MAKE arrangements now for Christmas advertising space in the Guide-Advocate. Get your "copy" in each week, as we cannot undertake to handle display advertising matter received later than Tuesdays at noon.

WHY is it that the increased prices you have to charge for things you sell are justified by the rising costs and quite legitimate, while the increase which the same condition of rising cost compels the other fellow to charge for things you buy is a beastly imposition.

THERE will be morning and evening service in Trinity Church on Sunday. The Sunday school scholars will attend the morning service, which will take the form of a Thanksgiving service for victory and peace. There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion. There will be no session of the school in the afternoon.

There will also be a course in domestic science for the ladies at the same time, under the auspices of the Women's Institute. Particulars next week.

THE next time you think of sending money to the mail-order-house for Shoes just drop in and compare our prices with theirs, for the best quality. Try this for yourself. We win every time!—P. DODDS & SON.

WHILE crossing the street at the post-office corner on Saturday afternoon, Mr. Charles Mansfield was knocked down by a motor car. He was watching another vehicle and the car struck him before he could get out of the way. The young lady in charge of the car was not driving fast, but was unable to prevent the accident. Mr. Mansfield, being an old man, received quite a shaking up, but no serious results are expected from the accident.

Now that we are back to the dear old standard time, many citizens are waking up to some of the advantages they had during the daylight saving period. The citizens now need their lights on at least an hour earlier in the evening. One man, a merchant, expressed the wish that we had day-light saving in vogue both winter and summer. "It would mean a real saving in lighting at any rate," he said.

SOMEONE dropped the alleged poem about the ex-kaiser and the telephone in to the Guide-Advocate letter box. The poem has been read by almost everybody and, like the late emperor, is a back number.

BLACK and grey Milton overcoats at SWIFT'S.

REEVE FITZGERALD has received a letter from the private secretary of the Minister of Militia stating that "for the present all war trophies are being pooled and it is unlikely that the question of their distribution can be settled until after the conclusion of the war." Just the same it would be as well to keep pegging away until something is secured for Watford.

TECUMSEH CHAPTER I. O. D. E. had a very pleasant surprise last week in the form of a cheque for $25 from the County Council. Mr. W. E. Fitzgerald drew attention to the fact that the School Fair and Thrift Exhibit was entitled to this amount. The cheque was most acceptable at this time as all the available cash had been spent on yarn for the sock contest. The members of the Chapter appreciate the kindness of Mr. Fitzgerald in this matter very much.

LADIES have your next suit tailor-made. There is cut style and finish at SWIFT'S TAILORING DEPT.

THE GUIDE-ADVOCATE received this week several tons of newspaper. The increase in price on this since last year is $12.00 per ton. As we require a large sum of money to pay for this we would ask all those whose subscriptions happen to be in arrears to make payment at once. We would also appreciate the prompt renewal of those subscriptions expiring in December. Look at the label on this paper. It tells the time your subscription expires.

PHYSICIANS throughout the Continent are telling their patients that tobacco smoke is good for "flu". Or to put it another way they are advising smoking as a preventive measure. Writes one prominent physician: "Street cars should be kept open; smoking should be freely allowed. Modern medical landmarks in this matter are shattered. We are back to the things we really do know, and among them is the fact that epidemics do not go through tobacco factories."

THOMAS W. WRIGHT, who a few years ago was employed with P. Dodds & Son, died of bronchial pneumonia at a casualty clearing station in France on November 9. He enlisted at Sarnia in the 149th Band, going overseas with them, but was later transferred to "C" Company, 118th Battalion, Canadian Railway Corps. Before enlisting he conducted a grocery on Christina street, Sarnia. He was a member of Sarnia Lodge, No. 126, I. O. O. F., and also a member of Sarnia Citizens' Band and the Forest Band. He is survived by his wife and several small children.

THIS is just the kind of weather you must have warm and dry feet to insure good health. Get a new pair of our shoes and rubbers—they are the best guarantee you can get. Our prices are still lower than any store in Ontario.—P. DODDS & SON.

The Last of the Old Electric Light Plant Leaves Town

Mr. John Sharp loaded for the G. Chambers Estate last week the 100 h. p. boiler which was used by this firm in the electric light plant previous to the town obtaining Hydro. The G. Chambers Estate recently disposed of said boiler to E. Leonard & Son of London, their 100 h. p. engine to Smaud & Eckel, of Fordwich, grist mill proprietors, and a couple of small motors to W. T. Carrie of Parkhill. The shipping of the boiler cleans up the old electric light plant.

On their return they will reside on the groom's farm in Bosanquet. Their many friends join in wishing them all blessings and much joy in life's journey.

No Departmental Exams Next June

Toronto, Nov. 26.—To enable schools to make up the loss of time occasioned by the influenza epidemic, Hon. Dr. J. H. Cody, minister of education, today stated that he had decided to circularize school boards, inspectors and teachers to the effect that it will not be necessary to hold any of the departmental examinations in June next, so that the second term will be longer than it has been for several years.

The minister said he believed that with this provision and with the provisions made in the regulations for the conduct of these examinations, the ill-effects on the school work of the interruptions that have occurred may be reasonably well overcome without encroaching on the holidays of the pupils.

