"I want tew git a good seat," he said, "loud enough to be heard all over the lobby of the theatre, "and I want t'ight down the middle lane and close up tew the exercises."

In this great big town of ours, says the Brooklyn Eagle, dwells an elderly woman whose precision of speech and rather unusual choice of words is the subject of much comment in her circle of acquaintances. She was recently at the house of a friend and the table was the child of the house, a bright little girl of six or seven. A dish was urged a second time on the guest, who, in refusal, said: "I have had plenty—plenty—a sufficiency; any more would be obnoxious." These phrases apparently caught the ear of the little girl, for she was heard subse- quently muttering them. The next day came her chance. At dinner her mother asked if she would be helped a second time to a dish of which she was very fond. She replied: "No, thank you; I've had plenty—plenty; any more would knock me."

ZION ANNIVERSARY.

Services in connection with the 44th anniversary of the dedication of Zion Methodist Church were held yesterday forenoon and evening, and will continue today. The Rev. Christopher Brunett, pastor of the Leinster Street Baptist Church, preached at the eleven o'clock service, taking for his text: Joshua IV., 20-23.

At the evening service the pastor, Rev. Dr. Wilson, preached, taking as his text Isaiah 42: 1: "Awake, awake; put on thy strength, O Zion." His theme was the human sources of Zion's strength, and his address throughout an earnest plea for deeper interest, more faithful labor and fuller consecration on the part of the church.

The services will be continued to-morrow evening, when addresses will be delivered by Rev. Messrs. Sprague, Hamilton, Kirby and Howard, and the choir will be assisted by outside soloists and instrumentalists. The pastor will give a brief resume of the history of the church.

ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., JULY 23, 1902.

WHY NOT PARADE?

Whether Coronation Day is made a public holiday or not there should be a military parade at the laying of the corner stone of the Riverview Park memorial. The men will doubtless be quite willing to turn out. There will be no difficulty in securing a squad of cavalry, including the returned soldiers from South Africa. The event is an important one, and has a military significance. Why should not the authorities make it more impressive by a turnout of the whole militia force of the city as well as a detachment of mounted men? His worship has but to say the word and the Star is confident that the other officers will cordially join in the affair. St. John should not make for itself a reputation of the don't-care-a-frog pattern. Have the militia out and let the visitors, Canadian and American, who may be in the city on that occasion, see that St. John is proud of the men who march with the colors as cheerfully in war as they do in peace.

A ST. JOHN MAN'S MONUMENT.

The name and fame of the late Joseph Medill as a journalist is recalled by the receipt of a copy of the Chicago Tribune of Wednesday last. Though not the founder of that paper, Mr. Medill, who was born in St. John, was its leading spirit for nearly half a century, up to the time of his death three years ago. He was a great journalist, a close friend of Lincoln and one of the founders of the republican party.

Last Wednesday's issue of the Tribune is commemorative of its removal to its own new building, and is a splendid illustration of modern journalistic resources and skill. It is a paper of forty-four pages, in handsome colored covers, and beside the news of the great twelve story Tribune building and plant, with a concise history of the paper, and incidentally the story of the marvellous growth of Chicago. That city has grown since June 10, 1847, when the first issue of the Tribune appeared, from a city of 15,859 to one of nearly 1,800,000 people. The Tribune has in the same period developed "from a single Washington hand-press, printing by laborious processes the two sides from a single sheet, up to a battery of seven octuple presses, which have a capacity beyond that of any other newspaper plant in the world."

The Tribune building, to which no brief description can do justice, extends 144 feet on Dearborn street and 121 feet on Madison street, and is 168 feet high. But in addition to what is seen above ground there are a basement and a sub-basement. To provide these and ensure the strength of the building it was necessary to sink caissons, to depths varying from 60 to 80 feet; and fifty of them were sunk and filled with cement, to support the superstructure. The basement and sub-basement are together 29 feet 6 inches deep. The basement, which contains seven presses valued at $40,000, is all below the street level, and is 18 feet high. The sub-basement is only 7 feet high and houses the electro-typing plant, machine shop, the electrical plant, the ink making plant, the roller making plant and the space for storing paper. Electric lifts take the paper from the sub-basement to the presses above. The building gets its own water supply from artesian wells.

