PATHETIC LETTERS FROM TUPPER

Sir Charles Aggravates Split in Conservative Party. Resents Action of Executive in Repudiating His Son Sir Hibbert. Tupper.

VANCOUVER, April 14.—The split in the Conservative camp is aggravated by a letter from Sir Charles Tupper to the president of the British Columbia Conservative Association and published in the News Advertiser. The letter is pathetic as coming from the old warrior, for a brief period premier of Canada, whose son, Sir Charles Hibbert, has been asked to contest Burrin in the next Dominion election, but cannot secure the support of the executive. Sir Charles at present stays with his son, Sir Charles Hibbert, at Vancouver. The letter protests against the action of the executive in repudiating Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, and says:— "Whether the future of the Conservative party is to be sacrificed by the machine dictators or the open intelligent expression of opinion of the intelligent voters of this fine city is to prevail, is the great issue which has been raised and to which I beg to call your attention, since the unauthorized fiat as above has been sent to you. I need not point out the ruinous effect upon the Conservative party of this proposed action of unauthorized individuals."

SARDINE SEASON HAS OPENED No Fish as Yet Along the Coast; New Machine Will Displace Many Hands.

EASTPORT, April 14.—The sardine canning season on the Maine coast opened Wednesday as fixed by law. Although the entire output of last season was exhausted some-seconds ago, it is the opinion of some that there is small likelihood of any more fish being taken in August. As yet no fish have appeared on the shores which is quite unusual at this season. Some fishermen, however, think that the next run of tides which will be in about two weeks will bring the small fish. Because of the absence of heavy ice in the bays and creeks the past winter, the fish were in fairly good condition and with slight repairs would be ready to operate on short notice. A device for flaking the fish, invented by one of the sardine operators, has been patented and will be put in operation this year. This machine will displace a large number of women and boys.

FURTHER DAMAGE REPORTED TO THE SEALING FLEET

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., April 15.—Further damage to the sealing fleet was reported by vessels which arrived here today. The steamer Viking, with 21-000 seals, the Erik, with 17,000, Algetine, with 8,000 and Vanguard with 8,000 came into port, all more or less damaged. The Erik has her stern stove in colliding with the Aurora. The Erik's intermumst is gone and she is unable to steam. The steamer Algetine's side was crushed by ice, and for three days the crew had to work the pumps. The steamer ran short of coal and the firemen were obliged to burn all the vessel's woodwork and the crew's hammocks in order to reach port. The Vanguard brought 200 men taken from the sunken steamer Grand Lake and was short of provisions when she came in.

TRAINER OF MAUD S. DIED YESTERDAY

PHILADELPHIA, April 15.—William W. Blair, who trained and developed the famous trotting mare, Maud S., and drove her to the record of 2:08 3/4, died yesterday, aged 89 years. Mr. Blair was one of the best known horsemen in the country. He purchased Maud S. in Ohio, as a two-year-old for $200. Her record of 2:08 3/4 to a high wheeled sulky has, it is said, never been equalled. After the mare was the record she was purchased by William H. Vanderbilt for $20,000, and was later sold to Robert Bonner for $40,000, and retired from the track. Mr. Blair was for a number of years the lessee of the Belmont track in this city, and of similar tracks in other cities.

PRESENTED WITH PURSE OF GOLD

MONCTON, April 15.—The ladies' hospital aid yesterday presented Miss Cora McWhorter, who since the organization of the society has been secretary treasurer, with a purse of gold and an address.

Hartford Dobson, an I. C. R. employee, was last evening married to Miss Maud Brown, daughter of E. M. Brown. A. E. Wetmore, provincial engineer, Fredericton, is here in connection with repairs to be made to the Pettaucopic river bridge.

DOT BELVEA MUST DO LAUNDRY WORK

Sheffield Street Belle Goes to Home of Good Shepherd. Was Found Drunk on Wentworth Street—John Cook Pleaded Guilty.

Two drunks were fined four dollars each in the police court this morning. Dot Belyea, a Sheffield street belle, was remanded to jail yesterday for being drunk on Wentworth street. This morning she limped into court, carrying one of her new shoes in her hand, it being too tight for her. She pleaded guilty and was sent to the home of the Good Shepherd for two months to assist in the laundry work. John Cook, another remand, pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was remanded to jail. Cook is the person who last fall attempted to escape from the police on the corner of Wentworth street and was shot in the leg by Guard Beckett. Cook at the time was sent to the hospital and when able to get about was allowed his liberty without coming to trial. Since then he has been hanging about the city unmolested by the police until Tuesday night, when he was arrested for drunkenness. He will be tried as an escaped convict and is liable to a term in Dorchester penitentiary.

DR. SPRAGUE TO PREACH BACCALAUREATE SERMON

Rousing Liberal Meeting at Sackville—Has Demanded Apology—Inter-collegiate Meet.

SACKVILLE, N. B., April 15.—Dr. Sprague who comes to Sackville next year, as dean of the theological faculty of Mount Allison University, will preach the baccalaureate sermon at the coming commencement exercises. The marriage of Miss Alice Crossman, daughter of Alpheus Crossman, to Robert L. Mahaffey, took place here on Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's father. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. B. McLatchy, of Moncton, in the presence of a number of relatives and friends of the bride and groom. At a rousing Liberal meeting here on Tuesday afternoon, delivered by A. Copp, M. P., C. M. Leger, M. P., P. A. and E. Wall. In the course of his remarks Mr. Wall drew attention to a statement published in the Moncton Times during the recent campaign to the effect that he had engaged in improper practices at Moncton. The statement he said was absolutely false. An apology has been demanded from the Times and if the apology is not given an action for damages will be instituted. Mr. Copp spoke briefly, delegating to the party convention were chosen as follows:—Messrs. J. W. Maxwell, and Edwin Lockhart, Herbert Copp, A. B. Wray, J. Dixon and Wm. Wheaton, E. L. Estabrooks, A. P. Snowden, Fred Lorette and James Anderson, E. C. Dixon, Ezra Estabrooks, Mount Allison, Acadia and U. N. B., which are to be represented in the inter-collegiate track and field meet have now agreed upon Moncton as the place, and May 22nd as the date for the sports. The meeting of Court Tantram, No. 53, of the Independent Order of Foresters, on Tuesday evening, Messrs. Woodford Thayer, J. W. Doull, and William Dixon were chosen as delegates from the court to the meeting of the high court, which is to take place in St. John in May. H. B. Ames, M. P., will speak here on Friday evening under the auspices of the political party league. His subject will be Patriotism and Electoral Reform.

The King vs. Kay ex parte Joseph Reeves, Mr. Chandler showed cause against an order nisi to quash conviction for fast driving contrary to a Moncton by-law. Case stands until next term. The several Moncton Scott Act cases were taken up, five in number, ex parte Gallagher, Wilson, Melanson, Wilson and Allipare, Mr. W. B. Chandler showing cause, C. L. Hanington and James Sherran contra. These cases were before the court at adjournment at noon.

