THE EXHIBITION.

Exhibition time is approaching. How are the citizens of Saint John approaching the exhibition? The spirit of the people of Amherst is made plain by the invitations issued thence.

Saint John ought to be able to devise an appropriate ritual to mark the occasion.

Take, for instance, the landing of the King in the Channel Islands where he drops the royal title and becomes Duke of Normandy. He is rowed in near the beach and the Grand Seigneur wades out to meet the boat, leading a white horse on which the Duke mounts and is led to shore.

But having whetted our appetites in this manner there is no reason why we should stop there. We might re-enact the scene of the Burghers of Calais and arrange for the School Trustees, bare-foot and with halters about their necks—a heavy fine to be imposed on anybody who played monkey tricks with the humpen moses—to meet the person it was desired to honor and kneeling present the keys of the Vocational School on a plash boleter, the latter to be manufactured by the students of the said school.

Queer Quirks of Nature

GOLDEN ROD GAINS IN FAVOR

By ARTHUR N. PACK. WHEN the shortening days of summer merge gradually into those of early autumn, and most of the more showy flowers have dropped their withered petals and are ripening their seeds, the golden rod and ragweed have their day.

Golden Rod and Ragweed

NATIONAL FLOWER

Few there will be to praise the ragweed, and even fewer, we fear, could well spare that troublesome plant, with its myriads of scattering seeds planting trouble for the gardener of next year.

GAINING IN FAVOR

With a few exceptions the species are American, and a majority of the hundred odd are North American. They vary much in habit of growth, some flowering in a simple spike, while others branch in various ways.

THE CUSTOMS AFFAIR

(Amherst News.) It is not necessary to go into detail in connection with the Customs scandal because the disclosures not only revealed that immense quantities of goods were being smuggled into Canada, but that the loss of revenue thereby was enormous.

MEIGHEN AND TAXES

(Ottawa Citizen.) Speaking at North Bay, Mr. Meighen attempted to minimize Mr. King's income tax reductions, which entirely exempt so many people, by saying that income tax payers are only a small portion of the population, and "there are still taxes on clothing, and on farm and household utensils, which are used by the great bulk of the citizens, and which levy their penalties against all."

MEIGHEN AND BYNG

(Toronto Star.) It is a curious fact that the best Mr. Meighen could say in his keynote speech at Ottawa for the Governor-General's action in refusing dissolution to Macdonnell King was that His Excellency had acted with "scrupulous honesty." Mr. Meighen set himself the task of putting His Excellency's action in the best possible light, and it is noteworthy that nowhere in his carefully written speech did he say that action was constitutional.

MEIGHEN AND WAR

(Toronto Globe.) Mr. Meighen finished his week of campaigning in Ontario without telling the people where he actually stood on the question of aid to the Empire in the event of war. Why did he dodge the question?

THE RECIPES.

"Assume the holiday spirit." If you meet a friend or a stranger from outside, greet him with a smile, tell him all the value and all the fun of the fair, tell him it's a good exhibition, and show him that you and your city are glad he is here. If he is a customer, talk of the holiday exhibition instead of the weather. He may be a business prospect, but for the time being forget it. He is here for a good time, if he is having a good time he will spend, and even if he is so busy enjoying himself that he does not spend as much as you would wish, the chance is there he will return to Saint John to do the spending just because he has had a good time and enjoyed himself here.

The Dominion Government estimate places the Canadian wheat crop at 316,000 bushels. The Manitoba Free Press says these official figures are not taken very seriously in the West, and that although recent hot weather was a hindrance to the wheat crop, the trade today is that the crop will be between 340,000,000 and 350,000,000 bushels. While the Canadian exportable surplus will be less than it was last year, it will still be very great. How much of the Canadian wheat is going to the United Kingdom and to other countries will pass through American channels? How much will the ports of Saint John and Halifax handle? What has become of the Railway Commission's enquiry as to the greater use of Canadian ports and as to recovering for Canadian ports and railways the tremendous volume of grain captured through one cause or another by the American routes?

Odds and Ends

Lord Dewar's Epigrams

Members of the South African bowling team were the guests of Lord Dewar at dinner at the Piccadilly Hotel, London. The host, welcoming them, uttered a number of his witty epigrams. Most men (he said) did not wake up to find themselves famous; they usually dreamed they were famous and then woke up.

POMPS AND VANITIES

Reflection on the recent ceremony of conferring the freedom of our city on an illustrious personage inclines one to regret that there is not more pomp and circumstance attending such functions. When the people who pay the taxes are so minded to honor a man by declaring him exempt from taxation so far as they are concerned and record the fact on a parchment scroll, surely they are entitled to expect a little fun out of the proceedings.

The Political Fray

Liberal THE CANADIAN NATIONAL (Montreal Free Press.)

Early last year when it looked as if the C. N. R. would make a substantial gain from its operating expenses the point was made that a pickup in the white business of the country to an extent of five or ten per cent, would increase the earnings of the National Railways to a point where they would cease being a drain on the public treasury. This appears to have happened and with it has come the silencing of the croakers and the C. N. R. killers. If the present rate of increase in earnings is maintained for two or three years, as is likely to be the case in view of the general upward swing in Canadian development, the Canadian National Railways which some people wanted to throw to the dogs even as late as 1923, will be earning money for the people of Canada.

THE STATE OF TRADE

(Moncton Transcript.) Talk of trade depression and hard times will carry even less weight in this campaign than it did last fall, and the suggestion that Conservative rule would be better for the country than the operation of Liberal policies has been disproved so conclusively that no longer can carry weight with the thinking. The Canadian electors have the evidence before them and they can and will judge for themselves. A continuance of Canadian prosperity can be assured by the return of the Liberals to office.

KING IS RESPONSIBLE

(Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph.) It was open to Mr. King to clear the skirts of his Administration when the situation existing in the Customs Department was first drawn to his attention by calling upon Mr. Bureau to vindicate himself as responsible head of that department, or resign. Constitutionally, it was the obligation of Mr. King to take such action and when, instead of doing so, he elevated the Minister of Customs to a position of higher honor, he committed his administration and himself to responsibility for the political errors of Mr. Bureau, which he and they then became directly answerable to Parliament and the country.

THE RAILWAY QUESTION

(Sydney Post.) Mr. King's latest platform exploit is the assertion that state control of the C. N. R. will be endangered under Mr. Meighen's premiership. As Mr. Meighen was the mover, and Mr. King the chief opponent, of the bill which incorporated the C. N. R. Company, the latter's alleged fear would seem to be as groundless as it is insincere. Apparently there is nothing Mr. King will not say in this campaign.

