TROOPS LEAVE CHICAGO

The Federal Government Calls Off the Dogs of War.

PULLMAN'S MEN AT WORK

Dutch Laborers Ask for Re-Installation and are Accepted—Train Wreckers Arranged—Plot to Destroy a Bridge Disclosed in Oklahoma.

Chicago, July 17.—The announcement that the strikers at Pullman were on the point of surrendering to the Government, and that the men in the palace car works at the reduced wages, is confirmed. Thomas Heathcote, leader of the strikers, admits that all his influence and that of the other labor leaders was required to prevent a general strike of the workmen, and officials of the Pullman Company say they expect orders from headquarters any day to open the car shops, which have been closed more than eight weeks.

CHENYEA, Wyo., July 17.—The members of the R. U. and his associates have voted almost unanimously not to return to work. The following telegram was received from Del. Chenyea, who is one of the receivers occupy the same position as all others in this strike. The proposition was made to the General and his associates, which was refused; our position is doubly strong in consequence. Renew every effort and carry out to the end. We must and will win. (Signed) E. V. Debs.

Chicago, July 17.—There was a sensational climax yesterday to the troubles that have distressed railroad circles during the past three weeks when President E. V. Debs of the R. U. and his associates, Vice-President George W. Howard, General Secretary Sylvester Kellogg and L. W. Rogers, chairman of the executive committee, were taken to the county jail and incarcerated as prisoners of the United States for violation of the injunction, issued July 3 by Judge Wood and Grosscup, restraining them from combining and conspiring to hinder interstate commerce trade or the movement of United States mails.

The imprisonment of the chiefs of the Railway Union was not in any sense an arbitrary proceeding. Although predicted upon what the courts regarded as an open and defiant violation of orders solemnly issued, an opportunity was afforded the defendants of presenting bonds for their appearance in court a week hence. This proposition, however, was rejected on the ground, as emphasized by President Debs after the court had taken the matter into consideration, that the principle involved was one entirely too serious in its nature to admit of the defendants availing themselves of any technicalities that might be regarded as loopholes in the law. Bonds were offered to the union leaders, but their overtures were declined and the prisoners suffered themselves to be taken to jail and locked up. There is no doubt in the meantime they should try to escape, but they will remain until Monday morning.

Chicago, July 17.—The stampede of Pullman strikers has begun. It had been expected ever since Debs sent his letter to the railway managers offering to surrender if his men were given employment again. The break came from a quarter least expected. One hundred and fifty Hollanders, who had been ballasting railroad ties behind the foundry, went back of their own accord and asked for work. The men were accepted and began their way out of the Kenilworth rioters' camp this morning from the works. No attempts were made to interfere with them. Col. Turner's troops were patrolling the district, and prepared to drive away any agitators or walking delegates who might assail the Hollanders.

Orders were received last evening at the headquarters of General Miles for the withdrawal of the city troops now on duty in and about this city.

It is now thought safe to leave the local situation in the hands of the city police, backed by the regulars of state troops still on duty. According to the report, however, all of the regulars in the vicinity of the harbor, and the sheriff, who will be stationed at Fort Sheridan indefinitely as a reserve force, will be ready to move if the train, but the railroad officials say they have all the men they need. Regular passenger trains are running as usual.

Fatal Accidents in Lucas. Lucas, Ont., July 20.—While Mr. S. Kelly, a farmer living at Lucas Crossing, in the township of McGillivray, was milking his cow in the barn, one of the cows on the one he was milking and threw the man over, alighting with her two forefeet upon his breast, the effects of which he lingered in terrible agony until noon, when death relieved him from his suffering. Another accident occurred yesterday evening. William Lee, a boy 15 years old, son of Mr. George Lee, a farmer residing on the ninth concession in the township of McGillivray, while in the act of unharnessing his horses got entangled in the harness. The horses got frightened and ran away, and the boy, being unable to extricate himself, was killed.

Intense Suffering in Turkey. CONSTANTINOPLE, July 20.—The suffering caused by the earthquake is more and more intense. The loss of property is felt more keenly every day by the hundreds of thousands of families who have camped in the parks and cemeteries. The local relief fund is entirely inadequate to the emergency here and in the provinces, especially in and about Adahazar, the Chialdalis and Gallara. The sufferers have been helpless in their distress. As soon as communication with the provinces shall be restored the reports of privation and disease will probably begin to reach this city.

