.

So it was logical that Goodyear should produce better rubber belting. No other materials have been able to compete in the making of an automoble tire and no other materials can match the performance of Goodyear belting.

A Goodyear man will give you his candid opinion if you have one of the few odd conditions where Goodyear belting will not lower cost. It will pay you to take the Goodyear man into your confidence and into your plant.

"DUMBELLS" AT GRAND DELIGHT

Evoke Peals of Merriment and Applause From Capacity House.

Audience Accords Enthusiastic Reception To Clever "Revue of 1922."

Those who saw "The Dumbells' Revue of 1922" at the Grand Theatre Monday night for the first time left with a feeling that it had almost too much richness to be condensed into one evening's enjoyment. Those who were seeing it for the second time, and were waiting with eager impatience for the appearance of "Red" Newman as "The Coster" and the lively singer of "I'm a Daddy"; Albert Plunkett, of thrilling smile and infectious laughter, as the wistful prodigal, and in his famous "K-Kiss Me Again," and Ross Hamilton, better known as the radiantly lovely "Margie," felt that the runion with their old friends had been all too short.

Save for a few changes in the cast, a new twist to jest or dialogue and a bit of enhancing here and there in the gorgeous settings, the summer season has seen no change made in the Dumbells' Revue, and the best of it is that even twice seeing of these very clever men is not enough.

Audience Enthusiastic.

It was very evident at the performance that Captain Plunkett has lost none of his attraction for London audiences, who are remembered as literally going wild over him on his appearance here in the spring.

It would be difficult to estimate whether audiences were most wildly enthusiastic in their reception of "K-Kiss Me Again" when it was a new song, heard for the first time, or at its second hearing, when it had become a firmly-established favorite with everybody. At any rate, it "went over big," just as did his "Coal Black Mammy," a tune known now to thousands.

The wonderfully clever characterization and whole-souled zest of song which "Red" Newman shows in his every act made him a favorite at his first appearance, and Monday night's audience greeted him with applause unstinted.

Appears As "Sultana."

Arthur Holland was seen again as the lovely "White Sultana" in the subtly beautiful oriental scene. That with clever female impersonation he combines clever dancing was seen in "Holland Days," a dance which Mr. Holland does with "Red" Newman, and as one of the dream-like dancers who form a background to Ross Hamilton's scene in "Say You'll Not Forget."

Both "Margie" and Arthur Holland have a rival for the honors of female impersonation in Alan Murray, who, as the "Senorita" in a Spanish dance, was typical of the grace and beauty of old Spain, made a magnificent brunette beauty, and the dance was full of delicious abandon and rhythmic poetry.

There are few audiences who do not immediately and rapturously acclaim a really clever "blackface" comedian, and as one of the best of his class, Jimmy Goode thoroughly deserved every ring of applause which greeted him.

He rambled along in a low, drawling montone, almost as expressionless as a wooden doll, yet he managed to evoke in his audience mirth, which was only subsided after repeated encores.

Quartet Pleases.

There were many who were waiting for Ted Charter's deeply-expressive "O-o-o-n," in the Family Battalion scene, and although Charter was outstanding, there was some clever work done by all the actors in this humorous sketch.

The best singing in the performance was done by a quartet, composed of Tom Young, Jerry Brayford, William Tennent and Bert Wilkinson. Mr. Young did some solo work, and sounded to particular advantage in "Girls of My Dream." There might be little more depth in his singing, but the tones ring clear and pleasant.

The humor of Chas. McLean, he of the pillow-punching, balloon-blowing and naughty little boy-like laughter, was not lost upon the audience, and they laughed uproariously at his antics.

Fred Fenwick made an attractive centre for the "Joshua" scene, and handled his role with airy skill.

The Dumbells will be here all week, giving matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

FAIR MIDWAY IS FULL OF THRILLS

Beach Models, High Diver and Motorcycle Riders Among Features.

Knowing that Western Fair visitors each year regard the Midway as one of the principal features the directors sought to get the best and biggest collection of shows available. C. A. Wortham's World's Greatest Exposition Shows was their inevitable choice. No other show on the road carries more cars of equipment—55 to be exact—than does Wortham's.

One can spend hours on the Midway and then not see it all, so colossal is it.

The show carries not one but several big headline attractions. Among the ones most worthy of note is Miss Jean Roberts' company of beach models, direct from the sands of California beaches. Londoners have often seen these girls in the movies, but this is their first appearance here in person.

From the same sunny clime comes Miss Margarit Williams, under the auspices of her manager, Harry Calvert. Miss Williams, by the way is one of the world's champion high and fancy divers. In every contest she entered at the Los Angeles beach last winter, she was awarded the gold medal.

Daredevil Rider.

Of no less fame is Dorothy Connel, daredevil motorcycle rider. She lives up to her title, "The Mile a Minute Kid," for from the time she enters the saucer of death until she leaves, she has her audience gasping. On an absolutely perpendicular wall she rides at the rate of 60 miles an hour, and not content with this feat, races with an auto on the same track.

Her partner, Harry Baker, one of the best-known trick and fancy riders on the continent, while racing around the wall of the autodrome, releases his hold on the handlebars, and stands upright on the seat.

With the show is the world's tallest man, John Aason, a native of Norway, 21 years old. He stands 8 feet 9¾ inches in his stocking feet, wears a number 20 shoe, and wears a ring on his finger through which he can easily pass a 50-cent piece. Both his parents were more than seven feet tall, and his grandfather, who was more than eight feet high, came to this country on exhibition 37 years ago.

Wild West Show.

Vern Tantlinger, a former U. S. government scout, who was on the plains with Buffalo Bill, presents Tantlinger's Wild West Show, which includes trick riding, sharpshooting, lariat throwing and all the hair-raising stunts for which the Western cowboys were famous.

Kempf's model city is a mechanical marvel. In conjunction with this is shown the famous Swiss village, another exhibition of the same type. This is the original Swiss village completed in 1850 by a Swiss watchmaker, and brought to this country first at a cost of $30,000 by Barnum. Although duplicates have been attempted they have never been built. These novelties have to be seen to be appreciated.

Then there is Madame Francisco and her educated horses, including the famous Kentucky thoroughbred, Don MacDonald, which is the possessor of many blue ribbons. Lady Jet and Hazel Down, high jumpers and Snowball and two white setters, Snowball and the setters present some interesting poses.

Hawaiian Village.

The Hawaiian Village, a reproduction of life in the mid-Pacific island, has seven dancers and singers.

With the freak shows is one of the greatest freaks of the age, a double-bodied cow, which has three shoulders, three hips, two udders and seven legs.

With the circus sideshows is Elsia, half man and half woman. She has a 14-year-old daughter, whom she is sending to college.

Of course, the shows would not be complete without a lion-tamer, so Wortham has brought with him Capt. George Bray, who forces four ferocious beasts to do his every wish. The Shone Brothers present a daring and interesting aerial act.

Last, but not least, among the headliners is "The Diorama of the Battle of Chateau Thierry," a most realistic reproduction of the battle on the Marne River. Observers who have been in actual battle can vouch for the realism of this extravagant feature, for not one minor detail has been neglected.

In every department the Wortham Shows excel. Visitors to the fair cannot afford to neglect a trip to the midway, with its fun, its thrills and all its gayety. Wortham certainly gives the public full value for every cent spent.

APPLICANTS FOR MOTHERS' PENSIONS ARE INCREASING

Major T. J. Murphy Declares Change Is Due to Amendments of Act.

That the number of applicants to the mothers' pension board is increasing was the opinion expressed by Major T. J. Murphy on Monday.

Major Murphy thought the increase was in large measure due to the amendments to the act, which now in some cases embrace all Canada, whereas formerly they were confined to Ontario.

During August $123,341 was paid out to beneficiaries totaling 3,490.

Major Murphy instanced the case of the wife or widow of an inmate of a hospital for the insane. Formerly, if the man were in a hospital outside Ontario the act did not apply to his wife or widow. Now, however, it is applicable to all cases where the husband is, or was, confined in any Canadian hospital for the insane.

During the month of August 609 cases were examined by the board and were disposed of as follows: Fourteen were reinstated, 81 paid and 43 applicants were deferred for future consideration; 65 were declared ineligible, 22 cancelled and 32 suspended. The board increased the allowances in 51 instances and reduced 53. In 248 cases the board made no change.

REDUCING.

"I don't eat as much as I did. I'm reducing."

"Trying to bring down your weight, eh?"

"No, my expense."

Warns British Landowners They Must Produce.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—(Canadian Press Cable).—Lord Bledisloe, who was parliamentary secretary to the ministry of food in 1916-17, when addressing the British Association for the Advancement of Science, in session at Hull today, warned land owners that their ignorance and incapacity would lead to the nationalization of land. Unless the landowner justified himself, public opinion would demand his extinction, and Parliament would indorse the demand.

Their Future

Your Boy, For Instance

Your boy can be interested in his own future.

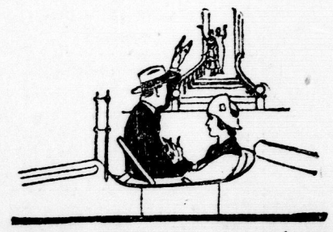

His ideas will be "steadied" by the knowledge of your plans for him.

Leading to his ultimate success, and your deep satisfaction.

If your boy or girl could speak now with the wisdom of later years, they would ask, above all else, for education, training for business,—a real start in life.

Every parent knows that the boy who has training is selected for a good position; and the girl who has the right start can make a place for herself in the world, and always be sure of independence and happiness.

You want your children to be equipped for the battle of life, as others are.

Make Your Plans Secure

Why not provide, as many parents are now doing, that "no matter what may happen" your boy or girl will have the advantage of a good start in life?

In these times they need training and the help you can give as never before.

See what the Canada Life can do with the new Educational Policy

It will provide immediately, if you should die, an educational fund, to be held in trust at interest for your child's training.

This fund cannot be touched by the child until the date set by you has been reached.

It will then be paid in eight separate payments, six months apart, to cover the four vital years of training.

If you should live, the cash value of the contract, with dividends, will be available at any time to carry out any of your plans.

Nothing could be more simple—the funds provided—your plans made definite and secure—whether you live or die.

You have probably thought this matter over many times. Here is a chance to do something—tangible, immediate, yet quite easy.

Why not find out now what the educational policy will do for your child? This will not put you under any obligation.

FINE EXHIBITS SHOWN AT FAIR

Woodworking Art Display Proves Center of Interest To Many.

Varied and comprehensive is the exhibit of the McFarlane Manufacturing Co., Ltd., of Toronto, in the Machinery Building. Beautiful specimens of the woodworkers' art as applied to outdoor furniture, embracing such articles as chairs, garden seats and benches are shown, as are also stepladders, clothes racks, washboards and ironing boards. One article of which there were many varieties, was the sleds. Judging by the evident longing and interest shown by the crowds of children around this display, sledding on McFarlane and Company sleds this winter will be a popular pastime after school hours.

LONDON-MADE CORNFLAKES

Cleanly, almost hunger-producing in its attractiveness is the exhibit of the Battle Creek Toasted Cornflakes Co., London Ont., in the Pure Food Building. Displayed around the booth are packages of the product, interspersed with ferns and chrysanthemums. Judging by the crowds of eager, expectant children around the booth, every one, especially the children, must know how good the London-Made Cornflakes are.

ELECTRIC WASHERS SHOWN.

The Knowles Electric Washers were of particular interest to numerous mothers Monday, as they will undoubtedly be during the remainder of the Exhibition. The interesting demonstrations of the exclusive features of the different machines shown, as well as the general working principles involved, drew large and appreciative audiences Monday. Featured in the display is an Ironing Machine with a ventilated shoe. Mr. Knowles, who controls the rights, and is in charge of the exhibit, is a London man, and the machines are made in London.

RADIO AT THOMAS EXHIBIT.

"Flying fingers take the place of flagging feet" is the significant motto of the Thomas Furniture Exhibit, in the Machinery Building, and the models of Sellers' kitchen cabinets displayed comprise styles finished in white, gold, and oak, and embody the fifteen famous Sellers features. In connection with this display, the Gerald brothers of London have installed a radiophone from the M. S. L. Radiophone Corporation, St. Thomas, and daily concerts from the various broadcasting stations on the continent will be greatly enjoyed by visitors to the Fair.

HEINTZMAN EXHIBIT PLEASES.

Some particularly striking displays feature the exhibits at the Western Fair. A very striking booth is that of Heintzman & Co., in the Crystal Palace, in which are shown Heintzman & Co. grand pianos, players and Weber pianos.

Mr. Windsor, who is in charge of the exhibit, has a well-arranged and very prettily decorated booth, some vases of gladioli helping to complete the attractive appearance of the exhibit. Shown also are Victor, Brunswick, McLagan and Sonora phonographs in various styles and sizes.

