United Baptist Convention in Bridgetown Church.

Sixty-Sixth Annual Session and One of the Most Successful Ever Held in the Maritime Provinces—Upwards of Four Hundred Delegates From New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia in Attendance.

The United Baptist Convention of the Maritime Provinces held its annual session in Bridgetown, from Friday, the 18th inst., closing yesterday the 22nd. This was the 66th Annual Session of the Convention and was one of the most successful, profitable and enjoyable Conventions yet held.

The delegates, numbering over three hundred, began to arrive on Thursday, and the accommodations provided were taxed to the utmost, although the hospitality shown the delegates was unstinted, and every effort was made to provide for their comfort and entertainment.

The people of the Baptist congregation well sustained their reputation for socialability, and a general air of hospitality has pervaded the town, giving the strangers a good impression of our community, and expressions of pleasure by entertainers and entertained were general.

With the exception of Saturday the weather has been perfect and the town and surroundings which were new to many visitors have been enjoyed to the full.

The institution opened on Friday morning and was called to order by Rev. A. E. McPhee, of St. George. The first paper was read by Rev. J. M. Smith, subject, "The Efficient Pastor." His plea was for spiritual and a sense of guardianship in the pastor over his people. This led to general discussion of the duties of the pastor.

A paper by H.T. Cousins, F.B. D. of Newcastle, N.B., on "The Everlasting Facts and Factors of the Christian's Faith" followed.

At the afternoon session the papers presented were "The Supernatural Christ" by Rev. M.S. Richardson, M.A., of Truro and "Belief and Faith" by Rev. Dr. C. Goodspeed. These papers were followed by full discussions, in the course of which a handsome tribute was paid to the life work of the Rev. Dr. Goodspeed. Among later speakers were Dr. H. B. Grose, of Boston, editor of Missions.

The spacious church was well filled for the evening session at which the topic of the evening was "Echoes from the Baptist World Alliance." The speakers participating were Rev. J. G. Jenner, M.A., Rev. E. D. Webber B.A., Rev. F.H. Benis, M.A., Rev. J. D. Spidell, M.A., and Rev. E.E. Daley, B.A.

During the afternoon session the following officers were elected—President—Rev. J.W. Bancroft. Vice-President—Revs. F. S. Porter, New Brunswick; Rev. C.R. Freeman, Nova Scotia; Rev. J. C. Peacock, Prince Edward Island. Secretary—Treasurer—Rev. M. S. Richardson, Truro. Executive committee—Rev. P. J. Stackhouse, Wm. Smallman and W. A. White.

On Saturday at 10 a.m. the Convention proper was opened with devotional exercises followed by routine business. The choir was occupied by the moderator, Colonel D. MacLeod Vince, with Rev. J. H. MacDonald, D.D. Secretary. The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. E.M. Saunders, D.D. and Rev. Z. L. Fash.

The matter of fixing a minimum pastor's salary at $300 and parsonage was discussed with correspondence read by the secretary.

B. H. Eaton, D.C.L., resigned his position as member of the board of governors of Acadia University. Rev. J. H. MacDonald resigned his position as editor of the year book. Invitations were received from the churches in Fredericton and in Moncton, N. B., for the Convention to meet with them next year. Upon motion of Deacon J.W. Spurdin of Fredericton, the invitation of the Moncton church was accepted.

The report on obituaries was read by the Rev. R. Osgood Morris, M.A. and fitting tributes to the late Rev. J. M. Smith were read by Rev. J. M. Smith.

Boat, John Leonard Shaw, P. R. Foster, W. H. Warren, John Perry, Joshua T. Eaton, W. W. Corey, A. E. Ingram, George Howard, C. T. Phillips and to a number of lay members. Appropriate addresses were made by Rev. Dr. Cohoon and Rev. Dr. Hutchinson, with prayer by Rev. C.E. Wilson.

Rev. Moses Puryeur, of Halifax, addressed the convention on behalf of the African Baptist churches, which he represented.

THE REPORT OF FOREIGN MISSION BOARD.

The foreign mission board presented their sixty-fifth annual report through Dr. McIntyre.

During the year the foreign missionary staff in India was increased by the return to the work of Rev. Mrs. W. Higgins, and Miss Helena Blackadar, and by sending as recruits Rev. and Mrs. Gordon Barsy and Rev. Mrs. Malcolm Orchard. The present staff in India now consists of eight married couples and fifteen lady missionaries.

Rev. and Mrs. S.C. Freeman and Miss Flora Clarke have returned on furlough, while Rev. and Mrs. Glendening are to return to India this autumn. Miss Lottie Sanford retires from the staff because of ill health. New mission properties have been acquired at Vizagapatam and Somat, involving expenditure on capital account of about $15,000. The Simmes memorial chapel at Vizagapatam has been completed at a cost of $2,000. The cost has been borne by the estate of the late T.S. Simms, of St. John.

Legislation has been secured looking to the union with the convention of Ontario and Quebec and that of (Continued on page 4.)

Schooner "Emma E. Potter" Has Rough Passage

Boston, Aug. 9—Storm beaten and shorn of her sails the little British schooner "Emma E. Potter" reached port today, a week overdue from Clementsport, N. S. Capt. Andrew Walker, a veteran on the trade between Boston and the Provinces, declared it was the roughest passage he had ever made.

The vessel was so long overdue that it was feared she had been lost with her crew of six men. "There were times when it looked bad for the vessel, and we had about given up hope when we were driven into shoal water off Petit Manan," said Capt. Walker.

Capt. Walker said he left Clementsport July 22, and two days after leaving a westerly gale was encountered which made it necessary to reef the vessel down and finally to put into Machias for shelter. On the morning of the 29th the "Potter" resumed her passage, and that night she was in the grasp of the worst storm her crew had ever battled against. The vessel was so close to the shore that the sails had to be kept on in an effort to work her off. This resulted in the loss of a couple of jibs and the splitting of the foresail.

One sea broke over the vessel, starting one side of the deckload of piling, staving in the cabin windows and flooding the interior with water. The next mountain of water that broke on board flung the lifeboat from the hooks, but the grips held it and it was saved from being swept away by the sea.

When the vessel was driven toward the shore the men on board cast anchor against the rocky shore, and they were almost in despair.

The men worked frantically patching the slit foresail and bending on some light sails in place of the jibs. They finally succeeded, and then the schooner was slowly worked out of her dangerous position.

Great Race Meet and Splendid Exhibition Attractions

The great Nova Scotia Exhibition will open on August 30th, and on that afternoon there will commence a race programme for which a greater number of horses have been entered than has ever been seen in the Turf History of Nova Scotia. There are seventeen races, ninety-five different horses and a grand total of a hundred and sixty-five different entries, which include splendid specimens from the United States and the best in Eastern Canada. The races will come off daily and the programme as published will be strictly adhered to.

The aerial navigator who is to give daily air ship flights from the exhibition grounds will arrive in Halifax in a few days to prepare for his work. Flights will be made every day when the wind does not exceed twenty knots an hour and many thrilling performances will be witnessed. In addition to this there will be seven splendid vaudeville acts to be put on in front of the Grand Stand, afternoon and evening and constituting a performance unparalleled in point of merit and surpassing anything hitherto seen in Nova Scotia.

All the regular features of the Exhibition will be on a splendid scale. Bands of music will be in attendance and the rates of transportation to Halifax for the Exhibition have been arranged at exceedingly low rates.

A VALUABLE REPORT.

The report of the Canadian Forestry Convention at Quebec has just been issued, and makes a volume of one hundred and sixty pages, of addresses, papers, and discussions by Canadian and United States authorities on forestry and lumbering. All parts of Canada are embraced in the report, and all phases of the subject, commercial, educational, administrative and protective are dealt with. The resolutions passed and changes suggested in the laws are included. Persons interested may receive a copy free upon application to The Secretary Canadian Forestry Association, Canadian Building, Ottawa, Canada.

A Valuable Tree.

Thirty thousand dollars offered for one tree. Thirty thousand dollars was the sum recently offered by an Eastern Washington grower for an apple tree located near Lake Chelan. The offer was made by a syndicate which desired to propagate the tree. It was taken down by the nursery company, which will develop the fruit itself.

The tree is twenty years old and is called the Chelan. The fruit is golden yellow, and is said to be different from that of any other apple grown in Washington. It is also said to possess exceptional keeping qualities, a box having been kept in storage in Spokane for two years without any marked deterioration.

Twenty years ago, the story runs, an Indian planted a handful of apple seeds, three of which grew. The fruit of only one of the trees was good for anything. The tree is now of great size, and a profitable bearer. Last year at the national apple show at Spokane, fruit from the tree took first prize for new varieties of apples.

ST. JAMES' CHURCH SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC.

With ideal weather, the above event took place on Monday last. The rendezvous was Hampton, where Miss hostess Chute has her picnic ground neatly improved.

Although some familiar faces were missing, new ones were seen and the party was of goodly size.

With the customary sports, not to mention the very sumptuous lunch which is always a characteristic of this picnic, 5.30, the hour for leaving, came all too soon and when home was reached all felt that one more had been added to the long list of successful Sunday School picnics in connection with St. James' church.

