PRESENT TELEPHONE SERVICE NOT SATISFACTORY

A New Line to be Built. American Capitalists Interested

The complete usefulness of the telephone is found when towns and communities are tied together, and rates service and a desire to please the whole public is the paramount aim of the promoter.

He will at once commence the construction of a line from Bonny River to Second Falls, and Rolling Dam, into St. Stephen, where connection will be made with the Forest Telephone line, which now extends through different sections of Maine, and also has connection by their own cable, with Deer Island and Campobello.

Associated with Mr. Sullivan in the project are several American gentlemen of means, who are deeply interested and financially in a position to promote this enterprise, which may be the entering wedge of a service that will eventually cover New Brunswick.

Obituary

Capt. Luke Holmes aged eighty-one died at the residence of Samuel Poole in Penfield on Friday last and was buried on Sunday afternoon, Rev. H. L. Lynds officiating. Capt. Holmes leaves a widow, three sons and two daughters.

The Consumer

Washington, July 21.--The ultimate consumer at times has shown himself a susceptible gawk. More than once, when he has clamored, the men who make the tariffs have filled his belly with the east wind of his palaver, and told him that his hunger was appeased.

the tariff. See how it is, even now. Three months ago the people were complaining of the Payne tariff bill. They were saying what is perfectly true, that it was not a reduction of the Dingley rates, that it did not revise the existing tariff law downward.

Now, they are clamoring against the senate bill and calling upon the congress to stand by the Payne bill, as though that measure represented the sum of their tariff salvation. Lots of them seem to have lost sight of the fact that this congress was called to revise, not the Aldrich bill or the Payne bill, but the Dingley law. Neither the House proposal nor the senate proposal, taken as a whole, is as low a tariff barrier as the existing law.

What the ultimate consumer buys may be summed up in three words: Food, clothing and shelter. They represent his necessities. He has seen the price of these necessities soar steadily, while his wage or salary has stood still, or, at the best, has not advanced proportionately.

The ultimate consumer does not buy hides, or iron ore, or raw wool, or steel rails. He is only interested in free iron ore as free iron ore may mean a reduction in the cost of iron manufactures; agricultural implements, household utensils, builders' hardware. He is interested in free coal, if it means a reduction in the size of his bills for lighting and fuel.

The ultimate consumer takes satisfaction in President Taft's stand for an extended list of free raw materials. But his satisfaction will be short-lived if the benefit does not descend to him. Will the reduction of the duty on lumber make it any cheaper for him to build a house? Is the question he asks. Will free hides and free coal for the New England manufacturer make the cost of their finished product any lower to me? He wants to know. If there is to be no countervailing duty on oil what will be the new price of kerosene to fill the lamps? The conference committee, it has been reported, has cut the duty on "tops" in the wool schedule; does that mean that an overcoat or a suit of clothes will cost less next winter than they did last winter?

"I shall be glad to see hides go on the free list," said an Iowa man today, "if for no other reason than to show the farmers out in my part of the country what a bunco protection really is, so far as they are concerned. A duty on hides, I honestly believe, doesn't put a cent in their pockets. They won't be a penny the poorer if the duty is removed. But when they have been inclined to chafe against the high prices they had to pay because of the tariff protection given to agricultural implements and other manufactured products which they used, it has always been pointed out to them how they shared the benefits and blessings of protection through the duty on hides and other farm products. With hides on the free list, may be they will see how they have been gulled."

WEDDING BELLS

On Tuesday evening July 20th, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kernighan was the scene of a very pretty wedding when their daughter Miss Ethel M. Anderson was united in marriage to Wellington S. Hart. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. L. Lynds. The bride was gowned in white with hat and gloves to match and carried a bouquet. Miss Ethel A. Kernighan attended the bride and George B. Anderson brother of the bride supported the groom. After the ceremony ice cream and cake were served. The gifts were very pretty and useful. Amidst showers of rice and good wishes, the happy couple drove to their future home at Utopia.