CITY GAS BOOTH ATTRACTS.

The City Gas Company booth, also in the Crystal Palace, is at once both an attractive one, and one that will bring inspiration to the housewives who visit the Fair. Numerous styles of gas ranges are shown, and considerable interest is being taken in the heaters, which promise to be in demand the coming winter.

RAW PAINT MATERIALS.

In the Machinery Building, which was crowded Monday, the displays are varied and interesting. One that seemed to attract more than ordinary interest was that of Scarfe & Co. Paints and varnishes, while always interesting, have an added touch of interest when seen in the early stage of manufacture.

Raw materials, consisting of gums from New Zealand, Straits Settlements and Africa, are exhibited, as well as oils from Canada, United States and China. The rough shellac from Bengal district, India, is also of interest. Some interesting samples of varnish finishes, and the new system of dull, finishing walls to take the place of wallpaper, adds to the attractiveness of the exhibit.

HUDSON CARS SHOWN.

Among the many attractive automobile displays, the new Hudson Super-Six was the recipient of much complimentary attention Monday. Mr. Burrows pointed with especial pride to the seven-passenger Sedan, a new car on the market, luxurious in appearance, and powerful, yet so simple in operation that women can drive with the least possible effort. Prominent in the exhibit, and attracting much favorable attention is the new Essex Coach, which gives motorists closed car comfort with

LIGHTNING WRECKS SPIRE OF CHURCH IN BLENHEIM

Special to London Advertiser.

Blenheim, Sept. 11.—This morning shortly after 5 o'clock the tallest spire in town, that of the Baptist Church, was struck by lightning and almost completely destroyed, the shingles and woodwork being shattered for a considerable distance around. The whole spire for a length of 35 or 40 feet is a complete wreck.

Damage was also done to the lower portion, and on the inside of the church the lighting system was put out of commission and plaster knocked off the ceiling. The same spire was struck some years ago, but at that time the damage was not so great as at present.

The spire has been, since its construction in 1876, a prominent skymark in this district, it being one of the tallest, and the building, standing as it does on one of the highest points on the ride, the spire could be seen for many miles.

It is considered almost a miracle that the building was not fired, as the woodwork was declared to be very dry.

This Cosy, Little Farm Was Just the Place They Wanted

THERE comes a story from the Fair which is going on this week of a farmer in his younger days, who had struggled hard to make the little farm on which he lived a success.

After years of toil he was rewarded, for he had planted many crops and they had brought forth much.

The farmer had married, and in the course of time they had a family of three, but they had grown up and departed into the world to shift for themselves.

And now they were alone. For all these years they had planned on the companionship of their children during their old age, but they had practically deserted them.

They were sick of the place now, and longed to be away from it, so the farmer and his wife journeyed to the nearby city, and turned it over to a real estate agency to sell.

When in the papers, the advertisement read: "Cosy little farm of 23 acres, with beautiful house, lately remodeled. This is an ideal place for any one desiring a lovely farm near the city."

After seeing the ad. in the paper they were very sorry to see the old home go, for after all, they would be more lonesome without it.

So again they went to the city and to the agent's office. The old farmer then said: "After reading the advertisement of our farm for sale we have found that it is the very kind of a place we have been looking for, so we have decided to keep it for ourselves."

The moral is: That it is sometimes necessary for one to advertise himself in order to see the good points of a thing.

MAINTAINS NORTH POLE ACCESSIBLE BY AIRCRAFT

Major Richard Carr Believes Flight From London Could Be Made In Week.

London, Aug. 27.—Modern airships of the German type could make the trip from London to the North Pole, a distance of 4,600 miles, within a week, says Major Richard Carr, aerial expert of the Shackleton Antarctic expedition. Fuel for the entire distance could be carried, and no landings need be made.

"I am fully convinced that we have left far behind the old-fashioned methods, and that in future polar exploration will be done by aircraft during the summer months," Major Carr continues. "Very few persons realize how mild the Arctic and Antarctic summers really are, and the wonderful improvement in aircraft."

Major Carr made important observations on flying conditions in the Antarctic. "During the seven weeks we were in the ice," he says, "the lowest temperatupre recorded was 5 degrees Fahrenheit, and the average approximately 20 degrees. The wind average was eight to ten miles an hour, and the air and sky were wonderfully clear. So clear was the air that mirage was very freqeunt. We had more than 300 perfect flying hours.

WOMEN'S HOME AND MAGAZINE PAGE

WITH THE BRIDES

HEVEY—LOUGHLIN.

St. Peter's Cathedral was the scene of a pretty autumn wedding Monday morning at 9 o'clock, when Anna Gertrude Loughlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Loughlin, was married to Joseph C. Hevey, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Hevey of this city. High mass was sung by Right Rev. Monsignor McKeon, assisted by Rev. Father O'Donnell as deacon and Rev. Father Kelly as sub-deacon. The wedding march was played by Miss Ella Gleeson and during the service the Boys' Choral Club sang.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a smart suit of brown marvella cloth, with a hat to match, and a corsage of cream roses. Miss Marie Loughlin, niece of the bride, was gowned in brown brocaded taffeta with a brown velvet hat with sand trimmings and she wore a corsage of Ophelia roses. Mr. Neil Coughlin acted as best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Richmond street north. The bride's mother received, with Mr. and Mrs. Hevey, wearing a smart gown of mauve taffeta with steel trimmings. The rooms were decorated throughout with mauve and white asters tastefully arranged. A wedding breakfast was served, the table also being decorated with asters.

Mr. and Mrs. Hevey left on a honeymoon, which will be spent in New York state. Upon their return they will reside in Waterloo street north.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Loughlin, Walkerville; Mr. Frank Loughlin, Louisville, Kentucky; Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McKeon of Windsor, and Miss Margaret Hevey of Detroit.

CLAPPERTON—ESSERY.

At St. Paul's Church, Palmerston, Ont., the marriage was solemnized by the Rev. R. H. Brett, of Florence Madeline, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Essery of Palmerston, to Walter M. Clapperton, eldest son of Mr. and H. G. Clapperton of Toronto. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a white taffeta frock with silver drapings of radium lace, her veil of Carrickmacross and tulle with orange blossoms adorning her pretty dark hair. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and orchids. Her only attendant was her sister, Beatrice, who was becomingly gowned in orchid taffeta and silver, with large hat to match, and carried an armful of beautiful yellow chrysanthemums. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Harold Clapperton, and the ushers were the bride's brother, Mr. John Essery, and Mr. W. Moore of Toronto. Mr. Fred Baird, organist of the Anglican Church, played the wedding march, as the bride entered the church, and during the entire service rendered soft music very appropriate to the occasion. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Essery gave a reception, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Clapperton. The bride's mother was attired in sand and blue foulard, with black and metal hat, and wore a corsage bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. The Rev. Mr. Brett proposed the health of the bride, the bridegroom responding on her behalf. Mr. and Mrs. Clapperton left later on a motor honeymoon trip, when the bride wore a French traveling suit of navy tricolette, with large black hat. On leaving the bride threw her bouquet, which was caught by her bridesmaid. Out of town guests were Mrs. J. Alexander, Mrs. Cross, Mrs. Moss, Mr. and Mrs. Clapperton, Dr. James and Mr. Walter Moore of Toronto, Mr. Gerald Thomas, Mr. Evan Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Borden of London. Mr. and Mrs. Clapperton will live on Beech avenue, Toronto, after October 1.

WHITE—WOODCOCK.

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Tuesday, September 5, when Rose Ivy, daughter of Mrs. Wm. Woodcock, was married to Lloyd E. White, son of Mrs. W. T. White, Drayton, Rev. W. J. Taylor of Moorefield, performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. White left by motor to spend their honeymoon in Hamilton, Toronto and Ottawa.

WALKER—GRINDLEY.

The wedding took place quietly Monday morning at 11 o'clock at the Cronyn Memorial Church, of Fannie Madeline, daughter of the late Arthur W. Grindley, of Liverpool, England, to Thomas F. Walker, son of the late Joseph S. Walker of London. Rev. Frank Anderson performed the ceremony and Mr. A. I. Walker, brother of the groom acted as best man.

The bride who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. R. S. Grindley of Chicago, wore a graceful frock of navy canton crepe, heavily beaded with steel beads, a smart gray hat and a cape of navy bolivia cloth, trimmed with henna. Gray shoes completed her costume. Mr. and Mrs. Walker left on a honeymoon which will be spent in Algonquin Park, and upon their return they will reside on Cheapside street.

FINE QUALITY IN NEEDLE WORK CAPTURES PRIZES THIS YEAR

Toronto and Port Arthur Artists Carry Off Large Number of Awards At Exhibition—Western Ontario Competitors Make Splendid Showing.

Judging by the quantity of work they have turned out, the variety of their entries and the number of times their names appear in the Western Fair prize lists compiled by the judge, Miss M. Viola Powell of Toronto, a number of Ontario women have turned their talent for needlework to excellent account in the past year. While the majority of the exhibitors are Western Ontario women, Toronto and northwest Ontario exhibitors have carried off an exceptionally large share of the honors. Prominent amongst these are Miss C. L. McCutcheon, Toronto, and Miss L. B. Elliott, Port Arthur.

Thamesford has a representation which reflects much credit on a place of the size, Mrs. Kester especially making an enviable record for herself.

Miss M. Backus and Mrs. L. A. Brown uphold the reputation of Aylmer.

Roche's Point is well to the fore, owing to the showing made by Mrs. L. B. Fisher, Mrs. Ed. Lawson, Pipe Line Road, carried off a major share of the prizes which stay in London town.

Fashion's Forecast

By Annabel Worthington

A LONG-WAISTED DRESS FOR THE LITTLE GIRL.

Just as long, blousy-waisted frocks are fashionable for mother and big sister, so are they are very last word in fashions for the small girl, as this cunning frock proves. Inverted pleats on either side of the skirt give the necessary fullness. Striped gingham with chambray would be the best choice for this cunning little dress, for these materials launder so well. Two fantastic pussies' heads form pockets on the skirt. Mother could make this dress in about two afternoons at a cost of approximately 60 cents, figuring gingham at 25 cents per yard and chambray at 20 cents per yard.

The pattern, No. 1512, cuts in sizes 4, 6, 8 and 10 years. Size 4 requires 1¾ yards 36-inch material, with ¾ yard 36-inch contrasting.

The novelty pockets are included in the pattern. Price 15 cents, stamps or coin (coin preferred).

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 15 cents in silver or stamps. Address all pattern orders to Pattern Department.

You Should Be the Same
A LARGE number of women's ailments are not surgical ones. Serious displacements or radical changes have not yet taken place.
A tiny part in a fine clock may become loose and cause the clock to gain or lose. If not attended to in time, the part may fall from its place and cause serious trouble. So it is with women's ailments, they start from simple causes; but if allowed to continue, produce serious conditions.
When the warning symptoms are first noted, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present troublesome ailment, and to prevent the development of serious trouble.
Hamilton, Ontario—"I have suffered for three years from a female trouble and consequent weakness, pain and irregularity which kept me in bed four or five days each month. I nearly went crazy with pains in my back. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the 'Hamilton Spectator' and I took it. Now I have no pain and am quite regular, unless I overwork or stay on my feet from early morning until late at night. I keep house and do all my own work without any trouble. I have recommended the Vegetable Compound to several friends."—Mrs. Emily Beecroft, 16 Douglas St., Hamilton, Ont.
Pine Grove, Ontario—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles. I would have headaches, backaches, pains between my shoulders and under my shoulder-blades and bad feelings in the lower parts on each side, in the groins. I was sometimes unable to do my work and felt very badly. My mother-in-law told me about the Vegetable Compound and I got some right away. It has done me more good than any other medicine I ever took and I recommend it to my neighbors."—Mrs. Edgar Simmons, R.R. No. 2, Pine Grove, Ontario.

RESURRECTION ROCK

by Edwin Balmer

Barney gazed into the face of Lucas Cullen, who stared at him with eyes widened; with jaw dropped; the dim, pink light upon his skin lost a tint as the blood went from Lucas Cullen's face; and Barney knew that he had recognized the voice.

"Direct voice!" someone gasped in awe, and others whispered it. "We're hearing a direct voice! That's her voice! I know her!"

Bennet Cullen had recognized it and dropped down into his seat, astounded; his mother knew the voice, and Jaccard; most certainly of all, Lucas Cullen continued in the conviction that one dead was speaking.

"I am going to tell the account of Lucas Cullen and his family, and of myself and my son," said the voice clearly and steadily. "It begins far back, yet is brief enough."

