Will of Mrs Delancy Harris

Some weeks ago we published a statement that Mrs. Delancy Harris had bequeathed legacies to the Providence Methodist church and to the Church of England in this town. It now transpires that the property owned by Mrs. Harris previous to her marriage to the late Mr. Harris reverts to legacies by a former marriage.

...A representative of one of the legatees has handed us a copy of the will and corresponding thereon which we publish for the benefit and information of those interested.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE LATE MRS. HARRIS.

I, Mary E. Harris, of Bridgetown, in the County of Annapolis, in the Province of Nova Scotia, widow, do make, publish and declare this to be my last Will and Testament, hereby revoking all former wills, by me at any time heretofore made.

First—I hereby appoint Orlando T. Daniels, of Bridgetown, in the County of Annapolis, Barrister-at-Law, Executor of this my last will and Testament.

Second—I will, devise and bequeath unto Irene Balcom, Mary Balcom and Fats Balcom, children of Fenwick Balcom and Annie Balcom, the sum of Fifty dollars each.

Third—I will, devise and bequeath unto Fenwick Harris the sum of Fifty dollars.

Fourth—I will, devise and bequeath unto William Grant the sum of Two hundred dollars.

Fifth—I will, devise and bequeath unto the Trustees of the Providence Methodist Church at Bridgetown, the sum of Five Hundred dollars.

Sixth—I will, devise and bequeath unto the Rector, Wardens and Vestry of the Parish of Saint James, the sum of Two Hundred dollars for the endowment of said Parish.

In Witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand this twentieth day of January, in the year one thousand nine hundred and six.

MARY E. HARRIS.

Rev. Ernest Underwood,
Bridgetown, N. S.

Dear Sir:—

It seems that the late Mrs. Harris was originally the widow of one, Joel Baker, deceased. Mr. Baker, by the terms of his will, provided that Mrs. Harris might be at liberty to sell his real estate, and invest the same in securities. The interest arising from said securities was to be hers during her natural life. In the event of her re-marrying, she was to receive only half of the interest. I am in receipt of a letter from J. J. Ritchie, Esq., claiming $1150.00, on behalf of the Baker Estate. I enclose you a copy of his letter. I may add that no inventory has yet been taken of Mrs. Mary E. Harris' Estate, but there will be assets of between $1500.00 and $1600.00. If the Joel Baker Estate succeeds in their claim, the Harris Estate will be able to pay only a fraction of the legacies bequeathed by Mrs. Harris.

Yours truly,
O. T. DANIELS.

O. T. Daniels, Esq., K. C.,
Bridgetown, N. S.

Dear Sir:—

On behalf of Mr. James D. Harris, surviving Executor of Joel Baker, I call upon you as Executor of Mrs. Delancy Harris for payment of $1150.00. This money belongs to the Estate of Baker, and was in the hands of Mrs. Harris at the time of her death.

An early reply as to what you propose to do in this matter will oblige.

Yours truly,
J. J. Ritchie.

Shipbuilding in Bridgetown in the Forties and Later

Some Facts Regarding Early Shipbuilding Entertainingly Described by a well-known Citizen and Former Newspaper Man for Monitor Readers.

To the Editor of the Monitor:—

We are endeavoring in some measure to fulfil the promise made you regarding the vessels built here half a century or more ago. As our own knowledge extends back only about forty-five years, we had to get some of the older residents of the place, who were then in active business, to assist us. We found such a man in the person of Mr. William Miller, now a man eighty-five years of age, with mind as clear as if but fifty, his memory still retaining all its vigor and who in conversation with you on any subject shows himself to be an intelligent reader of instructive works and periodicals. I spent last Sunday afternoon with Mr. Miller and wife at their home in Clarence, where we were conveyed by our good friend, Mr. Burton D. Neily, son-in-law of Mr. Miller. After the usual greetings, our conversation turned upon the subject of our visit, and we were not long in deciding that the object of our quest was to be gratified.

The first vessel built at Bridgetown was built by Mr. Aaron Eaton, a brigantine of about three hundred tons, carpenter's measurement. It was built in the same yard in which Mr. L. D. Shafner has built for the last ten years, the yard at that time, however, extending from what is now Queen street to the creek which flows into the river at Longmire's wharf. When the vessel was completed and launched, it received the name of her birth place, Bridgetown, and she was destined to make a record for herself as unique as that of any ever launched here or anywhere else. When ready for sea, the lines were cast off and the history of the Bridgetown commenced. Those who witnessed her departure had not long to wait for the opening chapter. When she got five miles down the river she ran ashore on a large rock, called the Morse Rock, where she hung fast until the next tide. The rock referred to above was about eighteen or twenty feet long, ten feet wide, and eight or ten feet high, a large smooth granite boulder with a slight incline on the top. So perfectly was the vessel balanced on the rock, that when the tide left her you could have driven a team of oxen under her keel. The crew left her and went ashore but remained by her all day, expecting to see her fall over any minute. When the tide returned, it floated the vessel and she went down the river unharmed. The next vessel built was by the same man and was much larger. How much, or what her rig was, we were unable to ascertain. She was named the Lambert, and was taken to St. John.

