JAP-U.S. PACT TO RAISE STORM

Democrats Propose to Attack Roosevelt for Usurping Powers of Senate.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The indications are that the Japanese-American entente designed to protect the territorial integrity of China will be the subject of a great deal of debate in executive session of the United States senate during the present session.

The fact that such an agreement has been entered into through diplomatic exchanges between Japan and the United States without the normalcy of a treaty is not acceptable to Democratic leaders. As a result they propose to institute an enquiry to determine the exact form of the understanding between the two countries with a view to showing, if possible, that the agreement in fact is a usurpation of powers.

If a controversy should be raised in the senate over the question as to whether the president and the secretary of state were usurping constitutional powers of the senate, it is likely that disposition of the question will be postponed until after the adjournment of the present session.

In this event the probability is that Mr. Root will be one of the senators from New York and he would be expected to take an active part in the defence of the right of the president to engage in relations with foreign governments along the line of the Japanese-American agreement.

New Agreement Suits Germany

BERLIN, Dec. 7.—Chancellor Von Buelow, during the budget debate in the reichstag to-day, referring to the American-Japanese agreement, said:

"The new arrangement is thoroughly in harmony with the principles of Germany's policy in the far-east, the principles of the 'open door' economically, the preservation of the status quo territorially, and the integrity and independence of the Chinese empire. We have no occasion to regard the agreement otherwise than sympathetically."

Answering a complaint that Germany was left out of the American-Japanese agreement, the chancellor called attention to the fact that Germany already has a precisely similar arrangement with Japan, thru an exchange of notes, Japan explicitly accepting the principles of the Anglo-German agreement of 1900, which guarantees the maintenance of the 'open door' and the territorial status quo.

The chancellor also referred to Germany's attitude in the Balkan crisis. He said: "It is to be seen that Turkey politically and economically is already never wanted Turkish territory, from the fact that its geographical situation is not desired by Turkey, and that lost nothing thru the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina by Austria-Hungary. Neither did the independence of Bulgaria mean the loss of any territory."

"From the very beginning, two points were to me clear for the exercise of German diplomacy:

"First, we must leave the lead in southeastern European policies to other powers, and, second, we must never hesitate for a moment to stand faithfully by our ally, Austria-Hungary."

"Cheers."

"Germany's intention to annex Bosnia and Herzegovina about the same time Russia and Italy received similar notifications."

Prince Von Buelow expressed the hope that the international conference would have a soothing effect.

Loss of Prestige Hurts the Kaiser

After Withholding Himself From Public Gaze, Resumes Audiences With Ministers.

POTSDAM, Dec. 7.—The emperor, who has been living in seclusion since Nov. 11, to-day resumed audiences with reference to official business.

The emperor is described as being greatly depressed by recent events and not disposed to talk even to members of his household, as he feels deeply his loss of prestige abroad and among his own people. The emperor feels grieved that old loyal ministers, as well as Chancellor Von Buelow, should desire to limit his freedom of speech in his after-dinner conversations, even with his foreigners.

NO NEED FOR Y.M.C.A.

Minister Says Churches Ought to Have Special Attractions.

GUELPH, Dec. 7.—(Special).—There is no need for a Y.M.C.A. in a city the size of Guelph, said the Rev. C. H. Buckland of St. James' Church, when speaking on the subject, if all the Sunday schools and churches did their duty.

He went on to say that he believed every school house ought to be fitted with a gymnasium, churches and Sunday school halls should remain open all week, and the Carnegie public library reading room should remain open on Sunday afternoons for the benefit of the young men.

Commutation Rates Never Objected To By People of Brampton.

BRAMPTON, Dec. 7.—(Special).—The town council to-night put itself on record in favor of commutation tickets. The following resolution was passed on motion of C. A. Irvine, seconded by R. H. Pringle:

"That whereas by the decision of the board of railway commissioners in the matter of the application of F. W. Wegenast for commutation rates between Brampton and Toronto, it is made to appear that the commutation rates formerly existing were withdrawn owing to alleged opposition of the Town of Brampton to the said rates; and

"Whereas no public body of the Town of Brampton, or anyone acting officially or otherwise representing the people of the Town of Brampton, at any time opposed the former commutation rates above mentioned; and

"Whereas the people of the Town of Brampton, thru their council, the board of trade and by petition represented to the Grand Trunk Railway and to the board of railway commissioners upon the application above mentioned, that the Town of Brampton was never opposed to such rates and is now and always has been favorable thereto; and

"Whereas the Town of Brampton is not being treated by the Grand Trunk Railway in the matter of passenger rates on an equal basis with Oakville, Weston and other places.

"Be it therefore resolved:

"That this council, representing the people of the Town of Brampton, repudiates the suggestion that commutation rates between Brampton and Toronto were ever objected to by the people of Brampton; that they are desirous of obtaining such rates, and that if existing legislation does not permit or compel the putting in force of such rates, the Railway Act should be amended to provide for the same."

BRAMPTON CITY COUNCIL SHRINKAGE 20 PER CENT. THROWS LOCAL OPTION IN VALUE OF IMPORTS

Two Former Supporters Refuse to Vote While Another Lines Up With Antis.

BRAMPTON, Dec. 7.—(Special).—The annual meeting of the Bank Montreal was held to-day, with the president, Sir George Drummond, in the chair.

Sir George Drummond said: "A year ago business in the United States was staggering under a sudden collapse of credit and a money stringency, while in Canada the brakes had been applied and the slowing down process had begun."

"To-day the situation is much improved, confidence has been largely restored, credit is again good, the money markets of the world are abnormally easy, but the volume of trade has been considerably diminished, measured by the value of imports. The shrinkage in Canada within a year has been approximately 20 per cent., namely, from $32,460,000 to $27,300,000, the figures being for the twelve months ending Oct. 1, 1907, and 1908.

"On the other hand the value of domestic exports in the same period has been well maintained, being $23,500,000, as against $24,200,000 last year."

"The past year certainly was, and the present holds out the prospect of being, emphatically the era of railway construction. The Grand Trunk Pacific, between Prince Rupert and Montreal, is much greater than the public have any idea of. For example, the Canadian Pacific Railway, at the end of June, had over 70 miles under construction in different sections of the country, and the Canadian Northern was also engaged in increasing its mileage in Quebec and the western provinces."

BRAMPTON LOCAL OPTION BYLAW AGAIN FAILS

BRAMPTON, Dec. 7.—(Special).—The local option bylaw had another airing in the council chambers to-night, but no further progress was made. Councilor Ashley again moved the adoption of the first clause. Richard Watson, who had opposed its adoption a week ago, received new light in the meantime and supported it, but Dr. Starke, who was favorable last week, voted against, leaving the vote 3 for and 4 against. The vote was: For—Ashley, Jackson, Watson. Against—Mayor Golding, Reeve Irvine, Councilors Sharpe and Walsh.

Councilor Pringle, who was in the chair, was favorable to the submission of the bylaw, but as his vote would not carry the clause, he favored a motion that the committee rise and report.

