LABOR WILL NOT OBSTRUCT CONSCRIPTION'S ENFORCEMENT

Trades Congress Shows Marked Disapproval of Measure, But Bows to Law and Authority — Firebrand Speeches Made by Some Anti-Conscriptionists, But Final Vote is Emphatic.

Ottawa, Sept. 20. — At the evening session of the trades and labor congress tonight, after two or three amendments had been voted upon and lost, the congress finally passed the following resolution by a vote of 136 for, to 16 against, adopting the report of the executive council with the amendment of the committee on officers' reports indicating the attitude of organized labor in Canada on the conscription issue:

"In 1915 the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, at the annual convention held in Vancouver, declared an unqualified opposition to conscription as a method of military enlistment. Last year at Toronto the same resolution was reaffirmed with its emphasis. Since then the question of conscription for Canada has agitated the public mind to an unprecedented degree. Sections of the press and numerous public bodies have argued strongly in favor of the adoption in Canada, at this juncture, of that method of raising men to fill the ranks of Canadian forces for overseas service. In fact within the past few months the issue has been before parliament, and a most drastic measure in this connection has been debated and carried thru the commons and the senate. That measure is now law, and such provisions that impose heavy penalties upon all and sundry who make use of any form of opposition to the principle that might frustrate the carrying into effect of the act now in existence.

"Will Observe Law.

"While the congress cannot stultify itself to the degree of either withdrawing or contradicting this year, its firm and carefully thought-out views on the question of conscription, as embodied in the resolution of 1915 and 1916, still under our present form of government we do not deem it right, patriotic or in the interests of the labor movement or the Dominion of Canada to say or do anything that might prevent the Government of Canada from obtaining the result they anticipate in the raising of reinforcements for the C.E.F., by the enforcement of the law. This congress is opposed to any development which will make for industrial conscription or the interference with the trade union movement in the taking on of the interests of the organized workers of this Dominion."

There was some argument after this vote had been taken, but it goes on record as being the sentiment of the 1917 congress of trades and labor movement in regard to conscription.

When President Watton asked all those who were opposed to conscription to rise to their feet there were only a half a dozen or so delegates who remained seated.

Delegate Farmille of Edmonton proposed in amendment to the executive committee's report on conscription, which was seconded by Ross M.L.A., Calgary, that the following be substituted: "This congress cannot stultify itself to the degree of either withdrawing or contradicting this year its firm and carefully thought-out views on the question of conscription as embodied in the resolutions of 1915 and 1916; neither has the government, by its actions, justified its in recommending a willing submission to the Military Service Act, particularly in view of the fact that up to the present they have not regarded the conscription of wealth as being equally as important as the conscription of man power in the successful prosecution of the war. We would also point out that no guarantee has been given that the enforcement of conscription of man power will not be used for the conscription of man power for industrial purposes. With such fatal omissions this congress regrets that it cannot unreservedly recommend to the wage-workers of the Dominion of Canada that the law be observed, but on the other hand, would recommend that every effort be made to force the conscription of wealth as an essential part of conscription for war purposes, and that pending the conscription of wealth no support be given to the principle of conscription of man for war purposes."

Narcisse Aroand, Montreal, proposed another amendment, seconded by Arthur Martel, Montreal. "We recognize that laws passed by a duly elected government must be observed, or democracy would become anarchy, and yet we see no cause to either contradict or withdraw the carefully

BRITISH MASH ENEMY ON EIGHT-MILE FRONT

Field Marshal Haig's Forces Take Two Thousand Prisoners, Many Villages, Woods, Farms, in Resumed Offensive Along Menin Road—Most Remarkable Achievement for Many Months.

London, Sept. 20.—Two thousand prisoners have been captured by the British, according to the official report tonight, in the Flanders drive.

Field Marshal Haig's official report says that north country and Australian battalions penetrated the German positions in the centre to a depth of over a mile and captured the whole of Hamlet, Veldhoek and the western portion of Polygon Wood. Further north Zventoeko was captured, among other strategic positions.

"If voluntary measures fail," he said, "I shall have no compunction in putting the nation on compulsory rations."

Baron Rhondda added that the danger of the situation did not lie in the submarine perils, but in the world's shortage of cereals, meats and fats.

Baron Rhondda made this statement to correspondents here after telling them that the minimum food-stuff requirements from Canada and the United States during the forthcoming twelve months would be more than 10,000,000 tons, representing an expenditure of $250,000,000.

"The food controller also announced measures for stabilizing the sugar trade, with a committee in New York to supervise Cuban purchases."

"Most of the money is to be spent in the United States for cereals, hog products, sugar and meat. In view of the figures, it is necessary to emphasize the vital importance of the continuance of the closest possible cooperation between Mr. Hoover, the American food controller, and Mr. Hanna, food controller of Canada, and myself. clear, and our airplanes were able to take a more active part in the battle, indicating the position of our troops and reporting hostile concentrations to our artillery. In this way a number of German counter-attacks were broken up, while others were repulsed by the rifle and machine gun fire of our infantry.

"No accurate estimate of the number of prisoners captured can yet be given, but they are known to exceed 2000. We also captured a few guns."

Reach New Line.

British troops are reported to have penetrated the German positions in their offensive on the Flanders front as far as the Zonnebeke-Gheluvelt line, and also advanced beyond the central parallel of Polygon Wood. We are now bombarding the Germans who are massing for a counter-attack.

"It is believed that the number of prisoners will reach four figures. Every shell hole yielded about a dozen prisoners, sometimes surrendering without resistance and sometimes fighting stubbornly. In one instance the inmates of a semi-concealed crater held up our troops for some time by bombing. In other instances, the enemy came out with fixed bayonets as the barrage crept towards them.

"The first advance was made most rapidly in light skirmishing order, the foe admitting that he was taken by surprise by the rapid advance.

Attack Irresistible.

"The onslaught of our men was irresistible. The ground, which is surrounded by water, two tanks attacked, obtaining 30 prisoners—blanching looking men afflicted by tremors from the ordeal of our artillery. A large percentage of the prisoners are young, chiefly Bavarians.

"We captured a messenger dog which bore a message ordering that the high ground towards Mopraelshook must be held at all costs, and ordering that as many guns as possible should range on it.

"The work of consolidating all behind the line was all afternoon under the protection of a heavy barrage. Our casualties are not heavy, considering the enormous value of the gains attained, which is a bitter commentary on the German claim that the Flanders offensive is a development of constitutional and tactical and high strategic importance, and we are prepared for desperate enemy counter-efforts.

"Schuler Gallery, a long line of pill boxes, gave considerable trouble, but the work of our men was irresistible. Our walking wounded report that very shell hole and pill box yielded

British Detain Diplomatic Mail

Authorities at Halifax Seize Four Pouches of Swedish Correspondence.

Washington, Sept. 20.—Four diplomatic mail pouches sent by the Swedish foreign office to the legation in Washington, are being detained at Halifax by the British authorities. They were taken from a steamer.

No reason for the detention of the mail could be obtained here today.

Baron Akerholm, the Swedish charge, called at the state department and was understood to have taken up the matter with officials there in an effort to have the mail quickly forwarded to its destination. Whether he made a formal protest on behalf of his government was not announced.

The pouches were said to have contained, among other mail, statistics on consumption, production, importation and exportation of foodstuffs and other commodities in Sweden.

RUSSIANS BEAT ENEMY IN BATTLE NEAR RIGA

German Offensive Encounters Setback—Daring Attack of Letts Hurls Foe Lines Back, Inflicting Great Losses.

Petrograd, Sept. 20.—(British Admiralty, per Wireless Press.)—The Russians yesterday on the Riga front repulsed an attack by the Germans with great losses to the invaders, according to the statement issued today by the Russian War Office. "The Rumanians were compelled to abandon a sector of enemy positions they had occupied. In the region south of Groetzki the Rumanians took prisoner two officers and 33 men. Yesterday nothing of material consequence occurred on this front.

"Caucasian front: East of Van our troops have been engaged in battle with a band of Kurds. The snow in places is four feet deep in the mountain theatre. In the region south of Kakkit and southeast of Erzinagan a heavy snow storm is raging, accompanied by a freezing temperature."

U. S. SHOULD SEND ARMY OF TWO MILLION MEN

Small Expedition Would Sacrifice Manpower, Says Dr. Rand.

New York, Sept. 20.—Dr. Benjamin Rand of Harvard University who has just returned from the west front where he watched the operations of the British army, said today, in his opinion the United States should send an army of two million men abroad to help wage the fight, if the war with Germany is to be won.

A small expeditionary force, said Dr. Rand, would mean undue sacrifice of man-power, which experience England went thru early in the war, because she could not help herself, being compelled to use what available troops were at her disposal.

"Inasmuch," he said, "as today the lines of the Germans are unevenly held, it is the opportunity for America, if only her forces are in sufficient number, to throw such strength against the weakened sections of the great western front, as to carry the war to a successful conclusion."

Dr. Rand also visited the British grand staff.

PARLAMENT HAS PROROGUED LIBERALS' PROTESTS FUTLE

Session of Many Months' Duration Concluded Shortly Before 6 p.m., Senate's Amendments to Franchise Bill Having Been Accepted—Department of National Service is Abolished.

Ottawa, Sept. 20.—Parliament has prorogued. Shortly before six o'clock, when some of the final questions were being up as to the administration of the franchise bill, Black Rod summoned the members of the house to the senate and in a few moments the session was at an end.

Nova Scotia members in the house made a final complaint against the senate amendments to the franchise bill. A. K. Maclean terms the principle of the legislation "abominable" and Mr. Sinclair asserted that the senate amendments were a piece of partisan injustice. In reply to this Hon. Arthur Meighen claimed that the amendment had been prepared by Liberal members in the senate and consented to by Conservatives.

Just before prorogation R. B. Bennett informed the house that the department of national service had ceased to exist, and sketched the work accomplished in regard to registration.

The speech from the throne was read by his excellency the governor-general as follows:

Speech From Throne.