So far, even to Barney, the voice seemed to proceed from no located source. He had believed his mother present among the veiled women at the left of the rows where the lights had gone out; but such was the quality of her tone that it seemed not enunciated from one spot, but pervasive throughout the room.

Everyone was silent.

"The beginning," continued the voice, "was when I was a child in the Michigan forest. My father was the man whose spirit just now was here holding the Book of Mormon—whose cabin Lucas Cullen entered to quarrel with him and kick the Book of Mormon from the doorway. My father was Richard Drane. He cleared a farm in the woods, married a Gentile girl from Big Rapids, and was living an honorable, useful life when he crossed the path of Lucas Cullen, who recently had arrived to make his fortune in the forest."

The source of the voice was discovered. It came from that darkened end of the room where Barney had supposed his mother to be; and, as people craned about or stood to see the speaker, she arose, and, having cast off her veil and the dark coat she had worn, she stood a little apart, dressed all in white.

"Mrs. Cullen!—Agnes!—Mrs. Oliver Cullen!—She's here! That's she!—Why did she—How changed—How could it be——"

It seemed to Barney that everyone must recognize that she was before them in the body; yet so strong had been the spell of the illusion that a few still saw her as a phantom. Lucas Cullen did.

When she spoke on, Barney recognized that her deliberate, careful words were being recited from rehearsals within herself, repeated through years of waiting for such a moment.

"My father," she said, "had abandoned farming to take out lumber, cutting from land he had homesteaded and from surrounding sections which he bought. You could buy timber land cheap in those days; but there were men who thought it foolish to pay the government anything at all for the great trees on the state lands. They bought one section and set up a mill and cut over the square miles all around. Lucas Cullen was one of these men. My father bought from the government five hundred acres of standing timber which he found that Lucas Cullen was cutting. This caused trouble for Cullen when my father asked for a refund on his purchase money.

"But the Mormon Drane—whatever lies Cullen told about him—had one wife only. She was my mother. Cullen spread about lies. One of the lies, which proved in the end the most dangerous, was that the Mormon had lust for the wife of another lumberman, Henry Laylor."

As she spoke, Agnes Cullen came forward and showed herself more plainly in the light. No one—not even Lucas Cullen, in his guilt-clouded consciousness—believed her a phantom now.

"Lucas Cullen told the lie about Richard Drane and Laylor's wife only to harm the man who had made him trouble, and to injure a rival; for Henry Laylor had built a mill only a few miles from Cullen's, near a little place called Galilee.

"Neither would let the other drive him away; so they fought till Henry Laylor was burned out, and, as you have just heard, he was killed.

"Lucas Cullen had that fire set. He met near Galilee a man in his pay—Quinlan—and sent him to light shavings upwind from Laylor's mill. When it was known that Laylor was killed, Lucas Cullen said that the man who had set the fire was the Mormon Drane, who wanted to kill Laylor to get his wife. It was a savage, lustful lie of the sort which excited men like to believe; they went to get the Mormon and lynch him; then Lucas Cullen—partly to save Drane from being murdered, let us think, but partly also to stop suspicion swinging to his guilty self—made a great play for justice and for a trial for the Mormon and stopped the lynching—and perjured Richard Drane into the cell where he died—my father—for a crime which Lucas Cullen and his man Quinlan had done.

"Is it not so, Lucas Cullen? Stand up and deny it if not so!"

She stopped and waited for answer; but Lucas Cullen neither stirred nor replied.

"My father did not die for many years," Barney heard his mother say. "My mother worked constantly to get my father free. She died when I was a young girl, and I took up the useless attempts. I changed my name and came to Chicago to watch Lucas Cullen; he left Chicago and built his house at St. Florentin; and I went to live near there.

"That was the summer before his daughter married, when he had her friend, the Marquis de Chenal, as his guest at St. Florentin. So De Chenal happened to meet me one day; he left Lucas Cullen's house several times after that to find me. He attracted me too. I thought he loved me."

Her voice for a moment failed.

"I told De Chenal why I was as I was, how my father was in prison, falsely accused by Lucas Cullen. De Chenal swore to help me; he was hot in my cause," she continued. "He swore to justify my father and punish Lucas Cullen. First he would marry me. I loved and believed him; perhaps he believed himself in those days. I was very young and he was young, and—we went to a priest——"

Barney began to make his way toward her. Now she was stripping her soul before these gaping people, not to punish Lucas Cullen, but to acknowledge him, her son.

"Lucas Cullen learned of it, but gave out that his guest had gone on a hunting trip," she pressed on. "He followed and finally found us. His money, of course, was an influence; I had nothing; De Chenal owed two million francs. Lucas Cullen made his escape easy. I was under age; legal necessities had been ignored. He married De Chenal to his daughter, gave him money and packed him off. It was easier than before to make me an outcast. The next spring my son was born."

"Mother!" Barney cried, forbidding her, as he stepped under the light. From the other side of the room, where she had been, women called her name. But she did not hear them.

"This is my son!" she cried, her hands clasping Barney's. "My son, lost to me that summer of his birth, because I was made an outcast, but now

"THAT'S HER VOICE!—I KNEW HER!"

—now restored to me!"

So her son caught her in his arms, as her strength collapsed, with the aid of some woman unknown to him, but who lovingly called her "Agnes," and kissed her cheek, he bore his mother through the door at the back of the room and away from the hubbub behind them to where they could be quiet and alone.

CHAPTER XVIII.

A WEEK later Ethel was in Chicago, rejoining Barney and Cousin Agnes and learning that Lucas Cullen, Senior, had mysteriously disappeared. He had not been seen after leaving the seance.

Ethel and Barney married six weeks later at the old house at St. Florentin.

Bennet and Julia and their mother came up for the service, after which Barney and Ethel went west. Agnes returned to Chicago soon after the Cullens went back; and old Sarah Cullen remained at St. Florentin alone with the Indians until July, when, after weeks of drought, the forest fires, which had rested for many years, swept through the tinder-dry slashings and burned the old house to the ground. So Sarah retreated, perforce, to the home of her older son to pray and wait.

Throughout the western forests also drought prevailed that summer.

Here and there the flames suddenly burst on two sides of little villages, all but cutting off escape; and in one of these places—so the telegraphed news related—a huge old man, strange to the settlers, but dominating in manner and plainly expert in ways of fighting forest fires, placed himself in command and turned away the flames from the town.

He himself worked tirelessly in the fire lines with axe and spade, and when word came that two of his men were missing and probably had fallen and were lying overcome by smoke and gases close in front of the flames, he went in and brought out one man, and returned for the other, and never came back.

Days later, when the fire had burnt out, and men were able at last to go through the black, smoldering region, they found his remains beside those of the man for whom he had returned. Identification was not easy; but soon the wires carried to Chicago the information that the old man had been, beyond doubt, Lucas Cullen.

Bennet brought the message to his father at the office.

"He went with his boots on," said Luke, wiping wet eyes. "That's how he'd like to go. And—well, boy, it couldn't be better than that."

Ethel and Barney received the news together.

"I knew grandfather wouldn't go without doing something," she said proudly. "You see, he can better face them all now."

"Yes," said Barney; and he knew she meant her father and mother, and his own grandfather of the Book of Mormon, and Laylor and Kincheloe and Quinlan of the flaming torch.

"I guess," Ethel said, "old J. Q. can put out his torch. I can't think that one fine act at the end can change one all at once; but it's something begun which, over there, must have power to go on."

THE END.

Trim It With Red

RED is an ever-blooming perennial—sartorially speaking. It is seldom scheduled for overwhelming popularity, but there is never a season during which it doesn't put in an appearance.

Its chief use this season is to line the wide sleeves or loose panels that continue to be worn, to touch up a dark gown with a dash of embroidery or to function in its lighter shades, in evening gowns of undoubted dash and brilliance.

For daytime wear all the shades of brown are undoubtedly most popular. They vary from the brown that is nearly black to the brown that is nearly red or yellow, with special favor shown to the golden browns half way down the scale.

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES — BY ELTON

JACK WALKED AROUND AND KEPT HIS EYES ON THE HORSES. SUDDENLY HE HEARD THE SHARP LOUD BARK OF A REVOLVER. HE DECIDED TO LEAVE THE ANIMALS FOR A MOMENT AND INVESTIGATE.

THE LITTLE ADVENTURER TRIED TO EXPLAIN TO FLIP WHAT HE WANTED. THE INTELLIGENT DOG SEEMED TO UNDERSTAND SO JACK LEFT THE HORSES IN HIS CARE. THEN HE HURRIED UP THE LITTLE HILL.

JACK LAYED DOWN FULL LENGTH UPON THE GROUND AND PEERED OVER THE CLIFF. ALL WAS BUSTLE AND EXCITEMENT BELOW. THEN HE HASTILY DREW BACK HIS HEAD AS SOMEONE WAS CLIMBING UP THE HILL.

THE BOY QUICKLY HID BEHIND A TREE. HE HEARD THE MAN CLIMB OVER THE CLIFF, AND THEN WALK BACK AND FORTH ALONG THE EDGE. JACK LOOKED OUT. IT WAS THE BANDIT CHIEF, PEDRO LOPEZ. CONTINUED IN NEXT CHAPTER.

LESLIE ELTON — NEA

DEAR DIRTY DUBLIN.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have been waiting for Mrs. H. to take us on our fourth tramp to dear old Manchester. Lonely Lancashire Lad covered more ground that we did in our two previous tramps. Lonely Lancashire Lad, I certainly will make an appointment with you, and keep it too. Will you scold if I stop to look in the shop windows? You know all the old haunts as well as I do. We never felt we could go home on Saturday nights until we had crossed Blackfriars bridge and to the "pot market," where the fun always was. You dear boy, I am sure you would be a good scout and a "regular fellow." Save up your pennies, for we are going to Ireland too. Miss Grey, won't you ask in your page if there is not one real Irishman from the Ould Sod who can take us for a trip to "dear dirty Dublin"? I love Ireland too. Lancashire Lads and Lassies, won't you look nice if one of these days you get a message direct from Manchester to come and have tea with me some Sunday afternoon at five? Ta, ta!

LONESOME FOR BLIGHTY.

Surely we have some real Irishman or colleen in the Mail-Box who will take us on a trip through Ould Ireland, but we must be careful not to run into any riots, as we might not come back alive. Lonesome for Blighty, will you invite Cynthia to tea too?

ARE LANCASHIRE FOLKS.

Dear Miss Grey,—Here I come again to let you know I have heard from two of the Boxites, and I received a nice parcel from one of them, also a nice letter from each of them, and I want to thank them both very much for the help they are giving me, also yourself, as it is through you I received help, and I am most grateful. Dear Miss Grey, would you send me Lancashire Lassie's address, as I would like the coat and dress, as I have a little girl 8 years old who is in need of them both, if I am not too late. I see where Lancashire Lassie is wondering where are the Lancashire folks. That is why I would like to write to her, as both myself and my sister come from Liverpool. Dear Miss Grey, my sister is going to write to you if she may. Find inclosed a wee mite for the S. C. H. I do wish I could send more. Will close now, wishing yourself and all the Boxites the best of luck.

LITTLE MOTHER OF FOUR.

I am so pleased that you have been receiving help from my Boxites. Aren't they the best-hearted people you would want to find anywhere? I am sending you Lancashire Lassie's address, and hope you are not too late to receive the clothing she is offering. She will be pleased to hear you and your sister are Lancashire folks too. We will be looking for a letter from your sister. Many thanks for the hospital mite.

PASSES ON TIP.

Dear Miss Grey,—This is my very first letter to your Mail-Box. I do love to read the letters. Mamma has written before. We feel sorry for so many needy ones. We have to squeeze and cut over and everything to get along. I wonder if any of the Boxites ever used sugar sacks for clothes for children. You can buy them at grocery stores at 10 cents apiece, or three for 25 cents. Mamma washes them and gets all the color out of them, then makes them up into little dresses, bloomers, rompers and suits for my little brother; then she dyes them any color she likes, puts a little bit of fancy work on the dresses or a little rick-rack braid, and they are really pretty and don't cost much. You could get a whole lot of things for a dollar, and they wear well too. There are seven children in our family, and the oldest is just 13, so you see we have a lot to do.

I saw in the paper where Spookendyke was offering some shoes, and I wonder if I could get a pair, as I have none to start to school with. Please send me her address in inclosed envelope, also stocking foot pattern.

I got second prize on my cookies last year at the school fair, so will send recipe: One egg, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup lard, a little salt, 1 cup buttermilk, 2 teaspoons baking powder, a little baking soda sifted with flour enough to make a soft dough; turn on board and roll thin, cut in shape and bake in quick oven.

I am 11 years old and in senior third class. Will close with a mite for S. C. H., and good luck to the Mail-Box. DELL.

