AN INTERESTING DEBATE

Between the Senior and Junior Classes of Acadia Ladies' Seminary

A spirited debate conducted on novel lines, delighted a large audience of invited guests of Miss Archibald's Senior and Junior English Classes at the Acadia Ladies' Seminary last Saturday evening. These classes, which this year have been limited to their normal attendance, respectively, of 35 to 40 pupils, furnished the contending teams. Intense interest was created by their contest, and the enthusiasm of the girls was contagious, as evidenced by the hearty way the audience punctuated every point made. Margaret Barrs Freeman, a Senior, presided with commendable dignity. On her right were fifteen Juniors, all variously, but beautifully arrayed, in keeping with their arguments, while an equal number of Seniors, in uniform, occupied the other side. While the leaders collected their thoughts, Miriam Coit, one of the Juniors, treated the audience to a piano-forte solo—Scherzo, by Chopin—which was well done and stirred the spirit of the occasion. It was then announced that each leader be allowed two minutes to open and each speaker, for and against, one minute, while two minutes each would be allowed for rebuttals. The subject was "Resolved that the Acadia Ladies' Seminary Adopt a Uniform", the Seniors for, Juniors against.

Grace Carpenter, representing the Seniors' case, thus described the Acadia uniform. "For class room-wear: The regulation middie suit of navy blue serge with black silk tie and white stripes on collar, Canadian emblem on one sleeve and "distinction" stripes on the other. White middie blouse for warm weather. "The street costume: The English Norfolk suit in navy, with dainty blouse of white washable material, and blue felt hat of individual choice. Hosiery and shoes to be of materials suited to the costume worn."

"In relaxation moments, such as tea time, a simple afternoon frock of individual choice, probably already in the girl's home wardrobe." She was a little nervous at first, but finished strong.

Grace Perry, who led for the Juniors, was more confident and put in a very fine plea for the "dress-as-you-please" as the best means of teaching the girls to cultivate taste and economy in dress. Then followed, alternately, the fourteen supporters on either side, but neither aware of their opponent's points. Frances Corning, supporting, discussed the question of expense, and drew tremendous applause by her flashing fluency and successful effort to say all she wanted to say within the sixty seconds. Ruth Clarke also counted the cost with good effect, if less fluently. Dorothy Duff told something about the cost of their wardrobes that proved very interesting. Esther Power dealt with the difficulty of obtaining uniform uniforms. Aileen Freeman scored a good point by showing how the uniform does away with inequality of purse and position. Lucy Cogswell pleaded against the discarding of home wardrobes. Ethel Schurman vividly presented the color scheme of the variegated dresses. Beryl DeWolfe retaliated by relating her own unfavorable experience of wearing the uniform. Frances MacLellan created a favorable impression by her description of the orderliness of school life.

Vera MacEachern complained that the uniform changed the home atmosphere to a formal one. Ethel Moir's picture of the painful home scenes of preparation must have been true to life, judging by the way it was applauded. Ruth Wooster predicted the likelihood of the uniform girl going into extremes as soon as she got the chance to discard the uniform. Joyce Clarke elicited signs of approval of her contention that the uniform aided good health. Arvella Gilmore eloquently spoke of the education in choosing one's own clothes. Kathryn Bancroft's points in naming those who were in uniform today was particularly well taken. Ireta Kennedy, who described the monotony of wearing the uniform, elicited sympathy. Alice Lamont was delightfully sarcastic in her painting of the psychological effect of variety, while Jean Stewart was equally effective in her picture of the unbecomingness of the uniform.

Laura Maplebeck dealt with the economy of time. Olga Clarke forfeited her individuality. Edith Freeman spoke of the individuality of costume. Vera Oits declared that the girl in uniform lost her ideals in the matter of the niceties of dress. Margaret Cochran proved that the uniform was suitable for all occasions. Helen Morrissy very pointedly asked: "When was a girl to learn how to dress?" Mary Moir praised the distinction of uniform. Marion Wallace pictured the Seminary in uniform as being too much like a prison or asylum. Margaret Bancroft told how the uniform inspired

ONE OF OUR ADVERTISERS

Who Uses Printer's Ink to Secure Results

Mr. George A. Chase, of Port Williams, is THE ACADIAN'S best patron in the matter of advertising at the present time. He uses plenty of space and has an interesting story of shoppers' news every week that is well worth reading. His ads. are well written and generously displayed and are looked for from week to week by readers.

That he gets results was amply confirmed by the "Surprise Sale" on Tuesday of the present week. Mr. Chase's announcement of the sale occupied two-thirds of a page and gave a cordial invitation to the big sale. No price were quoted and no special offers were made, but so great is the confidence which the public places in the advertiser that in spite of most disagreeable weather conditions the people came from far and near. It was a big day for Port Williams and the volume of trade done was far in excess of that done in any one day since the business was established.

Referring to the sale Mr. Chase says that by far the greater number of those who attended were not regular customers but those who were casual patrons or visitors at the stores for the first time. They came from all parts of the county and evidently considered themselves well repaid for coming. The special staff of salespeople employed for the occasion found it difficult to wait on the throng of would-be buyers and it is safe to say that had a fine day brought to the sale more people, as it undoubtedly would, they could not have been waited on. As it was the clerks passed a strenuous day and when it was over manager and staff were well pleased with the results.

Mr. Chase is most assuredly proving the efficacy of advertising when scientifically done. This week he uses a half page to tell a story which is well worthy of a careful perusal.

The annual eight mile relay race for the Bulmer Trophy was held on the Campus on Saturday last. Teams representing the Academy and all the College classes except the Freshmen competed and the race was won by the Sophomores. The judges were Professors Rogers and Russell.

loyalty, and Miriam Coit, with equal eloquence, covered all the other points in favor of encouraging girls to dress in the modes most calculated to show them to the best advantage.

Grace Perry made a spirited rebuttal in defense of her speakers, and Grace Carpenter wound up the debate, concluding with the declaration that the champions of the uniform are animated solely with the desire to make the Acadia Ladies' Seminary the best institution of its kind in the world.

The "honorable judges"—Mrs. Ingraham, Rev. Dr. DeWolf and Mr. Friesworth—retired to compare notes, during which the audience was treated to a couple of delightful violin trios (on Dancla's Op. 99, by Joyce Clarke Mary Moir and Grace Perry, ably accompanied on the piano by Miss Edith Freeman).

The unanimous verdict handed in by Dr. DeWolf was that the Seniors had won. The result was celebrated in the usual way and the proceedings closed with the Acadia National Anthem.

Later, the teams retired to the town to cool their exuberance—the Seniors at "The Palms"—proud wearers of the uniform for which they had fought and won; the Juniors, not at all downhearted, at Watson's.

Miss Archibald was showered with congratulations upon the splendid success of her pupils.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Dr. MacDonald Gave Able Sermon on Above Subject at Baptist Church

In the Baptist church Sunday evening, Rev. Dr. MacDonald, preached on the aims and accomplishments of the League of Nations. He pointed out the interesting fact that the thirty-two nations whose representatives met in Paris in January, 1919, to formulate a treaty of peace, before writing a line of that treaty, proceeded to find an instrument which would prevent another such catastrophe. Twenty other nations have since entered the League, which to date represents three quarters the population of the globe and two-thirds its area.

