Beautiful Cynthia;

Victory After Many Defeats.

CHAPTER XXIX.
'TIS A SMALL WORLD.
 "There is a nullah there, sahib," he said, pointing to the cavellike depression in the hillside. "We will rest there; it is our last night. To-morrow we reach the station, and the sahib will be safe. I will go find some water, some food, perhaps, for this is the road the merchants use."
 Darrel dropped down and began to remove the remains of his boots—stockings had disappeared long since—and Abdurmahn went off on his quest.

Wearily as he was, Darrel could not sleep, for "the little devil in his stomach," as the Afridis put it, was calling "Feed me, feed me!" and he propped himself up on the edge of the nullah and looked vacantly down on the way they had come.

The silence which broods over these solitudes, a silence, which, like the Egyptian darkness, can be felt, enveloped him as if with a cloak. But through it he could hear Cynthia's voice sounding as if in a mist, and as had often been the case, he could almost feel her presence near him.

Hungry as he was, he had almost fallen asleep when he heard footsteps.

They were not Abdurmahn's, for his stealthy feet made no sound, and, instinctively—for Darrel had learned to dread a foe in every approaching man—he dropped full length and strained his eyes and ears watchfully.

Presently a slight form was silhouetted against the deep purple of the sky, and a man stood within fifty yards of the nullah and looked upward, as if hesitating whether to continue his way or to take shelter for the night.

Darrel judged the newcomer to be an elderly, rather than a young, man, and was puzzled by his appearance and manner; for the man was dressed like a native, and yet held himself erect and with an air quite unlike that of the men Darrel had met on his way.

There was no mule; there was nothing to indicate the object which had brought the man to so lonely and perilous a spot at an hour when, according to the natives, the thieves were also stared at him.

"The Only Cure for Piles"

Writes Mr. Taylor in Telling Mic Experience With Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Mr. M. Taylor.

Because Dr. Chase's Ointment brings almost immediate relief from the dreadful itching, burning, stinging sensations of piles, it is well worth the attention of everyone suffering from this annoying disease.

In most cases, even after years of standing, Dr. Chase's Ointment makes a thorough and lasting cure of itching, bleeding and protruding piles. Mr. Maxwell Taylor, Charlottetown, P.E.I., writes: "To all sufferers from piles in any form I would recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment as the only cure. Over a year ago while in Boston I became afflicted with a dreadful itching. I went to a doctor, who gave me some ointment, which made me no better. A friend advised 'he use of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and by the use of two boxes I was entirely cured. You may publish this statement in order that other sufferers may profit by my experience.'"

Dr. Chase's Ointment can better prove its value by the relief it affords than by all the words we could use in its praise. 50 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

64 Years of Age-- Younger Than at 40.

Mrs. J. W. McPeck, of Herbert, Sask., Can., is more than pleased with the results obtained from the use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, which has been of great benefit to her family. She says in her letter: "I have been using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for the past ten years. It is the best health giver I ever used. I am now 64 years of age, but I am looking and feeling younger than at 40. My friends all say, 'How young you look!' "It has also proved just the thing for my daughter, who lives in Ohio. She had such weak nerves and heart that the slightest move would startle her. Your wonderful remedy has practically overcome this, and has done her more good than all other treatments."

Mr. McPeck writes about his remarkable experience: "I am 68 years of age, and for a number of years I haven't been strong. I have a weak heart and for some time was almost helpless. Lately I have been using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, and it has helped me wonderfully. I sincerely recommend Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey to every one."

Whiskey in SEALED BOTTLES ONLY by druggists, dealers and hotels, $1.25 a large bottle. Be sure you get Duffy's and that the seal over the cork is intact. Our doctors will send you advice free, together with a valuable medical booklet on application. The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

rel was in no mood to worry about a mere flesh wound.

"How did you know that I was English?" he asked.
 The stranger smiled. "A native would have waited to see which side was winning before joining in the fun, and, again, you did not use the knife, but took to your fists. And, besides—well, I suppose it is difficult for an Englishman when he is off his guard to conceal his nationality."

CHAPTER XXX. A STRANGE MEETING.

Abdurmahn interrupted the conversation by seizing Darrel's arm and ending him to the nullah, where he made Darrel impatiently prove to him that the wound was of no consequence.

The rescued person seated himself and calmly took out the precious pipe which he had managed to slip into his pocket at the moment he was attacked, and was proceeding to light it, when he caught Darrel's eye fixed on it longingly.

With a word of comprehension, he handed the pipe to Darrel, and Darrel, who was not devoid of tact, at once, with a murmur of gratitude, accepted the priceless loan.

"Been without a smoke some time?" asked the gentleman, for at his words Darrel had known him for one—"By their voice ye shall know them."

"For weeks—months—years, it seems," replied Darrel, with a kind of sigh, as he drew in the fragrant beccy. "Ever since I left the Barah Pass."

"You were in the fight for the fort, then?"

