ROOSEVELT MAY GET THIRD TERM

Belief He is Laying Plans for Nomination in 1912

Meantime the President is Fixing Things for his Personal Nominee in 1908, So That He Can Control His Policy While in Office—Cortelyou Likely to Be His Choice as Successor—Would Be More Pliable in His Hands Than Root.

(From Our Own Correspondent.) New York, Sept. 4.—There is a strong undercurrent of feeling that this is not Roosevelt's last term of office as president of the United States. There are astute men who go so far as to say he will be elected practically by acclamation in 1908. Another phase is brought forward by the Washington correspondent of the Evening Post, who says: "President Roosevelt's critics advance the ingenious theory that, though he intends resolutely to decline another nomination in 1908, he would not be averse to election for another term after he had been out of office for at least four years. They go further and suggest that he is planning 'things' with a view to his being elected for a term or two by some strictly personal representative of Mr. Roosevelt, such as Postmaster-General Cortelyou, who would keep the Roosevelt organization together in readiness for the return of the 'Great Chief' in circumstances which would constitute the greatest compliment ever paid by the American people to their president. This theory many persons here have elaborated in considerable detail.

Cleveland's Case Outed. "President Cleveland came back to the White House, but after having served only one term and having been defeated when regularly a candidate for a second term. President Roosevelt will have had by his own interpretation, two full terms by 1908. He will then retire. Supposition is pointed out, a 'spontaneous demand' should arise from all over the land either in 1912 or 1916 to return him to the White House similar to that which arose in General Grant's favor in 1869, after he had been four years out of office—should Mr. Roosevelt resist? He would be only fifty-eight years old in 1916, ten years younger than 'Joe' Cannon is to-day, and his friends are 'mentioning' him for 1908. For that matter if President Roosevelt enjoys the average term of life, he would be available in several national campaigns, should any great popular movement arise to call him back into power.

"President Roosevelt has not specifically declined such a third term, and those who have been associated with him closely assert that his remarks might be construed into an expression of willingness to accept one in those conditions. The chief question concerns the possibility of this popular demand to arise, and this, in turn, depends much on organization. What are the signs of the times?

Roosevelt Controls Republican Party.

"Mr. Roosevelt's control of the Republican party is decidedly stronger today than it was four years ago, when the discussion of the probabilities of 1904 began. Mr. Hanna was then alive, and at the head of a powerful organization which had named the offices throughout large sections of the country. He was a great personality, associated with the lamented McKinley, and the heart to McKinley's own popularity. People often speak now of the 'old McKinley organization,' and what it will do in 1908, for the candidly, rapidly, and will not cut much figure by that time. The McKinley office holders, many of whom through courtesy were retained till the end of the first Roosevelt administration, have given place to Roosevelt appointees. The commercial interests, which formed the corner stone of the Hanna movement, have now made peace with the Roosevelt dynasty, and certain of their representatives are today speaking kind words for Mr. Cortelyou

MORE THAN A SCORE OF LIVES LOST IN RECENT LAKE SUPERIOR STORM

Ashland, Wis., Sept. 4.—More than a score of lives were lost and property valued at half a million dollars was destroyed in a furious storm that swept over Lake Superior from Friday night to Sunday night, according to reports received up till tonight. The gale was the most destructive to lake shipping that has been experienced in many years. Besides the wreck of the steel steamer Sevonia, which broke in two on Sand Island reef, seven of the crew including the captain, lost their lives, the bark Pretoria, of Bay City (Mich.), carrying a crew of ten men, sank, five sailors drowning.

The schooner Olive Jeannette, which carried a crew of seven men, is also thought to be lost. The Olive Jeannette, it is believed, went to the bottom about ten miles from the shore. This schooner was in tow of the steamer R. L. Doty, when the latter vessel was lost with her entire crew on Lake Michigan a few days ago.

The storm of the last three days at times reached the proportions of a hurricane and the staunchest crew steel vessels were forced to run for shelter. The new steel steamer Stackhouse arrived at the Soo on her first trip with her hatch covers so badly sprung that water poured as secretary of the treasury, and would doubtless welcome his accession to the presidency.

Cortelyou Likely Roosevelt's Choice.

