The Editors have had a narrow escape. The printers of the Toronto World were trying to substitute another term for the word "Magazine," but had to desist for "the want of a better translation."

Mr. BOUTWELL'S little bill to destroy the Scott act has received the six months' notice. Last session he managed to carry it through the commons, but the senate knocked it in the head. This session the commons threw it out by a vote of 82 to 64.

THE WINNIPEG TIMES (Conservative) bears rumors that are not at all satisfactory regarding the extension of the boundaries of Manitoba. It hopes that the government will carry out its promise made in the speech and give the province the new territory before the census is taken next year.

THE EDITOR of the Canadian Baptist and Rev. W. Brookman are engaged in a controversy on the "Separate existence of the soul." The latter appears to question the existence of the soul after death, soul and life are equivalent terms to him—but holds that this does not impair the doctrine of the resurrection.

THE MAIL seems to think that there is not much difference between the World and the Globe. Perhaps there is not, but the World is not to blame if the Globe followed its lead on the Pacific railway question.

THE FAILURE of co-operative steam-heating in London is a matter of regret. Owing to insufficient patronage, or the lack of proper management, the enterprise has turned out to be a losing one and the works will be closed to-night.

THE BARONESS BURETT-COURT is marrying young Bartlett in the court of the St. Catharines Journal. It says: "So far as Bartlett is concerned, he is so far from being a young man as to be a young man."

THE GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY is petitioning parliament against the granting of a charter to the Toronto and Ottawa railway. The petition sets forth that the Grand Trunk company proposes doubling their line between Montreal and Toronto, and that the rival line might injure the financial negotiations in England.

The petition sets forth that the Grand Trunk company proposes doubling their line between Montreal and Toronto, and that the rival line might injure the financial negotiations in England.

MEMBERS of the legislature have an itch for amending the municipal law, and especially the assessment law, and session after session half a dozen or more bills are introduced and discussed.

THE CORRESPONDENT of the Manitoba Free Press at Ottawa sharply comments on the relations subsisting between the governor general's side-camps and representatives of the press—or rather the absence of relations, for the newspaper men are ignored.

CANADIAN NEWS.

The C. P. R. syndicate meet to-day for organization. Richard Rowe's dwelling in St. John's, N.B., was yesterday destroyed by fire. Templeton's drug store, Belleville, caught fire yesterday; $200 damage was done.

The new order of railroad conductors is to be established at London this evening. A Montreal Lafarge was arrested for stealing $300 from the premises of the Montreal A. & O. company.

There are five seats vacant in the federal parliament: Carleton, Ross, Northern, Carleton, N. P., Belleville, and Charlottetown. Wm. Murphy, employed at the Bell organ manufacturing works, fell down an elevator shaft, broke both his arms and injured himself internally.

The London East council have resolved to limit the number of shop licenses in the town to seven at $125 each, and the tavern license to eleven at $100 each. The police have been notified. It is thought the case will go to court.

A man named Bayard, while working on St. Stephen's church, Montreal, yesterday afternoon, fell to the ground, a distance of about thirty feet. He was severely injured. It is rumored that an effort will shortly be made at Ottawa to separate the French and English schools, and have each national party support its own schools.

An exchange of matrons is to be effected between the Belleville deaf and dumb institution and the Hamilton lunatic asylum. Mrs. Keegan goes to Hamilton and Mrs. Fitzgerald to Belleville.

Mr. Cragin, of the Ottawa civil service, has been the subject of a suit brought to recover the amount paid the corporation income tax, he having made the payment under protest. The case was decided in his favor.

Shioto and Bayson, the remaining pair of the four convicts who escaped from the Kingston penitentiary, were recaptured at Waterloo, N. Y., on Tuesday evening and taken back to Kingston on Wednesday. All four of them seemed to have suffered somewhat on their travels.

A colored girl named Parker, aged 18, was burned to death in the township of Pashob Tuesday night. Her brother, a boy of 10, escaped. They were charged with a fire which broke out in a shanty on the street, and perished in the flames.

