BORDEN IS GIVEN AN OVATION

Thousands in Procession Escorting New Premier Through Ottawa Streets

HE MAKES SPEECH Still Keeps up the Loyalty-for-Purpose Talk—Avoids Passing Home of Revered Liberal Chief-tain, Sir Wilfrid

(Canadian Press) Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 27.—Ottawa, last night, accorded the premier-elect, a great reception. A huge procession of automobiles, carriages, mounted men, and footmen with lanterns, torches, banners and fireworks, proceeded to Mr. Borden's residence, and conveyed him, pulling the cortège by hand, through the streets. Probably 10,000 people were in the line, and 40,000 lined the various streets, and the effect was one of the most notable in a peculiarly undemonstrative city.

A special despatch to the Times says: "The parade started at 7.30 from the corner of Jones and Bank streets and proceeded to Mr. Borden's residence in Wellington street, where the Conservative leader was waiting in a carriage in company with Mr. Perley and Messrs. Fripp and Chabot, and sixty men drew it down Rideau street, past the statue of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, to Bank and then back to Wellington street via Laurier, Nicholas, Rideau and St. Patrick streets, a total distance of about two miles. Proceeding the carriage was a mounted escort of fifty men, and behind them fifty horsemen. Behind those came some 400 motor cars, carriages and vans, all properly decked with Chinese lanterns, Union Jacks and streamers. At intervals were illuminated banners with legends, 'The Union Jack is good enough for us,' 'reciprocity is dead.' Practically every back in the city was engaged for the occasion. With considerable thoughtfulness those in charge of the parade arranged the route so as to avoid the residence of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. With the people of Ottawa, the premier is still as revered and beloved as ever. On returning to Mr. Borden's residence the Conservative leader briefly addressed the cheering crowd."

ITALY PRESENTS AN ULTIMATUM TO PORTO

Next Move in War Game Now Depends on the Answer Received

Turkey Disposed to Make Concessions, But Fear is That Things May Have Gone Too Far—The Position of the Great Powers in the Matter

(Canadian Press) Rome, Sept. 27.—Italy's next move on Tripoli will depend upon the answer which the Porte makes to a note which was presented by the Italian charge at Constantinople, and in which the government at Rome demands guarantees against a repetition of certain acts on the part of Turkey that have been made the subject of complaint by the Italian residents of Tripoli. These guarantees are very extensive and include the right of Italy to supervise all measures which she considers necessary for the conduct of affairs in that province. The note is couched in the strongest terms and is in intent an ultimatum.

According to Constantinople advices here the Porte is disposed to make important economic concessions to Italy, but the belief is held in Rome, that there is little likelihood of their acceptance, for Italy has gone so far that it would be difficult for her to adopt so quickly a policy completely at variance with that which she announced a day or two ago. It is said that Great Britain, France and Russia have been solicited by Turkey to intervene but refused.

Ontario Has Two Murder Cases to Bring to Conclusion Open Verdict in Death of James McCartney—John McDougall is on Trial for His Life for Shooting Neighbor

Warton, Ont., Sept. 27.—"We believe that James McCartney, came to his death, on September 23, from wounds inflicted on the head by some person unknown." This verdict was rendered by the coroner's inquest on the late James McCartney, who, on Saturday afternoon, September 23, was shot by John McDougall, a neighbor of his. The coroner's inquest was held at the residence of Mr. McCartney's son, Fabian and another witness swore to witnessing what they believed to be deliberate shooting, as it followed loud and unfriendly talking between the two men. McDougall made the statement that he was shooting at Morin's dog, which was about to attack him at Morin's suggestion and instead of his hitting the dog, Morin received the charge and fell.

Coastwise Freights Are Looking Up. Coastwise freights show improvement, and while the demand for tonnage is limited the rate remains firm. From St. John about $8 is offered and from the bay ports as much as $3.5 and $4. Around the North Shore as high as $4.5 and $5 is being offered as the season is getting late and stuff must be shipped before navigation becomes restricted. The outlook generally is said to be, if anything, reassuring, as the American market is quite stiff. Up to the present the winter season has no vessel lying up for the winter season, and if things continue as they are there should be no winter trade in the north running many vessels for some time yet.

