HOME AGAIN.

Joseph McIntyre, who left St. John 26 years ago yesterday, is back on a visit to his native city. When Mr. McIntyre left St. John, the city was just struggling to its feet, after the blow received by the great conflagration on the 20th June, 1877. Portland was visited with a similar calamity four months afterwards, and it was in consequence of Mr. McIntyre losing all his worldly possessions in that fire that he left to try his fortune in another city. Mr. McIntyre is now a citizen of Boston, where he has met with success.

ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., OCTOBER 21, 1903.

"CANADIANS ARE BITTER."

"The Canadians connected with the case are very bitter," says an American Press despatch referring to the Alaska reward. They have just foundation for their bitterness which, however, should not all be directed toward the eminent British jurist whose weak concession to the pressure of American demand has caused Canada to lose much valuable territory and to be shut out from free access by sea from her Yukon territory, and has placed the prospective terminus of her transcontinental railroad under the mouths of American guns. Though the result of the commission is a keen disappointment, it is no more than was expected from the construction of the commission. Upon the government which consented to place Canada's rights at the disposal of such a tribunal the greatest weight of the public wrath should fall.

One can understand Lord Alverstone's position. Valuing American friendship, as all British statesmen do, he sees no harm in injuring one section of the empire for the good of the whole, and, no doubt, looks upon the Canadian protestors as narrow-minded provincialists. Filled with this blood-brotherhood "hands-across-the-sea" sentimentality, the British fail to see that their American cousins are simply working them along this line to gain concessions which, by nothing short of a victory in war could any other nation wrest from Great Britain. The treaty of Washington, the Ashburton treaty, the Venezuelan dispute, the Nicaragua Canal concession and now this Alaska sacrifice; they are all the result, not of John Bull's fear of the Yankees, but of his climatically genuine desire to be friends.

But Canadians, who see nothing more in this style of diplomacy than an amiable guardian losing their property in a game in which his opponent openly stacks the cards every deal; who have little faith in the genuineness of American friendship; who know that their attachment is worth more to Britain than the fancied favor of all other nations, are naturally bitter at the contemptuous carelessness with which they and their interests seem to be considered by those from whom they have a right to expect at least fairness.

TRANSCONTINENTAL TERMINUS SPOILED.

As the cables bring from England further details of the Alaska award its incomprehensibility increases. The first report of the decision was disappointing enough. It conceded to the United States its contention that the boundary line should run parallel to the sinuities of the coast, ten leagues inward from the innermost extremity of the various arms of the sea, thus shutting Canada off from all chance of reaching her Yukon territory from the sea without passing through United States property. But, in return, it assented to Canada's claim that the boundary should begin north of the northerly Portland channel. This was understood as, of course, granting to Canada the four islands lying at the mouth of the Channel, which had been claimed by the American commissioners who contended that the line should begin at the southward of Portland Channel.

Now, however, it appears that, without the shadow of an argument and apparently solely as a concession to American rapacity, two of these islands have been ceded to the States. The vast importance of this is seen when it is remembered that Port Simpson, which is the terminus of the new transcontinental road, lies close to the mouth of Portland Channel and that these American islands absolutely command the only ocean approach to it. Both the Canadian commissioners have protested strongly against this unjust betrayal of Canada's interest, but the three Americans have won Lord Alverstone and the signatures of those four make the reward irrevocable.

Under the circumstances, if the new transcontinental is carried through, some other port must be chosen as a terminal. A Canadian national port, whose entrance is commanded by islands owned by a foreign country, is impossible. An outlet for a nation's produce must have at least possibilities for defense, and Port Simpson with American islands on which American guns could be erected almost within range of its wharves, has none.

THE MAN HIMSELF.

The suggestion made by a journal at Ottawa that Mr. Blair's friends in this province are trying to induce him to resume the New Brunswick premiership may not be true. But if Mr. Blair desires to take that office he has a right to it. If Mr. Blair had not taken hold of the provincial election last winter the Tweedie-Fugatey combination would have been left with less than a dozen supporters, while the leader and the attorney general would both have been defeated. The provincial ministers were helpless, and discredited. Mr. Blair came with the railway department behind him and a prodigious campaign fund and made the fight his own. It was necessary to success that the provincial ministers should be effaced and forgotten, and they themselves knew it. They therefore took up the cry that the fight was Mr. Blair's and not theirs. Mr. Blair was "the man himself." Mr. Blair won the election, and if now he desires its fruits he has a right to claim them.—Sun.

THE HUNTER'S SONG.

(Elroy L. Farquhar, in Field and Stream.)

A woodland slope where the brush-heads hid their heads,
And the rabbits hiding there:
The evening sky all penciled o'er
With branches rising bare.

The valley filled with a thousand lines
Of red brush straight and tall;
The woodland brown with ripened leaves
And autumn's hush o'er all.

Adown the gorge where the shadows hang,
The trailing bound gives tongue,
And rugged hills on every side
Re-echo loud and long.

A startled rush and a ringing shot,
The blue smoke curling low
Where withered leaves at half mast hang,
And tangled thickets grow.

What care we now for the busy world,
Or millions o'er our heads;
The air is sweet, the mind is free
In ripened woodland glades.

We linger yet on the wooded slope,
While evening shadows fall
O'er penciled sky, and rugged gorge,
And red-brush bare and tall.