LATEST WEATHER REPORT FINE and GOLD

DIGNITY. I ought not to allow any man because he has broad lands to feel that he is rich in my presence. I ought to make him feel that I can do without his riches, that I cannot be bought—nothing by comfort, neither by pride—and, although I am utterly penniless and receiving bread from him, that he is the poor man beside me.—Merrison.

P. R. R. TUNNEL IS ALL THROUGH

One May Walk From Queens to Jersey Meadows. South Bore Under Bergen Hill Connected—A Great Engineering Feat—More Work Still.

NEW YORK, April 15.—It is now possible to walk underground from Long Island City to the Jersey meadows, a distance of 5.3 miles. This is made possible by the completion of the excavation for the Pennsylvania Railroad's south tunnel under Bergen Hill, back of Hoboken. The tunnel workers under the hill were within a few feet of each other last night and Samuel Rea, third vice-president of the road, announced that the connection would be made before morning. The holing through of the south Bergen Hill bore marks an important step in the Pennsylvania's New York "improvement." By the officials of the road it is regarded as the beginning of the end, so to speak, of the great work which is to bring at least 1,000 trains a day into Manhattan Island. The two tubes under the North River were put through almost a year ago; the excavation for the station, covering an area of six city blocks, has been finished for several months, as have also the tunnels under Manhattan, and the East River tubes were connected only a few weeks ago. The north bore under Bergen Hill will be through by May, and that will practically be the end of the excavation. The Pennsylvania people have declined to make any out and out prediction as to when the entire $80,000,000 road improvements will be finished, but the directors in their last annual report promised that trains would be in operation by 1910. When the north bore under Bergen Hill is out through in May the aggregate length of the Pennsylvania tunnels in the New York improvement will be 16.5 miles. Considerably more than fifteen miles has been excavated. This exclusive of the excavations made for the yard tracks in the station, which will aggregate about 2,000,000 cubic yards of rock and earth have been removed. Two tunnels will be completed through the Bergen Hill portal to the Manhattan station and four from the station east under Manhattan and the East River. The Bergen Hill section of the tunnels has been in charge of Chief Engineer Charles H. Bradley, who supervised the putting through of the tubes under the North River. Mr. Jacobs didn't expect to be present when the underground completion was completed this morning, but Fred Lavis, the resident engineer; James P. Jones, the assistant; William Bradley, the contractor, and Supt. McQuay had made plans to be on hand to see the hole go through. It is hardly likely that any of the engineers will attempt to walk to Long Island City, although one would be walking even under one river which the air is on and the path is obstructed by all sorts of things, and it is a mighty good day's job making that 5.3 miles from the Bergen Hill portal to the East Avenue terminal in Long Island City, although one would have an opportunity to get a breath of fresh air and sunlight in passing through the great hole where the station is to stand. And so far the ordinary Long Islander who has been reading for nine years of the time when we would be able to step into a Long Island train and get off in Chicago, it is a step to gamblers who will stick to the ferries until the walking is better. The completed Bergen Hill tunnel is 5,220 feet long, running from the Weehawken shaft to the portal on the west side of the hill. The floor of the tunnel at the Weehawken end is about 175 feet below the surface and about 60 feet below mean high water. At the summit of the Bergen Hill the tunnel floor is about 220 feet below the summit. The driving of the bore was one of the most and most tedious pieces of work in the entire improvement, although it didn't present anything like the difficulties that were encountered when the contractor for the Manhattan section ran into the bed of an old stream which used to flow north and south where the Waldorf now stands. That, however, was long before cows were pastured on Manhattan. About 4,000 feet of the Bergen Hill tunnel had to be bored through the Palisade trap-rock, which was so hard that it was impossible to drill through more than a foot of it in an hour even with the most powerful steam drills. About 20,000 cubic yards of rock have been taken out of the Bergen tunnels and this has consumed about three years. More than 60,000 pounds of dynamite, or three pounds to the cubic yard, were used. Figures which the Pennsylvania Railroad has prepared show that in the New York improvement work they have 6 1/2 miles of river tunnels and the same number of miles of land tunnels. The stretch under the North and East rivers makes the longest subaqueous tunnel in the world.

THREE MEN KILLED IN EXPLOSION

Four Other Workmen Were Seriously Burned. Telegraph Operator Found Drunk While on Duty—Was Given Three Months in Jail.

WINNIPEG, April 15.—Three men were killed, and four others seriously burned in an explosion at what is known as the Aid Mine, Cammore, Alberta, shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. The dead are: Gus Capleton and Mat. Saari, Finlanders, and Mr. Wilmott, an Englishman acting as fire boss. The latter leaves a wife and family of four little ones who only came out here a few months ago. It is not yet known what caused the explosion and the fire has not been extinguished as yet. NORTH BAY, April 15.—A telegraph operator named Russell from the United States entered the C. P. R. employ two weeks ago and was stationed at Mackay's, east of North Bay. On Sunday night he was discovered intoxicated while on duty, was arrested by C. P. R. Detective Connor, brought to North Bay and sentenced by Magistrate Martin to three months in jail. WINNIPEG, April 15.—After having all arrangements completed for taking a vote on more money laws, involving an expenditure of $75,000, six thousand of which is for school purposes, the startling discovery was made today that the city has in reality no legal voters list on which to take the vote. When the charter was amended by the legislature at the last session the method of compiling the list was ordered to be entirely changed, consequently the present list will not comply with the charter. It is a knotty question for the solicitors.

POLICE SCOOP IN COUPLE OF CROOKS

Both Remanded This Morning for Sentence. West Side Youth Again in Trouble—Carried Loaded Club—His Companion Escaped.

The police managed to arrest two crooks in quick order yesterday. One was a colored youth known as Wm. Smith, alias Wm. Morris, but who is believed to be John Smith, a recent occupant of the Halifax county Jail. Smith arrived in the city yesterday morning, and during the afternoon asked A. Poyas, jeweller, to show some watches in the latter's Mill Street store. Smith managed to steal a $10 watch and went to a second hand store next door and tried to sell it. The store keeper and Mr. Poyas held him, but when he found his theft was discovered he broke away, and was later arrested by Officer Marshall, boarding the Boston Express. In one of his pockets was found a piece of paper asking that John Smith's mail be sent in care of Jailor Malcom of the Halifax jail. In the police court this morning Smith pleaded guilty to stealing the watch and commented that his case be disposed of by the magistrate. He was remanded for sentence. Wm. Barker, a West Side youth, who last January pleaded guilty to breaking into John Magee's on German street and stealing the till, is under suspicion of being mixed up in some of the recent West End breakers, and a companion has so far escaped the police. For the Magee robbery, Barker was allowed his liberty under a suspended sentence and at that time, which was on Tuesday, January 7th, the youth was fitted out with two packs of cards, a black cloth mask, and some cartridges. Ever since the recent West End breakers, Barker and a companion, who was also mixed up in the Magee robbery, have ran away on sight of the police. It was claimed that the youths were somewhat desperate and carried revolvers. Last evening the two were located in the Carleton City Hall, and as soon as they saw the police they bolted. Barker was captured by Policeman Goshin, but his companion, who is said to be a youth named Stephens, made his escape. When searched Barker was found to be carrying a pack of cards, a piece of a tailor's candle, three pieces of chalk, a knife, and what about a key and a loaded club. The club was in the possession of the police and is about the size of a policeman's baton. It is constructed of hard pine and the end is filed with lead, which is held in place by a small piece of tin, tacked to the bottom of the club; the whole weighs a pound and a quarter and is a most dangerous weapon. The prisoner says he made it to protect himself from a person who was going to beat him. He was charged, and pleaded guilty to carrying a loaded club. He was remanded to jail and may receive sentence for the offence committed last January.

