Bear River Mother Near Death After Attack With Axe by Son EMPRENTS BALDWIN'S AIM

LITTLE N. S. TOWN IS SHOCKED BY TERRIBLE CRIME

Mrs. Bishop, Struck on the Head With Axe, Has Skull Fractured.

SON ARRESTED

Was Subject to Mental Fits—Mother Declined to Have Him Confined.

(Special to The Times-Star.)

Digby, Nov. 21.—Not since the Lent-Potter scandal has such a sensation been caused in the little town of Bear River, as that which occurred yesterday when a young man, Lloyd Bishop, struck his mother over the head with the flat of a double bitted axe, crushing her skull so badly that she had to be brought to the Digby Hospital where a decompression operation was performed by Dr. Campbell, of Bear River, assisted by Doctors Duvernay and Read, of Digby.

Mother May Die. The mother is at present in a precarious condition and very little hope is held out for her recovery.

Last summer he was taken to the United States for medical treatment and arrived home greatly improved in health. Soon after his arrival he began to drift back into his old habits, and the medical fraternity held a consultation and decided to have him removed to a hospital for demented people.

Son Makes Attack. All went well until yesterday morning, according to the story given by the correspondent by Dr. Campbell, when the demented man struck his mother.

After rendering her unconscious, the man proceeded to the home of a neighbor, saying that his mother had met with an accident, and asking for assistance, which was immediately given. The mother tried to shield her son from any blame. Dr. Campbell was immediately called and it was after his arrival that the truth was known. He dressed the wound and got in communication with Dr. Duvernay yesterday afternoon and after examining the injured woman, decided to have her removed to Digby Hospital, when the critical operation took place.

The Lowly Scrub Brush is Raised To Dignity of Milady's Beauty Aid

Vienna, Nov. 21.—The scrub brush has been introduced in Vienna in a new role—that of flesh reducer. The idea was brought here by a South American doctor and has made a considerable rub in overweight circles.

The scrubbing treatment, with a perfectly dry brush, a trifle softer than the kitchen variety, must be taken four or five times a day; the more the better. Every part of the body must be massaged and as much pressure as possible applied to make the work of the bristles effective.

After the rubbing a cold or tepid shower or plunge should be taken. If these directions are carried out, the enthusiasts say, a pound or so of "excess" disappears like magic every week.

TWO ARRESTED IN CONNECTION WITH THEFT EPIDEMIC

Police Believe They Have Men Responsible for Recent Breaks.

GOODS RECOVERED

Owners Identify Some of Articles Captured in a Main St. House.

Two young men were taken into custody this afternoon on suspicion of being the perpetrators of an epidemic of robberies, which swept over this city during the last six weeks, causing citizens considerable anxiety and the police untold worry. The names of the young men are Charles Christensen and Lewin Ritchie. Goods estimated to value approximately $800 was found in their possession, and the police say, resemble those stolen from a number of local firms. The goods were taken by the detectives and will be used in the trial against the young men.

For weeks the members of the detective department have been working night and day in an effort to apprehend the party or parties responsible for the series of breaks. Clue after clue was picked up and traced, but it was not until this morning that something tangible was disclosed to point the finger of suspicion at the supposed perpetrators. Sergeant Detective Power and Detective Biddiscombe lost no time in following up their clue. They went to the north end police station and summoned Sergeant Rankine and Policeman Gibbs and forthwith set out to arrest those under suspicion with a hold that they would succeed in bringing to a stop, the series of breaks.

He was a valued citizen in this community, a member of the Masonic lodge, second vice-president of the St. Andrews Society, and a very valued member of the Presbyterian church, where he was secretary of the board of trustees and leader of the choir.

Besides his wife, he leaves two daughters, Marion in the west and Gladys at Netherwood, Rutheby; three sons, Dr. Kenneth, and Walter in Calais, and Hugh at home; also one brother, Alex., at Winnipeg.

CLOSE TIES WITH DOMINIONS AT TOP OF POLICIES

Will Strive for Friendship and Co-operation With France and U. S.

WILL BACK LEAGUE

Objection to Arms Protocol Based on Dominion and U. S. Attitudes.

(By CHARLES M. McCANN.) (United Press Staff Correspondent, Copyright 1924.)

London, Nov. 21.—Stanley Baldwin's Conservative government has formulated a general policy for foreign affairs during the next four years. The third, and relatively least important point in British eyes is close co-operation and intimate friendship with the United States.

In order of importance the three major tenets of British diplomacy under the present government will be as follows:

1—Close ties with the British dominions.

2—Warm friendship and co-operation with France.

3—Warm friendship and co-operation with the United States.

England will continue to accord full support to the League of Nations, as is evidenced by the announcement that at the forthcoming League Council meeting at Rome, Austin Chamberlain, Foreign Secretary in the Conservative cabinet, will represent his country.

The precedence of the British Dominions in the English scheme of politics is self explanatory, in making clear the reasons for putting friendship with France before that with the United States, it is authoritative explained that world politics dictate such procedure.

Unwillingly, but none the less effectively, England is very closely identified with affairs on the continent, it is pointed out. The United States is not participating directly in continental affairs, wherefore Anglo-French friendship is vital to England and of greater importance than any other matter except relations with the Dominions.

Co-operation With U. S. It is authoritatively stated that England hopes to foster intimate co-operation with the United States without recourse to any special alliance between the two countries. Such an alliance is regarded as both undesirable and impossible here. It is desired, however, not only to keep the Anglo-American diplomatic slate continually clean but to reach a degree of Anglo-American intimacy that would permit co-operation in outside matters, such as the far east. It is emphasized that there will be no attempt directly or indirectly to drag the United States into European politics.

Objection to Protocol. One of the major reasons prompting England to decide to abstain from participating in the League of Nations security, arbitration and disarmament protocol, was that it was considered to be offensive to the United States as well as to the British dominions. The possibility that the English fleet might some day be nominated by the League to blockade ports in which American trade is principally interested is one of the English objections to the protocol.