LELETE

Miss Elsie Greenlaw of Eastport spent a few days here last week. Walter Hoyt spent Sunday at his home here. Miss Jessie Catharin who has been attending Business College in St. John is home for vacation. We are sorry to hear that Mrs. Howard McNichol is on the sick list. Miss Portia Seelye is visiting her sister in St. John. Seymour McLean has purchased a fine new motor boat. Ottawa, July 23.--W. J. White, inspector of Dominion immigration agencies in the United States, is here and reaffirms his former prediction that 75,000 immigrants will come this year from the United States to Canada. He has recently conducted a party of American visitors through the Northwest. "What impressed the party most," he said, "was the character of the settlement along the line, towns of from five to ten thousand inhabitants, with imposing school houses and other evidences of solid settlement, and peopled by a superior stamp of men and women who gave them cordial welcome." No Canadian born could speak more enthusiastically of the future of Canada than did those visitors upon the conclusion of their trip. "As it happened," Mr. White continued, "we were in Lethbridge on the day of the school lands sale, when eight quarter sections were put up at auction, and some 60 people, not only speculators, but farmers, stood in line from Sunday night until Monday morning to get first chance in the bidding. The scene was an object lesson of the growing value of Canadian farm lands, which did not fail to impress itself upon the party."

Use of Ammonia.

At cleaning time ammonia is a great saving labor. It is also an effective for brass, nickel and steel.

Its uses are many and very beneficial. Glassware, windows and mirrors are made cleaner and brighter with less labor if washed with warm water and a little ammonia.

To begin with, two tablespoonfuls added to the bath makes hard water as good as soft, keeps the skin nice, and gives an especially clean feeling after doing any rough or dirty work a little in the water you wash your hands in will help to keep them nice and soft.

It makes an excellent silver polish too, if mixed in equal quantities with whitening enough to make cream; rub this lightly on with a flannel and polish with a dry cloth.

Dr. Hamilton's Cure for Pimples

Flattery and Neglect.

It is hard on a girl with good looks that she should have to bear the sneers held at her empty headed sisters. Because many pratty girls with a scarcity of brains have proved marriage a failure for their husbands, there is no reason why every pretty girl should be called an "empty headed doll." That it is fitting in some cases is true. The flattery according to beauty turns the heads of silly girls, just as the neglect of the plain girl drives her to the useful and homely arts of cooking and needlework.

At seventeen or even twenty a girl in many cases too young to understand that something more than mere prettiness is needed in order to properly manage a home and satisfy a man. But the admiration of the men has lead her to believe that continual worship of her beauty is the whole thing. Without the blessings of good looks a girl at an early age discovers that if marriage is to be her portion she will get it by her charms, or the wifely qualities that a man knows so well how to set a value on.

After Marriage.

He (after marriage)—I don't see why you are not as considerate of my comfort as you used to be of your father's. She—Why, my dear, I am! He—How do you make that out? When I come into the house I have to hunt around for my slippers and every thing else I happen to want; but when I used to court you, and your father would come in from down-town, you would rush around gathering up his things, wheel his easy chair up to the fire, warm his slippers, and get him both a head-rest and a foot-rest, so that all he had to do was to drop right down and be comfortable. She—Oh, that was only so he'd go to sleep sooner!—New York Weekly.

Got New knee from Corpe.

A surgical operation of a most remarkable nature was performed recently in the Georgetown Hospital at Washington, D. C. upon a patient named George A. Kelley, who was admitted a few days before suffering from a fractured kneecap.

On the morning of the operation another patient in the hospital whose build was almost precisely the same as Kelley's, died, and the hospital surgeons promptly decided to amputate Kelley's kneecap and substitute for it the one from the corresponding leg of the dead man. The operation was speedily and successfully performed, and the doctors predict a quick and complete recovery for the patient. It is declared that only once before has an operation of a similar nature been performed in history.

The Girl with Good Looks.

A man must be very much in love with beauty to last through any but a short courtship with a pretty girl who is at all popular. If he is of a jealous nature his agony will be dreadful. Until she is married men regard a girl as a companion of the man who is lucky enough to hold her in conversation, and if she is pretty, he doesn't mind what nonsense he talks in order to do this. It is certainly not a girl's fault that her good qualities are not developed while she has beauty, for the men are proving to her every day that that is sufficient for them. This means that it is sufficient for an afternoon, or for several afternoons, providing they do not come too close together. So different is marriage from courtship that men do not realize until they are married how a part good looks play in the life long comedy. They merely look upon a comely, dainty dressed creature, and wish to possess her. And seeing how much attention she has, a pretty girl cannot be blamed for setting a value upon her looks, though it were, perhaps better she understood how false a part they play.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

TOWN HISTORY

At this present juncture in our town history it might not be amiss for the citizens of St. George, the taxpayers especially, to consider carefully what progress has been made in the administration of public affairs since the town has become incorporated.