The stranger nodded. "Yes; but I should have been a citizen of a still better land if you had not cut in as you did just now. I'm very grateful, but I won't bore you with thanks, especially as I am anxious to know whether you are seriously hurt." He pointed to the blood which was dripping from Darrel's sleeve. But Darrel

"Yes," said Darrel, with a different kind of sigh.

The stranger nodded. "A fierce bit of work," he said gravely. "I read of it in a stray paper at Dhinpur, where I have been staying for a few days. What is your regiment?"

"The Rexford Fusiliers," replied Darrel. "Are you in the service?" he inquired, with the usual shyness.

"No; I am a civilian; a globe-trotter, I'm afraid. I've come through from Burma. How is it you are not with your regiment?"

Darrel told the story of the fight, his wound, and his rescue by Abdurmahn, and he was listened to with evident interest.

"You have had a wonderful, a miraculous, escape," said the stranger, "an escape which not one man in a thousand left wounded on an Afridi hillside ever makes."

"I know," said Darrel, with an involuntary shudder. "And I'm afraid I'm reported dead as well as missing."

"You can wire from the station," said the new-comer.

Darrel nodded, but with no great eagerness; for to whom should he wire?

"I was going to tell you how I came to be out to-night and alone," continued the stranger. "I am interested in mining affairs. I suppose I might call myself a prospector. And I find that it is much safer, excites less curiosity, if I look round in the quiet of the evening. I was warned that I ran some risks in doing so in this country; but—oh, well, one forgets or gets careless. To-night, but for you, would have been my last 'little wander,' as the Afridis call it."

"Oh, that's all right," said Darrel hastily, with the embarrassment of the man who is being thanked by another equally brave. "It's all in the day's work; and you'd have done the same for me. Oh, here's Abdurmahn with the grub; you know the sort of thing. It's getting piteous dark."

"The easiest way to find is the way to one's mouth," remarked the stranger cheerfully, as he took his share of parched peas and the chipati, and the lukewarm acid fluid which Abdurmahn poured from a leather skin and called "water." "You'll be glad of a square meal when you get to the station, and it will afford me one of the greatest pleasures of my life to see that you get it."

They talked in undertones for a little while longer, discussing the wild country and its still wilder inhabitants, and avoiding personal matters; then Abdurmahn, with a grunt of dissatisfaction, reminded Darrel that they must rise early, and that he had better turn in.

Does a College Education Pay?

BY RUTH CAMERON.

I am sometimes asked by letter friends, "Does it pay to send a boy or girl to college?" Being a Yankee, I always answer that question by two others.

In the first place, what is the cost going to be? There are prices too high to pay. For instance, if it is going to include four years of unremitting self-denial for the rest of the family, and four years of combined study and attempts at self-support for the student, that may be too high a price, especially if the student's health is not of the best. I say "may" because this is pre-eminently a matter in which circumstances alter cases.

Secondly, in what coin do you expect payment to be made? If you expect that a college education will surely increase the earning powers of your son or daughter to an extent commensurate with the investment of time and money which is being made, you will probably be disappointed.

This is especially true if you expect an immediate payment. The graduate of the ordinary classical course in any college is prepared for just one profession—that of teaching. That means that these graduates must either enter that overcrowded field and start at the small salary which such over-crowding causes; or that they must spend further time in making more specific preparations for some other profession; or that they must start at the bottom of some business or profession, receiving approximately the same wage at which a high school graduate would start. As a rule the college graduate rises much more rapidly and ultimately receives a higher salary, but this is not always true by any means, and if the graduate is a girl she is extremely likely to marry before receiving any financial return for her investment.

On the other hand, if you are willing that part of your payment shall be a broader outlook on life, a larger capacity for intellectual enjoyment, a better standard of living, a handful of precious friendships, and a heartful of golden memories for your son or daughter, you will probably find that a college education pays.

Do not think I am disparaging a college education. I would be the last to do that, but I do believe that many fathers and mothers expect too much financial return and are sadly disappointed.

Until our colleges contain specific courses which do actually prepare for some business or profession, it is inevitable that there can seldom be a full financial return for the time and money invested. Whether it is best that our colleges should take on such specific courses is quite another question, and one I am not qualified to discuss, though I must say I have a very strong opinion in the matter.

In the meantime, let the fathers and mothers who want to know if a college education pays, digest the following: "A college education is not to teach one to make a living, but to make a life."

Are You Blue and Worried?

Nervous? Some of the time really ill? Catch cold easily and frequently suffer from biliousness or headache? The reason is that your system does not rid itself of the poisons in the blood; just as you do not get rid of the stove to rid it of its fumes. The waste does to us exactly what the clinkers do to the stove; make the fires burn low until enough clinkers have accumulated and then prevent its burning at all. Your liver is sluggish. You feel dull and heavy—do not get rest, nor is food appetizing. In this condition illness develops. Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery eradicates the poisons from the body—a glyceric alternative extract made from bloodroot, golden seal and mandrake root, stone and cancer's root, without the use of alcohol. No matter how strong the constitution the stomach is apt to be "out of kilter" at times; in consequence the blood is disordered, for the stomach is the laboratory for the constant manufacture of blood.