"Nobody knows who the Roosevelt organization candidate for the presidency in 1908 will be. The three favorite guesses are Taft, Root and Cortelyou, all members of his cabinet. Events of the next three years will decide which one of the three will be elected. Taft may be eliminated from the equation by a promotion to the supreme court, as his private secretary. This promotion would place him nearly as much as the presidency. Root and Cortelyou both come from New York except that Root possesses an independent political standing apart from the administration, while Cortelyou would never be thought of as a New Yorker at all, but as the personal representative of Mr. Roosevelt—that is, starting the new department of commerce—that in the national committee—that in the post office department—and he will be that as secretary of the treasury if promoted. He would be that in the White House, if raised to it by the grace of President Roosevelt. He is a plain man, and ultimate control would probably rest as fully in Mr. Roosevelt's hands as now were Mr. Cortelyou to take the oath of office March 4, 1909.

"Mr. Roosevelt's appointments are to a greater degree personal than those of any other president. He pushes the senate in its prerogatives much further than other presidents have dared to do. His cabinet is made up largely of personal selections and contains few men who could have been elected governor of their own state, for example, or who have been thought of for such an office. Root is an exception. But Bonaparte hardly represents Maryland Republicanism—he is double-barreled, and still than Maryland Republicanism and still different, and a personal selection of the president. The federal judges, all the minor tiers of office-holders, here and throughout the country, reveal the personal selection element too, in distinction from the men who have risen in the party and ask for recognition as party men. This change has its advantages. They are perhaps better men, but the significance of it as affording material for a genuine Roosevelt organization cannot be lost sight of.

Senate Likely to Bow to Roosevelt.

"The president's critics, viewing this state of facts, say that it will be a long day before the Roosevelt dynasty ends. They predict that the senators this winter will be too timid to fight—that they will prefer to serve the great interests which will stand by 'standing in' with the president instead of antagonizing him. If the Roosevelt organization is not broken this winter it will soon become too powerful to obstruct. Then Republicanism will become Rooseveltism.

"Mr. Roosevelt's interest in public affairs is too intense for him to lay it aside when the hands of the clock reach twelve noon on March 4, 1909—he will have too many causes at heart, too many battles with phyllophagous will to be fought out, and that he will see the battle through a successor at the White House in whom he has absolute confidence is the prediction of many observers here. And this successor keeping the great organization intact and intact will be ready to sound the spontaneous call throughout the land for Mr. Roosevelt's return to the White House, if circumstances making it felicitous should arise. This is the theory often outlined here—and it is worth remembering."

DEAF MUTES FINISH THEIR CONVENTION

Moncton, Sept. 4.—(Special)—The deaf mut convention was continued this morning. An address from Mayor Ryan was read in the sign language by Secretary Boal. Officers elected for the next year are: Geo. S. McKenzie, Moncton, president; W. Baillie, vice-president; F. J. T. Boal, Susex, secretary; W. J. Murray, Moncton, treasurer; W. Baillie, W. O. Barnaby, W. J. Murray, committee. Truro was selected as the next place of meeting.

MONCTON PARADE IN HEAVY RAIN

Labor Unions Turned Out Strong Notwithstanding the Downpour

EMMERSON IN IT

Minister of Railways and Chief I. C. R. Officials Rode in Barouches—Made Speech to Employees About I. C. R. Deficit and How it Can Be Remedied—Rain Spoils Celebration in Other Places.

Moncton, Sept. 4.—(Special)—Rain began falling here at daylight this morning and almost a steady downpour continued until night. It was feared that no attempt would be made by labor men to hold the celebration for which they had made such elaborate preparations. The morning train, however, brought in large crowds of people from all directions and it was decided to have the parade rain or shine. Accordingly, the parade set down for the morning took place at 10 o'clock.

In spite of the heavy downpour of rain at this hour the parade was voted a great success. Main street was lined from the Brunswick Hotel to the post office with people who stood in the drenching rain and watched the procession, which took half an hour to pass a given point. It was certainly a splendid tribute to the efforts of organized labor in this city, who demonstrated that great success their Labor day celebration would have been under favorable weather conditions.

Emmerson in the Parade.

In the procession in barouches were Hon. H. R. Emmerson, minister of railways; M. J. Butler, deputy minister; General Manager Pottinger, General Traffic Manager Tiffin, mayor and aldermen, city clergy and officers of local brotherhood lodges. H. H. Champion, ambassador of the International Association of Machinists, was also conspicuous figure in the procession.

Woodstock Sports in the Rain.

Woodstock, N. B., Sept. 4.—(Special)—An all day drizzling rain marred the holiday celebration which was generally observed in the morning. The Sullivan Rifle Club held a contest which was attended by about twenty members.