England is understood to be preparing a substitute for the League peace protocol which would eliminate the features which Britain cannot accept.

CANADIAN LEADER OPENS THE BALL

Capt. Robertson, Commander of First Vessel of Winter is Welcomed.

An interesting feature of the arrival here of the Canadian Leader, the first winter port steamer of this season, is the fact that she is commanded by Captain M. Robertson, who was in charge of the Canadian Pioneer when that vessel arrived in St. John in 1921 after inaugurating a C. G. M. M. service to India.

Captain Robertson is as genial as ever and is warmly welcomed. He said the morning here from Swansons had taken 14 days. The vessel, which had weather from the 21st meridian to Sable Island. They ran into a heavy southerly gale on Tuesday. On that night the Canadian Leader picked up a wireless message from various stations along the coast announcing that the steamer Inskip of the U. S. Shipping Board was missing.

The report declared that the stations had received one call for help from the vessel and after that all efforts to pick up the vessel had failed. The message broadcasted to steamers requested them to watch for the steamer or members of the crew in boats. The next morning, however, they picked up word that the vessel was safe. The captain added that the Canadian Leader had not heard the one call for help sent out from the Shipping Board steamer.

The Canadian Leader is at present lying in the stream and she will probably remain there for several days. She is scheduled to sail from this port for Cardiff and Swansons on Dec. 5.

CARRIE JOY NAME CHOSEN FOR DOLL

Beatrice Calnek Wins Telegraph-Journal Contest—Little Sisters Next.

"Carrie Joy" is the name that has been selected as most appropriate for the beautiful Mama doll which The Telegraph-Journal is soon to distribute to the little girls of St. John.

Beatrice Calnek, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. S. H. Calnek, 191 Princess street, is the little girl who chose this name and she will receive her doll today.

While "Carrie Joy" was declared the nicest and most appropriate name by the judges many other excellent names were received and the task of selecting the winner was a very difficult one.

Many of the little girls may think that the name sent in by them is nicer than the one chosen but, after all, it is a matter of taste. The name that appeals to one does not appeal to another. There were seven judges and they were unanimous in choosing "Carrie Joy." "Carrie Joy" was decided best because it is a very simple name.

It is easy for the smallest girl to pronounce and understand, the dolls will really "carry joy" to every little girl who gets one and both "Carrie" and "Joy" are real names.

Beatrice Calnek, the winner of the doll, will be four years old on Feb. 9 and her mother chose the name which has been selected as the winner. But if she is not old enough to select a name for her doll Beatrice is quite old enough to take a very keen delight in owning the doll that walks, talks, sleeps and rolls its eyes. Beatrice has no brothers or sisters and the doll is certainly going to carry joy to her home. The doll looks a bit like Beatrice, who has golden brown hair and sparkling blue eyes.

But all the other little girls who sent in names must not be disappointed as there is still a chance for them to win one of Carrie Joy's little sisters and an announcement about how they can do this will be made tomorrow or Monday in The Telegraph-Journal.

Some of the names that were most favored in the contest were Pollyanna, Winnifred Blair, Orphan Annie, Princess Mary, and Mary. There were many quite unusual names sent in and amongst them several in which the name Telegraph-Journal was cleverly abbreviated. "Tillygraf" was one of these last.

RED CROSS EFFORTS

Dr. J. W. Robertson, who is the President of the Canadian Red Cross Society, discussed the work of the organization in Ottawa a few days ago and the efforts of the Red Cross to improve health conditions, to prevent disease and to mitigate suffering. He pointed out that in this country during wartime it had been found that half of the men offering or called up for service were in precarious and pitiful conditions of health, and in Great Britain it was found that of the last two and a half million men called only three in every nine were fit for service. Two were infirm, three physical wrecks and one a chronic invalid. During the war the Red Cross handled thirty million dollars for the Canadian people and assisted in the support of 2,160 French hospitals as well as maintained all the Canadian units in every theatre of war. The need of health training was impressed by Mr. Robertson, who incidentally mentioned in this connection that the children of today eat too many made-up dishes, too many sweets of various kinds and not enough simple foods, vegetables or milk. He also made the somewhat surprising statement that, while medical science and health methods had greatly reduced death rates, the general health was not so good and that affected general efficiency.

We know Dr. Robertson very well and favorably in this province. We learned to appreciate him years ago. He has always been foremost in educational and welfare work, and what he says with regard to the latter will receive very careful attention.

SOUTH AFRICA'S PROBLEM

Widespread consternation has been caused in South Africa by the recently published statement of the Director of Census that the days of the white man's supremacy in that country will not long continue unless his numbers are supplemented by a steady flow of immigration from Europe. In no part of the world is the race problem more acute than in South Africa. Six million whites live side by side with twenty-five million native negroes—Kaffirs as they are called—and while the Kaffirs are steadily increasing in numbers, the white population is not merely at a standstill but tending to decrease.

So far as the wealthy and professional classes are concerned, South Africa is an ideal home for its white inhabitants; its soil is abundantly fertile, its climate healthy and its diamond and gold mines unsurpassed by those of any other country, yield immense revenues. But the manual workers of European extraction have a sorry time of it; they are forced to compete for a livelihood with natives who with their low standards of living can maintain themselves in comfort on wages which spell starvation for a white man. Consequently the mines are almost wholly manned by native labor and the farmers too, find it more profitable to employ Kaffirs than men of their own colour.

South Africa's problem is not a new one; its formidable character has been recognized by leaders of opinion for many years, but latterly it has become acute and the report of the Director of Census has brought it into the sphere of active politics. The present Government, which relies for its strength mainly on the support of the Dutch farmers and the labour unions, is advocating a policy of native "segregation" as a solution. As a phrase "segregation" is inviting, but as a policy it is impracticable. No class would be more strongly opposed to the herding of the natives into areas of their own than the chief supporters of the Government, the farmers, who would in this way be deprived of their cheap labour. It is more than doubtful whether "segregation" will ever become a useful political issue in this country. Their numbers make it impossible to confine them upon reserves in the v.v. the Indians were confined in Canada and the United States.