Notice of the application on behalf of the local optionists for a mandamus was served upon the council. The application will be heard to-morrow.

LAURIER NOT IN WRECK.

Despatch Has Premier on Derailed Train in Minnesota.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is in Ottawa and has been for some days. Nevertheless last night an Associated Press despatch had the premier in a railway wreck in Minnesota, the despatch reading:

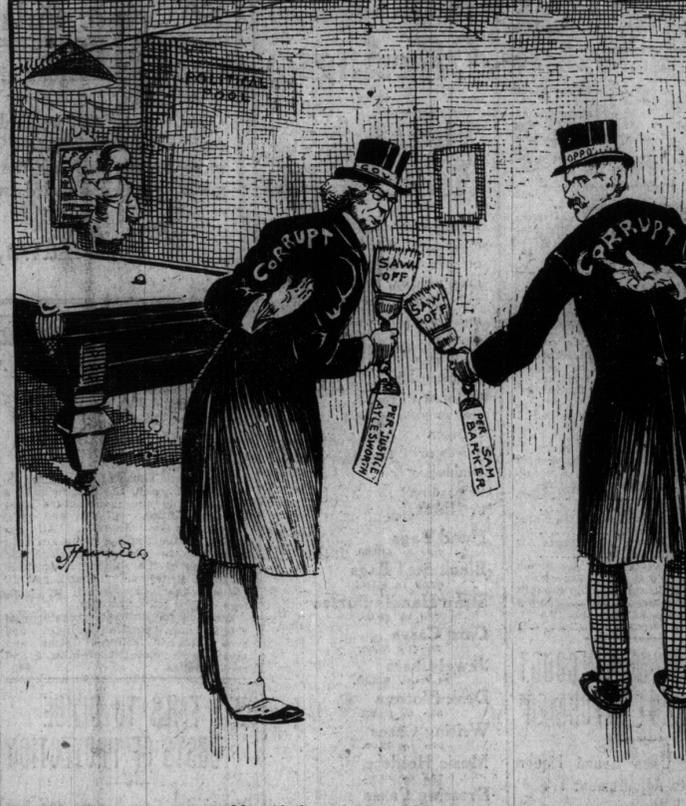

"ST. VINCENT, Minn., Dec. 7.—Two cars on a Great Northern local train from St. Paul were thrown into a ditch at St. Vincent to-day by a broken rail. In one of the cars was Sir Wilfrid Laurier, premier of Canada, who was among the passengers shaken up, although no one was hurt."

BOATS RUSH CARGOES.

Must Get Away Before Expiration of Marine Insurance.

PORT ARTHUR, Dec. 7.—(Special).—There is a great rush here of all the boats to get away before midnight Tuesday. Thereafter boats will go at their own risk, as insurance expires. The exception to this is the Northern Navigation Co., whose boats are protected until Saturday next, and the Huronic, which has also more leisure. It is believed all the boats will get away with grain and none will winter here.

ASKS LEGISLATURE TO HELP BUILD SEWERS

Oshawa Council Passes Resolution Suggesting System of Government Aid.

OSHAWA, Dec. 7.—(Special).—At a meeting of the town council to-night a motion which may be far-reaching in its effect was unanimously passed. It reads:

"Moved by Messrs. Crysdale and Samuels that the council of Oshawa desires to draw the attention of the local legislature to the necessity and desirability of granting material assistance to the towns and villages of Ontario in their struggle to construct new sewers and a system already established or build sewerage disposal works as individual cases may require. To this end we would submit for the consideration of the government that a sewerage system has become a necessary to the very life and existence of our urban municipalities as good roads have become needed in the townships and counties of Ontario, and should receive government encouragement, supervision and financial assistance, at least in a like proportion to the good roads movement."

The idea is said to have emanated from Mayor Dr. T. E. Kaiser.

MURDERER ATTACKS WARDEN

Hoped to Be Killed in Melee and Thus Avoid Hanging.

VANCOUVER, Dec. 7.—(Special).—With the hope of being shot and killed in a melee and thereby avoid hanging, John Pertella, colored, made a vicious attack on Warden Bryner in the provincial jail, New Westminster, Pertella is to hang with two others Friday week. The crime was the murder of his mistress in Vancouver last August. Alen Turnbull, the accused prisoner, saved Bryner from being killed.

William Baldwin, C.P.R. switchman of Burketon station, was to-day committed for trial by Police Magistrate Horsey, but being granted in the sum of $200.

SIR JAMES AND THE FIAT.

Sir James P. Whitney, as acting attorney-general of Ontario, will, it is generally believed, bring his decision on the application for a fiat by the electric power interests before the cabinet to-day. The electric power interests have been generously dealt with, but the corporation inch is only a prelude to the corporation inch. The people have been satisfied to leave their concerns entirely and contentedly in Sir James' hands. The electric interests have planned to spoil the people as much as Sir James will permit them to get of the public rights.

They are in suspense until the application for a fiat is settled. The granting of a fiat would delay indefinitely the carrying out of the cheap public power policy. It would suit further enable the electric interests to entrench themselves against the competition of the people's own service.

Sir James has to decide whether it would be fair to the electric companies to lead them on to spend money in legal process which the carrying out of his power policy would render of no avail. He has assured the people by word and by act that the hydro-electric power policy will be carried to a successful conclusion. Its success by no means requires the delay of a law suit, nor will it be of any advantage to the companies to grant them a fiat to try a case which the legislature has already expressed its clear intention upon, and which intention it is prepared at the earliest moment to establish.

Sir James is as notable for his good sense as for his understanding of legal situations, and no doubt is entertained about the result of his deliberations on the application for a fiat to undo his work of the last three years.

MEYER FOUND 'EM EASY GOT MONEY FOR SCHEMES

Interested Montreal People in Brazilian Mines and Collected Some Coin.

MONTREAL, Dec. 7.—(Special).—It is explained here re W. G. Meyer, arrested in New York on a charge of the theft of $100, that he came to Montreal to promote a deal by which he proposed to sell to Montrealers the option on some Brazil diamond and gold properties, and for which he declared he had paid $50,000.

He also interested other business men in what is called the Brazilian Dredging Company, formed for the purpose of gathering diamonds and gold from the mud at the bottom of one of the Brazilian rivers. This latter proposition was quickly taken up, and the sum of $1000 in cash was paid to Meyer.

This was followed by the formation of a company by Montreal gentlemen, who called themselves the Carapatta Syndicate, Limited, with Mr. Cotton of the firm of Weir, McAllister & Cotton as legal representative and W. J. Dick, M.E., the Dawson fellowship medalist, and Mr. Stewart, an assistant engineer, to leave at the earliest possible moment for Rio de Janeiro. Meanwhile on the declaration that Meyer had bought the property for $50,000, the Montreal people handed over $5000 in good Canadian bank bills.

GOING GANDASHORE SEARCH FOR SILVER

On four claims where native silver crops out along the surface it may fairly be estimated that a million dollars' worth of ore is in sight.

There are nineteen claims stretching along a ridge some six miles in length, on which native silver has been found.