The new Tribune building, part of which is of course rented to tenants, is one of the show places of the city. In its interior marble and mosaic, enamelled brick, terra cotta, mahogany and polished oak fulfil the promise of the Bedford stone, grey pressed bricks and terra cotta trimmings of the imposing exterior. In the composing room are 43 linotype machines, or ten times as many as are in any St. John newspaper building. In the "local" room are desks for 24 reporters, each fitted with a disappearing typewriter. The total staff of the Tribune is very large. In the issue before us, it is stated, for example, that the Sunday issue of 225,000 copies is sent to 35 mail trains inside of ten hours by a working staff of 194 men. The total writing, business and mechanical staff must of course make up a small army.

Had the Tribune sprung at once into the arena, fully equipped as it is now, the Star would feel somewhat abashed at its presence; but, looking back to that 4-page, 6-column sheet of 1847, this ambitious young journal takes courage and begs to extend its cordial congratulations to one of the greatest of American newspapers.

The Tribune was the first newspaper in the world to publish a full account of Admiral Dewey's victory at Manila. A member of the Tribune staff cabled it from Hong Kong, even before the American government had learned the particulars.

Joseph Medill, who controlled the Tribune for so many years, was born in St. John in 1823. He first studied law, but abandoned that profession in the forties to take up journalism. The Tribune says of him:

In the long list of men who, though the Tribune, have kept their fingers upon the pulse of the world the name of Joseph Medill comes first. His death on March 16, 1899, at nearly 76 years of age, left the Tribune as the chief monument to his active life. Educated for the law, but turning to journalism in spite of himself, he found even in that wide field of his choice an insufficient outlet for his activities. From an Ohio town to an Ohio city, and from that city to Chicago, he pursued his editorial ambition, and then, on the verge of one of the greatest wars in all history, he became one of the founders of the Republican party, which had for its mission the prevention of more slave states, of more slave territory, and of every form of aggression on the part of the pro-slavery advocates.

A close friend of Lincoln, from whom that statesman often sought advice; mayor of Chicago when the whole city had been laid waste by fire, and when the formation of a new charter came to his hand as a chief work; a pioneer in civil service reform, a staunch nationalist, and a citizen in the full sense of the term, Joseph Medill still was a journalist first, and in the pages of the Tribune for half a century past one may find the records of his life. As some one has written of him:

"He had labored long, and lovingly and well. It is given to few men to labor so long and so successfully. But the busy brain has ceased to originate and suggest. The pen has dropped from the tired hand. The laborer is at rest. He leaves a reputation for fearless integrity, for honesty and independence of conviction, for moral courage and physical industry. His monument is the Chicago Tribune, to which he gave all that was best and highest in him."

This was the man who, more than any other, was responsible for the evolution of the Tribune. As a man himself, and as a judge of men, he gathered round him the staff of associates who were with him always in the carrying out of his ambition.

Here is an item from a recent issue of the Winnipeg Telegram: "Isaac Abbott, of Omaha, Nebraska, is at the Leland hotel. He is the man who first introduced American settlers into the country along the 'Soo' line of the C. P. R. That was last fall. At that time Mr. Abbott brought some thirty-five families, all Germans, into the country and they formed a settlement called Wilcox. As the result of this settlement some two hundred and fifty more German families are coming in the fall. The price of land has gone up, from $3 to $6.75 to $8 an acre."

A Kansas farmer wants the entire logical department to effect a cross between the honey bee and lightning bug, so that the bee may be provided with an apparatus to enable it to work at night. With night and day shifts of honey production of the country would be greatly increased. This Kansas farmer is an apostle of sweetness at light.

The Montreal Witness says that a result of the efforts of the clergy of St. Patrick's parish a cadet battalion is being organized, and with this nucleus a Royal Irish Regiment militia will probably be formed in city.

The home government, says a Japanese cable, has decided to send parties of Boers to Canada and Australia to study agricultural methods there for application in improving their own farming.

It will be a strange proceeding if government does not proclaim Corporations Day a holiday. Surely there is more cause for rejoicing now than there was before the king fell ill.

HALIFAX.

HALIFAX, N. S., July 27.—The troopship Estrian is due to arrive with the 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th regiments of the C. I. Rifles. An effort will be made to prevent the men from landing until everything is ready to entertain them. The men will be paid on board and no one will be permitted to leave the ship until they reach deep water. The special military train will be invaluable. The desire of the railway authorities is for as many as possible of the contingent to get away together.

The property of the gas company in this city was sold by the sheriff on Saturday and was bid in by W. M. D. of Montreal, representing the bondholders. An agreement had been reached with the bondholders that they should convey the property to the Halifax Electric Tramway Co., and the sale was to enable them to pay a year time. The two properties were amalgamated on August 1st, when the tramway company will control the electric and gas lighting of the city as well as operate the street railway.

