

Grandson of N.B. Farmer Candidate For Barrow HIS FATHER TAUGHT SCHOOL AT NORTON, KINGS COUNTY, AND BECAME NOTED SURGEON IN EDINBURGH

Romance of Nearly Fifty Years Ago Recalled—At Forty-two Daniel G. Somerville Has Had Noted Career—May Now Enter British Parliament.

Between fifty and sixty years ago a little kirk above Norton, where Sunday school was held, and where Rev. James Grey preached twice a month to a congregation many of whom were immigrants or descendants of immigrants from Scotland.

Some years later the same boy, now a young man, taught school in a new school house at Norton Station. Among his pupils was an attractive young girl, just budding into womanhood, the daughter of a well-to-do farmer.

The son of these two was nominated last month in Barrow, England, as the Unionist candidate in the next general elections for the British parliament. A copy of the Northwestern Daily Mail of July 28 devotes over three columns to a report of the nomination proceedings and his speech, and another column to a sketch of his career.

The name of this man of forty-two years who has achieved so much is Daniel G. Somerville. His father, the Norton boy, was Dr. Andrew Somerville, F. R. C. S., whose brilliant career in Edinburgh was cut short by death many years since; and his mother was Alice Elliott, the pupil who married Andrew Somerville and went with him to Edinburgh after he had graduated in medicine and began practice in that great centre of Scottish culture.

Dr. Somerville did not live long, but the mother is still living and rejoicing in her son's success. M. W. Somerville of Norton is an uncle of the young man and there are several aunts and many other relatives in that part of Kings county, as well as men and women who were schoolmates or pupils of Andrew Somerville before he took up the study of medicine.

The Little Old School House. One who attended with Andrew Somerville the little old schoolhouse in the fence corner more than fifty years ago remembers him as a very lame but very clever youth, of studious habits but of sprightly disposition. The schoolhouse was small and the scholars crowded in especially in winter. They came from the farms on both sides of the Kennebecas. Large families were the rule. An iron box-stove stood in the centre of the schoolroom, and because the ink in the bottles froze in winter and pupils sometimes forgot to pull the cork before putting the bottle on the top of the stove to thaw, and also forgot the ink till it boiled, the ceiling was plentifully spotted from the iron box-stove with the wall to hold books and ink. The teacher's table was at one end of the room and a long flat table at the other. The seat along each side wall was a plank. It was continuous, and of course there was no back. The pupils sat with their faces to the wall, and had to hold their feet over the bench when they were called up in a class. The girls did this with becoming modesty, if not with graceful ease.

Among the school books of that day were Morse's American Geography, the Irish Board Grammar, Pinnoke's Goldsmith's History of England, and others entirely different from the texts of today. There was no Canadian History, for the Dominion was then a mere infant. One of the teachers of the period was also a farmer, and when a teacher not of the neighborhood was engaged he "hounded round" among the houses of pupils. On the register of that little school were the names Somerville, Greig, Robinson, Bassett, Harvey, Howe, Haine (then spelled Hany), Wilcox, Armstrong, Campbell, Belding, Baxter, McPherson, Buchanan, McDermid, Robertson, Vail, Johnston, Lyman and others of British stock. Those scholars who lived across the river could wade it in midsummer. At other times a genuine "dingy" was available, to be paddled or poled across. For a time in fall and spring there was no crossing except by the bridge at Norton Station, but in winter the ice provided a bridge, as well as a field for skating. The children played ball on a narrow space between road and river, and many a yarn ball, with a round stone or a small rubber ball in the centre to give it weight, was batted into the river and lost. The children of that day got as much enjoyment out of life in their homes as do the young people of today, and some of them, Andrew Somerville being a conspicuous example, laid there the foundation of a good education and a career in a wide world.

Andrew was a son of Daniel Somerville, a thrifty farmer who lived near the little school house. There were three sons and five daughters, and a kindly hospitality was assured to every visitor. The lame boy was ambitious, and at an early age was qualified to teach. By that time a new school house had been erected, this time at Norton Station, which was a growing village. He became the teacher and then began the romance which culminated in his marriage to Alice Elliott. One who often sat beside her and helped her with some of her lessons in this school remembers her as a modest and attractive girl, eager to learn, but taking no part in the lively fun of the noon and recess periods. He can see her, too as she walked to the Brighton he gained experience in several other engineering firms, and then started business for himself as a constructional engineer, some sixteen years ago. After working very hard for six years he took a partner, his business having very much increased, and turned the business into a limited company. He now controlled six different companies, including two in France, all engaged in public works. Owing to an accident he had when a youngster, when he smashed his leg and arm, he was refused the France building camps, hospitals, hotels, etc., from one end of the country to the other. He crossed the Channel sixty-eight times on his trips being six years in the service of the unrestricted Bocha submarine warfare.

His various firms were entirely engaged in war work both in England and France, his partner looking after the English end, while he was in France. His firm was one of the first members of the King's National Roll so undertaking to employ disabled ex-service men. There were $744 such firms on the King's Roll. They also joined in the scheme for training free of charge young officers, and had had seven of them through their various shops.

