God's in his heaven, All's right with the world.
—(BROWNING.)

If you trust in God and yourself you can surmount every obstacle. Do not yield to restless anxiety. One must not always be asking what may happen to one in life, but one must advance fearlessly and bravely.
—(PRINCE BISMARCK.)

London, Monday Oct. 16.

—The story that Sir Oliver Mowat was in very poor health, set on foot by a Toronto Conservative journal, was promptly discredited by the public appearance of the Premier at Hamilton. There it was shown that he was in excellent trim both mentally and physically.

—Hugh John Macdonald, M. P. for Winnipeg, dislikes public life. In this he does not resemble his father, the late Conservative leader. Mr. Macdonald says he will resign as soon as a party candidate can be nominated to take his place. The Liberals should be able to carry the prairie capital for tariff reform if a vacancy occurs.

—Sleep conquered the senators at Washington who favored forcing a vote on the silver question. They were unequal to the task of maintaining a quorum until such time as the matter was disposed of. This is a distinct victory for the silver men, and points to the belief that some policy short of the unconditional repeal of the Sherman Act will yet have to be adopted.

—What a downfall there has been in the price of wheat! In October, 1891, Manitoba wheat on the Montreal market sold at $1 10, or 12 cents decline over the spring of that year. One year later the same description of wheat was worth 83 cents. Today it will bring 72 to 73 cents. A fall of 50 cents per bushel of No. 2 hard in two years represents a depreciation unparalleled in any other commodity. And even now there are doubts if the bottom has been reached.

—Mr. Foster is urged by the London Advertiser to buckle on his armor and enter the lists for the coming prohibition battle. Probably his inactivity means that he regards the plebiscite simply as a dress parade. —(Toronto Mail.)

Mr. Foster cannot so regard the plebiscite, unless he has once more changed his opinion on the subject. Only a year or two since he regarded a popular vote on the subject as the best possible means of acquiring the information necessary to definite action by Parliament. Why should he shirk working for it now?

—Let us sympathize with the Toronto people. They are again compelled to drink sewage water, through a leak in the supply pipe that passes through the bay. While the supply is obtained by way of the bay the Toronto water-drinkers will always be in danger of drinking more than a reasonable quantity of microbes. It is open to the consumer to cook them, of course, but who is there that regards microbes, either boiled or raw, as a choice article of diet?
How thankful Londoners ought to be that, with a perpetual supply of spring water, they enjoy immunity from the dangerous infusia that find their way into the Toronto water-pipes.

THE ONTARIO ELECTIONS.

Our city contemporary has become excited over the Ontario elections. It has been accustomed to having Dominion elections sprung on the country without warning, before the full term of the legislators had been served, and it has been all of a tremor lest Sir Oliver Mowat would follow the evil example. The Free Press must have been in blissful repose during the last session of the Legislature, or it would now know that Sir Oliver Mowat had assured the House that the Legislature would hold a session in 1894, as provided by law. Why this sudden pretense on the part of our contemporary that the Premier intended deliberately to allow the example set from Ottawa and break his pledge? The elections will no doubt be held next year, and as far as appearances go, with the usual result. We see no indication in favor of the contention that the unfounded and ever-shifting appeals to race and religious prejudices indulged in by Sir Oliver's opponents will be any more successful in 1894 than they were in 1891 or 1886, or 1882.

OUR HARD-BESET NEIGHBOR.

The London Free Press is an artful dodger.

It was pointed out in these columns that Sir John Thompson opposed the plebiscite because, as he alleged, it was un-British.
Thereupon, we have been able to show that almost every reform introduced into Canada was opposed by reactionary leaders under a similar pretext. Now our contemporary says that this exposure is equivalent to a statement on our part that we got everything that is good from the United States!

Let us briefly recapitulate.

Municipal institutions were opposed by the Conservative leaders because they were alleged to be copied from the United States; they said they were afraid that the township council would be a "sucking republic"!

Decimal currency was opposed because it would replace "£, s. d." with dollars and cents as in the United States!

The biographers of Hon. Alex. Mackenzie tell us that the ballot was opposed by the same men because it was un-British and American!

