

KING ABLE TO CARRY ON AND IS LIKELY TO DO SO

Graham Sees No Change In Premiers, Local Opinion Differs

MR. DENNIS WONDERS ABOUT IT

And So Does Mr. White, Although He Is Feeling Very Well This Morning, Thank You!

Mr. White was walking briskly down town this morning after a night of carefree rest when he saw Mr. Dennis studying the bulletin boards in front of The Advertiser building. He immediately crossed the road and seized Mr. Dennis by the arm.

"Well, well, my dear Mr. Dennis, it's very pleasant to see you on a fine morning like this, and looking so well too."

"You seem to be feeling remarkably well yourself, Mr. White, and I must hasten to congratulate you both upon your evident good health and the glorious triumph of yesterday."

"Tut, tut, Mr. Dennis."

"Not at all, Mr. White. It was an inspiring evening, I assure you. I was at home by the fire, you know, but Mr. Lawson telephoned me every few minutes. I got quite heated about it."

"The fire, you mean, or—"

"Didn't need Mr. Dennis."

"Oh no, I think it was the excitement, although I must say that it looks as though you didn't need me at all. Perhaps it's as well I did resign."

"Well, Mr. Lawson has been most faithful, Mr. Dennis. His services to the party have been invaluable. I almost feel that I should resign and give him my seat, but of course I know he wouldn't take it. He has no political ambitions."

"No, of course not, Mr. White. By the way, I thought we did not do so well in Western Ontario. Something seemed to be lacking. Mr. Elliott's victory in West Middlesex, for example, is most unfortunate and there are six others. I fear there has been too much Liberal influence in this district."

"Poor Mr. Lesueur."

"Yes, yes, Mr. Dennis. West Middlesex is indeed a blot on our escutcheon and West Lambton, with that fellow Goodson beating my dear friend Mr. Lesueur, is disgraceful."

"I suppose, Mr. White, the Western Ontario seats may prove to be the blockade between Mr. Meighen and the premiership? It looks far from certain to me."

"Well to tell the truth, Mr. Dennis, I don't like it either. It seems quite probable that this fellow King will continue as premier. It's a very unfortunate situation."

"There seems to be little use in Mr. Meighen trying to form a government if he is asked, Mr. White. He would be like you during the last parliament, sort of help."

"Yes, it would be very difficult."

"Yes, I am afraid we would be beaten on a vote in the house. We shall not be able to increase the tariff and Mr. Meighen will not get much chance to do anything about selling the C. N. R."

"The Outlook is Dark."

"How very unfortunate, Mr. White, I suppose it means ruin. If we can not increase the tariff we shall go on with these terrible hard times you've been talking about—factories closing, people leaving, business failing, highest taxes in the world. Dear me, it looks very bad."

"Yes—yes, Mr. Dennis. Well, I must be off. I'm in a great hurry."

"Where are you going, Mr. White, in such a hurry?"

"Oh off to the factory, you know. I must get some more men there right away. We are going ahead with that extension in fine style this morning."

"Oh, but Mr. White, I thought—"

"Well good-bye, Mr. Dennis."

COL. MITCHELL ENTERS PLEA OF NOT GUILTY

Associated Press Despatch.
Washington, Oct. 30.—Having lost every preliminary effort to halt the court-martial proceedings against him, Col. William Mitchell today pleaded not guilty of the charges against him and informed the court he was ready to stand trial.

His plea was entered, and the trial actually got under way after the court had rejected the last of a long list of objections based on the failure of the prosecution to furnish a bill of particulars of the charges against Col. Mitchell.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE?
Above is Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, leader of the Conservative party, who, although he has the largest group, may not be called upon to form a government as he will lack control of parliament.

SILK TRAVELLER LOSES SAMPLES

Six Suitcases Removed From Automobiles Stored in Garage.

Special to The Advertiser.

Listowel, Oct. 30.—Between 12 o'clock midnight Tuesday and 7:30 a.m. Wednesday a robbery was committed at Fletcher & Nelson's garage, Wallace street, when six suitcases containing samples of novelty silk knitted goods were stolen from the car of Charles E. Yorick, a traveller, of Toronto.

When Mr. Fletcher entered the garage in the morning he saw that the door of the stable at the rear of the garage had been forced and a window between the two buildings opened. Mr. Yorick at once notified Chief Joseph Wilson of town and also the provincial police. As yet no clue has been discovered.

The fiery cross, supposedly of the Ku Klux Klan, was seen burning in the Listowel athletic park Monday evening, and as yet it is not known who put it there, who belong to the organization, or if there is any organization here. It was seen by a number of citizens to be burning brightly between 10:30 and 11 o'clock.

MUNCEY INDIANS PLAN DANCE FOR THIS EVENING

Great preparations are being made for the Ontario Council hall. A special orchestra has been secured, and residents of the reserve have been preparing for the big Halloween Indian dance tonight in the special costumes for the occasion for several weeks.

Constable R. E. Nelson of the R. C. M. P. will be among those present, and will keep both eyes open for "Raisin Jack," the favorite intoxicating beverage on the reserve for some months past.

KING NEED NOT RESIGN; HAS RIGHT TO CONTINUE AND TEST WILL OF HOUSE

Constitutional Authority Says
Premier Is Justified—His Resignation Cannot Be Forced.

HAS MARGIN OF ONE

Meighen Likely To Have 122 Seats, With 123 Against Him—Outlook Is Precarious.

Special to The Advertiser.

Ottawa, Oct. 30.—Premier King need not tender his resignation to the governor-general, nor can the governor-general call upon him to do so, Mr. King is quite justified in finding a new seat and in carrying on his government until parliament meets, and the will of the new house of commons is tested.

This is the statement of an authority on constitutional procedure, whose opinion is regarded as important. On the basis of such opinion the probability is that Mr. King will continue as prime minister, and that he will appoint new ministers to replace the eight members of his cabinet who, with himself, met personal defeat yesterday. Some of the defeated ministers may obtain new seats, but undoubtedly new faces would appear if appointments are made.

When parliament meets the first move will probably be a test of the house. If no changes occur in the present standing the Liberal-Progressive-Independent total seems likely to have a margin of one. Present indications are that there will be 122 Conservative members, with a total of 123 on the other side, composed of 98 Liberals, 22 Progressives and 3 Independents. This would mean that Mr. Meighen could not control the confidence of the house, and that Mr. King's margin would be precarious.

Conservative opinion is that Mr. King will resign, and that Mr. Meighen will form a government to struggle through the next session and avoid another immediate election. The contrary opinion, however, and the apparent probability seems to be stronger, and justifies the belief that Mr. King will continue in power.

Premier King today has denied personally any statement or rumor indicating that he will resign. Beyond that he will say nothing.

CONSERVATIVE OPINION.

Special to The Advertiser.

By Staff Reporter.

Ottawa, Oct. 30.—The almost certainty that there will be no new election at once, but that Hon. Arthur Meighen will form a temporary government is the view of prominent Conservatives here who have had experience before in cabinet making.

"The first place," the country doesn't want another election. It is not only costly, but it upsets business. Of course, there is the possibility that a new election may be necessary."

"But, it seems to me, that the Conservative leader will form some sort of government to carry on till the end of the session, upon the understanding that there will be an election then."

"There certainly doesn't seem to be any possibility of Mr. King being able to carry on. In the first place, eight of his cabinet ministers have been defeated. They're out, and where can they find a seat in Ontario, Ontario doesn't want them."

Meighen's Statement.

"Look at the situation another way. The three groups, Liberal, Progressive and Labor may possibly outnumber the Conservatives, but the ideals of these three groups are so different. How can they coalesce? There are the Liberals from Quebec, who nearly all want a high tariff, and there are the people from the west, on the other hand, who don't want the tariff. They are obsessed."

PAINLEVE WILL TACKLE FINANCE

French Premier Will Sidetrack Debt to U. S. Unless Other Issues Cleared.

Associated Press Despatch.

Paris, Oct. 30.—Premier Painlevé, having taken over in his newly formed cabinet the portfolio of finance from which Joseph Caillaux was deposed by the resignation of the ministry, is prepared forthwith to take up the complicated financial problems of the country as well as political and military issues.

It is evident that the question of France's debt to the United States is to be sidetracked for the present by M. Painlevé while he juggles the tangled skein of France's other debts and financial complications.

While he has not made any statement to this effect, it is asserted that he regards the United States debt question of less pressing importance than the financial problems at home.

ELECTION PARADE LED BY THRESHING-OUTFIT

Unique Celebration Marks the Close of Voting Day in Sarnia.

One of the most unique election celebrations reported since the results of the balloting became known, comes from Sarnia where W. T. Goodson, Liberal, defeated the Conservative R. V. Lesueur, who sat in the last house.

When it was conceded that the Liberal had carried the seat, a parade, the usual feature of a West Lambton election, was instituted. Led by a tractor-drawn threshing machine, the merry-makers proceeded through the downtown streets, while open house was declared in all the cafes, in each of which the member-elect spoke shortly to the diners.

Whether the threshing machine symbolized the candidate, who manufactures these implements, or whether it denoted the "threshing" received by the Conservative standard-bearer, was uncertain, but that it was singularly appropriate either way seemed to be the general consensus of opinion.

Liberals of the St. Clair river riding are elated over their victory and over the fact that they have once more put Lambton West in the Liberal ranks after its sole deviation since confederation.

ELGIN COUNTY PIONEER DIES IN PORT STANLEY

Matthew Payne Came to Port to Construct First Breakwater.

Matthew Payne, a member of a pioneer family of Elgin county, died this morning at his home in Port Stanley, on his 82nd birthday.

He came to Port Stanley in 1859 with his father, Alfred Payne, to construct the first breakwater in the port.

Early in life he lost his arm and took up telegraph operating at the village postoffice.

For half a century his figure was a familiar one to residents of Port Stanley and to summer visitors.

He retired from active service a number of years ago and his health has failed year by year.

The deceased man was a member of Port Stanley United church.

Surviving are his wife, two sons and two daughters: Ernest of Winnipeg, Douglas of Welland, Miss Maude Payne at home, and Mrs. J. Ferguson, Southold, and two brothers and one sister.

Free Gas Until Christmas Is Wager Won On Election

Bobbed Hair, Stovepipe Cleaning and Dishwashing Involved in Local Mixup.

GALLERIES MIRTHFUL

"Tis won? Not yet. Why all the cheek? You made the freak Election bet."

Comic opera stalked through the country today, and not all the players who were forced to the depths of ludicrous ignominy escaped the mocking eyes of a fun-loving public. London had its full share of grotesque election wagers and this morning the lawful antics of the losers drew small but mirthful galleries in many sections of the city.

In East London a store awning rolled up and down and up and down for an hour. Some thought that a meticulous merchant was striving to get all the creases out of the canvas, but the truth leaked out that he was being penalized for losing his bet that Colbert would win.

Peanut rolling, dish washing, free gasoline, stovepipe cleaning, and bobbed hair are all involved in the local mixup, according to reports to date.

There is the case of the north-end motorist who has the privilege of filling his auto tank with gas as often as he likes from now until Christmas; the oil station man bet on King.

One barber shop will shear the long tresses of a young woman who will be protesting silently all the while that the operation is proceeding. Such was the penalty for wagering that Allan McDougall would defeat J. C. Elliott, K.C., in West Middlesex.

The peanut pushing act was staged at Downs and Ontario streets, Stratford, at 12:15 today, and, according to reports, it drew one of the biggest crowds in the district.

One city business man, who lives in South London, hates dishwashing but he placed too much faith in the wiles of Patenaude in Quebec and his wife will have a helper for the next month.

Money is not subjected to such unusual whims and the bulk of silver and bills which went on wagers today this morning did so as straight coin of the realm.

CATHERINE CALVERT, actress and widow of Paul Armstrong, was married this week to Col. George A. Carruthers, wealthy sportsman of Montreal.

Printer's Error Creates Stir

Canadian Press Despatch.
St. John, N. B., Oct. 29.—Some 5,000 to 10,000 official ballots for today's election in St. John-Albert were printed in those ballots he is named "Robert" instead of Walter. That is the early morning election sensation here and it has been the cause of much scurrying about and conferring. The ballots were part of a 54,000 order printed by a local firm for the returning officer. The printer's error was found about 9 o'clock last night. The returning officer, J. C. Berrie, sent word to all deputies in the 154 polling booths notifying them not to use the misprinted ballots.

UNIQUE TRIMMING MADE OF FRINGE

Mannish Topcoat and Muffler Completes Fall Wardrobe—Oxfords Popular.

New York, Oct. 30.—Whether or not women today stay on the fringe of society, the fringe stays on them. This type of ornamentation is coming back into popularity again in no uncertain way. Instead of being made only of silk or wool as formerly was the case, fringes now are frequently made of metallic threads in gold and silver. These form unique ornamentations in connection with the gorgeous fabrics now so popular.

No wardrobe for fall is entirely complete without a mannish tailored topcoat of the worsted or tweed materials. And no such skirt is complete without its accompanying muffler. Bright color combinations set off the sober shades of the coats. Many of the mufflers are monogrammed in material of a contrasting hue, cut out and sewn on one end of the scarf.

The newest evening frocks just imported from Paris are worthy of an endearing diminutive. Certainly they are dear and certainly they are diminutive. One model is in a combination of black and gold and the other is in black and silver. This is decorated with paillettes in cerise. It has practically no back beyond a pair of cerise shoulder straps and the skirt is extremely short. Its hem is deeply scalloped so that at certain points it does not reach the knee.

No type of shoe has yet been found to replace the Oxford for sports wear. The newest English model of such a type has a heel flat, medium high, and the lacing is concealed by a wide fringed tongue. It is made in oter and gray suede, and costs in the neighborhood of $17 a pair, plus duty.

Evening muffs, as now worn, need a steam-heating arrangement. Most of them are made of a yard and a half of net and a half-dozen curled ostrich feathers. Sometimes they are of gold net and lace to match the evening frock, if that happens to have gold as its dominant color note.

THANKOFFERING SERVICE.

Thamesford, Oct. 29.—The Kintore Day Star mission band held its annual thankoffering service in Chalmers church basement on Saturday afternoon, with the members of the W. M. S. and the Father Light mission band as guests. The president, Miss Bessie Henderson, occupied the chair, Miss Dorothy Tye read the Scripture lesson. A reading was given by Miss Dorothy Sims and Miss Verna Riddell sang a solo.

Miss Ross, a missionary who is home at Alisa Craig from Round Lake Indian boarding school, gave a wonderfully inspiring address on her work. She illustrated her talk with stories about some of the 90 boys and girls who are enrolled in the school. After the address Miss Jennie and Nora McDonald sang and Mrs. Cornell of London, who accompanied Miss Ross, sang My Ain Country in a beautiful voice.

Seven of the ten Liberals elected in Ontario were contesting Western Ontario ridings. Ridings along Lake Huron, without exception, voted against Meighen policies, while those along Lake Erie voted for protection. Four Western Ontario Liberals were elected in three-cornered contests. Others made the mark in two-man fights. Five of the Liberal members for Western Ontario are now in the federal house, while W. D. Euler in North Waterloo and James Malcolm in North Bruce are now amongst the veterans. Mr. Euler's election was one of the safest bets in the whole contest, while that of Mr. Malcolm was generally assured early in the campaign, though a hard battle was fought. The new members are a particularly fine type of representatives. F. G. Sanderson retains the Liberal support of South Perth by a substantial majority. Thomas McMillan won South Huron from the Progressives, who were represented by Mr. McMillan's brother, Robert J. J. Merner, Conservative, ran second in the contest. The election of W. T. Goodison in West Lambton was the only gain in Canada that the Liberals made from Conservative ranks. Dr. Hall was victorious in South Bruce, an important gain from the Progressives. J. C. Elliott, K.C., won the three-cornered fight in West Middlesex, formerly held by the Progressives.

OPINIONS ARE VARIED ON NEXT POLITICAL MOVE

In London, and I think we ought to be well satisfied." One of the first issues to be faced in the situation which has developed at Ottawa as a result of the general election, he pointed out, is whether or not Mackenzie King, who was defeated in his own riding, can secure a seat in time to face the house when the new parliament is summoned.

With this problem disposed of, Mr. Little believes that Mr. King will likely be asked to carry on the government, in which case he thinks the prime minister will be in very much the same position as he was in the last house. It may be possible for him to carry on, but the lack of a clear majority will be a constant source of embarrassment. "I really don't see any way out of it, except another general election shortly," Mr. Little commented.

"I certainly think that Mr. Little is to be heartily congratulated upon the showing he made in yesterday's election," stated Jared Vining, prominent local barrister, in commenting upon the result of the federal contest in this riding. "I also feel like congratulating him on the clean campaign he waged, although this was only to be expected in a candidate of Mr. Little's character."

"As for the general result of the campaign throughout the dominion, I think it is a matter for regret that no party has a clear majority. It is hard to foresee what will happen, but I imagine that the present situation will result in another general election in the near future."

James Gray was also among those who thought the showing made by Mr. Little was deserving of high praise. "He not only made a good run, but his campaign was free from personalities of any sort. There was a most satisfactory absence of mudslinging on the part of all three parties."

Sees Another Election.

Asked for an opinion on the outcome of the general campaign, Mr. Gray was doubtful if Mr. Meighen would be able to carry on a government even if asked to form one. "Mr. King had a very hard time of it at the last session, although he had a majority of one over both other parties. This Mr. Meighen would not have. On the other hand, if Mr. King attempts to carry on with the help of the Progressives, his lack of a majority will be a serious handicap. It looks very much as though another general election in the near future is inevitable."

Arthur Mould, ex-Labor candidate in London, stated to The Advertiser this morning that from a Labor standpoint, the two seats held by Laborites put Labor in the best position they have ever been in. He believes this in view of the fact that either party will only be able to function by the fusion of the Progressives, and that Labor will be the balance of the working majority.

Mr. Mould expressed the hope that the government should carry on, as Mr. King would be better man than Meighen in view of that fact and that the government would have the whole-hearted support of the Progressives, plus at times the Independent.

JOHN COLBERT'S OPINION.

Dr. Duncan J. Sinclair, candidate in North Oxford, blamed the defeat of the government to the general dissatisfaction throughout the country. He expressed the hope that Mr. King would be able to function, with the aid of the Progressives, as he felt assured the latter would work in close co-operation and strongly uphold the ideals of the Liberal party.

John Colbert, Labor candidate in London, in speaking of the election to The Advertiser today stated that it is his opinion that the Progressive legislation of the country had gone back ten years. He felt that this had come in view of the fact that the farmers had lost approximately 45 seats. It also means that we are coming back to the dictation of the capitalist.

Mr. Colbert felt that the 20 seats won by the Progressives were the best men the party could offer, which would mean considerable to the party.

ELLIOTT THANKS ELECTORS.

Special to The Advertiser.
Strathroy, Oct. 30.—John C. Elliott, K.C., member-elect for Middlesex West, in a statement to The Advertiser this morning, said: "The majority of 1,400 which West Middlesex rolled up yesterday in my favor is a wonderful satisfaction to me, especially when it is remembered that there was an adverse majority of over 1,500 given to the late member, John D. Drummond, to overcome. I want to thank all my friends for their enthusiastic assistance, without which no such result could have been accomplished. Particularly I wish to express my gratitude to the large number of Conservative friends and former members of the farmers' organization, who dropped their party affiliations to give me personal support."

BULGARIAN MAKES FORTUNE IN U.S., MURDERED AT HOME

Host Is Arrested by Police, Charged With Killing Friend.

SAVED $14,000

American Money Is Found in Possession of Alleged Murderer.

Associated Press Despatch.
Sofia, Oct. 29.—Ivan Christo Markoff recently returned from the United States to his native Oseman Pazar, bringing with him $14,000, which he had saved in America. Confiding his good fortune to several of his friends, one of them, Manu Dimoff, of Bon-toro, invited Markoff to dinner at his home.

Markoff is said to have enjoyed greatly the novelty of wine with a meal, which had been denied him in America. The result was that he went to sleep after the dinner. During his slumber he was killed with a dagger and his host was arrested, charged with the murder. Police said Dimoff was plentifully supplied with American dollars, which he intended to exchange for Bulgarian money.

general result in the country. Returns from the west and the center present that any statement would be premature. It is a matter of regret to me that Mr. Hon. Mackenzie King should have been defeated in North York. Men of his calibre and earnestness are too rare in public life, and Canada cannot afford to lose his services. He is able to form a government or not."

Blames Progressives.

Hon. A. B. McColig, of Chatham, in speaking to The Advertiser today on the general election result, blamed the defeat of the government on the Progressives. He expressed the opinion that had the Progressives remained out of the field the Liberal policy would have been substantially endorsed.