ST. JOHN WOMAN HAS ASKED MONCTON POLICE TO LOCATE HUSBAND

MONCTON, N. B., April 15.—Mrs. Harry Cox, who writes from the Ottawa restaurant, King Square, St. John, wants the Moncton police to endeavor to find her missing husband who left home some weeks ago and has not since been heard from. Mrs. Cox thinks she came to Moncton to work on the new railway. She writes that she is sick, unable to work, and wants husband to come home. A Star reporter saw Mrs. Harry Cox at the Ottawa restaurant and learned that her husband left here on March 13. He left the restaurant to go to a play in the Opera House and has not since been heard from. Mrs. Cox expects him to arrive home this afternoon. His wife heard he was in Moncton and has asked the police of that town to locate him. She said he was a good husband and could see no reason for his leaving her. Mrs. Cox expects him to arrive home this afternoon.

GOOD WORK AT THE IMPERIAL MINES

MONCTON, April 15.—That the Imperial Coal Co. is mining and shipping five hundred tons of coal per month was reported to the shareholders at the annual meeting held in this city yesterday, when it was reported that excellent development work had been accomplished at the Imperial mines. It is also reported that the outlook for future development was exceedingly good and that considerable new machinery is to be installed. The directors elected for the ensuing year were George E. Clapp, Louis Wendell, Jr., New York; C. J. Pollock, David Gibson and George L. Harris, Moncton. On April twenty-first work will be started on the erection of a fine new building for the Bank of Montreal in this city. Mr. James Reade, the well known provincial contractor will have charge. The new building is to be of stone, and will be an imposing structure. The physicians appointed to carry out the compulsory vaccination have a good deal of difficulty, many people especially the more uneducated ones, showing a marked disinclination to be operated upon. In many cases the physicians who are making a house house canvass of the city, have met with point-blank refusals, and in other cases have been eluded. The police visited a number of unvaccinated people and ordered them to the public vaccination office, where they will be operated upon. The death occurred last evening of Rev. Isaac McAnn, who died at the residence of his nephew, Mr. L. W. McAnn. He was eighty-six years old, and had been a superintendent of the Vermont Methodist Episcopal church for 15 years. He was born at Tyrone, Ireland, in 1821, and was educated at Widdowham, Mass. He labored many years in Vermont, and was for a time Dean of Theology, at the Boylston Institute, Boylton, Va. His wife died on the fourth of February last.

GRANT OF $5000 TO ST. JOHN EXHIBITION

Had Been Promised by Robinson Government—Sheriffs Appointed. The local government met again this morning at 10 o'clock in the government rooms, church street. It was decided to make a grant of $5,000 to the St. John Exhibition. This grant had been promised by the Robinson government. It was also decided that the grant of $2,500 should be given to the Sussex exhibition. It was also decided that a grant would be given to the Woodstock exhibition. Most of the morning was taken up in discussing the terms of the Audit Act. At their meeting here yesterday afternoon the local government appointed the sheriffs for the province, but it was decided not to give out any information concerning them until his honor had affirmed the appointments. Last evening the members of the cabinet were at dinner at the residence of Premier Hazen. The government had several delegations before them. These represented the St. John Exhibition Society, the New Brunswick Teachers' Association, and the Milk Producers' Association. The delegation from the Exhibition Association asked that something be done to prevent a conflict of the dates of the fairs in various parts of the province. Dr. H. S. Bridges, W. J. S. Myles, W. H. McLean and J. P. Owens composed the delegation of teachers. They presented to the government the same scheme for teachers' pensions that had been submitted to the late government. On this occasion, however, the delegation supported his remarks with most complete statistics of the number of teachers, their ages, the amount of money required to carry out the scheme, etc. The delegation from the Milk Producers' Association, supported by local milk dealers and the Board of Health, asked that the law dealing with the supply of milk for cities be altered so as to provide for the compulsory inspection of herds from which the supply is drawn. Consideration was promised all of the delegations.

OFFICIAL REPORT EXPOSES LOCAL TORY DISTORTION OF DR. PUGLEY'S STATEMENTS

Opponent Who Attacked His Department Forced to Give Him Credit for Notable Reforms—Newspaper Assertion That He Defended Collusion in Dredging Contracts Proved Utterly False.

Local Conservative organs yesterday reporting a debate regarding certain dredging contracts which took place in the House of Commons, quoted Hon. Dr. Pugley as defending the attempts of contractors to defraud the government, and viciously attacked him for "enumerating the amazing doctrine" that collusion between tenders for government contracts was quite proper and justifiable.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 15.—There is a good deal of surprise here that any paper should have charged the Minister of Public Works with defending collusion in dredging tenders. Dr. Pugley did nothing of the sort. He admitted that it was impossible for the department to prevent contractors getting together before sending in offers, but pointed out that there had been collusion between contractors and officials, that open tendering for work was insisted upon, and that contracts were not given where prices were thought to be too high.

Mr. Bennett's attack upon the minister is thought little of here among Conservatives. David Henderson, one of the oldest Conservative members, showed clearly what the opposition thought of Mr. Bennett's performance. Mr. Henderson was given by Mr. Bennett a second to his own of contented motion, but when the speaker put the motion, naming him as second, Mr. Henderson got up and said: "This is the first time in the history of parliament that one man has declined to support an attack by one of his associates."

SHOT AND KILLED FIRE IN BANGOR ME.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., April 15.—George F. Birge, superintendent today by a discharged employee of the street department, John Tracy, who afterward shot himself. Birge lived only a few minutes after the shooting. Tracy was still alive tonight but was thought to have no chance of recovery. He had two bullets in his abdomen while a third bullet lodged at the back of his throat. Disappointed secure of his recent discharge from the street department where he had been employed ten years, is supposed to have led Tracy to his desperate act.