And, what may be scarcely credible to Canadians of this day, a reference to the Commons debates of 1872 proves that the Liberal proposal to hold all the elections on the same day was denounced by the Conservatives as un-British!

For ourselves, we favor all reforms that shall enable the people to better rule themselves, no matter from what country they may come, and no slanders that our city contemporary may print, in order to befog an issue, will move us to turn aside from our purpose. We endorse the plebiscite, as we believe do the vast majority of the people. We did so long before its adoption became an issue. We see nothing in the objection to it that the system has not been adopted in Great Britain.

For, admirable though many British institutions undoubtedly are, and progressive though the greater center of Anglo-Saxon civilization has been, we hold that in some respects—namely that of local self-government and in our liquor law legislation—we have gone ahead of the motherland. The plebiscite is another step in advance. Our contemporary opposes it because Sir John Thompson's plans do not fall in with it; but it has come to stay.

GETTING READY FOR A NEW ERA OF PROSPERITY.

Those who fancy the present depression in the United States is other than temporary, are not in accord with Mr. Francis Wayland Glen, whose powerful and versatile pen so frequently adds to the rays of that brightest of New York journals, the Sun. This is how it strikes Mr. Glen:

To the Editor of the Sun:—Since 1860 we have readjusted, at great cost, the labor system of sixteen States, which was disorganized by the abolition of slavery; paid more than $5,000,000,000 as the money cost of the civil war, expended immense sums upon education, the arts, sciences, and organized charities; created and established upon a firm basis an industrial system which is the wonder of the world, enlarged and diversified the field for the employment of skilled labor, and increased its rewards; encouraged the application of mental power in production and distribution and in the economical expenditure of human force, laid the foundation for a navy commensurate with the possibilities and needs of our rapidly growing foreign trade, developed an internal or domestic commerce far exceeding in value and tonnage that of any other nation, invested large sums in promoting the development of our vast mineral resources, created and established a national banking system which has the confidence of our wisest and most experienced financiers, restored and raised the credit of the nation in the financial centers of the world to the highest rank, constructed the most complete and extensive telegraph and telephone systems known to man, established and developed a daily press without a rival in power and influence for good in any country, more than doubled our population, nearly quadrupled the market value and earning power of our national resources, enormously increased the ability of our people to produce the necessities, comforts and luxuries of life; subjected, directed and employed the elements and forces of nature for the service of man to a greater extent and in a larger field than any other people, and constructed and equipped at a cost of $10,000,- 000,000 nearly 150,000 miles of railway.

With our financial, commercial, industrial, educational and political institutions firmly established and directed by a higher average intelligence in the future than in the past, with greater freedom of individual thought and action, and the causes most likely to disturb the harmonious working of all the parts for the general good removed, what may we not accomplish as a nation during the coming 30 years for the welfare of the human race and the promotion of self-government?

FRANCIS WAYLAND GLEN.

AN EXPLODED THEORY.

There has been a decrease in the exports from Canada to Great Britain during the last nine months of over 17 per cent, though the imports thence showed an increase of 3 per cent. The figures are those of the British Board of Trade. The decline embraced a large number of articles —wheat, butter, cheese, eggs, fish, cattle, sheep, bacon, hams. The theory that the British market would absorb more of our production while the McKinley tariff lasted has not been borne out. —(Toronto Monday Times.)

Great Britain will take all the Canadian products we choose to send to her on one condition: We must take world's prices in exchange. Products have first to be transported across the Atlantic and next to take their chances in worldwide competition, while the sellers are handicapped because they have to pay a heavy toll at the Canadian seaboard on the British products that inevitably they must accept in exchange.
What Canadians need is ability to trade as freely as possible not only with Great Britain, but with every other country that is willing to buy our wares.

NEARLY BURIED ALIVE!

A Baby in Toronto Awakes in Its Coffin—Prematurely Born and Buried—An Inquest.