"In this riding the Liberal candidate would have been returned by a splendid majority, had there been no Progressive running, for undoubtedly over two-thirds of the vote cast by Progressive voters would have been for the government," he said.

Mr. McColig stated that it was very discredited to any riding to defeat a man such as Hon. George P. Graham, a man who had served his riding most efficiently, and who is an asset to any constituency.

Too Soon to Talk.

W. D. Euler, of Kitchener, stated today that he could say nothing of the general result. The figures at the present time were incomplete and not until the definite returns had been made could he express any opinion.

He did express the hope that the government would have a sufficient majority to avoid another election. Led in Townships.

W. T. Goodison, of Lambton, who was elected in West Lambton, attributed his victory to the West Lambton townships, the city having given him a minority of 82 votes. "I led in every township, which I feel is a creditable showing."

In speaking of the general situation of the country, Mr. Goodison stated the situation and could express no opinion.

Thanks Electors.

Fred Sanderson, Liberal-elect in South Perth, expressed his thanks to the electors, stating that it was a splendid victory for the Liberals of the riding. He regretted that the north had not seen fit to elect Tom Brown, but would not discuss the general political situation until it was clarified by complete returns and the action of Premier King.

ST. GEORGE'S GIRLS.

The members of the girls' club of St. George's Anglican church held a meeting in the parish hall recently, with Miss Norma Andrews, the president, presiding. The evening was spent in dressing dolls for the patients in the children's hospital, and at the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

Present Cold Weather Proving Preventive For Crime Here

Cold weather is preventive of potential crime! Local police haven't been placing much faith in this precept, offered now and then by some of the bolder of students of misdeeds, but records of the past week have strengthened the logic of this theory.

CALVARY L. A. SUPPER.

The Ladies' Aid society of Calvary United church held a delightful supper recently in the schoolroom of the church. Mrs. E. M. Russell, the president, was the general convener. The room was attractively decorated with autumn leaves and hallowe'en novelties were used in the arrangement in the center of the tables. Rev. A. E. M. Thompson acted as chairman during the program, which included an interesting address by Rev. H. Uren, a piano solo by Miss Gladys Werner, bass solos by Mr. Morgan, soprano solos by Miss Ross, readings by Miss Lotta Fisher and a violin solo by Mr. Byles. Mrs. Melvin and Miss Gladys Lowes accompanied.

PILGRIM W. A.

The regular meeting of the women's auxiliary of Pilgrim United church was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. Taylor, Dun-das street, and was well attended. Mrs. W. Claris, the president, presided, and Mrs. W. Hilton led the devotional period. Mrs. W. Fellow gave an interesting paper on "The Life of the Chinese Scholar." The members answered the roll-call with a short paper on "China." Mrs. W. Mortimore of China will be the speaker.

Little Kathleen Billings prettily demonstrated the dress of the Chinese children with several Chinese costumes, and Mrs. Claris explained a number of Chinese curios. Mrs. H. Taylor was appointed assistant pianist. Mrs. T. Hill gave a brief message of the latter days and the funeral of the late Miss Melville, who spent over a quarter of a century in Africa and who recently died in Toronto. At the close of the meeting daily refreshments were served by the hostess.

JUNIOR PATHFINDERS.

Mrs. B. S. Scott entertained the members of the Junior Pathfinders of St. Andrews United church at a Halloween party last night and an enjoyable time was spent in games and contests. A novel guessing game was introduced, using words beginning with cat, Miss Shirley Fraser winning the prize and Miss Anna Stone captured the prize in the costume contest. A game of forfeits was played when each loser was asked to pay five cents. A mysterious room was arranged with veiled lights and a ghost appearing in the darkness, while one of the girls told ghost stories. Miss Marion Dowey contributed several flute solos, which were greatly appreciated. Many gifts of clothing for the Finnish girl attending the missionary school in New Liskeard were brought in, and it is anticipated that a complete outfit will be provided at the next meeting. A collection of $1.95 was taken in and will be used for social service work. Apples and candy were served at the close of the event.

STUDENTS' SERVICE.

The Western university students will attend the evening service at First United church on Sunday when Rev. Dr. William Beattie will be the speaker. The university orchestra, under the direction of Walter Renie, will give several selections. After the service the young people's federation of the church will entertain the students at a social hour.

KNOLLWOOD PARK M. B.

Mrs. Andrew Hair, superintendent of the Knollwood park Presbyterian Spreaders of Sunshine mission band entertained the members of the band at a delightful Halloween street last night. There were 50 members present and the collection amounted to $7.52 and is to be used for the mission band. The evening was spent in games and music, and choruses were sung. A thankoffering meeting, to be held on Nov. 14.

ST. MATTHEW'S JUNIOR W. A.

The members of the junior women's auxiliary of St. Matthew's Anglican church held a social last evening in the schoolroom. After the supper were served games were played. Pretty costumes were worn by the guests and hallowe'en colors were used in the decorations. A feature of the evening was the presentation of a gift of linen to Mrs. Cripps, the past president, who is leaving shortly to make her home in the United States.

ST. GEORGE'S GUILD.

The members of the guild of St. George's Anglican church held a meeting in the parish hall yesterday, when plans were made for the annual sale of work to be held in the latter part of November. Mrs. G. D. Sage was the general convener. There was a large attendance. Mrs. A. H. Grigg entertained the committee in charge of the home cooking booth recently at her home in Albion street.

CALVARY CHOIR PARTY.

One of the best and the largest gatherings in the history of the choir was held at the home of Frank Emery, newly appointed choir leader of Calvary United church last night. The evening was spent in games and music, and much credit is due to the convener. Rev. Thompson spoke to the choir on the splendid music which had been rendered, and Percy Taylor, honorary president of the choir, spoke on the friendly feeling having developed toward the new choir leader. The evening came to a close by the members expressing their gratitude to Mr. and Mrs. F. Emery by singing They Are Jolly Good Fellows.

WESLEY Y. P. L.

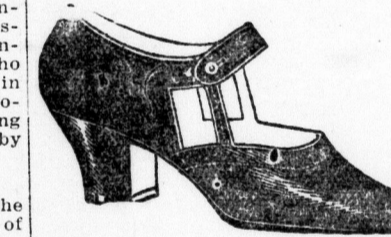

The young people's league of Wesley United church entertained the Normal students at the social last night. The evening was in charge of the social department, and Rev. J. Millard acted as chairman. A song service was conducted by W. Sherwin, of the Y. M. C. A., and the pastor gave the address of welcome. A delightful program was arranged, including solos by Mr. Mapletot, readings by Miss Minnie Dobbyn, violin and flute duet by Mr. Morlock and

Mr. Chapman, selections by Fred Milner's orchestra, whistling solo by Frank Houston, piano work by Miss Florence West and Verna Dobbyn, and a delightful sketch was given by members of the league. W. Sherwin told several ghost stories, and the evening was brought to a close by serving refreshments in the basement. Beautiful Halloween decorations made an attractive room.

TOWNS NOT PLEASED WITH GAELIC NAMES

Bray Decides Against Changing to Bri-Chualann—Others Undecided.

Associated Press Despatch.
Dublin, Oct. 29.—The changing of the names of Irish towns into Gaelic forms has received a check by the decision of Bray, which had been altered to Bri-Chualann, to revert to its familiar designation. It is a favorable watering place and visitors, especially strangers, were unable to recognize it under the Gaelic name.
Kingstown has not thought it necessary to abandon its new-old name of Dun Laoghaire. The name Kingstown 100 years ago replaced the old name of Dunleary, but Dunleary is again the accepted name, and the only objection to the spelling of it, which puzzles a stranger.
Many of the Gaelic names, though they have received official sanction and appear on the postage, have not come into general use. Dublin is still Dublin and not Baile Atha Cliath, while comparatively few people recognize Na hAn tUaimh. But Cobh, pronounced Queenstown, has permanently displaced Queenstown, as the southern port was called in honor of Queen Victoria.

BIRTH RATE IN BRITAIN NEARLY TWO A MINUTE

Japanese Record Leads All the World With Four a Minute.

Associated Press Despatch.
Osaka, Oct. 29.—Illustrations at the recent national statistics exhibition showed that the population of Japan is increasing at the rate of approximately three persons every two minutes. Calculating backwards, the latest invention was exhibited, as were charts and drawings illustrating all kinds of statistics.

In the population section it was shown that births in Japan are at the rate of 2.58 a minute, while deaths occur at the rate of 2.4 a minute, leaving a net gain of 1.18 a minute. The Japanese birth and death rates, figured in that way, were shown to be the highest among the nations of the world.
As to births, Germany came after Japan with slightly less than three a minute; Britain was next with a little more than two, and France showed a rate of one and one-half a minute.
Other statistics which attracted attention showed that in 1913 Osaka consumed luxuries valued at 1,200,000 yen, while the value of luxuries consumed in 1923 had increased to 7,300,000 yen.

Boy Finds It Impossible To Live On $12,000 Annually

Petitions Count for Extra Allowance of $4,500 to Live Comfortably.

Associated Press Despatch.
Honolulu, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Elizabeth Knight of Los Gatos, Cal., recently appeared with her 12-year-old grandson, Richard Parker Smart, before Judge John R. Desha, of the court of domestic relations, and complained that it has been very difficult for young Richard to live within his annual allowance of $12,000. The boy, owner of the large Parker ranch on the island of Hawaii, is reputed to be a millionaire. The grandmother, as his guardian, petitioned the court to increase the allowance to $16,500, which was granted.

Mrs. Knight told the court that the servants employed in her home for the benefit of young Richard cost approximately $400 a month. In addition to the increased annual allowance the court authorized an expenditure of $2,500 to cover the cost of the boy's vacation in Hawaii and $1,800 for distribution by the youngster among the employees of his cattle ranch when he visits his property to be the guest of the staff and cowboys.

FREE STATE PARLIAMENT OPPOSITION ALMOST NIL

Associated Press Despatch.
Dublin, Oct. 29.—During the session, which recently adjourned, the government was not faced by serious opposition. This was due to the refusal of the Republican party to recognize the Dail or take any part in the government proceedings.

The Labor party, which, to some extent, filled the role of an opposition group, was dissatisfied with the handling by the government of the unemployment problem and seriously considered withdrawing altogether from the proceedings in parliament as a protest. Thomas Johnson, who was the Labor party leader, favored withdrawal, but the party leadership.

TAXI-DRIVER ESCAPES DEATH BY BACKING ACROSS TRACKS

Presence of Mind Averts Serious Accident at St. Thomas.

CAR IS SMASHED

St. Thomas, Oct. 29.—Norman Forbes, taxi driver of the city, had a narrow escape from death Wednesday night, when the auto which he was driving was struck by an L. & P. S. train. Mr. Forbes escaped injury through his presence of mind in reversing the car.

Finding his way blocked on Talbot street by a passing train, Mr. Forbes turned around and drove down Princess avenue and up Centre street. He waited for an L. & P. S. train to pass southward, but failed to see the freight train, hauled by the electric engine. The shouting and swinging of lanterns by the crew gave him his first warning of danger, and he backed off the tracks, not, however, clearly escaping the danger. The car was struck and carried several yards down the track.

Committed to Trial.
Allan Pickersill, a South Norfolk resident, was committed for trial at the general sessions of the peace in December on a charge of negligent driving of his auto at Port Burwell on the evening of Oct. 4. Pickersill struck a buggy being driven by Mrs. James Vaughan, resulting in their injury. Mrs. Vaughan received serious injuries, but is now recovering. Bail was granted at $4,000.

Memorial Purchased.
The special memorial committee of the Central United church has purchased a beautiful bronze tablet bearing the names of seventeen members and adherents of the church who were killed during the late war. The tablet will be unveiled as part of a fitting memorial day service on Sunday, Nov. 8.

Auto Strikes Cyclist.
John Burk, 37 Ross street, suffered painful injuries this morning when he was knocked from his bicycle by an automobile driven by Mr. Miller, Redan street. The accident occurred at the corner of Ross and Talbot street. After a medical examination it was reported that no bones were broken, but the lad was bruised considerably.

Mrs. Margaret Gray Dies.
Dr. T. L. Gray resuscitated today the death of his mother, Mrs. Margaret Gray, in Winnipeg. Mrs. Gray was well-known in these parts, her husband having filled the office of Baptist minister at New Sarum. Five sons survive besides Dr. Gray of this city, all of whom reside in the west.

Death of Robert Galloway.
Robert Galloway, Locust street, city, for many years a valued employee of the Michigan Central railroad, died early Thursday morning. Mr. Galloway was an ardent Scot and a member of Knox Presbyterian church, Antiquity lodge, A. O. U. W., and of the M. C. R. shop club.

Besides his widow he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. J. H. McAlpine, Toronto, and Mrs. Frank Hull, Portland, Ore.; and three sons, David Galloway, Toronto, Alex. Galloway, superintendent of power on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, and George of Cincinnati, who is also connected with the B. & O. Railroad.

METROPOLITAN CHORISTERS ENTERTAINED AT UNION

The choir of the Metropolitan United church were entertained to an enjoyable reception and party at the St. Thomas golf and country club at Union on Tuesday evening. George C. Carrie, musical director, and Mrs. Carrie were the host and hostess, and they provided a very enjoyable time. There were ninety guests present, who much enjoyed the games and dancing. The evening was followed by a buffet luncheon. At the conclusion of the evening a hearty resolution of appreciation was extended to Mr. and Mrs. Carrie. A. A. Aiken, president of the choir, ably assisted the host and hostess.

SHUNTED FREIGHT SMASHES MOTOR

Detroit People Escape Serious Inquiry at Chatham Level Crossing.

VISCOUNT BURNHAM.

Special to The Advertiser.
Chatham, Oct. 29.—Mr. and Mrs. E. Delorme of Detroit narrowly escaped serious injury when their automobile was struck by a "flying" freight car at the Queen street crossing of the C. N. R. Their machine was knocked along the tracks for 30 feet, two of the wheels being smashed and the occupants being severely shaken up.

Delorme, in a statement to the police, said that he was driving south on Queen street, and on approaching the crossing saw the far gate descend. He applied the brakes, and the car stopped on the north track. Shunting operations were being carried out, and a single car had been sent down this track.

The installation of a nitrous oxide oxygen machine, known as the McKesson equipment, has been completed at the public general hospital. This is one of the latest machines patented for the purpose of administering anaesthetics to patients.

City police are seeking for a nervous prowler, who, it is alleged, entered the front door of a west-end residence and walked to a certain room, where, it is believed, he thought he would locate valuables. He left hurriedly when he found that the room was occupied.

6-Year-Old Girl On Toronto List

Canada's Most Beautiful Child Called Elector.

Toronto, Oct. 29.—Six-year-old Doris Hyde of Parkdale, Toronto, who won fame two years ago as the Canadian child chosen to have her portrait hung in the Queen's Doll House at Wembley, enjoys a new distinction today as the youngest elector on the voters' list.

Doris' father, Bertram S. Hyde, was surprised on going to the polling booth this morning to vote, to find his daughter's name accompanying his own and Mrs. Hyde's names on the list. Opposite Doris' name was the letter W, which Mr. Hyde suggests, possibly stood for wife.

"Rather funny, isn't it?" said Mr. Hyde, "seeing how hard some people of sixty-six find it to get their names put on."

CROWD APPROVES
FRENCH MODELSLarge Audiences See Improved
Burlesque Attraction—
Striking Settings.

The Grand was jammed to capacity both yesterday afternoon and evening, and enjoyed to the fullest extent "French Models," a spectacular burlesque offering, headed by a singing and dancing queen, Miss Viola Elliott, headed as the "Little Venus."

It might be said right here that Miss Elliott certainly lives up to advance notices.

The show was a great improvement on the opening attraction of last week, and certainly merits the patronage of all burlesque followers as well as others for the balance of the week, both afternoon and evening.

Nifty costumes, dainty lingerie, snappy figures, striking settings and infectious jokes help make the show a complete success. The big laughs, however, are the burlesque comedians, Jimmie Lennon, Eddie Lorraine, Harry Pearce and Maurice Cash, who provide gales of laughter. And it will be a long time before yesterday's audiences forget the originality and personality of Miss Elliott.

The first act opened strongly in a French models studio, where Viola Elliott, as the Little Venus, led the chorus, while Jimmie Lennon, as Prof. Brush, served as a foil for Maurice Cash, as the Hebrew comedian, Alie Cohen, and Eddie Lorraine, Ethel Bartlett and Mady Delight were the source of much pleasure. The Charleston chorus was a savior for weary eyes. The matrimonial agency stunt was equally amusing, and scene four was strongest in "The Garden of Yompe," by Morris Jeffrey and his Empress Serenaders proved a popular hit.

Chorus, Jan Bily and Rudy Editz pleased with their special music offerings. "The House of Boys" act made a real hit, and was presented in Chinese setting with a company of nine Chinese maidens.

NOW FLATLY DENIEDHigh Constable Says Rumor
Was Picked Up by Radio
From Komoka.

A rumor that Ed. Harlton, wanted for the murder of Jack Wadell last September, had been captured last night was flatly denied by High Constable Wharton.

"We have received no news here," said the high constable. "I was told by people over the phone that they had picked up the news last night by radio from Komoka."

AT THE THEATRES

LOEW'S THEATRE

An Exchange of Wives.

Unquestionably the most meritorious act seen at Loew's for some time is that of the Loebur sextette, which is the headline attraction on a bill of features. Three men and three women, dressed in costumes of the pre-revolution period in France, sing a complete repertoire of songs, a soloist, and the audience at all performances yesterday gave the singers rounds of applause. Those who appreciate good music should not miss hearing this sextette.

The feature picture, "An Exchange of Wives," has an unusual plot. It would not be well to advise the solution worked out in it as a general cure for matrimonial troubles. The picture has one, and her method of bringing her husband back to the straight and narrow, when she finds him kissing her neighbor good-night, is, to say the least, novel. The picture has no plot, but is merely an amusing force, intended to cause laughter, and it succeeds well. Eleanor Boardman and Lew Cody, the principals in the picture, play roles which are very amusing. The picture is a capable manner, while the two main supporting stars, Renee Adores and Creighton Hale, play up to their excellent.

Williams and Scott have a good act. The male member does some balancing tricks which require real skill, while the lady refuses to stop chattering the whole time.

Williams and Young, a pair of pleasing male singers, conclude the program.

The capacity audience last night was well pleased with the complete election service given in the theatre.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Wild Horse Mesa.

Wild Horse Mesa, the Paramount picture, showing at the Capitol Theatre for the last half of the week, is one which distinctly should not be missed. And that applies to movie fans whether they number themselves among Jack Holt's thousands of admirers or are only fond of pictures with plenty of action, because there are thrills galore in this real wild horse production.

In addition to the feature picture there is the Capitol Pathe Review, with particularly interesting views of paper mache work in wild animals of special interest since the showing of "The Lost World" at the Capitol recently, and also Butterfinger, a Mack Sennett comedy, and finally the Capitol symphony orchestra, playing both popular and classic music in splendid style.

Jack Holt finds it necessary to look to his laurels in "Wild Horse Mesa," which is taken from Zane Grey's latest novel, for the simple reason that Noah Beery is also in the picture, playing the part of the villain, and everyone who has seen Beery knows just how finished his acting is in a role of that particular type. Billie Dove furnishes the love interest, while Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., wins new honors in his part, with dreads of horses, all of them wild, stampeding across hills and valleys, present one of the most realistic sights of untamed animal life yet pictured on the screen.

The management of the Capitol Theatre is to be congratulated upon putting on a midnight show last night, permitting those who attended to see a fine show and to hear the results of the election in a warm and comfortable atmosphere of the theatre.

The church was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and flowers.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Muriel Massey of Amherstburg, was very pretty in a white georgette gown, and wearing a coronet veil of white tulle, held in place by a band of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of orchids, roses and lily-of-the-valley.

Her attendant was her sister, Miss Beatrice McColl, who wore a mauve georgette frock, trimmed with gold. She carried a bouquet of Sweetheart roses. Miss Ruth McColl, a niece of the bride, dressed in pale pink crepe de chine, and carried a basket of pink carnations, made a very pretty little flower girl. The groom was attended by Mr. Jas. Trothen of Wallace town.

Immediately after the ceremony Rev. A. L. Carr, on behalf of his congregation, presented the bride couple with a beautiful Bible, it being the first wedding in the United church.

During the signing of the register Miss Beatrice McColl sang "At Dawning."

Afterwards a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. A dainty luncheon was served by the bride's friends, and the evening was spent in a most enjoyable manner.

On their return they will reside in West Lorne.

Guests were present from Jackson and Detroit, Mich.; Windsor, Amherstburg, London and Toronto.

McCUTCHEON-VAN DELINDER.

A very happy and attractive event took place on Thursday, Oct. 23, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Van Delinder, Lambeth, when their only daughter Eva became the bride of Mr. Norman A. McCutcheon of Glenora.