On behalf of the staff and children the Rector wishes to thank all those who in any way contributed to the outing.—COM.

ROWDY HARVESTERS.

Sand Point, Ont., Aug. 18—Harvesters passing through here on Friday to the west were guilty of wanton rowdism. An excursion train was brought to a stop near the place by having the cars disabled, and stores were broken into and robbed. Stones were thrown at section men at work and women in the town were made the targets of insulting language. For fifteen minutes the place was in the power of the toughs. One woman drove them out of her place with a revolver, but in most cases the citizens were terrorized.

Automobile Accident at Yarmouth.

A serious accident which might have been attended with fatal results happened yesterday afternoon. Mr. Stephen Killam was riding in his year-old automobile with Miss Vera Churchill, when at the corner of Parade and Pleasant streets, he collided with a team loaded with stone. The impact was such as to throw Miss Churchill violently against the team, striking on her head. She was removed in an unconscious condition to her home on Brunswick street, where for several hours she suffered from internal hemorrhages. Last evening Miss Churchill's condition caused grave anxiety as she had suffered a concussion of the brain with a possible fracture of the skull. Miss Churchill's condition when we go to press is slightly improved and hopes are entertained that no fatal results will follow the accident.—Yarmouth Times

Lay Down to Die in Self-Made Grave

Vienna, Aug. 15—Some workmen at Grossa Warden, on the great central plain of Hungary, found the body of a girl lying in a newly-dug grave, and as life was not extinct a doctor was called and animation was restored. The girl then said that she lived in a village two hundred miles away, but had tramped the whole distance to see her soldier lover.

When she got to the barracks her sweetheart was ashamed of her because she was ragged and dust-stained, and declined to speak to her. The brown-hearted girl attempted to tramp back home, but as she had no money and had eaten nothing for three days, she decided to commit suicide and bury herself alive.

Bridgetown Boy Scouts.

Having no "hike" last Saturday, the boys of the local troop undertook an untried kind act in the form of a "Tag day" on behalf of the County Humane Institutions' Recreation Hall fund. The weather was not very favorable, rain not being conducive to people unbuttoning their coats on the streets in order to get at their pocket books. But the Scouts were not to be deterred, and as a result the fund, after paying the necessary expenses for tags, will benefit about forty-four dollars.

Saturday will be an off-day, i. e. no scouting—but the boys will please meet at headquarters on Monday evening next at 7.30, when a start will be made on the programme for the proposed entertainment. Each boy to bring a scribbler and pencil.

SMALL ATTENDANCE AT MIDDLETON RACES.

Middleton, Aug. 21—The last track meet of the season was held today at Middleton. The track was in splendid condition and the horses in good form, but the attendance was not nearly as large as usual. The first race was the 232 class trot or pace, mile heats, best three in five, purse $150.00. Lady Alice S. took first money, Harry M. second, Lady Bess third, Genevieve, fourth. Best time, 2.28. The second race was the 2.22 class trot or pace, purse $150, best three in five. Ariel Wood was first, R. W. E., second, Briar Queen third, William Mack fourth. Best time, 2.23. A baseball match was also played between Middleton and Annapolis resulting in a score of eighteen to three in favor of Middleton.

The party of British press men touring the province, arrived duly in Wolfville but were unable to carry out their plans of auto trip on Wednesday, owing to the rain and made the run through the valley in their private car by special train. During their trip through the valley they were accompanied by R. J. Messenger, president of the N. S. Fruit Growers.

Bridgetown's First Flower Show Proves a Success

F. W. Killam of the Nova Scotia Nursery, Halifax, Acting as Judge, Pronounces Collection of Annuals Finest He Has Seen.

Bridgetown held the first Flower Show ever given by any town in the Province, if the Monitor is rightly informed, on Friday and Saturday of last week, showing an enterprise well worthy of a town many times larger.

The flower growers of the County were invited to compete but responses were received only from sections immediately adjacent, yet the hall was fairly well filled with cut flowers and handsome foliage plants, some very choice specimens of the latter being exhibited. Among the finest were a japonica and a fruit-bearing orange tree, belonging to Dr. deBlois, which, though not entered for prizes, were such specimens as one would rarely see outside a hot-house. Some wonderfully fine ferns were shown, the specimen exhibited by Mrs. Fulmer taking the first prize.

Mr. F. W. Killam, of the Nova Scotia Nursery, kindly consented to come to Bridgetown to judge the exhibits. Of the annuals he said it was the finest collection he had ever seen. The arrangement of the flowers was artistic and convenient, the hall being nicely decorated with flags. The admission was only ten cents and on the opening afternoon the attendance was excellent. Unfortunately Saturday was a rainy day and kept away many who had planned on attending. Yet, notwithstanding the disadvantage of unfavorable weather the affair was a success and the promoters feel encouraged to make a Flower Show an annual institution.

The prize list was made up by subscriptions before hand. The thanks of the promoters are due Rothsay Lodge for the use of the Hall, the Bridgetown Band for music and Mr. Beckwith for electric lighting, also the ladies who contributed refreshments and Mr. Chesley for a seven quart freezer of ice-cream. The promoters are to be congratulated on the success of the exhibition, especially Mrs. I. B. Freeman with whom the idea first originated and whose assiduous efforts contributed largely to the successful issue.

About $45.00 has been added to the Cemetery Improvement Fund.

Following is the prize list:

Bridgetown Boy Scouts' Camp

A DIARY BY ONE OF THE SCOUTS
On Tuesday morning, August 1st, we met at headquarters at seven o'clock and loaded our "tuck" and baggage on the cart. The cart started out and the main body of scouts followed on Mr. Bent's hay cart. When we arrived at the foot of the mountain, we pushed on the back of the load with our staves and helped the horses to climb the steep hills. When we got to Milberry's Lake we set to work and put up the tents. By the time we had the four tents up it was time to turn in, so we all went to bed feeling pretty tired.
On Wednesday we cut pine boughs and made beds. We then put up the camp stove in the cook house. Our cook house was a little log cabin owned by Rev. Mr. Cheese. We then went to the mill and brought boards to build our dining booth. We built a frame and covered it with a sail which was lent to us by Capt Longmire. In the afternoon we went to the Bay and had a good swim and a row.
On Thursday the Beaver patrol had the cooking to do. The Cuckoos and Wild Boars made a map of the lake and surrounding country. The assistant Scoutmaster Hiltz set up a flag staff. In the afternoon we went to the Observation Tower on Young's Mountain.
On Friday morning the Wild Boars are cooks. We come to breakfast and find that we must drink burnt cocoa as a result of "pigs" for cooks. After breakfast we went to the Bay and stayed all day.
On Saturday morning we got up and tidied up our tents extra early as our friends were coming. The Cuckoos were cooks. Our friends came about ten o'clock and we all had dinner in the booth. After dinner we had a peanut scramble. The peanuts were supplied by Mr. Nuggles. Gordon Charlton won, having thirty-two peanuts. Then our friends wanted to see us swim, so we all went to the swimming hole in the Lake, where we always had a good time. We then had Indian wrestles, after this we divided into two classes for long jumping. Paul Longmire won in one and Clarence Kinney in the other. We then had high jumping, in which two of us jumped the same height. We then had running. The winners were Clarence Kinney, Rex Harlow and the Salter.
On Sunday morning we had services at camp. In the afternoon we marched to Young's Cove to church, and in the evening we had another service at the camp with about fifty people from the shore and Belleisle attending.
On Monday morning Mr. Crisp, of Hampton, came to take our pictures. He took one picture of us in front of our tents and then one of us in line formation. He then said that he would like to see how good we were at facing fire. So we lined up, but our ranks soon broke when he began to throw candy and nuts at us. He then took our pictures in swimming. In the afternoon we had a scout game in the woods.
On Tuesday we played a scout game in the morning. In the afternoon we cleaned the brush out of our tents and were then free to do as we pleased. We played quoits and went swimming. In the evening a large number of people gathered and we had a band to entertain them. The band consisted of a mouth-organ, a wash-basin for snaredrum and a tin can for a bass drum. We saluted the flag and took it down. We then went to the lake-side where we had a large fire and sang songs. After the moon came up we had Indian wrestles and other sports.
On Wednesday morning we cleared up and took down our tents. We then loaded the cart and walked down the mountain. Here we found teams to bring us home. We arrived home safely. All say that we had a fine time.