RABBI IS NOT PLEASED.

Attempt to Convert Jews to Christianity. He Says, is Antagonistic Labor.

(Montreal Herald.)

Rev. Isaac Landman took as the topic of his sermon in the Temple Emanuel, Stanley street, last night, the new mission for Jews, established in this city. He said:

"The attempt to convert the Jew to Christianity is by no means a new thing. We have been plagued by conversions of every type from the days of Antiochus Epiphanes to modern times. We have been offered every species of salvation on the religious market, and have been induced to accept them through oppression, persecution, sword and fire in ancient times; and through promises of sure salvation, wealth and position in modern times.

"For the benefit of the church dignitaries who took part in the opening of the Montreal Mission to the Jews, let me say that they cannot preach Christianity to us without first teaching our principles and beliefs. The Jew cannot understand how the son of Adam must drag mankind down into hell! Nor can he understand how salvation from sin can be found second-hand, that is through a mediator. He believes that man is born pure and free, that he works out his own salvation through righteous deeds.

"Therefore the basic principles of Judaism are Righteousness and the Unity of God.

"Thus if the high dignitaries of the Church of England wish to respect and not to antagonize the Jews, they should close up their mission. Missions to the Jews have failed everywhere, and have done nothing. If one has been sincerely led to conversion through promises of money or work or position, it is always the case with Jewish converts, the Christian mission has led a man to damn his own soul and not to save it.

"There are so many Christian denominations; if all entered with zeal upon our conversion propaganda, they would make a beautiful picture. We ask Christians to leave our faith severe and unshaken. We do not begrudge them their monopoly on heaven; we give to all of them who are righteous, a portion in the world to come without asking them to embrace our faith. We are not particular about which denomination damns us, but we are particular about the peace and happiness of our city and our country.

"Do not support this mission to Jews. A hard winter is at hand. If you have money to give for the betterment of mankind, send it to charities. Help us to remove every beggar from the streets; help us to clothe the widow and the orphan, and help us to break down existing prejudices."

CARNEGIE'S PIPE DREAM.

LIMERICK, Ireland, Oct. 21.—The freedom of this city was given to Andrew Carnegie today. Referring in a speech to emigration, Mr. Carnegie said that "Ireland's loss in this respect is America's gain. He looked for the day," he continued, "when the United States and Canada would have a population of $250,000, and with the British Isles would form one nation."

THE STORM DAMAGE.

Str. Westport, which came up from Grand Manan Monday night, reports that there was a terrific gale there Sunday. The plinky Eden, owned by John Cronk of North Head, was driven ashore on the beach at Flag's Cove. She lost her rudder and was otherwise damaged. She was still aground when the Westport left there Monday. The steamer tried to get her off the sands, but without avail.

The Eastport schooner Flora, owned by Eben Holmes, was also piled up on the beach at Flag's Cove, having gone there to bring fish. She lost her rudder and had her keel injured. She came off later on.

Sch. Misspah dragged her anchors at Flag's Cove, but was held up before touching bottom.

Str. Beaver, which left Waterside, Albert Co., at 8.30 Saturday night for St. John, had an unpleasant trip down. The fact she did not reach St. John till Monday night. GAME WARDEN SHOT AT.

Attempt to Murder S. B. McDonald in the Woods Near Washademoak.

WASHADEMOAK, Oct. 19.—The storm of Saturday night and Sunday morning was one of the worst ever experienced here. About twenty trees were blown across the railway between Washademoak and Young's Cove road. The Bagdad road was rendered impassable. A small barn belonging to Charles Panjov was blown over, and a raft of logs belonging to H. B. Hetherington, lying in Armstrong's Cove, was broken up, also some logs of Thomas Thorne in Pickett's Cove.

While Game Warden S. B. McDonald was in the woods last week looking for moose snares, he was fired on by some concealed person. The bullet struck a tree about three inches above Mr. McDonald's head. Though a careful search was made in the vicinity, no one was discovered. While strong opposition has always been shown to a vigorous enforcement of the game law by certain people, this is the first time that a game warden in the discharge of his duties has been fired at in the parish of Brunswick.

While Leslie Boyd of Goshen was putting a cartridge into a rifle, it exploded, badly burning and lacerating his face. Mr. Boyd was blinded for a time and had to crawl to his home. His sight, however, was not permanently injured.

HAMPTON ITEMS.

Two aged former residents of Hampton were peacefully laid to rest this week. John Nutter, who lived on a small farm below the village on the Norton side of the river, but who has of late lived with George Henderson on Darling's Island, passed away on Friday, and was buried on Monday in the Norton Baptist graveyard, the Rev. C. D. Schofield, rector of St. Paul's parish, conducted the services.

On Saturday evening Charles Demill, aged 72 years, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Oliver C. Steeves, at Elgin, Albert county, where he has resided of late.

The work of repairing the railway station is still going on. The whole building has been raised and now rests on a substantial stone wall and a row of centre piers. This calls for sets of three steps at each of the four entrances. Outside, the sills and stone work have been covered with tongue and grooved boards, effectively excluding the wind from the floors.

On the St. Martins railway the engine and a few freight cars are making about three round trips a week, and there seems to be quite a business going on in the supplies line as well as in carrying lumber.

