MUST COME SOON SAYS CARNEGIE

Ironmaster Believes That Municipal Ownership IS A CERTAINTY He Does Not Agree With the Idea, Yet He is Sure That America Will in Time Adopt it as Scotland and England Have Already Done.

New York, Nov. 11.—Andrew Carnegie upon disembarking yesterday from the steamer Baltic on which he arrived here Thursday night, talked of the New York elections. He said: "Of all things we should have an honest count. What we want is an honest election and a pure ballot. I don't think any attempt to defraud the people out of a fair count can be continuously successful, or that it will ever endanger this republic, for the voice of the people will make itself heard."

REV. MR. BURNETT IN HIS NEW HOME

He Will Preach His First Sermon in Winnipeg Tomorrow. The Rev. Christopher Burnett, late of London street Baptist church, will preach his first sermon in Winnipeg tomorrow. The Free Press says: "Mr. Burnett is a young man in the prime of life. He is expected to do an important work in the Baptist church of the north. Winnipeg. The members of the body are much pleased at the prospect of his coming and look forward to large expansion of the work of the church under his direction."

KEPT OPEN HOUSE

The members of No. 1 Wellington Fire Company entertained a number of their friends at their annual, Charlotte street, last night. All present, including Aldermen McArthur, Bullock and Mansueti, enjoyed themselves. The large hall, newly painted and decorated with garlands, was brilliantly lighted. Refreshments were served and a good social time given. Interspersed with the songs and dramatic selections, the latter under the direction of Norman Hart. Engineer Smith presided with a painted shield for the front of his carriage. After singing God Save the King the visitors retired.

HOW A STORY GROWS

A number of Ontario papers have been serving up with misleading effect the St. John Star's recent "larger" yarn about the Rev. A. B. Cobbe. The Ontario people are led to believe that Mr. Cobbe is in some sense a guilty person, who is more or less dangerous to society. Unfortunately, the readers are not likely to hear the whole story, or learn that the minister in question had previously served a term in prison for a similar story.

The allotment of berths for the various steamship lines will probably be made in a day or two. The agents here have received copies of the new schedule of dates and as soon as the records are made, contracts will be submitted to them for their signature. The mayor said this morning that he anticipated no trouble, as the steamship men had offered no opposition to the new rates. Two steamers are now on their way here. Their arrival will open the winter trade for 1905-1906.

MRS. HUBBARD WRITES THAT HER HUSBAND HAS BEEN A GRAND SUCCESS

First Message from the Intrepid Woman Who Went to the Labrador Wastes Seeking Solution of the Mystery of Her Husband's Death—She Met No Hardships.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Mrs. Leonidas Hubbard, Jr., has sent the following message to the World from Chateau Bay, Labrador, under date of November 10: "Our undertaking has been successful. I went away prepared to meet many hardships, but met none. It was a splendid trip, which gave me pleasure and, more than pleasure, the privilege of offering tribute to one whose life and the spirit in which he lived were beautiful beyond anything that life has shown me."

John Ford, the company's agent. More than 500 miles of our journey was accomplished without serious mishaps. Our accident was had on the Nascoque river when a canoe capsized in the rapids and two men barely escaped drowning. We lost part of our outfit, but not enough to force us to turn back. "When we left Northwest River, our first objective point was Seal Lake, which we reached Monday, July 15. We made our first camp on Lake Michelman on August 8. We saw one head of the head of the table land end of the head of the George River on August 10. "On the George River we met two bands of Indians, the first 50 miles below the head waters. These we found to be long to the Montagnais tribe. The days and a half below them, at Indian House

Lake, we came on the Nascoque, or "Barren Ground People." At both camps we were received in a grand manner. George Elzen (Mrs. Hubbard's half-brother) and Indian guide, who had accompanied her husband's expedition being able to speak to them in their own language. "We had no illness in the party. We left George River on the steamer Pelican Oct. 25, reaching Rigolette Nov. 1. This is the first message beyond a bare announcement of safety, from the Labrador wastes, where her husband perished in 1903, after having followed, step by step, his trail in the frozen wilds and settled ones for all, in her own mind, the manner of his death.