In the case of a small town like this, where our qualifications for incorporation do not come up to the present requirements which the Legislature of the Province has lately enacted, it is certainly necessary to show good and practical reasons why we should continue as a corporate body.

The disadvantages of incorporation are by no means to be disregarded—among which the following may be cited: 1st The cost of running a small town, which cost is equal to one of much greater pretensions.

2nd The control of public affairs is removed further from the people.

3rd The trouble which inevitably arises when several men attempt to do the business which has formerly been done by two, as some wise man has said, "A Committee is a thing which takes a week to do what one good man can do in an hour."

The above are a few of the disadvantages of town incorporation.

What advantages have we to offset these drawbacks?

We have better order in our midst, owing to the presence of a Marshal. We have a few kerosene lights placed at a few corners which dimly light the pedestrian's way on dark nights. We have a school board of nine members and a "grave train"—the same old "grave train" as of yore.

The first two we could have without all this machinery of a Mayor and eight Aldermen, and from the two latter items the town could tear itself away without too great a wrench.

St. George under the old regime had a school board of three members. At that time the yearly cost of procuring good teachers, and running splendid schools was on an average $1400 per year.

This year the cost of our schools, with a staff of untried teachers with one exception, will be $2600—an advance of $1200 over former years. True we have one more school to support but can this account for the great increase in the cost of our educational system?

In the present state of affairs the taxpayers do not have the right to vote on the money raised for school purposes as formerly. Under the old system the taxpayers voted at their annual school meeting the money necessary to carry on the schools, and they had the opportunity to refuse an extravagant estimate, if such were made by the school board. No one certainly would wish to curtail legitimate expenses or cripple the efficiency of our schools, yet all wish them to be run as economically as possible. If under the present condition of affairs the school board be extravagant how can the people the taxpayers, remedy the evil? He has no power; he pays his tax amid mutterings not loud but deep, and calls down malediction on the heads of those responsible for his increased tax.

That our road money is wasted, is the opinion of nine out of ten of those who pay the road tax, and the question naturally arises why cannot the repairs to our roads and streets be given out by tender, and thus make one dollar do the work of two? It would seem that since incorporation no effort has been made to save the people's money by either the council or the school board.

In small towns the council is an unpaid body. It is a favor for the town to get men to act on the board, hence there is no incentive to please the people—as an alderman has little inclination to remain in his position. There is no competition for places at the council board, hence the indifference shown in regard to the wishes of the tax payer.

The conditions are such at the present time, that there is a strong feeling in this community against incorporation, and a desire to go back to the old conditions, which though by no means ideal have not been improved upon by town incorporation. It is certainly necessary for those in charge of town affairs to show a greater inclination to please and a tendency towards conducting the business of the town on business principles, if St. George, a small town, one thousand below the required population necessary for incorporation, shall continue to rank as a corporate body.

BY THE WAY

Taxes. _____

Up! Up! Up! _____

Is incorporation a success. _____

No explanation can do away with the fact that the figures are there.

In a stiff fight the liberals elected Beutley for the local house in St. John city.

Every man without a dog is demanding that his neighbor, with a dog, pay a tax on the animal.

Sun, Telegraph, Standard, Globe, the election is over. Stop calling names and all hands congratulate the winner.

He had never been to sea before. "Can you keep anything on your stomach?" the ship doctor asked. "No, sir," he feebly retorted, "nothing but my hand."

It now remains for Back Bay to show that it is an intention of being "second to none" in the coming fishermen's picnic, and her citizens will undoubtedly do "themselves proud" on the auspicious occasion.

News from Glouce Bay:—Coal Company is gaining ground. Output of mines continue to increase. More men return to work. Production nearing the record. Miners at work making big pay. Outlook not bright for the striker. No life coal machines. Very latest:—Troops will stay till end of strike.

The public interest will be served by a discussion of the assessment for the present year. It would appear to be open to criticism in some cases. Perhaps if the assessors had followed in the footsteps of their predecessors there would have been less complaint. But, his only fair to remember that more money was required this year than last.

The Telegraph, speaking of the city papers says, "the electors were not moved by the solemn predictions of the Standard, or the timid advocacy of the newspaper of Senator Ellis, or the fiddling of the Sun. They knew the Standard for the same old Tory campaign poster. They knew the Globe for an enemy of the liberal party, masquerading as a friend. And of course they didn't mind the hungry and unhappy Sun at all."

