Two Men Killed

William James, blacksmith, formerly of Brigus, was killed at Cobalt, recently. Mr. James was standing under a derrick when it fell, and hitting him on the head killed him instantly. Mrs. James, his wife, was at California at the time of the accident.

A man named Patrick Hanlon, of St. Mary's, was killed at Bell Island on Friday last. He was at work on the surface in the Scotia mines operating an electric plow when some earth loosened quickly and fell on him fracturing his shoulder, breaking both legs above the knees and the left leg below the knee, while he received other internal injuries.

A Pertinent Question

The Daily Mail says that the Morris administration received severe probing at the hands of Mr. Coaker a few evenings ago. He particularly probed the District where the Editor of the Mail was at the foot of the poll. Well now, Mr. Coaker, don't you think you had better do a little more probing into the annual grant of $24,000 made by every Government for the past 22 years for the upkeep of the St. John's Fire Dept? We know you live in St. John's now, and it may not be a convenient thing for you to do, but, say, won't you do it, Willie?

Reid Nfld. Co.'s Earnings

The Reid Nfld. Company's returns for the past fiscal year, tabled in Assembly last week, showed complete earnings of $740,000, an increase of $106,000 over the previous year. The operating expenses were $875,000, an increase of $116,000 over the previous year. The net loss was $135,000.

Partizan Reports

The regular 'dishing out' of the doings of the House of Assembly is being carried on by a section of the St. John's press in the old fashioned way. We confess we are not surprised at the old Party papers boasting their men as they were wont to in the past, but the thing that strikes us as being most inconsistent with past pretended principles is to find the Advocate and the Daily Mail full of the same material intended to fill up the minds of the 'baymen' who live a distance away from the scene of the 'daily conflict'—the House.

We understood the Advocate particularly, and those responsible for its utterances (Mr. Coaker being again the Editor) were going to do everything, oh, so different. They were going to play the game fair and independent; they were going to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth; they were going to publish things just as they were, having inscribed on their banner TRUTH and RIGHTEOUSNESS.

But how far the best of men fall short of their intentions. Every day we are served by the Mail to reports concerning the doings of the Opposition in the House, especially the Coaker wing, which would lead the average outport reader to think that the Government members were 'babes in the woods' or 'the innocents abroad,' while Coaker, Kant and their followers were Goliaths and Samsous.

Now we are not saying that the other newspapers are innocent altogether of this same thing, but the Mail and Advocate have them 'knocked in the shade.' And when one considers that the average man in this country reads only his newspaper, and that a newspaper he is prepared to swear by, we are not surprised at the way his opinions are moulded. Let any man spend an afternoon or two in the House and then read the report of the session in the Opposition papers and he will, we think, be inclined to wonder if he was really present or not.

Mr. Chesley Hoskins, of St. John's is in town putting the finishing touches on the plumbing and heating of the new cable office building.

Brief News

Mr. R. C. Smith, General Manager of the Anglo-American Telegraph Co., was in town this week.

The American tug Potomac is in the ice off Bonne Bay. Her crew has left her, and she is now drifting helplessly. If she remains above water she should prove a valuable prize for somebody.

While the members of the Opposition are keen in opposing certain increases of salaries for certain outport civil servants, we do not find one of them keen in opposing the grant for the upkeep of the St. John's Fire Department nor the grant for lighting the streets of St. John's.

The Salvation Army will hold a celebration of the General's 58th Birthday in the Citadel on Wednesday night, Feb. 25th, at 8 o'clock. A programme, consisting of instrumental and vocal music, recitations, speeches, etc., will be rendered. Proceeds will be in aid of the Corps.

Mrs. Lucy H. Skelton, wife of the late Dr. Skelton, M. P., passed away on Friday afternoon last. She was the daughter of the late Richard W. Wille, of St. John's, and at the time of her marriage to Dr. Skelton was in charge of the school at Greenspond.

Mr. J. McDonald, the architect who planned the dwelling houses and staff house for the Western Union Telegraph Co., passed away at St. John's on Tuesday night. He had been ailing for several months, and for the last six weeks was confined to his home. He leaves a widow to mourn her sad loss.