COMMISSION IS FORMED TO PREVENT SELF-DESTRUCTION

What Philanthropic Men of Cleveland Propose to Do for the Despondent One Who Wants to End It All by Death.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—A Cleveland despatch to the World says: To stay the hands of the self-destroyers and to render all possible aid to the despondent is the object of the anti-suicide commission, appointed by Mayor Tom L. Johnson, Frederick O. Howe, State Senator-elect William H. Greenleaf, former probation officer of the juvenile court, and the Rev. Harris R. Colver, member of the board of public service, comprise the commission. Every person in Cleveland who is contemplating suicide is invited to write a letter to the commission, and to the effect that "The foreign element, which is growing rapidly, must also be remembered. Immigrants, who are brought to this country, are old country, are despaired. I think it is safe to say that 60 per cent. of the suicides here belong to the foreign element. Abolition is certainly the basis of a large percentage of insanity, but I should not connect it to that extent with suicide. Worry from any cause whatsoever and low nervous condition are chiefly responsible."

"This commission will investigate these conditions, and wherever possible will render such assistance as will make the victim of melancholia see the brighter side of life. Each of those men, who is much experience in social work, and is well fitted for the work."

"ONLOOKER" BELIEVES SUN WILL BE LIBERAL ORGAN

(Onlooker in the New Freeman.) Since the Daily Telegraph withdrew its powerful support from the Liberal party, New Brunswick Liberals who recognize the potency of the press have felt that their party was handicapped by the want of a morning newspaper in the commercial metropolis of the province. At this juncture the Liberal party has been circulating a paper named by Mr. Thorne. The prospect is that the "deal" will go through. Many are anxious to know if the talented Sun editor, Mr. S. D. Scott, will remain with the Sun in case that paper becomes established, or by the purchase of a new plant, and arrangements were made with Mr. C. J. Milligan to become the manager of the new enterprise. Notwithstanding the arrangement with Mr. Milligan, paper men, after successfully editing the Conservative Toronto Mail, became the editor-in-chief of Canada's leading Liberal paper, the Toronto Globe, and it is told of a newspaper man nearer home that he edited two newspapers on opposite sides of the Sun newspaper some time ago. Mr. Scott has given valuable and faithful service only he might have had a guaranteed salary of over five thousand dollars a year to have severed his connection with the Sun newspaper some time ago. He preferred, however, to stick by his old friends at a much lesser income. Whether he will be willing to follow the paper with whose brilliancy he has had so much to do into the camp of "the enemy" remains to be seen.

is no very great reason why a newspaper man should not advocate this side or that, just as a lawyer has a right to do. Mr. Edward Barrer, Canada's ablest news paper man, after successfully editing the Conservative Toronto Mail, became the editor-in-chief of Canada's leading Liberal paper, the Toronto Globe, and it is told of a newspaper man nearer home that he edited two newspapers on opposite sides of the Sun newspaper some time ago. Mr. Scott has given valuable and faithful service only he might have had a guaranteed salary of over five thousand dollars a year to have severed his connection with the Sun newspaper some time ago. He preferred, however, to stick by his old friends at a much lesser income. Whether he will be willing to follow the paper with whose brilliancy he has had so much to do into the camp of "the enemy" remains to be seen.

each it really would be, not being his living intolerable. This is exactly the position of most of us who get much of the filth and noise of the world. Smoke from "tall chimneys" of manufacture is or can be considered an unnecessary nuisance, and such can be dealt with by any of our people, the aldermen, or inspector, according to law. There are plenty of smoke consumers in the market, and this could be the cleanest, sanest, chiest, with good, clean, smokeless air, if we only kept our chimneys open, by giving more pains to the ragged edges of our manufacturing processes. The people are entitled to clean streets and pure air, both easily obtained. Will the board move? CITIZEN.

SMOKE AND ITS EVILS

Nov. 10, 1905. Editor of the Evening Times.—Sir,—It can be readily noted that there does exist an atmosphere of official indifference or apathy in the powers that be, as well as an smoky atmosphere. I believe it was your progressive paper that remarked (about three weeks ago): "No body cares what happens," but this sort of existence should be rectified, or changed made. George Watson and Joseph Connell, two boys, were reported for throwing stones at Isaac Kosinsky, Watson said that he threw a squall, while Connell stated that each was liable to a fine of 80c. Robert Corbett was reported a few days ago by Officer Crawford for allowing bricks and dead ends to fall from a building on Water street. Officer Crawford stated that a dead end fell very close to himself and a newsboy, which if it had struck either one of them would have killed him. The court informed Mr. Corbett that as he had not complied with the by-law by not erecting a fence about the building, he would be charged with manslaughter if anyone was killed by material falling from the building. The matter was allowed to stand to give Mr. Corbett an opportunity of complying with the law.