The speaker reviewed some of the work accomplished making mention of the prevention of war between Albania and Jugo-Slavia, the settlement of the great difficulties connected with the Polish corridor and also of the knotty problems connected with the Sear Basin. He made mention of the humanitarian service rendered by the League, notably the work done under the direction of Dr. Nanson in getting 400,000 prisoners from Siberia to their homes and also the battle against typhus in Russia and Poland.

Dealing with the matter of mandatory powers, he related an incident which occurred at the last meeting of the assembly to show the security weak peoples have in mandated areas. A lamentable story came from South Africa alleging cruelty and injustice on the part of the Union of South Africa to a few aboriginal wards of the League. The case received the fullest attention and it was a remarkable spectacle to see an English official arraign a Boer captain and his soldiers for wrongs committed in an obscure part of Africa and call upon the Union of South Africa to redress the wrong. That is a new gospel in international affairs.

Dr. MacDonald, while characterizing the League of Nations as the Magna Charta of civilization, declared it could only be fully effective as it had behind it the hearty support of the Christian people of the world. No machinery of this kind, however perfect, can be of permanent value unless indwelt by the spirit of the Prince of Peace. He pleaded for the cultivation of good will, for wholesome teaching with regard to war—the first time in history stripped of its scarlet, its cold and its glamor—and for the church of every name to stand shoulder to shoulder in the war against war.

THE LATE EDWARD PRIMROSE

The death in Boston lately of Mr. Edward Primrose came as a severe shock to his circle of friends in this town where he had visited his brother the late Dr. Frederick Primrose.

Mr. Primrose was the son of the late Dr. John Primrose, Edinburgh, who settled in Lawrencetown early in the last century where he was widely known and valued as a skillful physician and surgeon for many years. His mother was the daughter of the late Hon. Samuel Chipman, M. L. C., of Kentville, and he was one of a large family.

His brother Samuel Primrose, M. D., succeeded to his father's practice in Lawrencetown and for many years was known as the most skillful, able and dearly loved physician and surgeon in the whole Valley.

Dr. Frederick Primrose, M. D., D. S., another brother died in Wolfville last Summer, and the late Dr. James Primrose, D. D. S., of Bridgetown, was another brother.

He was a man of the highest moral integrity, genial kindly and very generous, and beloved by those who knew him but he and was he as of this we know family whose lives are knit closely into the history and affections of the Valley.—Contr.

NEW COUNTY HOME

Kings County Now Has Creditable Refuge for Our Needy Fellow Citizens

The amalgamation of the Poor Districts of Cornwallis, Horton and Aylesford in this county has now been effected and the new building for the accommodation of the unfortunate poor which has been under construction during the past summer is now completed and has been taken possession of by the officials who have charge of this responsible and important branch of the municipality's affairs.

For a number of years back the proposition to place all the dependants of the county in one central institution and care for them in a manner creditable to the people of such a highly favored section has been under consideration and we feel sure that in carrying out such work no mistake has been made. If the affairs of the Home are conducted in a proper manner with due regard to the interests of the ratepayers, the burden of taxation should not be unduly increased. If conducted in a business-like manner it ought to be good economy to carry on one institution in place of three.

The site selected for the new home is at Waterville in the central part of the county. The selection of the farm, as well as its cost and the expense of building, has come in for considerable criticism and with regard to these matters we have nothing now to say. If the change made in the end makes for the public good to the extent we confidently anticipate it will more than repay for any mistakes that may have been made.

The new edifice is situated on elevated ground and commands a fine view of the surrounding country. The main structure which faces the south is 36x37 feet with a wing on the north-east end 36x48 feet.

It includes a large basement, main floor, second floor and attic. The main floor has a large piazza on the south about 75 feet in length. Adjoining are the men's smoking-room, kitchen, dining room and recreation room on the east end; with the apartments for the superintendent and officials in this wing at the west end. At the west end are similar rooms for women for sewing, recreation and dining rooms. The men's and women's recreation-rooms are connected by a passage which may be opened when required for any special occasion. There are two fireplaces for the men and the same for the women. Some of the wards or rooms are also located on this floor.

On the second floor are the dormitories for both males and females, the latter using the west part. A long hall running the entire length of the building divides by three doorways and provides as far as is possible for the plan for the segregation of the sexes.

The attic provides quarters for the help. There is also a promenade with fire-escapes located at either end.

The basement is of concrete and is divided into furnace-rooms, work-shop, morgue, etc.; with ample provision for fuel storage.

Adjoining the Home there is a large barn 42x65 with 16 foot posts and complete cement cellar. An artesian well provides an ample supply of excellent water.

Mr. and Mrs. Slaughenwhite, who for a number of years have efficiently conducted the home at Billtown, have charge of the new home, and the inmates of the three old homes were installed in their new quarters last month.

KINGS COUNTY S. S. CONVENTION

The annual convention of the Sunday Schools of Kings County was held at Kentville on Tuesday, the sessions being in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. Rev. P. R. Hayden, of Berwick, presided at the meetings.

At the morning session an interesting address was delivered by J. A. McDonald, M. P. P., on the Rural Problems of our County Schools. At the afternoon session a valuable paper was given by Rev. O. N. Chipman on "Teacher Training". This was followed by a valuable paper of statistics by Rev. A. J. Prosser, showing a startling picture of conditions in Kings County, twenty sections being without Sunday Schools, and about 3000 children not in attendance in any Sunday School.

At the evening session two excellent addresses were given. The first speaker was Ernest Robinson, M. P. of Kings County, who spoke of the "The Need of Religious Education", emphasizing the lack of parental responsibility, the tendency of the times to dodge responsibility.

Dr. H. T. DeWolf, the second speaker stressed the opportunity presented by the Church School in religious education and advancement. Religious education can never take the place of Evangelism, or vice versa. He emphasized the tremendous influence of the home life and environment on the young.

A special committee in the report of Rev. A. J. Prosser, brought in the resolution that "The Convention request the Home Mission Board of the Baptist Church to consider the advisability of organizing Sunday Schools in these fields".

The officers and committees of the Convention for 1922-23 were appointed as follows:

- President.—Rev. G. A. Logan.
- Vice-President.—Rev. B. J. Porter.
- Secy-Treas.—Miss Ella Strong.
- Finance Committee.—Rev. B. J. Porter, J. A. MacDonald, M. P. P., Miss Ella Strong.
- Field Work Committee.—J. Logan Trask, Rev. J. W. Howe, Rev. R. B. Layton.
- Educational Committee.—Rev. P. R. Hayden, Rev. T. W. Hodgson, W. E. Porter.
- Children's Secretary.—Mrs. M. L. Roop.

GRAND PRE NOTES

We are glad to report, Miss Laura Trenholm, who has been ill with pneumonia, is improving.
Miss Mary Eaton left last week for Halifax where she is visiting her brother, Roy H. Eaton.
Mrs. Robert L. Harvey is visiting friends in Halifax.

We are pleased to see Rev. G. W. Whitman out again after his recent illness.

Miss Freda and Mr. Billy Townsend spent the week end in Kentville visiting friends.

Miss Nellie Hardacker, who has been ill with jaundice, has returned to her duties as Asst. Postmistress here.