Montreal Chinamen Indignant. MONTREAL, July 19.—Montreal Chinamen are very much incensed over a decision of the Montreal council to impose a tax of $100 on Chinese laundries and they propose to fight the tax in the courts.

An Old Pensioner Suicides. BRANTFORD, July 20.—Patrick Killough, aged 70, an old pensioner, shot himself in the abdomen last night. He was removed to the hospital, where he died. It is supposed the old gentleman was weak-minded.

Several Persons Drowned. BURLING, July 21.—The Vossische Zeitung states that a steamer has sunk off Sicily, in the Province of Calabria, and 100 persons were drowned.

A Hero in the Black Sea. MONTREAL, July 21.—A branch of the American Railway Union has been formed in Montreal with about 30 members.

A Hero in the Black Sea. ONTARIO, July 22.—It is now certain that 140 persons went down with the Italian steamer Columbus, which collided with the British steamer Yandir in the Black Sea a few days ago. All the evidence points to the fact that the Columbus was at fault, and that the Yandir was innocent.

French Sailors Struggle Desperately With Flame and Wave.

After a Hard Fight the Men Come Out Ahead in an Exciting Race for Life—A Recruit Who Attempted to Escape Fleeced in France.

Paris, July 21.—The new torpedo boat Le Grandeur ran into the harbor at Boulogne yesterday at a high rate of speed, and was at once abandoned by her crew. She had been partly burned and was filling with water.

Le Grandeur was attached to the fleet on the early morning she collided with the armored cruiser Jean Bart. The first examination of her hull showed that she was badly damaged and the water was so fast that it would be a race for life to get her into port. She was headed for Boulogne.

Foe was plying his net until she was running twenty-eight knots an hour. Her boiler plates got red hot, the woodwork caught fire and the flames rapidly spread beyond the control of the crew. The twenty men manning the vessel fought the fire with desperation, preserving perfect discipline despite their growing agony as the flames spread toward the magazine. Only one man, and he was an Italian, was left on board and had been kept at sea half an hour longer.

Eventually the fire was checked when by a few feet from the magazine by the influx of water through the hole made by the Jean Bart, and the men were then able to quench it. Water continued to flow in and the vessel was foundered with all on board had she been kept at sea half an hour longer.

They were John Rendenbush, John Lewellyn, A. J. Hays, William Clark and Charles Woodman. All live at Williamsport, are married and have children. Their bodies were horribly mangled.

Coming to a Head. To-day (Tuesday) there will take place in the Methodist church, Pembroke, an event which will cause quite a ripple in the Methodist circles. It is the trial of Rev. R. C. Horner, before a committee consisting of the president of the conference, Rev. Dr. Ryckman, and five ministers chosen by the president from the district, on two charges which have been preferred against him by the quarterly boards of Combermere and Pembroke circuits. The first charge is that he has taken up the collection for Combermere assigned him by the Montreal conference, and the second charge is that he has conducted services on stations without the invitation or permission of the ministers.

As president of the district, Horner, he will have a right to appeal within a given time to the Appellate court of the conference, from whose decision there is no appeal.

An Independent View. Editor Athens Reporter. DEAR SIR.—I am still a resident of the village of Westport and think that I am possessed of a reasonable share of conduct and judgment, yet not enough to convince or satisfy me as to the necessity of so much time and expense being expended in making so many officials, from the Governor-General down to the lowest subject in the department of Ottawa, to make laws for the few people that are in Canada. Still, it is necessary to make laws for men. It is needless, I think, for our boys to be boasting of their education when it takes about all they can earn from year to year to make laws to govern them. It is needless to make laws for the harder they are to be governed. I have often thought, gone home by, when the people became more educated the less laws would be required. The gospel was a great and powerful weapon in Canada for civilization, peace and harmony; yet I am afraid it fails, in many respects. The people now days depend too much on the money and the power of the law. They have created or made in all the legislative halls of our Dominion—crying out, "peace, peace," when there is no peace. It is strange to think that they should decide our nation cannot be purely kept up without too much party strife and expense, upon the leaves and fishes of which many men in our government are living, aiming to become millionaires, while the poor are looking for the crumbs that fall from their tables. It is wonderful to think or read of all the useless time or work that our members of parliament have to come in contact with to satisfy themselves and their parties. They often think they are wise and far-seeing people; yet I often think they make many mistakes as well as the uneducated farmers, as they are often named. For instance, look at the experiments about the liquor question, when the government had to appoint so many commissioners, to decide to and for the masses of petitioners as to the opinion of the people on prohibition in the Dominion and which have cost a large sum of money, instead of letting each voter have a chance to vote at the polls by the scratch of a pen in day over who whole Dominion. The experiments on the debarring, or cutting off the poor cows horns, is another instance, which cost 1,500 dollars, which, I think, is no good credit to a nation. What are the people want in the legislative halls more of the farming community, who might hold the balance of power and try to cut down more or less of the expenses. Just think of Lieutenant Governor getting the sum of 10,000 dollars per annum for the scratch of a pen and an awl. The country must be full of competent men, who would be glad to give up half of what they are getting, and to go the way down to the foot of the ladder.