I never heard of using sugar sacks for clothes, but it must be a very good idea. Thanks for passing along the hint to the Mail-Box. It must keep your mother hustling to clothe seven children, and shoes seem to wear out so quickly, don't they? I will send you Spookendyke's address, and hope you receive a pair of her boots. I am also mailing the stocking foot pattern. Thanks for the cookie recipe. Let us know how you make out this year at the school fair, or are you entering anything? Thank you, too, Dell, for the inclosed hospital mite.

SENDS IN WORDS.

Dear Miss Grey,—I read the letters of the Mail-Box every day and noticed that the High School Girl Wanted the words of "The Wild Cowboy."

She said she had the chord to it, so I am exchanging the words for the chord. How is my writing, Miss Grey? I remain, HAPPY DAY.

Am mailing the words to High School Girl, and in return you can send her the chord for it. You write a very good hand, Happy Day. Won't you write again soon?

WILL START COOK BOOK.

Dear Miss Grey,—I wrote not long ago and I have been thinking I owe you a stamp and envelope. I forgot to inclose them, so please pardon my thoughtlessness. Would you please tell me what a person would have to do if she undertook the cook book plan of raising money? We are moving in about a month's time, but if I could get someone who might live near our new home to help me, I think I'd like to see it on. I have two children, so cannot promise to do it until I see what would be required of me, and if you know of a helpmate.

What style of curtain arrangement is used on a triplet dormer window (full size)? I have seen some with two curtains to a window and looped back at each side which I rather fancied.

I wonder if any shut-in would care to have a bundle of S. S. papers having the story "Sister Sue" in them, complete, besides other stories? If they pay the postage to the Mail-Box they may have them, and if taken care of might be passed on again.

I must close for this time.

Truly, GOLDIE.

Ans.—You would have to take care of the recipes, and classify them, as they were sent in, then see to the printing of the book. I have a cook book which was compiled by the Campbell Becher Chapter, I. O. D. E., which can be used as a sample. There are over four hundred recipes in it, so it will be quite a proposition, making it up, Goldie. Think seriously before you enter into it. Maybe some other boxite living in the city will volunteer to be a helpmate. I think the loop-backed curtains you spoke of are very effective. What room is the window in? I would think some shut-in would be glad to have the papers and they could be passed on from one to another. Will be looking for volunteers for the cook book, boxites. Now that Goldie has offered to start it, someone should back her up.

Radio Radiations

This fact was established recently by Lee Roy Potter, whose station is eight miles east of here, when he tried to receive messages from comparatively near-by transmitting stations.

intervening between Fullerton and he says, where he had trouble hearing stations at Riverside, only 30 miles away. These stations at times got reports from amateurs as far as 1,000 miles north and east of them.

The cause of poor reception, Potter learned, was the mountain range intervening between Fullarton and San Diego, 90 miles away, although the San Diego amateurs were able to reach out to the north and east with ease.

Now, at his Antelope Valley station, near here, Potter finds the signals from Riverside and San Diego come in much stronger than other stations he had heard at Fullerton. The reason for this, he believes, is the natural passage allowed wireless waves by Cajon Pass.

"This," he says, "allows an ethereal air strata on a level to this elevation, while high mountains rise in continuity between here and Fullerton."

RADIO BOOSTS MINING.

Greater demands are being made on mining industries due to the increased popularity of radio. Galena, which is a form of lead ore, is one of the most widely used crystal detectors in the country. There is also an iron and copper ore form of crystal. Use of a great deal of copper wire has raised the demand for this ore considerably.

RADIO CHRISTMAS.

Prepare for a radio Christmas. This is the word given out by several manufacturers who are planning to flood the market with all kinds of radio gifts. One maker has designed a gift box containing all parts of a complete set, except bulb, batteries and headphones. The set will sell for less than $15.

NO GROUND OR AERIAL.

A new radio receiver without either aerial or ground connection has been invented by Paul Oard, a California engineer. All that is needed to catch the fast waves is a stretch of wire not more than 50 feet long. "It is the radio set for automobiles," says Oard.

BOWS FOR HATS.

Not in many seasons has the ribbon or velvet bow been so popular for hat trimming. These are large and small, high and flat, but they give a decidedly youthful and trim appearance to street millinery.

CARTRIDGE PLAITS.

Cartridge plaits over the hips are a favorite method of introducing fullness in the new coats and coat dresses.

WIDE COLLARS.

Collars are attaining such width that one fears for their ultimate destiny. Many of them reach to the waist line already. Finely plaited or ruffled georgette is the favorite material for them.

POKE BONNETS.

Chicken Fritters.

1 cup cooked chopped chicken
2 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon celery salt
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ cup milk

COOK the chicken with seasonings in butter for two or three minutes. Add flour and when blended with the meat add milk and bread, making six sandwiches. Cut off the crusts and dip each sandwich in a mixture of one cup of milk and two eggs beaten slightly. Fry in butter until a golden brown on each side. Serve hot, garnished with crisp celery.

Note—These so-called "fritters" may be made of any kind of left-over cooked meat excepting beef, and also crab meat. Always season to taste, the amounts given being sufficient to make palatable. This recipe makes six fritters.

"Anyone can buy milk," says this Cow in your Kitchen—it may be good milk or it may not! It may be pure or it may not! It may be rich in nourishing qualities, or it may not! It may keep—or it may not.

It is good! It is pure! It is rich! It does keep fresh! Wholesome! Convenient! Economical! For every milk use!

Order a few tins from your grocer to-day. "A size for every need."

No Trouble To Keep Skin Free From Hairs

(The Modern Beauty)

There is no need for any woman to countenance superfluous hairs, because with a paste made by mixing some powdered delatone with water it is easy to get rid of them. The paste is applied for 2 to 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed. This treatment will rid the skin of hair without leaving a blemish, but care should be taken to see that you get real delatone. Mix fresh as wanted.—Advt.

GIRLS! LEMONS BLEACH SKIN WHITE

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.—Advt.

ACID STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

The Real Cause of Indigestion

Acids in the stomach irritate and inflame the delicate stomach lining, sour and ferment the food, prevent proper digestion and lead to nine-tenths of all Dyspepsia and Indigestion. Pepsin and other artificial digestents give only temporary relief and do not correct the cause.

Stomach acids should be neutralized daily, and the stomach kept sweet and clean after eating by drinking a glass of pure Magnesia water made from a teaspoonful or four tablets of Bisurated Magnesia, obtainable at any reliable drug store. This prevents food fermentation and your meals digest naturally and without pain. By following this plan you may eat almost anything without fear of Indigestion.—Advt.

WOULD PURIFY MOVIE FILMS

Association of Canadian Clubs Recommends Early Action.

Formation of Young Men's and Women's Clubs Is Advocated.

HAMILTON, Sept. 11.—Purification of moving-picture films, general acceptance of a standardized version of "O Canada," the formation of young men's and young women's Canadian clubs wherever possible, and indorsation of the Western Canada Colonization Association's project of immigration, were recommended this afternoon at the tenth annual conference of the Association of Canadian Clubs.

Marshaling her facts in an impressive manner, Mrs. R. F. McWilliams of the Women's Canadian Club of Winnipeg reviewed the effective progress made by the good films committee in Manitoba in banishing from moving picture theatres all that is salacious, neurotic, too suggestive of sex, and those features subversive of the laws of chastity and marriage.

Holding that the youth of Canada needed the leadership of its elders in Canadian ideals and sentiment, and that the spirit of Canadian clubs had touched only young Canadian men and women to a small degree, Major P. N. Alexander, and Capt. G. G. E. Raleigh of the Young Men's Club of Toronto, submitted a motion that the desired national spirit be promoted by the institution of a movement having for its aim the establishment of young men's and young women's branches wherever these are deemed advisable.

The motion was adopted, Kirwan Martin, K. C., of Hamilton, expressing a hope that definite steps would be taken to act upon the motion.

A spirited appeal for the Women's Canadian Clubs to support the aims of the League of Nations was made by Mrs. Mary Dunn, Hamilton.

Voting on the question of where next year's convention shall be held, a majority favored Victoria, B. C. Invitations were also received from Port Arthur, Fort William, Quebec City, St. John, N. B., and Calgary.

Mayor Coppley said there should be restrictive legislation that would remove from the hands of powerful speculators the vast acreage of Western Canada, so that this would be available to the new settlers.

Col. F. P. Healey, secretary of the Hamilton Chamber of Commerce, emphasized the need of a rigid system of inspection at the point of embarkation instead of the point of disembarkation.

The discussion on the diversified versions of "O Canada" now extant was lengthy. On motion of Mrs. Clarry and Mrs. Harry Carpenter, Hamilton, the association recommended that Dr. Richardson's translation of the Routhier composition be accepted in Canada, save where it is sung in the French tongue.

CUT DOWN OCEAN FREIGHT ON EGGS

Request Made Following 100 Per Cent Drop in British. Prices.

OTTAWA, Sept. 11.—A reduction in ocean freight on eggs from 35 cents to 25 cents a cubic foot is announced by the steamship companies at Montreal, as a result of direct representations made by egg exporters of the Dominion department of agriculture to the various steamship companies operating between Canada and Great Britain.

In requesting the 25 cent rate attention was called to the heavy stock of storage eggs in Canada bought and stored at prices equal to those of 1921, and to the 100 per cent drop in prices on the British market, the two factors making export practically impossible without serious loss.

This is the second reduction in the course of a few weeks, the previous rate of 40 cents having been reduced at the request of the transportation committee of the Canadian Produce Association. The charge amounts now to 62½ per 30 dozen cases, or a little more than 2 cents a dozen. At the present rate of 40 cents the cost was 3 1-3 cents a dozen.

STATE CORN CROP IN GOOD CONDITION

TORONTO, Sept. 11.—The weekly crop report issued by the Ontario department of agriculture states that while the corn crop is coming along nicely the oats yield will not be as heavy as previously estimated.

A few complaints of potato rot are coming into the department, but on the whole the potato crop is regarded as being in fair condition.

As low as 50c per bag has been reported in Simcoe County. Considerable fall wheat has been sown, but many farmers are holding back for a week or two in order to avoid the Hessian fly.

The apple crop in North Simcoe County is a heavy one so far as the earlier varieties are concerned, but it is difficult to secure a market. Wealthies are about ready to pick, but it is feared by many that no market will be forthcoming.

ST. MARYS GIRL AWARDED 4TH BLAKE SCHOLARSHIP

TORONTO, Sept. 11.—The third award of bursaries in Canadian universities to the sons and daughters of deceased and totally disabled soldiers has just been announced by Miss Constance B. Lang, national educational secretary of the Imperial Order of Daughters of the Empire. The bursaries form a part of the national war memorial scheme instituted by the order in 1919.

The Ontario winner is Dorothy Helen Wright of St. Marys, who matriculated from St. Marys Collegiate Institute. She will enter the University of Toronto, having been awarded the fourth Edward Blake scholarship in classics and moderns. Miss Wright is a daughter of Lieut. W. J. Wright, 19th Battalion, who was killed at Hill 70 in 1917.

FIRE DESTROYS 2 KENT BARNS

Blaze Caused by Lightning Results in Damage Estimated At $20,000.

21 Motor Accidents Occur in Storm Which Sweeps County.

Special to London Advertiser.

CHATHAM, Sept. 11.—Two barns on the farm of Thomas Holdway, concession 14, Harwich Township, were totally destroyed by fire resulting from lightning during a severe storm which hit the city and county last night. Livestock, grain and a complete threshing outfit were consumed in the flames and the damage has been estimated at approximately $20,000.

Rain fell heavily in South Kent. One house on the Ridge road was struck by lightning and shingles were ripped off. Lightning also struck a fence in Dover Township, destroying several fence posts.

Local telephone service was temporarily disabled and a telephone pole struck by lightning burned out a heavy cable supplying a portion of the city business section. Doctors' offices are the only ones supplied today until the repairs have been effected and a new cable installed. As a result of the storm there were many motor car accidents, six occurring in the city during the storm and 15 occurring on Kent County roads.

Sixty-six cases are listed for trial in the city division court tomorrow. Judge Stanworth will try the cases. This number is stated to be a record for the city division court after the long vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Stover of this city have just received word of the death of their nephew, Eric Stover, in Wichita, Kansas. The nephew, who was only eight years of age, was crushed to death by a large cement mixer passing over him. He lived for only a few hours.

HOW MEN CAN IMPROVE THEIR APPEARANCE

By Choosing Cloth and Clothes That Will Give Them Individuality.

The Chief Designer of Semi-ready clothes is more than a mere student of anatomy and of physical conformation. In a recent newspaper article he said:

"In the army you can tell an officer from a private by his clothes. An officer's uniform is well-tailored and fits him, whilst the uniform of a private is frankly ready-made in the cheapest way by careless workmen.