Miss Dorothy Kinney, who has been ill with pneumonia, is much improved.

Mrs. S. A. Bowser left on Saturday for Bridgewater, where she will spend the week with Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Trites.

Mrs. A. C. Borden, who has been ill with a severe cold, is improving.

Mr. G. F. S. Townsend spent the week end with his family here.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. J. Hayes and family wish to thank their friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy extended to them in their recent sad bereavement. Also for the very beautiful flowers.

HON. H. H. WICK-WIRE DEAD

Passed Away Suddenly at His Home at Kentville Last Sunday

The people of Kings County were startled and shocked by the news of the sudden death of the Hon. H. H. Wickwire which occurred at his home at Kentville on Sunday last. Mr. Wickwire had spent last week at Halifax on departmental business, returning by the midnight train on Saturday. On Sunday morning he remained in bed resting and shortly after noon when Mrs. Wickwire went to his room she was stunned on finding him dead. He had evidently been reading and there was no sign of pain or struggle. A physician was called but his services were too late to be of any avail. Intimate friends of the deceased knew that he had been warned by his doctors of what might happen, but no one looked or so sudden a passing of the one who has been in public affairs for so many years.

Harry Ham Wickwire was born in Canning, this county, June 21, 1868, and was a son of J. L. and Anne (Lawton) Wickwire. They were descendants of the New England Planters and United Empire Loyalist stock, which settled Kings County during the American Revolution. They traced their ancestry to old English stock which founded the New England States during the very early colonial days. The father of the late Minister was at one time engaged in shipbuilding and also took an active interest in local military affairs. He was at one time a candidate for the House of Commons. He died at Canning in 1891 at the age of 58 years.

Receiving his early education at his home in Canning, Mr. Wickwire studied at Acadia and graduated with the class of 1888. He studied Law at Dalhousie Law School and was admitted to the Bar soon after receiving his degree in 1896 and began the practice of his profession at Digby, later moving to Kentville. He has ever since been a leading citizen of the shiretown and filled the position of mayor for two years.

He began his political career in 1894 when he was elected as a colleague of the late B. H. Dodge to represent the county in the provincial legislature. This was the year before his graduation from Dalhousie, and with the exception of the election of 1896, when he was defeated on a moral issue, he has been elected in every subsequent election. In 1906 he became a member of the Murray government without portfolio, and when the department of Highways was created in 1918 he became Minister of Highways for the province.

The deceased is survived by his widow, three daughters and two sons. The daughters are, Mrs. Lindsay Bligh, of Nappan, and the Misses Alice and Eleanor at home. Harry P., at home and William N., attending King's University are the sons. One brother and two sisters also survive, Fred W. Wickwire of Kentville, Mrs. E. A. Kirkpatrick (widow of the late Dr. Kirkpatrick of Halifax) and Mrs. Foster, wife of General G. L. Foster, now residing at Kentville.

The funeral took place from his late residence on Tuesday afternoon, the service being conducted by Rev. A. M. Bent, rector of St. James Episcopal church. There was a large attendance which included Hon. G. H. Murray, premier of Nova Scotia, and political friends from various parts of the province.

CLINIC NOTES.

Dental Clinic at Kentville, Academy, Friday, December, 1st.
Four times, four times, every day, We must brush the food away, From our teeth all-in-a-row, Then above and then below.

Watch our brush the way it sweeps Making circles on our teeth, Outside, inside, in between, Till no speck of food is seen.

Clean and sweet and pearly white Is our slogan day and night How can this be done you say? Watch our tooth brush show the way.

Sung by public school children, New York City, children who have but their "baby teeth". "Ten above and ten below"

Lack of space prevents us from publishing a detailed report of the Organ Recital at the Baptist Church Tuesday night, but it was a delight to those who were present. Miss Rockwell of Wolfville, a graduate in piano with four years study in pipe organ, was greatly appreciated as was also the singing of Mr. Silver, Principal of the Wolfville Schools, whose Aria from the "Prodigal Son" and other numbers gave unbounded pleasure. The local talent heard on that occasion contributed much to the pleasure of the audience.—Windsor Tribune.

HANDS OFF

Last week we referred to the bus service which is proving such a public convenience in the way of transportation between this town and Kentville and the intervening sections. The possibilities of development in this enterprise are great, and given a fair opportunity the proprietor will be able in time to build up a business that will be profitable. Just now when the undertaking is in the initial stage it should be given the hearty support of the public generally. No interference calculated in any way to endanger the ultimate success of what promises to be of such worth to the people of this part of the county should be tolerated and every possible encouragement ought in the public interest to be extended to those who have undertaken the responsibility of the service.

HELPING FOLKS UP HILL

It seems to us that playing up the crimes of the country and failing to emphasize properly the value of men actually doing things, is one of the saddest mistakes of the city press. Twenty columns of social errors, scandals, murders, holdups, business mistakes, official blunders, to one column of praise for the men and women who are real silent partners in our national progress. Ten dirty shows to one clean entertainment.

The civic interest of any community can never rise higher than the integrity of the individuals of the community, irrespective of religious belief. In other words, every man or woman is held responsible to the idea of carrying out the convictions of a clear conscience, so long as these actions coincide with the laws of the land and the rules of right behaviour.

The great country press, the newspapers published in villages and smaller cities, is not guilty of this sensational catering to criminals and social lepers. We find greater pleasure in the work of helping humans up the hill than we do in kicking them down.

MAKING NEWSPAPER SPACE PAY

If every business man should decide tomorrow to spend two per cent. of an average day's sales in newspaper advertising in quest of increased business our newspapers would not be found equipped to handle the traffic. And yet if all business men were smart enough to take advantage of past successful experience they would all advertise throughout the year or for seasonal effect. Some would produce overnight results like the department stores with their heavy copy in evening newspapers, while others would merely put themselves prominently on the map and before the public notice.

Those who had a real story to tell and the ability to tell it in a convincing way would get most profitable results, just the same as if they were given opportunity to tell each prospective customer by word of mouth.

Some business men are born salesmen and sound merchandisers—and some are not. One merchant can create more sales for a dollar spent in advertising than another can by spending many times as much.

Advertising will produce results every time it is used by an honest merchant to sell honest goods at honest prices.

If newspaper advertising does not pull it is because either the copy does not ring true, the seasonal appeal is lacking, or the advertising does not inspire that degree of confidence that is necessary to produce consumer demand.

A casual study of merchandising in any of the larger cities clearly shows that the difference between the big stores doing the heavy volume of business and those which merely live from hand to mouth is—advertising.

NEW BOOKS

John Murray Gibbon, the brilliant young President of the Canadian Authors' Association, has perhaps written the great Canadian novel. "Pagan Love" is surely a story of power. Mr. Gibbon knows so much about affairs in general, and about high financing with its attendant perils in New York in particular, he knows real men and women so well, and he has such a brilliant and fluent pen withal, that he easily compels the reader to remain seated until he has finished the three hundred and ten pages that make up the volume. Among the books of the day "Pagan Love" is unique in that it contains a real surprise, you will not suspect the climax of the tale until you come upon it, although you will be eager to know what it is from the beginning. I am somewhat angry with reviewers who cannot refrain from giving hints about this climax; no one should give to the waiting public an outline of the thrilling tale; such reviewing is unfair to the reader, to the author, and to the publishers. The fact that Mr. Gibbon is a successful man of affairs may perhaps give a clue to the source of that extreme virility one finds in his writing: he is a master in the construction of plot, and his wizard powers in the selection of words is continuously evident. The price of the book is two dollars.