As they would see, he had spent the whole of his life in business both as employer and as employee, and could say without fear of contradiction that he had never had a strike or any difficulty with his men, and claimed to know and understand and sympathize with their wants. At present he was engaged in the construction of British cemeteries in France and Belgium.

The following is an extract from an Edinburgh paper:— "An Edinburgh man, D. G. Somerville, is prominently associated with the work of constructing the British cemeteries in France, including that of the British in the north of France and Belgium, and is still employed in this work. Mr. Somerville told one of our reporters that he has always taken a keen interest in politics, but his address to the executive at Barrow was his first attempt at addressing a public meeting. Hitherto, owing to his wide business ramifications, he has not had the time to take up politics seriously, but he now feels the necessity for business men to come forward with the object of pushing the trade of the country.

FATHER DIES TO SAVE CHILDREN

Bowled Over by Waves at Coney, He Clings to Them Until Guard Comes, Then Sinks—Four Rescued.

New York, Aug. 30—A choppy east wind churned the surf at Coney Island into an ugly sea in which one man lost his life in saving those of his two young children, while several persons were rescued in the nick of time.

Morton E. Weber, thirty-six years old, business at 705 Broadway, Manhattan, and lived at 1880 Sixty-second street, Brooklyn, arrived at Coney Island with his family, parked his car near the foot of Ocean Parkway and went into the water with his son, Arthur, thirteen, and his daughter, Ethel, twelve. Weber waded out as far as he could, then held out his arms for the children to come to him. They started, but just as they came within reach, a big wave swept them beyond his grasp.

Weber made his way to them and tried to hold them up, but the high sea bowled him over and all three went down. Gasping and choking, Weber came to the surface, thrashing after the youngsters and sending weak cries for help shoreward. Ralph Reid, a lifeguard, started to the rescue just as Weber regained hold of his children. Before the guard could reach his side, the waves had whirled the group apart again. The lifeguard got the two children, being forced to dive for the boy who was submerged, and regained shallow water with a few strong strokes and a stride or two as he came to the stone jetty at the Skipper of British Schooner Claims They Stole at Least Five Cases from His Cargo.

Providence, R. I., Aug. 30—Members of the U. S. Prohibition Boat Hahn, stole at least five cases of liquor from the cargo of the British schooner Marina at Newport, Saturday evening, Aug. 15, after the boat had been seized off Block Island, and for several days while guarding the ship at the state pier, this city, were hilariously drunk, according to a statement made yesterday afternoon by Captain Archie Wentzell skipper of the schooner. Wentzell told his story to U. S. Marshal Wm. R. Hodman directly after he and his crew of five had been placed under arrest for alleged violations of the U. S. prohibition act.

Captain Wentzell and his crew pleaded not guilty in court yesterday and each is being held under bail for trial Friday morning. Wentzell denied being within the three mile limit when his vessel was seized by the Hahn and complained of rough treatment at the hands of the raiders.

The case of five juveniles who were reported for breaking windows in the residence of R. C. Phillips in the upper Golden Grove road was heard before Magistrate Adams at East St. John yesterday afternoon and the boys were allowed to go when their parents paid the costs of the court. They were ordered to appear on Tuesday, but as their parents were not on hand the case was stood over until Wednesday afternoon.

There he was hurled against the rocks by a tumbling wave. His leg was lacerated severely and for an instant he lost his hold of the boy, Arthur, unconscious, flung away, but the guard holding on to the little girl, went after him and grasped his shoulder just as another big wave was about to snatch him away. Depositing the two children on the beach and shouting to a helpless crowd that stood watching the rescue, Reid plunged back after the father. He had to dive for Weber, but succeeded in bringing him up and quickly made his way to the shore once more. Dr. Bernstein came from Coney Island Hospital with a pulmotor, but could not revive Weber. The two were unconscious when brought to the shore by Thomas Layden, a city life guard, but were revived. The older woman was the first to be caught in the undertow, and Miss Friedman swam to her mother's side, but was exhausted as she started toward shore.

BRIDGE BREAKS TEAM AND MEN FALL INTO RIVER

Clarksville, Ont., Aug. 31.—As Mr. Clendenen's team of horses, with a load of logs, were crossing the Clendenen Bridge, the bridge collapsed, precipitating the load, two men, Matthews and Goldsmith, and the team, about fifteen feet into the river. Fortunately, the river at this point is shallow, but Matthews was pinned under the logs, with only a portion of his face above water. A number of men soon gathered, after hard work, released him from his perilous position. His injuries are serious. Goldsmith was taken home with an injured leg, but his condition is not considered serious. The team was eventually released, and appeared to be not injured seriously.

LYOYD GEORGE MAY ATTEND LEAGUE ON AUSTRIAN SITUATION

Geneva, Aug. 30.—Premier Lloyd-George is expected by some of those closely connected with the League of Nations to come to Geneva during the session of the assembly of the league, which begins Sept. 4.

It is understood that Lloyd-George desires to join the British delegation when the economic situation of Austria is discussed. There is strong sentiment among league experts that the only economic salvation for Austria is a commercial union with countries detached from her by the treaty of St. Germain, Hungary and Czech-Slovakia, particularly the latter.

Such a union is opposed by Italy. France favors a commercial union between Austria and Czech-Slovakia and possibly other little canteen powers, but Italy objects to this.