The next to commence building here was another St. John merchant, Gilbert Bent, who built a brigantine for himself and other associates. This vessel was also sailed out of St. John. The vessels referred to were built in the years eighteen forty, and no others, so far as we can learn were built here until Mr. James Hillis, of Carlton, St. John, settled among us, and started a foundry, which he ran for about ten years and then sold out to Mr. William Craig, and started a ship yard, where the fine residential home of Mr. Harry Ruggles is now situated. In this yard two vessels were constructed, one by Mr. Hillis, and one by Mr. Abram Young, father of our townsman by

Nova Scotia Gold Exhibit at JANUARY 1908

One of the most costly as well as one of the most attractive exhibits in the Mines and Metallurgy building at the Jamestown Exposition is that made by the government of the province of Nova Scotia, occupying about 600 square feet of floor space.

As a whole the exhibit is essentially mineral, the more prominent places being given the more economic products. The two great mineral resources of Nova Scotia are coal and gold, although other minerals are found in considerable quantities in various parts of the country. In spite of its importance, no Nova Scotia coal is shown. The only exhibits regarding this material are in the form of large cards which proclaim that "Nova Scotia produces over fifty per cent of the total coal output of Canada."

But the Nova Scotia gold is shown in considerable quantities, the display constituting not only the very best ever assembled. In the rear of the exhibit is a small glass case heavily protected with steel bars, containing gold in the free state valued at $4,000. There are about one hundred and twenty-five specimens in this case representing the following Nova Scotia mining interests: Brookfield, Montague District, Brookfield, Ophir, Benbow, Gold River District, and Beaver Hat.

About this case is a large gilt obelisk, representing in mass the gold which up to the present time has been mined and recorded in Nova Scotia. The representation is just $20,000,000, although it is claimed by government experts that fully as much again has been taken out unrecorded.

INDIVIDUAL EXHIBITS.
The only mines sending individual exhibits are the Boston Richardson and the Micmac, both backed almost exclusively by American (U. S.) capital. These interests have two large displays near the front of the booth. That of the former is a model, showing the method of underground mining, and a number of five specimens of auriferous quartz.

The Micmac company has a case of specimens of high assay value together with a number of gold bricks representing the quantity of gold taken from the property in the last ten years. While these bricks look small compared with the great obelisk in the rear of the booth, they represent thousands of dollars, showing by no means been idle, nor have they been working in barren soil.

OTHER MINERAL EXHIBITS.
Next in importance in Nova Scotia is the iron industry, which is well represented at the Exposition, a number of specimens of pyrite, pyrrhotite, hematite, limonite and ochre being shown. The gypsum, marble and the brick industries are given their share of exploitation. The marble display is unusually fine, and with this exhibit a number of excellent building stones are shown.

The whole display, consisting of some two hundred and fifty specimens is in charge of Prof. Harry Piers, curator of the provincial museum of Nova Scotia. It was collected in great part by C. E. Chisholm, commissioner of mines for the government of Nova Scotia, and sent to the Exposition under the personal care of Prof. Piers, by whom it was set up and arranged.

NOVA SCOTIA DAY.
Nova Scotia Day will be celebrated at the Jamestown Exposition October 24th. For this observance an elaborate and entertaining program is being arranged and it is expected that a number of officials from Nova Scotia will assist in the celebration, besides a large delegation from that country and from Canada at large.

President Tucker has received acknowledgment of practically all the invitations forwarded to the Canadian officials in which they are requested to participate in the program of the day. The replies include letters from Hon. Wilfred Laurier, Prime Minister, the Postmaster-General, the Minister of the War Department, and the Minister of Justice.

MORE THAN ENOUGH IS TOO MUCH.
To maintain health, a mature man or woman needs just enough food to repair the waste and supply energy and body heat. The habitual consumption of more food than is necessary for these purposes is the prime cause of stomach troubles, rheumatism and disorders of the kidneys. If troubled with indigestion, revise your diet, let reason and not appetite control you, and take a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will soon be all right again. Joker's Column
SILENCING A BORE.