Dartmouth Lakes Claims Two Dartmouth People As Victims

(Halifax Herald, Aug. 18th.)
No accident which ever occurred on the Dartmouth Lakes, happily the scene of comparatively few fatalities has caused such widespread sorrow as that which occurred Wednesday night. The widespread popularity of the two victims, both in the prime of life, makes the loss personal to thousands in Halifax and Dartmouth.
Percy Simmonds, son of James Simmonds, Dartmouth, and Miss Nellie Burton, daughter of H.P. Burton, residing in Dartmouth, are the victims in a double drowning accident supposed to have taken place about nine o'clock Wednesday night.
About 6.30 o'clock Mr. Simmonds and Miss Burton left the Banook boat-house in a canoe with the intention of paddling up the lakes. The weather had cleared up about this time and the surface of the First Lake was fairly smooth, owing to a temporary lull in the storm. Soon the canoe was lost to sight, and its occupants being seen no more by anybody, as far as can be learned. Very few people ventured out on the lake except the campers, and they had reached their camps and made themselves comfortable for the night before Mr. Simmonds and Miss Burton met with disaster.
CANOE FOUND BY J. FRANK CROWE.
Yesterday morning J. Frank Crowe of Halifax, who is camping on the second lake, near the camp of Town Clerk Alfred Elliott, left his camp about eight o'clock to land his son on road near the ice houses in order that he might proceed to the ferry. As he neared the shore he saw a red canoe on the beach. It was lying bottom up, and had evidently been tossed by the waves against the rocks for hours as the gunwale was much chafed by contact with the rocks. Mr. Simmonds' hat was found in the canoe.
Mr. Crowe towed the canoe to Mr. Elliott's camp, telling him of his discovery. An initial on the hat gave Mr. Elliott an inkling of the truth. He and Mr. Crowe, and others who were notified as they proceeded, went to the place where the canoe had been thrown on the shore. Near this place the paddles bearing the Burton initials and Mr. Simmonds' coat were found. Papers in the pocket of the coat established the identity of the occupants of the craft.
Search was made all along the shore, but to no avail. No trace of the bodies was to be found.
FATHERS JOIN IN SEARCH.
James Simmonds and Mr. Burton, alarmed by the prolonged absence of their son and daughter, went in search of them early yesterday morning. It is not unusual for people when caught in a storm to spend the night with friends at the numerous camps on the lake. Mr. Simmonds had done this on previous occasions and Mr. Burton had hoped that his daughter had done likewise. Failing to find them elsewhere they proceeded to the "Owl's Nest," an island in the lake, where there is a club house, in which, had they been able to reach the island, the occupants of the canoe might have taken shelter. When they found that they were not there the two fathers found it impossible to longer keep up their hopes.
The response to the call for searchers was very general. Grappling irons, trawls, water glasses and other appliances were brought into requisition.
BODIES FOUND YESTERDAY AFTERNOON
The bodies were recovered yesterday afternoon between the "Owl's Nest" (the first island in the second lake) and the mainland in the deep water.
The finding of the bodies indicated that the canoe had been struck by a squall after leaving the shelter of the land. Both were expert swimmers, but apparently they could not utilize their skill in this direction.
SOMETHING ABOUT THE VICTIMS.
Mr. Simmonds, who was under forty years of age, was a prominent member of the Banook Canoe Club, past president of St. George's Lawn Tennis Club, a member of the Red Cap Snowshoe Club, and of other organizations. He was a young man of outstanding ability, a partner in the retail and wholesale hardware business of James Simmonds & Co. His firm was about to branch out into a wider field of activity and extensive building operations are in progress in Halifax to fit up their premises there. Mr. Simmonds was one of the leading workers in the conservative cause in Dartmouth. He was a young man with a very bright future. His wife, a daughter of John Allen, Dartmouth, died five or six years ago. He leaves no children.

Mr. Simmonds is survived by his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. James Simmonds, of Dartmouth, by two brothers, Ralph B. and J. Roland, and a sister, Mrs. Donald Ferguson.
Miss Burton was the daughter of H.P. Burton, of Dartmouth, who formerly engaged in the drug business at Halifax. She was one of the most popular young ladies in Dartmouth and was well-known in Halifax, where she lived until recent years. She was one of the prettiest girls in the town, and was a favorite in social circles. She was one of the most expert tennis players in the province and had won recognition in amateur theatrical circles.
Just what time the accident occurred cannot be said. Miss Burton's watch stopped at 10.45 and Mr. Simmonds' at 10.48. It is thought that the unfortunate couple had endeavored, early in the evening, to come down the lake, but decided to wait for the wind to moderate. It is surmised that they had sought shelter at the "Owl's" for a time, and there being no prospects of the wind dying down started out so as to reach the Club House before the closing hour. The place where the bodies were found was where they would get the full force of the gale after leaving the shelter of the island, and a sudden squall caused the canoe to capsize.
The sad accident has cast a gloom over the town, as both were immensely popular. This is the first summer fatality on the Lakes since the founding of the Banook Canoe Club, of which both victims were members.
Girl Homesteader Rises to Affluence
Miss Bird, who has become Big Factor in Wyoming Politics, Shows Advantages of Suffrage State.
Cheyenne, Wyo., Aug. 2—Among the western women who have "made good" in politics in those States where equal suffrage is in effect, is Miss Rose Anna Bird, Superintendent of Education and head of the State Board of Charities and Correction of Wyoming.
Less than ten years ago Miss Bird was an unknown "girl homesteader" and country school teacher on the lonely plains of Northern Wyoming. Today she is one of the political leaders of the State, her popularity being attested by the manner in which she ran ahead of her ticket in the election which put Wyoming's present administration in power.
Miss Bird is the first Wyoming woman to be elected to a post of prominence in many years. Through Wyoming was the first State to put woman suffrage in effect, comparatively few women have held office. The present General Assembly has one woman member, Mrs. Mary C. Bellamy, of Laramie, but few women lawmakers that have figured in Colorado's politics. It is said that the indifference of the women themselves has been responsible for their failure to figure more largely in the political affairs of Wyoming a claim that seems reasonable enough when one considers how cheerfully the men of the State voted Miss Bird into office after that energetic young woman man had finished her "spell-binding" tour.
In company with Governor Carey and other officials Miss Bird had just returned from a tour of the State investigating the condition of various public institution, when a request for an interview was sent to her. She is an unassuming young woman, below ordinary height and with a pleasant face. In fact, this slight girl who is so ready to smile is the antithesis of the stern faced "woman's rights" so dear to the cartoonist whose specialty is depicting types.
"In the first place, don't put me down as a suffragette," said Miss Bird, "I just don't like that word. That's all. The thing I'm proudest of is that I'm a Wyoming product through and through. I wasn't born here, but I lived in this State nearly all my life. There isn't so much to tell about my political affairs. I know what defeat means: The first time I ever tried for office I ran for county superintendent of schools in Weston county, that's my home country, up in Northeastern Wyoming, you know. I was defeated, as most democratic candidates always have been in Wyoming. But next time I tried it again and I won. That gave me a start. I always had liked politics, even in school, because I felt that when one is given political opportunities such as a woman has in Wyoming, it is wrong not to make use of them. Well, I was nominated for State Superintendent at the last State election and I was fortunate enough to win."
A STORY OF COURAGE
Behind Miss Bird's modest recital of her political success there is quite an unusual story of courage. She took up a ranch in Weston county, being one of the "girl homesteaders," whose clan has become quite numerous in the West in recent years. All her schooling had been in Wyoming, and she had been graduated with honors from the State University at Laramie. When she "staked out" her claim" she was offered the post of school teacher. In the sparsely populated district she had selected as her home. She accepted the post, though her school was five miles from her ranch. Her mother and brother helped on the homestead, and Miss Bird saved most of the small salary she received as a teacher. She interested the Wyoming of the district in politics, and organized political meetings and showed her keen interest in the subject that had been neglected by her sisters.
Wyoming is normally a republican State, but on her second attempt for the county superintendent's position Miss Bird upset the party majority in her county. In fact, she made such a phenomenal race that the State campaign managers selected her for the post she now holds when it came time to make up the slate for the election held last November. Former Senator Joseph M. Carey, a lifelong republican, was the nominee of the democratic party against the "regular" republican nominee, Senator Carey's triumph was complete, but none of his democratic supporters equalled his vote. The nearest, however, was Miss Bird who ran far enough ahead of her ticket to justify the predictions of those who had prophesied that the "girl homesteader" would prove to be one of the surprises of the election.
Miss Bird took a prominent part in the heated campaign which preceded the most exciting election Wyoming has ever known. For five weeks she accompanied throughout the State, with the other nominees and did her share of the "spell-binding."
Readers of Mrs. Wharton's, new serial in Scribner's—"Ethan Frome"—have been struck with the dramatic intensity of this tale of New England, which is told with the simplicity of a Greek tragedy.

WILY EMILY.

Little Emily had learned that certain comestibles, though most palatable, were forbidden to a five-year-old. One day she was "helping" mother prepare luncheon for company.

"Mother," she said, "that lobster salad looks most 'vithin'."

"Does it, dear?" answered her mother.

"Yes." Then, after a moment: "Mother, don't you think it would be nice if you was just to ask me to have a little at the table? You could say, 'Emily, will you have some lobster salad?'"

"Of course, if you ask me, but your asking me would look nice 'fore Mrs. Brown. Don't you think so?"

Her mother agreed, and during luncheon Emily was a model of propriety. When the salad came her mother said, "Emily, will you have some salad?"

"Hub," was the prompt response, "don't care if I do."

ON THE HONEYMOON.

She said something that rubbed him the wrong way. Seeing the look of pique in his face she cried.

"Oh, my darling, my darling! I have hurt you!"

"No, my dearest," he replied, gravely. "The hurt I feel is due to the fact that I know it hurts you to feel that you have hurt me."

"Ah, no! Do not let that hurt you for an instant. My hurt is because I know it hurts you to feel that I have hurt myself by hurting you."