The speech from the throne was as follows:

Honorable gentlemen of the senate: Gentlemen of the house of commons: Important measures for the effective prosecution of the war have engaged your close attention during a long session, and I am now happy to release you from further attendance.

Since your labors began, the high and worthy character of our cause has been confirmed by two significant events. Our allies, the Russian people, are engaged, under trying circumstances, in establishing institutions which shall fully conform to their ideal of liberty and order. In the midst of inevitable difficulties, which command our sympathy, they have affirmed their determination to remain faithful to the alliance.

The United States of America, refusing to tolerate the arrogance and menace of Prussian militarism, have made common cause with the allies and are vigorously co-operating in the struggle for freedom and humanity. Already the Canadian people have given many expressions of the warm welcome with which they greet their kindred neighbor as a comrade in arms.

CANADIANS PUSH OUT INTO NO MAN'S LAND

Currie's Men Are Steadily Squeezing Germans Out of Lens—Cost of Holding the Town Becomes Too Great.

By Stewart Lyon.

Canadian Army Headquarters in France, via London, Sept. 20.—Pressure upon the defences of Lens is unrelenting. Posts have again been pushed out into "No Man's Land" in the region south of St. Laurent and the ground in the defence of which the enemy a month ago fought fiercely, sustaining hundreds of casualties, has been occupied by us almost without a struggle. The Germans are being literally squeezed out of Lens, and if credence may be placed in the reports of the garrison would welcome the order to evacuate. Enemy orders are still to hold on at all costs, but there is reason to believe the cost is becoming too great, since the occupation by us of the northern suburbs permits the projection of gas into the town from the north as well from the south and west.

Local opinion in this great industrial region seems to be in full accord with the declaration made by the new premier of France as to their nation's war aims. The restoration of Alsace-Lorraine is regarded as vital to the future security of the country. By the deliberate policy of stripping the French population in the occupied territory of all their portable possessions, Germany is deepening the national hatred and hardening their resolve to make an end of military terrorism. A captured letter, written by one German soldier to another, gives some indication of what is happening in the occupied territory. He says:

"I am attached to the requisitioning services in Fourties district. We take from the French population all their lead, tin, copper, cork oil, etc. Candlesticks, kitchen pots, or anything at all like that, goes off to Germany. It is not very nice often to have to take their wedding presents, the necessity of war forces us to it. I had a good haul the other day with one of my comrades. In a walled-up room we found fifteen instruments in copper, a regular brass band and fifty pairs of sheets and towels and six candlesticks of beaten copper. These alone weighed 33 kilos. And there was a whole lot of stuff besides. You can imagine what kind of a noise the old hag who owned them made. I just laughed. She deserved all she got. There was ten thousand marks' worth of stuff there, for I didn't count a lot of bags of pure sheep's wool and lots of other things. The commandant was very pleased, and we ought to raise a reward."

"What wonder that the 'old hag' made a noise when she saw her candlesticks, probably family heirlooms, on the way to Germany to make ammunition to be used in killing her country's defenceless men. The war, bending Hun just laughed. But those who see the extent of France's loss in blood and treasure do not wonder at Premier Painlevé's declaration that to stop the war as day too soon would be to deliver France into the most degrading servitude—to a moral and material ruin from which nothing would ever deliver her.

BONNETS—From the simple little close-fitting hood for the baby of 6 months to the old-fashioned poke bonnet for the demure maiden of six years—cunning, dainty creations in white silk, white corduroy, and white plush, some of them plain as a Quaker's bonnet, others decked with silk flutings, feather bandings or posies of rosebuds. Prices run from $3.75 to $11.00.

HATS—Jaunty little soft brown plush hats (for boys as well as girls) at $3.00. Navy blue sailor caps at $1.65. White and colored corduroy hats, soft or on stiff shape, $1.50 to $4.50. And hats of the fancier type—mushrooms, and bonnet effects in velours, French felt, velvet, plush and corduroy, some of them banded with fur—$1.50 to $11.00. —Third Floor, Queen St.

L. New York model in fine navy blue serge, with collar of white batiste, bordered with silk soutache. Sizes 12 to 14 years. Price, $17.50. M. Dress in Copenhagen blue serge, the collar, pockets and cuffs bound with braid of same shade; in sizes 8 to 14 years. Price, $10.00. May be had, too, in navy blue, garnet and brown. N. Coat of dark bottle green beaver cloth, with cravat of brown marten fur—lined throughout with black farmer satin. May be had, too, in brown and navy blue, in sizes 6, 8, 10 and 11 years. Price, $14.50. P. Another New York model in fine navy blue serge, the collar in this one being of white satin. Note that the skirt is laid in box plaits and that done buttons are effectively employed. Sizes 14 and 14 1/2. Price, $20.00. Q. Smart top coat of Oxford grey chinchilla cloth—same model available in navy blue also—lined throughout with black sateen. Sizes 6, 8, 9 and 11 years. Price, $20.00. R. Balsam green broadcloth is the fabric in this model, the collar edged with bear fur. It is lined throughout with green farmer satin. The same design may be had in Burgundy color. For Girls of Six to Fourteen--Dresses and Coats for School and "Best"

Sailor Dresses, "Peter Thompsons," and Easy-fitting, Simple, One-piece Gowns for Playtime and Lessons—Smart New York Frocks of Serge, Silk and Satin, for the Special Occasion—and a Whole Host of Immensely Nice Coats in Chinchilla, Velours, Etc.

SHE'S A PICTURESQUE YOUNG PERSON, is the modern schoolgirl. Fashion will allow her to be nothing less. She makes modes for her that are the very essence of youth and vitality. And these frocks and wraps that have been gathered together for the Fall and Winter Opening are notable for their smart, serviceable simplicity. Thus:

DRESSES galore in navy blue serge—sailor blouse and Peter Thompson dresses with pleated skirts and sailor collars, ranging in price from $5.95 to $15.00. More blue serge dresses, imported from New York, in trim, loosely-belted one-piece styles, in bolero effects, and in the new high-waisted designs, some of them piece by piece, some of them bound with braid, prices running from $9.00 to $27.00, the simpler models in sizes 6 to 14, the more elaborate in 12 to 14. Also satin and fancy checked and striped taffeta frocks, with navy blue the leading color, brown, Burgundy and green following closely after—$15.00 to $32.50. And for parties, dainty frilly frocks in taffeta, lace and Georgette crepe, in pink, blue, maize and Nile green, $17.50 to $40.00.

E. G. B.—That's a delightful tapestry you have. Like a bit of old needle-point embroidery, isn't it? But you would completely overshadow its mellow coloring if you brought chintz into the room. About the most appropriate thing you could use for the curtains and wing chairs would be a dull corded silk of the tone of rose that runs through the pattern of the tapestry. It would serve as a good foil to the latter, and would be worthy of association with the Persian rug. Such a silk can be had at $2.50 a yard, 60 inches wide. When you reach the happy point of removing the green wall paper, what would you think of replacing it by one in a soft plaster grey shade?—with a drop ceiling of creamy white to reduce the height. As far as one can judge, sill-length curtains should look the best.

"A Friend."—"Salt Haven" and "Dialstone Lane," by Jacobs, are jolly little yarns, and, being chiefly about ships and seaports, should be exactly right for your sailor lad. They can be had, cloth bound, at 30 cents each. The other two books you mention are more than the amount you state.

S. G. R.—Drapery entirely upon the shape and size of the windows, Mrs. R. If they are of an average height and width, then straight, hanging curtains to the sill, one would say. If they are exceptionally wide, the use of a lambrequin or valance would be advisable.

"Anxious One."—Why worry? Crepe de Chine collars and pearl buttons are plentiful as peach pie. You may have the former in many varieties of sailor style at $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00—hemstitched or lace-edged. As for the buttons, they are to be had in navy blue pearl in square, triangular or oblong effect at 35 cents a dozen. These would be much smarter for your blue taffeta frock than the ordinary four-hole smoked pearl. What think ye?

"Knitter."—They are almost as huge as the straw bags carpenters carry. Some of the latest are made of tapestry—in straight hat, schoolbag style, there are several beauties in the art needlework department in green and brown shades with gold galloon binding and blind—price, $5.00. And in the more enormous, full-gathered effect are others in chintz—a wide striped pattern of tan and yellow, or tan and mulberry—with gold galloon binding the frame and handle. There are New York bags and priced $3.75.

BOARD OF CONTROL ATTACKS COMBINES

Resolution Calls on Premier to Widen Scope of Bacon Inquiry.

INDICT MILK-PRODUCERS

Demand That Grand Jury Investigate Increase in Cost of Food.

Sweeping resolutions pertaining to the high cost of living and calling upon Premier Borden, Food Controller Hanna and the grand jury to take such action as will reduce present prices of the necessities of life, were adopted by the board of control yesterday. The resolutions which were moved by Mayor Church, requested the premier to widen the scope of the bacon inquiry, or direct a new inquiry into bread, milk, fuel, ice, dairy and farm products, and other necessities of life with a view to preventing an undue increase in prices and restraint of trade; that the food and fuel controllers fix prices for retail sale of commodities; and that the grand jury investigate the increase in the prices of bread, meat, bacon, milk, ice, dairy and farm products.

Following an interview with the retail milk dealers, the mayor had a conference with County Judge Coatsworth and asked that a bill of indictment be laid against the milk producers for combining for restraint of trade and to enhance prices. The matter would be taken up with the county crown attorney, he said, and the indictment will likely be laid. There was no reason whatever for the latest increase in the price of milk. The law in section 493 of the criminal code says that everyone is guilty of an indictable offence and liable to a penalty not exceeding $4,000 and not less than $200, or to two years' imprisonment, or if a corporation, is liable to a penalty not exceeding $10,000 and not less than $1,000, who conspires, agrees or arranges with any other person or body to unduly prevent, limit or lessen the manufacture or production of any such article or commodity, or to unreasonable exchange the price thereof.

MANIPULATION OF FOOD EXPOSED ON THE SCREEN

Appeal is Both Universal and Irresistible in Days of Soaring Prices.