I have heard that Hugh Walpole's novels have a special appeal to men. No wonder, I thought, as I read his latest one, "The Cathedral", for all the real characters in the story are men. Any Brandon and her daughter Joan, the only important women in the novel, are colorless to femininity, or they would be if they were not in Mr. Walpole's book. Joan is good, and therefore we are ready to love her; Any cannot rank as a bad woman, but she makes all the trouble; that a weak, disappointed one, unhappily mated with a man in high social position can make. The men are interesting, though only one, Canon Ronder, has that sane, shrewd, yet loving attitude towards life that gives a true savor to social intercourse. The Cathedral itself dominates the story; its mighty spirit the reader feels, irritating yet compelling the petty men and women who congregate beneath its massive roof, calling to them and calling to them in vain, that they rest their burdened and distracted souls in its great stateliness. Because the writer grasped the idea of the Cathedral so thoroughly, and expressed that idea with perfect artistry, he has succeeded in writing a nove of great power, one that people of sincere taste will seek and read.

Should one desire a Christmas gift for a Canadian lady he can do no better than to purchase for her a copy of Jean Blewett's Poems, recently published by McClelland & Stewart. Jean Blewett is said to take precedence over all other Canadian writers as the poet of the home. Her imagination is delicate, quaint and pure; her verse never belies her femininity and yet never lacks virility. Many poems not hitherto published are in this new volume, a complete edition, by the way. It is sure to find a large number of purchasers at once. Its price, like the price of the two books reviewed above, is two dollars.

Here is something for the boys: "Dil on Wallace's" "The Story of Dr. Grenfell of the Labrador", with the arresting subtitle, "A boy's Life of Dr. Grenfell". Let the ads feast their imaginations upon the life story of this intrepid physician; let them learn through him the virile joy of devoted service. The very titles of the chapters are stimulating: "The Dogs of the Ice Trail", and "Facing an Arctic Blizzard", for instance. The price of this book is one dollar and fifty cents.

MOOSE, NOT MOUSE

An old Scotch lady intended to emigrate to Canada, so she determined to find out as much as she could from the Information Office.

Accordingly she entered the building the next morning, and was particularly struck by the stuffed head of a Canadian moose that graced one of the walls.

"Young man," she said to the clerk, "what kind of an animal is that? A hippopotamus?"

"No, ma'am," was the answer; "it's a Canadian moose."

The old lady took a step back and raised her hands in wonderment.

"What!" she cried. "You beast a Canadian mouse! Well, that beats anything I ever heard! I wonder what the rats out there are like."

The whale-headed stork, found in Egypt, in the papyrus marshes of the Upper Nile, is an interesting "link" between two bird families—between stork and the herons.

In appearance it is a gaunt, gray figure, standing nearly five feet high. Its huge bill familiar in shape to a whale's head, is tipped with a formidable curved beak.

Ears are back in style and sensitive at what they hear.

AN ESSAY

Little Bobbie Jones was told to write an essay on "Doors", and the effort which he sent in was as follows:—

"Most houses have all the doors that they need, and no house is complete without at least one. The two main differences between a door and a gate is first, their opposite-location; and, second, that people have much less respect for a gate, and would rather kick it than knock on it.

"But a gate is more useful than a door because it does everything that a door can do, and, besides that, it can be climbed over, and often is.

"The door handle is a small but important part of the door which people never appreciate until it comes off. Most people never notice the doorhandle unless it is brought to their notice on account of having jam spread all over it.

"Doors are great things to give people privacy, and would give them still more if it wasn't for the keyholes."

READER INTEREST IS ESSENTIAL

(From the Financial Post)

When John Wanamaker, some years ago, withdrew his advertising from free-distribution mediums, it was because these had no fundamental reader interest. This was the finding after a deep study of the subject. It was the conviction that the man who subscribed for a newspaper or other publication, expected to find advertising in it and valued that advertising as in the light of an investment, as something he had appreciated sufficiently to pay for.

The opposite was the effect of the free-distributed product. Here the receiver had no primary interest in the publication; it appeared in unexpected places, without request, and had somewhat the status of an unexpected guest. Then, as now, free-circulation mediums were found to recognize no responsibilities toward the problems attending the business or industry, offered no constructive service through their columns, had no means of developing helpful discussion, offered no interchange of news or views, and in short had no interest beyond that contained in their advertising pages and the revenue they represented.

It's funny what inconveniences a man will put up with in his own house that he wouldn't tolerate in a rented house.

THE RED CROSS SOCIETY AS OTHERS SEE US

"Manitoba Free Press"—It has become a commonplace, albeit a glorious one to call the work of the Canadian Red Cross during the Great War. That work was not only a contribution to the war it was a story of self-sacrifice, gladly undertaken, of selflessness achieved without struggle, of pain transmuted into the beauty of easement of another's pain. The Red Cross does a tremendous amount of relief work of one sort or another—with the correction of conditions that already exist. There is no organization which is doing a more beneficent work for all classes and conditions of people—but more especially for those in distress—than the Red Cross Society. From the "Morning Leader," Regina Sask.—As an educational center for propagating public health culture it is incomparable. But far more lasting effects will be felt from the educational work it is carrying on with a view to preventing the necessity for medical relief arising. One of the greatest tasks to which the society has set its hand is the diffusing of knowledge as to what can be accomplished by prevention and by combating disease in its incipient stage. The Society has earned the confidence that the people have in it. From "Halifax Herald" The Red Cross Society is writing a new page in the public health history of the world; and the Nova Scotia Division is leading Canada in a highly creditable constructive campaign. Within a few years we will all point with pride to what has been accomplished, and to a properly supported, skilled staff of municipal and provisional health officials; and the inevitable result, a rapidly declining sick rate and death rate. Possibilities of the Red Cross in peace-time are infinitely greater than its admirable work in war-time. The Canadian Red Cross

CHURCH DETRACTORS

It is an easy matter to criticise. Any fool can find objections. Any idiot can strike a match, light a fire, which will consume a mansion. Many people were born in the objective case. They never escape their cradle. They spend their days kicking, objecting and complaining. They are just common offensive, ever-present, irradicated nuisances. They are constantly talking about the church, what she is doing, what she ought to do, what she is not doing. They work incessantly at the business of trying to detract from the church influence and power. FIRST.—They say the church is declining. But they do not tell you that they are looking at a few fallen trees only and not at the whole forest. Of course there are dwarf-growths in the great garden of vegetation. They ought to be there. That is the place for them. There are objectionable or bad people in the church who by their lives are misrepresenting the church and reflecting upon their own membership. But they are not the whole ship. They are a very insignificant part of the church. There are hypocrites in the church. There are hypocrites in every department of life. But there are fewer hypocrites in the church than in any other department of life. The word hypocrite means, playing a part. There are very few actors in the church. There are heretics in the church who have followed the rationalistic of demon-directed German professors, and have strayed away from the spiritual doctrines of the infallible Word of God. They very in number, however, compared to the great body of Christians.