"No, my precious. My hurt is because you are hurt over feeling that I am hurt because you feel that you have hurt me, and are therefore hurt yourself, and—"

Let us leave them, dear reader. They will get over it in time.

DEEP AND DRY.

A reviewer in the New York Nation illustrates his own comments on a certain new volume of essays by a story that is worth putting into circulation. Three hearers, he says, of the admired Dr. X, were talking in the vestibule after the sermon. "We must admit," remarked the first, "that the doctor dives deeper into his subject than any other preacher."

"Yes," said the second, "and stays under longer."

"And comes up drier," added the third.

The Rev. Charles H. Spurgeon's keen wit was always based on sterling common sense. One day he remarked to one of his sons:

"Can you tell me the reason why the lions didn't eat Daniel?"

"No, sir. Why was it?"

"Because the most of him was backbone and the rest was grit."

"Didn't I give you a piece of pie last week?" demanded the cooking school graduate. "I didn't expect to see you again so soon."

"I fooled you, ma'am," replied the tramp. "I didn't eat it."

Maritime Board Favors Union of Provinces

Improved Highways Between Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and the United States, Fostering Trade With West Indies, and the Inspection of Products were Matters Discussed by Maritime Board

Moncton, Aug. 16.—The seventeenth annual meeting of the Maritime Board of Trade opened in the Y.M.C.A. Hall this afternoon at half-past two with the President, Captain J.E. Masters in the chair. About fifty delegates registered during the afternoon and evening. The greater part of the afternoon and evening sessions was taken up in discussing a resolution calling upon the Governments of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia to improve the highways between the United States and Halifax via St. John, and between Campbellton and Moncton as to encourage tourist and general travel. Fostering trade with the West India Islands, and Dominion Government inspection of products passing between the Provinces were also subjects given considerable attention.

At the opening of the Convention the Board listened to reports from President Masters and Secretary Williams, and an address of welcome by Mayor Reilly. Invitations for next year's meeting of Board were read from Truro and Yarmouth, neither of which however, had delegates present.

MARITIME UNION. The first resolution considered touched on Maritime Union. It was moved by R.W. Hewson, Moncton. It reads: "That a committee of four from each Province representative of the three Provinces, memorialize the Governments of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and P. E. Island, with respect to Maritime Union, and to take such other action with a view to influencing public opinion, as shall to them seem best calculated to bring about the Union of the three Maritime Provinces."

The resolution was passed by a vote of twenty-four to eight. President Masters reported that at the request of the Board he had used his best efforts to get St. John to renew their membership with the Maritime Board, but without success. The St. John men that he had talked with informed him that they might renew membership if the local matters operating prejudicially against the different sections were eliminated, and the subjects to be brought before the Maritime Board were first passed on by the executive in order to prevent friction. This meant a change of the by-laws which had not yet been dealt with. St. John considered it would be no use to renew membership until the suggested changes were made.

IMPROVED TRADE RELATIONS. "Better trade relations with Cuba and the India Islands," was the subject of the following resolution submitted by E.B. Elderkin of Amherst. "Whereas, owing to the geographical position of the confederated Provinces of Canada, the different markets appeal to some more strongly than to others:

"Whereas, the West India Islands are large Importers of food products, manufactured articles and live stock;

"Whereas Canada through the Maritime Provinces has a direct route with the Islands;

"Whereas, up to the present time these Islands are largely supplied from the United States;

"Whereas, believing these markets can be won for Canada if persistent effort is made to keep before them the advantages of dealing with Canada.

"Therefore, resolved that this Maritime Board of Trade, in annual meeting assembled in Moncton, respectfully asks the Federal Government through the Minister of Trade and Commerce, to use every available means to win this trade, especially that of live stock, for Canada;

Further resolved that in the judgment of this Board a modern and up-to-date steamship service should be inaugurated with boats not less than twelve knots speed, and sufficient for at least fifty class passengers, and a dead weight capacity of not less than three thousand tons."

W.B. Snowball of Chatham was named as the seconder, but in his temporary absence J.A. Christie of Amherst seconded the resolution, which was favorably discussed by E.T. Higges, Charlottetown; W.S. Davidson, Halifax; Mr. Snowball, Chatham; Captain Jos. Read, Summerside; P.E.I.; F. McDougall, Moncton, and adopted unanimously.

INSPECTION OF FARM PRODUCTS

"Inspection of farm products was introduced by Captain Read, Summerside in following resolution:

SARNIA, ONT., Feb. 5th, 1910. "I have been a sufferer for the past 25 years with Constipation, Indigestion and Catarrh of The Stomach. I tried many remedies and many doctors but derived no benefit whatever. Finally I read an advertisement of "Fruit-a-lives". I decided to give "Fruit-a-lives" a trial and found they did exactly what was claimed for them. I have now taken "Fruit-a-lives" for some months and find that they are the only remedy that does me good. I have recommended "Fruit-a-lives" to a great many of my friends and I cannot praise these fruit tablets too highly." PAUL J. JONES

"Thousands now use 'Fruit-a-lives'. Thousands more will try 'Fruit-a-lives' after reading the above letter. It proves, beyond the shadow of a doubt, that at last there is a cure for Constipation and Stomach Troubles." "Fruit-a-lives" is Nature's cure for these diseases, being made of fruit juices and valuable tonics. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. products increases the value of all such articles by reason of the confidence of the buyers and consumers. "And, whereas, such inspection protects the honest and careful producer against the dishonest and careless."

"And, whereas, the inspection of certain commodities for export abroad only leaves all the inferior damaged or infected products of the farms to be used by the local consumers, thus increasing the ratio of inferior, damaged or diseased goods to go on the local market."

"And whereas, the inspection will promote more care in the production and marketing."

"And whereas, the public health of the community will be in many respects guarded by the inspector."

"Be it resolved that this Maritime Board request the Dominion Government to appoint a sufficient staff of Inspectors to inspect grain, hay, meat, products used for home consumption and traded in between the three Maritime Provinces, and Newfoundland, and also all cows, the milk of which is used for making cheese, butter, condensed milk, etc., and that the local Governments pass such laws as will protect the local consumers when and where the Dominion Government has not necessary jurisdiction."

STARTLING STATEMENT.

In moving the resolution Captain Read made the startling statement that rotten products that would not pass inspection, were shipped from his Province to Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, as the inspection did not apply to three provinces.

The resolution was seconded by E. B. Elderkin, Amherst, and adopted, after being heartily supported by W. B. Snowball, Mr. Fielding, Alberton; P. Hennessey, Mr. Staples, S.W. Miller, Newcastle; E. C. Cole, Moncton, and G. Watt, Chatham.

"Auto highway from Halifax to United States." This resolution moved by Hon. C.W. Robinson, created a great deal of discussion on the road question generally.

The resolution as finally amended reads: "That with a view to fostering tourist travel between the United States and the Maritime Provinces, the Governments of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick be memorialized by this Board to improve the highways between Campbellton and Moncton in order to make them more suitable for tourist and general travel, and that a committee of members be appointed by this Board to prepare such memorial, and take such further action as may be necessary to further this object of this resolution."

ABOUT SPIES.

Great Britain is Not Fond of Watching the Enemy.

Much twaddle is told concerning British spies. Britons dislike the word spy; it goes rather against the grain when they hear of Britishers, British officers, engaged in spying.

Yet spies are as necessary to an efficient modern navy or army as battleships, fighting men, or guns. The Russo-Japanese War was won by a network of spies covering Siberia and Manchuria. The Boer campaign would have finished in half the time if we had had a quarter the spies our now good friends had. France spends $750,000 a year on secret service; Russia 25,000 copies in France alone, and well, thousands in England, all masking their official duties by otherwise earning their living.

England is worse off as regards secret service than any other European country. Lord Charles Bessborough, a typical Briton, if ever there was one, and to him we owe our Intelligence Department. We have to spy, if only in self-defence.

Look at the Borkum affair the other day. An object lesson in fine-art spying. The Board of Admiralty had to have a plan in case Germany attacked us. They decided that Borkum Island, most westerly German territory, was the place we should have to take for a base.

By means of her spies Germany at once knew that. She started strengthening the forts. When British officers arrived to see what was going on, as we are aware, they were arrested. Everything was known; they had it all nicely wrapped up for us.

Instead of being indignant for our spying, how mildly we play the game among some of our neighbors. Pictorially, they pull our leg. A cartoon shows some "hawsers" British officers and tourists, with enormous "War Officers' notebooks. A foreign officer holds open the door of a fortress, inviting:

"Only having a little holiday look round. Well, won't you step inside—and stay?"

Some ask why naval and military officers are employed in spying, honorable and dangerous as it is. The reason is because civilian spies make a hash of military matters. Officers know what to look for, and where and what it is when they see it. A few years ago a civilian spy reported a huge bastion to protect a coming naval dockyard. An officer went over, and found the solid foundations of a sea observatory.

Then officers always keep faith. Professional spies sell to the highest bidder. If there are two bidders, they sell to one, and spoof the other. The Lords of the Admiralty were approached by a spy named Toulon, Best and Cherbourg. Carefully checked by officers, these proved to be only builders' plans, supplied to contractors for portions of the work.