Disastrous Floods in New York State

Binghamton, N. Y., Sept. 4.—Later reports received today from the floods near Binghamton show that the situation is much worse than at first supposed. The water in that section is the highest ever known, as the result of the continued rains and cloudburst last evening.

Ottawa Parade in Downpour.

Ottawa, Sept. 4.—(Special)—The labor parade took place today in a downpour of rain. The day was observed as a general holiday.

PEACE TREATY NOW READY

Russian Envoys to Have Treaty Immediately After Final Act

KOMURA SATISFIED

Thinks the Best Possible for All Concerned Has Been Done—Japanese Commissioners Have Former Foes as Guests at Reception—Oyama's Troops Dissatisfied at Result.

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 4.—The closing act of the peace conference promises to be a very tame affair. There will be no spectacular features. Final arrangements have been made for the signing of the "Treaty of Portsmouth" at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the conference room of the naval stores building. Besides the plenipotentiaries only Assistant Peires, representing the president; Governor McLane, the mayor of Portsmouth, Admiral Mead and Commander Wislawa will be present. The ceremony will be very brief.

After the signing the members of the Russian mission will go to Christ Church, Portsmouth, where a sea duty service will be held. The Russian Orthodox Bishop at New York, accompanied by twenty priests and about seventy chorists arrived here this evening on a special train. Mr. Witte and the members of his suite will leave for New York at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. Baron Komura will stay at Oyster Bay until he visits Harvard, his alma mater.

Komura Satisfied With Treaty.

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 4.—Baron Komura, Mr. Takahira and the members of the Japanese mission held a reception in the ballroom of the hotel this evening. The procession included four bands, two from Sackville, Newcastle and Moncton bands. All the railway orders, including machinists, boiler-makers, blacksmiths, conductors, trimmen, engineers, firemen, trackmen and carmen, were strongly represented and there were many floats and polymorphous rigs in the parade.

Japanese Soldiers Disappointed.

Lidzi Apud, Manchuria, Sept. 4. (P. M.)—The Japanese are continuing preparations for a battle. This is the cause of astonishment commencing here. He regarded it as simply an indication of the natural nervousness and tension that existed on both sides and he should not be surprised if the telegram from Lidziapudze saying that the Russians were apprehensive of a Japanese attack. He regarded it as simply an indication of the natural nervousness and tension that existed on both sides and he should not be surprised if the telegram from Lidziapudze saying that the Russians were apprehensive of a Japanese attack.

Chinese Boycott Ordered Lifted

Hong Kong, Sept. 4.—Secretary of War Taft and party arrived at Canton this morning. At 1 o'clock the visitors were entertained at luncheon by invitations of the viceroys who, however, was ill and unable to be present. His representative made a speech, referring to the friendly relations between the Chinese nation and America.

Halifax Labor Parade in Downpour of Rain

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 4.—(Special)—The heavy rain which prevailed from 8 o'clock this morning spoiled the Labor Day celebration here. An extensive programme had been arranged, but the only thing that came off was the trade procession which started at 10 o'clock and marched over the route notwithstanding the steady downpour. The parade was most creditable. The rain continued all day and tonight shows no sign of clearing. The aquatic events at Boston and Philadelphia in which Halifax oarsmen took part, caused considerable excitement about town this afternoon and this evening. Large crowds gathered about the telegraph offices to hear the result.

HALIFAX ROWERS BEAT AMERICANS

O'NEILL WON, TOO

Defeated His Opponents in Philadelphia Regatta—St. Mary's Four-Oared Crew Only Got Third Position in Their Race—Ten Yeck Also a Winner.

Boston, Sept. 4.—The 17th annual fall championship regatta of the New England Amateur Rowing Association was held today on the Charles River. There were ten events on the programme, all of which were rowed.

William Duggan, of the St. Joseph's A. A., Halifax (N. S.), won the senior singles, pulling in steady fashion over the mile and a half course. Although pressed at times by Patrick Shields, of Portland, Duggan always had a reserve. His time was 10:25.

Long Chase After a Forger

Chicago, Sept. 4.—A search which had lasted for more than a year and which had extended through Europe, Mexico and the United States culminated here today in the arrest of D. R. Wilson, formerly a prominent politician at Shenandoah, Iowa.

