J. A. MACKELVIE DIES SOON AFTER LEAVING HOUSE

Served in Riel Rebellion—Was Twice Sent by People to Commons.

REPRESENTED YALE

Succumbs to an Attack of Heart Disease in Room in Hotel.

(Canadian Press.)

Ottawa, June 4.—John A. Mackelvie, Conservative member of Parliament for Yale, B. C., died of heart disease at his apartment in the Alexandria Hotel at one o'clock this morning. He was in his 59th year. He had come to the hotel after attending the night session of the House of Commons and retired at 10.30, complaining of a pain over the heart. At one o'clock Mrs. Mackelvie was awakened by her husband, who was in great distress. She summoned Senator Schnafner, M. D., who has rooms near Mr. Mackelvie. He hastily went to give medical assistance, but found that Mr. Mackelvie had died in bed in the short interval.

Born in St. John.

John Armstrong Mackelvie was born in St. John, N. B., on September 14, 1865, the son of Thomas Mackelvie and Sarah Jane Armstrong. He was educated at St. John grammar school. On February 15, 1892, he married Jessie Stuart McIntyre, daughter of Donald McIntyre of Invernesshire, Scotland. He went to British Columbia, and in 1893 he became editor of the Vernon News. He was a member of the royal commission on labor for the Government of British Columbia, 1912 and 1913. He was a member of the Vernon City Club, A. F. and A. M., and the Independent Order of Foresters.

Mr. Mackelvie went to Calgary in 1893. He served during the Riel rebellion in 1885 in the Alberta mounted rifles. He moved to Vancouver in 1888 and to Vernon in 1889. He was first elected to the House of Commons in a by-election for Yale on November 22, 1920, and was re-elected in the general election of 1921. In religion he was a Presbyterian. Mr. Mackelvie is survived by his wife.

AN INDIAN BOY TRIES SUICIDE

Sends a Bullet Through His Breast and is Near Death.

Fredericton, N. B., June 4.—(Special)—Frank Joe, an Indian boy in his 15th year, sent a bullet from a sixteen calibre shotgun through his right breast this morning at the St. Mary's Reserve, Devon, in an attempt at suicide. He is in Victoria Hospital here, with little hope held out for his life. The boy formerly resided in Woodstock, but for a few years has lived at the St. Mary's Reserve as the adopted son of S. Brooks. He is a bright boy, and attended the Indian school at the Reserve, where he did well and was about completing his final year.

No reason for the boy's act seems apparent. Brooks this morning said he had been told since the attempt that the boy had told women about the Reserve that he had intended to shoot himself. His parents are both dead and he has no relatives. Between 7 and 7.30 o'clock this morning Brooks was aroused by the report of the gun. He left his bed and was met by the boy, who after taking the gun to the outhouse and shooting himself opened the door of the outhouse and climbed the stairs. He was asked if he had done the deed intentionally and replied that he had. He evidently had used a bullet, which had entered his right breast and left under the right shoulder. Investigation showed that the boy had placed the butt of the gun in a corner and touched the trigger with an alder twig.

France May Suppress Embassy at Vatican

Rome, June 4.—The Vatican has learned with regret of M. Herriot's intention, as head of the new French Ministry, to suppress the French Embassy to the Holy See. It is unlooked for move so far as the Vatican is concerned, and it is considered by Vatican officials that the embassy is more to the advantage of France than the Holy See, as, in maintaining good relations with the Catholic missions in the Near East and Far West for furthering French interests, it recalled that the Vatican obtained from appointing plenipotentiaries at Paris, as a recommendation of France, which desired that all Catholic interests in China should be looked after by the French minister there.

ALBANIANS ARE FOR A REPUBLIC

That is the Explanation of the Revolutionary Movement—Italy Watchful.

By HENRY WOOD.

(United Press Staff Correspondent) Rome, June 4.—The success of the Albanian Nationalist revolution probably means final defeat of the party which sought to establish a monarchy and that Albania will become a Republic. Nationalists who favor a Republic revolted against the present Government because they held it responsible for the assassination of Essad Pasha in Paris, as a part of his efforts on behalf of the Albanian form of government, and upon his return to Albania he was murdered. The current revolution was to oust those held responsible for Essad's death, and to establish a temporary regime favorable to a Republic. The general tenor of the speeches by a sign of Government desired by the people.

Italy, keeping a watchful eye on developments and her interests, does not intend to act as long as the revolution keeps within its present limits. Italy regards the revolution merely as a struggle between political parties, according to traditional Albanian methods, the object being to secure control of the Government. If, as the late dispatches indicated, the insurgent Nationalists now occupy Tirana, the capital, it is all the same to Italy. On a purely domestic affair such as this, the attitude of Italy, various and sundry, is of the United States might be towards a minor revolution in one of the Latin American countries.

OPPOSES ADVANCE IN HYDRO RATES

Toronto City Council Unanimously Protests Against Equalization Scheme.

Toronto, Ont., June 4.—There was evidence of the unpopularity of the Provincial Hydro Commission's "equalization" scheme for local hydro rates when the city council early this morning voted unanimously, on motion of Crotter Foster, in protest against any increase in hydro rates for domestic purposes. Mayor Hiltz was instructed to take up the matter with the Provincial Hydro Commission. The general tenor of the speeches by aldermen was that the present was no time to raise rates to small consumers. Earlier, the council had stood 20 to 3 to accept Sir Adam Beck's plan, whereby the city will spend $2,000,000 in improving the York radial lines, operated by the hydro for the city.

PEGGY HOPKINS JOYCE MARRIES SWEDISH COUNT

Actress for Whom Men have Killed Themselves Takes Fourth Husband.

IS BUSINESS MAN

Says Stage She Has Graced Will See Her No More.

By FRANK GETTY. (United Press Staff Correspondent) New York, June 4.—"This is my first real marriage and my last. Oh! at last I'm in love!"—and Peggy Hopkins Joyce, radiant, raised her beautiful arms ecstatically and smiled upon her new and fourth husband, Count Gosta Morner of Sweden.

For pretty Peggy, for want of whose love men have killed themselves and whose priceless jewels and millionaire husbands and fascinating smile have long been the sensation of two continents, has married again.

"This time for love," the actress said, happily, "love at first sight, the love the parents blessing awaits them." Peggy Joyce's new husband is descended from an old noble house of Sweden, but he is a young, strapping business man, six feet, three, aristocratic and immaculate in appearance. He is 24 years old, and when they signed the register in the Swedish Lutheran church at Atlantic City last week Peggy gave her age as 28. The stage which Peggy has graced for many years will see her no more, her new husband says. HE will take her to Paris in the fall for a rest, the count explained; then Sweden and the baronial halls among the fjords, where the parental blessing awaits them.

Chicago, June 4.—(Canadian Press)—Peggy Hopkins Joyce, married to Count Gosta Morner, has apparently ended a precedent of wedding only millionaires. Her husband is said to be only moderately wealthy. He is associated here with a Swedish dentistry company which makes toothpaste from a formula brought from the count's native land.

Since her divorce in 1921 from Stanley Joyce, wealthy Chicago lumberman, which netted her $800,000, jewelry valued at 10 times that sum and various and sundry houses, automobiles, and some real estate, Peggy has been reported engaged or married many times.

Among the various persons who were reported about to marry her were Henri Lottier, wealthy Parisian publisher, Lou Tellegen, Jack Dempsey and Prince Lubomirsky.

BURNED TO DEATH IN THEIR COTTAGE

Toronto Woman and Two Children Perish—Maid and One Child Escape.

Toronto, June 4.—Mrs. Harry G. Peppel, wife of Harry George Peppel, 15 Whitney avenue, Toronto, formerly manager of the Aemilios Jarvis bond firm of Bay street, Toronto, and her two children, Ned, aged five years, and Rosemary, aged three, lost their lives when their summer cottage at Eastbourne, Lake Simcoe, was destroyed by fire at 7 o'clock this morning.