SECOND.—They say the church is pauperized. But they do not tell you that those who have refused to support the church are among the rationalistic heretics. They are the real ones who have under rationalistic teachings become so materialistic that they would rob the church of her sacred vessels for their own banquet of selfishness and blasphemy. Such heretics are the real defrauders and detractors and exploiters of the church. The real saints of God are giving more money today than ever before in the history of the church. They are supporting the whole program of Christian evangelism.

THIRD.—They say the church is not spiritual. But they do not tell you that the worldly and unrighteous in the church are the disciples of the rationalistic teachers of the infamous doctrines of the demoncreated cults that are today thriving upon the credulous and the silly minded. Such are a disgrace to the church because they have given up the spiritual for the worldly, the selfish and the sordid things of life.

FOURTH.—They say the church is not paying her ministers. But they do not tell you that the only ones, who are refusing to support the ministers are the hypocrites, the Bolsheviks, the Socialists, the heretics, and the infamous Germanized rationalists who have crept into the church without the wedding garment. Such are the only ones who are refusing to support the Gospel, pay the minister, or give him his due place. Such are the cold-hearted, irreverent detractors and perverters of the church life, influence and service. They are void of every sense of spiritual obligation. Such members are a curse to the church. But they are not the whole church. They are but an infinitesimal part.

The church and her spiritual members are better, stronger, more hopeful, more prosperous, and more generous today than ever before in the history of the world. Let the infamous church detractors take notice. Their doom is approaching.

ATTENTION TO DETAIL

When a feller pays attention to the commonest of things, there's a powerful sight of comfort in the happiness it brings. If we overlook the details in the rush of gettin' there, we may face the grim necessity of bringin' up the rear.

In the thousan' little ventures that a feller undertakes, it may be plantin' flowers, or it may be killin' snakes. Our hand may grasp the saber, or the handle of the plow—but we don't accomplish anything, without a knowin' how!

The man that borrs money at a tridin' rate per cent, may dissipate his wages till he don't know how they went. But the keeful money lender, as he figgers the amount, might illuminate the spender, on the little things that count.

I reckon there is women that's disposed to keepin' house. They'd entertain the elephant an' squall about the mouse! They fight the little red ant, while they love a dog, by jings, but that's the way with women—they aspire to greater things!

FORMER WOLFVILLE BOY

The following article is taken from a recent issue of the Albuquerque, New Mexico, Herald and refers to a former Wolfville man who is making good. Dr. Davidson is a brother of Mr. B. O. Davidson, of this town, and an uncle of the publishers of THE ACADIAN. When a boy he was a compositor in this office from which position he matriculated into Acadia University and graduated with the class of 1894. He has not visited his native town since the summer of 1913 but he has many friends in this vicinity and throughout Nova Scotia who will, we feel sure, be glad to hear of the good work which he is doing.

Dr. Harold S. Davidson, pastor of the First Congregational church for the last four years, has resigned to accept a call to the First Congregational church of Porterville, the "Citrus City" of California. His resignation to the Albuquerque church will be read on Sunday morning.

Dr. Davidson and son, Harold, left several weeks ago on a motoring trip to the Pacific coast. Dr. Davidson supplied the pulpit at the Porterville church two Sundays and was immediately asked to accept the pastorate there since that church has of late been without a minister.

Dr. Davidson came to the city, four years ago on account of his wife's illness. When she passed away a year ago, it was thought by friends that it would only be a question of time until he would leave.

Breathing new life into a struggling church, his first year was marked by the purchase of a parsonage which is now practically paid for, and the complete renovating of the church edifice.

His salary was increased the equivalent of $1,100—the rent of a house and $500—during his second year. More members have been added to he roll during his pastorate than during any previous 10 years, the aggregate number exceeding those that were on the roll as resident members when he became pastor.

From the time of his arrival in Albuquerque Dr. Davidson was regarded as one of the strongest preachers the church has ever had. Few preachers have his scholastic attainments. He holds an M. A. degree from Princeton university an S. T. D. of Princeton theological seminary and a Ph. D. of the University of Leipzig, Germany. For a time he was professor in Oriental languages at Columbia university and director of the Oriental department of the Astor Public Library of New York. He is also the author of several books, one of which has been printed in Germany since the war.

Dr. Davidson took a deep interest in civic affairs. He has been president of the Ministerial Alliance of the city three times; on two occasions filling the unexpired terms of others. At the present time he fills this position.

Harold Davidson, the son, graduated into the High School at the beginning of the midwinter semester and expected to enter the sophomore year this fall. He has also been a student of the violin under Miss Estelle Valk.

In athletics the son has accomplished what few boys of his age have done. Last summer at the Elephant Butte lake, where he spent a part of his holidays, he swam from the mainland to the Butte and back, a distance of a mile and a half, without stopping. He is said to be the first boy to accomplish this feat.

It is estimated that one Iceland waterfall could be made to yield 60,000 horsepower and another 50,000.

A WEDDING THAT INTERESTS WOLFVILLE PEOPLE

The following paragraph from the Ottawa Journal of Oct. 17th will be read with much interest by many of the groom's old friends in this his native town. THE ACADIAN extends the best of wishes for the happiness and prosperity of Mr. and Mrs. Higgins:

A quiet wedding took place this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock of Miss Grace Lilian Beach, daughter of Mrs. Christina Beach, to Mr. Frank Chapman Higgins, son of the Rev. W. W. Higgins and Mrs. Higgins, of Waltair, India. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. A. Frost, B. A., B. D., of McLeod Street Methodist Church. The young couple were unattended. The bride wore her travelling suit, a smart model of brown tricotine with blouse of brown velvet and georgette beaded in bronze, and brown hat with mount of bronze peacock feathers. She also wore a mink scarf. Her corsage was of Lily-of-the-valley and Ophelia roses. Mr. and Mrs. Higgins left for a trip to Montreal and New York. On their return they will take up residence at 252 Argyle avenue.

Advertising

The Fall Season is now here, and with it comes an earnest desire of every tradesman to do a bigger and better business than heretofore.

Do you want a bigger trade? Do you want the public of your neighborhood to respond eagerly to your appeal? Do you want an increased volume of business readily absorbed by a people you can call your own?

You do; then you must ADVERTISE.

This is the fundamental step to be taken in business, and wisely used, leads by a shorter and more economical way to a better trade.

Advertising cannot fail to stimulate the trade in any article or commodity which is sold at a fair price and gives satisfaction to the public. Call 217 and have us discuss a bigger business campaign with you.

GREENWICH NEWS

Mrs. Harry Neary, who has been ill the past few weeks, is now some better and her friends hope for a continued steady improvement in her health.

Mrs. Gammon, of Medford is staying for a time at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Neary.