Mothers of Newlyneds, Help the Young Couple to be Happy Though Married by Not Organizing the Usual Homewrecking Crew of Family Interference—You Can Best Help if You Keep Out.

WHEN the clergyman says the words that make John and Mary husband and wife, their respective families wipe away a furtive tear and pray Heaven that this may be one of the marriages that sticks, and that will not require a divorce lawyer to perform a major surgical operation upon it within the next five years.

DOROTHY DIX

Then, having petitioned for a miracle, they go home and do their best to prevent its taking place, for it is saddest of fates that the greatest danger that threatens newlyweds is not from without, but from within, and that, if the most unpropitious of accidents in a divorce case out of ten it would be the family.

ESPECIALLY mother, who is generally the head of the home-wrecking crew. Of course, mother doesn't deliberately start forth to make a breach between her children and their husbands and wives, or to shatter their domestic peace and happiness, but she does it just the same.

It doesn't alter the results that herself against her children are made blindly, ignorantly, stupidly, through love and not through hate. You can kill a man just as dead with the gun you did not know was loaded as with the automatic revolver you aimed at his heart.

EVERY mother will tell you that she wants her children's marriages to turn out successfully, yet not one woman in a hundred ever does a solitary thing to help along the good work. And not one mother in a thousand ever refrains from doing the thing that she knows will endanger her children's domestic peace and harmony.

Every woman who has ever been a bride knows how touchy all young married people are, how resentful they are of advice and interference from outsiders, and how suspicious they are of their in-laws. She knows that the only wise and kind thing she can do is to leave the young couple alone, and let them work out their own salvation in their own way.

But does she do that? She does not. Her passion for meddling in other people's affairs is greater than her love for her children, and so at the risk of wrecking her children's marriages she goes blithely along telling them where they get off and where they get on.

SHE knows that it infuriates her daughter-in-law beyond measure for her to go peeping into the garbage can, and for her to tell her how to raise her children, and ask her the price of every garment she has and keep tab on how many times she goes out to play bridge in a week. She knows that she makes her son-in-law hate her when she lectures him for smoking, and when she becomes a back-seat chauffeur who tries to drive the car every time they take a ride.

She knows that most of the quarrels that young married couples have the first year of marriage are over mother's interference with one or the other, because she has been through that experience herself. But it hasn't taught her a particle of wisdom or sense, for she is invariably self-control to keep her fingers out of her children's lives, she is invariably led and honored by her daughters-in-law and her sons-in-law.

Another thing that mothers could do, to do they do not do, to help make their children's marriages successful is that they step down and out when their boys and girls take unto themselves wives and husbands.

THEY know that there is no other jealousy bitterer or fiercer than that which the young husband and wife feel toward their mothers-in-law. They know that for Mary to tell John that mother says we must do so and so, or for John to throw mother's bread in Mary's teeth, is like waving a red flag before a mad bull.

Yet you never hear of mother's saying to one of her children on his or her wedding eve:

"Now that you are going to be married, your wife or your husband must take first place in your heart and have the first call on your time and attention. You must go to your husband or your wife for advice and with your confidence. Not to me. And, for goodness sake, have enough sense and tact never to hold me up as a model, or tell your husband or your wife that I advised you to do a thing. Let him or her think he or she is the oracle. Not mother."

STILL another thing that mother could do, and rarely, if ever, does, to promote the domestic happiness of her children is perpetually to try to sell them to those to whom they are married. You don't often hear of mother harping upon Jack's perfection, and telling Mary what a lucky girl she is to have got such a good, kind, moral, industrious man for a husband. Still seldom do you hear of mother's singing praises of the praise of Mary, and impressing upon John how blessed he is in having such a pretty, stylish, clever, attractive wife as Mary is.

On the contrary, mother does the very best she can to make John and Mary dissatisfied with their bargain by continually picking flaws in them and pointing out their defects.

Many and many a time it is mother who first implants the seeds of suspicion of her husband in a wife's mind, or who makes her feel that she should have made a more brilliant match and starts her looking out for an ally. Many and many a man would never find out that his wife was extravagant, or that she gadded too much, if his mother didn't tell him so.

AND mothers could prevent many and many a divorce which would positively refuse to let their children tell them their domestic troubles. The knowledge that she can always run back home and be pitied and wept over and "poor-deared" makes many a spoiled, weak, selfish woman throw up her hands and quit in a marriage that she could make a success if she half tried.

I know one mother whose parting advice to her daughters as they started on their bridal tours was, "Be a good wife. Stay at home, mind your own business and don't come to see mother too often." And not one of that woman's girls had any matrimonial trouble.

CHILDREN never need their mother's help more than after they are married. What are you doing for yours? Are you helping them to be better husbands and wives? Are you promoting their domestic happiness? Or are you being first aid to the divorce court? DOROTHY DIX.

August Interest Centres on Gauzy Frocks and Fur

By MME. LISBETH

FUR coats and gauzy summer dresses may seem to contradict one another, but they are the two outstanding notes of interest in the fashion world today. August sales of fur and fur-trimmed coats are in full swing, and the shop windows are full of samples of the furbest art.

Terrific weather calls for this frock even while snoring for next winter's coat, so that they are as popular as the coats. Fur was never more used than it is today. Few indeed are the fabric coats that do not bear at least collar and cuffs, and often a fur border is added. Summer coats have been particularly keen in the use of this soft, scalloped skirt flares. Lace edges the collars on the skirt and trims the wide cuffs that give distinction to the sleeves.

And, by the way, sleeve elaboration is one of the interesting notes of the fall frock fashions. Soft lace forms a collar and the effect about the V-shaped neckline. A narrow ribbon is tied about a normal waistline and the long ends hang to the bottom of the skirt. Patsy Ruth Miller, of the film, posed.

The short frocks were exemplified strikingly at the recent Saratoga races, where chiffon, georgette, lace, embroidered net and striking prints all contributed to the end, with colorful stripes, plaits, tiers, sashes and lingerie or lace touches at collar and cuffs important details of this theme.

generally becoming trimming medium. Above, at left, is one of the new fur coats in a seven-eighths length. It is fashioned of ermine with collar, tuxedo front and cuffs of chinchilla. This coat has a slight ripple to the skirt, deviating slightly from the usual straightline. At the right is a wraparound model of broadened velvet and fur. The collar, cuffs and border are platinum fox, the border being set on in zigzag effect a few inches above the hem.