"In our workshops we made thousands of uniforms for officers in the Canadian army, and some few for American officers, but our organization did not permit of cheap construction.

"A man can improve his appearance by wearing well-fitting clothes—not necessarily expensive clothes.

One can see the difference on any street of the officer type of clothing and that of the private.

"There is class and distinction woven into a suit of clothes—an individuality which expresses the attitude of the wearer. Few men fail to live up to their environment. A cheaply-constructed and ill-fitting suit must of necessity have a mental effect on the wearer—and make him feel cheap and untidy.

"In the Semi-ready tailor shops any man who works and who fails to grasp the idea that we want the minutest details of the model garment sewn into each garment—that man is released from our service. Each tailor must combine skill with efficiency.

Expert Work, Yet Price Is Held Down

"Our wages are the highest paid in any shop in Canada—and yet we keep the price down.

"A finished salesman in a fashion shop could readily get twice the price of a ready-made suit for one that is 'Semi-ready tailored,' but the price label on the pocket, based on the cost of the cloth, keeps the price uniform and fair.

"Any man who buys a Semi-ready suit can look for himself and see the actual value of the suit, placed there by the men who bought the cloth and made the garment.

"The man who sells Semi-ready suits must know more about cloth materials, workmanship and color suitability than the ordinary clever talking salesman. He usually does, for in the Semi-ready store one meets the men who are particular about their dress and appearance.

Complete Tailor Service.

"There is no garment for men which we cannot make—from the scarlet golf coat to the business, professional or wedding suit.

"In our fashion portfolio we often show thirty different styles in a season.

"We still make frock coats for ministers, and we make clerical garb of all kinds.

"Morning coats have replaced the frock coats for wedding and for other ceremonial or social affairs. These are usually made in black or dark grey cheviots, with vests to match.

"This season we made thousands of suits of homespun—both Canadian Donegals and pure Scotch homespuns—in style suits for business and play. With each suit of long trousers we tailored a pair of golf knickers. Six times during the season we had to cable repeat orders for the handloom homespuns—a cloth that looks quite ordinary and plain in the web, but which is quite distinguished and pleasing when tailored into a well-fitting garment.

"In fact, the new outdoor designs in suits are so attractive that the fancy patterns and weaves are not now the whole thing in the tailoring world.

"I know men, big men of affairs, who always prefer the neat and plain cloth, and who depend altogether upon the skill of our tailors for that air of distinction and neatness which is the mark of the well-dressed man.

Many Business Suits.

"It is attention to detail which marks the good tailor. Now, we make twenty different styles in business suits, yet there may be only a trifling difference in some. One may have a shorter lapel, the other a different shaped notch in the collar, or perhaps a different curve in the front of the shirt.

An Overcoat Is Important.

"It was in the making of overcoats that the Semi-ready Company achieved their first big triumph.

"Making clothes on the scientific physique type system, the Semi-ready overcoat was found to have perfect shoulder-fitting, combined with graceful draping, and today it is only the older man who lingers in the past who would think it necessary to order an overcoat from the retail tailor. The Semi-ready shops can show so many styles—in both winter overcoats and fall topcoats—that their system is invariably chosen.

Cheaper Than In England.

"One can buy a Cromble overcoat in a Semi-ready shop for $75 which costs 15 guineas in England. In other words, the wholesale system of tailoring to measure overcomes both duty and sales tax on the imported overcoatings.

"It has been said that Canadian apples can be bought in Liverpool cheaper than in Canada, where they are grown. In our shops we make and sell 'King's Own' Serge—a pure Botany wool yarn and a fast indigo dye cloth of fine, soft texture—at a price less than it can be bought in England, where the cloth is woven.

"It is just as easy for us to tailor clothes on exact English lines, just as we do our English Raglan topcoats, but we can and do insert in the garments finer lines and more finished tailoring.

Riding and Ski Breeches.

"It was an English officer who complimented us on our riding breeches, just as it was an English golfer who said Semi-ready golf coats were a perfect study in athletic tailoring. For both men and women we tailor ski breeches. This winter sport has taken a firm hold in Canada—the Land of Hills, Lakes and Dales—where we have ten months of perfect weather and no cyclones, earthquakes or abnormal upheavals.

"We can make any coat that any man can describe—that is our idea of Semi-ready Service—and we aim to make our label a real seal of satisfaction."

R. Leo Watson, Limited, of 182 Dundas street, has the exclusive sale for London of Semi-ready tailored clothes.

CUTS CANADA'S DEBT $4,866,362

Further Decrease Shown in August Finance Department.

Nation's Liability $43,000,000 Greater Than On Same Period Last Year.

OTTAWA, Sept. 11.—(By Canadian Press.)—A further decrease in the net debt of Canada amounting to almost five million dollars is shown in the statement for August issued today by the finance department. The net debt on August 31 was $2,387,676,265, as compared with $2,392,542,628 at the end of July, a decrease of $4,866,362 during the month.

The debt on August 31 this year was approximately 43 millions greater than on the same date a year ago, when it amounted to $2,344,949,085.

Revenues of the Dominion show a satisfactory increase, not only for the month of August but during the whole five months of the fiscal year which have elapsed. On the other hand, expenditures are on the decline.

Total revenues for the five months which closed with August 31 are shown in the statement as $171,276,472, which is $3,136,614 greater than for the same period a year ago.

Expenditures stand at $115,340,551, a decrease of $7,739,080 from last year, when expenditures were $123,079,631.

Revenue for the month of August alone was $29,776,818, as against $26,831,337 last year, while expenditures total $19,517,858, as compared with $24,634,093 in August, 1921.

Total revenues from customs for the five months' period which has just closed amount to $48,890,878, an increase of $5,057,265 over last year, when they amounted to $43,833,613. Excise yielded $14,959,775 or $1,453,028 less than in 1921-22. Inland revenue was more than six million dollars greater than during the five month period last year, the total being $36,024,925, as compared with $29,844,656. Income tax collections are shown to be approximately eight and a half million dollars less than last year, and now total $45,984,492.

The customs collections for August alone totaled $9,751,348 and excise $3,291,694. For last year customs collections in August totaled $8,495,722 and excise $3,359,811. Income tax collections for August, 1922, were $1,226,290 and for August last year, $2,354,239.

CHARGE DRUGGIST WITH O. T. A. BREACH

Woodstock Magistrate Adjourns Case Against Merchant For Week.

Special to London Advertiser.

WOODSTOCK, Sept. 11.—In police court today E. A. Rea, a local druggist, was charged with unlawfully selling liquor to Thomas Carney without first obtaining a permit as required by the O. T. A.

Carney was arrested and fined for being drunk, and on being asked where he secured his liquor, answered that he had purchased a bottle of Wilson's wine from the druggist. The druggist backed up by his clerks, denied the sale of the bottle, while Inspector Breckenridge, in his evidence, said that when he interviewed Mr. Rea in reference to the sale of the bottle the latter had admitted the sale. Mr. Rea also denied this.

In the argument that followed Mr. Rea stated that hundreds of medicines in his store were intoxicating. The crown attorney, in answer, said that if a medicine or preparation was purchased as a beverage to drink then, according to the ruling of the Ontario license board, the seller was guilty of an offense against the O. T. A. The magistrate, in adjourning the case for a week, stated that the general situation was such that until the O. T. A. was changed it would be hard to compete with many cases such as the one tried today.

SETTLE ESTATE OF NORTHCLIFFE

LONDON, Sept. 11.—News of the World definitely asserts that a settlement has been reached in the case of the late Viscount Northcliffe's will.

It says Viscount Rothermere, his brother, will acquire the whole or a large part of Viscount Northcliffe's shares in the company owning the Daily Mail and other newspapers, whose management will be in the hands of Thomas Marlowe, who retired as editor of the Daily Mail in November, 1919; Sir Andrew Caird, vice-chairman of Associated Newspapers, Limited; Sir George Sutton, chairman of Amalgamated Press, Limited, and Pomeroy Burton of the Northcliffe publications.

The newspaper says Viscount Northcliffe's shares in the Times Publishing Company will be sold, but that it is probable that John Walter, former proprietor of the Times, will have first offer of the shares, as provided in Viscount Northcliffe's earlier will.

The residue of the estate, according to News of the World, will go to Lady Northcliffe.

M. C. R. SHOPMEN POSTPONE STRIKE

Special to London Advertiser.

ST. THOMAS, Sept. 11.—Advised that parlays are about to take place with a view to arriving at some settlement, M. C. R. shopmen held a meeting here Monday morning and decided to postpone the strike, which was scheduled to take place at 10 o'clock.

Hon. James Murdock, minister of labor, wired J. A. Killingsworth, local representative of the department, advising the shopmen to remain at work while an attempt was made to settle their grievances, and a wire of the same import was received from John Oswald, a union official here, from J. A. Franklin, president of the International Union of Boilermakers.

A meeting of the men was held at 10 o'clock, and it was decided to let matters rest for a few days at least.

Many Ready to Strike.

The attitude of the shopmen before the cancellation order was received did not bear out the report in circulation that but a small percentage would strike. The majority of the men, while expressing reluctance about giving up their jobs at this time of the year, seemed prepared to carry out the orders of their executive, believing that they were morally obligated to their American brethren, and could not do otherwise than strike. It is believed that at least 80 per cent of the men were prepared to strike.

An indication of their determination to protest the wage reductions in this manner was presented outside Master Mechanic E. R. Webb's office a few minutes before 10 o'clock, the hour fixed for the walkout. A dozen or more of the night shift men were on hand, waiting to learn the final decision. They were told briefly by Mr. Size to go home and go to bed, that the strike was off for a little while at least.

Fifty or more night-shift men were congregated in front of the entrance to the machinists' hall, also waiting the verdict. Some of them expressed regret that the strike had been cancelled. There appeared to be a strong disinclination on the part of the men this morning to accept the wage cuts, which they consider very unjust and unwarranted.

Is Strike Nearly Ended?

The telegram from Mr. Franklin, the president of the Boilermakers' Union, is causing much speculation locally, the belief being expressed by many that it is unlikely that a walkout will ever take place here.

Mr. Franklin's wire read: "Your wire received. You should take no action until after the meeting of the general committee here on Monday, and you are further advised to notify all concerned."

The telegram is dated from Chicago on Sunday, Sept. 10. The general committee mentioned consists of the presidents of the six shop unions who form the executive of the railway department of the American Federation of Labor.

Up to the Minister.

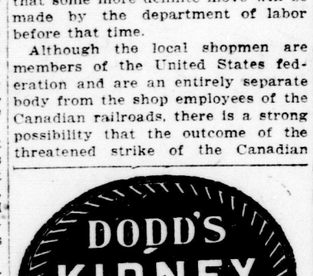

Immediately Mr. Killingsworth learned the decision of the shopmen he got in communication with the minister of labor by long-distance telephone, and briefly explained the situation to him. The strike was off for at least two days, Mr. Killingsworth reported, and the further cancellation of the walkout rested largely with the minister. Mr. Killingsworth also telegraphed the minister, explaining the situation in detail. He has been requested to keep closely in touch with affairs and to advise the department of all developments. Mr. Size assured Mr. Killingsworth that the department will receive ample notice of any future decisions of the local shopmen.

Two-Day Armistice.

John Lane when questioned about the possible length of the cancellation, stated that nothing fresh was likely to develop within two days. He expected that further advice from the executive in Chicago will be received tomorrow. It is probable that some more definite move will be made by the department of labor before that time.

Although the local shopmen are members of the United States federation and are an entirely separate body from the shop employees of the Canadian railroads, there is a strong possibility that the outcome of the threatened strike of the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk employees may have an important bearing on the local situation. If the minister of labor succeeds in averting a walkout on these roads, it is probable that the Canadian Division of the Michigan Central Railways will be similarly affected.

The action of the company in posting notices of the disputed wage reductions before the decision of the conciliation board investigating the matter was forwarded to the parties concerned was protested in a resolution passed by the shop crafts employees at their special meeting in the Machinist's Hall, Monday morning, and incorporated in the resolution was a request that the Minister of Labor investigate the matter and learn, if possible, who gave out the information to the company as to the findings of the board.

Special to London Advertiser.

SARNIA, Sept. 11.—Rumors that a prominent Toronto lawyer would be retained to conduct the prosecution of the forthcoming Wyoming bank robbery trials, were nipped in the bud today, when Crown Attorney F. W. Wilson received definite instructions from the attorney-general's department to proceed with the trials at the supreme court assizes, Monday, Sept. 25.

The announcement gave considerable local satisfaction, as Mr. Wilson put up a remarkably strong fight at the June sessions of the peace, when William Ayers received a 12-year term, and Edward McMullen's innocence or guilt was the subject of a jury disagreement.