It is too much to expect hard-headed farmers and mine owners, or mention manufacturers, to pay white men higher wages than black, simply because they are white. The policy would be ruinous unless it were universally followed and in the present state of opinion there is little likelihood of that. If the alternative to the end of the white man's dominion in South Africa is a large scheme of immigration (as may be adopted), but strong influences are opposed to it; the immigrants would be largely British, and the Dutch inhabitants of South Africa do not regard any large addition to the British population with favour.

The Labour Unions, too, are antagonistic to immigration as they are in other countries; they say with considerable reasonableness that the welfare of the white inhabitants will not be improved but made worse by an influx of poor immigrants. The available sources of well-to-do immigrants are necessarily limited.

We in Canada are inclined to regard the political problems which confront

Odds and Ends

"You never know what you'll find among the odds and ends."—From "Notes by A. W. Yastler."

Being Well Read.

(Cape Argus.)

If people would only be themselves and seek to discover themselves in the books they read, the world would be a little wiser and happier place. Any library, worth the name, contains, no doubt, "infinite riches in a little room," but through compression and concentration the wealth of most libraries (private ones we mean) are indefinitely increased. Truly, Rhodes knew what he was about that afternoon, more than 30 years ago when he stalked into Hatcher's with Gibbon on the brain. To know one of the great books of the world through and through is to be well read.

THE FLOWERED GOWN.

(Margaret Widdemans in the Delimitator.)

I wish that I could find my gown With printed roses up and down And rose-pink ribbon made to tie In bows like a butterfly.

It had a kerchief of white lace With ribbon at the crossing-place To mark the beating girl's heart, lit With gay wisdom, under it.

And ruffles very wide and wide With lace upon the underside.

I could put out my hand at night And find it in its place again; Between my yesternow on the wall And mother's heirloom China shawl, Behind the cherry closet door In the blue room on the third floor; But that the room's at such a height It would be hard to reach tonight— There are two flights of stairs to climb And seven weary years of time.

Socialism.

Socialism, though it lives in an ideal, is dying as a programme.—Dean Inge.

But Some Sermons Are Long.

Boredom is a symptom of hardening of the mind.—The Bishop of Plymouth.

One Clear Day.

A minor ambition of mine is to pass a whole day without thinking an unthought about anybody.—Arnold Bennett.

A Vegetarian View.

Amusement Parks.

It is a strange commentary on modern civilization that people require a whole parkful of contraptions to jerk them upside down in order to get any fun out of life.—Stacy Aumonier.

Pretty Smooth.

(Good Hardware.)

Maiden lady (to druggist): Is your cod liver oil good for wrinkles? Druggist: Madam, it would take the wrinkles out of corrugated iron.

The Medicine Bottle.

In many cases the medicine bottle does far more harm than good by suggesting symptoms three or four times a day rather than suggesting their relief.—Professor F. Z. Wynne.

A Political Creed.

It would be easiest to expound my political creed under the three headings: (1) Why I am a Conservative; (2) Why I am a Liberal; and (3) Why I am a Socialist.—Robert Lynd.

Y. M. C. A. Movement.

The Centenary of the birth of Sir George Williams reminds us that the Young Men's Christian Association is not a club but a movement—a challenge to the achievement of faith and to Christian service.—Sir Arthur K. Yapp.

Just Enough.

(Progressive Grocer.)

Friends, there are many in selling groceries: Grocer Feedum: Well—some. But I never romance so much that people won't believe me.

Depends on the Driver.

(National Municipal Review.)

A city charter is like an automobile—nothing mechanical can be devised that will keep the owner from driving it up the wrong fork of the road. The mayor must strive to make the car infallibly obedient to the steering wheel and completely under the driver's control.

Teddy the Carpenter.

(Good Hardware.)

Mr. Brown loved to tinker around, and was always buying tools; his last purchase being an expensive new saw. The first time he had occasion to use it, he stumped into the kitchen and informed his wife that he was going to exchange the saw.

"Why," he sputtered, "it won't cut hot butter!"

"Yeth, it will, daddy," lisped his little daughter. "Teddy sawed a whole brick in two with it this morning."

Y. M. C. A.

The progress of the organization from small beginnings in St. Paul's churchyard is one of the romances of Christian enterprise. The initiative of its organizers in adapting peace-time methods to war conditions has been brilliantly successful and has won universal admiration. I wish to pay my tribute to your revered founder who built on the sure foundation of character and service. If any would see his monument it is to be found in every branch of the Y. M. C. A. throughout the world.—David Lloyd George.

GUNMEN BATTLE IN N. Y. RESTAURANT

As a Result of the Duel, One of Them is Likely to Die.

New York, Nov. 21.—Edward Sullivan, just turned 23, is dying from pistol wounds at New York Hospital, because he talked too much. Sullivan felt one of his bad spells coming on. He wanted to shoot, and he knew exactly whom he wanted to shoot. But he leaned against the bar in a waterfront speak-easy, and the liquor made him talk. And he said two words too many.

For two years police have had to keep an eye on Sullivan. He has been involved in several small difficulties, disturbances characterized by the police as "mischief." But he announced he was sick of the little stuff. He wanted something big.

He bought a drink or two for the crowd and showed his gun and talked. "I'm out to get somebody," he said. "And you know who it is, it's—"

The name of his victim was repeated. Also, he announced his plan for getting his man, which included a visit to the Knickerbocker Restaurant at No. 84 Eighth avenue.

Shortly before midnight he set out along with his gun sticking from his hip pocket "like a pitchfork," as one of the spectators said.

He entered the restaurant and found a table near the rear. And he sat down with his back to the door. It was not quite time to begin shooting, and he ordered a breakfast.

Back in the water-front speak-easy he began talking after he left. And somebody thought Sullivan's victim ought to be notified. They argued about it while Sullivan was eating his breakfast, and finally they agreed that it was only fair to tip the victim off.