TORONTO, Oct. 12.—William Maton is a produce dealer living at Fairbank village, on the old Vaughan plank road. On the morning of Oct. 8 his wife was prematurely delivered of a child. Dr. P. H. Bryce, of the Provincial Board of Health, was in attendance. He thought the child was still born, and, wrapping it in a cloth, placed it in a box and nailed the cover down.
It was 1 a.m. when this was done. At 10:30 Maton took the box to Prospect Cemetery, in this city, for burial, but Superintendent Pinder refused to bury it, as Dr. Bryce's certificate of death was written in lead pencil. Maton returned to his home with the body and secured a proper certificate, and then proceeded to the cemetery again. The superintendent's assistant received the box and placed it under a table. It remained there for half an hour, when sounds were heard in the box. It was opened, and the baby was found to be alive. The infant was removed immediately, and was given in charge of Dr. Page. It was given every attention, but died at 2 o'clock next morning. The body has since been interred at Prospect Cemetery. The facts known to County Constable Burns and Coroner Johnstone, and it was decided to hold an inquest, which took place at 3 p.m. yesterday.
After more than an hour of deliberation, the jury returned its verdict, to the effect "that the infant Maton did die, being of premature birth. That under other and more careful treatment at time of birth the professional medical attendant might have been preserved, and that it is doubtful whether the child could have lived to grow up."

THE CIVIC FINANCIERS.

Col. Clark's Proposition Practically Thrown Out—Labor Men Insist on Ten Hours a Day for Street Railway Employees—L. and E. S. R. Men Want Pay.

The finance committee of the council met Friday night and disposed of its business in one hour. It looked as though Col. Clark's offer for an electric railway would again be discussed, but such was not the case. The London Street Railway's offer was also mentioned, but it was left over for a future meeting.

The McClary Manufacturing Company sent a communication to the supply of water. They expressed their willingness to pay either by a fixed rate or meter, but their fixed rate of $200 a year will not expire for two years. On motion of Ald. Parnell, it was decided to recommend to the council that the company be supplied at a fixed rate of 5 cents per 100 cubic feet, provided they supply their own meters or rent them.
Carried.

Mr. Joseph Marks, on behalf of the Trades and Labor Council, waited on the committee, and said that at the last meeting of that body it had been decided to ask the committee to recommend to the council in the granting of an electric street railway franchise they stand by the agreement of last year's council in regard to the ten hours' agreement. Members of the Trades and Labor Council had been informed by the manager of the railway that the employees would not be compelled to work overtime only in case of necessity, and they would then be paid accordingly.

A petition from the union of the Salvation Army was read, asking for a grant in aid of the Rescue Home. During the year 26 girls had been taken care of, twenty of them being supplied with good situations, while six turned out unsatisfactory. It was agreed to recommend to the council that $50 be granted.

Col. Clark's offer was then brought up, but neither the council nor his solicitor was present and Ald. Parnell and Welford moved that on account of the unsatisfactory nature of the present proposition it be recommended to the council that no action be taken. Carried.

C. A. Kingston wrote, inclosing the resolution of the council referring all papers in the proposition of the London Street Railway for an electric franchise to No. 1 committee, but no action was taken until the chairman should confer with the manager and ascertain whether they were going to stand by their old offer or submit a new one.

Messrs. Stevens & Burns' communication in reference to local improvements was referred back to the engineer for further information.

Ald. Parnell called attention to the condition of the sidewalks on Langarth and other streets in South Lambeth, which he said was disgraceful. The engineer will attend to it.

Parke & Purdon presented a petition in behalf of certain workmen who claimed to have been employed on the L. and E. S. R. since the time the road was in the hands of the syndicate. They complained that no money had been paid them, and now asked that their wages be paid out of the $25,000 forfeit money. The matter was laid over for one month.

The applications of Mrs. Ann Connors, Bridget Moran and Sarah Johnson were filed.

Present: Ald. John Monte (chairman), Parnell, Welford, James Fitzgerald, Mayor Eccrey and Secretary Pope.

RADWAY'S PILLS,

Always Reliable.

Purely Vegetable.

The Great Liver and Stomach Remedy

An Excellent and Mild Cathartic.

PERFECTLY TASTELESS!

Over Forty Years in Use and

Never Known to Fail.

Possess properties the most extraordinary in restoring health. They stimulate to healthy action the various organs, the natural conditions of which are so necessary for health, grapple with and neutralize the impurities, driving them completely out of the system.

RADWAY'S IS A COMPOUND PILL.

