ANNUAL MEETING OF CARSON LODGE

Lady Carson Lodge Had Successful Year—Election of Officers

The annual meeting of Lady Carson Lodge No. 87 L.O.B.A. was held on Tuesday evening in the Oddfellows Hall. A good representation was present. Considerable business was transacted and several members were advanced to the Royal Society Degree.

The Worthy Mistress in her report reviewed the work and progress of the Lodge during the past year, and extended congratulations to the officers and members for their support and co-operation in bringing the year to such an excellent close.

The Recording Secretary reported fifty-four members, showing an increase during the year.

The auditor's report was of a very gratifying nature, showing that the amount of $378.23 was paid out during the year for charitable and other purposes leaving a balance on hand of $1,206.79 in bank.

The election of officers resulted as follows:—
W. Mistress—Mrs. J. McCallum.
D. Mistress—Mrs. D. Kierstead.
Chaplain—Mrs. Mary Mann.
Rec. Secretary—Mrs. R. Ellsworth.
Fin. Secretary—Miss B. Graham.
Treas.—Mrs. D. K. Graham.
Guardian—Mr. D. K. Graham.
Auditors—Mrs. McCallum and Mrs. Travis.

Committee—Mrs. Travis, Mrs. Dobson, Mrs. Wyers, Mrs. McCrea, Mrs. McKay.

After the installation of Officers, Sister McLoughlin, Past Mistress, was called to the altar and presented with a Past Mistress Collar, accompanied by an address. Sister McLoughlin replied in her usual happy manner, the meeting coming to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

34 BELOW ZERO IN NEWCASTLE
When Firemen Fought Fire in Royal Hotel Annex Wednesday Morning.

Newcastle, N. B., Dec. 20.—The Royal Hotel annex was badly gutted by fire about seven o'clock this morning. The blaze originated from thawing out a frozen pipe and got between the walls and floors of the building and necessitated a lot of hard work before the flames were subdued.

The thermometer registered about thirty-four below and several of the firemen suffered from frost bites.

400 LIMIT FOR NORMAL SCHOOL

Regulations of Board of Education Set Attendance At This Figure.

Attendance at the Provincial Normal School will be limited in future to 400 student places, according to regulations which have been adopted by the Board of Education becoming effective on July 1, 1923.

Owing to the great increase in the attendance, the minimum attendance this year, having reached 430, it has been deemed advisable by the Board to limit the number of students in future, especially in view of the fact that proper accommodation is only available for some 250 students.

The increased attendance following the opening of the present term necessitated the employment of an additional assistant instructor.

In order to limit the attendance in future, only those applicants making the best marks on the preliminary entrance examinations will be admitted, if the successful applicants for examination exceed 400 in number. Of the 400 to be admitted in this event one-third of the number will be admitted for first class honours, one-half for second, and one-sixth for third class honours courses.

The board has also decided to limit the maximum amount of the loans to be advanced to student teachers to assist them to complete their course, to $500 per student, qualified for such a loan after the same date. At present the amount available to each qualified student teacher is $400, while some 100 students have applied for such assistance this term.

Speaking Thursday morning of the new regulations, Dr. W. E. Carter, chief superintendent of education, said that they had been adopted recently as precautionary measures to prevent the future congestion at Normal School.

SEVEN IRISH ARE EXECUTED

Dublin, Dec. 19.—Four railway men and three laborers were executed here this morning for interfering with trains in county Kildare.

The seven men executed were captured November 13 by Free State troops in a house, the location of which is unknown.

With them a quantity of stolen goods, rifles and ammunition was found. The men were tried by a military committee and sentenced to death on the charge of train wrecking.

The sentence was carried out at eight thirty this morning.

The men executed are reported to have been members of the "Republican forces."

Only two men of the gang of ten are still alive as another was shot dead by a snary in trying to escape from the Curragh Camp during his detention.

Today's executions brings the total of executions for the past month to nineteen.

FINE ATTRACTIONS AT OPERA HOUSE

House Peters and Douglas Fairbanks Star in Two Exceptional Dramas.

The management of the Opera House here has been fortunate in securing several fine picture programs for the Christmas Season this year.

The big attraction on the bill last night was "The Storm," a powerful drama of the Canadian Northlands, featuring the handsome, virile House Peters. This picture will be shown again tonight.

For some time past theatre patrons here have been fortunate in seeing many fine pictures shortly after their release. The old days of twelve and fourteen-month-old pictures for Campbellton are apparently gone by.

Last night's programme deserves a place among the best. The unfolding of events in "The Storm" constitute a plot which intrigues even the most picture-weary patron.

"The Storm" forms a unique triangle situation and behind an insurmountable barricade of snow in the lonely Northlands a lone woodsman who is a splendid type of virile manhood and a sweet sophisticated French-Canadian girl fight out their own destinies.

Besides the intensely dramatic situations which naturally evoke the action is replete with thrills which are well-balanced and never of the cheap, star-devil variety. The big scenes are unusually realistic. House Peters, a star essentially masculine, forceful and direct portrays the character of the husky woodsman with keen judgment.

Miss Moore as the smooth city chap has a difficult part but discharges his responsibilities in his usually efficient way. In the role of the French girl Virginia Valli gives a performance of charm and finish that has seldom been equaled on the screen.

For Christmas and the following night "The Three Musketeers" is the feature of the programme and without question, it is something special. Based on the immortal novel by Alexander Dumas, the world's most beloved romance of the olden days, starring the versatile Douglas Fairbanks and directed by Fred Niblo, a director of many successes, this picture has taken the country by storm and is still sweeping on through hundreds of more remote districts delighting and thrilling audiences all over the world.

Marguerite De La Motte, one of the most beautiful girls of the screen, takes the part of Constance the sweetheart of the play.

NEW RULE FOR GOAL-KEEPERS
Adopted by the C. H. A. and to Be Used in Halifax City League.

The new rule for goal keepers adopted by the C. H. A. and to be used in the Halifax City League this season reads as follows:

The goal keeper may stop the puck in any position or manner he wishes, in his own territory, but shall not throw or hold it, and no other player on the defending side other than the goal keeper shall, during the play, lie, sit, kneel or slide along the ice in the goal keepers territory. The goal keepers may wear pads and face protector, but must not wear a garment such as would give him undue assistance in goal keeping. The referee must rule off the ice for at least one minute a goal keeper who infringes this rule and must rule off the ice, for at least two minutes, any other player on his side who has offended against this rule.

MOORE ADDRESSES MCGILL STUDENTS

Explains Aims and Rights of Organized Labor.

Some of the aims and rights of organized labor were set forth to McGill University students by Tom Moore, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada in an address yesterday to McGill Canadian Club in the assembly hall of the Royal Victoria College.

The right of the individual to sell his labor or not was first insisted on by Mr. Moore. Labor organizations were opposed to the payment of dividends as high as 25 per cent by companies who squeezed all they could out of the workers.

Industrial peace was impossible as long as such things continued. Labor was also against the idea that hours of work should be increased and men incidentally put out of work. There should be a reduction of hours and the maintenance of wages at the highest possible level.

Greater purchasing by the public was a contributory remedy, not the reducing of positions.

Freedom of Worker. On the freedom of the worker to protect against considered injuries Mr. Moore was firm. While he could understand the public raising its voice against disputes affecting the vital services such as the train service, there was the worker's side also to be considered. Strikes were avoided when possible and voluntary arbitration was a good means of avoid them.

To compulsory arbitration which would take away the worker's right to sell his labor, however, labor was definitely opposed.

Mr. Moore deplored the existence of the Province of Quebec of the National and Catholic Union, declaring himself absolutely opposed to the organization of labor according to religious beliefs. "I hope before many years the errors of attempting to segregate workers will show themselves and we will have a more unified movement; built on non-sectarian principles," he said. Industrial relations should not be confined by language, race or creed.

WORKERS LOOKING FOR WATER POWER

Survey of Entire District Being Made for Hydro Development.

A preliminary report from the engineers investigating the hydro possibilities of the Upsalquitch and other streams within easy reach, shows that securing sufficient power from any of these streams is an impossibility. According to the report, it is estimated that the Upsalquitch might yield about 1200 H. P. which would meet the demand for only a few years.

The survey, however, is going on and officials are entertaining the hope that this investigation will disclose power possibilities worthy of hydro development.