A large audience enjoyed the fine and drum band concert at the Every Day Club last evening. In addition to band selections there were solos by Miss Alchorn, Miss May Alchorn, Miss Walker, Mr. Rees and Mr. Mitchell; readings by Mr. McInley, comic song and speech by John Salmon, song and dance by Nye and Harby, dancing by Louisa Nye, sketch by Ross and Keith, violin music by F. Allen. Many numbers were encored.

NO LET UP. There seems to be no let up to the rush at Henderson and Hunt's removal sale. During this week special bargains for Easter in clothing and furnishings have been added, and are being snapped up very quickly. Saturday will, without doubt, be the banner day for this sale, as everybody will be looking for new wearing apparel for Easter Sunday. In order to handle the crowd, extra salesmen have been engaged; quick selling lines placed on the counters, and the public can be served both rapidly and easily. The evening rush on Saturday will be tremendous, and to avoid this rush it would be well to call early in the day.

CAPTAIN HOBSON AND PEACE.

Apparently the fiery appeal to congress of the warlike Captain Richmond P. Hobson to have for his country the largest navy in the world has not been taken seriously by his colleagues. Congress, he says, ought to authorize six new battleships this year and four more each subsequent year. The United States should always have a safe lead. When some level-headed representative in the house suggested to Captain Hobson that the burden might soon become too heavy; that developments might occur which would stop the building of four battleships a year, the hero of the Merrimac lost his head and exclaimed: "If the other nations build 200 each, then we ought to build about 300."

Although Captain Hobson's predictions of war are not likely to disturb the peaceful relations now existing between his country and other nations he stoutly maintains that "The war clouds are gathering." A vast conflict involving many peoples and various races would not surprise him; indeed, he rather expects it, and while it would take an awful toll of life and treasure it would have its compensations—that is to say, it would cure the world of war, armies would be disbanded and navies dismantled, and international differences forever after would be referred to The Hague tribunal.

Captain Hobson says that no matter how hot blooded a man may be before he goes in, after he gets a taste of war he will be a disciple of peace for the rest of his days.

"When I think," he says, "of the Spanish war, my heart cries out, 'How long, how long, must noble men continue to slay each other in this way?'" So the captain has made 1700 speeches in the cities pleading for peace, or in other words for an American Navy larger than the other navies of the world.

A colleague of Captain Hobson's would cure the world of war by talking about it in peace conferences. Another would reach the same end by reducing naval estimates, and setting other notions an example of moderation.

Capt Hobson sees the folly of both remedies and having had his fill of war would extirpate it by the heroic measure of making it general just once.

Any other explanation of his insatiable policy of building more battleships than all the nations of Europe and Asia combined is not lucid. It is a grand conception, but it is likely that his government will continue to exhibit impatience with Captain Hobson.

His ideas of heroism and the reward it deserves were somewhat funny after the war with Spain. They are still so.

HOW TRAMPS ARE MADE.

A writer in Everybody's Magazine gives some interesting facts about how tramps are made. He points out that there is always some specific cause, some misfortune back of the downward trend of this depraved humanity. After making it plain that the forward rush of industry and invention is a primary cause, he says:—

"Here are the forces that help to jar men and boys loose, forces that have doubled in the last twenty years and are still increasing: New labor-saving machines, throwing more men out of work, new machines to make use of child labor, new machines to speed up the American pace. In the last ten years the railroads, the mines, the factories, mills, and docks have maimed over a million men. And the public is paying the pensions. For thousands of cripples, thrown out of their regular work, to take to the Road; and, with no miracle coming to turn them back, become out-and-out tramps and bums, doing no work at all, begging and stealing their way. Rush and slack seasons, demanding more and more armies of surplus labor; the swift growth of industry, bringing to America millions of immigrants, over half of them young men who come alone; and most of all the railroads, demanding increasing throngs of nomadic lamp workers; the railroads, 'the real hot circus," tempting boys to the Road and giving to all kinds of hoboes easy and free means of travel. Lastly, the huge tenement hives, where year by year people are packed in tighter, where year by year life grows more nervous and tense and restless.

And deep under all these conditions, responding to the chances they offer, the old human love of the Road that lies deep down in the souls of men—the "wanderlust" of humanity."

THE COUNTRY.

The number of city people who under the primitive conditions of years gone by would have shunned the country as a lonely and desolate place, but who with the convenient and improved railway facilities and the advent of the telephone and the automobile, are securing suburban houses, is rapidly increasing. And with the demand for these country places has grown the desire to have them more or less artistically arranged. This desire has found expression in the embellishment of lawns and gardens as well as in the construction of picturesque buildings.

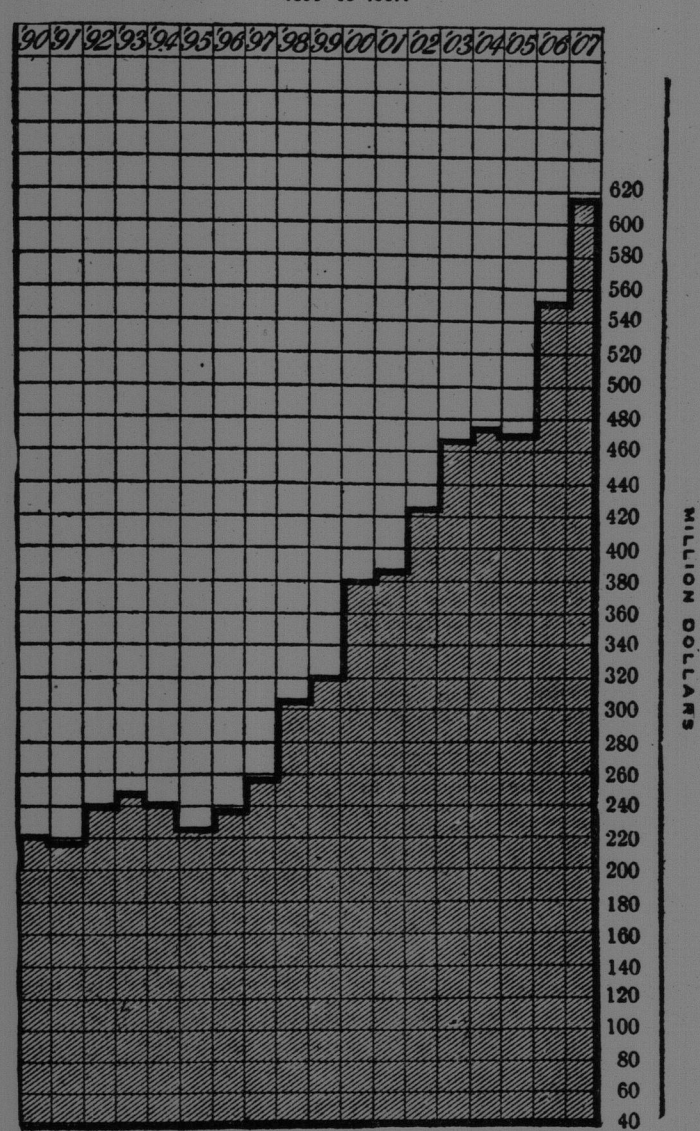

There is something natural in the desire to get away to the country, especially on a summer Saturday afternoon—even to people living in a small city like St. John. The quietness the freshness of it all, has a wonderful effect on the man who has stooped over a desk in an ill-ventilated house. It gives him a chance to get the fresh air into his lungs and incidentally to "sweep the cobwebs from his brain."