When good roads are built either by the townships or Counties the land lying along them is immediately increased in value. A farm lying beside a good road is worth from ten to twenty five per cent more than one of the same soil and that can be reached only over bad roads. The remedy that suggests itself is to bring all roads to the best condition as soon as possible. As good roads are necessary everywhere, road building an understood science, and the methods of building them economically through communal state labor, municipal enterprise and Provincial aid fully developed, the discomforts, wastefulness, and injustice of present conditions should be ended without delay. Ratepayers will find it to their material profit to give the question of good roads pre-eminence over all others.—Toronto Globe.

The Red Man Speaks

(It is proposed to erect in New York harbor a gigantic statue as a memorial to the Indian.)

Aye, put me in bronze in your water-way.

But how shall the sculptor pose me, pray? Shall I kneel, while the robber white man stands

And orders me far from his stolen lands. Lands that were ours through the long, long years

Ere our laughter died in a flood of tears; Or shall I pose as I stand to day.

On the last reservation huddled away— Stand, with a beggar's hand outstretched For the ration the surly agent has fetched.

Stand in the remnant of my pride While far away—in a fall day's ride— In my tattered lodge in the prairie grey No children's voices are raised in play, But only a squaw's voice fills the night, Moaning for souls that have taken flight—

It is thus I shall stand on that granite base,

While your voices leer from my once strong face?

Aye, put me thus in far Liberty's flame, And label the statue "Our Nation's Shame!"

"Miss Petticoats," a story of intense heart interest.

The street committee are doing good work around town. The appearance of the streets show an improvement over last year.

D. F. Lambert, a prominent citizen of Lord's Cove, Deer Island, died suddenly on Sunday morning 20th inst. He is survived by a widow and two children.

The contract for the New River Station bridge in the parish of Lepreau, has been awarded to Kenneth McLaggan, of St. Mary's, the contract price being in the vicinity of $2,000.

The practice of riding bicycles on the streets, especially on dark nights, makes it very dangerous for pedestrians. A little judgement could be used to good advantage by those engaging in this pastime.

It is a common occurrence to see moose in the vicinity of the town any day, feeling contentedly and apparently enjoying life. When the hunting season opens they will probably take to the "tall timbers."

Schooner Margaret, Capt. L. Simmons, had her foremast carried away during a heavy gale on Friday, in the vicinity of Lepreau. The Capt. succeeded in running the schooner to Dipper Harbor, where she is now repairing.

Ex-Alderman Murphy lost a valuable horse on Friday last. The animal was tethered near the house, feeding, when an automobile, owned in town, passed, and the frightened horse reared, plunged and fell breaking his neck.

Webster and McIntyre installed two acetylene gas generators in Deer Island last week. In every place in which they have put in their light, it has given entire satisfaction. The firm is meeting with much success in their enterprise.

The Custom House in charge of the well known and popular officer A. J. Clark is soon to be changed to larger and more agreeable quarters in that of the building owned by O. A. Paterson, but recently purchased by the Campobello Corporation. In the same building will be located the office of Fisheries Inspector John F. Calder. Campobello Cor. Citizen

Two ballast trains with large crews are engaged in a fight on the public wharf Tuesday evening. A piece of good sound spruce cut an important part in the fracas cutting the head of one of the participants. A colored "gem-man" was chief attraction, and laid his opponent low with a swinging blow from the spruce board. If the plans announced are carried out there will be "something doing" some day soon.

Fish for canning purposes became unusually plentiful the first of the present week, and continue so up to this writing, the usual fall school seeming thus early to have put in an appearance. All the factories ready to receive them have done so, and the business so quiet a week since, has taken on a bustling nature, which, according to the belief of many fishermen and manufacturers is likely to continue throughout the remainder of the season.

Samples of quartz showing large quantities of zinc have been found in the town, the finders are strangers and the exact location of the find is being carefully guarded. Mr. Clark of New York, who is spending his vacation at Utopia and who holds a responsible position with the zinc trust and is an expert regarding the metal, saw some of the samples and pronounced "the find" good enough to create big excitement in mining centres and cause a general exodus of miners in western towns where men are ever on the "qui vive" for news of a strike in the surrounding country.