Mrs. Peppel's eight daughter, Allen, aged eight, and the maid rushed outside for help when they saw the flames, but as the nearest residence is a considerable distance from the cottage no assistance could be obtained. Mrs. Peppel went back into the burning cottage to rescue her children. She had succeeded almost in effecting their rescue as their charred bodies were found in the ruins of the veranda, while her body was discovered just inside the door of the cottage.

Her husband, Harry Peppel, was at the cottage last night but returned to Toronto at a late hour. The fire was caused by the explosion of a gasoline stove. Harry Peppel is one of the defendants in the charges of conspiracy to affect the market value of Ontario succession duty free bonds preferred by the Attorney General. He is a brother of Andrew Peppel, who recently faced a charge in Los Angeles of illegal entry into the United States.

Will Aid Flow of Capital to Canada

London, June 4.—(British United Press)—British capital for the development of the mineral resources of Canada will be available in far greater volume during the next twelve months than has been the case in the past, was the view expressed by delegates and experts attending the mining and metallurgy conference which opened last night at Wembley. The splendid display in the mining section of the British Empire exhibition is an important factor in influencing capital to be sent to Canada was the generally expressed opinion. Lord Leung devoted a large portion of his inaugural address to the resources of the Dominion.

AMERICAN FLYERS REACHED SHANGHAI

They Passed Doisy This Morning—Smith Commander—Portuguese Leave Calcutta.

(Canadian Press.) Shanghai, June 4.—Lieut. Leigh Wade and Eric Neilson, United States army aviators, arrived here today from Kagoshima, Japan. They left Kagoshima at 8.30 o'clock this (Wednesday) morning. The third plane refused to rise owing to engine trouble.

Shanghai, June 4.—(United Press)—Two of three American round-the-world planes flew successfully across the East China Sea from Japan to China today. The third plane, that of Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, commander of the flight, failed to take off satisfactorily from Shigetomine, Japan. Lieutenants Wade and Neilson, after hovering around awaiting their comrades here today, landed at Kagoshima and arrived here without mishap.

The American coast is under way of the flight, which is being commanded by Smith, who is accompanied by his plane, and it was hoped the flight commander would catch up with his comrades here tomorrow.

Washington, June 4.—Acting upon the personal request of Major Frederick L. Martin, former commander of the United States army, Major General Patrick, chief of the army service, has designated Lieut. Lowell H. Smith to be permanently in command of the globe-encircling flight.

A plan to have Major Martin re-embark on the flight was abandoned after he had conferred with the air service chief and other war department officials.

Pass the Frenchman. Tokyo, June 4.—(United Press)—Captain Bellefleur D'Olisy, Frenchman, and Lieutenants Wade and Neilson, Americans, may be said to have passed in the air today on their respective long distance flights, although their courses lay many hundreds miles apart.

Capt. D'Olisy, winging eastward, flew from Phonyang to Zalko in the Korean Peninsula, landing at the latter place at 8.20 a.m. About the time the plane was crossing the 38th meridian, on his eastward course, the American plane, flying from the south while flying westward over the east China sea, 150 miles farther south. MARX GOVERNMENT STILL IN POWER

Three German Groups Have United to Keep it in Office.

Berlin, June 4.—The Marx-Stresemann cabinet, which resigned May 26, but continued to carry on current affairs, is back in office. President Ebert last night reappointed Dr. Wilhelm Marx as Chancellor and confirmed the members of his ministry in their posts.

In the period intervening since the resignation of the cabinet it had been found impossible to bring about an alignment of parties so that a new ministry could come into power, and the final outcome is a reunion of the German People's Party with the Clericals and Democrats, enabling the Marx-Stresemann combination to office.

Bootlegger's Appeal For Exemption Denied

Ottawa, June 4.—Judge Audette in Exchequer Court dismissed the appeal of Cecil B. Smith, who asked that profits made in bootlegging be exempt from income taxation. Smith operates a garage in Windsor, Ont. The court remarked that Smith "invokes his own turpitude to claim immunity from paying taxes and to be placed in a better position than if he were an honest and legal trader."

METROPOLITAN GIVES ADDRESS IN FREDERICTON

Provincial Synod, Church of England, Assembles in Memorial Hall.

100 IN ATTENDANCE

Church Doctrine Referred to by Archbishop—Newfoundland.

(Special to Times-Star.)

Fredericton, N. B., June 4.—The Provincial Synod of the Ecclesiastical Province of Canada Church of England, assembled here this morning with about 100 clerical and lay delegates from the four dioceses of Montreal, Quebec, Fredericton, and Nova Scotia in attendance, representing the Anglican connexion in Eastern Canada. The delegates assembled at the Memorial Hall of Christ Church Cathedral at ten o'clock and at 10.30 marched in procession to the Cathedral where service was held. His Lordship Bishop Partridge of Montreal was the preacher. The vestments of the clergy made "a most impressive sight."

The first business session of the Provincial Synod opened this afternoon. His Grace, Archbishop Worrell of Nova Scotia, metropolitan, delivered an address to the combined upper and lower houses after which the two houses met separately. His address was as follows:—

Right Reverend Brethren and brethren of the clergy and laity of the ecclesiastical province of Canada.

It is a great pleasure to meet, as a synod, in this beautiful and historic city—the see of the Diocese of Fredericton.

It is closely connected with some of the most interesting events of the early history of Canada and it will never be forgotten that this was the centre of the jurisdiction of that saintly prelate, Bishop Medley, the first bishop of the City of Montreal to hold the office of Metropolitan of the ecclesiastical Province of Canada. He would have been Archbishop of Fredericton if that title had been adopted in his time as the distinguishing title of the Metropolitan of a Canadian province. His monument is that stately and beautiful cathedral in which we held our opening service and which was first erected through his earnest and faithful work and that is the centre of the splendid organization which he gave to his diocese.

The diocese has been singularly blessed in the bishops that have presided over it from the beginning: Bishop Medley with his genius for organization and wealth of spiritual life, Bishop Kingdon, who was an acknowledged authority in theological learning and, now, the present diocesan, who holds so prominent a place in the councils of the church and who is strong in the affections of his people.

The settling of our synod meeting is perfect and I have great hope for the work which I believe will be accomplished. Prayer Book It is not my intention to take up the time of the synod with an extended address. My enforced absence from the province and the consequent demands upon my time after my return prevent me. I know, too, that the delegates who have come are anxious to get to business as quickly as possible and make the session as brief as possible, consistent with a careful consideration and discussion of all matters to be brought up.

The session was called especially to give the synod an opportunity to confirm the canon authorizing the Canadian prayer book for use in this province. It was thought well that this should be done before the meeting of the general synod in September, and there seemed to be no other time for this but the present week.

It also gives an opportunity for presenting for confirmation the amendment to Canon VI which was adopted at the last session. It would hardly be wise for me at this stage to express an opinion upon these matters. They are for the synod to decide and I have every confidence that the judgment of those present will be in every way satisfactory.

The canons and regulations of the provincial synod have been more or less difficult to discover and it seems desirable that these should be arranged and consolidated and made accessible to the delegates. The committee appointed for this will present its report which has been the work chiefly of the lay secretary, who has given much time and thought (Continued on page 9, fourth column.)

This interesting and exclusive photograph shows a gathering at Usbek where the right to abolish the veil, with which women of that region have been swathed for generations, is the question. Also they are being instructed as to their rights under recent emancipation rulings.

Babe, Forgotten in Fire Excitement, Is Fatally Burned in High Chair

New York, June 4.—Susan Cabine, three years old, was burned fatally in a fire that destroyed the kitchen and dining room of the apartment of Mrs. Mary Cabine on the second floor of the four-story building at 681 West 125th Street, New York City. The baby died in an ambulance on the way to Cumberland Street Hospital.

A crowd of several hundred persons watched the fire, which lasted only ten minutes, but necessitated the rescue of a woman and a six-year-old boy from an apartment on the top floor. The fire was started when clothes drying on a line in the kitchen fell on a gas range where Miss Annie Buonopolo, the baby's aunt, was preparing lunch. Susan was seated in her high chair near the stove.