There are scores of claims on which wide smaltite, appelite and calcite veins have been stripped, and which doubtless contain below the surface a wealth of silver deposits.

And Gow Ganda, it must be remembered, is only about one hundred days' old. The first discovery of silver was made there as recently as August 4 last, and the stamped did not commence into the new field until the first week in September. But a few weeks remained before the great chain of waterways was closed by the frosts of early winter, and what work has been done is little more than that which the mining laws say must be done to live up to their conditions.

Even in the face of nature's disadvantages, the discoveries have been extending gradually northward to Bush-kong Lake, southward to Hangings Lake, and westward from the Gow Ganda discovery ridge.

On the day that the Town reached Gow Ganda, Thomas Taylor and Thomas Magdalen of New Lakeard made the eighteenth discovery of silver directly west of Mann's south claim, and northwest of Heave's and Noble's. There was the detonation of a shot that Friday afternoon. Then came a shout of exultation which echoed among the hills. The young men, who had paid $10,000 to Mr. McIntosh for this claim, had found something worth while to justify their outlay. As a preliminary to the nineteenth discovery of its kind, the day following Hewitt and son of Ottawa, got a showing of native on a claim to the northwest of Noble's. Where the carcass is there are the veins also. In that also, the silver is I met a buyer for the American nickel trust. Presumably he carried marked checks large enough to close for some of the good properties under circumstances seemed to justify.

Some stories of the camp.

Fascinating, indeed, the stories of the stories of Gow Ganda. The name is an Indian one, by the way, and means "silver pickers."

Alfred L. Reeve and his partner, Samuel J. Doble, comprised one of the parties which on Aug. 4 last located silver at Gow Ganda. Reeve's energy and ability came out of the district worth half a million dollars if he accepts the offers already made to himself and partner. He has been very busy on the other hand, if he so desires, go ahead and mine his properties with the absolute certainty that he will be able to take the silver out of the ground and ship it to the smelter.

Alfred Reeve was born at Oxenden, in Grey County, and his father, who is unfortunately in poor health, is now at Warrenton. He attended school in Owen Sound for a time, worked awhile in Toronto, and in due course his energy and ability placed him in charge of a supply house in Phoenix, British Columbia. While there, he met Mr. Doble, and they roomed together for two years. Mr. Reeve threw up his position to go prospecting, but with indifferent success. He lost completely all trace of his old room-mate. During twenty years Mr. Reeve prospected in British Columbia and Arizona, and then came north to Cobalt. For six years, when one night they met accidentally on a street in Cobalt.

It was a fortunate reunion. They decided to go out prospecting together. On Aug. 4, with provisions running low, and on what was probably their last chance, Doble's pick struck silver, and Reeve's pick struck a slab of blende. The claims which they staked that day, and on subsequent days, will make them both rich men. So low had their provisions run at that time that they were living on the "whiskey jacks," or Canadian licks, which in an ill-omened moment had fluttered about their camp fire.

Dangerous Canoe Journey.

The journey, as my guide and self progressed, to Gow Ganda was replete with little incidents and some disappointments. We reached Miller Lake on the fourth day out, buoyed with the knowledge that Gow Ganda Lake was but three or four miles distant.

John Debeau had reached the point where he talked of his family affairs. He had left a wife and six children down in Argentine, he said.

"I got a boy 14 years old," he declared. "Him smart boy, but not very."

BISHOP'S WARM ATTACK ON 'PREDATORY WEALTH'

Michigan Visitor Expresses Advanced Ideas on Social Economic Questions.

Henry George up-to-date is the description that might be given of the address delivered that night in Convocation Hall by the Right Reverend Charles Williams, Bishop of Michigan.

His endorsement of public ownership, taxation of all special privileges, exemption of the means of economic and industrial expansion and activity, and his indictment generally of "wealth, power, policy, it would suit further enable the electric interests to entrench themselves against the competition of the people's own service."

Sir James has to decide whether it would be fair to the electric companies to lead them on to spend money in legal process which the carrying out of his power policy would render of no avail. He has assured the people by word and by act that the hydro-electric power policy will be carried to a successful conclusion. Its success by no means requires the delay of a law suit, nor will it be of any advantage to the companies to grant them a fiat to try a case which the legislature has already expressed its clear intention upon, and which intention it is prepared at the earliest moment to establish.

WHO WOULD BE RICH?

Just to be rich to-day in the United States is sufficient to expose a man to popular opprobrium. This sudden and entire change on the part of the public has been somewhat of a shock to the sensitive multi-millionaire. He has been driven to take refuge in his cyclone cellar. That is, he takes more frequent trips to Europe than he used to.

The special privilege will be classed with the pistol and the sword as a means of getting wealth under a more civilized rule.

The Shaved Widow.

It is astonishing how many widows and orphans there are and what an amazing proportion of these poor widows and orphans hold street car stock.

Why not public ownership of all national resources? It is the only basis for economic justice.

Will the millennium have come when all this is done? Will heaven have come on earth? Nay, by no means, but this seems to me to be the first thing to be done. The preachers will still have their task, but their work will be easier.

OWEN SOUND, Dec. 7.—(Special).—On the resumption of the liquor trials this afternoon H. G. Tucker, counsel for the accused, asked for an adjournment in connection with the charge brought against Charles Crook of the Duncan House.

Mr. Tucker's reason for this request was that he might be able to produce evidence in the form of a freight train on which Stewart said he had traveled from Owen Sound to Orangeville.

Magistrate Crook said he would adjourn the case till Thursday. Evidence was taken in connection with the third charge against Charles Crook, both Stewart and Crook, the detectives, swearing that on Nov. 17 they had been served with whiskey by Crook. The accused himself said that he had supplied them with only local option beer.

THE increased attention given to the study of music in our Public School curriculum as well as in the courses of all Colleges and Universities, indicates a growing recognition of the vital importance of music.

During the Summer, educators from all parts of the country have been meeting in conventions and formulating their line of work for the coming Winter.

The prominence given to the consideration of music has been significant.

THE Gourelay-Angelus

The Piano anyone can Play Artistically. Is already in use in many of the leading colleges and schools throughout the country.

WHY allow less perfect and progressive influences to surround your children, or yourself, in their home than in their schools?

The Gourelay-Angelus is certainly the royal road to learning, as far as musical appreciation and unadulterated pleasure are concerned.

Its repertoire, playable at sight by anyone, consists of over 15,000 compositions—classic, popular, operatic, dance, sacred and accompaniments. The educational value, as well as the great general utility of the new Artistic Music-Rolls, is worthy of remark.

You can now have this wonderful instrument on very easy terms or will make you a liberal allowance on your present piano and take it in exchange.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Relation of Women to Modern Public Life.

The relation of women to public life afforded Prof. Adam Shortt a felicitous topic for a lecture to the Women's Club yesterday afternoon. The Conservatory of Music Hall was filled by members of the club. President Falconer of Toronto University presided. He was present, so said, just to keep Prof. Shortt in countenance before an audience of ladies. The public probably did not realize how important a man Prof. Shortt was becoming.