Under the name of base ball, an exhibition was given Tuesday afternoon by a team from Camp Utopia, who had for opponents a town team brought together for the occasion. A sorry exhibition was made by all hands, but it is only fair to say that conditions were against play. The grounds were rough, with mud ankle deep, a heavy shower did not improve matters and the determination of each player to officiate as umpire made the game a farce. However all hands were good natured, and when proper grounds are secured and some practice indulged in a good game can be put up. This particular game terminated abruptly in the sixth inning with a score of 8 to 5 in favor of Utopia.

Fishermen's picnic at Eastport next year.

If the party who complains of furious driving on the streets will send his, or her, name we may publish the communication.

An effort will be made to get the crack Utopias together for a few games of base ball. The boys were the undisputed champions of Charlotte County last year.

The excursion of the Canadian Order of Foresters, of Beaver Harbor, to Bear River, N. S., was well attended, and everybody had an enjoyable time. A number went from here.

In Dewar's adv. last week they said 19 lbs. sugar for $1.00. It should have been 20 lbs., they have been giving 19 lbs. all summer and have lately increased it to 20. It is the best quality too.

The new motor boat owned by Roland Lee has demonstrated its superiority over the best now in the "basin." It is a fast little craft and the young owner is naturally very proud of its achievements.

Work on the new hotel is completed, and the house is an ideal one for the business. Negotiations are going on with parties who are anxious to secure the house and an announcement will probably be made in a short time as to the proprietor.

The construction train went off the track at the water tank Monday morning, delaying the regular train about an hour. The track was torn up for a short distance but was soon put in shape and trains running as usual.

It was a large and merry crowd that arrived here Monday on the steamer H. F. Eaton. It was the annual excursion of the Calais Methodist Sunday School. The boat remained about three hours, and everyone seemed to enjoy themselves. The Calais band played some inspiring music to the delight of the big crowd.

A letter received by Mr. Lawrence Murphy contains some details of the drowning of the children of Mr. and Mrs. James Murphy, at New Westminster. The girls were attending a picnic, and at the time of the accident were bathing. One of the girls got beyond her depth and the other sister went to her aid, in the excitement other girls rushed into the water, and before anything could be done five young lives had gone down to a watery grave. The Murphy sisters, Annie and May were aged 14 and 19 years. At the time of writing only one body had been recovered.

Reports coming to the Department of Agriculture from different parts of the province describe all the crops except hay as much above the average for this season of the year. Grain is a better color and a stronger growth than usual and potatoes and roots are most promising. In some sections hay will be short, in others it is gaining so rapidly now that an average crop is promised. There is a good deal of complaint of the unusual prevalence of weeds in the hay land. Pastures are doing better than usual on account of the prevailing moisture, but in a few places the dry weather in June almost destroyed them and they will not recover this year.

Trespass on a Land Owner's Air

How far skyward does a proprietor's right of ownership extend? Does it include the air above his terrestrial property, and, if so, does not a person through that air commit trespass of which the law can take cognizance? These questions are raised by the oncoming of the flying machines, nor are they so idle as they might at first glance appear, for already one phase of the principal involved has been raised in an English law court and decided in favor of the owner of the surface of the earth. As an aeronaut was recently passing over Priory lane, Kochampton, his balloon descended and the grappling-iron caught and broke several telephone wires belonging to the Government and administered by the Post-office Department. The Postmaster General sued for a cost of preparing the wires, and the court gave judgment in his favor for sixteen shillings—the full amount of damages sustained.

In commenting on this decision, a writer in the well-known technical journal, Engineering, of London, Eng., writes:

"So long as the balloon or the aeroplane passes over land at a great height the rights of property-owners are not likely to be seriously considered. But the mere fact that rights have never been enforced does not prove that they do not exist.

"Is the passage of a balloon or an aeroplane over a piece of land a trespass in the eye of the law?"

"According to Blackstone: Land hath also, in its legal signification, an indefinite extent, upward as well as downward.

The Civil Code of the Province of Quebec lays down the rule that ownership of the soil carries with it ownership of all that is below and all that is above the surface. Does this extend to the air above one's property so as to make one navigating that air guilty of trespass?"