The flames spread from the clothes to window draperies and to other furnishings. The woman became frightened and ran from the apartment, calling to Mrs. Cabine's two small sons, Frank and John, to follow. When Mrs. Cabine returned she found the baby in the high chair and into the kitchen. Susan was still seated in her high chair. It was charred and blackened and the little girl lay across a bowl that had been placed before her to hold food. The rescuers picked up the chair without removing the baby and carried both to the street.

A physician lifted both chair and baby into the ambulance. Emergency treatment was given the child in the race to the hospital, but Susan was dead when the ambulance drove into the hospital entrance.

As the ambulance darted away other firemen raised a 35-foot ladder to an apartment on the top floor and carried Miss Vincenza Casumano and her nephew, Carmine Nitter, six, to the street. The young woman said she and the boy had tried to escape by the stairs but were driven back by smoke.

GREAT BRITISH RACE CLASSIC IS RUN IN DRIZZLE

Sansovina, Owned by Lord Derby, Followed in by Astor Entry.

HURSTWOOD THIRD

Twenty-seven Horses in the Great Race Witnessed by Half Million People.

(United Press.)

Epsom Downs, June 4.—Lord Derby's Sansovina, the favorite, won the historic Epsom Derby today from a large field of the best three-year-olds in England.

The race was run in a drizzle, which dampened the course but not the enthusiasm of nearly half a million race-goers who crowded grandstand, enclosure and rolling downs to see the 141st renewal of the famous race for the Derby stakes.

The victory of the favorite was greeted by thunderous cheers. Sansovina, ridden by Jockey Weston, had been quoted at 7 to 1, choice of the field. Astor Entry Second.

Sansovina is by Swynford, out of Gondolite. Viscount Astor's St. Germain, by Swynford out of Hainness, was second and Somerville Tattersall's Hurstwood, by Gay Crusader out of Beadale, third. Twenty-seven horses ran.

Epsom Downs, Surrey, England, June 4.—The dawn of Derby Day disclosed a grey sky with a chilly wind, portending rain. Britishes, however, are familiar with such dawns and thousands of them, willing to take a chance with the weather as with their horses, were at the track early with thousands of others wending their way to the litters, motor, in lorries and about.

The handlers were about their tasks early, getting the thirty or so three-year-olds ready for the dash of a mile and a half which constitutes Great Britain's blue ribbon classic, and upon the result of which the entire nation's interest is centered. The horses were to go to the post at three o'clock.

The uncertainty over the possible winner was greater than ever this morning. Although the betting odds were warned by the sport writers not to back any horse without being prepared to lose their money. The selections of the tipsters differed widely, and all tied a string to their choicest.

The doubtful outcome of the race was emphasized by overcast weather in the betting odds, the Earl of Derby's Sansovina becoming the favorite at 7 to 1 against H. H. Aga Khan's Diophon. In the afternoon place at 8 to 1, and Lord Woolavington's Tom Pinch, quoted third at 10 to 1.

The question of Steve Donoghue's mount was declared in motion by the newspaper reports this morning to have been definitely settled. J. B. Joel being adamant in his determination to retain for his defiance the services of the jockey who won the Derby three years in succession. Some of the sport writers said, however, that Lord Woolavington was continuing to the last moment in his efforts to persuade Joel to allow Donoghue to have the jockey on Tom Pinch, which otherwise will be ridden by M. Beasley. Ben Irish, owner of Papyrus, the Derby winner last year, is represented by Dawson City, son of Spearpoint, which won the great classic in 1908.

The biggest pot of all the many that are won on the Derby is piled up, not in pounds sterling of London but in the rupees of India, the Calcutta Sweepstakes. In London there is a Stock Exchange Sweepstakes with $50,000 in it for the one who holds the name of the winner, and everywhere throughout the country in every club, almost in every office — even among little children who have only pennies to place — there was money to be won on the outcome of the great classic.

King Edward Report Also Good—Admiral Beatty Tenders Discussed

Comparative reports for the first five months of each year presented on Monday at the meeting of the Mount Royal Hotel Company, Limited, Montreal, says the Montreal Gazette, showed an increase of business at that establishment during the period just terminated as against the similar part of 1923. The general business was better and the report indicated an increase in the net earnings in comparison with last year's experience.

The meeting was held at the offices of the Mount Royal Hotel, New York, and the following local directors: Wm. Birks, Senator Beaulieu, E. R. Decary, Senator Smeaton White, Lord Shaughnessy, K. C., Gen. H. O'Neill, Toronto, general manager of the United Hotels in Canada; and D. H. McDougall, secretary-treasurer United Hotels.

In reviewing the business of the Mount Royal it was said that conditions were excellent, and that business was exceptionally heavy. It was pointed out that the hotel has booked six conventions during June, and for one of them, that of the New York State Bankers Association, 700 reservations have been accepted.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THE THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

LAST NIGHT FOR "PRODIGAL SON"

The Imperial enjoyed good holiday business all day yesterday, and this third and last day of the great English (Hall Caine) feature, "The Prodigal Son," those who were enjoying the out-of-doors on the King's birthday will have the opportunity of seeing the picture.

Tomorrow the Saturday Evening Post romance, "Wild Oranges," is to be the picture attraction, and will continue until Saturday night. It is a most exciting drama of love, adventure and thrills on the Florida coast and tropical seas.

FEAR SUICIDE OF LOEB AND LEOPOLD

They Have Signed No Confession, and Witnesses Must Testify.

Chicago, Ill., June 4.—Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, millionaires' sons, admitted kidnapers and slayers of Robert Franks, school boy son of wealthy Jacob Franks, have signed no confessions of guilt, it is being known today, and the state which has asked the grand jury to indict the boys, must rely on the testimony of witnesses who heard their statements.

Double guards have been placed to watch the county jail cells of the pair day and night until they are tried. Fearful that either may attempt to carry out previously expressed suicide plans, all food taken to them is rigidly inspected, and jail employees have been cautioned to prevent smuggling to the prisoners any means for self-destruction.

ONE BAD TURN DESERVES ANOTHER.

It is usually quoted the other way when it comes to eliminating bad turns in the King's highway and straightening the thoroughfare for the safety of motorists and traffic in general, the more of these "bad turns" that are fixed the better. Government engineers and workmen have done wonders already with the Westfield road at such places as the Acamac cliff-turn hill, the new scenic stretch between Acamac and Ketepec, abandoning the old red brick hills; and fixing the culvert section north of the Ketepec station. Now they are making a deep rock cutting just beyond the culvert mentioned that will practically straighten out one of the most dangerous turns on the highway, a long sweeping neck-crane turn. The motoring public at least must appreciate these costly but excellent changes.

Man is Entirely Surrounded By Keyholes

"My kingdom for my keys" might be the modern cry of some hard pressed monarch. When keys are lost, the average man is in a serious predicament. The house key, the desk key, the safety deposit box key, the locker key are seldom appreciated until they are misplaced. Then man realizes the value of keys, he realizes that he is entirely surrounded by keyholes.

Without the "Lost and Found" advertising in newspapers what chance would a man have of recovering a key ring or any other valuable property which he has lost? But with the Lost and Found ads the recovery of such valuables is usually a very simple proposition.

ST. JOHN, N. B., JUNE 4, 1924

A BALDWIN BOMBHELL

Mr. Stanley Baldwin, former Premier of Great Britain, is not given to sensationalism, but in mid-May a Sunday newspaper in London published an interview with him which was sensational enough, and which he subsequently repudiated so guardedly and with so many qualifications that many were led to believe the interview was substantially correct. Indeed the Conservative Morning Post, which republished the interview, told its readers that Mr. Baldwin would have said the things credited to him, even if he did not say them.