Death of Mrs. Christina Hall

A highly respected and much esteemed old resident of Warwick township passed away last week in the person of Mrs. Christina Hall, relict of the late Joseph Hall, who died at the residence of her only daughter, Mrs. Leslie Kenzie, Birnam, on Friday, Nov. 22nd, aged 72 years, 4 months and 7 days.

Deceased had been ill for some time with cancer of the liver and jaundice and about a year ago underwent an operation. She was born in Warwick, being the daughter of the late Wm. Thompson, and was married to the late Joseph Hall on July 12th, 1866, he predeceasing her on March 27, 1909. An eight-year-old daughter also passed away in 1885. Two sons and one daughter are left to mourn the loss of their mother, namely, William G. and John Hall and Mrs. M. L. Kenzie, all of Warwick.

The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon to Bethel cemetery. A private service was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenzie and a public service in Bethel Methodist Church, of which Mrs. Hall was a life-long member. The Rev. J. Ball, pastor of the church conducted the service, which was largely attended. The pallbearers were three grandsons, Lloyd Hall, George Hall, Russell Hall and B. Campbell, C. Patterson and E. Hawes.

Called Home

Mr. William Richardson, of Warwick, who departed this life on Friday, Nov. 22nd, spent the early part of his life in Westminster Township, moving to Warwick and settling on the farm where he died, in the year 1879. In the year 1838 he was married to Miss Jane Hodgson, of Westminster, who predeceased him on March 22nd, 1909. Three sons and one daughter now survive him:—John H., of Kerwood; George T., on the homestead; C. N., on the fourth line north, and Mrs. Samuel Detwiler, of Chesaning, Mich.

Mr. Richardson was a consistent member of the Congregational church, in early life uniting with the First Congregational Church of London, afterwards united with Zion when he moved to Warwick. He always took an active part in church and Sunday school work until declining years prevented. In politics he was a staunch Liberal of the Alexander MacKenzie and Oliver Mowatt type and has been a regular subscriber to the London Advertiser since it was started. The funeral, which took place Monday, Nov. 25th, to Bethel cemetery, was largely attended, the service being conducted by Rev. J. C. Forster, of Watford, who had many kind words to say of the Christian character of the departed, as well as an inspiring and instructive address to the living. A solo entitled "Shadows" by C. E. Smith and a duet, "Will the Circle be Unbroken" by Mr. and Mrs. George Brent were very appropriate and well rendered. The pallbearers were grandchildren and nephews of the deceased.

Among those from a distance who attended the funeral were Mrs. Samuel Detwiler, of Chesaning, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Shaver and Mr. and Mrs. Will Duncan, of Westminster.

Nurse Anabel MacKenzie Dies at St. Boniface Hospital

The death occurred at St. Boniface hospital last Saturday, November 9th, of Nurse Anabel MacKenzie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. MacKenzie, of Watford, Ont., after a short illness.

The funeral took place on Monday from Coutt's undertaking parlors to the C. N. R. station from whence the remains went east on the 3.30 p. m. train. There was a large attendance at the service which was conducted by Rev. H. Donnelly. The beautiful wreaths and flowers received marked the deep love and tender regard of her relatives and friends who mourn the loss of one whose fine, self-sacrificing qualities and sweet disposition so befitted her noble calling.

The sympathy of all goes out to the bereaved parents and family in their deep sorrow.

Besides her parents the deceased is survived by two brothers and five sisters. Mrs. W. A. Leslie, Alex., Kate and Donald reside here, and Margaret, Mary and Cameron at home in Ontario. Miss Kaue accompanied the remains east.—Winnipeg paper.

The funeral service was held at 1.30 on Thursday afternoon from her father's residence to Bethel cemetery. Rev. J. C. Forster conducted the service. The pallbearers were Messrs. Kenneth Ross, Kenneth James, Burton Campbell, Herman Cameron, George McCormick and Herbert Thompson.

Lieut. Hanna Dies

Toronto, Nov. 25.—Word has been received in this city of the death in Italy on either November 20 or 21 of Lieut. W. N. Hanna, son of Hon. W. J. Hanna, former provincial secretary of Ontario, and first Canadian food controller. Lieut. Hanna enlisted in 1916 in the infantry, was wounded, and later transferred to the Royal Air Force. As his death occurred subsequent to the conclusion of the armistice, it is presumed he was making a flight on his own account.

"IN FLANDERS' FIELDS"

In Flanders fields the poppies blow,
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly,
Scarce heard amidst the guns below.
We are the dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.

In Flanders fields,
Take up our quarrel with the foe!
To you, from falling hands, we throw
The torch. Be yours to hold it high!
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

LIEUT.-COL. JOHN MCRAE,
America's Answer

Rest ye in peace, ye Flanders dead,
The fight that ye so bravely led
We've taken up. And we will keep
True faith with you who lie asleep
With each a cross to mark his bed,
And poppies blowing overhead.
Where once his own lifeblood ran red,
So let your rest be sweet and deep
In Flanders fields.

Fear not that ye have died for naught;
The torch ye threw to us we caught,
Ten million hands will hold it high
And freedom's light shall never die
We've learned the lesson that ye taught
In Flanders fields.

