Your First Investment

The wise investment of money is a safeguard against adversity. Many persons who have met with financial disaster would have overcome their misfortune had they in times of prosperity employed some part of their earnings in the purchase of SOUND INVESTMENT BONDS.

Once undertaken, the investment of money soon becomes an established custom. In making your initial investment, be conservative. Remember all Bonds represent varying degrees of safety, and confine yourself to the purchase of a sound Bond yielding a fair rate of income.

When you are ready to invest your money be careful to get in touch with an experienced and reliable firm. Explain your position as an investor. This will enable the firm to take a more personal interest in your welfare.

We will gladly give you the benefit of our twenty odd years' experience in the Bond investment business, and aid you in selecting Bonds which have been adapted for your requirements.

THE KNOCKER AT WORK

President Hays of the Grand Trunk Pacific has given serious offence to the St. John Standard. He has stated publicly that the new transcontinental railway, by using part of the Grand Trunk system and that part of the Intercolonial from Moncton to St. John, will be able to bring western freight to St. John next winter.

But why should a newspaper published in St. John assume such an attitude? Why does it not name the engineers who discredit the statement of Mr. Hays? Men and money can do much in six months. Does the Standard know that if the means provided it would still be impossible to complete the work in this province in time to operate trains next winter?

MR. FOSTER DEPOSED The Standard this morning devoted over three columns to a report of Mr. Borden's meeting at Long Branch, Toronto, yesterday, but did not even mention the name of Ex-Judge Doherty, the new first lieutenant, who has supplanted Mr. Foster.

FOR PLAY GROUNDS British Columbia Alive to Needs of Children Vancouver, B. C., June 15.—With great enthusiasm and practical unanimity a crowd of meeting of the people of Grandview, held in the schoolhouse on Park drive, decided in favor of laying out the Grandview park grounds according to a plan proposed by the park commissioners.

THE OLD HILL PATH

(George Newell Lovejoy, in Leslie's Weekly.) T is true it is as graceful as when—in other days— It wound along in beauty to the top, but as I gaze

The sunlight and the shadows rest upon it Dear, benedictive presence as in the days when came No aching care to haunt me from morn till eve at will, Ere something's gone forever from the old path up the hill!

The breeze as they loiter by the old tree fondly croon, The blithe birds in the tree-tops sing as in my life's lost June; And, as then, the myriad blossoms all around their wealth distill, But something's gone forever from the old path up the hill!

Something, a face, a touch of hand, a voice, a presence, lo! A world that brought me heaven, all vanished with the flow Of pastures Time, and, slowly, along I wander, still, With something's gone forever from the old path up the hill!

Would ye might come again—again—O days fondly croon, And give me back the glory of my life's sweet Arcady! For though Summer reigns a goddess, in my heart lives Winter's chill, Since something's gone forever from the old path up the hill!

I lift my wet eyes skyward, and plead: "Why must this immoderate—this aching misery— But silence mocks my heart's cry, while my eyes with fresh tears fill, For something's gone forever from the old path up the hill!

The sun, in royal splendor, is flooding all the west! The day is dying—dying—it will soon be rest; But I will not rest for me, as all alone I wander, still, With something's gone forever from the old path up the hill!

IN LIGHTER VEIN HEARD IN THE RUSH SHOP.

PRONUNCIATION.

My friends were all grinning, I felt in disgrace, The girl was stammering, Was calling it "vase." Much time they expended In changing my way, They claimed "vase" intended To be pronounced "vase."

PARADE GETS CHESTY.

ASKING TOO MUCH.

The mother of little six-year-old Mary had told her a number of times not to hitch her sled to passing sleighs, feeling that it was a dangerous practice.

FOOLISH, FOOLISH QUESTIONS.

"Were you ever arrested before?" asked the magistrate, whose principal business is imposing fines for speeding. "What do you think I've been doing all these years?" said the chauffeur, "pushing a wheelbarrow?"

RESTORING SIGHT EFFORT OF SURGEON

Dr. Copeland Believes Grafting of Living Tissue is Successful

New York, June 15.—Dr. R. S. Copeland, dean of Flower Hospital, says the conditions seem to be very favorable for the complete recovery of his sight by the grafting of living tissue upon injured eye of the oculist transferred the living tissue cut from the eye of Mrs. Oast, another patient at the hospital. The woman's eye had been injured and its removal was necessary. The Chairman's eye was opaque from inflammation and injury.

Accordingly a part of the tissue of the cornea was transplanted to Sing Long's eye, and when Dr. Copeland made an inspection of the eye Sunday afternoon he found that the grafting had been successfully accomplished and that the tissue had become perfectly transparent.

"I do not want to be too sanguine, but I believe Sing Long will see," said Dr. Copeland. "It will be necessary to enlarge the pupil back of the cornea. This operation will require about a week for the healing process."