Arguments against British officer spies are they lack... and disfavor tricks.

Three years ago a stalwart cyclist, with camera, pattered about observing coast defences. "On your honor, are you a British officer?" he was asked. "I was," was the reply; and he was promptly escorted out of the country.

About the same time a well-dressed gentleman presented to the sentinel of Breakwater Fort, Portland, a card which admitted him to command. Complying with the written request, the visitor was shown all over the fort. Returned to the admiral, the card was found a forgery.

Formerly all information obtained was submitted direct to Secret Intelligence Service headquarters in London. That was cumbersome; it gave facts away. Consequently, a British Government Intelligence Bureau was established in a northern capital, and there may be others. It is easier working in such than amidst hordes of foreign spies, cat-like, watching Spring Gardens and Pall Mall. There are overlooking houses in four great capitals, whence observation is kept on the British Embassies day and night.

Was It Stale?

While playing in a provincial pantomime on one occasion, Mr. C. P. Huntey, a British actor, had an amusing experience. The stage hands organized a draw for a turkey, and all the members of the company bought tickets. The turkey was won by a limelight man, but as his wife did not know how to cook it, she asked him to put it up again. This was done, and the next time it was won by a scene-shifter, who did not like turkeys, so he followed the limelight man's example, and organized another draw.

These draws went on for several weeks, and they were always being won by the stage hands, and financially supported by the actors and actresses. At last, on the concluding night of the pantomime, Mr. Huntey won the bird. By this time it had cost him a couple of pounds, and in telling the story he has said: "I took that unfortunate turkey out of the theatre, but I did not take it home; I thought it advisable to leave it at the doorstep of a local sanitary inspector!"

She Mistook Him.

W. C. Wilkinson, who for thirty-six years has been secretary of Toronto's Board of Education, prides himself on his youthful spirit and on his activeness in getting about, in spite of the fact that it was not verified that his hair turned grey. So, it's with an appreciation of the incident being at his expense that he tells of what happened to him in Ireland a couple of years ago.

Mr. Wilkinson was one of a party of about sixty on a trip through the Old Land. In a hotel at which they stayed in Killarney, the maid said to him one morning, "And how did your good wife sleep last night?" "I don't know," was the answer. "You don't know?" said the maid, "My wife is about three thousand miles away," said Mr. Wilkinson. The maid looked at him from head to foot and then said, "Oh, I beg your pardon. I took you for another little old man."

Electric Beans Are a Natural Remedy for Nerve, Stomach and Liver Disorders.

Once upon a time disease was thought to be due to direct influence of evil spirit and magic was invoked to cast it out.

Science has taught us wisdom. The evil spirits still exist we call them "Disease Germs," and they must also be cast out. Once lodged in the stomach or intestines biliousness with its aches and pains, or in fact seventy-five per cent of the ills that affect the human race, is the result.

Electric Beans are the approved remedy for driving out disease germs. Their action is quick and thorough, they clear the intestines, rouse the torpid liver to new life, stimulate mucous membranes to healthy action and cleanse and invigorate the whole digestive tract. Be prepared for emergencies by always keeping a box in the home.

See our booklet of remarkable true testimonies. Test this remedy at our risk, if it is not satisfactory we will cheerfully refund the money paid for it.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 23, 1911

The seventeenth annual session of the Maritime Board of Trade was recently held at Moncton when a number of topics of broad import were discussed.

The first resolution referred to a subject which, while not new, is gaining in interest and importance and the consummation hoped for is probably not far away. A committee of twelve, four from each of the Maritime Provinces, were appointed to memorialize the governments of the three provinces, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and P. E. I., with a view to political and commercial union.

In furtherance of the best interests of these provinces, a resolution was also passed requesting the Dominion Government to appoint a sufficient staff of inspectors to inspect farm products traded in between the three provinces and Newfoundland; and the local government to pass laws for the protection of local trade interests.

A representative of Prince Edward Island instanced the present abuse of trade intercourse between these provinces when he stated that "rotten products that would not pass inspection were shipped from his province to Nova Scotia and New Brunswick."

A modern and up-to-date steamship service, trade relations with the West Indies, and the construction of a highway for tourist travel from the States to Canada were also discussed.

To Sunday School Workers

To the Sunday School Workers:—
At the County Convention, which is to be held at Lawrencetown, Dr.
Brown, the Field Secretary, will be present and will give an address and conduct "Round Tables" on different phases of the Sunday
the blackboard.

We trust all schools in the county will be represented. Send names to Mrs. S. E. Bancroft with time of arrival and means of conveyance.

We would like to receive an offering from the schools that have not contributed toward the Provincial Fund. Will Annapolis County still retain its honor as a banner county?
In order to do this the Provincial Apportionment must be met by September 30th.

of western Canada. Rev. M. E. Fletcher has been appointed field secretary. At Bobhill the Church Hill memorial home has been completed at a cost of $2,500, nearly half of which has been given by Mrs. Churchill in memory of her late husband.

The receipts for the year from general sources are $36,064.87, an increase of $3,307.37, as compared with last year. The total receipts for the year are $34,432.89. The expenditures are $46,113.18. The deficit on the year's work is $11,680.29. This added to last year's deficit of $3,088.02, makes a total deficit of $14,768.31.
The deficit is accounted for by the large expenditures in opening work at two new stations. The estimates for the work of the coming year call for revenue of $45,000. During the year the Women's B.M.U. contributed $15,000. The Baptist Union of Western Canada contributed to the Board $1,100.00. The value of the trust fund held by the board amounts to $52,975.18. Property in India, $48,000.

Rev. H. V. Payzant has contributed the total salary of Rev. G. P. Barrs amounting to $800.

R. J. Colpitts reported for the nominating committee.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED.

Rev. J. W. Manning was elected president, with Revs. David Hutchinson, D.D., and R. Osgood Morse, vice-presidents. Rev. J. H. McDonald was re-elected secretary and Rev. R.
J. Colpitts, editor of the year book.
Committee on resolutions—Rev. P.
J. Stackhouse, J. E. Gosline, A. S.
Lewis, J. H. Copeland, E. E. Daley,
C. R. Freeman, J. E. Wilson, H. R.
Boyer.

Committee on correspondence—Rev.
Edwin Crowell, D.D., Col. D. McL.
Vince Rev. A. B. Cohoe, W. B. Smallman, H. L. Cousins, C. Goodspeed, D.D.

Committee on salaries—Rev. J. W.
Brown, F. E. Bishop, I. W. Porter, A.
F. Newcombe, H. E. Burt, E. M. Sip-prill, S. R. Griffin.

Dr. Manning, on assuming the position of president, was greeted with great applause as one whom the convention delights to honor. The retiring president condensed his address into an exhortation to all to "have faith in God" and asked all to read Psalm 37. Dr. Cohoon urged an immediate effort to pay off the deficit before the consummation of the union with the other Baptist conventions of Canada in foreign mission work.

THE LAYMEN'S MISSIONARY MOVEMENT.

John Burgoyne, of Halifax, reported for the committee on the Laymen's Missionary movement. This report noted a series of meetings to be held throughout Canada under the auspices of the Laymen's Missionary movement one of the speakers being Sir Andrew Fraser, late governor of Bengal. Conventions are to be held in Halifax, St. John, Sydney, Dr. H. B. Grose, of Boston, editor of "Missions," the magazine of the Northern Baptist convention of the United States, addressed the convention on a proposition regarding the Baptists of Canada, proposing to make it deal with all Baptists mission work in the world.

Revs. Allan Simpson, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Bridgetown, and Rev. Dr. Jost, of Bridgetown, were extended the courtesies of the convention. Rev. W. B. Boggs, D.D., an honored name wherever Baptists are known, was called to the platform and addressed the convention as also did Mr. Simpson.

EVENING DEVOTED TO LOREIGN MISSION.

The Saturday evening session was one of the most interesting of the Convention meetings. It was devoted to Foreign Missions and the speakers had all had experience in the foreign field. Excellent addresses were made by Rev. J. A. Glendening, M.
A., who with Mrs. Glendening, returns to India this autumn, Rev. S.
C. Freeman B.D. and Miss Flora
Clarke, M.D., medical missionary.

The Convention sermon was the feature of the Sunday morning service

CONVENTION SERMON
BY REV. P. J. STACKHOUSE.

The preacher of the convention sermon, Rev. P. J. Stackhouse, pastor of the First Baptist church, Amherst, took as his text I. John 5.10,
"He that believeth on the Son of God, hath the witness in him." He said, "The great problem of theological thought today, is the person of Jesus and his place in the Christian church. Is he Jesus, the Christ, the Son of God, or only one among many sons of God? Is he our living Lord who sits down and communes with us at every sacramental supper does he lie far-hence in a lonely Syrian town and on his grave with shining eyes the Syrian stars look down. It is of the Christ who reveals Himself in the inner life that I wish to speak of this morning and if possible show the evidential value of that inward witness in respect to the person of our Lord. John puts the argument thus in the words which I have selected as my text. "He that believeth in the Son of God hath the witness in him." It is an appeal to experience as a proof of belief. According to the Apostle the believer may test his faith in the crucible of experience."