There were claims of about 75,000 against the gas company and the bondholders' bid was $200,000. The Electric Tram Co. has been paying its conductors and motormen 15 cents per hour and defraying half the cost of their uniforms. On August 1st a sliding scale will go into effect, under which these men will receive 14-1-2 cents per hour during the first year of service, 15-1-2 the second, 16 in the third, 17-1-2 in the fourth, and 17 in the fifth. The allowance for uniforms will be continued. Fifty per cent. of the men will receive the minimum wage, and one of these now employed will be asked to work for less than 15 cents.

New-comers only get 14-1-2.

BURGLARIES AT TRURO.

TRURO, N. S., July 27.—A wave of burglary struck Truro last night. Four places of business were broken into: Blanchard, Bentley & Co.'s store was entered by means of a skeleton key. A considerable quantity of clothing, neckties, etc., are missing, and also a small sum of money. Cutten Bros.' meat shop was also visited, and canned goods were taken. Entrance was effected from the front door with the aid of an iron bar. The town office was the third place broken into with a pry. A small amount of cash was stolen. Stewart's tobacco store was the last place visited. A good supply of tobacco and cigars were carried away. A soft felt hat with E. Phillips & Co.'s trade mark stamped on it was left behind by the burglars at Bentley & Co.'s store.

CANADA IN EDINBURGH.

TORONTO, July 27.—The Telegram's London cable says: Edinburgh extended an enthusiastic welcome to Laurier and other colonial premiers who made a special visit to the Scottish capital. The honorary degree of LL. D. was conferred upon each of the great Scottish universities. Luncheon was served at noon by the students of the university. Laurier, Barton and Lord Grenfell replied to the toasts of the colonel and his guests. In the afternoon the freedom of the city of Edinburgh was conferred upon Laurier, Barton, Leddon, Hime and Bond.

GOOD SHOOTING

And Revived Interest in Matches of St. John County Rifle Association.

The interest in the shooting matches of the St. John County Rifle Association continues to increase, and their membership, which fell off during the time there was no range, is rapidly approaching that of former years. The second in the series of sports matches was held Saturday afternoon, when several new aspirants for honors of the shooting field made their debut. The winners and highest scores in Saturday's match were as follows:

A Class. Pts. 1st. Capt. Jas. Manning, R. O. 91 2nd. Jas. Hunter, 88 3rd. Lt. J. S. Frost, 82nd Regt. 80 4th. Serg. J. T. McGowan, 3rd R.C.A. 87

There will probably be another match on August 9th, the nature of which will be decided at a meeting of the council on Wednesday, when the programme for remainder of the season will be arranged.

The officers of the association wish to inform all citizens who believe the St. John Rifle Association to be purely a military organization that such is not the case. Membership and entrance to the matches are open on equal terms to all citizens, civilians as well as military.

The tie in A class (at the competition held on July 12th) between Capt. E. A. Smith, Mr. H. Sullivan and Lieut. S. Frost, was shot off at the range on Saturday afternoon and was won by the latter.

FIRE THIS FORENOON.

The first call the fire department have had since July 9th was sent in between eleven and twelve o'clock this forenoon for a blaze in the Dufferin hotel. Some grease on the range had taken fire and caught on the accumulated grease in the fanner which draws the hot air from the kitchen. From this the woodwork on the roof and side of the building caught, and the firemen had some difficulty in extinguishing the flames. Some damage was done to the wall and roof, but the hotel arrangements were carried out without any hitch, luncheon being served at the usual hour.

Water for use at this fire was taken direct from the hydrants and Chief Kerr says that the pressure was all that could be required. The Dufferin is fully insured.

This occurred about four miles below Calais. His body has not yet been recovered. He was 24 years old and had served in the U. S. army in Cuba. His mother died about a month ago.

WANT 20,000 HARVESTERS.

How Men From These Provinces May Go Via the C. P. R. to the West.

Advices state that fully 20,000 farm laborers will be required to gather the tremendous wheat crop in Manitoba and Assinibola.

The Canadian Pacific have made arrangements whereby one way second class tickets to Winnipeg will be issued from all stations in the Maritime Provinces on Monday, August 18th to Winnipeg at rate of $10.00.

