of Prof. Goldwin Smith.

At 10 minutes to 12 yesterday the train having on board Sir John and Lady Macdonald steamed into the Union station from the east. There were not many of the chieftain's faithful followers present to greet him. Sir John occupied a section in the rear coach, and when he alighted at the eastern end of the depot he looked anxiously along end of the depot he looked anxiously along the platform for some one to come to his welcome. Suddenly Mr. Chas. W. A. Dedrickson, parliamentary editor of the Mail, espici the lonely chieftain and rushed towards him, hat in hand, and was the first to interchange greetings. Ald. Piper and another gentleman were the next to bid the premier welcome to the city. Lody the premier welcome to the city. Lady Macdonald was standing on the platform alderm n from St. John's ward after he had courtesied with her husband. Then a footman came up and escorted Sir John and Lady Macdonsld to a carriage and they were rapidly driven to The Grange, where they remain the guests of Prof. and Mrs. Goldwin Smith during their stay here, which will, it is understood, be brief. dade, y'know, tolke that. The dude's not hawf as bad as painted! Chased by a cat—Haw!"

"No truth in it at all?"

"Whoy, I'd lay a guid to a bob any toime that is's a pure guy," said the youth, with some animation; "and I tell you what," he continued, "the—aw—dude, don't chew know, is wretchedly misunderstood."

"What is a dude?"

"A dude," answered the youth slowly, "is a gentleman. A cad can never be a dude. He must not be in trade, but must have money, I dare say there are dudes who have very little money, but then they have blood, y'know. But the point of the thing is that the dude is the embodiment—er—of the—sh—triumph of the gentleman over the cad. You take what was once known as a swell, or a fop, or a dandy, and it was never absolutely, necessary for him to be a gentleman. The pet, particular god of swelldom was Beau Brummel, don't chew know, and yet he was not a gentleman according to our English acceptance of the term. Still he snubbed the Prince of Wales."

"Would he not have been quite as effective as a dude?"

"By no means," said the youth hastily. "Don't chew see? He was gorgeous and over-dreased, while we—er—that is, the dude—is the acuse of propriety and good taste. He wore loud colors, padded shoulders, corsets, wigs, snuffbox, and unlimited jewelry, while the dude wears no jewelry other than a ring, and invariably dresses in dark and quiet colors."

dark and quiet colors."

"Is there any fun in being a dude?

"To the vulgaw a dude is not impressive. The gorgeous swell took the eye. The women worshipped him for the redness of his dress and the waitahs in eating houses were overpowered; but the dude is essentially negative. He is not a spectacle; he is a quiet, self-contained gentleman. He is refined, and he is distinguished from common people by his manners. In England we have a landed aristocracy; in America the aristocrats are popularly known as dudes, y'know. A fellah dressed properly and walking quietly on the Strand or in Pell Mell is known simply as an English gentleman; but when he appears in the same attire on Fifth av'noo he at once becomes a dude."

"May I ask how long you have been away from England?"

"I—aw—cawn't say; the fact is, I have nevah been in England."

THE INTERNATIONAL THR AT AND LUNG Institute is the only one in Canada where diseases of the air p ssages alone are treated. We have twelve eminent specialists employed in our practice in Canada alone. With the aid of Dr. M. Souvielle's invention, the Spirometer, and the new treatments we adopt, we are making wonderful cures of Catarth, Catarrhal Deafness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Consumption, and all diseases of the head, throat and lungs. Consultations and a trial of Spirometer free Those unable to come to the Institute, or see our surgeons, who visit all the principal towns and eities of Canada, can be successfully treated by writing enclosing a stamp for a copy of our International News, published monthly, which will give you full perticulars and references which are genuine