GOES TO PRISON; SON OF MINISTER WAS A SLICK SHOPLIFTER

Theft of Goods Valued at $12,000 Charged Against Treagakis in a Few Weeks

Providence, R. I., June 15.—John Treagakis, 29 years old, son of Rev. Mr. Treagakis, formerly of the Holyoke, Mass., Methodist Episcopal church, and at present pastor of the Methodist church at Westport, Mass., must spend six months in Cranston jail on a larceny charge. He pleaded guilty. He was also fined $65 and costs in three additional cases of larceny and $40 and costs on two charges that he used fictitious names in pawnshop establishments in this city. Young Treagakis was committed to jail, and if his fines and costs amounting in all to $165, are not paid he will have to remain in jail for more than a year to work them out. Treagakis is one of the slickest shop-lifters ever caught here. There are really more than forty cases against him. He has pawned goods stolen from the leading stores of Providence in a number of Massachusetts towns, some in Fall River, Taunton, New Bedford, Worcester and Boston.

He said he never stole a cheap coat, but selected the best, those valued at $25 each. More than thirty coats have already been located by Inspector Haran, who caught Treagakis. In the last few weeks the prisoner got away with $12,000 in loot from department stores. In Auburn, near here, where he claimed a home, there is a young girl who says she is Treagakis' wife. She has a baby three days old. Treagakis has been in Cranston before for theft. He was once arrested in Boston and again in New Haven. His only apparent concern was that his father should not hear of his predicament. "It will break his heart," said the minister's son, as he was taken to jail. Treagakis' plan was to walk into a store, fold a coat over his arm and calmly leave the place.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

"AREN'T people just too peculiar for anything, Ruth?" announced my artistic friend, tragically, as she climbed our piazza steps and accepted my invitation to stop and rest for a moment. "Very," I admitted, inwardly recalling my grandmother's oft repeated story of "All the world is a bit queer but me and thee, and sometimes I think there is a little queer," but what happened to make you think of that?"

My artistic friend sank back in an artistic pose. "My dear," she assured me. "I've just been to call on the new people. And that apartment—really, it's impossible. And yet it is evident they have plenty of money. Why need people make such a mess of things when they could have them so lovely?"

Do you think I ought to have changed the subject? For I didn't.

Instead, I took out my mental note book and spurred my artistic friend on to find all the fault she could. For you see she has very good taste, and I thought it might be worth while to have in a house might prove valuable.

The rag came in for the first condemnation. "The first thing I saw in the reception room," said the artistic lady, "was the rug. It was an expensive thing, but blatant, with huge scrawly figures. It just hit me in the eyes, and you know you never see a carpet at all. You simply should be conscious of its being a part of the general harmony."

And then the chairs were all hung with tidies," she went on scathingly. "Now, on a cushion chair, I will admit a perfectly simple square of linen that keeps the cushions from musing, is permissible, but these were crocheted and ribbon affairs, and they were hung on the chair in the room, including two wicker ones, where there was absolutely no excuse for them."

"They've got the living room done in that huge mission furniture, which is absurd and out of proportion. And the apartments—most people have far too many pictures, but they have fully three times too many. Most people have far too many engravings and paintings in the same room if you can avoid it, and never on the same wall, and it's much better not to have landscapes and portraits together. But they haven't a single wall in the rooms I saw without a combination of portraits and landscapes and paintings and engravings."

Just here I gave a quick mental scrutiny of some of my own walls and decided that a little revision wouldn't be a bad thing. "But what was the worst of it, what I am going to tell you. Hold your breath—they have several of those beautiful plates with ribbons run through them, hung on the walls. Can you imagine anything more awful?"

"Then there are two or three of those absurd mantels, not over a fireplace or stove, but simply stuck on."

"The piano was absolutely slathered with ornaments. You know there never should be anything set on a piano. It spoils the line in the first place, and in the second place it's bad taste. A piano is a musical instrument, not a whatnot."

"And then my dear—the best offense of the new people I never knew. For suddenly there appeared trotting up our garden two so adorable little kiddies as I ever saw. My artistic friend gaped in artistic ecstasy. "Whose are they?" she inquired.

"Mother said for me to take it over to the pretty lady," he announced, producing one of my artistic friend's daintiest handkerchiefs, which she had evidently left at the new people's. "You left it in the garden, and she found it. As the two kiddies departed some time later, after having been duly feted with mother's best cookies, and having proven as angel-dispositioned as they were angel-faced, the artistic lady gazed at them thoughtfully.

"Well, I must admit one thing," she announced, gravely. "The new people may not have very good taste about houses, but they certainly have about kiddies."

kingdom of Jesus Christ throughout the world." The following resolution was moved by Rev. George Ross: "That this conference has heard with thankful interest the report of the superintendent of eastern missions, Rev. Thomas Marshall, and would take this opportunity to record its appreciation of the work he has done and its confidence in the zeal and abilities with which he has served the church in his important office."

Rev. Dr. Graham, general educational secretary, being called upon, spoke briefly, paying a high tribute to the missionary society. The speaker referred to a fitting tribute to the memory of Rev. Dr. Paisley, who died last year. Reference was made to the erection of the Jarvis Hart hall, Charles Fawcett memorial hall, and the hopes of the future in the way of additional plant.