Precisely at 3 o'clock, to the strains of Lohengrin's bridal chorus, played by Miss Campbell of St. Thomas, cousin of the bride, the young couple entered the parlor, the bride escorted by her father. They took their places under a wedding bell from which hanging streamers decked with royal ferns from Scotland. A bank of ferns interspersed with mums and orchids roses, adorned the altar.

The bride's head was covered with peach silk crepe de chine and her bridal bouquet was of lilies-of-the-valley and orchids roses.

The groom's gift to the bride was a check for $200, and to the pianist an onyx ring.

Rev. W. Conway, pastor of Lambeth United church, performed the nuptial ceremony in the presence of the immediate relatives.

The fact that this day was the thirty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Van Delinder added special interest to the occasion.

After congratulations, followed by a dainty buffet lunch, the happy couple took their departure for a trip to points east. The bride's travelling costume was a taupe and blue tricot ensemble with French hat to match.

The bride will be much missed in home and church and community. Considerably over one hundred beautiful gifts from far and near testified to the charm of her personality and her ability in making and keeping friends. The best wishes of the whole community follow her to her new home at Glenora.

LONDON ENGINEERS WILL ATTEND TORONTO BANQUET

Charles A. MacGrath, newly-appointed chairman of the hydro-electric power commission of Ontario, will be the guest of honor at a banquet to be given by the engineers of the province in the King Edward hotel, Toronto, on Friday, Nov. 18.

A number of London engineers have already received invitations to the affair, as has the local branch of the Canadian Institute of Engineers. It is quite possible that the institute will appoint one of its members to be its official representative at the banquet.

MAGISTRATE P. J. MORRISON OF GLENCOE VISITS CITY

Magistrate Peter J. Morrison of Glencoe was a visitor at the courthouse this morning and spent a short time with Crown Attorney Albert M. LOCAL ORGANISTS ELECT DR. SMITHLondon Musicians Hold Annual Meeting at Home of Charles Wheeler.

A largely attended and most enthusiastic meeting of the local center of the Canadian College of Organists was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Wheeler this week.

The most important business dealt with was the election of officers for the season, when the following members were chosen to form the executive: Chas. E. Wheeler, P.C.C.O., honorary chairman; Dr. James H. Smith, chairman; W. A. Bluetner, vice-chairman; Leonard G. Starling, secretary; Dr. L. L. Balogh, Charles E. Wheeler, J. Parnell Morris, A.C.C.O., and E. W. Goethe Quantz.

The following topics were decided upon for the season's program: "The King of Instruments and His Absurdities"; debate, "The Orchestra in the Church"; "Organ Problems Through the Centuries"; "An Evening with Dicksen"; "Is Improvisation a Lost Art?"; "The Mechanism of Hearing"; "Out of Tunes."

After the business a warm discussion took place of the question of organ consoles. Dr. L. L. Balogh interested the members with a description of the new organ to be erected in St. Peter's cathedral. Supper was served by the hostess, Mrs. Charles E. Wheeler, and a social hour was enjoyed.

The management of the Capitol Theatre is to be congratulated upon putting on a midnight show last night, permitting those who attended to see a fine show and to hear the results of the election in a warm and comfortable atmosphere of the theatre.

THAMES GOLF COURSE
DEFICIT IS SMALLERReceipts of Wonderland Tourist
Camp Total $1,520
For Year.

Thames Valley golf course closes the season with "a considerably smaller deficit than last year," and this, according to Manager E. V. Buchanan of the public utilities commission, in spite of the fact that the course has been extended from nine to eighteen holes.

Three holes were added at the beginning of the year and the 12-hole course was played on for the entire season, while the remaining six holes have just been completed and will be in readiness for play next spring.

Mr. Buchanan is confident that the 18 holes in operation next year, the commission's venture of a municipal golf course will show a fine surplus.

The tennis courts in connection with the municipal playgrounds were closed last week with a total of $555 to the credit of the commission for permits issued during the year. This total is slightly less than last year, but, as Mr. Buchanan pointed out, the season was much shorter this year on account of the recent weather, which was very dry.

Receipts at the Wonderland tourist camp totaled $1,520 this year, which more than covered expenses and paid about 66 per cent of the amount expended by the commission in capital expenditure. Installation of showers and the building of a new dining room at the camp constituted the major improvements. Since a dollar fee was charged for a car per night, the receipts indicate that 1,520 automobiles were used at the camp.

This total is somewhat smaller than last year, when no fee was charged. Naturally a few were kept away by the impact of the $1 charge, which covers only the services rendered and not the accommodation provided, but the commission is inclined not to worry about this small number.

At homes are planned at St. Mark's church.

Members of congregation to be entertained following reopening of building.

Interesting affairs are being arranged at St. Mark's Anglican church now that the new building is practically completed. The members of the congregation are to be entertained at two at-homes next week, following the services on Sunday, at which His Lordship Bishop Williams will officially open the church again. He will take charge at both services.

The first social event comes on Tuesday night, when the adult congregation will be entertained from 8 to 10 o'clock. The invitation committee includes the wardens, Edmund Webb, Mark Garrett, and Rev. A. L. Beverley, the rector. The program is being arranged by Mrs. R. Parker and Mrs. E. T. Wright, while the refreshments will be looked after by Edmund Webb and Mrs. E. T. Willis.

On Wednesday night the pupils of the church Sunday school are having an entertainment. For this occasion Sunday school superintendent, Edmund Webb, and the secretary, John Mirehouse, will be in charge of the arrangements. On both evenings supper will be served and programs will be given, after which the guests will be given an opportunity to inspect the new buildings.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1925.

Mr. King Has Two Courses.

The result of yesterday's election, from the final figures available at the time of writing, has produced an uncertain and highly complicated situation. The Conservative party has received a pronounced increase in strength in almost every province, but, from all available indications, will not have a majority to give control of the house of commons.

There are two possibilities. Rt. Hon. Mr. King, who was defeated in his own riding, may decide not to resign, but to obtain a seat for himself in another constituency and to ask the governor-general to summon parliament in order to test his will. Such a course would mean that Mr. King would continue to lead the government, but under conditions of great difficulty. The second possibility is that Mr. King will resign and advise his excellency to call upon Mr. Meighen, whose own election seems fairly secure from incomplete returns. Mr. Meighen would then be in the unprecedented position of heading a government which lacked the confidence of the house and which would virtually be controlled by two minority groups, which when united could defeat him.

Either course seems surrounded by complications, and from that point of view the result must be regarded as unsatisfactory. The Conservative party has just cause for congratulation, but the apparent impossibility of a strong or stable government is a distinct misfortune. Yielding in importance only to the defeat of the government was the move away from third parties. The Progressives came into the house in 1921 with 65 members; at the dissolution they had 61. With returns almost complete, they have retained only 17 seats. In Ontario, from a strength of 21, they have now only two. The Conservative campaign in Quebec did not produce the results that the party managers predicted. Their failure to make any impression on that province has had much to do with creating the present involved situation.

What Happened In London.

Mr. J. F. White, Conservative, has been elected in London by an increased majority, the unofficial totals giving him a lead of nearly 4,500 votes over Mr. E. S. Little, a record in the city's history. The curious feature of this result is that the London Liberal vote remains practically unchanged from 1921. In the midst of what is quite plainly a sweep of Conservative sentiment in Ontario, Mr. Little was able to hold solid and united Liberal support. Mr. White is to be congratulated on receiving the largest majority on record; Mr. Little is also to be congratulated on a support which shows no defection and on a campaign which, under the general circumstances in Ontario, must be regarded as effective.

The explanation of this rather remarkable result seems to lie in the changed Labor vote, which shows the large decrease of approximately 2,000. This whole block apparently changed from Labor to Conservative and produced Mr. White's increased majority. The drop in Labor vote matches almost exactly the increase in the Conservative.

In this respect, London's result seems to be duplicated in other industrial centers such as Stratford, St. Thomas, Stratford, Windsor and Guelph, where labor seems to have given its support to Conservative candidates. Labor in general has apparently, and quite naturally, been influenced by the propaganda of disaster regarding closed factories and exiled Canadians which has been circulated for their benefit. Liberals in London have no reason to feel either discouraged or ashamed. Mr. Little as their candidate has done well. With him they have conducted a fair and vigorous campaign which leaves no cause for apologies.

A Remarkable Coincidence.

Election coincidences are no doubt numerous, but we doubt if any could be more unique than pictured in the circumstances surrounding the voting of two gentlemen in West Middlesex. To get the first part of the narrative it is necessary to go back to the first Canadian election in 1867. Confederation year, when James W. Macfie and William Pole went to record by the old open ballot their votes in favor of Malcolm Campbell, the Liberal candidate in their riding.

When the vote was taken on October 29 in West Middlesex, two neighbors went again to vote. They were James W. Macfie and William Pole, both of them now past four score years, and they voted for John Campbell Elliott, the Liberal candidate, a grand-nephew of the candidate of the same party for whom they registered their votes in 1867.

It is not often that the thread of circumstances spins its web so kindly and marks its pattern of old friendships and beliefs so plainly as in the case of these two fine octogenarians of Appin. The Liberal cause can well be zealous of such life-long friendships.

Winning Its Spurs.

The government of Greece has informed the League of Nations that it has ordered its troops to leave Bulgarian territory following a demand of the league that such action be taken.

That action is satisfactory enough, but it is not sufficient. It is as though a man went out and sandbagged his neighbor and desisted only when a stronger man came along and ordered him to quit.

Greece, in calling off her troops when told to by the League of Nations, was right, but Greece in rushing into war without first taking her case to the League of Nations was wrong. The trouble is not settled between Greece and Bulgaria, but the League of Nations has won its point that arbitration is better for the world than slaughter.

Not Dangerous At All.

The dignity of old London has been ruffled by the publication of pictures of the Prince of Wales in a feminine costume for a playlet on board the Repulse during his tour. The critics do not object to him having taken part in the performance, but they do look askance at the idea of him having posed for the cameraman and allowing the picture to get into print.

The Advertiser has published the pictures, and the impression gathered is that Edward P. was having a fairly good time in the amateur production, and had entered wholeheartedly into the good times that are associated with such performances.

It is hard to imagine why the hair-apparent should be any less worthy of his high position because he had shown himself possessed of very human qualities that made him a participant in such a harmless frolic rather than a spectator in a reserved seat wishing he were in it.

Nor do we imagine that those who are protesting in old London, even to the point of being "shocked" as some despatches state, have voiced the opinion of British dominions or the world at large. It is because the British royal family has for years had the good judgment to keep close to the people that it remains as the world's greatest example of monarchical democracy.

The Prince of Wales possesses this same trait to an unusual degree. When he goes to his ranch in western Canada he is a rancher who visits with his neighbors; when he was in South Africa he sat for hours apparently enjoying the strange antics of native tribesmen carried out for his benefit; when he appears at state functions he meets men on their own level. The shocked dignity of old London can retire to its quarters in safety. The prince has simply been putting a couple more good props under the empire.

Protecting the Voter.

The free and independent electorate is probably unaware of the extent to which freedom of action is hedged about on polling day. The voter may have gone forth unaware of all the bulwarks a wise and cautious legislation has provided for his safety. The law was his invisible guardian as he went forth to save the nation with his little "X."

It is comparatively safe to be abroad on election day, safer than other days. The voter who dodged election cars spinning around the corners on two wheels may not have realized this margin of safety, but nevertheless it was present, for it is written and sealed with a great seal that no person can tote a revolver or a shotgun within a mile of a polling booth. Neither is it legal to enter this charmed area bearing a bludgeon of any sort.

Only a select few can legally operate the artillery on the day when the nation goes forth to name its chief—the election officers and the constable. If there is any shooting to be done they can attend to it legally. It gives the voter a calm mind and a clear vision to realize that within a mile of the polling booth no one can take a pot shot at him unless it be a duly qualified marksman, sanctioned and set aside for that purpose by the law of the land.

Note and Comment.

Greece seems to be stewing for a fight.

Five below zero at Calgary. Hardly worth mentioning because they don't feel the cold in the west.

New York professor carried a meeting on the plea that it's good for children to be spanked. Thus we may yet see the rejuvenation of woodshed architecture.

Montreal man says if Canadians would eat four times as much fish as they do they could wipe out the national debt, thus turning the scales in our favor.

Winnipeg man who got out of jail and intended to preach was sent back for two years for passing a worthless check. He gets hard labor this time and may discover there are sermons in stones.

The Woodstock Sentinel-Review, referring to the Globe's political outlook, says: "It is a dull outlook, from the point of view of the Globe. They are all out of step but the Globe itself, and even the Globe seems to be stepping warily at times."

A Paris designer of women's dresses says it's impossible to drape even the finest goods attractively on a woman who has a figure like a flour barrel. This may be good fashion talk, but it would never do on the political platform in these days of universal suffrage.

Rev. G. A. Leichter, formerly of London, spoke to a gathering of Toronto businessmen and said: "If we would put into practice the principle of religion that we agree upon, as vehemently as we quarrel about those things we disagree upon, we would soon attain a higher standard of brotherhood."

Although W. D. Euler is owner of the majority stock of the Kitchener Record, and also Liberal candidate in North Waterloo, there was no evidence on the part of that paper to use its support unduly for Mr. Euler. Editorial references to his candidature were few, and there was a commendable desire to give ample publicity to his opponent.

So Keep Right On

By ARK.

The folks in Spain I see they plan to strip long sections from the road, to glorify Columbus now and resurrect the deck he trod. And every letter Chris had writ he gathered on the market square, a hero Christopher will be who sniffed the rough and briny air. It's strange how fame it lags behind and seldom catches in its drive, to greet the man where it belongs when he is stalking round alive.

For when Columbus planned his trip they said that bats dwelt in his bean, his towns-men scoffed and passed him by and snubbed him on the village green. And when he wanted pastas then to buy salt pork with strips of lean, they said nay, nay, Columbus and married. The officials in Toronto persuaded me not to go on the free grant land until I had been in the country a few years and saved some money. I would have to borrow and live like a rabbit. So I came to Woodstock and worked for the farmers, and you know what that meant 51 years ago, but I stayed with them and never left them until my time was up.

Why do not more of the farm laborers in England come here. I will give my views on that. As a rule, they are a conservative people, living in villages, some of them working on the same farm all their lives, and very few farmers will "fire" a man because he is old, and as a rule there are not many unemployed in the farming districts, so it is not the dole that keeps them home.

The dole goes to the towns and cities, to the unemployed, and those who do not want work at any price. That is why so many of the British immigrants are not satisfactory for this country. They are not farm laborers, so after they have been here a while they flock into the cities which are overcrowded already. Then they have to depend on the report of the country when the fault is their own.

I am well aware that not all that come to Canada are going to be milked, but I think our government should provide something better than a house of refuge for its aged poor when they can't work no longer. I say all honor to England for what she has done, and double honor to Australia for her promise to double the old age pension there. If Canada with all her wealth cannot do the same, more shame for her. She will find the best of laborers will go to countries that will not forsake them in their old age. It seems as if Canada only wants our marrow and the devil may have our bones.

I would like to thank the lady who wrote the first letter on this question in the Advertiser. She asked a few questions as to why the ladies of the forces should be treated better than the men and try to push it through. They are too busy for that. They have forgotten that pure religion, the very best, is to visit the orphan and the widows in their affliction, and then keep themselves unspotted from the world.

Thanking you for so much space, I remain STEPHEN MCOTTON, Brownsville, Ont.

Last night we met a man from India, who told us of the extreme heat there. It seems a resident of that country died and in due course went to his proper place. But in two days he came back for his overcoat.

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME.

Mamma, is this Halloween? No dear, not until Saturday. Then why did daddy go out all dressed up like a tramp this morning? Hush child, you shouldn't say such things. That was papa's brand new hunting outfit. It cost $47.18 including $1 for the rent of the gun, Gee, mamma, I hope he'll shoot that old wolf. Which old wolf dear? Why the one you said would be at our door soon if daddy didn't stop spending all our money so foolishly. Maybe he'll shoot some little bunnies, eh? No, the rabbits will be quite safe from father's gun, but he may catch some. How? Well when they see daddy in that outfit they will laugh so hard that they will become helpless. Will bring some home to us? That depends on whether or not they have some at the corner butcher store. Oh, I see. Now tell me some fairy stories, will you? Just wait a while, dear, until daddy gets home and he'll tell us both some. E. J. P.

Isn't It the Truth?

Man or monkey doesn't matter. What interests the benedict is whether he is a man or worm.

The only thing about lisle stockings that is particularly offensive to us is the spelling.

A "force for righteousness" is a man who uses "dad blame it" as a substitute for cursing. Now is the time for the press agent to begin explaining why turkeys will be higher this year.

A resort is a pleasant strange thing, ground where nobody knows how unimportant you are at home.

One advantage in not being so good is that fewer things seem naughty enough to distress you.

It isn't probable that old King Coal was particularly merry while miners and operators fiddled.

If he isn't born with brains he can learn to be a mere general practitioner.

Short history of any civilization: The food problem; the religion isn't unique. Modernist art doesn't seem to mean anything, either.

Correct this sentence: "Wheel!" cried the grown children of the rich widow; "dad's going to marry again." R. Q.

TOO EMBARRASSED.

(Boston Transcript)
"Every room with a bath," says the prospectus of a new and huge hotel just started here.

Which reminds us of the story of a countryman, unfamiliar with such luxuries, who passed the night at a modern hotel.

"Well, did you have a good night's rest?" the clerk asked him the next morning.
"No, I didn't," was the reply. "The room was all right and the bed was pretty good, but I couldn't sleep very much, for I was afraid some one would want to take a bath, and the only door to it was through my room."

To The Editor

Caring For the Aged.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Sir—If you will please give me space in your valuable paper, I would like to add my views on immigration and the old age pension. I was born in the year 1847, in one of the best agricultural districts that I have found under the sun, at old Brackley, on the borders of Oxford, Buckingham and Northamptonshire, and about 12 miles from border of Warwickshire. I was brought up an agricultural laborer. I learned to plow, sow, reap, mow, and do any other job on a farm.

In the spring of 1874 I came to Canada, heading for Muskoka government free grants of land and granite. I was a young man at that time, 27, and married. The officials in Toronto persuaded me not to go on the free grant land until I had been in the country a few years and saved some money. I would have to borrow and live like a rabbit. So I came to Woodstock and worked for the farmers, and you know what that meant 51 years ago, but I stayed with them and never left them until my time was up.

Black Squirrel a Pest.

Editor of The Advertiser:—The article in your last Friday's paper re the black squirrel pest, ought to begin a general propaganda of protest. The government is so solicitous for the welfare of the farmers that a knowledge of the true facts should bring a speedy relief for this pest.

I have been raising sweet corn for the trade, but the law protecting the black squirrel is driving me out of business, especially in sweet corn. If the law is changed, the delicious sweet corn will become a rarity on Canadian tables. The thieves are protected by law, and we have to help pay the agents to see that the law is carried out that robs and ruins us.

We earnestly ask that the law in this respect be speedily changed. EDGAR M. ZAVITZ, Coldstream, Oct. 23.

Coughs and Colds

Are dreaded by Mothers who do not know of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

What a weight of responsibility rests on the mother of the family during the cold weather season. In every cough and cold she seems to hear the warning of serious developments. She dreads croup, bronchitis, pneumonia and consumption and realizes that these are the natural result of neglected colds.

But Dr. Chase has provided a prompt relief for coughs and colds and a preventive of more serious ailments of throat and lungs, in his Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

This medicine is so well-known that only a reminder is necessary to most people to recall its effectiveness in relieving croup, bronchitis, asthma and all forms of throat and bronchial troubles.

TEST HORIZONTAL WAVE AS RADIO MEDIUM

Recent Discovery To Be Experimented; Power To Broadcast Programs.

By ROBERT MACK. Copyright, 1925, by the Consolidated Press Association.

Washington, Oct. 29.—The horizontal wave, of which much has been written since its recent discovery and of which much is expected by many leading radio engineers, is to receive its first attention as the medium for broadcast programs Nov. 2 and 3. The tests will be conducted from the General Electric Co. station WGY at Schenectady.

According to an announcement made today by C. J. Young of the engineering department of the General Electric Co., the experimental work with the horizontal wave will be done on the regular broadcasting wave length of WGY, namely 379.5 meters, and transmitted from the 50-kilowatt super-power transmitter. The schedule for the period of broadcast for a half-hour period of broadcast entertainment on the horizontal antenna from 12 o'clock midnight to 12:30 a.m. on Nov. 2 and 3, followed by a 15-minute silent period, after which WGY will continue to broadcast using its regular vertical antenna.