"The Public Be Damned," the sensational photoplay dealing with food corners and food cornerers, which will be shown at the Strand Theatre for the whole of next week, will surpass, it may confidently be anticipated, every motion picture sensation of which Toronto has had experience.

Its appeal is both universal and irresistible in these days of soaring prices everywhere. People are asking why the price of food is so inordinately high. They get all kinds of answers to this question. But the answer which "The Public Be Damned" visualizes is the one with which most thinking people will agree. It places the blame—and in no certain fashion—on the food monopolist, the profiteer, the speculator, who, with his grasp, and grab, and greed and graft, is giving it to the public "in the neck."

"War makes thieves and peace hangs them," says the old adage. In this country, war has certainly made thieves enough. But the man who has profited by the necessity of his fellow-citizens to hoard wealth for himself while so many of them are in the throes of hunger, if not on the verge of semi-starvation, is the most contemptible criminal of them all. It should be an axiom with every right-thinking person that he or she who gets great wealth out of this war which brings to such countless thousands but a vast heritage of woe, should be ashamed of wealth so gotten. But yet there are people in our midst who, through their manipulation of the people's food—of their daily bread, which we ask to be given to us each day, and which costs us twenty-two cents a loaf, and of other like commodities—are acquiring wealth beyond the dreams of avarice.

Bread is dearer in Toronto than in England. Potatoes are twice as dear. Chickens are eight or nine cents a pound dearer in Toronto than you can buy them in Chicago. Here in Toronto, where everything is so dear, and where the price of food is so high, it is the duty of every citizen interested in this vital matter of the people's food supply, to see to it that means us all—to witness the thorough exposure of the methods of the profiteers involved in the presentation of "The Public Be Damned" at the Strand Theatre all next week.

"Will they let Famine Fight Against Us?"

To us who stay at home, good meals, eaten in comfort, are a commonplace.

But to our Sons, Husbands and Fathers "out there" food is the only thing that matters. The possible lack of food forever haunts them. For without food, how can they "carry on."

From whence shall come their bodily strength?

Realizing these things---how dare we fail to send them the foods they so sorely need?

How can we refuse to eat a little less white bread, beef and bacon so that there will be enough of these non-perishable foods for them?

Shall we let famine, also, fight against them? Or with these facts before them will the great Legion of Canadian Women live up to their Food Service Pledges?

The answer lies with each one of you.

The Judgment of Mankind will write an outcast verdict upon those who do not sign and live up to the Food Service Pledge.

Practical Housekeeping Hints

How to Care for Food

A food may contain sufficient nourishment to give it high value as a food and yet if proper care is not taken of it the food may become unfit for consumption.

Foods may be divided into three classes: Those that spoil easily; those that do not spoil so easily; those that may be kept a long time with proper care.

The foods that spoil easily are milk, cream, uncooked meat, uncooked fish, certain fruits, such as peaches and plums, and vegetables that wilt easily, such as lettuce and spinach.

Milk and Cream—Milk and cream bottles are usually dirty on the outside when delivered to you. Wash them carefully, particularly the top of the bottle, before opening, so that no dirt can possibly get into the milk or cream.

Uncooked Meat—Do not keep your meat in the paper in which it is wrapped when bought.

Unwrap it as soon as you get it home and wipe it off with a clean cloth that has been wrung out in cold water. The meat will keep better and the juices will remain in it longer, if you will wrap it in wax paper until you are ready to use it.

Uncooked Fish—Never put uncooked fish into the ice-box unless the fish is closely covered. You will find a tin lard pail useful for this purpose. If the fish is not covered other food in the ice-box will absorb the strong odor from it and be made unfit for use.

Fruits—All fruits should be kept in a cool, dry place, and spread out, if possible.

Vegetables—Vegetables that are to be eaten in a raw state should be washed well in clean, cold water, placed directly on the ice, or in a very cold place, to preserve their crispness. Lettuce should be carefully picked over and washed at once.

The foods that do not spoil so easily are eggs, butter, fruit such as apples, oranges and lemons, cooked meat, and cooked, salted and smoked fish.

Eggs—Care is necessary in the handling of eggs, as the spoiling is partly due to unclean handling, the shells being more or less porous. It is best to wash them as soon as you get them home. When only the yolk of an egg is used, the white may be kept in a cup or glass, covered with a damp cloth fastened with an elastic band; or, if only the white is used, the yolk can be kept in the same way.

Butter—Butter should be kept well covered and in a cool place.

Cooked Meat and Fish will keep much better if they are well covered before placed in the ice-box.

The foods that can be kept a long time with proper care are flour, salt, coffee, tea, all dried groceries, spices and chocolate. All these should be kept closely covered to keep out dust and dirt. Coffee, tea and spices will lose their flavor if left uncovered.

Cheese should be kept in a cool dry place. It should be wrapped in a clean cloth moistened with vinegar. This will prevent the formation of mould.

CITY HALL NOTES

For damage done to the Dominion Bank property at 1176 Yonge street by the construction of the subway, Judge Winchester has decreed that the city shall pay $22,000. The amount claimed was $137,000, but this figure was decreased by the estimates of the bank's experts. The bank officials declared that their property was injured thru being placed some feet above the level of the roadway. The amount awarded is almost identical with that fixed by the city, $22,350. Despite the strong objection of Controller Foster the board of control has recommended that the salary of Robert E. Mills, chief of records and statistics in the medical health department, be increased from $1,526 to $1,800 a year. Hired carters were given a 10 per cent. increase. The board provided the funds to carry on the investigation into the affairs of the building department of the board of education. Do you wish to buy or sell? WILLS PROBATED

Estate valued at $38,500 was left by J. D. Kuppenheimer, a merchant of Montreal, who died in Toronto. Mrs. Nora K. Kuppenheimer, the widow, is the sole beneficiary. William Aiken, a carpenter, who died in Toronto July 27 last, left an estate valued at $6400. By a will made June 10, 1915, his widow, Mrs. Phoebe Aiken, receives $1000 and $2300 interest in the University avenue property. A son, Henry, receives $2300 interest and a daughter, Phoebe, $1400 interest in the property. Alvaro Alvarez has applied to be appointed administrator of the estate left by his brother, Rufino Alvarez, a wholesale tobacco merchant who died in Toronto June last leaving no will. The estate will be equally divided between the petitioner, his mother, Mrs. Teresa Suarez, and his sister, Eliza Alvarez, both of whom live in Spain. Breaking the glass in a new fire alarm box for hotel or office building rooms, permits the alarm to be sounded and frees a fire escape rope and harness.

The Federal Franchise Act

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican concerns itself with Canadian politics long enough to declare as "unfair" the provisions of the federal franchise bill. The bill, it says, is designed to aid the pro-conscriptionists in the coming election, and rather unfairly adds:

It is not the way in a democracy to deny the vote to a man with whom you disagree. But the naturalized voters who are temporarily deprived of their franchise under the federal franchise bill are not necessarily opposed to conscription. There is no reason why they should be, because they themselves are exempted from the operations of the act. It is because they are not subject to military service in war time that they are unsuitable electors for a war time election. Would it not be absurd for people but recently arrived from the enemy countries to take part in shaping Canada's policy during the war?

Many of these people have sons and brothers fighting in the Kaiser's army. They would be less than human if their sympathies were not divided. Perhaps in some cases they really hope to see the Prussians victorious. A great many people run away with the idea that naturalization confers the right to vote. That is not the case, because many naturalized British subjects living in Canada have never possessed the franchise. There are many male British subjects 21 years of age and upwards born in Canada who for one reason or another, do not vote in this, that or the other province.

Then, after all our Liberal friends should remember that we only have a war time election at because we are forced to hold a wartime election. Sir Robert Borden tried to prevent this by coalition. He offered the Liberals half the government without a contest. It was up to them to prolong until after the war the lifetime of parliament. But nothing would do the Liberals but to have an election in war time, and now they would be only too glad to recall the past three months and be able to arrange for an extension of the parliamentary term.

In short, the Liberal members of parliament acted rather like a lot of spoiled children, bent upon defying a good-natured, easy-going teacher. They refused everything offered and responded to every overture of kindness ungraciously and made order impossible by their clamor. Sir Robert Borden, like many a school teacher before him, had to bring out the hickory rod, which, if spared too long, spoils the child. Now the Liberals are fearful and rueful and wish they had acted differently. Many a child has refused candy and cake only to get a whipping in the end. There is a limit to the patience even of school teachers and preachers.

The Food Situation

Lord Rhonda, food controller for Great Britain, asks for 10,000,000 tons of food. This is the real crux of the food control problem on this side of the Atlantic. We may not like to pay high prices, nor cut down our allowances, nor eat unfamiliar dishes, but the war, which many people still fail to realize as the biggest fact in life at present, has created a condition in which we must place restraint upon ourselves, or we may lose the war and others will constrain us. The vision of a victorious Germany lording it over us or our children ought to make any sacrifice acceptable. At the same time, they people who are buying at high prices and consuming minimum quantities have a right to be protected. The food controller's recent dictum that he could not interfere with the laws of supply and demand has been taken by the profiteers to imply that they can charge any price for their commodities that they can persuade the people to pay. Mayor Church is quite right and the city council should back him up in the endeavor to place a limit to the game of extortion which producers and distributors are engaged in. Some of them cannot help themselves, perhaps, but the government should do a little for the citizens in the presence of the war stress. Milk is undoubtedly a difficult matter to deal with at present. There is an unlimited market in cheese factories, evaporated milk factories, and creamery and butter dairies, and the farmers are unwilling to forego a cent of any profit they feel they can extract. Their turn has come. For years they have sold their produce at gift prices. War has given new values to their crops, and they estimate their output in hard cash. They refuse to turn their grain and fodder into milk to sell at a cheaper return than they would get for the raw material.