DEAD NUMBER 235

Latest Estimate in French War-ship Disaster—There Were 160 Wounded. Toulon, France, Sept. 27.—(Canadian Press)—The latest official estimate places the number of victims of the Liberté disaster at 235 dead, and 160 wounded, dangerously. It is believed that this estimate is very near correct. Many of the bodies taken from the Liberté were unrecognizable. Not a few of the victims had been literally scattered to the winds. The authorities are convinced that all the living have been removed. Engineers from the naval construction department have made a survey of the wreck which is gradually sinking in the mud. As soon as all the guns and material that can still be used are taken off, the bulk will be blown up, as otherwise it would impede navigation in the harbor.

THE SLAUGHTER HOUSES

Dr. Melvin, the public health officer, is proving his value. The course which he has pursued in connection with the slaughter houses must in a short time change conditions which have been a reproach to the city and a menace to the public health for very many years. Dr. Melvin, after his appointment as public health officer, visited the slaughter houses and saw the need of a change. The matter was referred to the board of health. The board already knew of the conditions, but were apparently helpless to some extent because of the lack of power. Steps are now to be taken to give them power to enforce drastic changes. Dr. Melvin has drawn up a new by-law, which has been approved by the board, and which the lieutenant-governor-in-council will be asked to approve. The result of the adoption of this by-law should be the erection of a small abattoir fitted with every modern convenience and suitable for all the killing that is necessary for this market. The public health has been endangered in the past, and conditions have existed which would only be permitted to exist by a city whose people are somewhat indifferent in matters which directly affect the public health.

Another step should be taken by the board of health. It should not permit meat to be hauled uncovered through the city, collecting whatever germs the winds may carry from the streets. In many ways the public health may be conserved by the enforcement of simple regulations.

WHY THIS HYPOCRISY?

The St. John Standard continues to make bitter attacks upon leaders of the Liberal party, some of whom will be in the next parliament, and some of whom were defeated in the recent elections. That journal continues to make wild charges of dishonesty and corruption, stupidity, weakness and the like. Inasmuch as the Conservative party failed to prove the charges made against their opponents when there was an opportunity to do it on the floor of the house of parliament, the reiteration of charges by the Standard at this time is rather small business. The particular editor who wrote today's article in the Standard is perhaps too young to remember the history of the Conservative party, prior to its defeat in 1896. Some one who is old enough to remember should refresh his memory. Moreover, the Conservatives are again in power, and it is quite certain that whatever extravagance or favoritism or other form of political misdoing the Liberal government or its supporters may have been guilty of, will be duplicated by the Conservatives. There is no monopoly in this country either of political virtue or the opposite. Let the Standard keep its own skirts clean.

THE WAR CLOUD

Europe is seldom long without a war scare. Lately Germany and France provided the sensation, and now it is Italy and Turkey. Apparently Italy is determined to declare a protectorate over Tripoli, and Turkey is equally determined to resist such action. The danger to Europe in general lies in the fact that if Turkey became engaged in war with Italy, some of the Turk's neighbors nearer home might take a hand in the fray, and in the end involve nations which have no interest whatever in a dispute over Tripoli. The cables both from Italy and Turkey show that the two countries are on the very verge of hostilities. The people of Tripoli are naturally on the side of Turkey. The Turkish fleet could do nothing against that of Italy, but in land operations in Northern Africa the conditions would be more favorable to the Turk. It is stated that Italy would be quite willing to purchase Tripoli, but that Turkey would not consider such a bargain for a moment. A Paris cable gives the following information concerning the territory now in dispute:

"Tripoli is a province of the Ottoman Empire on the northern coast of Africa, and the most easterly of the Barbary States, extending from the frontier of Tunis to that of Egypt, a distance along the coast line of nearly 1,100 miles, and inland to the south a distance of about 800 miles. It was formerly under a native dynasty, and passed under direct Turkish control in 1835. It comprises the four provinces of Tripoli, Khoms, Jabel-el-Jharh and Fezzan, and also of Benghazi, the latter being under the direct government of Constantinople since 1875. It has a population of about 1,000,000."

population of over 1,000,000 in Tripoli proper and Benghazi. The town of Benghazi has a population of about 21,000, consisting of Arabs, Greeks, Maltese, and a few Levantines. Tripoli, the capital city, has a population of about 40,000."