At Winnipeg the Manitoba and Territorial governments are arranging for a committee of representative farmers from every district to meet the laborers and engage the required number of men for each section and the Canadian Pacific will furnish free transportation from Winnipeg to points on the main line as far as Moosejaw and to branch line points southwest and northwest of Winnipeg in Manitoba and Assinibola. It is hoped in this way to avoid the overcrowding in certain sections which occurred last year when the laborers before purchasing their tickets decided to what section they would go.

Each laborer will be furnished with a farm laborer's certificate which, when filled out by the farmer with whom he works and presented to Canadian Pacific ticket agent at that point at the close of the harvest season, will entitle him to return ticket to starting point at $18 any time prior to November 30th, 1902.

On this excursion 150 lbs. baggage, wearing apparel, will be checked free on each ticket. Half tickets will not be issued children, but tickets will be sold to women as well as men, as there is a very large demand for female help throughout the entire West, especially at this season of the year.

Special farm laborer tickets will of course not be honored on the "Imperial Limited." The business will probably be handled on passenger extra trains the entire distance. Tickets will be issued only via the main line going and returning.

Artisans and clerks, unless strong and accustomed to manual labor, are not to work hard as farm laborers, are not wanted on the farm laborers' excursions. Anybody who is unable or unwilling to work at least one month as a farm laborer should not go on these excursions.

If any further information is required parties thinking of making the trip they should communicate with C. E. Foster, D. P. A., C. P. Ry., St. John, N. B.

BEAR GULCH AFFAIRS.

Litigation in Which St. John People Are Interested.

LIVINGSTON, Montana, July 20.—George Welcome, of Jardine, has begun an action in the district court to restrain H. Bush the sum of $13,516.50, alleged to be due on account, with interest at the rate of eight per cent, from November of last year. In pursuance of the action, Sheriff Beley went to Jardine and attached 100,000 shares of the stock of the Bear Gulch Mining Company, which stands in the name of A. C. Jardine on the company's books, but which, it is alleged, Mr. Bush has an interest in. The attachment has also been made on a large block of stock which stands in the name of a man in St. John, N. B.

LIVINGSTON, Montana, July 20.—An application has been received by several large stockholders of the Bear Gulch Mining Company, asking that a receiver be appointed to take charge of the company's property at Jardine. The grounds set forth in the application for the appointment are alleged misappropriation of the company's funds by watering of the stock. The application was signed by Judge Henry Leven in St. John, and the officers of the Bear Gulch Company have been cited to appear in the district court here August 18, to show cause why the application should not be granted.

M. F. MOONEY HOME.

M. F. Mooney, manager of the Mispec pulp mill, with his son Joseph, returned Saturday from an eight weeks' trip to the old country. Mr. Mooney and his son visited England, Ireland and Scotland, and Mr. Mooney also went to Norway and Sweden, the young man remaining in Scotland at that time. At Leven (Scotland) Mr. Mooney met the directors of the company which owns and operates the Mispec mill, but when he sought to talk business they would not hear him, saying he had been invited over for a trip to benefit his health and not to talk business. Neither would they hear of his resignation from the management, which he contemplated, so he agreed to retain it at least for the present.

William Grosset, a brother of one of the directors, then accompanied Mr. Mooney to Norway and Sweden.

Mr. Mooney came home very much improved for his pleasant sojourn abroad.

SOME SHORT CROPS.

Wellington Boulter, the well known packer of Pictou, Ont., says that the pea crop this year, owing to the wet weather, is not more than fifty per cent, while tomatoes and corn are both so late that it is impossible to say what the crop will be, though it undoubtedly will be short. Mr. Boulter is also of the opinion that the crop of pears and plums will not be as large as anticipated.

REV. DR. GATES.

At a meeting of the deacons of the Baptist church of Windsor on Wednesday evening, Dr. Gates stated that he had received a call from his old church in St. John, and that the circumstances of the invitation made it difficult for him to decline it. A definite answer would be given by him within a week.—Windsor Tribune.

Miss Lawlor, who has been visiting Mrs. Lynott at Edmundston, Madawaska, has returned.

SHOCKING ACCIDENTS.

William H. Barnes Killed This Morning—Other Serious Mishaps.