The reopening of Greenwich Community League held at Temperance Hall last Friday evening, gave a good encouragement to those in charge, a good audience, who showed interest all thru. The following officers and committees have been appointed: President, Rev. D. B. Hemmeon; Vice-President, Philip Bishop; Secretary, Bessie Fraser; Treasurer, Maurice Bishop; Social Committee, Conventor, Mrs. Dexter Forsythe; Dramatic Committee, Conventor, Miss Isabelle Hawley. Each Conventor has a good staff of assistants on Committee. An interesting part of the evening was the lecture of Mr. Hemmeon, the first of the series of lectures on "The New World". This proved very instructive, as well as interesting and we feel sure all will want to enjoy each lecture as it comes, every two weeks. Friday evening his week is Social Night. Everybody attend, make a crowd.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fenwick are spending the winter over at Habtant. Mr. Brenton Merry, of Bear River, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Pearson, having motored thru.

Mrs. Emma Harvey arrived home on Tuesday morning, after a few days visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Maurice M. Williams Halifax.

The Ladies Bible Class of the Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. C. R. Nowan on the occasion of the birthday of their teacher, Mrs. Smallman. Beautiful flowers, a birthday cake and appropriate addresses were tendered her. The wives of Acadia's ministerial students took charge of the refreshments and entertainment, making a most delightful evening for all.

"SMILIN' THROUGH."

"Smilin' Through", the current Norma Talmadge-First National attraction, appears destined to be a record breaker, according to the First National home-office. In scores of houses it has set up new figures for box-office receipts and attendance, it is declared, and reports of extension of engagements are being received daily at the offices of Associated First National.

The picture was the first one ever held over for a second week at the Metropolitan theatre in Atlanta, according to the following telegram from the management:

"Despite bad weather conditions all week, Norma Talmadge in 'Smilin' Through' broke all house records. We are holding picture second week. This is the first time in history of Metropolitan theatre any production has been held second week. Will you please convey to Mr. Schenck and Miss Talmadge our sincere thanks and gratitude for having delved a production—at this time that gets such splendid returns."

At the Stillman theatre, Cleveland, it was booked originally for one week, but the engagement was extended to two and then to three weeks.

A one week booking at the Branford theatre in Newark, N. J., was extended to two, and then the picture was put into another Fabian theatre in that city for an additional week.

At the Kinema theatre, Los Angeles, where "Smilin' Through" opened on April 29, the run of the production was extended from the original two weeks to three weeks, on account of the favorable results of the showing.

Dozens of other theatres have reported extensions of runs of "Smilin' Through." Coming to the Opera House, Dec. 13 and 14.

It is reported that there will be two hockey leagues in the Valley this winter and if so there should be some interesting contests. Last season Wolfville, Windsor and Canning were the only teams competing, but new rinks have been built at Annapolis Royal, Bridgetown and Kentville and the league will probably be broadened out. It is likely that Digby, Annapolis Royal, Bridgetown and Middleton will form the western section of the league, and Windsor, Wolfville, Kentville and Canning the eastern section. The Wolfville boys had a splendid team last season and with the material at hand should have a better team this year.

GASPEREAU NEWS

Friends of Mrs. F. B. Westcott will learn with regret that she is suffering from Paralysis which occurred on Wednesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Miner are being congratulated on the birth of a son, at Miss Wood's Hospital on Nov. 23.

The little son of Ainsley McDow was last week badly scalded by falling in a pail of boiling water which the mother had left for a moment to procure some cold water with which to cool it before beginning scrubbing. The little fellow, who is between two and three years of age, received considerable injury about the legs and arms but is doing as well as could be expected.

THE CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY AND ITS TASK

Why do parents maltreat their children? Why do some human beings seem willing to exist in unspeakable filth? Why is immorality so common?

Some of these conditions, especially in outlying sections, may be due to ignorance, lack of contact with enlightened society. Some of the adult immorality, and a large part of juvenile delinquency, is probably due to lack of proper recreation. This is well known, and the playgrounds, the Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, etc., are doing a great deal to improve matters. There is, however, far too little opportunity for the older boys and girls to meet socially, in dances and other social gatherings, under wholesome surroundings. Mention should also be made of positions in which many young girls are placed, whose work in hotels, rooming houses, and other such institutions brings great temptations in their way. (Alberta Report 1915, page 40) It may perhaps be left to the public conscience to decide whether young women in domestic service are given the same amount of free time, and the same cordial welcome in our churches and at social gatherings as are young women in other kinds of employment.

Such causes as the above, however important, are not adequate to explain the facts. There remains by far the most serious of all, feeble-mindedness. Without by any means denying the reality of wrong-doing, it must be recognized that many persons are not sufficiently developed mentally to be responsible for their acts. "The definition in most common use is the one framed by the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of London, and adopted by the English Royal Commission on Mental Deficiency. It is substantially as follows:—

"A feeble-minded person is one who is incapable, because of mental defect existing from birth or from an early age, (a) of competing on equal terms with his normal fellows; or (b) of managing himself or his affairs with ordinary prudence." (Terman - The Measurement of Intelligence, page 80)

One does not have far to look to find many such. Tests conducted in the public schools of Wolfville showed between five and six percent of feeble-minded children, and there is no reason to suppose that other communities of the province have a smaller proportion. It is fortunate that the greater part of such persons are more or less under the control of normal persons, but any or all of them might easily become a menace to society.

The most serious phase of this problem lies in the fact that mental defect is definitely hereditary, so that these persons, who are themselves incapable of self-control and ordinary prudence and as a result tend to multiply rapidly, legitimately or otherwise, hand down to the next generation the same unfitnes for decent citizenship.

The contrast between good blood and

FOR RHEUMATISM
Lumbago, Neuralgia, or any other pain, apply Minard's Liniment to the aching spot and get quick relief. Minard's is the remedy your grandmother used. The only thing to bad was never shown more clearly than in the family known to infamy as the "Kallikaks". "Martin Kallikak" (so-called) was a young soldier in the American Revolutionary Army. On his way home after his discharge he seduced a feeble-minded girl at a tavern. Later he married a woman of good stock. Goddard has traced and published the records of both families, 496 descendants of "Martin Kallikak" and his wife; 480 descendants of "Martin and the feeble-minded girl. Of the former, all were normal but two, and those not feeble-minded; of the latter, 143 were distinctly feeble-minded, others below average, and none superior, and the list includes many drunkards, drug users, prostitutes, etc.

Another well-known family is that of the "Jukes". "Max", the founder, was born in 1720. "He was a drunkard who would not work; about whom little else is known. Of his descendants 1200 were identified as having been occupants of penal and charitable institutions, previous to 1874; none of whom were ever elected to office, served in the army or navy, or contributed anything to the public welfare; but on the contrary they cost society over $1,000 each; or a total of $1,250,000; 310 were in poor-houses, 2,300 years in all; 300, or over in four, died in childhood; 440 were viciously diseased; 400 physically wrecked early by their own wickedness; 50 were notorious prostitutes; 7 were murderers; 60 habitual thieves, who spent an average of 12 years each in prison; 130 were convicted more or less often of crimes." (Quoted from Yerkes, Psychology, page 413)

"In 'The Hill Kolk', a Report on a Rural Community of Hereditary Defectives, recently issued by Florence H. Danielson and Charles B. Davenport, a chapter is devoted to the financial burden entailed by criminals and dependents of these family groups, living in a town of Massachusetts. To compare the amount of poor relief given to this family, the amounts paid in two decades were studied, with the following result:

Decade 1879, excluding 1888: Total aid to Paupers, $15,964; Aid to the Hill Families, $1,483; Percent of total to the Hill Families, 9.3 %.