MR. BORDEN'S INSINCERITY

It is to be regretted that Mr. Borden continues to profess a belief that his victory was due to the fear of the people that reciprocity would endanger the Empire. Mr. Borden knows better. He also knows that it was not opposition to reciprocity which gave him his enormous majority in the province of Ontario. He is equally well aware that it was not reciprocity but anti-imperial sentiment which put down the Liberal majority in Quebec. Now that he is in power, Mr. Borden should either be candid or silent in regard to this matter.

What will Mr. Borden do with the twenty Nationalists or Monk-Conservatives who are among his Quebec followers? They are all said to be opposed to any expenditure for naval purposes. Will he take one or more of them into his cabinet? Or will he entirely ignore the French-Canadians? Talk of Canadian unity and British connection comes with an ill grace from the man who accepted the support of Bourassa and the Quebec Nationalists.

The board of works has discovered another committee which seems to have forgotten what it was appointed for. Perhaps the new one will have a better memory.

Mr. R. L. Borden was the central figure in a great party demonstration at Ottawa last night. The members of the party in that city, after fifteen years of waiting, would naturally develop a good deal of enthusiasm.

It is stated by the Conservatives that there will be a recount in Queens-Sunbury, Carleton and Westmeadland. It is not probable that the result will give either of these seats to the Conservative candidate. However, if it will do the defeated party any good, they may as well have the satisfaction of the recount.

It is a pity that the board of works should waste time over the question of authority in hiring or discharging employees of the departments. If the head of a department is not qualified to select his help, he himself ought to be discharged. This meddling by outsiders in the affairs of the departments has a tendency to demoralize the whole service.

Word comes from Fredericton that plans are already being made to demand from Mr. Borden a portfolio for Mr. Crockett. It is said that an effort is being made to secure the support of the New Brunswick Conservative members. The situation is interesting. Mr. Fowler might fairly have some ambitions, and there seems no good reason why Dr. Daniel should be ignored. Mr. Fowler, having made his peace with the Montreal Star may, perhaps, secure its support; and the Star no doubt has some influence with Mr. Borden. Imagine Mr. Crockett as minister of public works.

WENT TO MUCH TROUBLE TO WORK OUT HIS JOKE

The architect, Binet, who built the magnificent gate of the Paris Exhibition of 1900, and who has just died at the early age of forty-five, was one of the most incorrigible practical jokers in Paris. Many stories of the tricks he used to play are told, but the best of all of them has never been printed.

Binet was on his way to the Ecole des Beaux Arts one day when he met the concierge, an old soldier and an incurable gossip. He was standing admiring a tortoise which he had just bought, and called Binet's attention to the creature.

"Yes," said Binet, "he is all right; but don't you think that he is rather small?" The concierge admitted that his tortoise was not very big.

"What do you feed him on?" said Binet. "Lettuce," the concierge said. "Ah, that's rather a mistake; you ought to give him rape and wild thyme, and you will see how quickly he will grow."

Binet took a yard measure from his pocket, solemnly measured the tortoise, and went away. A few days afterwards he measured him again.

"I see you have followed my advice," he said. There was no doubt about it. The tortoise had grown from the size of the palm of a small hand to that of a small saucer. The next time Binet came he was as big as a desert plate, and in three weeks or a month he had grown to the size of a soap plate. The concierge got a little nervous.

"He is getting too big," he said. "I have been to the Jardin des Plantes and I saw a giant tortoise there. We can't have a thing that size in the Ecole des Beaux Arts. You had better take to feeding him on salad again," said Binet.