The Quebec Bridge

The Quebec bridge is now an accomplished fact. Some thought, after the disaster of a year ago, that the impetuous St. Lawrence would remain unbridged below Montreal. But there is now in place, near the ancient capital of Quebec, a bridge across the St. Lawrence that may well be reckoned among the wonders of the world. From pier to pier the Quebec bridge is longer than any span of the famous Firth of Forth bridge. The bridge becomes an integral part of the great national railway system connecting eastern Canada with the great Canadian west, and consequently brings the City of Quebec on to the main street of Canadian commerce and transportation. A year ago, when the last span of the great bridge being hoisted into place fell into the river below, it ventured to say that the event would be a black eye to Canada unless the disaster was promptly retrieved. Now Canadian brains and enterprise have made good, and the men who last September were heartbroken may today feel justifiable pride and exaltation. But we have reached the goal in the case of the Quebec bridge thru a waste of treasure and sacrifice of life. The project was in its inception political, and unsavory so long as the bridge was controlled by a private corporation. There was a tragic disaster in the course of construction ten years ago, and the events of September, 1916, are still fresh in memory. However, the project is now owned by the nation, and it has become part of our great national highway. Long may it stand

The public, after all, have some rights, and one of these elementary rights is the right to live. A very large portion of the population will be unable to continue to live and pay for food at the rates which are being established.

There appears to be no relief to be hoped for from the food controller. Public opinion is turning, therefore, in other directions. The investigation of the cold-storage warehouses promises results, and the evidence does not popularize the warehouse policy, nor justify to the public mind the state of things that obtains in the supply of food. It is natural, therefore, that the food controller should ask for a more extended inquiry into the whole food situation. It was expected that the food controller would have provided such an inquiry, and no doubt he has had investigations made and has much information at his disposal. We submit that this is not the time to suppress it. Conditions cannot be worse than they are, and they will certainly not be made worse by stating plain facts. The people, rightly or wrongly, have the impression, growing stronger daily, that much is being concealed, that profiteers are being shielded, and the facts that have come to light have done nothing to remove the impression.

If the government thinks that the proper attitude to take is to do as little as possible and not interfere except under pressure of a revolutionary nature, then the government is making an error which may be beyond repentance. The situation is very grave, and it should be taken in hand.

School Sites

There may be objection taken in some quarters to the decision of the education department that no more three-story schools are to be built, and that school sites must have an adequate acreage in proportion to the school attendance. This has been laid down as a principle for years in countries where the children of the nation are regarded as the most precious asset the nation possesses. More than ever is this the case in the presence of our war mortality, and while we may not approve of the brutal German methods of adding to the population, there is nothing that we should not do to conserve the health and intelligence of the children that normally come to us.

Land is plentiful here compared with Great Britain, but we have never taken the broad gauge methods employed there. The rule there is one-story schools, and there is always plenty of space around them. Air and light, both in school and out, are a necessity for healthful children, and it is simply criminal not to provide it.

Objections on the score of cost in Toronto need never be raised if common sense methods had been adopted in the first instance, methods which should be in use now in procuring school sites in advance of requirements. The World has for years been advocating the adoption of some plan of metropolitan area control, but certain influences in the city contend against anything of the sort with all their strength. The Ontario government itself has not given the support to such a movement that it should, and it is an indication of the lack of co-operation in government departments that the education department should be recommending a step which would have been rendered easy had the other department responsible assisted the passing of legislation for suburban town and city planning which any level-headed municipality would desire to see.

The Quebec bridge is now an accomplished fact. Some thought, after the disaster of a year ago, that the impetuous St. Lawrence would remain unbridged below Montreal. But there is now in place, near the ancient capital of Quebec, a bridge across the St. Lawrence that may well be reckoned among the wonders of the world. as a monument to the indomitable character of our people and to the courage and ability of the great construction companies and engineers responsible for its success.

OTHER PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

The Toronto World invites correspondence on subjects of current interest. Letters must be short and to the point—not more than 200 words. Red Cross Workers, and Wool.

Editor World: The opening of a new year of Red Cross work always brings to Canadian headquarters of the society a very large amount of business. At the present moment we have found it necessary to enlarge the work of our emergency department, which meets under the superintendency of Miss Frances Campbell at 65 Church street, where rooms have been placed at the disposal of the society by the corporation of St. James' Cathedral. The work of this department is the preparation of samples and to meet such emergencies and sudden calls as may come to the head office. It is the desire of the superintendent to open the rooms every morning in the week except Saturdays and to work for the entire day on Tuesdays and Fridays.

Will you give me space to make an appeal to those who have not yet taken up any definite work for the winter who may be working in small groups to this department? We need twenty workers and should like those who have leisure to give each morning if possible. As we know that there are many girls on the market who do voluntary service we venture to make an appeal to them in the interests of the Red Cross. We need twenty workers to be made to Miss Campbell, 65 Church street, by letter in the first instance or by personal application between the hours of 10 and 4 on any day.

I should like also to bring to the notice of your readers the critical situation of the wool market. There is only one wool in Canada, and it is food in the hands of a few hands of wool monopolists in this country. As a fact, rightly or wrongly—and those who see "The Public Be Damned" will swear by all the gods that it is rightly the majority of the people are convinced that they are the victims of the profiteers. They may not be able to parry all the plausible pretences which are so freely put forward by those interested in the cost of food. But you can't fool all the people all the time. They are being victimized, and it is their right to know the truth.

"The Public Be Damned" exemplifies conditions in the large cities in the United States. But, in good times, one may see all the conditions in any of those cities are any worse than they are in this fair City of Toronto. In Chicago, at all events, they do not seem to be better than they are in Toronto. There is one particular brand of bacon which is a great favorite here, and it is sold at a profit of fifty cents a pound. The same bacon sold in Chicago at a profit of twenty cents a pound, sirloin roast, rolled and boned, for twenty and a half cents a pound. Five pounds of ham and five pounds of beef are sold in Chicago for thirty-eight cents each. Rib roasts of young and old are sold at fifteen and a half cents a pound. This in Toronto is twenty cents a pound, and a vast majority of the people in Toronto are getting it at that price.

What is the reason of all this? "The Public Be Damned" hints, and more than hints, that the reason is to be found in the fact that the public in the United States is not getting a square deal from the agents who are engaged in the distribution of food. If the public does not get a square deal in Chicago, and if prices in Chicago are much higher than in Toronto, to what sort of deal are the people in Toronto getting? A pretty raw one, is it not?

STOLEN MOTOR CAR.

George Crowhurst and George McClymont, the two boys who were found guilty of receiving a stolen motor car, are now being held in the Toronto Jail, were sentenced to three months each in jail by Judge Coatsworth yesterday, and the three other lads, Percy and Robert, were each fined $25 or one month in jail.

CLAIMS DISMISSED.

The action of Wallace McLean, who was suing C. B. Miller for $40, being rent of a cottage at 822 Lake Shore road, Centre Island, was dismissed yesterday by Judge Coatsworth. The counter-claim of Mr. Miller for $350 for breach of contract, $25 for selling produce and $5.36 for a gas bill was also dismissed.

"Public Be Damned" Reveals System by Which Public is Starved and Robbed.

A food campaign has recently been inaugurated by the food controller, its object being the conservation, by means of substitution and in other ways, of the food supply of the country. Nobody of right principle would willingly see a single word hampered or hindered in its way to any way. Its object is entirely right and necessary. But there are other measures in connection with the food situation which are necessary too. It is to such other measures that "The Public Be Damned," the student and sensational photoplay to be seen at the Grand Theatre for the whole of next week, points with unerring finger. In the United States and in Canada there is food in plenty. But "The Public Be Damned" shows that in the former country the food trust is grinding the common people in its demand for exorbitant and extortionate profits. Who shall say that Canadians are not common people in their hands of food monopolists in this country?

As a fact, rightly or wrongly—and those who see "The Public Be Damned" will swear by all the gods that it is rightly the majority of the people are convinced that they are the victims of the profiteers. They may not be able to parry all the plausible pretences which are so freely put forward by those interested in the cost of food. But you can't fool all the people all the time. They are being victimized, and it is their right to know the truth.

GOVERNMENT BRINGING IN FRESH-WATER FISH

First Shipment Expected to Reach Toronto Market Next Thursday.

It is announced that by Thursday next, Toronto will have a supply of fresh water fish, direct from Lake Nipigon, controlled by the Ontario Government, with the profits of the sale of the fish going into the provincial coffers. By this new plan it is expected that the present cost of fresh water fish will be cut down about $ 8 cents a pound. The Hon. Finlay G. Macdairmid, minister of public works, told a reporter for The World yesterday that on Tuesday the first shipment of trout, whitefish, sturgeon, and pickerel will leave Lake Nipigon, and will be placed on the market in Toronto about Thursday. The fish will be sold by the retailers at a profit of two cents a pound.

SHORT AUTUMN TRIP OR GLORIOUS AUTUMN JAUNT.

From October 1st to the 15th, in the Berkshire Hills and the Catskill Mountains, is about as ideal a jaunt as one can make. It is exceedingly popular and the hotels are well filled. Daily motoring is over perfect roads amid most lovely scenery with the soft autumn haze suffusing the landscape. Some members of a last year's party are taking the trip again, so charming was it. For particulars enquire Mr. W. J. Moffatt, city passenger agent, Grand Trunk Railway System, N.W. corner King and Yonge streets, Toronto, Ont.

Gabriel Clane was sentenced to five days in jail for stealing electric current from the Toronto Electric Light Co., by Judge Coatsworth in the sessions yesterday.

CANADA WELL COVERED BY NEWSPAPERS.

Despite War, Canada's Reading Public Well Served.

Canada continues to be unusually well served by the press. This is brought out in the current issue of the Canadian Newspaper Directory, compiled by A. McKim Limited, Advertising Agency, of Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and London, Eng. There are 1381 publications of all kinds now being issued in Canada, including 128 dailies, four tri-weeklies, 46 semi-weeklies, 221 weeklies, 223 monthlies, one bi-monthly, and 16 quaterlies. Reflecting the general prosperity which has obtained in Canada since war began, the publishing business is in a healthy condition. Since A. McKim Limited issued its first Canadian Newspaper Directory 26 years ago, the firm has seen the birth of many of the publications listed in its directory, and is in a position to have accurate knowledge of the field. The present-day condition of the Canadian press enables the Dominion to compare favorably with the largest reading public in the world in proportion to population.