Mr. Willson stated today that no consideration had yet been given to the order of the trials, a matter which would be left subject to circumstances at the opening of the assizes.

World's Noted Pathologists Search In Vain For Cause of Sleeping Sickness

LONDON, Sept. 11.—Researches of pathologists into the mysterious malady commonly known as sleeping sickness hitherto has resulted only in exploiting a number of fallacies. The possibility of its connection with influenza, hiccoughs and botulismus or food poisoning is definitely ruled out, while no evidence has been obtained to support the theory that the medium of infection is the biting of insects, houseflies or water, soil or food. On the contrary, it is now stated that the disease is conveyed through air breathed through the nose affecting the brain.

The report of the pathologists states that the cause is obscure, and it is unable to recommend methods of prevention, but suspects a filtrable virus, which it hopes to trace any day.

BUSTER REID TO HANDLE 'U' GRID SQUAD AGAIN

Will Enlist Services of Sinc. McEvenue, Famous Argo Coach, If Possible—Candidates Notified To Report Monday.

Yesterday the Western U rugby players, in pursuance of the program to have the squad report two weeks earlier this year, received their notices to make an appearance at the office of Dr. George Smith, the new physical director of Western, on Monday, Sept. 18.

Eric (Buster) Reid will have charge of the squad again this year and if it is at all possible, he will enlist the services in an advisory capacity, of Sinc. McEvenue, former coach of the Argos, Dominion champions of the past two years, and a playing star when Reid himself was first breaking in under Shaughnessy.

Coach Reid is a keen admirer of McEvenue, acknowledged as one of the greatest coaches the Dominion has ever developed, and with the benefit of such coaching to start with, Western U's chances of developing a real grid squad look better than they've ever looked in the past. It is possible that owing to business pressure, McEvenue might not be able to spend much time with the squad, but it is hoped that he will be able to get out later on.

Coach Reid will have a good nucleus of last year's team around which to build a machine; there are some good college players entering the freshman year, and with a good two weeks earlier start there should be something in store in the way of inter-collegiate football this autumn.

Helps Out.

Added to all this, the western grouping of the middle section of the Intercollegiate series will be equalized a great deal by Varsity entering the series, for O. R. F. U. series. In the past, Western, O. A. C. and St. Mikes have been forced out to meet Varsity's first reserves, many of whom it has been claimed, time after time, were good enough for the firsts, but were relegated to the seconds only as a result of inner politics. With two senior teams, Varsity will not be able to turn to much "firsta" material loose on the intermediate group, making for much closer rugby and better games.

The candidates, who report on Monday next, will find that the new physical director, Dr. Smith, has left nothing undone that will induce them getting every attention and facility in jumping right into training. In line with the new athletic program decided upon by the Canadian universities, which compels all students to take up some form of physical exercise or athletics after they have been medically examined and categoried, the candidates of the football squad will have to submit to a medical examination before going into training. While they will not go on a strict training table under supervision as at first proposed, they will be given a regimen to which they'll be expected to adhere while under training and during the season.

Though there is vague rumors of once more starting an intermediate O. R. F. U. team in London, there is little likelihood that anthing will be done here this season, giving the Collegians still more chance of popularizing the game and getting a big following outside the university for the inter-collegiate game.

"We'll provide everthing that can be provided in the way of preparation for the rugby team," Dr. Smith stated last night, "but it will be up to the candidates themselves to show real enthusiasm and earnestness in their workouts."

Apparently, this has been shown in a degree already by the response received from outside points of candidates signifying their intention of reporting Monday next. Those who worked under Coach Reid last year are generous in their praise of his work, and it is believed this year smoother co-operation between the faculties and the athletic program will make his path easier than in the past.

BROWNS KEEP PACE.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 11. — McManus's single in the ninth with the bases full and two out enabled St. Louis to take today's game from Detroit by a score of 5 to 4, thus holding the margin between the Yankees and the locals to one and a half games. McManus's single followed Sisler's triple and passes to Williams and Jacobson, after Sisler had tied the score with his three-base hit to right center. Sisler got two out of five tries, making 39 consecutive games in which he has hit safely, or only one game behind the modern major league record established by Ty Cobb in 1911. He further increased his lead for the season's batting honors over Cobb, who was held to one hit in five trips to the plate.

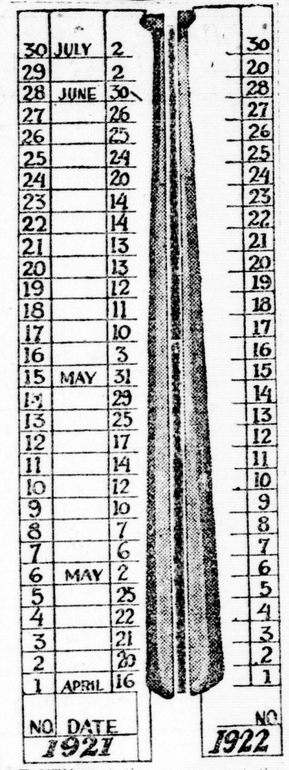

The score: R.H.E.

Think Don Pedro Is "Kid" Pitcher

Part of a big write-up a Philadelphia sport writer gave Petie Behan in his memorable 10-inning relief effort:

"Behan succeeded George Smith's shaky throne at the end of the sixth, and immediately the Phils were a new team. His superb, gritty pitching marks him as a real acquisition. Yet how Babe O'Rourke will catch it for spilling the beans!

"Nevertheless, he will defy the Phils and print his name in nonpareil type, and tell the whole world that he never let a Dodger score a run after he jumped into the game. He had to go ten innings, and he kept the enemy away from the plate.

"Moreover, it was Behan who actually won the game. In the sixteenth inning, with two out, the kid pitcher smacked a solid double to center. Wrightstone followed with a clean hit, and then the estimable Goldie Rapp interfered with a clean single to center that enabled Behan to come home with the winning run.

"They will outwit the Phil owners further this week. We are going in some sinister manner to sneak a photographer on the field and get a snapshot of Behan. Mr. Watler Ruether of the Brooklyn team, who is a good fellow and wants to see kids get along, promises to take it himself if a camera is slipped to him."

SUIT AGAINST ONTARIO GOVT. IS DUE IN FALL

TORONTO, Sept. 11.—The action by the Ontario Jockey Club against Hon. Peter Smith, provincial treasurer, and Major-General Williams has been set down for trial at the fall sittings, which open on Sept. 18. The action will determine who is entitled to the $215,412.65 which was paid into court by the jockey club as five per cent on the money wagered at the spring meeting. This amount was claimed by the province under amendments to the corporation tax act. The jockey club claimed that the act was ultra vires.

The defence filed by the government officials is to the effect that the declaratory act wiped out any claim the plaintiffs might have had, and that even if the proceedings in the action had not been forever stayed by that act, the plaintiffs would not have been entitled to an injunction restraining a minister of the crown in the discharge of his functions as such minister, and that a claim for such an injunction is really an attempt to enjoin the crown. The same allegation is made with regard to any attempt to get an injunction against the head of the provincial police.

LYNCH MATCHED.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11. — Joe Lynch, bantamweight champion, has been matched to go fifteen rounds with Joe Wolfe of Cleveland at the opening of the season at Madison Square on Sept. 22. The men will have to make 122 pounds at 2 o'clock the afternoon of the fight.

CITY TENNIS TOURNEY WILL SHOW SOME FINDS

Much Talent Already Uncovered in Entries Thus Far—Entry Closes Tonight For Wednesday Draw.

(By C. S. G.)

THE revival of the city tennis championships, which commence Wednesday afternoon, has brought forth more tennis talent in the city than was anticipated, and a big entry list is already assured, both of experienced and "coming" players.

The entry list closes tonight and entry forms are now available at Gurd's store for the latecomers. The draw will be made this evening.

The handicap doubles is proving the magnet for the less experienced players, diffident of appearing in tournament play. Doubles were a wise choice on the part of the officials of the tourney, as it has been found that very often players will enter doubles, where they have mutual moral support, when they will not tackle a singles debut.

Developed Players.

The Jolung courts, where several tourneys have been staged this year, have developed some good material that will be seen in the city championships, and some of the other public courts of the city have disclosed some fine talent, which needs only development.

While the tournament will serve as a developer, some of the best-known tennis stars of the city and Western Ontario will be seen in action. Among these are McTaggart, son of the United States consul, who has shown some very fine form this season; Dr. Ross of Blythe, last year's Western Ontario singles champion; J. G. Boucher, for many years holder of the city singles honors and several times Western Ontario title holder; E. V. Rechnitzer, junior handicap champion of Ontario, and runner-up in the Dominion and international events, and the Williams brothers, the elder a member of the U. of T. School's tennis team.

Davis, a new find, but recently located in London, and who has a splendid record in state tourneys throughout the States, is expected to show the galleries something better than the usual in tennis.

The first round of the singles will be played Wednesday, and possibly some of the doubles will be worked in.

Dempsey To Take On Joe Beckett

NEW YORK, Sept. 11. — William Harrison Dempsey, the heavyweight champion, and his retinue have heard the call from the other side again, and they are going to grab a boat for London again about Nov. 6.

In making the announcement of the champion's second jaunt to Europe Jack Kearns, his manager, let it be known that they are not going on pleasure alone.

Dempsey is going to fight Joe Beckett, the English champion, and if he succeeds in winning he is going to give George Carpentier another chance to take a fast one on his shoulder.

Business is tolerable in the United States, according to Kearns, and they figure that they can pick up some cash in and around London.

Plans for the European trip will be altered, Kearns said, if some on wants to stage a Dempsey-Wills fight before the leaves fall, or if the powers that be will relent and let the champion fight Bill Brennan or Billy Miske.

TENDER BEATS HAMMER

Easy Win of Leonard Over Chicago Lightweight.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11. — Lew Tendler, Philadelphia lightweight, won an easy victory over Ever Hammer of Chicago in an eight-round bout at the National League baseball park. Tendler virtually made a punching-bag of the Chicagoan and had the better of every round. He stood Hammer off by jabbing his right to the face and hooking his left to the body. Before the first round was over Tendler had his opponent bleeding from the mouth and nose, and throughout the fight he struck Hammer almost at will.

Joe Tiplitz of this city won the popular decision in an eight-round bout with Pal Moran of New York. Moran was on the defensive all the way.

Claims War Fear Leads Nations Into Costly and Unwise Actions

London, Sept. 11.—"When we come to analyze the situation closely we find that the fear of war is the beginning of unwisdom," said Lord Robert Cecil recently discussing conditions in Europe. "Russia's apprehensions have been translated into vast armies, withdrawn from reproductive work, ill-fed, ill-clothed, ill-disciplined, and, consequently, a greater menace to their friends or fellow-citizens than to their enemies.

"In France the fear of war has led to the establishment of those armies of occupation on the Rhine that are costing bankrupt Germany more than one million pounds a year—more than two thousand million marks.

"Fear of war is leading a section of public opinion in England to demand a vastly increased air service, and still further concentration upon scientific methods of slaughter. In all directions we find that knowledge is still harnessed to destruction; that the readiest means of money-making is to invent something that can destroy life and the products of life-energy faster than nature can replace them. Behind all these manifestations lies fear."

M'DONALD, MURPHY, RAY PILOT IN WINS

"Pop" Geers Only Absentee From Syracuse Opening.

SYRACUSE, Sept. 11. — With all of the leading grand circuit drivers here, except the veteran "Pop" Geers, who is exhibiting Sanardo in the Middle West, the Syracuse meeting in connection with the state fair got off to an auspicious start today. Honors in the opening program consisting of three class events, each for $1,000 purses, were divided by Alonzo McDonald, Murphy and Ray. McDonald, with Dottie Day, had an easy time in the 2:09 class trot, winning three straight heats and making the best time of the day, 2:05½. Murphy piloted Plain Mac to decisive victory in the second event, the 2:15 class trot, winning in straight heats.

The third event, furnished the most spectacular driving of the day, when D. M. Maloney, Ray driving, came back strong to win after trailing in the first heat.

A brisk breeze caused postponement of Peter Manning's scheduled attempt to lower the world's trotting record. Peter Manning will be started tomorrow, weather conditions permitting.

W. O. S. S. A. PROGRAM FOR 1922-23 MAY INCLUDE SCHOOL SOCCER

HOCKEY AND BASKETBALL LOOM LARGE ONCE MORE

Tentative Plans Will Be Made At Conference of Officials This Week.

(By C. S. G.)

While a conference will be held this week between Dr. George Smith of Western University and A. E. Miller, president of the Western Ontario Schools Athletic Association, and Prof. N. C. Hart, secretary, as a preliminary to submitting a tentative program before the executive later on, it is doubtful if any great change will be made in the program of last year which took up basketball, hockey and included interschool debating.

