FARM DISPLAY OPENS TRACTOR STOLE SHOW

Fredericton (UNB) — The comparative calm of the Forestry building was disturbed on the morning of Monday, October 26th. By the advent of the Jensen tractor display. The display, consisting of one slightly over-worked tractor, was brought to the campus by several keen types from the men's residence.

As usual, The Brunswickan had its capable staff on hand and snapped the culprit in action. (Names are withheld at the mothers request.)

Foresters commented on the apparent lack of the farm equipment company to provide them with suitable machinery to tear down the superfluous parts of the campus and leave the noble few to their noble works among their noble trees.

NOW IT CAN BE TOLD MUNROE VISITED UNB

Fredericton (UNB) — Yes, now it can be told, all those who were too lazy to cut out the little pieces of the picture on the right when it appeared in the Smellegraf-Yournal will be started to learn it was a picture of the then Miss Marilyn Munroe and now, we are sorry to say, Mrs. Joe Dimaggio. Mrs. Dimaggio, while passing through Fredericton on her way to perform for the boys at Oromocto kindly consented to pose for our photographer. The resulting picture was so spectacular and since we didn't want to take the responsibility for any direct reactions we felt it was necessary to dismember her and leave the results in the hands of the students.

Jim MacDonald, Brunswickan photographer, says and we quote, "Any resemblance between that picture and a certain calendar photo which has gained some fame in various quarters (usually males quarters) is purely coincidental" and we unquote.

The reaction of the local male population who had the opportunity to view the body wasn't heard until last week when they finally came to. It was generally agreed by all that the continued presence of Miss Munroe on the campus would level the present ratio of men to women of 1:12 to approximately 1:1.

The reaction of the local female population was unprintable.

DIRTY

An over-anxious editorial writer of the Daily Gleaner went out on the limb last week and made quite a few far-fetched remarks about the University of New Brunswick Drama Society. The fact that the city paper did not give the Drama Society adequate Press coverage before the two-night stand of "Darkness at Noon" in comparison with the fanfare accorded to the Fredericton Players Guild and their production "Arsenic and Old Lace" is of minor consideration now. That bridge has been crossed. But, to make a blatant charge of the misuse of the basic tenants of drama is a horse of a different color.

Herein lays the tale as told by The Gleaner: "University of New Brunswick Drama Society, with an obviously healthy appetite, bit off a very large portion of playwright's cooking with Darkness at Noon.

"That the dish is a heavy one and to many almost indigestible did not deter the UNB group. They went ahead and served it up in a most attractive and ingenious setting, and piping hot, too.

"There was evidence that the audience was not so much satisfied by the meal as were the players. But those who have been to the high school auditorium the last two nights nonetheless will be filled with admiration for the society in this serious bid for the NB Drama Festival crown. There should not be too many surprises if they win it—the play appears to have been chosen not so much for the benefit of the audience as to display the prowess of the director, the set-builders, the stage management and the cast.

"And who is to say that this is not as it should be? The UNB Drama Society is not in business to entertain audiences so much as to develop dramatic talent at the university. Darkness at Noon provided an excellent laboratory project from which the participants should have learned much.

"In this light, the faculty-student organization is deserving of much commendation and if they come out on top in the forthcoming festival their laurels will have been well earned."

It might be pointed out that a play is not picked by an organization for possible production just because they happen to like it. Rather, it is a combination of two very real and important situations. Firstly, a drama society must always take into consideration that the audience wants a play that is educational and entertaining. With all drama groups, the first consideration is the audience reaction and the UNB Drama Society followed this plan to its logical conclusion.

The play, "Darkness at Noon" is admittedly not a comedy in any stretch of the imagination, and many audiences looking for the escape route via comedy are going to be sadly disappointed. There are people in Fredericton interested in plays with a message. Those people that want comedy can get it at the local theatres for not only does Hollywood do it better, but looking on the other side of the ledger, the UNB Drama Society has a play with special impact, dealing with one of the most important problems of our time, the Russian way of life and death.

The second consideration stems from the fact that the UNB Drama Society is always seriously hampered by the lack of good talent. Any play must have good actors or it will fall on its own footlights. With the production of Darkness at Noon, the UNB Drama Society solved two problems in this vein. The play has no definite leading role. Therefore, the five players in the main parts in the play gained valuable experience for that day in which they become the stars of the society. The play is also noted in that it has twelve bit parts. This meant that the minor players in Darkness at Noon, most of them on stage for the first time, took stage roles that normally would not be available to them and they, too, gained valuable experience for the future. In a society such as is on the UNB campus, there is a rapid rate of turnover of members and it is imperative that all members have a chance to prove their worth so that the executive has a ready and experienced backlog of actors to call upon in times of need. There is only one place they can prove the worth of these members. On stage.

So it must be remembered by that over-anxious editorial writer that any drama group performs not for themselves but primarily for their public. Any action that they take in a choice for a play is not based on selfish desires, but on the present and future audiences that follow the UNB Drama Society.

And "evidence that the audience was not so much satisfied by the meal as the players" is just a little more filler in the Gleaner's Editorial Columns.

