We call the attention of the authorities o another audacious violation of the lottery laws by "The Guelph Opera House Company Trust." We are quite satisfied that Mr. Christopher Robinson. Q.C., will not thank these lottery sharpers for their puff, and that he never pronounced their lottery legal.

A LETTER FROM LONDON.

THE INDIANS, THE LACROSSE PLAY ERS, AND THE BRITISHERS.

Libel Case—Canadian Lawyers in Eng-From an Occasional Correspondents

London, June 12, 1883. MY DEAR WORLD : I dare say your regular correspondent will keep you well posted on all matters in connection with the achievements of the Canadian lacrosse team, but there is one small matter to which I would like to direct your attention for a moment. It is this. I think it extremely unfortunate that a team of Indians accompanies the Canadian team. It is easy enough to understand why it was found necessary to bring the Indians along, but the fact of the matter is that English well-known principle of noscitur ex socus, and without troubling themselves they immediately jump at the conclusion that the Indians are Canadians, too! This, I say deliberately, after the many remarks made to your correspondent as to the composition of the two teams. It is to be hoped them. fore, that should any team visit England in the future it is highly essential that the redskins be left at home. All interest was centred on Big John, who in his costume was of far more importance to the majority of the spectators than the game itself. I am not in a position to judge exactly what impetus the visit has given to the game. Doubtless June 15 at Hurlingham will be a great day, as the Prince and Princess of Wales are to be present, and the match is marked in the Court Jour-

The weather on the whole has been extremely good for cricket. Most of the grounds are in run-getting order and some big scores have already been made. Special interest centres in the doings of Lancashire, which has already started on a brilliant season. After defeating Oxford it gained a brilliant victory over Kent and followed this up by inflicting a nine wicket defeat on Notts. To-day they began their annual Notts. To day they began their annual contest with the M.C.C. The match stands thus: M.C.C. 1st innings 151 and 47 for six wickets, Lancashire 1st innings 100. The M.C.C. were defeated by Norfolk by 152 runs, Yorkshire achieved a decesive vicruns. Yorkshire achieved a decesive victory over Kent by an innings and 131 runs, while Surrey easily defeated Middlesex at the Oval by ten wickets. Essex defeated Herts by an innings and 10 runs. Yorkshire and Sussex is now in progress; Sussex has made 182 in the first innings, while Yorkshire has only made 95 in its first attempt. West-minister school defeated the Lords and Commons (twelve aside) by 7 runs in the first innings. The annual inter-city match between Glasgow and Edinburgh ended in a victory for the former by an innings and 57 runs. This is the first time Glasgow has won in the history of the game. Warwick-spell of weather was experienc d here to-day to be expected, the court announced that it would take time to consider its judgment. No case has come before the court since the Tichborne case, ten years ago, that has attracted so much public attention and been watched so eagerly. The case has already been tried, and after a trial which lasted forty-three days, during which time eighty-two witnesses were called for the plaintiff and sixty-one for the defence, the jury found a verdict for the plaintiff and awarded him £5000 damages. The particular com-plaint, as Mr. Belt alleged, was that he was fourly libelled and held up to ridicule and contumely as a statute jobber and broker of other men's sculpture. The defendant now seeks to set the verdict aside on the ground of misdirection, contending that the mind of the jury was not directed to the real issue.

A case in which you are particularly interested is that involving the possession of the Mercer estate. The heading is At-torney-general versus O'Reilly, and the case is likely to come for argument before the privy council in the course of a fortnight or three weeks. I understand that Attorney-General Mowat has come over especially to argue the question on behalf of the province of Ontario, and I believe is to be assisted by Mr. Cattanach, who is also across here on business in connection with the Canada Southern railway and London International bridge company. Mr. Crooks, Q C., is in town, as also the Hon. A. N. Richards, exlieutenaat-governor of British Columbia.

Later intelligence shows the affray at the Curragh was between North Mayo and Dubin militiamen and not between the former and British troops, as at first reported. It originated in a gambling dispute during which the Mayo men called the Dublin men Careys and inviacibles. The fight lasted over an hour, each side using stones and firearms freely. effort is another matter. The party con-tected, was iniquiteus legislation, discriminating in favor of monopoly and against the agricultural interests of the country, and ought not to have been carried, and we heartily approve the action of the democratic members of the Ohie delegation in eongress in voting against that increase.

Fourth—The demecratic party is as it always has been, opposed to sumptuary legislation and unequal taxation in any form, and is in favor of the largest liberty of private conduct consistent with the public welfare and the rights of others, and of regulating the liquor traffic and providing against the evils resulting therefrom by a judi lous and properly graded license system.

resulting therefrom by a juditous and properly graded license system.