R. W. LILLARD.

"Victory"

"Sleep now in peace, ye Flanders dead,
The cause for which your blood was shed
Has triumphed, and the beast of 'Might'
At last has bowed its head to 'Right.'
A tortured world, through grief and pain
Is bathed in freedom's light again.
Fear not, ye have not died in vain
In Flanders fields."

"The torch ye threw and which we caught
Has not been held aloft for naught;
The fight that ye so well begun
Is finished now and nobly won.
So 'midst the poppies sleep in peace
In Flanders fields."

HUGH RITCHIE.

Mr. Geo. Atkinson, P. & E. townline, met with what might have proved a serious accident on Tuesday last. While returning from a sale near Forest, he was run into with an automobile which attempted to pass him on the road, causing the horse to run away and doing considerable damage to the buggy and harness. George was thrown out in front of the automobile and how he escaped serious injury is a miracle.

HOW MRS. BOYD AVOIDED AN OPERATION

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well. My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."—Mrs. MARIE BOYD, 1421 5th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

Sometimes there are serious conditions where a hospital operation is the only alternative, but on the other hand so many women have been cured by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after doctors have said that an operation was necessary—every woman who wants to avoid an operation should give it a fair trial before submitting to such a trying ordeal. If complications exist, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of many years experience is at your service.

NOTE AND COMMENT

It may be comforting to know that there is a coal crisis in Germany too. Residents of the Rhine Valley, who use the river on an extensive scale both for goods and passenger traffic, are in a state of great excitement over the prospective shutting down of navigation owing to shortage of coal. The summer schedule of Rhine steamers was maintained until September 16, but since then traffic has been radically decreased and almost entirely stopped.

New York Sun: It would be interesting if the health department could discover which set of men yields most easily to the influenza—the careless careless, who try to make their conciliatory system keep them warm, or the set who go ulstered and perspiring. The inquiry need relate only to men. It has long been established that women pay no such heed to heavy clothing as men do, and that they, bare of throat and back, and wearing autumn furs only for fashion, are not easy prey to germs as their more cautious husbands. The female of the species is more husky than the male.

Catarrah Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrah deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrh deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surface of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrh Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

CHRONOLOGY OF THE GREAT WORLD WAR

STORY OF WAR TOLD IN BRIEF

Important Dates in Great World Struggle.

THE FALL OF AUTOCRACY

Close Study of the Past Four Years Shows That Democracy Won the Victory Because the Foes of Civilization Were Never Able to Drive Home a Blow at a Vital Spot.

DURING the first two weeks of last July, the Allies were facing the darkest days of the war, and the German war lords were proclaiming triumphantly that they were about to achieve the victory that would bring them the world domination, which was the Kaiser's ambition. The British troops with their "backs to the wall," to use the phrase of Field Marshal Haig, were fighting to keep the Teutons from reaching the Channel ports, and farther south, the French army struggled grimly to hold the beast back from Paris. The Allies did the Allied world dream in those terrible weeks that in less than four months, the forces of democracy would be triumphant. No prophet could have foretold that during the second week of November the armistice would be signed, which meant the complete surrender of Germany. With this collapse came the end of militarism, and the great autocrats of Europe were all overthrown. Men who, in July, believed that they were about to dominate the world were fugitives in November, fleeing from the execrations of their former subjects.

Now that the war has become history, it is interesting to look back at the important dates of the past four years and to trace the gradual growth of the emens that pointed towards the collapse that has left the Entente Allies. There were two great factors in the success of the defenders of civilization. The first was the invincibility of the British navy. At no time since August, 1914, has it failed to do all that was expected of it. Britannia drove Germany from the high seas, and slowly but surely strangled the Central Powers. The second factor was the military genius of the French. When the great armies of the Allies were finally organized, Generalissimo Foch took them in hand and by wonderful patience combined with magnificent strategy, he secured the victories on the field that finally smashed the German morale at home, which had been gradually crumbling. Political causes in the Central Powers precipitated the collapse that has left the world gasping, but it was the British navy and the French military prowess that produced these political causes.

Some persons may ask what names history will remember most distinctly in connection with the great war. The name of the Kaiser and his chief tools will be remembered with loathing. But in the nobler niches of fame may be placed the names of Generalissimo Foch, who ended the war that the Kaiser commenced, and Premier David Lloyd George, of Great Britain, the greatest single dynamic force in organizing the resources of the British Empire. Foch has also given Lloyd George the credit of having made possible the choice of the French general to command the united forces of the Allies.

Looking back over the important incidents of the war, it will be noted that the victories of the Germans were all of secondary importance. The war lords were never able to deliver a vital blow that would have given them a peace based on German ambitions. In 1914, they almost achieved a swift and complete victory. If the Allied world had realized in August of that year how close the Central Powers were to crushing the defenders of civilization, they would have known that only a miracle could save them. The miracle happened at the Marne, when Joffre and Foch broke the first onrush of the Hun. The Battle of Verdun was another attempt to score a knock-out blow; the Battle of Jutland was the big German effort to break British sea-power; the submarine warfare which the British navy handled in a manner that justified the highest faith of the Empire, looked like the strongest weapon of a pirate nation; then came the terrible offensives of the early summer of the present year. In all these life and death struggles, the Allies came out victorious. They made it certain that the ultimate destination of the Germans was downfall, and not world domination.