One of their ingredients will attack the LIVER, another will rouse up the BOWELS, another will attack the SKIN, and still another hurry up the KIDNEYS.
This is the beauty of their effective operation; whilst they have a specific action on the Liver, they have a reflex of reflexive action on this same organ by their other specific effects on the other organs of the system; whilst they force with the one hand, they persuade with the other, till all the organs are brought to harmonious action, and perform their required functions.

Drive out all diseases, from whatever cause they may be making inroads on your system; delay no longer, the remedy is at hand; a dose or two will convince you of the truth.

To thousands now suffering, we say, you have the remedy in your own hands. Radway's is a well-known pill, containing the choicest of extracts taken from the VEGE-TABLE KINGDOM ONLY, compounded in the most scientific proportions, which were found by Dr. Radway to be the best adapted to stimulate and restore to healthy action the disordered organs. They contain no minerals or metals or their salts—nothing poisonous enters into their composition, and they are perfectly safe to take.

To those who are looking for a

Health Restorer

We cannot too strongly recommend a well-tried, safe and efficient remedy such as is presented in Radway's Pills.

Sick Headache, Female Complaints, Indigestion, Bilious-

Thanksgiving Day in Canada has been fixed for Thursday, Nov. 23.

Miss Lillian F. Empey has gone to New York on a two-month's visit.

Two car loads of citizens left for Chicago on the Grand Trunk on Saturday night.

The water in the north branch of the river is higher than it has been this summer, having risen about a foot since Friday night.

Mr. James Stanley ships on Monday next his eighth load of fat hogs this season to the Canadian Packing Company, of London. (Lancet Record.)

Mr. Jas. Hodgins, V.S., of London, brother of Mrs. G. Hodgins, is dangerously ill of typhoid fever in London Hospital. (Lancet Record.)

Mr. H. J. Milburn, wholesale druggist of Dundas, paid a flying visit to his sister, Mrs. John Siddons, "Ferebank," South London.

The running competition between the fire teams of the Grand Trunk in this city was spoiled by wet weather on Saturday, and they will probably be held on Saturday night.

Sunday's traffic over the G. T. P., was something enormous. No. 1 went through in the morning in sixteen seconds. Over 25 fair trains passed through the city up to midnight.

The case of Jonathan Flaxen, who charges John French with libel, will be tried before Squire Smyth on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Both the parties hail from Canada.

Justice Falconbridge, Charles Moss, Q.C., B. B. Oster, Q.C., and W. R. McEre-Meredith, Q.C., who were in the city yesterday, proceed to St. Thomas to-day to attend the Egin Fall Assizes.

Thomas Jamieson, a vagrant, who is well known in police circles, had just been discharged from the hospital a day or two ago, and was wandering around in London yesterday, when Constable Ward met him and again put him behind the bars.

An entertainment, consisting of tableaux and musical programme, to be given by the Church Guild, Hyde Park, Friday, Oct. 20, promises to be a great success. The Misses Nixon and Routledge have charge of the tableaux, and will no doubt do all in their power to please their audience.

Rev. Thomas S. Johnson, of Brantford, preached two practical and impressive sermons yesterday in Adelaide Street Baptist Church. The reverend gentleman's occasional visits to London are always a source of genuine pleasure, and doubtless of spiritual profit—to the members of his former pastorate.

The three Freeman brothers, George, William Henry and Alexander, will be taken to Kingston Penitentiary this morning at 8:40 by Sheriff's Officer John A. Graham. Since the sentence has been passed upon them they have been visited by none of their relations, and it is doubtful whether they yet know that they are to be taken so soon. The unfortunate men expected to be removed last week.

The anniversary services of the Ashkin Street Methodist Sunday school yesterday were largely attended. The children on an enlarged choir platform and their singing were features of each service. Rev. Thomas Cullen, pastor, preaching a special sermon to the children in the morning, and in the evening Rev. Mr. Philip preached on the subject, "Train up a child in the way he should go." Mr. T. Brenton addressed the afternoon meeting.