De Mille, the playwright, was dining with a party of gentlemen some years ago, when one of the number, who had taken more wine than was good for his wits, became obnoxiously talkative. Efforts were made in many delicate ways to call the offender to order, but they seemed only to incite him to increase all chatter. Finally when it became apparent that the party must either put a stop to the foolish fellow's talk or take an adjournment, Mr. De Mille turned to him and asked if he had heard the latest parrot story. The gentleman said he had not.

"You won't take offence if I tell it?"
"How can I?" asked the victim, innocently.

"Assure me that you will not think it mean to make any personal application, and I will tell it," said the dramatist.

"Of course I won't," and the offender gave the floor to his eager attention to Mr. De Mille.

"Well," said the playwright, "the parrot sat upon his perch in one corner of the room. A bulldog, a newcomer in the household, lay in another corner.

"The new dog bounded to his feet and looked for something to seek, but, finding nothing, lay down again. The parrot clambered across to his perch.

"Sick 'em, Tiger!" he said again.

"Sick 'em, Tiger!" he said again.

"This time Tiger found something to seek. He pounced upon the parrot, tore him, shook him, and boxed him about, until the poor bird was well-nigh dead. When the dog had been calmed, he labored up to his perch, looked about the floor where his beautiful feathers lay scattered, scanned himself minutely, noted his one remaining tail-feather, and said, "I know what's the matter with me. I talk too much."

The dinner went on without further interruption.

PUZZLE CORNER
Dear Boys and Girls:
Let's the Puzzle Corner splendid! At least I think so, and I think everybody else for even some of the older folks enjoy reading the little stories. Last week one of my favorite poems was published and I am glad to know that it is some one else's favorite poem too. I would be glad to exchange post cards with Charlotte E. Dargie if I knew her address. I have 150 cards now and would exchange with two or three girls of my age. I am in the ninth grade at school and I like all of my studies. Literature, composition and algebra are my favorites. I am making a scrap book, just putting in pretty little poems and a few pictures. I think it is very amusing work for rainy days. I am enclosing one of my favorites by ————— perhaps it is a little solemn, but I like it.

Yours truly,
"MARGUERITE."

A BIT OF RARE VERSE.
Break, break, break,
On the cold gray stones, O sea!
And I would that my tongue could utter
The thoughts that arise in me.

O well for the fisherman's boy,
That he shouts with his sister at play!
O well for the sailor lad
That he sings in his boat on the bay!

And the stately ships go on
To their haven under the hill;
But O for the touch of a vanished hand,
And the sound of a voice that is still!

Break, break, break,
At the foot of thy crags, O sea!
But the tender grace of a day that is dead,
Will never come back to me.

Can any of our boys and girls tell who wrote this poem? Send along your favorite poems. We shall be glad to publish them. Be sure to copy them very correctly. Marguerite forgot to send us her correct address, otherwise we should be happy to furnish her with Charlotte Dargie's address.

MAIDEN SPEAR
A young but ambitious M. P. having long resolved upon attempting some speech which should astonish the House, at last rose solemnly, and after three loud hems, spoke as follows:

"Mr. Speaker: Have we laws, or have we no laws? If we have laws, and they are not observed, to what end were those laws made?"

So saying he sat down, his chest heaving high with conscious consequence, when another member rose and delivered his thoughts in these words:

"Mr. Speaker: Did the honorable gentleman who spoke last speak to the purpose or not to the purpose? If he did not speak to the purpose, to what purpose did he speak?"

It is needless to describe the roar of laughter with which the House was instantly shaken, or to say that the orator never spoke again in that place.

A MARTYR
A lady living on Prescott street sends me this story, which she thinks ought to appear in print, even though the laugh is on herself. The lady lately got a new girl from the district of Twillingate, and, as the young woman is strange to town ways, her mistress keeps a close eye after her. A few nights ago, the girl stayed out later than usual, and when she returned the mistress questioned her closely. "Where have you been, Martha?" she said. "I was to a meeting of the Salvation Army," she replied, "to hear Major Blank speak." "Oh, indeed, and what did the Major preach about?" "Oh! lots of things ma'am, but he said, in particular, that servant girls mean 's always to control their mistresses as their thorns sent by the good Lord for their salvation."

A DANGEROUS SYMPTOM.
When a member of Aunt Eunice Washington's family died—the family she had served with faithfulness so many years—the old woman's grief stood the cause which led to it.

"It's de same trouble took Miss Lily off-dat took her sister Marianna eight years ago," she said to a friend, wiping her eyes on her gay plaid apron. "Then I heard Dr. Benn speak 'bout 'dat vital spot'—I know Miss Lily wouldn't stay byar much longer. When dat vital spot comes out on a pesson you might jes' as well lay down your hope an' prepare for de eed."