Mr. Stackhouse then took up in detail the normal Christian experience in the primitive Christian community and in the church of today. His sermon was an eloquent plea for the spirit of Christianity which exhibits itself in the inner life of the Christian believer filling him with God's own glory.

The afternoon session was taken up with Sunday School work. The annual report was read, and a symposium on Sunday School work was taken part in by Rev. J. W. Brown Ph.D., Rev. J. W. Rutledge, B.D., of Berwick and Rev. A. B. Cohoe, B.H.
The preacher at the evening service was Rev. Dr. W. B. Wallace, of Brooklyn, N.Y., a son of the late Isaiah Wallace, so well known throughout the Province. The speaker is one of the most talented of Nova Scotia's numerous sons, now filling the pulpits in American cities.
(To be continued next week)

Humidity From Tides Benefits
Apple Raising Country

(Maritime Merchant)

"Don't you worry about the hot weather injuring the apple crop. It is all right and will be the biggest and cleanest that this province has ever produced." The speaker was W. C.
Archibald, of Wolfville, N.S., and when we asked him if he meant to imply that rain was an unimportant element in the success of the apple industry he replied that this was the exact information he intended to convey.

"Apple raising in the Annapolis Valley," said he, "is an entirely different proposition from general farming in our own province or from the apple industry in many other countries. The apple tree digs deeper into the earth than field crops, such as hay, grain and ordinary vegetables. Some of the older trees may be drawing a supply of moisture from depths that no surface heat has ever affected. But it is not what the apple tree of the valley gets from below that is unique with us; instead, it's what comes from above."

"Did you ever think what a disturbance in atmospheric conditions must take place along the whole coast of the Bay of Fundy every time the immense rise and fall of the tide takes place. Think of the gallons of warm and exhausted atmosphere that are carried out and come back to take its place twice, day through all the hot weather season. It is this automatic supply of humidity which makes the shores of the Bay of Fundy, not only Nova Scotia's, but New Brunswick's too, one of the best apple producing countries in the world. Each year its advantages will become more recognized by investors and by men seeking homesteads in this country. Other countries raise apples, some of them very nice ones, but there is a tendency to insipidity even in many of the best looking of them that is never found in our Nova Scotia fruit."

Mr. Archibald believes there is scarcely any limit to the quantity of apples that can be raised in the country adjacent to the Bay of Fundy. "A reasonable estimate made today," said he, "might appear ridiculous to the majority of people, but in my opinion, the greatest progress that will be made in the Maritime Provinces during the next half century will be the progress in fruit raising."

More About Apples

(Montreal Witness)

Canada, at least in the estimation of Canadians, is the greatest apple-growing country in the world. We have the climate that produces rich, juicy, well colored fruit, and the earth that gives the right flavor. The Gravenstein of Nova Scotia, the King as grown in Ontario, and the Fameuse of Quebec, are perfection.
We can also produce the best keeping apples. With these unexcelled natural advantages it would seem as though we would have ourselves to blame if the markets are taken from us, and we are left with apple crops rotting on our trees. Such a catastrophe sounds impossible! Good fruit is surely always saleable. But every fruit-grower knows better than that.
For years the farmers of British Columbia shook the plums that they could not use themselves off the trees for the pigs, and the trees received so little care that "plum rot" is now one of the worst scourges with which the orchardist there has to contend. Quebec farmers have not to search their memories to recall seasons when potatoes were not worth hauling to the station.
The vineyardists of Ontario have had their experiences. Any farmer can multiply these instances by ten, but it is unnecessary to go further to prove that a market is as essential to the farmer as to the manufacturer—that a fine crop is not certain wealth.

The news from Australia which appeared in a recent issue of the "Witness" should be disquieting to apple growers. Last year Australia and Tasmania shipped $71,827 cases of apples, mostly to England. So satisfactory were the returns that Tasmania alone has made arrangements for the exportation of from 700,000 to 800,000 cases next year. Of this a trial consignment of 40,000 cases is designed for New York.
Australian apples ripening at what is with us late winter, can be put fresh on the English market in early spring, just when our apples are at their worst. They have, however, to pay for a four or five weeks' sea voyage in cold storage, and it is yet a question whether the difference in freshness between apples that have been kept five weeks in cold storage, will pay for the very long sea voyage from Tasmania to New York with transshipment at Liverpool.

It seems, however, that the Canadian farmer will have all he can do and that immediately, to preserve his market. Trees must be sprayed and pruned with even greater care.
On many soils they must be cultivated and the ground annually enriched. Quality not quantity must be the motto. After the growing season the packing. The time has passed when apples dumped into barrels and topped off will bring a price.
Today they must be sorted into grades according to quality. Sorted again according to size, and then hand packed in boxes—so many to the row, so many to the tier—and honestly labelled. It is by this means that the fine colored apple that tastes like a turnip and comes from California is displacing the delicious apple of the state of New York in the markets at New York city while the orchards of New York are being abandoned. By this means British Columbia is today shipping cars of apples by rail across the continent to compete in England with apples from Nova Scotia. With the southern hemisphere pressing for reasonable markets in the north, British Columbia might well return the compliment and see if she cannot help supply the unfortunate people of Sydney, Melbourne, Victoria, and Valparaiso, who cannot get fresh fruit in January, February and March. Yet Eastern Canada would not like to see the product of the Pacific province entirely missing from our markets. She has taught us lessons in fruit handling and is still a shining example.

Mr. Arthur DeWitt Foster has resigned his position as housemaster and instructor in Horton Collegiate Academy to accept the nomination of the Liberal Conservative party to contest the County of Kings.

Mr. C. L. Gesner, lately principal of schools at Westport, has entered the Methodist ministry and has charge of the church at Chester this year. His many friends here will wish him success in his new field of labor.

J. B. Whitman, Provincial Forest Ranger, visited his family here the first of the week. Mr. Whitman, we regret to state, will shortly remove his family from Bridgetown to Halifax, as his work necessitates his making the city his headquarters.

Copies of the prize list of the N. S. Horticultural Exhibition to be held in Wolfville in October next may be obtained from R. J. Messenger, President of Nova Scotia Fruit Growers, Mr. Fred Johnson or from W. A. Warren's store, Bridgetown.

Dr. E. A. KirkPatrick, of Halifax has recovered his health, after an illness of two years. He was operated upon by Dr. Mixer, of Boston, recently and his health is now restored. Dr. KirkPatrick has many friends and patients in Annapolis County, who will be interested in his recovery and return to practice.

Mr. Joseph Bancroft has succeeded the late Rev. J. B. Giles as Registrar of Deeds for Annapolis County, with Mr. F. E. Bath as deputy. Since the death of Mr. Giles, the office has been very satisfactorily and creditably managed by his daughter, Miss Frieda, who leaves shortly for New York to visit her uncle, Mr. Heywood, and will later go to her relatives in Bermuda.

Mrs. Elizabeth Frost and Mrs. Minnie C. Wilkinson, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wheelock, and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Marshall and other relatives, started for St. John on Monday, 14th, where they will spend a few days, after which they will return to their home in Rosindale, Mass. A Tremont Temple (Boston) bulletin of date of July 30th thus refers to Mrs. Wilkinson: "Mrs. Minnie C. Wilkinson, accompanied by her brother and sister, left Boston on Monday, July 24th, for a month's vacation in the delightful valley of the 'Land of Evangeline.' She will visit many of the leading cities of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, and will relax in many of the beautiful country retreats. One month seems a long time to be separated from Mrs. Wilkinson's superior personality, and genial nature in the church office, which feeling will be strongly shared by her legion of friends including her loyal Sunday School class of nearly one hundred members.

Great Constitutional Struggle Ended.

London, Aug. 11.—The official report of the proceedings at yesterday's session of the House of Commons issued today contains the announcement in very formal official terms that a message has been received from the House of Lords stating that they will not insist upon their amendments to the Parliamentary Bill, to which the House of Commons had disagreed and have agreed to the consequential amendment to the Bill proposed by the House of Commons.

THE PREMIER'S VICTORY.

The proceedings will be recorded in the documents of Parliament as the greatest victory achieved by a Liberal Prime Minister in a century, for although Unionists voted passed the Bill in the Upper Chamber last night history will give the credit to Premier Asquith's audacious policy. The great constitutional struggle ended last night when the House of Lords by a vote of 131 to 114 adopted Viscount Morley's motion, not to insist upon the Lords' amendment in the Veto Bill, the purpose of which is to restrict the powers of the Upper Chamber over legislation originating in the Lower House, and which may result among other things in Home Rule for Ireland.

LIMITS AUTHORITY OF LORDS.

The Veto Bill practically limits the authority of the House of Lords to a two-year suspensory veto, and greatly increases the prerogatives of the House of Commons. The measure could not possibly have passed the House of Lords except as it was known that its rejection would be followed immediately by the creation of sufficient new Peers to enforce the will of the Lower Chamber, and which the Government asserts was the will of the people.

IN THE UNIONIST CAMP.