A Tame Affair at Memphis Between Lou Dillon and Major Delmar.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 20.—What was expected to be one of the greatest harness contests in local history proved to be a tame affair today, when Lou Dillon gave Major Delmar a decisive beating in two straight heats in ordinary time. The two minutes trotters met in the second renewal of the Memphis cup. Ideal weather conditions prevailed and the track was in perfect shape. Fully 15,000 persons were in attendance when the two champions, driven by their owners, C. K. G. Billings and E. W. Smathers, appeared upon the track for the first heat. Mr. Billings won the pole on the toss of a coin. Starter Newton gave the word "go" at the first attempt and Lou Dillon immediately forged to the front and seemingly without effort opened up a gap of three lengths, which advantage he held to the end, winning in an easy jog.

In the second Major Delmar broke badly at the first eighth pole, allowing the daughter of Sidney Dillon to assume a lead of twenty lengths. Turning into the stretch, Mr. Billings, realizing that he had the race at his mercy, pulled the reins up a few inches and the two horses were trotting by eight lengths. Both heats were trotted in 2:04.

THE RING.

Littlejohn and McLeod Again.

Both McLeod, the north end boxer, has not yet received word from the Quebec pugilist, Wagner, who wants to meet him. Talking with a reporter, McLeod said he was waiting an answer from Wagner before he started in to do any really better shape than he intends to be in much better shape than he was at the time of his "go" with Littlejohn when he again enters the roped square. As to his immediate plans the north end man says he will box Littlejohn for the local championship on the 14th of November. If a license can be procured, friends of both boxers are desirous of having the question of "little and best" decided once and for all time, as there has been a lot of talk pro and con since the drawn match in Queen's rink.

Terry McGovern Gets the Decision Over Jimmy Briggs—Why?

BOSTON, Oct. 20.—Terry McGovern, former featherweight champion of the world, was given the decision over Jimmy Briggs of Chelsea tonight after a hard fought fifteen round battle before the Criterion Athletic Club. For ten rounds the ex-champion seemed to have lost his old time cunning, and even a favorable decision for him seemed doubtful. Toward the end, however, superior ring generalship told the story and he had the Chelsea boy completely at his mercy. During the last five rounds McGovern administered terrible punishment, but he was unable to land a decisive blow, and as the final bell found both men on their feet, a decision was given on points. Time after time in the last five rounds McGovern attempted to land a knockout, but Briggs received the blow without flinching, and although weak and apparently almost out, came back for more. No less than 20 rounds backed up by every round of strength in the ex-champion's body found a lodging place in Briggs' jaw during the last two rounds, but Briggs did not go to the floor. The final bell broke in on a red hot exchange of blows with the men in the middle of the ring.

LORD ALVERSTONE'S REASONS

Tells Why He Gave Decision Against Canada—A Blow to Imperial Unity.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Senator Lodge and Turner sail for New York tomorrow on the White Star line steamer Cedric.

Jacob M. Dickinson will start for home Saturday on the American line steamer Philadelphia.

All the American commissioners and counsel express their satisfaction at the award. Senator Turner declined to discuss the statement of the Canadian commissioners, Messrs. Jette and Aylesworth.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—At the meeting of the cabinet today heavy felicitations were exchanged between the president and his advisers over the result of the deliberations of the Alaskan boundary commission. By the president and cabinet the result achieved by the American commissioners in regard to the far away the greatest diplomatic success the United States has had for a generation.

In considering the action of the commission, both the president and the members of the cabinet expressed sincere and cordial appreciation of the lofty and fair-minded position taken by Justice Alverstone, the British member of the tribunal.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—In an interview with a representative of the Associated Press and Clifford Sifton, the Canadian minister of the interior and agent of Great Britain, the latter said: "The award was substantially in favor of the United States all along the line. We have, it is true, succeeded in establishing two of our main contentions—firstly, as to the Portland Canal, and secondly, as to the existence of a mountain boundary line; but, while finding in favor of our contentions upon these phases of the case, the tribunal has worked out a line in such a way as to deprive us of all practical benefit. While we get Wales and the islands, which the Americans have been in possession of for some years, they are deprived of value to Canada by the fact that two islands which lie immediately outside and command the entrance to Observatory Inlet and to Port Simpson are given to the United States. I do not pretend to understand the principle upon which these islands are given away."

"The mountain boundary line, while adopted as contended for by Canada, is drawn so far back that the U. S. gets practically all she has seriously contended for."

"As to our position on the subject of the heads of inlets, it has apparently received no consideration from the majority of the tribunal."

When questioned regarding the conduct of the case by representatives of the U. S., Mr. Sifton said: "I have to say that the agent and counsel of the U. S. have acted with perfect courtesy and good faith throughout."

LONDON, Oct. 20.—A Canadian who has been most intimately and prominently associated with the Alaska case said: "It is the hardest blow the imperial line has ever received. The place Lord Alverstone filled was clearly that of agent for the British government. He will be a shock to the Canadian people to know that notwithstanding all the professions of friendship and sympathy the formalities of the international court have simply been used for the purpose of handing over Canadian territory to the U. S. Canada has been not only spontaneous but zealous in defence of British territory and has not hesitated to sacrifice blood and treasure in defence of the mother land. She must now face the fact that when imperial interests or friendships require it her territory may be handed over without the slightest hesitation. This marks a most serious epoch in the relations between Canada and the mother country."