The Militia department, through the action of Sir Frederick Borden, who has been working out the details of the scheme with the educational authorities, announces its intention of introducing a system of military drill in the schools. That certain elements of the training as regards alertness and discipline would be of benefit none would deny but should not children be trained in the arts of peace rather than of war? Are we getting the military craze?

A raid of the Halifax police on a pool-saloon establishment in connection with the races last week caused a sensation. Only one arrest was made and a moderate fine imposed, but the law had been ignored so long that the shock was great and there was a general stampede among the seventy or eighty present. It is a difficult problem to dissociate this evil from the horse-racing pastime and if accomplished no doubt the amusement will lose much of its fascination.

The commencement on our first page, regarding the early days of ship-building in Bridgetown, from the pen of Mr. J. E. Stanton, will be of interest to many of our readers. The Monitor readers would be grateful for similar contributions of reminiscences of by-gone days from anyone interested.

HARVEST FESTIVAL SERVICES.

As intimated in our last issue Harvest Festival Services were held in St. James' Church, Bridgetown, and in St. Mary's, Belvedere, on Sunday last. Willing hands had decorated both churches very tastefully and efficiently, the Altar and Sanctuary in St. Mary's Church being particularly noticeable. Unfortunately, the unpropitious weather, marred the attendance in both places. This was much to be regretted as the Rector had the somewhat unexpected assistance of the Rev. Charles R. Cumming, Rector of Weymouth, who not only preached three able and eloquent sermons, but also sang the opening "Requiem" to the Anthem in St. James' Church both morning and evening. Mr. Cumming possesses a rich and powerful baritone voice well suited to the part taken by him. We doubt if Mrs. Harry Ruggles was ever heard to better advantage than in her solo in the same Anthem. "If thou hastest the gift of God, thou wouldst have asked a drink of Me and I would have given thee living water that thou shouldst never thirst again. For the water that I will give shall be in thee a well of water springing up to everlasting life." This, coming as a response to the opening "Requiem," "O God, my soul thirsteth for Thee, my flesh longeth for Thee, in a thirsty land where no water is. I am weary crying, and my throat is dry," and the full soprano's question, "But what saith the Lord?" was very striking and effective. The rest of the music was in keeping with the services of day, which were hearty and inspiring.—CON.

A GOOD PROVISION.

One of the clauses of the prohibition bill now before the legislature provides that "every attesting magistrate of a town, city, municipality or county, shall examine on oath persons brought before them charged with drunkenness, as to the persons and places from which they obtained their liquors, and a refusal of any such accused person to answer satisfactorily to the magistrate shall be regarded as a contempt of court."

Obituary.

JEAN MUNRO HOYT.

A very sad event took place during the past week, in the death of little Jean Munro Hoyt, only daughter of Charles Hoyt, junior member of the firm of W. J. Hoyt and Son. Jean was an exceptionally beautiful child of six years, and had never had an illness. She was as well as usual, apparently, on Tuesday. On Wednesday symptoms of cholera were apparent, and on Thursday morning at three o'clock, after several hours of unconsciousness, the efforts of medical skill and loving ministrations being unavailing, she slipped quietly out into the great beyond, the little spirit freed from the power of earthly vicissitudes, though leaving a sad void in the household and in many hearts.

The funeral was held from the home on Friday afternoon, the Rev. A. S. Lew officiating. Many beautiful tributes of affection were in evidence, and the children of the mission band, of which the little one was a member, walked in the procession to the grave. One of the hymns sung "Blessed They In" was selected as a favorite of the child's.

Much sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt, and other members of their family.

EXPERT IN APPENDICITIS DIES OF SAME DISEASE.

The death of Dr. Vivian Daniel was heard of with deep regret by his friends in this town. It occurred at the Waltham Hospital, Sept. 21th, where he had undergone a severe operation for appendicitis, two weeks previous and although everything possible was done that could be by the medical staff, yet after two weeks of intense suffering he passed away on the evening of September 24th.

Dr. Daniel at one time came to Bridgetown to perform an operation for appendicitis and was considered an expert for that particular disease. Since that time he had called for himself a large practice in Watertown, Mass., where he resided. He is a brother of John Daniel, of West Roxbury, Mass., son-in-law of E. C. Young, of this town, and leaves a wife, brother and sister in Watertown.