BOMBERS IN BATTLE

The opening game of the season was played at College Field on October 3rd, 1953. This picture shows the Bombers in action against the Trojans during that first game. Although Coach Ernie Thom's boys had had a mere two weeks of conditioning, they went on to defeat the Trojans by a decisive 29-11 score.

In the first issue of the Brunswickan, dated October 14th, this shot was captioned "UNB versus Trojans—Who's Got the Ball." That question still stands.

UNB vs TRI-SERVICE

On College Field, Saturday, October 24th, UNB walloped Tri-Service by a 63-11 score. UNB's aerial and ground attacks were both good while Tri-Service was weak in both departments. The cut shows UNB's Art Cowie getting pulled down by Walker of Tri-Service as Bomber Rod Clarke closes in.

BRANNAN IN ACTION

This depicts Brandy Brannan as he contests a jump ball in a game between the powerful St. John Atlantics and the UNB Men's Varsity Basketball team. Brannan was the game's high scorer as he collected 18 points in this closely contested battle which St. John won 5-63. In the last few minutes of the game Abernathy's foul shots and Brannan's field goals chopped a long St. John lead to 59-53.

YEARLY SPORTS REVIEW NEXT YEAR LOOKS GOOD

Fredericton (UNB)—The Sports Department of the Brunswickan takes pleasure in presenting a pictorial review of the major varsity sports of the year.

The University of New Brunswick Red Bomber Football Team has had a highly successful season in spite of the fact that they did not actually win a championship. The standard of play remained high and this attracted spectators in numbers greatly exceeding last year's attendance records.

Although the Varsity hockey team missed the boat this year as far as wins go, they exhibited considerable prospective talent and prospects look bright for next year.

The Men's Varsity Swim Team lived up to its old standards and again carried off the Maritime Inter-Collegiate Championship. The Girls' Varsity Swim Team narrowly missed taking the championship from Dalhousie although this is the first team they have entered for quite a few years.

Although the Men's Basketball team did not show the punch expected of them they did well and a strong team should result next year. The Girl's Basketball Team, with added drive this year, picked off the NB Title with a close decision over the Mt. A. Girls.

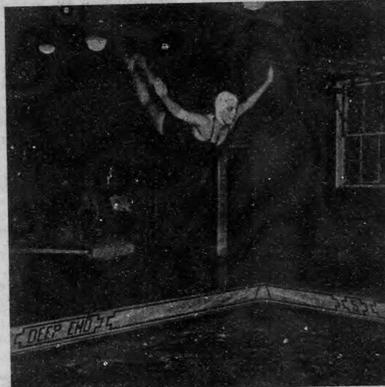

Everything taken into consideration, most varsity teams have laid a good foundation for next year, even if UNB did not take its usual quota of championships this past season.

ROBINSON GETS BIG ONE

It was Joe Robinson who sunk the goal that really counted in the second game of the semi-final battle between the UNB and St. Thomas hockey squads at the 7:28 mark of overtime, the series being tied 9-9. Auger got free and fired a pass to Robinson who piled it in to win the game plus the series 10-9. This game was an interesting one to watch as play became faster and rougher as it progressed.

DIANE DREW DOES SWAN

Diane Drew, Maritime Intercollegiate and Open Champion, does a swan dive as she competes in the diving event of the Maritime Intercollegiate swim meet held here last February 28th. In the background the UNB Ladies swim team looks on. Although the Ladies missed victory over the Dalhousie team by a narrow margin, the Men's team, captained by Don Fowler, won their section of the meet for the seventh consecutive year. Amby Legere, team coach, was heard to say, "We lost—seven years ago!"

HOCKEY TEAM POSES

FHS WINS UNB vs ST. THOMAS CLASS "L" TOURNAMENT

Fredericton (UNB)—Showing great spirit and fight the Fredericton High School basketball quintet walked off with the New Brunswick Interscholastic Class "L" Basketball Tournament for the second year in a row as they overcame a last quarter lead to take a narrow 40-37 win over the powerful Saint John High squad.

At the conclusion of the tournament, President of the University of New Brunswick Colin B. Mackay, presented the championship trophy to captain Terry George of the winning team and the trophy to captain Richard Diotte of the consolation champs Campbellton High.

Ron Manzer received a trophy for winning the foul-shooting competition and Ty Theriault of Edmundston was awarded a shirt for being judged the most valuable player in the tourney.

In the final game for the championship both teams started out from the first to give indications of a thriller as in the opening minutes the lead changed hands several times until Fredericton took the better of the play and moved ahead 12-8 at the end of the first quarter, but the port city crew, led by Blair Dixon came back fast in the second quarter to break away from the local's check; and moved in for many lay-up shots and when the intermission came they had a 22-17 margin.

The losers kept up their fast pace in the third quarter as the yellow and black seemed to play the worst ball they played all tournament as their passes were off and some of them were hitting the walls over the receiver, but being down 32-24 at the start of the final stanza they put on a determined bid with their fighting spirit and were rewarded as they moved within one point of the leaders 37-36 and then a basket by guard Bob Wightman moved them ahead 38-37 with about 40 seconds remaining in the game and Tony George wrapped up the game with one foul shot and Wightman followed with another later to bring the silverware back to Fredericton High for the second straight year.