Prof. Shortt said that in discussing the relation of women to the public life of the country, he had been greatly understood that the public life outside of the political arena, from the earliest times, has been a determining influence on the public life of the country. In primitive communities it had often been equal and sometimes greater than that of men.

From the extension of the franchise in 1831-32 to the British middle class almost nothing happened. It simply became a question of how far certain leaders would go in the franchise. In 1884 when a general election was held in which an extended franchise was exercised. The political speakers made violent speeches of radical changes. Gladstone was returned to power by an enormous majority, but nothing happened.

It would be by the extension of the franchise to women. He expected to see it take place, but it would neither bring the millennium nor pandemonium. It would be the same as it was with the labor men. At first very few women would vote, while gradually more women would do so. It would end in the question of effective organization to get out the vote. Woman's vote would not of itself change the situation in the public life of the country.

When anything in this line is done it is the result of the education of public opinion. It was outside organizations that educated public opinion and then went to the politicians and asked for what they wanted. The importance of the ballot had been exaggerated, both for men and women.

Women were too anxious to follow the ideas of men instead of to work on original lines. Higher education is a general benefit and should be open to men and women, but it was no advantage for either to bury themselves in commercial occupations. Men did not care for high-class music or drama. He could not blame them. They were compelled by competition, they were compelled by necessity, they were compelled by the demands of their cost of living, to exhaust all their higher faculties. If the men were responsible for the production, who was it that controlled the consumption? Was it not the women who made the market? Could they not create a demand for something higher than the crudities of mere physical display? Women would banish hurdy-gurdy shooting by elevating the demand for amusement of a higher order. Could they not make a market of spiritual ware? By their influence in such directions they would be exerting their most important influence in their relation to the public life of the country.

ISLANDERS MUST PAY FOR WORK OF SANDPUMP

The civic island committee yesterday pondered upon the case of a number of island residents who have benefited by the sandpump which has been busy during the year, but whose gratitude was not of the kind which finds expression in a monetary way.

Assessment Commissioner Forman reported that only one-third of the islanders who have benefited by the sandpump have made the payments asked by the city, so that while $284 has been received, $1188 is outstanding. Those who have appeared as one of the objectors. He explained that his lease would expire next year, and that he didn't think he should pay for the improvements. Some criticisms have been made regarding the dilatoriness of the civic authorities in opening the new morgue on Lombard-street. HOW I TOOK MY WRINKLES OUT

Trouble, worry and ill-health brought me deep lines and wrinkles. I realized that the not only greatly marred my appearance, but that they would greatly interfere with my success, because a woman's success either socially or in business, made a possession and appearance. The homely woman, with deep lines and furrows in her face, must ignore an unequal battle with her younger and better looking sister.

I therefore bought various brands of cold cream and skin foods and used them with the greatest regularity, hoping to regain my former appearance. But the wrinkles simply would not go. On the contrary they became deeper and deeper.

Next I went to a beauty specialist, who told me she could easily rid me of my wrinkles. I paid my money and took the treatment. She thought they might be less, but after spending all the money I could afford for such treatment, I realized I still had my wrinkles. So I gave up and despair and concluded I must carry them to my grave. One day a friend of mine who was versed in chemistry, made a suggestion, and this gave me a new idea. I immediately went to work making experiments and studying everything I could get hold of on the subject. After several long months of almost numberless trials and discouragements, I finally discovered a process which produced most astounding results on my wrinkles in a single night. I was delighted beyond expression. I tried my treatment again, and to behold! my wrinkles were practically gone. A third treatment—three nights in all—and I had no wrinkles and my face was as smooth as ever. I next offered my treatments to some of my immediate friends, who used it with surprising results, and I have now decided to offer it to the public. Miss Gladys Desmond of Pittsburg, Pa., writes that it made her wrinkles disappear in one night.

Mrs. M. W. Graves of Bridgeport, Conn., states: "There is not a wrinkle left, my friends say I look 20 years younger. I consider your treatment a real discovery." Mrs. B. C. Barris of Central City, S.D., writes: "The change is so great that it seems mere work of magic."

I will send further particulars to any one who is interested, absolutely free of charge. I use no cream, facial massage, face treatments or so-called skin foods; there is nothing to inject and nothing to injure the skin. It is an entirely new discovery of my own and I claim that you can get it without the knowledge of your most intimate friends. You apply the treatment at night, and go to bed. In the morning, the wrinkles have disappeared. A few lines often write me: "It sounds too good to be true." Well, the test will tell. If interested in my discovery, please address Harriet Metz, suite 1069, G. Syracuse, N.Y., and I will send you full particulars.

Government Party Have Excellent Time at Vancouver. VANCOUVER, B.C., Dec. 6.—Following an exciting adventure with Tehaj Singh and his Hindu followers Sunday afternoon, the Standard Oil Company government commissioner to arrange for the sending of one thousand Hindus to Honduras, decided that his task was impossible, and that the Hindus would not move from British Columbia. In company with Dr. Alex. Monro and J. H. Macgill of the immigration department, and several interpreters, as well as by Rev. J. Knox Wright, formerly missionary to India, Mr. Harkin repaired to the Hindu temple in Fairview. There he was informed that service, at which five hundred Hindus were in attendance, was proceeding in the holy of holies of the temple, in an upper room. The government party was told that all its members must remove their shoes before entering the upper room. Dr. Monro insisted that Tehaj Singh and the other leaders should come to the basement room for conference. Rev. Mr. Wright and other interpreters strongly advised in favor of this course. They declared that the invitation to the inner temple was a trap laid for the government commissioner, that if he agreed to it, the Hindus would immediately cable home to India news that their temple had been desecrated, and that the story, with exaggerated details and a declaration that the Canadian Government was trying to force the Hindus into submission, would ring from one end of India to the other. After he had prayed an hour, Tehaj Singh finally appeared in the basement, but declared at once that the Hindus would never go to Honduras. He interrupted Mr. Harkin when the latter attempted to explain. "Stop, stop!" angrily shouted Dr. Monro, at the same time pressing his hand to his forehead. Instantly a dozen Sikhs crowded around Dr. Monro with upraised hands, and cried excitedly: "We have no fear; we are not afraid." The incident broke up the meeting.

NOTE AND COMMENT

While there seems to be no wild scramble among the Toronto curlers for places on the provincial team that is to represent Canada in Scotland next month, no difficulty is anticipated about signing the necessary quota.

Jim Sullivan and his friends may get away with some of the prize money of the time, but London Field and London Turley surely prove that their little exploitations at the Olympic games were shrewd to say the least of it.

Sullivan is, first and last, a boss in amateur athletics, for personal and business reasons. Truth says: "It is pitiable that amateur athletics of a great nation should be bossed by men without truth or sportsmanship."

Danny Maher proved on Saturday that he is a versatile jockey. Not content with carrying away the prize of premier rider of England on the flat, he entered the ranks of the timber-toppers at Kempton Park and won the St. Hubert Handicap on Daffia, the favorite. Seven horses ran. It was Maher's initial effort as a rider of jumpers.