Printed chignon has been voted one of the most popular fabrics for the more formal of the summer frocks. A charmingly simple little model is pictured. It is a flowered green chiffon afternoon frock, the flowers being in fresh tints. The bodice fits rather snugly but the flapper fanny says "People who live in autos should not throw glass."

SEE-SAWING ON THE BROADWAY

THE ingredients of Broadway's minor tragedies are generally equal parts of stupid vanity, unheeding selfishness and blatant egotism.

The annual turn-over of "spotted darlings," both male and female, is astonishingly large. They come from the small towns with money supplied by hard earnings from the old home. The young males want to "play the game" and thus increase the considerable array of fops, tin horn sports and parasites.

When the income stops for one reason or another the "spotted darlings" resort to bad checks, petty larceny and jumping bills. The results, if not particularly distressing to the thick skinned principal are heartbreaking to the "old folks" who invariably come to the rescue.

Similar is the experience of the female "spotted darlings." She feels she can "snook the town over," easily slips into the fast set, seldom achieves success, and, tired and fed up, is found in her room, often an overdose of veranda pills slips away, and is heard of no more.

THIS other day a mother and daughter stood before a judge in the Woman's Court. Both were charged with shoplifting. The mother was tired, enebled. Her clothes were shabby, worn. The daughter, who seemed not a day more than 20, was defiant, bawdy. Her clothes were flashy, Broadwaywise, modern.

The heartless mother told the story. They had come from a little town in Wisconsin. There the family had lived for many years—humble working folk. She had come from a little town in Wisconsin. There the family had lived for many years—humble working folk.

Her mother lived in the humblest of quarters—a dingy cheap hall bedroom. She saved and stinied and sent Marian, such was the daughter's name, to the State University.

Marian was pretty. She could dance. Somebody told her she could get on the stage. Marian believed it. The status of the family purse want to be considered. She would get to Broadway. And she did. The mother came with her. It took just about the last penny of her savings. They arrived as thousands arrive daily, unnoticed in the great depot throng.

Marian took up dancing in one of the many training schools. Also she catalluped into one of the many groups of fast youngsters. This was, indeed, the life!

Her mother lived in the humblest of quarters—a dingy cheap hall bedroom. The daughter moved in with a group of girls who were aspiring to the stage. She "just had to dress well" and she "just had to live in good quarters" if she intended "getting anywhere."

Mother and daughter would meet occasionally, but the meetings would be quiet and in out-of-the-way places, because the mother was shabby and must not be seen. The daughter, so the records indicate, leaped quickly the ways of the young "gold-diggers" and managed to eat for a time. But one must dress well—one just "must!"

Where was the money coming from? Detectives of a big store caught a shabby old woman and a flashy young daughter shoplifting bits of finery. And that, for the present, is the end of the story.

Of course it really isn't the end. It may go on for worse or better, according to the letroz Marian has learned. GILBERT SWAN.

WOMEN CHANGING PARLIAMENT. In the House of Commons of the English Parliament, noticeable changes have been observed in the manners and customs of the members, due probably as much to the women members as anything else. In old times the members sat with their hats on, and under the rules of the House, they, under certain circumstances, may address the chair only when covered, but of late years many members have been appearing with their hats off. On a recent occasion a male member had to borrow a woman member's hat hurriedly in order to make a point of order.

TODAY'S RECIPES
Baking Powder Biscuits—Two cups flour, four teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon salt, one cup milk, four tablespoons shortening. Mix dry ingredients. Put butter or shortening with tips of fingers into flour which has been sifted and mixed with dry ingredients. Add milk gradually into this mixture until it becomes as soft as can be handled easily. Roll on a slightly floured board and cut into desired sizes. Bake in medium oven.
Roast Beef—Best to use the English cut for this. After washing meat, put in roaster which has been allowed to become quite hot, with a little bacon grease in bottom. Season with salt and pepper. Sprinkle with flour. Cut small onion and place around roast. Put in hot oven, leaving cover off for the first five minutes. Reduce heat and cover, baking every 15 minutes with fat that has cooked out. When roast is about half done, turn over and sprinkle with flour, salt and pepper. Before taking roast out, remove cover to allow other side to brown. At this time add a little water.
Brown Gravy—Remove roast, placing roaster over burner, add flour, about four tablespoons, stir until well mixed and brown. Gradually add two cups of boiling water, cook five minutes, season if necessary and strain.
Potatoes in Cream—Cut four potatoes in thin slices. Put them into a pan with one-half cup milk, cook until they have absorbed all of the milk. Add salt to taste, plenty of pepper and one-quarter cup of milk. Cook for five minutes.

NATIONS ASKED TO SIGN PACT AT SEPT. MEET

Draft Has Been Completed by Lord Robert Cecil

By HENRY WOOD
 GENEVA, Aug. 20.—The League of Nations expects to launch at last its new international convention for the world-wide abolition of all forms of slavery at its seventh annual assembly which opens here September 6.

All members of the League have been asked to send to the assembly delegations with plenary powers for formally signing the protocol. In addition, all governments that are not members of the League, such as the United States, Russia, Germany, Mexico, Turkey and Ecuador will also be given an opportunity to accept the convention in the event they wish to join in the League's humanitarian work along this line.

The initiative for a new international convention against slavery was taken by England, and the present draft was largely the work of Lord Robert Cecil. The convention in its present form has now been submitted to all of the governments of the world, for their opinions and observations, and these have nearly all already reached the secretariat.

The great bulk of them are favorable in the extreme degree and the few suggestions that have been made for changes or amendments will be taken into consideration by the coming assembly before drafting the final text of the treaty.

The convention is very short, comprising only a brief preamble and 11 articles. It is intended to supplant by going still further, all previous existing conventions relative to the abolition of slavery such as the Brussels act of 1889-90 and the Saint Germain treaty of 1919.

The convention, after defining first just what constitutes slavery and the slave trade, pledges all of the signatories to prevent and suppress the slave trade, and secondly to bring about as progressively as possible the disappearance of slavery in every form, and notably in the case of domestic slavery.

The provision for bringing about progressively instead of immediately the suppression of all forms of slavery was inserted so as to permit those countries which have a large economic system based upon slavery to bring about the change gradually without precipitating an economic crisis or upheaval.

The remainder of the treaty has largely to do with measures towards breaking up the slave trade, and with rendering mutual assistance to that end.

PLEDGES GIVEN

All signatories pledge themselves to prevent any embarkation, transportation or disembarkation of slaves on vessels flying their respective national colors. The signatories are also asked to enter into mutual regional agreements relative to some where it is the home.