Prof. Dewey, Ont., Ont., writes: "I have been a great sufferer for years from throat trouble, catarrh, indigestion, female troubles, bloating, constipation and nervousness. I have consulted many different doctors, and would get better for a little while, then I would go down with chronic inflammation all through me. For nineteen years I had this poison in my blood. After trying nearly everything I got worse. I read in The People's Companion of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. I have taken the Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and used five bottles of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. I am now able to do my work and walk with pleasure. I feel like a new woman. I enjoy everything around me and thank God for letting me live long enough to do something that made me well again."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate liver and bowels.

Household Notes.

If by accident soot is dropped on the carpet, sprinkle salt over it and sweep all up together.

As summer comes on, it saves a great deal of trouble to have all the desserts of fruit.

A good deodorizer for a sick room is camphor gum and ground coffee burned together.

Roomy arm chairs for the porch are made of French willow and have a pocket on one side.

A small clear vegetable brush should be kept handy to brush out the fringe on dollies.

The most economical way to buy soap is in large quantities; then let it dry before using.

Cheese balls to serve with salad are good made of Parmesan and cottage cheese.

To polish zinc, rub hard with a kerosene cloth and rub off with boiling water.

Never wash aluminum kitchen utensils with soda. Use simple soap and water.

Every spare room should have a waste-basket, a chair, and a good light in it.

INFLAMMATORY RHEUMATISM

Completely Cured by GIN PILLS

Mr. W. G. Reid, of Hamilton, Ont., one of the best known and most highly respected commercial travellers in Canada, was a cripple from Rheumatism and suffered terribly. GIN PILLS cured him. Mr. Reid writes as follows:

"I have been for the last two years a cripple with Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I tried almost everything known to medical science to relieve me of the intense pain and inflammation. I sought change of climate in Kentucky and other Southern points without relief. Your manager in this city recommended GIN PILLS and I have since taken eight boxes and am now cured. I consider GIN PILLS the conqueror of Rheumatism and Kidney Diseases."

The Sane System.

The man who early goes to bed, instead of painting a n-d-escaped red assisted by a dem-john, until the roosters hall the dawn, will rise refreshed a t break of day, and sing a joyous roundelay. His mouth is clean, his eyes are bright, he has a horse's appetite and to his maw he gaily takes a half a quire of buckwheat cakes, and ham and eggs and bread and cheese, and sundry other things like these. Then to his daily toll he goes, all full of vim, from crown to toes. He works so well his boss observes: "I'm surely mashed upon your curves, and so, beginning with to-day, I'll all a guilder to your pay."

The man who paints the "Hilge red instead of going to his bed at seven minutes after ten, on waking thinks a setting hen has used his mouth three weeks or more; his eyes are red, his stomach sore; he cannot eat the wholesome steak, the scrambled egg or buckwheat cake, but sadly chews a pickled bean and takes a drink of kerosene. He does his task in languid way, and ere he's put in half a day, the boss exclaims: "You make me tired! Put on your hat and go—you're fired!" If you would hold a good job down, be wise—let others part the town.

Empire Must Sink or Swim Together.

London, May 15.—The first course of lectures on colonial problems, organized by the University of London, was delivered yesterday at King's College on "The Colonies in International Law." The lecturer being Rev. Dr. T. J. Lawrence, formerly deputy professor of International Law in the University of Cambridge.

Dr. Lawrence, in connection with the question of neutrality laid it down that the great self-governing colonies could not involve the principle of limited liability in war and that all parts of the empire must sink or swim together. He expressed much sympathy with the school of political thought, which had arisen more prominently in Canada, which objected to being obliged to spend their blood and treasure in any wars which do not affect their rights and interests, and which they might hold to be morally indefensible. Hence arose a disposition to claim that their armed forces should be entirely under their own control. He did not think that Great Britain disputed that, but neutrality and belligerency were functions of sovereign states. A power could no more be neutral in part and belligerent in part and single in part. No foreign country would recognize any such "in and out" arrangement.

Airman Charged With Invasion Without Permit.

London, May 15.—The well-known French aviator Marcel G. Brindeau des Moulins, who landed at Hendon near London, from his aeroplane on Sunday after a 450-mile flight from Bremen, Germany, is the first airman to fall a victim to the comprehensive prohibition issued by Reginald McKenna, Home Secretary, against flyers invading Great Britain without permit.

The aviator was arraigned at Bow Street Police Court to-day on the charge and pleaded ignorance of the regulations, but was ordered by the magistrate to deposit a bond of $200 to appear for judgment if he should be called upon to do so.

The summons charged the airman with traversing prohibited areas.

During his flight from Germany to England, the aviator made a fresh record for the passage across the English Channel from Calais to Dover, which he accomplished in twenty minutes.

Notes and Comments.