What sounded like heavy cannonading was heard in the direction of Loch Lomond this morning, apparently from the vicinity of the Dry Lake. It may only have been Engineer Hunter and the contractors bidding each other good morning. HAS FOUND PEACE. Mr. Peter Binka wants Judge Forbes to enter the realm of religious controversy and confound the apostles of the higher criticism. Some of these people say there are contradictions in the Bible, and that some things must not be taken literally, but allegorically or with a grain of scepticism. Mr. Binka has listened to some of them until he began to entertain doubts himself, but he believes now that he sees in Judge Forbes a Heaven-sent deliverer. This happy frame of mind on the part of Mr. Binka was brought about by reading the judge's recondemnation of what he said in condemnation of pugilistic content with an utter absence of criticism from the law, and should be punished; but at the same time he did not for an instant mean that Judge Carleton was wrong when he failed to punish the guilty. It was right—it was wrong. It was wrong—it was right. Right-wrong, wrong-right, and there you are. Mr. Binka pondered over these things, and as he did so a great light dawned. It is a hardship that they should be reported. If the horse were boote it might infringe some other law.

THE PRESIDENT AT THE PRICE

Mr. Mooney Says It is Proceeding Well and the Frost Will Not Be a Hindrance Now.

Work on the Mooney section of the water works extension is proceeding rapidly. Mr. Mooney told the Times this morning that the work was so far advanced now that the frost would be no hindrance to them. The concrete work is being done on the embankments. The work on the tunnel is being pushed ahead rapidly and all the men that can be utilized are working on the job. Mr. Mooney has no doubt that the work will be finished in time for this winter, as stated by him recently.

"Teddy" of Oyster Bay to Visit Louis of Battenberg

ON BOARD THE DRAKE Grand Banquet Tendered to British and American Officers by U. S. Naval Academy Alumni Association at Delmonico's Last Night.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—President Roosevelt, it was learned tonight, will come here from Washington on Tuesday and will pay an informal visit to the flagship Drake Tuesday afternoon. Prince Louis and 200 officers of the British and American squadrons were the guests tonight of the U. S. Naval Academy Alumni Association at a banquet at Delmonico's. The hall was decorated with the American and British colors, and music was furnished by the band of the battleship Alabama, and by John Cheahire, harpist to the Duke of Edinburgh, uncle of the Prince. Colonel Robert M. Thompson presided, and among those who were present were: General A. R. Chaffee, Sir Percy Sanderson, Rear-Admiral R. D. Evans, Rear-Admiral B. C. Moore, Rear-Admiral H. Davis, Nicholas Murray Butler, P. A. Morton, General F. D. Grant, Rear-Admiral F. W. Dickson, Rear-Admiral H. Davis, Rear-Admiral F. J. Higginson, General A. L. Mills, Rear-Admiral W. H. Brownson, and J. Pierpont Morgan.

ST. PETER'S HIGH TEA

St. Peter's High Tea, which opens Monday evening, and continues until Thursday, bids fair to eclipse those of all previous years. Mayor and Mrs. White have accepted an invitation to be present, and indications point to a record attendance. The arrangements, which are in the hands of an efficient committee, are being rapidly pushed forward, and all will be in readiness for the opening. The decorations are bright and artistic, and tables present a pleasing appearance; that in charge of Miss Quigg being particularly attractive. The prevailing colors are red and green, while both being made a dainty finishing touch. The pink table in charge of Mrs. Quigg is especially decorated. The golf table will also prove an attractive feature.

HEARST AFTER TAMMANY HALL

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Congressman William H. Hearst will follow up his fight against Tammany Hall by placing a full county ticket in the field in this and Kings counties next fall. Seven supreme court justices are to be elected next fall in this and Kings counties under the Municipal Ownership ticket. President Vochies of the Board of Education last night said there was no doubt about the amendment having been carried.

According to "The Tribune" today, William H. Hearst will, if he contest for the mayoralty is prolonged in the courts beyond the first of next year, take the office of mayor, it is said, announce his appointment and demand possession of the mayor's office in the City Hall. Hearst, much as Mayor McEllan has decided to fight his adversary at every point, the contest is likely to be prolonged, and the city may have a dual government on New Year's Day.