The London store men are jubilant, and were very busy yesterday, having five times as many customers as on the previous day. The determination to shut off steam by the steam-heating company, shows were being put up yesterday in directions in anticipation of the morning, when the supply of steam was to cease.

The plans and specifications for the Manitoba parliament house and lieutenant-governor's residence have arrived, and tenders will be advertised for the former. The cost of the house is $30,000. The site is a beautiful one on the Assiniboine river, adjoining Fort Gibraltar.

The executive committee of the future of Ontario, which was in session at Kingston on Tuesday, decided on recommending that as over $13,000 of the funds of the diocese had been unaccounted for by the late cleric, he should be presented to the bishop for trial. It was considered that in the interests of the church it was impossible that such grave irregularities could be overlooked.

A son of the publisher of Peterson's magazine is missing and foul play is feared. Dr. Pienzo's palace hotel case, including furnishings, is valued at $200,000. The insurance is $200,000, a portion of which falls on Canadian companies.

Buffalo bootmakers are on strike. The bootmakers also refuse to work for a builder named Dunkin. Dunkin brought a squad from Hamilton, but these had their fare paid back to Hamilton by the Ontario union.

Judge Chas. Forbes has left $220,000 to found a public library in the town of Northampton. The bequest is accompanied by the provision that no minister of religion shall have anything to do with the management of the institution.

The situation in South Africa is anything but reassuring. The report concerning the Boers for their part appears to have had little foundation, as they have been carrying the war into Natal more actively than before. Reinforcements have been stopped on the way. Colley's camp is in great danger, Newcastle is invested, and communication cut off.

Advice to Young Housewives. The Rev. G. C. Gosse, during a lecture in New York on "The Husbandman, and How to Perpetuate it," said: "Look out for your habits, young men. Don't get into the habit of neglecting the little courtesies of life in your home. Just see the young men on a boat, how they come in from the edge of the seat, and when a pretty young woman enters the car they watch for the first chance to get up and look at her. Why don't you watch just as eagerly to wait on your wife? Again, my young husband, be honest and your wife will have mutual confidence. Distrust of each other is the bane of human society everywhere. Of course, you and your wife ought to hold different opinions. Was forty years old before I married my wife, and I knew a thing or two before I knew her. When we were married we did not empty out our brains and become fools. When she comes to tell me I want her to vote on the side opposite to me, because if she votes just as I do what's the use of her voting? She might have just as well voted through me as we do now. But don't fight. Husband and wives do fight and bite and claw each other, and pull each other's hair, and all about a little thing that they would be ashamed of if they hadn't got hested. Cultivate the habit of cooling down. First, be honest and upright with your wife, young husband. You ought to be honest in everything, but if you have had an outside for your wife to look at, and you have all the time kept a bit and bridle on your passions only to be a brute after marriage, then you have control her. Be as innocent to your wife as though she was a little baby. You wouldn't hurt a baby. Stand up for your wife in all your ways, anything against her, knock him down. Well, I'll take that back—you can knock him down in your own estimation."

A writer in the Portland Press compares the statistics of crime in Maine in 1881 with those of 1880, as furnished by the inspector of prisons, and claims to show the great increase of crime since the adoption of the prohibitory legislation. In 1880 the population of the state was 567,850, and in 1880 it was 618,945, an increase of twenty-nine years of only 14 per cent. In that time, however, murders increased 425 per cent; man-slayings, 400 per cent; robberies, 200 per cent; arson, 125 per cent; rape, 800 per cent; attempts to rape, 500 per cent. In 1881 there were 478 divorces granted, or one couple out of every 679 in the state.

FACTS, NOT ESTIMATES.

FOLIOY No. 71,982. Was issued to Mr. John Thom of Toronto, on the Ten Year Endowment plan, March 17th, 1870, for $1,000, and paid to him March 17th, 1880. He did not take it to his wife, though the $1,000 was in the hands of FROSTY PAID to his family, if he had died any time during the ten years. The annual premium was $25.00, but the annual dividends reduced the payments to a total of $1,000. Not only did Mr. Thom have his life insured ten years WITHOUT ACTUAL COST, but he has received a round $1,000.00 POSITIVE GAIN OF 100 PER CENT.