TO BOOST PRODUCTS OF THIS DOMINION

Canadian Manufacturers Adopt New Slogan on Canada's Emblem.

Not satisfied with boosting goods that were just "Made in Canada," the Canadian Manufacturers' Association has adopted a new slogan for its campaign—"Produced in Canada." Visitors to the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto will soon become familiar with this slogan and with the new sign, a dark green maple leaf on a light green ground, bearing the text, "Make Canada prosperous by urging Canadian products."

The association's campaign, which is being handled by the provincial divisions, is being conducted at 47 exhibitions and fairs from coast to coast, the Ontario division alone boasting it in 312 exhibitions and fairs.

In recommending the products of Canadian farms, forests, mines, fisheries and factories, the association aims at advancing and increasing national prosperity. As national prosperity affects the prosperity of everyone, the association asks that everyone should do all possible to assist in the campaign.

PREHISTORIC TIGER BONES.

Los Angeles Museum Has Skeleton of Animal 500,000 Years Old.

Los Angeles, Aug. 31.—A complete skeleton of a sabre-tooth tiger, which roamed the southwest in the pleistocene period, some 600,000 years ago, has been assembled at the Los Angeles County Museum of History, Art and Science after long research.

For two years J. W. Lytle, osteological expert at the institution, has worked on the skeleton, searching through a great mass of bones recovered from the famous La Brea pits in Los Angeles City.

Mr. Lytle said he thought the articulated skeleton was the only one of a sabre tooth in which all parts were from one individual animal.

TWO FIANCEES VANISH ON EVE OF WEDDING

Double Ceremony in Clifton, N. J., Is Called Off by Mourning Suits.

Clifton, N. J., Aug. 31.—Two young men here who hoped to be bridegrooms tomorrow are looking for their intended brides, who have disappeared, taking along their wedding finery and diamond engagement rings.

For several months Anthony Kerelak of 24 Pleasant avenue has been courting Pauline Denbar, 19, of 32 Grand avenue. Her roommate, Mary Lutz, 19, and Thomas Huber, of 84 Sade street, have been accompanying the other two on automobile rides and to motion picture shows. One night recently marriage was suggested and the girls consented. The four appeared before Assistant City Clerk Edmund A. Sparr at the City Hall on Saturday morning and got marriage licenses. Sparr explained that under the law the marriage could not be performed for twenty-four hours.

"That's all right," one of the girls said. "We are going to have a double wedding on Tuesday."

Kerelak went again to Sparr's office this afternoon. He said:

"The girls have disappeared and there will be no weddings. The woman who runs the boarding house said the girls packed up their belongings Sunday morning and left without explaining. How can we get them back?"

Sparr suggested going to the police station and ask that an alarm be sent out.

"Oh, I wouldn't do that," Kerelak replied; "that would make too much talk." As Kerelak started for the door, he said:

"Water, I love Pauline. What shall I do?"

"My advice would be to get another girl," Sparr replied.

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 31.—There's a new way to beat the high cost of illegally possessing liquor. All one has to do is to tell the authorities the name of one's bootlegger.

Howard Saturday of Mount Holly, saved himself $45 in the United States district court here by this method. As a result of Judge Bodine, Saturday pleaded guilty, but declared he could not remember his bootlegger's name.

"In that case the fine will be $50," said the judge. "But if you could recall the name the fine will be $35."

Saturday went into executive session with himself and then with Assistant District Attorney Hutchinson. As a result, the government got what the court called "information of value," and Saturday paid only $35.

Reason For Celibacy

The reformer was married! "Why didn't I never be married?" Confused bachelor repeated a leading question, "Well, once upon a time in a crowd of young ladies' gowns, she turned, furiously, beginning: 'You clumsy brute!' Then she smiled sweetly, and said: 'Oh, I beg your pardon, it really doesn't matter in the least!'

San and Tam

San Watson was rich; Tam, his brother, was poor and deserv'd to be poor. One morning Tam said: "Sam, lend me ten pounds till New Year's." "I will not!"

A Funny Idea

"Daughter," said the anxious mother, "what qualifications has this young man that you are so anxious to marry him?" "Well, mother, he dresses swell, he has a rather nice car, he is a swell dancer, he tells jolly good lies, he has a job!"

Certainly

A lady crossing from France to England was asked by the customs officer if she had anything dutiable. She assured him she had nothing but wearing apparel in her trunk, but at the bottom of the largest one, which to him seemed the most suspicious, were found twelve bottles of brandy.

FOUND DYING IN HOME WHEN FRIENDS CALL

Doctors Believe Poison to Be Cause of Fatal Illness. Hamilton, Ont., Aug. 31.—Neighbors, entering the home of A. R. Temple, 10 Locke street north, found him unconscious, and called Dr. Richmond. The doctor ordered his removal to the General Hospital, where Temple died five minutes after being admitted.

Use the Want Ad. Way

The Liberal government of Prince Edward Island carried three of the five by-elections yesterday. The standing of the parties is unchanged, but the Liberal majorities in the constituencies they won are increased. As there are 24 Liberals in the house, compared with five Conservatives and one independent, the strength of the government is clearly apparent.

Intimation in Speech by Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King at Toronto Banquet—Refers to Immigration.