STUFFING THE XMAS BIRD.
A Journal gives the following hints which are quite in season:—
A stuffing for the turkey can be made of stale bread hardened in the oven and rolled. Put in a bowl, and pour over it cold water. Let stand for a minute or two, then squeeze as dry as possible, fluffing it up with a fork, and adding half a teaspoonful of pepper, a teaspoonful of salt, half a teaspoonful of summer savory, half a teaspoonful of sweet marjoram, and half a cupful of melted butter. Beat well together with a fork. Do not let stand long before cook or it will sour.

Sausage stuffing is made as above, adding a quarter of a pound of sausage meat, and omitting some of the butter.

Oyster stuffing can be made with either fresh or canned oysters. It is usually served with boiled turkey or fowl, and is made by adding a cup of fresh oysters or a half cup of canned oysters to the ingredients used for stuffing. The oysters must be chopped, and the slightly warmed liquid used for moistening instead of water.

Celery stuffing is made by parboiling several stalks of celery, then adding them after chopping to a freshly mashed potato stuffing, seasoning with salt and pepper and a little butter.

TEMPTING RECIPES FOR XMAS CANDY
Candies of all sorts may be readily purchased in all towns, but at holiday time every one seems to want home-made dainties. For those without complete kitchen equipment, it is best to attempt only the simplest recipes, for the successful candymaker must have all needed tools in order to get the best results. If the amateur uses a coal range, see that there is a good, steady fire, but not too hot for the work. If a gas range is used, regulate the flame and put an asbestos pad under the pot or saucepan. If an electric stove is used, regulate the heat and also use a pad under the candy receptacle.

Apple Taffy.
Put a pound of sugar into an enamelled saucepan with two teaspoonfuls of vinegar and a half-cupful of apple juice. Boil the mass until it forms a firm ball when tried in cold water. Then pour it into a buttered pan, cool slightly and pull. Cut in convenient pieces with shears and place the candy on a very lightly buttered plate.

Honey Fudge.
Put one cupful of brown sugar, two tablespoonfuls of hot water, one cupful of white sugar, two tablespoonfuls of honey and a half-cupful of rich milk into a saucepan to melt. When melted together boil the mixture until it forms a hard ball when a little is tried in cold water. Then add a teaspoonful of vanilla and pour into a buttered pan to cool. Do not stir the candy while it is boiling. Mark it off in squares while warm.

Maple Tuffi Fruiti.
Chop or slice enough maple sugar to make two cupfuls, add a half-cupful of water and when melted boil until it forms a soft ball in cold water, then add a teaspoonful of vanilla, a half-cupful of chopped nuts, a half-cupful of chopped candied cherries and pineapple, and a half-pound of fresh marshmallows, quartered. Beat until stiff, pour into a buttered pan, and mark off in squares.

Maple Frazzles.
Melt three-quarters of a pound of maple sugar with a quarter of a cupful of boiling water. When the sugar is dissolved add a half-cupful of rich milk, cook until it forms a soft ball, and beat until creamy. Then add to the candy two cupfuls of pecan nuts that have been crisped in the oven. Drop by the spoonful in rounds on wax paper.

Old-Fashioned Fruit Candy.
Remove the stones from a half-cupful each of prunes and dates, seed a half-cupful of raisins and put all through the food-chopper with a quarter-cupful of figs. Add a quarter teaspoonful each of salt and cloves, mix well, then roll into quarter-inch rolls and cut into inch lengths. Roll in wax papers. This is easy to make, and is a wholesome sweet.

MARRIAGE A LA MODE
Mohammedan law allows the shah of Persia only four wives but he may take as many temporary ones as he likes.

Should he fancy the wife of some other man, the latter, if a loyal subject, divorces her in the shah's favor. When, on the other hand, the ruler tires of a wife, he gets rid of her by marrying her to one of his officials, whether the honor is desired or not.

HAS RIGHT TO HIT WIFE
Paris, Dec. 13—A husband has the right to strike his wife, so a police court judge decided this morning in trying a case brought before him by an irate woman. The decision was based on an article of the Civil Code regarding the principle of marital authority in relation to public order and family organization.

The woman accused her husband of knocking her down, but a witness declared that he struck her, then pushed her down, after she had responded violently to a reprimand. The Magistrate declared that under the circumstances the husband acted within "the right of correction" bestowed upon him by the Code. Explaining his decision the judge declared that in matters of public order and family organization, a woman could not free herself from her husband's authority, but added that this authority was subject to control of the courts to which the woman might address herself to escape acts of oppression.

MARRIED ON LINER WHILE STORM RAGED
Captain Left Bridge to Perform the Ceremony.

New York, Dec. 12—That the steamship Mount Clay, of the United American lines, was plunging and buffeting their way through a hurricane, meant nothing to Frank Kolehek who resides in Chicago, when on shipboard he met Miss Erna Bergman, of Bremen. It was a case of love at first sight, of swift wooing. So ardent was the appeal of the couple to Captain Earl T. Brown that he marry them that the captain left the bridge for a few minutes to accommodate them.

Kolehek said the storm meant nothing to him, that his skies were blue and it was spring-time.

WHITE MAN JUSTICE IN FAR NORTH

Remarkable Story of Manner in Which Law is Administered.

Ottawa, Dec. 13—A remarkable story of the manner in which white man's justice is brought to the Far North is unfolded in a recent report to headquarters by Staff Sergeant Joy, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

The murder investigated by Sergeant Joy was that of Robert Jones, a white trader, and the place was Cape Crawford, at the extreme northeastern corner of Baffin Land. During the investigation Sergeant Joy acted in turn in his capacity of constable, coroner and magistrate. He conducted the autopsy, held an inquest, issued warrants for the arrest of three natives, brought them in, pre-

While the house wives of the town are concerned about preparing Christmas Cheer the Salvation Army also has in mind the good things of Christmas, and is considering those who might lack for them. The Army is placing two collecting pots at points of advantage in the town, one at the Post Office and another near the Station as well as placing boxes in some of the stores. The collecting from the pots and boxes will be used for general relief work during the winter.

QUEBEC TRAMWAYS BILL IS ADOPTED

Quebec, Dec. 19.—The Quebec Tramways and Gas Bill was adopted by the private bills committee of the Quebec legislative assembly this morning.

The bill provides for the incorporation of a new light, power and traction company with a capital of $5,000,000 with the general powers usually granted to such corporations.

The new company is authorized to take over or purchase the properties and assets of the Quebec County Railway, Quebec Gas Company, Canadian Electric Light Company, the Quebec Railway, Light and Power Company, the Quebec Jacques-Cartier Electric Company and the Frontenac Gas Company.

TRAPPERS ARRESTED ON MURDER CHARGE

Soo, Ont., Dec. 19.—Two Finnish trappers, Kalli Makin and Urpo Ojatan, of Mile Sixty Eight, on the Algoma Central Railway, have been arrested by P. C. Tom Fraser, on the charge of the murder of two of their countrymen Victor Joki and Hannes Diem, who were found last August in a lake 35 miles back from the railway, near the Montreal River, weighed down with bouillon.

The two murder suspects are being held in custody at the district jail awaiting a hearing the latter part of this week.

ROYAL BANK REPORT SHOWS PROFIT GAINS

Montreal, Dec. 19.—The annual statement of the Royal Bank of Canada for the fiscal year to November 30, appearing today, shows net profits of $3,958,469, equal to 19.40 per cent on the capital. Deposits bearing interest have fallen nearly three million dollars, being $277,595,882 against $280,447,431.

Total assets also show a decline of twenty-one million dollars, being $479,362,355 against $500,448,429 the pre-regular year.

IMPORTANT CHANGE IN THESE RATES

New Rates for Workmen Compensation Act for 1923 Are Published.

Federicton, Dec. 20.—Rates of assessment upon New Brunswick's industries coming within the scope of the Workmen's Compensation Board published in the Royal Gazette here today as effective for 1923.

The rates are provisional, those for each year not being finally fixed until the commencement of the year following, although provisional rates must be published before the commencement of the year in which they are to be effective.

While Chairman John A. Sinclair of the Workmen's Compensation Board told The Gleaner over the long distance telephone from his office at St. John today that the rates were "virtually about the same" when he gave a comparison some important changes were shown, there being substantial increases in some industries and marked reductions in others.

One of the most important advances is from 2 1/2 to 3 per cent in the rate of saw mills and from 1 1/2 to 2 percent in the rate on planing and wood working industries; logging operations and pulpwood mills remain unchanged and so does coal mining. These are the principal industries in Classes 1, 2 and 3.