FOLIOY No. 25,457. An Endowment Policy for $5,000 was issued in 1872, and paid to himself for $500, on the life of Henry L. Gosse, of River Falls, Wis. Term, 4 years. Premiums, $420.00. But the annual dividends reduced the net deposits of premiums to $1,848.48, showing the insurance for $3,000.00, and $1,151.52 to the credit, being a gain of $1,151.52 on $1,000.00. Not only did Mr. Gosse have his life insured ten years WITHOUT ACTUAL COST, but he has received a round $1,000.00 POSITIVE GAIN OF 100 PER CENT.

REV. MILTON WALDO. Of Watkins, N.Y., purchased an $1000 10 year Endowment Policy for $1,000 in 1870, and paid for it by five annual installments of $200.00 each, on a total of $1,000.00. But his annual cash dividends reduced the net deposits of premiums to $1,411.66, showing the insurance for $400.00, and $411.66 for which he received a round $1,000.00 POSITIVE GAIN OF 100 PER CENT. on his $1,000.00.

REV. MILTON WALDO. Many young companies have at different times sought retroactive patronage, and got hold for a time, by insuring at low rates, or promising to pay larger dividends, while they last, than the KATIE'S LOVERS.

Katie said no more; she wavered her note, and as Sarah carried it away, she gave a little sigh over the withering of the last bright summer flower. Then she brought her work and sat down in her low chair at her mother's knee, and presently Philip came in to tea and was so silent and strange that Katie, suddenly remembering how little she had done for him of late—good, kind, helpful things—she felt that she was going away next day for—well, a century, it seemed to her just then—jumped up, after tea was over, and set the cheese-table, and challenged him to give her her revenge for that last crushing defeat sustained at his hand last week—no, the week before—perhaps longer back still—but at all events the very last time they had played together. And he, with every pulse beating and thrilling, still kept up his "mood," with his hand over his eyes, and his eyes fixed on his book, and all that he might hear her coax and plead and command by turns, and pluck at his sleeve, as she had done since she was a little child, and he was willing, alive and playful.

"But really it is perfectly impossible. I don't know how you can be so cruel, Mrs. Sherwood." And going to-morrow, too, just in the height of our gaieties! You don't evidently understand how necessary cousin Katie is to our enjoyment of everything up there at the hall. Now do send a telegram and put off this miserable visit until next week. I shall be going away then, and I can take charge of her up to town. You really must relent.

So urged and pleaded Miss Vere, supported by Mr. Walter Heathcote, whose color became very pink in his earnestness, and whose glove fingers required a good deal of attention between times. Mrs. Sherwood wished she had not delayed a day for that unpropitious dreamer. After all, what did the dress matter? It could so easily have been sent after her. But not even Miss Vere discovered the flutter.

"To-morrow! Where is the dear child! May I not say good-bye to her little girl?" "Katie would be delighted. But she is engaged—upstairs in her dressing-gown, in fact."

"Miss Vere would go to her; Mrs. Sherwood need not trouble. But Mrs. Sherwood did trouble! she had interrupted the quiet glance between Mr. Heathcote and this demonstrative cousin of Katie's, and she was not inclined for such a late visit, so she refused to see the young man's imploring look as he held open the door for her, although her heart went out to him, and she loved her Katie. She escorted Miss Vere to the pretty chamber where Katie sat with her hair spread over her shoulders—she had pulled it down as her best excuse for not seeing company with the evening dress she had closed to keep out the morning sun."

"So you are going away you naughty child, and leaving us disappointed. How do you suppose Sir Ralph is to be amused, or a game of croquet won, or anything in the world carried through without you?" So Emily Vere began.

The London Post says: "It remains to be seen whether in the coming all-engrossing session on 'coercion in Ireland' and 'Irish land,' Mr. P. B. Parnell's speech, in the county of Kerry, Ireland, will this year (and for the third time) reintroduce the marriage law amendment bill, to enable all young couples to be celebrated up to 5 o'clock each afternoon."

"I should prefer not, thank you very much," decided Mrs. Sherwood, in a tone which left Emily no choice but to give in. "Katie has been really unwell these last few days."