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Special opinions were submitted on the second and fifth questions by Lord Alverstone, Secretary Root and Senator Turner and Lodge, which will form part of the record and in which the reason for their conclusions are explained. As the Associated Press has been officially informed that Lord Alverstone and the American commissioners rely upon these opinions to answer the criticisms of the Canadian members of the tribunal, the determination of the case will be a legal and technical issue.

Lord Alverstone in dealing with the second question, recites his reasons for believing that the entrance of the third basin, 624 Collins second with 651; Moran, the shortstop with 264, and Jones of Chicago, the outfielders, 124 games with an average of .501. O'Connor of New York leads the backstops, 64 games and an average of .498, and Chebro the pitchers, 33 games with an average of .591.

IS NOT PLEASED.

School Trustees Have Another Difficulty to Contend With.

A resolution was passed on motion of C. B. Lockhart, at the last meeting of the board of school trustees, that George E. Armstrong, principal of the La Tour school, Carleton, be transferred to the Victoria school annex and that Mr. Nelson, the new teacher, formerly of Fairville, be placed in charge of the La Tour school. Mr. Nelson was in the city prepared to enter on his duties on Monday, but the change was not made. It is now reported that a special meeting of the trustees will be called to reconsider their decision.

For a number of years Mr. Armstrong has been on the teaching staff, and was principal of the rooms in the Masonic Hall until he was transferred to the new La Tour school, to which all the Masonic Hall schools were moved. "Naturally he does not favor being deposited from a principality and put in a subordinate position in the Victoria annex. The decision to make the change was reached at a meeting attended by only six trustees, and further consideration will probably be given the subject at an early date."

question should be in the affirmative, because I am constrained to take a view contrary to that presented on behalf of Great Britain."

"The considerations urged on the behalf of Canada," continues Lord Alverstone, "strongly as they are in favor of a just and equitable modification of the treaty, do not, in my opinion, enable one to put a different construction upon the treaty."

This briefly is Lord Alverstone's explanation of why he decided against the contentions of his own countrymen and thereby settled the long standing dispute.

CHAMBERLAIN TALKS.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Joseph Chamberlain addressed an enthusiastic meeting of 4,000 persons at Newcastle tonight. It was his first public appearance since his recent illness. The former colonial secretary devoted considerable time and attention to ridiculing Lord Rosebery, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman and Earl Spencer. Mr. Chamberlain said he has not raised a party, but rather a national question. He was willing to answer seriously the points raised by men like Lord Goschen and H. H. Asquith. He had not pretended, he continued, that his system could be instituted without costing anything at the start, but he did urge that taxation be transferred from points where it benefitted nobody to points where the empire would profit. If the country had done well in the past it was not because of free trade.

Replying to the charge that he had based his whole system on the boom year of 1872, Mr. Chamberlain said his opponents would find, if they took the year 1875, that these would show better still for his side of the case, and he went at length into statistics with the view of proving this contention. He did not say if his system was a certain tendency towards cleavage, and commercial interference was the only method of binding the colonies to the mother country.

MAINE BURGGLARS.

NORTH ANSON, Me., Oct. 20.—After the most exciting and tedious burglar hunt in the criminal history of the state, deputy sheriffs and a posse succeeded today in capturing the remaining two of the four men who escaped from the clutches of 200 or more armed citizens of North Anson, Mercer, and adjacent towns on Wednesday of last week, after they had blown a safe and robbed two stores. The men were taken at a remote point in the wilds of Northern Maine, about fifty miles northwest of North Anson, and 20 miles south of the Canadian boundary. Before they surrendered the posse in pursuit were obliged to face the fugitives, wounding one of them in the leg. The other man was not hurt, nor was any of the officers injured in the fight.

It is learned that the robbers are not Fred and John Burns, as was stated by the other two of the quartet who were captured after a running fight of several miles, in Mercer, shortly after the burglaries in New state that the fugitives taken today are no other than John Reynolds and his brother Fred, alleged criminals, hailing from Colebrook, N. H., and for whose capture officers said to have been committed in that state the authorities some time ago offered a reward of $250 each. The correct names of the first two men captured were George M. Caville and John Nutting, and they had also from Northern New Hampshire, where they are wanted for crimes alleged to have been committed.

KING EDWARD VII.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The Duke of Devonshire, until recently lord president of the council, in a published letter, while acknowledging that the fiscal question may require a reconsideration of the liberal-until attitude towards the government, advises the liberal-untilists at present to remain loyal to the government, especially as precautions against home rule proposals in parliament are still necessary.

An attempt to draw an expression of opinion from King Edward on the fiscal controversy by a letter asking for the truth of a statement published to the effect that His Majesty was free trader and had said that he would regard with great dislike any proposal for taxing food, has elicited a curt reply from Buckingham Palace, saying: "The private secretary is commanded to say that the King never expresses any opinion on political matters except on the advice of his responsible ministers, and therefore the statement must be inaccurate."

THE SIGN OF THE CROSS.

Maurice E. Bandmann as Marcus Superbus Tonight.