Out in Alberta the farmers are nearly done seeding. The farmers in the East will probably have a chance to begin in a month or so. But they'll get their revenge when the hail storms strike their western brethren in August.

Tomorrow is Good Friday. Have you begun to get your fishing tackle ready? Tomorrow being Good Friday The Star will not be published.

WAS A TOTAL WRECK FROM HEART FAILURE.

Heart disease is characterized by its stealthy approach and its variety of forms, yet in all its forms nature gives unmistakable signals which warn us of its presence. One of the first danger signals announcing something wrong with the heart is the irregular beat or violent throb. Often there is only a fluttering sensation, or an "all gone" sinking feeling; or, again there may be the most violent beating, which may be the most violent beating, which may be the most violent beating.

Mr. Darius Carr, Geary, N.B., writes: "It is with the greatest of pleasure I write you a few lines to let you know the great blessing your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have been to me. I was a total wreck from heart failure, my wife advised me to take your pills, and after using two boxes I was restored to perfect health. I am now sixty-two years old and feel almost as well as I did at twenty."

Price 50 cents per box or 2 for $1.25 at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THE DANCING DAMSELS

"The Dancing Damsels" is a "Pony Ballet" of six young ladies who appear nightly in musical numbers, introduced during the performance of the Harder-Hall Stock Company, who will be seen at the Opera House for two weeks commencing Monday matinee April 20.

ARRANGING THE DATES

Springhill had intended to have its regular old-time meeting July 1 and 2, but Fredericton has a programme out for these dates and the Nova Scotia track does not desire to clash. Port Elgin, N. B., talks of offering $1000 in purses for horses on July 1st, and a meeting of horsemen from Moncton, Port Elgin, Sackville, Amherst, Springhill and Macaan will meet at Sackville Friday, to discuss as where to send their horses and make arrangements. A proposition will be made to form a circuit, opening at Fredericton and continuing at Woodstock, St. John, Sussex, Port Elgin, Sackville and Springhill. It is understood a suggestion will also be made that if the circuit is arranged horses be allowed to go through with the records they had prior to June 1st. Records made after that would not be a bar to the various classes.

At the Opera House

Much interest is being taken in the farewell performance of the Myrtle-Harder Co. at the Opera House, Friday and Saturday, when this popular company will present "The Queen of the Bowers" Friday matinee. Miss Myrtle will appear in the title role and introduce her catchy musical numbers. Friday and Saturday nights a monster vaudeville bill will be given including all the favorites, the humorous sketch, "A Night in an Asylum" and the Harmon Four, "The Girl Patsy" with the beautiful rain effect will be the attraction Saturday matinee.

RIVER STEAMERS

IN LIVELY FIGHT

Elaine and Majestic On Same Route

Victoria Will Go On Fredericton-St. John Service—Long Reach Clear

Yesterday the river steamers Elaine and Majestic were inspected by Inspectors Olive and Dalton, and were found to be in good condition. The Elaine will be at her wharf today at eight o'clock for the purpose of loading freight. At one o'clock this afternoon she will sail for Queenstown. She will return on Friday and on Saturday will sail for Gagetown.

It is expected that the Elaine will be able to reach that place, as the Long Reach is now clear of ice and the ice above Gagetown Creek is expected to go out today.

The Star Line steamer Majestic will sail for Gagetown today at noon and will return tomorrow.

On Tuesday the directors of the Star Line met and decided to put the Majestic on the lower river route in opposition to the Elaine. The Fredericton-St. John service will be by the Victoria, which will make three round trips a week. Both the Dominion and provincial governments are to be asked for subsidies. If these are granted, the Majestic will be withdrawn from the lower river route and a daily service between this city and Fredericton will be instituted.

The steamer Hampstead will begin to ply between Fredericton and Gagetown as soon as the ice goes out.

The ice in the St. John river from Gagetown down to the Reach is pretty much all gone. From Gagetown to Fredericton it is quite solid and fast.

The Kenog river is all clear and the lower part of the Grand Lake as far up as Robinson's Point. At Grand Point a large sheet of water is showing up, but the ice over the lake generally is firm and teams are still travelling on some of the cows, but a few days of warm, windy weather will prepare the ice for moving out.

The weather prophets say that the boats can go up the lakes about the 25th, or before.

TRY 'EM ON, We Have Lots More if These Don't Fit.

We would sell more $5.00 Shoes if we didn't have these for $4.00. Men come in with the intention of paying $5.00, see the $4.00 Soes, and it's all up with the $5.00

Sounds pretty rough on the $5.00 Shoes, but it isn't; works the same way there—the men who usually buy $8.00 Shoes get them here for $5.00. Unless all signs fail, we are going to do an immense shoe business this Spring. People get the best shoe satisfaction here and we get the business.

There Has Been No Let Up TO THE RUSH AT OUR Great Removal Sale

Ever since we started this sale—two weeks ago—the crowds have been coming continuously and still coming. This week, being Easter, everybody is after new wearing apparel, and because we are selling lower than any other store we are doing the business. It is wonderful how the interest in this sale keeps up. It would have died out long ago if we did not give the bargains advertised, but we have the goods at advertising prices and everybody who purchased tells it to somebody else, hence the reason for the continued rush. We are bringing forward new goods daily, adding new bargains, and endeavoring in all lines to give the public $2.00 worth of value for $1.00.

SPECIAL BARGAINS FOR EASTER ON SATURDAY.

The Butterfly Girl

By TEMPLE BAILEY
The first rift in the lute came when Albert arrived home one stormy night and found his bride in a fetching pink gown, with her shining hair puffed into a halo of gold, with pink candle shades on the corners of the dining table, with pink roses in the center and with nothing thereon to eat but a third day's cold roast and leftover salad. Albert having kissed his wife enthusiastically and changed his office coat for a more formal one, peered at the platter dubiously. "I am desperately hungry," he said, "and there isn't much meat left."

The way to hold a man," said Aunt Betsy with a nod of her gray head, "is to love him. And that means to make yourself his equal in endeavor. Then you have his respect. You must be the homemaker, just as Albert is the money-maker."
"Because you have me," said pretty Bettina, saucily.