There is such a thing as too much government, and we have had our share of it of late, in common with the rest of the world. With a national debt of more than $2,840,000,000, and a population not yet 9,000,000, the less we have of government that can be avoided and the more of immigration that can be obtained the better for the state and every taxpayer in the state.

With the above message to the Canadian people, Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, premier of Canada, last night concluded his address at the banquet tendered him at the King Edward Hotel by the Liberals of Toronto.

Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of the interior in the dominion government, said that the country needed immigration, but it also needed an economical administration and only immigrants that could be promptly and successfully assimilated. The present government would encourage only immigration of this character. He sounded a note of warning in regard to the oriental problem. British immigration would be developed but at present only such British immigration as would go on the farms of Canada, or take up house work.

DRESS IS EXPENSIVE FOR FRENCH WOMEN

Compelled to Pay Triple Pre-war Prices for Clothing.

Paris, Aug. 31.—The average French woman pays for her clothes today three times as much as they cost before the war, according to figures which have just been compiled. Whereas in 1913 it cost 5,000 francs a year, it now requires 15,000 francs and this only allowing for necessities.

A tailored costume which formerly cost 200 francs now sells at 700; two street dresses which cost 600 francs each nine years ago now cost 1,200; two evening dresses cost $2,200 each, against 1,000 in 1913; shoes have doubled in price, and lingerie is three times its pre-war cost.

Women of the moderate class of dressers who before the war could manage to dress on 2,000 francs a year by transferring and renewing their out-of-style garments, now find 10,000 insufficient. It is this type of Parisienne who although employing winter trappings on summer hats, must still pay 600 francs for ordinary lingerie and eighty francs for very ordinary stockings.

NEGRO LYNCHED
Shreveport, La., Aug. 31.—The body of Thomas Rivers, a negro, twenty-five years of age, who confessed he was the assailant of a young white woman of this city, was found this morning by Bossier Parish authorities hanging from the limb of a tree near here. He was taken from officers by a mob last night as he was being transferred to Benton, La., for safe keeping.

Lady Astor says —

ABOUT THE JOURNAL—

"The Ladies' Home Journal played a large part in my younger life. I send it to several girls' schools in England, and they get as much pleasure out of it as I do in the days when I have the time for such helpful reading."

ABOUT "THE FASHIONS OF TO-DAY"

"A right attitude about clothes is vital to our worth as citizens. To have clothes admired as clothes is sheer vulgarity."

"It makes my heart ache to see some flappers with their pretty little faces painted and their poor little bodies in their sawdry finery flaunted like flags on a circus tent."

The Attractive Frock

is an all important item of attire—an item whereby the most particular hostess is favorably remembered, regardless of the "affair" itself.

Then again as a guest, as a visitor, as a traveller, a suitable frock, gown or costume is essential to fulfil the pleasure of the occasion.

There are frocks here finely fashioned from fine silks for every occasion.

The new copper shade is charming. Then there are the most delicate tomato and henna shades; and if you prefer cerise, it's here too, combined with navy or black. Prices all the way from $26.00 to $58.00.

COPELAND WARNS OF TYPHUS PERIL

Fears Epidemic in Poland, Which May Reach America Unless Precautions are Taken.

New York, Aug. 30.—Health Commissioner Royal S. Copeland has returned from France, Germany and Poland, where he went to study health conditions and to see for himself the localities where the diseases like typhus, cholera and smallpox were bred and disseminated to all parts of Europe, came on the French liner France from Havre with Mrs. Copeland.

Speaking of the danger of typhus coming to the United States, Dr. Copeland said that the world faced an eminent health peril today. Poles driven to Russia are now returning home disease laden. In the interest of public welfare the commissioner will ask public spirited citizens of this city to contribute $100,000 for a temporary hospital to take care of typhus cases.

Otherwise, he continued, the disease may be carried here by immigrants. It would be a dreadful thing, Dr. Copeland said, if typhus fever ever gained a hold in New York City; it would kill a million persons in a month. In regard to strike conditions here, the commissioner said if conditions grew worse and it became impossible for the port to get food and coal, the Board of Health would commandeer enough of these necessities from private individuals to supply needy families.

Polish Refugees in Distress. "When the Russians made their final retreat," said Dr. Copeland, "they destroyed all the buildings in Eastern Poland, drove away all the cattle, and carried 4,000,000 Poles into captivity. These refugees were driven into the most remote parts of the far-flung Russian Empire. For instance, while I was at the border I saw one particular trainload of refugees come into Poland who had been in boxcars—freight cars—on the railroad for eight months returning from Siberia where they had been taken by the Russians.

"The Polish government, the United States officials and the Warsaw group of the American Relief Administration, the chief agency for good in Europe, did everything possible to assist me. They placed at my disposal a private car on the railroad, loaded on a Ford automobile, gave me a chauffeur, a cook, a servant and an interpreter and sent me on my way across the devastated plains of Eastern Poland.

"The Treaty of Riga provided for seven points through which the repatriated Poles should be permitted to return. Chief of these is Baronawice. Through this point a million returned last year and nearly two millions will come this year."

Dr. Copeland reported that estimates of the deaths from typhus in Russia range from 5,000,000 to 45,000,000.