The Bandmanns in San Toy delighted a large audience last night, Miss Eliza in the name part and Mr. Cole as Luigi being, as usual the favorites, though the heartiest applause of the evening was conceded to Miss Morris for an exceedingly graceful dance.

Opera will be dropped tonight and that charming religious work, The Sign of the Cross, Wilson Barrett's masterpiece, will be presented with spectacular effect. Maurice E. Bandmann will take the leading role, that of Marcus Superbus, the Prefect of Rome, and Miss Blanche Forsythe, Mercia.

Nero is on the throne and has decreed the extermination of all Christians—men, women and children. To Marcus is allotted this special care, and thus is brought into contact with this Christian girl. He recognizes her something he has never seen before. He is fired by her holy beauty, and vainly endeavors to win her. But tender pleadings and soft promises are of no avail. Mercia lives but for one thing—her faith. Steadfast in her resolve, she remains true to Him—the High Power which has enveloped her very soul. Marcus finally experiences conversion to Christianity.

THE FABIAN LEAGUE.

The annual meeting of the Fabian League will be held in Berryman's Hall tomorrow night, when officers will be elected and committees appointed. All persons who desire to join are requested to be on hand at 7.30 to sign the roll. Any resident of St. John city or county over 18 years of age is eligible for membership. The objects of the league are:

The study of all questions arising between capital and labor, the free discussion of economic problems, and the propagation of all ideas that tend to lighten the toll, promote the welfare and elevate the social and moral conditions of the people.

The platform of the league is: Municipal ownership and management of gas and electric lighting, short distance telephones, street railways and water supply.

Government ownership and management of telegraph lines, railroads, and long distance telephones, and of all natural products which from their nature can be easily monopolized.

Old age pensions, similar to New Zealand.

National life insurance system.

Board of arbitration to settle disputes between employers and employees—the judgment of such board to be compulsory and final.

Minimum wage.

A working day act, regulating the hours of labor, so that the hours in factories, foundries and other great industries will decrease as the advance in invention increases productive capacity.

WORKINGMEN'S RATES.

Petition Asking the Street Railway Co. for a Reduction in Fares.

A petition to the Street Railway Company is now in circulation asking for better rates for those who are accustomed to travel on the street cars a great deal each day. The company are requested to issue what are known as "workingmen's tickets" at a reduced rate, say 2-1/2c. per trip. This is done in many of the large cities in upper Canada, and special tickets are issued for the hours when workingmen usually go to and return from work. During the rest of the day the usual fare is charged.

It is contended that it is only proper that this request should be complied with, and that those who are in the habit of making regular trips on the street cars should be able to pay special rates. The petition is now being signed by a large number of citizens and will be forwarded to Manager Earle at once.

THE PORT GREVILLE ROBBERY.

C. W. Elderkin of A. C. & C. W. Elderkin of Advocate Harbor is in town. Mr. Elderkin says he has looked carefully into the facts of the Port Greville postmaster robbery. The postmaster he believes is an honest man and recently succeeded his father. Every month a large amount of money is sent there for the copper company, and as the postmaster has no safe in his office he has taken the money, $4,000 or $5,000, home. Everybody in the district knew precisely the day this money reached Port Greville, and the only wonder was that the bundle had not been stolen before.

Robinson, Master Eric Titus, Miss Louise Knight and Charles Knight. Readings will be given by Miss De Ceu of Montreal, Miss Holt and Miss Armstrong.

AT LABOR HALL.

FRENCH SCHOONER WRECKED.

SYDNEY, C. B., Oct. 20.—The French schooner, Catharine, from St. Pierre, was wrecked at Pointe Aconia, C. B., last night. The crew barely escaped with their lives. They passed the night in their dorries and suffered great hardships on account of rough weather until they effected a landing at Little Bras d'Or this morning. Later in the day they came to North Sydney, where they were looked after by the French consul. They lost nearly all their effects. The vessel went to pieces shortly after striking on the rocks.

PARLIAMENT

OTTAWA, Oct. 20.—In the commons today Sir Wilfrid Laurier denied the accuracy of the statement in New York to the effect that he had advised the Canadian commissioners as to what line of conduct they should follow.

The bill to amend the elections act was considered in committee and so amended that few of its provisions remain. It was held for further consideration.

Railway subsidies were then discussed.

OTTAWA, Oct. 20.—A message was read from the senate in the commons conveying the refusal of the house to consent to the amendments to the railway commission bill sent for consideration. A special committee of the commons was appointed to confer with the senate in order to arrive at an agreement.

On adjournment, Mr. Borden asked for information as to the award of the Alaskan boundary commission. He requested to be informed as to whether any Canadian or British commissioner had given any official explanation of the reasons for the decision.

Laurier stated that the only information he had as to the award was conveyed in a telegram from Sifton. He hoped to secure the consent of the British government to bring down the correspondence which led up to the appointment of the commission.

OTTAWA, Oct. 20.—Mulock is still acting in a nasty way in regard to opposition campaign literature. Unless he comes down there promises to be lively times in the commons. It is understood that Laurier is inclined to sit on the postmaster general, and a deadlock may be anticipated.

D. C. Fraser was presented with a gold pocket watch from friends in Guysboro.

THE CHALET CO.

The Annual Meeting Was Held Yesterday Afternoon.