PUBLIC NOTICE

In the matter of the application of the City of Saint John, by its Mayor, Frank L. Potts, filed September 19th, 1924, with the Board of Commissioners of Public Utilities for the Province of New Brunswick, praying that the rates filed by The New Brunswick Power Company, granting a reduction in the price of gas for domestic and commercial purposes of fifteen cents per thousand cubic feet, effective from the first day of July 1924, to customers of the said Company who are using the combined electric and gas service of the said Company exclusively in the same premises, but such reduction has not been made applicable, and is not applicable to any other persons, may be declared to be unjustly discriminatory, and that the gas rates, tolls, charges and schedules of the said Company may be reduced, modified or altered so as to remove such unjust discrimination.

And upon hearing Dr. J. B. Baxter, K. C., for the City of Saint John, Dr. Fred R. Taylor, K. C. for the New Brunswick Power Company and Cyrus F. Inches, Esquire, K. C., on behalf of a number of residents and citizens of the City of Saint John, who petitioned that the reduced gas rates as filed by the Company may be declared not to be unjustly discriminatory.

It is ordered that a public hearing with respect to the above matter, be held at the office of the Board of Commissioners of Public Utilities on Prince William Street in this City, at ten-thirty of the clock Wednesday the twenty-sixth day of November at which all persons interested may be present and be heard.

FARMER ENDS LIFE IN KOUCHIBOUQUAC

Richibucto, N. B., Nov. 20.—James M. Sullivan, farmer, of Kouchibouquac, took his life by poisoning today and died five hours after swallowing a mixture of Paris Green and iodine.

Falling health is held to be the cause of his action. He had been in poor health for some time and had once been taken to the Provincial Hospital in St. John for treatment. Mr. Sullivan was

LAST OF VILLAS SHOT

Ripolito Villa, the last of that famous bandit family, brother of Pancho Villa, met his death before a federal firing squad near Jimenez, Chihuahua, Mexico, recently. He was taken from a train, court-martialed and shot.

In Defence.

And some did hold that our old English tongue By overusage and the weight of years Was worn to shreds and tatters, and among Those rags a man would seek almost in tears For words that he might use to deck their thought. And still and ever would he throw away One soiled word after other, for he sought Words that no man had ever used to say Aught that was chaff or had some ugly taint O foolish thought!

All words can perfect truth and beauty paint. If he who chooses be an artist true And speak the tongue his own forefathers knew.

City Playgrounds.

(Hamilton Spectator.)

Next month the taxpayers will have presented for their consideration a by-law to raise $25,000, by the sale of debentures, for playground purposes. Public approval of this expenditure may be taken for granted. Supervised playgrounds are no longer an experiment, nor just a philanthropic exhaust for kindly disposed citizens who have never been able to forget that they were kids themselves once upon a time. Playgrounds are an actual necessity in this day of pell-mell traffic rush. If the streets are no longer safe for play, then play-spaces that are safe must be provided. It isn't an expenditure, but an investment—in the men and women of tomorrow.

WEDDINGS

Norwood-Sears.

A pretty wedding was solemnized last night at 8.30 at St. Mary's church when Mrs. Edith Sears, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Nichols, of Market Place, West St. John, was united in marriage to Clarence Norwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Norwood, of West St. John. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. T. McKim. The bride was becomingly attired in a brown silk dress with silver trimmings, hat to match and fox fur and carried a bouquet of white carnations. She was attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Herbert Nichols, who wore a blue silk dress with grey hat and carried a bouquet of roses. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's brother, Herbert Nichol, and Mrs. Nichols, Market Place. Many beautiful gifts of silver and linen were received and testified to the popularity of the bride and groom. Mr. and Mrs. Nichols will reside in West St. John.

DEATHS

The death of Mrs. Margaret Elliot MacQuarrie occurred on Wednesday at Riverport, N. S. She was born in Ireland and came to this country when a girl. She was married in St. John and was a resident of this city for many years. She was a member of Knox church. She was 80 years old on Sunday. Her husband was formerly police magistrate at Riverport. She is survived by one son, Charles A., of West St. John, and two daughters, Mrs. J. G. Dickinson and Miss Jessie MacQuarrie, of Riverport. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from Brennan's undertaking rooms. Interment will be in Fernhill cemetery.

W. S. Trask.

The death of W. S. Trask, Little River, Digby County, N. S., occurred yesterday at his home. Mr. Trask was one of the best known men in that county. For many years he conducted a canning factory at Little River. He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Gladys, at home and three grand-children.

James Hugh Montague.

The death of James Hugh Montague, second son of Hugh and Katherine Montague, of the Pemas, West St. John, occurred yesterday at the St. John Infirmary caused by an attack of appendicitis. Very many friends will be greatly shocked to learn of his untimely passing at the age of 14 years. He was taken suddenly ill at 1 o'clock in the morning and died in the afternoon. He was a very bright lad and very popular with his school mates. He had attended the West St. John school and won the Mays prize of $5 for highest standing in Grade 8 in the St. Patrick's school last year. He was making a very good showing as a pupil in St. Vincent's High School this year. Besides his parents six brothers and one sister survive, all residing at home with the exception of an older brother, John, who won an A. O. H. scholarship and is a student at St. Joseph's College. The elder brother will come to St. John to attend the funeral.

A schoolmaster had been giving his class a lesson in physical geography, and had explained that the world is made up of land and water. Then, in order to see if they had been paying attention, he asked: "Now, boys, can you tell me what it is land and water make?" For some time there was silence, but presently a little boy put up his hand and when asked to give the answer, replied: "Land, sir!"

THE KING'S COOK DISAPPEARS

"Oh, dear, save me, save me!" cried the cook, as he sailed toward the sky on the magic dustpan. The King of Yum Yum Land woke up where he had been dozing beside the fire (after the big dinner he had eaten 'n all) and ran out and looked up at the sky.