MONCTON CHURCH NOW PROSPEROUS

MONCTON, Nov. 11.—Tomorrow will be an historical day in the history of the West End United Baptist church of this city. This church building, formerly belonging to the Free Baptist denomination, is to be reopened and rededicated under the laws of the New Brunswick Association of United Baptist churches, after being enlarged and improved at a cost of $5000. This church was the first in New Brunswick, or in Canada in fact, to give practical effect to the union movement among the Baptists and Free Baptists. On the 9th of April last the Moncton Free Baptist church having called Rev. E. B. McLatchy, R. D. of Sackville a Baptist minister, to be its pastor, was recognized as the Moncton West End United Baptist church. Previous to this time the congregation had been small and supported the church and parsonage. Enlargement of the edifice was decided upon and today instead of a church accommodating 200 people the West End Baptists have a building that will seat about 700 and a addition to this a Sunday school basement has been built and various other improvements made to church and parsonage. Tomorrow the West End Baptist congregation will rededicate the fruits of their labors and prominent clergymen have been secured to preach on the important occasion.

In the morning Rev. J. H. McDonald of Fredericton, will preach while Rev. D. MacOdrum, pastor of St. John's Presbyterian church in this city, will assist in the service. At the evening service the congregation will listen to Rev. Dr. McLeod, the well known Free Baptist divine, and moderator of the provincial association of the United Baptist churches.

Nine deaths were reported to the Board of Health during the past week. Three from consumption, and on each from cancer, suicide, diphtheria, heart failure, cancer of the liver, and carcinoma of the liver. Another case of typhoid had disappeared on Douglas Avenue. THE TWO CARTRIDGES

So Alfred set out alone, at night, in a snowstorm, without the guidance of a solitary star, to find a single point in the vastness of the prairie.

At the top of the bluff he peered over cautiously.
"Wall, you've got nerve!" he remarked to himself. "If I was running this year game, I'd sure scout with my blind eye on."

Two flat stones placed a few inches apart in a row were thrust through the tongue from the crevice, and a frying-pan and tin cup laid across the opening cooked the contents. Alfred, hospitably laded some bacon and coffee into their former owner.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

A story which Alfred Reismann, the pianist, tells of Richard Wagner relates to a London dinner at which the great composer was requested to be especially amiable to Lord Pitkin, a most unnumbered man but high in social circles. In due season the two were presented.

WENT TO PRISON IN A DISGUISE

ROANOKE, Va., Nov. 10.-G. Poindecker, a negro, under sentence of hanging today for the murder, several months ago, of U. S. Deputy Marshal Z. B. Wade, was brought last night to Roanoke, disguised as a woman, from Rocky Mountain, because of fear of mob preparations.

EPSS'S English Cocoa. An admirable food, with all its natural qualities intact. This excellent Cocoa maintains the system in robust health, and enables it to resist winter's extreme cold.

When a respite was received for a brief trial the people began to get restless. The day was the day set for the hanging, but the respite was granted which gives him a lease of two more weeks. Facing mob violence because of the delay, the sheriff dressed the prisoner in woman's clothes, packed him up and shipped him on a night train to Roanoke. The sheriff was accompanied by a deputy. At Roanoke the trio aroused interest, but the disguised Poindecker to the jail here, although he was much frightened.

MORNING LOCALS

On Thursday, Nov. 10, a lecture will be given in the York Theatre by Prof. Hermann S. Herzig, C. S. B., on the subject of Christian Science. The lecturer is a member of the Christian Science board of lecturers, and comes here under the direction of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, generally known as the "mother church."

A Pleasant Social Gathering was held in the Temperance hall, Fairville, last evening. The Klondike Club, which is composed of a number of young men of the village, was at home to its friends, and the entertainment proved a great success.

The annual meeting of the St. John Teachers' Association was held last evening in the Foresters' Hall with about seventy teachers present. The financial report was read and a substantial balance was shown. The association retains its connection with the New Brunswick Teachers' Association. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, W. J. S. Miles; vice-president, Miss Minnie S. Fowler; secretary-treasurer, Miss B. A. McLeod; and those with Miss E. Colwell, Miss A. M. Hea and Wm. McLean to form the executive. At the close of the business meeting, Miss Mend Gibson, of Winter street school, read a paper on her trip through the British Isles.