There are some people who will not buy a newspaper while the Debates of the House are being published in its columns. Unfortunately there are far too many of that class in our Country, and as a consequence we are not as well informed about public matters as we should be. We spend hundreds of dollars in furnishing our bodies with food, but one cent a week is considered by some too much to spend in order to feed their minds. Thank God the number in this class are getting fewer every year.

As we see it, if some individuals would criticize the Government of this country less (we mean any Government who may for the time being be in power) and criticize the people (for their good) a little more, we would have a different condition of things. Those who criticize know usually to whom their criticism should be directed, but expediency is too often placed before duty because it may mean a loss of votes. For our own good and our country's good a spade should very often be called a spade.

The liquor dealers of the city have been releasing all the liquor they possibly could from bond in anticipation of the imposition of duty during the present session of the Assembly. It is said that large quantities have been imported and that nearly a hundred thousand dollars in revenue have been paid since the opening of the House. The revenue is suffering this year owing to the taking off of duties on sugar, tea, beef and pork. The taking off of this duty was practically opposed by Mr. Coaker and 'The People,' published by Geo. Knowling. But the Government is going to increase the duty on liquors and other luxuries in order to make up for the duties lost on necessities. A good idea, we think.

News in a Line

After a thorough examination of the new cable office building by Messrs. C. B. Canham and R. C. Smith, it was taken over by these gentlemen, on behalf of the Western Union, to-day (Friday).

Mr. W. Downing, representing the firm of builders of the cable office here, and Mr. H. J. O'Brien, representing the architects, leave for Halifax and New York via St. John's by to-day's train.

Mr. Geo. Martin, foreman builder of the cable office, and Mr. Woolgar, foreman plasterer on the same building, left for New York via St. John's on Thursday evening. Mr. Rhuarid, the electrician, returned to New York last week.

During their stay amongst us of about seven months, Messrs. W. Downing and Geo. Amatite Roofing!
You'll Never Need a Paint Brush.

When you lay Amatite on the roof you're through with it. You don't have to paint it every year to keep it from leaking. It has a real mineral surface which does not need painting. Most of the old-fashioned, "smooth surfaced" or Rubber Roofing, which requires painting, costs more than Amatite and you have all the extra cost of paint. It looks easy now to give your roof an occasional coating in the future. But do you realize that in 1913 you must paint it, and in 1915 you must paint it, and in 1917 you must paint it, and in 1919—that far-away year—you must still be painting that confounded old Rubber Roof. Why, a new Amatite Roof will cost less than the paint alone. Send us for free samples and booklet explaining all about it. Ask your dealer for Amatite Roofing.

Christian Socialism To-day

By R. H. Mercer.

Secondly, Scientific Socialism—what is it? It is something perfectly clear, perfectly definite. Any encyclopedia will tell you. Not to know in these days, as Sydney Webb has well pointed out, is simply intellectual laziness. Says Prof. Schaeffle, perhaps the best authority there is, "The Alpha and Omega of Socialism is the transformation of private and competing capitals into a united collective capital." Says Kirkup, the author of the articles on "Socialism" in the Encyclopaedia Britannica, "Whereas industry is at the present carried on by private capitalists, served by wage labor, it must in the future be conducted by associated or co-operating workmen, jointly owning the means of production. On grounds both of theory and history, this must be accepted as the cardinal principle of Socialism."

Now, whatever we think of this, it is perfectly clear, perfectly definite. Christian Socialism is such Socialism in the name and according to the Spirit of Jesus Christ. To use the term in anything less definite is to lose ourselves in endless misconceptions, and to employ a term we have no right to use. Let us therefore adopt this definition and expand it.

"The transformation of private and competing capital into a united and collective capital." What is the meaning of this? Economic combination or co-operation. Notice, that we say economic combination. Socialism would not do away with all competition only with economic competition.

And this is nothing new. Says Prof. Kirkup, "Socialism is only a form of a very old principle, that of Social Union, or association, applied to the facts and conditions of the nineteenth century." Says Mr. S. C. T. Dodd, of New York City, and evolution of Society is the evolution of co-operation. This is all that Socialism is, what Mr. Dodd calls civilization. Only Socialism is logical and consistent and universal co-operation. It does not mean merely the founding of a co-operative or profit-sharing association or two, where a few men bind themselves together to fight against other co-operative associations, and divide the plunder. Socialism means ultimately and scientifically stopping all the fighting, universal co-operation, a co-operative civilization.