AN INTERNAL BATH DAILY RECOMMENDED

A prominent physician made the remark recently that if people were half as particular in regard to internal cleanliness as they are about external appearance three quarters of our ordinary ailments would be eliminated. This medical man said people did not stop to think of the importance of keeping the system just as clean as one is careful to keep hands, face and body. The result is that the intestinal tract becomes clogged and waste material which should leave the body daily stays there for an indefinite period doing a harm few people realize. So many ills are traceable to these clogging poisons! An internal bath sounds novel, but it is much easier to take than any other kind! A spoonful of Sal Litosol before breakfast (or any other meal), dissolved in a glass of tepid water acts as a gentle cleanser of the bowels—provides a soothing internal bath that rids the body of dangerous toxic poisons and gives one that feeling of freshness, vigor and well-being. A further advantage of the internal bath lies in the fact that a healthy body ensures an alert and active mind which makes for greater efficiency and happiness in one's daily work.

A COMPLETE SERVICE

Photography, if skillfully handled, is the most realistic method of illustrating. A camera reproduces what it sees. In the hands of Gazette photographers it sees all there is to be seen.

Gazette photographers take still-life subjects with an artistry that makes them live. Gazette live model photographs have that subtle touch of human interest that gains sympathetic interest for your message.

To lose nothing in the reproductions, fine photographs require skillful engraving. The printing, electrotyping and bindery work, too, must be in keeping with the thought and care and experience that produced the photograph and engraving.

Every Gazette department has contributed to the high standard that has made The Gazette Company famous.

Let The Gazette take care of the complete job, and expect better work—that is what you will get.

A letter or telephone call will promptly bring a trained representative to intelligently discuss your work.

Federation of Education Assocs. To Meet in Toronto

World-wide Organization is Headed by Dr. Thomas, of Maine

The World's Federation of Education Associations, which is to hold its second biennial conference in Toronto in August of 1927, was organized in San Francisco in 1923 in connection with the annual meeting of the National Education Association of the United States. The next meeting of the World Federation was held in 1925 in Edinburgh.

Dr. A. O. Thomas, of Augusta, Me., is the president and in a recent meeting when the coming convention was being planned he outlined the program as it is hoped to have it drawn up. It was hoped to have at least 12 outstanding men and women of the world to speak on various subjects, not all of these subjects being purely educational. Regular educational work would be dealt with in the general sessions and not only touch upon divisions in education but would also have reference to the pre-school age child and the adolescent, the college of education and subjects dealing with justice and good will and the bringing of the children of the world together.

INTERNATIONAL PROBLEMS

Dr. Thomas expected there would be congresses in connection with the World Federation meeting and that among these would be one conducted by the Parents' and Teachers' Association. He hoped for a group on international relations at which diplomats, economists and students of history might discuss international problems. The Federation research work, he said, was carried on under ten committees and these would have reports to present.

As an indication of the world sphere of the federation, he told of the different centres which had been deplorable of having the 1927 convention. These places included Brussels, Geneva, Paris, Honolulu and Peking.

NEW EQUIPMENT

LONDON, Aug. 20.—St. Paul's Cathedral, which Benjamin Franklin first protected against lightning bolts, is being fitted with a new system of lightning protection. The new equipment of the latest design, is very similar to that which Franklin created. The principal difference is that the modern lightning rods now being placed are made of copper, which is a better conductor of electricity than the iron rods which Franklin used.

Death Toll in Plane Disaster Standing At Three

Pilot's Injuries Prove Fatal; Two Meet Seriously Hurt Passengers Show No Change Condition; Lord Norreys Escapes Unscathed

FOLKESTONE, England, Aug. 18.—The death toll in the disaster to the cross-Channel plane which was wrecked near here yesterday, stands at three at a late hour tonight.

The pilot of the craft, DeLisle, died this afternoon. The others who perished were Robert Blaney, of Boston, and Vigo Hiss, manager of the Ambassador Club of London.

The two passengers most gravely injured, Stanley Hazard and his sister, Miss Margaret Hazard, of New York City, showed no material change in their condition. They are under treatment at the Folkestone Hospital, while the woman cannot be traced.

Dunning Came To Canada As Immigrant

MONCTON, Aug. 18.—"Were you ever in Moncton before," Hon. Charles Dunning was asked when he was here a few days ago.

"Yes," he said with a rather broad smile, "I was. I remember it quite well. I went through as an immigrant early one morning on a colonist car after landing at Halifax. The train stopped here and I got off the train, the first place except Halifax I had seen, and I walked around a bit. Wasn't there a wooden building across there?" he added, pointing toward the Brunswick Hotel.

He remembered the old structure removed a few years ago. Since the morning he saw it he has been a farm laborer, a farmer, a leader in farmers' co-operative business activities, a leader in the political world, Liberal prime minister of Saskatchewan and Minister of Railways in a Liberal Dominion Government. All that has happened in twenty-four years. He is forty-one.

Portrait of a Golfer

The golfer stood on Number One. His heart was full of joy; The day was fine, the course was fast. He clutched his club. "Oh, boy! He knew the clubhouse porch was packed. With ladies fair to see; That every eye was turned on him, The Terror of the Tee.

At last the course was clear ahead And up our Hero came To show the people looking on The way to play the game.

He took his stance, he gripped his club, Then gave a mighty swing; His driver smote the balmy air And not another thing!

He stood upon the eighteenth green— The day was nearly done; Was this the fairest fellow? We saw on Number One?

He'd traveled far through bunkers, Through woodland wet and dry, And not a single rooster peep Had let his ball go by.

Now home upon his doorstep He stands depressed and sore; His loving wife has heard him And met him at the door.

"You're ill, my dear," she murmured With sweet and tender touch; "It's overwork," he muttered; "I try to do too much!"

New Outlook' Espouses
 Cause of Immigration Policy For Maritimes

TORONTO, Aug. 19.—British immigration for the Maritime Provinces is a cause strongly espoused by the New Outlook, United Church of Canada weekly, in its Aug. 18 issue. After discussing the causes of the Eastern depression, the New Outlook's editorial page says in part:

"We have always thought that the Government, in its immigration policy, did not give the Maritime Provinces a fair deal. No part of Canada is in greater need of a larger population, and no section of the Dominion can offer greater attractions to a certain type of settlers."

"Especially for Scottish or English immigrants the facilities for mixed farming, fruit raising, dairying, etc., are unsurpassed throughout most of the Dominion, while the attractions of scenery, healthful climate, opportunities for education and church privileges place these provinces in the very forefront of the favored spots of Canada."