A shocking accident occurred in the I. C. R. yard this morning as a result of which William H. Barnes, an employee of the road, was instantly killed, his head being literally crushed from his body. Barnes, who was a switchman, was engaged this morning on yard engine No. 52, and was at the time of the accident shunting the suburban at a switch between the second and third bridges, just in rear of Fowler's axe factory. He was standing on the rear footboard of the shunter and had uncoupled the cars while the train was in motion. While attempting to step from the footboard to attend a switch, his foot caught in the steam pipe of the foremost car, and as everything was slippery from the fog, he fell. In falling his head came on the rail, immediately in front of the three moving cars, which passed over it, crushing the whole upper portion of his head. The engine was in charge of Driver J. W. Coffey, who, with others, saw the accident. The body was tenderly picked up and taken to the yardmaster's shed a short distance away. Coroner Berryman was at once notified and after viewing the body gave permission for its removal to George Chamberlain's undertaking rooms. This was done.

William H. Barnes was nineteen years of age and belonged to Moncton, where his mother now resides. His father is dead, and his step-father is an engineer on the northern division of the I. C. R. Barnes lived in this city with his uncle, G. H. Colwell, of Wright street.

Mr. Barnes was a grandson of Rev. J. N. Barnes, and was a cousin of Rev. H. H. Gosman of the Seamen's Mission. His father died quite a number of years ago, and his mother, now Mrs. Freeze, lives in Moncton. One brother lives in Moncton and is employed on the I. C. R. The maternal grandfather, William Gosman, now in Vancouver, was formerly in business in St. John.

The deceased young man has during his service on the I. C. R. been injured by other accidents. While in Moncton he once had a bolt on an engine pressed into his thigh. Later on he fell between an engine and cars and was dragged along for quite a distance. More recently in the yard in this city he had his hand severely injured while coupling cars.

Coroner Berryman has impelled a jury and at half past seven o'clock this evening the inquest will be held in the old office in the I. C. R. freight shed.

OTHER ACCIDENTS.

Matthew Rideout, Canada Eastern railway brakeman, was injured, it is feared fatally, while switching cars in Fredericton Saturday evening. He was about 30 years old and son-in-law of John W. Lister, of Fredericton. His name is in Gibson, and he was taken there.

Edward Simpson, a Maine Central employe at Waterville, Me., was killed there yesterday morning while uncoupling cars. Simpson fell between the cars and one passed over his body. He was 37 years old and leaves a widow and four children.

Samuel McKibben, of Woodstock, met with a bad accident on Saturday while acting as brakeman on the Houlton branch of the C. P. R. By a flaw in the brake he was thrown from the car, breaking his left wrist, injuring his hip and receiving slight internal injuries.

AFTER SIXTY YEARS.

Rev. A. G. H. Dicker of St. Paul's church exchanged pulpits yesterday morning with Rev. R. P. McKim of St. Luke's. In his sermon Rev. Dicker recalled the fact that yesterday was the sixtieth anniversary of the separation of St. Paul's congregation from that of Grace church (now known as St. Luke's), which then stood at the corner of Simonds and High street. Upon the erection of a larger and more substantial structure by the congregation of Grace church (now St. Luke's) Grace church was taken down piece by piece and taken to the valley and re-erected as a chapel of ease to St. Luke's and formed the nucleus of what is now St. Paul's church. It was formally opened by Rev. Dr. Gray in 1842. Rev. Mr. Dicker's discourse, dealing with the history of the two churches was intensely interesting to the congregation.

AND BEEF SO HIGH, TOO.

The Sussex express came gliding along and, approaching Gilberts' lane, the engineer blew the usual blows, but he blew the blows in vain. Two cows stood on the railway track in the dim misty fog of the morning, but whether they heard the train or not, they did not mind the horn. Then the engineer sighed and slackened speed, and groaned as he clenched his teeth. "It's too bloomin' bad—it makes me feel sad—when I think of the price of beef." But the train ran on—the milk train too—and the cows still swished their tails, as they plucked the juicy grass that grows between the I. C. rails. Then came a thud and a throttled groan, but the train still went ahead, and the cows with a look of griefed surprise rolled in the siding—dead.

BARGAIN DAY.

The Saturday and Sunday Drunks All Pay Cash—No New Boarders In Jail.

Seven prisoners were scooped since Saturday, and of these all but one had money. The one solitary individual who hadn't brought any change with him sat on the bench watching the others go free and wearing such a forlorn look that the magistrate's heart was softened and the young fellow was let go. The returns to the court to be aggregated thirty-six dollars, or an average of over five dollars per drunk, and the community at large is freed from the expense of supporting half a dozen idle men for some months.