ST. JOHN WOMEN PLAY GOOD GOLF AT HALIFAX

Halifax, Sept. 4.—(Special)—The first annual meeting of the Ladies' Golf Club of the Maritime Provinces opened here today. The play today was to qualify for the championships and out of 16 players New Brunswick got seven, as follows:

Miss Thomson, St. John, 93.
Miss Mona Thomson, St. John, 112.
Miss M. Robertson, St. John, 113.
Miss Smith, St. John, 118.
Miss Barker, St. John, 122.
Miss Holyoke, Woodstock, 116.
Miss Runking, Woodstock, 114.

Heavy Rains at Chatham.

Chatham, N. B., Sept. 4.—(Special)—The steady downpour of rain which began last night and continued all day, materially interfered with the proposed observance of the holiday. The grand picnic under the auspices of the A. O. H., C. M. B. A. and C. T. A. was held in a building and considering the unfavorable weather was well patronized.

MILLIONS OF LOGS WILL BE RELEASED

Heavy Rains Along the River of Untold Benefit

Stranded Lumber in Boom Limits Will Be Floated—Destructive Forest Fires Quenched—Weather Mars Labor Day Celebration—O. S. Crocket, M. P., to Be Married—Other News of Fredericton.

Fredericton, N. B., Sept. 4.—(Special)—The long drought which has been the cause of so much damage to forest and field in this section of the province is broken at last. A rainfall, the heaviest since last spring, set in about 10 o'clock last night and continued until this evening with scarcely a break.

Lumbermen are confident that sufficient rain fell to stamp out the forest fires and put an end to the work of destruction which has been going on for weeks. Farmers in this section have crops about all gathered except potatoes and roots and therefore the storm came too late to greatly benefit them. As the storm seems to have been general along the river there will likely be a sufficient rise of water to float the several million feet of logs scattered along the shores within boom limits.

Labor Day was very quietly observed here as a public holiday. Business was generally suspended but disagreeable weather prevented people from enjoying the holiday. The Orangemen got away on their excursion to St. John at 7 o'clock but theibernians were obliged to abandon their picnic at the Hermitage on account of the weather.

LONG CHASE AFTER A FORGER

Detectives Followed Iowa Politician Through Europe and Mexico, and Finally Nabbed Him in Chicago.

Wilson is charged with forging amounts to $40,000 of which amount the First National Bank of Shenandoah, Iowa, is the principal loser. According to the police Wilson left Iowa over a year ago, after securing by means of a forged check of $15,000 from the First National Bank of Shenandoah. After his disappearance other forgeries were discovered. Wilson was followed through Europe and to the City of Mexico, where he was arrested. Friends in that city furnished bonds for him and he was released. He immediately left Mexico and his whereabouts were unknown until the police located him in Chicago. Wilson made desperate resistance when arrested. He denied his identity saying that his name was Johnson.

CANADIAN PACIFIC'S PROTEST AGAINST G. T. P. PLANS DEFEATED

Ottawa, Sept. 4.—The railway commission heard today the objections of the Canadian Pacific Railway to the location plans of the G. T. P. from Portage la Prairie, 275 miles westward, Mr. Aylesworth along with Mr. Pringle, M. P., appeared for the C. P. R. and Mr. Biggar, chief counsel for the G. T. R., appeared for his company. Mr. Biggar asked for the approval of the plans which was approved as far as location was concerned by the minister of railways and the governor general in council. Mr. Aylesworth contended that the minister had not approved of the plans according to the statute. The road should have been through new territory and thirty miles away from other railways. He asked for the approval of the plans which was approved as far as location was concerned by the minister of railways and the governor general in council.

When the board came to consider the special act it could look into whether or not the minister had exceeded his powers under the statute but even in that case they would have to be very chary in interfering. The question now was as to whether the route before them was one upon which the company should build. There was not the shadow of a doubt that the company had the right to build and the minister had the right to sanction it.

The company was to build from Moncton to the Pacific coast. Certain points were specified at which the line would cross. When one came to consider however these points many circumstances determined what was to be done. In the Northwest Territories the governor general was to approve of the plans but the governor general was not bound down to do any in the matter of law. "As far as practical" or as it says elsewhere, "having regard" to certain other things or "for other satisfactory reasons" the railway shall "generally" be 30 miles distant or "as the governor-general-in-council may deem reasonable." But there was no limitation as to the 30 miles. The very fact that one part was picked out and other parts left to the general railway act showed that there was nothing compulsory. The government was free to do as it pleased. There was nothing for the supreme court to do, therefore the usual order of the approval.