The opportunity offered by the wedding of the daughter of the Kaiser to Prince Ernest August of Cumberland, is being availed of by Germany to give the King and Queen of England a right royal welcome. It is to be hoped that the coolness which prevailed during the latter part of the reign of Victoria and King Edward between the courts of these countries, will be removed, and that much warmer feelings will prevail in future.

The real danger point in the friction between Britain and Germany has never been the Courts, and this we state while we bear in mind the indiscreet cablegram of congratulation sent by the Kaiser to President Kruger during Britain's darkest hour, in South Africa. On the one hand, Victoria was always averse to war,

Edward in his short reign earned the cognomen of Peace-maker and the present King is following faithfully in the firm footsteps of his father and grandmother. On the other hand, though the Kaiser is looked upon as the War Lord of Europe, his reign of twenty-five years has been eminently peaceful. Germany has not engaged in any wars during that period.

While the Courts of both countries have used their influence for peace, during the last decade or so, the friction between Britain and Germany has increased, and at times been so great, that the heat generated threatened an explosion of the first magnitude. The friction has been mainly due to trade rivalry. War if it ever comes, will be due to this cause. Germany came late into the world market as a big competitor with Britain, but she is now a formidable one, and her overseas traffic is fortified by a navy which is also a new creation, but is also most formidable. We may think what we like of armoured-plate patriotism, but this great armament combine could not stimulate and maintain a huge trade in armaments, had it not this rivalry for the markets of the world to work upon.

The monarchs of both countries may do much to lessen the friction, abate the heat of the rivalry and assuage the passions which now and then rise to a white heat. King Edward set his son a glorious example in the Anglo-French entente. King Edward had the distrust of centuries to remove, but he succeeded by tact, judgment, and good fellowship in creating a new relation between historic enemies.

Just as King Edward had his opportunity for earning a glorious title on the scroll of true fame, so has King George. King Edward's difficulties were great, and perhaps King George's are greater. The rivalries of Britain and France were largely ancient and inherited. Those of Britain and Germany are new, acute and sore. But they are mainly matters of manufacture, trade and commerce, and all these are the handmaids of Peace, which must suffer dire disaster should passion rule and an intestine war break out between the two greatest belligerents in the world. Trade rivalry is, however, but one aspect of the question, and that has been allowed to generate heat and passion, but there is another aspect which should tell for peace, and be the greatest lever in the hands of King George for the development of an Anglo-German entente, and that is the fact that the British Empire has a greater trade with the German Empire than with any other country. War would therefore be suicidal. The cost of armaments to-day is strangling both countries. Time is ripe for an entente. May the visit of the King to the Kaiser pave the way for it.

LONDON, To-day.
Welcoming such promising incidents as a new regime of peace, American preparations are now in progress for the celebration. The completion of a hundred years of peace between Britain and the United States is a prominent feature in a resolution moved by the President of the Board of Education, Rt. Hon. Joseph Albert Pease and adopted at the 97th annual meeting of the Peace Society, held in the Mansion House yesterday under the Presidency of the Lord Mayor of London. Pease was the principal speaker. He said the matter was of much congratulation to the country. Within a few months they would be able to celebrate with nearly 100,000,000 Americans the centenary. Pease referred to the disappearance of strained relations which had existed between Britain and Germany and uttered a warning against what he described as one great danger to-day namely the fact that an enormous number of people were peculiarly interested in the production of armaments, which threatened to become a vested interest and get control of the nation as the liquor trade did a few years back. At no time has an eloquent plea for help from American women and the women of Germany, Austria and other European nations for campaigns in the interest of universal peace was made by Countess Isabel Aberdeen, wife of the Lord Lieut. of Ireland, President of the World's Council of Women, a prominent movement toward universal peace and international arbitration. The big topic was the programme to be arranged for the greatest quinquennial meeting at Rome, in 1914.

LONDON, To-day.
When the last peace conference assembled here to discuss the Balkan settlement, it was Bulgaria, which indulged in tactics of delay. Now the position is reversed and Bulgaria is anxious to sign the preliminary peace treaty, while the other allies are raising objections. They desire modifications of the treaty as decided upon by the Powers. There is no likelihood that the conference will resemble this week.

Aged Couple Celebrate

Their Sixtieth Wedding Day at Portugal Cove.

It rarely happens that wedded bliss lasts for fifty golden years, yet Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Harvey, of Portugal Cove, C.B., celebrated to-day the sixtieth anniversary of their wedding. A few of the old neighbours who were present on that occasion, on May 17th, 1853, when Father O'Connor, then a young priest, tied the nuptial knot, are still alive to offer their good wishes to the venerable jubilarians. Time has dealt kindly with Mr. and Mrs. Harvey. Mr. Harvey is still as active as a young man. He is at present actively engaged erecting a barn, while Mrs. Harvey attends to the household work with all the activity of a young woman. They were blessed with a family of fourteen children, only one of whom, Mr. Patrick Harvey, Jr., now lives with them. We congratulate them on this exceptional event, and hope to see them amongst us for many years to come.