Fifth—The abuses of the present contract system our state penitentiary, by which the products of convicts are brought into competition with the products of henest labor, to the great detriment of the latter, are injurious and unwise and ought to be orrected, and the promises of the republican party to abolish this system are shown; to be false and hypocritical by its failure to do so while it has had the power regular straddle-the-fence expression of no opinion at all. The one thing we learn from it for certain is that Ohio democrats dare not in the face of the people declare for free trade. The protest against reduc-

On a question of great present important -the temperance question-the platform declares against sumptuary legislation, but in favor of a judiciary and properly graded license system. This is a concession to the advocates of high licenses, who are making a big fight in the States just now; but the words, "properly graded" may mean anything from a hundred dollars to a thousand for a license to sell spirits in Cincinnati. for instance. What is more to the purpose in this connection is that the democratic nominee for governor is Judge Hoadly, of whom political opponents say that he is best known as the advocate and defender of unrestricted whisky. This may be libel upon him, but it is what the republican press says. At all events the four planks above quoted serve to show what a democratic party convention in Ohio, after full deliberation, has to say on what are believed to be really popular questions of the day over the border. THE ALL POWERFUL MIDDLEMAN.

It seems quite easy to say off-hand that if railway rates for carriage of milk into the city were reduced, people would get their milk so much the cheaper. But that is not always the way the thing works, in fact it works very differently sometimes. The allpowerful middleman has to be reckoned with; and his plan is to pay no more to the farmer and to make no reduction to the consumer, but simply to pocket the difference himself. A good deal of New York's milk supply, the far greater portion of it, in fact, comes in by the Harlem railroad, and of the present, will bear out the assertion, vailed. An audience of French catholics fact, comes in by the Harlem railroad, and this is the story told by a New York paper: In 1879 the railroad company made a reduction of 25 per cent. on its charges for carrying milk, and neither the producer nor the consumer profited by it. An association comprising a few middlemen, which fixes the prices paid to the farmers and charged to the retail dealers and consumers, absorbed to the present, will bear out the assertion, that those communities in which female labor is most immoral. In support of this contention that those communities in which female labor is most immoral to the continuous produces of their cause. The justification of factor has done more to undermine the fabric of society, than all other causes combined; there the sanctity of the marriage of the spoils. ventions try to select popular principles of government. Bearing all this in mind, we can judge, by the doings of nominating conventions, if not of what actually are popular principles over the border, at all events of what party managers believe to be such. Last week the Ohio democrats held their convention in preparation for the state election next fall, and from the platform laid down on the occasion we queet these planks:

The performance of young Teemer of McKeesport, Pa., in the regatta at Pullman, Ill., calls to mind the manner in which Hanlan became famous. It was at the centennial in 1876 that the Canadian astonished the world by beating the foremost scullers of the day. He was then 21, but his smooth face made him look much younger and caused one old veteran-Pat. Luther, to wit .- to laugh at the idea of rowing "against a boy." The boy, however, proved himself a better man than the best of them. Teemer is even three years tion of the duties on raw wool gives us to younger than Hanlan was at Philadelphis, and if he can only stand training may well undestand that there are protectionist farbe expected to prove a world's champion.

> It does not always pay to hire cheap la bor. Two young men of excellent address, with their wives of equally good appearance, offered their services as clerks in a Missouri store. As they showed a familiarity with the business, and were willing to work for half the usual wages, the four old employees of the concern were dismissed to give place to the strangers. One dark night at the end of a month they disappeared with $9000 worth of goods.

The Sanitacy Journal for June (Edward Playter, M. D., editor), contains a number of good articles, the most noticeable being one by the editor discussing vaccination as a preventive of smallpox. The conclusion is that while vaccination affords a certain amount of protection against smallpox, yet it is not nearly so great a preventive as many believe, and that other and more rational means are to be relied on.

CHURCH GOER.

SIR: The sad death of the young man Hatchard, reported in The World of this norning, is another addition to the numerous loud calls which have been made in this city for a better regulation of street car traffic. The number of disasters resulting than once the suggestion has been thrown out in these pages. But can the thing be crowding cars in the streets of Toronto is bringing our city into unenviable notoriety. In cities many times larger than this such lamentable results are extremely rare, because the owners of street cars are compelled

The overcrowding which takes place every day on the cars in this city provokes coastant expression of tear and alarm, and there is no wonder that the public are shocked every little while by the revelation of a horror like that of Saturday on Spadina avenue.