"I haven't time to kiss you," she cried, gaily. "I must watch the chops."
Albert went into his room somewhat disconcerted. It was the first time that Bettina had failed to kiss him. It was the first time that his rooms had not been in a rosy glow—and he missed it.
But his discomfort vanished with the serving of dinner.

NO MORE DANCING IN GRANGE HALLS
The Art of Terpsichore is Prohibited in Maine.
Many Members of the Grange Have Moral Objections to Dancing and It Caused Trouble.

BANGOR, April 15.—C. S. Stetson of Auburn, master of the State grange, has issued a proclamation to the granges of the state to the effect that there shall be no more dancing in grange halls. This action on the part of the state master of the grange is directly in line with the policy which has been pursued for many years and with gaining strength every year until now it is considered that the action of State Master Stetson will be final and that henceforth there will be no more dancing in halls of the grange.

STEEL-COAL MAGNATES ARE MAKING PROGRESS TOWARDS SETTLEMENT

Plummer Insists, However, that Ross Must Recognize Contract, Then Every Consideration Will be Given Coal Company—Both Talk in Hopeful Strain—Steel Co., Not After G. T. P Contracts.

TORONTO, April 15.—There was another conference between J. H. Plummer, president of the Dominion Steel and Coal Company, and James Ross, president of the Dominion Coal Company, in the office of MacKenzie and Mann this morning. About one o'clock the steel and coal magnates emerged accompanied by Wm. MacKenzie and D. D. Mann. They all went to the Toronto Club, where they were joined by Sir Henry Fellat.

PRESERVATION OF THE BIG GAME OF CANADA

Sportsmen Support Rigid Restrictive Legislation by Government

(Montreal Star) The preservation of the big game of the forests against the depredations of nature and of men has been more and more attracting the attention of local sportsmen and lining them up on the side of the legislation at present being advocated before the Canadian and United States Governments.

Mr. Plummer said the government had nothing to do directly with the present meeting between Mr. Ross and himself. Influence had been used on both sides, however, to see if some settlement could not be made. "As far as the story that the Steel Company is after contracts for the Grand Trunk Pacific," said Plummer, with some evidence of vigorous indignation, "there's nothing in it."

object of the supporters of the new movement.

Now comes the suggestion of interest to our Canadians who have followed the trail in the British Columbian forests of creating a new game preserve in the Pacific coast province between Elk and Bull rivers, to be known as Goat Mountain Park. It is well known that big game spend their winters in that region in large numbers, and it is urged that the tract be set aside as a game retreat.

One may judge of the seriousness of the situation from the deliberate statement of the Buffalo Society for the Protection of Game that if Yellowstone Park had not been utilized, all the buffalo would have been extinct at least ten years ago.

The Canadian game protective societies have done a great deal in the fight for the protection of game. Meetings have been held from time to time at various points and a strong effort made to get the public interested. That this has been successful, has been evidenced in the growing general conviction that only by rigid restrictive legislation can the wild animals of Canada be preserved for the future.

HEAVY SENTENCE FOR ELECTION WORKERS

NEW YORK, April 15.—Frank Duffy, an election district captain, who had been convicted of having assisted thirty men to register falsely at the last election in the Seventeenth Assembly District, was sentenced today to not less than two years and three months and not more than four years and three months in prison. The punishment was meted out in spite of more than 200 letters asking for clemency of the court and Judge Rosalsky in passing sentence said that had it not been for this recommendation he would have imposed the full penalty of the law.

EAST DANCING.

Little Alfred's mother had sent him to the dancing school. He came home in high spirits. "Well, Alfred," said his father, "how did you like dancing? Did you find it difficult?" "Oh, no," answered the little fellow; "it's easy enough. All you have to do is to keep turning around and wiping your feet."

MY MILLIONS AT YOUR SERVICE

The Fortunate Friendships of Mr. Lovejoy, of Pittsburg

WHEN you were a school child you wrote in your copybook quite often, no doubt, that familiar line, "A friend in need is a friend indeed." And you probably regarded it as merely a copybook pleasantry.

Have you ever had occasion to test the truism in later life? Suppose, for instance, that you had just completed a beautiful home that was to be the pride and comfort of your declining years, and that through unexpected misfortune it had fallen into the hands of the sheriff and was to be sold.

Perhaps you would endeavor to bear your trouble manfully and face the world bravely, but the heart would be sore. Then, in the darkest hour, suppose two old friends, learning of your straits, although you never had thought of appealing to them, voluntarily and quietly came to your relief, saved your home and made it possible for you to resume business with confidence and capital—wouldn't you conclude that the old copybook text was about the truest thing you had learned in childhood?

That was what Francis T. F. Lovejoy, of Pittsburg, learned recently. And in his heart, hereafter, he will probably always couple the old copybook text with the names of Andrew Carnegie and Charles M. Schwab.

IT WAS a latter-day road of ups and downs that led Mr. Lovejoy to a realization of the truth of the copybook words. And all along the way have been strewn chapters of the remarkable romance woven about the careers of "Carnegie's young men."

Beginning life in an humble capacity, before he had reached middle age he was accounted a rich man, even in Pittsburg, wonderful town of millionaires.

Then the wheel of fortune took a turn, and reverses stared him in the face. Many a man of less will and ability would have been discouraged, but the pupil and former partner of the world's steel king courageously faced the new conditions. But the future seemed dark until Carnegie and Schwab came to the rescue.

It is freely predicted by his friends that Mr. Lovejoy will speedily regain lost ground, and will once more take his place among the country's men of great wealth. But that has nothing to do with this story.

Its beginning goes back to the time when Mr. Carnegie, king of the steel world, was pursuing his unique policy of promoting the hardest working and most promising of his young men and making them his partners.

He had gathered these young men into the great business university of his steel works from almost every walk and vocation of life.

Charles M. Schwab was clerking in a Bradlock grocery store when Captain "Bill" Jones, a Carnegie superintendent, discovered him and gave him a job driving stakes for a dollar a day at the Edgar Thomson Works.

At the age of 18 years he was superintendent of both the Edgar Thomson and Homestead plants, with 8000 men under his management.

Charles M. Schwab, who remembered his friend consequently, his millions, because he could sire a horse well and wasn't afraid of work.

Andrew M. Moreland won first recognition because of his ability to send and receive telegraph messages with lightning-like rapidity and with accuracy, while W. W. Blackburn and Thomas Lynch began their business careers as clerks in stores.

And so one might go on through the long list of young men who were taken up by Mr. Carnegie and given the chance, which they promptly seized, to win fortune and fame in the business world.

FORTUNE SMILED SUDDENLY

Into such a group Francis T. F. Lovejoy came—only he was taken in earlier than some of the others. He, too, in time became rich and prominent.

Mr. Lovejoy's earlier years were not rosary with promise. He had been stenographer, telegrapher, bookkeeper, reporter, oil worker and driver of a laundry wagon.