Of course, the sailors in a flying-machine will not as a rule commit damage to the surface of the earth over which they sail, nor will they injure the air through which they fly—which, by the way, cannot be said of the automobilist, but the question of damage is immaterial for a man may walk across the land of another and do no damage, and yet be a trespasser in the eyes of the law, and against whom an action would lie in the courts. Judgments have been rendered by English courts in cases somewhat analogous; for instance, in the case of a man shooting over the land of another, although no part of the land was touched. In rendering judgment, the court laid down this principle: "It is said no damage was proved to have arisen to the plaintiff. In one sense that is true. Still, the traversing of the land by the bullets in the use of the 1,000-yard range is not unattended with risk, and certainly it will cause a not unreasonable alarm, which renders the occupation of that part of the farm less enjoyable than the plaintiff is entitled to have it. I am satisfied, therefore, that the plaintiff had a legal grievance."

That celebrated British judge, Sir Frederick Pollock, has stated the law in these words: "Clearly it would be a trespass to sail over another man's land in a balloon much more in a controllable airship at a level within the height of ordinary buildings, and it must be a nuisance to keep a balloon hovering over the land at even a greater height."

And further, there is ever present the danger of damage being done by the aeronaut, for his flying machine may suddenly come to the surface or some object may fall overboard, and it must alight on somebody's property, possibly on somebody's head. Exposure to such damages must lessen the enjoyment of the right of ownership of the proprietor of the surface over which the airship sails. If then, the owner of the surface of the earth owns the air above his terrestrial property, it may come to this, that the right of way through his atmospheric property will have to be appropriated, and the private owner who is compelled to surrender a portion of his right of ownership will have to be compensated.

Most Canadians Have Catarrh

Our Changeable Climate is Responsible.

Where the atmosphere is damp, with sudden changes in temperature, almost everybody has Catarrh, in some form or other. The ordinary cold in the head inflames and weakens the membranes lining the nose and throat, and starts a discharge. The next cold is more easily caught, and soon the patient is never quite free of it.

As Catarrh develops the discharge increases—drops into the throat, especially at night—and takes on an offensive odor. Besides being exceedingly disagreeable, there is great danger of the disease extending to the lungs, stomach, or bowels.

Though it is very difficult to cure, Father Morricey devised a combined internal and external treatment that has cured thousands. The Tablets tone up and invigorate the system, and assist Nature in throwing off the disease, while the salve, applied up the nostrils, cleans out the discharge and heals the membranes. Combined treatment, see at your dealer's, or from Father Morricey Medicine Co., Ltd., Chatham, N.B.

"A Port of Bottles."

It is a common thing for officers or sea-going vessels, and especially for passengers, whose time often hangs heavily on their hands, to write some message in a paper, and inclose it in a bottle, cork it tight, and throw it overboard. Usually the paper contains a mere memorandum of the name of the ship, its latitude and longitude at the time, the day, the date, the name of the captain and writer, with perhaps a humorous message to the finder—the whim of an idle hour. But possibly the writer may convey a more serious message stating that the ship had sprung a leak and is about to founder, compelling its passengers and crew to take to the small boats. Seldom has such a bottle been taken out of the water by a passing vessel in time to rescue the survivors.

If the bottle has been securely corked, it may float a long time on quiet seas, and may be carried many hundreds of miles on an ocean current. Such a waif drifted into the Gulf Stream off the American coast, has been picked up many many months afterwards on the shore of Ireland, Scotland or Norway. When ocean storms come the angry waves dash the frail bottles on floating spars or projecting rocks, and the greater number are doubtless broken in this way. There are a few "dead spots" in the ocean, however, to which these tiny glass vessels may be carried, and where they may float in security for an indefinite period.

An officer on a Brazilian ship describes such a spot in the Caribbean Sea, which, he says ought to be called the "Port of Bottles." It lies nearly midway between the cities of Catania, Columbia and Kingston (Jamaica), and about the due east of Cape Gracias a Dios. "It is out of the regular ocean highway," he says, "and the action of the great currents going one way and another has left a space of stagnant water without any real movement at all. Anything that gets into the dead spots is apt to stay there, unless driven out by some big storm, and will simply drift round gathering sea-grass and barnacles." He picked up there the three bottles floating amid the drift, one empty, the other with paper inside. One of these had been cast into the sea three years before from a yacht in the Grand Bayman. There are a few other similar dead spots in the ocean, and it is possible that bottles might be picked up in them which had been floating for many long years.