As usual, McKim's Newspaper Directory contains a list of publishers and information regarding every town and city in Canada where a newspaper or other publication is issued, giving postal, telephone, telegraph, telephone, express, banking facilities and other accommodations. It is a veritable mine of pertinent up-to-date information for business men at a time when such facts as it contains are in great demand by far-flung industrial leaders. The book itself is well bound and is a good fit for a place on any office desk or in any library.

T. EATON CO. WOULD BUY CITY PROPERTY

Section Desired for Warehouse on Coxwell Avenue Has Three Hundred Feet Frontage.

In a communication to the board of control yesterday, Assessment Commissioner Forman announced that representatives of the T. Eaton Company had been negotiating with his department for the purchase of a section of city property on the east side of Coxwell avenue for the purpose of erecting a warehouse at a cost of $65,000. The property desired has a frontage of 400 feet and a depth of 242 feet and the price offered is $50,000.

This offer was considered satisfactorily by the commissioner and Controller O'Neill, and they favored, subject to the Mayor's Council thought, that it would be unwise for the city to sell for $30,000, which is at the rate of about $15 a foot. The property, if sold, should bring more than $100 a foot.

The board of control will view the property and make a recommendation to the city council, which meets Monday night. The land from which the Eaton Company wants to obtain a section of five acres in extent, has a frontage of 975 feet on the east side of Coxwell avenue, and was purchased by the city in connection with the Coxwell avenue subway for $41,703. It is part of the township lot 8 of the 1st concession from the bay, between Gerrard street and the south side of the Grand Trunk right-of-way.

EMPLOYMENT AGENCIES MUST PAY LICENSE FEE

Government Moves to Protect Workers and Employers From Extortion.

A new set of regulations have just been issued by the trades and labor branch of the department of public works that will affect the private employment agencies through the city. Each private employment bureau must pay a license fee of $25 and deposit a bond of $300 in addition to paying any municipal license fee that may be charged.

One of the most important of the new rules is that one that states that not more than $1 fee is to be charged for securing employment for any person or any employer a larger fee than $1. Further, an employment agency cannot charge more than $1 for any amount greater than the actual cost involved. Many lumbering interests have been held up for $3 for every man that has been sent them, and in addition to this some agencies have even charged as much as $25 a week for the men's board, whereas the actual cost has been much less.

REPLIES TO CRITICS OF JAIL SYSTEM

Hon. W. D. McPherson Issues Statement Regarding Present Inmates.

SOME NECESSARY WORK Claims That Any Delay in Transfer is Up to City Officials.

In answer to a report to the effect that there were 100 men at present in the Toronto Jail who were being kept there by the provincial authorities instead of being sent to the jail farm, where they would be of more use, the Hon. W. D. McPherson, provincial secretary, has made the following statement:

The provincial secretary's department receives a daily statement from the head turnkey of the Toronto jail of the male and female population at the jail each day. Yesterday there were 84 male prisoners and 25 female of the 84 males 50 were remands whose cases had not been disposed of by the court, consequently no transfer would be made from the jail to the municipal farm of any of them, as they are required to be in attendance at the court on such days as their cases have been remanded to the court. The women were remands whose cases had not been disposed of, of 34, and five women. Under the arrangement between the provincial secretary's department and Property Commissioner Chisholm, 14 male prisoners are at all times required to perform necessary duties which, if not performed by prisoners, would require to be performed by paid labor.

Twenty-four were sentenced yesterday, 20 men who had been sentenced and of these two were for sentences of ten days each, two were required to be held for the federal authorities for transfer to Kingston Penitentiary. One man, 38 years of age, too infirm to be of any value at the municipal farm. One sentence to be held at the jail as a witness in a pending case, two were had been issued earlier in the day by the inspector of prisons, as is his daily custom, to the sheriff of the City of Toronto, for removal to the municipal farm of those prisoners who should go there, and to the provincial bailiff for the prisoners who should go to the provincial institution for their various sentences.

Of the five women whose cases had been disposed of and who were sentenced, three, I regret to say, were suffering from disease which unfitted them for life at the women's industrial farm at Concord, and in the cases of the other two, their sentences were for five days each.

As soon as the inspector of prisons receives the daily statement of the head turnkey, warrants are immediately issued to the sheriff of Toronto, authorizing the necessary transfers of the Toronto prisoners, also warrants are issued to the provincial bailiff for the transfers of those prisoners whose sentence is for a period long enough to require them to be transferred to a provincial institution. When the warrant is issued by the inspector to the sheriff of the City of Toronto, the control of the department to the control of the city officials, and whatever delay there may be in making the transfers is responsible to them and not to our department.

executive. In the future all landed purchases of bacon, ham, lard, butter and cheese in the United States will be pooled thru this executive, thus eliminating competitive buying between the allies, which raises prices in the United States and at home.

Baron Rhondia went on appreciatively in regard to Lord Northcliffe's efforts in the United States, adding:

Special Mission.
"A special mission representing the ministry of war will be leaving here for New York. Owen Hugh Smith, who has been minister of munitions in the United States, will be attached to Lord Northcliffe's organization. Mr. Smith will be accompanied by various experts on food production and purchase.

"C. A. M. Phillips, who went to the United States with Foreign Secretary Balfour, has returned to England and been appointed by the war cabinet as a channel of communication between the government departments and the British mission in the United States.

Baron Rhondia also announced that Sir Joseph White Todd, a member of the British sugar commission, and J. R. Drake, a London broker, were going to New York as the British members of Mr. Hoover's sugar committee.

Mr. Hoover has informed Baron Rhondia that the United States would not be a competitor in the Java market. The formation of an inter-allied council to deal with the allocation of all war supplies required in the United States is rapidly progressing.

To Win War.
"I hope the exportable surplus of Canadian and American primary foodstuffs will be much larger than the present estimates, as the results of food economies by which the United States and Canadian homes are helping to win the war just as surely as the production of munitions," Baron Rhondia said.

"Unless the entente allies are able to supply the supplies necessary for the armies and the civilian population, victory may slip from our united grasp. In regard to prices today, we are paying the United States and Canada more than double the range that existed before the war. I have heard it asked, 'What does that matter as long as the purchases are financed by the United States?'

"My answer is that unless prices determined upon are fair, an unnecessary burden is placed on the backs of the allied government, European consumers, American and Canadian taxpayers, and, reactively, on every food consumer in America for the sole benefit of a small section of the community.

"I now am able to limit the profits derived by those engaged in the food industries of the United Kingdom. We examine the books and apply a system of cost and expense. I expect to hear that Mr. Hoover and Mr. Hanna have taken similar steps so that we will be able to assure the people that the existing high prices of imported foods do not represent profiteering.

"In this connection, I am anxiously watching the price and the available supply across the water of foodstuffs for cattle, upon which depends largely, the price of meat and bacon. Unless the existing high levels are reduced, the poorer classes in the United Kingdom, France and Italy, are faced with many privations."

Baron Rhondia said that he expected soon to register all food traders here, and that if a few persist in disobeying orders, they will be struck off the list and thereby forced out of business.

PARLIAMENT HAS CONCLUDED WORK

this purpose, as well as to give due recognition to service and sacrifice in the ranks of the state, the necessary adjustments which you have made in the legislation relevant to these matters will doubtless prove effective.

"The legislation you have passed for the purpose of assisting returned soldiers to settle upon the land will not only aid materially in restoring these gallant men to their rightful status in the community, but should greatly increase the agricultural production of the country.

"The appointment of a food controller and of a fuel controller in order that our national strength may continue unimpaird.

No Vain Sacrifices.
In order that our industries may be equipped to cope with the intricate problems of the future, provision has been wisely made for promoting scientific and industrial research, and in solving our difficult problems of railway transportation, and the means have been provided whereby a great railway system shall become the property of the people of Canada and be added to their national undertakings.

Members of the house of commons: In the name of His Majesty I thank you for the liberal provision you have made for the needs of the public service and for the prosecution of the war.

Honorable gentlemen of the senate: Gentlemen of the house of commons: The stress of the war becomes increasingly severe. The people of Canada, resolute in the supreme purpose of winning thru victory an abiding peace, have not faltered; and I am confident that whatever further efforts are necessary will be unhesitatingly made in the stern determination that the vast sacrifices already made shall not be in vain.

No Furrough Arranged.
Sir Robert Borden: I informed the house that he had been in communication with Sir George Perley with regard to the proposal to give the original Australian expeditionary force a furlough. Sir George had replied that the high commissioner for Australia had received no communication from the government.

Hon. C. Murphy: "Have any steps been taken to give the Canadian first division a furlough?"

Sir Robert Borden: "No; no steps have been taken."

Hon. R. Lemieux brought up the letter which the deputy speaker is said to have written regarding the exemption of farmers under the Military Service Act. Mr. Lemieux asked if any regulations along the lines had been adopted.

Sir Robert Borden replied that the regulations were still under consideration by the military service council, and nothing final had yet been done.

Tribute to Col. Smith.
Sir Robert Borden: I have a warm tribute to the late Col. H. R. Smith, sergeant-at-arms of the commons, whose death occurred yesterday. Sir Robert referred to the fine type of gentleman of the old school and a man of much culture. Those who knew him had always been impressed with the dignity and courtesy with which he performed his responsible duties.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier joined in the tribute. He said that the late Col. Smith was one of the best servants the house ever had, a man of strictest and highest sense of honor.

Replying to a question asked some days ago by Sir Edward Kemp said that the militia department had 141 officers employed overseas and 493 non-commissioned officers and men, not including civilian employees.

Sir Robert Borden referred to the impending retirement of Dr. Flint as clerk of the house. He expressed his personal appreciation of Dr. Flint's uniform courtesy and faithful attention to duty. Seconded by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Robert moved that Dr. Flint be retained as an honorary officer of the house, and that he be allowed the entire use of the house of commons, with a seat at the table on occasions of ceremony.

Under the terms of the War Times Election Act women could be employed as enumerators.