SULPHUR CLEARS SKIN RIGHT UP

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist.

Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation begins at once to soothe the irritated skin and heal eruptions such as rash, pimples and ring worm. It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach aches. Food ferments and severs, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bismarated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating.

This will drive the gas, wind and bloot right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness of pain. Bismarated Magnesia (in powdered or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes.

Thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

The object of one cross word puzzle is to fill out the white spaces in the diagram with words which agree with the definitions given in the accompanying text.

The word defined in the text under "HORIZONTAL" and indicated as No. 1 (in case such a number appears in the Horizontal list) will extend horizontally from No. 1 square to the next black square.

The word indicated as No. 1 under "VERTICAL" in the list of definitions will extend from white square No. 1 to the black square below. And so on.

Most of the letters are used in the making of two different words.

SUGGESTIONS FOR SOLVING CROSS-WORD PUZZLES Start out by filling in the words of which you feel reasonably sure. These will give you a clue to other words crossing them, and they in turn to still others. A letter belongs in each white space, words starting at the numbered squares and running either horizontally or vertically or both.

Social Notes of Interest

Mrs. Walter Vaughan, of Montreal, arrived in the city yesterday from Fredericton and is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Andrew Blair, at Rothesay.

Mrs. Vaughan, as president of the Canadian Federation of University Women is making a tour of the Maritime and Quebec University Clubs.

Mrs. John E. Moore and Mrs. Holly, who have been visiting in Boston, have returned home.

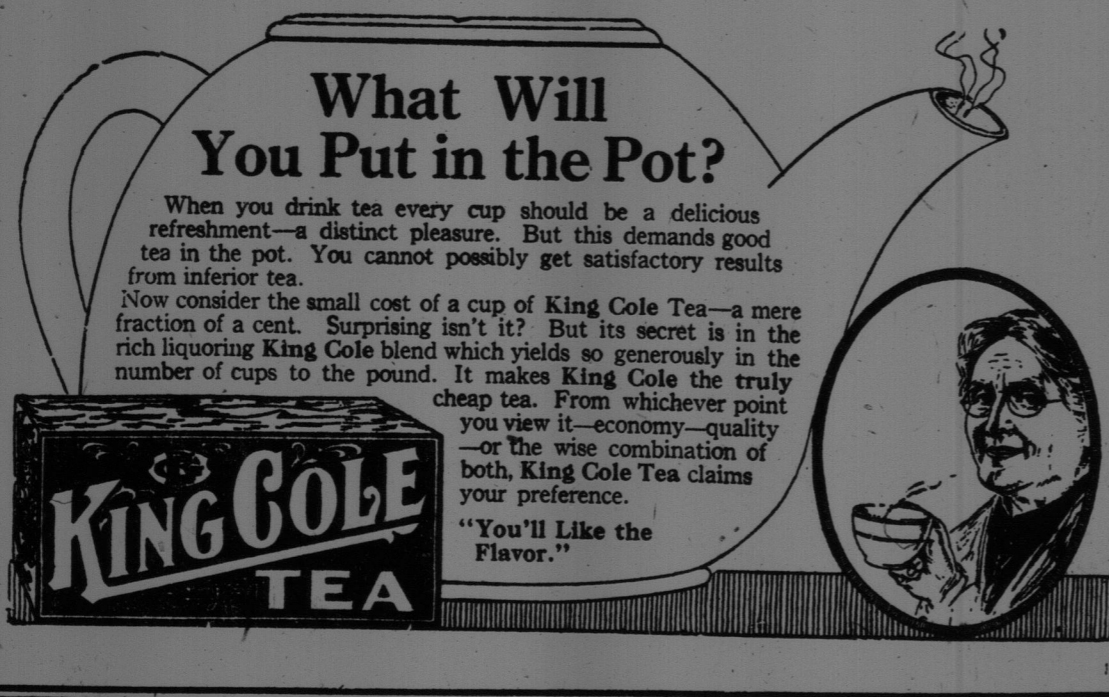

Two hundred and fifty guests called on Mrs. Frank Taylor (formerly Miss Ellen Davis) when she received for the first time since her marriage on Wednesday afternoon at her home, 426 Douglas avenue. Mrs. Taylor, who wore a becoming gown of jade green headed georgette and carried a beautiful bouquet of Ophelia roses, was assisted in receiving by her mother, Mrs. S. H. What Will You Put in the Pot?

When you drink tea every cup should be a delicious refreshment—a distinct pleasure. But this demands good tea in the pot. You cannot possibly get satisfactory results from inferior tea.

Now consider the small cost of a cup of King Cole Tea—a mere fraction of a cent. Surprising isn't it? But its secret is in the rich liquoring King Cole blend which yields so generously in the number of cups to the pound. It makes King Cole the truly cheap tea. From whichever point you view it—economy—quality—or the wise combination of both, King Cole Tea claims your preference.

sweet peas. The drawing room was artistic with yellow lighted candles and many vases of fall flowers in the yellow shades. Miss Lorna Davis and Mrs. Doris Brennan ushered the guests to the dining room, which was very attractive and was also lighted with yellow candles. Mrs. H. B. Gilbert and Mrs. Ernest Taylor presided over the tea table, which was centred with a large basket of cream and yellow chrysanthemums and tied with a bow of tulle ribbon to match. Miss Adrienne Davis replenished, while Mrs. Jack Howard, Mrs. Charles R. Barbour, Mrs. Frank Wetmore, Mrs. J. K. Scammell and Miss Jean Cross assisted. Miss Edith Wasson attended the door.

PROVISION MADE FOR MISSIONS

The standing missionary committee of the Methodist conference met in Centenary church on Thursday afternoon. The president, Rev. R. G. Fulton, presided. Dr. J. W. McConnell, of Amherst; Dr. J. M. Palmer, of Sackville; Thomas Moyse, Bedeque, P. E. I.; Rev. Thomas Marshall, Fredericton; Rev. George M. Young, Milltown; Rev. H. A. Goodwin and Robert T. Hayes, M.L.A., were present.