Rugby will not be included in the program this year, and it is doubtful if this game will ever come under the activities of the W.O.S.S.A. So many schools find it impossible to take up rugby that it leaves only a few of the larger cities to be touched, and these, such as St. Thomas, Brantford, Sarnia, Galt and Guelph, Kitchener and London, are either looked after by the interscolastic series of the O.R.F.U. or by leagues such as the Middlesex-Oxford.

However, the hockey and basketball series will be carried through, as both were an unqualified success last year both from the added impetus given interschool competition and the development of a better brand of play. The basketball competitions will, it is expected, wind-up with a big tournament again, and steps will be taken this year to move the hockey schedules along faster, so that the finals will not be left as late as they were last year.

Soccer, however, has vast possibilities under the wing of the W.O.S.S.A., but was not included last year. It is possible that this year's program may attempt something for soccer competition among the schools. The time between school opening in September and impossible weather conditions for soccer might make a spring schedule necessary with only semi-finals to be played in the autumn.

Soccer is perhaps next to hockey has the greatest future as a school game, and is inexpensive compared to all the other games. Even the smallest towns have boasted good soccer teams at some time during the past, and this means that the small schools would have no difficulty in getting proper coaching.

If soccer is taken up, it is more than possible that nothing would be done this fall, but that preparations for a start next spring would be made. This would, of course, follow upon favorable reports from the various school principals.

SARNIA LAWYER TO RESIDE IN TORONTO

Special to London Advertiser.

SARNIA, Sept. 11.—Lieut.-Col. R. I. Towers, prominent lawyer and lifelong resident of this city, leaves this week to reside at Toronto, where he has opened up a legal office. Col. Towers is severing connections with the local firm of Cowan, Towers & Cowan, owing to the fact that marine work in which he is largely engaged calls for his continued residence at the provincial capital.

He will be missed greatly with Mrs. Towers in the social circles of the city. He was prominently connected with Lambton County politics from the Liberal viewpoint, and in 1908 unsuccessfully opposed the late Hon. W. J. Hanna in the provincial election.

Mayor George Crawford and Mrs. Crawford returned today from several weeks' visit to Western Canada and the Pacific Coast, during which his worship attended the convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities. He reported a most enjoyable trip, and tonight again took up the reins of municipal government at the regular council meeting.

The former collegiate institute on the London road was thrown open for public school use today with eight class rooms in operation, and over three hundred pupils enrolled. N. J. Wilson is the principal. At the new collegiate the attendance total has now reached 700, an increase of more than two hundred over last year's September enrollment.

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 11.—Jack Stevens was today committed for trial by Magistrate Campbell after a preliminary hearing on a charge of manslaughter, growing out of the death of Thomas Spratt, following a scuffle at Port Dalhousie.

HOUSING COMMISSIONERS FAIL TO ATTEND MEETING

Counter attraction, as provided by the Western Fair, is blamed for the fact that not one member of the housing commission put in an appearance at the city hall Monday night for a scheduled meeting of that body. However, as only routine business was to be discussed at this meeting, no harm will ensue from the postponement.

ONE KILLED; TWO HURT IN SEAPLANE WRECK

VANCOUVER, Sept. 11.—Major C. MacLaurin, in charge of Canadian government air station here, is believed to be dead and two men, names as yet unknown, are badly injured in a seaplane wreck on the shores of Point Grey. The seaplane, piloted by Major MacLaurin, plunged into the mud, and he is said to be pinned underneath the machine, which is badly wrecked. The two injured men have been rushed to the hospital.

ASSERTS ONE MAY BE TOO SCIENTIFIC

Col. McKeown Raps System Followed in Deciding Pensions For Soldiers.

OTTAWA, Sept. 11.—"It is possible to be too scientific," declared Col. Walter McKeown, the medical member of the royal commission investigating charges laid by the G. W. V. A. against the board of pensions commissioners at the sitting of the commission Saturday.

Col. McKeown was commenting on the fact that in the case of Private Edward Munsey, a Doctor Seton had declared that a diagnosis of tuberculosis had not been established, whereas the man had been a patient a year before in St. Agathe Sanatorium on that account. Col. McKeown suggested it must have been simply a mistake on the part of the doctor, but Dr. A. T. Bond of headquarters said that there were certain definite symptoms which they insisted on. Col. McKeown urged, however, that it was possible to be too scientific.

"It is like a person coming in and saying it is raining, but someone indoors remarks that it could not be as the barometer was set at fair."

Difference in viewpoint was most marked, however, when the case of 477,390 Albert James Healey was under consideration. It had been shown that after a letter written by Dr. A. T. Bond of headquarters, deciding against the applicant, the file was marked to be put away, which, on Dr. Bond's admission, meant it would be sent to the central registry and only fresh evidence or pressure of some kind would bring that file to light again. C. Grant MacNeil, Dominion secretary of the G. W. V. A., secured this admission by a series of questions to Dr. Bond, the latter agreeing that it would be left to an outside organization, such as the Tuberculosis Veterans' Association or the G. W. V. A. to reopen his case. Dr. Bond said he understood that was what those associations were for.

"Will you admit," further queried Mr. MacNeil to Dr. Bond, "that you had exactly the same basis to make investigation of the man's claim as had the Tuberculosis Veterans' Association and on which they successfully secured in the end admission from the board of pensions commissioners that the man's physical trouble was attributable to service?"

Dr. Bond agreed. The commission adjourned until October 2.

18 DROWN WHEN TRUCK GOES THROUGH BRIDGE

HOMERSVILLE, Ga., Sept. 11.—Eighteen negroes are believed to have drowned when a motor truck filled with fans en route to a baseball game plunged through a bridge. Fourteen bodies had been recovered tonight.

FORMALLY PROCLAIM PALESTINE MANDATE

JERUSALEM, Sept. 11.—The British mandate for Palestine was formally proclaimed today. Sir Herbert Samuel, the high commissioner, assumed office and took the oath of allegiance.

At the behest of the Arabian and Christian committee the non-Jewish shops were closed and artisans abstained from work as an expression of protest.

INTERESTING STOVE EXHIBIT.

The W. A. O'Dell exhibit, comprising "Good Cheer" stoves, ranges, furnaces, heaters, etc., manufactured by the James Stewart Manufacturing Company, Woodstock, is a very interesting one, and the demonstrations drew large numbers Monday. Another article shown, and of particular interest to farmers, was the "Quick-Lite," a new lamp, gasoline consuming.

From the ease and safety of operation, and the particularly clear, bright light given, a big future is predicted for it by all who saw it. The display also contains fine specimens of the well-known Frost Fencing.

ADAPTED TO ALL FUELS.

Super Heater, the outstanding feature in the exhibit of the Hamilton Stove & Heater Company, is all that its name implies. Amid a surrounding display of stoves and furnaces, this heater has so much in the way of newness and adaptability to different fuels that it is well deserving of the interest shown in it. A new system of control, by which the heat is made to do the utmost, is being demonstrated to large numbers, and considerable enthusiasm is being shown by all who have seen the Super Heater.

"STICKALITE" POPULAR.

"Stickalite" is due to become a word full of meaning to the motorist, judging by the enthusiasm of Mr. Webster, who is in charge of the Webster Accessories booth in the southeast corner of the machinery building. The Stickalite, the only magnetic automobile trouble lamp on the Canadian market, is constantly being demonstrated, and its merits are apparent to every motorist who has seen it.

It can be attached to the dash or to the seat of any car, and as a trouble lamp has uses too numerous to mention. Other articles attracting particular interest are shoorpatch, introduced on the Canadian market this year, and an automobile mat underlaid with aluminum, which automatically dries and cleans itself.

LONDON MOTORS EXHIBIT.

Attracting continual interest and evoking complimentary remarks on all sides, the new "Supreme Roadster" and the "Supreme Touring" cars in the London Motors exhibit are well worth the close observation of motorists. Mr. Stansell, who was very busy Monday showing particularly interesting points to numbers of visitors, drew especial attention to the one unit top and body of the New Supreme Roadster, which is replacing the old collapsible, or one-man top. This model drew particular attention on account of its strik-appearance, due to a great extent to the new fabricoid finish, an innovation in Canada.

MITCHELL PHAETON.

Quite as interesting is the New Mitchell F-50 to be seen in the same building, featuring the De Luxe Phaeton. W. C. Morrison, who takes particular pride in being the oldest automobile dealer in the city, pointed with an equal pride to the fact that the Mitchell Company is one of the oldest manufacturers, having been engaged in the making of motor cars for over 22 years. The Mitchell is "manufactured," in the true sense of the word, Mr. Morrison claimed, as over 95 per cent of the completed car is made in the Mitchell plant at Racine, Wisconsin.

ALUMINUM PRODUCTS.

Designed after a model kitchen, the Ideal Aluminum Products exhibit in the Machinery Building, attracted numbers interested in aluminumware. One of the most interesting features of this exhibit, which Mr. McFarlane was demonstrating, was the combination steamer, capable of cooking a dinner under one cover. These products are 99 per cent pure aluminum, and are guaranteed for 25 years. The exhibit also contains a new discovery "Mendit," which means breaks in any metal, such as car radiators, plumbing, etc.

MILLS RUN NIGHT AND DAY.

In the Palace, well laid out and decorated in white, with occasional palms and ferns, the T. Dexter & Son exhibit is a striking one. Centering the large booth a miniature electric train immediately draws the attention, and rather a pretty picture is completed as the engine with its little string of coaches wends its way among numerous bags of Snowflake Bread Four and Eureka Flour.

Mr. Haskett, who is in charge of the exhibit, said that the mills were running day and night trying to keep up with orders.

CURTAINS ARE FEATURE.

Upstairs, on the southeast corner of the Palace, one of the prettiest and most comprehensive displays, namely, that of Keene Bros., is to be seen. So homelike and reflecting in every detail, a fine appreciation of decorative value, this display attracted continuous groups of interested spectators. Amid heavily upholstered furniture and some choice Oriental rugs, Mount Vernon curtain materials are featured, a separate section being given over entirely to these hangings.

GERHARD HEINTZMAN PIANOS.

In the Annex, just off the south aisle of the Palace, a Player-Grand Piano, one of the main attractions of the Gerhard Heintzman exhibit, may be heard. Mr. Grace, the London manager, was somewhat disappointed at not being able to obtain space until the last minute. However, Mr. Grace has an exhibit of which he may justly feel proud. One other piano in this booth deserving special mention is the Louis Style "D," a beautiful model in natural finish.

SHOWS SOLID STEEL SASH.

A newer, cheaper and better solid steel sash is featured in the Boca Steel Sash exhibit in the Machinery Building. This product, which is made in London, is especially suitable for basement windows, bank doors, barn doors and windows. Builders and others interested noted the special features of this sash Monday.

ENJOY BISCUIT SAMPLES.

Samples given liberally to a multitude of apparently hungry mouths Monday proved at least to the children just how the new "Melt In Your Mouth," fancy sweet biscuits really do melt in one's mouth. Mr. Rush, of the Weston Biscuit Company, Toonto, exhibiting in the Pure Food Building, mentioned the fact that a new factory had just been completed for the manufacture of a new high grade English biscuit to be made in various kinds.

Some of these are already being made, the most popular of which are the "Meltise Cream," the "Panto" and the brand mentioned above. These biscuits, it is claimed, were the hit of the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, this year, and enough samples to go around are assured for visitors to the Western Fair.

LONDON SOAP EXHIBIT

Also, in the Pure Food Building, is the London Soap Company booth, with Mr. Johannes in charge. Prettily decorated, in a blue and tan color scheme, an extensive array of high grade toilet soaps and laundry soaps are shown. Special boxes for the Western Fair containing a regular size cake of each different kind of toilet soap, are being sold for a fraction of the cost, in order to have the people of London and visitors become better acquainted with this London-Made article.

AVERTS GASOLINE TRUCK EXPLOSION

OWEN SOUND, Sept. 11.—A truck belonging to the British-American Oil Company branch at Kitchener caught fire on the outskirts of this city this afternoon. The truck was carrying 260 gallons of gasoline, which it was bringing from Kitchener.

The quick work of the local fire department saved the truck from being destroyed, probably along with several nearby houses, had the gasoline exploded.

PROBE DISINTEGRATION OF CEMENT STRUCTURES

OTTAWA, Sept. 11.—(By Canadian Press.)—Millions of dollars worth of cement construction are involved in an important series of scientific experiments now under way. Examination has shown that cement structures, subject to the action of alkaline waters, particularly in the Western Provinces, are slowly disintegrating.

A committee of scientific experts, under the chairmanship of Professor C. J. Mackenzie of the University of Saskatchewan, was appointed to investigate and a fund was created to finance the work.