Hon. Arthur Meighen replied that in his opinion it would be quite within the law to appoint women to such positions.

He then took up the senate amendments to the War-times Elections Act. Sir Robert Borden submitted a series of sub-amendments. Here Sir Robert said the house, in a telegram stating that the central span of the Quebec bridge had been put into position and was being attached to the cantilever arms. The announcement was received with loud applause.

A. K. Maclean Protests.
Hon. A. K. Maclean took up the discussion on the senate amendment. He declared that while Liberal members had attended conferences in respect to the proposed amendments, he had not done so. He protested against what he termed the unseemly manner in which the amendments had been submitted on the eve of prorogation. Under the amendment the Province of Nova Scotia had been singled out for the establishment of a federal franchise just for the sake of gaining some political advantage.

Hon. Mr. Meighen said the amendment had been introduced by members of the senate and consented to by the Conservatives.

The legislation under discussion provided that in opposition to the motion of the House of Commons, as a basis for the lists to be used in the coming election. They must, however, go before county court judges for review.

J. H. Sinclair of Guyabro asserted that the amendment was a piece of partisan injustice without any excuse. He said that the amendment proposed to appoint parties, not to make the lists in the first place. The enumerators were practically certain to be drawn from the ranks of the Conservatives.

The legislation under discussion provided that in opposition to the motion of the House of Commons, as a basis for the lists to be used in the coming election. They must, however, go before county court judges for review.

Mr. Bennett informed the house that the department of national service had issued to the various provincial officials in various capacities. The members of the board, he went on, were originally of the idea that the signing of the cards should be made by the various provincial officials, and the system was eventually adopted, and Mr. Bennett outlined the publicity work done in connection with it.

The cards received had been classified with great care and provided much useful data. They were divided into military classes, military prospects and industrial. It was shown, for instance, that out of 1,649,000 cards there were 475,363 military prospects. These were divided as follows: 27,000 in the army; 1,382,376; farmers, 183,727; skilled shipbuilding, munition and mine workers, 466; total, 475,363.

It was shown that the voluntary army and the conscription law had also made and 250,000 cards were distributed among soldiers overseas to get their idea as to intention in regard to their service in the army or navy. Mr. Bennett claimed that the information obtained by the national service would be of great utility in dealing with after the war problems.

LESS MEN APPLY FOR EXAMINATION

Of Four Hundred and Fifty Applicants, Twenty-Seven Rejected.

Yesterday's figures at the Toronto Mobilization Centre showed another slight reduction in the number of applicants, 468 being examined and 27 rejected. The total number of applicants since the centre opened on Sept. 28, of which 28 were rejected, was 1,027. The rejected men were assigned to the following units: 1st C.O.R., 25; 1st S. Forestry Coy.; 2nd C.O.R., 1; C.A.M.C., 1; Canadian Engineers, O.S., 1; C.O.T.C., 1; Inland Water Transport Coy., 4; 40th and 50th recruits were accepted and five rejected by the Royal Flying Corps.

An analysis of the medical examination figures shows the men assigned to the Royal Flying Corps were 170; Class B, 87; Class C, 112; Class D, 170. Seventy-two were rejected and thirty-eight were examined for the R.F.C. making in all a total of 410 men examined.

Major A. C. Ashton, a returned officer, recently appointed to take charge of the Brampton Mobilization Centre, was at the armories yesterday getting pointers on the movement of the units as carried out here.

The 5th Machine Gun Corps have resumed their regular Thursday night parades and the officers commanding have planned to take a week's leave in the next month with advance guard and outpost work. Last night the n.e.o.'s were given their first drill throughout the province by taking charge of and drilling the regiment.

Thought-out views on conscription as embodied in the resolutions of the 1915 and 1916 conventions of the congress. We therefore recommend that the present government be petitioned to withhold application of the Military Service Act until after the election of a new parliament, and that we recommend to all affiliated bodies that they use all their efforts to obtain a pledge from their candidates for parliament that if elected they will immediately vote for the repeal of this measure."

Rule By Mob.
Delegate Cassidy (Montreal): "I am against the report of the executive committee, because it is weak-kneed. Sir Robert's remarks should be guarded. In his remarks following his resolution because there is such a thing as a Defence of the Realm Act, and we must all be careful. If the amendment carried much of the time which would otherwise be taken up for discussion would be saved. The government is dependent on the force of its own majority. If it is enforced, it would not be the first time in history that mobs have ruled the government. That is how stand like mob and that is precisely what it is doing. The mob must prevail. A certain King of England had his head not yet been stuck on his head has not yet been stuck on his head has not yet been stuck on his head."

Delegate J. A. Murphy (Ottawa): "For years I have enjoyed the protection of the British flag and the British nation, and I know that there is no power on earth that can take it away from me. That how stand like mob and that is precisely what it is doing. The mob must prevail. A certain King of England had his head not yet been stuck on his head has not yet been stuck on his head."

Delegate Knight, Edmonton, related an incident which had happened at a meeting at which some returned soldiers broke up the meeting. He referred to the soldiers as "hired ruffians."

Delegate King (Toronto): "Who did you call hired ruffians?"
Delegate Knight: "When I used that term I did not refer to the returned soldiers as a body, or to the Great West, I have a fine appetite, I eat everything I want and am never troubled with gas or anything else. That old third feeding is gone, and I have a sharp appetite for my supper. I have gained six pounds during the past two weeks, and I feel so good over my continued improvement that I am telling all my friends about it."

Upholds Conscription.

Delegate Gus. Franco, secretary of the Montreal Trades and Labor Council, received some pointed remarks for a stand strongly in favor of conscription. He said that out of all the delegates in the hall fully 99 per cent. hold different views on the subject. He said that he was not in favor of conscription, but that the will of the people must prevail. He declared that the delegates who say they are not in favor of conscription are not in favor of conscription. He said that he would not be said of returned men in general.

Some of the delegates.

Some of the delegates, like Gustavo Franco of Montreal, J. Murphy of Ottawa, disapproved of the proposal. McKenna, Sault Ste. Marie; Mr. Doan of London, all declared themselves to be strongly in favor of conscription.

She Went Days Without Food

When Hospital Treatment Failed—But Cure Was Effected Without the Use of the Knife.

Gloucester, N.S., Sept. 20.—Here is a case which sorely puzzled the hospital doctors. It was evident that the patient, suffering from pain under the right shoulder, was due to torpidity of the liver, but no medical treatment seemed to do any good.

The result was that she was perfectly cured three years ago, and feels as though she had never been ill. This is not an isolated case, but proves that this great medicine cures when ordinary prescriptions fail.

Dr. Annie Watkins, Gloucester, N.S., writes: "I think it is time for me to give my experience with your wonderful Kidney-Liver Pills. For seven months I suffered with what the doctor called indigestion, but whatever it was, I suffered terribly. The pain would start under my left shoulder and pass down my side until it reached the pit of my stomach. It just seemed as if the stick were being run from the bandage the soldiers and working men at the front did not receive the necessary reinforcements. Germany would never be whipped. Who was going to whip her, then?"

Delegate Robert Stevenson of Toronto, pointed to the victory of the Welsh miners, and said that this would not have been the case had conscription been in force. He had opposed conscription at last year's convention, but since that time had changed his mind. He said that he would support the necessary reinforcements. Germany would never be whipped. Who was going to whip her, then?"

PROVED TO BE THE FRIEND IN NEED

Shell Maker Was Unable to Do Any Work for Seven Weeks.

KEPT GETTING WORSE
Hasn't Lost a Day From His Work Since He Began Taking Tanlac.

"Tanlac certainly proved to be the friend in need in my case, and it is only fair that I should give it credit for putting me on my feet again after everything else had failed to do me any good," said Thomas Brown, who is employed by the A. B. Ormsby Shell Company, and residing at 245 Victoria street, Toronto, the other day.

"For over a year," he continued, "I suffered from a bad case of stomach trouble and a general rundown condition of the system that kept getting worse in spite of everything I could do. I lost my appetite entirely, and what little I managed to force down soured on my stomach, and I became so weak that I just had to give up and went able to do a lick of work for seven weeks. I had no life no energy left, and even a short walk would tire me out so that I would fall down on the bed exhausted to even take off my shoes. In fact, I was about all in and had mighty slim hopes of ever getting back to my work again."

"I had been reading all about Tanlac and became so impressed with the statements made by such reliable people that I got a bottle to try. Honestly, before I had finished my first bottle I felt I was beginning to straighten me out, and by the time my second bottle was used up I was strong enough to go back to work. And I haven't lost a day off my job since. My stomach trouble has entirely disappeared, I have a fine appetite, I eat everything I want and am never troubled with gas or anything else. That old third feeding is gone, and I have a sharp appetite for my supper. I have gained six pounds during the past two weeks, and I feel so good over my continued improvement that I am telling all my friends about it."

of the country had been placed by the politicians in opposition to the motion of the House of Commons, as a basis for the lists to be used in the coming election. They must, however, go before county court judges for review.

Delegate Tom Moore (Niagara Falls) blamed the whole responsibility of the conscription measure upon the Mackenzie-Paen and other large corporations. He had always been opposed to the conscription act and was still opposed to it.

Delegate Cassidy, following a conversation with a new arrival, said excitedly: "Mr. Chairman, the house adjourned, I have learned and adjourned at 5.30. I suggest that we should vote upon and pass, as we are going to do. Delegate Bruce's amendment to the effect that we should have immediate repeal of the conscription act. Then let us go down to the house before it adjourns and put it to the vote. We should not let the government do this. We should not let the government do this. We should not let the government do this."

This suggestion was greeted with cheer after cheer. Further action was stopped for the moment, when President Watterson said that Delegate Farnille would be speaking.

Delegate Farnille said that in his opinion there was too much apathy among the labor men to take any definite action. He suggested that they felt that this apathy could be regenerated by such men as Cassidy, Knight and others. They could not go definitely on record, but could work quietly among their different bodies and sow the seed of definite action. Then, when the time came, they could be a crowd with intelligence than a hero to be used as fertilizer," and that he would be shot by a firing squad before he would be compelled to take up arms, damn you."