In Class 4, which includes the manufacture of composite paints, chemicals, liquors and beverages, leather and leather goods, rubber and rubber goods, wholesale and retail stores, flour and handling of grain, canning, pork packing, manufacture of tobacco, clothing, textiles, printing, lithographing, engraving and stationery, the manufacture of brush and brooms had been reduced from .70 to .60, textiles .30 to .20, fish and fruit canning increased from .70 to $1, dairy products .40 to .50, biscuits reduced from .70 to .60, clothing .30 to .20, printing .20 to .20, while sugar refining and canneries are increased from $1 to $1.20.

Class 4, including the construction of building, wooden ships, mason work, painting, structural work, plumbing, gas and steam-fitting, and electric wiring, the following changes are noted: Brick laying increased from $2 to $2.20, electric wiring and installation of fixtures, gas or steamfitting and plumbing reduced from $1.50 to $1.00.

Class 6, construction of bridges, road-making, sewerage construction, excavation, construction and operation of electric railways, electric power lines and appliances, construction and operation of telegraphs and telephones, shows an increase in the construction of steel bridges from 5 to 7 per cent, concrete construction from $1.50 to $2, and road-making from $1 to $1.50.

Class 7, which includes warehousing and storage, stevedoring, dredging, pile driving and subaqueous construction, operation of steam railways and navigation, express companies and dam construction contains a reduction of from 3 to 2 per cent in the construction of dry docks, piers, wharves, breakwater or other harbor improvements, including dredging, subaqueous construction or pile driving. Express companies, including hazard of railway transportation reduced from $1 to .90 with an increase shown in fish traps $2 to $2.20, stevedoring in Bay of Fundy $3 to $2.50, stevedoring other than Bay of Fundy ports, chiefly North Shore, $2.50 to $2.75. Marine warehousing, not connected with stevedoring, freight handlers and checkers, sugar samples, cold storage, and warehouses, are reduced from $2 to $1.50.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Margaret McBeath.

Many friends along the Restigouche will learn with deep regret of the death of Mrs. Margaret McBeath, widow of the late Alexander McBeath which took place at the home of her daughter Mrs. J. E. Gillis, Tide Head on Wednesday.

Deceased, who was born at Campbellton in 1840 was stricken with paralysis about two weeks ago, from which she never rallied. One son, R. Bruce McBeath of Campbellton and one daughter, Mrs. J. E. Gillis, of Tide Head survive, who have the sympathy of all in their bereavement.

The funeral will be held from the home of J. E. Gillis, Tide Head on Friday afternoon. The service at the house will start promptly at 2 o'clock.

BEAR AND AUTO BUMP BUT BRUIN QUITS FIGHT

Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 19.—A big black bear and an automobile came to blows late last night. Bruin thought a bear for punishment could not stand up against the bumps of the bumper against his sensitive nose and fled.

The incident was reported by Harry C. Simons, of Olean, who met the animal five miles from that place. The bear insisted on climbing into the car when it stopped, at a curve. Simons threw the machine into gear, caught the bear several times on the chin hating it to one side of the road. It bared its fangs.

Mrs. Margot Asquith Tells Some Amusing Anecdotes

In Book "A Little Journey"

While on a visit to Egypt, "an old, venerable gentleman" challenged Mrs. Asquith to dance with him.

"I always thought he was a little fuddled in his head," she writes in her diary, "and he told me that after a heavy fall he had lost his memory. He danced feebly, but actively. I was persuaded into dancing alone with my castagnettes. I got no letters in Assiout, and could have soiled with intense disappointment and boredom."

At another stage in her journey she had a "nice fall" with Lord Dufferin, of whom she says:

He advised me to marry; said I was too late to be alone, and too clever not to be helping some man. He begged me not to be led away by personal attraction, and said respect was the first thing and love the second."

Another incident recorded in "A Little Journey," by Margot Asquith, deals with a conversation Mrs. Asquith had with Dr. Munthe, "an artist and poet."

"He said I had flown across his path," she writes, "like a little brilliant bird that comes quite close and then flies away; that I surprised him and brought him back to life; but that he wished he had met me before he was spoiled. He said my work worked at lightning speed, and added that I must not think his indifferent English precluded him from being an excellent judge both of character and intellect." He took me to the station, where he kissed my hand."

A shopping expedition was indulged in. "Papa became rather impatient," she writes, "I don't care about shopping with a man, although I am not very feminine as regards shopping. I never go except as an accompaniment to someone else. I saw a beautiful dress in a window and a little blue sarge-looking ornament."

"If I were allowed to ride and read and make love in the sun, I could be intensely happy. I was born out of doors, but though a girl in some ways, I know no one upon whom I can rely, ugliness, discomfort, and un-punctuality far so much."

"I felt in watching my parents what a wonderful cross they made, as a family, for I ought to be more remarkable. The boys have more of mamma's self-effacing reserve, but we have papa's confidence and hope; we have missed the beauty of my mother's family and I cannot share her view that the life is a mere game."

Referring to a visit to Italy, she writes: "As usual, I passed a funeral; I am purged by funerals—which is so unnecessary, as I never forget death, not for one moment of the day."

"There are disadvantages as well as advantages in being as sensitive to form and beauty as I am. Want of grace influences my opinion of people, and nervous clumsiness makes me cold with impudence. I am fairly quick myself, but I don't think I upset things or step on toes or trip over carpets or waste a hundred matches before lighting a candle or a cigarette, or spill champagne, or break my fingers."

"It is not a caution, but accuracy and scrupulousness. Papa tries me very slightly with lunch in the train and at all meals, as he is so busy; he drops his seat upon the railway floor, and coffee on his clothes. He says everything except what he does not like, and then says, 'I am obliged to be a little careful, you see.'"

"We all dined together, and I quarrelled with H. Cust over Victor Hugo; I rather gave away my case by exaggeration. We are on the defensive with each other over literature, as he thinks me a fool, and this is irritating, but he takes nothing really seriously—save all his friends. He is seriously in love, but does not love seriously."

The Postions Reversed.

An experienced and popular London actor was asked several times to spend a week-end with a certain old deluded family; but he repeatedly declined, and explained that they belonged to the aristocracy, and he was a mere actor, and therefore, they could not "mix." Subsequently, the same family asked him if he would support their daughter who was to play a character in a film drama.

"Ah," he replied, "when you come to acting I am an aristocrat and your daughter is a mere plebeian."

Colncldece of Thought.

An airplane carrying a pilot and observer was doing the "loop." A great crowd watched below and gasped as the machine came to a stop and over through the clouds, and then, when position low, flattened and mounted again. When the airplane alighted the pilot turned to the observer, and said, indignantly: "Did you see that crowd? Ninety per cent thought we were going to crash." "That's what the observer said," and fifty per cent in the machine thought the same."

A Secret Code.

Two young men were overheard discussing their sweethearts. "You say her name is Adaline More?" inquired the first. "Yes," replied the other. "I call her P. E." "What's that?" "Well, isn't that short for Adaline More?"

Dolls in Britain.

From the statistics of the trade slump in Britain in 1923, up till April, 1922, the state had distributed $400,000,000 in unemployment benefits. Provision has been made for a further expenditure of $800,000,000 up to July, 1923.

WILL BE OPEN NEW YEAR.
The new curling rink will be ready for the first games of the season on New Year's Day. A lively start is expected.

ALL SHOULD BE INTERESTED.
Forestry is not a question mainly for lumbermen. It is not even a question mainly for foresters. Because no one can get along without the forest, it is a question for every one of us. Our future supply of forest products is by far the greatest and most puzzling economic problems now before the people of Canada.

LATE ORDERS.
We still have Christmas greeting cards in stock and can fill orders up to Saturday noon. See our samples.

SPECIAL.
A special dance will be held in the Princess-Palm Room on Friday night after the Mount Allison-Campbellton hockey match.

OVERDRAFT AUTHORIZED.
A special meeting of the Town Council was held yesterday afternoon at which a resolution was passed authorizing the Mayor to advance a sum not to exceed $30,000 by way of an overdraft.

ASSIGNED.
Business Manager Alvin Little, of Bathurst, has assigned under the Bankruptcy Act, to the Canada Farmington Trust Company. The creditors will meet in Bathurst, early next month.

TICKETS FOR MATCH.
Tickets for the hockey match between Mount Allison and Campbellton Friday night can be purchased at all the drug stores and at the stores of Ferguson, & Wallace and Sullivan & Sullivan. Buy a ticket and help make the first game a success.

DEATH OF A CHILD.
Mr. and Mrs. John Bernier have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community in the death of their infant son John Murray at the Hotel Dieu Hospital Tuesday evening. The child was born at the same hospital Sunday evening.