He thought the people of that District were as independent and intelligent and as deserving of sharing in the development of the country as Bonavists or any other District.

Mr. GRIMES did not think the Government had done anything to commend itself to the people. It had attempted something in the way of Old Age Pensions, but had not yet done all that was necessary even in this respect. He did not think the conditions were such as Mr. Kennedy had painted them, that there were many to-day looking for work who could not get it, as evidenced by the fact that many had been helped by charitable societies. He spoke of the unions, and referred to the work of Mr. Coaker in connection with fair prices, and also to the work of the agricultural exhibitors, and claimed that the exhibition in his district that year was not upon it as an exhibition.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY

MONDAY, JAN. 20th.
Petitions were presented by Mr. Higgins from Middle Cove re a road; by Mr. Stone from Trinity for a wharf; by Mr. Coaker from Canning Cove, to be made a port of call and for telephone connection, and other matters; by Mr. Targett from Bear's Ease for various purposes.

Mr. Woodford continued the debate on the Address in Reply, and for over an hour debated on various matters which had come up in the discussion. He referred to the agricultural policy and quoted from reports from various Boards showing how it had benefited various people.

Mr. Jennings followed along the line of other opposition speakers. He had not seen any beneficial results from the agricultural policy of the Government. He also referred to the work of the Union, and claimed that it had done some good with regard to the price of fish. He thought the price should be made in this country and not in the foreign markets. We had the commodity to sell, and it was for us to say what price we should sell it. He objected to the remark that northern fishermen were ignorant, and would not stand for it. He was not bound to anybody, not even to Mr. Coaker. He had followed that gentleman because he believed he was doing a good work, but if he found otherwise he would not follow him.

Mr. KENNEDY upheld the policy of the Government and claimed for Sir Edward Morris that he had done more for the people of this country than any other man. He supported both the agricultural and railway policy of the Government, and in connection with the latter regretted that Mr. Coaker should have signalled out the Trepanny Branch for his opposition.

TUESDAY, JAN. 27th.
The House of Assembly had but a very brief session on Tuesday. The work done merely consisted of the passing of a resolution of sympathy with the families of the late Hon. J. S. Pitts, C.M.G., and D. W. Prowse, K.C., C.M.G., after which as a token of respect, both having been identified with the Legislature of the Colony, the House adjourned.

THE PREMIER in moving the resolution paid fitting tribute to the lives of both. Since yesterday, said Sir Edward, two citizens prominently identified with the public life of the Colony, had passed away. Hon. J. S. Pitts and Judge Prowse. Mr. Pitt's passing was not unexpected. During the past few days his condition had been critical, and we knew it was only a matter of a few days at the most when the final call would come. In the case of Judge Prowse, though he had reached a ripe old age, his death had come suddenly and unexpectedly. Both gentlemen were members of this Legislature. Mr. Pitts was never a member of this branch, but for years was a prominent member of the Legislative Council. In addition he was for several years a member of various administrations. He was not exactly a strong party politician, as a matter of fact I think he was a member of cabinets representing divergent views, and supported a man or policy only if that man or policy commended themselves to him. He was a member of the Legislative Council from 1884 to 1894 and again from 1903 till his death. Only a few years ago he was honoured by Sir Stovenden, was one of the local trustees of the Rhodes' school; and in 1903 represented this colony at the Quebec bicentenary. As a citizen he was held in very great esteem. He held a prominent place in the commercial life of the city, and was largely interested in its industries. Any scheme which commended itself he was always ready to assist, and in that way he did a great deal in promoting and building up local concerns. In the church and school work of the body with which he was identified he was a large and consistent supporter, and his loss will be very generally mourned. In the great sorrow at his passing this Legislature joins, and desires to express his sympathy with his widow and relatives. In Judge Prowse an interesting character has passed away. Born in 1834 he had just entered on his 80th year. He was a man of wonderful enterprise, and was identified at one time or another with every part of the country's life. He was admitted to the bar in 1857, represented the district of Burgeo from 1861 to 1866, and in the latter year was appointed to the bench as a district judge, which position he held till 1898, when he was pensioned. But it is not as a lawyer or a politician or a judge that he will be remembered, but as the Historian of Newfoundland. In 1865 he brought out his first history, which was an interesting and convincing compilation of records and facts dealing with the story of this country from earliest times up to the present. It contained a mine of information, which will become more valuable as the years go by. But this was not the Judge's only work. While on the bench, he compiled a work which is known as Prowse's Manual, a compendium of local laws for the use of magistrates and Justices of the Peace. He was also identified with the carrying out of the Bait Act, in which he engaged with characteristic energy. His principal characteristic was his profound affection for his family, in whose sorrow now every one will share. I beg to move the following resolutions:—