Delegate Martel (Montreal) favored the Cassidy amendment, and thought of a general strike unless and until the government was not to blame for the situation as much as the labor men themselves.

ONE-RUN FACTORY IS GUELPH STORY

All-Stars Pounded Thompson and Came Close to Tying the Score.

Special to The Toronto World. Guelph, Sept. 20.—The barnstorming Toronto Ball Club, champions of the International League, with Manager Larry Lajoie at the head, paid Guelph a visit today and played a game with an all-star aggregation made up of ex-Canadian League players at the Exhibition Grounds. The champions received a royal welcome from the Royal City, a splendid crowd numbering about 1500 turning out to see them perform. The day was perfect for good baseball and they thereby enjoyed the game as they have not since they played at the Exhibition Grounds. WHO WILL BE THE HERO OF THE 1917 WORLD SERIES?

When an ambitious athlete takes a seat on an obscure part of the Giant bench and holds it for three or four seasons he is very likely to blossom forth into a star. Among the most notable of those who went thru this course of seasoning is Rube Marquard. McGraw has just produced another boy who bids fair to equal the feats of the tall Reuben. He is Ferdinand Schupp, the dark-skinned, frail left-hander who has been making a niche in baseball history since he was called for regular duty. Ferd was in the rear trenches for several seasons, but all the while John J. figured that the boy would some day stand up well before the fire of the first line. And his calculations have been vindicated. Schupp, many critics believe, will down the White Sox if he is started in the coming world's series clash. In fact his boosters think that Eddie Collins and Joe Jackson, two stars of the White Sox slugging section, will have lots of trouble with Schupp. The two mentioned are left-hand hitters.

FIRST TWO GAMES IN CHICAGO SERIES OPENS OCTOBER SIXTH

Second Game Following Day, Then a Day for Traveling and the Next Two in New York—Soldiers are Remembered by Commission.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 20.—When the silver ball-games were played by the Detroit club, fell up, after President Harry Hempstead, of the New York National League, had called "needs," the National Baseball Commission here today officially announced that Charles Comiskey, owner of the Chicago Americans, had won the toss and had the privilege of saying where the first game of the next world's series would be played. Shortly afterward it was announced the series will open on the grounds of the Chicago Americans, on October 6, while the second game will be played there on Sunday, October 7. On October 8 the two ball clubs will be found traveling on their way to New York, where the third and fourth games of the series will be played on October 9 and 10. October 11 will see the players traveling back westward and the fifth game, if five games are necessary, will be played at Chicago. Then in case another game is found to be required, a two-day wait will take place Saturday, October 13, and Sunday, October 14, being open, and the sixth game being played at New York, October 15.

SOX GAIN ANOTHER GAME ON CHAMPIONS

Defeat Athletics in Overtime While Tigers are Down-ing Boston.

At New York (American)—Cleveland made three straight from New York here yesterday, winning the last game of the series, 5 to 2. After allowing only one hit in seven innings Shocker blew the clean record and scoring four runs on three hits and three bases on balls in the first inning. Score: Cleveland.....0 0 0 0 0 0 4 2 7 2 New York.....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 3 2

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 20.—The revised list of men obtained thru draft from the International League, as issued tonight by the National Commission, is: From Baltimore, the Boston Americans picked Bentley. From Newark, the Philadelphia Nationals selected Wilkinson. From Providence, the St. Louis Americans took Kane. From Toronto, the Washington Club takes Thompson.

Amateur Baseball

"Gus" Brown, the fast outfielder of the Athletics, showed the way to all batters in the Riverdale Senior League, during the season just closed. "Gus" also led in stolen bases and run-scoring, and is the winner of the two medals donated by Mr. Pat Kennedy, for the leading hitter and base stealer. Moran of the Royals, proved to be the second best all-around player, as in addition to being 4th in hitting, he was second in base-stealing and led the league in sacrifice hitting. Lynch of Royals, finished second in Brown in hitting, and was third in base-stealing.

Some Remarks on the Premium Placed on Putting

There has been a little agitation of late concerning the premium placed on putting in modern golf, and while I do not think that any of the suggestions of the agitators are well founded, I think it is worth the trouble to make a few remarks upon the subject, making interesting reading. Today I desire to add my mite to the list of those who are of the opinion that the present premium placed on putting is too high, and that it is not only unnecessary, but also detrimental to the game.

The headliners were Will Beatty, Howie Wait, Roy Nurse, John Oldright, Tassie Tigert, Birrell Mercer, Leslie Bartlett, Walter Jupp and Richard Glover. All these stars and more will be on the job on Friday at 3 p.m. to take part in the monster boys' swimming meet.

WESTERN BOWLING CHAMPIONSHIP

Ridgetown, Sept. 20.—In spite of the weather the singles tournament of the Ridgetown Bowling Club proved a big success. Fifty-two entries were made, representing nearly every town in the district. The first event was won by A. Laing, of Windsor, the win carrying with it a gold medal emblematic of the championship of Western Ontario. The runner-up was Father Forster, of Ridgetown. The second event showed Ridgetown strong, J. Bowden, G. Laing and R. Dauphin going into the semi-finals, with Dr. Kelly, of Florence, beating "Brien" of Chatham, for 4th place in the play-off. In the semi-finals Bowden drew a bye, and Dauphin won from Laing. The finals resulted in J. Bowden taking the first prize.

Separate coats are all long one in nigger brown velours having a deep cape collar attractively-cut patch pockets trimmed with plush and finished with heavy satin lining.

A large assortment of blouses in Georgette crepe were in many dainty shades, one handsome design with deep handkerchief collar trimmed with lace was to be had at $4.75, the quality seeming to demand a higher figure.

ORDER DOES NOT AFFECT PRIVATELY CANNED FRUIT

Hanover Residents Worried Over Rumor Regarding Confiscation of Certain Produce.

Dr. A. H. Abbott, secretary of the organization of resources committee, has received the following telegram from Mayor A. B. Taylor of Hanover, Ont.:

Toronto, Ontario. Reports circulated here that food controller will confiscate all canned fruit and vegetables over 50 pint jars per family. I want official contradiction to this report as citizens refuse to can under circumstances.

A. B. Taylor, mayor. The order-in-council of August 24 contains no suggestion as to confiscation of private supplies. It being distributed only in order to induce the people of the province to make use of fresh fruits and vegetables in place of canned goods.

Dr. Abbott assured the mayor of Hanover that the impression of the citizens was entirely wrong and that the regulation does not affect privately canned fruit.

PLAYS, PICTURES AND MUSIC

Players Well Known. Some of the players in the cast of "The Sky Pilot" and "Black Rock" are well known in Toronto.

In the cast of characters of the Marbury-Shubert musical comedy, "Love o' Mike," which will be the attraction at the Alexandra for the week of Oct. 1, will be seen all the original members of this different-from-the-other musical comedies.

It has been seldom in the last stages of the construction of a theatre that the work has progressed as smoothly and satisfactorily as it has in the past two weeks at the new Princess, which will open its doors to the public on Monday night, Oct. 1, with "Klaw and Langer's" big musical comedy production, "Miss Springtime."

Yesterday afternoon saw the removal of the last of the huge scaffolding which has been occupying the whole orchestra floor, while the mural decorations were at work on the ceiling and chairsmen who had been on hand for two days awaiting the disappearance of the staging immediately set to work installing the orchestra seats, which will all be in place by tomorrow evening.

It is the earnest desire of Messrs. Whitney, Sheppard and Klaw and Langer that every detail of the "Springtime" production in Toronto be as perfect as it was during the run of the piece at the New Amsterdam in New York.

Mutt and Jeff. The gayest musical comedy whirl is "Mutt and Jeff's Divorce," the Bud Fisher fun festival coming to the Grand next week.

Everyone knows that prices have gone up on almost everything, but it has remained for Julie McCree, the burlesque author, to call attention to the fact that there is an increased cost in the price of flirting. He tells this in a most amusing way in "High Cost of Flirting," which is the title of the production to be given at the Gayety Theatre all next week.

"Speedway Girls," the attraction at the Star Theatre next week is a series of novelties from start to finish. Each principal is a top-notch; the color of the chorus of twenty is the rare combination of singer, dancer and beauty; the music is the best and newest the jazz factory has turned out this season, and the book is from the pen of an expert.

Gerald Frank in "On Trial," the feature production at the Regent this week, is the one who would have dragged in the dust, the name of Strickland and Strickland is the man who is brought face to face with a charge of murder. The events which lead up to his capital make a story of absorbing interest.

THOUSANDS OF FARMERS WERE PLEASED WITH TRACTOR SHOW

The Greatest Event of Its Kind Ever Held in the Dominion of Canada.

Today is the last day of the greatest tractor demonstration ever held in Canada, and any person interested in agriculture who has not so far seen the tractors at work should make certain of being on the grounds of the Industrial Farm at 810p 44 on the Metropolitan car line in plenty of time to see several of the different makes performing their stunts. Go today sure.

Yesterday several thousands of farmers, as well as a throng of city folks, were continually arriving throughout morning and afternoon. It was an inspiring sight to see the hundreds of automobiles parked in regular order, row after row, beside the tented city. There must have been at least five hundred motor cars from the little Ford to the Packard limousine, and everyone of them carried its capacity load.

There had been just sufficient rain to lay the dust, and the fine autumn weather tempted the busy workers on farm and in office to lay aside business for the day and see the steel animals going thru their tricks. And they certainly had a real demonstration. The soil was dry and hard and the plows had all the more to do to keep in the earth. Notwithstanding, the onlookers were well satisfied, and indeed, in many cases, amazed at the manner in which the soil was turned over.

Many Different Makes of Tractors. Tractors were of all sizes, from the smallest "family" known "caterpillar" type which crawls along on its own track similar to the monster British "minks," to the larger makes capable of pulling several different implements at the same time. We must not forget to mention a smaller machine than any yet placed on the market in Ontario. This was a garden tractor no larger than a hand tennis court roller, and steered by a handle behind the machine. Its purpose apparently is for garden and small orchard use. As mentioned yesterday, there were also several tractors for converting automobiles into tractors, which appealed especially to the farmers with only small farms to cultivate.