First Sod of New Cathedral

The first sod in the foundation of All Saints cathedral, Halifax, for the diocese of Nova Scotia, was turned last week by Bishop Worrell. The sod was lifted in the exact spot where the centre of the chancel will be. Among the speakers were Governor Fraser, Bishop Worrell, Rev. Thomas Fowler, Judge Forbes and Dean Crawford. A pick and shovel for the ceremony were presented by S. M. Brookfield and company. The cost of the portion of the cathedral that will be erected in the meantime will be about $125,000.

The pick was of brass and was presented to the bishop, the shovel of brass and mahogany handle, was given to the dean, each suitably inscribed. The order of exercises was as follows:—Hymn—"The Church's One Foundation." Hymn—"We Love Thee, O Lord." Prayer.

Lounging of the sod by His Lordship Bishop Worrell, with a brass pick and spade. Tipping of the sod with the spade by the Very Reverend the Dean of Nova Scotia. Hymn.

The attendance was large and the proceedings exceedingly interesting.

WHITE-WHITMAN.

A very interesting event took place in the Baptist Church at Clarence on Wednesday, September 25th, at 7.30 p. m., when Miss Bessie Maude, daughter of William Whitman, was united in marriage to James, second son of L. G. White. The church which was crowded to overflowing had been very tastefully decorated for the occasion by the friends of the bride with golden rod, golden glow, sweet peas, asparagus fern, hydrangeas and potted plants. As Mendelssohn's wedding march was being beautifully rendered by Miss Nettie Longley, attended by Miss Mabel Leonard, the groom marched up the aisle by the side of Rev. H. H. Saunders, the officiating clergyman. The bride followed, leaning on the arm of her father, taking her place beside the groom under a beautiful floral arch, from the canopy of which was suspended a ball of white sweet peas. The bride looked charming in a pretty gown of cream crepe-de-chene, cut in princess style, with trimmings of point-de-vierge and rich applique of conventional veil of meshlin lace. Instead of the customary orange blossoms, she wore in her hair a delicate spray of fish scales and bead work, from the West Indies, and carried a shower bouquet of white astors and maiden hair fern, presented by Doctor Armstrong, of Bridgetown. After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride and groom. They were the recipients of a number of useful and appropriate wedding gifts, including silverware, glassware, pearl chain, pictures, linen, etc. The gift to the bride from the groom's father was a very pretty parlor lamp resting on a fancy stand, presented by the Misses Laura and Myrtle Foster. The parents' gift was fifty dollars, and a handsome chest was received from her brothers and sister in the West. The guest book was in charge of Mrs. (Rev.) H. H. Saunders. Mrs. White will be at home to her friends on October 8th, 9th and 10th from three to six o'clock at Mona Pine Cottage.

We are spending $5,000.00 this month to explain what the word "Constipation" means.

Constipation means NON-ACTION OF THE BOWELS. If the liver is healthy, it pours enough bile into the intestines to make the bowels move. Then, too, the bowels discharge waste matter from the body by a peculiar snake-like movement. This requires strong muscles.

When the bowel muscles are weak—when there is not sufficient bile—the bowels do not move for two, three, sometimes four and five days.

This non-action of the bowels is Constipation. Waste matter, which should leave the body, is taken up by the blood, and carried to the kidneys and skin. These organs—in a vain endeavor to throw off the poisons—are overworked. The poisoned blood, in turn, irritates the nerves, causing Headaches—Backaches—Neuralgia.

The weakened kidneys cannot rid the system of uric acid, which changes into uric acid, causing Rheumatism, Sciatica and Lumbago.

It is useless to try to cure Constipation with calomel, cascara, senna, strong purgative pills and vile-tasting mineral waters. They simply force the bowels to act by irritating the delicate membranes. Their action weakens the muscles and really does more harm than good.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" ACT ON THE LIVER—stimulate the glands—and so regulate the action of the liver that it will excrete sufficient bile to move the bowels in the normal, natural way every day.

Nothing else in the world will so surely and permanently cure Constipation.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" are made of fruit juices, intensified, with the most valuable tonics and antiseptics added. Cure yourself of Constipation by taking these wonderful liver tablets. See a box. Sent by mail if your druggist has none. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Sunday Observance in This Province

At the annual Synod meeting of the Church of England in Nova Scotia, the present duty of the citizens concerning the Lord's Day received prominent attention. In his address the Right Rev. Bishop Worrell, D. D., uttered the following wise words of warning:

"But drink is not the only evil. It was recently said by a writer in the Guardian: 'We have to thank our upper classes for setting the example which has borne such happy fruits, of ceasing to drink to excess. If they should now set a further example in the matter of Sunday observance, they will place themselves at the head of a movement which is called to make an enormous contribution to the moral and physical welfare of the nation.'"