The concierge did so, and the tortoise shrank. He shrank so much that one day he was only the size of a small paper weight, and the next day he had disappeared entirely. The explanation of the mystery was that Binet had laid in a stock of tortoises of different sizes and changed them one by one when the concierge was not looking. His friends profited by the joke, for Binet did not know what to do with the creatures, of which he had bought fifty-eight, and distributed them to everybody who would take one.

SOMETHING YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT SUBSTITUTION

If you wanted to buy oak lumber and the man delivered you yellow pine you would know the difference. If you wanted to buy silk and they sent you calico you would have no trouble in seeing the substitution. It's not so easy however with medicine. A great many medicines look and taste alike, BUT THEY DON'T ACT ALIKE. Just think this over the next time you want medicine. Remember that at our store you can rely on every drug we sell. The difference between buying medicines and merchandise is the difference between knowledge and belief. You know the one but you have to believe in the other. You will be absolutely safe when you put your belief in us.

TRIPOLI AND OUTLOOK OF WAR OVER IT

Only Remaining Possession of Turkey On Continent Of Africa

MATTER MAY BE SERIOUS

Should War Break Out it Might Mean Drawing in of Other European Powers—Some History and Some of the Complications

(Ottawa Journal)

Tripoli, the only remaining actual possession of Turkey in Africa is the province next west of Egypt on the Mediterranean Sea, with Algeria on the other side. Tripoli contains about 400,000 square miles (about twice the area of Ontario) and about a million inhabitants, mostly Berbers or Moors. Italy seems to want Tripoli, Italy has been complaining that the Turkish administration is not good and that Italy is the nearest European power which the best reason for annoyance; and Italy is proposing therefore to establish a "protectorate" over Tripoli in order to improve the administration.

This is the regulation gospel for North Africa. Britain established a protectorate over Egypt because the Turkish style of rule was irritating. France seized Algeria for the same reason, and France, Germany and Spain are despatching which should most "protect" Morocco. So Italy's desire about Tripoli is not at all novel.

The chief feature in the case is that Turkey may fight. Also, Turkey can put a pretty good scow when she feels like it.

The result may be a war, not only between Italy and Turkey, but likely to extend because some of Turkey's Balkan neighbors may seize the opportunity to attack her and eventually other European powers may be drawn in.

Meanwhile the imminence of the danger illustrates once more both that the era of war is not ended on earth and that war may start in quite unexpected ways. A Tripoli, under consular instructions from Turkey could find any reason for war.

Some History
(Madras Witness)

The world's centre of disturbance has suddenly shifted from the dispute between Germany and Spain on the one hand and France and Great Britain on the other, to imminent war between Turkey and Italy. France having now asserted definitely her own overlordship over Morocco, once a portion of the Sultan's wide spread dominions, and having already seized Algeria and Agave lately. Turkey, the latter claimed by Italy as within her sphere of influence, and having dominion over the remaining Moroccan Kingdom of Abyssinia as her share in the partition of Africa.

Abyssinia had, in the days of King Menelik, fallen an easy prey to an English force using modern machinery—so many of the Magdala, its then capital and principal mountain stronghold fell without the loss of a man on the part of the British. But the attempt of the Italians to take Abyssinia proved disastrous. They had to retreat with great loss and content themselves with an unappreciated part of the Red Sea coast, whose ancient name of Erythraea they revived.

Factors in the Case

The Tripoli coast, though, once in the days of the Romans an important and civilized region, several times mentioned in the New Testament under the name of Cyrene, has for a long time, beset by Moslem stagnancy, seemed as desolate as that of Erythraea. It is only a question between the European powers, who should get it.

A few years ago the Italians had to assert their claims to Tripoli only against France, and that claim has never been actively disputed either by France or any other power. But in asserting it now Italy finds that she has another power to deal with, that of Turkey, to whom it belongs. The Young Turks, since they came into power have lost Bosnia and Herzegovina, immediately set by force to come to final terms about the independence of Bulgaria, which has now declared itself a monarchy. They have had to fight for Arabia, with as yet uncertain issue, and are in like unsettled conflict with the mountain tribes of Albania. They are likely very soon to be threatened with the secession of Crete, the term of the existing settlement by the powers being now up.