The Ontario farmer undoubtedly is interested in the tractor, and those who have witnessed the performances at this demonstration, as well as numerous private demonstrations throughout the province, are convinced that these machines can fill a useful purpose in our province. One thing in the mind of the farmer of average means is interested in the question of payment for his machinery, and right here is an interesting suggestion for our Dominion Government. It is a remark made by a visitor to the demonstration. The reporter for The World was informed that tractor manufacturers had to get cash payments for their machines, more especially now when steel was so high and the market fluctuating. Our informant asked why the Canadian Government could not make arrangements to help a farmer who desires to purchase a tractor, so that the manufacturer could get his cash, and allow the farmer to spread the payment over a period of time. Why could not the government not advance the money and the farmer become responsible to the government? What is this suggestion worth?

In Retrospection. One of the greatest advantages derived from the exhibition is the close acquaintance we have secured with many neighbors from across the line. One firm, the Oliver Plow Co., has some 20 men with their exhibit, and as they were all at the big demonstration recently held at Tremont, Nebraska, they had some interesting stories to tell, as well as several fine photographs to show. Many other firms were put to considerable expense in bringing their staffs and exhibits all the way to Toronto's Industrial Farm; and taking it all in all, we feel that great good has been accomplished thru the efforts of the management who promoted the exhibition. For the next year's show the

REFUSE TO BOOST PRICE OF MILK

Toronto Milk Dealers' Association Vetoes the Producers' Proposal.

A well-attended meeting of the Toronto Milk Dealers' Association was held yesterday afternoon in the Forrester's Hall on College street, when the proposed raise in the price of milk by the milk producers was under discussion. It was finally decided that in the opinion of the association there should be no advance in the present price, as the present conditions do not warrant any increase. The chair was taken by W. Bailey, vice-president of the association, and R. H. Pill, the secretary. Speaking to a reporter for The World after the meeting, Mr. Pill was most emphatic in declaring that the milk dealers will not tolerate any increase. The present price is $2 per eight-gallon can delivered, and the price to be asked by the producers is an extra 50 cents per can. What the future action of the association will be should the producers still stand by their demand, Mr. Pill would not say, and in answer to the inquiry if it would result in a deadlock he replied that the action of the board of control might settle the matter.

PROVINCIAL CAMPAIGN IS PROGRESSING WELL

According to reports received by Dr. A. H. Abbott, president of the organization of resources committee, the campaign for the signatures of housewives to the food service pledge card is being carried out with great success throughout the province.

In most instances the canvassers find the householders willing to sign the pledge, only a few refusing, and then mostly on the ground that they are already doing all they possibly can to conserve their respective food supplies. Reports received from London, Ont., yesterday were very encouraging, the people of that city responding in a fine manner, and in many districts there was not one refusal reported.

LIVE STOCK MARKET

Thursday's market on the Union Stock Yards was not a very spirited affair, the general tone throughout being decidedly weak and draggy. This was not due in any sense to the heavy receipts, for the run was light, only about 350 head in all, but there were some left-over loads which served to make a depressing showing.

It was an ordinary week-end Thursday's clean-up with quality very poor indeed, few good to choice animals going offered for sale. The market held steady, but with the week's sharp decline of Monday and the slight shading off on Wednesday.

Butcher heifers met with a very poor demand, except at slight reduction, the general tone throughout being decidedly weak and draggy. This was not due in any sense to the heavy receipts, for the run was light, only about 350 head in all, but there were some left-over loads which served to make a depressing showing.

There was a fair run of sheep and lambs, about 1500 all told, with the tone a little easier. Good to choice lambs sold at from $12.50 to $15.00; yearlings, $13.00 to $15.00.

Choice veal calves sold from 15c to 16c; medium calves, 12 1/2c to 15c; and heavy fat calves, 8c to 10c.

Hogs are steady at 18c, fed and watered, and 18 1/2c weighed off.

The total receipts of cattle at the Union Stock Yards for the week were 4113 head, of which 1850 were from the stock yards.

All told during the week there were 720 calves, 462 hogs and 11,463 head of sheep and lambs. Considering the heavy run during the week, the market was not so bad as it might have been.

LOCALS ARE FIRMER ON SMALL TRADING

Maple Leaf Makes a Further Demonstration, But Other Issues Are Quiet.

The busy movement on Wall Street was continued yesterday, and the Toronto Stock Market made further efforts to follow in its train.

Preparations for the listing of the stock of Mining Corporation of Canada on the New York curb are in an advanced stage and it is expected that the actual calling of the stock for the first time will take place within a few days.

It is only natural with the price of silver soaring in a phenomenal fashion, that the premier silver producer of Cobalt should attract some attention and the flourishing condition of the company as shown by the records is sufficient justification for such interest.

The production of the company up till the middle of August amounted to 3,075,745 ounces of silver, against 4,577,440 ounces for the whole of 1916 and 4,568,957 ounces in 1915.

There are times when caution and extreme conservatism are justified on the part of traders, especially after a period of prolonged inflation, or when prices have been boosted on abnormal conditions, such as occurred in the New York industrial market last fall.

Several samples of high-grade ore from the Adanac mine were shown on the Standard Stock Exchange yesterday. These samples came from the new vein which crosses the main vein and carry high silver values.

Berlin, via London, Sept. 20.—The statement of the Imperial Bank of Germany issued Sept. 15 shows the following changes: Total coin and bullion, increased, 4,134,000 marks; gold, increased, 124,000 marks; treasury notes, increased, 7,856,000 marks; bills discounted, 1,721,000 marks; advances, increased, 641,000 marks; deposits, increased, 41,975,000 marks; other liabilities, increased, 122,000 marks.

SIGNIFYING WHAT?

Newray's market in Toronto and New York yesterday offered an excellent example of the profits which might be secured by real live-arbitrage man.

A cloud of pessimism seems to have settled down again at the Standard Stock Exchange, and while a few of the brokers are definitely bullish, the remainder are either passively or aggressively bearish.

While as a whole the market remained steady, bear raids were made on a few of the issues with more or less success. There seems to be an organized plan by certain interests to pick on one or two issues each day for raiding purposes, and no stone is left unturned to better prices down.

From a layman's point of view, it would seem to be a most patriotic undertaking if the professional traders got together and boosted the north country, for by all accounts it is deserving of all the aid it can get.

STOCKS CONTINUE TO GAIN STRENGTH

Market Shows Exhaustion of Selling Movement for Present.

New York, Sept. 20.—The stock market gained strength today and began a downward, but well-sustained advance. Total sales were $20,000,000.

It is expected that within a week the second drill hole on the Apex vein will be driven sufficiently deep to permit the vein which was encountered in No. 1 drill hole about two weeks ago.

It will be remembered that when the vein was cut in the No. 1 drill hole exceptionally high assays were obtained from the 15 feet of vein proper.

Announcement that the government was requesting country shippers to give wheat preference until further notice was expected to diminish somewhat the movement of other grains, chiefly barley and rye.

The directors elected the following officers for the ensuing year: J. Jarvis, president; F. G. Wallace, vice-president; H. Birkett, secretary-treasurer.

The following is a summary of development for the quarter ending August 31, 1917.

Total production for the quarter was continued to the 400, 460 and 600 level.

Development during the quarter level quite a quantity of mill ore was developed together with some high-grade.

FROSTY WEATHER ADVANCES CORN. Strike of Grain Shovelers at Chicago Stiffens Oats Market.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Frosty weather made the corn market today somewhat higher. Closing prices were quoted at the same as yesterday's finish to quarter up, with December $1.10 to $1.14, and May $1.14 to $1.16.

Until the last hour corn showed unmistakable strength. In the final hour, however, signs that the market was overbought developed, and decided to back a little.

A Great Opportunity for Men A Rousing Sale of Astoria Boots

The Greatest Special Purchase in History of This Big Shoe Store Consists of Thousands of Pairs of Men's "Astoria" Boots---This Sale Begins Today

You can find "Astoria" Boots in the same shapes and the same qualities in other stores. The prices asked are $8.00, $9.00 and $10.00--and they are fair prices, based upon the regular wholesale cost. But we didn't pay regular prices for this special purchase, nor anywhere near regular prices, so you don't have to either if you come here today.

They are not "seconds"; they are not odd lots or samples, or old styles. It is a sale of clean, new, fashionable boots. Five of the last is shown above. There are over 4,000 pairs of these five shapes alone. Then there are other good shapes, made of tan calf, black and tan storm calf, gunmetal and patent leathers; heavy viscolized waterproof soles; heavy and light weight Goodyear welt and cushion sole boots. The five boots illustrated above are as follows:

"Full Dress"--A modified English roe deer toe lace or button boot, with toe cap, blind eyelets, medium weight best English oak tanned soles, calf facing and heavy duck lining; Havana brown, patent colt, mahogany calf or gunmetal calf leathers. Sizes 5 1/2 to 10. Sale price 5.45

The "London"--A black kid easy-fitting straight lace boot, with neat perforated toe cap, duck lined, and kid facing; light weight No. 1 English oak tanned Goodyear welt soles; medium height heel. Sizes 5 to 10. Sale price, pair 5.45

The "Avenue"--The latest New York roe deer toe, straight lace boot with perforated toe cap and blind eyelets, and low flange heels. Sizes 5 to 10. Mahogany calf, Havana brown calf and gunmetal calf leathers. Sale price 5.45

The "Torpedo"--Gunmetal Blucher boot, medium round toe, full seamless quarter, double weight oak tanned Goodyear welt soles; military heels; a boot built for service and comfort, but is also good-looking. Sizes 6 to 10. Sale price 5.40

The "Battle"--Full round toe, gunmetal Blucher boot, with dull calf top, full double best English oak tanned Goodyear welt soles; medium high heel; a strong and comfortable as well as stylish boot. Sizes 5 to 10. Sale price 5.45