"I have said," he continued, "there are seven points through which the refugees are returning. In at least three of these places there are no hospitals at all. What does this mean? It means that the typhus and cholera infested persons are permitted to pass through into Poland to mingle with the population. It does not take a Health Commissioner to point out the significance of this dreadful state of affairs. Unless I miss my guess, Poland will be swept by epidemic disease this winter. There is an abscess in the body of the world. If it is not drained and cleaned the whole world will suffer. Typhus will sweep into Western Europe, to England, to America. The health of the world is in imminent peril.

"We must not permit this catastrophe. It can be averted. A quarter of a million dollars will guarantee safety and, I believe at the present rate of exchange, that a hundred thousand will be enough. I want to see America do this much for Europe because it will help humanity, but, speaking selfishly, because we will be doing it for ourselves. If nobody assists poor Poland, all of us will feel the effects of this impending calamity."

$150,000 WORTH OF JEWELS VANISH WHEN BAGS SWITCHED

New York, Aug. 29.—Mrs. Helen Campbell Williams related her vigilance somewhere on the train between Philadelphia and New York and someone seized the opportunity to work the "plug-switching game" on her. The next time she reached down to floor beside her to make sure her traveling bag was there, it was gone, and in it $150,000 worth of her jewelry and $207 in cash. The bag which was left is a small cheap tan Gladstone bag having no resemblance to the large new one which was taken. It contained a pair of stockings, a boudoir cap, some children's underwear, a rubber ball, and a strong smell of camphor.

LUMBER SHIPMENTS ON THE MIRAMICHI

The Swedish S. S. Thyra, loaded at Sullivan's mill for F. E. Neale, has cleared with 1,860 1/2 standards on a tonnage of 1,874 net.

The Swedish S. S. Conalleria has been cleared by the Snowball Co. with a cargo of lumber. A steamer for spoolwood and several more deal boats are expected shortly.

A big four-masted schooner is loading at Fraser's. The four-masted schooner Harry A. McLennan arrived in port Thursday evening from New York and will load at Ritchie's mill, Newcastle. Capt. Alex. McLean is master.

J. W. & J. Anderson of Burnt Church have a fleet of steamers and scows engaged in towing lumber, railway ties and rosed wood to Loggieville and elsewhere for shipment abroad.

MYSTIC SHRINERS' THOUGHT FOR LAME

New Hospital for Indigent Crippled Children to be Erected Soon at a Cost of $800,000.

(Montreal Gazette.) Coincident with the visit of the Imperial Potentate of Mystic Shriners on the continent of North America to this city over the week-end, the announcement is made that the site for a crippled children's hospital on the mountain side has been acquired, and that within a year's time this institution, providing fifty beds, and entirely gratuitous treatment and maintenance, will be ready for patients. The approximate cost will be $800,000, and the hospital is one of a chain of such institutions which are being provided by the fraternity on this continent, with an assessment of two dollars per head.

The Imperial Potentate of the A. A. O. N. M. S. James S. McCandless, lives in the island of Honolulu, and is at the present time making a complete tour of Canadian temples of the order over which he presides. It is the first such official visit that only Mystic Shriners have had within the fifty years of their existence in the Dominion of Canada. Hence they assembled in force on Saturday, not only from Montreal, but from other parts of Canada, to do honor to their illustrious visitor.

Officers of Karnak Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S. gathered at Windsor street station on Saturday morning, including Illustrations Potentate Chas. R. Toussaw, Recorder William Mackinac and Phillip D. Gordon, representative to imperial council, to meet their chief officer, and at noon they entertained him at lunch in the Masonic Temple on Dorchester street west. At this function there were present approximately 800 Shriners, including a delegation from Mechi Temple, London, Ont., together with other out-of-town chapter members.

Inspected Site. Following the luncheon, the party drove up to Cedar avenue, above Pine avenue west, where an inspection was made of the site on which it was stated work will be begun early next month for the hospital which is to be erected. This hospital, which will provide fifty beds for crippled children, will be entirely non-denominational, and will be open to juvenile cripples regardless of race, color, or religion, the only qualification test being that they must be too poor to pay. It will be a hospital for treatment in cases where surgery is necessary to effect a cure or amelioration of disease, and not a home for permanent cases. It will be maintained by the 600,000 members of the Order of Mystic Shriners on this continent, and will be one of a series of such institutions, five of which are now under way.

This is the only Canadian branch of the Imperial Potentate was afterwards driven round the city and in the evening he was entertained at dinner at the Engineers' Club, when Charles R. Toussaw, Ill. Potentate Karnak Temple, presided.

SINGS PRAISES OF PLANTERS' PUNCH

As it is Served by a Dusky Hebe in Jamaica Hotel.

We seek the solitude of the bar in the Constant Springs Hotel. We get a nod from a solemn looking colored woman who seems to have lost all interest in life. Only too well does she know what we have come for. Covertly, where no prying eyes may see, she takes a condign. What its components are it is difficult to tell. One realizes it may contain the juice of orange and lime, and some fragrant Jamaica rum which is measured without concealment into a long glass with ice. The dusky Hebe deftly inserts two straws per glass and sets the drinks on the table. She calls it a planter's punch. We agree as to its punch.