The rift has not done the Unionist party any good, but a strong effort is being made to bring the two sections together on a strong platform, among the chief plank of which will be the repeal of the Parliament Bill, and the reform of the House of Lords as outlined in Lord Lansdowne's Bill. The Earl of Selborne, the only possible leader of the Unionists outside of A. J. Balfour will rejoin the leaders under this policy, and a majority of his followers and the bulk of the opposition party will fall in line.

ONE OF THE "DIE HARDS."

The Earl of Halsbury the most unrelenting of the "Die Hards" is now too old to take up the leadership of even a section of the party, and he will retire probably from active politics. A few insurgents like Lord Willoughby DeBrooke and other fighting peers will remain on the flank of the party ready to attack any sign of leaning towards the democracy, but as they have always done this, the effect will not be serious.

IRISH LEADERS CONFIDENT.

The Irish leaders are confident that the way is now open to Home Rule and from the statement of Home Secretary Churchill in the House of Commons, that the government intended to pass a Home Rule measure during the present parliament, their confidence appears to some extent justified. It must be remembered, however, that the Lords will still be able to delay the passage of such a Bill two years, and they can be depended upon to delay Home Rule as long as it is possible for them to do so. The earliest Bill could not be introduced until next spring, and it would be strongly fought in the House of Commons. The Lords would then throw it out, and sometime must elapse before it could be again presented. So that much depends on whether the Government will be able to hold out that long.

ELECTION UNLIKELY

An election with the Parliament Bill as an issue probably would result favorably to the Government, but an election over the question of Home Rule for Ireland is another matter. There is an increasing number of people in England formerly opposed to Home Rule who are now prepared to give Ireland a local self-government which is all that John Redmond asks at present, and accordingly the prospects of an election on this issue are not as threatening as heretofore.

Greatest Apple Crop in Our History

A Kenville despatch of Aug. 11th, says:—Twelve journalists representing the leading papers of Great Britain and Ireland will pay a visit to the Annapolis Valley. They are scheduled to reach Wolfville at 5.30, 15th. After being entertained at the Royal they will motor to Starr's Point, then across the Wellington Dyke to Canard visiting Chipman Corner, where they will especially visit William Sutton's fine orchard. From there they go to "Hillcrest" and to Kentville, where Mayor Wickwire, the Town Council and officers of the Board of Trade will call on the distinguished visitors.

The following day they are to take to Centreville, Billtown, Lakeville and Woodville. If time permits they will be taken over the Woodville Road and join the westbound Blue-nose at Aylesford. This route has been carefully arranged by Mr. R. U. Parker, passenger agent of the D.A. R., and will afford the best view possible of the finest agricultural sections of the county. These gentlemen are touring the Dominion and it is suggested that those living on the itinerary planned should be ready to show any courtesies possible to facilitate the perfect carrying out of the plans.

The labor problem will seriously affect the farmers a little later on. Apple pickers are asking $2.50 per day, and some farmers are offering $40 per month with board and weather risks. This is already regarded as the greatest apple year Kings county has ever known. Such fruit and in such abundance has never been seen, and to quote a prominent apple buyer, probably has never been seen in any country in the world. A farm near Woodville which has never produced more than six hundred barrels, will, this year have 4000 barrels of marketable fruit.

This is to certify that I have used MINARD'S LINIMENT in my family, for years, and consider it the best liniment on the market. I have found it excellent for horse flesh.

Crop Conditions in the States

A Tremendous Decline in the United States Due to Drought and Intense Heat. General Conditions are the Worst for any Single Month Since Year 1901.

Washington, Aug. 8.—A tremendous decline in the condition of crops, general throughout the country and traceable to drought and intense heat occurred during the last month, as indicated by official figures and estimates made today in the monthly crop report to the department of agriculture. The report today is the worst as to general conditions, that the department has issued for any single month since 1901. The area most seriously affected extends from New York and Pennsylvania to the Rocky Mountains, embracing all of the great corn, wheat and hay producing states in the country. In the southern states, with the exception of Virginia and North Carolina, rains served to maintain generally favorable conditions throughout the past month. These conditions thus far continue to be favorable. Conditions in the Pacific northwestern states are regarded as excellent, although during July that territory suffered from a brief but excessively hot period.

SEEMED TO GIVE HIM A NEW STOMACH.

"I suffered intensely after eating and no medicine or treatment I tried seemed to do any good," writes "I. M. Youngsters, Editor of The Sun, Lake View, Ohio. "The first few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets gave me surprising relief and the second bottle seemed to give good health." For sale by all dealers.

General Funston received the Medal of Honor and was made Brigadier-General of Volunteers for the remarkable crossing of the Rio Grand in the Philippines at the Battle of Calumpit. With humor and vivacity General Funston describes this adventure in the September Scribner.

Let's make a Jelly Roll— With FIVE ROSES flour. Its Strength and Fineness hold your batter together in the long well-greased pan. Bakes evenly. Smooth Texture—soft, golden Crumb, spongy, porous, yielding. No holes, nor lumps to vex you. And when you turn it out on the damp napkin hot and savory, and you spread the under side with "jell" it doesn't get soggy nor crumbly. Roll it gently, carefully. Not a crack—not a break. Perfect Smoothness—a Perfect Roll—Yours. Bake anything, make anything. Use FIVE ROSES—bread and pastry. Melting puff paste—flaky pie crust—crinkly fritters—tooth some rolls. FIVE ROSES for anything—everything. Be flourwise.

Theresa Wolfe a Wreck

A despatch from Boston, dated August 11th says:—"The three-masted schooner Theresa Wolfe went ashore at Chatham Bar about three o'clock this morning and has become a total wreck, being full of water."

"Shortly after the vessel went ashore the crew and men leaving her, began to strip her, tearing away her rigging and other equipments. She has a cargo of coal, bound from Perth Amboy to Windsor, in command of Captain Melburne Cook, of Waterville, N.S., who is accompanied by Miss Pansy Dickie and Miss Luella Fraser and by the captain's ten-year-old son, Henry Cook, all of Waterville.

"The young women and boy were accompanying the captain on a trip from New York down home for the pleasure of a summer sea voyage. Miss Dickie said that the vessel's cook had deserted just as they were about to sail from New York, so she and Miss Fraser volunteered to do the cooking for all hands rather than have the vessel delayed, and it proved a very novel and somewhat pleasant experience for them. "They had enjoyed the whole voyage until it came time for them to have the life preservers put on by the life-saving crew this morning, which caused them some trepidation, as it made them fear they might be in more danger than was apparent. All hands landed safely and the girls were made heroines by the Chatham people and summer residents."

House Burned Down and Man Dies During Fire

G. A. Siteman's Residence at LaHave is Destroyed—Death of Lorenzo Parks While Looking on.

E. M. Reinhardt, of La Have, who was in Halifax last week, received a telegram that the residence of G. A. Siteman, at LaHave, had burned down during the afternoon, and that while the fire was in progress, Lorenzo Parks, the ferryman at LaHave had suddenly died. The cause of Mr. Parks' death was not given, but he was subject to heart disease and it is supposed he died from excitement while watching the fire or while seeking to save the building. He was a man of about fifty years, who leaves a wife and four children, three of them in the United States.

There had been forest fires at LaHave, but not within a mile of the house that was destroyed, and the cause of the conflagration is unknown. It was a comparatively new house and had been occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Siteman for only a month. Mr. Siteman was away at the time, and his wife was alone in the house. The house alongside, belonging to John D. Himmelman, was with difficulty saved.

THE HOME

SUNDAY AFTERNOON WITH THE CHILDREN.

Fifty-two Sundays in the year offer excellent opportunities for moulding our children's lives and encouraging in them a love for the good and true. In after life they will carry with them memories of the well-spent happy Sunday afternoons. We must always count upon the loving unselfishness of the mother for the profitable use of the Sabbath, for, though Sabbath was ordained for a day of rest, it was also given us for special religious use. It is a good way for the mothers to plan a little during the week for the children's Sunday recreations, just as they do to see that the Sunday clothes are in order. Certain toys and books may be kept specially for that day. Then when the dinner has been disposed of the children may be allowed for a time the privilege of such play as the mother will see to be properly consistent with the day.

I would not deprive a little girl of a much-loved doll, as sometimes the mere suggestion that her doll is ill it should be cared for quietly and given a small handkerchief to tie about its head and a tiny bottle for medicine the child will be kept quiet and happy, thus making things more comfortable for others.

BIBLE STORIES.

By the middle of the afternoon the children can generally be gathered round the mother for the Sunday treat, which will be stories from the Bible, best suited to their understanding. They can be taught to take a great interest in this sort of exercise by getting them to take part in it. Sometimes describe a character and let them guess who it represents. A story of a miracle may be told and the children may tell where it is to be found in the Old Testament or the New. Stories of the children of the Bible always find a sympathetic chord in the hearts of the little ones. Always be careful to rivet upon their minds a lesson of God's love for the good. Teach emphatically that the "eye of the Lord is in every place beholding the evil and the good," and that He does care how this particular day is spent. Children love nature, and many useful lessons may be taught in a quiet and interesting way. For instance, if it had been a rainy day, when the children feel like murmuring because they have not been able to go out, tell them of the wonders of a drop of water, of the good the rain does, of the desert dry countries where no rain falls, and how the people live there. They will soon, instead of having a feeling of discontent, be thankful for their own surroundings, and will be taught to realize that "God is in the shower as well as the sunshine."