COVETOUSNESS. Is there anything that's more covetous than a selfish way. In thy proud and selfish way. Or that's fit for imitation. When thou seekest after praise? Thou has toiled for many a season. To accumulate great wealth. And perhaps beyond all reason. Disregarding laws of health.

Is there anything that's nobler In the constant awful greed Of a man who won't help others When they're in the sorest need. Reading bitter disappointment. When his earthly race is run. Gaining no reward to cheer him At the setting of the sun?

Hast thou never seen the value Of the blessed Golden Rule. And with thou reject wise counsel. And become a proper fool. Laying only for the present. With its cares and fleeting joys. Thoughtless as the little children. Who are charmed by trifling toys?

You've neglected God's commandments. And on money set your heart. Living just as if you never From your wealth would have to part. But the judgment day is coming. And the hour is drawing nigh. When your riches will seem worthless Like a bubble to your eye.

Quickly see how vain and useless Is a life that's spent itself. And lest it be further wasted Cast your idols from the shelf. And then strive to lead your neighbors Up to holiness and God. Lest they go to careless ruin Ere you rest beneath the sod. —Edward C. Sherman, Harrow, Ont.

Archbishop Hanna reported the pope in excellent health and splendid spirits, despite the very considerable labors entailed by the Holy Year.

WHY WOMEN LOOK 60 AT 40

With dark circles under their eyes, sallow complexions, drawn features, drooping shoulders, a lagging step, many women of forty have the appearance of women of sixty. In many cases this condition is caused by overwork or neglect of such warning symptoms as headaches, back-aches, nervousness, displacements, and irregularities which indicate ailments peculiar to women. If all women so afflicted would only rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound it would restore them to a normal healthy condition, and the premature signs of age will soon disappear.—Advt.

CENTENNIAL UNITED CHURCH FLOURISHES OVER 50 YEARS

Name Chosen During Centenary Commemoration of Wesley's Death.

SERVICES SUNDAY

Special anniversary services will be held in Centennial United church on Sunday next, Nov. 1. The Rev. C. E. Cragg, B.D., of Sarnia, an eloquent and able preacher, will speak morning and evening. The choir under the leadership of George Winterbottom, will render a special program of music. On Monday evening a tea meeting will be held when the Rev. D. C. MacGregor, D.D., of St. Andrew's church, will give his fascinating address on his recent trip to Egypt and the holy land.

The Centennial church was started on its career over half a century ago in a very humble way by a group of zealous Christian young men of Dundas Centre church. These men conducted services at Queen's park in a small house near Ontario street. Shortly afterwards a little church was erected and was at first supplied from Dundas Centre.

In 1877 it was started off as an independent charge and was known as Dundas street east church.

Was First Minister. The Rev. George Calver, was the first minister. About 1891 the old Elizabeth street Methodist congregation united with this church which by that time was called Queen's park Methodist church.

A fine new brick structure was erected in 1892, under the leadership of the pastor, the Rev. Joseph Philip, B.D., and the church was given its present chosen name (Centennial). This name was chosen because the church was begun in 1891, the year that Methodists the world over were commemorating the centenary of John Wesley's death.

In 1913 while the Rev. H. A. Graham, B.A., was pastor, the church was much enlarged and a fine modern schoolroom was built.

Second Term Pastor. The east end of London during the latter quarter of a century has been making great progress and Centennial United church has sought to keep pace with this growth and do its share in meeting the moral and spiritual needs of the people and has become one of the large and growing congregations of the city.

The Rev. G. N. Hazen, B.D., who was pastor from 1908 to 1912, entered in June last upon a second term as pastor of this church. Pastors since the founding of the church include: Rev. G. W. Calver, 1877-78; Rev. J. S. Ross, D.D., 1879-82; Rev. H. Sanderson, D.D., 1880-81; Rev. G. W. Henderson, D.D., 1882-83; Rev. Edwin Holmes, 1886-87; Rev. Reuben R. Millard, 1889; Rev. William Hayhurst, 1890; Rev. Joseph Philip, 1891-92; Rev. A. G. Harris, 1893-94; Rev. J. Ford, L.L.B., 1897-98; Rev. George Jackson, 1900-12; Rev. H. G. Going, B.A., 1903-4; Rev. W. G. H. McAlister, B.A., 1905-6; Rev. G. N. Hazen, B.D., 1908-10; Rev. H. A. Graham, B.A., 1912-13; Rev. H. T. Ferguson, B.A., D.D., 1916-17; Rev. A. E. M. Thomson, 1921-22; Rev. G. N. Hazen, D.D., 1923-24.

NEW BASIC ELEMENT IS MADE INTO METAL

Hafnium To Be Used in Production of Radio Audion Lamps.

Associated Press Despatch. Copenhagen, Oct. 30.—Two ounces of the new basic element, hafnium, have been produced in metallic form, one ounce of which has been sent to the United States. It is understood that the new element may be successfully used in the manufacture of audion lamps for radio.

Niels Bohr, discoverer of hafnium and winner of the Nobel prize for physics in 1922, was not able at first to turn the new element into metallic form. He has now, however, accomplished this, assisted by Paul Berglund, a civil engineer. Success was attained by oxygenation of a substance called alvit, found in Norway and France, and containing 6 per cent hafnium.

Associated Press Despatch. Skopje, Serbia, Oct. 30.—Serbian newspapers announce the death of Angelko Nikoloff, for 20 years an active fighter in the ranks of the Macedonians. Two years ago Nikoloff was sentenced to imprisonment, having received commutation of the original death sentence.

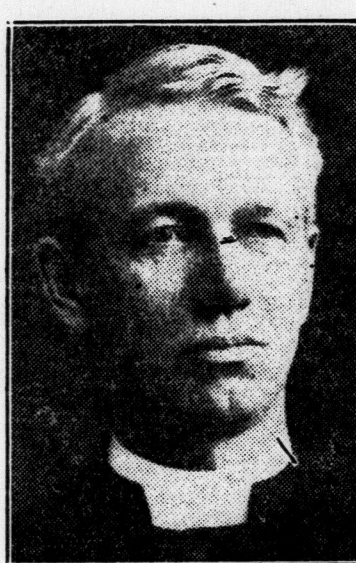

Recently when he was assigned to hard labor he escaped from the policeman who was guarding him, taking the guard's rifle. After six days he was recaptured, but in another attempt to escape was killed during an interchange of rifle shots with the police.

His Own Obituary

German Newspaperman "Dies in Harness."

Associated Press Despatch. Poznan, Poland, Oct. 30.—Zdzislaw Gubrynowicz, a Polish journalist, literally "died in harness" recently. Among his belongings in the hospital was found his own obituary written by himself a short time before his death.

It recounted the devotion of a journalist to his work, on behalf of those for whom he wrote. It contained this paragraph:

REV. G. N. HAZEN, B.D., pastor of the Centennial United church, which is marking anniversary services on Sunday. Mr. Hazen is serving for a second term as pastor of this flourishing congregation.

with the idea of tariff reduction. Then there's Mr. Bourassa and some cranks who could never be depended upon. "On the other hand, there are many high protectionists among the Liberals who would probably support Mr. Meighen, at least for a session, to avoid an immediate election and after a session the chances of the Conservative party's coming back with a clear majority would be exceedingly bright."

Mr. Meighen's statement to the press about midnight last night, even while the situation did not look so promising for the Conservative party as it does now, is interpreted by this authority as the Conservative leader's intention to form a government. When asked what his attitude towards the problem of Quebec would be if he were prime minister, in view of the heavy adverse vote in the French-Canadian ridings, Mr. Meighen said: "I should certainly seek French-Canadian cabinet representation. This is the right of Quebec."

But in discussing cabinet-making possibilities among the Conservative French-Canadian members as they now stand, political expert could see nothing in sight.

Possible Cabinet Timber. "That's the trouble, Mr. Meighen has, he can't get seats in Quebec," he said, "still two Quebec Conservatives stand out, Sir George Perley for Argenteuil, former high commissioner, and C. H. Cahoon, of St. Lawrence-St. George. Perley would stand as a possibility for finance minister. The other choice here would be Sir Henry Drayton. It is doubtful whether Perley would accept. In Ontario, the outstanding Conservative would be Hon. Hugh Guthrie and Sir Henry Drayton, both members of Sir Robert Borden's cabinet, the former occupying the position of general and minister of militia. Regarding the other Ontario men I couldn't say."

In Nova Scotia there is one man to be taken into consideration, once. This is William Black of Halifax, a prominent shipowner. Although he is elderly he is very vigorous and distinguishes himself as a cabinet minister.

In New Brunswick there are two men who have to be taken into consideration at once. These are John Jones of Royal and Col. Murray MacLaren of St. John-Albert.

MEIGHEN GROUP LARGEST. Ottawa, Oct. 30.—The Conservatives, headed by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, will constitute the largest group in Canada's fifteenth parliament. Returns available at an early hour, however, do not give them a clear majority over all.

A summary compiled by the Canadian Press shows the Conservatives holding 121 out of 245 seats in the House of Commons, as against 98 by the Liberals. The Progressives have 20 seats, Independents 3, and 3 are doubtful.

The defeat of Premier Mackenzie King and seven members of his cabinet was the most striking feature of the election. The ministers defeated, in addition to the premier, were: Hon. George P. Graham, the veteran minister of railways and canals; Hon. James Murdock, minister of labor; Hon. T. A. Low, minister of trade and commerce; Hon. G. N. Gordon, minister of immigration; Hon. Walter Foster, secretary of state, and two ministers without portfolio, Hon. H. M. Marler and Hon. Vincent Massey.

The ten remaining members of the government were elected.

In the constituency of Portage La Prairie, where Mr. Meighen proved unsuccessful at the 1921 general election, the Conservative leader was returned victorious over his Progressive opponent, Harry Leader, after a hard fight.

Rogers Defeats Norris. A number of members of the Meighen government, who were defeated at the last general elections, also won successful battles. Dr. J. W. Edwards, minister of immigration and health under Mr. Meighen, triumphed over his Progressive opponent in Frontenac-Addington. In West Calgary, Hon. R. B. Bennett, minister of justice under Mr. Meighen, who was defeated by a narrow majority in 1921, was the victor yesterday.

Hon. Robert Rogers, a member of the government of Sir Robert Borden, in which he held the portfolio of public works, was returned by the constituency of South Winnipeg, where he defeated former Premier Norris of Manitoba, the Liberal candidate. Sir George Perley, former high commissioner for Canada in London, recaptured the Quebec seat of Argenteuil for the Conservatives.

This constituency was represented by Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of interior in the King government, throughout the last parliament. Members of Mr. Meighen's cabinet formed part of the government who won seats in Quebec were: Hon. L.

SANE HALL GREEN URGED BY JUDGE

Rev. G. Q. Warner Commends Step Taken by London Board of Education.

While not having come across "any particular evidence of insane halloween practices," Rev. G. Q. Warner, B.D., judge of the juvenile court, regards as "a good warning" the step of the board of education in having the school principals seek to have the boys and girls make "halloween" same this year, and behave themselves.

Judge Warner has just returned from Montreal, where he received a wonderful reception before the women's court with 1,000 or more members, speaking on the subject, "The Romance of Prevention," the judge speaking for an hour and a half, discussing war, disease, crime, pointing out that the prevention of these things carries far more interest and romance than does their cure. In considering crime, Judge Warner dealt at length with his experience in the juvenile court here during the past three or four years.

Commenting upon the modern parlied conference now meeting at New York under the auspices of the child study association of America, Judge Warner considers the conference still another step forward in modern interest and consideration of the child and its interests. The judge, rather differing from Dr. W. J. Kilpatrick, a prominent educationalist, speaking before the parenthood conference endorsing spanking, believes that corporal punishment should be used only in extreme circumstances.

"There is no section of the juvenile court laws which states specifically that the judge can administer or cause to be administered, corporal punishment," observed Judge Warner, "but undoubtedly it could be administered under a clause which gives the judge powers to do what he believes to be good for the child. If corporal punishment should be ordered by the court it should be administered by the parent in the home in the presence of the court probation officer, who should see that it is well done, but not overdone."

In Judge Warner's opinion "there should not be any disturbance in connection with the disciplinary regulations permitting the school teacher to exercise the powers of a wise and just parent in administering corporal punishment where deemed advisable or necessary."

"It all depends on the type of teacher, but because our teachers are not brutally inclined the act is perfectly safe. The only reason for changing it would be that our teachers were depending upon it too much."

While in Montreal Judge Warner preached in St. George's and St. Cyril's Anglican churches, his brother, Rev. D. V. Warner, being the rector of the latter church, and also was the guest of honor at a memorial gathering of the late Memorial church, which congregation he had charge prior to coming to London nearly seven years ago.

P. Normand, president of the privy council, who was defeated in Three Rivers; Hon. Rodolphe Monty, secretary of state, who was unsuccessful in Laurier-Outremont; and Hon. A. Frateux, solicitor-general, who met with defeat in Bagot.

Patenaupe Down to Defeat. Hon. E. L. Patenaupe, Conservative leader in Quebec, failed to win the constituency of Jacques-Cartier. Mr. Patenaupe was a member of the government of Sir Robert Borden, holding the portfolio of inland revenue. He resigned on the conscription issue and ceased for the time being to have any connection with federal politics. His re-entry into dominion politics was welcomed by the Conservatives.

In contrast to Mr. Patenaupe's defeat came news of the victory of Henri Bourassa, running as an Independent-Liberal in LaBelle. Mr. Bourassa represented this constituency in the federal house some years ago. Other old members who will again be seen in the House of Commons are Joseph E. Armstrong, Conservative member for East Lambton, who went down to defeat in 1921; Dr. Chabot, Conservative member for Ottawa, who did not run in the last general election, and G. B. Nicholson, Conservative of Algoma East, who was defeated in 1921.

Women fared badly in the contest. Out of four running, but one was successful, while two lost their deposits. Miss Agnes MacPhail, Progressive member for Southeast Grey in the last parliament, was the one woman returned. She gained a comfortable majority.

PROPER MARKETING IS NEEDED IN APPLE TRADE

Prof. Crow of Guelph Addresses Kiwanians at Luncheon Hour.

Professor Crow, formerly of the Ontario Agricultural college staff, was the speaker at the Kiwanians' noon luncheon today. His subject was the apple-growing industry of the province. In his address he criticized both the producer and the consumer, the former for his failure to market co-operatively and the latter for his lack of appreciation of the Canadian product.

With proper marketing methods he was positive that the consumption of apples in the city of London could be trebled. About 70 per cent of the apples grown in the province were of an inferior quality, he declared.

J. H. Langford was the booster today and several bushels of apples from the Westmount farm, owned by R. Suhr, were the prizes.

PILGRIM ENDEAVOUR. A merry time was spent by the members of the Intermediate society of the Christian Endeavor of Pilgrim United church last evening in the schoolroom, which was prettily decorated in halloween colors. A number of games were played under the ownership of Miss Alma Gillett, and Jack Graham captured the prize for the best costume. Each guest received a written fortune of his future life and later in the evening a dainty lunch was served, including apples, nuts and candy.

Mrs. W. Powell, the superintendent, acted as chaperone.

COMMISSION SITS TO DEAL WITH CHURCH PROPERTY

Difficulties Arising in Recent Union Under Discussion Today.

SETTLES ONE CASE

Property difficulties arising out of the consummation of church union in this district are being ironed out by the provincial church union property commission in session today at the courthouse. Much interest is being shown in the several cases coming up, which will prolong the sittings until possibly tomorrow morning, the courtroom being comfortably filled for this morning's session.

The first case embraced the apportionment of the manse between South Nissouri, where the congregation voted Presbyterian, and North Nissouri, where the congregation voted to enter the United church of Canada, in which building the north congregation holds a two-fifths' interest. The Presbyterians claimed that the manse is worth only $2,500, while the United church claimed that it is worth twice that amount.

After the hearing of some evidence, J. D. Falconbridge, K.C. Toronto, chairman of the commission, suggested that the South Nissouri Presbyterian congregation should pay $1,500 to the North Nissouri United church congregation, but the Presbyterian group indicated that they could not pay that much and inclined to adhere to their first offer to pay $1,000 to the United church congregation.

Agreed To Pay. It was finally agreed, however, that the South Nissouri congregation should pay $1,250 cash within one month to the North Nissouri congregation or else the manse should be sold, the sale and the proceeds divided upon the basis of two-fifths to the North Nissouri United church congregation and the balance to the south congregation. Rev. Roy Johnson is the minister of the church congregation, while Rev. Charles M. Anderson, B.D., LaBelle, Mo., U. S. A., has just been given a clerk by the south congregation as its minister.

The second case is one in which the Presbyterian minority at Vanneck, (English settlement), is making application for the church at Vanneck, leaving the Ivan church, the other part of the charge under Rev. N. A. Campbell, minister, for the United church congregation. Rev. James Hagen is the newly appointed minister of the Presbyterian congregation at Vanneck, which has been linked with Bryanston and Bethel to form one charge with churches at both the latter points.

The commission, which includes also W. H. Wardrop, K.C., Hamilton, and R. S. Sasse, K.C., Toronto, sits only on Fridays owing to the fact that Falconbridge, K.C., Toronto, is busy throughout the week giving lectures. The commission sat at Orangeville last week and will sit at Peterboro, Owen Sound and Waterloo during the next three weeks.

Travel With Commission. G. W. Mason, K.C., Toronto, and R. L. Whitehead, Toronto, are traveling with the commission as legal counsel in the interests of the United church, while D. L. McCarthy, K.C., Toronto, and Norman S. MacDonald, Toronto, represent the Presbyterian church interests.

Local lawyers assisting in the cases here include: W. Gladstone and J. G. Gillanders for the Presbyterian church.

Noted in the large audience, largely out-of-town people, were the following ministers: Rev. Col. Wm. Beattie, D.D., C.M.G., chairman of the church union committee of the London presbytery; Rev. W. R. McIntosh, D.D., chairman of Midsex United church presbytery; Rev. James MacKay, B.D., moderator of the London Presbyterian presbytery.

Indian Dance Has Sorrowful End

Police Decide "Raisin Jack" Is Unnecessary.

A tub of "raisin jack" otherwise known as "Muncy dynamite," threatened to end an Indian dance on the Muncy reserve last Wednesday night, until the tub and its contents were seized by Constable Nelson of the R. C. M. P. in a house close to the dance hall.

The owner of the house made a quick exit through the back door, but will appear before Indian Agent McGonkin tomorrow to explain matters. He is being charged with having liquor on the Indian reserve, contrary to the Indian act.

Persian Cyclone Takes 32 Lives

Associated Press Despatch. Bushire, Persia, Oct. 30.—Messages from Bahrain Island, in the Gulf of Persia, assert that the stories of the recent cyclone were exaggerated. It is now stated that 32 pearl divers were drowned and that 35 boats have not been accounted for. The casualties in the boats and others in port are estimated at 50. No damage is reported to have been done ashore.

More Walking and Less Smoking, Advises Man 88 Years Old Today

Eighteen years past the three score and ten mark and still energetic enough and sufficiently interested in things in general to go on a two or three mile ramble of the city and suburbs once or twice a week, is the best way to describe John Widden of 75 Askin street, who today is celebrating his 88th birthday.

Mr. Widden, who was born in Devonshire, England, in 1837, came to Canada 36 years ago, and for many years was an employee of the Leonard company of this city.

"Do more walking and less smoking is the advice Mr. Widden invariably gives to the younger generation whenever he is asked for the reasons for his remarkable longevity. 'Although I have never smoked myself, I don't entirely disapprove of it in others, but I do believe that abstinence from it will make people live longer.'"

Despite his advanced years, Mr. Widden doesn't look over sixty, and he is still as hale and hearty as many younger men.

He thinks nothing of walking from his home to Woodland cemetery and back, and he makes

PUPILS ADMONISHED TO USE DISCRETION

Public and High School Principals Issue Warning to Children.

Pupils of the city public and secondary schools were admonished by the principals this morning to "make Halloween this year a sane one and behave themselves," as instructed by the board of education. "We are giving a little talk in all our rooms," stated William Wallis, principal of Simcoe street school, "asking them to act sensibly, not to destroy property, not to scare people, and to use common sense on Halloween tomorrow night."

"We are giving our pupils the benefit of the church regarding Halloween which we received from the administrator," stated J. T. Parkinson, principal of Tecumseh public school, "advising the children not to carry their pranks too far. We have tried to do that for 20 years. It is nothing new with us, and we have had no serious trouble in the locality where our school is situated."

DID SOMEBODY SAY HARD COAL FAMINE?

Here's evidence enough to the contrary. Left, the section of the 500 cars of chestnut and pea coal mined by the Glen Alden Coal Co. previous to the suspension of mining on September 1 and now standing in the Hamptons of the Lackawanna railroad in West Scranton. The rust on the car wheels and rails is evidence that the cars have remained motionless for weeks. Right, the huge pile of pea and chestnut coal alongside the tracks and near the Continental breaker of the Glen Alden Coal Co. The pile is about 100 feet high and contains approximately 75,000 tons of domestic-sized fuel.