RESOLVED—That this House desires to express its deep regret at the death of the Hon. J. S. Pitts, C.M.G., who for many years was a member of the Legislature of the Colony, and for some time a member of the Government of the Colony; and that, out of respect to his memory, this House do now adjourn.

RESOLVED—That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to his bereaved widow and family.

RESOLVED—That this House desires to express its deep regret at the death of D. W. Prowse, Esq., K.C., C.M.G., who for many years was a member of this branch of the Legislature, and that out of respect to his memory this House do now adjourn.

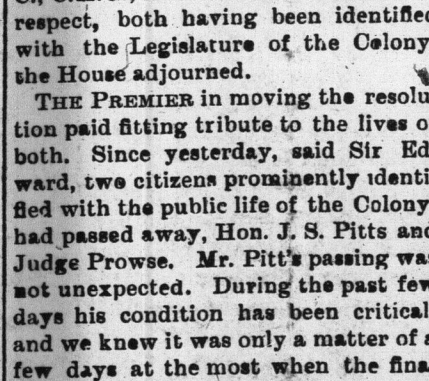

RESOLVED—That the resolution be forwarded to his bereaved widow and family.

Mr. KENT desired to join with the Premier in the resolution just proposed, and in the expressions of regret at the death of Hon. J. S. Pitts and Judge Prowse. As the Premier has said, the death of Mr. Pitts does not come with the same shock as that of Mr. Prowse, as the former was not as active during the past few months as formerly, and it was very generally known the end was not far off, whereas Judge Prowse up to to-day was as active as usual, and citizens thought he was about as usual when the news came of his death. Both men are a decided loss to the whole community. Mr. Pitts was one of those men who

(Continued from page 2.) In everything he undertook was thorough, a man of sound judgment, ripe experience and great industry, also of great integrity and singleness of purpose. He took a prominent part in the public, commercial and industrial life of the Colony. In his public life he was a member of the Executive Council. He (Mr. Kent) had the privilege of sitting with him for a short while as a member of the Executive, and there had an opportunity of recognizing his sterling worth, his very clear vision, ripe judgment and sound sense. In the commercial world he was also a prominent figure. As a promoter of industry he was one of the men who had turned the money earned by labour to profit not only to himself, but to the whole community. He also took a prominent place in matters connected with the church with which he was identified, and his institutions received charitable support from him. His death is therefore a very decided loss.

The death of Judge Prowse removes an historical figure, whose worth will be better measured in the years to come. His history was a monument of records and facts, on which will be built many interesting histories. He also occupied a prominent place in this House, and was for many years identified with the public life of the country. He has now passed over, and his work is left to speak for itself.

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 23th.

House met at the usual hour. Petitions were presented by Mr. Piccott from Bay Roberts Agricultural Society, asking for a bonus for clearing land; by Mr. Coaker from Squid Tickle for a road and telephone extension; by Mr. Jennings, from Indian Burying Place, for a breakwater, and by Mr. Abbott from Drake Cove, B.B., for a post office.

The debate on the Address in Reply was again resumed, Mr. TARGETT having the floor. He referred to the Agricultural policy of the Government, and had nothing very much to say against it. The motive was good enough, but he thought it was really a waste of money, as the people did not take it seriously. He thought the best policy would be the granting of bonuses for land-clearing. He thought the Government had not made a success of their Old Age Pension scheme, in that there was no discrimination in favour of the destitute poor. He believed that President Coaker was responsible for the high price of fish locally, though the foreign markets were governed by the law of supply and demand. Mr. Targett made an interesting little speech.