Grants were made to the various missions of the conference. The total amount to be distributed this year is $21,500 and 39 missions are assisted in sums from $100 to $300.

The celebration of the centenary year of Methodist missions was discussed. A convention of the workers in the conference is to be held Jan. 12 to 13 in this city when distinguished speakers from Toronto and elsewhere will be present and a pageant representing the growth of missions

Constipation is ruinous to children—keep yours healthy with Kellogg's Bran

Constipation undermines a child's health. It saps his energy and makes him listless. It can lead to more than 40 other serious diseases. Mothers should take immediate steps to remove, safely and surely, the dangerous poisons from his system.

Kellogg's Bran—because it is ALL bran—brings permanent relief. Nothing but ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. That is why Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is universally recommended by doctors. They know it brings results.

If eaten regularly, Kellogg's Bran is guaranteed to give permanent relief in the most chronic cases of constipation, or your grocer returns your money. Kellogg's Bran acts on the intestines exactly as nature acts. It sweeps and cleans and purifies them. It makes them function naturally and regularly. It allows you to discontinue forever the use of harmful habit-forming drugs and pills.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is a delightful surprise to the taste—particularly if one has tried ordinary unpalatable bran. Kellogg's Bran has a delicious, crisp, nut-like flavor—an exclusive flavor. It is most enjoyable with milk or cream, sprinkled over other cereals or cooked with hot cereals. Try it in bread, muffins, griddle cakes and other recipes given on every package.

Have your children eat it regularly—two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Kellogg's Bran is made at Toronto, Canada and sold at all grocers. It is served in individual packages by the leading hotels and clubs. Ask for it at your restaurant.

The conference objective of $30,000 from this conference for missions this year was reported as being well in hand. Rev. G. M. Young from the St. Stephen district reported that that section would be able to raise its apportionment.

NEGRO CHEMISTRY MYSTIFIES CROWD

Discoveries Revealed by God, Professor Tells Women's Society.

New York, Nov. 21.—Dr. George W. Carver, a negro professor of Tuskegee institute and son of an ex-slave, spoke at the forty-second anniversary celebration of the Women's Board of Domestic Missions of the Reformed Church of America, held at the Marble Collegiate Church, and astonished the large assembly with his discoveries in agricultural chemistry.

Refused Offer of Big Salary.

It was brought out at the meeting that although Dr. Carver was poorly paid, he had refused the offer of a princely salary from Thomas A. Edison, who wished to have the professor join his laboratory staff at Orange, N. J. He also has refused offers from others, preferring to remain with his own people and help them solve economic conditions in the South.

Thirty-two Kinds of Milk in Peanut.

"I reckon some of you folks don't think so much of the peanut," he said. "Why, I've discovered 32 different kinds of milk in the peanut, and richer than cow's milk."

He told how in the clay of the country around Tuskegee he had discovered 800 different colored paints, one of them an Egyptian blue, the color so frequently used by the ancient Egyptians, and the making of which was a lost art.

DON'T START MUSIC STUDY SOON ENOUGH

Montreal Lecturer Speaks of Benefits—Health and Longevity.

In a time when much is heard of mental "complexes" and the evils of repression, music furnishes a most pleasant and efficacious remedy for many types of nervous ills, Mrs. James McDougall told members of the Delphic Study Club at a luncheon in Montreal. Her paper, "The Need of Music in Everyday Life," concisely summed up the benefits—physical, mental and artistic—to be derived from the study of music.

HOSPITAL AID PLANS ACTIVITY

Further Help for Several City Institutions Considered at Meeting.

As a Christmas gift to the East St. John Hospital, the Women's Hospital Aid yesterday voted to present ten additional bedside radio sets that will complete the radio installation at the hospital.

Hallowe'en Treat. Mrs. L. Owens reported that with Mrs. Lester Mowry she had had charge of the Hallowe'en treat for the children, 40 in all, in the General Public Hospital, Epidemic and East St. John.

Mrs. W. E. Morris gave the visiting committee report. One week a very generous contribution of flowers came from an unknown donor.

T. H. Carter reported a barrel of apples had provided fruit at a cost of $3.25 and gifts of other apples and grapes had been appreciated.

Visiting conveners for the County Hospital were appointed as follows: Miss Lillian Hazen, Mrs. Graham, Mrs. J. D. Williams and Mrs. A. M. Bell.

It was reported five bathrobes had been provided at a cost of about $7 each and it was felt supplying bathrobes was too big a contract for the Aid to undertake any longer.

Cases Reported. Miss Howe, social service nurse, reported 56 visits and investigation of 32 tonsil and adenoid cases of whom 15 cases were able to pay and $125 was received.

Miss Howe said she would be very glad to receive old clothing for distribution in her work.

Mrs. Ralph Robertson gave the magazine report. For the house committee, Mrs. Morris spoke very appreciatively of the new X-Ray department.

Miss M. Murdoch, superintendent of nurses, had asked if the Aid would provide 100 personal property bags for the patients. Action in this matter was deferred until next month.

Miss Hazen appealed to the members for gifts of yarn to be made into mittens and for mittens to be given the newboys. And many present promised gifts.

Arrangements were made for the Christmas treats for the two hospitals. Mrs. George Ewing was made convener for the County Hospital treat.

Convener for the treat at the General Public Hospital were appointed as follows: Tree, Miss Ella McGaffigan; greening, Mrs. J. H. Doody; candy, Mrs. T. H. Carter; cards, Mrs. Ralph Robertson; purchasing material for stockings, Mrs. W. E. Morris; making of stockings, Mrs. George Culbertson. Stone church W. A. was to be asked to make another gift of candy bags.

Denominational vice-presidents' reports were received. Mrs. T. H. Carter was asked to take charge of the books that had been brought in for book day. The response for book day was not so good as it had been the previous year.