Decade 1901-10: Total aid to Paupers, $27,045; Aid to the Hill Family, $7,873; Percent of total to the Hill Families, 29.1 %.

"This increase of poor relief of four hundred and thirty per cent in three decades illustrates graphically the growth of the burden. But this financial cost is but a small part, for turning to the court and prison records for the last thirty years, we find that at least sixteen persons from the Hill Families have been sentenced to prison for serious crimes during that time. The cost of these sixteen persons to the county and State through their courts and institutions has been at least $10,763.43. The crimes committed included lewdness, rape, incest, adultery, assault, burglary, etc. About one third of the business of the court came from these families." (Quoted from a pamphlet issued in 1913 by the Mass. Soc. for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children)

It is hopeless to expect any Children's Aid Society to be able to correct such conditions as this. With proper public support, the Society can, as its records show, insure to normal children a decent home and an opportunity to acquire an education and a trade. It is helpless to deal with children who cannot be placed in any home worthy of the name, and who have not the ability to acquire either an education or a trade above the level of unskilled labor. Surely time has come for public action leading to segregation of the feeble-minded. With skilled institutional care, including specific moral training, they may become less of a social menace, partially self-supporting, and happy, but not useful members of society.

We appeal to the public for a thoughtful consideration of measures looking to elimination of the causes of social maladjustment; and for support of the Children's Aid Society in its work of protecting little children from cruelty and evil, and providing shelter for the destitute.

THE NOVA SCOTIA SANATORIUM CHRISTMAS LETTER

To Our Friends throughout the Maritime Provinces:

Another Christmas is close at hand, and, busy as you are with personal interests, we know there is a place in your hearts for the boys who are still paying the price of the war. They, and our civilian patients also, who are here, isolated from their normal surroundings but making a brave and cheerful fight for health, have had, each year, a glad celebration of the Season of Goodwill, which has warmed their hearts and filled us all with gratitude to those who have helped out with gifts. We confidently hope that, this Christmas, the spirit of giving will not be less generous than formerly.

Gifts of money, or of "treats", small "comforts", etc., reaching us from now up to Dec. 23rd will be greatly appreciated and personally acknowledged.

Several societies and clubs, including Red Cross Auxiliaries, Local Councils of Women, I.O. D. E. Chapters, Women's Instituted, etc. were kind enough last year to fill colored tarlatan stockings, from a dozen to twenty-five each, and so enable us to keep up our custom of giving each patient a real Santa Claus Stocking on Christmas morning. We should like to do it again this year. Then we have our Christmas Tree in the evening. This year we shall have about two hundred patients at Christmas time, about fifty of them women.

We specially request that individuals or societies intending to send a contribution will be kind enough to let us know, at the earliest possible date, just what we may count upon from them. This can be readily understood as necessary so that we may know what purchases we ourselves must make, before the Christmas season is upon us.

Address The Medical Superintendent, Nova Scotia Sanatorium, Kentville, N. S.

COLONEL INNES GIVEN A BANQUET

Kentville Board of Trade Pay Tribute to Man Selected by Government to Inform Indian Officers of Canada.

Col. Robert Innes, who has been appointed by the Federal government to go to India to interest demobilized officers in immigration to Canada, was tendered a complimentary dinner at the Cornwallis Inn under the auspices of the Kentville Board of Trade. A. E. McMahon, president of the Board of Trade, was in the chair and opened the banquet with a toast to "The King." His Worship Mayor A. E. H. Chesley followed with the pleasing address of welcome to Colonel Innes, who has been so highly honored by being chosen for this important mission. He stated the government had made a wise choice, as Col. Innes is a worthy representative for the Maritime Provinces and Canada. He also extended a welcome to other guests of the evening, Hon E. H. Armstrong, W. B. McCoy, Colonel A. Montgomery, manager of Furness Wyth Co., G. Herbert Oyer, of J. and H. Goodwin Ltd., Rev. G. P. Raymond and others.

Colonel Innes responded to the welcome in an interesting address. He claimed the choice of the government was due to his knowledge of conditions here, enabling him to act from first-hand information. Having himself been engaged in farming and fruit-growing he could speak from experience, and impress on the people to whom he goes, the splendid opportunities that await them in this great Canada of ours. It was the proudest moment of his life when he learned he had been selected for this mission. His every effort will be expended for his country's welfare.

Hon. E. H. Armstrong gave a fine address on the problem of immigration and stated that the local government would undertake its duties as soon as the Federal policy was delivered. Everything possible would be done to assist the good work.

Rev. G. P. Raymond followed in a forceful address on immigration, its problems and benefits.

George E. Graham, general manager of the Dominion Atlantic Railway, in his address congratulated Col. Innes on his appointment. His address was timely and optimistic, emphasizing the wonderful opportunities for increased immigration and the need of a progressive policy. He wished Col. Innes "Godspeed" on his important mission.

Col. Montgomery followed in a fine address emphasizing the need of co-operation and faith in the resources of this great fruit growing country. Short speeches were also made by Dr. A. F. Miller, Rev. R. B. Layton and others, closing with timely remarks by President McMahon, breathing the spirit of optimism and a firm belief based on true knowledge of unlimited possibilities in farming and fruit growing in this province.

HOMEY PHILOSOPHY FOR 1923.

How often do we say to another, "Well, you are welcome to your opinion!" And how often do we mean it? Not once! Under the skin we are peeved at the other fellow's opinion. Yet what a humdrum world this would be if it were not that humans have different notions about things. Incidentally, next time you say to a man, "You are welcome to your opinion," try to say it wholeheartedly and with an expression in your face that shows plainly that you really mean it. Then note how that fellow warms up to you. You'll convert many a man to your own opinion by doing that very thing.

BIRDS INCREASED IN CANADA

With few exceptions migratory game fowl have increased to a marked degree in Canada during the last season according to reports received by Commissioner J. B. Harkin, of the Canadian National Parks from migratory bird officers and wardens all over the Dominion. In the east owing to the heavy rainfall and late breeding season certain species did not hatch with as great success as in previous years, but the western province report increase in practically all species.

A remarkable feature of the census being taken of the increase of bird life under the Migratory Birds Convention Act is the widespread increase in Black ducks. All over the Dominion there appear to be unprecedented numbers of these birds and in some sections of New Brunswick especially they are reported to have appeared in exceptional flocks on the rivers and inland retreats. Cormorants, gulls, terns, cranes, Canada geese, brant and plovers have all shown marked increases while in certain sections Eider duck have returned to breeding grounds heretofore abandoned.

Nova Scotia also reports an increase in its waterfowl, although the heavy rains in certain sections caused the loss of many eggs and young. However, in other parts large broods were successfully reared, one duck being noticed with as many as twenty-four ducklings. A similar increase is reported from Prince Edward Island.

In Quebec the Eider ducks did not do so well, in many localities no broods being raised owing to the unreasonable weather. However all other species of waterfowl hatched successfully.

In Ontario, as well as in the other eastern provinces, shorebirds are scarce Black ducks, mallards, green-winged teal, mergansers, loons and wood ducks have been seen in large numbers.

All through the west migratory birds show an increase, with the waterfowl leading the way. In Manitoba mallards and black duck are abundant, while in Saskatchewan geese have been seen in large numbers Alberta's wild fowl is expected to report a good season.