MANY COMPLIMENTS.
The Graphic has received many compliments from both citizens and readers at a distance upon the very large Christmas Edition issued last week. The entire letterpress work was done in our own office by our regular staff. In size it was the largest edition handled outside the cities in the Maritime provinces.

SMELT FISHING BEGINS.
According to reports the smelt fishing season along the coast of Restigouche and Gloucester Counties has opened auspiciously in most localities. So far no considerable quantity have been taken by nets but in several places along the coast good hook fishing is reported. We also understand that their ool smelt are of a very good size.

So far the price seems to be hanging about last year's figure. There is promise of some competition in the marketing side of this industry this winter as several buyers have expressed their intentions of doing business. As yet, however only a percentage of the fishermen have set their nets.

BANDSMEN.
Band members will meet at band rooms Friday night at 7.30.

40 BELOW AT WOODSTOCK.
St. John, N. B., Dec. 22.—Woodstock has the honor of the day in this province with an early morning temperature of 40 below.

AS A CHRISTMAS PRESENT.
A lady who last year sent the Graphic to an absent friend writes: "This holiday season I like the Graphic best of all my Christmas presents." The Graphic makes an all the year present. Try it this year. A personal Christmas letter goes with each such subscription.

STILLS ARE SEIZED.
Last Thursday Excise Officer Stewart with Inspector Gannon of Bathurst and Donnell of Jacques River seized two stills, one at a home at Mitchell Settlement and one in a lumber camp near Jacques River. On Friday they made a seizure of wash stills for the manufacture of spirit, at Jacques River, and also a beer return at another home. These cases will be presented under the Infant Revenue Act.

ANNUAL AUDIT ON.
The annual audit of the provincial accounts has been commenced at Fredericton by representatives of the firm of Price, Waterhouse & Co., the provincial official auditors. The representatives of the firm carrying on the audit this year are W. M. S. Campbell and D. E. Hoach, of Montreal. Their report will be completed in time for publication of a statement in the Royal Gazette during the month of January as now required by the Audit Act.

AMATEUR SKATING EVENTS.
Dates for the international outdoor amateur speed skating circuit events were definitely fixed at a meeting of the International Skating Union of America held in Montreal over the week-end, February 14, 15 and 16 were decided on for the international championships scheduled for St. John, N. B.; while February 2 and 3 were set for the Canadian national events to be held in Montreal. The American national events will be held at Chicago January 26, 27 and 28.

FIRE AT ATHOL.
Fire broke out in the planning-room at Athol mill of Stetson Cutler Co., about eleven o'clock on Tuesday night, but owing to the promptness and skill of workmen no great damage was done.

The blaze originated under the floor of the planning shed from some unknown cause. When first discovered it was making rapid headway and such was its location that it would probably have done considerable damage but for the prompt response of the sleeping men. The night was bitterly cold for such an engagement but the crew stuck to the job and had dispersed all danger before one o'clock. Before the blaze had been extinguished Mr. J. M. McLean, the manager of the mill was notified and drove to the scene of the alarm.

Finest Fox Ranch in World Located in N. B.

Romance of Farming Shown in Exhibition in Toronto in Small Family—An Attractive Story of the Industry.

(John R. Bone in Boston Transcript) Toronto, Dec. 2.—The romance of fox farming has been vividly illuminated by the holding here of an exhibition of silver black foxes, which has brought together what is described as undoubtedly the finest collection of foxes in the world.

Altogether there are 794 fox farms in Canada, of which 758 are fox, 12 Mink, 3 racoon, 3 marten, 2 skunk, 4 Karakul sheep, 3 beaver, 8 muskrat.

INDUSTRY BEGAN IN 1910. About 1910, the real development of the fox industry in Canada began.

Today the industry flourishes in Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, Michigan, New York State and many other Eastern and Western States.

MILLIONS IN REVENUE. Prince Edward Island's foxes are valued at $6,000,000, and they produce in revenue two or three million dollars a year.

open ranches completely away from the old idea of wooded places. In regard to small pens one successful rancher there says that in 1913, when he started, he used pens 50x60 feet on a south side sloping ground that ranchers said was an ideal spot, but for five years the best year he had was only 115 per cent, which is very low.

On Friday afternoon last at the residence of Mrs. W. H. Miller on Roseberry St. Mrs. Miller and Mrs. F. M. Anderson were joint hostesses at a tea and shower in honor of Miss Kathleen Lockhart of the S. M. Hospital, staff here who is one of the principal in a coming even.

Miss Nan Wetmore was hostess at a bridge of three tables on Tuesday evening last. The prize was won by Miss Nita MacDonald. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. G. Mott, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Henderson, Misses Harriet MacDonald, Jessie Moore, Miss MacDaid; Messrs. Earl Mowat, A. K. Shives and G. A. Mowat.

Miss Lockhart who has been on the nursing staff of the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital since the opening of that institution last spring has endeavored herself to a large circle of acquaintances here and all join most heartily in wishing her every happiness at this time.

The house was beautifully decorated with evergreen and holly giving the place a true Christmas atmosphere. Small Christmas trees, hung in icicles, adorned the fire-place while Santa occupied a prominent position on the mantle.

A number of friends of Miss Mildred Furlotte tendered her a pleasant surprise party on Friday evening at the home of her sister Mrs. Peter Furlotte. Games and refreshments were enjoyed and a most pleasant evening spent.

Tea was served from 3.30 to 6 o'clock in the double parlor from two tables centred with potted Christmas trees. Mrs. Dr. Fleck (Dalhousie) poured the coffee while Mrs. G. A. Fawcett poured tea. Those assisting in serving were—Mrs. John Collier, Mrs. Hubert Henderson, Misses Nita MacDonald and Bertha Ferguson, Mrs. Dr. McPherson, Mrs. E. B. Keith, Mrs. P. W. Campbell replenished. Miss Georgie Miller attended the door. As the gifts were brought in Mrs. B. J. Collier took them to the dining room where a large Xmas tree was decorated to receive them. After the tea was served Santa Claus appeared looking for Miss Lockhart and led her to the dimly lighted dining room, then when all lights were turned on Santa opened the parcels on the tree and read the verses accompanying most of the gifts, much to the merriment of those present. After this the old rhyme "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow" closed a pleasant afternoon.

Miss Doris Wood who spent a few days in town last week the guest of Miss Eva Steeves, has returned to her home in Kent Junction.

Mr. C. A. Alexander and son Walter Furlotte returned this morning from Montreal.

C. P. R. ELEVATOR WAS DAMAGED

Explosion of Dust Causes Damage and Employees Had Narrow Escape.

St. John, N. B., Dec. 20—The Canadian Pacific Railway's concrete elevator at Sand Point was badly damaged this morning by an explosion which occurred about 11 o'clock. It took place in one of the grain bins and shattered the concrete floor as well as damaging two other bins, and in addition partly wrecked the upper section of the elevator. The accident is attributed to what is known as a "dust explosion."

Several Narrow Escapes. Fortunately no one was injured, although several employees had narrow escapes.

JAIL BURNS; FIREMEN GET PRISONERS OUT

Cayuga, Ont., Dec. 20—Fire of unknown origin early this morning destroyed the Haldemund County jail and court house with a loss estimated at $60,000. Five prisoners in the cells were rescued by firemen just in time.

THE BONAR LAW GOVERNMENT AND THE DOMINIONS

London, eDec. 20—The Duke of Devonshire, speaking at the Australian Club yesterday, said that not long ago interference, and sometimes, he feared, petty interferences, on the part of Downing street might have caused a good many differences between the home government and the dominions and colonies, but the present government wished to work alongside of them and keep in close touch with them in their national development and defence. At the same time the Imperial Government would give them the fullest opportunity to take what line they liked.

GOVERNMENT TO ERECT NATIONAL MONUMENT TO CANADA'S WAR DEAD

Ottawa, Dec. 19—The Government intends at the coming session to ask Parliament for an appropriation for a national monument to be erected in the Capital of the Dominion, to commemorate the services of Canadians in the Great War, the Prime Minister announced last night. The form and location of the monument is something which will be decided later. It is understood that the monument should be symbolical in character, and should be placed in the most central and commanding position in the Capital. It has been suggested that the design and location something of the character of a famous Nelson monument in Trafalgar Square, London, would be appropriate.