"But the Maritime Provinces have not in the past been given the prominence which the West has received in advertising campaigns in the Old Land. One of the first things, then, which the government should do is to see that the Maritime Provinces get a fair share of the people who yearly cross the Atlantic, especially those of British stock, seeking homes in our new country."

 Migration

TORONTO, Aug. 19.—Creation of a huge organization among the many dioceses of the Church of England in Canada, with the object of furthering the Empire Settlement scheme which has already placed on a strong footing in the Old Country, is the main object of the visit to Canada of Right Hon. and Right Rev. Arthur Foley Winnington-Ingram, Bishop of London, England, who recently arrived in Toronto.

If Canada takes this up, it is going to be the greatest help to emigration from Great Britain that has ever been given, because there has never been such a great organization behind it as the Church of England," he said in an interview at the home of G. B. Woods, 69 Lynwood Avenue, where he will stay during his visit to Toronto.

SHORT OF HARVESTERS

MONTREAL, Aug. 19.—Reports from Winnipeg and the west received here are somewhat disquieting regarding the number of harvesters arriving and the outlook for saving the season's crop. In all parts of eastern Canada there is a notable decrease as compared with last year in the number of men arriving to join the harvesters' excursions. The total number required to harvest the crop was 50,000.

NEW POTATOES DOWN TO $1 A BUSHEL HERE
 AT WHOLESALE RATES

NATIVE vegetables and fruits were coming in well during the last week in the local market and prices dropped appreciably. New potatoes were down to $1 a bushel at wholesale and sold at 2 1/2 cents a pound. The supply of new potatoes was abundant. Higher prices were asked for pork, veal, eggs, shelled walnuts and Brazil nuts in the shell. Declines were noted in potatoes, tomatoes, beets, carrots, cucumbers, beans, peas, raspberries, corn, squash, California oranges and canned crushed pineapple.

In the country market wholesale list new potatoes at $1 a bushel were down 15 to 20 cents. Small pork was offered only at 18 cents a pound instead of 19 to 18 cents. Veal brought 12 to 16 cents instead of 12 to 15 cents. The one cent rise in egg prices gave fresh extra a value of 40 cents a dozen and fresh firsts a value of 38 cents a dozen.

TOMATOES DECLINE
 In retail green goods, tomatoes at 12 to 15 cents a pound lost 3 to 5 cents. Hothouse tomatoes were offered at 20 cents a pound. New beets and new carrots were 5 cents a bunch instead of two bunches for 15 cents. Cucumbers lost 1 to 2 cents of their former price at 4 to 5 cents each. String beans and green peas were 2 cents a pound less at 4 to 5 cents. New potatoes were quoted at 2 1/2 to 3 cents a pound, which was a drop of one-half to one cent.
 Raspberries were down 5 cents at 20 to 25 cents a quart and native corn was 10 to 15 cents less at 30 to 35 cents a dozen. Native squash last week sold at 5 cents a pound and its new price was 4 to 5 cents. Vegetable marrow was a new arrival and sold at 5 cents a pound.
 In wholesale fruit, Tokay grapes were listed at 24 to 26 cents a crate and new Canadian onions brought $3.25 a bag and replaced Egyptian onions on the local market.

GROCERY CHANGES FEW
 In wholesale groceries there were few price variations. Canned peas showed

BOSTON, Aug. 19.—The United States circuit court of appeals today ruled that the "12-mile limit" is still the margin of coast-guard's right to search and seize United States vessels.

The New York circuit court recently ruled that the right of search and seizure of United States craft extends to any part of the sea.

A final decision from the United States Supreme Court for definite legislation from Congress setting forth the actual limits within which the coast-guard may seek to prevent liquor smuggling, will be sought.

2 New Features in this Exquisite Hose

- 1 To add grace to pretty legs Holeproof extends the silk above the knee. You'll be amazed at the difference it makes in appearance. Fashion now demands it.
- 2 Holeproof is following the new short dresses with longer stockings. In the future the numbers mentioned below will have a 23-inch leg. This extra length gives care-free smartness otherwise impossible.

plus these 5 Holeproof Style Points

- THE extra length and new style knee are something new in fine hosiery. Holeproof alone can give them to you. But they are not the only points of Holeproof difference.
- Five other style features have made this hosiery the favorite of two million women... have carried with them the assurance of being fashionably correct. Note each one carefully.
1. Exquisite cleanness. In sheer chiffons cleanness comes only through uniformly even thread. The lack of it in cheaper silks causes unsightly shadow rings. So at greater cost Holeproof selects silk in China, judged finest of all oriental grades.
 2. Correct Paris shades. Paris authorities select the newest colors. A unique scientific dyeing process keeps them clear and bright. Holeproof's anti-fade treatment protects from fading.
 3. Superlative transparency, even in the heavier weights. There is no cloudiness, no streaking. First the silk is tested, then it undergoes the special Holeproof treatment.
 4. No loose ends. Loose threads mar appearance. So Holeproof carefully trims the inside of each stocking by hand.
 5. No imperfections. Style vanishes with imperfections. And here Holeproof safeguards you by nine separate inspections. It is a fact that few other fine hose are so uniformly perfect.
- Go to your nearest shop today and see Holeproof's newest numbers in the newest shades fresh from Paris.

Mix it Fresh for every meal

Mustard is like tea—it is at its best when freshly made. But where tea requires boiling water to develop its flavour, Colman's Mustard needs only cold water to liberate the essential oils which add such zest and flavour to food.

When you serve Mustard with bacon, ham or sausages for breakfast—with cold meats for lunch — with roast beef or pork for dinner, mix it fresh for every meal and mix it only with cold water.

Colman's Mustard is a real aid to digestion because it stimulates the salivary glands and promotes the flow of the gastric juice in the stomach.

STABILITY NEEDED.

(London Free Press.) Canada is on the verge of an era of great prosperity. We have what the world needs. We will probably go ahead no matter what party is in power, or how confused the situation at the capital, but we would go ahead with ten times more impetus if there was stable government at Ottawa, if business men could feel that the brakes on business would be removed and there was a military prepared to give us efficient and economical administration and put into force Canada's real policies.

SKIPPER (winter of 1930) — New York, okay! Where's the population? "In the caretaker. Everyone else has gone to Florida."

The experience of France, too, bankrupt at the hands of Bismarck, is within the memory of living man. Her Bond sold down to 7% of their value after the Franco-Prussian War. They appeared hopeless, yet in two years they had recovered 95%, making fortunes for the far-sighted investors who had the courage to invest in them.

When millions of men and populations of nations lend their collective efforts to the task—nothing is impossible. The French franc will undoubtedly come back to normal.