While France patriotically adheres to the part-mutual system of betting, right beside that system the poorer classes in Belgium always claim the support of all classes of people, but he declares that the bookmaker is a far better guardian of public ethics than the professional gambler.

MADISON SQUARE BIKE GRIND

One Rider Has Collar Bone Broken—Leading Teams Stay Together.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Smashing all hour records, except the fifth, 16 teams kept up a terrific race all night in the six-day international bicycle race, which began four minutes after midnight at Madison Square Garden this morning.

The racers eased up a little at the fifth hour and were five laps behind the record, but by continuous sprinting during the seventh hour they established the new figures of 163 miles 5 laps, which is 9 laps ahead of Eiker's and McFarland's record, made in 1906.

The race was held in a wind sprint, started before Moran, just before the end of the eighth hour and which continued for 27 minutes, the standing of the leaders was given a severe shake-up. Faber and Galvin, who only lost one lap each, ridden all the way, Brocco and Labrousse, who had lost one lap, and Down and Hollister, Wainwright and Root, Davonovich and Drobach and Galvin and Wiley lost one lap each during the race.

The leading teams at 2 o'clock had covered 45 miles laps. The relative positions of the other teams was unchanged, with the exception of the Brocco-Labrousse combination, which had covered several miles to the rear. Their score was 20 miles 7 laps. The best previous record was 20 miles 7 laps, made by Eiker and McFarland in 1906.

The score at 11 o'clock to-night was as follows: Faber and Galvin, 45 miles 5 laps; Brocco and Labrousse, 43 miles 4 laps; Down and Hollister, 42 miles 3 laps; Dupre-Georget, 41 miles 4 laps; Miller and Miller, 40 miles 4 laps; Hill-Millars, 39 miles 4 laps; Wainwright and Root, 38 miles 3 laps; Davonovich and Drobach, 37 miles 3 laps; Faber-Labrousse, 35 miles 1 lap; Brocco-Labrousse, 31 miles.

Cuts A and B have mutually agreed not to split the pins to-night. Manager Tommy Ryan of the T.B.C. was in Buffalo yesterday, arranging for the boys' excursion Saturday. The boys' excursion Saturday will be played in Buffalo Saturday and the T.B.C. team and a team representing the T.B.C. will play the following: Eddie Gebhard, E. Smith, E. Heston, J. J. Ploss, while the T.B.C. team will be picked from Bert Hill, Andy Suber, and Herb Gills, Bill Adams and Joe West.

The game scheduled Thursday night between Orrs and Junction Colts, has been postponed to Saturday night. Jack Wiley is taking a team over on the winter excursion Saturday. Seneca's Eligibility For Canada's Cup Race Left to Racing Union

A meeting of the sailing committee of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club was held last night, when it was decided to suggest to Rochester that the question of Seneca's eligibility be left to the council of the racing union. Commodore McDonald was in the chair when the following telegram was drafted and Secretary E. Porter instructed to telegraph at once to Clute B. Naxon, secretary of the Rochester Yacht Club.

The R.C.Y.C. accepts your suggestion to submit the question of the eligibility of the yacht Seneca to race for the Canada's Cup under the rules of the Yacht Racing Union of the Great Lakes and the trustees of the deed of gift of the Canada's Cup, to the council of the union, to be held at Detroit Dec. 15 next.

Labouchere insists that the A. A. U. frequently made overtures for relationship with the British association, but was always met with refusal. Labouchere knew pretty well the character of the "relationship that never existed," characterized as "bambaco twaddle."

Truth on A. A. U. Sullivans Methods Roundly Condemned

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—The American 6-day prints the following special cablegram from London without comment: Henry Labouchere, in the current number of Truth, devotes a page to an attack on the A. A. U. under the title "Lars and Phelan."

The article singles out James E. Sullivan and deals in glittering generalities the "abor and adulter" word appearing at frequent intervals. It was occasioned by Mr. Sullivan's recent speech before the A. A. U., when he was recalled and relations with the British association were severed by a majority vote.

Public Amusements

At the Princess.

In these days of psychic research societies, the making of books without end on mental telepathy, personal magnetism and psycho-therapeutics, to say nothing of flourishing crop of "new thoughts," pamphlets and magazines, it is inevitable that a play should be written around automobile jaunts, one stage offering at least with scenes laid in the submarine craft, while a number of playwrights have made use of the generous store of material furnished by investigators into the intricacies of high finance, but it is for Richard Harding Davis to do pioneer work in the field of the occult.

Very, besides being a well-executed play, has the merit of bringing to Toronto Eleanor Robson, who has been a very great favorite in this city since her appearance here several years ago in Zangwill's "Merely Mary Ann." The audience of last night was drawn partly more by the personality of Miss Robson, and by her new vehicle, but the peculiar fascination of the subject treated is undeniable. The play is a comedy, but appealing to the devotees of what a matter-of-fact people term "spooky rubbish," inasmuch as it does not inculcate any doctrine of occult forces, but rather, as it attends scenes should be careful of charity. It is true that Vera states in all sincerity that she was a vision and a voice, but then, she is surrounded by a claque of shameless imposters, to whose plans she lends herself, and who seemingly have no faith in the supernatural.

The plot is ingenious and rich in dramatic possibilities. Stephen Hallwell, an aged millionaire on the brink of the grave, is in a quandary as to the disposition he should make of his estate. His fortune has been amassed from a patent in which he and his brother had been co-partners. The golden stream had not begun to run until after the latter's death. Hallwell is swayed by the advice of interested counselors into declining to will his estate to his dead brother's daughter, his advisors thinking by this means to confer on her a profit richly themselves. In his delirium he seeks light thru spiritualistic channels, and it is here that Vera, the medium, is called upon to exercise her powers. The outcome is the "materialization" scene which gives the story dramatic situation of the third act.

Miss Robson is temperamentally well fitted for the part, the sympathetic quality of her voice being much adapted to the role than that of "Salomey Jane." Her company includes H. B. Warner, Claude Brooke, Minnie Jamieson, George W. C. Jones, Radcliffe and other well-known players.

At the Alexandra.

If ever the Imperial Opera Company has outdone itself, it is this week when "Rob Roy" is being presented. In scenery and costumes the Imperials have reason to congratulate themselves for a means that means great added expense. It was a very easy thing to save several hundred dollars a week by cutting down on the cost of the wardrobe. Scenery is expensive to build and paint, but a glance at the settings this week at the Royal Alexandra will convince the most critical that nothing has been spared in making "Rob Roy" an artistic success from a scenic point of view. The company is a credit to any company. The company is happily cast.

At the Grand.

NORMAN HACKETT IN CLASSMATES

With a play that appealed to all lovers of the military, that satisfied in every particular, Norman Hackett, in the person of the young hero, appeared before an appreciative audience at the Grand last night in "Classmates." The play is a comedy, and it is indeed fortunate that Mr. Hackett has chosen it as his first effort. It is a play that is well staged and excellently acted, not only by Mr. Hackett, but by the company with which he has surrounded himself.