The interview was marked by two features chiefly, the first a reference to Conservative policy and the second a very lively dressing down for Lord Rothermere and Lord Beaverbrook, together with some caustic references to Lloyd George, Mr. Churchill and Lord Birkenhead.
First of all Mr. Baldwin was credited with saying that if the Tory party is to exist it must have a vital, democratic creed, must reduce the cost of living, must tackle social and economic evils in a practical way, and must see that the producer gets a greater reward for his work. He believed that his party had been too closely identified with vested interests, and that it must live for the people in the widest sense. He followed this by a sharp attack upon food profiteering. He said, also, that if the Conservatives had not gone to the country and been defeated last year the party would have died of dry rot within two years and Labor would have gone in with a sweeping majority. In short, Mr. Baldwin was alleged to have revealed a plan for extensively liberalizing the Conservative party. Then he was credited with having spoken of individuals, saying that he was determined that never should the sinister and cynical combination of the chief three of the coalition—Mr. Lloyd George, Mr. Churchill and Lord Birkenhead—come together again. But today you can see the signs of the times. Of Lord Birkenhead he said: "If his health does not give away he will be a liability to the party." He went on to speak of being attacked by the "trust press" of Lord Beaverbrook and Lord Rothermere and, according to the interview, he said:

"For myself I do not mind. I care not what they say or think. They are both men that I would not have in my house. I do not respect them. Who are they?"
He described Northcliffe with all his faults as a great journalist with a spark of genius, but of Rothermere he said: "But this man! I get much correspondence about him. A postcard the other day said, 'If Lord Rothermere wanders a halo in heaven or a coronet on earth you don't get it for him.'" Referring again to both Lord Rothermere and Lord Beaverbrook, the former Premier was quoted as saying: "As I said, I do not mind attacks on myself. I often wonder if my silent contempt irritates them more than if I were to speak out. I suppose it is my lot to suffer disloyalty. But there are limits."

The form of Mr. Baldwin's repudiation of the interview caused the general impression that he had uttered in private conversation the sentiments credited to him in print. The Morning Post said the interview contained at least some things which it would not wish unsaid, whether they were said by Mr. Baldwin or came from the fertile brain of the interviewer. The Post continued: "With an alarming and disarming frankness he tells the truth about the intrigue which has been going on for many months against the Conservative leader and the Conservative party as it is now constituted. We are glad these things have been written and published even if they have not been said, and if they had been said we should have pardoned Mr. Baldwin did not say these things, we are certain that a great many of our readers have been saying for some time past. We are certain that Mr. Baldwin said nothing of what he is alleged to have said concerning Lord Birkenhead, Lord Beaverbrook, Lord Rothermere and Mr. Churchill; but there is so much truth in what he is alleged to have said, that it is almost as good as if he had said it."

MORE WARNINGS

Fishermen who are found in the New Brunswick woods without having registered and secured forest travel permits will be prosecuted hereafter. This warning is issued by the Crown Land Department, in the course of a bulletin dealing with forest fires during May. It is worth noting that of twenty-four fires during the month fishermen are charged with causing four. The department says: "Fishermen who were found in the woods without permits were let off with a warning with two exceptions; in their cases prosecutions have been commenced. The periods for warnings is now over."
During May, although there was more than the average amount of rain, there were twenty-four forest fires, and here would have been many more undoubtedly, but that rain was general and heavy just before Victoria Day. Thirteen of the twenty-four fires were caused by settlers burning slash contrary to law. The slash burners are the most numerous class of offenders, and the guilty ones are to be prosecuted.

Every one of the fires in May could have been prevented. Indeed most of them were directly due to disregarding the fire laws. It is clear that the Department of Crown Lands is justified in bringing offenders sharply to account. That the loss in May was not greater is probably largely due to the weather, and everyone going into wooded country during the remainder of the season should keep in mind what grave loss may follow any act of carelessness or any disregard of the reasonable regulations made to preserve the greatest asset of the province. They must remember, too, that the period for warnings is now over."

SOMETHING ON ACCOUNT

Taxation ought not to be a partisan, political issue. Perhaps it is impossible to keep the tariff out of politics, but the income tax and other imposts should be more easily regarded as questions of business rather than of party politics. Interest in the matter of taxation is increased by the passage of the new fiscal measure at Washington, by which the income taxes are reduced considerably and some other taxes cut or abolished.

The Canadian Government's action in increasing the income tax exemption from $300 to $500 on each child has won commendation from a good many sources without regard to politics, and while this reduction will mean a loss of revenue of some $2,000,000, there are many who think that the acting Finance Minister, when he recently referred to it, intended to intimate that some further relief from income taxation may be expected next year. So far as that goes, no doubt much will depend upon the state of business and of the revenue at that time.

In the view of the Ottawa Citizen, which sometimes commends the Government and sometimes raps it across the knuckles, Hon. Mr. Robb was right in speaking of the additional exemption as "a fair start on a policy of reduction in taxation—a policy being necessary in the Government's opinion to make allowance for those who had growing families which they were educating." The Citizen suggests that the Government should prepare to go further in the matter of income tax reduction by gradually increasing the exemptions to wage and salary earners who now bear the brunt of this tax.

"For," says the Citizen, "undoubtedly the people who are classified in the income tax returns as 'employees,' and are receiving salaries just above the amount liable, feel the tax most keenly. There are thousands in the land receiving incomes which make them subject to the income impost who have to devote themselves, or forego other things, to meet the payments each year. It is this class which should receive first consideration. For it is to be remembered that an income of three thousand dollars today is about equivalent to one thousand, fifteen years ago, and fifteen hundred or two thousand just before the war. In addition, the small salary class is subject to an official inquiry regarding its meagre incomes which only intensifies the popular distaste for this tax."

Taxation ought not to be in any sense a class question. Further relief should come as a matter of justice to people of small or moderate income so soon as the Government can reduce public expenditure to a greater degree, or make up the loss of revenue from reduced income taxes by tapping other sources without unjust discrimination. The business of reducing taxation is a very serious issue with which all three of the political parties must grapple and nothing can be accomplished by merely trying to make "the other fellow" carry the load.

"I think things today are better than they used to be," says Sir Robert Falconer. "Taking human conditions in the main, there can be no doubt of it, says the Toronto Star. The past looks better to some people because when younger they used to feel better."
Some of the new stuff is very old. An American skipper who arrived in New York the other day told of encountering eight floating islands near the Philippines. He said these islands moved about and sometimes drifted together, and almost pocketed his steamer. "We passed one less than fifty feet to starboard," he said, "and monkeys up in the trees heaved coconuts at us." He thought all this made a novel tale. "A good sea tale but old stuff," says the Bangor News. "When Homer composed the Odyssey, some 3,000 years ago, he told of the Symplegades, at the entrance from the Black Sea into the Bosporus, which rushed together to crush the Argonauts, as they sailed through on their quest for the Golden Fleece. And it was an old yarn then. But that is all right. Sea life is conservative. And the best yarns are the oldest."

MR. GALLAGHER MET MR. SHEAN.

(Port Elgin Times.)
A humorous incident occurred to Rev. D. H. Gallagher, the new pastor of Knox church, when he first arrived in Port Elgin a few weeks ago. Stop-Bricker drawing up to the platform with his big car and surmising that he was there to meet the new arrival walked up to the car and extending his hand to Clarkson who is somewhat of a wit, said: "Beware of Gallagher." Recalling the song hit and thinking someone was trying to have some fun with him, Clarkson answered: "That's all right, I'm Shean." Gallagher drove off leaving Mr. Gallagher somewhat dumfounded and amused.

THE INVULNERABLE CARD SHARP.

(Providence Journal)
The Pullman Company has taken interesting and doubtless effective measures to check the depredations of card sharps on Florida-bound trains. Notices have been posted in its sleeping cars, bearing a picture of a smoothly groomed gentleman with an eye protruding from his coat-sleeve, and the warning: "Strangers who invite you to play cards generally are too lucky for the average mortals." The diplomatic phrasing of the warning is commendable, and at the same time is calculated to have a much greater effect than the old style of notice which ran simply, "Beware of pickpockets" or "Beware of gamblers." An official of the company says there are more professional card sharps traveling today than at any time in twenty-five years and that humanity is, by all the evidence more gullible than ever it has been. It is not a very long hop from the old Mississippi River steamboat to the latter-day Florida Coast club car, and the American traveler has taken the hop without learning much on the way.