Now the mint julep may be a social symphony, a fragrant stimulation which soothes, and lulls, and cools. It may be the expression of a generous soul in giving hospitality, in proffering serene joy, but the Planter's Punch we sip each voyage possesses something of all these excellences, and more. It is a song, full of fascinating and elusive harmonies; a fruit-flashed symphony which, with the puff of its faintly fragrant breath, dispels the sad ghosts of all our sad yesterdays, and holds us in the tranquil present.

It is a siren, with eyes of opal, and topaz and it tells of cool shades made drowsy by the souls of a million flowers, of waving green savannahs, of violet-mantled hills and murmuring streams that flow unseen through dense forests; of the mysterious whispering nights drenched in moonlight, of the fierce ardent glare of white moons and of black eyes and lips like the red blooms of the poinciana.

We are quite convinced it must have been for generations in the perfect making, for it is the rounded expression of beauty and charm.

One slow, delightful imbibing puts us more in harmony with life than since we sailed from the home port a month back. We never take more than one. Perhaps we don't dare or appreciate too well the adage about "intimacy breeds contempt."

In the cool of the evening we make our way back to Kingston—to the port—the stinks—the flies and the infernal noise which will go on till we've pulled our lines on the morrow. Yet now we mind them not. For our Planter's Punch lingers tenderly amid the recollections of floral splendor and tangled forest, of sea and sky and of strange alluring things.

EXILE UNDER NEW RULE IN RUSSIA

Sudden Arrest and Banishment Without Trial for Those Unfriendly to Soviet.

Riga, Aug. 30.—Revival, by the Russian Soviet government, of the old czarist "administrative exile" has restored to having counter-revolutionary tendencies has created a new mild reign of terror throughout the country, according to advice reaching here.

Banishment is understood to be limited to three years under the new decrees. Scores of Mensheviks and a number of intellectuals have been thus dealt with in the last fortnight. In some instances prominent doctors were summarily halted before the police and handed enough money to pay their fares to Riga or Berlin, being told to abandon their families, practices and property and leave Russia immediately.

The arrests are being carried out with great secrecy and there is such an apparent lack of information at all government bureaux to which persons seeking knowledge of those arrested must apply that even the foreign missions are having difficulty in learning the facts about nationals of their countries who disappear.

The social revolutionists who are under suspended death sentences have been removed to some secret prison, and their relatives are vainly inquiring as to what has become of them, petitioning the government to relieve their anxiety.

government, have appeared from week to week in the local labor organ.

Need we be surprised that both the provincial and dominion authorities have been thrown into something like a panic through late developments in the labor situation? If the mine workers' leaders merely intended to throw a scare into the public outside of the mining districts and the government they have succeeded, perhaps beyond their expectations. Why should they take it amiss if their public utterances during the past few years have brought about the very condition of things which those utterances were calculated to bring? They ought to know it did, but circumstances alter cases. Philadelphia Telegraph.

St. Stephen Defeats Fredericton

Fans were given a great treat last evening when they witnessed a thrilling and fast game between St. Stephen and Fredericton on St. Peter's Park. The border town boys administered a cost of white-wash to their opponents winning by a score of 2-0. Shields for the winners with his best underhand and side arm delivery had the Fredericton batters baffled and fanned thirteen. His work with men on was especially noteworthy. Paynter for the capital team also pitched a good game and like his opponent allowed only four hits, but his support at critical times was wobbly and this with timely hits by his opponents resulted in his defeat. A large number of fans were in attendance and thoroughly enjoyed the contest.

Permanent Force Matches

The annual prize meet of the Permanent Force Rifle Association opened yesterday afternoon on the local range. The weather conditions were not of the best, shifting winds and hazy atmosphere made shooting difficult. Three matches were shot during the afternoon, also the first stage of the merchants' match. The matches were run off smoothly under the direction of Major W. C. Magee, range officer.

The results of the matches follow:

ATHLETIC

Harold Lapierre Wins

The five mile road race, which was conducted on the west side last evening under the direction of St. Georges Amateur Athletic Club, excited much interest and was declared by everyone in connection with the event to have been a great success. The weather man could not have been more kind for the occasion, his product last evening being in sharp contrast with what he has been handing the clubs lately. The roads along the route of the race were in exceptionally good condition.

Harold Lapierre, star runner of the St. John Commercial Club, won the race easily, although he started two minutes behind the first men to start. Lapierre's time was twenty-one minutes and thirty-one seconds. Earle Friars, Sussex A. At 7:45 o'clock Fowler Perry and Craig started and were followed by Jones and Yeomans twenty seconds later. George Sprague started ten seconds after Jones, and Yeomans and Harold Leclair and Earle Friars followed fifteen seconds behind Sprague, just one and three-quarters minutes ahead of Lapierre, the only man on scratch. The route of the race was from the Queen square to Lancaster street, up Dufferin row to Lancaster Heights, turned left, and down the Manavganish to Manchester's corner, turning there and coming back to Queen square by the same route. One silver medal has been donated for this event, one by M. E. Agar and the other by J. Firth Brittain.