Ramea Notes.
Occasionally I see a copy of the Plaindealer, and was somewhat surprised to see in that paper under date of April 17th, the following: "Since the ice has cleared off, the Western bankers are doing well. At Burgeo and Ramea boats are getting from five to ten quintals per day." The Plaindealer professes to be published for the benefit of the fishermen to some extent, but should the editor of that paper heard some of the comments made by the fishermen in reference to the item referred to above, it would have opened his eyes a little. The truth of the matter is just this, our vessels at the Western fishery made a wretched spring. The best only procured about 150 quintals for fourteen men, while some of the others showed only two quintals per man. This is the worst for about twenty years. At the time mentioned by the Plaindealer, April 17, while perhaps a quintal or so may have been caught at Burgeo (but I think not), not a fish had been caught here with the exception of about 2,000 lbs. caught by the schr. Maple, while halibut during February and April. Our shore fishery opened here on April 24th, and since that time the fifteen skiffs fishing from here carrying three men each, average 3,000 fish per boat. This would mean roughly speaking 33 quintals per skiff, half of this again would be ling. Now you have our whole fishery to date in a nut shell.

What may have been a serious accident, was prevented to-day by the grit of one of our fishermen. A strong breeze was blowing square of the shore, when the skiffs started out for their trawls from five to nine miles off the land. By the time their gear was on board, the wind had freshened to a gale. One of the offer skiffs, shortly after making sail, sprung her foremast so badly that she could carry little or no sail on it, they being then about nine miles off the land with a gale dead ahead and a nasty cross sea. However, Albert Giles pluckily bore down on them, got a line on board and succeeded in towing them to land which he reached about three p.m. For a man to do this in a skiff while under reefed sails, show that our fishermen are hard to beat. Especially when we consider these boats are only about 25 feet over all with a beam of eleven feet and each tows a dory as well. Well done, Bert. Long may your big jib draw.

Sprung a Leak.
The schr. Lady Mabel, Skipper Thos. Call, left here with a load of salt for Kettle Cove a few days ago and had the full force of the S. E. gale and heavy sea which came up that evening. The vessel in the midst of the storm sprung a leak, made water fast and it was feared she would founder; most of the salt was thrown overboard and pumps were kept going all night and all day until she reached her destination with all hands worn out from their exertions. There were 6 men of a crew on board and all had a narrow escape.

War Risk.
Special to Evening Telegram.
LONDON, To-day.
Underwriters quote five guineas per cent. to cover risk of outbreak of war between the States and Japan for three months.

Detective and Girl.
Without doubt the company at Rosely's is the most versatile and clever ever at the Star Theatre. Lorraine Buchanan and Billy Devens in their very refined act please all. Billy Devens was with the Merry Widow Co. in England and New York for two seasons; he has a beautiful voice, and each act they appear in Billy sings their next change of act will be a very funny comedy. Cook and Beale always make good. Miss Beale's imitation of a little girl is a splendid piece of work; many people really believe her to be a little girl but she is the wife of Mr. Cook which makes the part she plays all the more wonderful; their next act will also be a fine one and different in every respect, they are both great dancers. There will be a special programme for the big holiday—Empire Day—next Saturday.

Councillor J. J. Coaker received a telegram from his sister, Mrs. Hodgkins, at Stellarton, N. Here and There.
SEALING CASE SETTLED.—The sealing case between Capt. Bartlett, of the s.s. Neptune, and Capt. Clarke, of the s.s. Southern Cross, has been settled.
Mr. Will Earle, of the Claims Department, Reid Mfg. Co., who has been confined to his home with a cold, is getting better. Bill will to-morrow be re-seated at his desk.

POLICE COURT.—One drunk was discharged. A 19-year-old fisherman of McKay Street, for desertion, was remanded. Two persons summoned by Head Const. Dawe, for having dangerous buildings, were ordered to have repairs made.

FOR BOSTON.—Quite a number of men left here by the Bruce express yesterday for Boston; some will go fishing from that port and others will work along shore. Some also will go to other cities and towns in the state of Massachusetts.

OUTRAGEOUS ACT.—Sunday night in the road near the head of Mundy's Pond, some miscreants placed a lot of logs, owned by Mr. Mercer, across the thoroughfare effectually blocking it. Had any automobile or other vehicle approached, it is likely the occupants would be seriously hurt if not killed. The police should look into this matter.

STRIKE MAY DETAIN HER.—The Altian liner Carthaginian may be detained at Philadelphia in consequence of the Longshoremen's strike. The ship was expected at first to leave Philadelphia for this port on Saturday next but if delayed in getting a freight will not get away before Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

BOUND TO BELL ISLAND.—The S. S. Naopie passed Cape St. Francis at 9 a.m. to-day bound to Bell Island.

L.S.P.U. ANNUAL MEETING.—The annual meeting of the L.S.P.U. will take place to-morrow night, when the election of officers will occur.