Mr. F. J. MORRIS made an instructive contribution to the debate. He congratulated the Speaker on the honor conferred on him, and referred to the discussion before the House, a reminder of old times when weeks would be occupied in debating the Address in Reply. He referred to the Union and price of fish, and conceded that in the Northern Section of the country Mr. Coaker may have helped the people obtain a better price for their fish, though his influence on the market was doubtful. He favoured a Union of fishermen but was against their avowed intention of controlling the Legislature of the Colony. He dilated to some extent on the Government's Agricultural policy, tracing attempts in this direction from 1899 when Sir W. V. Whiteway inaugurated his policy, which was along the lines adopted by the present administration, and which he believed was the best for the country. He quoted reports from several districts, showing what had been accomplished by the Agricultural Board, and pointed out that in Harbour Main alone the people owned cattle valued at over $120,000, while during the year nearly 300,000 lbs. of meat had been sold by the people there. The only trouble with the carrying out of the present policy was that the Opposition were opposed to it, and were doing all in their power to strangle it. He also referred to the railway policy, advocated further extension and pointed out the benefits that would follow.

The shock of the accident and the strain of undergoing amputation of his leg yesterday proved too great for the lad to bear.

Gross Negligence Caused 6 Deaths In Fire at Cobcoonk.

Lindsay, Jan. 27.—The Coroner's jury which investigated the death of the six children who lost their lives recently in the burning of the Weatherby residence at Cobcoonk brought in a verdict charging gross negligence on the part of the two adult occupants of the house. In view of the nature of the verdict the evidence has been forwarded to the Attorney-General's Department, and proceedings may follow.

The evidence went to show that none of the children knew of the presence of fire. The only persons who knew anything of fire previous to the arrival of neighbors were Mrs. Weatherby and Allan Fountain, a boarder. Their stories agree. Mrs. Weatherby stated that the house contained two rooms in front upstairs and one room in the rear on the same floor. One of the front rooms was occupied by Fountain, and the other by the children. Mrs. Weatherby occupied the rear room. She was awakened by the fire, and in a panic got out as best she could.

Allan Fountain stated that he was greatly excited and crawled across the beds containing the sleeping children to get out of the window.

Labour or Landlord

The labourers, who in the past have been such an essential part of the strength of this country, are departing in scores of thousands from our shores. We must face the problem ruthlessly. I am for fair play for everybody—for the landlord, for the farmer, for the farmer, and for the labourer. But if Providence has so arranged things that there is not enough fair play to go round, that justice in this country has not enough assets to pay 20c. in the pound to all its creditors, then there must be a preferential charge in favor of the cultivator of the soil, be he farmer or labourer. You cannot do without the farmer and the labourer. The landlord is no more essential to agriculture than a gold chain is to a watch.—D. Lloyd George, at Fwllhel Dec. 22.

SHE WAS HELPLESS FOR TWO YEARS

Why Mrs. Baldwin Recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills.

She Could Find Nothing to Cure Her Rheumatism Till on Neighbor's Advice She Tried Dodd's Kidney Pills.

St. Walburg, Sask., Feb. 16 (Special).—I can truly recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills for any one suffering from Rheumatism. These are the words of Mrs. W. A. Baldwin, a highly respected resident of this place. And Mrs. Baldwin gives her reasons.

"I was nearly helpless with rheumatism for two years," she states. "I got medicine from the doctor, and tried several other remedies but nothing helped me. Then one of my neighbors advised me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I bought four boxes, and they helped almost from the first. I have used nearly two dozen boxes and am nearly cured."

The rheumatism is one of the results of diseased kidneys as again shown in Mrs. Baldwin's case. She had headaches, stiffness of the joints and backache, her sleep was broken and unrefreshing, and she was always tired and nervous. Her limbs swelled and she was always thirsty. These are all symptoms of diseased kidneys. When she cured her kidneys with Dodd's Kidney Pills the symptoms vanished—and so did the rheumatism.