Downstairs, the inspector and railway mail service flat, is much like the rest of the building. When I saw the floor it looked as if it had not seen the broom for a month, while off the wall was the closet, and the smell was atrocious. The rooms adjoining these are pervaded by this smell and the ceiling's health is endangered.

We now come down to our way down we find the building is not so much occupied by the Harrison and the letter-carriers. Here, where the child died, is a place cooped up in one side of the building where a few rooms have been fixed up for the abode of Mr. Harrison, while the room for the carriers and the sanitary arrangements adjoining it are empty sculleries. Downstairs, the inspector and railway mail service flat, is much like the rest of the building. When I saw the floor it looked as if it had not seen the broom for a month, while off the wall was the closet, and the smell was atrocious. SAVORY SOUPS THAT WARM AND NOURISH

Soup Stock Which the House-keeper Should Keep Always on Hand and a Few Good Recipes With and Without Stock as a Foundation.

The economical housewife who would have her family properly nourished begins giving them soup as a regular diet early in November. Before this time soup is only served occasionally as the first course at dinner, but as soon as cold weather comes to stay there is nothing like a steaming nutritious liquid to warm a body up and break an overcast appetite.

celery salt and one-half teaspoonful of pepper. As soon as they reached the boiling point let them simmer for twenty minutes. Strain and cool. Parboil one pint of oysters, place several at the bottom of each soup plate or tureen cup and cover with the hot strained stock. Serve with tiny squares of toasted bread.

POINTS FROM LEADING PARISIAN FASHIONS

The Smart Set of the Old World Has Returned to Its Winter Haunts in Paris and Fashionable Women Are Everywhere in Evidence, Gowned in Marvellous Creations from the Great Modistes and Tailors.

PARIS, Nov. 4.—One by one the elegant fashions of Paris are beginning to appear in the smart haunts they frequent. One encounters them shopping in the Rue de la Paix, a street famous for hats, fine perfumes and dazzling gowns, or going in and out of the great costume houses of the Rue St. Honoré.

THE NATIONAL DRUG AND CHEMICAL COMPANY

D. W. Bole, M. P., President of the New Concern Tells What They hope to Accomplish by the Amalgamation of Wholesale Drug Firms.

Ottawa, Nov. 10.—(Special)—D. W. Bole, M. P., left for Winnipeg tonight. Before leaving he made the following statement: "A charter has been granted to the National Drug & Chemical Company. This company holds options on nineteen wholesale drug businesses in Canada. They will be taken over in going concerns and operated under a central management, with headquarters in Montreal.

lished and the products distributed by the nineteen interested houses, thus ensuring success at the initial stage and placing us in line to go ultimately into the markets of the world and compete against all comers. At present we are importing ninety per cent. of the chemicals we sell. We can manufacture most of them in Canada, and why should we not do it? "The National Drug & Chemical Company also hopes to improve the credit system. At present credit is too cheap in the drug business. A young man with a diploma, but practically no experience, gets a stock of goods and goes into business, and very frequently he advertises rates to win over customers from his old established fellow drugists, resulting too often in failure and consequent injury to wholesaler and retailer alike.

SALARIES OF TEACHERS IN CITY OF HALIFAX

The List Being Revised—Those Low on the List Do Not Get a Living Wage—Some Interesting Figures.

(Halifax Chronicle) The question whether the public school teachers are paid a fair salary has often been the subject of argument, and it is now likely to come up again, at least so far as respects a portion of the lower grade teachers, as they find their salaries are not commensurate with the cost of living. Recently 22 teachers were granted increases over $400 and some as high as $1,000. By some it is claimed that the smaller salaries need increased remuneration more than the higher salaries. The list of salaries in the public schools of the city as follows:—

High school—1 academic, 1 first class, 1 second class, 2 third class. Kindergarten—1 second class, 1 third class. Normal—1 specialist in mechanical science, 1 specialist in domestic science, 1 first class. The following will show the salaries in the city:—

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL

Few People Know How Useful it is in Preserving Health and Beauty. Nearly everyone knows that charcoal is the most effective disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same desirable purposes. Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestine and carries them out of the system.