ANOTHER SALT CARGO.—The Norwegian steamer Drot is now 14 days out from Carib and has a cargo of 4,000 tons salt for the Smith Co. Ltd.

STEPHANO SAILS.—The s.s. Stephano sails this afternoon, taking these additional passengers: Mrs. (Dr.) Tait, Miss Elsie Tait, Miss Susan Ryan and 20 in steerage.

BEOTHIC HERE.—The s.s. Beothic arrived here at 5.30 a.m. to-day coal laden from Sydney to Franklin and Job Bros. The ship made the run down in 21 hours. Contractor McDonald discharges the cargo.

BECAME DANGEROUSLY ILL.—A good sign of fish at King's Cove this town Street, who recently sold off and was about to go to Canada, was suddenly seized with paralysis of the heart last night, and to-day he is feared he cannot recover. Mr. Angell is an uncle of the late Nicholas Angell, who died near Quebec a few months ago.

TRAPPED TWENTY BARRELS OOD.—Schooners from the Northward to-day report that there is a good sign of fish at King's Cove the past week. James Brown took twenty barrels from his trap there yesterday in two hauls and other men made fair hauls. The schr. S. A. Parkhurst which arrived here last night from Greenspond fished a lot of fine cod off King's Cove.

Overlooks Challenge.
Editor Evening Telegram.
Sir—Being busy the past few days I have not time at present to answer the letter of "West End Voter" in yesterday's Herald, but will do so to-morrow. Meantime you will note how this individual who is so quick in crying "coward" conveniently overlooks my challenge and still hides his identity under a non de plume.
Yours truly,
WEST END LIBERAL.

Schrs. Damaged.
The schr. Queen of the Arm which left Island Cove yesterday at 4 a.m. for St. John's had to run into Carbonear owing to heavy squalls from the S. E. Leaving again she had to come to anchor again, her main shroud being broken. Repairs had to be made at Carbonear. Over 100 sail of craft from Northern ports reached here yesterday and several of them had their sails torn in the blustery weather which prevailed.

A Fine Store.
Mr. George Neal had recently completed on his east end premises, a fine new store which was handsomely fitted for his rapidly expanding business. It is three stories high and will be used for the storage of goods generally and especially produce. It is fifty feet wide by 100 long and is most substantially erected. It will be a great convenience to Mr. Neal's patrons and his son, Mr. David Neal, conducts the branch business which has been started here, occupying the office built in the store. We congratulate Mr. Neal on his enterprise.

Sailed To-day.
The S. S. Prospero sailed for the Northern ports at 10 a.m. to-day, taking the following passengers: Messrs. C. Scott, J. Morey, Vey, A. W. Lake, T. Walsh, Dr. Foster, J. Haggood, C. King, E. Woodford, Capt. J. Keane, Mesdames Froud and Ryan; Misses Perry, Locke, McGinn, Burt and Crifford and 50 steerage.

SCHOONERS BADLY DAMAGED.—In the heavy gale of wind from S. E. which was experienced on Friday last at Kettle Cove the schr. Mary E. owned by John Campion, and the Mary, owned by Ben Morris, dragged their anchors and collided with each other. The former was very badly damaged and must be towed here for repairs, while the latter was also put out of commission.

U. S. Dreadnought To Cost $20,000,000.
Washington, May 15.—Congress will be asked next year to appropriate for one battleship, a month's draft, enough displacing 40,000 tons and costing about $20,000,000 according to tentative arrangements of the Navy General Board, made public to-day. This year the Navy Department asked for three battleships and got one; as it did last year when the estimate called for two.

During the debate on the Naval Bill this year, members of Congress particularly interested in the Navy, became satisfied that, while there were two extreme factions, one advocating appropriations for two or three big class battleships a year, and the other with "no battleships" as a slogan, an overwhelming majority in both Houses could be counted upon to vote for a single dreadnought.

This one battleship, however, will be monster. With a displacement of 40,000 tons she would be just about one-fourth larger than any ship yet authorized by Congress, and would easily rank as the largest and most formidable craft of war in the world. It is contemplated giving the dreadnought engines that would drive her through the water at the rate of 25 knots.

Negro Bootblack Shot Five Men.
Fort Worth, Tex., May 15.—Tommy Lee, a negro bootblack, to-day shot dead Policeman Oehlert, a veteran of the local force, and Walter Moore, a negro, and shot and severely wounded David Colton and Harold Marock, and an unidentified negro. He then crawled into a sewer while pursued by a mob of two thousand people and shot himself. He will die.

The trouble started when Lee fired upon a negro with whom he had quarrelled. This excited him and he ran to a negro pool hall and killed Moore. The policeman was killed when he attempted to arrest Lee.

This cut illustrates our first-class Readymade Suits. We are now prepared to deliver them post free to any part of Newfoundland in three prices, viz.: $10.00, $12.00 and $15.00. These suits are made of fashionable cloth cut in the latest American styles, and in the higher grades cut by our cutter. They are made during the slack season by the members of the Journeymen Tailors' Union in our own work rooms.