Union and Disunion

The famous Kikuyu Conference and of the controversy in the Church of England to which that Conference has given rise is engaging the attention of the religious world to-day. Briefly the circumstances are as follows:
 The Christian missionaries in British East Africa, representing four or five different Churches, met last summer and took counsel together as to the practicability of cooperating more closely in the mission work which is being carried on throughout the territory. The meeting was held at Kikuyu, the headquarters of the Church of Scotland mission. The need for united action in some form was urgent. The work was so great and the laborers so few that the utmost economy of forces was demanded. As in every foreign mission, the division among Christians was a perplexity and a stumbling-block to the heathen. And in addition to this, the Christian missionaries were confronted with the rivalry and opposition of Mohammedan propagandists, strong in their unity and their fanatical devotion to a simple creed.
 About fifty missionaries participated in the conference, chiefly Methodists, Presbyterians and Anglicans, the latter including the Bishops of Mombasa and Uganda. After earnest prayer and deliberation an agreement was arrived at, to the joy of all present. Before parting the delegates, in token of their common faith and Christian brotherhood, joined in celebrating the Lord's Supper.
 The neighboring Bishop of Zanzibar, who is a High Churchman, having heard of what took place, thereupon wrote to England, calling the attention of the Archbishop of Canterbury to the action of the Bishops of Uganda and Mombasa and charging them with heresy for their participation in the conference and particularly in the Communion service.
 The incident has revived the old controversy in the Church of England. High Churchmen and Low Churchmen are discussing the matter from their respective sides, and a heated discussion, which has not yet abated, has been carried on through the newspapers and in public addresses. On the one hand the result of the conference is hailed as a testimony to the essential unity of Christians and as an important contribution towards the effectiveness of missionary organization. On the other hand, the action of the participating Bishops is denounced as a fatal surrender of the fundamental principles of the Church of England.

The question for each man to settle is not what he would do if he had means, time, influence and educational advantages, but what he will do with the things he has.
 The whole northern coast is now blocked with ice and the recent hard snap has made the bays solid enough for horses to drive many miles across the arms and inlets.

For the past two weeks we have had almost continuous gales of wind blowing from nearly every point of the compass. The heaviest wind was felt on Tuesday night and Thursday morning, accompanied by intense frost. We were just beginning to congratulate ourselves on having such a mild winter when this hard snap burst suddenly upon us.

Nearly every remark made by the Daily Mail and Opposition members concerning the Agricultural Policy of the Government is a remark, not so much against the Government, as against the large body of people who comprise the 90 Societies throughout the country. We claim the policy is a free rate one for Newfoundland if the people interested would cooperate with the Government in honestly and sincerely carrying it out.

The Fire Department of St. John's

(Editor the Guardian).
 Dear Sir,—As a constant reader of the Guardian, I was pleased to see the stand you took about the vote of $24,000 paid by the Government annually for the upkeep of the St. John's Fire Department, which, as Sir Edward Morris pointed out in a letter he wrote to the St. John's Municipal Council, IS PURELY A MUNICIPAL SERVICE. You did your duty to bring this before the attention of the outport electors and the outport representatives in the House, but I suppose it will end where a great many other important things end.

I did not know, sir, that this money was given to the Fire Department until I read it in your paper, and I, as an outport man, claim that the grant should not be made. St. John's has advantages far away and above any advantages that the outports have. For instance, look at the public institutions and their upkeep. Those who are employed there are residents of St. John's, and the supplies for all these institutions are purchased in St. John's. Even the mail bags for the Post-office Department are all made in St. John's.

Look again at the hundreds of well paid civil servants who make their homes there and who as citizens spend their earnings with business people of the city and pay their share of the taxes. Because of these things St. John's has great advantages over the outport towns, and I, for one, and there are others too, cannot see any reason why the Fire Department of St. John's, which is purely a municipal service, should receive the contribution that it does from the General Government.

I have been expecting to hear that this matter was being enquired into by the outport representatives, but they, I suppose, believe in the still tongue policy and letting well enough alone. That policy is a poor one for men who are sent to the House of Assembly to look after the affairs of the Country in general and their own District and the electors therein in particular. Equal rights for all; special privileges to none, should be a good motto in this case.

Thanking you for allowing me this space to express my thoughts on this subject, I remain, yours truly,
 Bay Roberts, Feb. 14.