EXPRESS REGRET. Great regret at the coming departure of Miss Meiklejohn was expressed at the meeting of the New Brunswick division of the St. John Ambulance Association held yesterday afternoon in the Health Centre with W. S. Allison, president, in the chair.

The meeting was specially called to arrange for a lecture which will be given by Ven. Archdeacon A. H. Crowfoot in aid of the funds of the association, which have reached a low ebb. A committee consisting of Mrs. J. Boyle Travers, Miss Lillian Hazen, Mrs. Frank S. White, Mrs. A. M. Rowan and Miss Irene Barber was appointed to attend to details in connection with the forthcoming lecture.

CONVERSAZIONE OF ART CLUB ENJOYED

The Officers are Elected and Delightful Hours are Spent.

To open the eyes of the citizens of St. John that they may see the beauty of their city which has a sea view from every street and may also see the beauty in commonplace things, was described as the purpose of the St. John Art Club by Ven. Archdeacon A. H. Crowfoot, president of the club, speaking at the annual conversation last night.

Archdeacon Crowfoot as president of the Institute, also gave a double welcome to the company. It had been hoped to have a loan collection of pictures from the National Gallery at Ottawa, but as these were already asked for the club would have to wait for them until next year.

NEWS TOPICS IN LONDON LETTER and for adornment it will be left to rely on regimental and other memorials.

(From Times-Star Correspondent.) London, Nov. 6.—The Labor Government, which came into office a few months ago with such a flourish of megaphones and beating of saxes, is defunct, and Mr. Baldwin succeeds Mr. MacDonald as the First Commor of England.

It has been asserted by close students of world politics that our general election, with its impressive swing from left to right, is merely symptomatic of the first diffusion of the peace conditions, there was a strong movement towards the left, but this has now cured itself by a similar diffusion, and so popular feeling swings back more decidedly to stability and moderation.

The future of the Liberal Party is a great question emerging from the elections. It is possible that the party so fundamental a claim as Liberalism is dead, yet Labor's claim as a second party is emphasized by a poll of 208,000 voters. The Liberal and Labor now number appreciably more members in the new House of Commons than the Conservatives and Liberal Unionists did in the 1923 Parliament.

Miss Rita Deroches, 33 Rothesay avenue, said for the last few years she had been well. She started taking Drigo in March, 1924. Previous to that she had night sweats and was weak. She consulted Dr. Bridges in February at the clinic.

Dr. F. X. Cormeau, physician, residing in Fairville, then took Mrs. Rita Deroches to the County Hospital. He had met Dr. McCourt at the O'Neill Pharmacy. Drigo was drawn to his attention about February, 1924, through Dr. McCourt.

Dr. Baxter continued the cross examination of Dr. McCourt when court resumed. This is the third day of the examination. His pay did not vary with the (Continued on page 15, first column)

WALK UPSTAIRS AND SAVE TEA

Big Roomy ALL-WOOL-WINTER OVERCOATS

The literary tradition of the French diplomatic service is well maintained by the new French ambassador to London, M. de Fleuriau, who comes now from the Far East to be chief of the Hyde Park embassy, where formerly he served under M. Cambon, not only writes well himself, but shares Mr. Birrell's passion for old books.

No German Ribbentrop. No great German financial figure has come forward to do the cloak of Hugo Stinnes. The gigantic Stinnes combine still hangs together, but it is approaching stagnation, and no longer a driving force in German politics.

Is London Essential? In the city there has been one curious result of the Zinoviev letter that is unexpected, with the general election. It was only natural in the circumstances that business men, when there was so much talk of "revolution" and "Socialist methods," should consider what their position would actually be if the country suddenly went mad.

Downing Street "Mystery". An election joke that someone played off at the Labor Premier's expense concerning Scotland Yard's acutest sleuths with a mystery that might have baffled Sherlock Holmes.

Woman Who Owns 'Busses'. The first woman to own a fleet of London omnibusses is, I fancy, Mrs. Helen Jane O'Farrell Kelly, whose name already appears on the side of three 'busses. She is not a mere figurehead, I am told, but takes a keen and personal interest in the running of her new enterprise from an office in Kensington.

Keats' most haunting line hits off Hyde Park now—"The sedge has withered from the lake, and no birds sing." In a fortnight the Serpentine boatmen will shut down, after the most disastrous season their eldest veterans can remember. Already rows of small craft, once crowded with festive Cockney Wet Bobs, are roomed for the winter in mid-stream, like those obsolete naval ships that haunt the Solihull Reach at Plymouth. They are "fully manned" by seagulls. Looking across the mile-long stretch of water towards Kensington Gardens, all summer's grateful plumes are gone. Peter Pan's Island is bald and gaunt. The shady nooks where honey-moon boaters lingered are open to all the world. And a ready Office of Works is fencing off the northern bank of the Serpentine, preparatory to re-making and raising it, in order to stop floods. The old coping, now submerged six inches, is beloved of ducks, which perch along it, secure and nicely damp, in queues, rather like London Commuters waiting for the trolley-headed cars. All summer two dingy grey herons, most shy birds, have hidden themselves from public view beneath a low thick bush with overhanging branches. It was "convenient" to the Serpentine night fishing, remote, secret. Though every shrew of cover long since faded away, and they are as visible there as on St. Paul's dome, the two herons still crouch beneath their bush. Foolish birds, herons, with what Sir John Falstaff calls "most weak hams!"

(Continued from page 13.) Number of bottles of medicine used in his first prescription had been for Heriorum. The O'Neil Pharmacy was the only place the prescription could be filled. In the DeRoche case the weights had been heavy. He believed that there was slight activity of tuberculosis in this case. His diagnosis had been partly based on the patient's history as told by the patient.

Dr. Baxter attempted to have the witness define "lesion." "A lesion was a break in the continuity of tissue." In the Aucoin case he believed that there was a break in the continuity of the lung tissue. When he examined her later he could not find the lesion.

Dr. Baxter and the witness entered into a lengthy discussion of "lesions." One thing led to another until Dr. Baxter asked if the doctor knew of any cure for cancer. Dr. McCourt wished that he knew. In another case her recovery was a cure in his opinion.