AEROPLANES EASILY SPOT
ENEMY IN MIMIC WARFARE

Earl Haig and Military Officers Watch Manoeuvres in Sham Battle.

SOLDIERS ENJOY IT

Operations, However Ably Conducted, Can Only Bear Faint Resemblance to War.

Associated Press Despatch.
London, England, Sept. 31.—Field Marshal Earl Haig and a cluster of brilliant military officers with him would all have been dead if the sham battle were a real battle and if they had occupied the dangerous position they did yesterday, as they were spotted by no fewer than nine aeroplanes, which could have ended their careers there and then. However, being merely spectators of the mimic warfare, they were not even ruled out of action.

According to newspaper writers who are more or less military men, the aeroplanes are carrying everything before them in the clash of arms on which the fate of London is supposed to depend. Among the humors of the manoeuvres are notice posted up on bridges signifying that the bridges have been theoretically destroyed by gunfire but the notices are being obliterated by a torrential rain. It is announced that rum rations are being served daily while the downpour lasts. "I want to go home," is the most popular marching song during the military operations. It hardly needs an open avowal from such a military notability as Field Marshal Sir William Robertson to convince the lay-

Tokyo Boasts
23,352 Cafes

Tokio, Oct. 29.—The statistics of cafes and restaurants for Tokio and its environs indicate that hunger should not be among the things suffered by the residents, provided they have the price. There are 5,733 so-called "foreign restaurants," which means places where supposedly foreign food is served in an alleged foreign style. There are 1,208 restaurants serving Chinese style food, and 16,414 Japanese style restaurants. The total for all the public eating places in the city, exclusive of hotels, clubs and semi-private places, is 23,352. In only one ward, Kojimachi, do the foreign restaurants exceed the Japanese in number, the figures being: Foreign style, 206; Japanese style, 173.

Search Old Marae of Tahiti
For Trace of Ancient Races

Associated Press Despatch.
Papeete, Tahiti, Sept. 6.—Scientists are studying evidences of a Polynesian race antedating any known today. A representative of the Bishop Museum of Honolulu is making searches among the old Marae, or stone platform and pyramids, which served as temples and places of sacrifice in ancient times. These have been found in the interior of the island, now an uninhabited wilderness, but in former times evidently largely inhabited. Two of these Marae, recently found, are of a different type from the others on the inhabited islands of Polynesia. The only other places where this type of temple has been discovered are two desolate islands to the north of the Hawaiian group. Scientific opinion is inclined to hold that the rare form of Marae points to a more ancient race, driven inland by a conquering wave of Polynesians. Further investigation is under way, with a view of determining the character of the lost race.

NO NEW COLORS

Names, However, Are Astonishing—Turbans Will Again Be Popular.

New York, Oct. 30.—The full range of colors has nothing essentially new in it. In fact there can be only modifications of the colors of the spectrum. But they have some astonishingly new names. Among the greens, for example, are shamrock, Linden, von Lulsant, Miami, ocean, myrtle, empire, adriatique, reseda, creme de menthe, chartreuse and citrine. The browns include toast, brique, muscade, chert, caramel and cinnamon. Grays have such names as fog, mole, sea swallow, platinum, pearl, slate and stone. The fullness of the garments, however, is placed low. The straight coats will have the fullness essential for the present mode furnished by the fan pleatings which become apparent only when the wearer is in motion. Contrast is the feature which gives effect and individuality to many of the evening toilets today. For example, if an especially gorgeous and elaborate wrap is worn, it has become an accepted habit to wear beneath it a rather plain frock of gold or silver tissue, very slightly draped. The contrast brings out the admirable points of both garments. The Scotch plaid fabrics are being widely purchased at present for the wardrobes of the college girls. These fabrics usually are used for skirts which fall in almost kilt-like folds and are topped by a rather long velvet blouse fastened and ornamented by small close-set metal buttons. Topped by a turban is going to form part of the description of many a costume this fall. The close-cropped heads of many American women have made the small, tightly wound hats especially appropriate and becoming. The newest turbans are of leather, velvet or silk, and frequently include all three materials in one model.

CLERGYMAN TELLS LENNOX TO MIND HIS OWN AFFAIRS

Special to The Advertiser.
Aurora, Oct. 29.—T. H. Lennox, Conservative candidate in North York, had a lively tiff with one of the local clergymen during the voting here today. A young lady was leaving an automobile to enter one of the polling booths when Mr. Lennox accosted her with the remark: "You are not 21 years old, are you?" The young lady made no reply, and at this moment the clergyman appeared on the scene and advised the young lady to make no reply to the question, and told Mr. Lennox "to mind his own business." The young lady went into the polling booth and presumably cast her ballot.

PRIVATE TRADERS HIT
BY SOVIET GOVERNMENT

Moscow, Oct. 29.—Another severe blow was aimed at private traders in Soviet Russia today, when M. Dzerzhinsky, head of the supreme economic council, acting for the council and the Ukrainian government, directed that numerous officials of the state and co-operative organizations engaged in the sale of textiles should be placed on trial. The government charges these private traders with accumulating huge stocks of cotton goods from the state organizations for resale at exorbitant prices.

MEXICAN BOYCOTT LIFTED.

Mexico City, Oct. 29.—The regional confederation of labor has lifted its boycott against the Aguila Oil Company, owing to the decision reached by the arbitration committee at Japa ending the conflict. Resumption of work has also been ordered by the confederation at the company's Minatitlan refinery.

An Adventure of the Great Lakes

By HAROLD TITUS

INSTALLMENT 24.

The men worked quickly at Goodheart's orders. He passed the end of the long line around the after-thwart of the skiff. He unlashed the oars and tested each carefully. Then he cast a look out over the stern rail at the turbulent water beyond, at the wreck of the little gasoline boat, smothered in spray.

"Right, now! Up she goes!" His voice was sharp and severe, and had any of the men been reluctant to obey him even under the influence of Cap'n Ezra's protests, their unwillingness would have been dissipated by his determination.

The bow of the skiff poised on the stern rail. It slid out, and when the Wanderer lifted her nose on the next sea, the skiff took the water, held close beneath the stern by the line Goodheart was to try to bear to the impelled Brothers.

The line that he was to try to carry! This and no more was the thought in John Goodheart's mind as, kicking off his hip boots and olekin coat, clad only in his woolen he poked in the frail little cockleshell, waved his hand, saw the line paid out, adjusted the oars in the locks and took his seat.

Ezra was right, of course. A man would not have one chance in a thousand of going through those rocks without disaster, but Goodheart expected disaster. Here was a way out of the maze in which he had lost himself, his balance, his confidence, his chance at happiness! And yet his sacrifice was not to be in vain, wholly. He knew that he could make that skiff live for a time and every foot he could gain toward the Three Hops would increase the chance of life for the men in her just that much.

He could picture himself going until the skiff swamped, keeping his oars at work until she swept from beneath him. Then, free of his weight, the thing would come awash and would drift on. In that drifting was little chance of putting the line directly into William's hands and yet, by directing its progress so far as he could, the trick might be turned.

He felt himself lifted sharply and looked back to see a hill of water loom above him, curling for him. He drove his oars savagely and felt them bend as the blades bit deep. He was tilted far backward by the sharp pitch of the skiff and then about him, curling over the rail in heavy splashes, was the froth of the comb, and he was shouting for more slack as the drag of the line defied the power he put into the rowing. The crest on which he sought to ride slipped past and he seemed to be sucked swiftly backward.

He knew he was not retreating. The onward rush of the sea gave that impression, but he also knew he was progressing under a handicap. The pull of the line he dragged retarded him, and he raised a hand in a series of quick gestures for even more slack. He saw the white-faced men on the tug who paid out the line work faster and piled his oars steadily, watching the seas that stormed toward him.

The next was not so high nor was the third. But behind that one came a series of three great rollers, and beyond him the green depths gave to white shoals, not four skiff lengths away. He judged, as he looked quickly over his shoulder.

He watched that first great roller bear down upon him, tower above him. He saw its crest lick and curl toward him, heard the hiss and roar as the thing broke and his arm muscles, his back, his legs sprang to the aid of his will as he gripped his teeth and drove the blades with all the strength and skill he could muster.

He needed to ride that wave across the first protruding rocks! He needed the safety that its heights would give him. He needed the speed, the distance—or, rather, the three Brothers needed those advantages. To him they meant very little.

But did they mean little? That doubt flashed into his mind as he was lifted to the crest of the great comb. He felt the little, live spring of his oars. He sensed the onward leap of the skiff. He felt the burden of the line she towed away with the crest of that wave!

A great love of conflict came to him as he drove the oars hard and harder, as he held the course truly, as he fastened on that falling crest and made it serve him. Here was where he belonged! Here was action and he, a man of action, was alive and in action. The comb sought to slip past him, tried to drop him down to where rocks awaited, tried to elude and cheat him and the wrecked men of the help it could give, but he did not let it go! He would not let it go! He swore at it and told it he would let it go without serving him as long as it was capable of service and made his word good.

A pronounced feeling of achievement warmed him, then, and he won a round with the lake. He was master of a situation again. For a moment he was no failure!

All about was froth, hissing, roaring, tumbling, swirling froth. Behind, the second of the series of three rollers was breaking. It would upon him like a flurry of snow, lifting him but little, threatening to board and swamp his craft.

Beyond, directly in his way, a triangular piece of ledge protruded, alerting him to the danger, ominous, waiting. He saw this and swung his skiff to port and skimmed past, lifting one oar high, the sharp edges of the prop barely scraping the paint. He backed water to check his progress because other rocks loomed ahead, to either side. The roar of the sea was as a Niagara in his ears, and he saw its mighty surge sweeping toward him, no longer a hill of water, but a mere lifting in the level of the foam over the rocks. A roddy lift, four feet, perhaps, and that would let him beyond over those boulders that blocked the way.

The shattered roller was not a boat's length off when he felt a tug, knew that his progress was checked. The line he dragged had tightened, lifting him but little, threatening to board and swamp his craft. Danger here! If he held him, that oncoming remnant of a sea would bury him. He tugged and cried out against the handicap, and slack came toward him. He drove the oars again, and as the first leaves of froth from the wreck toward him, set the skiff leaping forward, forward, and upward as the depth beneath him increased for the moment. He drove on, across rocks that scrubbed the bottom, that changed his course despite his best efforts.

but he had again triumphed over water and weather!

He was halfway to the Three Hops. He was halfway from deep water to those men at whom death itself grimaced.

A hundred feet more and he would have that saving line in their hands. If disaster should overwhelm him now they might even snatch it from the lake as it drifted past.

But that was a chance and John Goodheart wanted no chances. He wanted to deliver. He wanted to cheat the lake, the gale, the reef by the strength of his own hands and heart. He was a master, wasn't he? He knew lakes and boats didn't he? This was no ungraspable thing like a forgotten face!

He roared defiance at the rip of current which sucked the skiff sharply away to port. He fought it, for though the current followed deep water he could see where it turned sharply, and at that point it would bring him up with a crash against waiting boulders. He swore again and listed his skiff and bent all his weight on one oar and was out of the rip.

One of the rip, with water sloshing about his feet, with the weight of the line dragging at him, but past that one hazard.

More rocks waited. The break was of no consequence for the moment. Even had it been a threat of immediate disaster, he would have had no time to consider it. He felt himself carried to port as another surge of froth swept about him, spreading over the rocks as though white batter from some gigantic mixing bowl were being poured across a molding board. Ahead, a sharp jet shot upward as the swift flow met some upstanding projection of the ledge. He was being sucked toward it, fast and faster.

He pulled with the one oar with all his strength, but could make no progress. He backed with the other, seeking to check and trusting to the drag of the line for aid, but the rip of the water, rushing through some sharply defined channel of the shoal, had him powerless.

He felt a tugging against his left hand as though the bottom had reached upward and grasped that oar blade. He wrenched at it and could not bring it free. He lifted, striving to raise it from the lack to relieve the pressure as the resistance swung him about and sent water in over the other gunwale. And then the oar snapped with a sharp report.

Goodheart was flung from his thwart as the liberated boat struck a submerged boulder. The skiff hung there, taking water again, but he flung his weight to the other side and she floated free. That is, she was no longer fast on the rock, but she was not free to move as she had been moved before. The water was above his ankles as the man stood up and fixed the one oar left him in the skulling lock.

He looked about and began to move the now sluggish skiff among those treacherous, gleaming, hungry rocks. Fifty feet away William's white face changed from his throat to mingles with transfixed between hope and dismay. Willie was standing now, gripping the broken gunwale, crying words that were smothered in the bedlam. And as John looked little Willie lifted his head and revealed the face of a frightened, bewildered child.

Fifty feet, fifty feet, with the rip of the current swinging him quickly off to starboard, carrying him the weight of water that sloshed to his knees dragging him down, the pull of the line holding him back. He fought against the flow, fought with his single oar, fought with his teeth bared and ragged sounds bursting from his throat to mingle with the scream and pound that was all about him.

The stern was sagging beneath his weight. The bow rose slowly, suddenly. He was putting her down, being there, adding his burden to the drag of the rope. He floundered forward to the main thwart. That change brought the skiff back to a moment of half-drunken stability. He began to noddle, to shove himself along from rock to rock, using the oar as a pole, with the water about his knees, with more water tumbling in, with the line working against him, pulling the stern until he was broadside to the tumbling froth.

Broadside, yes, but still to windward of the wreck. And he held her to windward while the skiff lurched and settled beneath him. He paddled saggedly, then letting regard for balance hang, forgetting all else. He moved forward slowly, but when he looked over his shoulder he saw William hanging out over the rail, reaching for him. Reaching for him! He was within reach and he laughed; laughed as the skiff swamped and flung him out, and he came up laughing, the line in his one hand, the other gripped about William's wrists, and dragged himself over the side of what a few hours before had been a staunch fishing boat.

"Now, William," he said, through his laughter. "Now, William, let's lash the boys fast and take 'em out where it's warmer!"

And he laughed again, laughed at the lake, laughed easily and happily as a man who is master of his fate and captain of his soul!

Middlesex West Goes Liberal While East Riding Elects Hodgins Conservative

J.C. ELLIOTT ROLLS UP HUGE W. MIDDLESEX VOTE

Swings Liberals To Victory With 1,458 Majority Over A. McDougall, Prog.

APPROVAL GENERAL

East Riding Goes To A. King Hodgins, Conservative—Dr. C. C. Ross Second.

J. C. Elliott, K.C., swept the Liberals yesterday with a majority of 1,458 over Allan McDougall, Progressive, achieving a complete reversal of the 1921 contest, when J. D. F. Bruce, Liberal, defeated McDougall, Progressive, by a majority of 2,013 votes. Archie L. Hodgins, present Progressive member, trailed the Liberal.

The total number of votes polled in the two ridings was 21,704, as compared with 22,672 in 1921, a decrease of 968.

Unofficial results, compiled last night, are as follows:

West Middlesex—J. C. Elliott, K.C., Liberal, 4,830; Allan McDougall, Progressive, 3,372; Tom Elliott, Conservative, 3,207.

East Middlesex—A. King Hodgins, K.C., Conservative, 4,830; Dr. C. C. Ross, Liberal, 3,207; Archie L. Hodgins, Progressive, 2,576.

Added Significance. Significance is added to the victory of J. C. Elliott by the fact that the Progressive candidate was formerly one of the staunchest Liberals in the riding. Tom Elliott, Conservative, and reeve of West Williams, was beaten in his own township by the new Liberal member.

Early returns recorded strong approval of J. C. Elliott, and his majority mounted steadily as totals were received from villages and towns. Strathroy, the heart of the riding, gave the Liberal standard-bearer 803 votes to the 316 polled by the Progressive candidate.

The East Riding. The outcome in East Middlesex was never in doubt after returns were received from fifteen polls. A. King Hodgins, Conservative, carried all the six townships, making by far the best record in the London annex.

When given the winner 1,458 votes and Dr. Ross secured 364 votes. The Liberal candidate made the best showing in Westminster, where he polled 921 votes to A. K. Hodgins, Progressive, 579.

Losses in Annex. A. L. Hodgins, Progressive, won over the Liberal contestant in three of the five townships, but dropped the annex by 190 votes.

Dr. C. C. Ross was heartily cheered when he addressed his supporters in his committee-rooms shortly after 9 o'clock.

"I want to thank my committee and all the people who voted for me," said Dr. Ross. "Archie Hodgins took a number of L. P. O. Liberal votes from us, as witness the Westminster township, while the U. P. O. Conservatives voted solidly for King Hodgins."

"I am very proud of the manner in which Hyde Park Conservatives supported me. In a division that was notoriously Conservative, they gave me a three to one majority over the Liberal candidate. I want to thank you all once again for your splendid support."

Proud of Showing. Dr. Clifford Ross also spoke in Dr. Ross's committee-rooms. He stated that the Liberals might well be proud of the showing in East Middlesex.

"You put your candidate in second place, and defeated the sitting member," said Dr. Ross. "You moved up a step, and next election you will elect your candidate." (Cheers.)

King Hodgins, speaking at his committee-rooms, thanked his supporters for his election. He stated that he took to their credit to himself, but that success was due to his workers and the Conservative policies. He had heard that Mr. Meighen had been defeated. He need not worry, however, as he would have a dozen seats offered him immediately.

Archie Hodgins called at the Conservative rooms to congratulate the new member for East Middlesex, but the latter was absent.

"I just called to wish my opponent good luck," the former Progressive member for the riding stated.

The summary of the two ridings by subdivisions is as follows:

One Up, Other Down

J. FRANK WHITE, Conservative candidate for Oxford.

In the city of London election, Conservatives gained and Labor forces slipped. J. Frank White (at left above) was returned as Conservative member by the largest majority in the history of the city. The increase in Conservative support here coincided with Labor's losses. John Colbert (right) fared rather badly as a Labor candidate and polled only slightly more than half the vote given Arthur Mould, Labor man in 1921.

JOHN COLBERT.

Conservative Candidates Take Both Seats—Vote in South Close.

Woodstock, Oct. 29.—"The people of North Oxford wanted a change," said Dr. D. J. Sinclair, the defeated Liberal candidate in North Oxford, in commenting upon the victory of the Conservative candidate, Dr. D. M. Sutherland, who was elected to the federal seat for North Oxford by the comparatively small majority of 465 tonight. The Woodstock city vote, admittedly Conservative prior to the election, gave a majority of only 527 to the Conservatives.

WESTERN ONTARIO GIVES LIBERALS SEVEN SEATS

Most of Ten Ridings Held by Party in Province Are in Peninsula.

CONSERVATIVES 18

Progressives Hold Only Two Seats—Urban Centers Swing Vote.

Changes made this morning in Western Ontario seats do not alter the standing of the parties as announced in The Advertiser. The Progressives do not yet concede East Lambton to the Conservatives, but there seems little doubt that J. A. Armstrong has won the seat by from 44 to 56. The latter figure is the majority claimed by the Conservatives, while the 44 is claimed on the basis of the Progressive figures. However, some municipalities submitted their total votes and the Progressives think that when the vote in the divisions is tabulated again there will be a reduction in the number of votes for Mr. Armstrong.

A despatch from Toronto this morning announced that the Conservative had won in South Perth. This is an error, as the Liberal, Fred Sanderson, had 411 majority. Mr. Sanderson said this morning that the figures were final, and there was no doubt about them.

W. T. Goodison of West Lambton has the distinction of being the only Liberal in the next parliament who will be a reduction in the number of votes for Mr. Armstrong.

West Lambton has always been Liberal with the exception of the last parliament, at times when the Conservatives swept the province as they did yesterday. In 1911 F. E. Pardee held the seat in the reciprocal fight and lost it to the measure responsible for the election of Mr. Goodison yesterday.

Bruce is solid. Bruce county is the only county in Ontario which sends a solid Liberal representation to Ottawa. James Malcolm and Dr. Hall won in the north and south ridings, respectively, by substantial majorities. Both were three-cornered contests in both the Progressive vote went to pieces in Bruce as it did in other ridings.

South Grey remains the last strong hold of the farmers' movement in Ontario and it is doubtful if it isn't a personal following which elects Agnes MacPhail rather than a belief in the principles and value of the Farmers' party. John King in North Huron, although labeled as a Progressive, had practically all of the Liberal support in his riding and was able to roll up a large majority over George Spotton, Conservative. The King had tried several times to get into parliaments but has always failed.

Redistributed out of his seat in the legislature, Dr. Carmichael, former minister without portfolio, in the Drury government, failed yesterday to become a member of the house of commons for North Grey. He did not to be a Conservative, who are highly elated over the large majority polled by M. R. Duncan.