FOUR UNIDENTIFIED PERSONS PERISH IN ST. LAWRENCE

Sorel, Que., Dec. 19—Four unidentified persons were drowned Monday morning when the automobile in which they were crossing the St. Lawrence River went through the ice. They had just passed the car of E. Duhamel, of Sorel, who was crossing to Berthier. Duhamel looked round and saw a hole through the ice. There was no cry as the party disappeared. He stopped his machine and walked back to the hole. The wheel marks of the car led straight to it, but there was no sign of the missing car or its occupants.

DISCHARGED FROM BANKRUPTCY

An unconditional discharge from bankruptcy was granted at St. John last week by Francis L. Kerr, registrar of the Bankruptcy Court for New Brunswick, on behalf of Gordon C. Scott, of Fredericton. Mr. Scott made an assignment in February last as a result of the then existing depression in the lumber business.

RAILWAY HEAD AT RAILWAY CENTRE

Sir Henry Thornton At Moncton Saturday Evening—Some Things He Said.

Sir Henry Thornton attended a banquet tendered him by the citizens at the Brunswick Hotel Saturday evening. In commenting upon his visit to Moncton the Moncton Transcript editorial says this in part— "Sir Henry Thornton, the new President of the Canadian National Railways, reached Moncton on Saturday on his tour of inspection of the eastern section of the railways. Immediately upon his arrival he was the guest of the Moncton Board of Trade at a dinner at the Brunswick Hotel. About one hundred and sixty, including Moncton's most prominent business men were present.

It is pretty clearly recognized that Sir Henry has a task and he must not have his hands shackled by any undue influence. He is the one who knows to business and he is the one entrusted to make many needed reforms. Possibly the salvation of the Can. National Railways as a public institution depends upon Sir Henry and he is entitled to all the support that the people of this Dominion and the press can give him. The East is particularly interested. He may make some drastic reforms. In fact it is difficult to see how he can accomplish what is expected of him unless he does introduce a great many important changes. The new chief created an excellent impression. He is commonly described as a man big enough to tackle any kind of a proposition requiring force, brain, and brawn, but he has other qualities. He has a pleasant countenance and a genial disposition and he impressed one as a man who will study the situation from the bottom and understand the facts of the case before he delivers judgment of frames a policy.

Sir Henry was cautious in his remarks. This is greatly appreciated by people who have long been associated with politics. Sir Henry is no politician. As to details he promised nothing; but he did promise some very important things as basic principles. He said:

"I assure you gentlemen, that one of the fundamentals of any successful organization must be centralization, and with respect to details complete decentralization."

This remark received enthusiastic applause, for public sentiment in the Maritime Provinces overwhelmingly favors Moncton as the centre of the proposed Eastern Unit.

For the past few years the Maritime Provinces have been very much hampered because our shippers and our business men have had to have their requirements referred to the main offices two thousand miles away and it is a relief to learn that the new chief does not believe in this principle. His experience as a successful railway manager has taught him better.

In the short time that Sir Henry had had to investigate conditions on the C.N.R., he has probably not had an opportunity to look into the matter of wages, but the remarks that he made on Saturday evening in this direction are reassuring. He said: "I hope that we shall always be able to maintain the standard of wages on the Canadian National Railway system, which, as I said before and said many times, will permit every officer and other man in our service to live decently and comfortably, to bring up his children as self-respecting members of society, and that should be the minimum wage. Beyond this the question of efficiency comes in."

Let's see. Sir Henry began near the bottom of the ladder, did he not? He knows the conditions and the problems of the railway men, and his remarks above indicate he is equally a friend of the railway laborer and the railway official.

Sir Henry Thornton does not overlook that the railway is an instrument to serve the public. He promised the Maritime Provinces that their complaints, their problems and their aspirations should receive fair consideration and the Board of Management would administer to the best of its ability. He stated:

"The same policy which we intend to pursue toward the men in the policy which we shall pursue to prompt adjustment of complaints, sympathetic consideration of your problems. All these will, I believe, create the most valuable asset which any public institution can have, viz., a well satisfied clientele."

Sir Henry has become one of us and he shares with the people of the Maritime Provinces a lofty ambition for our public railways. He very nearly expressed himself in this regard as follows:

"I venture to hope that with the assistance of the men of this great

SIR HENRY THORNTON MEETS CITIZENS

Delegation Visited His Train Upon Arrival Here and Given Fine Reception.

Sir Henry Thornton, K.C.E., president of the Canadian National Railway Board with members of his party embracing officials of the different departments and local officials, arrived here Tuesday at 11.30 a.m. Upon arrival the delegation of local citizens consisting of W. F. Napier, John Harquail, Joseph Duncan, Arthur T. LeBlanc, H. A. Carr, Geo. G. McKenzie, George St. Onge, James Moore and H. B. Andow of the Graphic were taken in hand by Assistant Manager L. S. Brown and conducted to the reception car of the train where Mr. Pius Michaud, M.P., introduced each member of the delegation to Sir Henry Thornton and other officials.

Mr. Michaud in introducing the delegation stated that Campbellton was the most progressive town in New Brunswick, to which Sir Henry jokingly replied that it certainly had a bracing atmosphere. We may add that the thermometer registered below zero with a slight north wind.

After spending a few minutes in general conversation Mr. A. T. LeBlanc, who acted as spokesman stated that there were a few matters the delegation would like particularly to discuss, and was invited to proceed. He then brought up the need of a suburban service between Amqui and Campbellton.

Matters pertaining to car shortage and rates on lumber shipments were discussed and promises received that our needs in this respect would be carefully looked into.

By asking questions as to local industries and conditions Sir Henry Thornton was able to gain much useful information of the district, and impressed the delegation as a man who knew what he was up against in taking over the management of our railway problem, but who seemed capable of dealing with the problems which would come before him in an intelligent, businesslike manner.

As the time at the disposal of the officials was limited the delegation took their departure feeling confident that the several matters discussed would be looked into and something done to meet its wishes.

Newcastle, N. B., Dec. 16—John Galliah, from Dochester penitentiary was taken in charge here Friday afternoon by Chief of Police Ashford and inspector Manderson, charged with the theft of a quantity of liquor from Durick's drug store.

The break was made Wednesday night and Galliah, it is reported, was busy ever since treating his friends and disposed of some liquor to a local man who will also likely be charged with buying stolen goods.

The following service will be held on Sunday next.

railway of ours we shall claim superiority by right because we shall always do right; I venture to hope that we shall claim superiority of class, because we propose to make our railway a first class railway, and I trust we shall achieve superiority of direction because we who are charged with the administration of this property, propose to lead our men and the public in that direction which will bring to all the communities that we serve success, prosperity and happiness."

It is gratifying to note from Sir Henry's remarks that frequent visits will be made to different parts of the system, and he may be assured that when he again inspects the eastern division he will be given a hearty reception."

Increasing Activity Along I. N. R. Section

Two and a half to three times as much as was cut in Same District Last Year-- Indicative of Activity in Northern N. B.

The improvement in the lumber business has been very evident at St. Quentin, Richards, Five Fingers and other points along the I. N. R. Whereas last year from ten to twelve million feet of lumber were cut in this district, this year it is estimated that thirty million will be about the mark.

A number of winter mills are hard at work and many laths will be manufactured.

It is refreshing to hear of one country, and that a neighbor, making steady progress toward prosperity. Canada has no specious boom, but it is recovering impressively from the shock of the war.

"The movement of crops in the Dominion during the past two months has broken records. Grain elevators, railways, steamship lines pier facilities are taxed to capacity. Montreal has exported in seven months grain to the total of 153,134,887 bushels. This greatly exceeds shipments for the whole of last year, some 138,000,000 bushels. Despite the heavy addition to the Montreal liner fleet this season, cargo space has been at a premium.

"A forerunner of this welcome state of affairs was seen some weeks ago in the return to par of the Canadian dollar. While many of the European currencies have been going from bad to worse, and while even the pound sterling lingered distinctly beneath parity, Canadian money has actually been at a premium in New York.

"Canada's revival helps the United States. Canada is one of our chief customers. Its prosperity can but react favorably upon the industrial situation here. And the example which it has set the world is a valuable one. It shows what hard work, hopefulness, freedom from militarism and sound financial administration will do with waiting, undeveloped resources."

Arithmetic Revisited.
My little niece of seven was proud at school of reaching compound long division. Indeed her hopes went the length of passing fractions by Christmas.

So I asked her: "Jessie, my dear, suppose that I go to the candy store at the corner for half an ounce of burnt almonds at four cents an ounce. How much will I have to pay?"

"Two cents, Uncle George," was her quick reply.

I waved my hand in contradiction. "Oh, no, my child. I will pay nothing at all, because Mr. Joyce is an old friend."