The new and vigorous ruling party at Constantinople cannot contemplate all this disintegration at the outset of their administration with the natural effect on the prestige of their new regime with anything but consternation. There are those among them who see that the Crete question will never be anything but a very expensive sore, not only to Turkey, but to the powers until the Creteans have their way.

The Turks would act more wisely in accepting an indemnity from Greece, in the paying of which Greece might gladly be aided by the powers, than in fighting against fate in the crippled condition of Turkey's finances and armament. Turkey made short work of Greece on the confines of Macedonia. Her fighting force proved as good as ever while that of Greece was quite undisciplined. But Crete is an island, and Turkish war vessels have for a good while been scarcely seaworthy.

Only By War

Turkey is separated from Tripoli in like manner by sea, she could not face the Italian navy. But in this case she has the advantage of having the population factually on her side. The prevailing spirit in the Young Turk government is not one of caution or even prudence; the uncompromising attitude prevails because it is certain to be the most popular. Italy is willing to buy Tripoli from Turkey, as the United States bought Louisiana from France, and thus put an impetuous gov-

SEPTEMBER BRIDES

There Were Several Weddings of Much Interest in St. John Today

Collins-Vanwart

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Vanwart of this city, was the scene of a pretty wedding at 4 o'clock this afternoon, when their eldest daughter, Miss Alice Beatrice was united in marriage to John Long Collins of Campbellton. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives, by Rev. W. W. Malcom, assisted by Rev. Dr. J. A. Morrison. The bride, who was given away by her father, was attended by Mrs. Bruce S. Robb as matron of honor, and her sister, Miss Annie Dean Vanwart, as bridesmaid. William E. Fraser acted as groomsmen. The bride wore a handsome gown of cream satin in empire style, with pearl trimmings and carried a bouquet of white roses. Her wedding veil was a family heirloom, having been used on four similar occasions. The matron of honor wore a black Gainsborough hat, trimmed with white plumes and touches of pale blue. Her bouquet was of pink carnations. The bridesmaid's dress was of pink chiffon tulle. She wore a large black picture hat and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

PUBLIC RECREATION LEAGUE ORGANIZED

Boston Citizens Form Association to Promote a Good Object

After having been under way for several months, the Public Recreation League of Boston was organized and officers were elected, at a meeting held last week at 3 Joy street, Boston. This organization proposes to concentrate the various efforts for better recreation for parks, playgrounds, gymnasiums, water facilities and other means for recreation so that improvements may be accomplished through its efforts instead of being merely discussed and resolved upon.

The league starts with broad intentions and will treat recreation as a fundamental subject worthy of consideration and action by Boston's officials and citizens. Playgrounds for children are considered an important phase of the subject, but no more so than better service for parks for adults, and increased use of water facilities for everybody.

The recreation of the whole community by all feasible means, at all practicable seasons and hours, is embodied in the policy of the league, whose members are as a rule well informed on the subject from long and intimate contact.

A survey of the city preliminary to the formation of the league revealed no public recreation of any kind, and it was to look after the recreational interests of the people. There are many organizations and individuals giving more or less attention to the problem in connection with other affairs, but not one that considers the interrelation between the different parts or that has this as its sole purpose. The league proposes to meet the need which has been shown and met in like manner in several other cities.

It starts with a realization that Boston was the first American city to provide public playgrounds, public gymnasiums and baths, and that Boston's parks have acquired an international reputation, but that these facilities for service have not been developed so that the community receives adequate returns for the $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 a year expended for their maintenance.

This has been the verdict of several investigating committees, but no noteworthy change has been made by the officials in charge, nor in the public sentiment which is the basis for official progression. The league proposes both to arouse public sentiment and bring it to bear upon cases so that improvements shall be made and noticed.