Line Runs True In W. Middlesex

Special to The Advertiser. In the year 1867, when Canada held her first election as a nation in the making, James W. Macfie of Appleton and William Pole went out on election day to declare by a grand-nephew of their preference for Malcolm Campbell, Liberal candidate on that occasion. On October 29, 1925, fifty-eight years later, Mr. Macfie and his neighbor Mr. Pole, again went to the polling booth to mark their ballots for John Campbell Elliott, a grand-nephew of the candidate for whom they voted in Confederation year.

Each of these Liberals stalwarts has passed the four score milestone. Mr. Macfie is the father of Archie Macfie, who made such a notable run as a Liberal candidate in the last provincial contest.

divisions, Sarnia and Point Edward gave a Conservative majority of 2,000 which was won by a large margin. In the next parliament, who will be a reduction in the number of votes for Mr. Armstrong.

Both parties are surprised by the result. The Conservatives were almost certain of North and South Bruce, West Lambton and South Perth which the Liberals won. The Liberals felt quite sure of North Oxford, South Oxford, Kent, East and South Essex and South Wellington which they lost. The Progressives thought they were going to win South Waterloo, Norfolk-Elgin and East and West Middlesex, but the results were otherwise.

Another feature is that with the exception of one riding the vote given was decisive in every case. There will be no recounts unless in East Lambton, where just a few votes separate the Conservative from the Progressive.

Western Ontario Liberals stood up better against the Tory tide than Central and Eastern Ontario Liberals did. If the Western Ontario average had been maintained further east in this province the Liberals would have had a fair number of members from Ontario.

Family affairs got straightened out in the elections, too. Tom McMillan defeated his brother, R. J. McMillan, in South Huron. Tom was the Liberal and R. J. the Progressive. The latter only polled a few hundred votes, showing that South Huron has abandoned the Progressive party. The Chaplin brothers were elected, A. D. in Kent and J. D. in Lincoln. Father and son have sat in the House of Commons, but never before have two brothers been members of that body at the same time.

DUNCAN IN N. GREY.

Special to The Advertiser. Owen Sound, Oct. 29.—M. R. Duncan, Conservative member of the last parliament, was re-elected today in North Grey by 690 over Col. D. Carmichael, Progressive. Owen Sound gave a large majority for Mr. Duncan while the other sections rolled up a big vote for Col. Carmichael, who was a member of the Ontario legislature and minister without portfolio in the Drury government. He shared the same fate as most other Progressives in Ontario. The vote was: Duncan 6,796; Carmichael 6,106; Owen Sound, gave Duncan 2,601, and Carmichael 1,971. Meaford's votes were: Duncan 629, Carmichael 500.

MISS MACPHAIL RETURNED.

Special to The Advertiser. Durham, Oct. 29.—Agnes MacPhail, Progressive member of the last parliament, was returned today by a majority of 1,336 over Dr. L. Campbell, Conservative candidate. Complete figures, outside of the final majority, were not available at a late hour. Miss MacPhail was considered as one of the best bets in the Western Ontario field, and her big majority was one of the few gratifying bits of news for the Progressive forces.

STANSELL IN NORFOLK.

Special to The Advertiser. Simcoe, Oct. 29.—J. L. Stansell, Conservative member for East Elgin in the last parliament, was the victor today in the contest for the combined riding of Norfolk-Elgin. Mr. Stansell defeated George D. Sewell, Progressive-Liberal candidate, by a majority of 560. The campaign was a particularly hard-fought one. Mr. Stansell getting his greatest support from Port Dover, a Conservative stronghold. Norfolk was Progressive in the last parliament, when John A. Wallace was elected by a majority of 754. The Progressives brought out George Sewell in this election and he was also given the support of the Liberal forces.

GOODISON WINS.

Special to The Advertiser. Sarnia, Oct. 29.—W. T. Goodison, Independent Liberal, brings West Lambton back into the Liberal fold in one of the hottest fights here since Confederation. The figures, Goodison 6,789 and LeSueur 6,093, give the Liberal a majority of 181. West Lambton though goes back to Liberalism after one lapse in 30 years. The Conservatives had a majority of 1,022 in the city of Sarnia and neighboring village of Point Edward, but the townships pulled it down. The result was in doubt until the last half dozen polls were received.

HURONS DEFEAT MEIGHEN.

Special to The Advertiser. Goderich, Oct. 29.—Both Huron ridings voted against the Conservatives today. In the north J. H. King, Progressive, who had the endorsement of the Liberals, won by more than 100 from the Conservative, Geo. Spotton. Complete returns gave King 1,061 and Spotton 954. The fight in the south attracted more attention, as it was three-cornered, and two brothers were running against each other while the Conservative was J. J. Mermer, a former Conservative member for the riding. Tom McMillan, the Liberal, had the big end when the figures were complete. The CHAPLIN IN KENT.

Special to The Advertiser. Chatham, Oct. 29.—Alex D. Chaplin, Conservative, won the riding of Kent today with a plurality of 417 over Dr. J. W. Rutherford, Liberal, and 3,775 over J. W. Ward, Progressive.

Not until late tonight were the final returns available, the vote in Oxford township being indefinite. It was 10:30 before the victorious candidate would venture to address the

LONDON IN RECORD VOTE GIVES WHITE 4,467 LEAD LITTLE'S TOTAL, 7,722

Liberals Hold to Their Strength, While Conservatives Gain at Expense of Labor—Ward One Best For White and Ward Four For Little.

VOTE OF 22,000 LARGEST IN HISTORY

J. F. White, the Conservative candidate, was returned by the voters of London by the record majority of 4,467. Another new record was a total vote of 22,448, as compared with 21,956 votes cast in 1921.

In yesterday's voting the successful candidate, J. Frank White, received a total of 12,243, E. S. Little, the Liberal nominee, 7,776, and John Colbert, the Labor candidate, 2,429. In the previous contest in 1921 the standing of the three candidates was as follows: J. F. White 9,730, C. R. Somerville 7,574, Arthur Mould 4,252. Mr. White's majority on this occasion was 1,759, his increase being 2,111.

Liberals Were United. One fact stands out clearly from comparison of the figures and that is that Mr. Little had a united Liberal party behind him, and succeeded in holding the Liberal vote to practically what it was in 1921. The actual difference is only 198, which is negligible, considering the large vote cast. Labor suffered heavy casualties in yesterday's battle, their standing from 4,252 to 2,429, a difference of 1,823 votes. In this fact is told the whole story of the result so far as London is concerned. The 1,845 votes lost by Labor evidently swung to the Conservative side, and explains practically the whole of the increase in Mr. White's majority.

Showing of Labor Surprise. The showing of Labor was a surprise both to members of that party and their opponents. Colbert was regarded as a strong candidate, and the showing made was a disappointment to many.

vote was: Tom McMillan, Liberal, 4,735; J. J. Mermer, Conservative, 4,385; R. J. McMillan, Progressive, 1,667. Seaforth, Clinton and Exeter gave majorities for Mermer, but the townships wiped them out. The Exeter vote: T. McMillan, 341; Mermer 504; R. J. McMillan, 69; Seaforth, T. McMillan, 430; Mermer 540; R. J. McMillan, 63; Clinton, T. McMillan, 485; Mermer 494; R. J. McMillan, 41; Hensall, T. McMillan, 192; Mermer 187; R. J. McMillan, 19.

crowds which clamored in front of the committee-rooms. Kent was won from the Conservatives in 1907, when A. E. McGeig, Liberal, won from Herb Clements. The riding remained true to Liberalism until the present election. The final vote was: Chaplin, 3,709; Rutherford, 7,892, and Ward, 4,674. More than two-thirds of the electorate went to the polls. Chatham's plurality for Chaplin was 1,021 over Rutherford and 3,378 over Ward.

HON. G. P. GRAHAM LOSES.

Canadian Press Despatch. Windsor, Oct. 29.—The Conservative forces swept the three Essex ridings. Sidney C. Robinson, Conservative, decisively trounced his opponent, E. Blake Winter, Liberal, in West Essex. In South Essex, a new entry into the political game, Eccles J. Gott, took the honors from the old veteran, the Rt. Hon. Geo. P. Graham. The closest fight was in Essex East, where Dr. Raymond D.

Morand just nosed out Edmond G. Odette, Liberal. Defeat of the Liberal candidates tonight is attributed entirely to the tariff cry raised by Conservative campaigners. In this part of the county the fight waged by the Conservative politicians was very similar to the tactics adopted during the reciprocity election of 1911. The fact that the Rt. Hon. G. P. Graham did not live in this riding was used against him by the "native son" opponent, and was highly successful.

DR. HALL WINS S. BRUCE.

Special to The Advertiser. Walkerton, Oct. 29.—The election of Dr. W. A. Hall, Liberal, in South Bruce, was one of the features of the Western Ontario campaign. Out of the 68 subdivisions, 67 gave Dr. Hall a majority of 586, and F. W. Lippert, Conservative candidate, conceded the election of Dr. Hall by a majority of 640. The latest returns show the following figures, with one poll to hear from: Hall, Lib., 3,847; Lippert, Cons., 3,257; Findlay, Prog., 2,151.

CHAPLIN WINS KENT.

Special to The Advertiser. Chatham, Oct. 29.—A three-cornered contest in Kent county gave victory to the Conservatives. A. D. Chaplin, Cons., has 649 majority over Dr. J. P. Rankin, who was elevated to the senate, and the south riding by William Forrester, who retired.

HALL IN S. BRUCE.

Special to The Advertiser. Walkerton, Oct. 29.—The electors of South Bruce sprung a surprise today, by electing Dr. W. A. Hall, Liberal, in a three-cornered contest. Dr. Hall has a splendid majority of nearly 600. His nearest opponent was Fred Lippert, Conservative. The victory is a gain for the Liberals from the Progressive, J. W. Findlay, who ran third in today's race. The complete returns show the vote as follows: Hall, Lib., 3,879; Lippert, Cons., 3,088; Findlay, Prog., 1,811.

N. WATERLOO LIBERAL.

Special to The Advertiser. Kitchener, Oct. 29.—E. A. Waterloo did as expected and elected W. D. Euler, Independent Liberal, by more than 4,208 majority today. Early polls indicated the preference of the voters and the majority kept increasing. E. H. Scully, the Conservative, was behind in every district in the riding.

BRANTS GO CONSERVATIVE.

Special to The Advertiser. Brantford, Oct. 29.—Brantford changed over in a decisive manner today by returning R. E. Ryerson, Conservative, over W. G. Raymond, Liberal, by 2,774 majority. The standing was: Raymond, 5,725; Ryerson, 8,506. Early returns showed substantial Conservative majorities, and this was increased by practically every poll. In the last general election, Mr. Raymond had a majority of 1,987. The reversal of the vote was tremendous. The Liberals knew that they were up against it, but did not expect such a severe defeat.

Mount Pleasant, rural subdivision of the Brantford riding, registered a Conservative majority for the first time since Confederation. This was the biggest surprise of the local contest. The city divisions registered

SANDERSON WINS SOUTH PERTH SEAT

North Riding, However, Goes to Conservative Candidate David M. Wright.

Special to The Advertiser. Stratford, Oct. 29.—The Perth's tonight divided the honors between the Liberals and the Conservatives. In the north riding David M. Wright, president of the McLagan Furniture Company, was returned victorious over Mayor Tom Brown, the Liberal candidate, by a majority of about 750 in the south riding the reverse occurred, and Fred G. Sanderson, the Liberal candidate, defeated Robert Graham, Conservative, by about 420 votes. Both Perth ridings were formerly Liberal. The north riding was held by Dr. J. P. Rankin, who was elevated to the senate, and the south riding by William Forrester, who retired.

Unusually large votes were polled in both constituencies, and showed that the people were keenly interested in the affairs of the day. The candidate-elect in North Perth won his election in the city of Stratford, which gave him a majority of about 900. Listowel and Milverton, the two towns in the riding, however, also gave him majorities, the former 265 and the latter 18. In South Perth the defeated candidates carried both towns, St. Marys and Mitchell, the former by a majority of 276 and the latter by 164.

WELLINGTON TURNS.

Special to The Advertiser. Guelph, Oct. 29.—One of the first of the rural seats to report was North Wellington, where Duncan Sinclair, Conservative, was elected by more than 1,000 votes over John Pritchard, Progressive. There was no Liberal in the field. It has been admitted for some time that the Conservative would win. The seat is a gain for the Conservatives from the Progressives.

S. WATERLOO CONSERVATIVE.

Special to The Advertiser. Galt, Oct. 29.—A. M. Edwards, Conservative, was elected in South Waterloo by nearly 3,000 majority. Galt city rolled up a tremendous Conservative vote which could not be overcome in the county districts. This is a Conservative gain from the Progressives, as William Elliott was the member in the last parliament. It was a straight fight between Mr. Edwards and Elliott, 5,073; Edwards, 8,021.

SOUTH PERTH GOES LIBERAL.

Special to The Advertiser. St. Marys, Oct. 29.—South Perth remains in the Liberal ranks. F. G. Sanderson, Lib., was elected today

GUTHRIE RE-ELECTED.

Special to The Advertiser. Guelph, Oct. 29.—Hon. Hugh Guthrie remains as member for South Wellington, which riding he represented since 1900, being a Liberal until 1917, when he became Unionist and Conservative since 1921. The city gave him a tremendous lead, which was pulled down by about 1,000 in the rural parts of the riding. Such a large majority was unexpected. The vote was: Guthrie, Cons., 9,092; R. W. Gladstone, Lib., 8,065.

LIBERAL IN N. BRUCE.

Special to The Advertiser. Kincardine, Oct. 29.—Despite a three-cornered contest, James Malcolm retained North Bruce in the Liberal column today. He had 214 majority over Hugh Clark, his nearest competitor, J. Landon, the Progressive, was nowhere in the running, and polled what votes he got in the northern part of the riding. The standing is as follows: Malcolm, Lib., 3,843; Clark, Cons., 3,633; Landon, Prog., 2,471.

E. LAMBTON DOUBTFUL.

Special to The Advertiser. Petrolia, Oct. 29.—Fansher or Armstrong? Which is it? At midnight, supporters of J. E. Armstrong, Conservative candidate, claimed victory in the East Lambton contest, by a majority variously stated at from 5 to 112. Progressive forces refuse to admit the victory of Armstrong, and declared that Bart W. Fansher had secured a small majority. Canadian Press and Sarnia reports support the contention of the Conservatives. Election officers could not give complete returns tonight.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL FAVORS ENTERING WORLD COURT

Associated Press Despatch. Detroit, Mich., Oct. 29.—The necessity for universal and lasting world peace was emphasized in various committee reports presented today to the biennial convention of the national council of women. "We must organize so that no nation will dare to mobilize in the face of the disapproval of the moral force of the world," declared Mrs. Philip North Moore, president of the national council. A resolution favoring the entrance of the United States into the world court was submitted in the report of Mrs. Lucy Ameshead of Boston, chairman of the permanent peace committee.

MEIGHEN WAITING.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, Oct. 29.—"I do not care to make a statement until the results are completed," stated Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, leader of the Conservative party at midnight. Mr. Meighen, when questioned as to what would be his attitude toward the province of Quebec if he became prime minister in view of the heavy adverse vote in the French-speaking constituency, replied: "I should certainly seek French-Canadian cabinet representation. This is the right of Quebec."

ARMENIAN BOYS TO VISIT LONDON

Canadian Club Protege Will Be Among Company of Entertainers.

London is to have the privilege of actually seeing some twenty little Armenian boys, refugees now being cared for at the Georgetown farm, when they come to the city on Tuesday next, under the direction of the Rev. Mr. Pearce, to present a concert in the central collegiate institute. Coming under the auspices of the local Armenian relief committee, the boys aim to give the public some idea of what they can do.

Among them will be five boys who have been adopted by Londoners. Greatest interest is centered in the fact that John Stewart, the Women's Canadian club protege, will be among the company. One of the boys attended the Y. M. C. A. camp this summer and captured a medal there, which will be presented to him on Tuesday night.

The boys arrive in the city about 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and will march through the city streets in company with local cadets and boy scouts.

Later in the afternoon Kiwanis club cars will convey them to the McCormick Manufacturing Company building in East London, where they will be guests at the civic banquet which is to be given there, and during the honor of the visiting delegates to the Western Ontario women's institutes convention. Following dinner the boys will present a short play for the institute women, leaving before 5 o'clock for the central collegiate, where the main concert is to be held.

The Rev. Mr. Pearce will explain something of the work carried on at Georgetown by means of lantern slides.

DEAR OLD LADY IS REMEMBERED

Friends of Mrs. Harlow Honor Her On Eightieth Birthday.

A dear old lady in this city, Mrs. Harlow, of 167 Simcoe street, this week celebrated her eightieth birthday, and in honor of the occasion a number of her close friends tendered her a surprise party at her home.

During the afternoon the friends assembled and tendered her their warmest wishes and presented her with two lovely bouquets of flowers—one from the Hamilton road Presbyterian Ladies' Aid, which was presented by Mrs. Stein in the absence of Mrs. M. and the other was from the Canton Faith Prayer Circle. Mrs. Sam Wilson made the latter presentation, telling in a few well-chosen words of the devotion in which Mrs. Harlow is held by those who know her.

During the afternoon Mrs. Harlow was very sweet. The Mother-in-law for her guests, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Munro and Mrs. Brown also contributed vocal numbers. Later a dainty tea was served, when Mrs. John McCre and Mrs. Frank McNall assisted Miss Hattie Harlow, the daughter of the house.

Mrs. Harlow is one of the older members of the Hamilton road Presbyterian church and is greatly loved by others in the congregation.

BUSY SEASON PLANNED AT LONDON HUNT CLUB

Smart Functions Are Being Arranged for Thanksgiving Day.

The days preceding Thanksgiving and Armistice Days are beginning to be filled with social engagements and seasonal parties, and a number of smart affairs are being arranged at the London Hunt and Country club within the next week or two.

The first of the events comes on Saturday evening, November 7, when a special Thanksgiving dinner-dance will be held at the clubhouse. Already quite a number of members have arranged parties for this night.

However, Monday, November 9, will be the busiest day at that time. A club luncheon is being planned for the noon hour, while from 3 to 6 o'clock a tea-dance will be in progress. It is expected that a great many members will be present.

At 2:30 o'clock on Thanksgiving Day a hunt will be started, leaving the clubhouse sharp at that time. The run is laid out so that the riders not desiring to do any jumping can follow by the road. The run will be under the direction of one of the members of the hunt committee, and there will be a pilot with a flag for those following by the road.

SCULPTURES BUST OF SIR ADAM BECK

Miss Effie Woolverton Models Remarkable Likeness of Late Citizen.

A remarkable likeness of the late Sir Adam Beck is being modeled in clay by Miss Effie Woolverton of this city. This bust, which was begun some weeks ago, is being sculptured with loving care by this talented woman artist. Twice already has the artist's study been scrapped, although friends of Miss Woolverton proclaimed it good work. It did not satisfy the artist. The third study, however, came nearer to the artist's conception of what the bust should be. It is being modeled entirely from photographs, having been begun following the death of Sir Adam.

Miss Woolverton, who has already done some exceptionally fine work in clay modeling, is a daughter of Dr. Woolverton, Grand avenue. She is a gifted pupil of John Peel, father of the distinguished artist, Paul Peel. After studying with him for two years at the Academy of Fine Arts, Philadelphia, and since then she has spent a great part of her time modeling in clay.

FOREST CITY HIVE. Forest City Hive, ladies of the Macabees, held a most enjoyable euchre at the home of Mrs. Barton, Dundas street on Wednesday. The light refreshments, served at the game, were looked after by Mrs. R. Wilson, assisted by Mrs. E. Insley, Miss Pryce, Mrs. Barton and Mrs. Summers.

TRAFALGAR MOTHERS' CLUB. A Halloween tea and sale of home-cooking is being arranged by the Trafalgar Mothers' club for Saturday afternoon, October 31, at the kindergarten of the school. It is planned to have fortune-telling and other attractive novelties. Mrs. Fred Barnard is the president of the club.

Peter Rabbit Watches Slowpoke Disappear Entirely From Sight

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Slowpoke, the Box Turtle never hurries. "There is no use in hurrying," says Slowpoke. "Take your time and live long." Slowpoke quite lives up to his saying. He does take his time about whatever he is doing, and he lives long. He never boasts about his age and few people know that he is the oldest person in the Green Forest. But such is the case.