It is not expected, however, that any results of work done will be ready for publication for another year.

Disintegration of cement construction under the influence of alkaline water has, it is said, reached such a point that until more is known, it is doubted whether cement can be used where alkaline water is encountered.

ARREST JEWELER FOR HAVING GOLD ILLEGALLY

TORONTO, Sept. 12.—Alleged to have had illegal possession of a large quantity of crusned gold ore taken from Timmins camp, L. Donnelly, manufacturing jeweler of Toronto, was arrested last night.

The police claim that Donnelly during the last few months had received from a certain man in the north country upwards of $6,000 worth of gold.

Another arrest is expected in connection with the case.

Will Enter Big Speed Event

"HONK" MEYERS, of Miami, Florida, one of the drivers in last year's speed events at the Western Fair, who is returning this year with a new car to take part in the speed program schedule for the closing day, Saturday, Septmber 16.

OFFICIALS OF G. T. R. RETIRE

MONTREAL, Sept. 11.—R. S. Logan, vice-president, in charge of land tax and claims, and A. B. Atwater, assistant to the president on lines west of Detroit and St. Clair Rivers, have retired from active sevice wih the Grand Trunk Railway system. At a meeting of the board of directors of the system, held here today, and at which Sir Joseph Flavelle presided, both the president and W. D. Robb, vice-president and general manager announced receipt of the resignations. Both will retire on September 30 on superannuation.

Mr. Logan, who has a railway service of 37 years, has been in the employ of the Grand Trunk system for the last twenty-six years and has been vice-president of the company since 1911.

Mr. Atwater has had a lengthy and varied career, particularly on American lines, where he entered as a railway clerk. After serving in a number of high official positions on smaller Canadian lines he became chief engineer of the Chicago and Grand Trunk Railway, being later promoted to superintendent of the Grand Trunk lines west of the Detroit and St. Clair Rivers.

CHARGES TWO WITH SLAYING

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 11.—A coroner's jury at Thorold this afternoon found that Adam Solton came to his death on August 20 by knife wounds, inflicted at the hands of Harry Rutka, Nik Thomas and Nik Rutka. The two first named are awaiting trial at Welland jail on a charge of murder. Nik Rutka is still at large. Tony Solton, brother of the murdered man, who received seven severe wounds when he went to his brother's aid, was brought from the hospital and gave evidence today, charging both prisoners with complicity in the crime and identifying Nik Rutka's photo as that of the third assailant. All three had knives and used them, but Harry Rutka was named the chief cause of the trouble.

AUTHORITIES IN SEARCH OF FORD

Deportation Officer Arrives in London to Find Subject Gone.

After preparing all plans, including the summoning of a deportation officer for London to see that Andrew James Ford is deported from this city to England, License and Relief Inspector J. W. McCallum has discovered that the subject for deportation cannot be located.

P. Devlin of Kingston, Dominion deportation officer, who was ordered by headquarters at Ottawa to report at London and carry out the deportation of Ford, informed The Advertiser, Tuesday, that his man cannot be located. Reasons for deportation were given by him as the fact that Ford desired to be deported and was a public charge.

"I arrived here last night," said Officer Devlin at the city hall Tuesday, "and was given Ford's address. However, he has moved away, and I understand is working now. Immigration Officer Riggs, Inspector McCallum and myself are looking for Ford, although I understand he has changed his mind and wants to remain in Canada now. He would like to get in a sanatorium for the winter to be treated for tuberculosis, but he cannot put the department to all the trouble of arranging passage to England and sending me here only to change his mind.

"If we can locate him he will go back to England, like it or not. There is too much of people changing their minds this way. It will be my duty to take him to Montreal and see him on the boat. After that I have to deport two families from Toronto, and some convicts from Kingston penitentiary. These people usually ask to be deported, as we cannot put them out of the country as undesirable after they have been here three years."

At noon Tuesday the whereabouts of Ford had not been located by any of the three officials searching for him. He first came to the notice of the authorities when he applied to Inspector McCallum for civic aid and later asked to be deported to England.

SCORES PERISH WHEN GERMAN SHIP FOUNDERS

British Captain Reports Loss of Many Hammonia Passengers.

RAN INTO HEAVY GALE

Majority of Victims Were Spaniards Bound For Cuba.

SOUTHAMPTON, Sept. 12—There was a considerable loss of life when the German steamer Hammonia foundered off Vigo Saturday. Confirmation of this was obtained at 1:15 o'clock this morning, when the British steamer Kinfauns Castle docked here with 285 of the rescued passengers and members of the crew on board. Captain Day, commander of the Kinfauns Castle, said the loss of life possibly would reach 80. Others on board estimated the dead at 150.

Captain Alfred Hoefer, commander of the Hammonia, said that the first two boats lowered over the side of the steamer capsized, and that possibly fifty of the occupants were drowned. Almost all of them were Spaniards of the working class, who were on their way to Cuba.

Captain Hoefer ascribes the loss of the Hammonia, which was bound for Cuba and Mexico, chiefly to shipping water during the violent gale into which the steamer ran when 75 or 80 miles off Vigo, Spain.

The water gained steadily for 24 hours, notwithstanding the fact that powerful pumps were working, discharging thousands of tons of water hourly. Finally the ship began to list, and she took her plunge to the bottom Saturday evening at 8:25 o'clock. Just before the steamer sank the captain and 19 men of the crew who had remained aboard put out from her in a boat. The boat had not gone more than 100 feet from the vessel when the Hammonia sank by the stern, sending up a wave 100 feet into the air.

Captain Day said that when the Kinfauns Castle reached within a few hundred yards of the Hammonia she launched ten boats. The sea was filled with rafts and overturned lifeboats, and also the bodies of drowned women and children. The saving of the passengers and crew still alive occupied three hours. It was a terrible experience, Captain Day added. He said he was unable to sleep afterwards, owing to the scenes of horror he had witnessed. None of the members of the crew of the Kinfauns Castle were lost during the rescue work.

BANDITS RANSACK ST. THOMAS HOME

Search Dwelling Of Ald. Boehmer For Six Hours.

St. Thomas, Sept. 12.—Three masked, armed burglars, entered the home of Ald. E. O. Boehmer, Prince Albert street, about 1:30 o'clock this morning and, after beating and trussing up John Scott, an elderly gardener, held Mrs. Boehmer and her 9-year-old daughter prisoners while the house was ransacked. The search continued until 7 o'clock this morning, when the desperadoes left, taking with them Ald. Boehmer's new Sedan car, a sum of money and a revolver.

The robbery is the boldest crime committed in this city for years. The robbers were evidently local men, who were keeping a close watch on the Boehmer residence, which is located in a rather isolated part of the city.

Ald. Boehmer left for New York on a business trip last evening, and the visit to his home followed within a few hours.

Although threatened with being shot and abused, Mrs. Boehmer bravely defied the robbers for nearly six hours, refusing to tell them where the valuables were hidden. She was able to furnish the police with a fairly good description of the robbers this morning.

Makes Presentation of Wyoming Wolf For City's Zoo at Springbank Park

The city's population at the zoological gardens, Springbank Park, has been augmented by the addition of a Wyoming wolf, a present to George Tustin, London humane officer, from the C. A. Wortham Shows, now on the Midway at the Western Exhibition.

Inspector Tustin, upon the receipt of the animal, a splendid specimen and in the pink of condition, tendered it to the civic parks department for the Springbank gardens. His offer has been accepted.

Following a close inspection of all the animals brought to the city by the Wortham Shows, Mr. Tustin reports that they are in first-class condition. He does not find it necessary, he explains, to voice a single complaint.

SEEK FAIR PLAY FOR WESTERN FAIR VISITORS

MANY COMPLAINTS MADE

Committee Will Take Up Matter With Provincial Department.

Fearing that the county constabulary will once again wage war on motorists from outside points who visit the Western Fair, the board of directors decided at a meeting Tuesday to take steps to prtoect visitors to the city from persecution.

It is alleged that during the past two or three years motorists on the highways approaching London have been persecuted by the county police who collect fines from hundreds on the charge of speeding.

Complaints have been made to the directors, to officials of the London Motor Club and the Middlesex county constables, that officers reap rich harvests each year by lying in wait and taking the numbers of passing cars. Many of the motorists duly summoned live at too great a distance from the city to answer the charge in court, and while they feel that they are not guilty, many of them forward the fines to the authorities to save trouble.

Believing that there may be some reason for these complaints, the mittee consisting of George McCorboard of directors appointed a commick, E. S. Little, Arthur Ford and Ald. G. B. Drake, to investigate the charges, and to take the matter up with the provincial government. Mr. McCormick informed the board that he believed the government would send a special comittee to this city to view the situation.

The matter from time to time has been discussed by the county council, and it is possible that some action may come from that body also.

DECLARES IRISH GOVERNMENT TO UPHOLD RIGHTS

WANTS DEFINITE PEACE

Secures First Victory Over Political Opponents by 2--1 Majority.

DUBLIN, Sept. 13.—William Cosgrave, president of the Dail Eireann, addressing Parliament today, said that if those holding up arms against the Irish government thought the government was afraid to maintain its supremacy they were badly mistaken.

If members of the government failed, others would replace them. The government was willing to have a peaceful understanding with those now in arms, but it must be on the government's basis.

Peace must be a constructional one; there must be no armed bodies without the sanction of Parliament, and Parliament must control all arms.

"We insist upon the people's rights," said Mr. Cosgrave. "We are the custodians of the people's rights, and we shall not hesitate to protect them. We are willing to have a peaceful understanding with those in arms, but it must be a definite peace.

"We want peace with England on the terms of the treaty, and will not tolerate armed interference with that peace. Apart from the question of the nation's honor, we are satisfied we stand to lose incomparably less from any internal opposition than from a reconquest by Great Britain."

Mr. Cosgrave paid a tribute to the late Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins. He described them as "the mighty dead who are sleeping the sleep of immortals," and added:

"They have earned the rest which they denied themselves in life."

The provisional government secured its first victory over political opponents by a more than two to one majority during today's session.

The Labor leader, Johnson, offered a resolution calling for the repudiation of the official statement of the department of home affairs issued on Saturday in connection with the postal union strike. This declared that the government did not recognize the right of civil servants to strike; that picketing would not be permitted, as in industrial strikes, and that the government was determined to afford the fullest protection to those officers who remained loyal to the government and continued at work.

There was protracted debate on the resolution, which finally was rejected when the government secured a majority of 51 votes over Labor's 17 votes, plus the support of 7 Independents.

WHO WILL SUCCEED TRUSTEE W. CLARK?

Secretary to Ascertain If Member Intends To Resign.

Who will succeed W. T. Clark as member of the board of education should the latter resign, as expected?

This is becoming one of the leading issues in board of education circles, and it is said that his colleagues have someone all picked out ready to be rushed into position the moment that the secretary of the board receives the official resignation from Mr. Clark.

In response to a letter received from the latter, W. A. Tanner, secretary, has written to the absent trustee, now in Detroit, seeking definite information as to what his procedure will be, and if he intends to be at the next session of the board and if not does he intend to resign or allow the seat to go by default.

It was stated at the city hall on Tuesday that the successor favored is not a member of the board of education, and the trustees explain that they are quite within their rights by a selection of any ratepayer they deem fit.

They allude as a precedent the introduction to the board of Trustee A. N. Udy, who took a seat on the board following the death of the late Trustee Strong and served a year and nine months before his name went before the electors, when he was duly returned.

MONTREAL STOCKS

Montreal, Sept. 12.—Trading on the stock exchange today started out briskly, and during the first hour the turnover in a number of issues was quite heavy. Prices were firm throughout, and several advances were registered. The list turned quiet and lost some of the advances in the later trading. Steel of Canada early made a new high price for the year at 80, but later lost ½ point.

Buying of Toronto Railway ran the price up to 87½, or 2 points up from the opening, and representing the sharpest advance of the morning.

British Empire Steel first preferred was in moderate demand at 75, and the common stock, after rising to 13½, lost the fraction.

The pulp and paper list was for the most part quiet, and no changes of consequence took place in any of these issues.

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Sept. 12.—Toronto Railway shares were quite active at higher prices on the local stock market this morning, over 1,000 shares changing hands between 85¾ and 87½, with the closing sale of 86¾ showing a net gain of 1¼ from last night.

Trade elsewhere in the listed section was inclined to drag, and price changes generally were slight. Provincial Paper, on sales of less than 100 shares, sold off 2 points to 86. Twin City lost ½ at 58, British Empire Steel second preferred ¼c lower at 37½.

In the unlisted department mining shares were fairly active. Hollinger broke into a new high level with sales at $14.10. The closing was around the low point of the morning, however, at $13.90, a net advance of 10c.