He urged upon the ministers the importance of placing before the people information as to what Mount Allison is doing and what it aims to accomplish. The great forward movement inaugurated by the younger sons of Mount Allison, no doubt, marked the beginning of still greater things. With increased facilities under new plans now being carried out it is certain that the standard of work of their affiliated schools next year will be higher than ever before.

A number of memorials from various districts were read and referred to the various committees. At 3:30 a missionary anniversary was held. Dr. Flanders offered prayer. The report read by Rev. George Steele showed the receipts from various districts as follows: St. John, $5,882.11, increase $20.49; Sackville, $2,624.68, increase $270.23; St. Stephen, $694.41, increase $13.90; Charlottetown, $1,160.41, increase $27.19; Miramichi, $1,097.83, decrease $87; total net increase, $698.33. The grant from the general missionary board was $11,570.

Good Work Reported. Mrs. W. W. Andrews, representative of the Women's Missionary Society, gave a splendid address in which she outlined the growth of the society, how from a small beginning twenty-five years ago it had become an important factor in the work of the church. The N. B. and P. E. I. branch now numbered about 4,300 and last year the income amounted to $11,000.

Rev. Thomas Marshall, superintendent of eastern missions, next addressed the conference, telling of the work he had done during the past year. Though many might think that his position was an easy one, yet he had found it harder than he would have had to do on circuit. He had the satisfaction of knowing that his work had prospered and that good progress had been made.

On motion of Dr. Rogers, seconded by Dr. Stewart, the following resolution was passed: "That this conference has listened with great interest and with the most interesting and beautiful address of Mrs. Andrews, representative of the N. B. and P. E. I. branch of the missionary society of the Methodist church, and we desire to place on record our high appreciation of the noble work done by the sisters of W. M. S. both on the home and foreign fields, and we assure them of our powerful sympathy and support. Their efforts to extend the kingdom of Jesus Christ throughout the world are quick and permanent. For sale at all drug stores."

THE REAL CAUSE The Ancient Sculp-Ever Theory Explored At one time dandruff was attributed to the result of a feverish condition of the scalp, which threw off the dried out scales.

Professor Unna, Hamburg, Germany, noted authority on skin diseases, explores this theory and says that dandruff is a germ disease. "This germ is really responsible for the dandruff and for so many scalp troubles. It can be cured if it is got about in the right way. The right way, of course, is the only way, is to use Herpicide."

Newbro's Herpicide does this, and permits the hair to grow luxuriantly, just as nature intended it should. Sold by leading druggists. Send 18c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

D'ISRAELI MEETING CONTINUED TODAY

Exciting Tim: Aftz Shareholders and Directors Got Down to Business Yesterday

The annual meeting of the D'Israeli Assesses Company, which was held in the exhibition rooms yesterday afternoon, under protest, was exciting at times and resulted in charges of a grave nature being made by the shareholders against the directors. The shareholders asserted that the directors have appropriated 100,000 shares, equivalent to $800,000, which should have remained in the treasury. This the shareholders say is a breach of trust and they are fighting for the restoration of this money in the treasury.

After the trouble over place of meeting was settled, William Banks arose and read the notice calling the meeting and outlining its objects. The first thing for us to do was to elect a chairman, to appoint a chairman, Alexander Warrell's name was put in nomination and he was elected chairman. George T. Teed, K. C., who was present representing several Nova Scotia stockholders, arose and entered a protest to the holding of the meeting on the grounds of illegality. L. P. D. Tilly, who was also present in the interest of the company, consented to hold the meeting under protest and Mr. Warrell was elected chairman. Thomas Gallagher, of Moncton, was chosen secretary.

The names of the shareholders and amount of shares held was placed on record. The chairman, it is said, attempted to have certain resolutions passed which he said was one of the objects for which the meeting was called. Several of the shareholders who brought forward the resolutions being brought before the meeting, however, until they were given some understanding as to how the affairs of the company stood. It is understood that a heated argument ensued, in which speeches of a very sensational nature were made.

It was announced after the meeting that those taking part in the discussion asserted that they had been the victims of a fraud. Also that the present directors were scored for the action they took in removing the St. John office to Miramichi without the consent of the stockholders. It was also said after the meeting that while the shareholders were in session L. E. Martin, a shareholder, said in his remarks that the directors had taken for their own use 100,000 shares valued at $800,000 which had been left in the treasury according to the agreement of the prospectus. The discussion terminated with the appointment of a committee to audit the books in readjustment of affairs. He informed the directors that it looked very much as though they had sold certain lands to themselves. As trustees he said they were not entitled to do this and he assured them that if the matter was brought to law in court of equity would uphold them in their action.

Victim of the Hookworm

"Oh, John," cried the farmer's wife, "I'm afraid I've taken that dreadful new disease!" "What makes you think so, dear?" he asked, alarmed, gathering the frail little woman into his arms and stroking the thinning hair, as she sobbed out the story of her fears upon his broad shoulder.

"Well," she explained, "after I have gotten up, dressed myself and the children, cooked breakfast, washed the dishes, prepared the children for school, strained the new milk and set it away to cool, churned and worked the butter, swept and washed the wash, dressed the children, put them to bed, and sat down for the evening I am too tired to do my darning! I never used to feel so. It must be hookworm!"