James McCann, Patsy O'Brien and Cornelius Conway were fortunate enough to have friends who left deposits of eight dollars each for them. None of the men appeared this morning and herein they were fooled, for Magistrate Ritchie is away and the fines were only four dollars. But the whole of the deposits were forfeited. Conway comes from Pleasant Point, and while on Douglas avenue he persuaded Harry Hibbits to drink with him. Both of the men were arrested, today and a doctor, a very learned man, afterwards explained to the Star that the liquor had been transferred from the bottle to his buccal cavity; thence in the regular course it passed through the pharynx to the oesophagus, superinducing membranous irritation in the stratified squamous epithelium, and thence onward to the stomach.

It intoxicated him. No one could doubt it. The prisoner was a young man only twenty-two and has a wife and three children. Out of sympathy he was let go as Conway had paid eight dollars.

Andrew Davis and John Quinn came in from the Mispec pulp mill on Saturday with the intention of being back to work this morning. They were found drunk near the Marsh Bridge, between two and three o'clock yesterday morning and paid four dollars each today.

LOCH LOMOND RACES.

Commodore Wright has his yacht in fine shape for racing on Loch Lomond, and is anxious to get on a race with the Log Cabin Club's craft and any others that may enter. His headquarters is at S. H. Barker's, Ben Lomond House. He has the buoys placed on the lake course, and is very anxious to hear from yachtsmen who are willing to compete for the Wright cup and other prizes. The commodore has a laudable desire to make the lake a more popular resort, and invites the co-operation of all the clubs having boats on the lake. He therefore invites them to communicate with him. There should be a regatta on Coronation Day.

TOURIST LECTURES.

A. T. Kempton, the second lecturer with whom arrangements have been made by the Tourist association, is now in Digby and is expected to arrive in St. John in the course of a few days. Mr. Kempton was formerly in the ministry, but now devotes his whole time to lecturing. It is probable that while in St. John Mr. Kempton will give the lecture on Nova Scotia and New Brunswick which he will deliver in the United States.

PEOPLE WE KNOW.

Take Part in a Social Affair at Butte, Montana.

On its society page a recent issue of the Anaconda Standard has in its Butte correspondence the following:—"Mrs. D. J. Hennessy, with charming grace, threw open the doors of her hospitable home on yesterday afternoon for the entertainment of the young lady friends of her acquaintance in honor of Miss Maud Galen of Helena, and Miss Madge Raleigh of Helena, who are her guests. Misses Wynne Berry and Bernice Sully were pretty little door maids, while the Misses Julia Horgan and Ethel Berry presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Hennessy was further assisted by a group of ladies, including Mrs. James Berry."

Mrs. Berry is the wife of James Berry, formerly of the St. John Sun, and the Misses Berry mentioned are her daughters. Mrs. Berry is the sister of D. J. Hennessy, formerly of Fredericton.

METHODIST PREACHERS' MEETING.

The ministers met at the usual hour, and after singing and reading the Scriptures, Rev. Mr. Hamilton led in prayer. Dr. Wilson presided, and the reports of churches showed things encouraging, considering the number of people of the congregations who are out of town.

Dr. Wilson reported the 4th anniversary exercises of Zion church yesterday, which was very successful. The exercises will be continued tonight by a public meeting.

Rev. F. W. Whitman was introduced to the meeting and addressed the brethren regarding Methodist and other interests in the Island, which was very interesting. Meeting then adjourned.

RECENT DEATHS.

Elizabeth A. Cameron, widow of John Cameron, carpenter, Musquash, died at her residence, Lancaster, on Saturday, after an illness of two days from paralysis of the brain. The deceased was a daughter of the late Peter Margison, of this city. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. John Sweet, of Fairville, and Miss Lillie, who resides at home.

The death occurred yesterday morning of John Dean, of East Walpole, Mass. Mr. Dean, who has been in poor health, came to St. John a few weeks ago to visit his brother-in-law, Dr. J. A. Draper. He was 45 years of age and leaves a widow and family.

A NEW STEAM YACHT.

A. N. Harned, the shipbuilder in Carleton is just now commencing work on a steam yacht for R. C. Elkin, which, when completed, will be one of the finest craft on the river. The yacht has been designed by Mr. Harned and it was at first thought that she would be in readiness by the first of September, but as the new sloop Louville was on the ways, it was impossible to go ahead with Mr. Elkin's. The new steam yacht will be in size about equal to the Dream, owned by Messrs. Thorne and Troop, and it is expected that she will be completed for at least the latter portion of the present yachting season.