THE SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS

The Widow Stately's home lay in a nook in the foothills where the sun in mornings came blazing in from the east. At noon he poured down gently among the evergreens that clothed the hillsides of her little farm, and in the evenings, before time for sunset on the plains below, he faded out in yellow splendor over stark white peaks that guarded the widow's valley from the west.

The Widow Stately had been a widow even when she came into that little nook in the foothills with her son Frank, then a sturdy lad of fourteen or thereabouts. Here they had "dug in" with their little herd of heifers, and Frank had plowed the valley field for oats and potatoes, and, with the help of a carpenter, they had built the house of spruce logs where a mountain stream gurgled lullabies in the still nights.

At the end of six years they were on their feet. The fields had extended; the herd had grown; the cream cans went down to town three times a week; there was new furniture in the log house and a lit of song in the widow's heart. But one new pang was hers; mother-love could not quite stifle the pang when her handsome friend rode out with the yellow-haired Allison girl from south of the ridge.

At the end of that same six years came the War. And now the Widow Stately is doubly a widow, and the Allison girl is old before her time.

Down the valley a mile or more live the Freedmans. And Freddie Freedman, at fourteen, unhappily runs to mischief, as the sparks fly upward. Was it not Freddie who let the Stately gates open at Halloween? Was it not Freddie who unbolled the reach in the widow's wagon? Who but Freddie transposed the front and rear wheels of her buckboard? Who but Freddie shot the wild geese which she was taming, and drank cream in her dairy when she had gone to town?

And to-night, as a blanket of Christmas snow carpets the foothills and the valley, the widow returns from town with her melancholy parcels for Christmas cheer. To-night will the log fire burn on her hearth and strange visions wax and wane in its embers; visions of the First Frank and the second Frank, and a nightmare of horror Over There. The fire will die out, and Christmas will creep in, wan and cheerless and alone.

But as she drives up to the log house she sees a sturdy young figure at work in the woodshed, and—can she be dreaming?—the spruce logs at a end of the house have been cut and piled for the winter's burning. And the sturdy young figure comes out and takes her horses by the head.

"Let me put your team away while you go in and warm yourself, Mrs. Stately," said a voice. "See, I have started a fire for you."
 So like Frank it seemed that she dared not break the spell. Without a word she sank in her rocker, while the tongues of flame from the spruce logs leapt up laughing, curling, fondling at her feet.

But he was so long in coming that at length she went to the door. The sturdy figure was just disappearing down the road in the grey cloud of night.

"Who are you? Who are you?" she called after him.
 "I am the Spirit of Christmas," he answered.
 And then she knew his voice.
 "You're not!" she laughed. "You're Freddie Freedman!"

BIG MONEY FOR OUR WOODSMEN

Estimated That Two Million Dollars Will Be Divided Among Workers in Woods.

Officials of the Forest Service of the Provincial Department of Lands and Mines today estimated $2,000,000 as the approximate distribution of wages to the army of men employed in New Brunswick's lumber woods this winter.

The estimate as made up on a basis of a maximum at present of not less than 10,000 men being employed with average wages, including board, amounting to $50 per month per man. A census in 1919 showed 7,000 men then employed in lumber operations on the province's lands; a similar survey is now being undertaken.

Tools of His Trade.
 Tired Tim knocked at the door of a cottage. It was a chilly day, and he was very hungry.
 The old lady who opened the door was a good sort. She asked him into the kitchen and placed before him a nicely cooked meal and asked him why he did not go to work.
 "I would," replied Tim, "if I had the tools."
 "What sort of tools do you want?" inquired the old lady.
 "A knife and fork," said Tired Tim.

Had Gas in Stomach, Was Constipated, Bilious and had Dizzy Spells. Tells How Dreco Gave Relief.

Prompt relief is promised to those who suffer from a weakened, deranged stomach, sluggish liver, weak kidneys or constipated bowels by the use of Dreco, the great herbal remedy. Since its introduction here, but a short time ago, many people have taken it and declare no medicine ever gave the results that Dreco has given. A recent signed statement follows:

Mr. Dan McLeod, Carpenter, 550 Ferry Street, Sydney, N. S. says: "No other medicine has benefited me as Dreco has and I have only taken two bottles."

"I have been doctoring for three years for stomach trouble and Dreco has seemingly reached the seat of my troubles, where many other remedies have failed. I have been troubled with gas in my stomach after meals, heartburn and nausea. I often felt dizzy and spots floated before my eyes. I was constipated and many times I had to leave my work and go home, suffering from severe headaches and acute spells of indigestion."

"Since my first bottle of Dreco, I have had no dizzy spells and my food digests much better. My bowels are regular and while I do not claim to be entirely cured, I have so greatly improved that I am confident of regaining my health by continuing this treatment, and I am glad to recommend it to my friends."

Dreco is being specially introduced in Campbellton by Wran's Drug Store, and is sold by good drug stores everywhere.

BARN NOT PART OF

PRIVATE DWELLING

Mr. Justice Barry's Decision in Prohibition Case Rendered.

Fredericton, Dec. 15.—Mr. Justice Barry decided the much discussed question of whether a barn should be regarded as part of a private dwelling within the meaning of the law when he gave judgment in an appeal in a case under the Prohibition Act in chambers this morning.

The case is that in which John King, who resides in the parish of Queensberry, York county was charged with giving at other than his private dwelling a bottle of so-called "moonshine" liquor to Warren Stairs, the "hooch" having such a powerful kick that Stairs got drunk and got into trouble at a "Holy Rollers" service he attended that evening.

So much attention had been given the case, His Honor having been bombarded with letters from law officers, chiefs of police and others from various parts of the province, that Judge Barry prepared a written judgment which he read this morning, upsetting the decision of Police Magistrate Limerick, who had dismissed the charge against King in the Fredericton police court. A fine of $50 and $10 costs was entered against King or one month in jail was the penalty Judge Barry named.

Under the prohibition act it is permissible to "brew" in a private dwelling, and it was claimed that the incident in question came under that provision, although the barn was situated fifteen rods or more from King's actual residence.

Colored chauffeur (on a dark night to passenger)—"Sense me, boss would you mind holdin' out yo' hand? Ah's gwine to turn de nex' corner."

A Sad Story.

Little Johnnie was sobbing as if his heart would break. The kind old lady stopped when she saw him.
 "And what are you crying for, my little man?" she inquired tenderly.
 "My sister's cat was drowned today," he sobbed.
 "How touching. And did you love your sister's cat so dearly?"
 "No; only father gave me such a beating for throwing it down the well."

A Fast Worker.

"Is that young nephew of yours getting used to his new position?"
 "I should say so. He's already finding fault with the way his boss runs the business."

NEW RICHMOND.
MEMORIAL SERVICE.
(By Margaret Grant MacWhirter).
A most impressive service was held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, New Richmond, P. Q., by the pastor, Rev. Alexander MacKay on Sabbath morning, Dec. 17th, 1922, the occasion being the unveiling of a memorial tablet to the memory of the late Sergeant Arthur Prentiss Campbell, M.M., son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Campbell of New Richmond.

The opening services were conducted in the usual manner. After the Lord's Prayer in union, psalm selections 21 was sung, followed by the reading of the Scriptures viz. 2 Tim. 4:1-8, and part of Hebrews 11; and prayer by the pastor. Hymn No. 54 was sung; it was the favorite hymn of the late Sergeant Campbell. "One Sweetly Solenn Thought" was touchingly rendered by the choir.

Rev. Mr. MacKay spoke from the words in Rev. 2:10 "Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life."

He began his sermon with an historical description of Smyrna and showed the peculiar appropriateness of the injunction given by the apostle from the fact that the city of Smyrna in Asia Minor had for centuries remained faithful to the Roman Empire and on no occasion had it revolted from its allegiance. Even on the city walls the motto had been inscribed. Again the promise in the text had special significance, as Smyrna was known as a city of life, and on the top of the hill at the rear of the city stood what was known as the "Garland."

Thus the apostle paid a compliment and enjoyed a duty.
Mr. MacKay pointed out in very convincing language the various relationships of life with the duties attached and showed that the condition of the world was dependent on the right performance of these duties whether in the home, society or the nation at large.

Again faithfulness, meaning fidelity meant putting the best effort into both secular and spiritual matters. While it is much more difficult to be faithful in small things it is by the faithful performance of the small duties that the great things of life are affected. This faithfulness in the little duties of life was very strongly emphasized; illustrations; the growth of a mighty oak from a little acorn, an influential man from a little boy, the church of the future nation in the homes of today, the great movement of the world began with Christ and his disciples.