The annual meeting of the Chalet Company was held at the Chalet yesterday afternoon, for the purpose of receiving reports and conducting routine business. The Chalet was full of visitors almost all the time during three months of the summer and was more popular than ever before. Consequently the house committee were able to report a considerable surplus on hand. It has always been customary to hold the annual meeting in April, but at the last meeting it was decided to hold it in October, so that the new officers and committees appointed could make all arrangements for opening next season.

Another meeting will be held on Tuesday evening next in the Y. M. C. A. rooms, when the new officers will be appointed.

DYKEMAN'S

AN EXTRAORDINARY SALE OF

Ladies' Black Sateen Underskirts.

Why is it that this store is always offering large lots of goods at very special prices. The answer is found in the fact that we pay spot cash for everything we buy, and factories, mills and agents knowing of this when they have clearing lines, will advise us of the fact, and as the people of St. John know this as a store where they can get sterling values it gives us an outlet for large quantities. Here are 500 black sateen underskirts at extraordinary prices.

No. 1 lot is 75c., regular price is $1.00. It is made from mercerized sateen, has a nine inch accordion plaited flounce with dust ruffle, comes in 38, 40 and 42 lengths.

No. 2 lot is 85c., is made from a nice quality of mercerized sateen with a wide accordion plaited flounce, having a row of fagotting two inches from the edge.

No. 3 lot is priced $1.00. This is like illustration and is made from a very nice quality of mercerized sateen. It is worth ordinarily $1.50.

No. 4 lot is priced $1.25, and has four ruffles on a 13 inch flounce, each ruffle is headed with cording, so as to keep the skirt well distended, regular value of this is $1.75.

No. 5 lot is priced $1.50. It is like illustration and is so constructed that the outside frill will not lie flat, consequently it keeps the dress skirt well distended. SCH. ELTIS LOST.

The loss of the schooner Eltis, up the bay, in yesterday's storm, has been confirmed. Very little, however, has been added to the particulars already received regarding the disaster. It is known that the crew with some difficulty reached the shore in safety, leaving behind all their belongings. All the ship's papers were lost.
Capt. Howard Friddle was in charge of the wrecked schooner. The Sun this morning erroneously stated that Capt. Hester was in charge. It is now some months since Capt. Hester gave up his charge of the schooner Eltis.

TWENTY-SIXTH ANNIVERSARY.

Oct. 26, 1877, was the Date of the Great Portland Fire.

Yesterday (Oct. 26th) was the anniversary of the great Portland fire. The fire broke out about two o'clock in the morning, the twenty-six years ago. Commencing at Chapel street, close to the Methodist church, in an "incredibly short time it was extended as far as Long Wharf. For eighteen hours the flames combated the flames, and only by the most determined efforts, with a fire equipment wholly inadequate, was the conflagration finally subdued. In all 108 houses, including the Methodist church, were consumed. One life was lost, being that of a man named Baxter.

John A. Kane was the chief of the Portland fire department and, considering the means at his disposal (he had only one fire engine) he made a gallant struggle to arrest the conflagration. He and his men remained at their posts for eighteen hours and they were thoroughly tired when at last the flames had been extinguished. That was the first fire at which No. 4 engine was used and the man who ran it was the present superintendent of the fire alarm, E. P. Leonard.

CRITICISM WELL RECEIVED.

To the Editor of the Star:
Sir,—I was pleased to see that someone had at last taken notice of the disgraceful custom prevailing among St. John actors in leaving their seats before the end of any performance they may be witnessing, but at the same time I regret that a stranger should be the one to point out this rudeness. I do not think St. John people ever realized to what an extent the habit had taken hold. Why, now it is by no means unusual for the orchestra in theatre to play only the first few bars of our national anthem. I have repeatedly heard this done and the musicians claim that they see no sense in playing through the whole verse when those who should be standing at their seats are either on the street or crowding through the doors. It is to be hoped that those who know better will have a little more respect for the performers and that those who do not know their duty will gradually learn it. It is worthy of note that the "Visitor's" letter was responsible or not, the audience in the York Theatre last evening did not seem in such a hurry to go out as has been the case on some previous occasions.

RESIDENT.

RECENT WEDDINGS.

On Wednesday, the seventh inst., Margaret, daughter of Mrs. Kenneth Fraser, was united in marriage to Dr. M. R. Young, B. A., both of Millville, N. S. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Fraser, M. A., of Scotsburn. A very pretty wedding took place at 12.30 o'clock last Wednesday in Knox church, Pictou, N. S., the contracting parties being Miss Stella Blanch Gouley Cruikshank, of Pictou, and Dr. Archibald Hamilton Newman, of Montreal.

At 2.30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon the 14th inst., a large concourse of people was assembled in the Presbyterian church, Upper Canada, to witness the marriage of Miss Hanna E. Burgess to the Rev. J. A. Ramsay, B. A.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

At Red Head last night a meeting in the interests of agriculture in New Brunswick was held, the speakers being T. G. Raynor of Ross Hill, Ont., and C. F. Alward, of Havelock, N. B. A large audience were in attendance. Mr. Raynor spoke on the building of dairy herds, while Mr. Alward spoke on co-operative dairying. Both addresses were listened to with keen interest.