A study of history convinces one forcibly that the most difficult thing in the world to destroy is national existence.

History is repeating itself. The opportunity of a lifetime, to earn remarkable profits, exists today for investors, through the purchase of these high-grade French Government Bonds.

They rank as the pre-eminent class of French Government securities, and are virtually a first mortgage on the entire assets and resources of the vast and wealthy Republic of France.

The Bonds are valid for 30 years after maturity, and the interest coupons for 5 years after their respective maturity dates, thus enabling the investor to cash them at any time the exchange rates are favorable.

France is a first-class commercial, naval and military power of the world. French industries are thriving and working over time. France is exporting goods to every country of the globe; her shipping is crowding the world's ports, and the nation shows every evidence of industrial and economic progress.

Reparation payments from Germany are further enhancing the French treasury. These conditions will be quickly reflected in a rapid rise in the French Franc, which in turn increases the value of French Government Bonds.

That is why we urge you to buy French Government Bonds NOW, while they are on the bargain counter.

The Dutch Guilder, Holland's monetary unit, following the war depreciated from its par value of 40 cents to 44,200 cents or 442.00 cents, a 25% increase, and is now worth 100 cents, representing a return of over 25%.

And lastly, with the franc at par, La 193 cents or $1,930.00 per 1,000 francs. The coupon for one year amounting to 60 francs will be worth $1,930.00 on a net rise of $1,930.00.

When the franc reaches 80 cents, however, the value of the coupon will be much higher: 600 francs will be worth $480.00 which on an investment of $220.00, is equal to a yield of 15%.

When the franc reaches 100 cents, the value of the coupon will be $600.00, or a yield of 27% on the original investment of $220.00.

At 115 cents per franc the coupon on a 10,000 franc Bond costing only $220.00 today (normal value $1,930.00) will be worth $1,150.00, or a yield of 425%.

The Swiss franc a few years ago was worth only 15 cents or $1.50 per 100 francs—yet today it is quoted above par at more than $1,000 per 100 francs. It has increased by more than 600% since the war.

The Swedish krona, normally worth 26.8 cents or $268.00 per 1,000 kronas, dropped to 17.45 cents or $174.50 per 1,000 kronas. In a few years the unit has completely recovered all its losses and at present the value of 100 Swedish kronas is $268.00. During the period the value of 100 kronas increased by $93.50.

In less than two years the Japanese yen has risen from 37.35 cents or $373.50 per 1,000 yen, to 46.15 cents or $461.50 per 1,000 yen. Despite the great havoc wrought by the earthquake on the country's economic life, the value of 100 yen has increased by $87.95 in its 1,258 TIEN TWENTY-FOUR MONTHS.

Everyone knows how rapid has been the rise in Danish and Norwegian exchange. These countries have seen their currencies devalued and the critical economic conditions, but the Danish krona is now worth 100 cents, the Norwegian krona is now worth 115 cents, and the Swedish krona is now worth 100 cents. The value of 100 Norwegian kronas has risen from 11.7 cents or $117.00 per 1,000 kronas, to 22.04 cents or $220.40 per 1,000 kronas, showing a NET RISE OF 87.8% DURING THE SAME PERIOD.

The Spanish peseta from 11.75 cents or $117.50 per 1,000 pesetas a few years ago, has now recovered to 15.84 cents or $158.40 per 1,000 pesetas and the unit is expected to touch par this year.

Leading Swiss National Exchange shows similar wide improvements. Within three years the Swiss franc has risen from 100 cents or $1,000.00 per 1,000 francs to 115 cents or $1,150.00 per 1,000 francs, showing a NET GAIN OF 15% PER ANNUM.

The only 24 1/2 cent gold bond worth purchasing today is the C. M. CORDASCO & COMPANY 6% French Government Bonds, which are sold at 82 cents or $8.20 per 100 francs, showing a NET RISE OF 18% DURING THE PAST YEAR.

In the light of these accomplishments it is not surprising to see that France with a balanced budget, great financial reserves, and a strong national credit, stands UPON THE ROAD TO FINANCIAL PROSPERITY, and that the value of 100 francs within the comparatively near future.

CITY PLAY-OFF CONTROVERSY NOW IN HANDS OF PRES. DOYLE

DECISION FROM HIM EXPECTED HERE TODAY
South End Officials Still Strong in Their Stand—Dr. Lamb Refuses to Interfere
THE controversy raging in local senior baseball circles regarding the play-off for the city championship has been by no means settled, although the chances of the Martello, winners of the South End League, have been declared forfeited by W. E. Stirling, local representative of the M. P. B. of the A. U. of C., and the Water Department and St. Rose's ordered to play a series of seven games.

40,000 Berries
Here's Willis Hudin, rookie hurler of the Cleveland Indians. Hudin was recently purchased from the Wasco club, Texas League, where he hung up an enviable record. He cost Cleveland 40,000 berries, but if he lives up to predictions should be worth that and more.

TROJANS TIE ONE, LOSE THE OTHER
NEWCASTLE, Aug. 19.—Newcastle baseball team and the Trojans of Saint John played a ten-inning baseball game here this afternoon ending in a tie score, five all. Both teams played good ball. McEachern, of the Trojans, was hit freely by the locals, but received good support from his team mates. Briggs pitched for the Trojans and turned in the better game.

Refuses to Interfere
The South End officials appealed to Dr. A. S. Lamb, secretary of the A. U. of C., and he replied that the matter was in the hands of the local officials. It also was said that Dr. Jackson, past president of the A. U. of C., had been asked his opinion in the matter and he had replied that the local amateur officials were wrong in the stand which they assumed regarding the play-off.

CARDINALS FOUR POINTS FROM TOP
Pittsburg Splits Even—Athletics Now in Tie For Second Place
NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Little Bill Sherdel, knocked from the mound by Brooklyn on Tuesday, has kept the faith and today the St. Louis Cardinals are only four points behind the world champion Pirates in the National League.
Left handed Bill gained revenge yesterday for that loss of earlier in the week, and his team mates took up his cause with 16 safe punches that brought about a six to two conquest. It was Sherdel's sixth victory over the Dodgers in seven starts. With his eight hit pitching, he threw in a double and a single.
At the same time, Pittsburg could do no better than gain one point with Philadelphia, losing the first 3 to 1 and taking the second 4 to 0. Chicago returned to power in the struggle for fourth place in the standing by turning back the Giants 2 to 1 on four safeties.
The Boston Red Sox, outlasted but ever fighting, recorded their sixth straight victory, beating Chicago 1 to 0. The Philadelphia Athletics went into a tie with Cleveland for second place in the American League, when Gray and Willis gave Detroit a home run, and three singles. The score was 5 to 1.