The following is from the Reading (Pa.) Times, of Thursday last, and concerns a former London boy: "Frank W. Lilly, of the Eagle Pencil Company, New York City, was a visitor at the secretary's office of the School Board yesterday. He has opportunities for noting progress in school management, and the advancement made all along the line of education and educational appliances throughout the country, and speaks of this city as being in the front rank in every department. The penand pencils now used in the public schools of this city, and in the Court House, row offices were introduced by Mr. Lilly."

Mr. Thomas S. Cole, of Toronto, Provincial secretary of Young Men's Christian Association, a speaker of considerable fluency and spirit, addressed a meeting in Victoria Hall yesterday afternoon. Mr. Cole's remarks were devoted to the power, inspiration and benefit conferred upon individual lives by God's Word. His successive points were fittingly illustrated from characters in Bible history, profane tradition and personal experience. "Richelieu" To-Night.

While the majority of theater-goers are ignorant of the fame recently created by Walker Whitehead, the tragedian, in New York city, yet the universal indifference of those who have witnessed his many performances have been so enthusiastic that his integrity as an actor can hardly be questioned. He is said to be endowed with a rich musical voice that is moments of passion becomes awful in its intensity; but in the more tender moments of the characters he essays the sweetness and music of his voice are simply phenomenal. His Hamlet is remarkable for its grace and intellectuality. His Richelieu, the very thesis of the character of Hamlet, is so grand in its conception that one marvels at the great power given to this man, who, on two consecutive nights, represents youth and crafty old age—the mad prince and the keen, bitter statesman. This tragedian will occupy the stage of the Grand Opera House to-night and to-morrow night, and will personate the characters of Richelieu and Hamlet.

ANNUAL CHURCH SERVICE

Of the Canadian Foresters—Sermon by Rev. Joseph Philip.

The weather yesterday was by no means favorable for a church parade, but despite this a large number of the members of the Canadian Order of Foresters assembled at their rooms on Richmond Street, and from there, headed by the Seventh Band, wended their way to the Centennial Methodist Church, where the annual sermon was preached by Rev. Joseph Philip. The various courts represented in the line of march were: Middlesex, No. 118; Robin Hood, No. 50; Delaware, No. 7; Victoria, No. 4; London City, No. 226; Locksley, No. 201; Wolsley, No. 101; Orient, No. 331; Belrose, No. 54; Brick, No. 382. These were under the direction of Marshals W. A. and Ed. R. K.

The center of the church had been reserved for the members of the order, and was comfortably filled. In a few introductory remarks Mr. Philip extended them a most cordial welcome. "I think," said he, "that I voice the sentiments of the people when I say that the importance of benevolent societies is recognized by all for the great work now being done by them extends throughout the length and breadth of our land. I for one wish them all success in everything in which they are engaged."

For the subject of his discourse the reverend gentleman took "Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus," contained in the second chapter of Philippians and the fifth verse.

"During my remarks this afternoon," said Mr. Philip, "I will hold Christ up as an example for the brethren during their daily life. His life was devoted to the welfare of humanity, there being one aim which was his view during his entire period upon this earth; that was to make atonement for the sins of the world. To do this it was necessary that his life should be given upon the cross which was borne with suffering with the desire to accomplish that aim. To be like Christ it is imperative that you should study the Bible. We should also endeavor to exercise a spirit similar to that of our Saviour, and help those in need. There also was a sacred cord in his life, and in that cord was a thread of love, and one which could be separated from him. It was the leading trait in his nature, and without this love it was impossible to have a right mind, love being a divine requirement of all right living persons. Another thread in the cord is that of silver, for purity. First of all, Christ was spotless. Not a break is to be found in his character; he bore the insults of the Jews; he was nailed to the cross, stoned, cast into prison, and yet there was no murmur. For purity to reign within us our hearts must be free of transgression. Another evil of which we must free ourselves is the liquor traffic—the curse of the present century, and the chief cause of crime. Again in the life of Christ was the golden thread of humility, in which he was clothed, as may be seen from the fact that he placed himself among the most degraded of the classes; he placed himself with the apostles, and termed himself as the chief of sinners. Lastly, we have the purple thread of sympathy. On all persons he had compassion, the leprosy were fed, and the sick were healed."

At the conclusion of the sermon the collection was taken up, which will be given to the Protestant Orphan's Home. The music was furnished by the choir, and was of excellent character.