U. S. INCOME TAXES.

(Acadian Recorder)
The new United States tax law signed by President Coolidge provides for a 25 per cent. reduction in income taxes now payable. Where taxes have been paid refunds will be made. The reductions under the present and the new law are as follows:
Net Income Present New
First $4,000 4 p.c. 2 p.c.
Next $4,000 6 p.c. 4 p.c.
Above $8,000 8 p.c. 6 p.c.
The minimum state rates under the present law of one per cent, $6,000 to $10,000, has been changed to one per cent, $10,000 to $14,000. The maximum has been changed from 80 per cent. over $200,000 to 40 per cent. over $500,000.
The taxpayer is credited with 25 per cent. of amount of tax, which would be payable if he earned net income (wages, salary, professional fees, etc.), was his net income but not over $5,000 income always considered as earned income. Not more than $10,000 to be so considered.
As at present, all single persons have exemption of $1,000. Under the new law a head of family will have that exemption of $2,500, whereas under present law only $2,000 is allowed to individuals having more than $5,000 net income.
Beginning this year, a tax is imposed on gifts of property, direct or indirect, ranging from 1 per cent. on value up to $50,000 to 40 per cent. on amounts over $100,000.
The taxes on telephone and telegraph messages, on beverages, on candy, knives, hunting garments and on proprietors of theatres and yachts, on carpets, trunks, valises, etc., amusement places, are repealed. A tax on sets of Mah Jong and the like is added.

THE WAR TO END WAR.

(Toronto Star)
On a cross being reared in the churchyard of St. James' Cathedral appear the following words:
"This Cross commemorates the glorious sacrifice of those who will have lives in the great year of 1914-1918, and appeals to those for whom they died to lay aside hatred and strife and seek brotherhood and peace under the banner of Christ."
A contemporary describes this inscription as "a breath of slander on a monument of sacrifice." It gives prominence to an article by an anonymous "Churchman" which says the exhortation to lay aside hatred and strife and seek peace is "a pacifist appeal to stifle the instinct which sent the men to their deaths," "slandering the dead by an oblique suggestion of unworthy motives."
In such an inscription there is no suggestion of unworthy motives, no slander, no appeal that the founder of Christianity would not Himself make. To seek brotherhood and peace is the very essence of Christianity. To seek strife and to shed blood is kaiserlike but not Christian.

The men who fight for Canada and for the "seek strife," Strife was not what for power. They were not fighting for power. They were fighting for peace. The "instinct" which sent them to their death was not the instinct of "seeking war," but the instinct of "protecting all that was good in the world."
There was a glorious sacrifice. Their name liveth forevermore. Their name liveth because of them. But if their sacrifice has inspired mankind to lay aside hatred and strife and seek brotherhood and peace, it has been crowned with a still greater glory, a glory akin to that of the heavenly host who proclaimed the glad tidings of "Glory to God in the highest; on earth, peace, goodwill towards men."

Tonight outside my window the winds unneeded blow,
For I'm lying here and dreaming of a land I used to know—
The pleasant hills of Ireland, again with mist and light,
Their slopes once more rise green before my misty eyes tonight!
'Tis far I am from Ireland—the long grey leagues of sea
Go stretching out, a weary way, between my home and me;
But the sad waves wake to laughter as they dance across the main,
And singing so, they love her so, to kiss her coasts again.

Genealogist—"Well—er—he died of apoplexy, superinduced by penurious situation."

Genealogist—"I don't think I would dare. To tell the truth, it means that he was hanged."

HIDE HIS HEAD; NOT HE.

"Of all the stories of animal stupidity, none has been more accepted and popular than that of the ostrich. The belief is widely held that it originated with Herodotus, a very entertaining but not a very reliable writer. It is probably even older, though it cannot be definitely traced beyond Diodorus and Pliny. A Greek origin is probable, but a Babylonian or Egyptian source is by no means excluded," writes Valjalmst Stefansson in "The London Spectator."
"Even to our day the ostrich story has retained its severe classic outlines. We are asked to picture a bird as tall as a horse and naturally conspicuous in open country. This bird is so stupid that when he is frightened he will stick his head in the sand and imagine that since he cannot see the enemy, the enemy cannot see him. It seems to please all men tremendously to think that there are some animals so much more stupid than themselves.

"I believed in the stupid ostrich until I was past thirty-five and began to live with Carl Akeley, one of the leading authorities on African big-game hunting and on the nature and habits of African wild life. One evening after dinner we were discussing big-game hunting in various parts of the world. Akeley observed that one of the canniest beasts of Africa and one of the most difficult to hunt was the ostrich. On remarking that I did not see anything very difficult about approaching an animal that stands around with its head in the sand, he replied that the ostrich does that only in books.
"Through many years of inquiry I have never found any one who had seen ostriches hiding their heads in the sand. As a matter of fact, we do not really have to ask Carl Akeley whether ostriches bury their heads when they are frightened. All we have to do is to ask our common sense.
"There are lions and leopards and many predatory animals in Africa, or I believe there are, in spite of my general skepticism as to popular opinion. Every ostrich in Africa except the domestic ones on farms that are protected like our sheep would be killed in a month if they did not know every trick of fleeing and fighting and hiding that an animal has to know to get along in this difficult world. Just imagine what you would do if you were a hungry leopard and came to a place where there was a fat bird standing with its head in the sand. Wouldn't you go up and hit it on the neck?
Yet in spite of observations, in spite of common sense, this story has survived and been universally accepted for at least 2,000 years. What a blessing it is, too, that we have not allowed our critical faculties to deprive us of the very useful figure of the ostrich with his head in the sand!"

You Can Do It Better With Gas

June Brides Attention! There is no doubt about that. Any housewife who has used gas in the home will tell you that. She will also tell you that she would never be without gas. She has had the experience.
And yet, there are many homes in St. John which do not use gas despite the fact that our mains pass their doors.

THE OTHER DAY

We had an experience, quite common with us, but of interest to any who may doubt the great utility of gas in the homes.
A customer had moved and was in doubt as to whether the fixtures in her new home would be of use. There was some doubt on our part, also, so we sent our experts up to look it over.

Our orders from this customer were direct. If the service would not work then we would have to go ahead and instal new pipes.
She had been used to gas, had found it indispensable in the home. SIMPLY HAD TO HAVE IT.
And she has it again.

GAS THE MODERN WIZARD

If our gas mains pass your door we can give you the inestimable advantage of gas cooking and hot water heating in the home, immediately.
We can solve your problem quickly. We can enrol you among the ever increasing number of those who, by experience, vouch for gas as the great economizer, both of labor and of money, in the home—the general purveyor of satisfaction.
Always at your command. Never burning away your dollars when you don't need it.

YOU CAN ALWAYS DO IT BETTER WITH GAS.

WEATHER HAS BEEN BAD FOR THE ROADS

Premier Veniot says Province Facing High Expenditures for Repairs.

That the province would have to spend more money this year in road patrol and repair work than in any two previous years because of the continued wet weather was the opinion of Hon. P. J. Veniot, Premier and Minister of Public Works, expressed in an interview last night. The roads were not in good shape, he said, because of the rain which had never ceased to fall for a sufficiently long period to enable the roads to dry out thoroughly. High wind, he said, was no good to dry out roads; what was needed was some good warm sunshine and this the province had not had so far this spring. The southern part of the province was a little better off than were the northern parts. Some sunshine had helped in the southern counties, but the little good the sun had done in the north was more than offset by the damage caused by the rains.

Of the possible appointment of Dr. L. M. Curran, M. L. A., to the vacancy in the Government caused by the resignation of Hon. C. W. Robinson, Minister of Lands and Mines, to go to the Senate, Premier Veniot, had nothing to say. Until the Government met in Fredericton today, the Premier said, there would be nothing to give out. He did not know what the other members of the Government had in their minds, he said, because he had not had a meeting with them since Mr. Robinson's resignation. Dr. Curran and Premier Veniot were in conference last evening, but the Premier would not disclose the nature of it.

To Build New Mill.

Speaking of the recent fire which destroyed the mill property of the Gloucester Lumber Co., Ltd., in Bathurst, the Premier said that it had been most unfortunate at the opening of the cutting season but that the company was already at work clearing up the debris, and would in the near future commence the erection of a new mill on a site some 300 yards from the old site. He fully expected that within a month the company would be sawing lumber in the new mill. The mill, he said, would only be roofed in to begin with, but the work of completing the structure would go on simultaneously with the cutting of the lumber.