HARRY WILSON TO BE HANGED IN DIGBY ON NOVEMBER 15

Digby, N. S., Sept. 26—Harry Wilson, whose trial took place in Little Brook today in the supreme court, Judge Meagher presiding, was found guilty of the murder of his brother, George Wilson, Jr., and the people. There are many organizations and individuals giving more or less attention to the problem in connection with other affairs, but not one that considers the interrelation between the different parts or that has this as its sole purpose. The league proposes to meet the need which has been shown and met in like manner in several other cities.

It starts with a realization that Boston was the first American city to provide public playgrounds, public gymnasiums and baths, and that Boston's parks have acquired an international reputation, but that these facilities for service have not been developed so that the community receives adequate returns for the $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 a year expended for their maintenance.

APPOINTMENTS TO OTTAWA

S. A. M. Siskner, who, as is generally known, received an appointment in the legal department of the department of public works of Canada several weeks ago, will leave soon for Ottawa to take up his new duties. He reported at Ottawa at the time of his appointment and was granted leave of absence in order to give him an opportunity to arrange his affairs here before leaving permanently.

E. J. Armstrong, who has also been receiving congratulations during the past few weeks on his appointment in the government printing bureau at Ottawa, will leave for the capital at an early date.

Daily Hints For the Cook

SALAD DRESSING.
Two tablespoonfuls of sugar, one tablespoonful of butter, one-half tablespoonful of mustard, one-half tablespoonful of salt, beat an egg into this; add three-quarters of a cupful of milk. Bring to the boil and take immediately from the fire. Add a teaspoonful of vinegar and let it boil once more.

OMELET SAUCE.
A delicious sauce, which adds a zest to any omelet, is made after this recipe: Chop a slice of onion fine and cook it in a tablespoonful of butter; then add a cupful of tomatoes, a red and a green pepper, chopped fine. Cook for a quarter of an hour. Add half a cupful of small mushrooms, cut into small pieces, and cook for another ten minutes. Season to taste with salt and paprika. This sauce will keep for several days, being warmed up when ready to use.

The Late Mr. Sandall

To Editor Times:
Sir:—Having been acquainted for a long time with the late H. P. Sandall, permit me to say a few words. It was a pleasure and delight to know him. I do not remember of meeting him without a smile on his face. It is not an easy matter to smile at all times, but he was not an ordinary man. He was one of the rare kind, who could look back upon a good life, whether as an athlete, a man of business or a Christian gentleman. Is there any wonder he could smile? No, for to be able to look back on a well spent life is heaven. To those left in the sad home, it is a glorious restful thought. He has left us but did not go far. He is near. It seems to me our dear ones are very near, and it is a most comforting thought for me. Friend Sandall looked for all the world as if he were well asleep. He has left us a beautiful example, a saintlike life, one will do well to follow.
Your sincerely,
A. T. B. HOWARD.

ANOTHER MOVE AGAINST JEWS IS REPORTED.

Expulsion From Nikolaioff in Russia Said to Be Near

Nikolaioff, Russia, Sept. 25—The "Nikolaioff Gazette" contains what purports to be a semi-official intimation to the effect that all Jews who have become domiciled here since August 1, 1908, will soon be served with notices of expulsion. They will be granted terms of grace varying from six months, in which to arrange their private and liquidate their business affairs. Including women and children the expulsion decree will affect about 6,000 persons.

It is expected that Nikolaioff will resume its former rank and status as a first-class naval port and station from January 1, 1914) and that event will in all probability be marked by a further and larger expulsion of Jews. Small private houses are scarce, and accommodation must be found for some 10,000 extra shipwrights drafted from the Baltic yards for the construction of the new Black Sea fleet. The Jews will no doubt be compelled to make room for the newcomers and in that case expatriation means expulsion.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES.

The Ottawa Conservatives held a big parade in Ottawa last night to celebrate their victory. R. L. Borden, the new premier, was given a great reception. Fully 20,000 people took part in a parade which was a mile long.

Alonso Clark, a native of Barbados was found dead in bed in the Canadian House, Fredericton Junction yesterday. He had been in poor health for some time and death was from natural causes. An effort will be made to locate his parents in Barbados as he had life insurance.