It was probably his expertise at the telegraph key, no less than the ability and industry he displayed when he finally got a chance in the Carnegie works, that warmed to him the heart of the great steel maker.

For Mr. Carnegie had been a telegraph operator in early life himself, and he had a warm affection for the great fraternity that pounded the keys.

At any rate, before entering the steel works as a clerk, Mr. Lovejoy was a telegraph operator, employed by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad at a salary of $60 a month. When the United States Steel Corporation was formed it is said that he got nearly $100,000 in "the cutting of the melon."

He had worked hard, it is true, and his clerkship opened an opportunity for which he had waited; he had developed into a most industrious and accurate auditor. He worked day and night and attracted the attention of his chief.

At the age of 37 years he was admitted as a partner, and a few years later found himself one of the millionaires of the country.

All this leads up to the recent story of how he has just benefited by the friendship of Messrs. Carnegie and Schwab.

After the formation of the Steel Corporation Mr. Lovejoy's interest in other enterprises, it is said he invested heavily in gold mines. He was interested in a project to build a subway system in Pittsburg, but the plan failed for the time because Councils did not grant the right of way desired.

Francis T. F. Lovejoy, friend of millionaires

Reverses came and hit hard. Mr. Lovejoy was building a magnificent home in the East End at a cost of $750,000. This, it is said, he was compelled to mortgage for about $300,000.

Mr. Brooks was impressed with young Carnegie's evident talent for business and gave him a position, which was, in a measure, the starting point of his successful career. The multi-millionaire has led more than once since that if the opportunity ever offered he would do a good turn for his early benefactor.

It was by the merest accident he discovered that Mrs. Snow was the daughter of the man who had befriended him. He promptly extended relief of such a substantial nature that her future is assured.

There was some correspondence, which resulted in the mailing of the $125,000 check. At any rate, within a few days it was announced that the mortgage of $50,000 on the Lovejoy home and other debts had been paid.

Recently Mr. Lovejoy announced that, despite the fact that he was then temporarily embarrassed financially, he was actually worth a great deal of money; that he was in good health, mentally and physically, and looked to the future with hopefulness.

The splendid home which is saved to Mr. Lovejoy is a palace fit for a king. Indeed, it was planned upon such a costly and elaborate scale that long before it neared completion it was generally known as "Lovejoy's Polly."

In addition to the house, there is a garage that cost $50,000 and a stable that cost $100,000. It is said. One of the features of the garage is a luxurious lounging room, furnished more handsomely than the reception rooms of many families of wealth.

That Mr. Carnegie is not unmindful of the friendships of the past was demonstrated in another way recently, when he came to the aid of Mrs. Anna Brooks Snow, wife of Henry S. Snow, who disappeared under charges of embezzling a large sum from the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company.

When a youth in western Pennsylvania Mr. Carnegie made the acquaintance of David Brooks, father of Mrs. Snow, who was then a little girl.

Andrew Carnegie, who helped Lovejoy from the telegraph key

Back of this act of friendship is an interesting story, which runs in this way: When Schwab was the head and Lovejoy was secretary of the Carnegie Steel Company the former was then, as in after years, playing the stock market quietly.

There came a day when he stood to win heavily or "go broke," yet he had no fear of disaster, and was well pleased with the situation.

Lovejoy had not forgotten his knowledge of telegraphy, and could readily interpret the sounds of the receiver.

Early that day, by accident, he heard being clicked out a message that sent him off post haste to hunt up Schwab.

Just as he expected, he found that his president was in very deep on the stock that had promised so well, but now seemed about to jump the wrong way.

Through the information given him by Lovejoy he was able to get under cover and save himself.

Schwab never forgot this act of thoughtfulness, and the memory of it, as well as friendship for his former associate, caused him to come to the latter's aid in time of need.

CARNEGIE, TOO, TO THE RESCUE

But Mr. Lovejoy was fortunate in having more than one millionaire friend. Here is another recent news item from Pittsburg later than the one quoted relating to Mr. Schwab's interposition:

That Andrew Carnegie has come to the relief of his former young secretary with a check for $125,000, and that the recipient, Mr. Lovejoy, will be enabled to pay off pressing obligations and start anew, is a story, circulated throughout all the clubs tonight, and it is accepted as true.

The name of a prominent real estate man of Pittsburg, was associated with the check story. Knowing the kind feeling that Carnegie had for his former secretary and partner, this man, so the story went, visited the Laird of Skibo personally and told him some things that he did not know.

There was some correspondence, which resulted in the mailing of the $125,000 check. At any rate, within a few days it was announced that the mortgage of $50,000 on the Lovejoy home and other debts had been paid.

Owing to a default on the interest a few weeks ago, the splendid house fell into the sheriff's hands, and that official was arranging to sell it.

Then came an announcement that takes us back to the old copybook text, an announcement, too, that caused a general retreat on the part of those who had been pressing Mr. Lovejoy.

It was to the effect that Charles M. Schwab, another of the Carnegie "young men" and partners, with Lovejoy, in the olden days, had come to the rescue.

Statement was made at the sheriff's office that there had been a stop order on the sale of the Lovejoy mansion. Other proceedings against the former secretary of the Carnegie Steel Company were stopped, too.

"Agents of Schwab," a news dispatch at the time asserted, "have caused it to become known that he has taken Lovejoy in on a mining deal which looks pretty good. As a result there has been a let-up in pressure on the latter."

Hiram Percy Maxim, inventor of the noiseless gun

IT ISN'T often an inventor stands appalled in the presence of the child of his brain. But this is the state of affairs with Hiram Percy Maxim, whose noiseless gun not only threatens to revolutionize, perhaps to banish, warfare, but presents terrifying possibilities in crime.

A son of Sir Hiram Maxim, who invented the terrible machine-gun that bears his name, the young man inherited what he calls his "unfortunate inventive streak." And, strange to say, he wasn't aiming after a noiseless gun at all when he stumbled over it, as it were.

Now, with the news of his invention awakening the keenest interest around the world, young Maxim admits that his mind is not at all easy because of what he has done.

"WHEN," said Mr. Maxim, in discussing his device the other day, "you can discharge a bullet from a gun with practically the same velocity and accuracy as with the old weapon, and do it silently, it is evident that you have a very dangerous possibility."

It would seem so, indeed, declares Mr. Maxim. "Strange as it may appear," he declares, "the idea came to me while I was engaged in a most peaceful pursuit. I did not begin work with the intention of turning out a gun at all."

"A long time ago I left firearms behind me and engaged in the automobile business. In common with many others, I was seeking a means of nullifying the reports of gas engines on automobiles."

"I located the seat of trouble in the piston of the engine, and when I arrived at the solution of the problem the idea flashed across my mind that if I could do that with an engine I could do it also with a gun."