Even though the Central Powers could not score a decisive victory, they were able to win spectacular campaigns enough to buoy their people up with hopes of final triumph. Each summer of the war was ended by them with something that looked like a brilliant feat of arms. In the autumn of 1914, they massacred the Russian armies in East Prussia, and ended the only invasion of German soil; in 1915 the great Russian retreat, after a winter of victories against incompetent Austria, took place; in the autumn of that year little Serbia was completely crushed; in the autumn of 1916, Roumania was smashed in a swift and cruel campaign; and then followed the Russian revolution and the melting away of the cumbersome but important armies of the Slav. The Russian revolution, which was intended to create democracy, brought forth Bolshevism, the most important menace that modern civilization has met since the dawn of the world's history.

The defection of Russia brought another black period in the affairs of the Allies, but this was offset by the coming into the war of the United States, bringing with them the man-power, the morale and high ideals of the world's biggest republic. Last October, the Germans used the troops secured from Russia in an effort to knock Italy out of the war. For a week it looked as though the story of Roumania and Serbia would be repeated, but the crisis passed, and Italy more than regained her position in the two great battles of the Piave, fought in June and October of the present year. Germany found food for exultation in the failure of the Gallipoli campaign and the defeat of the British at Kut-el-Amara. The Allies met with these disasters at the hands of the Turks, but the British, with characteristic persistence, went at it again, and the brilliant victories in Mesopotamia resulted in the collapse of Turkey. It was in the east that the first signs came, about two months ago, that the Central Powers were going down to ignominious and humiliating defeat.

It is possible now to look over the war and to place our fingers on the black periods of depression, but it is also easy to follow the golden line that led to the final victory of the Allies. The ultimate good of civilization made it necessary that the Entente should win. It was a struggle between reaction and progress, and the purpose that one can trace in the minds of thoughtful men is that it was impossible for reaction to triumph in the long run. The Prussian war lords made complete plans to conquer the world, and at times it did not seem possible that they would fail, but they reckoned without the eternal purpose in history. As Hillaire Belloc said of the first Battle of the Marne, the Germans had made every calculation that the human brain could devise to make certain of victory, but "It was not to be."

The effect of the Great War on Canada has already made itself apparent. Our Dominion entered the conflict as soon as the Germans threw down the challenge of battle. Canada may be proud, chiefly because her record is the record of the Canadian people. They rose to the call, and gave of their money and their young life in the cause of civilization. To our armies history will give the credit of several of the most vital victories on the Western front. History will doubtless also say of the Dominion that the great mass of Canadian citizens proved true to their loftiest ideals of devotion and self-sacrifice. If we did not have the inspiring leadership that guided some people, like the Greeks, almost unwillingly to do their duty, that fact makes the achievement of the Canadian people all the more notable. History will say that in this struggle our young nation found its soul.

Pills for Nervous Troubles.—The stomach is the centre of the nervous system, and when the stomach suspends healthy action the result is manifest in disturbances of the nerves. If allowed to persist, nervous debility, a dangerous ailment, may ensue. The first consideration is to restore the stomach to proper action, and there is no readier remedy for this than Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. Thousands can attest the virtue of these pills in curing nervous disorders.

VINOL MAKES GOOD BLOOD

Positive—Convincing Proof

Many so-called remedies for anaemia are only so in name. Their makers are afraid to prove their claims by telling what their medicines contain. The only way to be honest with the people is to let them know what they are paying for. Here is the Vinol formula. When the doctor knows what a medicine contains, it ceases to be a "patent" medicine.

It Cod Liver and Beef Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptones, Iron and Ammonium Citrate, Lime and Soda Glycero-phosphates, Casein.

Any doctor will tell you that the ingredients of Vinol, as named above, will enrich the blood and banish anaemia and create strength. When the blood is pure and rich and red, the body is strong and robust.

You can prove this at our expense because your money will be returned if Vinol does not improve your health.

Get the Habit of Buying Thrift Stamps

Canadians are to have every possible encouragement from the Government to exercise thrift and the money-saving habit. The next campaign to be launched is the "war saving certificate and thrift stamp," which should make a general appeal to old and young, people of all classes and conditions of income. The thrift stamp offers a splendid opportunity to take care of small coin. Thrift stamp cards are to be issued containing sixteen squares each. A thrift stamp can be purchased for 25 cents and when the card is all filled up it can be exchanged for a five-dollar war savings certificate. Five-dollar war savings certificates, to mature in five years, will also be purchasable after the end of December in banking institutions, railway stations, etc., for four dollars. This means that four dollars invested in a war saving certificate any time in December will earn $1 in interest by the end of five years.

SQUIBS, BY "DAD"

The Sinn Fein might as well come in now and make it unanimous.

The ex-Kaiser did not know that the war was loaded.

The German "high command" now holds the world's altitude record.

German "headquarters" appears to have lost its head.

"Sneeze to me only with thine eyes," has been passed by the song censor.

Even David Harum would hesitate about swapping a good horse for a spavined kingdom.

A Toronto judge has been called upon to decide whether chiropody is a profession or a calling. He will consult Bunyan's works before giving a decision.

Mrs. Hohenzollern told William weeks ago what was going to happen, but like many other stubborn husbands he would not listen to reason.