City patrons can fit on these suits in a special Private Fitting Room, and all the necessary alterations will be made free of charge. To enable out-of-city friends to get properly fitted, we would suggest their sending us on an order for one of these suits, stating the following:—

- First—Their chest measure taken over the vest, close under the arms.
- Second—The waist measure over the pants, at the waist line.
- Third—The length of leg (the inside), taken from the crotch down to the full length.
- Fourth—The length of the sleeve by the forearm.
- Fifth—The size of suit usually worn, and the color and quality you prefer.

We will alter a suit to fit you free of charge, and deliver it at the nearest post office for $10.00, $12.00 or $15.00. Send at once to Governor Jonsson Gives The Reasons For Signing Bills.

Sacramento, California, May 15.—Expressing his determination to sign the Allen Land Bill, recently passed by the Legislature, Governor Hiram W. Johnson, of California, has telegraphed to Secretary of State Bryan a long explanation of the action taken by the Legislature. The message was in answer to the request telegraphed to the Governor by Secretary Bryan at the direction of President Wilson that the bill be vetoed.

The Governor's message says in part:—"The objections to our Bill are based, first, upon the treaty obligations of the nation, and secondly, upon the assertion that our act is offensive and discriminatory. The protest to our measure, as your telegram states, comes from the representative of Japan."

After reviewing the conditions of land tenure under the Bill, the Governor continues:—"Thus we have made existing treaties a part of our law, and thus we have preserved every right that any foreign nation by international contract has insisted upon preserving with our national government."

After reviewing the treaty of 1911, the message continues:—"We assume that the right of Japanese to own real property for the purposes described is absolute in our state, and we seek to deal with our agricultural lands."

"We embody the treaty in our law and we add to it permission to lease our agricultural lands, for the period of three years. "By the law adopted, we offer no offence, we make no discrimination. The offence and discrimination, is contained, it is claimed, in the use of the words 'eligible to citizenship' and in making a distinction between those who are eligible to citizenship and those who are not. We do not mention the Japanese, or any particular race. The Constitution of California in 1879 made its distinctions, and there never has been protest or objection."

Federal Government Must Take the Blame.

"The naturalization laws of the United States, long since without demerit for any nation, determined who were and who were not eligible to citizenship. If invidious discrimination ever were made in this regard, the United States made it when the United States declared who were and who were not eligible to citizenship, and when we but follow and depend upon the statutes of the United States and their determination as to eligibility to citizenship, we cannot be accused of indulging in invidious discrimination."

Doctor Shot at Woman

Looking apparently sane and sober at the time, Dr. Simon B. Fraser, of Richmond, Que., drew a 38-calibre revolver from his pocket last evening and turned the house at 679 St. Lawrence street into a shooting gallery, by firing all around Florence Harris because the woman would not give him $5 which he demanded.

Fraser first escaped from the house, dodged from door to door on St. Lawrence street, and while the police were hunting for him, found occasion to slip back to the house and fire two more shots into the doorway. By this time the woman, who was the object of his wrath, was hiding in the cellar.

Had a Fit in Court.

In addition to the shooting, Dr. Fraser created a fresh sensation in the Court House this morning by falling into a fit in an ante-room of the arraignment Court. The strenuous efforts of two policemen were necessary to revive him, after which he remained in a very shaky condition.

When first arrested last night a charge was entered on the lists against him of "carrying a revolver and attempted murder." This charge was not insisted upon this morning and was not placed on the Police Court lists, it being agreed to take him before the Recorder in private on the charge of carrying a loaded revolver.

More notorious than the prisoner, however, is Florence Harris, the woman at whom he fired. She has been before the police courts many times and made herself very unpopular among the uniformed men by boasting that she could buy any member of the police force. When she was sent to jail some time ago, she distinguished herself by going on a hunger strike in modest imitation of the distinguished Mrs. Pankhurst of Bow Street fame. She goes by the name of Florence Harris, but is invariably entered on the police lists as Rose Lemaire.—Montreal Star.

COUNCIL, ATTENTION.—The lights at the junction of Cabot Street with Flower Hill and also with Bartor's Hill have been out the past couple of nights. The Council should see to this as both places are very dark.

T. N. M.

He had the grouch the other night when he went out to see, The Gypsy Entertainment got his "c-o-a-t". He didn't sleep it off that night so next day he did write A letter to the Telegram, a real joy quencher quite.

We know the C.C.C., the C.L.B., the M.G.B., D.W.P. And the initials of some other things and men; But of all the letters many and few, there's one lot going to puzzle you And that's who's T. N. M.?

We musn't watch the "turkey-trot," and the heroes of our plays Must all be good and moral folk to entertain his praise.

But what the public want to know— "Are asking every day, Is—who is Mister T. N. M. that he must have his say?"