Similar to that made use of in the automobile muffler is the principle of the new gun device. The report due to the sudden release of gases at the muzzle of a weapon is prevented through the action of a valve which allows the gas to escape gradually, with but a slight hissing noise.

gases, holds them in check and allows them to escape gradually through a series of small holes.

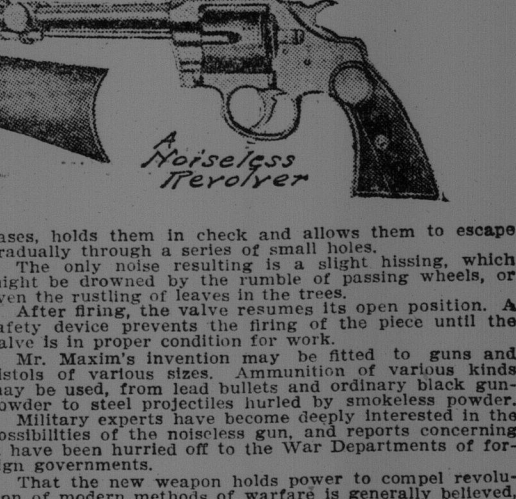

The only noise resulting is a slight hissing, which might be drowned by the rattle of passing wheels, or even the rustling of leaves in the trees.

After firing, the valve resumes its open position. A safety device prevents the firing of the piece until the valve is in proper condition for work.

Mr. Maxim's invention may be fitted to guns and pistols of various sizes. Ammunition of various kinds may be used, from lead bullets and ordinary black gunpowder to steel projectiles hurled by smokeless powder.

Military experts have become deeply interested in the possibilities of the noiseless gun, and reports concerning it have been hurried off to the War Department of foreign governments.

That the new weapon holds promise to compel revolution of modern methods of warfare is generally believed, unless its promise does not hold good when applied to heavier army and navy armaments.

weapon are not pleasant to contemplate—at least, are not pleasant to the real sportsman.

Armed with a rifle of this kind, a man might creep within shot of a herd of deer, for instance, and bring down every one before the animals realized that an enemy was near.

From cover on shore one might pick off every one of a flock of feeding ducks.

Yet it is the use to which the weapon may be put by criminals that causes the most apprehension.

An assassin might bring down his victim in a crowded street without being detected; murder from ambush could be done with little fear of attracting attention.

Many a burglar or other criminal would shoot more freely than now. Comparatively few, unless cornered, will risk attracting unwelcome attention at present by using a pistol; with a noiseless gun at command, life-taking by cowardly criminals will undoubtedly become more frequent.

"It would be a good idea," said inventor Maxim while speaking of his device of dire possibilities, "for Congress to amend the laws so that no patents could be granted for inventions against which mankind has no protection. I freely admit that there is no protection against this gun of mine."

"If such laws are not considered advisable, some provision might be made that, when a thing like this is invented, it would become the exclusive property of the government."

However, with such laws in force, the guns might still be made and used secretly, I am afraid that even now some mechanical geniuses among the criminal classes are at work on it.

"If there were only some way to control its manufacture or prevent its use, except by the military and police, for whom it was intended, my conscience would be easier."

"When the idea came to me it was perfectly natural for me to work it out. Some persons may argue that I should have kept the thing to myself."

"Yes, I might have done so. I might never have breathed a word of it; might have taken the secret with me to the grave."

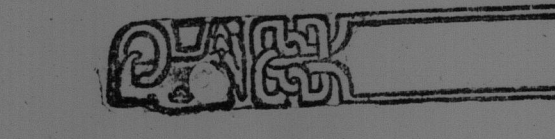

"But what inventor would have done so? Man is not yet developed to the point where such a thing is possible."

"Besides, I am sure some one else would soon have made the invention. It was bound to come, just like smokeless powder came."

Mr. Maxim said he intended to offer the device to the United States government, but that did not guarantee American patents. It is possible for any one to go to the Patent Office at Washington and take copies of any plans on file there on which patents have been granted.

This can be done by the agent of a foreign government as well as by any one else. In a few months, Mr. Maxim thinks, Japan will be manufacturing these guns, and in time may use them against the nation a box of which brought them into being.

In the world of sport the possibilities of a noiseless

MAKING SECRET CABLE CODES

Man Who Does Such Work Makes It Science

Various Kinds of Ciphers—By Combination of Letters One is Able to Convey Millions of Expressions

WASHINGTON, April 15.—In view of the recent theft from the American state department of a copy of the code...

ness men have found it convenient and economical to convey information by means of single words or phrases.

It is estimated that 300,000 persons in this country use codes regularly and some firms pay $10,000 and even $50,000 a year for cabling.

and safety in telegraphing. Safety means the use of words which an operator can't mutilate easily.

FOUR CLASSES OF CODES. Codes may be divided into four classes. First, there is the private code...

code men say there is danger in telegraphing numerals, although their use is convenient to brokers who wish to work rapidly.

COST OF COMPLICATION

The cost of compiling codes ranges from $100 to $20,000 and some large corporations are in the possession of private codes for which they have paid from $5,000 upward.

Some mechanics employ cable clerks who are competent to make codes, and they double save a good deal of money in this way, especially when they are obliged to send a number of copies to correspondents and customers in foreign lands.

GOOD FRIDAY AND THE PROBABILITIES

Likely to be Fine and Cold—The Attractions in the Local Theatres

Good Friday promises to be fine and clear and ushers in the spring time with evidences of changing seasons on all sides. Being a religious holiday and coming in at a rather inconvenient time for pleasure it is quite certain there will be no galas or jolly excursions of fishermen. It looks as if the city will offer all the attractions which are to include programmes in the motion picture houses, an opening bill at the Opera House—the Myrtle-Harder Co.—and some sacred musical events. All the places of business will be closed and the thrifty housekeeper—who sits at the head of the table—usually employs the day in removing winter storm ashes, cleaning up the coal bins or assisting his good spouse in the heavier preparations for housecleaning. Many will go to the observance solemnly the anniversary of the vicar's most profound tragedy. At the Nickel Theatre a programme entirely free from anything that might grate upon the religious sentiments has been prepared. There will be appropriate pictures, appropriate vocal and instrumental numbers and appropriate Biblical pictures and Holy Land travellings.

JUDGMENT IN THE STANTON CASE RESERVED

In the civil court this morning Judge Ritchie announced that he had not yet made his mind as to the giving of judgment in the suit where Mr. Knight an English vocalist, is suing Manager Stanton of the Odessa picture show, for $10 claimed to be due him. His honor advised that Mr. Stanton make a compromise and give the singer five dollars which the plaintiff offered to accept, and judgment was reserved for a week pending such settlement. J. A. Barry who is conducting the case for the defendant hinted this morning that his client would not accept of paying the claim and if judgment was given against him the case may be taken to a higher court.

BASKET BALL

A very exciting game of basketball took place last evening in the Exmouth street Y. M. C. rooms between the intermediate Algonquin team and the Exmouth street tramps.