THE STEAMERS ON THE RIVER

Steamboat navigation on the St. John river is nearing its end for this year, and the farmers from river points are at present hauling their goods into market before it is too late. The past season has been a successful one for the steamer men, although not nearly as many tourists patronized the steamers as during the summer of 1904. There were a great number of summer residents on the river this season, in fact, more than ever before, and this has helped the steamer men, as in most cases the head of each family came down and went up nearly every day. There were many accidents to the steamers this year, every one having met with some mishap, but fortunately none of them terminated seriously. The freight business has been unusually good, great quantities of produce having been brought down than for some years. The usual rivalry exists among the boats, as to which will ply on the river the longest before the ice forms all the way up. Last fall the Springfield steamer, until it was almost impossible to go beyond a few miles away from a mishap by venturing up too far, and being blocked for a time.

THE MAKING OF A SUCCESSFUL HUSBAND

VIII--CLUBS AND HEARTS--The Best Place for a Married Man After Dark is Home.

BY CASPAR S. YOST.

Copyrighted by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate—Published exclusively in this territory by the St. John Evening Times.

Dear John, — I get the notion in my head, from a few random remarks in your last two or three letters that you are putting in a good deal of your spare time, and possibly even you have no right to spare, with the boys at the club.

Now, John, I don't purpose giving you a certain lecture on the evils of clubs. As a rule they are pretty good institutions. Of course there are clubs and clubs, but there is no doubt in my mind that the properly conducted men's club is one of the necessities of the present day life in the city. I belong to three of them myself and know their value. There are not some people seem to believe, mere gambling dens or drinking places in disguise. In all really first class clubs gambling is strictly prohibited, and intoxicating liquors are no more in evidence than at any respectable hotel. All this, of course, you know very well, and I mention it simply to show you right at the start that I have no feeling against the club as an institution.

But, my boy, no matter how many clubs they belong to, or how good they are, they don't alter the eternal fact that the best place for a married man after dark is at home. The net in favor of revivifying the club law, nor do I mean to say that a man should never leave the home at night. I do not mean to say that a man should never go to a club in the evening once or twice a week and I am satisfied that this occasional association with my fellow men does me good. But I don't leave home more often than that, unless my mother goes with me, and when I go to the club I never stay late.

When you married Anna May you assumed an obligation somewhat broader than that of a housekeeper. A man's duty to his wife is not ended when he provides her with food, clothing and shelter. Judging by actions there are a great many men in this world who would disagree with me on that point, but they are men of strained vision and warped hearts. They keep their eyes focused on their selfish ambitions or pleasures until their field of view is entirely filled by the reflection of their own image. It's no use to argue with them; that's the way they are going to try. But there are a great many more men who don't know or don't think, and I reckon you're one of them. Hoping that you are, I want to try to inject a few facts into your carcass, for my self. It may do some good, and it may not; at any rate, it will relieve my mind. As I was about to say when the trolley slipped, you're wife didn't marry you for your money. You didn't have any, in the first place, but if you had been worth a million the assertion would apply. She didn't marry you for a home. She left a better home than you are likely ever to provide for her. She didn't marry you to get a boost into society. She married you for yourself and nothing less than yourself will satisfy her. She married you to get a husband, a companion, and it is your presence, your loving companionship that she desires above all material considerations. This, more than anything else, she is entitled to, and there is nothing else so much to give her, there is nothing else so much to your personal advantage.

Try it on yourself, and see how it works. Suppose, as some honoraria predict, suppose you were told you, in the evening, all day with no one to talk to, except the servants or an occasional visitor. Suppose your wife comes home at dinner at all, she hurries through the meal and rushes off to the club. Leaving you to spend the evening alone. Would you enjoy an existence of that kind and how long do you think you would submit to it without a protest, a window rattle? I think just about seven days would finish you. No, by George, the conditions are not different! It would be just as hard on a woman as it would be on a man similarly placed. And the daily desertion of a wife is neglect, pure and simple. It isn't a nice word to a man who imagines he is doing his whole duty, but it's the only one that will fill the bill. How many divorce cases have been caused by neglect of this kind? I don't know, but I'll bet my best horse it's more than half the total.