Slowpoke had just told Peter Rabbit that he must prepare for the winter and straightway he began to do it. All the time he had been looking over a certain place where the ground was soft. At last he gave a little sigh of satisfaction. It sounded like a hiss, but that was as near to sighing that Slowpoke could come. Then very slowly he began to dig. Peter Rabbit watched him. Peter tried to smile, although he didn't let Slowpoke see him smiling. He knew that Slowpoke considered that he was working fast, but he, Peter, could have thrown out in two minutes the sand that it took Slowpoke many minutes to dig out. But Peter said nothing and Slowpoke said nothing.

After a while Slowpoke stopped to rest a bit. He crawled out of the shallow little hole he had dug. "How deep do you propose to dig that?" inquired Peter.

"Deep enough to make sure that Jack Frost won't be able to harm me," replied Slowpoke.

"Will you fill up the opening behind you after you get the hole all dug?" inquired Peter.

"No," replied Slowpoke, and his beady little eyes twinkled. "Then I should think you would be afraid that Jack Frost would come right down and open hole and freeze you," said Peter.

"No," replied Slowpoke. "No, I'm not afraid he'll do anything of the kind. You see, there won't be any open hole."

"But you just said you wouldn't close it," objected Peter.

Slowpoke chuckled. "I said that I won't come back and fill up the hole after it is dug," said Slowpoke. "You see, there won't be any hole to fill up. It will be filled as fast as I dig it."

A vision of Old Mr. Toad slipping down into the ground with the earth falling over him came to Peter.

"Do you mean," he cried, "that you won't throw the dirt out, but will let it fall back over you as fast as you dig your way in?"

Slowpoke nodded. "You've said it," said Peter. "That is just what I propose to do. If you will sit around long enough you'll see me dis-

Peter stayed there until Slowpoke had wholly disappeared. He could still see the sand moving where Slowpoke was at work, but nothing of Slowpoke was to be seen. It gave him a queer feeling. He knew that that good-bye really had been said. He knew that Slowpoke really was preparing for winter, and that nothing more of him would be seen until the coming of Mistress Spring. Then Slowpoke would open his doors and come out again. "It's a funny world," said Peter as he hoped away. "It's a funny world, and there are many funny people in it."

The next story: "A Surprise For Peter."

LEPER MISSION IS DOING FINE WORK
London Branch Prospers Under Leadership of Mrs. J. W. Jones.

The Mission to Lepers has for many years attracted interest in London. The London branch, headed by Mrs. J. W. Jones, has been an outstanding local organization, accomplishing a large amount of work in the interest of the mission. Mrs. John Stevenson is treasurer, and Miss Ella Davis, secretary.

The object of the society is to provide for the spiritual instruction and physical relief of lepers and the children of lepers, and in so far as lies in human power, to assist in bringing about the extinction of leprosy.

The mission establishes and maintains leper homes, or other institutions for lepers, where the inmates are provided with Christian instruction and receive medical care. It establishes and maintains, under Christian management, homes for the healthy children of lepers.

The mission is now working in co-operation with 35 Protestant mission societies, British, American, and European.

The disease has for many years been pronounced non-hereditary. A very important part of the mission's work is the rescuing of untainted children of leper parents and bringing them up under healthy surroundings.

No class of people are more responsive to the preaching of the gospel which means so much to them. The mission is now working at 95 stations in 13 different countries. In its own 46 homes and 27 aided institutions there are upwards of 7,800 lepers. More than 600 untainted children of leper parents are in separate homes. All these need constant support and Christian care.

CHESLEY AVENUE CLUB HOLDS MASQUERADE

This Week's Gathering Is Featured by Several Fine Addresses.

This week's meeting of the Chesley avenue mothers' club took the form of a Halloween masquerade, which was largely attended. Mrs. T. Owen, the president, acted as chief hostess of the evening. Following a brief business session an excellent program was presented and a social hour spent over the tea cups.

Decision was made to hold a relief shower at the Chesley club, on Saturday, November 7. The program included several fine numbers by the Norman Greenslade orchestra, a vocal solo by Miss Elsie Orr, a reading by Mrs. E. E. Gooding, a group dance by Edna Gooding, Bonnie Wood, Margaret Wood and Dorothy Donahue.

A very fine address was given by Mrs. Charles Turner, president of the London Union mothers' club, who told of the work of the Home and School Federation. Mrs. John Rose, president of the Local Council of Women, spoke on "Character-Building." The character of a boy and girl of today would show in the man and woman of tomorrow, she said.

S. F. Lawason was the third speaker of the evening, choosing as his subject "Canada and Its Resources." Mrs. S. F. Lawason also spoke briefly, complimenting the mothers' club on the good work the members were doing.

A social hour followed the meeting, refreshments being served under the convensership of Mrs. A. Hendon. Mothers, mothers and children were all present together in masquerade costume.

However, gay laughter was heard from the tents of the fortune tellers and the note of merriment gave courage to the more timid guests. Everyone was in costume and a series of jolly games were enjoyed, beginning with the grand march and ending when the staid Y. W. C. A. pussy, in the guise of a regular witch's cat for the evening, leaped from a bag and left consternation in her wake. Uncle Wiggily and the Funny Face.

By HOWARD R. JARIS.

By HOWARD R. JARIS.
Uncle Wiggily Longears was, perhaps, as brave a rabbit gentleman as you could find between sunrise and sunset on June 20. This, being the longest day of the year, would give you more time to search for brave rabbits than would December, which is the shortest day.

So when after he had piled the chestnut burrs on the flat stump, making a prickly seat, when, after doing this, Uncle Wiggily saw the bushes moving, and something coming out, as it told you last night, why the bunny gentleman didn't run. "I just must be brave, that's all!" said Mr. Longears to himself, though he could feel that his pink nose was slowly losing its tinkle. "I must be brave! I must be brave!" he said to himself over and over again.

He was looking about on the ground, hoping he might see a stick or stone that he could use in case one of the bad chaps should come out of the bushes, when all of a sudden a laughing voice cried:

"Well, if there isn't my old friend Uncle Wiggily! How are you, Wig?"

"Oh! Oh!" gasped the rabbit uncle, his pink nose beginning to tinkle again. "I'm so glad it's you!"

"Whom did you think it was?" inquired the bear.

"Well I was thinking it might be the Fox or Wolf," said Uncle Wiggily. "I was making myself be brave and not run and then—Oh, don't sit down there!" suddenly shouted the rabbit.

But he spoke too late, for Mr. Whitewash had backed up to the prickly seat and had planted himself down right on top of the pile of chestnut burrs on the flat stump.

"Why, what's the matter?" asked the polar bear gentleman. "Am I sitting on any of your little bunny children? Don't tell me it's Scooter or Tooter or Jingle or Jangle! Yet it must be!" I can feel something soft under me—like a sofa cushion! Oh, have I sat on a rabbit?" and Mr. Whitewash, with tears in his eyes, jumped up.

"No! No!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "You didn't sit on a little rabbit, but you sat on a very prickly seat! Don't you feel the spines of the chestnut burrs?" he asked in surprise, for Mr. Whitewash, as soon as he found he was not sitting on any little bunny, took his place again on the flat stump and the burrs.

"Feel spines?" Ho! Ho! I should say not!" chuckled the polar bear. "Why my fur is so thick, I could sit on a stack of icicles and not feel them. As for chestnut burrs—pooh! Nuff and stoness—I mean stuff and nonsense!" he corrected himself.

"This is the best seat I have had since I last took a trolley ride. Don't worry about me!" and Mr. Whitewash wiggled around on the prickly chestnut burrs making a comfortable hollow place for himself.

"Well, I'm glad you like it," Uncle

Oh! Have I sat on a rabbit? asked Mr. Whitewash.

Wiggily said, "I was just thinking I might scare off any of the bad chaps who came, by telling them to sit on the prickly seat. But I never thought you would come. Where are you going?"

"I'm not going. I'm coming," said Mr. Whitewash. "I've been where I was going and I'm coming back. I was over to your bungalow, looking for you, but Flipper and Flapper, who just reached home as I arrived, said you had gone seeking more adventures."

"Yes, but I haven't met any yet," said the bunny. "I was gathering these chestnuts for Johnnie and Billie Bushytail. Suppose you and I go tell the squirrel boys they can find plenty of nuts here. On the way something may happen."

"I think something is going to happen right now!" growled Mr. Whitewash. "What's that?" and he pointed to a very funny face that was staring at him and Uncle Wiggily from behind a tree. Oh, such a funny, grinning, yellow face as it was!

"This," said the bunny gentleman, "is quite—quite—remarkable!" and to whom the funny face belonged you shall hear in the next story. And I do hope they don't have to carry the rag doll out of the movies because she talks out loud to the piano player."

Harry Heilmann Moves In With Great Batsman

Detroit Has Led American League With Willow on Three Occasions.

Special to The Advertiser.
Detroit, Mich., Oct. 29.—Harry Heilmann's claim to the 1925 batting championship of the American League, the Tiger slugger takes his place in the rather exclusive company of batsmen who have led one of the big leagues three times or more. The list is shorter than you may suspect. It contains the names of only eight batsmen, five from the National League and three, including Heilmann, from the American League.

Ty Cobb, of course, leads all rivals in this respect. He has finished in front of American league competition twelve times. Hans Wagner, the old Pittsburgh shortstop who a second to Cobb, led the National League eight times, and Rogers Hornsby, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, has just outdistanced the National League field for the sixth time. He ranks next to Wagner, but does hold a consecutive leadership title in the old league.

In the earlier days of the major leagues, Pop Anson, Dan Brouthers and Jess Burkett were among the mightiest hitters of the game. Anson and Brouthers topped the batting column four times each, and Burkett succeeded in reaching the peak three times.

Ty's Mark Out of Reach.
Larry Lajoie passed the mark of Burkett and equalled that of Brouthers and Anson, and now comes Heilmann to tie Burkett. The Tiger outfielder has a chance to equal or surpass the mark of Anson, Brouthers and Lajoie, but the record of Hornsby seems far out, particularly as the Cardinal leader is apparently in his last season.

Heilmann has the third highest batting average in the American League. Ed Delahanty who led the position once, and Lajoie were the others. In 18 of 26 seasons since the league was founded, left-handed hitters won the championship, thanks largely to the batting talent of Cobb, George Sisler, Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig. Sam Rice led out, but it was mainly Cobb's twelve titles that established the supremacy of the southern batters.

Heilmann has developed a habit of snaring the championship in alternate seasons. He first showed the way in 1921 with an official average of .391. After failing to repeat the feat in 1922, he came back with a sound in 1923, and set the pace with the remarkable percentage of .402. In 1924, however, he was edged out by physical handiwork, skidded to .346, and this year, by a sensational finish, rose to the top again.

For the greater part of the season, Heilmann trailed behind Ty Speaker and some of the other batting stars of the circuit. When the Tigers left for their last Eastern trip, Heilmann seemed to have barely a chance to repeat his former place at the head of the pack. But he began one of the most sustained batting sprees of his career, and landed ahead of Speaker on the last day of the season in St. Louis. At least, the unofficial figures place him higher than the Cleveland manager.

Getting to Be Real Veteran.
Heilmann's first season with the Tigers was 1914. His batting that year gave no hint of the championships that later were to come to him. In fact, his average of .225 for 67 games in the out-field and at first base was so unimpressive, that Hugh Delahanty sent him back to the Pacific Coast league.

With the Seals. In 1915, Heilmann pounded the ball so vigorously, attaining a percentage of .364, that the Tigers lost no time in recalling him. He came back to Detroit in 1916 and has been a Tiger ever since. Since 1918, he has never missed the 30 circle, and since that season has averaged .361. In his last five years he has averaged .379. His average for his major league career is about .338, and unusually, he is considering that in his first three seasons he batted .282, .281 and .276, respectively.

Heilmann is of the slugging type. Rather slow of foot, he makes comparatively few base hits by beating out the infield. While not a home run hitter destined to shatter the records of Ruth or Hornsby, he has made 112 home runs since he joined the Tigers. His specialty is long hitters, and he has a total of 228 to his credit.

JOHNSON PACKS FOR HOME TRIP

"I Will Never Wear a Glove Again," Claims Young Scrapper.

By FAIR PLAY.
Special to The Advertiser.
New York, Oct. 29.—Floyd Johnson bought his ticket for Washington, D. C., and says that never again will he draw on a glove. He meant all kinds of gloves, both kid and boxing. He is going to abide on the wide open spaces hereafter where the gloves that used to adorn his mauls in the white light days would be considered out of place, and as for the horse hair mitts he has worn since he was a boy, he will have them for wall ornaments on his ranch.

And while he goes the apologies of the New Jersey boxing commissioner to the fans are waited in the wake of his observation platform for Floyd is barred from boxing in that state.

More and more as returns come in from points throughout the country the fact bulges out that the public is getting sick of these heavyweight fighters and their bouts. And this affects the little fellows, too.

Every promoter meant well in that they would show the bout did not help the boxing game a bit, and this was about the worst time in the world, in view of the general loss of interest in boxing, to pull a fight like that.

Jack Dempsey is, of course, primarily responsible for the present state of affairs. When a champion is actively working as his profession, assuming that he is a colorful champion, interest in the sport is always at high pitch. But when he is going on his Dempsey now is, the mercury goes way down in the tube.

CHICAGO PLANS PERMANENT SEGREGATION OF DEFECTIVES

See It As Only Way To Stop Continual Wave of Crime.

3,000 MENTAL CASES

Industrial Farm Colony, On Self-Paying Basis, Is Olson Suggestion.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—A standing offer to rid a city of more than 3,000,000 population, of all crime by permanently segregating 3,000 mental delinquents who are marked repeaters, is in final form for the next session of the Illinois legislature.

The offer is from Chief Justice Harry Olson of the municipal court of Chicago, and Dr. William J. Hickson, director of the court's psychopathic laboratory, in which defendants in more than 40,000 criminal cases have been examined during the last eleven years.

The experience of the laboratory has brought Judge Olson and Dr. Hickson to the conclusion that crime prevention is more a problem in psychology than in police administration, and that the root of the problem is the mental delinquency whose debility renders him incapable of interpreting punishment as retribution.

Instead of committing offenders to prisons and reformatories for short sentences, and then throwing them out of society again, to commit a greater crime, Dr. Hickson proposes a permanent industrial farm colony where the delinquents could live lives adjusted to their peculiarities.

Self-Sustaining.
He would make the colony largely self-sustaining, and in addition would save upwards of $7,000,000 annually of Chicago's $15,000,000 budget for policing and criminal courts.

The laboratory's records show mental deficiency as the prime factor in Chicago crime, and also, that in a large majority of the delinquents the criminal bent is manifested in some minor offense during the period of adolescence.

By segregating the offenders of mental debility or emotional instability, the Olson-Hickson program would prevent their later and more serious crimes.

Many records are cited by Dr. Hickson in support of his theory that feeble-mindedness is a major factor in crime. Of 362 boys arraigned in one term of the boys' court, 63 per cent were morose and 23 per cent sociopaths. Only 1.9 per cent rated average intelligence.

Less than 5 per cent of the boys have been in school until past 14 years of age; 33 per cent have not reached the seventh grade.

Proved Hereditary.
Many personal histories were investigated in this group. A large percentage of the boys were found to have been the offspring of mentally deficient parents, some of whom had long criminal records in Chicago.

"At present the law presumes the criminal to be sane until proven insane," said Dr. Hickson. "When recent studies in criminology are incorporated into the criminal code of the United States, every criminal will be presumed insane until he proves himself sane."

The mentally deficient repeaters are responsible for virtually all vicious crimes, such as murders, robberies, bank hold-ups and criminal attacks on women.

Legislation to provide such a colony as Dr. Hickson proposes has been prepared by a volunteer committee of civic leaders for the legislature.

Stratford Arena Will Be Ready For Use Next Week

Roy Brothers Says Team Will Be Stronger in Every Department.

COLE IN LINE-UP

Special to The Advertiser.
Stratford, Oct. 30.—With the flooding of the Stratford arena on Monday the surface will be ready for practice early next week. The fans are already doing out the team's chances, and with the material on hand, Stratford is undoubtedly going to be a formidable factor in the senior race this season. The men lined up at present are as follows:

Goal—Dolson and Norfolk.
Defence—Grosse, Burke and McCully. Center—Bill Carson and Cole.

Forwards—Frank Carson, Elliott, Griffith, Cavell, Lavelle, Kelterbourne, J. Cook and Cole.

According to Manager Roy Brothers, the team is going to be stronger in every department than it was last year. He points out that his young defence men, Burke and Grosse, were just hitting their stride at the end of the season, and were doing work that entitled them to the title of being one of the most consistent pairs in the "Big Six."

Jack McCully, Stratford boy, will help them in front of the goal. He is a stranger to "Big Six" fans, as he played last year in the north country. Jack is fast, an experienced man, and a perfect expert at the gentle art of using his weight.

"King" Cole, who was transferred to a bank at West Lorne, and who was thought lost to Stratford, is back. King is the best poke checker on the team. A youngster, from whom much is expected, a new man, is Kelterbourne, village of Milverton. He has oceans of hockey ability, which a short time in the big circuit should bring out to perfection.

It is almost superfluous to comment on the ability of the Carsons—Frank and Bill. Long ago they established reputations that will live long in the memory of all hockey fans. Every real hockey fan knows the feverish time and again to lure Dr. Carson to the moneyed ranks, with no success.

In goal, no team in the league will be better fortified than Stratford with Dolly Dolson and "Bor" Norfolk available.

Griffin is another of whom much is expected this year. Griffin has demonstrated in the past that he has few peers at his position. The Stratford manager expects Griffin to have his greatest season this year.

Elliott has established a reputation in the west that stamps him as a real hockey player. The Roy Brothers will commence training him in a championship next week. Cavell hails from Listowel. He also is a small ice performer.

According to Mr. Brothers, Stratford is in favor of one big group. When questioned regarding the possibility of germ origin.

stition of Windsor, he said that if Windsor could manage to travel all the way from the border to each of the other teams that he did not think any team would object to visiting Windsor once.

It is the opinion here that the One Big Group is the proper caper in that each team of the proposed twelve teams would play here only once during the regular schedule. Thus the fans would have plenty of novelty and the interest would be sustained until the finals were reached.

Boy Is Sent To Reformatory After Confessing To Theft.

Special to The Advertiser.

Chatham, Oct. 29.—An indefinite sentence in the Victoria school for boys at Mimico, was the sentence Magistrate Arnold today imposed upon a 14-year-old boy, when he pleaded guilty in juvenile court to the charge of breaking and entering the Griffin Theatre and stealing the sum of $54. Fingerprints observed near a looted cashbox were compared with records in the police station, and suspicion was placed on the lad, who has been in trouble on previous occasions. He was placed under arrest, and at police headquarters confessed to the theft.

NEW INVENTION PROVES ABLE TO AVERT WRECK

Radio-Operated Safety Device
Checks Speeding Locomotives
As Danger Looms.

TO SAVE THOUSANDS

Associated Press Despatch.
Detroit, Mich., Oct. 29.—A radio-operated safety device that checks speeding locomotives automatically when danger looms ahead was given a successful demonstration over a 10-mile stretch of Pere Marquette Railroad tracks yesterday. The test was made in the presence of officials of the Pere Marquette, the Michigan Central and Thomas E. Clark of Detroit, inventor of the device.

Following the demonstration, railroad officials said they believed the invention, if generally adopted, would result in the saving of thousands of lives by preventing railroad accidents, and millions of dollars in equipment destroyed in wrecks.

By means of a system of radio-controlled signal lights installed in the engine cab, it was demonstrated that the engineer can be forewarned of impending disaster, making it possible for him to know many minutes in advance if danger is ahead. Should the engineer be disabled or dead, the system of control checks the engine's speed and brings it to a halt at any danger-point at any time.

CHANGE EXPECTED IN INDIAN POLICY

New Viceroy Is Named—
Wood Will Succeed Earl of Reading.

Associated Press Despatch.
London, Oct. 29.—Edward Frederick Lindley Wood, minister of agriculture and fisheries, and former president of the board of education, today was appointed viceroy of India, to succeed the Earl of Reading, who will retire next April.

Mr. Wood is the heir to Viscount Halifax, and is Conservative member of parliament for the Ripon division of west riding, Yorkshire. He was a member of Stanley Baldwin's first cabinet.

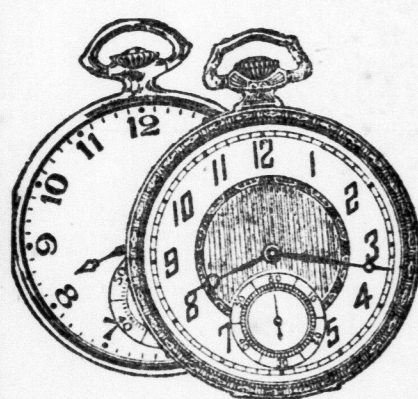

The retirement of the Earl of Reading from the viceroyalty and government-generality of India may be interpreted as forecasting a change of policy in the administration of the Indian Empire.