"In this country and notably in this Province the matter of Sunday observance need cause no anxiety. It is well to have the eyes of so keen a watch dog as the Lord's Day Alliance ever observant of what goes on and ever ready to check the least movement in disregard of the law. But the best results will come from the attitude of those who are regarded as the leaders of society. If these insist on forgetting that Sunday is the Lord's Day, set apart not only for rest and refreshment, but most of all for worship, we shall find the entertainment and lurching and dining and restless week-end functions made the feature of the day, and we cannot be surprised if others less favored with this world's goods and culture will use what they find to hand and make the day one of boisterous and godless pleasure-seeking."

At a subsequent session, Rev. Archdeacon Armistead, D. D., presented the report of the Committee on Sabbath Observance. From it we glean the following items of interest:

"In Halifax there has been a decrease of Sunday work on our railway system, and the law appears to be fairly well observed in shipping circles." It was stated that there is still an amount of trading in small shops, which, unfortunately, an opportunity for the sale of intoxicants.

"In the industrial centres of Pictou county there are a number of factories still needing solution, involving Sunday labor by a number of people."

"In the Annapolis Valley and in the western part of the province the Lord's Day was reported to be well observed."

"In Cape Breton much has been done. The Dominion Iron and Steel Company has already reduced the amount of Sunday labor, and promises still further reduction. The Pictou Tram Company has also lessened the hours of Sunday travel and has made arrangements to give employees half of the Sunday for rest."

"Effort is still being made to reduce to a minimum unnecessary labor on the Lord's Day."

The Lord's Day Alliance received hearty commendation, and was commended to the support of the clergy and congregations.—M.

Dr. Lovett expects to be away for a week or ten days after the first of October. During his absence, Dr. DeBlanc, house surgeon of the Victoria General Hospital, Halifax, will attend to his practice.

The first of this week we had big rainstorms, accompanied by heavy winds, which did considerable damage to the apple crop. The blight has struck the potatoes in this vicinity, about half of their crop is effected, while others have as yet seen no cause for alarm.

The schooner Nova, reported ashore on Romer Shoals, near New York, has been hauled off and put in dry dock for temporary repairs, to enable her to proceed to her berth to discharge a cargo of lumber. She has lost rudder post, rudder and keel, with some damage to her stern. The full extent of damages cannot be ascertained until after cargo is discharged.

The prize lists of the Digby County Exhibition have been sent out. The total amount of prizes is seven hundred and fifty dollars, and all things point to a good show of stock, fruit and vegetables and in all other classes. Preparations are being made for a grand display. The Committee also intend arranging for a horse race, which never fails to draw a large crowd in Bear River. There will be hauling matches and other attractions as well. You'd better come.

What Men of Note Are Saying.

HIS EXCELLENCY EARL GREY
on the future of Canada.
"I never walk in the streets of Ottawa or along the beautiful drives of Rockcliffe Park without remembering,
and with a feeling of exaltation, that I am treading on soil which, before the close of the present century will carry the capital city of a nation of eighty millions. I never look at the buildings on Parliament Hill without a feeling of admiration for and gratitude to the old boys of 1860, who planned so bravely and so well, and I hope the example of their faith in the future of this country will animate every successive generation from the Atlantic to the Pacific."

DR. FALCONER to the People of the Maritime Provinces:
"From a purely physical point of view these provinces are a necessary
factor in the life of the Dominion, affording an outlet to the Atlantic
all the year round, which is a priceless possession and an inevitable channel for the route of the world's travel and commerce.
"They are and must remain as a necessary link in any national chain.
Remove these links and the whole chain will have to be rearranged.
"The Maritime Provinces will serve their highest function according to the quality of manhood which they contribute to the Commonwealth. Are its men disciplined, are they moral,
are they masters of themselves, are they able to show that they are greater than their material environment?"

"The very fact that the people of these provinces, though prosperous,
are not wealthy, is in their favor.
There is perhaps less likelihood here than elsewhere of the invasion of luxury. They may find it easier than others do to assert their manhood, because the climate and the soil will never enervate them by offering too easily the comforts of life. Nor need we think that this mastery comes only by supreme effort of will. It follows in the wake of homely duties honestly done.