A number of those present last night became members of the St. John Farmers' Institute. Messrs. Alward and Raynor left this morning for Pennfield to address a gathering there this evening.

SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDED.

Tyler and Mrs. Tyler, of Burlington, Nova Scotia. The scholarship will be of the annual value of $20. It will be awarded to Tyler's class during this and their successive years in college, viz: 1903-4 to the sophomore, 1904-5 to the junior, and 1905-6 to the senior class. MEAN MEDICAL MEN.

Outside Opinion of St. John Medical Society's Action in Ordering Dr. Turnbull Away.

"Dr. Thomas Turnbull, who came here a few weeks ago to look after the practice of Dr. W. F. Roberts, of North End, (undergoing special surgical treatment in New York), has returned home. His removal was due to action taken by the St. John Medical Society. The Medical Act makes it peremptory that physicians shall undergo an examination before being allowed to practice in this province, which examination, it is stated, Dr. Turnbull did not take. In connection with the above a Montreal physician, who is prepared to back up what he says, has written to the Star on the subject of Dr. Turnbull's treatment by the Medical Association here. He says in part—

"As perhaps you know, Dr. Roberts is in New York, having undergone a serious operation, and he left behind him to do his work a young man, Dr. Thomas Turnbull, of Ontario. Further, Turnbull was jumped on by the medical council of St. John on complaint, it is said, of some North End M. D., and was sent home bag and baggage. Naturally such a mode of bidding adieu would leave an impression among at least those whom he attended, that Dr. Turnbull was a shady man or disqualified in some way. It is to correct this impression that I write, the more so as I had something to do with his going to St. John.

"Dr. Turnbull had no intention of ever practicing in New Brunswick permanently, as he had arranged to settle elsewhere. There was no chance for him to take an examination before the New Brunswick board for a long time, even if he wished to do so, and no permit to practice until such examination was held was allowed him. It might be interesting to learn what medical man made the complaint, as from what I know of the board I believe that no fault in details could be taken against such a physician as Dr. Turnbull unless some complaint was made.

"Concerning Dr. Turnbull's record, and as to whether or not he was a fit man to associate with St. John practitioners, I am prepared to vouch for him when necessary. Dr. Turnbull graduated at McGill in 1899, after having taken honors every year of his course, and graduating next to the final prize. He was appointed resident surgeon to the Royal Victoria hospital, which position he held for two years. He then received an appointment in British Columbia, where he practiced until in October, when he went to London for a post graduate course, and it was after his return from there and before his arrangements for settling permanently were completed that he accepted Dr. Robert's suggestion to go to St. John while he (Dr. Roberts) went to New York. Dr. Turnbull is registered and qualified to practice in Ontario and British Columbia. As to his other qualities no one has anything but good to say of him, and no one could conceive of his acting in any way except as a gentleman.

"It is no doubt a law, but it looks strangely to a layman for a man so qualified and acting temporarily under the guarantee of a registered practitioner, who is compelled to leave his practice through illness, to be warned to desist from practice under penalty of a fine, particularly when Dr. Roberts has previously endeavored to secure two different men registered in the province of New Brunswick, but had failed in doing so. With this precedent even the most famous surgeon may be liable to fine or imprisonment for operating in St. John if a man can be found who will enter a complaint, stating that he is not registered in New Brunswick."

"I write this merely because it is nothing more than justice to Dr. Turnbull that he should be put right with the people, a petition was being circulated. He is placed in an awkward position and is not the man to say anything about it himself. And Dr. Roberts, too, is in a false light without having an opportunity to explain."

Dr. Turnbull, it may be added, came to St. John on Saturday, Oct. 18th, and assumed charge of Dr. Roberts' practice. He left for his home on Friday night in connection with the action taken by the Medical Society.

TOBIQUE COMPANY INSOLVENT.

In supreme court chambers yesterday afternoon, before Mr. Justice McLaughlin, a petition was presented by Geo. A. Murchie to place the Tobique Manufacturing Co. in liquidation, and asking for the examination of Wm. Matheson, Donald Fraser, Allison B. Connell and Ralph Dimock. The petition set forth that the Tobique Manufacturing Co. was insolvent, that the company had allowed a judgment of Archibald Fraser's for $18,000 to go against it, and was allowing the foreclosure of a trust mortgage of $170,000. Upon the application of Attorney General Fugatey, an order was made for the viva voce examination of Wm. Matheson, Donald Fraser, Allison B. Connell and Ralph Dimock. The books of both Hale & Murchie and the Tobique Manufacturing Co. will be submitted for examination, and by consent Geo. A. Murchie will be present.

W. H. C. Grimmer, K. C., solicitor, with Attorney General Fugatey, K. C., appeared for the petitioner; D. McL. Vince and Winslow & Allen, contra.

SMALLPOX IN CAPE BRETON.

Dr. R. C. McLeod yesterday notified County Clerk Curry of the presence of smallpox at Beausay Cove, 9 1/2 miles at Long Island (No. 23), there being one case in each district. The acting health officer, Dr. J. C. Morrison, was immediately informed of the matter, and he has already taken steps to prevent a further spread of the disease. Current reports from North Sydney would indicate that there are a large number of cases in that town, many of whom the medical authorities are not aware until the patients get over their sickness and appear on the street. The schools and churches there have been closed as a precautionary means. The bill for smallpox that will come before the January session of the municipal council promises to be very heavy—Sydney Post.