What in the name of Grover Cleveland can you expect of a woman if you go gallivanting around every night and leave her to her own devices? While you are out with the boys having a good time, what do you suppose she is doing? I can tell you. She is trying to read or to do a little fancy work and getting a mighty small satisfaction out of it. She is getting up every ten minutes and going to the window to look for you. She is wondering why you don't come and filling her brain with imaginary happenings. If you are long delayed she sees you mangled by a car, knocked down by an automobile, or held up by footpads. If she is of a jealous disposition her thoughts take another turn and she wonders how long it will be before your absence may be, your return, and she has nothing to do but think. Under such circumstances the brain has

In the Temperance Field.

In Canada at the present time, as intimated in these columns last Saturday,
the chief interest in temperance work centres in Ontario, where a local option campaign of large proportions is in progress. A Toronto paper says:—
"Activity is everywhere manifested in the local movement throughout the Province. Between fifty and sixty campaigns are now on, and every day new ones are being formed from present appearances nearly a hundred municipalities in Ontario will endeavor to wipe out the barroom."

Speaking in Winnipeg recently, Mrs.
Blivens of Toronto said:—
"There are in Ontario about 757 municipalities; in 460 of them there are 1,000 houses which we should reasonably expect can be wiped out, as in these 460 the vote at the referendum was two to one in favor of prohibition."

Editorially the Toronto Globe says:—
"On the first of January next, when municipal elections go to the polls for ordinary local purposes, they will in many parts of Ontario have an opportunity to vote on local option by-law. Already a considerable part of the province is under prohibition as the result of previous campaigns, and if the present movement proves as successful as its promoters confidently expect there will soon be very few of our townships or incorporated villages under license. The referendum vote showed clearly enough that in overwhelming majority of the people of Ontario are in favor of abolishing bar drinking. The best way to accomplish this is to refuse liquor licenses, and as the license law gives them power to do this by local plebiscites they are likely to exercise their legal right to give effect to their legitimate wishes."

"The local option provisions of the Ontario license law have proved their efficiency in several places where enforcement is a matter of great difficulty.
Toronto Junction is a case in point. It is largely a railway town, and in the sleeping homes of many trainmen, besides the working homes of a still greater number of other railway employees, is the chief source of revenue to the community. It is, therefore, to which people who want interesting drink can go with the utmost facility. It has within its limits many small business places dependent for success on local patronage which the liquor attractions of Toronto were expected to draw away from them. It has been at times a resort for Toronto gamblers and other people of shady reputation, who have been the means of bringing to the town a stigma it did not deserve. In the face of such local difficulties the enforcement of local prohibition has been fairly effective for eighteen months, and if the other half of the three-year term shows a decided improvement, as it may reasonably be expected to do, the people of the Junction will almost certainly re-nect the no-license by-law."

"It was to be expected that the rise and progress of this local option movement would attract the attention and arouse the antagonism of those who are in the consumption of alcoholic beverages. To their taking a hand in the local campaigns there is no objection, but the movement cannot reasonably object.
The public law has legalized their traffic in the province without a local or over a century. Many vested interests have grown up under a system thus established and maintained, and those in possession cannot be expected to submit without a struggle to the entire abandonment of their venerable and lucrative occupation.
Fortunately, however, they had been frank enough to explain their method of operation, and in order to give both the liquor sellers and their cringing opponents a fair show we propose to give it all the publicity we can. The Winnipeg Spirit and Journal and Brewey review the license holders of each locality to raise a fund, which is to consist of contributions from merchants, from local merchants, and from interested property-owners. This is a well-selected organization can bring strong pressure to bear on the municipal council and secure 'pledges of opposition to the measure in council in return for support of the candidate, whose election on in most instances be readily obtained if skillfully handled.' According to the liquor organ, it is 'better and

THE LICENSED VICATULLERS Protest Against Clubs Formed to Get Liquor on Sunday.

At a recent meeting of the Licensed Vicatullers' Association, held in the Monument National, Montreal, complaint was made that there are bands of individuals in the city who have formed what they are pleased to call "clubs" which are not clubs at all, but merely combinations of men who use this disguise in order to obtain liquor on Sunday, and after hours on other days, without rendering themselves liable to the laws which govern hotels.

The subject was brought before the meeting by L. A. Lapointe, the secretary, who said that, acting on the instructions

HELPS YOUNG MEN

What the Grand Trunk Does for Its Apprentices—Free Scholarships.