Dempsey A Two-to-One Favorite To Defeat Tunney At Philadelphia
Feat of Ederle In Swimming Channel Stands By Itself
Achievement of American Girl Outstanding, Compared With Efforts of Athletes in Other Lines of Sport, According to New York Writer

By HENRY L. FARRELL
NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Any sport fan in the mood for an argument can always be satisfied by suggesting a debate on who was the greatest athlete of all times in any line of sports.
Take baseball. Who is the greatest player of all time? Without delving into the infant period of the game, before salaries of $50,000 a year were paid to stars, before million-dollar stadia were built, and before 5,000 spectators were considered a bad day for the business office, and you will find noisy support for Ty Cobb, Babe Ruth, Christy Mathewson and scores of others.
Babe Ruth generally is recognized as the greatest hitter of all time. But his name is not without qualification. The "old-timers" will tell you that sluggers just as mighty as Ruth played in the old days, but that they had no lively ball to hit, no short fences to shoot at and no pitcher who were not handicapped by tight pitching rules.
Take football and ask who was the greatest player of all time? No one ever agrees on Red Grange, George Glipp, Jim Thorpe, Eddie Mahan, Ted Coy, Heston, Chick Harley and others too numerous to mention.
Take foot racing.
The same arguments result between the supporters of Charley Paddock, Jackson Scholz, Roland Laugel, Ted Meredith and others.
Meredith's records still stand, but the old-timers protest that split-watch records weren't in the days and that there were old professional distance runners as good as himself.
The greatest swimmer was Miss Ederle on her achievement in that no one ever can say of her: "She couldn't have done it if—"
Sport Editor's Note.—The "big" in Mr. Farrell's argument is this: Would Miss Ederle have completed the swim without the aid of a tug?
regarded as the greatest golf players of the present time and Jones has been picked by some critics as the greatest of all. The choice is not unanimous. Many of the British experts think that Abe Mitchell is just as good as Hagen.
Suggestions that Jack Dempsey is the greatest fighter of all times bring ready response. He would have been a match for Bob Fitzsimmons, Jack Johnson or Jim Jeffries, and it is even disputed that he is the greatest heavyweight of his own time.
"Benny Leonard could get any number of fights naming him, but the greatest lightweight boxer of all times, but the argument comes there that Joe Gans was the greatest of all and would have been rich to beat Leonard.
But ask any cross-road town in the United States or perhaps in the British Isles the greatest swimmer that ever lived and the overwhelming response will be—
Gertrude Ederle.
Times, rules and conditions under which all games are played have changed from year to year. Equipment used by baseball players, golfers, tennis players and track athletes have been developed by science from crude forms to the last word in perfection.
Her feat was probably the greatest achievement that ever has been recorded in the history of any game because it was done under the most existing conditions.
Her success in overcoming those obstacles means just as much as if Babe Ruth stood before the greatest pitcher that ever lived and hit every ball pitched to him for a home run.
The greatest swimmer was Miss Ederle on her achievement in that no one ever can say of her: "She couldn't have done it if—"
Sport Editor's Note.—The "big" in Mr. Farrell's argument is this: Would Miss Ederle have completed the swim without the aid of a tug?

Men's and Ladies' Doubles Won by New Brunswick
3 OF 5 EVENTS

FREDERICTON, Aug. 19.—Nova Scotia captured three of the five events played here today in the first round of the Maritime Tennis Tournament, victory in the men's and ladies' doubles being only going to New Brunswick's champions. The win in the latter event was the first women's victory scored by the province over Nova Scotia in several years and was a source of great gratification to the followers of the game here.
The ladies' singles match in which Miss Dorothy Hawboldt, of Halifax, was defeated by Miss Mabel Habbitt, of Fredericton, was the best women's tennis event seen in this province in years. The Nova Scotia lady won in straight sets, 7-5, 6-3, every game being hit-tingly contested.

JOHN R. BRADEN IN HIS FINAL RACE
Veteran Withdrawn in Woodstock Feature Which is Won by Auto Pace
WOODSTOCK, Aug. 19.—The closing day of the last of the summer section race meets of the Maine and New Brunswick circuits, held here under the joint auspices of the Woodstock Driving Club and the Progressive Club of Houlton, Me., was marked by a large attendance, spectacular racing and split heats.
Auto Pace, owned by A. J. Willis, Lawrence, Mass., and driven by Red Hanlon, took the first two heats and the free-for-all race, losing the final heat to El Verso, the only other contender horse of the four starters. John R. Braden, who has won the title of the Moose Club of Presque Isle and crushed six of the free-for-all in the local circuit, was drawn following the fourth heat, after placing third and fourth. Announcement from the judges' stand that today's race was the last in which "The Little Iron Horse" would participate, was the signal for prolonged cheers for Braden and his veteran driver, John Willard.

ST. PETER'S DEFEATED BY BOSTON BALL TEAM
The Braves' All-Stars gauged the edge on the local team, when they defeated St. Peter's in a seven-inning game last evening at St. Peter's Park. The visitors sent six scores across the plate, while the Saints were only able to make four tallies. Roy Towle, who played here two years ago with the Vets, twirled for the home team. McLellan started for the visitors, but was relieved by Gorman in the sixth, after Moore had hoisted one of his offerings for circuit clout over the right field fence, scoring O'Regan ahead of him. The Saints were only able to secure five hits off the combined offerings of McLellan and Gorman, while Towle was touched for seven safeties.
St. Peter's had a bad inning in the sixth stanza, when four hits, a base on balls and three misplays enabled the Braves to score five times.
The Braves' All Stars and St. Peter's will meet again tonight at St. Peter's Park, starting at 6:45 o'clock sharp.

Ten Take Part In Shoot At Glen Falls Traps

J. W. Andrews 44
W. E. McIntyre 43
Dr. Chipman 41

STRESS STATEMENT
Dr. Patrick addressed this statement to the editor of the Saskatoon Star today, informing the editor that he was sending by current mail a number of copies of the Yorkton Enterprise of Nov. 19, 1926, and of Feb. 5, 1926, together with file of "my correspondence with Mr. Campbell, beginning with my letter of Feb. 5, confirming my telegram to him of previous day."
"The correspondence and papers," said Dr. Patrick, "support my denial." All these bear intimate evidence of the utter futility of the allegation attributed to Mr. Campbell and all of them are non-confidential. You may make such use of them as you deem in the public interest.
(Signed) "P. A. PATRICK"
The report of Mr. Campbell's statement was carried by The Canadian Press Tuesday.