This and all such calamities could be prevented if the city council would pass a simple by-law limiting the number of passengers to the actual carrying capacity of each car. Such a by-law should be enforced by means of a heavy fire, and the city office should be instructed to enforce it, just as they enforce a law against fat nat as they enforce a law against fa The safety of the public is a quite suffi

Out of seventy-two senators, fifty-three now owe their appointments to a single politician, and a politician who appoints, and perhaps by the very structure of the combination which he leads is compelled to appoint, on the narrowest party grounds. Both teams now enanged positions and stera hotly and well-contested pull, which cost them a great effort, the heavy-weights drew their lighter opponents over the line.

"Capt. McEnry, fearing for the result of the third and final heat, raised as objection about changing positions, claiming bad ground, etc., and after considerable discussion the lighter team, fearing that their antagonists would not some up by their respective places again, very pluckily put an end to further angument by giving them what they claimed, vis., moving the rope 5 feet. At the word the light weights went to work with energy, and after a long and well contested pull, which created great excitement and enthusiasm among the spectators, were drawn over the line.

The referee with a few well chosen words continued both teams, who faced and saluted each other in the usual manner by giving three cheers. The utmost good feeling prevaived throughou. Both teams then ret red into the fort, where an excellent repast was spread.

Bronchitis is, an inflammation of the mucous membrane of the bronchial tubes, and is one of the most common of the flummonary affections. Chronic bronchits more often occurs later in life. When a cold settles on the lungs, the disease either ends in bronchits or pneumonia. If it ends in bronchits, it usually passes off as a cold in the chest, and still the patient, does not feel entirely well. He feels tired and languid, and is incapable of taking his usual smouth of exercise, and experiences a shortnes of breath, with more or less warm in the prims of his hands. Soon after this a cough appears accompanied by an expectoration of thick musous, followed by a hectic flush, loss of flesh and strength, and night sweats continue, when the patient assumes all the appearance of having a genuine case of consumption. But this is simply catarsh of the lungs of direction of the larger bronchial tube softens, while in the smaller tubes and ar cells of the lungs the mucous membrane becomes congested, and, inflamed. There are no caylifies or turbercles in the lungs, but merely a washing away of the farge bronchial tubes, and dare the mucous which accumulates in the presente the mucous and at ignet there is a disagreeable smell. Persons thus affected are very liable to take cold, at which time the mucous becomes clear and frothy, and it is not uncommonly the case that the patient dies in one these attacks.

Kidneys, Liver and Urinary Organs

THE BEST BLOOD PURIFIER-There is only one way by which any disease can be cured, and that is by removing the cause—whatever it may be. The great medical authorities of the day declare that nearly every disease is caused by deranged kidneys or liver. To restore these therefore is the only way by which health can be secured. Here is where WARNEE'S SAFE CURE has achieved its great equitation. It acts directly upon the kidneys and er and by placing them in a healthy condition drives disease and pain from the system. For all kidney, liver and urinary trou les; for the distressing disorders of women; for malaria, and physical troubles generally, this great remedy has no equal. Beware of imp stors, imitations and concoctions said to be just as good. For disbetes ask for WARNEE'S SAFE DIABETES CURE.

Speaking of the history of journalism he said: "So far as the editors of newspapers are concerned I have not een able to discover that that most valuable body has been in existence for very nuch more than 200 years; but many of you are engaged in reporting for the newsyou are engaged in reporting for the news-paper piess, and probably are aware that you at any rate belong to a guild which may claim to be one of the most ancient of any of the institutions of the world. The profession of reporting or shorthand writing is famous in ancient history, and if during the dark ages it for a time disappeared, you are now only reviving an old profession, and reviving it with a skill and a success which perhaps were claimed by your predecessors many were claimed by your predecessors many hundred of years ago. There is an epigram in Martial which well describes the character of the reporters and shorthand writers of his day. At that time the character of reporting and shorthand writing seems to have been as high as it is now, for his words are peaking as I am in the presence of ladies, I ought perhaps to translate that passage, and the effect of it is that the hand took and the effect of it is that the hand took down the speech more rapidly almost than it could be delivered. Whether the story that Socrates' conversations were taken down in shorthand is a myth or not—and though it rests upon certain classical authority, it probably is a myth—it is beyond question that in ancient times the art of shorthand writing was greatly cultivated, that the speeches made in the Roman senate at the time of Corilline's conspiracy were reported by Cicero's desire, and that very much the same calamities fell at that time upon public men that fall upon them now. (Laughter.) Some men were like Julius Cæsar, too idle to correct their speeches, and hence they have come down to us in an and hence they have come down to us in a and hence they have come down to us in an incorrect shape. Cicero was so disgusted with the report of his speech for Milo that he wrote it out again in the form which it now comes before us. It appears therefore that all the difficulties which now best public men existed then, including that most terrible of all tasks, having to correct our own speech for the press. I allude to these facts only to remind you how ancient is shorthand writing, and that the reporters of the present day may claim to belong to one