The officials at last evening's affair were: Starter, A. W. Covey; judges, E. H. Vickers, Sussex; A. W. Covey, Captain A. J. Muleahy and Lieut.-Col. Norman McLeod; timers, Frank White, Kenneth Macle, Lieut.-Col. Norman McLeod; clerk of the course; P. J. Legge; referee, Kenneth Macleay; medical examiner, Dr. F. L. Kenney.

TENNIS

Big Match on Friday

New York, Aug. 30.—Gerald L. Patterson, captain of the Australian team and holder of the world's lawn tennis title, will face William T. Tilden this afternoon in the first match of the singles in the Davis Cup challenge round at Forest Hills, N. Y., on Friday afternoon. It is fairly well understood that an organization in the city will donate a cup for this event, and it is expected that the race will be run yearly for the trophy.

The officials at last evening's affair were: Starter, A. W. Covey; judges, E. H. Vickers, Sussex; A. W. Covey, Captain A. J. Muleahy and Lieut.-Col. Norman McLeod; timers, Frank White, Kenneth Macle, Lieut.-Col. Norman McLeod; clerk of the course; P. J. Legge; referee, Kenneth Macleay; medical examiner, Dr. F. L. Kenney.

Official entry blanks for the Maritime Branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada track and field championship sports, which are to be held on the Wanderers' grounds in Halifax on September 9, have been received in this city along with display advertisements giving details of the events to be held. The entries are to close on September 2 and all communications must be sent to G. H. Laddell, business manager of the Wanderers A. C.

The Rotary Club of Fredericton is sending Seely to participate in several events, but so far there has been no announcement of any St. John athletes going to represent any local clubs. No organization in the city appears to have become organized for field sports and there has practically been only one field meet here this summer. Until there is more definite organization for field sports there will be of course be difficulty in securing funds for sending men abroad. This is a matter that ought to receive some attention before next year.

(Halifax Chronicle)

The maritime track and field championships which will be held at the Wanderers' Grounds on Sept. 9, promise to outshine any track meet held in the maritime provinces since the war. The officials are receiving entries for different events every day and a big string of performers, including the best talent in the three provinces, will be on hand to answer their names to the clerk of the course when the big meet gets under way.

The programme will include all the standard athletic events usually associated with championship track meetings. Everything from the "Hundred" to the pole vault will be on the card, and specialists in every event will be on hand to challenge for or defend titles.

Some followers of track athletics seem to think that several records will be broken, but the only one that is at all likely to be smashed is the hammer throw. Parker Hooper's 50% for the quarter" ought to stand, and "Billy" Ross' 1:29 for the half will take a lot of beating. The hundred mark of ten seconds might be equalled but it will not be broken. The "Hundred" mark of ten seconds for the 220 will certainly stand against even the best competition in Canada, and there is not a lot of danger threatening Fredrick Cameron's 26 min. 1 and 4-8 secs. for the five miles. The bicycle marks look good to stand, and unless the Lee-Johnson-Pietou comes back and does it himself the pole vault will not be broken.

The "Hoop" says that the New Brunswick entries are likely to shatter several jumping records, but when the figures that grace the board at the present time are carefully noted it will be seen that there will have to be some awfully good jumping if they are to be equalled let alone beaten.

MAKES GRAMOPHONE BREATHE LIKE MAN

Inventor Has Machine Which Will Synchronize Movies.

London, Aug. 31.—A gramophone that "breathes" like a human being is shown here as a scheme of synchronization of motion pictures with the talking machine. Its invention is claimed by E. H. Verity, who long has been trying to find a method of synchronizing the two.

In discussing it he says: "After experiments lasting over fifteen months, I realized that the gramophone must breathe in order to get the proper effect. I employ an ordinary sound box which is attached to a tone arm, at the end of which is fitted an amplifying chamber, or throat. In this throat is fitted an electric element and a suitable arrangement of holes induces a draft which is so placed that the entire apparatus works under conditions similar to the human throat, while speech is in progress."

The visitors scored again in the sixth and the score stood 3 to 2 in their favor. In the eighth Parlee drove a single over second sending two runs across the plate. STATE SPEEDS PLAN FOR MOTHERS' AID

Report on Progress of Maternity Welfare Law—Organizing Corps of Physicians and Nurses.

Albany, Aug. 30.—The organization of a committee of regional consultants in obstetrical medicine, the development of maternity and child hygiene work by various counties of the state, and the establishment in many counties of visiting nurses to care for mothers and young children is described in a report just submitted to Governor Miller by Dr. Hermann M. Biggs, state commissioner of health. The report outlines the accomplishments of the department since the passage of the Davenport-Moore law last March. The law was passed as an alternative when it was decided not to accept the federal subsidy offered by the Sheppard-Towner act.

Under the Davenport-Moore law the legislature appropriated $100,000 to enable the State Department of Health to establish a new Division of Maternity, Infancy and Child Hygiene, and to extend its efforts to protect the lives and health of mothers and babies. The report says: "The act provided no financial subsidies to local communities, but made it possible to supply services of various types to assist them in developing their own work of safeguarding mothers and children. Accordingly a number of projects are already under way in the field. In one county organization is being developed on a county-wide basis. A health survey is being made, and a mother and child hygiene council is being formed for the purpose of furthering permanent activities there and supporting a county nurse.

