The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

Douglas Library
Queen's University

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol \rightarrow (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol ∇ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

Douglas Library
Queen's University

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole \rightarrow signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole ∇ signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

It had long been the desire of many of the Pupils of the Reverend HUGH URQUHART, while Master of the Eastern District School, to present him with some token of their united affection and regard; and the opportunity of bringing the proposition under the notice of a goodly number of them, having occurred, during the holding of the Spring Assizes for 1848, at Cornwall, a meeting was then called—not to consider the propriety of so doing—but to take steps for carrying out that object.

Mr JACOB FARRAND PRINGLE was called upon to preside, and it was moved by Mr ARCH. JOHN MACDONELL (of Greenfield), seconded by Mr PHILIP MATTHEW VANKOUGHNET, and carried unanimously:

“That it is our duty to express, in some marked manner, the gratitude we feel towards the Reverend HUGH URQUHART for the affectionate solicitude with which he superintended our education, and the kindly feelings with which he has continued to regard us since removed from his control: as well as the high esteem and regard which we entertained for him in every respect.”

Mr JAMES DUNBAR PRINGLE then moved, seconded by Mr WILLIAM ROSS, and it was carried :

“That there be a Committee appointed to carry out the object of the foregoing resolution, by collecting subscriptions from the Scholars at the Eastern District while under Mr Urquhart's mastership, and purchasing such articles of plate for presentation, as the subscriptions will warrant; and fixing the time for presentation, of which due notice shall be given to each subscriber—such Committee to consist of :

JACOB FARRAND PRINGLE, Esq., Cornwall,
 PHILIP MATTHEW VANKOUGHNET, Esq., Toronto,
 WILLIAM SUTHERLAND, Esq., M. D., Montreal,
 ROBERT HAMILTON, Esq., Quebec,
 ARCH. JOHN MACDONELL, Esq. (of Greenfield),
 Kingston,
 WILLIAM WALBRIDGE MEYERS, Esq., River Trent,
 JOHN S. MACDONALD, Esq., M. P.P., Cornwall,
 GEORGE HAMILTON, Esq., Hawkesbury.

Mr JACOB FARRAND PRINGLE was appointed Treasurer, and Mr WILLIAM ROBERT CLINE Secretary to the Committee.

The gentlemen composing the Committee, having collected subscriptions to the amount of £150, authorized Mr ROBERT HAMILTON to make the necessary arrangements for the purchase of a Silver Tea Service and Salver in London; and the articles having arrived in the month of July last, the Committee was enabled to appoint the 18th of August, 1848, for the day of presentation.

The Service and Salver were of the handsomest description. The following words were engraved on each article:—

FORMERLY MASTER OF THE EASTERN DISTRICT SCHOOL,

AS A MARK OF THEIR RESPECT AND ESTEEM.

Several members of the Committee, and other subscribers, were enabled to meet at Cornwall on the day appointed, and proceeding to the residence of the Reverend Gentleman, presented him with the testimonial of their esteem, and with the following

ADDRESS :

Reverend and Honored Sir :—

Though many years have passed since the relations of Teacher and Pupil have ceased between us, the lapse of time has not only had the effect of strengthening our feelings of respect and esteem for you, and of convincing us that to your exertions as a Teacher, and to the excellent example you have always set before us as a man, and a Christian, we owe a great portion of the success which has attended us in our various avocations in life. Entertaining these sentiments, we feel that it is a pleasing duty incumbent upon us, to mark in some manner worthy of you and ourselves, the high sense we have of the great and lasting benefits you have conferred upon us.

We indulge the hope that while the consciousness of high and important duties, diligently and faithfully performed, must ever be your best reward, you will not be the less gratified at receiving from your old pupils this token of the affection, esteem, and respect with which we can never cease to regard you.

In conclusion, we can only add that it is our earnest prayer that you may long be spared to your family and friends, and that the choicest blessings of Providence may ever be upon you and yours.

To which Mr URQUHART replied :

My much esteemed Friends:—I find myself but ill able to give suitable expression to my feelings at this moment.

While the sense of your generous kindness in this visit, and the object of it, fills me with gratitude, the sense of my own unworthiness tends greatly to abate the intensity of my pleasure.

Indeed, were I now called upon to estimate the value of the sentiments contained in your kind and affectionate Address, and of the token of affection, esteem, and respect, with which you accompany them, by any peculiar merit of my own that called them forth, I should feel rather humbled than gratified; but when I regard both, as I am sure I am warranted in doing, as a spontaneous honorable expression of your appreciation of the blessings of a liberal education, and of a generous desire to distinguish even the humblest instrument that may have been employed in conferring these blessings, by some mark of your favor and esteem, I feel that I can sympathize with your feelings, and even partake in the pleasure you now experience in giving expression to them.

So far from disavowing that bond of gratitude which should bind ingenuous youth to their teachers, I honor it, and rejoice at every manifestation of it.

The office of the Teacher of youth has ever been regarded as useful and honorable, and has its rewards; it has also, as admitted on all hands, its toils, trials, and heavy responsibilities; but of all the rewards of his work, that alone which compensates a trust-worthy and right-minded teacher for all his toils and trials, is the reward which is to be found in the after well-being and well-doing of the scholar, and in the gratitude that survives all the ties of their mutual relation. It is then no small part of the gratification I now experience that the token of your gratitude and regard comes to me a good many years after the mutual relations of Scholar and Teacher have ceased, and after your minds have been matured by the practical experience of the benefits you have received; and also, after I have had the unspeakable satisfaction of seeing not a few of you take places in your several professions and occupations which do you credit now, and give promise of still higher attainments, and all of you engaged in a career of present or future usefulness and honor.

The present occasion forces upon my memory the grateful recollection of a similar token of affection and regard received upwards of twenty years ago, on my separation from the first school I ever taught in Canada, known as The Montreal Academical Institution, when I had the pleasure of seeing assembled as interesting and promising a group of youths as I have ever seen assembled in one School—many of whom it is still my happiness to know, and reckon as attached friends, but many of whom, alas! are now numbered with the dead—having lived just long enough to leave with endeared and sorrowing parents an earnest of future eminence and success never to be realized.

Nor do I think it unsuitable to our present meeting to be reminded that this is not the first time that the Scholars of the School of Cornwall have distinguished themselves by their appreciation of

And though removed from these our predecessors, by many years of separation, and perhaps still more by their superior attainments, yet I am sure that we can with pride look back to their example and pre-eminent distinction, and feel no common satisfaction in having our names associated with those of many, who by their talents and patriotism have reflected no ordinary honor on their country, and not a few of whom are now adorning the highest stations of honor in the land.

Having then the happiness to live under a Constitution which freely opens up the way of eminence and honor to all the deserving of all classes, I will have no greater joy than to hear and know that all my boys be found, in generous and virtuous emulation, striving for the first places in virtue, piety, and true patriotism. Next to the approbation of our Heavenly Father, and the consciousness of endeavoring to discharge all my duties with a single eye to His Glory, I may truly say, that the assurance of enjoying your friendship and esteem, will constitute one of the most valued elements in the remaining part of my life; and permit me now to say that "this Token of your affection, esteem and respect," which I receive with gratitude, and for which I offer you my heartfelt thanks, will be kept by me as the most valued and precious ornament of my house.

I thank you fervently for your earnest prayer for me and mine; and in conclusion let me offer my fervent prayers to Almighty God for you all, and for all whom you now represent—that He may pour upon you His best blessings, temporal, spiritual, and eternal, in your persons, in your several avocations, and in your domestic relations.