Opening with a scene at West Point the play is rapid in its action, a little melodramatic in its treatment, but it is comedy of the best sort to relieve the tension. It tells the story of a West Point cadet who, before graduation, is called upon to have an almost blinding "niebe" of the subsequent wandering of this cadet and his rescue by the first classman, San Bernard, who is the very character of the play.

Mr. Hackett's portrayal of the role of Duncan Irving, the cadet of the first class, is excellent. His voice, his expression, his stage presence are correct. Next to Mr. Hackett's acting that of Willard Lewis as "Bobby" is another cadet of the same class, should be mentioned. Mr. Lewis supplied the comedy that invariably relieved the tension of the play. "Classmates" is a high-class performance in all its features, and no doubt will attract large audiences to the Grand all week.

In the audience last night were noticed many of the city's school teachers, who were present to welcome Mr. Hackett, remembering him for the interesting lecture he delivered before the Teachers' Association when he played here with James O'Neill.

The Pollard Opera Co., the famous Australian children, who are touring the world, under the title of the Lilliputian Opera Co., will present a series of musical successes at the Grand next week.

At the Majestic.

"THE PHANTOM DETECTIVE"

The demonstration of the remaining breeds and the final competition for the monthly cup by the winners in the various breeds, at the Toronto Kennel Club's monthly show, will be held at Wolsley Hall, corner of East Gerrard and Yonge streets, this evening at 8 o'clock. An additional attraction will be the puppy matches in bulls, bull terriers, Boston terriers and cockers.

Sale of High-class Horses.

At Oakville, on Saturday next, Dec. 12, Auctioneer George Andrew will sell an exceptionally high-class lot of half-bred Hackney carriage and roadster horses, the property of Messrs. McDermott and Inghart. The sale will commence at 1 o'clock sharp. Eleven months' credit. Five per cent. discount for cash. Lists can be had by writing to W. A. Inghart, Oakville.

At Shea's.

"PIXLEY'S PRODIGAL PARENTS"

Of the most refreshing, funny and clever sketches ever presented to a Toronto audience is that called "Pixley's Prodigal Parents" at Shea's this evening.

Worked out on the old saying of Bobbie Burns, "O wad some power the giftie gie us, to see oursel's as others see us," it contains a situation that gives scope to a group of able players.

The scene is laid at Pixley's home in quiet suburbs of New York, and when Pixley's father and mother-in-law appear unexpectedly after a family dispute that bids for the company and control of the house, Mr. and Mrs. Pixley start in to give an object lesson.

The result is immense. It holds the keen attention of the audience, and his role with ease and ability that is a pleasure to watch.

Mr. Crane as Philip Pixley, Mr. Frohman as James Drake, Mr. Reinhardt as Bud Hickson and Mrs. Crane as Mrs. Drake are equally at home through the piece, which is a sure enough headliner attraction.

By special arrangement with Samuel French (Riviera), the dramatic club of the Toronto Conservatory School of Expression will produce that favorite and greatest farce-comedy, "A Night in New York," Charles Howard, that funny Yiddish comedian, has the leading part and keeps the audience in a state of high good humor. Tunesful songs and good comedians make a show of more than ordinary attractiveness.

The Toronto Conservatory of Music has added Moses Juss (Spak) to its list of local centres for examinations, with E. M. Saunders of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, as honorary representative.

The following new appointments have also been made to fill vacancies caused by the removal of former representatives: Dunville-Thomas Marshall of the firm of Congdon & Marshall, Orilla-F. G. Evans, barrister, Peterboro-John Crane of the Dominion Bank.

At the Gayety.

The big and bright feature at the Gayety this week without a doubt is the graceful and clever dancing by the "marvelous Millers." The burlesque is a two-act comedy farce, entitled "A Night in New York," Charles Howard, that funny Yiddish comedian, has the leading part and keeps the audience in a state of high good humor. Tunesful songs and good comedians make a show of more than ordinary attractiveness.

PUBLIC FRANCHISES AS A CIVIC ISSUE.

Not the least of the advantages derived from the resolution of the city council to have the matter of license reduction decided by the direct vote of the citizens themselves, is that it has removed a disturbing element that threatened to affect other equally important questions in civic politics. The present menace to Toronto, caused by the action of the men who control the traction and electric companies, and the evident attempt to thwart the movement for public ownership of these valuable franchises, cannot, and must not, be disregarded by the electors. By this pooling of private financial interests Toronto is in danger of losing the opportunity to regain that measure of control over her franchises which is essential for their operation in the public interest, and if the attack that is being made against her rights and liberties is not vigilantly watched and vigorously repelled at its earliest stage, some fine morning the people will wake to the fact that the enemy is already within the gates.

Every candidate for a seat in the council should declare himself on the question of the future of the light, power and traction services of the city, and specifically pledge himself to support the policy which demands that nothing shall be done to impair the power of resumption of these franchises reserved to the city by the current agreements. Also, and further, in connection with the matter of entrance of the radicals, that nothing shall be done to defeat the provision of the Ontario Railway Act, which instructs the board of railway commissioners not to grant to any company the right to operate within the City of Toronto for a longer period than the unexpired term of the franchise now held by the Toronto Railway Company. And with regard to light and power, every candidate should be required to declare his attitude towards the public power policy of the government, and to give his pledge to carry the civic distributing scheme to completion.

On vital issues such as these there must be no silence, hedging or evasion permitted on the part of candidates for office. The electors, too, should see to it that their representatives on the city council be men of character and honor, who can be trusted to fulfill their pledges to the letter. Ontario within this year has seen city councillors, elected on the strength of their public professions, repudiate their undertakings, violate their promises, and even refuse to the citizens, whose trust they had betrayed, the opportunity to pass upon their conduct. Toronto must not be served in this way, but it assuredly may be, if the citizens who object to being sewn up to a gigantic monopoly are negligent or indifferent. If the machinations of the electric traction ring are successful, Toronto will be compelled to pay tribute for years, will sacrifice all the progress that has been made towards achieving her franchise independence, and will land herself in the slough into which other corporation-ridden cities have been brought. The simple alternative for the citizens is whether they are to be the masters of their public franchises or the bond servants of the "high financiers," who seek to control these franchises. The former means cheap and efficient services and freedom in their control; the latter fruit of the latter they have already tasted. Let the electors see to it that every candidate declare himself, whether he is on the people's side or against the people.

BRITISH POLITICAL DOINGS.

Misfortune still dogs the steps of Mr. Asquith's government. With the licensing bill rejected by the house of lords and the education bill, as amended to embody the compromise reached between representatives of the moderate churchmen and the Nonconformists, now abandoned on account of the irreconcilability of the extremists on both sides, and the Roman Catholic clergy, practically nothing of importance remains as a result of two sessions' assiduous work. Public feeling so far as the by-elections can be taken in evidence, also continues to run strongly against the party in power, that for the Chelmsford division of Essex showing a very large increase in the Unionist majority. In this election the successful candidate was again a decided tariff reformer, and placed that issue prominently before the constituency. Interest now shifts to the government, and to what it intends to do, a question which will not probably be answered until the next session of parliament opens. Between now and then much will be heard about filling the cup of the peers, a picturesque phrase, which, in their case, is reminiscent of the remark of the perfidious Irish agitator, who, carried away by his own eloquence and the incurable proclivity of his race, declared that the cup of Ireland's miseries had been for ages overflowing and was not yet full. Certainly, if ministerial orators are to be accepted as authorities, the house of lords long ago completed the tale of their iniquities necessary to justify a process of summary despatch. But threatened men are said to live long, and so do threatened second chambers if precedent is of any value.