One of the distressing features of an early peace is the fact that it may be accomplished before some of the junior officers have acquired the art of properly adjusting their puttees.

For sale—Several desirable residence properties in exclusive residential district, completely furnished; owner left country. Apply W. Hohenzollern, Somewhere in Europe.

It may be found on examination that the crown relinquished by the Kaiser was made of the same material as the cups that he presented to American yacht clubs.

On being asked if he would like a commission a smart young Jewish recruit replied that as he had no idea how many Germans he would kill he would prefer a straight salary to a commission.

In the event of the Kaiser being consigned to St. Helena, the quarters formerly occupied by the great Napoleon would have to be enlarged. Each of the "safety six" would expect to be provided with a suite.

Toronto Markets

The market is gaining strength almost every day.

There was never a better outlook for cattle trade than at present.

Greater shipments of meats to Europe will now be made.

Stockers and feeders are soaring in value.

Pigs are about $1.50 per hundred-weight above the levels of ten days ago.

Lambs are high, but may decline quickly.

Sheep are selling around $10.50 and $11 to the abattoirs, but higher prices are being paid for choice breeding ewes.

The hog market is strong, despite the fact that the buyers are trying to bring about a decline of 25 cents.

Mondays market was the best in three weeks.

Tuesday's market was slightly stronger than Mondays in spots.

The markets will likely advance for some time.

The Englishman

(Published by request.)

In the following poem the name "Englishman" does not mean a native of England but a "Briton," the former word being used to complete the rhyme.

There's a land that bears a world-known name,
Tho' 'tis but a little spot,
'Tis the first on the blazing scroll of fame,
And who shall ever it forget;
Of the deathless ones who shine and live
In arms, in arts, in song,
The brightest that the whole world can give
To that little land belongs.
'Tis the star of the earth, deny it who can,
Is the island home of an Englishman.

There's a flag that waves o'er every sea,
No matter when or where;
And to treat that flag as augur but the free,
Is more than the strongest dare;
For the lion spirits that tread the deck,
Have carried the palm of the brave,
And that flag may sink o'er a shot-torn wreck,
But never float o'er a slave;
It's honor is stainless, deny it who can,
Is the flag of a true-born Englishman.

There's a heart that leaps with burning glow,
The wronged and the weak to defend;
That strikes as soon for a trampled foe
As it does for a soul-bound friend;
It nurtures a deep and honest love
The passions of faith and of pride,
And it veers with the fondness of a dove,
To the light of its own fireside:
'Tis a rich, rough gem, deny it who can,
Is the heart of a true-born Englishman.

The Briton may traverse the pole or the zone,
And boldly claim his right;
For he calls such a vast domain his own,
That the sun never sets on his might;
Let the haughty stranger seek to know,
The place of his home and his birth,
And a flush will run from cheek to brow
While he tells of his native earth.
'Tis a glorious charter, deny it who can,
That's breathed in the words "I'm an Englishman."

Sapper Gordon L. Brown

Sapper Gordon L. Brown, of Arkona, Ont., was killed in action on November 6, while operating in the Mons sector in France. Sapper Brown was born in Theford, Ont., in October, 1896. He completed his studies at the Watford High School and later joined the staff of the Molson's Bank at Hamilton, at which point he was a member of the Centennial Methodist Church. On leaving for overseas two years ago, he was attached to the 149th Battalion (Lambton), but on reaching England arranged for a transfer to an engineering division in order that he might serve with his brother, Fred R. Brown. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John George Brown, of Arkona, and four brothers, Albert W., John L., merchants, Arkona; George N. of this city, and 2nd Corp. Sapper Fred R. Brown, who at present is confined to a military hospital in Duxton, Eng., through wounds received some four months ago.—Toronto Globe.

Final Figures in Victory Loan, Lambton County.

Sarnia, Nov. 22.—The grand total for the Victory Loan in Lambton has reached $4,200,850, or nearly $2,000,000 more than was asked from the county. Of the ten districts in the county six won flags and four fell short of the objective. Sarnia headed the list with a flag and three crowns, and Plympton, Enniskillen and Brooke townships came next with two crowns. Moore, Sombra, Dawn and Euphemia all fell short of the objective. The following figures show how each division stands: Sarnia, $1,939,250; Moore, $201,350; Sombra, $71,200; Plympton, $379,550; Enniskillen, $493,950; Dawn, $65,800; Bosanquet, $275,400; Warwick, $353,950; Brooke, $331,000; Euphemia, $85,050.

INFLUENZA HAS LATER DANGERS

Particular Care Needed When Patient is Convalescent, Says Expert.

The influenza convalescent who has appeared recovered from the disease and is yet in a strangely weak and depressed condition should be the object of particular care, according to Dr. Louis I. Harris, director of the Bureau of Preventable Diseases of the New York Health Department. In the opinion of Dr. Harris the after care of the influenza patient is most important. The cooperation of the patient, coupled with the willingness to see that the weakness and depression are a part of the illness, though coming after the disease itself has spent its force, is a big factor in effecting a complete return to full health. On the other hand, the determination to ignore this debilitated condition and to fight against it, will Dr. Harris says, frequently bring serious consequences upon the patient.