We've heard of the K. & A. Store and the W. C. T. U., The C.E.I. and B.I.S. and the M.C.L., too; But there's one man sure in this wee town we'd like to know his "nem". And that's the gent who designates himself by T. N. M.

We've looked in the directory, in the telephone book as well, And he doesn't figure in either list so its mighty hard to tell. But whether he's a stage critic, an actor, or a "harvey", There's one thing sure I'm telling you, he's not A. Stanley Harvey.

So while we know I. C. M., the P. S. A. and the F. P. U., Tim Shannahan, Ruth Cameron and others kind and true, Now tell me this, my good kind friend, if you can do it quick, Who is this fellow T.N.M. whose prattings make me slightly uncomfortable. "M. N. T."

Stoker Injured.

A stoker on the s.s. Glenby, now discharging salt at Job's premises, fell over a cliff, twenty feet high, last evening on the Southside, and was badly injured. The seaman had been ashore on the north side, during his afternoon. He was returning to his ship about 6 o'clock and while trying to get over a cliff at the rear of Job's store, missed his footing and rolled over. The victim, who was picked up in an unconscious state with blood flowing copiously from him, was attended to by Dr. Roberts, who found his right leg broken while he also sustained a number of bruises and serious cuts about the head. Later the ambulance was summoned and the injured man taken to hospital.

Accident Averted.

About 7 last evening, a little five-year-old girl was nearly run over by an automobile on Duckworth St. The motor car came from Water St. and turned the corner of Prescott and Duckworth Streets sharply without sounding the horn. The little girl was crossing the street to go to Eagan's store. Citizens who witnessed the affair were dumfounded for the moment. The car did not alter its speed and it was only the child's alertness in jumping backward that a serious accident did not occur.

Will Try to Reach Griquet.

The S. S. Prospero, which left for the Northward, will try and get as far as Griquet but it is not likely she will succeed owing to the heavy ice pack. The people on the French Shore may be inconvenienced and disappointed owing to the steamer being unable to land mails and passengers there this trip.

Life-Saving Apparatus.

In our reference to the new S. S. "Kyle" yesterday, we omitted to mention the interesting fact that like the Lintrose she is equipped with life belts to which are attached boxes with chemicals contained in them and which when they strike the water will burn for hours, throwing a bright light over a considerable radius and inviting rescue if ships are about after an accident occurs. Yesterday afternoon a large number visited the ship.

DEMOLISHING HOUSES.—The old houses on New Gower Street, to the eastward of the Western Fire Station, are now being demolished and we learn will be succeeded by structures of a modern kind. They are the real old style residences and were built on land owned by Newman & Co. While they are being taken down numbers of women and children crowd around for firewood and run no little risk of being seriously hurt.

Pericles.

By H. L. RANN.

Pericles is the first name of an Athenian statesman and brilliant orator who was born 479 B.C. and died several years after his birth. Recent photographs show Pericles in a dignified attitude and the pointed beard which he wore whenever he ran for office. People always called Pericles by his maiden name, as his parents ran out of the Greek alphabet when about to christen him.

It was said of Pericles that he could think deeper and faster on a half-mile track than any high school professor in Athens. He had a wonderful mind of the cone clutch type, and could see a truth long before it turned the corner. One of his favorite pastimes was to sit down in some secluded spot and breathe axioms, epigrams and moral maxims into the ear of a stenographic stone cutter, who would write them on a tombstone with a cold chisel and thus preserve them to posterity.

Things were in a fearful condition at the time Pericles entered politics. An old standpatter named Cimón had subsidized the Athenian newspapers with the aid of the county printing, and nobody could hitch his team in the Parthenon or build a bungalow on the Acropolis without first lubricating Cimón's itching palm. Pericles called several boob meese together and had himself nominated for mayor on the Citizens' ticket, after which he sharpened up his beard and made a speaking campaign in every ward. He was triumphantly elected, and banished Cimón immediately after appointing a new chairman of the street committee.

For several years Pericles did not have any time to think up new epigrams for use in our school books, as he was kept busy driving off the Spartans, Lacedaemonians and other insects. He remained on the high wave of popularity until 430, also B.C., when an epidemic of the Dutch measles broke out in Athens which he was said to have introduced into the country by engaging a German hired girl. The enraged populace deposed Pericles and destroyed some of his best axioms, but he was later restored to confidence and died with the rank of brigadier general. His death was caused by coming in contact with a sample copy of the Asiatic cholera.

Looting Camps--Latest

On the South Side and around other parts of the country and suburbs many young men have built camps in which they sleep at night and find the practice invigorating and healthful. These men must necessarily leave food and a good deal of their belongings in such retreats while they are at business during the day, trusting to the honesty of the passer by to leave them without molestation. Adults, except the most depraved would scorn to enter such places, but not so the street arabs of St. John's. They have begun the work of looting these retreats, and Monday morning the camp of Mr. Henry Cranford and three others, on the South Side Hill, was cleared out, food, tobacco, cigars and a pretty well everything the camp contained being stolen.