At Main River near Rebec on Saturday David Thompson and a companion were driving a hay rack and had with them a loaded gun. Two young ladies got into the wagon for a ride. One of them, not no doubt, he compelled to make room for the newcomers and in that case expatriation means expulsion.

Eczema 25 Years Cured by "Cuticura"

"I have been troubled by doctors for twenty-five years for a disease of eczema on my leg. They did the best, but failed to cure it. My leg was so swollen and itched so much that I could not walk in it. I had tried every remedy I could get, but nothing helped. I was almost blind from the pain. I had heard of Cuticura and I bought a box of it. I used it as directed and in two months my leg was cured. I can now walk in it. I am truly grateful for the wonderful cure Cuticura has given me. I always recommend it most highly as a sure and economical cure for eczema." (Signed) Mrs. J. B. Renaud, 277 Main Street, Boston, U.S.A.

MUST NOT COME TO CITY FOR FIVE YEARS

Thomas Barry sentenced to Three Years, But Goes Free to Leave St. John at Once

Thomas Barry who was arrested on the night of September 22, charged with setting fire to a house in Brussels street was tried before Judge Forbes under the Speedy Trials' Act in chambers this morning. Barry said that he belonged to Peterville, Queens county, where he has a farm, and a man named Cook. He came to St. John and went to stay all night at the home of a brother of Mr. Cook who formerly lived in the Brussels street house, but which is now occupied by Mr. Chisholm, a fireman. He disclaimed all knowledge of the fire and said he was not smoking on that night.

Mrs. Olive, who lives in a flat in the house, said she saw a fire start in the cellar and saw the prisoner come out. She asked him what he set the fire for but he did not answer her and moved away.

His Honor sentenced him to three years in Dorchester penitentiary but said he would allow the sentence to stand provided he got out of the city immediately and sent him a certificate from Father Leonard of Peterville that he had taken the pledge of five years. His Honor said if he was caught in the city within five years he would be immediately arrested and the sentence would be carried out.

The circuit court met this morning. Justice McKeown presiding and adjourned sine die.

St. John Signalling Corps Inspection Last Evening—Perhaps to Peterwawa Next Year

What was looked upon as the most successful signalling inspection ever held in St. John was conducted last evening in the Lower Cove armory by Capt. T. E. Powers, divisional signalling commander for the maritime provinces, assisted by Lieut. Allan Leavitt, commanding No. 8 Section, when the latter body was thoroughly examined in the branches of signalling. The inspection opened at 8 o'clock and after several tests had been given in Morse, semaphore, Bigly lamp, and other branches of the system, message work was taken up.

Two terminals and a transmitting station were filled, and the work of sending messages through was proceeded with in a most commendable manner. The men worked with precision and promptness and it was freely said that no other inspection held in this city has so quickly and successfully executed. Q. M. S. I. Lindsay had charge of one terminal, Sergt. Ballew the other, and Lieut. Leavitt controlled the transmitting station.

It is probable that another school of instruction in the art of flag-waving and sending messages through the air, will be held in the city in the spring, although no definite time has as yet been decided upon. The schools in other years have been distinctly successful and it is planned to have this school as a means of introducing the measures innovated and allowed with the publication of the latest signalling methods. It is expected that No. 8 Section will be considerably enlarged next year, and that they will have in hand considerable new work and there is also a possibility that their training may be at Peterwawa instead of at Sussex.

MISS SCOVIL WEDS GUY R. HUMPHREY

St. John Business Man Married to Daughter of J. M. Scovil in Hampton

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Scovil in Hampton last evening when their daughter, Miss Mabel R. Scovil was united in marriage to Guy R. Humphrey. The ceremony was performed at 6:45 by Rev. G. F. Scovil, rector of St. Jude's church, West St. John, and only immediate friends and relatives of the bride and groom were present.

There were no attendants, and the bride was given away by her father. She looked charming in a tailored suit of green with hat to match. The drawing room was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and potted plants. There was a beautiful array of wedding gifts attesting to the popularity of both bride and groom.