"I Was Run Down"

"Body was completely covered with Boils"

"If you have ever had boils, you know how painful and annoying even one or two can be. But imagine having your whole body almost entirely covered with them! I am a watchmaker by trade, making a specialty of repairing the highest grade movements. This is probably the most trying of any mechanical work, particularly for a nervous individual like me. Working under great strain both day and night for three months, brought me almost to a state of collapse. I was so irritable and nervous that the slightest thing would 'send me up in the air.' If I managed to get a few hours of sleep at night I was lucky. I had no appetite for food. I certainly was miserable. During this time boils began to appear on different parts of my body and the pain from them made life a misery. My suffering was so great at times that I felt there was nothing left for me to do but to end it all. I consulted doctors but they all told me that if I didn't give up my work and live out of doors, I would go into a decline. As I had no money I couldn't do this. In fact paying doctors' bills and buying medicines used up all the money I made. Finally in desperation, I decided that I would either kill or cure myself, so I began to study my case. I realized that I was completely run down as any one could possibly be with a bad case of nerves. What I needed was building up. After reading descriptions of different preparations, the one which appeared to be the best for me was Carnol. It has simply performed miracles for me. Four bottles have done more than months of travel abroad. I feel like a two-year old. I sleep eight hours every night and eat three good meals a day. My skin is like a baby's, free from blemishes of any kind and I have now almost forgotten that I have ever had such things as nerves. I want everybody who is ailing to know about Carnol, because I have such faith in it I believe it will cure any human ailment."

Mr. J. H. Mc. C. Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money.

PORT WILLIAMS AND VICINITY

Miss Jessie Garland, who has been visiting in Mass. the past two months, returned home on Friday.

Mr. Bruce Hunt, of the Royal Bank staff, spent the week end at his home in Lawrencetown.

On Thursday evening, 23rd, the annual meeting of Citizens Hall was held, the following being elected the Board of Management for the ensuing year: Mrs. S. L. Gates, Mrs. Alvira Fullerton, Mrs. Harvey Rafuse, Messrs. Leander Woodworth, Jr., Everett Frazer, T. S. Lockwood.

Mrs. Ingerson Gates, of New Rose, has been visiting her sister Mrs. Arthur Bezanson, of Cherry Brook Farm.

Mr. Benj. Meister, of New Ross, is the guest of his daughter Mrs. Kempton Lantz.

Mrs. Sophia West, of Church Street, is spending the winter with her daughter Mrs. Rockwell, at Waterville.

Mrs. Eliza Abbot has gone to Canard to spend the winter with Mrs. Seaboyer. A policeman is a much needed requisite at the Port, three fist fights having occurred among the citizens during the past three weeks.

New approaches to the Iron Bridge have been lately built, the work being in charge of Mr. F. Vaughan. Looking over Eaton's History of Kings county one finds that the first bridge across the Cornwallis River at Port Williams (then called "Terry's Creek") was built as early as 1780.

In 1818 an act was passed by the Legislature for "re-building and re-pairing" this bridge. Whether it was the first bridge or a second, that was finally carried out by the tide, piers and all, we do not know, but in 1825 an act was passed by the Legislature incorporating a company to build a new bridge. In 1827 the Legislature voted towards the enterprise the sum of eleven hundred and fifty pounds. Five years later the same sum was again granted for the same purpose and in 1835 the bridge was opened. The piers of it which have defied Fundys tide for nearly a century are still standing. They were constructed by Jos. Winthrop, who came from Hantsport to build them. The bridge was for many years a toll bridge, the last keeper being John Lingley. Many amusing incidents are remembered as being related by the old folk of ways how the toll (2 pence for foot passengers, 4 pence for a team) could be evaded. The present Iron Bridge was built in 1885 and since the automobile traffic has become so common is all too narrow for convenience and safety.

Tuesday was a busy day at G. A. Chases' stores, people coming from the north, south, east and west to find the answer to the interrogation marks in his unique advertisement. Everyone returned wearing a smile along with their purchases, at the astounding bargains given. The sale is to be repeated again on Saturday.

The Social held in the Baptist church, under the auspices of the "Delta Alpha" class, on Friday evening last, was a success all through. The admission was by waist measurement (one cent to the inch) and as the day of tight lacing has gone by, several were so very fashionable as to measure one hundred inches—so the proceeds amounted to $50.00. The program was all so good, special mention would be out of place but Dorothy MacKinnon with her Scotch songs and Mason Cogswell in his acting won much applause.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hatt are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter.

Gertrude, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edson Griffin, fell down stairs on Wednesday and sustained severe injury. Dr. Elliott is attending her.

BORN

WOODMAN—At Wood's Maternity Hospital, Port Williams, on Tuesday, Nov. 28th; to Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Woodman, Kentville, a son.

It is time to send your Christmas Cards if they have to go a great distance. We have the best assortment we have ever had and will be pleased to show them to you. Prices range from 5 to 35 cents each. The ACADIAN Store.

DEATH OF FORMER PORT WILLIAMS LADY

The following from the Haverhill (Mass.) Evening Gazette of Nov. 20th will be of interest to many of the readers of THE ACADIAN who will remember the deceased as Hattie Stevens, a popular girl at her old home at Port Williams. Many friends will hear with sincere sorrow of her death, and join the ACADIAN in sympathy for the sorrowing relatives:

Mrs. Harriett Hillard wife of Benjamin Hillard, died at her home, 25 Portland street, yesterday afternoon after an illness of about two months.

She was born in Port Williams, Nova Scotia, and came to the city about 15 years ago. She was married three years ago to Mr. Hillard. She was a member of the Main Street Church of Christ and sang in the church choir.

Besides a husband she leaves two brothers, Arthur Stevens of this city and Rev. Rupert Stevens, Indianapolis, Indiana.

CANARD NOTES

Miss Gertrude Eaton has been visiting friends in Truro and Amherst.

The Canard Institute met at the home of Mrs. Joseph Kinsman, Upper Canard, on Friday, Nov. 24th. After re-electing officers a short program was given and refreshments served. The next meeting will be held at Mrs. Cox's, Canard.

Miss Majorie Eaton has returned from Bexton, New Brunswick, where she has been the guest of Mrs. (Dr.) Freeman.

Mr. Gordon Eaton, of the Royal Bank, Port Williams, spent the week end at his home, Lower Canard.

Miss Florence Eaton has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. L. K. Payant, Dartmouth.

Mrs. O'Brien spent the week end at her home in Canning.

A class for the study of drawing, under the direction of Mrs. Ingraham, has recently been organized and meets every week at the College Library.

RESIGNS PASTORATE OF UPPER CANARD CHURCH

Last Sabbath at the morning service in Upper Canard Baptist church the pastor, Rev. A. J. Prosser, surprised his congregation by tendering his resignation to take effect at the close of the year. During the pastorate of Rev. Mr. Prosser the church has greatly enlarged its membership and influence for good and the community would part with Rev. Mr. Prosser and Mrs. Prosser with deep regret, if called upon to do so.

A combination of quality and quantity, MORSE'S TEA is not only good tea but it makes the maximum number of cups to the pound. About 240 cups to be exact.