The hundred men who had been thrown out of employment by the fire, he said, would be practically all employed in clearing up the ruins and in erecting the new mill, and all would be back at work within the month.

The lobster fishing in Gloucester county had been very poor during the present season, the Premier said. The catch had been small and the lobsters small. The reason for the poor fishing he said was that the ice had been back up into the bay by the heavy winds until so late, the same conditions prevailing along the coast in respect to ice, that the fishermen did not have a chance.

from Monday's election indicated that the Opposition party, headed by Walter dyce within a few days, and that Monroe will be called upon to form a new government.

St. John's, Nfld., June 3.—As far as returns are available and general estimates correct, the polling yesterday resulted in the defeat of the Hickman Government which took office three weeks ago following the resignation of the administration of Hon. W. R. Warren. Returns up to 8 o'clock this evening were complete for the five districts of Conception Bay which between them return nine members to the House of Assembly. Of these nine seats seven have been won by the Opposition Party under W. S. Monroe, the remaining two seats being won by Hon. A. E. Hickman in Harbor Grace District and by R. Duff, Government, in Carbonear District.

In Harbor Grace District Premier Hickman was returned at the head of the poll, but his two colleagues, including F. Archibald, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, going down to defeat; Hon. W. H. Cave, Minister of Finance, was defeated by more than 100 majority in Bay de Verde District and the same fate by about the same majority overtook Hon. M. E. Hawco, Minister of Posts, in the District of Harbor Main. The counting of the ballots is now taking place in the two city districts of St. John's and show sure wins in the two city districts of St. John's and show sure wins of six seats for the Opposition.

Party Results.

The party results so far are as follows:

Government—Harbor Grace District, Hon. A. E. Hickman, Prime Minister; Carbonear District, R. Duff.

Opposition—Ferryland District, Peter Cas and Philip F. Moore; Harbor Main District, William Woodford and Cyril Cahill; Port de Grave District, F. Gordon Bradley; Harbor Grace District, John R. Bennett and Charles E. Russell; Bay de Verde District, Richard Cramm and John C. Puddister. There is tremendous interest in the result of the polling in the northern districts of the country. For the last dozen years eleven of these seats have voted consistently for the Fishermen's Protective Union candidates. The Union in this election is siding with Premier Hickman and a solid block of Union seats for the Government would make extremely probable the general result of 17 seats for the present Government party and 18 for the Opposition, with 1 Independent, Hon. W. R. Warren, whose re-election in Fortune District is regarded as a certainty. The full result of the voting will not be known before the end of the present week.

THE FLOOD OF ORATORY.

(Ottawa Citizen.)

Mr. W. A. Boys, M. P., talking to members of the Ottawa Lions Club, advocated the reduction of talk in the House of Commons. One of his strong arguments was that an "appalling" amount of time was wasted in endless talk without achieving results at all commensurate with the energy expended. For instance, approximately ten days had been devoted to debating the speech from the throne and twenty to the budget. But nobody noted any tangible accomplishment from this voluminous emission of oratory.

The idea to curtail talking in the House of Commons (the Senate can talk all it likes, it seems, for few listen and fewer care) is one which will commend itself to both citizens and sitting members. A time limit is suggested. Mr. Boys thinks an hour and a half to leaders, one hour to their lieutenants, and twenty minutes to ordinary members, is sufficient, with the privilege of placing unfinished speeches in the records. It might conduce to more efficiency in national business if such a rule were introduced. And it might prove a boon to the members, for as the speaker said, the speech most widely noticed is the short speech. And few members have so flaming a message to give to the country that it cannot be embodied in a twenty minute speech.

When Mr. Boys advocates the abolition of Hansard, he is talking of something else again. For Hansard is one of the most human, curious and amusing newspapers published in Canada, and only those who regularly read it know what a rich and constant source of pleasure and diversion it is. There are Hansard "fans" who would no more think of going to bed at night without reading a chapter or two from Hansard than they would think of going to bed in their shoes. It is the mirror of our political mind, a panoramic cross-section of the Dominion's intellectual aspirations and economic yearnings, a rich and gaudy document, often fascinating, but never dull. Save us Hansard.

HAY FEVER AND SNUFF.

"Please, suh, can you tell me where I may find a stoah?" Mistah 'Possum looked in his snuff box, and what do you think? There wasn't one single pinch of snuff left. Not one. Mistah 'Possum was a southern gentleman and was just traveling around to see the world a bit. As he said, all the birds came north in the spring, so why shouldn't he. He had taken up his quarters in the butternut tree and kept bachelor hall.

"Perhaps it's hay fever," suggested Mister Bags. "Oh do you suppose so?" exclaimed Mistah 'Possum. "Isn't that nice! It's far cheaper than buying snuff and just as pleasant, isn't it, school? I think I'll stay north for a while, suhs. It will save me money." (To be Continued.)

He Gets Relief Right Away

So Says Mr. J. Mikkelsen Who Takes Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets For Indigestion and That Feeling of Fulness After a Meal

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Keep Him in Good Health. Horselfy, B. C. June 4—(Special)—"I keep Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets always on hand, and when a meal feels heavy in the stomach I take one or two tablets, and get relief right away." This statement comes from Mr. J. Mikkelsen, who lives here. He tried them and got relief. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are so pleasant to take that they can be taken by children. They are like sweets. They digest the meal, furnishing the body with the needed nourishment, and avoiding all possibility of sour stomach, bloating or distress, at the same time resting and toning the stomach.

There is no reason at all why any person should go on suffering from indigestion, feeling weak, useless limp and tired when Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are available.

HOUSE DAMAGED IN ST. STEPHEN

St. Stephen, June 3—The residence of George H. Harper, Union street, was practically destroyed by fire this morning. The fire is supposed to have started in an ell and when Mr. Harper was awakened he found the house ablaze and full of smoke. The fire department was soon on the scene, but the flames had a good start and there was no chance to even salvage any of the furniture. The loss on the house was estimated here today at around $4,000. Besides the furniture Mrs. Harper had a fine collection of fancy work and this was lost. The building and contents were partly covered by insurance.

Paying money for something to make you sneeze when it's as easy as rolling off a log to catch a cold for nothing. At that minute they reached Mistah Bags' store and went in. "Mister Bags, this is Mister 'Possum," introduced Daddy. "And this is Nancy and this is Nick—his helpers." Mistah 'Possum bowed elegantly and said he was charmed. And then he said he would like to buy a quarter's worth of snuff. "I'm sorry, but we're out just now," said Mister Bags. The fact was he was always out, for nobody around there used snuff at all. But no wasn't going to say so. "Well, well!" I'm sorry," said Mistah 'Possum. "But I—ah—ah—school! Why, that's strange! I never sneezed before without taking a pinch of snuff."

Makes tiling and bathtubs glistening white!

It's so easy to keep bathtubs clean with Bon Ami!
Just sprinkle the Bon Ami powder into the tub. Then rub it all over with a well moistened cloth. Spatter-marks and cloudy rims disappear as by magic and the white enamel fairly glistens with cleanliness.

Bon Ami cleans everything about the house—nickel, glass, linoleum, white woodwork, aluminium, etc.—with the same wonderful ease. And it never scratches the most delicate surface. It's kind, too, to the housewife's hands—never reddening or roughening them.

ANGLO-RUSSIAN CONFERENCE OFF

London, June 3.—The plenary session of the Anglo-Russian conference which had been set for tomorrow, has been cancelled at the request of Christian Rakovsky. No date has been set for another meeting of the two delegations, but it is believed the Russians are awaiting the arrival of Maxim Litvinov, head of the Soviet trade mission abroad, who they hope will save the conference from slipping into sickness which it seems threatens it as a result of the six weeks' negotiations which as yet have produced no tangible results.

FRENCH PRESIDENT WILL NOT FIGHT WITHOUT A FIGHT

Demands Majority Vote in Both Senate and Chamber of Deputies.

Leading Group in the Senate Calls for Resignation—Republicans Oppose.