"In these provinces we should be true to ourselves and live a life that is the most natural to ourselves.
Maintain our individuality. Let me urge you not to be over-anxious to reproduce here the same type of living which is found elsewhere. These provinces, if they live their own simple and yet busy life, will enrich the total life of the Dominion more than by seeking to follow the example of larger and wealthier provinces. The very variety of life here gives it character.
"Character is a supreme commodity which will always serve as a rate of exchange in human life, because it cannot be counterfeited and is of an essential value in itself. It is not exclusive nor, like ordinary gold, found only in certain strata. It is found wherever men live in fear of God, and in love of their fellows. As long as the springs of our people's life are fed from the rise in lofty sources of truth, obedience and reverence, and while in the dust and heat of common-
day on plains we seek to live in sympathy with Him who sat by the well of Sychar at high noon and did not dismal the outcast, we shall have a people whose face is radiant with moral health, whose eye is clear to see afar, and whose nerve will be strong to guide our nation in the way of wisdom."

HON. SYDNEY FISHER, MINIS-TER OF AGRICULTURE, says Europe's eyes are on the Dominion.
"I spent a month on the continent
this summer, and I was greatly impressed with the increase of knowledge concerning Canada, particularly in countries in which Canada has made a display at an exhibition. The displays that we are making at European exhibitions are spreading knowledge about Canada to an extent that it is hard to estimate. As a result of the display we made at Milan, I found this summer in Italy, at the post office, the intelligence offices and among the common people a knowledge concerning Canada that never existed before. This is bound to produce good results for Canada.

When a man goes across his mind to emigrate, Canada is one of the places that he considers and enquires about before leaving his native country. Manufacturers and commercial men consider Canada as a possible source of materials which they use in their business, and capitalists are found to look upon Canada with increasing interest as a field for investment. Conditions are quite different from those of the years ago, when the United States was the only part of the North American continent which the European knew anything about, and when you registered at a hotel as coming from Canada the clerk would probably ask you in what part of the United States was that.
"The Canadian display at Dublin is spoken of by everyone, from the aristocrats to the workmen. Their majesties the King and Queen visited the show when I was there, and both expressed their appreciation and pleasure at the display made by Canada."

WHY COLDS ARE DANGEROUS.
Because you have contracted ordinary colds and recovered from them without treatment of any kind, do not for a moment imagine that colds are not dangerous. Everyone knows that pneumonia and chronic catarrh
have their origin in a common cold.
Consumption is not caused by a cold,
but the cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs that would not otherwise have found lodgment. It is the same with all infectious diseases. Diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough are much more likely to be contracted when the child has a cold.
You will see from this that more readily than in a cold than in any other of the common ailments. The easiest and quickest way to cure
a cold is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The many remarkable cures effected by this preparation
have made it a staple article of trade over a large part of the world. For

SENATOR FERGUSON ON OLD AGE ANNUITIES.

Senator Ferguson in a speech delivered in Ottawa at the last session of the Senate speaking on the subject of old age annuities said:—
"The movement is from the east to the west and from the country to the city; the young move, and the old are left behind. There is no province in the Dominion of Canada suffering so much in this respect as my own province—Prince Edward Island. The trend of emigration for years was to the United States, but it is not so now. There is a great movement from Prince Edward Island to the west,
such as my honorable friend opposite described as going out from the county of Wellington. Consequently, the burden of providing for the aged falls more heavily on sections subject to a drain of this kind, and, on that account, the burden is heaviest in the country parts of the eastern provinces and of Ontario and Quebec. It is heaviest in the province of Prince Edward Island, and almost as heavy in Nova Scotia.

"The question has, therefore, more than an academic interest for me. I contend that the Dominion should give of its abundance for the economy of the old men and women in our country sections who have sent their natural supporters to do pioneer work in the west and to add to the strength and wealth of our cities.

Therefore, a true definition of thrift as I understand it, would be getting the best that can be got out of existing circumstances, and performing faithfully the duties of the hour. The average wage-earner in Canada receives about three hundred dollars a year.
I know that the cost of living is pretty high in Canada at the present time. Any person who will tell me that a man on such an income can pay rent, provide food, fit a rigorous climate such as ours, furnish food, clothing and education for his children, and, in addition to all this,
lay aside enough money to maintain himself and his wife in their old age,
must have some method of calculation
that I cannot understand. The duty of the hour is—
"To make a happy fireside clime for wrens and wife.
That's the true pathos and sublime of human life."

There are many who have done this faithfully, and yet having been bereft
of their children, or neglected by them pass their old age in want. That they are allowed to do so is, in my opinion
a national disgrace.

TO DRAMATIZE
"BLACK BEAUTY."

Boston, Sept. 21.—The first presentation of the drama "Black Beauty" is to be in the new Empire Theatre at Salem in the week beginning October 14th, and during the week there will be five matinees. Several horses will be used in the play, which is the one accepted by the directors of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to animals, in its prize contest for a trophy of $1,000.
"Black Beauty," is the famous story published and widely circulated by the Massachusetts Society. It was written by Miss Saunders, daughter of Rev. E. M. Saunders, of Halifax, N. S. Recently it was decided to widen the range of its moral usefulness by having it dramatized and sending a company all over America to play it.