The Earl of Birkenhead, secretary of state for India, in a speech last July in the House of Lords, declared: "Great Britain no longer talks of holding the gorgeous east in fee, but asks India to march side by side with us in fruitful, harmonious partnership which might create the greatest and proudest days of Indian history."

The government, however, failed to make known its decision regarding the revision of the act of 1919 for the government of India, and which brought about the coming to England on leave of absence—a most unusual procedure—of the viceroy of India. Political circles in Britain were deeply stirred by the news of the return on leave of the Earl of Reading last March, and it was stated that he would discuss with the Earl of Birkenhead proposed legislative reforms in India. The viceroy at that time was quoted as saying: "The time for the revision of the constitution has not yet arrived."

Mrs. Fiske Will Campaign Against Using Steel Trap

Believes Women Should Refuse to Buy Furs Obtained by "Brutal Instrument."

FAVORS BOYCOTT

Associated Press Despatch.
Chicago, Oct. 29.—The steel trap, to Mrs. Minnie Madden Fiske, the actress, "is the most villainous instrument of arrest that was ever invented by the human mind," and early this fall she will inaugurate a campaign among women for its extinction. Mrs. Fiske will visit many leading cities and will personally meet the women, and for the purpose of discouraging the wearing of furs, but with the object of outlawing the steel trap in the fur industry.

Mrs. Fiske for more than 25 years has been actively interested in anti-cruelty work. She believes that if American women knew the inside story of trapping and its subsequent torture, public opinion would stop the manufacture of the instruments.

"The human race is in terror of physical agony and spends millions of dollars a year in research work to conquer pain," Mrs. Fiske said. "The scientist who discovers some method to relieve pain is acclaimed a world hero, yet we are unaware to the suffering of countless dumb animals which feel almost as we feel."

"The steel trap has no place in civilization, and we hope to awaken the modern woman to the shame and horror and degradation of it. When women know how furs are obtained they will band themselves and refuse to purchase or wear furs procured by the steel trap."

PRIVATE TRADERS HIT
BY SOVIET GOVERNMENT

Moscow, Oct. 29.—Another severe blow was aimed at private traders in Soviet Russia today, when M. Dierjinsky, head of the supreme economic council, acting for the council and the Ukrainian government, directed that numerous officials of the state and co-operative organizations engaged in the sale of textiles should be placed on trial.

The government charges these private traders with accumulating huge stocks of cotton goods from the state organizations for resale at exorbitant prices.

MEXICAN BOYCOTT LIFTED.
Associated Press Despatch.
Mexico City, Oct. 29.—The regional confederation of labor has lifted its boycott against the Aguilera Oil Company, owing to the decision reached by the arbitration committee at Japa, ending the conflict. Resumption of work has also been ordered by the confederation at the company's Minatitlan refinery.

Peanut Pushing Is Election Bet

Special to The Advertiser.

Stratford, Oct. 29.—Anyone who thinks pushing a peanut with a sharp pencil is easy will see a demonstration in the gentle art, across Downie street, at Ontario street, at 12:15 o'clock noon Saturday. Two Stratford young men, confident that the candidates which they backed would be elected, made the bet. Paul Bernard will be called upon to fulfill this most unusual election promise.

The participants are Bernard, who backed Tom Brown, Liberal, and B. Manktelow, who wagered by a peanut that Dave Wright would take the federal honors. The agreement was witnessed by W. Whyte and D. D. Hudson.

NEW GOVERNOR SWORN IN ALBERTA

Dr. William Egbert of Calgary Succeeds Dr. Brett As Province Head.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Calgary, Oct. 29.—William Egbert of Calgary was sworn in as lieutenant-governor of Alberta this afternoon by Chief Justice Harvey. He succeeds Dr. R. G. Brett of Banff.

Dr. Egbert was born in the district of Welland county, Ontario, on Feb. 25, 1857. His father was Joseph Morgan Egbert, a United Empire Loyalist, while his mother was Maria Silverthorn, also of Loyalist descent. He traces his Canadian ancestry back for generations. The Egberts were originally from England, with Pennsylvania Dutch ancestors as well. Both his parents are now dead. He gave up teaching and entered the University of Toronto in 1885 to study medicine, and graduated in 1889. He also took his degree in medicine from Victoria University, Toronto, at the same time. Immediately after graduating he went to Europe and spent one year in London and Edinburgh, doing post-graduate work.

He came to Calgary in 1904, where he has been residing since. From 1909 to 1910 he was a member of the city council. He has been president of the Alberta medical association and also of the Calgary medical association. He was paymaster of the 103rd regiment during the war.

PHONETIC SIMILARITY CONFUSES TWO TOWNS

Bayreuth, Germany and Beirut, Asia Minor, Are Victims.

Associated Press Despatch.
Amsterdam, Oct. 29.—Confusion of the town names, Bayreuth, in Germany, with Beirut, in Asia Minor, which led recently to erroneous reports that the Dutch government had decided to establish a consulate in Bayreuth instead of Beirut, recalled to the Allgemeine Handelsblad that the two names had been confused once before in 1876.

On the latter occasion, the Oriental city was somewhat surprised to receive at the time a specially constructed machine which had been intended to animate a dragon in the Wagner festival at Bayreuth. The machine had been made by an English firm and as Bayreuth was a small and little-known town at the time, the confusion was not made in the spelling and that such a complicated bit of machinery could only be intended for Beirut.

TOKIO IS TO RECLAIM THOUSANDS OF ACRES

Land, Inundated Each Year by Floods, is To Be Filled In.

Associated Press Despatch.
Tokio, Oct. 29.—The municipal authorities have announced that several hundred acres of land in Tokyo, which yearly are inundated by floods, are to be raised by the use of earth removed in the construction of the new subway, sewers, water mains and other projects. The city has had this plan under consideration for a number of years, but it has been postponed from time to time. The total cost of salvaging the low ground and making it habitable is estimated at 30,000,000 yen. The subway construction is expected to provide sufficient earth to cover 333 acres. The aid of the government will be asked in the reclamation work.

HARDSHIPS MAY DRIVE CHINESE TROOPS TO WAR

Associated Press Despatch.
Heking, Oct. 29.—Serious conditions in Honan province, where poorly-fed and ill-disciplined troops, estimated at more than 300,000 are said to be urging their leaders to action, are reported by foreigners arriving here from the province. They report that the troops have not been paid for a long time and that most of them are still in summer clothing, since winter uniforms are not available. Furthermore, the people are suffering from requisitions by the military, heavy taxation, looting by the soldiers and depredations by bandits.

PATENAIDE AMONG FALLEN IN QUEBEC

Quebec Conservative Leader Is Defeated by Theodule Rheume.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Montreal, Oct. 29.—The solid phalanx of 65 members who represented the province of Quebec in the last house of commons was penetrated by the voting today, four straight Conservatives being defeated. The Conservatives made three gains in the city of Montreal seats and in the province the Liberals held their positions, if with reduced majorities. One of the independents is Henri Bourassa, who at a late hour tonight appeared to have won Labelle on a ticket as an Independent. Conservatives who will return to the commons after an absence are R. S. White, elected in Mount Royal, who last sat in the house 30 years ago, and Sir George Perley, who will sit again for his old seat of Argenteuil. An independent member, J. E. A. Dubuc, who defeated the Liberal standard-bearer in a three-cornered contest in Chicoutimi.

All of the ministers in King's government from Quebec were re-elected by comfortable margins except Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice, who was defeated by Hon. J. E. A. Dubuc. Hon. J. E. A. Dubuc, minister of marine, in Quebec East, as did Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, minister of marine, in Riverview. Hon. James Robb, finance minister, in Chateaugay-Huntington. Hon. George Bolvin, minister of customs, in Sherbrooke, and Hon. Lucien Cannon, solicitor-general, in Worcester, held their seats by decisive majorities.

Among the fallen was Hon. E. I. Patenaude, Quebec conservative leader. The Liberal headliners in Montreal announced his defeat at an early hour, but Conservative headquarters refused to accept this until midnight. When, with his opponent's lead mounting up steadily and only a few more polls to hear from, they finally admitted the victory of Theodule Rheume, of Quebec, representing in the new house, 40 belong to the bloc which sat in the last house.

CLERGYMAN TELLS LENNOX TO MIND HIS OWN AFFAIRS

Special to The Advertiser.
Aurora, Oct. 29.—T. H. Lennox, Conservative candidate in North York, had a lively tiff with one of the local clergymen during the voting here today. A young lady was leaving an automobile to enter one of the polling booths when Mr. Lennox accosted her with the remark: "You are not 21 years old, are you?"

The young lady made no reply, and at this moment the clergyman appeared on the scene and advised the young lady to make no reply to the question, and told Mr. Lennox "to mind his own business."

The young lady went into the polling booth and presumably cast her ballot.

PREHISTORIC RESERVOIRS FOUND IN NEVADA VALLEY

Huge Tanks Are Believed To Be at Least 50,000
Years Old.

WALLS OF GRANITE

Associated Press Despatch.
Gold Hill, Utah, Oct. 29.—A series of six immense reservoirs believed to have been constructed about 50,000 years ago have been discovered in Spring Valley, Nevada, by members of the Cosmographic Society.

The reservoirs are triangular, and range from the size of 100 feet in depth. The retaining walls are about 800 yards long, and are feathered back into the hillsides. The walls are from 6 to 25 feet thick, and are believed to be composed of granite, covered with debris.

The huge tanks overlook a once fertile valley, where coal deposits have since been found. It is thought by members of the society that the reservoirs were used for irrigation purposes. Claims that the reservoirs resulted from glacial action have been denied by the Cosmographic Society, which points out that no track of a glacier could construct six perfectly symmetrical masonry forms.

In a limestone cave in the mountain side above the reservoirs members of the Smithsonian Institution found several crude implements and weapons, among which were several "arrow springs," a little wooden rod with one end bent into a hook. The arrow was 24.82. In only one ward, Kojimachi, sprung after the fashion of a catapult. The "arrow spring" is considered to have preceded the bow by several hundred years.

King Is Honored For Clean Rule

Presented With White Gloves in Recognition of Honesty.

Special to The Advertiser.
Aurora, Oct. 29.—Premier W. L. Mackenzie King was honored here last night by a unique presentation. He was presented with a pair of white gloves, representing the honesty of his administration. "In the sessions and assizes," said Chairman J. M. Walton, "when there is no criminal case on the list, the judge is presented with a pair of white gloves. So, tonight, after four years in office, there is no charge of dishonesty levelled at Premier King or any member of his government. I therefore, on behalf of this large audience, present him with this pair of white gloves, representing the honesty of his administration."

Hold Up Bank of Montreal
Messengers—Get Away
With $117,000.

Special to The Advertiser.
Buffalo, Oct. 29.—Two bandits today held up a money car of the Bank of Buffalo, shot and killed the driver, wounded the guard and a bank messenger, and escaped with $117,000 in currency. Another package, containing $24,000, was dropped by the bandits in their flight. The holdup occurred at 3:30 a.m. while the money was being loaded into the bank van. Charles W. Clifford, driver, was killed instantly when he offered resistance. Guard John H. Meyers was shot through the body. His injuries are considered serious. A bank messenger, L. M. Harrington, a bank messenger, was also shot in the face and body. His condition is said to be critical. The money of the holdup was the Bank of Buffalo building at Main and South Division streets in the center of the downtown section. Hundreds of people were passing the building at the time. It is reported that one bandit has been captured. Police are seeking eye-witnesses and getting a description of the bandits and the attack on the employees.

ARREST LEADERS OF DAMASCUS RIOT

Over 200 Arrested by French and Three Have Been Executed.

Associated Press Despatch.
Cairo, Oct. 29.—The Damascus newspaper Omran, copies of which have been received here, says that 43 insurgents and 160 residents of Damascus and its environs have been arrested by the French, together with Hassan El Karreth, said to be the leader of the insurrection. Three of these have been executed, the newspaper says, adding: "But we do not know the nature of their crime."
The night of Oct. 23, this journal says, the French issued the following communique: "The Syrian government and the representative of the high commission inform the public that all guarantees having been given the authorities that the fine imposed on the city regarding money and rifles (the French are said to have demanded £100,000 in gold and 4,000 rifles) will be forthcoming the danger of bombardment is over for the time being."

However, the newspaper says, two days later the British consulate at Damascus issued a communique predicting a bombardment the following afternoon, and asking British subjects to call at the consulate early in the morning, bringing food with them so that they might be conducted out of danger.

RADICALS PRESS NEW PARLIAMENT

French Group Lose No Time in Using Pressure—U. S.
Debts Rest.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Paris, Oct. 29.—The new ministry was scarcely on its feet today when pressure was put upon it from groups of the coalition for radical measures to solve the financial problems. Opposition groups, served notice that the government can rely upon their support only if it follows a policy of national concord and rejects the demands of the extremists for the carrying out of policies decided upon outside of parliament. The socialists propose to wait upon the premier and ascertain just how far he is going to satisfy their demands.

In spite of the good impression the ministry has made in radical circles the reopening of parliament next week promises to bring a period of serious difficulties for the cabinet.
M. Painleve is disposed to allow the United States debt to rest where it is for the present. He has not yet made any declaration concerning it, but his attitude is described as regarding the question less pressing than other financial problems confronting the government.

LUTHER IS CONVINCED GERMANS FAVOR PEACE

Believes It Is Not Necessary
For Endorsement of the Reichstag.

Associated Press Despatch.
Essen, Germany, Oct. 29.—Chancellor Luther is convinced that a great majority of the German people favor the security agreements framed at the Locarno conference and believes it is a matter of secondary importance whether endorsement of the agreements is given by the present Reichstag or by an appeal to the nation.
The chancellor made this clear in an address here yesterday in which he dwelt upon the necessity for disarmament to secure that peace at which the Locarno pact aimed.

Local Druggists Have Modern Remedy for Colds

A Vaporizing Salve which is Rubbed
Over Throat and Chest for Colds.

When Vicks VapoRub, the "external" method of treating sore throat, bronchitis, deep chest colds, or croup, is applied over throat or chest, the ingredients are released as vapors by the body heat.

These vapors, inhaled with each breath carry the medication directly to the affected air passages, loosening the phlegm and relieving the congestion.
At the same time Vicks acts as a counter-irritant, stimulating the skin, and thus helps the vapors inhaled to break up the inflammation.

Colds are usually relieved over night.

GREEK ARMY QUILTS BULGARIAN SOIL

Athens Officially Announces Withdrawal of Troops; Fighting Is Now Stopped.

LEAGUE AT WORK

Associated Press Despatch.
Athens, Oct. 29.—It is officially announced that the Greek troops have evacuated Bulgarian territory.

PROBE STARTS SOON.

Associated Press Despatch.
Paris, Oct. 29.—Hastening to the scene of the Macedonian fighting on special trains provided by the Jugoslavians and Greek governments, the allied military attaches at Belgrade and Athens so succeeded in smothering out the Greco-Bulgarian conflict that the council of the League of Nations was vastly aided tonight in its work of clearing up the Balkan crisis.

Although another session will be held at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning to receive final reports from the attaches that vacation has been completed, the council unanimously adopted Austen Chamberlain's resolution that the council was satisfied hostilities had ceased and that the troops were withdrawn. The commission of inquiry is headed by Horace Rumbold, the ambassador to Spain.

Both Greek and Bulgarian representatives assured the council that these countries would accept the commission's findings without qualifications and give every assistance at the frontier and in Athens and Sofia.

RETREAT BEGINS.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Oct. 29.—The Greeks sullenly and silently began their march out of Bulgarian territory at 1 o'clock this morning. At that hour a bulger walked between the hostile camps and signalled the Greeks' intention to obey the orders of the League of Nations.

The Bulgarians retained their position until the arrival of the allied attaches was heralded by bugles in the Greek camp.

ONTARIO MEN NAMED AS LIVE STOCK JUDGES

Will Act at International Show To Be Held in Chicago in November.

Four Ontario live stock authorities have been honored by the authorities of the International Live Stock Exposition, which will be held in Chicago on Nov. 28 to Dec. 5, in being invited to serve as judges at the coming show.

William A. Dryden of Brookline will make the official awards in the Shropshire sheep classes. He is the son of Hon. John Dryden, former minister of agriculture for Canada, and for many years president of the American Shropshire Association. The son was brought up to know good sheep, and is one of the most active live stock advocates in Canada today.

Wade Toole of Guelph has been asked to tie the ribbons in the Lincoln breeding classes. He is considered one of the best judges of live stock in the country, and the teams of students which he has coached at the Ontario Agricultural College have stood very high in the inter-collegiate judging contests at the international.

H. B. Jeffs, Toronto, will serve as an arbitrator in the Leicester sheep contests. He is a recognized authority on this breed, which is popular in Canada.

John Miller of Claremont has been selected to judge the Cotswold sheep at the coming international. He is well known in Canada as a breeder and judge, and his opinions are held in high respect by the shepherds of the United States as well.

DISMISSAL OF SARRAEL DEMANDED IN FRANCE

Opponents of Government
Over War in Syria—Demand Probe.

Associated Press Despatch.
Paris, Oct. 29.—M. Millerand in the senate committee today demanded the recall of General Sarrail, former high commissioner in Syria. He declared that General Sarrail was responsible for the death of 3,000 French soldiers and serious injury to the prestige of France in order to cover the blunder of the party which had appointed him to the post.

Persistent reports of the gravest trouble in Syria have developed a most serious feeling in political and official circles. The situation is commented upon vigorously in the lobbies of the chamber, where much impatience is shown at the meagre information received from the high commissioner.

The foreign office, however, denied this evening that any action had been taken with respect to General Sarrail.

THRONGS OF MOURNERS ATTEND RYAN'S FUNERAL

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Oct. 29.—Thronged of mourners this morning formed the funeral cortege of Peter Ryan, former registrar of deeds here and one of Toronto's best-known citizens. Mr. Ryan, who was a prominent member of the Knights of Columbus, was buried in St. Michael's cemetery after services had been held in St. Basil's church.

BRITAIN ASKS DAMAGES.
London, Oct. 29.—It is understood that no information has yet reached London as to the extent or nature of the damage done to British property during the bombardment of French troops by rebel Druses, Pan-Arabs and communists in Damascus last week, when, according to reports, many people were killed. However, notices of claim for damages have been sent in, but the question of amount of claims still has to be investigated.

FASHION WRAPS UP "CHIN CHIN"

New High Neckline Has Its Advantages in Many Ways.

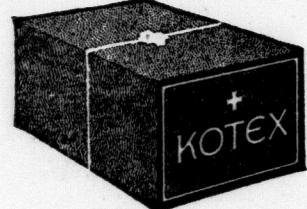

By AILEEN LAMONT.
Special to The Advertiser.
New York, May 29.—Any family can have a skeleton in a closet, but, despite diet and exercise, few families can have a living skeleton in the living-room. Consequently, the new style of high, close neckline comes as a boon to many women. With throats close wrapped in high collars, with edges of stiff metal brocade, many of which fasten in the back, even a "chin chin" over a five o'clock tea is reduced to one chin. The delectable scarf collar of fur with one end passed through a slit in the other serves a similar purpose. Thousands of men now are anxiously waiting for some woman to answer a vital question. Perhaps that fact and the desire to keep them guessing has added to the popularity of the question mark collar on the newest coats. These collars are of fur, and one end wraps in a tight circle around the throat. The other end curves gracefully across the figure in a long pointed reverse, and forms a perfect interrogation mark. The coats are finished with a band of the same fur around the bottom. Black velvet and diamonds have been the symbol of elegance for decades. But this season it is being replaced by black velvet and ermine. Few women, no matter how wealthy, care to wear many diamonds at present, when robberies are so frequent. The ermine is placed in the most unexpected ways, in bands, chevrons, triangles and other odd appliques.

COOK'S CHURCH W.M.S.

Caradoc, Oct. 29.—The regular meeting of W. M. S. Cook's church, was held at the home of Mrs. E. Mille, the president, Mrs. John McRoberts, in the chair. Scripture reading was given by Mrs. A. Bateman, and prayer by Mrs. Hulton. After the business of the meeting was over, an invitation to attend the meeting at Union church, Mt. Brydges was accepted. On Nov. 25, the meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Clarence Trotter.

YOUNG SWEDISH SOCIALISTS WOULD ABOLISH MONARCHY

By F. A. MACKENZIE.
By Cable to The Advertiser and the Chicago Daily News.

Stockholm, Oct. 29.—That Sweden should become a republic is one of the tenets of the program of the Social Democrat Young People's association, as outlined at its annual congress by its president, R. Linström. He declared that the monarchy is an anachronism. He also urged disestablishment of the church, with the acquisition by the state of church property valued at $200,000,000, together with abolition of religious teaching in schools.