It is a snowstorm let them catch some flakes of snow on a black cloth and use a magnifying glass to show them the different beautiful shapes.

If the weather be fine, a short walk in the orchard with the children may be made very enjoyable if in blossom time; draw their attention to the beautiful coloring of the various blossoms; notice the sweet song of the birds, and their varied plumage. The children will by a little encouragement along this line be able to detect the various specimens quite readily.

THE EVENING MEAL.

The Sunday evening tea should be simple and appetizing. The children will enjoy setting the table, if the weather be suitable, on the lawn or verandah. Then as night closes in and bedtime draws near call their attention to the stars "peeping forth with clear, calm eyes."

Tell them the story of the star of Bethlehem; they will like to learn the beautiful passages of Scripture regarding that event. Thus the day will close with thoughts of that sacred theme, and the children will learn to look upon the Sabbath as the best day of the seven.

AT THE WINDOW.

"I sort of feel as if somebody might come in today, Nettie."

Her daughter-in-law frowned, "Now don't you set your heart on it, mother!" she begged. "People don't call on each other in apartments as they do in places like Kensington. People don't like it."

"She cowered back, ashamed of the thought in her heart—that she was glad mother could not get around this winter, also there was no knowing what acquaintances she might make!

"It is hard for mother of course," she confided to her husband that night, "the coming to a strange place and having the trouble with her hip at once. But I'm sure I do all I can. I can't go making calls for her."

"I thought mother seemed unusually bright tonight," Philip answered.

"That's because she got to the window again. She amused herself all day watching people. Mother is easily interested, I'll say that for her. I believe she knows by sight everybody who passes, and has made up love affairs or families for all of them."

Then came a week when mother caught cold and had to go back to bed. The third day there was a ring at the bell, and Nettie, answering it found a young girl in black holding a couple of daffodils.

"I hope I'm not intrusive," she stammered, "but I wanted to ask about the old lady at the window I've missed her so. She always waved good morning to me, and now that I am—alone—it grew to mean so much. I do hope she isn't sick."

"She has a cold—it isn't serious," Nettie answered.

The girl's face brightened, and she put the daffodils into Nettie's hand.

"Will you give them to her with my love. Tell her the girl with the music roll. I'm sure she'll know."

Nettie delivered the daffodils and the message. An hour later the bell rang again; this time it was a little lady with something in a saucer.

"I beg your pardon," she said, "but I have missed the old lady at the window. We live across the street and my little girl has struck up a friendship with her. Its absurd of course, but she insisted upon my bringing over a cake of maple sugar—her panacea for all woes."

Nettie carried in the maple sugar and put it beside the daffodils. Mother's sweet face was like a happy child's. Had she not known how dear and friendly the world was?—
YOUTH'S COMPANION.

THE QUEEN MOTHER'S DIET

Its Simplicity is Striking and Worthy of Imitation.

The careful diet since girlhood of Her Majesty Queen Alexandra has long been ascribed as one of the causes which have contributed so largely to her youthful figure and beauty of face. Ever since she first came to England as the bride of the Prince of Wales she has carried out the simple diet and habits of her native Denmark, in spite of the opposition of the royal mother-in-law, Queen Victoria, who would not believe that anyone could exist on such Spartan fare. The Queen-mother never allows herself to eat too heartily at any time. As a rule she prefers a small meal rather than a heavy one. On all occasions of fatigue, such as a drawing-room reception, for instance, she fortifies herself beforehand by sipping a glass of milk. This and orangeade, by the way, are her only beverages. Neither tea, coffee, chocolate, nor any kind of alcoholic liquor ever finds a way into the Queen-mother's dietary.

Other products from the dairy besides milk are favorites with Queen Alexandra. Cream, butter, cheese, curds and buttermilk are all partaken of freely by her in turn. Her Majesty eats very little meat, and then only white meat. Fruit, vegetables and nuts take the place of more solid dishes. She avoids condiments, and even spices if very aromatic. Breakfast is a light meal, fruit, eggs and toast. Luncheon is usually a bird or fish dish, and some fresh cheese or honey, her favorite sweet. Tea in the afternoon is replaced by warm milk, and dinner at night is only a replica of the light midday luncheon on a slightly extended scale.—Food and Cookery.

WHY HESITATE?

An Offer that Involves no Risk for Those Who Accept It

We are so positive our remedy will completely relieve constipation, no matter how chronic it may be, that we offer to furnish it free of all cost if it fails.

Constipation is caused by weakness of the nerves and muscles of the large intestines or descending colon. To expect a cure you must therefore tone up and strengthen those organs and restore them to healthier activity.

We want you to try Rexall Orderlies on our guarantee. They are eaten like candy, and are particularly ideal for children. They act directly on the nerves and muscles of the bowels. They have a neutral action on the other organs or glands. They do not purge or cause any inconvenience whatever. They will positively overcome chronic or habitual constipation and the myriads of associated or dependent chronic ailments. Try Rexall Orderlies at our risk. Two sizes, 10c. and 25c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store, W. A. Warren.

Cabinet Changes

OTTAWA, Aug. 4.—The Cabinet change fore-shadowed some time ago in connection with the retirement of Hon. L. P. Brodeur, Minister of Marine and Fisheries and of Naval Affairs, to take the position on the Supreme Court bench rendered vacant by the death of Justice Girouard, will take place next week.

Hon. Mr. Brodeur is now winding up pending matters of departmental administration in connection with his portfolio so as to have things in good shape for his successor, Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, the present Post Master General. Dr. Beland, the young, able and popular member for Peace, will enter the Cabinet as Post Master General and will be sworn in within a few days.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

When boiling old potatoes, add a little milk to the water and they will not turn black.

Try cutting string beans across diagonally with scissors. They will cook more quickly.

About the surest way to rid the house of ants is to wipe door sills, window sills and any other place where they may enter with spirits of turpentine.

If silver is soaked in sour milk overnight it will be as bright as if polished.

To keep thin cotton summer dresses from fading put one ounce of sugar of lead in a bucket of water and soak for an hour.

If your doors and beds squeak or if the dining room table and dresser drawers stick try rubbing soap on them.

Cuts and bruises may be healed in about one-third the time required by the usual treatment by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. It is an antiseptic and causes such injuries to heal without maturation. This liniment also relieves soreness of the muscles and rheumatic pains. For sale by all dealers.

Pretty Wedding at Middleton

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place on Wednesday, 5th, at high noon at the residence of Capt. and Mrs. J.H. Charlton, when Mrs. Charlton's youngest daughter, Hazel Hurst Chute, was united in marriage to Vance LeRoy Roop, second son of Major and Mrs. Roop, of Springfield, N.S.

The rooms were beautifully decorated by the friends of the bride, the drawing room and hall being done in crimson asters and ferns, the living room in pink and the dining room in pale yellow.

The bride who entered the room on the arm of her mother, looked charming in a gown of duchess satin train, with an overdress of chiffon embroidered in pearls, and the conventional veil and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of carnations and lilies of the valley.

The Wedding March was rendered by Miss Adrah Cohoon, of Montreal, who wore an imported gown of embroidered mull.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. S.S. Poole, in the presence of the immediate relatives and friends.

The gifts included a beautiful display of cut glass and silver. The gift of the bride's mother was a Mason & Rische piano, that of the groom's parents a case of silver.

Mr. and Mrs. Roop are to visit Halifax, Amherst, St. John and other points, and upon their return will reside at Springfield.—Outlook.

Heavy Rain Wednesday Relieved the Danger on the South Shore.

Liverpool, N.S., Aug. 16.—The forest fire in Queens and Shelburne Counties are now under control. Provisions intervened to save the South Shore from further calamity. Rain started falling early this morning in torrents and it has fallen almost continuously for about six hours, already it has had a great effect on the advancing conflagration and the complete quenching of the forest fires is looked for before the refreshing downpour ceases.

The fire at Sable River succumbed to the torrents which enveloped the district this morning. The big pile of lumber is safe and the plant has not been touched. Barrington and Port La Tour, which were near the danger zone are no longer endangered.

Shelburne reports similar conditions. While the fire in some places has not been completely subdued the continued soaking of the undergrowth is expected to bring about the complete subjugation of the fire.

The Halifax and South Western trains, delayed for a couple of days by reason of the invasion of the track by the fire, are running today as usual.

$100,000 FIRE CAUSED IN OTTAWA BY CIGARETTES.

Ottawa, August 16.—A fire occurred here tonight with losses estimated at $100,000. Two boys smoking cigarettes while tending a team of horses, set fire to the warehouses of Provos and Allard, wholesale grocers, and did $20,000 damage there. The flames then caught to Chevril's hotel on Murray street which was completely gutted, and some of the shanty men therein had to be carried out by firemen, owing to being under the influence of drink. The fire scorched many nearby houses and between the fire and water cost some $10,000 damages ere it was over. As the surrounding buildings were old and constructed of wood, considerable excitement prevailed when firemen brought semi-nude shanty men down the ladders.