How To Swim
By LILLIAN CANNON
BREATHING is very important in the crawl. It must be synchronized with the arm movements so that there will be no hitch in the perfect co-ordination of breath, arms and legs.
At first it will be well to breathe after two strokes of the arms. Breathe either on the right or left, as comes most natural, but make the breathing as regular as clockwork.

FIGHT FILM AND OTHERS CROWD THE IMPERIAL

Pictures of Delaney's Victory Over Berlenbach Excellent—Also "Money Talks"

It has been a long while since Imperial Theatre enjoyed such a crush of business as it did yesterday when it opened the engagement of the Berlenbach-Delaney fight pictures along with its regular program of fiction films of which "Money Talks," featuring Claire Windsor and Owen Moore was the chief item. In a word there were really two crowds using the same theatre at the same time, the regular household mixed audience to see a mixed show of pictures and the followers of ring lore who wanted to see the classic bout in which Chapdelaine, the Quebec boy now known as "Jack Delaney," laid low the brilliant colors of the stalwart German-American.

There have been numerous ring-side movies of boxing events during the past few years but it is very much a matter of doubt if better pictures were ever taken of an actual contest than those being shown at the Imperial at the present. No time is lost with unnecessary preliminaries, there is no padding and the 15 rounds of this hectic battle are sped off in proper time the eye of the camera catching every solitary movement of the struggling pugilists. It was the finest exhibition of the manly art Saint John fans ever saw.

"Money Talks" is another spoke in the wheel of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's big pictures. While not a starring picture for anyone, it features Claire Windsor, Owen Moore and Bert Roach. Owen Moore, last seen in "The Black Bird," has a new type of role for him. It is Moore's first farce comedy role, and in the latter part of the picture he does a female impersonation that is a "wow" to use a pet phrase of the industry.

Bert Roach, the inevitable comedian of "Excuse Me" and "Dove," has a role somewhat similar to his others in "Money Talks." Bert again plays the goody drunk, but he has greater opportunities in this production, and makes the most of them.

"Money Talks" is altogether a delightful comedy.

CHRISTEN NEW AMERICAN "MYSTERY" BOMBER

received a report of the crash at his office here. He said that there might be hope that the pilot jumped from the plane before the crash, and was carried miles from the accident by his parachute. The report stated that the charred wreckage of the plane had been found, but up to an early hour tonight confirmation or details were lacking.

Reford, president of the Robert Reford Co., Ltd., Montreal, is also in the city and is on a mission similar to that of Mr. McWhirter. Mr. Reford, who has just completed a tour about Nova Scotia and parts of New Brunswick, is hearty in his praise of the tourist facilities here.

MORE PUBLICITY IS URGED BY A. J. NESBITT

Financial Man, Formerly of Saint John, Speaks of Tourist Traffic

"If the tourist attractions of the Maritime Provinces were advertised more extensively in Quebec and Ontario, hundreds of people living in these two provinces would visit the eastern part of Canada in the summer time instead of spending their holidays at summer resorts in the state of Maine," was the statement made last night by A. J. Nesbitt, head of stock brokers, who arrived in the city by motor yesterday for a short holiday in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. Mr. Nesbitt is accompanied by Mrs. Nesbitt and their two sons.

When asked about business and industrial conditions, Mr. Nesbitt said that business in Quebec and Ontario was very good and had improved materially during the last 12 months. In the province of Quebec a large amount of industrial construction is going on.

Mr. Nesbitt expects to leave with his family for Halifax shortly. While in the city, the party are registered at the Admiral Beatty.

MISS DRISCOLL RESCUES BOY AT SWIMMING SCOW

John Powers, Pushed Overboard by Another Lad, Down Twice

Quickness of action and swimming ability of Miss Edna Driscoll, swimming instructor at the public swimming scows, Kennedy street, were responsible for the saving of the life of John Powers, a lad 14 or 15 years of age, residing in Sydney street, yesterday afternoon. It is not the first time that she has rescued persons in difficulty in the water.

Young Powers, who was in bathing costume, was standing at the bathing house, and one of a group of boys standing near, thinking he could swim, pushed him into the water. Young Powers, however, was not able to swim, and was floundering around and had sunk twice before his plight was realized.

Miss Driscoll was about 25 yards away, but as soon as she became aware that life was in danger she swam rapidly to the rescue and reached the boy before he went down the third time. She got him ashore and in a short time he was all right and none the worse for the adventure.

MAYOR TO ATTEND MEDICAL COUNCIL

His Worship Will Leave Tomorrow For Montreal and Ottawa

Mayor White will leave tomorrow afternoon for Montreal and Ottawa. While in the latter city he will attend the annual meeting of the Medical Council of Canada, the supreme body of the Dominion in medical matters, which opens its sessions on August 25. His Worship has been a member of the council ever since it was formed in 1912, and four years ago was president. The first president of the council was Sir Thomas G. Roddick, Montreal, who was knighted for his services to the medical profession in Canada. Speaking of the work of the council this morning His Worship said that at Confederation matters of education were left in the hands of the various provinces and each province made its own laws governing the practice of medicine, and has its own examination. This meant that a New Brunswick doctor would be practicing illegally if he crossed the border into Nova Scotia and vice versa. Realizing that such a state of affairs was not for the good of the people or of the profession, Dr. Roddick started an agitation for a Dominion examination and registration, resulting in a man in 1914, where in Canada, and after 25 years he was successful in getting the Canada Medical Act, under which the council operates, passed in 1912.

TWO FROM N. B.

The Council is composed of two representatives from each province, appointed for a four year term, one representative from each university having a medical course, and three appointed by the Governor-in-council. It is their duty to appoint the board of examiners and see that the standard of the examination is a high one.

The other representative from New Brunswick on the council is Dr. Vanwart, Fredericton.

AS HIRAM SEES IT

THE SETTLEMENT—Bill Snooks and Sam Sniggers got talking politics down to the store last night. Bill said we ought to have a change of government to raise the price of pork—Sam said the Liberals ought to go back again to improve the breed of hogs. Bill said one pig this year Sam says it's the most meat this summer in his pastur. Bill said if he could hit a government job he'd move to town. Sam said the trouble with Bill was that he didn't work an' he didn't get a job. The talk got kind of personal after that they both got hot. Bill said Sam's great-grandfather was a refugée—an' Sam said Bill's great-grandfather was a squatter an' cheated the Indians.