After a dainty wedding supper, Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey left for this city and this morning went to Lake Utopia, where they will spend their honeymoon. Mr. Humphrey, who is the proprietor of a coffee establishment in Charlotte street, is a son of the late J. M. Humphrey, founder of the wholesale shoe house of J. M. Humphrey & Co., this city, and brother of Percy Humphrey, a member of that firm, and Ralph M. Humphrey, residing in the west.

Matters to Come up at Water Board Meeting This Afternoon

At a meeting of the water and sewerage board this afternoon tenders for the work of cartage and backfill connected with the water mains in Sydney, Mecklenburg and Princess streets, are to be opened. The matters before the meeting will have to do chiefly with routine business. One item in the engineer's report is a request for compensation, made by Wm. Morrish for a fall in Waterloo street, which he claims was caused by excavation work which was being done there.

Engineer Murdoch reports that tenders for excavation work in Champlain street, West St. John, were opened, and that George W. Day, being the lowest tenderer was awarded the work. The approval of the board is requested. He also recommends that if the additional vote of $2,000 to complete the work of excavating and renovating being done in Deck street, be not sufficient, that the deficit be charged to the water reserve fund.

HAPPY EVENT IN FAIRVILLE TODAY

St. Rose's church was the scene of a happy matrimonial event this morning at 10 o'clock when Miss Margaret C. daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Calnan became the bride of J. Leo Maloney, a popular character in the north end. Rev. Chas. Collins was the officiating clergyman. The bride, who was given away by her brother Joseph Calnan, looked very attractive in a tailored suit of cream serge with black panne velvet hat with willow plumes. She was attended by her sister, who was prettily attired in Alice blue with black beaver hat. T. Harold McGuire supported the groom.

A wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents, Ready street, Fairville, followed the ceremony, and Mr. and Mrs. Maloney left on the S. S. Governor Dingley on a visit to the States. On their return after their honeymoon they will reside in Clarendon street. They were the recipients of many wedding remembrances from numerous friends who wish them all happiness in their matrimonial life.

IN NEED OF CARE

A particularly sad case of a family living in practically destitute circumstances in North street, has come to the attention of the police, and is now being investigated by them. The name of the people is Johnson, and the family consists of a mother and four small children. The husband was killed a couple of years ago on a coal boat and since then the mother has been going out working to support her little ones.

Of late it is said, conditions have been causing the neighbors anxiety. The police have only heard of the matter lately.

TODAY'S POLICE COURT

In the police court this morning Fred Lean was fined $8 or thirty days in jail on the charge of drunkenness, while Thomas Hartley and Thomas Donovan were remanded on like charges. Mary Deane, an old offender, arrested on a charge of being drunk, was told that she would be sent to the Good Shepherd home.

Louis Harowitz and Eric Wilbur, charged with working on Sunday, Sept. 24, in the factory of S. K. Cohen in Deck street, were fined $1 each. Cohen testified that he was out of town on that date and did not know anything about the case. He was allowed to go.

THE C. P. R. AND THE WEST INDIES

Though it was hoped that the C. P. R. might inaugurate their proposed West India service in the coming winter, nothing has yet been learned of it at the company's offices here. It was given out from Montreal last year that the purpose of the C. P. R. was to build steamers for this service, in fact, it was intimated that this winter might see the beginning of it. Then the scheme seemed to have been given an impetus from the fact that the St. John delegation that visited Montreal in the summer had a conference with the C. P. R. there, endeavoring to interest them. On account of the reduced service of Messrs. Pickford & Black at that port, it was felt that this would be an exceedingly opportune time but there now seems little hope of the service the coming winter.

RECALLS NORTH STREET TRAGEDY

Tony Simenza, brother of Diego Simenza, the Italian who was killed in a house in North street, by Andrew Rossi, a brother Italian, about a year ago, arrived in the city yesterday from the States, where he is at present residing. This morning he called on Chief of Police Clark to get a certificate of his brother's death, in order to obtain some little amount of insurance which his brother had on his life.