(United Press)

Paris, June 4.—Former Premier Painleve, peace-maker of the parties of the Left, was elected President of the French Chamber of Deputies today.

(By WEBB MILLER.)

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, June 4.—The most critical phase of France's presidential and political crisis opens this afternoon, when the Chamber of Deputies elects a president.

Ex-Premier Painleve was thought certain of election after Millerand and the Elysée begins.

The president of the Republic has determined to fight with every possible constitutional means to retain office.

The Socialists say he must go, and would require Edouard Herriot to resign.

The Mayor of Lyons, who has been elected President of the Chamber of Deputies, has not, however, adopted such a recalcitrant attitude.

Millerand was expected to summon Painleve and M. Doumergue, president of the Senate, for a conference immediately after the Chamber elections.

At the conference the new Premier would naturally be named.

Millerand's determination.

Paris, June 4.—(Canadian Press)—Millerand was expected to be elected today that he was determined to remain in office under any circumstances.

Unless there should be a majority vote in both the Senate and Chamber of Deputies asking him to resign.

Furthermore, this vote must be in open session, with the vote of each Senator and Deputy recorded.

The prevailing impression now is that the present situation cannot be prolonged without grave disadvantage to the country.

The Senate and Chamber of Deputies are expected to meet today.

to it. I am sure it will commend itself to the synod.

Church Doctrine.

At a time when the air is full of controversy regarding the essential doctrines of the church and a challenge is being made to the authority of the church, it is the duty of every member to stand firmly by the principles upon which it has been established.

It is sometimes said that the church in Canada is overgrown and that it would be better to abolish the provincial synods and concentrate entirely on the work of the general synod.

Take in End Synod.

If the church in Canada is never to grow greater than it is today there must be something in this contention, but I look for an ever expanding and steadily growing body with its widely extended area presenting problems of vast importance—problems affecting the whole, as must be the case in every living organism, but, especially of interest to the separate locality in which it lives.

I believe the time must come when some of the work of the general synod must be committed to the synods of the various provinces if the former is not to become too unwieldy and necessarily inconsiderate of the conditions which must be met under the immediate knowledge of the latter.

Meanwhile it is well that the relative position of the synods, their duties and functions and authority should be clearly defined, and all risk of overlapping and clash of order in legislation avoided.

In the synod of 1912 the question regarding the advisability of making overtures to the diocese of Newfoundland with a view to a possible coming of that diocese into the Province of Canada was discussed and a committee appointed to bring the matter before the synod of Newfoundland, but was discouraged from making any further approach by the attitude shown.

While the synod of Newfoundland agreed to receive a deputation from this synod, the bishop intimated to me that there was no use in going further with the proposal at that time.

At the session of this synod in 1917 the matter again came up, and a committee was appointed, but in view of the death of Bishop Jones and the consequent events in the diocese, nothing was done.

When in the Dominion of Newfoundland in 1918 for the consecration of Bishop White, the possibility of a union with Canada seemed to be somewhat in the air.

It was only recently that the question has been suggested as one which this synod might open again. The suggestion has come informally from a leading member of the church in Newfoundland, and I think it would be well to appoint a committee to study the matter.

The Republic Union, at a caucus which M. Poincaré attended for the first time since he assumed the premiership two and a half years ago, adopted a motion deprecating the agitation against the chief of state, and affirming the principle that the President ought to be allowed to fill out his term of office. M. Poincaré supported the motion.

The final crisis is expected to come after the election of President of the Chamber today. The choice of the Radical Socialist coalition for this office was Premier Painleve. He will have as his opponent Andre Maginot, Minister of War in the outgoing cabinet.

VICTIMS OF SELF POISONING GRATEFUL FOR DR. THACHER'S

Remarkable Prescription of Dr. Thacher Ends Cause of Sickness, Headaches, Constipation, Sour Stomach and Nervous, Run-Down Condition.

Poisoned! Made sick by neglecting to cleanse and tone the liver when it is sluggish and clogged up with poisonous wastes!

It explains why a sluggish liver is attended by such symptoms as Constipation, Blistiness, Sick-Headaches, Sourness and Gass on a Weak Stomach, Loss of Appetite, Pains in the Back and Sides, and a nervous, run-down condition—symptoms that lead to the dangerous and expensive sickness unless corrected in time.

Dr. H. S. Thacher, noted medical practitioner, perfected a wholesome vegetable prescription to keep the liver clean and healthy. It is giving quick relief and renewed strength, energy and vigor to numbers here.

This prescription, known pharmaceutically as Dr. Thacher's Liver & Blood Syrup, doesn't cost much, is pleasant to take, and contains only ingredients that are known to physicians for their corrective and health-building properties.

Try this great prescription yourself. Notice the quick difference in the way you look, eat, sleep and feel. You will be completely satisfied; otherwise, there will be no cost.

Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup is sold and recommended by J. Benson Mahoney, cor. Union and Dock; Wassons Company, Ltd., 9 Sydney; A. CLASS CARD ARRANGED FOR OLYMPIC TOURNAMENT AT THE ARENA TONIGHT

"Fighting Cop" is Billed to Meet Nolan, Maritime Champion, Tonight.

Five class boxing bouts and four wrestling bouts comprise the programme of the Maritime Olympic boxing and wrestling finals at the Arena tonight and tomorrow night with Maritime champions in every class appearing. The stellar attractions in boxing tonight are the two bouts scheduled for the lightweight division, over which Raymond "Navy" Kennedy presides at present. Kennedy is drawn against Perry, a St. John boy, tonight, while Reg Harper, colored, basebal star, meets Wilford of Moncton. Wilford, who is a former sailor in the British navy, was a last-minute entry and he is rated very good.

Ball Problems By Billy Evans

QUESTIONS 1. With two strikes on him, the batsman struck out at the next delivery, which turned out to be a wild pitch. The umpire called it a ball on the theory that the batsman should have had better sense than to strike at a ball that was so wide of the plate it was impossible to hit. What about it? Can an umpire be removed from the game in the middle of an inning? 2. In retiring a base runner on a touch play, is it necessary that the runner be touched with the naked ball or is it permissible to touch him with the gloved hand that contains the ball? -J. O. 3. There is a runner on first base for a riot. The batsman has the right to strike at any ball he desires and when he strikes and misses, it's a strike and the umpire must so regard the Philadelphia Phillies, where the authority of the two captains to agree to a change, if they do, it can be made at any time. 4. It is not necessary to touch a runner with the naked ball. It need only be held in the hand making the touch. 5. The catcher is not charged with an error unless the runner advances an extra base on the bad throw.

GOOD RACING AT MOSEPATH

Large Number of People Enjoy Opening Meet of Season. A large number of horse racing enthusiasts went to Moosepath Park yesterday to witness the opening meet of the season, and incidentally to have a look at S. E. Rice's new importations. In the free-for-all they saw David Hal, 2 1/4, win with apparent ease. This chestnut gelding is one of the prettiest race horses appearing on the track for some time. He is a beautiful looking animal, a good free stepper and his very fast. Not once during the three heats did he show any disposition to "act out" and once in this race was never headed. Miss Abbie Brino was the favorite for second honors, but refused to keep paces and kept going up repeatedly during all three heats. Her owner, Ira Scott, was driving, and although he apparently drove cautiously he was unable to keep her from breaking. The second heat was timed in 2:04 and fast of the three. Patchen King won the Named Race in straight heats. He was second under the wire in the first heat, having been passed by Eppas on the home stretch, but the winner was set back for a bad break and "Victor A" was second place. The colt's race went to Guy Spear with Lady Bell second. The best time in this race was in the second heat, which was negotiated in 1:28. The officials were: David Stokford, starter; Frank Watson, Thomas Hayes and W. B. Purdy, judges; John Kieran, clerk; and Charles Bell and G. Howard of ussex, timers.

Gasoline of Fundy quality has for years been the favored standard in England. Motorists by the million over there have long refused to put anything less into their cars.

The test of time is the final test, after all. Anything under Fundy quality the English consider as kerosene.

Likewise, on this side, before the war forced motorists to do with what was left, any fuel under a specific gravity of 7.0 was called kerosene.