Report has it that the government will introduce a measure clipping the veto power of the peers as a preliminary to the introduction of the country on their conduct. This, if correct, will likely be accompanied by an electoral reform bill, another certain cause of discord between the electors and hereditary houses, and before a dissolution there will be a readjustment of the license duties and other executive measures designed to relieve the educational situation. And the lords will, no doubt, before long employ themselves by discussing the report of the committee appointed to consider their own position in the state, and the measures it recommends are certainly of heroic quality and calculated to strengthen the authority of the chamber as a revising body. But for this very reason they will not be viewed with favor by the radicals, who want to assert and secure the predominance of the commons. However, to the electors the ultimate decision whether the house of lords is to be practically ended or merely must come, and judging from present appearances the complexion of the next house of commons will differ materially from that which is now making history.

MUSIC AND THE MUSIC LOVERS. The manager of Massey Hall bitterly upbraids the music-loving (so-called) population of Toronto for its lack of support of genuine feasts of music. And it is a great pity that such artists as Sauer and Calvo, to take recent events only, should have to appear before audiences of mere spectators. Yet the fault may not be only with the public. Perhaps the management could do something. After all, it's the dollars the performers are after, and it's the entertainment—sometimes, possibly, the education—the audiences want. Those who care most for music for music's sake, are generally those who can't afford to pay a great deal for their enjoyment. But they would likely through the place at popular prices, and in so doing the financial results would be improved and the noted performers would go away feeling all the better for the inspiration and gratification which of an appearance before great and appreciative audiences must always bring. Money isn't as free as it used to be, and one local theatre makes no secret about admitting it and putting its prices to the times. Massey Hall would be carrying out the intentions of its donor if reasonable prices and capacity audiences were the rule when famous singers and musicians appear, rather than big admission fees and proportionately small attendances. There are times when Society is willing to pay for the pipe, and then the astute manager can grade accordingly.

Beware the "Spotters." Riding on a street car in Toronto promises to be more exciting than cruising in an airship. The winded passenger who finally overtakes the car will have no opportunity to catch his breath. He must hasten to the conductor and deposit his fare in the presence of at least two witnesses, free-

Moral Bi-Metallism.

Bishop Williams of Michigan gave one of the wittiest-wise addresses before the Canadian Club yesterday that this body has heard. His subject was "Moral Bi-Metallism."

"A gentleman who has formed an inveterate habit of running for presidency," was his description of W. J. Bryan, for whom he had the greatest admiration. It was from the former platform of Mr. Bryan he had the suggestion for his subject, when the issue of the campaign was whether they should sit on two stools or one. The double standard he deprecated was the adoption of the golden rule for private life in relation to one's family and friends, and an entirely different standard in other relations. "When we slip over into public life and the crowd we are inclined to substitute another standard, other rules of the game. We are inclined to change our habit, business suit for business day, frock coat for Sunday," he said.

He thought that in Canada they would be able to appreciate a Biblical illustration. When our Lord was voyaging near the Sea of Galilee He cast a legion of devils out of a man possessed there, and when the devils desired it they were permitted to enter a herd of swine. The people of the Gadara, when they saw the cure, admitted the miracle, but deplored the loss of the swine. "No man was worth 2000 head of pork," was their verdict. Bishop Williams was not sure that the Gadarene standard of values had altogether gone out yet. He came across it now and then. At the Lansing Penitentiary he saw a lot of boys herded with criminals without regard for the development of the boys. The warden boasted of the crop of bees that the boys raised, almost enough to pay for the cost of the jail. Elsewhere men objected to paying the cost where good reformatory work was done.

The Gadarene standard of life was also seen in the willingness to live outside the law for the sake of material profit. When the Jews wanted to keep pigs, which was against the law, they crossed over Jordan. When they wanted religion they crossed back again. "Business is business, and religion is religion," was a modern proverb. Men may have two compartments for them, water-tight if they were Baptists, airtight if they were Episcopalians. (Laughter) They must not mingle as the milk is in a mixture of cream. The fine bric-a-brac and china of the golden rule was only for the parlor; in the kitchen of life they needed the coarsest earthenware. A politician had declared that the Ten Commandments were only "an iridescent dream."

"The big corporations are in the market to buy what they want. The best thing to do is to get a speaking of legislative methods. 'We have outgrown our moral habits and standards,' a man denounced as heterodox, weak on the creed, and not too careful in church attendance was ready to be excommunicated. A man who made money by not reporting unwholesome methods was not interfered with if he gave proportionately to the church. 'What is needed is the expansion, the enlargement of the heart until they cover the whole of our lives and reduce them to a unity. You can't build your life solidly and permanently on a foundation of expediency. You have to bring it under one standard, the gold standard, the standard of the golden rule.'

HAMMOND ENDOWMENT FUND. When the subscriptions to the H. C. Hammond Endowment Fund for the Toronto Free Hospital for Consumptives, announced by the board of trustees, the object has touched the heart of the public in a two-fold sense. The merit of the cause, the splendid fight against tuberculosis so effectively carried on by Mr. Hammond, and the prospect of the future of the good work being assured as such as to inspire the liberality of the charitably-minded. The circumstances of Mr. Hammond's own relation to the work and his interest in the Hammond fund, along with the fact that the fund was especially appealed to the great regiments of friends and admirers possessed by him, throughout Canada. F. L. Wanklyn of Montreal, who was in Toronto on Friday, voluntarily subscribed $100, having read about the purpose in the Montreal press, and said that there were many more in Montreal who would like to signify their interest in the Hammond fund. Further subscriptions, whether large or small, will be gratefully received, and may be sent to the treasurer, C. A. Bogart, general manager of the Dominion Bank, Toronto.

SETTLED OUT OF COURT.

Carter-Powell Co. Give Note of $100 to Satisfy Claim.

In an action before Mr. Justice Riddell the firm of Smith & Tyner, London, Eng., sued the Carter-Powell Land and Lumber Co. to recover $5000 on the security of bills given for a debt incurred by J. S. Powell. A settlement was reached by the defendants giving a note for $1000. An action for $51,300 was commenced yesterday afternoon in the same court in which John E. O'Meara, an Ottawa lawyer, is suing C. Kenyon Howe over the prospective sale of the Otis Mine, E. P. 2, Tumagami reserve. Mr. O'Meara, for a monetary consideration, purchased the claims of J. Carling Kelly, which consisted of $1300 expense money and 10 per cent. interest in the mine, which plaintiff maintains amounts to $20,000. Mr. Kelly, it appears, had purchased an option on the property and brought the property to the notice of the defendant, who entered into agreement with W. F. Currie and Mr. Kelly. The agreement being entered into, Kelly was to receive $1900 for obtaining the option and also to get 10 per cent. interest in the mine. The case will be resumed to-day.