"A number of prominent physicians in different parts of the state have been invited to serve as consulting obstetricians and pediatricians. Thirteen of these so-called regional consultants have to far accepted appointment as representatives of the department in their respective localities. As such, they will submit the plans of the new division to their local medical societies, and will endeavor to secure the interest and co-operation of the profession generally in the promotion of this work. They will also bring to the department information about the needs and problems of their several districts and will besides give their services in professional consultations with local physicians in cases that are unable to pay the usual fees.

"Services of Nurses Loaned. Assistance to communities through the loaning of the services of nurses has been organized, and department nurses are now at work in three counties helping to establish new maternity and child hygiene activities, or to reorganize and extend work already established. "All women's organizations of the state have been asked to co-operate with the department, taking up one or more suggested lines of activity. Mothers' Health Clubs may be formed and may arrange with the local public health nurse to teach mothers how to keep themselves and their children well. Another plan is to arrange for temporary assistance by mothers' helpers who will go into homes and take over household duties at the time of confinement. Much of the invalidism, and many of the more serious results to mothers and infants, arise because the mother does not have an opportunity at this time for a long enough period of rest and inactivity. A third plan suggested is the formation of mother and child hygiene study classes, which will survey local conditions and promote better community organization in the field of maternal and child hygiene. The department has appointed a special instructor of nurses, who will give lectures and demonstrations in maternity hygiene to classes of nurses in various parts of the state. Such instruction has already been begun and, judging by the number of applications already received, it is expected that a large number of the 1,100 public health nurses of the state will take this course. "Pre-natal consultation service by a trained obstetrician has been started in connection with the rural child hygiene consultations which have been carried on by the department for a number of years. By this means it is now possible to provide a service to mothers in co-operation with the family physician similar to the service heretofore provided for children. "Within the next few weeks the department will make available the services of a nutrition worker, who will advise regarding the dietaries of children's institutions, and will lecture to women's organizations and to nurses on this subject. "A number of special statistical studies of infant and maternal mortality in various parts of the state have been completed, and the rates of maternal mortality for the state as a whole, for rural areas and for each county, city, and village are now available.

Their ages range from twelve to eighteen years, and there are only a few older. The Chief Was Generous.

"The chief of the tribe, a husky Sumon, turned over his grass hut palace to the mate and myself to be used as our private quarters. He also tendered me one of his daughters, a beautiful dark-haired girl, as a servant. Other pretty girls were assigned to the mate and to member of the crew to wait on them. "We certainly did not lack for entertainment. I had a great time and would not have missed the experiment for any money. "I had only 80 cents in my pocket, but money was not object. Many dinners were given in our honor and native maidens in grass skirts performed hula dances for our amusement.

"All inhabitants of the islands are Christians and all lead upright lives. "We had a hard time getting away. The women wanted husbands and they pleaded with us and coaxed us to stay. Owing to the isolation of Tagawa, most of the men of marriageable age have left it; some are scattered throughout the southern ocean and as far west as Australia. "On our twentieth day on the island Mate T. P. Benson sighted the masts of the steamer Hauraki. We put out in our boat and signalled repeatedly, finally catching the attention of those aboard her and they picked us up. "We were not worrying, for if the Hauraki had not sighted us we would have been taken off the island by the London Missionary Society boat which call at Tagawa twice each year."

CANCER.

Montreal Star.—Cancer is still the hidden horror which strikes from the dark; and the best that medical science can do is to cut out its poisoned arrow. We do not know what it is, how it comes, how it can be parried or how it can be cured. We cannot fight it with the methods of modern science; for we do not know what methods will serve. We must still employ the ancient remedy of amputation. But the best brains in the world see busy on the search, and when they have discovered the answer to this most baffling and murderous of our medical enigmas, hundreds of thousands of lives will be saved and millions of men and women will feel that a black shadow they almost fear to mention has been lifted from their paths.

SAILOR MEN SPIN SOUTH SEA STORY

All Women Young and Beautiful on Tagawa
Lazy Palms Fringe Atolls—190 Persons on Island; only Twelve Men—Thirty Cents Lasts Whole Month.

Honolulu, T. H., Aug. 30.—A sunny coral isle in the South Sea, where lazy palms fringe the coral atolls and the women, young and beautiful, outnumber the men more than fourteen to one, where 30 cents lasts a month; this is the story told of Tagawa, an islet of the Ellice group, by Captain J. A. T. Olsen of the American schooner Henriette, wrecked July 16. Captain Olsen and members of his crew are in Honolulu today with the British steamer Hauraki, which picked them up at Tagawa, and is taking them to San Francisco. An the captain's tale follows: "Tagawa is the only habitable island of the Ellice group. Its population consists of 180 persons, of whom only twelve are men. "Our schooner was swung off her course and onto Nukuailli reef by heavy seas. "We struck at night, and at dawn we tried for the shore. Before we hit the coral we saw native men, clad only in loin cloths, pushing an outrigger canoe into the water, and with their assistance we made shore in safety. If it had not been for the natives we probably would have lost our lives in the heavy surf. "Our coming was hailed with joy by the natives, who pass their existence in a state of isolation. The women outnumber the men fourteen to one, or more, and some of them are beautiful.