FUSILIERS TO TAKE 200 MEN TO CAMP

Will Start Training Course on June 27—First Parade Tomorrow.

From present indications the St. John Fusiliers (26th Battalion) will be the only unit in the province that will send its regular party for training to Camp Sussex this year. Plans are now being made for the accommodation of about 200 officers, N.C.O.'s and men at the provincial camp which will open on June 27 and last for 10 days. It is understood that the most of the other militia units in the province will be represented by officers and N.C.O.'s only. The St. John battalion will take its band, which has been recruited to full strength to camp with it.

The fusiliers will hold their first regular parade of the season tomorrow evening, when plans for the camp trip will be made. Arrangements have been completed, it was announced today, for the attendance at the camp of platoon from the R. C. R. at Halifax which will give demonstrations of infantry tactics.

The St. John Fusiliers are commanded by Lieutenant-Colonel C. F. Leonard, D. S. O., and Captain Gordon Holder, M. C., D. C. M., is adjutant.

WARSAW'S BELLS BEING RETURNED

Have Been in Russia Since 1915—Are Greeted With Joy by Poles.

Warsaw, June 4.—A touching ceremony took place in Warsaw upon the arrival of 3,000 church bells from Russia. When the Russians left Poland in 1915 under pressure of the German advance they took with them almost all the church bells, in order not to leave them for the Germans who would have melted them for their copper. Thus for years most Polish towns and villages have been without the music of the bells. Now these bells are being returned under the treaty of Riga. Upon arrival they were decked with green, and the new bells of Warsaw, purchased since the war, greeted them with a merry peal.

The Warsaw Opera gave a special concert, the musical selections all relating to bells. Twelve thousand bells are still in Russia, but they will all be returned to Poland in due course.

WOLFE
(Toronto Globe.)

Down through the generations since the victory of General Wolfe at Quebec on Sept. 13, 1759, has come the stirring legend of the victorious commander's last words, uttered shortly before the termination of the battle by which the French lost Canada. Histories have varied it somewhat, but fundamentally it has remained the same. Probably no better authority than the Encyclopaedia Britannica could be quoted as to the surrounding circumstances of Wolfe's death. "Twice wounded early in the fight," it is recorded, "he had refused to leave the field, and a third bullet, passing through his lungs, inflicted mortal injury. While he was lying in a swoon, some one near him exclaimed, 'They run; see how they run!' Who ran? demanded Wolfe, as one aroused from sleep. 'The enemy,' was the answer; 'they give way everywhere.' Wolfe rallied for a moment, gave a last order for cutting off the retreat, and murmuring, 'Now, God be praised, I will die in peace,' breathed his last."

"Splendid in its appeal to the young mind, the story has been included in the history books of all classes. Thousands of men and women have carried with them from their school days the memory of Wolfe's words. Mention of his name, no doubt, brings back vivid recollections of childhood imagination of the scene, with red-coated officers and friends of the dying man grouped round him and thrilled to greater efforts by his dying words.

But, alas! as a legend of the glorious legend, cold facts, not so glowing, have come to light which tend to upset the teaching of more than a century and a half. Recently there has been prepared and published in the latest issue of the Ontario Historical Society's Papers and Records a biography by Willis Chipman, O. L. S., C. E., of Major Samuel Holland, who was Surveyor-General from 1764 to 1820. Major Holland, by reason of his skill as a draftsman, was on the staff of General Wolfe, and was one of the few present at his commander's death. Mr. Chipman's account of the closing moments of Wolfe's life are directly at variance with the legend. To instance this, the following extract from the biography is repeated:—

"On the day of the battle Holland was sent to erect a redoubt to the left, but owing to the rapidity of the French advance he was unable to go, and, returning to report to Wolfe, he found him mortally wounded and practically alone. He was carried off the field by Henry Brown of the 28th and James Henderson, a Grenadier. Holland assisted by supporting Wolfe's wounded arm while they were bringing him down the hill to the right of the 48th. The surgeon's mate of the 48th also joined them. A wounded Grenadier rushed up, crying, 'The French run,' and Holland repeated it, but Wolfe closed his eyes and breathed his last without a groan. He did not utter a single syllable from the time Holland reached him, nor were any persons present at his death except the four mentioned, Brown, Henderson, Trent (the surgeon's mate) and Holland." Subsequently Mr. Chipman says: "There can be little doubt that Holland's account of the last moments of Wolfe is absolutely correct. Our school histories therefore require revision." Revision may be necessary, but there are thousands and thousands of people who would prefer to think of the episode as it has been recorded so long rather than to revert to the unimaginative realm of cold facts.

TIMELY TIPS TO AMATEURS

SAYS STANLEY HARRIS,
Manager, Washington Nationals

One of the most important features of second base play is the ability to handle the ball quickly.

A majority of the plays of the infield revolve around second base. Perhaps more ball games are lost each year through failure to complete a double play than from any other one fault.

Often such plays are lost by a step. Failure to quickly give the ball to another player, completing the play, inability to get the ball away quickly yourself in an effort to win the decision, tells the story.

Work constantly to speed up your handling of the ball.

P. J. LEGGE GIVES UP M.P.A.A. POSITION

Differences with A.W. Covey and Pressure of Business Given as Causes.

Giving personal differences with A. W. Covey, president of the M. P. B. A. A. I. of Canada, and business reasons as his grounds, P. J. Legge, secretary-treasurer of the Maritime branch, announced his resignation here today. The exact nature of these differences with the amateur head, Mr. Legge declines to divulge but added that they were of recent origin. It is understood on good authority they arose in connection with the Maritime boxing and wrestling meet.

Mr. Legge, who was first elected to the position of secretary-treasurer at the annual meeting of the branch in Truro in October, 1922 and who was re-elected by the narrow margin of one vote at the Moncton meeting last fall, said he would not have stood for election again this year and had every intention of resigning at the coming annual meeting, when these differences arose. Another important factor, he said, that impelled him to take this step was the growing demands of his position made on his time from his work and otherwise.

"Since the work of the office practically has been doubled," said Mr. Legge, "with the various Olympic trials I feel I can no longer spare the time from my work. I was trying to carry on, however, as best I could, and I am sorry I have been obliged to make this decision. My resignation will take effect at once."

Will Be Accepted, Says Covey

Mr. Covey, who is in Fredericton today with G. P. Bolton, of Sussex, member of the Maritime selection committee, to interview the Provincial Government regarding a grant to the Canadian Olympic fund, said over the long distance telephone at noon today that Mr. Legge's resignation would be accepted and that a new secretary-treasurer will be appointed at a meeting of the branch executive in Moncton this Saturday. The executive will attend the final track and field try-outs at Moncton on Saturday and afterwards will select the men who are to go to Montreal and also deal with Mr. Legge's resignation. The secretary pointed at Moncton will act until the annual meeting next October.

Asked regarding Mr. Legge's sudden resignation, Mr. Covey declined to make any comment. He said he was very busy attending to details in connection with the Government meeting and expressed confidence that their reception. Mr. Covey said he would meet with the Government this afternoon. Mr. Covey announced he was sending an automobile to Burt's Corner for Eric Snow, Trojans' boxer, and he thought it probable that Snow would arrive in the city late tonight and in plenty of time to appear in the programme at the arena tomorrow night.

The retiring secretary-treasurer, Mr. Legge, has been actively engaged in amateur sport here for the last ten years and more. He was Boys' Work secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in 1914-15, resigning that position to enter the employ of T. McAvity & Sons, Ltd., with whom he has been connected since then. He was largely responsible for the organization of the St. George's A. C. three years ago and was president of the intermediate league that flourished two years ago and was elected to the club changed its name to the Loyalist A. C. several months ago but owing to lack of support, the promoters were compelled to wind up its affairs.

Mr. Legge says it was largely as a personal matter that he gave up his position of secretary-treasurer at the Moncton meeting of the branch last fall. He felt then that the duties of the position were encroaching too much on his time. W. E. Stirling was nominated along with Mr. Legge, the latter winning by one vote. Mr. Legge says that he is resigning from office, he has by no means lost interest in the amateur game and will continue to help as best he can to further the good of the cause.