In the reports on the various cases he was asked to distinguish what portions of the reports were supplied by him. All of the information was not supplied by him. He had told Mr. Driscoll and he had taken down the notes. He seldom kept a record of his cases. He did not know why the record had been made up. The suggestion to keep reports had not come from him. He did not know whether it was intended for sale promotion purposes.

He had heard that it was to be sent to Dr. Byes, in Montreal. He did not think that it was circulated among prospective patients. He had graduated in Arts from St. Joseph's. He had taken his medical course in New York.

higher temperature were indications of the presence of tuberculosis. The X-ray was to be relied on more than anything else.

There were about three stages in the course of the disease. The sputum he believed had in some of these cases been examined at the Health Centre and found to be positive.

All of the cases had been reported to the clinic. He had advised the Gaudet boy to go to the East St. John Hospital. Dr. Farris had called him over the phone. He had told Dr. Farris that he was prescribing the medicine and was getting results. Dr. Farris had said, "Do you believe in it?" Dr. McCourt had said "Yes." He thought from the tone of Dr. Farris' voice that he believed the medicine was worthless.

Dr. Baxter—"What ingredients were used in the making of this preparation?" Dr. Pugsley—"Do not answer." Judge Crockett—"At the present stage I will not allow it."

Re-examined by Hon. William Pugsley, Dr. McCourt said that although the sanatoria of the province were doing great work there were many people in the province who could not be accommodated in the two sanatoria. This question of Dr. Pugsley's led Mr. Powell to object to what he termed Dr. Pugsley's making a trade, and asking the witness to assent to it.

Dr. McCourt had no interest whatever in the sale of the medicine. His telephone conversation with Dr. Farris had been after the publication of the article over which the case arose in the Beacon.

Robert Thompson was examined by Mr. Ryan. He resided at 27 Gilbert Lane. He was a night watchman at the Admiral Beatty. He knew Dr. Farris and had been a patient in the East St. John hospital in 1919. He had consulted Dr. White and Dr. Rowley before going to the hospital. He remained there four and a half months. On leaving he was feeling pretty well.

Dr. Farris had wanted him to stay a year. When he asked Dr. Farris if he stayed the year would he be able to work. Dr. Farris had told him that perhaps he could do a light job, five or six hours a day. To this he had said that he would go out as he might as well die quick. He got a job at the exhibition. Later he was employed at the cotton mill for a year and a half, as a night watchman. His general health had been bad. He had been sent to the country by Dr. Nase, suffering from ulcers of the stomach. A year ago, in June, he had again gone to the East St. John hospital and remained there for several weeks. During the time he was working in the cotton mill he had suffered from night sweats and a loss of appetite. When he left the institution he was not feeling well.

He worked 25 days last winter shoveling snow. His health was poor. No appetite and tired feeling. During the spring his condition was the same. He had seen Dr. McCourt in July. He was feeling miserable at that time. He still had the pain in his stomach. He started taking the medicine. After he had taken the second bottle he felt better. He had continued to take the medicine. He had started to work five weeks ago.

TEAMS MUST KEEP CLOSE TO CURB

Two Drivers are Summoned to Court as Matter of Warning.

Mark Shannon and George Laughrey were summoned to the police court this morning to answer a charge of driving their horses in the centre of Union street instead of near the curb, and thus interfering with traffic. The charge was made by Policeman Alexander Chisholm, who in reporting the defendants he had no desire to have them fined, but wanted to bring to the attention of teamsters that they were repeatedly violating the law. Both defendants acknowledged that they were guilty of the offense and said they had used the centre of the street because of the slippery condition of the pavement. They were allowed to go with a warning.

MUST BE DRIVEN NO MORE.

A case against Bertram Hall, who was reported recently for driving a horse unfit for work, was concluded in the police court this morning. L. A. Donovan, veterinary, said that he had treated the horse about two years ago. At that time it was suffering from inflammation of the tendons in one of his legs. Since then he had seen the horse on several occasions. The tendons had contracted and as a result the horse became very lame and he did not consider it fit for work. Recently the owner had changed the shoes on the horse and had calks put in the front of the shoe, which had aggravated the trouble. In answer to a question put by Magistrate Henderson he said the horse was not fit for work and should be destroyed. W. Bedford, owner of the horse, promised to put the horse out of misery. With this understanding the case against the driver was dropped.

Every little girl in St. John will have an opportunity to secure a "Carrie Joy" Mama Doll free. See important announcement in The Telegraph-Journal tomorrow morning.

MUST PAY $100 OR GO BEHIND BARS

Robert Edison is Dealt With on Charge of Non-Support.

Charged with failing to provide for his wife and children Robert Edison, colored, was fined $100 or six months in jail by Magistrate Henderson in the police court this morning. When the charge of failing to support his wife for nearly three years was read to the defendant he pleaded guilty and said it was no fault of his. His wife told of being married in March 1920, and said her husband had provided for her for only a few months and then left her and she had to go out and work. Later he returned and again left her. She said she had written to him for money to pay doctor's bills for her baby but he had not sent her a cent. She said he arrived in the city a week ago but had not called to see her or her children.

Magistrate Henderson warned the defendant that he could be fined $500 or sent to jail for one year. He re-examined the defendant for his actions and said he would have to go to jail for six months or pay a fine of $100.

Another Case.

A case against John M. Burchill, who was charged with non-support, was continued in the police court this morning. G. H. V. Belyea, who appeared for the defendant, had Mrs. Elizabeth Burchill recalled and cross-examined her. She was then re-examined by E. J. Henneberry. Miss K. Shannon was then summoned for the prosecution, and the case for the prosecution was closed. Mr. Belyea asked that the defendant be dismissed as the case had not been properly made out. Magistrate Henderson dismissed the application and advised the parties to endeavor to come to an amicable settlement. He allowed the case to stand over until next Friday morning.