COBALT---Kerr Lake Mining Stock Jumps 100 Points Yesterday---COBALT

Cobalts Experience Rally Sensational Advances Noticed

Market is Recovering on Merit of Intrinsic Value and Opposing Forces are Suffering Defeat.

World Office Money Market, Dec. 7. The inference which has been conveyed through these columns for several days, that a big short interest exists in the market for Cobalt stocks, was given further credence to-day when some of the professionals endeavored to cover their contracts. A rally ensued almost immediately, but almost entirely on the demand for those who are short of stocks and who are expecting to make delivery without further delay.

One of the sensational features of to-day's market was perhaps Cobalt Central, which rose six points in spite of the strongest kind of opposition from local traders. The buying orders for these shares came almost entirely from New York, and were occasioned by the announcement that the company will declare a dividend of 5 per cent. Cobalt Central were dealt in at the exchanges to-day, and it is believed that but a small portion of the sales represent realising from actual holders.

The announcement by the La Rose Company, that the net earnings for six months were nearly $600,000, or practically the full extent of dividend paid by this company for a year, caused considerable strength in these shares, and incidentally brought new buying into Nipissing.

Locally there was a good demand for Peterson Lake, Beaver, Chambers-Ferland and some of the other moderate-priced issues, and quotations were easily advanced under the demand.

Those who are fighting the advance in the market are circulating all kinds of rumors to bolster up their position, but at the close tonight it was felt that the intrinsic position of the market would withstand all such efforts, and that the opposition would be forced to make an ignominious retreat.

The shipments from the camp last week were slightly below those of the previous week, but still of an excellent amount, and afforded considerable satisfaction to those who believe that the market does not yet fully represent the breadth and value of the Cobalt camp.

The rise in Kerr Lake was another outstanding sensation of the day. It opened at $2.15 and closed at $7.70. The story is significant, and the discovery of bonanza ore at the fourth level is the "cause direct" of the big rise in this stock. The declaration of a 5 per cent. quarterly dividend on Temiskaming was a strong market influence, and decidedly effective on the minds of investors.

ADVANCE IN KERR LAKE MAKES HARGRAVE POPULAR

Stock Goes $1.00 Better on News of Bonanza Ore Finds.

Kerr Lake stock had a sensational rise yesterday, advancing a clear hundred points from Saturday's price. It opened at $21.50 and steadily advanced to $22.50. The discovery of the presence of bonanza ore in large quantities in the fourth level is given as the cause of the big rise. The bonanza ore is reported to run 10,000 ounces to the ton. The discovery is of high importance to the Cobalt camp, as the workings of the Kerr Lake mine are the deepest in Cobalt, and the presence of the richest ore yet got at the lowest levels goes to prove that the camp is a permanent one.

The news has started Kerr Lake stockholders to figuring out what will be coming to them in the future as a result of the big find. The Kerr Lake list of shareholders is of an investment class who have steadily held their shares, being satisfied with the excellent mining methods carried on under the advice of the eminent engineer, E. B. Lawrence, and the fact that Kerr Lake will be able to pay out liberal dividends as drawing attention to the merits of the best Cobalt stocks as investments. Kerr Lake has adopted the conservative dividend policy of paying out far less than was earned. The last annual statement showed that Kerr Lake paid out to its shareholders last year dividends at the rate of $1000 a day, while it added $1000 a day to its reserve, and, in addition, bought its own stock more than was shipped. It is estimated that without the recent discovery of a bonanza ore, it could pay out liberal bonuses in addition to its regular three per cent quarterly dividend. The newly developed conditions make a radical change in the dividend paying power of the property and makes it possible to probably double the dividend. New York interests in the Kerr Lake mine yesterday that Kerr Lake would probably soon cross $10, and would probably sell at a good deal higher price than that.

Hargrave stock started to rise this afternoon in consequence of the news on Kerr Lake on New York buying. Hargrave advanced to $14.50, and the Kerr Lake workings run directly into the Hargrave. The advance and the first level are within six or seven feet of the Hargrave line, and the second level crosses the Hargrave line and has been run into it. The fourth level, which is the bonanza ore, has been found, is now within a few feet of the Hargrave line.

SHOULD DECLINE ON GOOD NEWS.

World Office, Monday Evening, Dec. 7.
 To-day's market was practically a repetition of what has been going on at the Toronto Stock Exchange for a week past. The only stock in which there was any transactions worth mentioning was Sao Paulo, which rallied from Saturday's dip to about the high price of last week. To-day's rise was presumably on the definite announcement of the increased dividend on this stock. This announcement has not made much impression on the stock which had advanced considerably in to-day's market. As is usual in stock market operations with the announcement of good news the price should decline. The only strong speculative issue was Northern Navigation, which was in good demand at around par. In the investment department prices were firm. Bank of Commerce advanced to 170 bid, without sellers, the annual statement of this institution being responsible for the substantial demand for the stock. The market closed quiet and with very little speculative interest.

Metal Stocks Show Weakness Other Issues Irregular

World Office, Monday Evening, Dec. 7.
 There was no great breadth to the Toronto Stock Exchange to-day; prices of the various speculative securities were little changed from the close of last week. There was an attempt at a rally in Sao Paulo on the announcement of the increase in the dividend on the stock to a 10 per cent basis, but the price did not advance above last week's figures. The other American stocks were dull and somewhat heavy. There was a little demand to-day for Northern Navigation stock, which was taken generally at about par. This company's dividend and annual statement will be coming within a short period now, and it is generally acknowledged that the company has had a fairly satisfactory year. Northern Navigation stock is held in good esteem by investors, who do not look for a flurry for a day or two in the market and who are holders of the shares on account of the dividend which it is thought that the company can easily carry. The publication of the annual statement of the Bank of Commerce brought a further demand for the shares of this institution and strength to the general market for this class of securities. Canada Permanent sold fractionally higher and other investment stocks were well bid up without attracting offerings.

Make Your Xmas Gifts Furs

Read the Partial List of Fur Goods Given Below

When it is a question of purchasing furs it always will pay you to consider the reputation of the dealer—a man to know good furs must have experience to his credit. Dineen has half a century's experience buying raw furs and making them into garments on the premises.

This Christmas display testifies to the ability of Dineen as a fur expert. The display embraces every kind of fur and every new fashion of a garment—all the dainty goods that are popular in Paris to-day; not extreme in style, but quiet, superb fashions.

LEAKY BOAT FATAL

One Man Drowned and Three Others Had a Close Call.
CHATHAM, Dec. 7.—Emil Huyer was drowned in the Sydenham River this morning. He was employed by the Wallaceburg sugar factory.

Huyer, who is a Belgian, and three others tried to cross the river in a boat. It sprang a leak and sank. Two of the men swam ashore. Another was brought out by an Indian. But Huyer was drowned.
The men had been warned not to use the boat.