He showed that God's way of measuring success is not by talent, money or ability, but by faithfulness. He also drew attention to the encouraging fact that in every congregation there were the faithful ones on whom dependence could be placed. What is more to be admired than faithfulness, and it always has its reward. Very earnestly he referred to those who in the Great War had responded to the call of duty and of God and been faithful even at the price of life.

Mr. MacKay remarked on the danger of forgetting how great had been the sacrifice made by those who had gone at duty's call, and felt that it would be well to hold a memorial service once a year, "Let Us Forget."
It was meet to erect memorials, but let no one forget that the best memorial was that of a true, good and upright life.

He said he believed that not many faced death day after day but made their peace with God. May we too be found faithful.
The tablet was unveiled by Mr. Cobley Campbell, M.M., a brother and returned soldier. Both brothers have won the Military Medal for bravery. The dedication was as follows:

"In the name of the Father, of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, I dedicate this memorial to the Glory of God and as a tribute to this noble and devoted life to whose memory it is set up."
In Loving Memory of Sergeant Arthur Prentiss Campbell, M. M.
16th Battery, C. E. F.
Died from Wounds Received at Cambrai, France, Oct. 1st, 1918.
Aged twenty-three years.

"Faithful Unto Death."
May the memory of his courage, fidelity and sacrifice and the nobility of the cause for which he gave his life, inspire us with the spirit of service and sacrifice in both and holy things."
Prayer having been offered by the pastor, the choir sang "Sometimes We'll Understand." Hymn 261 was sung and the Benediction pronounced, and so closed a service which will not soon be forgotten.

CARLETON.

Naturally.
The teacher had been reading about Canaan, the "land flowing with milk and honey."

"Now," she said to the class, "what do you think a land flowing with milk and honey would be like?"
"Please teacher," was the instant reply, "Sticky."

Campbellton, N. B., Dec. 21st, 1922.

WANNAMAKER AND

Frequently, in soliciting advertising, we have been informed by prospective space-users that advertising does not pay. On these occasions we have endeavored to prove to our informant that he was astray. In some instances success rewarded our efforts but sometimes we have failed to convince the prospective advertiser of the accuracy of our contentions. As small town people sometimes, our arguments are not as convincing as those of a "big gun".

To the dubious, we would like to cite a few facts about a world-famous business magnate and one who made few blunders. John Wannamaker, who was regarded by many as the world's greatest merchant was, from the beginning of his business career, an ardent believer in and an extensive user of "printer's ink." When the Wannamaker advertisements first began to appear in the daily papers they were so unprecedented in size and character that they astonished his rivals. He early recognized that advertising is absolutely essential to the development of a successful business and this policy he pursued to the end.

BOOZING BANQUETERS.

The St. John Times says: "At a banquet in Welland, Ont., this week at which some of the guests were delegates to the convention of the World League Against Alcohol, some of the other guests are alleged to have used liquor very freely, and the visitors and some banqueters are apparently in the same class. They have no sort of respect for the law."

To many impulsive people the above item may mean very little. But to all conscientious citizens of the Dominion offenses of this nature constitute a serious problem. It is this sort of thing that is constantly conspiring to undermine the best work of the temperance people and creating vast ill-will against prohibition in any form. It is also quickly utilized by the so-called "moderation" party and is a powerful weapon in their hands.

We agree with the Times but we prefer to place our opinion before the public in our own words. Banqueters—and others—who profess to be respectable citizens and yet brazenly demonstrate their disregard for the country's laws by making free and public use of intoxicating liquor are not in the same class as bootleggers. They are decidedly beneath them. And only themselves, looking down on the run-seller from the pinnacle of their own conceit, fail to realize the fact. Had they the necessary physical and moral courage they would, in all probability be engaged in the damnable traffic themselves.

A LOCAL NEED.

At the annual festival of the Caledonian Society of Restigouche, which took place a few weeks ago, a prominent member of the organization strongly advocated a town club and club quarters for local men. He stated it was often inconvenient for business men to entertain out of town friends or business colleagues at home or to confer with them at their hotel and pointed out that a town club would dispense with this problem.

There is no doubt, some truth in these remarks. A town club for the men would be a very nice thing for those who want it, but in many ways it would not be a very lucrative investment. The majority of the men who would make most frequent use of it are away from home quite enough as it is. There are obviously much more worthy ways in which to spend the surplus of local cash. One of these is a Y.M.C.A. Or, if that is beyond the pale of Campbellton's financial capabilities at the present time, then a club with library and gymnasium in connection for the boys—or for the young people as a whole.

No one will deny that the need for such an institution exists. That fact is too apparent. Every evening of the week dozens of young people roam the streets seeking amusement. If nothing wholesome offers they naturally drift to whatever offers, regardless of whether it is likely to do them good or ill. The leisure hours must be occupied with some activity or other. Youth cannot sit by the fireside every evening of the week. And too often, when time hangs heavy, young people cease to be particular how these idle hours are disposed of, so long as it is recreation.

For a short time we had vocational classes established here and it was hoped that a large number whose evenings are not especially occupied, would utilize this opportunity to promote themselves, each along his chosen line. Doubtless a large number would have if the chance had been a permanent one. But it no longer exists, so the need for wholesome recreation is more evident than ever.

If we are not in error a Y.M.C.A. movement of some kind was once started in Campbellton. For some reason or other it fell through. But there is no apparent reason why this undertaking cannot be revived. And there are multitudinous reasons to support the affirmative side of the question. Frequently we have been approached by some of the town's most promising young men with earnest requests to "start something" along this line.

With regard to the financial side of the undertaking the initial cost, which would be the heaviest, would not be great. The cost of up-keep should be secured with comparative ease. The advantages of such a club or organization would be eagerly sought after and few young people would object to contributing a liberal monthly or yearly fee in return for the privileges such an institution could offer them. Basketball games, swimming matches and various athletic entertainments could be made to yield a substantial income and, apart from this source of revenue, we know of several citizens who would be willing to give a generous yearly contribution.

It should be remembered that such an undertaking is not merely a sport movement. It is something much more pretentious. It would be a cultural force, morally and intellectually, as well as in a physical sense. As all intelligent persons will admit it would be a potential power for good in the community. The suggestion is at least worthy of serious and fair-minded consideration.

Fredericton, Dec. 16.—Lumber operations in the northern part of the province this year will yield a total cut of not less than four hundred thousand million feet and it may run as high as four hundred and fifty million feet, according to information gathered by The Glenier from official and semi-official sources.

A comprehensive survey of the situation has shown that generally speaking lumber operations are being carried on upon a scale that is easily twice as great as last year and that it is really impossible to accurately state full extent which operations may be reached this winter because men are still being sent into the woods where they are obtainable and the amounts which will be cut are thus being accordingly increased.

In addition to the large quantities of long lumber being taken out, as a result of the favorable market conditions, there is an almost unprecedented demand for laths from the United States at prices which are being maintained in spite of the growing output of pulpwood which has been piled along the railways and highways for as long as two years in some cases is being rapidly bought up and especially in the northern part of the province large quantities of new pulpwood are now being cut. There is also a large cut of railway ties, fully up to the average with present prices higher than a year ago.

SHOPPING ACTIVITIES.

Christmas shoppers are, this week, showing considerably more animation than last. Tuesday was a good day with many stores in spite of the disagreeably cold weather. Yesterday being much more pleasant proved a starter of the Christmas rush. Most of the remaining games have been postponed. More than this a large number of the bowlers seem to have lost interest as to the final outcome of the series. They should remember that Mr. Alexander has the opinion that never, as far back as they can remember, have the local merchants secured such varied and extensive supplies of distinctively good Christmas goods. This should be a potential factor in establishing some trade and eliminating much of the ordering from distant houses which seldom give greater value for similar cost.

THE BOWLING LEAGUE.

Owing to the varied activities of the approaching Christmas season the series of the local bowling league has been rather interrupted of late and most of the remaining games have been postponed. More than this a large number of the bowlers seem to have lost interest as to the final outcome of the series. They should remember that Mr. Alexander has the opinion that never, as far back as they can remember, have the local merchants secured such varied and extensive supplies of distinctively good Christmas goods. This should be a potential factor in establishing some trade and eliminating much of the ordering from distant houses which seldom give greater value for similar cost.

MOUNT ALLISON VS. CAMPBELLTON

The Mount Allison hockey squad will be here on Friday evening the 22nd inst., to cross sticks with our local team in the first clash of the season. The Mount 'A's are a strong and speedy aggregation of hockeyists and have just returned from a two weeks tour in the United States. So evidently this promises to be one of the best games of the season, and a treat all hockey enthusiasts should not miss. Hurry and complete your Xmas shopping and be on deck Friday evening for this promising contest.