AFTER EFFECTS BAD

"The subjects of the after effects of influenza," said Dr. Harris, "is one of particular interest to the scientist at the present time."

"First, and perhaps the most momentous condition to be considered is the striking depression, mental, nervous, and physical, complained of by most patients. Those attacked by the disease with moderate severity are almost always afflicted with this depression, which should be recognized and dealt with. Those who have had mild cases of the epidemic are little affected by depression, and their quick return to health and strength gives rise to the belief that influenza is trivial. On the contrary, influenza, in its after effects is anything but trivial, and calls for the application of rules of common sense and sanitation which are the fruit of years of experience."

"Tonic treatment, well chosen diet, and great care in not becoming over-tired or allowing the body to be chilled are necessary. Eggs may be eaten, but not more than two a day, for the average adult. Of course it must be remembered that in many cases this disease tends to direct its force against the kidneys, and therefore we instruct patients to avoid eating a great amount of meat, eggs, or beef extracts. Eggs, soft boiled, poached or beaten, raw, are advisable in limited number. The raw eggs should always be well agitated before taking."

WHEN GOOD FOOD IS BAD

"With milk and eggs as a foundation the patient should eat good nourishing food, including meat, fish and vegetables, simply prepared. Frying, for instance, is out of the question. Good food prepared in an unassimilable manner becomes bad food; especially is this to be noted in cases of convalescence from influenza, for the disease often manifests itself in vomiting, and in intestinal and gastric disturbances, and it is important not to weaken the digestive function by the eating of poorly prepared food in ill-advised quantities. The quantitative distribution of foodstuffs should be so adjusted as not to overtax the stomach, but the patient should eat generously and frequently."

As a tonic to build up the blood and stimulate the shattered nerves, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are unsurpassed. These pills actually make new, rich, red blood, which reaches every organ and every nerve in the body, improves the appetite, strengthens digestion and drives away the feeling of weariness and depression always following an attack of influenza. Those who give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial will be amply repaid by the new health and strength this tonic medicine always gives.

Next Sunday, 10.30 a.m. in the Methodist Church his subject will be "Three Inestimable Treasures," and at 7 p.m. in Baptist Church, "Conversion" will be his theme. DEEM PICTURE OUT OF PLACE

British Authorities Request Removal of Kaiser's Portrait From Tonga King's Palace.

Germany's interesting relations with the little kingdom of Tonga in the South Pacific are recalled by recent incidents there. A few years back life-size portrait of the Kaiser mounted within a massive gilt frame was presented by the German government to King George Tuboa II, the present ruler of the archipelago. Forthwith this picture adorned the walls of the wooden palace at Nukualofa, the capital of the kingdom. Germans—who, shortly before the war, were rather conspicuous in Tonga—were wont to admire the painting when they came to pay their respects to King George. Moreover, Jose at hand were busts of Emperor Frederick of Germany and Prince von Bismarck. So delightfully informal in many ways is the Tongan court that the busts did excellent service as hat racks on festive occasions. But not so with the present from the "All Highest." But alas for the big picture of the Kaiser in little Tonga! After the war had been in progress for some time the fact of its existence and whereabouts came within the purview of the British government and that government requested the Tongan government to remove it from the palace. The pith of this request was that Tonga is a British protectorate. But notwithstanding Tonga is a British protectorate it is the last independent kingdom in the Pacific and it prides itself on having not only a monarch but a cabinet and a parliament.—New York World.

HISTORY WROUGHT IN STONE

Marvels of French Architecture Which the Unconquered Hordes of Germany Would Destroy.

In architecture France is supreme. It well may be said that without France there would have been no Gothic architecture. The cathedrals of France are absolutely unrivaled, says Cass Gilbert in the World's Work. One has only to mention the names of Notre Dame de Paris, Bourges, Reims, Chartres, Rouen, Amiens, Beauvais and Coutances to bring up memories of miracles of creative design which no words can fittingly characterize or describe.

Wonders of constructive ingenuity they are, they have a yet more supreme significance as evidence of the refinement and taste of a people instinct with emotion and ennobled by idealism in its most exalted phase. These great buildings give expression to the spiritual aspirations of a great people.

They are constructions of superb scale and fascinating beauty, embellished by tracery and arabesque, carving and inlay, stained glass, tapestry, bronze and iron of marvelous craftsmanship and exquisite design. They are the product of a thousand years of faultless taste, the contribution of innumerable thousands of craftsmen devoted to the glory of God and the love of France. And it is this glorious nation that the hordes of Germany would destroy.

Within Sound of the Guns.

A new sound arose in the darkness, a sound which held for me a thrill as vital and incomparably more alluring than the hint of distant battle. It rose slowly, a rich, mellow undulation, which stirred every fiber, and then quavered, descended and broke off. We stood motionless, listening with all our ears, and again it came, unmistakably, from the depths of the misty woods. My companion smiled at me in triumph. His first surprise had come off promptly, even ahead of time, for it was only now growing dusk. We could see in imagination the drooped tail, the hollow-checked muzzle raised skyward—a wolf uttering that cry which of all sounds is most symbolic of the northern wilderness; unburled plaintive and lugubrious. I could not believe my ears, that here in the heart of France, within sound of the guns at the front, I had heard the voice of a wild wolf—William Beebe in Atlantic.