WHEN JIM WAS DEAD.
When Jim was dead,
"It served him right," the nabors
said.

An' 'bused him for the life he'd led,
An' him a living thar at rest
With not a case upon his breast!
Ah! munny cruel words they sed,
When Jim was dead,
"Jee' killed himself," "Too mean ter live."

They didn't have one word ter give,
Of comfort as they hovered near!
An' gazed on Jim a-lying there!
"Thar ain't no use ter talk," they sed.
"It's better dead!"

But suddenly the room growed still,
While God's white sunshine seem'd
ter fall.
The dark place with a gleam of life,
An' o'er the dead she best-dress'd
her self.
An' with her lips close-clos'd to his,
As though he knew an' felt the lies,
She sobbed—a teughin' sight ter see—
"Ah! Jim was always good to me!"

I tell you, when that cum'd to light
It kinder set the dead man right.
An' 'round the weepin' woman they Thro'ed kindly arms of love—that day.
And mingled with her own they shed
The tenderest tears—when Jim was dead.

A man can run a store without advertising and he can wink at a girl
in the dark—but what's the use?
Wardrobe Hint.—Don't turn a dress skirt wrong side out before hanging it up, no matter how delicate a color it is. Nothing ruins the set more quickly, which is soon evidenced by the creases which creep here, there and everywhere. It's natural enough, for the outside must necessarily be made a little larger and looser than the lining, and reversing the usual order of hanging is bound to react in some unpleasant way. If the skirt is a delicate color, make a big bag of white muslin to slip it in,
while hanging up, or pin a white sheet—big enough to cover it—over it, taking care, in either case, to have the covering hang from the back or from the coat hanger instead of dragging upon the skirt itself.

"Do you know," said a Sunday School teacher, addressing a new pupil in the infant class, "that you have a soul?"
"Course I do," replied the little fellow, placing his hand over his heart, "I can feel it tick."

Among Our Neighbors

NORTH WILLIAMSTON. An interesting event took place last Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Banks, North Williamston, when their daughter, Mabel, was united in marriage to Emerson Green, of Bridgetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. H. Havelock, in the presence of a number of relatives and friends. The bride looked charming in a gown of cream cashmere and bridal veil. The bridesmaid, Miss Millie Banks, sister of the bride, was gowned in blue. Mr. Burgess Green, of Bridgetown, was best man. Miss Ruby Banks, sister of the bride, directed the wedding march. The bride was the recipient of many useful and valuable presents. We join in wishing the happy couple a long and prosperous life.

Last Tuesday evening, a number of friends met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Banks and in behalf of the Sunday School and Choir presented their daughter, Miss Mabel Banks, on the eve of her marriage with a very nice wicker rocker and china dish, and also the following address:

Dear Miss Banks:— On this the eve of an important event in your life we, your friends, wish to show you, in some measure, the esteem in which you are held. We also desire to express our wish that in the untold future which is before you the presence of the God in whom you have trusted may always be with you, increasing every joy and mitigating every sorrow so common to this life. We wish both yourself and the partner you have chosen a long and prosperous life, brighter and happier than you have ever pictured it, and may the end be only the entering into a more abundant and abiding life.

We also hope you will accept this gift as a small token of our regard and appreciation of the life you have lived among us. Last Thursday Mrs. Unice DeLaney and daughter, Miss Marjory, started for Virginia, where they intend to spend the winter with relatives.

Miss Gibson, of Dalhousie, spent a few days during the past week with Oliver DeLaney. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, of Campbelltown, N. B., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Moore. Mr. and Mrs. Ludlow Allen, of Marsville, N. B., are visiting their aunt, Mrs. A. Stevenson, and other relatives. Edward Charlton, of Spa Springs, is a visitor at the home of D. M. Charlton.

TORBROOK. Work at the iron mines is going forward at full blast. About one hundred men are employed, and more are being recruited. W. B. Foster left for Wolfville on Monday to resume his studies in the senior year of the Arts course at Acadia College. Torbrook is acquiring a name for good horses. D. E. Foster's handsome chestnut filly, Daisy Ferron, by Dr. Ferron, won first prize in the yearling roadster show at the Halifax exhibition. Robert B. J. B. Barbeau's two-year-old bay stallion, Baker, won first prize on his sucking colt, and second on his brood mare; T. B. Messenger won three firsts and one second on his three colts and brood mare.

J. E. Foster leaves on Saturday for Wolfville to enter the freshman class. He is taking the B. Sc. course.