Nothing in the way of a cough is quite so annoying as a tickling, teasing, wheezing, bronchial cough. The quickest relief comes perhaps from a prescription known to Druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. And besides, it is so thoroughly harmless that soldiers give it with perfect safety even to the youngest babies. The tender leaves of a simple mountain shrub, give able curative effect. It is truly a most certain and trustworthy prescription. Sold by All Dealers.

To Freshen Flower.

If cut flowers from the florists or garden are placed as soon as possible in cold water in which a little mild soap has been dissolved making suds, they will keep fresh much longer than usual, and will even freshen up wonderfully if they have been badly drooped. Also if one wishes to keep roses in bloom for some time, a soft thread should be tied snugly around the bud, and when ready for use, even though several days after picking, the rose will be found as snug as when first tied up, and, moreover, will not shatter as soon as ordinarily.

Household Hints

A few drops of lemon juice or vinegar put into the water in which cauliflower is to be cooked will help to preserve its whiteness.

When a boiled pudding is to be cooked the basin should be quite full of the mixture or the water will get in and the pudding be spoilt.

When a cake is being baked the oven door should not be opened for the first twenty minutes, and should not be closed with a slam. Close it as gently as possible when it must be opened or the cake will be heavy.

Will a merchant who is wise ever cease to advertise? Yes—when the trees grow up side down; when the beggar wears a crown; when ice forms on the sun; when the sparrow weighs a ton; when gold dollars get too cheap when woman, secrets keep; when a fish forgets to swim; when Satan sings a hymn; when girls go back on gum; when the small boy hates a drum; when no politician schemes; when mince pie makes pleasant dreams; when its fun to break a tooth; when all lawyers tell the truth; when cold water makes you drunk; when you love to smell a skunk; when the drummer has no brass—when these things all come to pass; the man that's wise will neglect to advertise—Anonymous.

Prepare for Lumbago

If You Have "Nerviline" Handy One Rubbing Will Cure the Pain.

Thousands Use "Nerviline"

The "strike" of lumbago is like a bolt of lightning—you never know when it is coming or where it is going to strike. Probably the one certain thing about lumbago is the fact that it can be cured by Nerviline—the only liniment that penetrates deeply enough to reach the congested chords and muscles.

"Years ago I strained my LETTER back and suffered considerably with weakness NO. over the spine," writes Darius P. Millan, a well-known farmer, residing near Kingsville. "Then lumbago attacked the weak spot, and for days at a time I would have to lie up in bed, unable to move or turn. Liniments, poultices and hot applications failed to bring the desired relief, and I was in despair of ever getting really well again. I at last decided to test 'Nerviline.' I got five bottles from the drug store and had it rubbed on three times a day. The stiffness and pain left my back quickly, and by continuing Nerviline I was completely cured of lumbago."

This is similar testimony to that of nearly five thousand Canadians who have written unstinted words of praise to the manufacturers of Nerviline. For the cure of lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia and rheumatism there is no liniment with one-fifth the pain-relieving power of Nerviline.

Refuse any substitute. Large 25c. bottles of Nerviline, or five for $1.00, at all dealers, or The Catarrhzone Co., Kingston, Ont.

No More Pompadours

It has not been so fashionable in years to wear the hair parted as at the present time. The reasons are two: it gives an added air of refinement to the countenance and only so much of the forehead is exposed as is becoming. Where the hair is parted it is easier to curl in a tight marcel wave. A pretty way to handle the front hair is to part it in the middle and roll each half well off the face, keeping the rolled parts in place with shell combs. There are those who find it more becoming to let the waves play on the temples or on the forehead, while many many prefer the extreme style of covering the ears. The hair also will be worn parted a little to the left side, but not all women can wear the left part well.

(Woodstock Sentinel).
The St. John Sun is devoting a large amount of space to advertising a voting contest with the object of increasing its circulation. We know not whether the whole scheme is a fake, but we have no hesitation in advising all Liberals to have nothing to do with it. Any newspaper that has fared as well at the hands of the Liberal party as has the Sun during the last three years, and then scales the party in the back when it needed assistance as the Sun has done during the past three weeks, is not deserving of encouragement and we sincerely hope no Liberal of Carleton county will have anything more to do with it. Some newspapers are born Hogs, some achieve hoggliness, and some always play a fair game. The Liberal party of New Brunswick has neither need nor use for a party organ owned and directed by a Nova Scotian adventurer.