Thousands of women across Canada spend many hours each week knitting and sewing for the Women's Work Committee of the Canadian Red Cross. Your contribution to Red Cross provides these volunteer workers with the necessary materials to carry on this important service for the less fortunate.

In the third quarter of the game between UNB and St. Thomas, St. Thomas strove time after time to score and failed time after time by very narrow margins. This picture shows one section of the final battle between UNB and St. Thomas for the New Brunswick championship. Bliss and Brophy, of UNB, together stop Joey George's drive which ended up on the UNB six inch line.

LANGE IN ACTION

Lolo Lange, of the UNB Coed Basketball team, high scorer for the season, sinks one in the first game of a two game series between UNB and Dalhousie. The Haligonians won the game 48-28. The second game of the series was also won by Dalhousie (28-24), but it was a much closer game.

CAMPBELL LECTURES HERE

Fredericton (UNB) — Roy Campbell, a renowned poet, former bullfighter and now a prosperous rancher living in Cintra on the Portuguese coast lectured on "Poetry and Bull-fighting" at a public meeting in the University Memorial Hall, October 26. Born in Zululand, South Africa, Mr. Campbell speaks the native language well enough to have earned the sobriquet "Zulu" Campbell among friends in many countries.

PRESIDENT FOWLER

Fredericton (UNB) — Newly elected president of the Students' Representative Council, Senior Forester, Mr. Don Fowler, came to UNB from Naugatuck, Conn., in the fall of 1950. Since that time he has been very active in student affairs. His campus activities include two years on the SRC as class representative, Treasurer of the Forestry Association, President of the Junior Class, Treasurer of the Residence and vice-president of the Amateur Athletic Association. He has received an athletic distinction in swimming. (The four hundred yard relay team, of which he is a member, recently won the Maritime Intercollegiate Record setting a time of 4:12.5 seconds)

SIR JAMES DUNN SCHOLARSHIPS AWARDED

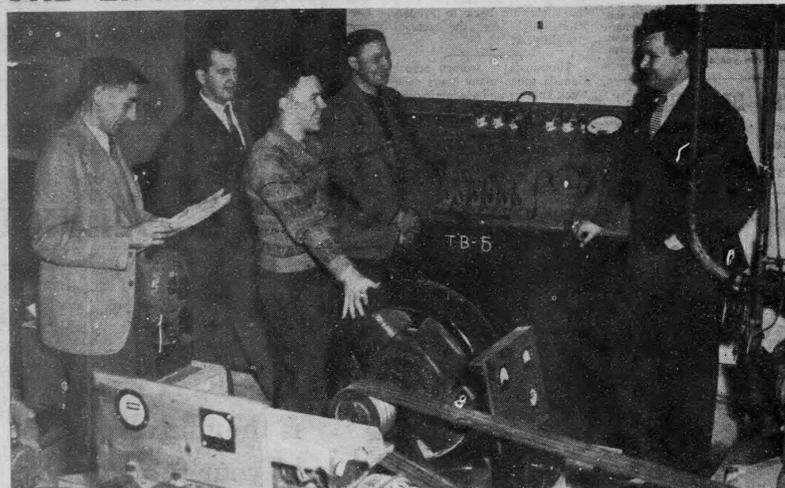

Fredericton (UNB) Names of nine students, winners of the Sir James Dunn Scholarships in Geology at the University of New Brunswick for the year 1953-54, were announced November 26, by Lady Dunn. Recipients of the graduate scholarships, are left to right, back row: R. L. MacFarlane, W. Tupper, D. W. Ruthledge, P. O. Hachey, K. J. Stewart. Front row: J. S. Smith, A. G. Johnson, J. H. It will be recalled that research work carried out under a Sir James Dunn Graduate Scholarship in 1950 was an important factor in starting the present mining activity in the Province.

DELEGATES MEET PRESIDENT AT CONFERENCE

UNB ENGINEERS MARK 100TH ANNIVERSARY

Fredericton (UNB)—The University of New Brunswick has the oldest engineering faculty in any university in Canada. It was on February 15, 1854, that Professor McMahan Cragen gave the first engineering lecture to a class of 26. A century later a faculty of 14 headed by Dr. Earl O. Turner, Dean of Engineering, is lecturing to classes with a total enrolment of 319 students—the largest enrolment in any faculty on the UNB campus. Seen in the above photo are members of the engineering student body in discussion with Professor James Dineen at the Synchronous Converter.

UNB'S ONE AND ONLY FEMININE ENGINEER

Fredericton (UNB)—UNB's only lady engineer, Noreen Donahoe and Prof. Ira Beattie test a piece of asphalt in the Eng. Lab. Noreen, an attractive Fredericton Co-ed, is a Senior Civil Student and is the third woman to represent her sex in civil engineering at UNB. Helen Baxter, the first registered woman engineer, and Mary Scribner, both married, and the latter—Mrs. Donald Gray—works with her husband with the National Research Council. On her graduation this year Miss Donahoe undertakes a job with the Council in Ottawa.