JAS. TENNANT'S PENSION.
The Imperial War Office Grant a Life Pension.

(Frederick Gleaner.)
James Tennant, son of James Tennant of this city, has been granted a life pension by the Imperial War Office. Mr. Tennant served in the South African war, and it will be remembered that he was shot in the head during the Hart's River engagement in which four other Fredericton boys were among those who took part, Bert Finnamore, Robert Phillips, Harry Ryan and Sam Jones. Mr. Tennant was removed to the hospital at Johannesburg, and for a time his life was despaired of. Since his recovery, however, the affection of the eye has developed, and instructions were some time ago received from the war office to ascertain his condition. A medical report followed, and on this a life pension was granted.

In the mission church this morning Miss Laura W. MacFarland, daughter of Dr. MacFarland, of Fairville, and Ernest R. Williams, of the correspondence school, were united in marriage. SCOTLAND WELL REPRESENTED.

Never was Scotland so well represented in this city by persons of note from that country as she will be in the Opera House on the 25th and 26th inst., when the greatest of all Scottish tenors, violinists and character comedians will be heard, namely Geo. Neil, Mackenzie Murdoch, and Harry Munroe, respectively, beside a fine Scottish soprano, and a pianist of note. When was ever so popular an event announced in this city? And some idea might be derived as to the interest taken in Scotland by that one lady who has been confined to the house all summer, was heard to affirm that she would hear these great Scotch artists if she was forced to go on crutches. Don't forget the dates, Nov. 25th and 26th.

STEWARDESS BADLY INJURED.

Mrs. Howard, chief stewardess on the Eastern liner State of Maine, was very severely injured last night while the steamer was entering Eastport. There were four passengers on board, and Howard was going down from the saloon to the ladies' cabin a roll of the steamer threw her to the bottom of the stairs. Her head came in contact with one of the steps and was quite badly cut, many stitches being required to close it. Mrs. Howard received attention on the steamer, and upon arriving in St. John this morning was removed to her sister's residence, where Dr. Addy is attending her.

THELMA.

It is stated that the cast of Thelma, soon to be seen here, is the best this play has ever had, and credence can be given to this from the fact that Ethel Brandon heads the list of players. Miss Brandon is not only a capable actress; she is a charming woman besides; she has been for a number of years accepted as one of the best of our leading ladies, although she is still young. She began her stage career quite young, and has climbed to popularity and position on her merit and ability. She is undoubtedly an acquisition to any cast.

The C. P. R. officials who were to have come to the city at noon today failed to arrive and are still in Montreal, so far as is known. It is believed that they will come down tonight.

BODY NOT FOUND.

Mr. and Mrs. George Colwell Return From the West Without the Remains of Their Son.

Mr. Geo. W. Colwell and Mrs. Colwell returned home this morning from the west where they have been for the past month vainly seeking to recover the body of their son, whose drowning was heard by his many friends with keen regret. Mr. Colwell says that he has not yet given up hope of eventually recovering the body. The police of Calgary left their assistance and have stretched a boom across the river, some miles below where the drowning occurred, to stop the body from passing down to the sea. Mr. Colwell does not think that there was any foul play, but that the drowning was purely accidental. He brought home with him the watch of the unfortunate lad, which was found on the island on which he was cast.

FINDS LOCATION OF EMMET'S BODY.

Grandpewhew Convicted Irish Patriot Was Buried in St. Peter's Churchyard, Dublin.

Dr. Thomas Addis Emmet, of No. 31 Madison avenue, has probably solved the mystery of the burial place of Robert Emmet, his great-uncle, the famous Irish patriot who was put to death by the English for high treason, at Dublin, on September 20, 1803. In the Emmet family vault in St. Peter's churchyard, Angler street, Dublin, Dr. Emmet is convinced, the bones of his ancestor lie.

In his three months' trip abroad, just concluded, Dr. Emmet was unable to obtain permission to open this vault. He finally had positively proved, however, that Robert Emmet's body is not in St. Michael's churchyard nor in Glasnevin. Tradition has never gone outside the three in designating the patriot's last resting place.

That Emmet's body lies in the family vault Dr. Emmet is assured from the elimination of the two other supposed burial places, and from several other facts. Robert Emmet's sister was the wife of Robert Holmes, a noted barrister, who, returning from England on the night of the uprising for which Emmet was hanged, was arrested in Dublin and thrown into the tower prison. His family knew he was in Dublin, but learned no more of his fate. A year later, months after Emmet's execution, Holmes was released and, going home, was met by his wife. She fell dead in his arms, killed by the shock.

Mrs. Holmes was buried in the dead of night, contrary to all custom, and her body placed in the Emmet vault in St. Peter's, where lay her parents' bodies. Dr. Emmet believes this was done to enable removal of Robert Emmet's body from the receiving vault in the same churchyard and its burial in the family vault.

When an edict prohibiting burials in Dublin was issued in 1840 the headstones and tomb covers in St. Peter's churchyard were taken up and the sun face covered with a thick layer of cement. The stones were replaced prominently, merely indicating that the bodies they commemorated lay some where in the churchyard. Objections of families whose ancestors are buried there prevented Dr. Emmet from excavating.