Use Found for Opera Hats.

From a French inventor comes an advertising sign in which an opera hat is its housing. The sides of the hat are cut so that letters are removed that spell out the words of the sign. These letter holes are covered over with a thin light fabric of the same color as the hat. When unlighted the letters remain invisible, but with one or more battery lamps placed inside and lighted, the hat becomes a conspicuous advertisement. The batteries may be carried in the pocket and wired under the coat to the neck and up to the hat over the hair on the back of the head. The current can be flashed on and off with a switch in the coat pocket. This is a real novelty in advertising signs and one which would be sure to attract attention.—Popular Science Monthly.

To Avoid and Relieve Influenza

BY DR. FRANKLIN DUANE.

Many people have been frightened by what they have read or heard of influenza. The more you fear the disease, the surer you are to get it. Go right about your business and forget it. As the disease is spread principally by contact thru sneezing, coughing or spitting, many health authorities have advised that everyone wear a gauze, which is daily washed and saturated with a one to five hundred solution of zinc sulphate in water, and then dried before wearing over the nose and mouth. You should avoid crowds, common drinking cups and public towels. Keep your strength up by taking lots of exercise in the open air and plenty of nourishing food. If you have any of such symptoms as chilliness, nasal obstructions, flushed face, headache, feverishness, restlessness, weakness, or irritating cough, give up work at once and go to bed. This will save your strength to help overcome the disease. Put your feet in hot water for fifteen minutes. Thoroughly loosen the bowels with some such mild and non-irritating physic as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Drink principally of hot lemonade and then cover up with plenty of clothes in bed so as to get a good sweat. When sweating is free and the fever reduced take a dose of two Anuric Tablets every four hours, followed by drinking at least a glass or two of hot water. Anuric Tablets help quickly to relieve the soreness of the muscles and bones from which most patients complain and help the kidneys flush out the poisons. To relieve nasal obstructions and excessive discharge from the nose, probably nothing is better than such a mild, soothing, antiseptic wash as Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It will give great relief. Employed as a gargle, in same strength as made up for use in the nose, and as hot as can be borne, it quickly arrests soreness and dryness in the throat. Influenza weakens the patient's resistance to disease, so that there is danger of bronchitis and pneumonia developing. To combat this tendency and fortify the patient's strength insist that he keep in bed at least two days. Probably nothing will at this stage hasten the recovery and strengthen the patient more than an iron tonic tablet called "Ironic" or that well known herbal tonic, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which has been used by thousands in the past two generations.

Where is Gott?

Wilhelm must be wondering where Gott is these days. At one time it was "Gott and me," then "me and Gott," now it is just "me." One is reminded of the story recorded in the 17th chapter of 1st Kings, in which the prophets of Baal were confuted; And they took the bullock which was given them, and they dressed it, and called on the name of Baal from morning even until noon saying, "O Baal, hear us." But there was no voice, nor any that answered. And they leaped upon the altar which was made. And it came to pass at noon, that Elijah mocked them, and, said, "Cry aloud; for he is a god, either he is talking or he is pursuing, or he is on a journey, or peradventure he sleepeth, and must be awakened." Gott is talking, or he is pursuing, or he is on a journey, or perad- ing, or he is on a journey, or perad- which the prophets of Baal were awakened. "Cry aloud, Wilhelm you are surely in need of him."

THE GUIDE-ADVOCATE

"THE BIGGEST LITTLE PAPER IN LAMBTON."

1588-1713-1815-1918

Four times in 330 years attempts to extend personal despotic sway in a world peril have been defeated. Each time Eternal Right aided by force of arms, has crushed a conqueror in his proudest hour and started a new epoch in which freedom has flourished with greater and greater power.

Philip II of Spain in 1588, tried to crown his far-flung strength by conquest of Britain. God blew and scattered his Armada, sounding the doom of a cruel Empire.

In 1713 was seen the end of Louis XIV's dream of continental dominion. Blenheim humiliated him and the peace of Utrecht, with a new map of Europe, marked his decline. Waterloo, 1815, broke Napoleon's sword and his ambition for world dictation.

And now 1918 witnesses the failure of the most murderous attack of all on human liberties. It bids with acclaim from London to Bagdad, from Bagdad to New York, the overthrow of William Hohenzollern.

In these 330 years has clearly been established as an axiom that Liberty surely triumphs, but that it must be fought for, bled for, periodically, lest mankind forget its priceless possession.

Jane's Narrow Escape

And it came to pass that, being full of years and feathers and accustomed avoider of snare, with Sunday dinner and company coming, to be considered, and turkey something to be admired only in the window of the butcher shops, the life of Jane (that's our hen) was in dire jeopardy.

For Jane was more ornamental than useful. Once she laid an egg, and like some people who have accomplished one thing in their lives, she never was good for anything practical afterwards. Therefore I sent forth a stern edict that Jane should be beheaded and furnish the piece de resistance of our Sunday company dinner. Whereupon there were wailings and lamentations in the family circle, and Jane was petted and fed more than was good for her.

Sometimes I'd relent and almost decide it could never be, then I'd happen to see the market price of turkeys and I'd steal my heart grimly against foolish sentiment. I decided I'd do the dreadful deed after all the household had retired, and taking down my old Cuban machete I went stealthily forth about 11 p.m., bent on assassination.