A GIRL'S HOCKEY TEAM.

The local High School girls have organized a hockey team and have put in their first practice on Saturday afternoon. Judging from the speed of some of the players the new team promises to show fans some very good hockey this season. The high school girls have our congratulations. What we want now is two teams of town girls to make things interesting for the school girls. There should be ample hockey material among the fair sex here to make a good live Ladies Hockey League. Several small towns on the Gaspe Coast had good girl teams last winter and many fine contests and much fun resulted. Get busy girls and show the boys what kind of sports you are.

TEN YEARS FOR THEFT OF THIRTEEN CENTS

Two Hold-up Men in Chicago Given Long Sentences by Judge.

Chicago, Dec. 19—

Stealing thirteen cents proved unlucky for Wm. Horn and James Matthews, who must stay in the penitentiary for ten years. Both are hold-up robbers. They were convicted of holding up Ruth Korbitz, aged 16, threatening her with death if she made an outcry, and stealing thirteen cents, all the money she had. The pair had committed other robberies the same night, but the Korbitz holdup was the only one that could be traced unmistakably to them, and, on the strength of that, they were given ten-year sentences by Judge Hebel.

MOUNT ALLISON VS. CAMPBELLTON

Opening Clash of Season Set for Friday Night—Visitors Just Back From U. S. A.

The Mount Allison Hockey Squad will be here on Friday evening the 22nd inst to cross sticks with our local team in the season's first clash. The Mount A. team is reputed to be a strong and speedy aggregation and have just returned from a tour in the United States so this contest gives ample promise of being one of the season's best games.

N. S. PROFESSIONAL CLUBS UNITE

Sydney, N. S., Dec. 18.—Negotiations looking to the formation of a Nova Scotia Professional Hockey League were commenced between Cape Breton and the mainland over the week end. Chester Gregory, of New Glasgow, is the principal proponent of the scheme on the mainland and the idea is being received with much favor on the island.

The proposal is for a four team league to include New Glasgow, Stellarton, Glace Bay and Sydney. At the same time an effort is being made to organize another league consisting of Moncton, Amherst, Springhill and possibly Truro, the winners in these leagues to play off at the end of the season for the professional championship of the Maritime Provinces.

At present Stellarton and New Glasgow are members of the Independent League with Amherst and Moncton. Gregory informed Cape Breton promoters today that he would first have to consult with the other members of the Independent executive before he can give any definite assurance that the new circuit will become a reality.

BOSTON CANADIANS CONTINUE TO WIN

Boston, Mass., Dec. 18.—The Boston A. A. Saturday night fought their way to a 3 to 0 victory over the Montreal Nationals by superior teamwork. The Canadians went down to defeat by the same score as they lost to the Victorias Friday night.

In the first period R. Reynolds, for B. A. A., took a pass from Smith and scored and in the second period Reynolds scored again from a scrimmage in front of the net. Rice scored the third and final goal shortly afterwards on a pass from Reynolds.

The Canadian team fought hard in the last period but without avail. Pelletier starred for his team.

NEIL WILKIE TO PLAY FOR NEW GLASGOW CLUB

Neil Wilkie, one of the greatest puck chasers developed in the province, now located in Halifax, will leave shortly for New Glasgow to play with the Independents.

Wilkie, it is understood, also has offers from North Sydney, his home town.

INDEPENDENT LEAGUE SUGGESTED

St. John, N. B., Dec. 18.—Plans are under way for the formation of an independent hockey league in this section of the province, which will embrace St. John, Fredericton and St. Stephen, with the winners to play off with the winners of the other section of the independent league.

Although this project has not been definitely decided as yet, one of those interested said yesterday, he felt it would probably go through and the opening games would be played early in January.

There has been considerable agitation here in favor of an independent hockey team, Fred McLean, Tommy Miller of Marysville, Arthur Finamore and a number of others now outside the pale of amateurism being mentioned as well as several prominent amateurs who are willing to jump into the professional game.

ST. PATS DEFEATED CANADIENS 7 TO 2

Toronto, Dec. 18.—St. Patricks, though said to be "leg weary" after their long tour to the coast, scored a 7 to 2 victory over Canadians in the opening game of the National Hockey League on Saturday night.

Joint, the new Canadian player, stood out and scored both the invaders' goals, Roach gave another of his brilliant displays in goal. Dye scored four of the St. Pats' goals and was easily the best man on the ice. "Red" Stuart was unable to start because of an injured knee and Ken Randall combined with Cameron on the defence.

HAMILTON WINS LEAGUE OPENER FROM OTTAWA

Hamilton, Ont. Dec. 8.—Batting as though defeat meant elimination from the National Hockey League race, Hamilton defeated the Senators of Ottawa by 4 to 3 in a game which went three minutes overtime.

The Tigers have to thank Vernon Forbes, their net minder, for their victory, as Ottawa was the superior team. Broadbent, Denenny and Nighbor presented a much better forward game. Freshers was the outstanding player for the locals, getting one goal and paving the way for two others.

SKATING RACES AT MONCTON FEBRUARY 19TH AND 20TH

Dates for the international outdoor amateur speed skating circuit events were definitely fixed at a meeting of the members of the International Skating Union of America held here over the week-end. February 14th, 15th and 16th were decided on for the international championships scheduled for St. John, N.B., while Feb. 2 and 3 were set for the Canadian National seventh championships. Elimination events will be held at Chicago, January 26, 27 and 28. Other dates announced are Moncton, N. B., Feb. 19 and 20. Adirondack speed cup championships at Edinboro-Johnson City, Jan. 12' 13 and 14. Pittsburg, January 17, 18 and 19; Lake Placid, Feb. 8, 9 and 10 and Saranac Lake, January 30, 31 and Feb. 1.

As a result of the meeting the following amateur skaters were listed on the circuit: Russel Wheeler, Montreal; Gorman and Garnett, St. John; Richard Donovon, Elmira and Cochrane of Johnson City, N. Y.; William and Julius Sternmetz, Roy McWhirter, Fred Bungen and Harry Kosky, of Chicago; Gloster and Stephenson, Toronto; Porelberg of Cleveland; Joe Moore and Wm. Murphy, of New York; Bobby Fern, of Brooklyn; George Pickering, New Jersey; Chas. Jewtree and Val Bialas, Lake Placid, and Orla Green, Saranac Lake.

WILL BE BIG LUMBER CENTRE

Predicted That Campbellton Will Be Greatest Center in the Province.

Fredericton, Dec. 16.—Mr. Murchie who left last night for the North Shore to investigate conditions in the vicinity of Jaquet River and Nash's Creek in Restigouche county, and also Bathurst, predicted that Campbellton would shortly be the greatest lumbering center of the province. During the past shipping season, which has been a record one for the port of Campbellton, dealers have shipped three quarters of their stocks, some of which had been purchased a year or two ago, while in the Miramichi district the stock has been almost completely depleted about a third of the total. With the financial return from these sales and the present boom, lumber operators in these districts are carrying on larger operations.

Some Such Reason Surely. "Bad accident Jpd Jenkins had last week." "Didn't hear about it." "Smashed three of his toes when he was splittin' firewood." "G'wan! But how come he was at that job? The wife left him or something like that?"

Newport Islands, Que. The church was beautifully decorated by friends for the occasion. The Rev. A. J. Oakley, pastor of the church officiated. The bride who was unattended was given away by her father, she was attired in a brown crepe knit frock, trimmed with burnt orange and brown silken velour hat and wore a pearl necklace and a gold wrist watch, a gift of the groom. During the signing of the register Mr. Frederick Manger played the wedding march. A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Bertram left on the early morning train for Halifax, N. S., from which port they will sail on the 18th inst. by the S. S. Regina for Jersey, C. I. where they will spend the winter. Their many friends on the Gaspé coast wish them much happiness and prosperity in their new sphere of life.

It Works From Both Ends A local merchant upon whom we called recently gave us a first class talk upon "buying at home." We certainly agreed with him in all he said, and more too. The Graphic has always preached this doctrine, and lived up to it. But what of our local merchants? A genial solicitor for wrapping paper, paper bags, etc., had induced him to order his counter check books from him, "just to make up a good sized freight shipment." "Our local merchant clean forgot that our local printers could supply these counter check books at the same price. He sent out of town for them. But its a poor rule that won't work both ways.