LANDSLIDES OF ROCK AND EARTH THAT CARRY DESTRUCTION.

Historic Calamities That Have Been Caused by Heavy Lands—Avalanches Descending to Life and Property—The 1894 Slide at St. Albans, Quebec.

The landslides reported lately from Chateaufort, Quebec, which resulted in the destruction of life and property, and the loss of many lives, has numerous counterparts in mountain countries through which valleys flow extensive water courses. The present season has been especially prolific of them, because of the excessive rains.

What the avalanche is to the snowy Alps of Switzerland and the white peaks of the Rocky Mountains, so is the landslide to the rocky and wooded slopes of all countries in more temperate latitudes. It is a question which of the two, the avalanche or the landslide, is the more terrible engine of destruction, and would be infinitely more destructive were it not for the fact that the latter is so common.

On the contrary, may be seen in any place where valleys lie below steep hills. Their coming may not be intentional, but they are the result of the soil to the bottom, and lubricate the rocky surface underneath with ooze and mud. The top of the slope becomes a mighty avalanche before which great trees are broken like straws.

It is very rarely indeed that a landslide occurs during any but protracted periods of wet weather. In such exceptional cases, such as the one at St. Albans, the cause of the disaster is the result of the excessive rains of the spring.

The tremendous rainfall of this spring was the cause of that other terrible landslide which occurred at St. Albans, on the banks of the St. Lawrence river, on April 28. This was the most terrible landslide that has ever taken place in Canada, and has few parallels on the continent.

The cause of the disaster attending this catastrophe were these: The St. Anne river three miles from St. Albans makes a long curve to a waterfall one hundred and fifty feet in height. The mountain descended precipitately to the river whose rim the river nourished. The river is the outlet of the entire watershed of the Laurentian mountains, and the proportions that vague fears of some catastrophe were felt. But no one could have dreamed of the disaster that followed.

A terrific slide. The country about St. Albans was well settled with lumbermen. There were perhaps 4,000 persons in the neighborhood. Below the falls was a fertile valley, with pulp mills and farms.

The disaster occurred in the early morning and aroused the inhabitants from their beds with a noise like distant thunder. The trees were uprooted and earth rushed down into the valley, burying several mills and houses. Three or four hundred persons were killed.

During the next hour there was the most intense excitement. It was realized that this was not a beginning, and thousands fled, leaving their homes and their stock. They left none to look after the property.

It struck the valley just above the falls and wiped the falls out of existence. It carried away the entire cliff over which the St. Anne poured its foaming torrent. It swept into the lower valley, demolishing the houses, the barns, the stables, the houses, the river itself. It did not stop until it had buried the entire valley under a mass of earth and rock.

When all had settled and there was opportunity to study the results of this appalling landslide it was seen that a new world would have to be made of the town and township. There was nothing left as it had been before. The falls were gone completely, and the river had found a new channel three miles away.

Tracts of woodland a quarter mile or more square had been moved four or five hundred yards from their original standing. Other large tracts had been literally ploughed up, and the timber of the forest scattered all over the place.

In place of the great pool at the foot of the falls was now found a field. Beyond it the former channel of the river was filled with huge masses of rock. No one knowing the country as it had been, could possibly have found its single familiar feature through a space of six square miles.

The damage of course, was frightful. The town and township were buried under a mass of earth and rock. The houses, the barns, the stables, the houses, the river itself. It did not stop until it had buried the entire valley under a mass of earth and rock.

About a dozen persons were killed, in spite of the fact that the river was in a state of high water. The houses, the barns, the stables, the houses, the river itself. It did not stop until it had buried the entire valley under a mass of earth and rock.

The damage to the lumbering interests centring around St. Albans was nearly $1,000,000.