A Grand Trunk official recently gave a Toronto Globe reporter the following statement of what the company requires of young men entering its service, and what it does for them:—

"The company are today leaving no stone unturned to have the apprentice that they wish their future official to be. We do not accept as an apprentice any applicant who cannot pass a satisfactory examination along general educational lines; he must also pass a medical examination for physical fitness. He holds classes during the fall, winter and spring months two nights each week, where mathematics, electricity, mechanical drawing and construction are taught, and which the apprentice must attend. These classes are, of course, free, and the apprentice has to pass a satisfactory examination, forms for which are issued from the office of the superintendent of motive power at Montreal, before he advances from one department to the next. If a boy after entering on his apprenticeship privileges to one of those who are waiting for an opening and are sufficiently intelligent and ambitious to work for promotion, a satisfactory examination and as a means of ascertaining definitely from time to time what progress he is making, we have a special prize competition for apprentices in the different years at all of the shops on the line."

"Do you consider the chance of the individual gaining advancement as favorable along mechanical lines as in other walks of life?"

He replied: "For a boy who is willing to spend the necessary time in study to gain a practical and technical knowledge in mechanics there is in my opinion no field which today offers so many possibilities. Here are a few ideas for some of the young men who are without doubt forcing mechanical status and ability into the hands of the other already overcrowded professions. If the employee can only arrange to include the title of 'doctor' to his appointments, the mechanical engineer will be, are, and are, especially find himself among the General Manager. He has offered two free scholarships covering four years' tuition in the faculty of applied science of McGill University, subject to competitive examinations, to applicants and other employees of the company under twenty-one years of age and to minor sons of employees."

Loss of Power To Digest Food

AMONG THE FIRST INDICATIONS OF EXHAUSTED NERVES—THE CURS IS

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

The most important function of the system of the body is the digestion and assimilation of food, and in this process is consumed an enormous quantity of nervous energy.

As the result of the momentary disorders of the nerve system, digestion is impaired and the very source of health, strength and vitality is exhausted.

To prevent physical bankruptcy the nervous system must be built up by outside aid as the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, a preparation composed of the very elements of nature which go to form new blood and nerve cells.

Under this restorative influence on the whole system Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has been applied and direct effect on the digestive system.

It stimulates the nerves of taste and induces a good flow of saliva, the first step in the process of digestion. It softens the stomach and promotes a plentiful supply of the gastric digestive fluids, which cheapens the appetite and averts hunger.

Especially where appetite and the ability to digest have diminished, as in nervous exhaustion, anæmia, the result of sickness, overwork or worry, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is by all odds the most effective treatment that can possibly be obtained.

It ensures good digestion, regular, healthful action of the liver, kidneys and the bowels and the building up and revitalizing of the whole system.

Mrs. D. B. MacLennan, 75 St. Patrick street, St. John, N. B., and whose husband is a ship carpenter, states: "My daughter was a victim of nervousness and acute indigestion. Hearing of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I decided to get her a box of it. We found the food a great nerve builder, and it has entirely cured her of indigestion. We have also used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cts. a box, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book, makes one a great find."

Headaches

When the Head aches and the Tongue is Coated

It is Bileousness or Constipation. Torrid Liver is at the bottom of the trouble. It takes Fruit-a-tives to make that lazy liver work. Fresh fruit is fine for these troubles, but one can't eat enough fruit to do much good. The medicinal elements are in too small proportion in the ripe fruits. A clever Ottawa physician discovered a method by which fruit juices could be combined so that their medicinal action would be increased many times. Fruit-a-tives are these fruit juices in tablet form. They sweeten and tone the stomach and liver, cure Constipation and remove all bile impurities. One Fruit-a-tives tablet has the same curative effect on liver and bowels as dozens of oranges, apples, figs and prunes. And this action is as gentle as the fruit juices themselves.

EXONERATED THE ALBANO

German Admiralty Court Decides Parisian Was to Blame for Collision Last March.

HALIFAX, Nov. 10 (Special)—The German admiralty court, sitting at Hamburg, has today pronounced into the collision between the steamers Albano and Parisian, which occurred off Halifax harbor last March. In summing up the court exonerated the Albano from any blame for the collision, and placed the blame on the Parisian. The court held that the accident was caused by the Parisian because she did not comply with the regulations of Article 19 for the prevention of collisions of vessels at sea and Article 22 for the giving of signals.