Softly opening the chicken house door, I struck a match, and there with matronly dignity sat Jane com- posedly on the perch.

"Jane," I said sadly, "it's all off with you. I'll be as speedy and merciful as I can, and you'll never know what happened."

Jane listened to the fowl proposition with unmoved countenance. Then she chuckled softly, as though she had solved the meaning of my nocturnal visit, and with a gesture of welcome moved over and made room for me beside her on the roost! In the face of such confiding hospitality what could I do? I chuckled the rusty old sword into the corner, stroked Jane's downy back gently and crept quietly back into the house. So far as Jane is concerned, there'll be no chicken dinner on Sunday for

Great Yield of "Spuds"

Some remarkably big yields are being heard of these days in Caradoc, as the township's banner crop of potatoes is being safely stored. Probably the best return yet is that of Alex. Lamont, the "potato king" of Mt. Carmel, who had a patch of five acres, from which over 1,600 bushels of as fine a sample as one could wish to see, were taken. The yield averaged about 320 bushels (213 bags) per acre. How is that for Middlesex, the garden spot of Canada?

Nearly every grower has had an exceedingly good yield this year, many reaching the 300-bushel-per-acre mark. In view of the poor crops reported in various parts of the province, where spuds are now comparatively scarce and high, Caradoc stands to reap a splendid financial harvest as well, and will probably take in the most potato money in its history.—Strathroy Dispatch.

GERMS MORE DEADLY THAN GERMANS.

Medical statistics reveal the startling fact that 2,462 died of consumption in Ontario last year—seven every day of the year.

It has destroyed more human life than all the wars of the universe.

One-quarter of all who die between the ages of 20 and 50 are victims of the Great White Plague.

The sad story of a once happy family has been brought to our attention. The father, ill for many months, worked away at his trade until finally, broken down completely, he had to give up. An examination proved him to be in the last stage of consumption. He lived but a short time after, leaving a legacy of disease to his four little children, all of whom were found to be infected.

Fortunately their plight was discovered in time, and they were hurried to the Queen Mary Hospital for Consumptive Children.

The frail little mother is eking out an existence as best she can—her one ray of sunshine a weekly visit to her little ones, now much improved in health.

The Queen Mary Hospital is doing a great work amongst the consumptive children—nine out of ten of the early cases may be cured if taken in time. Help is urgently needed to carry on the work. Contributions may be sent to Mr. A. E. Ames, Chairman of Finance Committee, 53 King street west, Toronto, by whom they will be gratefully acknowledged.

Death of Mrs. Peter Hagle

(From the Ann Arbor Times-News of November 2nd, 1918.)

"Mrs. Martha L. Hagle died very suddenly at her home at 1110 Oakland avenue this morning. Mrs. Hagle had sufficient ill health for some time, but not sufficient to cause her to be confined to her home, and the sudden attack which caused her death was quite unexpected.

Mrs. Hagle was born at Clarkston, Mich., December 8, 1859, so that she would have been 59 at her next birthday. At 18 years of age she married Dr. Peter Hagle of Clarkson, and for some years lived in several places in the state. For the last 19 years she had lived in Ann Arbor, save for a short time in Chelsea and much of that period she had spent with her daughter, Mrs. Alexander G. Ruthven. Besides Mrs. Ruthven she leaves a daughter, Maude Hagle, of Lansing, and a son, Lee Hagle of Detroit. Mrs. Hagle's lovable character and kindly ways will make her loss keenly felt among her many friends, both in this city and elsewhere.

Services, to which her friends are invited, will be held at 9 o'clock Monday at 1110 Oakland avenue, the Rev. A. W. Sialker officiating. Burial services will be at Clarkston, Mich., in the afternoon.

A VALUABLE MEDICINE FOR THE BABY

Baby's Own Tablets are a valuable medicine for all little ones. They are a mild but thorough laxative which never fail to regulate the bowels and stomach; drive out constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers; banish colic and worms and make teething easy. Concerning them Mrs. S. P. Moulton, St. Stephen, N. B., writes:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets for a long time and find them a most effective and valuable medicine. I would not be without them." Badges For Food Production Service

The Organization of Resources Committee, representing the Ontario Government and Legislature in their plans for encouraging the production of food as a war-time service, has had prepared a Food production Service Badge for awarding to children and others who have done good work during the past season. It offers the badge to War production Clubs, Agricultural and Horticultural Societies, Resources Committee Branches, School Boards, Teachers, Women's Institutes, Sunday School Clubs, or any other group of responsible persons, at a fraction of its cost for distribution locally at public meetings. In the distribution of these badges the purposes are:—To commemorate the splendid response made throughout Ontario to the Empire's call for increased production in the season of 1918; to stimulate community interest in local achievement; to recognize deserving effort in National service, and to encourage a continuance of the work next year and as long as the world's need of food is urgent. The badge may be awarded for other services besides gardening. Boys or girls who have helped materially in farm work during their holidays; those who have worked with their parents in a worth-while home garden scheme, or those who have raised poultry or produced pork will also be entitled to the badge. The badge, a sample which may be seen at this office, will be cherished in after years as a very interesting war-time souvenir.