From the Regina Leader. Mrs. Hoburg, late of Regina, now of Moose Jaw, has been fined $200, and $30 costs, and she paid her fine on the spot, indulging as she did se in good humored badinage The fact is this lady is an excellent woman of business spoiled. She might have shone as a great administrator. But she has preferred to play the part of pioneer, a restaurant keeper on the frontier, a hospitable friend of the unresting railway man. On Thursday last, Mrs. Hoburg having escaped from the hands of Captain Gries-bac, before whom she was brought, there not being sufficient evidence against her, telt good, and boasted that she "could down all the mounted police in the Northwest". She is decidedly voluble, and there is a raciness of expression which it is said many have found captivating. She has long been suspected by the police of selling liquor, but they never could catch her. Strange stories of her strange devices were in circustories of her strange devices were in circu-lation. If this is done it will do away with the probability of a deficit or surplus, as the case may be.

The mayber year counding the abduction of a little girl on Brock street last week has James Hallam.

The circular bag which she wore round her waist, and which when she went to Winnipeg or Brandon she brought back well distended. At another time one heard of a small keg dressed as an interesting baby lying asleep. Again, the disquise of a pillow on which the innocent and interesting Hoburg feelined in the photographic art. Mrs. Hoburg has many of the instincts of a great general and knew well that the way to beat an enemy is by perpetually novel tactics to defy his divination and befool his calculation by constant surprises. Last week fearing that some more curious policeman might bend over the precious baby, or might become inquisitive regarding the bustle she wore, or one more commonly gallant should seek to touch the pillow whereon her fair head had lain, she got two barrels of whisky, one marked "boef," another "beans," and to make assurance doubly sure, had them consigned to her at Pasqua in charge of one Smith. Safe were they delivered at Pasqua. And after a day had elapsed the meat and beans were about to be shipped from Pasqua to Moose Jaw, when alas I for human calculation! one of the barrels lurched, feeling no doubt a little drunk, and a freight train passing at the time struck it, when out

From the London Times Rome, June 4.—The ballot yesterday between Ricciotti Garibaldi, son of the general, who at the close of the first contest on Sunday, May 27, had polled 2200 votes, and Prince Fabrizio Colonna, who received 1500 for the vacant seat in parliament for Rome,

But when it was found that Reciott Garibaldi, who stood as a nominee of the notorious Coccapi der, was highest on the list, all other incrests combined against him. The canvas ing became most active.

An influential committee, headed by the venerable statesmen and senator, Count Mamiani, was organized to support Prince Colonna. Cocapieller's newspaper brought all the force of abusive language to bear upon the other side, with the final result that Prince Colonna returned by 5400 that Prince Colonna was returned by 5400 votes, against 3200 given to Ricciotti Gari-

The Stag Hounds of a French Duchess

Paris, June 2.—The dog show which has seen held in the Tulleries gardens during the last ten days has been a grand success There can be no denying the perfect symnetry and great strength of the pack of forty stag hounds shown by X. Baudry d'Asson, the legitimist deputy. These hounds came from M. Baudry d'Asson's kennels in La Vendee, where they are used indiscriminately for hunting the stag and the wolf. These hounds, whose musical Catarrh-A New Treatment From the Weekly (Toronto) Mail, Aug. 24. From the Weekly (Toronto) Mail, Aug. 24.

Perhaps the mest extraordinary success that has been achieved in modern medicine has been attained by the Dixon treatment for catarrh. Out of two thousand patients treated during the past sumonths fully ninety per cent have been cured of this stubborn malady. This is none the less start ling when it is remembered that not five per cent of patients presenting themselves to the regular pracjutioner are benefited, while the patent medicines and other advertised cures never record a cure at all. Starting with the claim now generally believed by the most scientific men that the disease is due to the presence of living parasites in the tissue, Mr. Dixon at once adapted his cure to their extermination—this accomplished, he claims the catarrh is practically cured and the permanency is unquestioned, as cures effected by hint two years ago are cures still. No one cless has ever exterment has ever cured catarrh. The application of the remedy catery in this manner, and no other treatment has ever cured catery. The application of the remedy is simple and can be done at home, and the present season of the year is most favorable for a speed and permanent cure, the majority of cases being cured at one treatment. Sufferers should correspond with Mr. A. H. Dixon, 305 and 307 King street west, Toronto, Canada, and enclose stamp for his treatise on cateryh.
